

Hall Of Remarks

by Herrel Hallmark

HAPPY Valentine's Day. I hope you received something from your favorite valentine today as well as gave something in return. Since today is also Sunday, it would be appropriate to go to church and give thanks to the greatest valentine of all, Jesus Christ.

OUR TOWN once again has been hit by a major tragedy, and if there's a silver lining it would have to be that a busload of Eastland public school students are alive today because of the split-second decision of a heavy-truck driver who met his death to avert what undoubtedly would have been a multi-tragic event.

The students, their parents and all the rest of us can show our caring by taking part in a special fund that's been started at Eastland National Bank for the driver's family.

THOUGHT IS being given to making the Clark Memorial Fund a Scholarship Assistance Program for the education of the children. Among the first contributors is Justice of the Peace I.W. Ussery in the amount of $100, and he also stated that he will assist in accepting contributions to be turned into the fund.

ANOTHER WAY we can constantly show our caring for our fellowman is to "get out of the way" of emergency vehicles. Reports are that the wrecker driver, even with flashing red lights and sirens going, almost had to run over drivers who wouldn't get out of the way, as he raced to the tragedy scene.

It was a costly lesson, but if we were to all learn a little...

TAKEN FROM a saying on our office wall is the following:

THE ART OF GETTING ALONG

Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take.

He learns that it doesn't pay to be a too sensitive soul; that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back.

He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses out.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously.

He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that buck-passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays.

He comes to realize that the business could run along perfectly well without him.

He learns that it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit so long as the business benefits.

He learns that even the janitor is human and that it does no harm to smile and say "Good Morning," even if it's raining.

He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains as good or better, and that hard work, not cleverness is the secret of success.

He learns to sympathize with the youngster coming into the business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out.

He learns not to worry when he loses an order, because experience has shown that if he always gives his best, his average will break pretty well.

He learns that no man ever got to first base alone, and that it is only through cooperative effort that we move on to better things.

He learns that bosses are no monsters, trying to get the last ounce of work out of him for the least amount of pay, but that they are usually pretty good fellows who had succeeded through hard work and who want to do the right thing.

He learns that folks are not any harder to get along with in one place than another, and that the "getting along" depends about ninety-eight per cent on his own behavior.

THE ABOVE article was hanging on The Cisco Press office wall when I began working for the paper over ten years ago. I have read the article numerous times during the past years and each time I think how true it is.

Fund Started For Family of Man Killed In Thursday Morning Crash

A Thursday morning traffic accident claimed the life of John Matthew Clark, 43, a Cisco resident and formerly of Eastland.

The mishap occurred at 7:25 a.m. on Highway 69 about six miles northwest of Eastland and a few miles west of the Morton Valley community, according to DPS trooper Steve Tone the investigation officer.

Trooper Tone went on to report that an Eastland school bus was parked near the center stripe and three children were on the highway going toward the bus. A westbound Cadillac, driver unidentified, was stopped to let the children board the bus, as the law requires.

As Mr. Clark topped the hill with his truck loaded with salt water, he apparently saw the car and bus both stopped in front of him. According to witnesses, he crossed over the left and went into a bar ditch, traveled for about 65 feet and overturned landing upside down. Clark was trapped in the truck when a small fire started. Steve Lopez, the driver of the Eastland school bus tried to rescue the victim but one of the fuel tanks ruptured and the cab was

Semi-Pro Baseball Team To Meet Sunday At 3

There will be a meeting of the Cisco A's semi pro baseball team Sunday, February 14, at 3:00 p.m. in the Cisco High School Gym. Anyone interested in playing come to the meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to plan for the upcoming season.

Livestock Show Set March 12-13

The Cisco Livestock Show Association in a recent meeting set this year's Livestock Show date as March 12-13. Gaston Boyd will serve as the general show superintendent. Ross McCaghen, Charles Clark and Doug Fry.

The show will be held in the County Precinct Barn on Avenue D.

Area Peanut Producers To Meet Tuesday

An important meeting will be held Tuesday, February 16, at 7:00 p.m. at the Nimrod Community Center for all peanut producers of the Cisco area.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss forming a peanut marketing cooperative with other Texas producers.

Wayne Eaves, peanut farmer from Gorman, will be the speaker.

If more information is needed, call 442-2126.

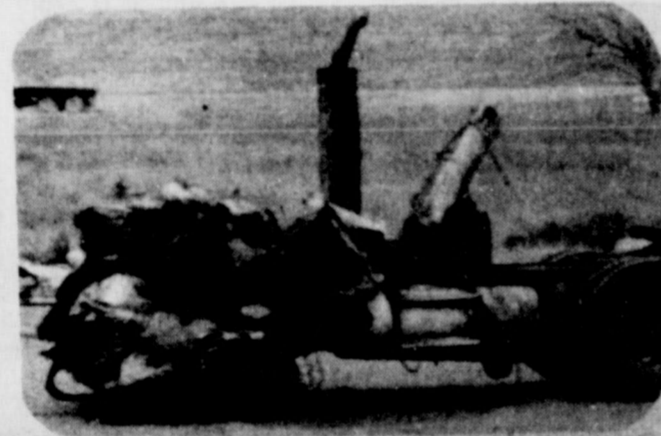

Don't miss this meeting. Peanut producers must learn how to market their products.

engulfed in flames before any rescue could be made.

Mr. Lopez told Trooper Tone that if the truck had not left the roadway the children attempting to load the bus almost certainly would have been hit. He went on to say the bus might also have been struck.

Mr. Clark was pronounced dead at the scene by Judge Ussery. His body was taken to Edwards Funeral Home and later transferred to the Cisco Funeral Home.

He was born March 19, 1938 in Rising Star, and married Marie Gouch January 5, 1962 in Oklahoma.

CJC Regents Order Election April 3rd

An election to choose three members of the board of regents was ordered for April 3rd as the official board of Cisco Junior College held its monthly business meeting last Monday night. Mrs. Wilson Smith was named election judge.

The terms of Regents Wm. E. (Bill) Austin, Lloyd McGrew and Bill Reynolds expire this year. It was understood that the three men would be candidates for re-election. March 3rd, a month prior to the election, is the deadline for candidates to file for a place on the ballot.

In other action, the board approved the employment of Bobby Anderson as an assistant football coach. Routine business matters and reports were also on the agenda.

Marciel Justice Announces For District Clerk

Marciel G. Justice, of Carbon has announced her candidacy for the Office of District Clerk of Eastland County. She is a Democrat and has lived in Eastland County almost all of her life. She is presently employed as a bookkeeper in the County Auditor's Office, in the Courthouse. Mrs. Justice will issue a formal statement at a later date.

Auditions for the Talent Showcase will be held Monday, February 22, beginning at 5:30 p.m. in the Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium.

Ben Hubert, a sophomore band member from San Saba, will be master of ceremonies for the evening's events. Young, old, and all those in between are invited to come and enjoy the talent.

Masonic Lodge To Have Past Masters Night

Cisco Masonic Lodge No. 556 A.F. & A.M. will have a past masters night on Thursday, February 25, 1982 at 6:30 p.m. with a chili supper.

Bro. Jim Wright, District Judge, will be the principal speaker. All master Masons and families are invited to attend. Visiting master Masons are welcome.

Gospel Concert

A gospel concert will be presented Sunday night at 7:00 at the First Evangelical Methodist Church. The group will be Hands Extended from Longview.

The public is extended an invitation to attend this service.

Election Is Called For Water And Sewer Improvement Plan

Calling of an election for the citizens of Cisco to ballot on the proposition of issuing some $1,925,000 in revenue bonds for use in improvements for the water and sewer systems was approved by the City Council at their semi-monthly meeting last Tuesday night.

Voters will ballot on three propositions to issue bonds for the following:

1. Water works systems improvement in the amount of $1,450,000 for a new water treatment facility and new distribution lines; and,
2. Sewer system improvements in the amount of $300,000 for the city's share for a new sewage treatment facility; and,

3. A 10-inch sewer outfall line to cost some $175,000 to relieve sewer congestion in the collection system.

City Manager Mike Moore was authorized to call the election for April 3rd, the date of the regular City Council election.

At the same time, the Council approved a resolution authorizing the submission of an application to the Texas Department of Water Resources for a loan in the amount of $1,300,000. This would be a low interest rate (5.6%) loan that would be part of the financing of the entire $1,925,000 project, it was pointed out. The state has funds available for this type of loans to cities meeting certain requirements.

The Council, desiring to inform the public fully about the project and its importance to the community, ordered a town hall type meeting for 7 p.m. Thursday, March 18, at the high school auditorium. Mayor Eris Ritchie said that engineers and others with information concerning the program would be present with Councilmen to discuss the project and to answer questions.

The city's water system has never had a filtration plant and Cisco is the only city in Texas without an officially approved water supply, Mayor Ritchie noted.

The sewer system has been sub-standard for a number of years, he added.

The Council approved an offer of the First National Bank of Cisco to purchase general obligations bonds of the city at 11 per cent interest. The bonds, which would be used in the water and sewer improvement program, would mature in ten years.

The First Southwest Company of Dallas was hired as a financial advisory firm to assist with preparation of the proposed bonds, their issuance, and sale. The contract with this firm, however, would be void in the event the election fails.

The bonds as proposed would be revenue bonds to be paid and retired from the income of the water and sewer systems. Details as to financing requirements will be made available in the near future, it was emphasized.

Mayor Ritchie noted that "this matter is one of extreme urgency and importance to every citizen and property owner of our city." The Council has held several special meetings to confer with engineers and others in the project. Councilmen have made trips to Temple, Abilene and elsewhere to study similar projects.

The city manager, assisted by engineers, is working on possible grants from the federal government to help with the financing, it was pointed out. Any grant money would reduce the amount needed through the sale of bonds.

In other action, the Council approved a lease agreement with the Cisco Kiwanis Club to build and operate a miniature golf course at Lake Cisco Park. The lease covers a five-year period and calls for the club to pay $1 per year to the city. Kiwanis Club members have undertaken the project as a community entertainment feature.

The West Texas Utilities Company's request for a rate increase was finally approved. Electric rates will increase 8.25 per cent under the new structure that had been under consideration several months.

A discussion of the Mobley Hotel Restoration Project was postponed until Architect Renaldo Petri could be present. He had asked for a meeting with the Council but was delayed.

The city attorney was asked to write letters to owners of abandoned mobile homes to ask that same be removed.

Present were Mayor Ritchie, Councilmen Bobby Ingram, Ivan Webb, Loyal Lundstrom, Bobby Rains, and Linton Bateas, City Manager Moore, City Secretary Ginger Johnson and City Attorney W.B. Wright, Jr.

Rambis Electric Company Offers All Types Of Electrical Repairs

Rambis Electric Company, 110 West 8th Street, Cisco, offers all types of electrical repairs on appliances as well as remodeling work or new construction, according to owner Larry Rambis.

Mr. Rambis opened his electrical shop in Cisco in October of last year. He moved to Cisco from Sweetwater in September of 1980. He has been in the electrical business for 11 years and is a licensed contractor.

Born in Indiana, Mr. Rambis moved to Texas in 1970 after serving in the United States Navy. He married Shirley Ingram, daughter of Gene and Maggie Ingram of Cisco. They have no children.

A grand opening for the local shop is being planned for the first week in March, and Mr. Rambis reported he is in the process of opening up an appliance repair shop with "complete repair facilities for all appliances, major and small.

He is also setting up a retail outlet for appliance parts and electrical materials. He stated a discount on the supplies will be given to local contractors.

