

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

THIS FRIDAY night Cisco High School's graduating seniors will receive their diplomas and finish their high school careers. They will be going out into the world where they will probably either attend college or begin making a living in some type of employment.

We want to say congratulations and wish them luck in the future.

ALL CISCO school students will finish their last day of school for this year on Friday. Summer vacations will begin following the dismissal of classes Friday afternoon.

Be sure and be on the lookout for school-age children during the summer who may not be watching for cars.

BASEBALL AND Softball seasons are in full swing in Cisco with weeknight games being scheduled now since school is almost over for the year.

IF YOU have not attended the Kiwanis Miniature Golf Course at Lake Cisco Park yet, then I would urge you to do so. The Kiwanis have done an excellent job of cleaning and renovating the course.

I went to the miniature golf course last Saturday and there were not very many people there. I hope Ciscoans will support this course and show the Kiwanians, as well as others, that they want more of this type of activities in the Cisco area.

Splash Day To Open City Pool Saturday

Plans are complete for a free Splash Day program Saturday to open the 1982 season at City Park Swimming Pool, according to announcement by City Manager Mike Moore. The pool will open at 2 p.m. and close at 7 p.m. on Splash Day and daily through June 14.

The swimming pool will be open during the same hours on Monday - Memorial Day - but will be closed on Mondays during the summer except on holidays. The 2-7 p.m. will remain in effect until June 15th when the pool will be open from 1 to 7 p.m.

Mrs. Royce (Shirley) Darr has been employed as the pool manager, and lifeguards will include Brian Fleming, Mark Petree and Kim Darr.

Admission charges will be $1 per person. Pre-schoolers who are accompanied by parent or adult may use the wading pool for 50 cents. Season passes are on sale at City Hall. Private parties may be arranged through the city manager's office.

The pool has been cleaned and made ready for the new season.

Mayor To Speak At Memorial Program

Mayor Eris Ritchie will be the speaker for Memorial Day Services at Oakwood Cemetery at 10 a.m. Monday when the John William Butts Post 123 of the American Legion honors deceased war veterans, according to an announcement by Brad Kimbrough, post commander.

Details of the program were being completed this week. At the conclusion of the program, miniature flags will be used to mark the graves of deceased veterans.

Mr. Kimbrough said that a new flag pole has been provided for the cemetery. It was moved from Lake Cisco Park with help from city employees and the Stroebel Brothers. Loyal Lundstrom of Cisco Monument Co. has provided a stone marker for the cemetery center.

A tent and chairs will be moved to the cemetery and the public has been invited to attend the service.

City Hall Plans

Holiday Mon.

Memorial Day will be an official holiday for the City of Cisco and city hall will be closed along with banking and numerous other firms and offices, according to reports this week.

City Manager Mike Moore said City Hall will be closed and there will be no garbage pickup on Monday. The landfill, however, will be open for business as usual on Monday.

Closing notices have been posted by the Cisco Post Office and other firms.

Car Wash Is

Set For Saturday

The youth of East Cisco Baptist Church will have a car wash from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, May 29, at Posey's Gulf Station on Interstate 20. If anyone would like to have their car washed but need it picked up, please call 442-9926. Bring cars and let them wash it real good.

Evangelist Will Begin Revival

Evangelist and Mrs. James L. Rowton of Oklahoma City will begin revival services Wednesday evening, May 26, and continue through May 30, at the First Assembly of God Church, 308 West 7th Street, Cisco, according to Pastor O.T. Killion.

Week night services will begin at 7:00. Sunday evening will begin at 6:00.

The public is invited to attend.

Nicole Shimp of Moran, (left) and Amy Hawkins of Cisco, (right) were the top cookie salesgirls in the Junior Girl Scout Troop 203. Shimp won 223 boxes and Hawkins 225 boxes.

D.D. McGrew, from Senior Girl Scout Troop 54, was Cisco's top cookie salesgirl. She sold 302 boxes.

Tonya Hinchey displays her bandana that she won for selling the most cookies in Girl Scout's Brownie Troop 202. She sold 175 boxes.

Golf Tournament Is Won By Eddy Couple

Harvey and Margaret Allen of Eddy shot a two-day score to 123 to win first place in the annual Guys and Dolls Golf Tournament at the Cisco Country Club last weekend. Using the scramble format, the Allens had a 60 on Saturday and a 63 for their final 18-hole round Sunday.

Placing second was the team of Tracy Owens and Dorothy Farnsworth, both of Cisco, with a two-day score of 134. Terrill and Elnores Sharp of DeLeon shot a 135 to place third.

