

Proclamation

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION
City of Cisco, Texas

WHEREAS, Congress has declared May as OLDER AMERICANS month, and

WHEREAS, the State of Texas and the City of Cisco has a special interest in its older citizens, and

WHEREAS, the Older Citizens of the City of Cisco have provided a rich heritage for the City, and

WHEREAS, the Older Citizens of the City of Cisco have, and continue to provide, invaluable leadership to the community,

I THEREFORE, as MAYOR OF THE CITY OF CISCO, do hereby proclaim the month of May as Older American Month and urge all the citizens to pay special tribute to its senior citizens and to focus special attention on the way the elderly may continue to contribute their talents and love to the community.

Roy V. Cartee
Mayor

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 30th day of April, 1981.

Otis Engineering Is Proud To Be Part Of Cisco

Otis Engineering is proud to be part of a town with the rich history and heritage of Cisco and was pleased to dedicate the theme of its float to the significant events of Cisco's past.

The construction of the float consisted of 75 feet of chicken wire, nine sheets of plywood, 400 feet of 2 inch by 4 inch lumber, 13 packing crates, 6720 paper towels, four gallons of paint and 10 pounds of screen wire, and the imagination, research, and the willing labor of 302 man hours of work supplied by: Harold Davies, Glenda Petree, Rex Presley, Judy Presley, Sharon Wilcoxon, Dave Merritt, Teresa Petree, Dusty Petree, Jim Ward, Ann Ward, Gene Gwinn, Janie Gwinn, John Ross, Tammy Edwards, Gayla Gwinn, Eddie King, C.C. Williams, Terry Davies, Jewel Williams, R.B. Thames, Marvis Thames, Buffy Landenberger, Tara Davies, Jewel Davies, Sandra Agnew and Alura Davies, chairman.

Christine Reich To Review Book At Club Meet
The program for the Friday, May 8, meeting of the Twentieth Century Club will be a book review by Mrs. Christine Reich on "Life Sentence" by Colson.

The meeting will open at 2:30 p.m. at the Library. Members are asked to invite guests. Hostesses will be Mmes. Roy Cartee, W.B. Sims, Frank Cullinan, Harry Donica, and C.H. Housh. Refreshments will be served.

This marks the close of the club year that has featured a series of excellent programs arranged by the program committee: Mrs. Harry Donica, chairman, Mrs. Newton Hagan and Mrs. W.B. Sims.

The club participated in the City Federation program last September of "Welcome to Our World of Creativity," an exhibit of flowers and arts and crafts, and the Texas Day program in March that featured speakers Mrs. Olga Fay Parker and the Reverend Bill Weeks. Other programs were by Anton White on the organization and work of the Cisco Cemetery Association, and "Our Native Land," a series of slides taken over a period of years, covering trips from coast to coast, showing countrysides and towns and multi-pictures of San Antonio, Altantic City, San Diego, San Francisco, Corpus Christ, the Grand Canyon and many other famed scenic areas. In November, the Rev. Bill Weeks spoke on "Freedoms that America Must Protect" and in April, the talk by Mrs. Vance McCracken on Botswana, Africa. Other meetings were devoted to the club's work centering about the operation of the Cisco Public Library, other civic interests, and the customary social meeting at Christmas.

A special message of appreciation to all club members for their support and work during this year is extended by the club president, Mrs. M.D. Allison.

A GROUND BREAKING ceremony was held Wednesday afternoon near the Highway 183 overpass of Interstate 20 south of Cisco, for Pierce Motor Company's new business location. Construction of a new building for the local Ford dealership will begin soon and according to Laddie Pierce, owner, it should be completed between 60 and 90 days. Laddie and his wife, Vernetta, have stated "We appreciate our past customers and hope for their continued patronage in our new location." They said the new building will be a more modern and better facility to better serve the community, with more working and parking space. Those present for the Wednesday ceremony were (left to right) Eris Ritchie, Bobby Ingram, Dick Woolley, Laddie Pierce, Joe Wheatley and Robert Dudley. All except Mr. Pierce and Mr. Ingram, a member of the Cisco City Council, are members of the Board of Directors of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce. (Staff Photo)

Annual Par-Scot-Scram Golf Tourney Underway

Some 40 partnership teams (80) players were participating this weekend in the annual J.L. Stafford Classic Par-Scot-Scram Golf Tournament at the Cisco Country Club.

Qualifying, which was the low-ball par 18-hole round, was completed Friday and the two final rounds were scheduled for Saturday and Sunday. Plans called for the championship and consolation flights to tee off at 8:45 a.m. Saturday and again at 1:45 p.m. Sunday. The second and third flights will tee off at 1:45 p.m. Saturday and 8:45 a.m. Sunday.

The format for the Saturday 18-hole rounds was the Scotch plan - the players hitting every other shot. The Sunday format will be the scramble with both team members hitting the ball from the spot of the best previous shot.

Entry fee was $40 and cash prizes will go to the winning and runner-up teams in all flights and consolation brackets.

Tournament details were being handled by a committee composed of Ralph Glenn, chairman, and Bobby Smith. A hamburger luncheon will be served to players at noon Sunday with Dorothy Farnsworth in charge.

Lawn Mower is Reported Stolen from Cemetery
A Ford riding lawn or grass mower was stolen last Tuesday afternoon from the tool shed at Oakwood Cemetery and an assistance in its recovery would be appreciated, according to S.G. Clary of the Cisco Cemetery Association.

Mr. Clary said, the mower, blue with white trim, was taken between 4 and 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. A lock on the tool shed door was broken. The 30-inch mower was purchased about a year ago and is probably worth about $1,500, Mr. Clary said.

Anyone seeing a mower or equipment being from the cemetery area last Tuesday afternoon was asked to notify Mr. Clary or Cisco Police.

Acknowledges
Dr. Norman Wallace, president of Cisco Junior College, acknowledges the contributions to the Cisco Junior College Memorial Endowment Fund by Mr. and Mrs. Winston Heidenheimer in memory of Dana Barrett and Bill Hogue, and by Eva Humphreys in memory of Mrs. Vera Schlaepfer.

For more information and to make reservations, please call Ilene Cotton at 442-2565 no later than noon Friday. Those who make the effort and attend will be edified and receive blessings. All women are urged and welcomed.

BIRTHS
Mr. and Mrs. Alan Jackson are proud to announce the birth of their daughter, Nessa Renee. She was born April 21, 1981. She weighed nine pounds and seven ounces, and was 20 inches long. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Trussell and Mr. and Mrs. Drew Dan Jackson.

One Files For Mayor; Eleven For Council Seats

The ballot for the May 30th special city election will list one candidate for mayor and 11 candidates for four City Council posts, it was announced Thursday after the deadline for filing passed.

Acting City Secretary

Ginger Parker reported that Eris Ritchie, local business man, was unopposed for the mayor's office.

Mrs. Parker listed candidates for the four places as follows:

Place 1-Luke Harrison

and Linton Batteas

Place 2-Jay Maples, Wm. J. (Bill) Eudy and Brad Kimbrough

Place 3-Loyal Lundstrom, Leonard (Tip) Tipton and Harold Pippen

Place 4-Nelda Fry, Raymond Whitley and Bobby Odell Rains.

Two of the candidates, Mr. Eudy and Mr. Pippen, were among those recalled in the April 4th election. Mr. Whitley, another candidate, has served one term on the council but was not a candidate for re-election in the April 4th voting.

The City Charter's Section 32 discusses recall elections and concludes: "An officer thus removed (by recall vote) shall not be eligible to hold office again in the City within a period of four years from the date of his recall."

The city secretary said that the printing of ballots would not be ordered until after City Attorney Wm. B. Wright, Jr., who was out-of-town Friday for the weekend, checks the legality of Candidates Eudy and Pippen.

Mr. Pippen told the Press that he has written the attorney general for an opinion of the legality of the charter provision. "I love this old town and want to do what I can to help it grow and progress," he said. "I am aware of the charter and all I'm asking for is a fair shake."

Mr. Eudy said that he decided to file as a candidate "because a good many people asked me to-people who wanted me to remain on the council." He added that he didn't think the recent recall "was good for any of us."

John Nolan, special assistant to the secretary of state in Austin, told interviewers that "as far as we can determine, the matter seems fairly explicit. Although the state election code does not address the problem of recalled officials seeking re-election, each city has the right to deal with the situation in its city charter. However, the state election code does state that no ineligible candidate's name can be placed on the ballot."

Mr. Nolan added that "it would seem that one would tie in with the other." He noted that the secretary of state's office can not make legal opinions. He doubted if there had been a previous occasion for a city charter provision to be challenged.

Ladies Luncheon Set May 6th At Country Club
The monthly ladies luncheon will be held at the Cisco Country Club at noon Wednesday, May 6, and reservations should be made by noon Monday, May 4, according to an announcement.

All members are urged to attend. Non members are requested to make reservations with Yvonne McMillan at McMillan's Insurance office.

Hostesses include Francille Winnett, 442-3075; Margie Brown, 442-1400 or 442-1071; Ruth Heidenheimer, 442-1777; Geneva Webb, 442-3550 and LaVerne Andrews, 442-1414 or 442-1699.

