WTU Files For Rate Increase

West Texas Utilities Company has filed for a general increase in its retail rates, citing inflation, high interest rates and an essential major construction program as the reasons for the action.

The official filing was made Wednesday in Cisco by Jack Kennedy, local manager.

Kennedy said the application is a systemwide request for higher rates. Simultaneous filings were made in other incorporated towns for retail customers within their jurisdiction and with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for an increase to retail customers outside incorporated towns. The filing with the PUC also includes customers in eight incorporated towns which have ceded jurisdiction to the PUC.

WTU filed October 15 with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission for a rate increase to wholesale cooperative and municipal customers.

The proposed rates would produce an increase in total revenue of $32,256,983. This amounts to 15.4 per cent based on adjusted revenues of $209,402,398 for a 12-month test period ending September 30, 1981.

WTU requested that the new rates become effective January 1, 1982.

Kennedy said that a rate increase granted WTU last year "did not get the job done." That increase was for an average of 8.3 per cent and was only the second in the Company's entire history.

"The relief you granted us has been overrun by inflation and high interest rates and the need to build additional facilities," Kennedy said.

Growth in demand for electric energy, caused by a steady increase in new customers and higher usage by old customers, is forcing WTU to expand its facilities.

WTU's newest power plant was completed in 1977, and since then the summer peak demand has grown to a point termed "uncomfortably close" to the system generating capacity.

The current construction program includes a coal-fired power station at Oklaunion, near Verpon. Although ownership of this plant will be shared by two sister companies in the Central and South West Corporation, Oklaunion will be the most costly project ever undertaken by WTU.

So far, WTU has lagged well behind most of the industry in increasing its rates. A recent report from the Public Utility Commission shows WTU's rates to be second lowest in the state among investor-owned companies and fifth lowest among all utilities.

Under the proposed rates, an average bill for basic residential service would be increased by 19.1 per cent. For example, a residential customer using 600 kilowatt-hours per month would pay $40.95, compared to $34.39 under the present rates—a difference of $6.56. This would include fuel costs.

The city has several options in responding to WTU's request. It may deny the increase, suspend the increase for a certain period of time, or approve the increase. The city also has the option of denying the request and ceding future jurisdiction to the Public Utility Commission. Eight municipalities in the WTU service area chose to cede jurisdiction last year.

New York Man Faces Charges After Escape

Michael Kenneth Thomas, 18, arrested here recently on charges of larceny, will be taken before the Eastland County grand jury Tuesday to face charges in connection with his escape attempt last Tuesday, Sheriff Johnny Morren reported Friday.

Thomas was taken in custody an hour after he escaped and charges were filed in 91st District Court in connection with the escape. Bond was set at $10,000 and he was still in county jail Friday. He had waived extradition to Buffalo, N.Y., to face charges there but must face charges here first, authorities said.

Two Ciscoans Are Found Guilty In 91st Court Cases

James Clifford Farris of Cisco was sentenced to serve 10 years in the Texas penitentiary in a 91st District Court trial last week on charges in connection with the theft of a truck and oil field equipment, Sheriff Johnny Morren reported Friday.

Equipment allegedly stolen included a 1977 Ford two and a half ton truck with a gooseneck trailer loaded with 525 sucker rods. The equipment was recovered.

In another trial, Robert Andrew Tipton, 19, of Cisco, was given a seven-year probation sentence after being found guilty in several burglary cases, including two at the J.C. Penney Company here. In addition to the sentence, Tipton was to make restitution.

Dorothy Perkins Gives Review Of Life In 1800s

Miss Dorothy Perkins, Midland, a member of Charles Crawford Chapter, DAR, and Curator of the chapter, gave a delightful review of three layers of America Life in the 1800s—homes, schools and social recreation. The title, "Hannah, Jerusha and Anabella—Three 19th Century Women."

Six members and two guests, Mesdames Bob Perkins and Al Folsom met in the home of Mrs. B.C. Cromwell, Sabine Terrace Apartments, 600 Sadosa, Eastland, at 2:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 23.

Dressed in appropriate style, long dress, white cambric apron, and cap, Miss Perkins portrayed Hannah as a typical housewife of the day. She reviewed a book, written in 1838, "American Frugal Housewife." The theme, waste nothing, was summarized in the slogan, "Eat it up, wear it out; make it do, or do without." This was a course in strict accounting for every penny, child care, home remedies

Work Of Regional Eye Bank Outlined

Six area people have had their sight restored in surgical operations made possible by the District 2-E1 Lions Eye Bank, Inc., during the past eight months, Executive Director James Wheeler told the Cisco Lions Club in a talk at their weekly luncheon last Wednesday noon.

Mr. Wheeler said that over 100 residents of this region have benefited from the eye bank program in the past two years. He said there are now 100 names of a waiting list for eye transplant operations in the State of Texas.

The district eye bank, which serves 23 counties, has the use of a free room at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. The room is equipped to store donated eyes and for ophthalmologists to perform transplant surgery. The Taylor County Medical Society cooperates fully with the program, Mr. Wheeler said.

Individuals are encouraged by Lions Club committee workers to sign agreements to donate their eyes to the Eye Bank when they die. Donor cards are available from Lions Club officials. The age of the donor does not affect the use of cornea tissue from the eyes. Corneal transplants are usually performed within 48 hours after the time of death of the donor.

Mr. Wheeler said that six people can be helped by one pair of donated eyes. Only those suffering from corneal defects, scleral rupture and vitreous deficiencies can be helped by transplant surgery, he added. Donated eyes can be transported by air to other areas.

The eye bank program has a budget of some $3,500 for the year and its financial support comes from Lions Club members and others interested, Mr. Wheeler said.

