

Hall Of Remarks

by Herrel Hallmark

FORMER CISCO Police Chief Kenneth N. Eaves has been accepted to attend the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's game warden training academy at Austin. Kenneth is the son of Neil Eaves of Carbon. Upon graduation in May, Kenneth will be commissioned as a state game warden.

AN INTERESTING note was received at The Cisco Press office recently from Nena R. Cook of Newport, Washington. Mrs. Cook is the older sister of Shelly Smothers and the daughter of the late James Smothers, former Cisco Chamber of Commerce manager.

Mrs. Cook sent along an article from the Colville National Forest Recreation Report and stated she thought we might like to have the article on the eagle. She went on to say, "We have one large nest up by us on Pend Oreille River. I have seen one baby eagle last fall. I am trying to get a good picture."

The article sent is as follows:

The bald eagle is a winter visitor throughout northeastern Washington and northern Idaho. Many birds are now making their home on the Columbia River and surrounding areas.

The bald eagle migrates to the Columbia and Kettle Rivers during October and stays in the area until spring. The bald eagle population reaches its peak around January and February. The Colville River has often been a nesting place for the eagles; however, no nests have been spotted this year. Nesting sites are also located on the Pend Oreille River on the eastern half of the Colville National Forest and the Harvey Creek area in Pend Oreille County.

The eagles main source of food during the winter is waterfowl, dead carcasses of winter-kill deer, cattle and fish in the surrounding rivers.

The bald eagle is a threatened species in Washington and Oregon. This means they are protected by law. Washington has the highest nesting population, with the majority being on the west side of the state.

The general population of the eagle has remained stable in the northwest part of the United States. The population has declined in other areas. Loss of nesting habitats is one of the main reasons for the decline in populations. Another reason is illegal hunting of the bird.

The National Wildlife Federation conducts their mid-winter surveys on the bald eagle in this area to determine the amount of nesting sites.

If you would like more information on the bald eagle and their habitat, contact Tom Burke, Wildlife Biologist, Colville National Forest, 695 South Main, Colville, Washington 99114.

IF THE old saying about March coming in like a lamb, it will go out like a lion, holds true, we should be in for a rough time at the end of this month. Monday was the first day of March and here in Cisco, it was a beautiful day with warm afternoon temperatures and plenty of sunshine.

WOMAN ARRESTED

Kendra Suzann Badgett, 18, of Abilene, was arrested her Sunday and lodged in the Eastland County jail for Taylor County authorities who had a warrant charging her with theft with a check. Officers Billy Rains and Mike Loudamy arrested her for a traffic violation, and the Taylor County charge was learned after checking records. Taylor County authorities took custody of the young woman Monday.

SOMETHING YOU might like to be reading more about in the next few days concerns the aligning of the planets during this month. All of the planets in our solar system will be lined up on one side of the moon at a certain time this month and it has been predicted that there will be a very strong gravitational pull upon earth.

There is some disagreement about what could possibly happen because of this unusual grouping of the planets. I guess we will all just have to wait and see for ourselves.

'Glory-Heirs' Make Return Visit To Nazarene Church

The "Glory-Heirs" of Abilene will be making a return visit to the Church of Firemen Put Out Rural Home Fire

Cisco and Moran fire departments sent men and equipment to the Jim Choate home some 12 miles northwest of Cisco last Saturday morning to extinguish a fire in a small house back of the Choate residence.

A water heater in the bathroom of the small house exploded, starting the fire that caused damage in the kitchen and a bedroom. No one was in the house at the time. An estimate of damages was not available.

Last Friday at 3 p.m., Cisco firemen sent a truck to West 4th Street after a fire threat was reported. The minor blaze was put out before firemen arrived.

A car fire at Avenue E and 6th Street was put out by firemen at 2:45 p.m. Saturday. No damage was reported.

Firemen went to the Weeks home at 105 East 15th Street last Sunday after fire broke out in a back room. There was minor structural damage plus small smoke damage, a report showed.

Three Accidents Are Investigated

A 1972 model Chevrolet automobile was totaled and a 1976 Chevy suburban had minor damage in a collision at Avenue D and West 10th Street at 4:50 p.m. Monday. Acting Police Chief Raymond Blevins reported.

The car was driven by Raymond Dean Hendricks, and Vernell Symm Reich was the pickup driver. Neither had injuries. City Policeman Mike Loudamy investigated the mishap.

A truck with trailer loaded with oil well pipe overturned when it swerved to miss a pickup truck at 10:36 a.m. Friday, Feb. 26, at the intersection of Avenue D and IH-20 access road. The truck, driven by Isbell Young Padilla, Jr., and owned by Jenco of Uvalde, had damages of $500 or more. The pickup was driven by Larry Wayne Sones of De Leon, and it was not damaged. Chief Blevins investigated the accident.

Policeman Loudamy went to the Dairy Queen on South Avenue D at 2:30 p.m. Friday after a Wholesale Food Company truck of Abilene ran into an awning, causing damages estimated at about $200. No one was hurt.

Child Abuse and Neglect Can Be Curtailed or Prevented

Child abuse and neglect can be curtailed or prevented by citizens building a network of services to help families in distress, the chairman of the Eastland County Child Welfare Boards said this week.