Mr. Rambis said he is concerned with the conditions of electrical work in this area and would like to see an upgrade in electrical service. He said he feels electricians should be more responsible for the work they do, to protect themselves as well as their customers.

He said he opened the shop here because he sees a need for electrical workers in this area. He stated, "My only business is electrical! I don't do a hundred other jobs and in so doing, I can direct all my time and energy to one profession (electrical)."

Mr. Rambis continued, "Since my opening, I have come to realize the need for dedicated and trained personnel in this area. I hope my being here will help improve the electrical trade."

"I am very much in favor of improving the local standards and workmanship in the work we do for the citizens of this area. I know that local codes are hard to implement in a small community. The hiring of inspectors and the enforcement of the code costs the community.

"As an alternative I would suggest an electrician's guild, where all electrical contractors meet and work together to bring about the much needed improvement for this area. Our customers deserve it."

"I believe in the standards set forth in the National Code, and will do all I can to bring about an approved code and standard of workmanship for the citizens of Cisco and Eastland County."

"All contractors interested in my proposal can contact me at 110 West 8th or call 442-4212. Let's get responsible and give our customers the very best of service."

Rambis Electric Company is open six days a week from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Principals Rehired By School Trustees

Trustees of the Cisco Independent School District approved new contracts for four principals, ordered a trustee election for April 3rd, and voted to advertise for bids to build bleacher seats at the new track at their monthly meeting last Monday night.

The contracts of Mike Turner, high school principal; Jim Puryear, assistant high school principal and football coach; Bob Lindsey, intermediate school principal, and Mrs. Geneva Webb, primary school principal, were extended through the 1982-83 school year.

Mr. Turner is in his second year, Mr. Lindsey in the 5th year and Mrs. Webb in her 8th year as principals. Mr. Puryear, a veteran in the system, is in the first year of his present contract as assistant principal and coach. Mrs. Webb is a veteran of 21 years in the school system.

Supt. James Couch reported that the new athletic track has been completed except for striping. Built just west of the high school building, the track is enclosed by a high wire fence. Bleacher seats for some 400 spectators will be built in a project approved by the board.

The April 3rd election will fill Places 6 and 7 on the board of trustees. Both incumbents, Emmett Rich and Roy Hathaway, were expected to file for reelection. Deadline for candidates to file is March 3rd, a month prior to the election. Mrs. Wilson Smith was named election judge.

In other action, the board approved the purchase of six new uniforms for the Lobo Band. The new uniforms will be odd sizes needed by the band, Mr. Couch reported.

February 15-20 Designated As 'Farm Bureau Week' In County

The week of February 15-20 has been designated "Farm Bureau Week" in Eastland County by County Judge Scott Bailey.

The official county proclamation calls American agriculture "the producing marvel of the world," and adds that one farm worker now produces enough food for 68 people. "Because of this," the proclamation said, "the average American family spends less than one-

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

BY

Scott Bailey, COUNTY JUDGE

Eastland COUNTY

Eastland, TEXAS

Greetings:

American agriculture is the producing marvel of the world. One farm worker produces enough food for 68 people. Because of this, the average American family spends less than one-fifth of its income for food.

Farmers and ranchers have learned they can improve their industry and rural life through organization. Some four out of five producers are voluntary members of Farm Bureau, an independent general farm organization. Through Farm Bureau, they work to build a better social and economic life for themselves.

Therefore, I, Scott Bailey, County Judge of Eastland County, do hereby designate February 15-20, 1982, as FARM BUREAU WEEK IN Eastland County, and urge our citizens to give due recognition to this observance honoring the Eastland County Farm Bureau.

In official recognition thereof, I hereby affix my signature this 11th day of February, 1982.

Signed Scott Bailey

1 Percent Sales Tax Legally Safe

AUSTIN, Tex.—State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday told officials in nearly 1,000 Texas cities who levy the one percent local sales tax their city coffers are safe from a legal challenge that could have forced the refund of millions in local tax revenue.

"The other shoe has fallen," Bullock said in announcing that U.S. Steel Corporation has dropped its appeal to a ruling upholding the way Texas local sales and use taxes are collected.

The corporation had attacked the constitutionality of the local option sales tax and State District Judge Hume Cofer ruled in favor of the state last April. If U.S. Steel had pressed and won its appeal on Judge Cofer's ruling, Bullock said, in many cities might have faced economic chaos, because city sales tax revenue would have been subject to claims for refunds.

Retailers in cities which have adopted the local sales tax collect the state four percent tax and an extra one percent tax, while only four percent state tax is collected in other cities and non-incorporated areas.

Texas cities, Bullock noted, received more than $650 million last year in city sales tax rebates.

fifth of its income for food." Mr. Ernest Reich of Cisco, president of the County Farm Bureau said "the Bureau will continue to represent interests of farmers and ranchers in Austin and in Washington, D.C."

FmHA Seeks To Assist Farmers

Although many farmers are facing financial difficulty because of today's cost-price squeeze, the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) intends to do all it can to help its borrowers stay in farming, FmHA State Director J. Lynn Futch said today.

"We recognize there are problems, problems with high interest rates, inflation, a grain embargo, adverse weather and other causes," Futch said. "And these have been intensified by overall bumper crops that have affected prices."

"As Secretary of Agricultural John Block said recently, our farm economy is in a valley right now and needs some help to move on up the hill on the other side."

Futch said Block had instructed FmHA to explore the use of private credit to supplement its own lending resources whenever possible. In addition, existing legal authority to reschedule or defer payments is to be used where practicable.

"We intend to be reasonable, just as Secretary Block ordered," Futch said. "Our objective is to keep farmers in business. That isn't to say there won't be some who go out of business, because there will be, but we are going to use the best judgment we can and reasonable criteria in making our loan decisions."

Secretary Block said that borrowers who have made good faith efforts to pay their loans, who have maintained their loan security in good condition, who follow sound, recognized management practices, and who have a reasonable chance to succeed can reasonably expect FmHA to stay with them.

"We will be working with our borrowers and with the commercial lending institutions to overcome these temporary problems," Futch said. "Agriculture is basically healthy, just as the Secretary said; there is no question about it. We just have to move out of the present situation and dig in for one long run."

policies implemented last year was the state constitutional amendment exempting livestock and poultry from ad valorem taxation." The county leader went on to say "the organization also favored spending and tax cuts that were passed by Congress last year."

The local leader stresses that the Farm Bureau represents its members in legislative and governmental activities, and provides educational programs for producers.

The Texas Farm Bureau maintains a full-time legislative staff in Austin, and the American Farm Bureau Federation has a similar staff in the nation's capital.

Commodity activities play a major role in Farm Bureau on the state and national level. In Texas, producers are organized in ten commodity divisions - dairy, cotton, rice, beef cattle, peanuts, wheat, feed grains, soybeans, citrus, sheep and goats.

According to Mr. Reich, during "Farm Bureau Week" the Eastland County Farm Bureau will be seeking to enroll new members.

The local organization is out to increase the 1981 total of 1,507 member families. They are joining other counties across the state in an effort to exceed the Texas Farm Bureau's 1981 membership of 276,247 member families.

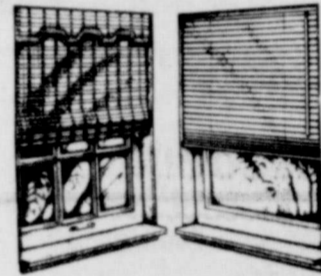

Ted Bott of Ranger is county membership chairman.

Beef Cattle 2nd Session To Be Mon. Feb. 15

The second session of the Eastland County beef cattle short course will be conducted Monday night, February 15 at Cisco Junior College reports County Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon.

Beef cattle breeding systems to increase production will be the topic discussed by Dr. Stephen Hammack, Extension Beef Cattle Specialist. The session will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be in the Cisco Junior College Agricultural Building.

Gordon invites everyone interested in beef cattle production to attend the short course.

Conference To Deal With 'Pluses' Of County Government Set

"What's Right About County Government" will be the theme of the 24th Annual County Judges and Commissioners Conference at Texas A&M University Feb. 16-18.

Gov. Bill Clements will deliver the keynote address at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 17.

Among other featured speakers will be Texas commissioner of Agriculture Reagan Brown, Secretary of State David Dean, Assistant Attorney General Jim Allison and Bob Viterna, executive director of the Texas Commission on Jail Standards.

All conference sessions will be at the Ramada Inn, with registration beginning at 9 a.m. the first day, points out John Gilmartin, coordinator of the V.G. Young Institute of County Government of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. A barbecue Tuesday evening and a Wednesday evening banquet will be at the Brazos Center.

The program the first day will feature separate afternoon sessions for county judges and commissioners. Judges will deal with various probate issues, such as inventory and appraisal and determination of heirship, mental health commitments, new legislation, fees of attorneys and personal representatives, and accounts in guardianships and administrations.

Commissioners will hear about traffic control devices, increased pavement life, design of rural roadways, and dealing with oil company traffic on county roads.

Addresses by Clements and Dean will highlight the next morning's session along with talks on the positive aspects of county government, the county and district retirement system, and local councils of government.

Discussions on county insurance, national flood insurance and emergency preparedness for hurricanes will highlight the afternoon session the second day.

Brown will speak at a 7:30 p.m. banquet Feb. 17. Viterna will bring the third day's session with a discussion on "Alternatives to Incarceration in Your County Jail."

Allison will follow with a talk on "Legislation and Litigation Affecting County Government."

County officials also will hear about "County Progress," the official publication of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas.

Association president Norman Troy, Jefferson County commissioner, will discuss the organization's plans for the future at the closing session.

Some 600 county judges, commissioners and their spouses and guests are expected to attend the annual conference, says Gilmartin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Whiteside are very proud to announce the birth of their son, Jack Clinton, born at 10:33 p.m. on December 2, 1982 at Ranger General Hospital. He weighed in at 7 lbs. 6 1/2 ozs. and was 20 inches long.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kidd of Eastland. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whiteside of Comanche. Maternal great-grandmothers are Gladys Bond of Eastland and Mrs. Clair Kidd of Sweetwater. Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.P. (Jack) Whiteside of Comanche.

Win A Trip To New York

4-H members are encouraged to enter "Sew 'n Show", a sewing contest sponsored by McCall's Patterns and Eastman Chemical Products, Inc. First prize for regional winners is an expense-paid trip to New York for the contestant and a chaperone.

The contest is open to everyone 18 years of age and under. To enter, a person sews for herself/himself a garment using any McCall Pattern from the current McCall Catalog and a fabric which must contain a minimum of 50% Kodol polyester. Entries are to include only one color photograph of the person modeling his/her garment, fabric swatches and the official entry form.

A total of sixty finalists will be selected from all photo entries. Each will receive a Kodak Camera. From the sixty finalist, four regional winners will be chosen.

Judging will be based on sewing ability, fabric use and creative effort. Judges will include home sewing experts.

The four regional winners will win an all-expense paid trip to New York. This exciting four-day, three-night tour will include modeling for the McCall Pattern Catalog, sightseeing, a Broadway Show, dining at New York's famous restaurants, and visits to McCall Patterns and Eastman Chemical.

For applications or more information contact Christy Gentry (ACEA) in the County Extension Office (629-2222).

1982 Residential Homestead Exemptions Still Available

The Eastland County Appraisal District wishes to remind the property owners of the County that there is still time to sign up for the various property tax exemptions available under the new tax laws of the State.

In January, several thousand Residential Homestead Exemption applications were mailed out along with Open-Space Land Exemption applications. These are just two of the many exemptions available.