Council Authorizes Attorney To File Denial Of Allegations

The City Council authorized City Attorney Wm. B. Wright, Jr., to file a general denial of all allegations in a 91st District Court election contest suit brought by Mayor Roy Cartee and Councilwoman Louise Allison at the regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday night.

Answer Filed
City Attorney Wright filed an answer to the Allison-Cartee vs. City election officials suit Thursday. In substance, the answer said: "Defendant denies each and every, all and singular, the allegations contained in Plaintiff's original petition, and demands strict proof thereof."

"Wherefore, premises considered defendant prays that plaintiff take nothing from its suit, and that Defendant go hence with its cost without delay."

Normally, the next step would be for the plaintiff's attorney, James P. Farrar, Eastland, to ask the court to set a hearing on the plaintiff's petition.

The suit as brought by Cartee and Allison asked the court "for temporary restraining order, temporary injunction and permanent injunctive relief," naming the acting city secretary and the April 4th election judge as plaintiffs.

Mr. Wright said the City's answer would be filed in the 91st Court at Eastland by Monday, the deadline for answering the matter. The plaintiff's were not formally served until April 6th although the suit was entered on court records prior to the election. Judge Jim Wright denied the injunction at that time.

It was assumed that Judge Wright would set a hearing date for the suit after the city's answer is filed. Some observers felt that the election, which was held after the plaintiff's were served, would render the matter moot.

Mr. Wright brought the matter to the council's attention Tuesday night, noting that unless an answer is filed the defendants could win by default. Councilman Bobby Ingram moved that the city answer the suit. The motion was seconded by Councilman Ivan Webb. Voting for it were Ingram, Webb, Harold Pippen and Jerry Jeffcoat. Councilwoman Allison and Mayor Cartee abstained.

Mrs. Allison and Mr. Cartee, along with Councilmen Wm. J. Eudy, Pippen and Jeffcoat, were recalled in the April 4th election, and a special election to select their successors has been set for May 30th.

In other action, the Council approved a grant agreement as submitted by the Texas Aeronautics Commission. It calls for runway paving to begin June 1 at the Cisco Municipal Airport and to be completed a month later. Some $70,000 has been allocated by the TAC to help pay for the work. The city's share, or about 20%, will be in money of "in kind" services. City Manager R.J. Turpin said the city has adequate funds for its share. The Council voted unanimously in favor of approving the agreement.

Mr. Turpin told the Council that TAC engineers would be here Friday to open bids for the paving work.

Mr. Turpin told the Council that City Accountant Jean Gray has the books and records at city hall up-to-date and that accounts for the 1979-80 fiscal year were ready for the auditors.

Mr. Cartee said there would be a special meeting on June 1st to install a new mayor and four council members and that turning the records over to auditors would be done by the new council.

The city manager reported that there has been some damage at the Lake Cisco dam, possibly by vandals, and that an inspection is underway to determine whether to ask an insurance company to make repairs. The dam is insured for several million dollars.

A presentation regarding ambulance service was held up as a prospective bidder was unable to attend the meeting. The Council voted approval of a suggestion by Mayor Cartee that he write a letter to the two Cisco funeral homes to request them to delay until July 31st their plans to discontinue ambulance service here. The two firms had notified the city that the service would end June 1.

City Attorney Wright was authorized to proceed with a company seeking a lease on five acres of the old airport tract for a salt water disposal well project. The firm would pay the city $500 per month for the right to inject 30,000 barrels of salt water into the well each month. A royalty of 10% would also be paid for injecting water in excess of 30,000 barrels per month.

The monthly bills for March, 1981, were approved for payment. The total of $159,425 included $50,644 from the general fund, $25,544 from the water and sewer fund, $30,530 from revenue sharing and $52,705 in airport funds.

Miss Gray's report showed that the city has spent $277,758 of the 1980-81 appropriated budget of $562,694. Bank balances totalled some $48,000. Revenues for March included $27,674 for the general fund and $21,593 for the water department.

Minutes of meetings held April 10, 14, 17 and 23 were approved. All council members except Mr. Eudy were present.

Dinner Theater Cast Wins Good Applause

The drama department of Cisco Junior College presented the opening performance of "Private Lives," a comedy by Noel Coward, at the Roof Garden Theater at Laguna Hotel here Thursday night. A capacity crowd applauded the production.

The theater was to present the second night of the program Friday night and there was a sell-out. The final performance was scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday (May 2) and a few tickets were still available (phone 442-2567 or 442-2589). Tickets are $7.50 each, which included dinner.

The cast for the noted play was composed of five CJC drama students, including two freshmen, under the direction of Miss Janis Myer, who is in her first year as head of the drama department and the dinner theater.

The Coward comedy, a long-time favorite that has been presented in the movies and on stage for a good many years, deals with a young couple recently divorced. Each has remarried and meet again at a hotel where complications soon develop.

Elyot, the husband, is played by Lance Allred, CJC sophomore footballer from Houston, and his divorced wife is played by Tracy Freed, freshman from Abilene. Both do a fine job.

The other couple - Sibyl, the new bride, is played effectively by Laura Jeffcoat, Cisco sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jeffcoat. Victor, the new groom of divorced Amanda, is played by John Akers who moved to Cisco from Missouri to live with his grandmother, Mrs. Addie Akers while attending CJC.

He is a freshman and also does a good job. Louise, the maid, is played by Marie Reston, Clyde sophomore, and she also serves as the properties and stage manager.

Max Geffon and his ARA Company, food contractors at CJC Cafeteria, served a beef stroganoff dinner to open the program. And the audience agreed that it was quite adequate.

It was a good evening in all respects.-JWS

Arctic Strategies

by
Thomas F. Payne
Dr. Payne is Assistant Professor of Political Science at Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Michigan

(c) Public Research, Syndicated, 1981

Desolate and uninhabitable in the popular mind, the "North Pole" is assuming greater and greater importance in world affairs, largely because of new technologies which enable men to operate and live in the frozen, heretofore impenetrable, wastelands. The Arctic region today also has a great strategic significance, which was foreshadowed in one of the most desperate and crucial, though little celebrated, struggles of the Second World War.

In July of 1942, Convoy PQ 17 made its way from assembly points in the British Isles to the Soviet city of Marmansk, north of the Arctic Circle, carrying American Lend-Lease material to the Soviet troops of the Eastern Front. The timely arrival of PQ 17's cargoes was essential if the Russians were to stem, and ultimately turn back, the tide of Nazi invasion. The German High Command, well aware of the importance of these Lend-Lease shipments, responded with a devastating air and naval campaign to sink the convoy before it reaches its Russian destination. Submarine wolfpacks and Luftwaffe bombers, mounting their operations out of occupied Norway, dealt frigid death to thousands of Allied seamen in the Arctic Seas off Norway. Of the 36 ships originally in the convoy, only 13 made port in Russia. But the material reached Marmansk and helped to make possible the Stalingrad campaign, the beginning of the end for the Nazis in Russia.

After the Second World War, the Soviet Union replaced Nazi Germany as the predominant land power in the European continent generally and in the European Arctic as well. The Soviet Kola Peninsula is the site of the largest city north of the Arctic Circle, the port of Marmansk, and is the location of the most dense concentration of military installations in the world. Its ports are the bases for the Soviet Union's largest fleet; bombers designed to strike at targets on both land and sea exercise above its skies; and the whole place bristles with anti-aircraft defenses—monuments to the critical importance of the installations which the SAMs protect.

The mission of the Soviet forces in the Arctic is twofold. Offensively, Soviet submarines, surface vessels and warplanes are to break out of the Barents and Norwegian Seas into the North Atlantic. There they are to disrupt American sea- and airborne resupply of the Central Front in Germany by attacking the resupply convoys themselves and the bases and depots from which the reinforcement operations are to be staged. In addition, certain Soviet ballistic missile-carrying submarines must deploy into the North Atlantic if they are to be within range of their strategic targets within the United States. Defensively, Soviet Arctic forces are tasked with guaranteeing the security of their own bases, preventing the monitoring of their own movements by NATO intelligence gathering operations, and preserving the Barents Sea as a strategic sanctuary. From the Barents sanctuary the more advanced Soviet nuclear submarines can launch their longer-ranged ballistic missiles at American targets without fear of American anti-submarine warfare.

Because the war plans of the NATO nations assume massive resupply and reinforcement from North American in the event of a European war, any such war would be lost if the Soviets were to succeed in their offensive mission. On the other hand, preventing a sortie by the Soviet Arctic Fleet would not bring automatic victory to the Allies because of the formidable capacity of the Soviet forces on the Central Front. Thus for NATO, the strategic maxim which must govern its policy toward the European Arctic is that no war can be won there, but a general European war can be lost there. The relevant question thus becomes: what has NATO done to forestall this disastrous contingency?

Soviet war ships and planes trying to break out of their base locations and into the North Atlantic pass through two "choke points." The one is the passage between the Barents Sea and the Norwegian Sea formed by the Norwegian province of Finnmark and the Svalbard Archipelago. The second is the G-I-U-K Gap—the double passage between the Norwegian Sea and the North Atlantic bounded by Greenland, Iceland and the United Kingdom. All the nations whose territories form these choke points are part of NATO, but in the case of every one of them, a combination of political instability, military weakness and pressure from the Soviet Union is cause for apprehension about the ability of NATO's Northern Flank to hold together in the long run.