"We can help parents learn how to discipline their children without injuring them," said Mrs. Ernest Reich of Cisco.

"Where local communities support a wide range of family services, child abuse can be reduced. And, there's a bonus in keeping an abused youngster from repeating the cycle of abuse when the child grows up and becomes a parent," Mrs. Reich said at a Board meeting Monday to plan the 50th anniversary of 1982 of the beginning of child protective services in Texas.

Today, more than 1,800 Texans on 172 county boards offer time and service to protect children from abuse and neglect in partnership with the Texas Department of Human Resources. Mrs. Reich noted that the likelihood for abuse of neglect goes up in families under great stress from financial difficulties, marital discord, social isolation, or poor health.

"Something as simple as talking to a neighborhood father who has lost his job can defuse the frustration and guilt that otherwise might be taken out on the children," she said. She said an old fashioned concern for neighbors could go a long way toward helping families cope with modern stresses that are related to many abuse cases.

"Admittedly, such informal action aren't enough to help some families who need comprehensive therapeutic services," she said. "Even in those families, however, Texans can play a supportive role in programs to protect children."

Texans who want to do more to prevent child abuse and neglect usually find that an effective approach to that serve as a volunteer, or involved citizen, by working with the Department of Human Resources, the county child welfare board, or through a church or civic group.

Ways to get involved:

1. Most importantly, report suspected instances of child abuse, neglect, or exploitation by calling the toll-free Child Abuse Hotline at 1-800-252-5400. It's answered day and night, seven days a week, and callers are not required to give their names.

2. Join an organization that offers caring attention to family groups suffering from frustration and isolation.

3. Increase your knowledge and understanding of child maltreatment, its causes and cures. Local libraries carry books and professional journals that discuss the subject.

4. Contact a local government agency that deals with child abuse and offer your help as a volunteer.

5. Guide a group in which you are active, such as an athletic team, neighborhood group, or church assembly, into doing something to help stem the incidence of child maltreatment in your community.

6. Assist your schools and churches in developing programs and audiences for basic education about child rearing, parent training, and subjects dealing with human development.

7. Volunteer your time to troubled parents, "adopt" a family in trouble, become a parent aide to mothers who are young and inexperienced in raising children, help recruit foster parents and adoptive parents, and reach out to neighbors having problems.

How to get involved: Contact a member of your county's child welfare board of the citizen involvement office in the nearest DHR office.

Serving with Mrs. Reich on the Eastland County Board are Mrs. Virgil Seaberry, Mrs. Mack Stubblefield, H.V. O'Brien, Durel Reid, Judge Scott Bailey, Jim Lehrman, Branda Hodges and Dr. R.B. Golemon.

Gail Jennings is Child Placement Worker with the Texas Department of Human Resources here, and she reports that there were 17 Hot Line Reports on possible child abuse in Eastland County during 1981.

One Hundred and ten children died as the result of child abuse in the State of Texas last year.

Is Earth in line for a catastrophe?

By ANITA BAKER
Star-Telegram Writer

While economic disasters and wars are drawing eyes inward, the nine known planets that circle the sun have begun their movement into a rare configuration that some have predicted will lead to catastrophes far graver than any man has created.

The nine planets are gathering on one side of the sun for a reunion that comes only every 179 years, and at least two scientists predicted in 1974 the joint gravitational pull on the sun would lead to disastrous results on Earth.

Predictions in the doomsday book, The Jupiter Effect, have sparked interest and discussion among not only scientists, but laymen.

Despite continued discrediting of the theory by scientists around the world and the retraction of some of the predictions by one of the authors, the rumors of pending disasters continue to circulate.

Even now, eight years later, the paperback book remains on many current bookshelves. It has sold "steadily" at one Fort Worth bookstore, an employee of the store said, and as the March 10 peak date for the alignment nears, telephone calls are on the increase to area planetariums seeking more information.

From the beginning, scientists rejected the theories about the "Grand Alignment" ("it is neither grand nor an alignment," one said) proposed by John Gribbin and Stephen Plagemann, both respected in their astronomy-related fields.