The completed exemption application form must be returned to the Appraisal District Office by May 1, 1982, if the exemption is to be granted for the 1982 tax year. If you did not receive a form or feel that you may be eligible for some other type of exemption, please contact the Appraisal District Office.

The Appraisal District Office is located on the second floor of the Eastland County Courthouse and the telephone number is: 629-8597. If you return the application by mail, the mailing address is: P.O. Box 914, Eastland, Texas 76448.

The following is a partial list of the many exemptions that are available to the property owners of the County. All School Districts Grant: $5,000. Residential Homestead Exemption $10,000. Over-65 Residential Homestead Exemption $10,000. Disability Exemption.

All Taxing Jurisdictions: County, Schools, Hospitals, Cities, Junior College, etc. Disabled Veteran Exemption.

Open-Space Land Exemption (8-1-d-1) Ag-Us (8-1-d)

If you have any questions concerning the applications or the exemptions available, please contact the Appraisal District for assistance.

The applications must be completed correctly and filed by May 1, 1982. The law provides that any application submitted after that date cannot be granted.

Social Security Student Benefits Phasing Out

As a result of legislation enacted in mid-1981, Social Security student benefits will be phased out for those attending post-secondary schools.

When student benefits were first provided in 1965, the rationale was that young people, 18 to 22 years of age, who were full-time students were as much dependent on their parents for their support as were children under 18 years of age or disabled. It was assumed that students lost a source of support when a parent retired, became disabled, or died. However, the benefits were not related to any educational expenses incurred, to school performance, or to financial need.

The situation today is markedly different from what it was 15 years ago. Since that time, a number of programs have been established to provide assistance to college students based on their own and their families' financial condition. Among the Federally funded educational programs now available are the Basic Educational Opportunity Grants, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, National Direct Student Loan Program, and Guaranteed Student Loan Program.

The change in the law will affect about 600,000 post-secondary school student beneficiaries—65 percent in 4-year colleges and 23 percent in 2-year colleges. The remainder attend technical, graduate, and business or secretarial schools.

The new law defines an educational institution as an elementary or secondary school. Benefits will not be paid to students who begin attending a post-secondary school after April 1982.

Benefits to students who were entitled as of August 1981 and were attending a post-secondary school before May 1982 will be phased out in order to minimize the financial impact on those whose plans for pursuing their education were based on receipt of Social Security benefits.

Additional information about changes in the law regarding educational benefits can be obtained from any Social Security office. The Abilene office is located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is 698-1360 or you can call toll free by dialing 1-800-392-1603.

Three Lions Clubs Hold 60th Anniversary Banquet In Cisco

Lions Clubs of this region were challenged to expand their influence as a means of using their motto of "we serve" to bring new understanding to people at home and abroad in talks at the 60th anniversary dinner for Cisco, Eastland and Ranger Clubs Thursday night. The dinner was held at the Corral Room of Hotel Laguna in Cisco and it attracted representatives of seven of the eight clubs in Zone Nine (this region).

Everett J. (Ebb) Grindstaff of Ballinger, first vice president of Lions International who is scheduled to assume the presidency of the world wide organization next July, was the honored guest and speaker for the occasion. He was presented by Dr. Bob Schleider of Wichita Falls, District Governor.

Opening his address, Mr. Grindstaff praised Eastland County Lions for their six decades of community service, noting that the work they have done in their communities over the years has made lasting contributions to many people. He paid tribute to Lion O.L. Stamey of Cisco, a former district governor, for his work in the early years of the Lions Club Camp for Crippled Children. Another former Cisco district governor, the late James McCracken, was also praised for his contributions to the camp and to Lionism.

"The world is looking to Lions for leadership," Mr. Grindstaff said. He noted that there are some 42,000 Lions Clubs with 1,500,000 members in every free country in the world "and these Lions are on the job every day of the year to spread the gospel of Lionism."

Mr. Grindstaff noted that all plans and goals depend on action, and he urged renewed efforts to market

Lionism, calling it a great product for peace in the world.

Dr. Schleider, introducing the speaker, challenged Lions of the district to add one new club and enroll 30 new members by April 1. Archie Chamness of Cisco, the zone chairman, said the eight clubs of the zone would accept the challenge.

Dr. Bill Auvenshine of Ranger served as master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Larry Smith, and Dr. Auvenshine led the audience in singing several songs. Mr. Chamness welcomed the group to Cisco.

the three clubs.

Over the years, the three clubs have elected six district governors - N.N. Rosenquest of Eastland, Horace Connally of Eastland, W.H. LaRoque of Cisco, H.R. Garrett of Eastland, O.L. Stamey and James McCracken of Cisco. Entertainment was provided by Jim Cockburn and Tom Brashier of Ranger. A committee composed of Truman Kirk of Cisco, Darwin Miller of Eastland and Dr. Auvenshine of Ranger handled dinner arrangements. The door prize (box of Valentine candy) was won by Mrs. J.C. Fletcher of Cisco.

In Memory Of John Clark

We rarely see gestures of great valor in our fast paced world of today. But John Clark showed it at a supreme height today by sacrificing his life to avoid colliding with a school bus. An act not many would have chosen. We knew him as a person who was not only loyal to his fellow workers, dedicated to his family but also a kind man. A man interested in the growth of his children, their activities and their needs. A man concerned enough to offer help, to ask and really care about someone else's well being. We will miss John Clark and the enthusiasm he generated. He will be long remembered as one of the finest men we had the privilege to know.

Our sincere condolence to the family of John - from everyone at HTH Trucking Inc.

Doing MORE...With LESS! THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS

OLD-TIMEY WEATHER LORE

People frequently pride themselves as accurate weather predictors. And some folks, especially sailors, have been practicing this art, out of reach of radio and TV forecasters, for a very long time. Here are a few "quaint" weather sayings (many of which turned out to be true when put to the test by modern technology) that may help you plan your outings or your garden work in the future:

- If there's dew on the grass, there's a good day ahead. A dry morning means rain.
- Look for a trawler with a smokestack. If its smoke rises straight into the air, there will be good weather. If the smoky stream curls downward, a storm is brewing.
- Watch the local seabirds. If they're roosting, it's because thinning air (the sign of an imminent squall) is harder for them to fly in.
- "Red sky at morning, sailors take warning... red sky at night, sailors delight"
- A morning rainbow is a sign of rain.
- Insects swarm and seem more annoying during the drop in pressure that precedes rain or a storm. Bees stay closer to their hives. Ants get unusually busy and scurry about, moving their eggs from place to place. Animals become restless, uneasy, and more active and noisy.

Conversely, when atmospheric pressure rises, fish become more active and swim nearer the surface (it's a good time to go angling). During the winter, the ice on frozen ponds and lakes will begin to crack and boom during periods of rising pressure. People seem happier and friendlier.

Birds fly higher during high pressure (fair sky) weather and lower prior to a storm. The old saying that a halo around the moon or sun is a frequent portent of rain or snow is true. Such a circle is formed (actually, in our own eyes) when we look at some of the moon's or sun's rays as they're reflected through the frozen crystals of moisture in thin, high cirrostratus clouds. These clouds generally move 12 to 16 hours ahead of broad, moisture-laden warm fronts, which usually bathe wide tracts of land in slow, steady precipitation as they sweep across the continent.

To make a "never fail" weather barometer, old-timers in the upper Midwest find themselves a balsam fir tree. They cut from that tree a chunk of small branch, which has a 16- to 18-inch-long twig growing out of it. "Trim and scrape the bark away from the whole assembly," one of the old backwoodsman told us, "and drill a little hole in the top end of the short main section. Then tack the indicator to the wall of your garage or corncrib so that the long twig points up. It'll stay that way during fair weather... but, just before and during a storm, it'll point down."

WORD OF GOD

What shall be the sign?
Mark 13:4

But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.

But as the days of No'e were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark.

And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall the coming of the Son of man be.

Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

Remember Steam?...

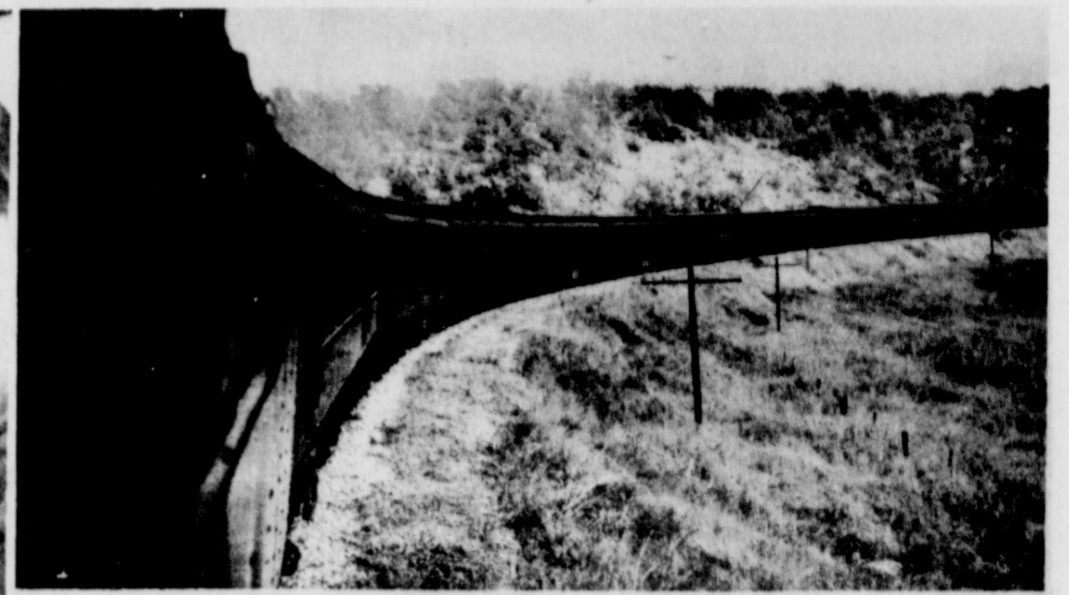

REMEMBER THE SUNSHINE SPECIAL-About 1939, during the time B.A. Butler of Cisco was Editor and Publisher of the Cisco Daily Press, he decided it would be interesting to ride with the Engineer on the Sunshine Special. This was a T. and P. train running through Eastland County from Ft. Worth to El Paso - the end of the line. A passenger train ran twice daily through Eastland County - morning and afternoon. (The afternoon train came through about 4:00 P.M.) It was an early summer afternoon when butler caught the train in Ft. Worth and took these photographs on the way home. He rode in front with an Engineer and a Fireman, who was always ready to take over the train in case anything happened to the Engineer. He remembers it as a beautiful train, with 14 passenger cars, dining cars, Pullman cars, and an observation car. Would that they ran today.

Cisco P-TO Joins Texas War On Drugs

The Cisco PTO is grateful for the opportunity to work with the communities of Texas War against drugs. They are very pleased to have joined this effort to make a better life for the children of Texas and to make Texas a better state.

Governor Clements Texas' War on Drugs Committee chaired by H. Ross Perot has been waging this campaign with a three-pronged approach-law enforcement, legislative, and educational. The education, research action arm of the Texas' War on Drugs Committee, D.A.R.E., has a three-pronged effort to educate the public on drug abuse; to conduct research on the effect of drugs and ways of halting the misuse of drugs; and to assess the status of drug abuse in the public schools.

Building a network of coalitions, speakers, and regional field coordinators strategically placed throughout the state, D.A.R.E., plans to reach every citizen in its efforts to greatly diminish the abuse of drugs in Texas.

