

Hall Of Remarks

by Herrel Hallmark

I GUESS you know by now that the legendary ground hog came out of its hole Tuesday morning and saw its shadow, scaring itself back inside. Therefore, six more weeks of winter are being forecast.

According to the National Weather Services bulletins, this week should seem like winter. Snow was predicted for Monday night and Tuesday morning, but at mid-morning Tuesday the sun was shining from out of clear blue skies.

Revised weather forecasts called for temperatures to plummet Tuesday afternoon and snow to begin falling late Tuesday and possibly again on Thursday.

Sunday morning, area residents awoke to find about an inch of snow on the ground. By mid-morning most of the white stuff had melted.

So, I guess you might as well sit back and wait out the next six weeks of winter.

A REPRINT from the Eastland Telegram's Tid Bits column follows:

CLIPPABLE FROM The Sower, church paper of the Daughtery St. Church of Christ:

EARNESTLY SPEAKING:

Because of the many remarks concerning Sunday mornings lesson, I want to share with you the main points. I confess that these points are not original with me, for they come from a friend of mine in Neenah, Wisconsin by the name of Don McPherson. This is an easy way to remember some facts about our Lord's death.

1. The one Lord was the one sacrifice given once for sin.

2. There were two thieves crucified with Jesus.

3. There were three crosses, the cross of rebellion, the cross of repentance, and the cross of redemption.

4. The garments of Jesus were divided into four parts.

5. Jesus suffered five physical wounds while on the cross...nails in both hands and feet, and the spear in his side.

6. There were six hours that Jesus was on the cross.

7. Jesus uttered seven different things on the cross: (1) "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." (2) "Truly, you will be with me in paradise." (3) "Woman behold thy son, son behold thy mother." (4) "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" (5) "I thirst." (6) "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." (7) "It is finished."

IF JESUS were alive today, he probably would not preach on television, says one of the Southwest's best known TV preachers.

Instead, Jesus would probably teach in an elementary school, or work with the Boy Scouts, or relate in some way to children and youth. So says H. Harry Bailey, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Fort Worth, whose sermons are televised into nine states and whose Sunday morning worship service holds the highest audience rating of any regular religious program on television in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The statement provides an insight into a master modern communicator of the Christian message who believes that preaching must be more than "cheerleading."

Inspiration is to preaching as seasoning is to a salad, Bailey says - important but not the main ingredient. Ideas which transcend a particular culture - ideas like peace, love, compassion, mercy - these are the stuff of reality, he claims.

"We need a better idea of God if we are to have a better world," he reasons. Teaching is the intellectual part of preaching. A good preacher will do some teaching, and a good teacher will engage in some preaching.

Bailey sees the value of television as an effective means of communicating the Gospel, but he guards against the popularity of today. "Jerusalem was the TV of Jesus' day, and he didn't use it much," reflects Bailey. "Rather, he spent most of his time teaching in the remote areas of the community, much as I imagine he might be doing today were he here. People often confuse popularity with truth, but truth doesn't have to be popular to be true, you know."

Then the Fort Worth preacher/teacher says why he is on television. "After one cuts through the reasons of ego and showmanship, I hope the genuine reasons emerge: to bring a sense of meaning to hungry people, and to say to them, 'The Church doesn't have all the answers but let's look together to find God's way for life.'"

Voters Should Check For Cards

A lot of people in Eastland County aren't going to be able to vote this year because their mail didn't get delivered.

Eastland County Tax Assessor-Collector Nancy Trout reports that her office mailed out about 11,000 voter registration certificates last week, with a total postal bill at 20 cents each, right at $2,000.

About 1,000 certificates were returned to her office Monday by the Postal Service due to imperfect addresses.

Persons who received the orange cards should sign them and keep for voting rights this year, Mrs. Trout said.

Those persons who did not receive their orange voting certificates should check with her tax office, first floor west in the courthouse, so see if it might have been returned.

All cards not claimed will be removed from the voting lists, she said, and these voters will lose their voting rights this year.