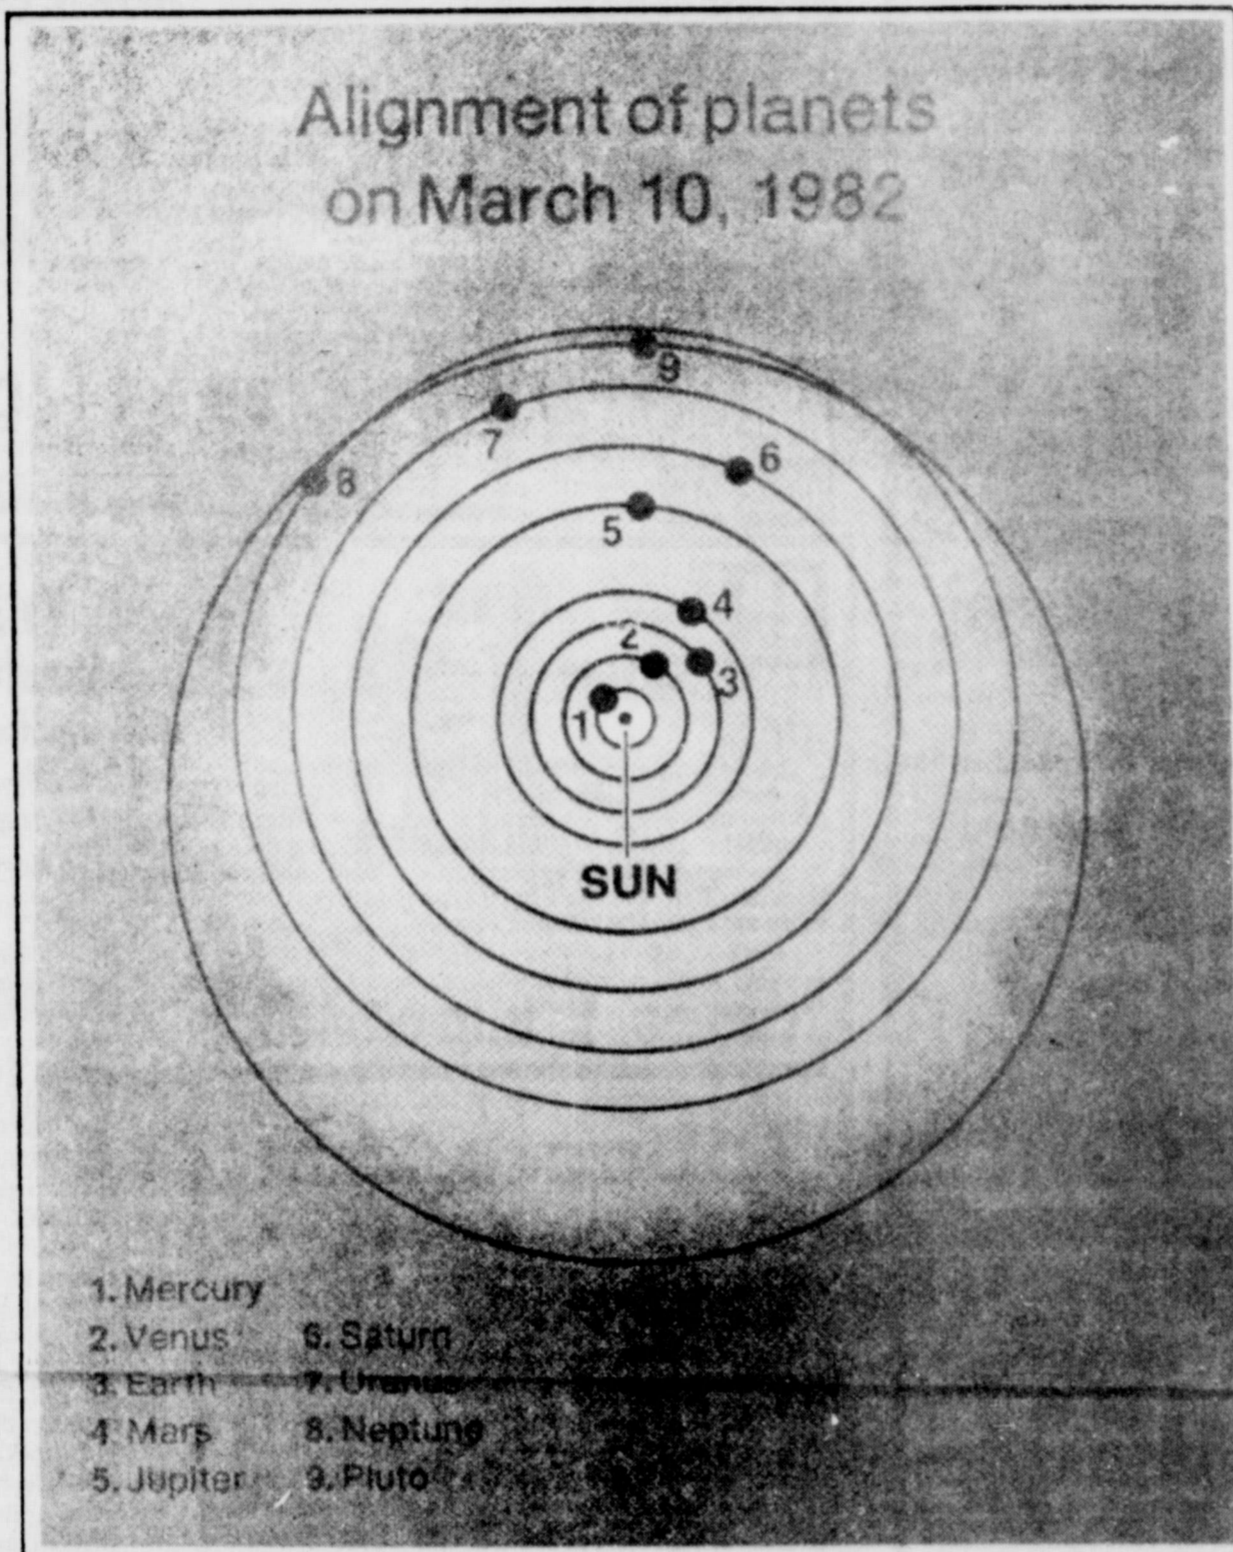

And even Gribbin has backtracked somewhat on the conclusion to his theories.