Lion Ken Parker, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

President Jack Farleigh presented a $100 check to Phil Kendrick for their camel fund. Mr. Kendrick told Lions that the fund was nearing the amount needed to buy a replacement camel for use in their religious pageants.

Street Paving Plans Studied At Meeting Of City Council

The possibilities of beginning a street paving program of some 10 city blocks per year were discussed at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Council at City Hall last Tuesday night.

City Manager Mike Moore asked the Council for permission to work up a proposal and to consult engineers and contractors informally with the view of starting a paving program this fiscal year. The Council gave him the "go-ahead."

Mr. Moore suggested that a paving program of 10 to 15 blocks per year might be feasible without tax bonds. He felt that the use of contractors rather than city personnel and equipment for new pavement might be the most economical plan. He added that the city street department will continue to do street repair work.

The city manager said he would submit plans and specifications for paving work to the Council in January, 1982, with the view of beginning the project in late spring when temperatures would be favorable. His idea was for the city to finance the paving without assessments or charges to property owners.

Property owner participation in the cost of paving work would be appreciated, Mr. Moore added. The paving work would be done each year on streets most traveled, it was pointed out.

In other action, the Council approved renewal of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospital program for city employees for the year beginning Dec. 1st. The city manager reported that the cost of the plan has been increased from $82 to $133 for an employee and his family.

The new hospital plan carries $50 deductible for each hospital admission and instead of paying 100% of the hospital bill Blue Cross will pay 80% under the new policy. Blue Cross collected $22,887 for covering city employees and their families last year and paid out $37,426.

The city manager was asked to check with other insurance companies with the hope of finding a suitable plan at a better rate.

The city's financial report for October, 1981, as prepared by City Accountant Jean Gray was examined and approved. The report showed general fund income for October of $127,172 or 19% of the amount anticipated for the year. This included $101,552 in city and valorem taxes. General fund expenses amounted to $23,547 or 3% of the year's budget.

Water department income amounted to $25,452 with expenditures of $31,039. The city purchased a new backhoe machine for $23,855 during October.

Statements for October included: general fund, $50,605, and utility fund, $38,979. The city manager reported that 140 new street signs had been put up and others were awaiting installation of posts.

Present for the meeting were Councilmen Bobby Ingram, Bobby Rains, Ivan Webb and Linton Batteas. Mr. Batteas presided in the absence of Mayor Pro Tem Loyal Lundstrom.

Nursing Center To Hold Annual Open House

Mae Green, activity director of Cisco Nursing Center, announces the annual open house at the Center will be December 5 and 6 from 2 to 4 each afternoon.

Christmas Madrigal Dinner To Be Presented Dec. 3 & 4

The eighth annual Christmas Madrigal Dinner will be presented by the Fine Arts Department of Cisco Junior College, Thursday and Friday, December 3 and 4, at 7:00 p.m. in the Roof Garden Dinner Theater.

The Madrigal Singers are selected from the college choir, and are directed by Wyley Peebles. They will don their colorful robes to help create the medieval atmosphere, and the theater is being decorated to suggest an English castle.

A caterer has been employed to prepare the wassail bowl, the pig's head, and the typically English roast beef dinner, all of which will be topped off with a serving of steamed pudding. Band Director Tim Jones has selected three of his best trumpeters to sound the fanfares announcing each course of the dinner.

The singers have worked on the difficult polyphony of the Renaissance since September. The madrigal part of the program will be presented immediately after the dessert course, and harpsichord music will be presented by piano instructor Steven Zell. The final section of the program will be strictly Christmas music, most of it arrangements of familiar carols. Director Peebles stated that most of the seats for the Friday performance have already been reserved by the Abilene chapter of the American Association of University Women, but there are still good places available for Thursday's performance. He also said that he will have a delightful surprise for the audience somewhere in the program.

Dr. Norman Wallace, president of CJC, whose initial suggestion got the madrigal dinners started seven years ago, will extend a special welcome to the guests.

By Jasper Cook
For weeks my wife and I had feverishly planned every detail for the two weeks she would be allowed for her vacation. It did not matter that she would not receive any pay for those two weeks, it would be a time of rest and relaxation, a time for fun and freedom from her grueling job as housekeeper at the motel where she was employed.

My wife's brother was recuperating from open-heart surgery and he and his wife would visit us from Detroit. He had called and said that he wanted to go fishing here in Texas. Since we are a fishing family I immediately began the tedious task of preparing the boat and fishing equipment, to make sure that everything was in perfect working order for a successful and enjoyable fishing trip.

Since we had moved back to my home town in Texas last year after forty years of traveling and working all over the world we were not familiar with all the better fishing places anymore. Where should we take Johnny and Sarah when they came? After a great deal of inquiry and considering the fact that our daughter and son-in-law lived in Waco we decided to spend Labor Day weekend and the following week at Lake Whitney, near Waco. Inasmuch as I had fished there once before with moderate success this seemed to be the ideal place.

We had not been fishing for a whole year and we were as excited about this trip as a four year old child looking forward to a visit from Santa Claus. The boat was ready, the fishing gear in tip top shape, and the camper on the truck was fully stocked with goodies. We were ready!

Johnny and Sarah arrived with their camper on Thursday. It was quite a touching reunion for all of us since we had not seen them in more than two years; however, amid all the tears of joy, the hugging and kissing, and the ecstasy of being with our loved ones was the overwhelming idea of vacation, relaxing, and taking life easy at Lake Whitney.

We were on our way Friday morning. We would have less than three hours of driving and the real fun would begin. We stopped in DeLeon to replenish our supply of ice and to have some refreshments. On returning to the vehicles I found that my truck would not start! I had recently had a new exhaust manifold installed and the mechanic had not replaced the heat shield over the solenoid. The solenoid was burned to a crisp.