In many ways, the situation of Norway presents the most extreme and revealing case. Although their country is a charter member of NATO, many Norwegians long for a return to the neutrality which dominated the kingdom's foreign policy before World War II. For fear of giving offense to the Soviets, the Government of Norway permits no stationing of NATO troops or nuclear weapons in its country. If the country were to be attacked by the Soviets, the Norwegian army could do no more than hold out until help came from the Central Front in Germany. Nonetheless, in 1978, the Norwegian government, responding to pressures from the Soviets, refused to participate in military exercises which would have practiced precisely such defensive maneuvers. Soviet naval exercises tend to be staged ever more westwardly into the Norwegian Sea, and this has an intimidating effect upon the Norwegians. Soviet submarines even probe Norwegian territorial waters to examine anti-submarine warfare installations and intelligence gathering facilities. NATO's failure to respond vigorously and decisively to these violations of Norwegian sovereignty have not increased Norwegians' confidence in NATO's ability to defend their country, but may have increased the strength of neutralist sentiments.

The second choke point between the Soviet Fleet and the North Atlantic is guarded by Iceland. Unlike Norway, Iceland hosts American air and naval forces whose mission is to guard the Denmark Straits, but like Norway, Iceland has a powerful neutralist strain in its politics. In fact, Iceland has an active and influential communist party which is capable of major electoral successes (having been included in at least one government coalition during the past decade), and which is pledged to taking Iceland out of NATO.

In short, the Northern Flank of NATO is both militarily and politically weak. Strengthening NATO's military posture on the Northern Flank is a precondition for restoring its political posture; but an increased commitment to NATO on the part of Norway and Iceland is discouraged by the ever-weakening military power of the United States. Unless these weaknesses on the Northern Flank of NATO are overcome, the efforts currently being made to strengthen NATO forces on the Central Front may prove to be in vain.

IWU Reflections in Perspective

By I. Will Ussery

Noelli, our Turkoman Bhadji in Teheran was a combination of opportunism and resourcefulness. Combine those two characteristics, and you have a formidable force. In the village in which she grew up, resourcefulness was a way of life. Villagers learn early to "make do". When Noelli became exposed to some of the advantages of modern living, she took every excuse to play them to the hilt. When opportunity presented itself, Noelli was standing right there with the door open. Opportunity never knocked the second time at Noelli's door.

Like the time when she butchered a full grown wild ram on the kitchen floor.

I returned from a hunt at seven in the evening. Noelli must have been watching for my return, for in a whipstitch she met the vehicle at the back garden gate. Untying the rope which bound the hind legs, she commanded the driver to take the other end of the sheep and together they carried the animal across the courtyard and around to the other side of the house.

Smiling broadly, and I suspected complementarily, for Noelli had an uncommon confidence in my prowess as a hunter, she returned through the kitchen just as I reached the foot of the stairway. "Nah! nah!" She commanded. I stopped, dutifully. Noelli dropped to the floor on her knees and proceeded to remove my hunting boots. Not for a moment would I be permitted to go into the bedroom wearing those muddy boots.

Having completed that chore, she asked for my hunting knife. The knife was handed to her. She knew that I always carried a very sharp knife. She had used it before. And then she motioned for me to go upstairs to shower and change. We had a party to attend at eight o'clock.

Having completed the transformation from scruffily-dressed hunter to the more suitably-attired party-goer, I came back down and into the kitchen to find the ram lying on the floor of the kitchen. Actually, I was not surprised. After all, the kitchen had a very clean terrazo tile floor, and was well lighted. A perfect floor for butchering. And all that was needed was to move the table around a bit. Noelli had moved the table. And she had begun to remove the skin from the animal. Using my hunting knife, of course.

Leaning against the drainboard, I awaited My Lovely Wife, knowing full well there'd be an explosion. She came, in due time. And there was...an outburst. "What is THAT doing in the kitchen?" She almost shouted, addressing the question mostly to Noelli.

Smiling, as though having been addressed by a petulant child, Noelli motioned for Madame to go... "Buro, buro (go, go). Mahn kitchen (my kitchen)". Resignedly, after all; if there were a mess Noelli would have to clean it up, MLW departed Noelli's kitchen.

When we returned from the party Noelli was waiting for us. MLW, of course, went straight to the kitchen to find the Bhadji standing against the drainboard where lay the feet and the head of the ram. Not a speck could be seen on the floor, and all the boned-out meat had been placed...wrapped...in the freezer. Madame came very near to complimenting Noelli.

Actually, there was no use in working on that animal outside, in the dark and on the grass. Noelli was not only an opportunist, she exercised a degree of common sense.

The employees of Greer's welcome everyone to their big Grand Opening Saturday, May 2.

1882 County Paper On Display At DAR Meeting

The Charles Crawford Chapter of the DAR met in the home of the treasurer, Mrs. Charles Pence April 27th with members from Ranger, Cisco and Eastland present. In keeping with the theme, "National Defense-Future of America," Mrs. J.F. Francis presented the program of the day, being introduced by Mrs. Stanley McAnelly.

In keeping with the Cisco Centennial Celebration, it was interesting to see an 1882 Eastland County Record newspaper which included ads for the newly named city. In the History of Eastland County, by Mrs. Langston, there is a photo of Mrs. Alexander and in the personal referenced the editor of the old paper comments on her visit of the Eastland office of the paper, accompanied by another "charming lady." She was a DAR from another part of the state.

The Charles Crawford Chapter was not organized until May 16, 1927. Mrs. F.E. Harrell and the Harrell building at Cisco Junior College is named for her. Her Revolutionary ancestor, for whom the chapter is named, was born in Amherst Co. Virginia, December 23, 1733.

His name appears on the list of Captains of the 2nd No. Carolina Regiment, raised in August 1775. His life was in danger many times, and he was taken prisoner by the Tories at the siege of Savannah.

The formal opening of the meeting was presided over by the Regent, Mrs. Pat Crawford. At each meeting it is the custom to read the message from the President General, Mrs. Richard Shelby. It is the 100th anniversary of the American Red Cross and its beautiful building is next to the DAR national headquarters, and leaders in both organizations are being honored this year.

A delightful afternoon tea was enjoyed. Mrs. Pence has a rare collection of fine china and the visitors admired her dolls and her other treasures which were on display.

Rotarians Told Scholarship Means Three-Fold Benefit

Andy Hawari, two-year Rotary scholarship student at Cisco Junior College who will graduate this year, told the Cisco Rotarians Thursday noon that the scholarship meant a three-fold benefit.

For one thing, he said, "it relieved me of a financial obligation and gave me time to study."

For another, it gave him incentive. "Knowing that such a group as you was behind me," he said in effect, "gave me an encouragement, and helped me overcome a lack of self-confidence."

For a third, it provided him with the stimulus of an obligation, and he thanked the club for the confidence it had expressed in him and the opportunity it gave him.

Dr. Norman Wallace, college president and also president of the Rotary Club, who presented Hawari, praised the quality of the student body of the Cisco school, citing a dedication to work and a sense of personal responsibility quite in contrast to an attitude prevalent in the troublesome "sixties", when there was an epidemic of rebellion characterized by beatniks and "flower children."

"We have come safely over that period," he said, "and we now have a group of young people willing and able to meet their responsibilities as the real hope of our future."

He pointed out that the best gift the club could give young students is "time to study" as referred to by Hawari. In this time, he said, economic necessity imposes on most students a necessity of helping to pay their way through college because "father just doesn't have the resources in most instances to pay all the cost."

"I thank you for accepting this scholarship," he said to the young graduate-to-be, because, as he phrased it, "these scholarships mean as much to the college in helping discharge its obligations as they mean to the students."

Questioned at the end of his talk, young Hawari said he planned - hopefully with the help of a scholarship - to attend Texas University next term for work that will help him secure admission to the University of Houston School of Optometry. Failing that admission, he plans a secondary career in chemistry, he said.

In a brief business period the club authorized Lloyd London to determine what may be a suitable used piano for the club and to approve its purchase.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

One said to Kid McCoy, "Teach me to box." Peter, "bid me come unto Thee on the water." And "All right," he said. He said, "Come." "Put up your dukes! Say, who's coming through the door?" Peter went over the side of the boat and walked on the water. But when he looked around, he started to sink. "Lord, save me!" he cried. Instantly Jesus reached out His hand and rescued him. Then he asked Peter, "Wherefore didst thou doubt?" The word doubt signifies looking at two ways at once. Peter had one eye on the Saviour and the other on the storm. The secret of victory is both eyes on the Saviour. Like the man said, "Learn to concentrate!" Keep your eyes on Christ. peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.

Control of Cutworms

This time of year insect problems seem to come along one right after another. One current problem which is troubling local homeowners is Cutworms. Cutworms are larval forms or caterpillars which develop into a variety of moths. Several species exist in Texas.

Cutworm larvae usually appear as dingy, grayish-black smooth "Worms" that curl into a ball or tight "C-shape" when disturbed. The larvae have chewing mouth parts and damage plants by their feeding activity.

Cutworms attack almost every garden vegetable, fruit tree, lawn grass and ornamental plant in the home garden and landscape. Seeding plants are particularly vulnerable to Cutworms since the main stem is tender and can be easily severed.