Most do not believe the clustering of planets within a 95-degree angle on one side of the sun will lead to the predictions that resulting changes in the Earth's rotation could trigger earthquakes that will devastate Southern California.

It just won't happen, the majority of scientists have said.

Gribbin, who has served as editor of the respected scientific journal, Nature, in England where he resides, has admitted the predictions under testing won't hold water. But in a recent interview printed in Science 82 magazine, he continued to hold fast to his theories — provided the chain of events he and Plagemann had predicted had occurred.

What the book predicts is:

1. Mercury
2. Venus
3. Earth
4. Mars
5. Jupiter
6. Saturn
7. Uranus
8. Neptune
9. Pluto

POSITION OF PLANETS... according to estimates by National Geographic

• The combined gravitational pull of all nine planets will exert pressure on the sun, increasing sunspots, solar flares and solar wind.

• The increased solar winds will either interact with the Earth's magnetic field or interact with the atmosphere to alter circulation patterns, resulting in a change in the Earth's rotation.

• Even a slight change in the rotation would create a strain on the Earth, affecting the movement of continental plates.

• Earthquakes will abound along the fault lines around the continental plates. And because of increasing pressure buildup along the San Andreas Fault in Southern California, that area is a prime target for devastation.

Most scientists believe the overall theory is unacceptable. But even if it isn't, Gribbin's and Plagemann's proposals had one major flaw. They expected the alignment to coincide with a peak in the sunspot cycle. Normally, sunspot activity runs in 11-year cycles, although they can vary from 8 to 16 years.

When Gribbin and Plagemann predicted their chain of events in 1974, they had expected the peak this year. Instead, the sunspot cycle reached its zenith in late 1979. Had the sunspot cycle hit as predicted, his theory would have been proven correct, Gribbin said.

What has bothered him, however, is the way some religious organizations have linked the predictions with biblical references calling for the end of the world.

"He (Gribbin) is probably correct in saying if everything worked exactly as he thought, we could have gotten the effect," said John Williams, director of the new Fort Worth Museum of Science and History Science Theater. "But the chances from the word go of it operating was essentially nil."

Jupiter's gravitational pull is greater than all the other planets put together, Williams said. If the pull of all the planets could affect the sun, Jupiter alone would have the strength to do the same thing, Williams said. And the gaseous planet has had many chances to do just that.

None of the planets will be positioned in a straight line as the book suggests, but instead will be grouped on one side of the sun, filling a 95-degree angle.

The Fort Worth museum receives calls daily asking about the alignment, said Don Garland, director of the Fort Worth museum's Noble Planetarium. To answer some of those questions, they have included a lecture on the Jupiter Effect in the Texas Sky production at 1 p.m. each Saturday through March 27.

In addition, the University of Texas at Arlington Planetarium has scheduled a show on the alignment at 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday. Cost is $2 for adults and $1 for UTA students and children under 12.

What few argue with in the book is the section on plate movements and the constant threat of a major earthquake in California.

Scientists today are in general agreement that land masses were once part of one common world which split apart. The plates — portions of which cover the ocean floor — are floating on molten rock and in some areas have collided.

Along these friction areas, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions frequently occur.

One of the most active areas is the western coast of the United States. Along the San Andreas Fault in California, the Pacific and the North American plates are locked together in a struggle for supremacy. On occasion, as the Pacific plate continues its northward movement, sliding underneath the North American plate, the two bodies of land lock, allowing the pressure to build up until it releases all at once. That's an earthquake.

Scientists agree that pressure has been building up in the area for some time and that a massive earthquake is in the making. But they don't believe that a celestial event will be the triggering mechanism.

While a few are worried about the renting and tearing of the Earth's surface, most astronomers are readying their equipment to take a closer look at the astronomical event.

Last fall, they got a sneak preview of what was to come when eight of the nine planets — Mars was antisocial — moved into a 90-degree angle of the sun. The arrangement in the sky was spectacular to look at even though three of the farthest planets — Uranus, Neptune and Pluto — were visible only through a telescope.

On the morning of March 10, those looking into the western sky will see Mars, Saturn and Jupiter. To the east will be Venus and Mercury. The three invisible planets will be located in between.

Planets began moving into place for the alignment Jan. 24 and they will remain in the same general area through April 10. March 10 is important because that's the time they will be grouped the closest on one side of the sun.

Although the March date had held the attention of stargazers since The Jupiter Effect first hit the newsstands, the best date for studying the skies will be April 7 and 8, Williams said.

On those nights, the full moon will join the brightest planets in the sky in an evening show. Looking to the east from the ground up will be Jupiter, then Saturn and then the moon. Sitting above the moon will be Mars.

Then there are some who say the alignment itself is assurance of a peaceful time on Earth.