This region, Region 3, is headquartered in San Angelo, 209A West Beauregard, (915)653-2461, and the efforts are being directed by the Regional Field Coordinator, Marilyn Golightly. Coordinators have been contacting community leaders, setting up public meetings, and helping to launch community coalitions to fight drug abuse at the local level.

D.A.R.E. will be enlisting the assistance of all agencies, communities, and concerned citizens who are involved with youth and who want to help reach the ultimate goal of both D.A.R.E. and the Texas' War on Drug Committee—that is, to provide, a drug-free, healthy environment for the children of Texas. The local D.A.R.E. coordinator will be providing developmental support, programs, and resources to assist the community in his fight.

Marilyn Golightly will be the Cisco PTO speaker on February 22 at 7:00 p.m. at the Cisco High School Auditorium. She will tell everyone about the D.A.R.E.

documenting the history of Texas will travel the state in 1985 and 1986. These documents and artifacts will be loaned from the Eugene C. Barker Texas History Center and the Texas Memorial Museum - both located at U.T. Austin-the San Jacinto Museum of History, and the Dallas Historical Society. The Program will be known as "Project 150", according to Dr. Don Carleton, Director of the Barker Texas History Center.

"These Museums together possess a most extensive and valuable collection of artifacts and materials relating to the historical development of Texas," Dr. Carleton adds. "It is exciting that we can pool resources in this type of program."

Holdings of the four institutions directly complement each other, in Dr.

which is a War against Drugs. Also how parents can become more aware and more informed about drugs. The PTO would like the help of all clubs, organizations, schools, parents and children to encourage everyone in Cisco and surrounding towns to attend this very important and informative meeting so that they may work together to make the towns a better place for the children.

Carleton's opinion. The Barker Texas History Center, at the U.T. General Libraries, has a 120,000 volume Library and an archival collection measuring 22,000 ft. Its holdings include the Bexar Archives, which are the Spanish and Mexican records for Texas from 1717 to 1836, and the Moses and Stephen F. Austin papers and other documents, books and maps relating to the development of Texas.

The Texas Memorial Museum contains a collection of specimens and related materials which provide the earliest evidence of Texas' geological existence, in addition to artifacts from the state's early Indian population.

The San Jacinto Museum, located in the San Jacinto Monument in Houston, contains artifacts, fine art, imprints and other Texas history items.

The Dallas Historical Society contains a number of historical collections accumulated by the Texas Centennial Commission in 1936.

"Its holdings include an extensive Texas clothing and textile collection which ranks as one of the finest of its type in the United States," Dr. Carleton says. Hopefully some of these traveling exhibits will come near enough to the Eastland County area to be viewed by local citizens. For those who have lived here a long while and studied Texas history, it would be a chance to refresh knowledge. For those who have recently moved here, it would offer an opportunity to learn much more about a new home and the forces which shaped it.

UNCEASING PRAYER

Jesus gently whispers, "Meet me in the morning and go with me in the morning and go with me through the day. Then before sleep comes, pray that I will take over all the problems that weren't solved during the day."

Prayer will open the way to meet what seemed impossible for you to solve alone. Be assured that you are never on your own when you talk to him. Avail yourselves of this privilege for if you try to stand alone you are weak and you will fail. We are told by Paul in the Word, "for when I am weak, then I am strong—the less I have, the more I depend on him."

Believe with the Apostle that there can be no failures if we enlist the help of God who makes all losers winners.

Thank God early in your day for His love, His favor, His mercy, His grace. No day is unmeetable if we begin each day thanking God for the blessings of His love.

Friend, as you follow faithfully this daily way to pray, you will never face another hopeless day.

MR. AND MRS. BILL FARNSWORTH

Miss Cynthia Pederson and Bill Farnsworth Are Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Cynthia Pederson of Odessa became the bride of Bill Farnsworth of Fayetteville, N.C., in a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, January 16, at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Odessa. Kenneth Morford of Independence, Mo., Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, performed the ceremony.

Charlene Campbell of Baytown, aunt of the groom, sang "Wedding Song," "Wedding Prayer," and "More," accompanied by pianist Karen Farnsworth. Margaret Hobbs of Odessa and Charlene performed a duet.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence of Odessa. Mr. and Mrs. Major Farnsworth of Cisco are the parents of the groom.

Diana Chatham of Odessa, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Vickie Pederson and Jeannie Bee of Odessa, sisters of the bride, and Mona Pederson of Odessa, sister-in-law of the bride. Flower girl was Wanda Pederson of Odessa, niece of the bride.

Britt Ferguson of College Station was best man. Groomsmen were Ray Walker of Baird, Larry Farnsworth of Odessa, brother of the groom, and Major Farnsworth of Cisco, father of the groom.

Stephanie Farnsworth of Iowa Park, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer.

Candlelighters were Leslie Bee and Tommy Pederson. Ushers were Jon Farnsworth, of Iowa Park, cousin of the groom, Kevin Campbell of Baytown, cousin of the groom, and Tommy Pederson of Odessa, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional style gown of white chantilly lace with white silk organza, styled with a Queen Anne neckline outlined in white re-embroidered lace. The gown had long full lace capped sleeves and a-line skirt. The chapel length train had a deep sheer organza flounce edge in lace. Her bouquet was white gardenias and lavender baby carnations with baby's breath.

The bridal attendants were attired in polyester and cotton floor length dresses of pastel (rainbow) colors trimmed in lace. They carried white carnations.

A reception was held hosted by the bride's parents. The bride's cake was three-tiered of white and lavender. The groom's cake was a German chocolate.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Odessa High School. She formerly was employed as a breakfast supervisor at Taco Villa in Odessa.

The groom is a graduate of Cisco High School, Cisco Junior College and Texas Tech University. He is in the U.S. Army.

The couple is living in Fayetteville, N.C., following a wedding trip to Midland.

C.J.C. Library Offers Research Source

Memorabilia of Texas and the Cisco Country gathering in special libraries and arts displays at Cisco Junior College offer a rewarding and growing source of personal and serious research, Dr. Norman Wallace, CJC president, told the Cisco Rotary Club Thursday noon.

On display at the club's noon luncheon were costly examples of Indian life sculpture by the late Randy Steffen, former Cisco artist. Steffen, as most Ciscoans know, painted the murals in the tellers lobby of the First National Bank.

The sculptures, miniatures in bronze, are models of famous Indian figures poised in some meaningful action. One mounted and lance-carrying image was designed with Crazy Horse, famous Indian chief, said to be an uncle of Steffen's, in mind. It was entitled "Follow Me" in translation of the Indian dialect. Not for sale at any price it bore a professional evaluation of $9,000.

A photo of it by James Cotton, another Rotarian, will decorate the cover of the college catalogue for the next term, Wallace revealed.

It and the two or three other sculptures were brought to the club from a collection on long term loan to the college by their owner, widow of Steffen, and now the wife of a CJC professor. The collection objects are valued from $2,000 to $12,000, the CJC president said. None are for sale.

Steffen's private library of some 900 books is the property of the college. It contains some rare, out-of-print volumes, all of the collection reflecting a sequence of historical data rewarding of those who seek information for practical uses or for personal pleasure.

Special rooms at the college Maner Library, are being equipped to house the Steffen collection and a library of Texiana. A permanent fund yields interest which is used to increase the Texas material, Wallace explained. "You can imagine what it will grow to be in the future," said the CJC president.

At its business session the club voted a $200 donation to the "Christmas in May" fund, a project supported by most Cisco civic clubs and devoted to the remodeling or refurbishing of local homes where there is need without the resources. The fund, said Wallace, who inspired it, has now grown to $1,100. He said that donations of usable materials, such as paint, lumber, decorative items, etc., are sought. They may be brought or reported to the Chamber of Commerce where they will be welcomed.—BAB

KIT HORNE

Kit Horne Joins WTU As Farm And Ranch Super

Kit Horne, a native of Coleman and until recently an agricultural extension agent in Burleson County, has joined West Texas Utilities Company as its Farm and Ranch Supervisor.

He succeeds James L. (Curly) Hays, who recently retired.

Horne holds a BS degree in agri-business from Tarleton State University and a Master's degree in ag education from Texas A&M University.

Bill Tedder, manager of WTU's Public Service Department, said much of Horne's work will involve youth activities, particularly 4-H and FFA programs through the WTU service area.

He will coordinate WTU's participation in the Texas Agri-Business Electric Council of Texas A&M, which will include sponsoring workshops for vocational-agriculture teachers and others. He also will work with cattle associations, farm groups and in other civic and community programs.

Horne served as United States Ambassador in the International 4-H Youth Exchange in Norway in 1976. He later was with the First National Bank of Brownwood before joining the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in 1977. He then served as an extension agent in Brown County before taking leave to complete his graduate studies, and later became extension agent at Caldwell, in Burleson County.

His activities have included 11 years of 4-H Club work, membership in the Tarleton State Rodeo Club, the Coleman County Junior Rodeo Association, the Texas and National Association of Extension 4-H Agents.

His wife is the former Mindy L. Cardinas, also of Coleman.

AARP To Hold Covered Dish Supper Thursday

The Cisco Chapter of AARP will hold its monthly covered dish supper and meeting next Thursday, February 18, at 6:00 p.m. in the Corral Room.

The program will combine observance of Valentine Day with table decorations, music and election of a Valentine King and Queen, and recognition of Presidents Lincoln and Washington, whose birthdays occurred in February.

Guest speaker will be Mayor Eris Ritchie.

Program director is Mrs. Thelma Bosworth, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Webb and Mrs. Patti Mertil.

Members are reminded that Chapter dues of $1.00 are to be paid to the treasurer, Mrs. Velma Joyner.

President Walter Knowlden extends an invitation to membership to all persons 55 years and older who may be interested in this association of American Retired Persons whose aim is "To serve and not to be served."

Roy Gevara Is Lions Speaker At Weekly Meet

Roy Gevara, laboratory technician at Eastland Memorial Hospital, showed picture slides and told about a medical mission to Mexico as the program feature at the weekly luncheon of the Cisco Lions Club last Wednesday noon at the White Elephant Restaurant.

Mr. Gevara said the mission that included a dozen or more people with a medical doctor, a dentist and an eye specialist along with laboratory equipment and technicians makes annual trips to Mexican villages to spend up to a week. They operate a free clinic and conduct Bible study and preaching services.

Leading these missions are Baptist groups from Graham and elsewhere, Mr. Gevara said. He and his wife have participated in several of the trips. In addition to his laboratory work, Mr. Gevara is fluent in Spanish and assists with the religious services.

The program was arranged by Lion Albert Waters. The Rev. John Clinton, local minister, introduced the speaker.

Runaway Girl Is Returned To Home

The 15-year old girl taken in custody by Cisco police last Monday night was returned Wednesday to Lena Pope Home in Fort Worth, Police Chief Raymond Blevins reports. The girl had run away from the home some two weeks ago, he added.

The girl was taken in custody after being seen riding atop steel pipe on a railway flat car as a freight train stopped in Cisco. A check with police in Fort Worth revealed that the girl had been missing, Mr. Blevins said.

Rebekah Sunday School Class Holds Meeting

The Rebekah Sunday School Class of East Cisco Baptist Church met in the fellowship hall Monday night for their quarterly social and business meeting with a salad supper. The table was gaily decorated in white with red hearts, carrying out the Valentine motif.

Members present repeated the class watchword and Omalee Holdridge, class president, voiced the opening prayer. Following the delicious salad supper, a short business meeting was held with Mrs. Holdridge presiding. Several items on the agenda were discussed as well as planning other class activities. Marie Ivie, class teacher, closed the meeting with prayer.