After several telephone calls we discovered that no mechanic was available. What should we do? Johnny is a mechanic but because of his recent operation he could not crawl under the truck to remove the starter and solenoid. I am disabled because of a broken back and the fusion the doctors performed on me. The women certainly could not repair the truck. We found ourselves in quite a perplexing and distressing situation.

The sun was bearing down on us as only Texas suns can do and our little Lhasa Apso was literally frothing at the mouth from the heat. Our enthusiasm had suddenly turned to dismay. What could we do? In desperation I secured a six foot long foam pad from the truck and in spite of the cramps and pain in my back I slowly moaned and groaned my way under the truck and with expert advice from Johnny I laboriously removed the starter and solenoid. An hour and a half later I somehow managed to finish the job (with a minimum of parts left over) and the truck was running again.

We arrived at Lake Whitney shortly after noon and proceeded to McKowen Park where we found a picnic table with a canopy. It was located ten feet from the water. We immediately set up camp and put the boat in the water at the boat ramp. Now the fun would really begin!

Johnny and I trolled for strippers for a while and then we still-fished for white bass. We didn't catch anything but we were not discouraged because after all, this was only the beginning of nine days on the lake, or at least we thought so. The sun had disappeared over the distant hills to the west and the cool night breeze fanned our faces as we returned to camp. There we were surprised and somewhat dismayed at what we saw. It seemed that half the people of Texas had come to camp at Lake Whitney. Campers, trailers, vans, pick-ups, cars and motorcycles were in evidence everywhere. Folks were camped on almost every inch of ground in that park. It was less than four steps from my truck to the one next to us. Where did they all come from? Oh well, they had a right to be there too.

We had a lovely evening meal seasoned with gnats and mosquitoes and by nine thirty I was ready to retire so that I could get up at 5 a.m. and get an early start after the bass. I retired alright but I could not sleep because of the incessant traffic and the blaring radio just outside my window. At 3:30 a.m. the Sheriff came by and persuaded my neighbors to turn the radio off. They did, but other noises continued. At 4 a.m. someone had arrived at the camp on the opposite side of us with two cases of beer and they decided that no one in the park should be asleep at that hour of the night. No one was!

After a good breakfast and what seemed like a half gallon of coffee we were back in the boat. I was so sleepy and so physically exhausted that I hadn't even noticed the gnats and mosquitoes in my coffee and eggs. We would only fish until 9 a.m. and then return to camp for some rest and some much needed sleep.

On our return (or attempted return) we found approximately 40 boats with waterskiers behind them. People were floating on air mattresses and some of the skiers were actually going between the air mattresses; and if that wasn't enough fisherman's discouragement, three jet-skis were cavorting all over the place. We finally inched our way to shore amid all the noise and confusion only to have a man in a parachute land in the water, almost in my boat. What a revolting development! No one could fish in that kind of atmosphere.

The sun was now trying for a heat radiation record and the mosquitoes were not about to cease their incessant buzzing and biting. Now, instead of one radio there were six or perhaps more, accompanied by various tape players and assorted noise-making contraptions, producing an olio of country and western music, interspersed with rock and roll, disco and other so-called music that is beyond any human description. There would be no sleep for me today! In desperation I took my truck and camper and searched for a place of quiet so that I could take a little nap. No such place was to be found.

In the meantime Johnny and the ladies had to dissuade several campers from occupying the tiny space where I had parked my truck. When I finally had it parked again I vowed not to move it again until time to come home. I was thoroughly disgusted with the turn of events.

After an eternity, night finally came and so did some more campers. They even tried to camp in the ten feet of space between our table and my boat. What a predicament! Motorcycles and cars were drag-racing on the road 50 feet from us. At 2 a.m. some fiendish person began igniting firecrackers, music was blaring from every direction. Pandemonium reigned! The Sheriff's Deputy came and observed the situation, then left in disgust. It seemed that the only ones who had sleep at all were those who became so inebriated they passed out, but since I do not drink I was left to stare at the old man misery all night long.

That was enough for me. When morning came we loaded the camper, retrieved the boat and 55 miled it home, down-hearted, disillusioned and disgusted.

My wife sighed and mumbled something about next year. Oh yes, we are planning a vacation and fishing trip for next year, but it will be in Canada! I suppose we are spoiled because of our 11 years vacationing in Canada where you can camp beside a lake and probably won't see or hear another camper for days, and even if you do, there will be no loud music, drag-racing, firecrackers, or other disconcerting elements.

On one of those sleepless nights at Lake Whitney, as I lay in my bunk, I heard my old buddy George Jones singing "He Stopped Loving Her Today," and you know something? I suddenly realized that I had almost stopped loving my fellow man, especially those inconsiderate ones who have no respect or concern for the right of others. Some people make it rather difficult for others to love them. I asked God for strength and courage. Finally I realized that those people were human, were God's creation the same as everyone else and I love because of that. I do not love some of the things they do. Perhaps I'm getting to be an old "fuddy-duddy" but even so, I still respect the privacy of others.

I do not wish to be irreverent, but the Bible tells us that God rested on the seventh day. I'm absolutely positive that it was not at Lake Whitney on a Labor Day weekend.

Some call it "vacation" but some of us call it an unadulterated disaster!

WHERE FAMILIES OF ONE OR MORE ARE WELCOME

What picture comes to mind when you hear the word "family"? Do you see a mother, father, and 2-3 children? What does a family look like?

Every family is unique. There are families with children, some with no children, some are single-parent families, and there are "blended families" — where a new family is formed from former ones. "Part-time" families occur when a parent has custody on week-ends or during vacations. Families come in all sizes and in wide variation.

Your family — of one or more — is welcome with us. Though every family has its own specific set of problems and potentials, we all need Christ, His love, and human caring. Let us meet your family this week!