After all, at the end of the period, the moon will be in the seventh house (Virgo constellation) and Jupiter aligns with Mars; Peace will guide the planet and love will steer the stars. (From the song, The Age of Aquarius.)

WHERE'S AMERICA HEADED? - Stagehands at Six Flags Over Texas are moving huge letters into the theme park's Southern Palace Theater where they will be part of the backdrop of a musical production called, "America." The show, which will be seen by more than a million people during 1982, will premiere March 6, when the Arlington entertainment center begins its new season.

Six Flags To Begin 1982 Season

The first sign of spring in the southwest, the opening of Six Flags Over Texas for its 22nd season, is scheduled for March 6.

The Arlington theme park will be open only on weekends until May 22, when daily operation for the summer months begins. The only exception will be the traditional spring break period, when the park will be open daily from March 13 until March 21.

Highlighting the new season's start will be the premiere of the most elaborate musical production of the park's history. The show, called "America," will be staged in the Southern Palace Theater.

Early visitors will see a major, new ride, the Texas Cliffhanger, nearing completion. The 2.1 million dollar attraction is scheduled to open in late April. It is billed as the world's first total freefall ride, dropping thrillseekers, four at a time, from the top of a 128-foot-tall tower.

Telephone Company supervisor & contractor indicted for kickbacks

Robert L. Sherman, Sr., Center, TX, and Leo H. Cook, Graham, TX, were indicted Thursday by a Federal Grand Jury at Beaumont, TX, and charged with the 14 counts of mail fraud and one count of conspiracy incident to a kickback scheme.

According to Postal Inspector in Charge D.C. Strader, Fort Worth Division, the indictment charges that Sherman, a contractor with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, conspired with Cook, a second-line supervisor for Southwestern Bell, during July, 1978, to December, 1979, to defraud the telephone company of honest and faithful services to which it was entitled from the supervisor. The indictment further charges that Cook, in exchange for monies, entertainment, alcoholic beverages, and female companionships, approved invoices from Sherman Construction Company which were inflated, inaccurate, and fraudulent, resulting in substantial loss to the telephone company.

The investigation was conducted by Postal Inspectors from Houston, TX, and the case is being prosecuted by the United States Attorney, Eastern District of Texas, at Beaumont.

Springtime can bring poison hazards to children

Children are loving active creatures, unfortunately they can also eat and drink peculiar things. "We see children eating plants, medicines, cleaning agents, soap, bugs and all sorts of other things", said Michael Ellis, Director of the Texas State Poison Center.

In 1981 the Poison Center received some 21,000 poisoning calls. "About 75% of these inquiries are about children under 5 years old," Ellis noted. "Many of the accidental ingestions by children are of little consequence, but some can be life-threatening. Liquid furniture polishes, lamp oil, gasoline, and other oil-based products can kill with as little as one sip."

Springtime can be a particularly bad time of the year. "Blooming plants, fertilizers, plant foods, insecticides, and gasoline ingestions become almost epidemic this time of the year," said Ellis, "along with the numerous household cleaning products out for spring cleaning".

The fact that the product might be foul-tasting doesn't really apply on a one swallow basis - when you are a 2 year old. Our rule of thumb at the Poison Center is "if it is small enough to get in the mouth and doesn't bit first, it will be eaten", Ellis said.

As the weather warms up and children are in and out of the house more, they seem to be able to find more.

In the event of a poisoning emergency, the first thing to do is to call the Texas State Poison Center at 1-713-765-1420. The Poison Center staff will help you determine if medical attention is required, or if the problem can be handled at home. "About 85% of our inquiries can be handled at home," Ellis noted, "thus rushing the person to the hospital, is usually unnecessary. If the poisoning is serious enough to need medical attention, the Poison Center will direct you to the emergency room and then call ahead so that the child will be treated quickly."

March 21-27 is National Poison Prevention Week - and a perfect time to inspect your home for poison hazards. The fact that no small children live in the home, does not mean that a poisoning cannot occur. "Nearly everyone has a small niece or nephew, grandchild, or a friend with small children - all of whom may visit occasionally," Ellis said, "and that makes them prime candidates for a poisoning accident." Every home should have a bottle of syrup of Ipecac, particularly if small children live there. This nauseating liquid is used to cause vomiting in the poisoned child, if vomiting is indicated. "Sometimes, we don't want the child to vomit," Ellis said, "so the parent needs to talk with the Poison Center first, before using the Ipecac. But it is the only safe way to induce vomiting. Other household remedies like, mustard and water, salt water, etc. - are both ineffective, and can be quite hazardous themselves."

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

A man bought a new car and had driven it 30,000 miles. But one day as he was passing a truck, he saw a bus about to hit him head-on. He stomped his foot down on the gas pedal and his car leaped around to safety.
 "What do you know?" he cried. "This car has a passing gear, and I've never used it."
 There are many people traveling on life's highway who do not know that God's almighty power is available, so they never use it.
 But Paul used it. He said, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." Through Him he was equal to anything and everything.

There is power for suffering. God gives grace for every grief, and He sustains us in our sorrows.

There is power for speaking. God gives courage for each confession, and He makes us brave in our behaviour.

There is power for seductions. God gives triumph for every temptation, and He enables us to overcome, not to be overcome.