Other teams in the championship flight and their scores were Bill and Joy Traweck of Dublin, who won day money, 136; Charles and Tish Reeves, 137; Bob and Syble Spies, 139; and George and Pat Owens, 142.

In the first flight, the teams of Bob and Jocile Franklin of Monahans and Major and Lucille Herring of Temple finished with scores of 137 and a playoff was won by the Franklins. Third place went to Carrel Smith and Maryann Perry of Cisco with a 138. Randy and Pat Harris of Eastland had a 141 and won day money.

Jeff and Faye Graham of Knox City shot a 144 to win the second flight. Second place went to Tommy and Pat Holland of Baird with a 145, and Allen Rhodes and Marilyn Parrish of Breckenridge beat Edwin and Freida Fly of Knox City to win third play as both teams finished with scores of 150. The Flays won day money.

First place winners received $120, second $100 and third $80. Day money winners got $40. Major Herring won the

Year End Programs Planned By Cisco Public Schools Friday

Commencement exercises at 8 p.m. Friday will conclude the 1981-82 school year for students of the Cisco Public Schools. The final event will be held at the Harrell Fine Arts Building on Cisco Junior College campus.

Graduation for some 91 students of the Intermediate School will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the auditorium of that school. Various awards earned by the students of that school will also be presented as part of the program. Principal Bob Lindsey will serve as master of ceremonies, and the school choir will present a program under the direction of Mrs. Jerry Jeffcoat.

The program for the high school commencement was announced by Supt. James Couch as follows: processional, Shawn Fisher; invocation, Glen Deitiker; salutatory address, Greg Cermin; valedictory address, Rebecca Chamness; presentation of awards, Principal Mike Turner.

Presentation of special awards, Dr. Norman Wallace, president of Cisco Junior College; presentation of graduating class, Mr. Turner; class certification, Supt. Couch; awarding of diplomas, Charles Humphries, vice president of the school board of trustees; singing of the school song Varsity, audience; and, recessional, Shawn Fisher.

The class of 53 graduating seniors was honored at a reception at Maner Library, Cisco Junior College, following the baccalaureate service last Sunday night at Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium. A large crowd turned out for the event.

The baccalaureate program was highlighted by an address by the Rev. John Clinton, pastor of the First Evangelical Methodist Church, who spoke on the subject "For Me to Live."

Most Cisco churches did not hold worship services Sunday night so their congregations could attend the program, and several pastors participated in the program.

Supt. Couch said the year's final report cards would be given out Friday for lower grades. High school students' final grade cards will be mailed to them, he added. All schools will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. Friday.

The public was invited to both the Intermediate School graduation program and to the high school commencement exercises.

C.J.C. Will Offer Well Log Analysis

Cisco Junior College will offer Well Log Analysis for

Oil and Gas Industry II in Cisco on June 1 and 3, 1982, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Science Hall lecture room on the CJC campus.

Well Log Analysis II is a course on reading and interpreting oil and gas logs.

Instructor for the course is Richard Simonson. Simonson has been employed by Schlumberger for seven years. He is Schlumberger's sales engineer for the Abilene area. His degree in Electrical Engineering was earned at the University of South Alabama.

Fee for the six hour course is $40. This is an Adult Education Course and all attending will receive a Certificate of Completion with Continuing Education Units. Registration deadline is May 28. To register or for more information call Mrs. Watts at 817-442-2567, extension 113.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

CJC Summer Class Will Begin June 1st

Summer classes at Cisco Junior College will begin on Tuesday, June 1, at all locations.

Students may register from 9:00 to 4:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. on the following dates and locations: Cisco campus, Monday, May 31, in the Student Union Building; Clyde and Abilene campuses, Wednesday, May 26 and Thursday, May 27. Last day to register

4-H Is Fun-Filled, Educational Experience For Parents Also

Do you think 4-H is all cooking, sewing or showing livestock? If so you are mistaken. 4-H is fun-filled, educational experience for parents as well as children ages 9 to 19. Did you ever make a 9 foot by 6 foot kite? Good Times Gang 4-H Club did! Did you ever make a mock bird house out of Reader's Digest magazines? Good Times Gang 4-H Club did! How are you at sign painting? Good Times Gang will be June 3 at all locations.

The Cisco and Clyde campuses will offer both day and night classes. The Abilene campus will offer night classes only.

For further information please call the appropriate campus at one of the following numbers: Cisco 817-442-2567; Abilene 915-698-2212 and Clyde 915-893-5976.