Howard Payne Sets Dec. 3 For Musical Production

The cast and crew for "Amahl and the Night Visitors," the Howard Payne University Music Theatre Production set for Dec. 3, has been named, said Joseph McClain, director.

Featured in the leading role of Amahl will be Valerie Northup, a freshman from Austin. Nancy McClain, instructor will be played by Dr. Jack Bottoms, dean of the HPU School of Music; Douglas Bond, freshman; and Mark Andrist, HPU junior. Tommy Edds, a senior, will play the page.

Lighting and stage effects will be handled by assistant professor of speech and drama Ken Hensarling. McClain said that HPU's own costume shop is designing and making costumes for the production.

"Each detail of the production has been conceived with the goal in mind of creating the special kind of magic that makes theater-going the unforgettable experience that it can be. Our staff feels excited about the upcoming performance and hopes that the production will be a wonderful experience at the beginning of the Christmas season for those who see it," said McClain.

The curtain time for the performance is 7 p.m., which will allow families to take advantage of the event, said McClain. Tickets, priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children, will be available beginning at 6 p.m. before the performance at 7 Dec. 3. Playing time for "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be less than one hour.

CJC To Present 8th Annual Christmas Madrigal Dinner

The eighth annual Christmas Madrigal Dinner will be presented by the Fine Arts Department of Cisco Junior College, Thursday and Friday, December 3 and 4, at 7:00 p.m. in the Roof Garden Dinner Theater.

The Madrigal Singers are selected from the college choir, and are directed by Wyley Peebles. They will don their colorful robes to help create the medieval atmosphere, and the theater is being decorated to suggest an English castle.

A caterer has been employed to prepare the wassail bowl, the pig's head, and the typically English roast beef dinner, all of which will be topped off with a serving of steamed pudding. Band Director Tim Jones has selected three of his best trumpeters to sound the fanfares announcing each course of the dinner.

The singers have worked on the difficulty of the Renaissance since September. The madrigal part of the program will be presented immediately after the dessert course, and harpsichord music will be presented by piano instructor Steven Zell. The final section of the program will be strictly Christmas music, most of it arrangements of familiar carols.

Director Peebles stated that most the seats for the Friday performance have already been reserved by the Abilene chapter of the American Association of University Women, but there are still good places available for the Thursday performance. He also said that he will have a delightful surprise for the audience somewhere in the program.

Dr. Norman Wallace, president of CJC, whose initial suggestion got the madrigal dinners started seven years ago, will extend a welcome to the guests.

Guest Soloists To Be Featured In Tarleton Production

STEPHENVILLE, TEXAS—Four outstanding guest soloists will be featured at the performance of Handel's Messiah by the Cross Timbers Civic Chorale and members of the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra on Dec. 5, director Herbert Teat has announced. The four soloists will be Edward Baird, bass; Gerald O'Connor, tenor; Sue Ellen Teat, soprano; and Carol Pyle, alto.

The performance will be held in the Clyde H. Wells Fine Arts Center on the Tarleton State University campus.

Baird is professor of voice at North Texas State University and has sung with the Fort Worth Opera. He is a member of the National Association of Teachers of Singing and is currently the national officer in charge of NATS summer workshops. Two of his students are currently singing with the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

O'Connor is a member of the voice faculty at Tarrant County Junior College. For more than two years he was tenor soloists at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Dallas where he performed in Bach's Mass in B Minor, Handel's Messiah, and the Southwest Premier of Daniel Pinkham's Passion for Judas, which was conducted by Pinkham. O'Connor has performed with the San Antonio Opera and for three years resided in Italy where he studied with Dorothy Dow, member of La Scala Opera for ten years.

Dr. Teat has been in an instructor in voice at Tarrant County Junior College since 1977. She holds a Ph.D. in Music Education with a Vocal Pedagogy from North Texas State University where she was a student of Eugene Conley, former leading tenor with the Metropolitan Opera of New York. Dr. Teat is a member of Schola Cantorum of Texas and recently completed a concert tour of Europe as soloist and assistant director of the Texas Youth Chorale. She was one of 10 Texans chosen or the 1979 Kennedy Center-Rockefeller Foundation International Competition for Excellence in the Performance of American Music.

Mrs. Pyle is choral director of Haltom High School and was alto soloists for last year's performance at the Messiah at Tarleton. She has been a soloists with Schola Cantorum of Texas, and has appeared in concerts at East Texas State University, Texas Wesleyan College, and at Tarleton. Her voice teachers have included Bill Abbott, Carol Mayo and Joan Wall.

The initial performance of the Messiah by the Cross Timbers Civic Chorale was presented last December 5 to an overflow crowd in the 805-seat auditorium of the fine arts center on the TSU campus.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. performance are $6 for adults and $4 for students and are now available at the central ticket office in the center.

Approximately 25 selected members of the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra will join the Civic Chorale in the 90-minute presentation of the traditional Christmas music by Handel.

Bass Club Report

Terry L. Wilson
Recent heavy rains around the county have raised area lakes to their fullest. Lake Hubbard is reported to be clearing up; with bass fishing improving steadily. Cisco is proving to produce heavy stringers regularly. Tommy Maynard of Eastland brought in a 3 fish stringer weighing 7 lbs. 13 oz. This was a half day fishing. Tommy is presently 4th this year in the race for Angler of the Year. With catches such as this its easy to see why.
Lake Leon is full and still rather muddy. J.L. Stracner recently had a good days fishing on Leon with 3 fish over 4 lbs. The fishing has tapered off somewhat with the warm days and fresh water flooding lots of new ground; the water has soured some. Since the lake has quit running over; on Wednesday the 18th a large number of our stripers were trapped behind the dam in a small pool of water. As will happen, oxygen supply in the stilled water ran out. It was reported large numbers of fish literally jumping out on dry land due to lack of oxygen.