Tired of being defeated? Trust the victorious Christ and you will become a victorious Christian.

A few warm sunny days and the fishing started picking up. Reports are good from both Leon and Cisco with 4 lb. and up fish from both. The fish seemed to move in shallower towards the warming waters. They should remind us all that spring is just around the corner; brining some fine fishing for everyone.

We shall hold our March meeting on Thursday the 4th at the conference room of the Cisco bank building. We shall fish on Sunday the 14th. Everyone is invited to attend both events as good weather is hoped for. Lets make this the month to bring those wives and kids. Good luck and good fishing.

Word of Life Ministries announce plans for second area youth rally in Breckenridge

The directors of Word of Life Ministries have announced plans for the group's second area-wide youth rally, a showcase of area talent to be held Saturday, March 6, at the High School Auditorium in Breckenridge.

The directors are currently seeking area youth who are interested in taking part in the talent show. Those who are interested may contact any of the group's directors or telephone the organization's office at 559-6114.

Some of the talent already listed for this rally are United in Praise Singers, New Revelation Band, Tim Daniels from Albany, Drama group from Breckenridge, Kellee & Karree Saterwhite, Puppeteers from Cisco, Ruben & Cynthia Casteneda, and Cindy Flournoy.

This second rally follows quickly on the heels of the Ministries' first rally, an appearance Jan. 30 by the world's reigning Yo-yo champion which the directors termed "a success in spite of the weather and other things, such as the buyer-seller banquet."

Despite inclement weather and the conflict with the banquet the directors report that more than 200 persons attended the rally, with the audience made up of youth from Cisco, Eastland, Gorman and Ranger as well as Breckenridge.

Word of Life Ministries is a nonprofit organization recently organized for the purpose of promoting such things as revivals, Bible conferences, marriage seminars, teacher training, tape ministries and Christian counseling.

Peanut growers set important meetings for March 8 and 15

Peanut growers throughout Eastland County are encouraged to attend meetings of importance to them on the next two Monday nights. The two meetings will be March 8 and 15 in the Gorman School Cafeteria beginning at 7:00 p.m.

County Extension Agent, DeMarquis Gordon, says the programs were planned by the county peanut committee to help growers realize maximum profits from their 1982 peanut crop.

On Monday night, March 8, Dr. Ashley Lovell, Extension Economist Management, will discuss production costs and expected returns. Ross Wilson, Manager of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Assn., will explain the new peanut program and its implications. Joe Boswell, Executive Secretary of the Texas Peanut Producers Board, will discuss the "buy-back option" and other marketing alternatives. He will also discuss T.P.P.B. sponsored peanut promotion efforts.

On Monday night, March 15, three Extension specialists will speak on peanut production recommendations reports Gordon.

COLORFUL CLEMATIS CLIMBERS

Acrobatic Clematis is the neighborhood show-off, climbing trees and fences, covering walls, entwining trellises, filling arbors, scrambling up poles and mailboxes to flash its brilliant flowers.

Clematis is a beautiful vine all season, but it saves its real show for midsummer, when the verdant foliage is pushed aside by a sheath of enormous blooms. The Clematis flower is unique in that it has no true petals, but petal-like sepals instead. Because of this trait, the blooms have an unusual velvety texture and rich color intensity.

Three luscious Clematis colors that are the bloomiest, climbingest, sturdiest vines you can drape about your yard are Jackmani a violet-purple, Ernest Markham a bright red and Nelly Moser a lavender-pink.

Jackmani offers rich violet-purple blooms, a color that has been prized since the variety was first exhibited in England in 1863. It was the first of the large-flowered hybrids (4-5") ever developed, and it remains the all-time favorite of Clematis fanciers.

Earnest Markham is a bright petunia red that will set your lawn aglow with its vibrant tones and huge 5-7" bloom size. Nelly Moser is everything you'd expect from a lady—delicate, refined, and radiant in two-toned lavender-pink.

The Clematis will thrive in ordinary garden soil but loam containing lime is perhaps the ideal. If time is lacking and the soil is light and sandy, loam, cow manure and crushed limestone should be added, the ground being dug to a depth of two feet. An annual mulching with decayed manure or compost early in June is of great benefit as it not only supplies plant food but keeps the roots cool and moist.

Mix or match colorful Clematis for new excitement in your yard this summer. You'll find a thousand uses for this versatile plant.

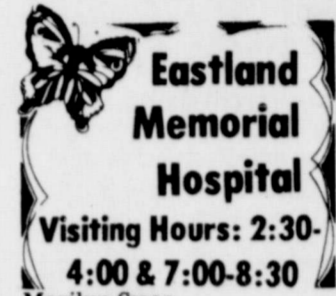

GOOD GARDENING UNTIL NEXT WEEK FROM YOUR GARDEN EDITOR, TED BRICE.

Mrs. Carroll Root of Albany visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson Sunday afternoon.

'ROUND AND 'ROUND SHE GOES...

The question is, where will it stop? Many people have no idea. Life can be lived in a flurry of activity — fitting from person, to thing, to dream, and back again. Or it can just settle into a monotonous routine. Either way, meaninglessness has taken hold.