Nursing Center Volunteer Council To Meet Monday

The Cisco Nursing Center volunteer council will meet Monday, February 8, at 7:00 p.m. in the dining room of the nursing center, according to Mae Green, activity director.

Hunt, Greg Swindle, Eloise Torres and Leslie Winnett.

Those to be formally inducted are Glenn Deitker, Larry Adams, Kendall Anderson, Shawn Fisher, Connie Gosnell, Bryan Loranace and Matt Ritchie.

The public is cordially invited to attend these ceremonies.

Hospital District Election Of Directors To Be Held April 3

Election of directors for Cisco Hospital District will be on Saturday, April 3, 1982, along with other elections set for that date.

Mr. Doug Fry has been named election judge. Mr.

Fry will name his alternate and arrange for clerks to assist him. Ginger Johnson and Beth Prickett have been named as absentee voting clerks.

February 2, 1982, is the first day for applying for absentee ballots by mail. The first day for absentee voting by personal appearance at Cisco City Hall is March 15th and the last day is March 31st.

The Cisco Hospital District

consists of County Commissioner's Precinct 4 and voting Precinct 8. It is a five member board with three (3) directors to be elected this year for a two (2) year term. Incumbents are Ervin E. Addy Jr., Emma Lee Donovan, and Charles M. Cleveland. Hold over directors are Armo Chambers and Bruce Stovall.

Legislation creating and establishing the hospital district states that any person desiring his name to be printed on the ballot as a candidate for director shall file a petition, signed by not less than twenty-five (25) qualified voters asking that such name be printed on the ballot, with the secretary of the board of directors of the district.

The petition may be filed with Armo Chambers, secretary, or with Helen Orr, acting administrator, at the administrative offices at the hospital. Deadline for filing the petition is 5:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 3, 1982.

Those persons whose names are to be placed on the ballot will meet in the conference room at the hospital at 1:00 p.m. Thursday, March 4, 1982, for the drawing of names for order on the ballot.

To vote April 3rd, persons must be registered in the county by March 3rd.

Basketball Action

It was the Mavette Show in Eastland Friday night as they continued their domination of District 10AA girls basketball. A determined challenge by the Cisco Lobo Queens was no match for the Mavettes, who are undefeated in district action. After leading 50 to 16 at halftime, the Mavettes won the game 79 to 36.

Eastland's six foot two inch Mindy Walton broke a school record that she had set in the previous game when she scored 32 points. Becky Hull scored 19 and Sammie Bowles scored 16 to also lead in Mavette scoring. The Queens' scoring was rather balanced with Bev Starr scoring 8, Vicki Wilcoxon 7, and both Patty Sellers and Dela Lopez 6.

Exciting games have become the rule in closely matched District 10AA boys' basketball, and Friday night's game between the Eastland Mavericks and Cisco Lobos was no exception. The boys of both teams seemed to "play their hearts out" with Eastland winning with a final score of 52 to 48. The score was tied 20-20 at halftime and Eastland led at the quarters 10 to 8 and 32 to 31.

The Mavs outshot and outrebounded the Lobos at the free-throw line to gain a slight lead and held it as the Lobos were forced to foul to try to catch up.

Thomas Sanders shot 18 and Chris Norris 16 leading scorers for the Mavericks.

The Lobo scoring was led by Joey Worley and Gary Speege.

REST OF THE GOSPEL

This area of the nation shall soon be blessed with one of our Father's temples; a House of God. In these temples are kept some of the most sacred keys to our Father's Kingdom. In these temples there exists a little bit of heaven itself. A latter-day Temple is one of the most sacred places on earth. So sacred that only members of Jesus' church are allowed to enter into God's Holy House. It is known that when the Nauvoo Temple was dedicated in 1846 that the Holy Spirit descended upon it with such power and glory that people came from miles around, for they thought it to be on fire. With the dedication of a Temple comes some of God's greatest blessing. Let us tell you about our Father's eternal plan. The Rest of the Gospel, P.O. Box 763, Cisco, Texas 76437. p-17

Who Owns The Media?