The year drawing to an end we have only one tournament left December 5th and one meeting December the 3rd. So lets all make plans to be there and lets end the year with a bang. Yall come and good fishing.

LOOK WHAT'S GOING ON

AT PETROLEUM BLDG

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

A fellow was asked, "Why did you pick out Helen for a girlfriend?" "Because," explained Bill, "she's different." "In what way?" came the question.

"She's the only girl who'd have me," said Bill. Really, you are different. There is only one like you. And there will never be another you. So you are important.

And the Lord will have you. He wants to do through you what He has not done through anyone else.

If you fail to let the Lord have His way with you, you will leave a big hole in life. You are not destined to a square peg in a round hole. Neither are you doomed to end up as a "might-have-been." Non one is doomed unless that one chooses to be. And the secret does not lie in aptitude tests, excellent as they may be. The secret is in your relation to the Lord.

You were made to have fellowship with the Lord, made to be led by the Lord. Until you accept His love and leadership you are a fish out of water.

Why don't you let Him guide you and give you success?

Growing Beautiful Amaryllis

BY TED BRICE, THE GARDEN EDITOR

The original home of the Amaryllis is the Cape of Good Hope. It is also a native of Mexico, Peru as well as Brazil. The Amaryllis is one of the most magnificent of indoor winter-blooming plants. The large bulbous plants have long narrow leaves and large funnel-shaped flowers. Each of these bulbs will produce one to three leafless stems of two feet or more with enormous bell-shaped flowers which will be up to ten inches across. The red flowered Amaryllis has been closely associated with the Christmas Holiday Season. Today we have many hybrids such as white, salmon-pink, pale pink as well as dark red and variegated streaked petals. After the Amaryllis flowers the plant may be set outside in a warm spot. In some of the warmer areas of the Southwest the Amaryllis may be grown outside year round but the Amaryllis better known as a pot plant at the Holiday Season of the year. The Amaryllis bulb will grow year after year producing their beauty for this particular season of the year.

The culture suggestions for the Amaryllis will apply for Amaryllis grown in pots as well as out of doors. They like a high light to a very high light therefore for pot plants they should be in a sunny south or east window. The temperature range for the Amaryllis is seventy to eight-five degrees maximum with a thirty-five degree minimum. Allow the surface of the potting mixture to dry out between watering. During dormancy with hold all the watering. The Amaryllis likes an average humidity of twenty-five per cent or higher. You should fertilize monthly during the growing season with an even balance fertilizer. When the foliage turns yellow or brown and withers after the flowering you should cut the foliage off and then let the plant go through the dormancy stage. If the Amaryllis is grown in a pot you may store the pot in a warm dry dark location during this dormancy period. The Amaryllis bulbs are sold in accordance to size of the bulb, therefore do not wait until all the Amaryllis bulbs have been picked over before your purchase yours. The bigger the bulb properly taken care of will produce the best flowers.

GOOD GARDENING UNTIL NEXT WEEK FROM YOUR GARDEN EDITOR, TED BRICE.

Lights from the Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."—St. John 8:32

It has been said, "Achievement without restraint is not freedom." Proverbs 25:28 says, "He that hath no rule over his spirit is like a city that is broken down, and without walls."

We may achieve with broken down values. The world looks on and discounts the broken walls and considers that the individual is successful. They are unable to see the invisible inner man or view the bondage he is in so as to achieve worldly success. His spirit is not ruled by himself but by the spirits of this world. Is this true freedom?

Release yourself to Him, the true God of the Universe. It is only then can you understand that you are free indeed. You may be free from all the entanglements of the world. You may be free from people. You may be free from torments of mind. Yes, when Jesus sets you free you are free indeed. You will be able to sing, "Once I was bound by earth's sinful pleasures

Then I received a glorious freedom."

What a release! Yes, the mature man is able to control his entire body as he allows Christ to control him.

Public Invited To Christmas Luncheon Wed.

The Eastland County Extension Homemakers Clubs will host their annual Christmas luncheon and program this coming Wednesday, December 2 at the First Methodist Church fellowship hall in Eastland.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Christmas program at 1:30 p.m. The program will be presented by Mrs. Kathryn Cawley, Abilene Lone Star Gas Consumer Specialist. The program will feature Christmas foods, holiday decorations, and food gift packages.

Cisco Writer's Club

The Cisco Writer's Club, with Bill Roberts as President, will meet at 7:00 P.M. Tuesday, Dec. 1st, at the Chamber of Commerce Bldg. in Cisco. This will be a "Workshop" evening, spent in reading manuscripts and taking suggestions on same. The Club plans to include a manuscript by Mel Scaife, former resident of New Zealand, in the evening's program.

The public is cordially invited to come out and bring a manuscript for this enjoyable evening of discussion. Bring poetry as well as prose. Or simply come to listen - that can be worthwhile too!

Volunteerism-root of County Extension Service

Volunteerism is rooted in the history of America; it was the cornerstone of the American Revolution. Today, it remains a strong force for social progress in this country.

While official reports show some 37 million volunteers each year in organized agencies in the United States, the figure probably comes closer to 68 million since many people volunteer on a spontaneous, ad hoc (certain situation) basis.

A major user of volunteers is the Cooperative Extension Service at the federal and state levels which is responsible for conducting informal educational programs in agriculture, home economics, and community and youth development, points out C.R. Salmon, 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Volunteers work hand-in-hand with county Extension agents in conducting these educational programs.

In Texas this year, some 63,000 volunteers have been involved in Extension activities, including 22,000 in 4-H programs. These 4-H volunteers spend an average of 15 to 25 days a year supporting various educational programs and activities geared to youth aged 9 to 19, notes Salmon. At the national level total contributions of 4-H volunteers approach $200 million a year, more than double the current annual investment of public and private sector funds.