Lack of meaning in life has been called furious activity around an empty center. That's what a whirlpool is. Activities, meetings, schedules, parties, appointments — but no direction. The swirling pace can get to you — especially if there's a hollowiness inside.

Jesus talked a lot about meaning in life. But he not only talked about it. He gives it! He came to take us out of the whirlpool and set us on course in the Life Stream.

Supreme Court refuses to hear energy firm's case

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday that the U.S. Supreme Court's refusal to hear a Dallas energy firm's appeal involving state franchise tax releases $11 million in tax receipts to the state's General Fund.

These taxes had been paid under protest pending final resolution of the case brought by Enserch Corporation of Dallas.

"The wheels of justice have been chewing on this case for nearly seven years," Bullock said, "and now the court has agreed with us."

Bullock said the state had maintained that sales by gas production companies to pipeline companies made inside Texas should be included in calculations of the companies' Texas franchise taxes.

Enserch and 16 other companies had argued that pipeline sales with gas ultimately destined for customers outside the state should be considered sales in interstate commerce and not be used in figuring the Texas tax due.

Bullock sought an Attorney General's opinion on the issue shortly after taking office in January 1975. On July 14, 1975, the Attorney General ruled that the companies' franchise taxes should be figured including the pipeline sales as Texas business. Bullock collected the taxes accordingly.

The Supreme Court's refusal to hear the Enserch case Monday effective settled the issue in the state's favor.

Located six miles southwest of Graford, Wes-Mor Drilling Inc. has finalized another new gas producer in Palo Pinto County's Palo Pinto Regular Field.

The well is designated as the No. 5 Jones, producing gas at the rate of 100,000 CF per day on a .500 choke. Absolute open flow estimated at 120,000 CFPD.

Location is in a 406-acre lease in the Thomas Harrell Survey-A-236. Bottomed at 2,900 feet, the well will produce from perforations 2,806 to 2,812 feet into the hole.

The No. 1 T. Mathis was finaled by Quest Petroleum of Abilene. It is a gas developmental well in the J.V.T. Field, three miles east of Palo Pinto. Drillsite is in a 155-acre lease in Palo Pinto County's T&PRR County Survey. Daily potential of 301,000 CF was posted with the Railroad Commission. The well went to a 4,399-ft. bottom, and top of pay zone was logged at 3,976 feet. Production will be from perforations 3,976 to 3,981 feet into the wellbore.

A 4,605-ft. wildcat is planned by Prime Energy-Graford of Abilene at a drillsite seven miles northwest of Graford, Palo Pinto County. The location is in a 213-acre lease in the TE&L Survey-A-536. Well's designation is the No. 3 Lillie Humphries.

INVITATION TO LAKE LEON-With Spring "just around the corner" as if anyone needed any further excuse to visit Lake Leon this is it. Cliff Clary proudly displays his granddaddy bass, weighing in at eight pounds, eight ounces, caught at Leon on the last day of February. "It sure put up a fight," he said. SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

Last week a deacon took me to meet his young pastor. As we approached the study we heard some shouting. "What is that?" I asked in amazement. "Oh," he explained, "that's my pastor. That young fellow is committing to memory what he'll commit to his members!"

You are wise to commit to your memory and manners a belief that bolsters you, a calling that challenges you, and a love that lifts you. When you do this, men will admire you, women will respect you, young people will love you, and the Lord will crown your life with success!

Always bear in mind that a God worth worshipping is a God worth working for, a Bible worth believing is a Bible worth broadcasting, and a creed worth professing is a creed worth practicing.

A Christian living in a right spirit, with clean thoughts, and a correct attitude is always in the Lord's school, learning how to practice old lessons and acquiring new truths.

It is not more clever Christians we need, but more committed Christians; for the deeper your commitment, the higher your achievement.

IWU Reflections in Perspective

By I. W. Ussery

John Clark was a family man. Now that is not to use the term as it is far too frequently used when one fails to find any commendable characteristic in an individual, and just makes a feeble attempt to sort of consolidate all the better traits into that cobbler-pie kind of well-meaning title... "A Family Man". John Clark was not that kind of a family man. Nor are these words meant to hide any of John's faults.

But John Clark had a peculiar right to being a family man. He loved his family, as all fathers love their families. But there was a kind of unspoken bond between John Clark and his family. Whether his children felt it is not known, but John Clark had a love of the closeness of his family that was deep rooted. While he had been brought up in a surrounding of love and care, he was separated from the members of his immediate family.

It is often said that we are inclined to re-live our lives in the lives of our children. Perhaps John had something of a subconscious unexpressed desire to hold his family together in a closer bond than he had known as a youngster.

But John Clark's love for his children extended perhaps to all children. There are men like that. They just love children. Little people are their favorite segment of society. Perhaps John Clark was one of those people. And his love for children, perhaps influenced his own personality. Jovial, good-natured, kindly...and very hard-working, John Clark was liked, even loved, by everyone who knew him. And while John Clark was an outgoing person, he was not one to seek the position of center stage, front.