There are four distinct groups of Cutworms based on habitat and feeding habits: 1) Subterranean Cutworms, 2) Tunnel Dwellers, 3) Surface Feeders, and 4) Climbing Cutworms. Subterranean Cutworms feed almost entirely below the soil's surface on roots or underground stems.

Tunnel dwellers build and live in tunnels. This Cutworm cuts tender plants at the soil surface and pulls them into the tunnel to devour them.

Surface feeders are most active during the night when they cut off small plants at or near the soil surface and feed on the plant. During the day the worms either hide in the soil or under mulch or surface trash.

Climbing Cutworms feed on the foliage, stems and fruits of many plants. Like other Cutworms they feed primarily at night and hide in leaf litter or under debris or rocks during the day.

Cutworm control techniques include many cultural practices. Gardens should be turned under and kept weed-free during the off-season. Because Cutworms seek hiding places during the day, one may take advantage of this by placing boards in the garden as traps. Cutworms congregate beneath the boards and can easily be destroyed by hand.

Soils infested with Cutworms can be treated with Diazinon prior to planting seeds or transplants in the garden or flower bed. But worm control in established vegetable and flower gardens and in lawns is another matter. Application rates vary according to type of plants and species of Cutworm. Insecticides recommended for control of Cutworms in established situations include Seven, Diazinon and Dylox. However, one should always refer to the label to be sure of recommended rates for specific pests on specific plants. For additional information on controlling Cutworms and other pests contact the County Extension Office.

"...for he knoweth the secrets of the heart."—Psalms 44:21

There is no new thing under the sun was spoken centuries ago by a questioning, thoughtful man. He pondered the ways of men—the circumstances of life, the madness of man, the goodness of men, the events that happened to the good and bad alike, the rewards in life that come to those who make sacrifice and to those who do not sacrifice.

He wrote, "History merely repeats itself. Nothing is truly new; it has all been done or said before. What can you point to that is new."—Ecclesiastes 1:8-11

Friend, take heart! If you are entertaining such thoughts, remember, the God who existed before creation, the God who hallowed out the surface of the earth to form the seas, the God who bound the world together so that it would fall apart is still in control. He never makes a mistake.

The writer of Ecclesiastes reached a conclusion: "My friend, there is no end of opinions. Here is my final conclusion: 'Fear God and obey his commandments, for this is the entire duty of man. For God will judge us for everything we do, including every hidden thing, good or bad.'

Yes Friend, a reckoning day is coming. Are you ready?

To the Editor:

Too often consumer protection is considered to be the method by which a customer gets his money back on the clothes which came apart at the seams before they appeared on his charge account bill. A broader concept of consumer protection is whether the citizen is protected by his government, or whether the government makes endless promises which it cannot keep or does not intend to keep.

A good illustration of State government protecting the people of Texas while the federal government has failed through four successive administrations to keep its promises may be found in three lawsuits now pending in the courts.

President Reagan is not the first president to have been elected after promising that he would get the federal government off the backs of the people, end needless regulations, and make the States responsible for their own business. Presidents Nixon, Ford and Carter all campaigned on the same theme. The question is: does this president mean what he says?

I would like to look at several cases which were filed by or entered into by the U.S. Department of Justice during the term of the first of these "presidents with promises."

Ruiz v. Estelle was filed in 1972. In 1974, the United States entered the case as a plaintiff-intervenor. The case currently is under consideration by U.S. Federal District Judge William Wayne Justice for the purpose of entering injunctive relief in disputed areas.

The U.S. Department of Justice plan calls for private rooms for prisoners by 1982. The State does not believe that prisoners have a constitutional right to have private rooms.

The Justice Department has asked that the State be prevented from building any new prison facilities more than 50 miles from cities having less than 50,000 people, and that all new prison management units have 500 inmates or less. We believe that the location and size of prisons is a matter of correctional philosophy that is best determined by the administration of the prison system as opposed to the Justice Department or the courts.

These are just a few of the unreasonable demands still being made on the State of Texas in this lawsuit by the U.S. Department of Justice. I do not believe that the federal government should force the State to invest billions of dollars in altering conditions in a state prison system that the federal government would not consider investing in its own prison system.

In 1973 the federal government filed a complaint against the Gregory-Portland Independent School District in United States of America v. State of Texas, et al. U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice later ruled that all students in each grade must attend the same school. Because the district has only one middle school and one high school, but does have several grade schools, the order affects only those schools on the elementary level. Thus all grade schools at one level or another are bused in order to achieve the goal set forth by the court's order.

As recently as March 18, 1981 the U.S. Department of Justice argued before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit that busing is a proper remedy in this case. However, Ronald Reagan spoke out vigorously against busing during his campaign for the presidency. Is this lawsuit going to result in one more example of empty promises by our top elected federal officials?

I always have opposed the busing of school children as an effective remedy to eliminating the vestiges of prior discrimination. I continue to believe that busing is not the proper answer to such problems, and I have urged this position on behalf of Texas in this lawsuit.

In 1970 the United States filed suit against Texas in United States of America, plaintiff; Mexican American Legal Defense Fund, LULAC and G.I. Forum, plaintiff-intervenors v. State of Texas, et al., defendants. A court order entered in 1971 and modified in 1973 required the development of a bilingual/bicultural plan to meet the educational needs of students whose primary language was other than English. Currently, public schools in Texas provide bilingual education through the third grade if there are 20 students at the same grade level who cannot speak English. Bilingual classes in the 4th and 5th grades are optional with local officials.

A U.S. federal district judge recently entered an order calling for plans to provide bilingual education programs for kindergarten through the 12th grade. I believe strongly that every child in America should have an equal opportunity for an education. Also, I have supported bilingual education in the elementary grades. However, according to the court's order would unfairly burden our school districts and would open the door to requiring the State, as a constitutional right, to teach students in any language they desire.

I had asked the court to delay further action in this case until the Legislature, which is now in session, could address this problem, formulate new policy and appropriate funds to implement any changes in procedure. After eleven years of litigation, I do not understand the court's refusal to grant a 60- to 90-day extension in order to avoid a courthouse remedy to this critical issue. Moreover, I intend to appeal any final order from the court which would require bilingual education from kindergarten through high school.

I am pleased that the U.S. Secretary of Education recently withdrew proposed bilingual education rules that would have required by law public schools to provide bilingual education for non-English speaking students. But a federal judge is still insisting that the State of Texas adopt a plan which in essence would require teachers to learn and teach Spanish, when the real goal, as contained in the State's plan, is to teach children how to speak and learn in English. The State's approach is one which truly represents an equal opportunity for equal education, because it would enable all students to participate in the excellent programs now offered and taught in English in our public schools.

Of all the projects I have undertaken since I became attorney General, one of the most rewarding was the successful effort to negotiate a letter of conditional compliance from the U.S. Department of Education to Texas concerning the desegregation of institutions of higher education in our State. Although letters of non-compliance were sent to every other State subject to Title VI enforcement procedures, we were able to convince the federal government that Texas was making its own voluntary efforts toward desegregation in institutions of higher education, thus preventing a cutoff of $300 million in higher education funds to Texas and avoiding lengthy and time-consuming litigation between Texas and the federal government. I believe that the effectiveness of our negotiations will become more and more important to our system of higher education as time goes on.

This is a fine example of the State's being allowed to handle its own affairs without the interference of the federal government. I am disappointed that more of this kind of cooperative attitude has not occurred through four administrations. Presidents must learn that they are going to be held accountable for their political promises. The three lawsuits cited above are existing proof of unfulfilled promises.

The people are tired of having their hopes dashed time after time. They want answers and action, not more questions and prolonged litigation over issues which candidates have used as campaign material. Along with the other citizens of our State, I am waiting to see what this president will do in the courts, now that the opportunity is once again in the hands of a new administration. Sincerely,

Mark White

Annual Life Festival

The desire of residents of nursing homes to help others has fostered creation of the First Annual Life Festival giving added impetus to the observance of Nursing Home Week in Texas this year.

The traditional "week" which begins on Mother's Day Sunday each year (May 10, 1981) was established to encourage the general public to visit nursing homes to learn for themselves the quality of care and the diversity of activities in today's modern licensed nursing homes.

Some of those activities have been amazingly productive. Within the past few years the residents of Texas nursing homes have raised over $300,000 dollars for the Heart Association, Ronald McDonald Houses, and other worthwhile causes. Sid Rich of Austin, president of Texas Nursing Home Association to which a great majority of nursing homes belong said: "From all reports we receive the residents in our member homes are happiest when they are doing something which allows them to help others and to prove that they are still useful members of society even though they live in nursing homes. The Life Festival gives them that opportunity and will be combined with our special week from now on so the public can join our celebration of research and medical science which is constantly adding healthier, longer, and more productive years for all mankind."

Proceeds from Life Festivals staged at nursing homes this year will be donated to the Leukemia Society of America in support of its research and patient aid programs.

by DeMarquis Gordon

Brown dog ticks have become one of the most bothersome pests to the homeowner with one or more dogs in Eastland County. These ticks, unlike most others, feed almost entirely on dogs. They rarely attack man or other animals.