Many Americans have become concerned in recent years over the growth of newspaper chains, which continue to buy locally owned newspapers. They may not initially change editors and the tone of the newspaper, but eventually many changes are certain. And it's always possible that a central business headquarters could dictate editorial tone--if it decided to do so.

With the three commercial television networks all cozily headquartered in New York, and cooperating too closely in news coverage to suit many, the danger in a few chains controlling the American press is disturbing.

But there is also another trend, according to some. That is the trend among many corporate giants to buy up newspapers and stations. They too have not initially changed editors and editorial tone automatically. But corporate headquarters could, and they could plug their products and economic causes--if they wished.

Westinghouse is very heavily into radio and television. American Express is heavily into cable television. RKO General is currently being required to sell some of its TV stations by the Federal Communications Commission. Other corporate giants own newspapers.

Thus the FCC and the public should be aware that the danger in a very few corporate giants owning most of the media, both print and broadcast, is real. And it is not only a threat from media chains but from giant corporations not primarily in the news business.

Fluoride, Yes

Just a few years ago many cities were torn by controversy over the question of adding fluoride to drinking water. Opponents offered all sorts of horrible dangers--as reasons why fluoride shouldn't be added to water systems.

Have these warnings proved justified? The evidence suggests they have not. In fact, the National Institute for Dental Research reports this month that tooth decay among American children has been reduced by a third in the last decade alone, primarily because of the use of fluoride in drinking water.

Among children between the ages of 5 to 11 surveyed recently by the NIDR, over half had never had a cavity! And among older children the cavity rate has dropped considerably.

Tablets are available for those who do not have fluoridated drinking water, or mothers can get from dentists fluoride which can be added to diets. In view of this impressive NIDR report, the slightly less than fifty percent of the nation's population which now doesn't have fluoridated drinking water should think hard about tablets or food additives, especially if young children are concerned.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

It was a great advantage to have no money when I was growing up. We learned to do, or to do without. We were never starved for incentives to create success.

My father had a spacious garden, and he taught me to help him. I planted my seeds, and I wanted them to grow just like his. But I couldn't wait. Every morning, when I saw no plants, I dug up more seeds. I had faith and hope, but no patience.

Sometimes in our difficulties we sow seeds in the garden of prayer. But childlike, we dig them up every few days to see if they are growing.

Every time we pray we should be on the lookout for the answers to our prayers. We must learn to recognize them, even if they do not come in the way that we expect.

Sometimes the Lord will answer by making the way for us to answer our own prayers. If we ask for someone's conversion, or blessing, He may give us the opportunity to be His instrument.

But when we raise from our knees, let us leave the burden with Him. Let Him see that, having prayed, we do trust Him.

Let us not dig up the seeds!

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

When Ronald Reagan took office a year ago, he promised the American people a "New Federalism," a state-federal partnership which would return to the states the powers and responsibilities that belong to them.

This year, in his State of the Union Address, the President outlined a program which will take us a long distance toward the "New Federalism" goal. Under this plan, the states would take over responsibilities for two major domestic programs, Aid to Families with Dependent Children and Food Stamps. This would allow administration and formulation of the aid programs to be at the local level where they can be more effective and more efficient. In return, the federal government would take on the considerable burden of Medicaid.

Further, more than 40 federal grant programs would be turned back to the state where they could be oriented toward local community needs and their services delivered more efficiently. To finance these programs, federal excise tax revenues would provide a trust fund -- initially to provide money for the entire current cost and then to be phased out at a gradual rate. Thus, we would be allowing the states the means and the time to absorb these new -- or renewed -- responsibilities.

This $28 billion federalism trust fund, and growing savings from Medicaid federalization from fiscal year 1984 to fiscal year 1987 would provide not only increasing revenue sources to finance new state program responsibilities, but also remove federal funding uncertainty for the rest of the decade. The states would have six years to determine best the mix of program savings and state tax increases before the federalism trust fund begin to phase out in fiscal year 1988.