Those attending were Marie Ivie, Dorothy Wright, Louise Pryor, Clara Hallmark, Bonnie Ervin, Jewel Kinard and the hostesses, Marie Brock, Leona Morton and Omalee Holdridge.

Myrtle Wilks To Exhibit Paintings At CJC Library

Myrtle Wilks, well-known local artist, will be exhibiting her paintings at the Cisco Junior College Library throughout the month of February. Everyone is invited to come and view the show. Her work is a product of years of experience, and covers an array of subject matter and media.

From portraits to landscape to still life, the artist works with pastels, watercolor, oils and acrylics with apparent ease. An active exhibiting artist, Mrs. Wilks has won over 40 ribbons and prizes in area shows. She also has taught a number of classes at her studio south of Cisco. Her paintings will be featured at Interiors Unlimited, 106 West 8th Street, which will be opening soon.

The Cisco Junior College Library is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and open 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Fridays.

Marriages And Happiness

Much has been written on the subject of marital happiness by experts better qualified than a newspaper editor. Yet the question is a fascinating one because of the increasing number of marriage failures and the ever-increasing difficulties imposed by the nature and pace of American life and society.

There would seem to be several general conclusions, among the many experts, which could be summarized. First, it is good for individuals embarking on the great adventure to realize not all their dreams, anticipations and ideals will be fulfilled.

In living together, one always finds disappointments and unexpected shortcomings in his or her partner--some of which were probably not so well advertised prior to marriage. This is not fatal, nor unusual, but is the normal course of human events.

Secondly, one must sooner or later realize he or she cannot remake a spouse. For better or worse, one must accept that partner, to a large degree, as is.

Thirdly, concerning irritations, the recommended course is for all couples to seek to minimize them, to learn to forget past differences. If these observations and a Christian approach are utilized, couples probably have better than average odds for success (The divorce rate in marriages is one in three.)

If, on the other hand, nothing brings harmony or happiness after long and sincere trial, divorce is not always a tragedy. Of the millions of marriages each year, all cannot be perfect--especially in this day when Hollywood and television encourage so many youngsters to believe "that one look" across the bar, with the blue lights down low and soft music playing, is true love.

The Hope Of Youth

One of the wonders of the world is the eternal independence, optimism and hope of youth.

Battered fathers and mothers, after decades of struggle and work, who have experienced life's obstacles, inequities and heartaches, look on with tender love (mixed with sadness?) at the happy, undaunted free spirit of sons and daughters.

Of course, that's what life is--and today it's better than it was a generation earlier. Today's youngsters, with high hopes and dreams, must learn for themselves in a modern world full of technological wonders and dangers.

Realistically, the best fathers and mothers can do for children is to give them a good start in life--morally, educationally and nutritionally. And one can counsel them, when asked.

Before maturity, looking into faithful, trusting, still-pure eyes, with their hopes, obedience and inherent goodness, one must hid a tear. The heart is heavy. It really should be a life of pink clouds, blue skies, knights and princesses! Too many have stumbled in the past, not necessarily through their own fault or doing, and so, alas, it isn't so, and cannot be.

On Child Care

Recent federal statistics indicate there are in the U.S. today two million school age children between ages 7 and 13 who are left alone without any supervision because of working parents.

There are other millions with inadequate child care. It's estimated that there are 16.6 million working mothers in the nation today. More are going to work every year, when they find jobs, because of economic necessity.

These working mothers (and fathers) need outside help to care for their children. Unfortunately--and despite the rationalization often advanced in women's magazines and trendy modern articles--many child care centers do not do an adequate job and the children left there suffer as a result.

The day care situation in many areas of the nation is critical, and local, state and federal attention to the problem is only slowly arriving. What, then, is to be done?

The answer probably lies, at least in part, on more privately organized church and community day care projects. A number of smaller centers seem preferable to fewer large-enrollment centers.

Mothers who are not required by economic necessity to work might contribute on a part-time basis to day-care centers, as a community and social service, either as paid employees or volunteers.

Parents of handicapped children are often even harder pressed to find suitable child care than the average working parent. And those with many young children sometimes find the cost of child care prohibitive.

In this age, when so many mothers must work to make ends meet, the problem of adequate child care has not yet been satisfactorily solved. No one would seriously argue that little children left at day care centers get equal attention and love compared to those in a home. The object of today's society should be to reduce that penalty to the lowest possible degree.

Two Hopes

Two new and exciting medical hopes, for two long-time human ailments, are in today's news. The first hope is the drug accutane, which some believe is the answer to acne. Federal approval for its manufacture suggest it will become available in February or March and believers think it will cure just about every case of acne!

To combat the common cold, and that if taken in sufficient doses, will even cure and prevent colds! These two claims are almost too good to be true, and are indeed tentative. They are as yet just claims.

But researchers who have developed both "cures" make surprisingly bold and confident claims for the remedies. Everyone hopes they are right.

The Unemployed

Recently, the unemployment percentage, as unrealistically computed by federal bureaucrats, reached nine percent. It usually hovers around 6 or 7 percent. So this is considered quite high.

Howls of anguish have come from social workers, liberal spenders who favor more make-work federal jobs, Democrats and minority leaders--among others. The real suffering, however, is limited to the uneducated poor (often minority citizens), the unskilled and the ill or handicapped.

Such citizens are often genuinely incapable of filling all but the simplest jobs. They lack the know-how and education to go out and win many jobs open today. But even these unemployed are eligible for unemployment pay, and other benefits.

As unemployment rolls increase, the outlay of the federal government to help the unemployed soars. So no one, even conservatives, like high unemployment, though some increase is probably necessary to check inflation.

Of the nine percent unemployed, one would venture to say no more than two percent fit into the above category. Many of the unemployed suffer no real hardship, since they are minors working, or wives, with husbands and other family workers employed.

There are others who could find jobs, but not the job they want, and they prefer to sit and wait. There are very few healthy unemployed who cannot find some form of work--if they will take the necessary steps to find a job, or accept a less satisfying job. But many won't. They prefer to stay where they are (some are forced to) and wait, to draw unemployment pay.

Federal statistics are also misleading, and the computing formula is soon to be revised. After saying all that, it's undeniable that some are suffering real hardship. It's also true that many who aren't now working could look a bit harder, and farther, and find work. A glance at the help-wanted classifieds in any major newspaper, and many smaller ones, makes that clear.

Spring

It may seem hard to visualize, with January weather outside the window, but spring is on the way. One way to make winter less a hardship, mentally and physically, is to think of nature's cycle.

With the beginning of winter (December 21) the sun began to shine longer each day, the days began to get longer once more. They had been steadily shortening since June.

On the 20th of March the mid-way point will be reached, and days and nights will be equal in length. That will be the beginning of spring, the vernal equinox.

Thus the sun is already beginning its warming-up process of the earth and each day is a little longer than the one before. We will feel the effects of long nights and short hours of sunshine for some time yet, but visible signs will soon appear, especially in February, of coming warmer, sunnier days.

Character is what makes individuals do more than the law requires.

It is surprising how much work our friends think we can, and should do.

When a young man starts courting he treats it as serious business.

You can look back to 1981 but we prefer to look forward to 1982.

Advertising

Whether one realizes it or not, advertising is perhaps the most wonderful development of the modern commercial age. It is the maker or breaker of business, big or little. It is the one factor of successful sales that is most likely to be overlooked by the merchants and business men of small towns and cities.

Advertising is not the exclusive weapon of big business; it is the power that will make little concerns grow into larger success. It is a science that requires study and, he it said, character. It cannot succeed if it is based upon untruth; it must build upon faith and integrity.

This newspaper is prepared to assist local businessmen with their advertising problems. It may be said, with due modesty, that our staff knows something about advertising and that its experience is available to all.

PARENTHOOD GUIDEBOOK

By Nancy Moore Thurmond (author, Moore's Medicine, Pub. by Wm. Morrow, N.Y.)

CONVULSIONS: An extremely high fever in an infant over six months of age can cause him to have a convulsion. This should be reported immediately. If the convulsion occurs with high fever, above 103 degrees F., sponge the child with cool water, plain or mixed with alcohol, to reduce the body temperature. A prolonged fever over 104 degrees F. can cause brain damage.

It is important to keep an open airway in the convulsing patient. A convulsion without a fever is also an emergency. Febrile or feverish convulsions tend to run in families, so the mother should be more alert to this possibility if there is a family history of febrile seizures. If this is the case, you may want to ask your doctor to prescribe a sedative suppository to use as an emergency treatment.

FEVER: Fever almost always is the baby's response to infection. You can usually tell a baby with a fever by his listlessness, irritability, and, above all, hot skin. Before you use a rectal thermometer, gently shake it down until it reads well below 97 degrees F. Grease the round bulb of the thermometer with petroleum jelly so it will insert easily.

Hold your child face down, on your lap or on a bed, or you may want to him have him lie on his side. Gently insert the rectal thermometer one inch to one-and-a-half inches into your baby's rectum and hold it in that position from two to three minutes. Avoid sudden movements which could cause the thermometer to break, injuring your baby.

It will soon be time to begin spraying dormant shrubs, small trees and annoying insects.

Doctor Talk

By Dr. Harold B. Ligon

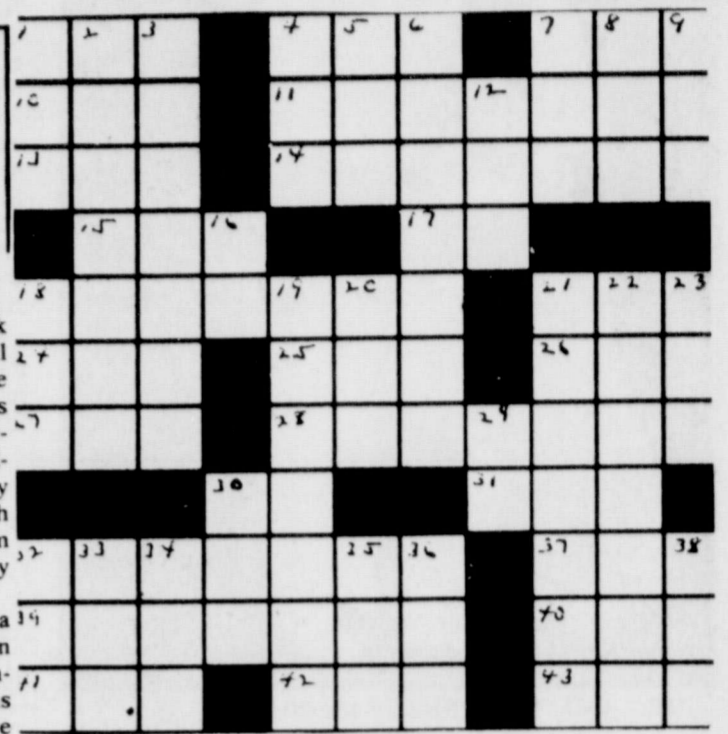

Many people today think large doses of vitamin C will protect them against the common cold. But this has not yet been definitely established. There are noted medical researchers currently engaged in further research on vitamin C. They do seem to help some, if taken early enough.

Antihistamines have a drying action which often give relief from the discomfort of cold symptoms. This is helpful but it doesn't cure the cold. Steam inhalations will often reduce the mucus membrane congestion and swelling, and also chest tightness.

Cough drops and cough syrups sometimes achieve the same results. Antibiotics, however, do not help and are not recommended--unless there's a bacterial complication. This is suggested if there's fever or an infection of the throat--which suggests a doctor's examination.