The adult ticks are found most commonly in the ears and between the toes of dogs. The immature forms (larvae and nymphs) are usually found in the long hair on the back of the neck and back. Ticks must have blood in order to molt or change from immature stages to adults. The adult females also need blood to develop eggs which they will deposit in cracks and crevices in areas frequented by the dog. From 2,000 to 3,000 eggs may be deposited by a single female. These eggs will hatch in 17-30 days into larvae which seek out the dog and attach, feed, release, molt to nymphs and return to feed again. The nymphs then release from the dog, molt to adults and return to the animal to feed and mate. Once the female tick is fully engorged with blood, she will release from the animal, drop to the tures should also be thoroughly treated. Remember, that one treatment is seldom adequate to get brown dog ticks under control. Propoxur (Baygon R), dichlorovs (DDVP), diazinon, dursban, malathion, pyrethrins, ronnel, SBP-1382 (resmethrin) and carbaryl (Sevin R) are some of the materials registered for brown dog tick control. Be sure to read the label and follow all directions and precautions.

Over 50 people attended the 28th Annual Eastland County Pecan Grafting School at Cisco Junior College April 24. This is always a popular event. An estimated 1,500 people have been trained to bud and graft pecans at these schools since 1954. Cisco Junior College, the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and local pecan growers have been most cooperative and helpful with the event.

Cotton is gaining importance in Eastland County. Cotton demonstrations will be conducted on Kenneth Smith's farm south of Okra. One demonstration will involve planting dates. One plot of cotton was planted last week. More will be planted every two weeks until four plots have been made. This will help us determine the best planting date for Eastland County. A cotton variety demonstration will also be conducted. Six different varieties will be compared.

A number of other crop and forage demonstrations are to be started now. We just hope it starts raining soon so these demonstrations and all other crops in the county will produce good yields.

Anthony of Smith County, wrote each county council chairman and suggested that resolutions protesting this action be sent to the State Legislators. More than 1,800 women, led by Mrs. Anthony, marched into the capital where she gave her speech to the Legislature in behalf of the Agricultural Extension Service. The Legislature decided not to cut the appropriations bill more than 25%.

In the early 1950's there was a consolidation of rural schools; some schools were sold for community buildings, and remodeled by homemaker club members. After World War II, membership in H.D. grew rapidly and peaked at 42,000 when clubs were organized in many rural communities.

In the early 1970's brought about many changes. The Civil Rights Act of 1964, the emphasis on county-wide Program Building and more Leadership Development Programs caused membership to drop. Recruitment for new club members was almost at a standstill.

In the late 1970's, state membership had dropped to 13,000. County homemakers began working to organize new clubs in both urban and rural communities.

One of the first changes made was to change the name from Home Demonstration Clubs to Extension Homemakers Clubs. Emphasis once again placed on Learning-By-Doing pro-

Extension Homemaker Club members in Eastland County are joining Extension Homemakers across the state in celebrating Texas Extension Homemakers Week, May 3-9. This year's theme is "Plant a Seed of Education and Watch It Grow". In observance with this year's theme, Extension Homemaker Clubs will be planting a tree or shrub on May 6th.

On May 6th, The Eastland County Extension Homemakers will be planting a tree on the lawn of the new Eastland County Jail.

The history of Extension Homemakers began in 1926

In order to increase interest and to give a large number of women an opportunity to participate in the activities of the organization, District Association meetings began in 1930. Progress means changes. In 1931, under the direction of Maggie Barry, the THDA was reorganized and a new constitution and by-laws adopted. In the spring of 1933 in the midst of the depression, the THDA made a valuable contribution, not only to the Extension Service and A&M College, but to all higher education in Texas. As a result of severe economic depression, the Texas Legislature proposed budget cuts of 25 to 41%. THDA president, Mrs. Ben

New clubs are now being organized by young homemakers, like their mothers, grandmothers and great-grandmothers are finding that Extension Homemaker Clubs still offer Education, Inspiration and Recreation.

Extension Homemaker Clubs are learning valuable tools for living from Extension programs in clothing, family life education, family resource management, foods and nutrition, health education, and housing and home furnishings.

Texas Extension Homemaker Clubs are gaining in membership. The traditional clubs have made some changes, some men are now members and some couples clubs meet at night.

The Extension Homemaker Clubs in Eastland have open membership. Persons wishing to join can receive more information by calling the Extension office at 629-2222.

The Cisco Primary School had a birthday party to celebrate Cisco's 100th birthday. Approximately 230 students and teachers enjoyed cake and punch on the playground on Thursday, April 23.

The nine-foot long cake was prepared, iced, and decorated by Lavern Ballinger, Jeanne Rains and Joy Couch. The second graders helped make the blue and white flowers around each letter. The first graders put 100 various colored candles (that the students had brought) on the cake which was in the shape of CISCO 100.

Weddings

MRS. BENNIE NICHOLS

Ruby Elizabeth Oatman And Bennie Lee Nichols Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Ruby Elizabeth Oatman of Loving and Mr. Bennie Lee Nichols of Cisco exchanged wedding vows in a formal double-ring candlelight ceremony on Saturday, the eighteenth of April at six o'clock in the evening. The union was solemnized at the Loving Baptist Church with Tom B. Robertson, minister, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Oatman, Sr., Route 1, Loving, and the granddaughter of Mrs. J.W. Oatman, Sr., of Graham. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben A. Nichols, 706 East 21st, Cisco, and the grandson of Mrs. Robert Jones of Cisco.

Sunburst arrangements of pink gladiolus in white wicker baskets flanked a crescent-shaped candelabra with greenery and pink and burgandy trim. A center table was decorated with a white memory candle encircled with pink spider lilies and burgandy silk azaleas. Two white taper candles in matching brass candlesticks were used by the couple to light the memory candle as part of the ceremony to symbolize their unity. Burgandy satin bows marked the honorary pews.

Mrs. Vern Teague, cousin of the bride from Seymour, was organist for the ceremony. She played a medley of traditional wedding music. Mr. Gary Nichols, brother of the groom from Cisco, sang "Because" before the ceremony and Mr. Eugene Oatman, Sr., father of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of luster sheer and chantilly lace. It featured an all-lace bodice with a high silhouette neckline and bishop sleeves. The dress was fashioned of all lace peplum over tiers of sheer and chantilly lace ruffles and featured a chapel length train. Her finger tip veil of English illusion was edged in chantilly lace and seeded pearls. It was held in place by a sequin and pearl encrusted Juliet cap. The sequins and pearls were hand-sewn by the bride's mother.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of burgan-dy silk roses, pink carnations, and gypsophila, and greenery. She also carried a lace covered Bible which was carried by Prudence Marchman in her wedding.

She carried out the tradition of something old, a heart-shaped gold locket her father gave her when she was born; something new, her bridal gown; something borrowed, the lace covered Bible; and the traditional blue garter. She also wore a six pence placed in her shoe by her father. The coin was given to her by her former boss, Mr. Sherrill Burba of Olney.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo and white accessories. He wore a burgandy rose boutonniere trimmed with baby's breath.

Miss Karen Hartless of Abilene served as maid of honor. She wore a floor length burgandy satin dress imprinted with a leaf design. It featured an empire waistline, slightly flared skirt, and spaghetti shoulder straps. A sheer dusty rose capelet completed the ensemble.

Mrs. Leonard Marchman of Euless and Ms. Sherry Graham of New Deal served as bridesmaids. They wore solid burgandy dresses and sheer dusty rose capelets identical to that of the honor attendant.

Each attendant carried a white lace fan adorned with silk burgandy and pink roses freezia, azalea blossoms and pink streamers. They wore springs of baby's breath in their hair and also wore free-floating heart charms which the bride presented them as gifts.

Little Miss Suzette Newsom, cousin of the bride, from Wichita Falls, was flower girl. She carried a white lace basket containing burgandy rose petals and trimmed in pink streamers.

Candlelighters were Miss Erika Newsom and Miss Kayla Watts, cousins of the bride from Wichita Falls.

Ring bearer was Master Paul Oatman, nephew of the bride. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Oatman of Loving. He carried a white lace sweetheart pillow that had streamers tied in lovers knots. Mr. Richard Ballinger of Cisco was best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Gary Nichols of Cisco and Mr. Fred Nichols of Dallas, brothers of the groom. The men were attired in burgandy tuxedos and pink ruffled shirts. Each wore a pink carnation boutonniere.

Serving as ushers were Mr. Wilson Oatman, brother of the bride from Loving, and Mr. Brian Nichols and Mr. Jody Nichols, nephews of the groom from Cisco. After the couple was announced as Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lee Nichols, they paused to present their respective new mothers-in-law with long stem burgandy roses before proceeding down the aisle.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length mauve colored dress featuring an empire bodice and a matching sheer capelet attached to the front with silver beads. She wore a purple and white cymbidium orchid corsage.

The mother of the groom was attired in a floor length blouson style dark mauve dress. The bodice was a multi colored sheer print. She also wore a cymbidium orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. Nichols was a 1974 graduate of Graham High School and a 1976 graduate of Cisco Junior College where she received an Associate Degree in Office Occupations. She was employed as Medicare and Blue Cross/Blue Shield Insurance Clerk at Lovett-Meredith Clinic in Olney.