Over the past two decades, we have overloaded the federal government with management and fiscal responsibilities. This program would restore the balance of state and federal responsibilities. This balance, after all, was the original function of the federal system outlined in our Constitution.

The federalism initiative also would largely abolish the existing, unworkable federal-state grant-in-aid system which tends to transform non-federal units into subordinate middle management extensions of the Washington bureaucracy.

In other ways, the move toward the New Federalism has begun. During the past year, we have cut the growth of new federal regulations nearly in half. We have begun looking at and modifying existing regulations which are counter-productive or cost-inefficient.

Let me emphasize, though, that neither the President nor the Congress wants the federal government to shirk the responsibilities that belong to it.

The President's federalism initiative leaves in federal hands domestic programs including the social insurance system of Social Security retirement, disability and Medicare; transfer aid to the needy elderly; health insurance and medical insurance, and projects of national significance such as Head Start, handicapped education, interstate highways and regulatory protections with interstate impact.

Hand-in hand with the Administration's domestic reforms is a sustained commitment to rebuilding our national defense capability. The significant and determining fact is that the domestic programs which would go back to the states can be handled more effectively at that level. National security can only be provided by the federal government. And that function is the most essential and most basic of federal functions.

We will continue to improve our national defense system to meet our solemn obligations to protect the American people and their vital interests in the world. We will continue to provide the basic "safety net" of domestic aid programs which have come to be a basic part of the American framework. We will continue to regulate those aspects of American commerce that affect the rights, health and safety of our citizens. But we will work to end federal meddling in those areas in which it is neither justified nor effective.

Judges to decide redistricting

For Eastland County, will it be Rep. Joe or Rep. Lynn?

This question will be decided by a panel of three Federal Judges in Dallas. On Thursday, Jan. 28th the Federal Court rejected the redistricting plans of the Texas Legislature, deciding that they will redraw Texas House and Senate boundary lines for the 1982 elections then send the matter back to the State Legislature in 1983.

Under the plan formulated by the Legislature, Eastland County would have been placed in a new Legislative District with Comanche, Brown, McCulloch, Runnels and Coleman counties, rather than with Stephens and the other counties served by Rep. Joe Hanna of Breckenridge. Under the new plan Lynn Nabers of Brownwood would have been our incumbent Congressman running for reelection rather than Hanna.

The Federal Court alleged the 1981 redistricting plan had flaws existing in the San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, El Paso, Lubbock and lower Rio Grande areas. They indicated that minority voting rights would be violated in these Districts. The rest of the State apparently will escape major revision by the Judges.

The Federal Judges indicated that if the 1983 Legislature does not draw boundaries that will pass Federal muster they can take back the job of redistricting. The Court also called for Legislative reforms.

While the right of representation in various Districts is being determined by the Court, one thing is certain: taxes will continue as usual!

HEALTHY ADVICE

by Fred Lucas, M.D.

Exercise Pays Dividends

Many of us feel guilty about not doing exercise. We continue to put it off although we know a regular schedule of exercise is one of the keys to a healthy, productive life.

Exercise to some sounds boring although just about everyone who jogs or runs claims to eat better, sleep better and feel better. And most of them do look better. But, somehow, exercise just doesn't seem much fun.

But with a large dose of willpower and patience, a faithfully kept schedule of exercise will pay dividends in good health. The first month or two of activity may tax your willpower because the benefits don't develop overnight. It will be a few weeks before you get that bounce in your step that suggests you're hooked on exercise and physical fitness.

Then, you may find it easier to cope with everyday stresses and cut down on cigarettes, coffee and alcohol. But the most important thing is to stay with the commitment.

Find a program that delights and captivates you and suits your lifestyle. Search for activities that challenge you physically. As your endurance increases, your circulation and breathing will improve. Your heart and lungs will function better and become stronger as your body muscles become firm and supple.