The simplest remedy to most colds is plenty of bed rest, staying warm and drinking plenty of fluids. Usually, after a day or two, symptoms gradually subside. They should certainly not last more than a week or ten days.

If one has had a cold for a longer period, or thinks he has, he probably is suffering from an allergy, or some other disorder.

WORD OF GOD

Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know from whence it riseth; and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it off; and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

Isaiah 47:11

He that ruleth over men must be just.

-II Samuel 23:3.

By the just we mean that which is lawful and that which is fair and equitable.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

In the South sweet potatoes are a traditional dish. However, it is gaining favor in all localities. There are many good recipes to choose from, but this is the one I use. If you have time these can be put in the orange cups making a colorful addition to your table. It also gives them an extra special flavor.

Sweet Potatoes

- 5 or 6 large sweet potatoes
- 1/4 c butter
- 1/4 c sugar
- 1/2 c milk
- 2 egg yolks
- 1/2 t nutmeg
- 1/2 c raisins

Boil sweet potatoes until tender. Drain and remove skin. Mash until free of lumps and add a half stick of butter and cream well. Place in a buttered casserole dish and bake at 350 degrees for 30-45 minutes or until set.

Meringue

Beat the two egg whites until stiff, adding 2 tablespoons sugar to an egg white. Place on top of cooked casserole and brown in oven.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

It is time again--that of preparing your income tax return!
All senior citizens should ask the person who prepares their tax return if every possible credit was taken this year and there are several.
Be sure you get the right number of exemptions--one for you and one for your spouse, and if both are 65 you get two more exemptions. So you could get a total of $4000 exemptions.
This year you may exclude $400, if married, from your combined interest and dividend income.
You may exclude $1000 from your all-savers interest, or $2000 if married.
If you sold your principal home after July 20, 1981, you may exclude up to $125,000 of the gain, if you meet the age requirement.
Be sure and ask about credit for the elderly and see if you are eligible.
We will remind you next week of even more opportunities to decrease your income tax.
The programs this past week included: a musical by the following participants, Roy Speegle, Arvella Speegle, Melba Kyle, Nadine Reynolds, Oren Speegle, Viola Abbott, and the group was accompanied by Vida Killion; and a musical by Steven Zell and Rocky Harris.

Texas Office of Traffic Safety

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

There are two days in every week which should be kept free from fear and apprehension. One is yesterday with its mistakes, its faults and blunders.
Yesterday has passed forever beyond our control. We cannot undo a single act we performed; we cannot erase a single word we said.
Yesterday is gone.
The other is tomorrow with its large promise and poor performance.
Tomorrow is also beyond our immediate control. Tomorrow's sun will rise, either in splendor or behind a mask of clouds - but it will rise.
Until it does we have no stake in tomorrow, for it is as yet unborn.
This leaves only one day - today. Any man can fight the battles of just one day. It is only when you and I add the burdens of those two awful eternities - yesterday and tomorrow - that we break down.
Let us, therefore, live but one day at a time.

ROUND AND ROUND SHE GOES...

The question is "where will it stop?" Many people have no idea. Life can be lived in a flurry of activity - flitting from person to person, to dream and back again. Or it can just settle into a monotonous routine. Either way, meaninglessness has taken hold.
Lack of meaning in life has been called "furious activity around an empty center." That's what a whirlpool is. Activities, meetings, schedules, parties, appointments - but no direction. The swirling pace can get to you - especially if there is a hollow inside.
Jesus talked a lot about meaning in life. But he not only talked about it. He gives it! He came to take us out of the whirlpool and set us on course in the Life Stream.

No Prayers For The Columnist

By Viola Payne
This "Farmer's Prayer" expresses sentiments of people who produce agricultural products. It says:
"As farmers and ranchers, dear Lord, give us the patience and wisdom to understand why a pound of steak at $1.80 is 'high', but a three-ounce cocktail at $1.50 is acceptable.
And Lord, help me to understand why $3.00 for a ticket to a movie is "not bad", but $3.50 for a bushel of wheat makes 50 loaves of bread is considered unreasonable.
And a 50 cent coke at the ball game is O.K., but a 20 cent glass of milk for breakfast is inflationary.
Cotton is "too high" at 65 cents a pound, but a $20.00 shirt is viewed as a bargain.
And corn is "too steep" at 3 cents worth in a box of flakes, but the flakes are sold at 50 cents per serving.

And also, Lord, help me understand why I have to give an easement to the gas companies so they can cross my property with their gaslines, and before they get it installed the price of gas has doubled.
And while you're at it, dear God, please help me understand the consumer who drives by my field and raises his eyebrows when he sees me driving a $30,000 tractor that he helped put together so he could make money and drive down the right-of-way they took from me to build a road on so he could go hunting and skiing.

Thank you, God, for your past guidance. I hope You can help me make some sense from all this. And please, God, send some rain."

Unfortunately, the once widely-read columnist Westbrook Pegler did not linger in West Texas long enough to hear anything like this prayer or the whole story of agriculture under adverse conditions. And herein lies a complicated tale not just of two cities, but of two widely divergent worlds. It also raises a number of questions, when it is satirical and biting? And when can a columnist become too "uppity" for his own good - not to mention the good of a newspaper, which eventually depends upon the support of its subscribers?

It was during the early spring days of 1962 when the brilliant writer Westbrook Pegler made his foray through west Texas. As a widely syndicated columnist of the Scripps Howard newspapers, Pegler usually had his column near a masthead showing a lighthouse, with the motto: "Give light, and the people will find their own way."

Pegler was apparently being sent west to throw some light on the case of Billie Sol Estes, which had just rocked the nation. For a 26 yr. old Assistant District Attorney of El Paso County had proceeded to bring Mr. Estes into Court, over objections from high and low sources that it just couldn't be done! So El Paso, with the trial dumped in its lap, was very much in the public eye.

That area was involved with the Estes story in other ways. There were people who had invested with Estes in the Upper Lower Valleys, and in Dell City 100 mi. northeast. And to those who were in the middle of '62 the news of that day seemed as vital and urgent as that of 1982 does to us.

In the May 23, 1962 issue of the El Paso Herald Post an Editorial stated that the newspaper was recommending Andy Anderson of Midland as State Senator. (Instead of a local Attorney who had done legal work for some 'loan Sharks' - as persons who charged 18% interest were designated then).

An Editorial below that concerned itself with the grain stored in Estes elevators, and what it would cost to remove it, together with a blistering comment or two about how it got there in the first place. But then the readers' glance caught the Pegler column, and noted that it was dated at Pecos, Texas. (Whether Pegler had the heart to travel on to El Paso was never disclosed. Apparently he was in a pretty bad frame of mind before even reaching the Pecos River).

"Years ago," he began, "Henry L. Mencken wrote a tribute to the farmer which has haunted me in my travels over the terrible high plains of west Texas inquiring into the embarrassments of Vice President Lyndon Johnson, Senator Ralph Yarborough, and other Democrats of high place and principle who carried on political and social traffic with Billie Sol Estes. The most conspicuous traits of the West Texas farmers that have been revealed in these embarrassments are his greed and his utter indifference to the Seventh Commandment."

These remarks, of course, were only the launching-pad for Pegler's subject. He continued with a stinging attack upon agriculture, its people, and their way of life. Pegler quoted Mencken in such statements as: "He (the farmer) is a tedious fraud and ignoramus, a rouge and hypocrite. No more grasping, selfish, and dishonest mammal is known to students of anthropoidea. When the going is good, he robs the rest of us up to the extreme limits of our endurance. When the going is bad he comes bawling to the rest of us for help out of the public till."

Pegler stated that a Bank President in Pecos "merrily agreed" that most of the cotton farmers who were lured into "ruinous liabilities" with Estes were "inspired by the instincts of larceny." Pegler declared that these farmers would "instinctively look to Washington to restore their mortgaged lands and put them back on the Government rolls for checks for unfarming their fields..."

"All this will probably come to pass," predicted Pegler. "It needs be said," he continued, "that to the natural cupidity of the now vicarious tiller of the soil there has been added the much more cunning rapacity of the learned but often no more than half literate profession of the law. The laws of agriculture and Government bounty have become a frightful tangle."

After other similar remarks "Pegler continued his attack on lawyers.

"The lawyer know how to file on public lands and he can obtain cotton allotments by phone for acres of his own and lease his acres also by phone, together with the allotments, never setting foot on soil except at his country club.

"By phone he can arrange for the Government to bulldoze waterholes for his cattle, and to fence them with posts and wire..."

"He is, in his greedy soul, the farmer of Henry Mencken's exuberant salute, but twice as tricky and no less crude in his social outwards. When you add the County Seat Bankers to these two elements, also learned in reticent cunning and the ways to detect sleepers on the property rolls, you have put together an apparatus of men who have been robbing the entire people of the United States for thirty years.

"Hundreds of members of Congress are country lawyers," Pegler continued, "So it is highly improbable that the drainage of the citizen's taxes will be diminished. The system 'employs' more than 125,000 part time wood-tick blood-suckers across the country, in addition to the headquarters help in the Dept. of Agriculture and in its outposts in state capitols..."

Pegler had these parting remarks: "The most inviting temptation to the citizen is to find some way to latch on."

I, like most El Paso people who picked up the Herald-Post on that May afternoon, was amazed at the Pegler column. The scope of the writing, the bitter little kernels of truth, and the sting of indictment made quite a combination. I feared that persons with no rural background might accept the total context of the article.

I was wrong. Just the opposite took place. Most readers, from what I heard, exploded with anger, blaming the newspapers which published Pegler's column. The outcry was long and loud, not only from farmers, bankers, and lawyers, but from southwesterners who were enraged upon general principals.

One of the principals they cited with unbiased journalism. For Pegler had indicated, in that column, that in many cases he was simply giving his opinion. Most of it was stated as absolute fact.

I understand that Pegler was discreetly dropped from a number of southwestern papers, and that eventually his popularity waned nationwide. I do not recall seeing another column of his in the Herald Post. And twenty year later I find few people who have heard of Westbrook Pegler!

I kept the "last" Pegler column, simply because I wanted to study it. On the one hand, the column was written with skill, vividness and mastery. There was no doubt in the reader's mind what Pegler wanted to say!

The problem would have to lie in Pegler's own concepts. For he was basically an outsider looking in on the southwest, and lacked the insight and information to make balanced judgements. You cannot make a crash course of understanding a whole area! Pegler found what he carried in his expectations to see - deceit and trouble.

He apparently didn't realize - or didn't take the time to find out - that the smirking Banker, the lawyer who ranched by telephone, and the scheming cotton farmer represented only a fraction of their own professions. The honest, unselfish farmer, for example, was not considered in the picture at all. So the writer was committing a grave journalistic error - he was lumping people together and categorizing them by profession.

This cannot be successfully done, on paper or in real life. Any time you judge by labels, whether they say "Young people", "blacks", "farmers" or anything else, you are going to lose balance and perspective. For people are different, whether they handle money and power in a bank or low prices out on a cotton farm. To deny this difference is to become a cynic, and many cynics lose touch with reality. Worst of all, they can lose hope.

Westbrook Pegler was probably right on one thing - big Government money poured into anything invites larceny. Twenty years and many unbalanced budgets later, many people have decided that free enterprise cannot be subsidized without grave consequences.

Many columns will probably be written about the tough road out. But for the cotton farmer of west Texas, with his collapsed markets, this road is a familiar one. He has already learned how to live with his back against a wall.