Yet, on a chilly, gray, overcast morning in February John Clark became a hero. Making a split-second decision, perhaps spawned in his love for children, John Clark sacrificed his life to save that of more than a dozen school children who mangled bodies would undoubtedly have been picked from the wreckage of a school bus had not John Clark not driven his eighteen-wheeler into the ditch on the left-hand side of the road when he saw what faced him. And in that moment John Clark became a hero. Perhaps the sacrifice of his life made it possible for John to have become the sort of hero he would have become...without having to face the plaudits of admiring people.

But plaudits there are. The people of Eastland, "a city without a heart", as it has been described by unqualified critics, joined by the people throughout the County have come forward to express in a tangible manner their recognition of the heroism of John Clark. In demonstrating their recognition of the sacrifice of his life, the people of Eastland County are helping make it possible for the family of John Clark to be held together in a unit as he would have it.

The response of the people of the County to the suggestion that something be done for the family has been an outstanding demonstration of heart, in the fullest sense. As surviving mortals, we are inclined to feel so helpless and yet so grateful for the John Clarks in the world. Given the opportunity, we demonstrate that gratitude. And the John Clark Memorial Fund offers to all of us that opportunity. A heartless people...? Not on your life.

LOCAL BOY Scouts are selling tickets this week for the annual Scoutingarama that will be held Saturday in Stephenville. Part of the proceeds will be used by Scouts to re-register their troop for the coming year. A feature of the Scoutingarama, you know, is a display of Boy Scout projects.

The annual Comanche Trail Council dinner meeting was a splendid event over in Brownwood recently. Glenn Lee Deitiker of Cisco's Troop 101 was one of the Scouts honored for advancement during the past year to the rank of Eagle Scout. His parents, the Kenneth Deitikers, and his grandparents, the Glenn Deitikers, and his little brother Dusty were in the audience along with Scoutmaster and Mrs. Lloyd McGrew, all of Cisco.

OUR SCOUTS report that Frank Barrett of Cisco and Josephine Salter of Dallas will be married in a ceremony on Wednesday, March 17, at the home of the Rev. Buddy Sipe, Baptist minister, and family.

Frank, you know, is the owner of Thornton Feed Mill here and Josephine is a registered nurse. She grew up in East Texas at Timpson and is a graduate of the University of Texas School of Nursing.

You'll want to join us in an expression of best wishes to Frank and Josephine.

THE MARCH issue of Texas Sportsman's Magazine has a picture of Mrs. Tim Ferguson and a nice story about her being the first lady game warden in Texas. Tim, who grew up in Cisco, is a DPS trooper (highway patrolman) and they live in Leander, just north of Austin. Both work in Travis County. Mrs. Tim Ferguson is a native of Arlington. If you've seen the story and picture, you know that she is a very attractive young woman. She likes her work. The magazine article concerned six categories of jobs in which women have recently started working.

MR. V. B. Ferguson, retired mail man, spent a recent week over at Hendrick

Memorial Hospital in Abilene while doctors put him through a complete medical checkup. He had suffered a blackout and decided that a checkup was in order. He got a good report, we're glad to report. Mr. Rudolph Schaefer, the old-timer, recalls that he moved to his farm home just south of town 42 years ago come April and that it snow-ed four inches the next day. He also recalls seeing big snowflakes in downtown Cisco one July day in 1923.

THE TELEPHONE rang out at the Jammie Fry home last Friday midnight. After a time, he made his way to answer it and found that Arlin Birt, his father-in-law, had a cow in trouble and he couldn't get a veterinarian. So Jammie went out to the Birt place and two hours later, they delivered a fine, healthy bull calf. A ball at the Abilene Country Club last Saturday night was a big social event over there. The Abilene newspaper had a picture Sunday of a number of couples attending the event, including Ken and Lillian Russ, formerly of Cisco. And the guest list included the Winston Heidenheimers of Cisco.

THEY OBSERVED "Children Are Important Sunday" over at the Church of the Nazarene last Sunday, and we enjoyed attending the nice affair. Children of the church occupied the choir loft and a special program featured little Carrie Conger in a solo, four Lundstrom children in a quartet number, and Brian Callarman (a guest from the Methodist church) who sang and played his guitar.

The Rev. C.L. Reneau, pastor, spoke on the subject, "How Much Do You Weigh?" It was a fine message about the importance of measuring up on judgement day. Following the service, the Rev. and Mrs. Reneau invited all children attending the service to their parsonage home for a hot dog lunch and game hour.

The Nazarenes are working on plans and preparations for their spring revival meet that the Rev. Harold Rains will direct March 8-14.

DID YOU KNOW that the Distributive Education program that is a part of the curriculum of most Texas high schools got its start in Cisco? Yep, the very first Texas school to have a DE class was CHS, and Mr. O.L. Stamey was there.

It is a fine program in which students spend part of their study day working for some business in town. And their course of study concerns the job they hold downtown. Students earn money and learn a trade.

Mr. OLS recalls that a good many of men who have held top jobs in a number of places here got their start in a DE class. The program had its beginning here in the early 1930s. Rick Whatley, DE instructor at CHS at this time, worked part-time for The Press while he was a DE student at CHS.