A note of caution: While weak stomach or leg muscles can make you less attractive or cause discomfort, you can overdo the exercises—particularly in the beginning. Overtaxing a heart that is weak from lack of exercise can be fatal.

The best exercise for your heart involves rhythmic, repetitive motions. You should be able to sustain the exercise for two or more minutes without huffing and puffing for maximum benefit and to indicate you are becoming more physically fit.

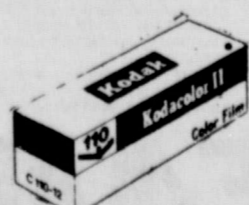

Once you discover the joy of stimulating activity, you are likely to continue it for the rest of your life. Eventually, you'll look forward to exercising. You may even feel vaguely uncomfortable if you skip the exercises.

Remember, you're never too old to start, and you're never too much out of shape to change.

Dr. Lucas is medical director of National Heritage Insurance Co. of Austin. National Heritage is a subsidiary of Electronic Data Systems Corp. of Dallas. EDS underwrites and administers the Texas Medicaid Program.

Eastland Co. Art Association

Juarice Jones White, wife of Mack Leon White, retired TESCO Production Supervisor, is the Artist of the Month for Eastland County Art Association. She is showing a 3' by 5' oil painting of a Longhorn steer in a Texas pasture setting. The Whites are graduates of E.H.S. and have retired on Lake Leon after being away from Eastland 32 years. Leon stretches her canvases and frames for most of her work.

About the painting, the artist said, "It would hardly be a painting suitable for an average family living room, but I wasn't thinking SIZE when I started it—I just had an idea and it required a large canvas. I worked on it, off and on, for a year."

This fall the artist fulfilled a life-time dream. As a 35th wedding anniversary gift to themselves, she and husband, Leon, spent a month touring New England beginning with a second honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, N.Y. Taking in parts of 15 states she found enough subject for two life times. She brought back 3 finished oil paintings completed on locations. She also was commissioned by owners of The Viking Inn in Wilmington, Vermont to do a painting of the beautiful inn. While in Vermont she studied under the much published artist, George Cherepov. They painted in 42° weather around the very scenic areas of Jackson and Wilmington.

Instructor Cherepov also teaches in Mass., California, New Mexico and Portugal. He also has an annual one-man show in Europe.

In New Hampshire, Mrs. White found a beautiful spot on Cherry Creek. She used a huge rock for an easel and another for a stool. "It was such a challenge to get the action of the rushing stream and the kaleidoscope of color that surrounded me on canvas. Of course, I couldn't! All any artist can really hope for is a second-rate copy of God's originals," commented Mrs. White. "I've painted a lot of Texas, some of Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, now the historical beauty of fall in New England, but I still find the most beauty in an old abandoned farm house, with many stories to tell, sitting in a rocky pasture of liveoaks, mesquites and bluebonnets. Texas is my favorite subject."

painting safari under Bobette Flory, a new entry into watercolor medium under Austin artist, Joan Salvant.

The showing artist will teach a 6-week series of art classes beginning February 9, with a limited class of 6 to 8 persons. She is to have a weekly morning, afternoon and evening class. Interested? Call her at 629-2770. Pre-registration will be at Morren's Gift Shop, Eastland. 32° too cold

CRIME Stopper

Economic activity is booming in Texas. In the first nine months of 1981 alone, over nine billion dollars in new construction was begun in our state. Yet another group of businessmen are experiencing much of the same success... They are drug smugglers, and their operations have reached in excess of three billion dollars annually.

Texas is a large and geographically diverse state... but this can be a drawback. With 644 miles of coastline and a 1200 mile border with Mexico, Texas has become a haven for drug smugglers.

Airplanes, boats and land vehicles enter Texas daily, carrying tons of drugs and leaving countless victims behind, making drug trafficking the number one crime problem in Texas.

Law enforcement officers cannot adequately battle these cunning criminals without the aid of concerned citizens. The Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is ready to help bring a screeching halt to this lucrative drug business in Texas.