Mr. Nichols was a 1973 graduate of Cisco High School and attended Cisco Junior College. He is employed as foreman for S&M Company in Cisco.

RECEPTION

The bride's parents hosted a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony.

The registry table was laid with a white lace cloth and pink underlay. It featured a pink wicker basket containing mixed silk flowers in various shades of pink and burgandy. Mrs. Tim Stubbs of Olney presided over the guest book.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and pink underlay. A silver candelabra containing pink carnations, red roses, and greenery complimented the table. The three tiered wedding cake, which included the traditional anniversary layer, was trimmed with burgandy and pink confectionary sweet peas. It was topped with a blown glass basket featuring a heart topped by two doves. Two gold bands dangled from the center and tiny pink silk roses filled the bottom of the basket. Mrs. Gary Nichols of Cisco served the cake and Mrs. Fred Nichols of Dallas served the pink slush punch. Both ladies are sisters-in-law of the groom. Guests were also served pink and burgandy party mints made by Mrs. Tim Stubbs and also assorted nuts.

The groom's table was laid with a white lace cloth and pink underlay. Decorations included the bride's bouquet and Bible carried in the wedding. Mrs. Leo Watts served the brandied fruit cake made by the bride's mother and Mrs. Jim Pat Newsom served coffee from a silver service. Both ladies are cousins of the bride from Wichita Falls. Other members of the houseparty were the bride's aunts, Mrs. J.W. Oatman of Houston and Mrs. Bobby Oatman of Littleton, Colorado; and organizer of the houseparty was Mrs. Wilson

Oatman, sister-in-law of the bride.

Miss Angela Nichols, niece of the groom from Cisco, presided over the rice bag table. She passed out the pink and burgandy satin rose-shaped rice bags which were made by Miss Karen Hartless. Kevin Watts, cousin of the bride, passed out memory scrolls. Other decorations on the table were the fans the attendants carried in the ceremony and the unity candle.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Nichols chose a street-length white sundress with a sheer multi-color print overlay with a raised front hemline. A magenta belt and white accessories completed her ensemble. Pink daisies trimmed with baby's breath comprised her corsage.

After a honeymoon trip to Brownwood and San Antonio, the couple will be at home at 1205 Park Drive, Cisco, on April 26, 1981.

Some of the out of town guests besides those already mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cantwell, Burkburnett; Mrs. Mary Dell Teague, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Denman, DeSoto; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shea, Mineral Wells; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Thiberville, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nichols, all of Cisco.

REHEARSAL

The groom's family were hosts for the rehearsal dinner held in the Fellowship Hall of the church on Friday, April 17, immediately following the rehearsal. The tables were covered in white cloths and pink net overlays. A delicious buffet dinner was served to approximately twenty-nine guests.

COURTESIES

Courtesies extended the couple included a bridal shower on Thursday, March 19, 1981, at the Graham Public Library and was hosted by members of TOPS 1948, Graham. A low calorie buffet meal was enjoyed by eleven guests.

A come and go shower was held on Saturday, March 28, 1981, at the home of Mrs. Debbie Stubbs, 408 Thomas, Olney. Hostesses were Mrs. Prudence Marchman, Euless; Mrs. Debbie Stubbs and Mrs. Wanda Ickert, Olney; Mrs. Cathy Oatman, Loving and Miss Karen Hartless of Abilene.

A miscellaneous shower was held Wednesday evening, April 1, 1981, at the Loving Baptist Church. Hostesses included Mesdames Eloise French, Lucille Enright, Mary Lee Dickson, Edith Hearne, Opal Fullerton, Mary Robertson, Jo Carrico, Iva Lofton, Thelma Oliver, and Bobbie Jo Peterson. The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth. Assorted cookies, nuts and mints were served.

The bride's attendants held a rice bag party after the rehearsal dinner on Friday, April 17, 1981. The rice bags were made out of pink and burgandy satin material matching the attendant's dresses. After the bags were filled with rice, they were arranged in two wicker baskets to be placed on the rice bag table.

Cisco Man Is Given 5 Years in State Pen

Punishment of five years in the state prison was assessed for Roland M. Owens, 37, by District Judge Jim Wright after a 91st Court jury found the Ciscoan guilty Monday of two counts of failure to stop and render aid.

A five-year sentence was assessed by Judge Wright in each charge. Formal sentencing was scheduled for May 15th and whether Owens will serve both sentences concurrently will be revealed by the judge at that time.

Owens was found guilty of leaving the scene of a traffic accident in Cisco last May 3rd. In the pickup-motorcycle mishap, Allen Corey Stinson, 20, of Cisco, was killed and Vicki Hooser, 19, also of Cisco, sustained serious injuries.

Testimony revealed that Owens, who left the scene of the mishap, later surrendered at the county sheriff's office.

District Attorney Emory Walton served as prosecutor in the case. Owens was represented by Bill Palmer, Cisco attorney.

Senior Citizen's Nutrition Menu

Insurance is a major concern for all citizens, as well as the elderly. The elderly are faced with rising costs of health care and a fixed income. Although Medicare and Medicaid provide some help to the elderly, this does not provide all the coverage or aid that the senior citizen requires for covering medical costs.

Not only is health insurance coverage vital to the elderly but automobile, homeowners or renters, and life insurance are also important with the limited income of the elderly, they can hardly afford to replace their home, possessions, automobiles, etc. If they have been lost or destroyed.

Insurance works when many individuals contribute a small amount of money regularly into a common fund. The common fund is then available for the percent of the group who may need financial assistance to cover accidents, illness, death, property, destruction, etc.

Every individual should consult with insurance specialists before they purchase various types of policies to see if their individual needs are covered.

The programs during the luncheons for the past week were: Janet Thomas, home demonstration agent, spoke using as her subject "Dietary Guidelines for Good Health"; Will and Rea Hunt played their guitar and harmonica; and Dixie and Jack Montgomery played and sang old religious songs. Those providing dinner music were Billie Woods, Addie Mae Cooper, and A.E. McNeely. Vernon Hagar directed the choir.

The menus for the coming week are:

Monday--german sausage, pinto beans, tossed salad/french dressing, fruit cocktail, cornbread, butter and drink.

Wednesday--creamed turkey/rice, pickled beets, hominy, fruit cobbler, bread, butter and drink.

Friday--chopped steak/aus jus, broccoli/cheese sauce, corn, spice cake, bread, butter and drink.

Matt Ritchie Places Third At Regional Meet

Matt Ritchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eris Ritchie, placed third in the Persuasive Speaking contest in the regional meet at Stephenville on Saturday. The CHS sophomore competed against 23 other area students.

In this contest students draw for a subject that they have never seen, have 30 minutes to prepare a speech of less than seven minutes in length and attempt to get a panel of judges to accept their view point on the subject.

By placing third in this contest, Matt won the right to participate in the state contest in Austin on May 8, 9.

News From The Center

By Mae Green

The monthly birthday party was hosted by the Pleasant Hill Extension Club. The residents enjoyed assorted cookies and punch. Birthday honorees were Lucille Kelly, Emma Winge, Emma Janzow and James Mason. Thanks so much for the ones who remembered the residents at Easter time. Some of our residents would have had a lonely Easter had it not been for caring people like you.

A group of our residents got a chance to go into town last Saturday morning. Thanks goes to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rhyne for the use of their truck and trailer and to Mr. Voy Wilks for building our float, "Brush Arbor," which we entered in the parade. Some of our residents hadn't been to town or away from the Center for a long time. They really enjoyed the ride. We didn't win a trophy but to see the joy on their faces was trophy enough for us.

Ralph Green, one of our most inspiring residents, got a chance to go over to the high school Saturday for his class reunion. He stated that he had more fun than he has had in a long time. He got a chance to see some of his classmates that he hadn't seen for thirty years. If you ever need to be inspired come by and visit Ralph.

We all look forward to your visits. God bless all of you for caring.

Hewitt Article Selected Twice

An article written by Eastland resident Otto D. Hewitt III will soon appear in the Texas Bar Journal, the State Bar of Texas monthly publication.

Entitled "Unions, Civil Rights, & the City Treasury: What Not To Do When The Union Comes To Town", the article advises both city management and city workers of their rights, responsibilities, and liabilities under the U.S. Constitution.

The article will also be published in Current Municipal Problems, a special quarterly publication dealing exclusively with city government issues.

Hewitt is serving in a one year post as a Briefing Attorney for The Eastland Court of Civil Appeals. He lives with his wife Sunny and two daughters in Eastland, Texas.

'Plant a Seed of Education and Watch It Grow'

May 3-9 is Texas Extension Homemaker Week. The theme for this week's observance is "Plant a Seed of Education and Watch It Grow".

Eastland County Extension Homemakers will be joining homemakers across the nation in observing this week. Every Homemaker Club in the United States has been asked to plant a tree or shrub on May 6th.

The Eastland County Extension Homemakers will be dedicating and planting a tree on the new County Jail lawn this coming Wednesday, May 6th. The dedication program will begin at 2 p.m. Mrs. Morris Underwood, County TEHA Chairman; and Mrs. M.D. Lee, E.H. Council Chairman, are in charge of the dedication program and tree planting. Assisting with the dedication will be County Judge Scott Bailey and Sheriff Johnnie Morren.