Volunteers also are rapidly becoming an important part of this nation's schools, add Salmon. It's no longer unusual to find parents and other adults in the classroom, assisting the teacher through a volunteer program.

So, volunteerism has become important in public education, social services and community development. And its growth is due to a large pool of healthy, retired persons; more emphasis on social welfare services; and federal legislation favoring the growth and development of volunteer service agencies.

THE REST OF THE GOSPEL
Those who claim that the Heavens are closed cite II Timothy 3:16 to "prove" that no more scriptures will be given. This was said by the Apostle Paul; and in verse 15 we find he was talking about the Old Testament, as that was the only scriptures that existed then. Also, Paul was killed in 66AD, so if all scripture was given before 66AD, how could John receive the book of Revelation around 90-96AD? They say that Revelation is the last words received from Heaven according to Revelation 22:18-19; but this means only this one revelation, not the entire Bible because the Bible, as such, didn't exist then; there was no "New Testament" yet.

Land Heritage Award The Johnson Ranch: A Land and Its People

It was an impressive ceremony in the State Capitol Rotunda on Nov. 10th when the Johnson Ranch, located about 5 mi. north of Desdemona, was given a Texas Land Heritage Award. This land was one of the first two Eastland County properties to receive this recognition, the other being the land of Pebble Hargus Boles S.E. of Eastland. Fifty one Texas families gathered in Austin this year to receive the honor, which is given to farms and ranches which have been in continuous agricultural production by the same family for 100 yrs. or more.

Those from the Johnson family who attended the Awards Presentation were: Mrs. Doyl (Lucille) Johnson, Clyde L. Johnson and wife Dasha, and Roy Johnson.

The roll of the all the families was called, a history given, and Reagan V. Brown, Texas Agricultural Commissioner, presented each family a certificate. Clyde L. Johnson received this for the Johnson family.

A history of the Johnson family and land will be included in a Family Land Heritage publication, which will be available to the Eastland Public Library and the school libraries. The land also becomes eligible for a State Historic marker.

Five generations of Johnsons were actually involved with the award. These include: J.S. Johnson, who homesteaded the first of the land in 1880, his son Toby Johnson, who held onto his part of the land, and Doyl Jeremiah Sanford Johnson, the first of the family in Eastland County, was born in Georgia in 1821. He came to Texas as early as 1847, and spent most of his young life moving from one frontier area to another. In 1880 Johnson and his third wife, Martha Elizabeth (Reed) brought about 75 head of Steel Dust and Copper Bottom horses to Eastland County. They homesteaded 160 acres among the hills and sandy loam north of Desdemona, while the horses ranged out as far as Dublin. Occasionally they would round up the animals and brand the young ones.

The Johnsons cleared the land of brush and rocks, constructing a 4 1/2 ft. rock fence which is still standing today. They raised oats, wheat and other grains on part of the land, with livestock on the pastures. Martha Elizabeth, besides raising her family, helped with work out on the place.

The Johnsons built some fences of split rails until barbed wire was available, then they cross-fenced. They threshed grain in a trench, with the bottom covered with wagon sheets. Bundled grain was placed on the sheets, and a horse rode over it until the grain was threshed.

J.S. Johnson first constructed a log house for his family - then later a frame house with lumber hauled from Ft. Worth. In addition to ranching, Johnson operated a syrup mill, and worked at several other enterprises. He prospered as well as anyone could during the times in which he lived. Toby Lee Johnson, one of the sons of J.S. Johnson, married Lyda Allen in 1906. Three of their children died when young - Buran, Paul,

Eastland County land, renting additional land as he needed it. In 1920, after the death of his mother, he inherited 67.5 acres of the home place - and kept it as long as he lived. He raised in 1938. But Doyl worked some for the W.P.A., and by 1943 the young people had saved enough to buy 95 acres of the home place. Doyl farmed with horses until just after World War II, then he bought his first tractor. From that time on he went into mechanized equipment.

The next three years were full of hard work, devotion, and good management by both Doyl and Lucille Johnson. They had three sons, Willie Paul, Roy, and Clyde L., all of whom Doyl was determined to educate while expanding his ranching operations. That he was able to do this, while buying more of the home place and increasing other holdings is a tribute to his energy and vision. Furthermore, while accomplishing this, the quality of family life on his ranch was noteworthy. Hard work for the boys, yes. But good training, and time out for Church, (the Church of Christ) community activities, and recreation. And improvement of the family dwelling was always high on the list of Johnson priorities. First Doyl repaired an old house to live in. Then he built a neat frame house, and 1967 he Johnson, who has worked the land, restored it to a high state of production, and expanded the family holdings. Then there are three sons of Doyl Johnson - Willie Paul, Clyde, and Roy, who not only are working some of the land, but have pushed forward into new areas of education, agriculture, and community service. And the six young grandchildren of Doyl Johnson - they are enjoying the land and learning how to take care of it.

The Johnson sons were inspired to develop their abilities in a number of areas. They found rural life attractive, so each one chose some field connected with agriculture. And each, along with their children, have kept close ties to the Eastland County land.

Willie Paul has a Master's Degree from Texas Tech, and teaches Distributive Education in Slaton High School. He also farms 450 acres of cotton. Roberta, Paul's wife, also teaches at Slaton Hi. Their daughter, Paula, finished three years at Tarleton U., and at the and Esther. Their other children were Evelyn (Crawford), Gladys (Pigg), Ruth (Bell) and Doyl S. Johnson.

Toby Lee stayed on the beautiful teams of horses, and used them to farm with until he retired in 1940. He also helped keep the County roads in good condition, and dug slush pits during the Desdemona oil boom. He taught his son, Doyl, many farming and ranching skills.