For the month of March, the Council will focus the "Crime of the Month" on drug smuggling. Any citizen having information on drug smuggling and trafficking operations is asked to call the anti-crime hotline at 1-800-252-TIPS. Cash rewards are available for information leading to the arrest and indictment of these criminals. Citizens do not have to reveal their name, just their information, and they will be given a unique code number for identification purposes.

Governor Clements and the Texas Legislature have provided tough new laws to fight drug trafficking, but they cannot do it alone. Call 1-800-252-TIPS today with any information you may

Lights From The Christian World Josephine Cleveland

"Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord."—Colossians 3:16

Sam Clemens, the self christened "Mark Twain," who in his own sprightly spirit gave us novels, essays and humorous satire, wrote, "Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest."

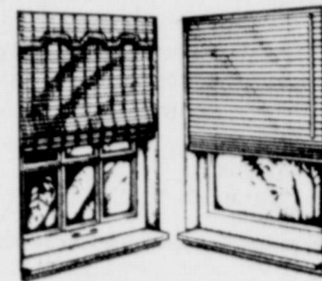

Friend, the world is reeling and spinning out of control. The restlessness and the eerie kind of confusion spreading throughout the lands seem inexplicable. One looks at filth on television, immorality in the nation, the ever spiraling divorce, the suffering, disease and depression which abounds. People reach out for drugs, alcohol and that which will temporarily drown their woes.

Does not Sam Clemens statement spoken in 1901 hold meaning for us today? "Always do right." What an admonition! This will gratify some. Others it will astonish and give cause to anger.

Isaiah, the Old Testament prophet spoke these words centuries ago, "Thus saith the Lord. For the Lord God will help me, therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed."—Isaiah 50:7.

What a promise! The world need not be spinning and reeling for you. Trust in His promises!

The Bellingrath Gardens

by Ted Brice

There are few places in the world where the magic of rapturous beauty is still found. One is Bellingrath Gardens, on Isle-aux-Onies River, near Mobile, Alabama.

Visitors entering this vast and lovely estate soon realize they have discovered a wonderland. Overhead, from branches of aged oaks, cascade graceful wisps of Spanish moss, and the sun-drappled, flowered-bordered paths excite the eye with loveliness. Man and Nature have harmoniously combined efforts to fashion a magnificent garden. The trail that winds so casually through the whispering pines is frequently enhanced by an artful vista that delightfully blends with the natural surroundings.

One of the charms of Bellingrath Gardens is that it is truly "The Garden for All Seasons." Mr. Bellingrath was fond of comparing his beloved "Charm Spot of the Deep South" to a lovely lady with 52 gowns, one for each week of the year. The metaphor suggest the constantly changing beauty of the Gardens, ever enchanting, never the same.

The new year greets the continuing exquisite beauty of camellias more than 4,000 of them in hundreds of varieties; and azaleas are ablaze with color usually in February-March, with more than 250,000 plants in spectacular bloom. February also is the time when the Gardens are blanketed by more than 100,000 multi-colored tulips, hyacinths, daffodils and freesia. Roses appear in profusion from Belles of the Ball have been a regular feature of the stage show segment of the program. This group of dancers includes six select young ladies from the world-famous Wrangler Belles, directed by Pat Owens.

Jones says that the program will have a Tonight Show flavor. So the portals that once heard the sounds of the "big bands" will likely be hearing the music that prepares TV audiences for "here's Johnny!"

The menu this year has been returned to the ever popular filet mignon, served with baked potato with all the trimmings, and fancy green beans. Tickets for the dinner and show are $8, and reservations are required. Call (817) 442-2567.

Lobo & J.R.'s style hair to uniquely fit each person

Everyone wants to be in style, but more importantly, everyone wants to look their best. And looking your best means choosing your clothes and even your hair style to be uniquely yours. That is what the stylists at The Lobo and J.R.'s in Cisco do best - style your hair to fit you personally.