All citizens of the county are extended a special invitation to join the Extension Homemakers on May 6th at the County Jail lawn at 2 p.m. for the county observance.

91st Court Hands Down Indictments

Robbery and kidnapping are among indictments handed down by a 91st District Court Grand Jury meeting in session here recently.

Indictments are: Felony D.W.I., two counts. Burglary of a building. Robbery and kidnapping. Forgery, three defendants named on four counts, of passing a forged instrument.

4-H NEWS

Adult Leaders to Meet

There will be a regular bi-monthly meeting of the Eastland County 4-H Adult Leaders Association on Thursday, May 7 beginning at 7:00 p.m. in the Eastland National Bank Community Room. This will be the last meeting of the Association until fall. Several important business items will be discussed such as sponsoring County Camp, District Leadership lab, 4-H Congress, Wildlife Field Day, etc. Vonda Anderson, secretary, will give a report on concession stand fund raising held at the County Livestock Show.

Nominations for election of officers will also be held at this meeting. Refreshments will be served. For further information, please call the County Extension Service at 629-2222 or 629-1093.

Businessmen to hear of new school program

Ray Valoric will be calling on the businessmen of Eastland County to explain an excellent and worthwhile program to be conducted in our school system.

The Eastland County Sheriff's Department will be happy to distribute the educational material published by the American Youth Publishers, and will assist our schools with any other programs they may wish to present.

The members, guests and the public are reminded that the dedication service for the new house of worship will be on Sunday, May 17, at 3 p.m. Pastor Theodore R. Griesse of St. Mark Lutheran Church in Waco will bring the message. Members of the Adult Information Session who wish to become communicant members of the Lutheran Church will be received in the worship service on Sunday, May 31. Members of the Junior Confirmation Class will be received as communicant members by the Rite of Confirmation on Pentecost Sunday, June 7.

REDEEMER LUTHERAN CHURCH
Sunday School and Bible classes begin at 9:30 a.m. The worship service with the Holy Communion begins at 10:30 a.m. Pastor Crockett's message is entitled "Children of Light!" based on Ephesians 5:8-16. The Lutheran Hour will be aired over KERC at 12:30 p.m. Pastor Wallace Schulz will warn against counterfeit messiahs, particularly among cultic groups who seem to be interesting and even tempting, but their end is a life of slavery and eternal death. His message is entitled "Jesus Christ, The True Messiah!" The Spring Mission Festival at Trinity Lutheran Church in Albany begins at 2:30 p.m.
The Circuit Pastors' Conference will be held on Monday at Zion Lutheran Church in Abilene at 9:30 a.m.
The Lutheran Women's Missionary League will meet in the Parish Hall on Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.
The Cisco Nursing Center worship service with the holy communion will be on Wednesday at 10 a.m.
Adult Informant session will be on Thursday in the Parish Hall at 9 a.m.

Officers And Directors Of Cemetery Assoc. Re-Elected

All officers and directors of the Cisco Cemetery Association, headed by Anton (Tony) White as president, were re-elected by acclamation at the fifth annual meeting of the association at the Corral Room of Cisco Junior College Annex Thursday evening, April 30.
In addition to Mr. White, officers and directors are Steve Clary, vice president; Mrs. Trixie Whitley, secretary-treasurer, operating fund; Miss Louise Karkalits, treasurer, trust and memorial fund; and directors, Armo Chambers, Bob Elliott, Brad Kimbrough, J.D. Yardley, J.H. Penn, Mrs. Velma Joyner, Mrs. Reba Merket and Mrs. Louise Allison. Mr. Elliott was elected last year to fill a vacancy created by the death of George Boyd.

Miss Karkalits reported trust fund receipts of $17,457.12 during 1980, of which $4,546.99 was transferred to the operating fund, leaving $12,910.13 to be added to the trust balance, invested currently in money market certificates, and now totalling $82,910.13.
Other assets of the trust fund are 120 shares of Earle M. Jorgensen Steel Company, of a market value carried on the books at $2,085.00. Miss Karkalits said, however, that she had been advised that the value of these stocks had been increased to $6,000 in recent quotations, representing a substantial addition to trust account resources.
Mrs. Whitley reported total 1980 operating receipts of $18,484.99 and expenses of $16,107.75, leaving a cumulative balance of $2,373.00 plus a few cents, at year's end.
In his annual report, President White cited completion of a water system now serving more than one-half of the 40-acre cemetery, and its planned extension to the remainder of the burial grounds by the end of 1981 as the most significant accomplishment of the period.
Among other important achievements he noted the creation of a modern platting and records system, now being indexed, by which it is possible to locate ownership of lots and of grave-sites, estimated at around 8,000, quickly and easily; exemptions obtained for income and sales taxes, and negotiation of a new five-year contract, with the City of Cisco under which the association assumes all responsibility for the operation, maintenance and records-keeping of the cemetery, and the city agrees to maintain the water main to the grounds and the streets, to contribute $7,200 annually to the operating fund, and covenants not to interfere with the day to day

Matthew Norman Birthday Party

Where were you at 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 18, 1981? If you weren't at 1204 West 9th then you missed one of the biggest first birthday parties ever. The party was for James Matthew Norman who was one year of age on April 16, 1981. The party was clown coordinated. The invitations, centerpiece, plates, tablecloth, napkins, cups, puzzles, stickers, hats and both cakes had the same identical clown. The helium balloons were from Childs Play. Party sacks were filled with assorted toys.
The table upon entering had Matthew's picture with name plaques, fresh cut flowers in a clown vase, and his baby book for signing in. Also a stuffed signature puppy dog that was given to Matthew when he was born by his great-uncle Lawrence and Aunt Betty Rogers of Wyoming. On another table was party sacks for all the kids, cowboy hat filled with netted candy bags (Reagan's jelly beans, pastel colored candy corn, teddy bear shaped licorice from Morrrows) for all the mummies. Cowboy boot filled with cigars from the Tinder Box for the daddys, these were the same that were handed out when Matthew was born.
The gift table was decorated with an electric circus train, seals balancing balls, lions rotating and a clown driving. There were two gifts on that table for the guests. Matthew picked the name out of one to five years of age and it was won by Benji Maynard. The prize from 5 to 10 years old was given to Michael Maples who is six.
The refreshments were punch, cake and specialty ice cream. Matthew dug into his own miniature cake made by Jeanne Rains. Other guests enjoyed the larger identical cake.
The entertainment was pony rides given by Uncle Ross Honea.
Matthew received many nice gifts including an electric car from his mommy and daddy. Grandma and Grandpa bought a fun swing set, that took daddy and Uncle Ross until 3:00 one morning putting it together. His lovely sister, Serenity, gave him a one man band elephant. The out of town guests were Aunt Eva, Uncle Pat and cousin Jason all of Dallas; Uncle Gary, Aunt Anita and cousin Justin of Carbon; Randy, Cheryl, Seth and Aaron Housh of Eastland; Janet and Angeli J'Ann Meadows of Abilene; Terri and Mark Thompson of Beckville and friend Mitzi Campbell; Sharon and Ricky Curtis of Windthorst.
Those from Cisco were Grandma and Grandpa Wheat, Great Grandma Rogers, Jo Nell and Michael Maples, Mable Thetford, Uncle Ross Honea, Lena and

A NEAT LITTLE book entitled TEN POEMS by Joseph Stamey came to our desk. The first page has this message: Ten Poems in honor of the hundred years of history, Cisco, Texas, 1881-1981.

The first poem is titled "Looking West Past Oakwood Cemetery." And the author takes a look at the graves of folks whose lives made an impression on him and the community - folks like Bit Bedford who was shot to death by Santa Claus and Joe Meador "who first cut my hair."

Next, a poem examines Sunday mornings as a new week dawns. And there's a poem entitled "Lela Latch, the best damn teacher" with a tribute to a hardy lady. "We owe her her sense of spirit's startling, lively, lasting expanse."

Other poems include a tour of the CJC choir, Reading the Seven Storey Mountain in 1952, the Junior College Library and the author's meetings with authors like Emerson, Thoreau and Dickens. Another poem recalls the red brick road - on the Old Eastland Highway, Christmas 1978. A happy note is struck in "These Distances, These Bells" and in "For My Parents' Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary" and, finally, in a poem "Reach, Touch."

Dr. Stamey, son of the O.L. Stameys, grew up here and is a member of the faculty at McMurry University. You'll like his book, particularly the poems that strike a nostalgic note.

IF YOU MISSED buying an embroidered patch for your shirt or jacket that was made especially for the city's centennial you can still get one at the Chamber of Commerce offices. They're quite attractive and should grow in value with the years.

The CofC has a limited number of the Centennial Coins that have the same design. Coins or patches may be purchased for $2 each.

HATS OFF TO the Wm. E. (Bill) Austins and Jack Ledbetter for the work they've been doing at the little city park back of the American Legion Hall. Bill and Jack have been running their lawn mowers there and the Austins have been trimming trees and the like.

The little park is very nice, indeed.

CACTUS IS pretty hardy, reports Mrs. Joe Wheatley. Last December the Cisco Civic League used some cactus that Mrs. Vallie Parker got for them to give their Christmas float an original touch. After the parade, the cactus was thrown aside at the Blue Depot, the CCL's headquarters on East 6th Street.