Grandfather J.S. had settled, cleared and tamed the land. Toby Johnson had managed to hang onto it through the depression, and now it was up to Doyl Johnson to renew the hopes of the family. And it looked like tough times for a young farmer when Doyl married Lucille Carter of Desdemona good rangeland from brushland by pushing brush, reseeding and resting grass. Other projects were construction of terraces, construction of a bermuda grass waterway for drainage, rotation of crops, and pond construction.

At the time Doyl Johnson received his honor, Lucille Johnson was named "Lady Of The Week" by the Gorman newspaper. The paper noted attractive Mrs. Johnson's ability as a homemaker, and how she had always given help and encouragement to her husband and children.

present is taking on-the-job training in Medical work in Ft. Worth. The son, Greg, farms some of the family land, and goes to College at Tarleton.

Another son of Doyl Johnson, Roy L., received a B.S. Degree from Texas Tech. He taught school and farmed part time for awhile, but now has gone into full time agriculture. He farms his Dad's land, owns land of his own, and leases grass and peanut land. Roy and his wife, Charollette (Loveless) Johnson, have built a new house on the home place. Their son, Brad, is active in 4-H and Scouting, and daughter Kristi helps with the farm work.

Roy Johnson is well known as a State Director of the Farm Bureau, a position he was appointed to in 1980. In this capacity he travels around the State, and also to Washington D.C. on behalf of farm policies advocated by the Bureau.

Clyde L. Johnson attended Business Schools in Austin and Stephenville. He raises cattle, owns a business in Stephenville, and has a Seed and Fertilizer and Peanut Dryer Business in Desdemona. Like his brothers and father, he is interested in land conservation. Clyde and his wife, Dasha (Sharp) and daughter Toni and son Brent live in the people who have lived there. The Johnson family expresses appreciation to the persons who assisted in obtaining the Texas Land Heritage Award. They are Judge Scott Bailey, B.O. Hawkins, Jenny Hawkins, and Lois Dart. "We pray that our leaders rule in a way so that our great-great grandsons can have freedom to make a decent living on the farm and ranch," the Johnsons state.

It is good that the State of Texas gives a Land Heritage Award. It is a recognition not only to the land, but to the persons who have been stewards for 100 years. For the most important product to come from land such as the Johnsons is the quality of Stephenville. During the last few years Doyl Johnson has turned most of the hard ranch work over to the sons, and is enjoying some of the results of his labor. He takes time for coon hunting, or for his favorite hobby of restoring wagons and hacks. When he finishes all the detailed work on these vehicles they are works of art. There is time, too, for he and Lucille to enjoy the tranquil beauty of the land which surrounds them. Doyl has learned a lot about this land, during the years he has taken care of it.

HUNTERS URGED TO TAKE PRECAUTIONS--Harry Ploehn could have been the victim of a tragic accident if he had not been wearing safety glasses during a recent hunting trip. Ploehn was target shooting when his .45-caliber lead bullet ricocheted off a tree back toward him. It hit his safety glasses and was deflected, averting a tragic and possibly blinding accident. The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness applauds Ploehn for his safety foresight and urges more hunters to wear protective eyewear when hunting.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Much has been said and written about gossip. Shakespeare described it, "Foul whisperings." Walter Winchell said it is - "The art of saying nothing in a way that leaves practically nothing unsaid." George Meredith depicts it as "Social sewage." Another person likened it to "Being vaccinated with a phonograph needle."

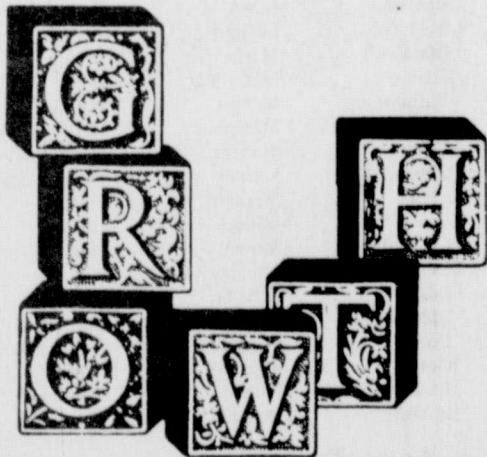

Describe it as you wish. Invariably it amounts to twisting the truth to derive senseless satisfaction from the misfortune of others. It is an unexplainable, horrible trait seen too often.

Can it be stopped? Certainly! How? Simply by realizing when you gossip you are saying too much. It means being sure the brain is engaged before putting the mouth in gear. When you exclude gossip from a conversation it leaves you with a feeling you could have said more. Should not common sense tell us when we shun gossip we cultivate the art of good conversation?

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

"Thanksgiving is over and we are Christmas bound," stated one of the members of the Senior Center. The Senior Citizens Center will be a busy place during the month of December, and all those 60 years of age, or older, are asked to participate in the festive days. As the year draws to a close, we reflect as to the things that we did, or did not do, to make other people happy and to make their place on this earth a little more enjoyable. That is the goal of the Senior Center, to assist others and to help in every way we can make things easier for those who cannot do for themselves. The Christmas luncheon will be on December 23 this year. Why not call every eligible person that you know and invite them to help you celebrate by being together and sharing your fellowship during the closing days of 1981.

Our programs for the past week included Janet Thomas, Eastland County Extension Agent, presenting a talk in regard to the thawing and preparation of the turkey and other meat for Thanksgiving; a special Thanksgiving program by Dr. Pat Curry, chairman of the music department at Northern Arizona University and his wife, Mrs. Lorraine Curry. Mrs. Curry is assistant superintendent of schools in Flagstaff. Dr. Curry entertained by playing on his violin accompanied by Mrs. Curry at the piano.