Fifteen Students From Cisco Make CJC's Dean's List

Fifteen Cisco Junior College students from Cisco are on the recently released Dean's List for the fall semester of 1981. Students on the Dean's List have earned a 2.5 or better grade point average on a 3.0 system.

Cisco students making the list include Leanne Agnew, Betty Burton, Gretchen Cernin, Marion Clayton, Chris Conger, Ronald Eudy, Patti Gorr, Trey Kendall, Johnny P. McCaghren, Mary McGrew, Wilma Moon, Robbie Phillips, Kelly Simmons, Sy Tabor and Donnie Worley.

Nine Students From Cisco On President's List

Nine Cisco Junior College students from Cisco and one from Moran are on the recently released President's List for the fall semester of 1981. Students on the President's List have made a straight "A" record, or a 3.0 average.

Cisco students making the President's List include Delbert Algood, Sue Hallmark, Freda Hill, Steven Jackson, Nicki Keating, Alton R. Maples, George T. Owens, Cynia Trice and Owen Williams.

Moran student making the list is Billy A. Parrish.

Tommy Claborn Shows Sheep In Ft. Worth Show

Tommy Claborn, Cisco FFA member and Suffolk breeder, showed sheep in the Fort Worth Stock Show this past week. He exhibited animals in both the open and junior classes.

He had a third place ram, one fifth place ram, placed fourth in the pairs class and had one sixth place ewe.

Tommy, as well as other Cisco FFA and 4-H students, are working doubly hard with their animals for the Cisco Stock Show on March 12-13.

Homemaking Hints

By Janet Thomas

With all the cold weather and high utility bills we are having now, probably some people are thinking about doing some more insulation to homes.

Improper installation and deceptive business tactics can rob you of the energy and dollar savings home insulation can bring. Properly installed insulation can result in significant savings in both heating and cooling costs. Also, these improvements generally will pay for themselves within 3 to 5 years and often more quickly, depending on costs of materials. But to ensure that you gain these benefits, you must protect yourself against fraud.

Start by learning as much as you can about home insulation. Then choose a contractor who has a proven record of honesty and competence. Be informed by:

Obtain information about insulation from a reliable, unbiased source, such as your utility company or county agricultural extension service office.

Learn the different types, costs, benefits, and other advantages or disadvantages of insulation materials available.

If you decide you need additional insulation for your present home, plan how and where it should be installed.

Obtain names of reputable insulation contractors. Never hire a door-to-door contractor.

Write down a rough set of specifications for the job you have in mind. Call three contractors. Let them inspect the job to be done and get cost estimates, but do not obligate yourself. Insist on references.

Have a written contract or agreement. The written agreement should contain your name, the contractor's name, a careful listing of the job to be done by the contractor, the total cost including cost of labor, materials, and all fees to be paid to the contractor for the performance of the job. The written agreement should contain when the contractor is to be paid and the warranty or guarantee supplied by the contractor. An estimate of the date of completion of the work. The agreement should be signed by the owner, contractor, and an unbiased witness. The date that the agreement is signed.

The contractor should not be paid until the work has been inspected and you are satisfied that all work is completed according to the specifications agreed upon. If you suspect deception or fraud, have a problem with non-fulfillment of a contract, or have a failure by the seller to honor a warranty, contact the Federal Trade Commission regional office nearest you.

There are hundreds of products on the market today promising to save you hundreds or thousands of dollars on energy and utility bills. You should be skeptical of any product which promises you too much. Seek the advice of others who are more knowledgeable about these types of products. Never buy any product where the seller insists that you buy it now without giving you time to think it over.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK:
The Extension Service office has a new bulletin entitled "Holiday Foods". It's packed full of good recipes. I prepared the Green Enchiladas casserole and it was especially good.

GREEN ENCHILADAS
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 small can evaporated milk
1/2 pound soft processed cheese
1 small can green chilies, chopped
1 small can pimientos
1 pound ground beef, lighted browned
1 dozen tortillas
1/2 pound Longhorn cheese, grated
1 cup onions, chopped

Heat soup, milk and processed cheese in top of double boiler until cheese is melted. Add chopped chilies and pimientos. Combine grated cheese, onions which have been cooked until clear, add meat. Fill each tortilla with meat mixture, roll tightly and place in long baking dish. Pour cheese sauce over tortillas. Cover with aluminum foil and bake at 350° F. for 30 minutes.

Ben Karnes To Present Program At Eastland Club

On February 17 at the Women's Club, the Eastland Music Study Club will present the second program in the "Friends of Music" series.

Three o'clock in the afternoon will find the hostesses serving a luscious dessert and tasty beverage to the Friends upon arrival.

Then shall the program begin. Ben Karnes, a locally well-known piano teacher and entertainer from Dallas, will in a multi-media production present Gilbert and Sullivan's matchless H.M.S. Pinafore.

The leader for this event is Virginia W. Russell, joined by Margaret Tow and Lillian Cromwell as hostesses.

Karnes holds a BA degree in piano from North Texas State Univ. He has also studied privately in Paris under Monique de la Bruchollierie.

He has entertained throughout the Dallas area in restaurants and clubs, and participated with 10 other leading Dallas pianists in the 1981 Eugene List Monster Concert benefitting the Highland Park Chamber Orchestra.

Karnes has served as a former vice-president of the Dallas Music Teachers Association, and his recommended list of intermediate piano repertoire is being used this year in festivals by Hurst-Euless-Bedford piano teachers.

For those who have not yet joined the "Friends of Music", this Wednesday afternoon will be the time to pay the assessment, receive your card and enjoy a unique musical treat.

Gordon Woolam Reports On

CONTROL OF GRASSBUR

Because of their variation in texture, growth habit and color, weeds create a unsightly appearance in turf grasses.

Proper maintenance is the best means of controlling weeds. Thorough and infrequent watering, adequate fertilization and proper mowing are important steps to weed control. However, lawns damaged by insects or disease, wear or other problems are highly susceptible to weed invasion.

Grassbur, goosegrass, and crabgrass are the major grassy weeds which cause problems in lawns during the summer. These are annual grasses which emerge from seed each year. These weeds can be controlled with preemergent herbicides applied in the early spring. Preemergent herbicides prevent the seed from germinating. Examples of preemergent herbicides recommended for the control of crabgrass and grassbur are Balan' and Dacthal'. Preemergent herbicides must be applied before the annual weed seed germinate. Preemergent herbicides are not harmful to existing vegetation.

The best and most effective form of weed control is good lawn fertilization and maintenance program. Weeds invade thin, wear strands of grass. Killing weeds with chemicals will not keep them out unless followed by management practices that encourage the grass to grow vigorously enough to compete favorably with the weeds. Herbicides are not a miracle answer to lawn weed control, but merely a useful tool in a total lawn maintenance program.

In heavily infested lawns two applications may be necessary. The recommended chemicals will give about three months of protection. Postemergent application of a contact herbicide such as MSMA will give in season control of annual grasses in bermuda grass. Only use materials recommended for St. Augustine grass should be used in St. Augustine lawns, as the turf might be damaged by some materials that are safe for Bermudagrass.

Location is in a 29-acre lease in Palo Pinto County's T.B. Smith Survey.

At a location three miles east of Strawn, North Star Energy Inc. of Strawn has finalized a new gas producer in Palo Pinto County.

The wildcat well is designated as the No. 9 Ball, producing gas at the rate of 326,000 CF per day on a 3/4 inch choke. Absolute open flow was estimated at 375,000 CFPD.

Location is in a 317-acre lease in the Abner Ashworth Survey. Bottomed at 3,400 feet, the well will produce from perforations 3,388 to 3,400 feet into the hole.

Chester R. Upham Jr. of Mineral Wells has revealed plans to drill a 4,700-ft. developmental well in the E. Mineral Wells Field. The operator has 176 acres leased, with drillsite in Palo Pinto County's T&PRR Co. Survey and has designated the venture as the No. 1 Holiday Hills et al. Drillsite is a mile east of Mineral Wells.

A 3,895-ft. Developmental well is planned by Jerry E. Wylie Oil Co. of Abilene at a drillsite five miles northwest of Crystal Falls, Stephens County. The location is in a 160-acre lease in the TE&L Survey. Well's designation is the No. 2 Pratt. It is in the Woodison-Allison (Caddo) Field.

Jones Company of Albany has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 Bell "14", a 4,700-ft. developmental well two and one half miles southwest of Breckenridge. Location is in a 334-acre lease in Stephens County T&PRR Co. Survey. The Bell well is in the Stephens Co. Reg. Field.

At a location six miles southwest of Eliasville, Lester Clark of Breckenridge has finalized a new gas producer in Stephens County's Stephens Co. Reg. Field.

The well is designated as the No. 4 Black "B", producing gas at the rate of 238,000

People n Things

THE APPOINTMENT of a postmaster for Cisco is perhaps about a month in the future. That's the word over at the post office. The process has been underway for several months now. The list of candidates, all employees of the post office department in this region, has been cut to three, including one man from Stephenville and one from Fort Worth.

A week or so ago, the three men were interviewed by the selection committee and their reports are now being studied and reviewed and the winner will come forth in three or four weeks.

OUR SCOUTS report that March 8th will be the final day for the SWBell business office to be open in Cisco. After that date, you will deal with a number in Wichita Falls if you have business with the telephone company.

Both Kathy Owen and Helen Gaeta of the local business office are resigning rather than move to Wichita Falls, we're informed. Mrs. Owen has been with the company six years and Mrs. Gaeta is a veteran of nearly 12 years. Both are natives and have their families here and do not want to move away.

The change won't affect the service department, we're informed.

We have a feeling that SWBell will miss the valuable public relations that local business office folks have provided. It hasn't been many years since the company had a local manager and office workers who took part in community affairs, reflecting credit on SWBell.

One of our friends is a retired executive of General Telephone, and he tells that GT closed local offices and moved people out of a good many towns a few years ago. Within a year, the offices were open again. They learned that you can't beat the value and influence of local employees in the communities.

SWBell has been a good citizen of our community for many, many years. Let's all hope that they'll resume being a part of our town before too long.

THEY'VE GOT fresh meat out at the Doug and Jammie Fry homes. And it's the result of an unusual happening the other morning. Jammie, a local rancher, loaded up his big trailer full of yearlings and started out to the auction barn in Abilene. Twenty-five miles or so west on IH-20, a motorist honked and waved and pointed. Jammie stopped. The trailer gate had come open and five yearlings had fallen out.

One 500-pound heifer had a broken leg. Doug Fry, trailing a couple of miles back in his pickup, drove up. Jammie got his gun from the rack in the trailer and shot the yearling while its throat was cut and the blood spilled out.

The yearling was loaded into Doug's pickup and he hurried to a butcher where the meat was processed. The other four yearlings were located and picked up later. And it was fortunate that things worked out so they could save some 300 pounds of good beef.

THE BIG BITS of steel you see in the area of the new First National Bank building have caused quite a few questions to be asked, reports Bank Prexy Dick Woolley. They're slated to provide strength for the new bank vault and safety deposit boxes. And the new bank will have 400 more safety deposit boxes than they now have.

Mr. DW reports that the construction project is now 31 days behind schedule, thanks to recent spells of cold and bad weather. They expect to finish on schedule, however, come October.

SEE BY THE papers that Mrs. Rosa Broyles' No. 1 son Tommy M. Broyles, Abilene CPA, is the proud owner of a Silver Beaver, the highest honor award that can be conferred by the Boy Scouts of America for adult leadership. Mrs. Broyles is a long-time resident of Cisco.