During the Centennial last week, Mrs. JW noticed the pile of discarded cactus. And it was still alive and growing.

The attractive little house that the Wheatleys built for their Centennial parade float now rests on the vacant lot next to their home out at 1414 Leggett. There might be a "for rent" sign on it. . . . Eventually, the house might be sold to some family with youngsters needing a playhouse.

BECAUSE THE Cisco Lions Club loaned them their piano for use during Centennial events, the Civic League rebated the money that the club would have paid for carnival booths at the Folk Life Festival. And they gave the piano a real good polish job. . . . When Mr. J.C. Fletcher decided to shave off his Centennial beard, he spent 45 minutes at the chore. First, he took scissors and cut it into a waste basket. Then he shaved. . . . Glad to hear that Mrs. JCF is doing nicely. She suffered a painful bruise when a chair collapsed with her (she was standing in it) at the festival last Sunday.

NOT ALL OF the beards have disappeared. We saw these at the Lions Club luncheon last Wednesday: Steve Thomas, Bruce Smith, Ivan Webb, Will Johnson and the champ, Truman Kirk. . . . John Penn, the retired JCPenny man, is transplanting Iris these days. He has a pretty garden but nothing is ripe. . . . Doesn't Frank Barrett of Thornton Feed Mill look nice with his new haircut and shave. Reports that he had his barber run clippers over the beard before he got out his razor.

HEAR THAT there's a very impressive honeysuckle vine up at the L.G. Ball home, 206 Avenue I. It's in full bloom and the aroma is worth going there to smell as well as see, our scouts report. The Winston Heidenheimers of Cisco were among those who enjoyed the concert of Soprano Anna Maria Alberghetti in Abilene the other night. And Mrs. WH was among a half dozen ladies who enjoyed having lunch with Miss Alberghetti. . . . Sorry to hear that Mr. Ted Hale, who lives out on West 14th Street, was taken to the Breckenridge hospital last Thursday morning. You'll want to join us in wishing him a speedy recovery and return home.

MRS. GEORGE Owens of our town was on the six-person committee that interviewed applications for six internships for young Texans this summer in the Congress of Washington, D.C. One Ciscoan, Kenneth Hawari, was among the six selected by the committee. The internship pays them $600 per month for the two months they'll be there and that's all.

Mrs. Owens considered Mr. Hawari as the No. 1 applicant for the internships. His presentation was outstanding, she said, and his recommendations were impressive. One of Kenneth's UofTexas (Austin) teachers considered him one of the top half dozen students he had ever taught.

Kenneth, son of the Tarek Hawaris of our town, and his wife, the former Beverly Preston, daughter of the Charles Prestons, are seniors at the UofT. And he has been accepted by the UofT law school for the fall semester. His wife hopes to teach in the Austin area.

Mrs. Owens reports that the expense of getting to Washington and back plus a place to stay and eat will be considerably more than the $600 per month that Kenneth will receive. Those of Kenneth's friends who would like to contribute to a fund to help send him to Washington may do so by sending or handing a check or a bit of folded money to Mrs. Owens.

EVER HEAR of a golfer getting a score of three on a hole-in-one shot? That's what Bennie Nichols, local southpaw player, did the other afternoon.

He went out to the golf course Friday of last week after he and new wife Liz returned from a honeymoon trip to San Antonio. He joined Tracy Owens, Kevin Winnett and Mike Thierville at No. 5 tee. And he had a birdie three on the first hole he had played in ten days or so.

Teeing off on No. 6, Bennie's shot kicked toward the fence and thinking it might be out-of-bounds, he hit a provisional ball. And this ball rolled up on the green 280 yards away and into the cup. When they got to the green area, they found Bennie's first shot just out. So he had a three for his ace.

Bennie and Mike, by the way, won the Lakeside (Eastland) partnership tournament last weekend with 21 under par for their best ball. They were 10 strokes better than the second place team.

Bennie and wife Liz are happy in their new home here. Mrs. Nichols worked as a doctor's assistant at Olney before their marriage. She plans to look for a job hereabouts one day soon.

Cisco Gun Club To Have Meet Monday Night

The Cisco Gun Club will meet Monday night, May 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the Fire Station. Two films will be shown at the meeting. These films will be of interest to all hunters and sportsmen and the public is invited to attend.

Club secretary, Ira G. Strawn, reports that the Centennial event, the "Shoot For The Bacon" contest was well attended despite an early conclusion due to rain. Five pounds of bacon were awarded to contestants. The bacon was furnished by Ted Fields. Other shooting events for all calibers of guns are being planned for the summer months.

Rev. Bob Evans To Speak At Local Church

The Rev. Bob Evans of Fort Worth will speak in the 11:00 o'clock worship service, Sunday, May 3, at the First Assembly of God Church, 308 West 7th Street, Cisco.

Rev. Evans has served as a pastor and evangelist for thirty years. He pastored Marietta Baptist Church, Jacksonville, Florida, and Norwood Baptist Church, Jacksonville, Florida.

He comes to First Assembly to participate in the TANE EMPHASIS Day. Pastor O.T. Killion invites the public to attend.

P-TO Executive Board To Hold Final Meeting

The executive board of the P-TO will hold its final meeting of the school year Monday night, May 4. The meeting, to be held at 7 p.m. at the First National Bank's Community Room, will be a salad supper, followed by a short business session.

Newly elected officers were installed at a Friday meeting for the 1981-82 school year. Barbara Wylie was re-elected president, her second term. Other new officers are as follows: Joy Worley, first vice president; Paula Elliott, second vice president; Doris Lundstrom, secretary and Kay Roark, treasurer.

At the Monday night meeting appointed officers for the 1981-82 school year will be installed. All officers and room mothers are urged to attend.

Reflections of His Love

Joni Eareckson

"Reflections of His Love," a new film highlighting the life and ministry of Joni Eareckson, will be shown on Sunday night, May 3, at the East Cisco Baptist Church, 506 East 11th Street. The color feature, produced by World Wide Pictures, the film ministry of the Billy Graham Association, will be shown once, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Miss Eareckson is the star of a recent theatrical motion picture, "Joni," which relates the story of her diving accident, as a young girl, which left her paralyzed from the neck down. It chronicles her struggles to piece together her life and her faith in God, in spite of the devastating circumstances.

In "Reflections of His Love," Miss Eareckson, who is also the author of two best-selling books, "Joni" and "A Step Further," tells of the great transformations that have taken place in her life because of her willingness to accept all of the things that have happened to her.

A remarkably talented young woman, Miss Eareckson is an artist of great merit, as well as an author, actress and singer. She has learned to draw and paint with a brush held in her mouth. Her works have been displayed in major exhibitions, as well as on a number of network television programs. More recently, her illustrations and paintings have become the basis for a major line of greeting cards, plaques and framed prints.

"Reflections of His Love" introduces the viewer to "the real Joni Eareckson. We meet her parents, her sisters, and her friends. We gain insight into the thoughts of the actors who played major roles in the movie, "Joni", and we learn of her new personal ministry, Joni and Friends."

The determination and depth of trust and faith that this young lady has developed can serve as an inspiration to us all. Although she is quadriplegic, and does not have the use of her legs or arms, we actually witness her drive a van in this film. It's much more than a great physical and technical feat-it's a credit to her inner spirit.

Pastor Armo Bentley, pastor, has extended an open invitation to the community at large to attend this special screening. There is no admission charge. "We feel everyone who attends will be touched by the remarkable life and witness of Joni Eareckson. It's really an unforgettable experience," he concluded.

Choir Concert

The choir of Cisco Junior High will present its spring concert Tuesday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Cisco High School auditorium. The choir will present a variety of songs, including the two numbers they performed for contest in which they received a "one" in concert and a "two" in sight-reading. The choir is under the direction of Carolyn Sipe.

The concert promises to be an enjoyable experience for everyone. The public is invited.

FAREWELL TO AN OLD FRIEND

For the past 88 years the name Rockwell Brothers has been synonymous with the growth of Cisco. From the time when customers came to town in buckboards to buy lumber and supplies. Through the oil boom when drilling companies purchased lumber for derricks, through two world wars, the Great Depression, and the construction of Lake Cisco Dam, this establishment has met the needs of the citizens of this community. If not for Rockwell Brothers the homes your fathers and grandfathers grew up in might not have existed. But for the past few years, times have not been good for Rockwell Brothers Lumber and now it is time to close an era in the history of this community, for Rockwell Brothers Lumber in Cisco is closing its doors forever. It is the opinion of this reporter that this is very bad for our community without competition citizens will have no choice but to trade at one location which is good for the competition but very bad for the community. Whenever a business closes and competition ceases to exist a monopoly arises usually not to the benefit of the citizens of the community. It is sad to think that youngsters of the future will not come to the big orange building with their fathers as so many youngsters have for so many generations here in Cisco. One regular customer has told me that when he first came to Rockwell Brothers he rode in on a buckboard for lumber and kegs of nails, well keg nails have fallen to the wayside in favor of more modern methods of packaging. So too has Rockwell Brothers Lumber Company of Cisco fallen to the wayside, kind of run up a dead end street 107 East 5th. It is sad but nevertheless it is still farewell to an old friend.

David B. Colfry III, Manager
Rockwell Brothers Lumber Company