Those having birthdays during the month of December were honored, and Mr. and Mrs. Luke Phippen furnished the ice cream for the 160 guests at the luncheon. The menus for the week are:
Monday--oven fried chicken, blackeye peas, stewed tomatoes, sliced peaches, bread, butter and drink.
Wednesday--beef stew, tossed salad/french dressing, applesauce, gingerbread, cornbread, butter and drink.
Friday--swiss steak, pinto beans, greens, pears, cornbread, butter and drink.

People Things

IF THEY HAD bought and paid for it, Cisco and CJC got advertising Thursday morning that would have cost $200,000 or so. The Wrangler Belles and B had had some four full minutes of national exposure on television as they appeared in the NBC Thanksgiving Parade.

The parade announcer, Ed McMahon, mentioned the Cisco contingent just before a commercial. Then, he gave a good run-down on Cisco as the band came in view. The band marched under the camera and attention focused on the following Belles. They stopped and staged a fine program of precision routine. They were in good form, and a real credit to CJC.

While the Belles performed and the band played, the huge blue and white Cisco banner carried by two students in uniform was in front for all America to see. Occasional camera changes included close-ups of Belles. It was a fine show and, we are sure, all Cisco is proud.

The 301 Ciscoans making the trip were due home Friday night.

THAN KSGIVING came early last weekend at the J.V. Heysler home in south Cisco. Mrs. J.V.H.'s mother, Mrs. Hilda Cuneo, and her brother, John Britschgi, of San Rafael, Calif., and her sister, Miss Midge Britschgi, of Kodiak, Alaska, were in town for a visit and the two Heysler daughters, Sicily and Sheri, came up from Houston and son Joe drove in from Texas Tech to join his folks for a big turkey dinner.

Mrs. J.V.H.'s family left Wednesday after a visit of two weeks here. Her brother John, who operates a fishing boat out of San Rafael harbor, and Mr. J.V.H. went hunting and shot a deer and a couple of turkeys. Sister Midge flew from Kodiak to San Rafael to join her mother and brother for the trip to Cisco and their first Thanksgiving reunion in many years.

Sicily Heysler and Sheri Ayer were due to return home Friday. Joe, a senior at TT, will probably become a working partner in the Heysler Ranch here when he completes his college work next spring. The other Heysler son, Al, has an oil field welding business in these parts.

NEW RESIDENTS of our town are Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Foster of 503 East 11th Street. They're operators of the Pafford Ambulance Service for Cisco. Both Quincy and Janet Foster are fully accredited in all phases of first aid and ambulance work and have had a good many years of experience.

The Fosters hail from Spring Hill, La., and are looking forward to life as Texans living in Cisco.

ANOTHER FAMILY will be new in Cisco this coming week. David and Ruby Williams and their seven-year old son Keith are moving to 807 West 6th Street from Houston. They purchased the home from the Gladys Hutton Estate through the Century 21 folks.

Mr. Williams will work with his father, Lawyer D.D. Williams, of Cisco. Mr. DDW's legal practice deals mostly with oil and gas title work, and he has been here four years, having moved to Cisco from Houston.

CITY POLICE got a call the other night from Mrs. Josie Love, age 91, of 612

West 12th Street. A big possum was loose in her home and roaming around. Officer Rebecca Mendez and DPS Trooper Kenneth Rose answered the call.

Mrs. Love cautioned them "not to hurt the possum - just get it out of the house." And they did.

Mrs. Mendez, mother of three sons, is pretty involved in the Cub Scout business, as you might guess. And she's helping with the Cub Scout turkey shoot that will be held Dec. 5th, 12th and 19th out at the Cisco Gun Club rifle range. The shooting will be from 1 to 5 p.m. on each of the three afternoons. They'll have a bake sale there, too.

WHAT'S MRS. Morgan Fleming doing with the deer rifle that she won in the Cisco Booster's Club drawing? Her Lobo son, Brian, "is taking it hunting for me" . . . Glad to hear that Mrs. Bobby Smith got home last Monday from an Abilene hospital where she recently underwent surgery . . . The Marshall Joneses went down Hillsboro way for Thanksgiving a peccan picking-up party . . . Dave Anderson, of Dallas, whose band played here for the Centennial Party last spring, is visiting his parents, the E.D. Andersons . . . W.E. (Dizzy) Dean shot a fine turkey gobbler near Rising Star last Tuesday morning.

TURKEY AND all the trimmings made a fine meal for a family gathering Thursday at the Bob Greer home. Those present included their children and families - the Fred Kizers of Midland, the Jewel Baileys of Garland and the Richard Greers of Spring . . . The John McGuires went to Clyde for Thanksgiving dinner with her folks . . . The Ed Farleys went up to Borger in the Texas Panhandle for a holiday visit with their daughter and family . . . Mrs. Bill Wright enjoyed a Thanksgiving visit with her sister and family at Kerrville.

OUR SCOUTS report that Lake Bernie is still flowing water into the creek that runs to Lake Cisco and that the big lake water level is still as high as it was after the runoff from the recent big rains . . . Jim Bob Reeves, grandson of the Jesse Reynolds, shot a six-point buck east of town recently . . . The Jim Grahams enjoyed having their three children and five grandchildren home for Thanksgiving. Eating at the Graham table were Robin Kenslow and son of Sherman, the Randy Grahams of Weatherford and the Greg Grahams of Abilene. Michelle Graham, 10-year old daughter of the Greg Grahams, suffered a broken elbow in a mishap the other day.

MR. JERRY Boles of the City of Cisco staff shot two turkeys with the same bullet last weekend. He was hunting southwest of town . . . Mr. Willard Johnson took his three year old daughter to the Cisco Lions Club luncheon last Wednesday. She got along fine until the Lions gave their "ROAR," a regular ceremony at the lun-