With several combined years of hair cutting experience, Jim Roberts, owner, and Mark Dobson, Charlene Thomas and Lisa Roberts consistently please their customers with quality styles that look really sharp and attractive.

Blow dry cuts, curly perms, layering and special styling are expertly given to customers every day at The Lobo and J.R.'s.

Other services besides hair styling are available at The Lobo and J.R.'s. Your beard will look really handsome after it has been trimmed and shaped by Jim or Mark. They will also dye your beard if you are going for the younger or more sophisticated look.

Besides giving quality service, The Lobo and J.R.'s also carries a full line of Roffler products to give your hair the natural shine and oil from the scalp. Then, the true, natural beauty of your hair shines through.

Condition is the second precisely balanced system that gives hair all the help it needs to restore that newborn look.

After shampoo and condition, the hair is well on its way to the best state possible. To complete the process, Protect was developed. Protect is not a hair spray, although it goes on like a spray; it is actually a non-aerosol liquid that locks in the conditioners and supplies additional agents to fortify and strengthen the cuticle.

The Natural Sequence comes in three types for versatility, including normal to dry, normal to oily, and damaged or treated hair.

If winter always brings a hassle with static electricity, ask Jim for the Normalizing Lotion by Roffler. This chemically balanced lotion will end those concerns.

hair the health and beauty that is so important.

The Natural Sequence, by Roffler, is a threefold program of shampooing, conditioning and protecting. Since we all appreciate clean hair, the first step in the Natural Sequence is the shampoo. This rids the hair of unwanted dust, dirt, and excess oil from the scalp. Then, the true, natural beauty of your hair shines through.

Six Flags newest attraction

TEXAS CLIFFHANGER -- The world's first total freefall ride, the Texas Cliffhanger, will open in late April at Six Flags Over Texas. Riders will be dropped at freefall speed from the top of the 128-foot-tall tower. Passengers will end up riding flat on their backs as the ride's computer-controlled brakes bring the gondolas to a stop.

"CLIFFHANGER" ANNOUNCED BY SIX FLAGS OVER TEXAS--The world's first total freefall ride, the Texas Cliffhanger, will debut late this spring at Six Flags Over Texas.

The Arlington theme park's general manager, Ray Williams, said the towering, 2.1 million dollar ride will give thrillseekers "the same falling sensation they would feel if they stepped off the top of a nine-story building."

Williams said the ride has no precedent in the industry. "Even our loop coaster," he said "had 'ancestors' that were built around the turn of the century, but there's nothing in amusement ride history which resembles the Texas Cliffhanger."

Williams, who recently rode the prototype model of the ride at the Itamin AG factory near Geneva, Switzerland, said, "The sensation is unlike anything developed up to now. There's no way to compare it to even the biggest of roller coasters, or any existing ride."

The "L-shaped" ride tower juts 128 feet into the air. Passengers board the Texas Cliffhanger on the underside of the tower. They will be seated four abreast in sleek, padded gondolas. The gondolas rise one at a time to the top of the tower, with the trip up taking only ten seconds.

At the top, the gondolas move into "drop position" and will be held at that point for ten seconds. Riders, protected by over-the-shoulder "lap bars," have an obstructed view of the area in front of them.

After the pause, the gondolas -- weighing 1,500 pounds without passengers -- drop at freefall speed, guided by tracks.

Near the bottom of the drop, the track curves and riders will suddenly find themselves on their backs looking straight up at the sky.

A computer controlled braking system will stop the gondolas near the end of an 86-foot-long horizontal track. Then the gondolas will be slowly turned upright and lowered to the bottom of the structure for unloading.

During the freefall drop, riders will experience a 3.5 G force. The ride accelerates from zero to 55 miles per hour in the first 1.3 seconds of the plunge.

Williams said the computer safety systems engineered into the ride are "state of the art" devices.

He said 103 electronic sensors send messages to the computer during each ride cycle.

Some of the sensors detect the ride's speed. Others give the computer information on the exact location of each gondola.