Also see by the papers that young men have until March 1st to register for possible draft. After that day, unregistered young men are liable to receive letters... Mrs. Roxie Morrison of our town observed her 94th birthday Friday. Friends and neighbors dropped in to wish her happy returns of the day and many more good years.

A NUMBER OF members of the Cisco Lions Club and others have been helping transport Mr. S. Lopez to Abilene twice a week for treatment at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. And, we are glad to hear, his condition continues to improve... Have heard a number of good reports on the talk of Mr. J.W. (Robin Hood) Cook at the Industrial Arts Club meeting a week or so ago. He has a lot of talent as a speaker and entertainer.

MRS. HELEN Orr and Mr. Bill McKinnon of E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital flew to Austin last Tuesday to attend a public hearing on new pharmacy regulations pertaining to hospitals.

They still need an office secretary over at the Chamber of Commerce... Understand the Cross Roads Restaurant has started staying open 24 hours a day. But owner Ruth Lindsey says she isn't there all that time. Nighttime business has been pretty good, she reports. Mrs. Lindsey talked to home folks up in Idaho the other day and they told her that below zero temperatures and deep snow have been around them for some time now.

THE POST office, the bank, United Savings and probably others will be closed Monday in observance of George Washington's birthday (a week early)... Hear that the Mobley Hilton Restoration Project has been funded by the Hilton Foundation and that the architect and contractor are due in town any day now... The Wm. E. (Bill) Austins were in Big D several days this past week attending furniture market... The Ed Bradshaws drove out to Plainview the other day to visit daughter Lisa and family.

Firemen Answer Alarms Thursday

Two alarms were answered by the Cisco Volunteer Fire Department Thursday. At 7:15 a.m., firemen took a truck to Morton Valley to help extinguish a burning truck that overturned and caught fire. Details of the mishap appear elsewhere in this newspaper.

At 11:25 p.m. Thursday, firemen went to East 6th Street after a mobile home owned by Joe Gallegos caught fire. Fire Marshal Bill Webb said the blaze started from faulty electric wiring. Damage was minor, he added.

Forty-One Donors Contribute To Cisco Blood Drive Feb. 3rd

The following 41 donors contributed to the Blood Drive held at E.L. Graham Hospital on Wednesday, February 3, 1982, sponsored by the Cisco Civic League: Ervin E. Cisco Library News

The Magazine Table at your Public Library offers excellent reading on a wide variety of subjects for practically pennies in cost. So many magazines sustain and even increase in value long past their issue dates for reference material, and just plain enjoyment of good fiction and non-fiction, delicious recipes, arts and crafts, history, seasonal decorations, and wonderful photography covering events, people, and beautiful places to visit - in person or in dreams - within our Country and outside. Come see.

Among the shipment of new books from the Abilene Big Country Library System are the following. This collection will remain on loan for three months before being replaced. So hurry and find your favorites. Many are in the large print.

From the McNaughton Books - meaning new or nearly new books but not "book of the month" selections although high on the popularity list: Eddie, My Life, My Love by Eddie Fisher; Nella, by Godey; Lyndon, An Oral Biography, by Miller; Sharkey, by Wyckoff.

On the Fiction Shelf: Daughter of Valdor; Carrie's War, A Father and His Fate; Walk Gently this Good Earth; The Hesitant Heart; China Court; Valley of the Vines.

Non-Fiction: Cooking Without Salt; The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life; With Wings as Eagles.

For the Mystery Lovers: Mrs. Pollifax on Safari; The Murder of Roger Ackroyd; Buried In So Sweet a Place; Tied Up in Tinsel.

And for the Western Story Lovers: Ambush at Torture Canyon; Luke Short the Outrider; The Drift Fence; and The Sky-Liners.

These are not all of the books received. Librarian Mrs. Mary Bob Leveridge is always available for help with your selections. Library hours are from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

WORD OF GOD

Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery:

But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Matthew 5:27,28

OBITUARY

Services For Lillie Tyree Held Wednesday

Graveside services for Lillie Mae Tyree, 41, of Coleman, formerly of Cisco, were at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at Scranton Cemetery, directed by Kimbrough Funeral Home. The Rev. Buddy Sipe of First Baptist Church officiated.

Mrs. Tyree died at 3 p.m. Sunday at Fort Sam Houston Air Force Base Hospital in San Antonio after a brief illness.

She was born January 26, 1941, in Poteau, Okla. She married Rickie Lynn Tyree in Oklahoma City. She was a housewife and a Baptist.

A brother preceded her in death.

Survivors include her husband of Dundee, Fla.; three sons, Lester Dan Parks of Coleman, Elmer Lee Parks and Matthew Wayne Parks, both of Cisco; a daughter, Jo Ellen Alkarbon of Coleman; her mother, Rosie E. Lemmons of Imperial, Ca.; her father and stepmother, Johnny J. and Hazel LaMar of Poteau, Okla.; three brothers, J.L. LaMar of Eureka, Ca., Johnny LaMar Jr. of Oklahoma City and Lester Leon Lemmons of Tulsa, Okla.; three sisters, Jo Ann Ridenou of Poteau, Okla., Cora F. Brown of Oklahoma City and Daisy Mae Brock of Cisco and a grandchild.

Military Funeral For Lt. Col. Surlis Held In Virginia

Full military funeral for Lt. Col. Donald Carroll Surlis, retired, 64, of Falls Church, Va., was held Friday, Feb. 12, at Fort Myers Chapel in Virginia. Burial was in Arlington National Cemetery.

Mr. Surlis died suddenly at his home in Falls Church, Va., Monday, February 8.

He was born May 15, 1917. He attended schools in Cisco from the first grade through junior college. He attended Texas University before joining the Air Corps in 1939. He was a pilot of one of the planes which landed at Pearl Harbor during the attack of the Japanese. He flew reconnaissance missions and served in the Pacific Theater through World War II. He served with occupation in Japan.

He married Marge Sorenson in Salt Lake City in 1941. He was preceded in death by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll S. Surlis of Cisco and a sister, Dalia.

Survivors include his wife, Marge of the home; a daughter; two sons; three grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Adrian Allen of Abilene and Doris Brooks of Grand Prairie, and a brother, Wendell of Austin.

Son-in-Law Of O.T. Killions Dies In Houston Wed.

R.C. Knipe of Houston, husband of Judge Dou Vena Killion Knipe and son-in-law of Judge and Mrs. O.T. Killion of Cisco, died in Houston Wednesday evening. Funeral services were in Earthman's Funeral Home, Houston, Saturday, with burial in the V.A. Cemetery.

Knipe was a foreman with Becktal Construction Co. of Houston, and also worked a number of years at Petro-Tex Chemical Corp. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Marine Corp. He received the Purple Heart and a number of other medals for his fighting on Iwo Jima. He helped erect the U.S. flag in the well-known photograph of this event.

R.C. Knipe is survived by his wife, Dou Vena, his children Ronny, Ronda, Donny, Shelia Knipe Gillespie, and one grandson. Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Knipe of Lake Livingston, Texas, and two brothers and one sister.

Funeral Services For Ellie Oxley Held Monday

Funeral services for Ellie Green Oxley, 75, of Moran, were at 1 p.m. Monday at First Baptist Church in Moran. The Rev. Jimmy Smithie, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Moran Cemetery, directed by Cisco Funeral Home.

Mrs. Oxley died Thursday at Good Samaritan Hospital in Phoenix, Ariz. She was born December 12, 1906. She married Lewis M. Oxley on July 5, 1925, in Albany. He died in October 1981. She was a member of First Baptist Church.

Tight fire with fire prevention

DON'T WAIT UNTIL FLAMES AND POISONOUS GASES THREATEN YOUR LIFE.

MOST HOME FIRES BREAD OUT LATE AT NIGHT - WHEN YOUR FAMILY IS A SLEEP.

HOME FIRES ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ABOUT A THIRD OF ALL FIRE DEATHS!

FIRE'S VICTIMS ARE CHILDREN ABOUT 30 PERCENT OF THE TIME. 3,500 U.S. YOUNGSTERS THROUGH AGE 15, PERISH FROM FIRE EACH YEAR.

Fire Safe AD-108 will not change surface appearance of interior furnishings such as carpet and upholstery.

Clear protective application will not leave any residue on drapes or other textiles.

Fire Safe AD-108 is a superior protector of fabric wallcoverings and natural wooden panelings for the interior of your home or business.

The most effective fire retardant on the market.

Fire Safe AD-108™ offers additional self-insurance.

The first spray application tested effective for five years or more.

Fire Safe AD-108™ recently passed tests performed by a certified national laboratory classifying it as a Class C Exterior fire retardant for a minimum of five years. These tests simulated 200 inches of rain after which Fire Safe AD-108™ was proven to be a most effective fire and smoke retardant.

Dual action works equally well on interiors.

Fire Safe AD-108™ previously passed tests classifying it as a Class B interior spray. Its dual action works well on materials such as cloth, wood, drapes, carpets and wallpaper. The substance does not leave a residue and needs no re-application on inside surfaces.

How it works.

Fire Safe AD-108™ is a clear water-base chemical that penetrates deeply into the fibers of the material on which it is applied. The chemical does not wash or draw out as most other spray retardants will do. It works by bubbling up to form an insulating fire retardant barrier between the flame and the treated material.

In addition, Fire Safe AD-108™ is odorless, non-toxic, anti-fungal and is a wood preservative. Vacuum pressure treated shingles and lumber will be available in 1981 providing additional protection.

Fire Safe AD 108™ is distributed by AmDal Chemical Corporation of Dallas, Texas.

PROPERTIES

Fire Safe AD-108™ is a pre-condensate that is soluble in water, but once dry becomes insoluble. On porous wood it saturates, dries and hardens to provide a fire retardant that is so effective it will prevent roof fires which start from fireplace embers, fireworks, and wind-carried fires.

Fire Safe AD-108™ is completely resistant to insects, rodents and certain types of molds, and is mildly anti-bacterial. The material also contains a preservative quality which extends the color as well as the life of wood shingles.

It can be sprayed, painted or mopped on with almost any device at a cost ranging from $500 up depending on the size of the area treated.

USES

Fire Safe AD-108™ has fire retardant application from wood roof shingles to structural wood. This fire retardancy is valid in both exposed weather conditions and interior applications. This product has been approved by many cities for interior commercial application. Many builders have used Fire Safe AD-108™ on residential wood structures such as roof framing, wood roof decking, wood sub-floors and wood studs. Paint may be applied after drying.

LIMITATIONS

Fire Safe AD-108™ should not be applied over painted or sealed wood surfaces as the wood will not absorb the fire retardant material.

AVAILABILITY, COST

Fire safe AD-108™ is available through authorized Am Dal Chemical Corporation representatives and dealers. For further information, please call.

The cost of an application of FIRE SAFE AD-108™ will range from $500 up depending on the size of the area to be treated.

WHAT IS FIRE SAFE AD-108™?

- A saturant for porous wood such as Redwood or Cedar shingles.
- A water soluble chemical, that when dry is insoluble.
- Contains no oil or solvent.

WHY USE A WATER SOLUBLE FIRE RETARDANT?

- It is not a coating. It lets the shingle breathe as it was designed, a coating will not.
- Wood shingles have a better R-rating than other type shingles, so don't coat them.
- It is guaranteed to provide fire retardant effect for 5-years when used as spray on exterior wood.
- It has national laboratory testing and is approved by many fire departments.
- It has a wood preservative.
- It adds 25% to 35% of life to shingles.
- It also helps stop curling.
- It brings life and color to old shingles and keeps new shingles looking new.
- It is non-toxic.