"If the computer isn't satisfied with the ride's operation, it will temporarily close it down," Williams commented.

Williams said the ride is currently on its way by ship from Europe to Texas. Foundations for the 110-ton structure have already been poured.

After construction is completed, extensive tests will be conducted before the ride is opened to the public in late April.

The Texas Cliffhanger will occupy a site on the edge of Six Flags' Boomtown section.

Doing MORE... With LESS!

A HEAP OF HELP FOR THE GARDENER

Once you get the knack of it, you'll realize there's actually no mystery at all to composting. Almost any plant—and much animal—matter is just "made" for your natural fertilizer heap, although the decomposition process does work faster if you avoid using whole bones, grease, animal fat, and chunks of meat. Then, too, coarse or bulky plant matter—such as large leaves, cornstalks, branches, and sawdust—should be shredded or added to your stack of future fertilizer somewhat sparingly.

Grass clippings, kitchen trimmings, coffee grounds, spoiled hay, horse manure, blood meal, spent hops, water plants, weeds, and animal manure of all kinds will—when stacked in five-inch-thick layers and watered well—turn into rich black dirt for the next planting season. The more variety you add to your pile, the better. Sprinkle in some ground limestone, rock phosphate, or potash rock (which is available at gardening shops) from time to time, too.

Pile yourself up a big stack of the above odds and ends right now, water it, and cover it with black plastic. Turn the top and sides of the pile in toward the center after two to three weeks, and add more water whenever the digesting matter seems dry. Then cover the compost again and let it "work" right through the winter. Come next spring, you'll have some rich (and entirely natural) top dressing for your garden.

Or, if you want to run a really basic composting operation, just dump all your kitchen scraps into a two-cubic-foot hole in the back yard after every meal, sprinkle it with about one cup of slaked lime, and cover the deposit with enough loose soil to contain any odors.

When the first excavation will hold no more, start filling a second. And by the time this pit is full (two or three months), the material in number one will have completely decomposed into loamy potting soil.

Then, again, if you like the simplicity of the pit composting technique, but want (or need) to be a tad more prim and proper about it, make an underground composter with a lid. Simply buy two bottomless galvanized-steel trash cans upright in the ground, with only the tops left visible.

As soon as you've filled up one can, start putting your waste organic matter into the second. Then, by the time that container's full, the material in the first will be ready to use.

State forms new organization to combat oilfield theft

Austin, TX - Texas Independent producers and Royalty Owners Association announced today the formation of a new statewide organization to combat oilfield theft, a problem that costs the Texas oil industry an estimated $100 million annually.

Named the Petroleum Industry Security Council (PISC), the new organization is the culmination of months of research and study by various oil and gas trade associations in Texas of the rapidly escalating problem of oilfield theft. Those associations include TIPRO, North Texas Oil and Gas Association, Permian Basin Petroleum Association, Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association, West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association, Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association and the Association of Oilwell Servicing Contractors.

Several of these associations recognized the growing problems of oilfield theft in the summer of 1981. At that time they established an oilfield theft "hotline" where people could report a theft or information regarding a theft. The success of the "hotline" indicates that the problem of oilfield theft is more serious than previously thought. This "hotline" will become part of PISC's services.

WORD OF GOD

Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination.

Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion.

Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you:

Quality Care is... An untold story.

We think it's time you learned about the untold story of the nursing home professional and nursing home progress. Today there is a growing army of health care professionals who, though largely unheralded, perform an increasingly important service to our community. They are the men and women who care for our aged. Doctors and nurses, physical therapists, dietitians, activity coordinators, nurses aides and administrative staff. Rendering nursing home care is not the most glamorous side of the medical profession. These professionals receive little public recognition for their work in comparison to those who work in hospital centers. But these dedicated professionals help ease the pain and loneliness of those they serve; and help our nursing home enrich the social and physical environment our residents need. Their job is difficult and often unappreciated. That's why we invite you to learn their story. Visit our nursing home and see the job we do for our community.