4-H Club members are each making a sign for his or her yard proclaiming 4-H membership. Yes, we learn different cooking and sewing skills, too, but 4-H is not limited to cooking, sewing or showing livestock. Clothing skills can also include leathercraft, if anyone is interested.

Do you have a special interest you would like us to help you learn more about? Raise a prize winning

Don Welch Will Be Director Of Customer Service

Don Welch begins his duties June 1 as vice president and director of Customer Services for West Texas Utilities Company. He succeeds Dick Brooks, who moved to Corpus Christi to become vice president, engineering, for Central Power and Light Company, which, like WTU, is a member of the Central and South West Corporation.

Welch has been an executive assistant at WTU's general offices in Abilene since February 1, and previously had been district manager at Stamford and local manager at Alpine, Wellington and Aspermont. WTU supplies electric services to 161 communities in a 53,000 square-mile area extending from the Panhandle to the Big Bend.

Service Club

Will Hold First

Meeting Of Year

The Cisco Service Club will hold its first meeting of the new club year at 7:00 p.m. Thursday, May 27, at the home of Deborah Whitley.

The meeting will be a salad supper - membership drive with each club member reminded to bring a dish. Club members are encouraged to bring guests.

All visitors interested in attending the salad supper - membership drive will be welcomed.

Hostesses for the meeting are Deborah Whitley, Betty McGrew and Penny Fields.

One of the nicer homes in Cisco, excellent location, upkeep very good, paved street and not overpriced, you will like this place and there is no sign up in front.

Your dream can come true, being offered is one of those stately, beautiful, well kept, two story dwellings. When this house is gone you may never ever have a chance to own one again. In many ways the house is priceless but you can buy it within reason. You will have the past, present and future all in one.

A very attractive stucco two bedroom dwelling, good location as to schools and priced right.

Owner has two places, one very good stucco, roomy two bedroom, with extra garage apartment, corner lot and paved street. The other is attractive frame three bedroom dwelling 1 1/2 miles out on an acre or two of land, will sell or keep either one.

Three bedroom frame, extra nice inside, you will like it, corner lot, good location and no trouble in getting it financed with a lower rate of interest and very little closing costs.

Another two story, carpeted upstairs and down, paved street, corner lot and is a steal price wise.

Small but beautiful, four room dwelling, corner lot and good location.

We have them, other houses, downtown commercial property, you name it and we will probably have it and we are selling it. We appraise all property before listing it so the price is exactly right and we know the business we are in.

Letter To The Editor

Editor
Thank you very much for the time you afforded me on my recent visit with you in Eastland. It meant a lot to me to have the opportunity of visiting with you personally on a subject such as THE ARTS.

We are doubly appreciative of the nice article - and picture - released for print in your newspaper. When you are under a grant, the Commission and the artist, in this case, the Texas Little Symphony, closely scrutinize your news items. Every one is a PLUS for our council.

We appreciate your response, and despite the terrible weather, the final evaluation is showing up as about a break even project. This will be pleasing to the Commission since it is our second grant and we are in the "growing pains" process.

I hope to visit with you again soon. I will be in Austin at the Texas Commission and will attempt to pick up some more of the Assembly's newsletters so that I might send you one. Then on Tuesday (the next day) Tom and I leave for Europe. This has been a busy day at my typewriter, but I do not like to go around the corner without first having expressed appreciation for a favor.

Best wishes,
Yours very truly,
Connie Birdsong, President

May 29, 1982-Sept. 6, 1982
proclaimed Make It Click-Buckle Up

PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS, More than 1,800,000 occupants are injured every year in motor vehicle crashes and more than 35,000 are killed; and WHEREAS, Safety belts and child safety are proven effective in reducing such injuries and preventing deaths, and ensuring the preservation of our families, this nation's most precious resource; and WHEREAS, The National Safety Council is leading a "Make It Click - Buckle Up" recognition campaign to highlight the need for, and benefits of, occupant restraint use and the contributions of state and local safety programs; and WHEREAS, The "Make It Click - Buckle Up" campaign will ask volunteers to sign pledges that they and their motor vehicle occupants will use safety belts and child safety seats each and every time they are in a vehicle, especially during the 101 critical days from Memorial Day weekend through Labor Day weekend;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Scott Bailey, County Judge, of Eastland County, do hereby proclaim the 101 critical days from May 29, 1982 through September 6, 1982 to be "Make It Click - Buckle Up" summer, in recognition of the outstanding contributions to Eastland County and to other cities throughout the nation that are united to have everyone BUCKLE-UP for greater safety on our highways, roadways and streets.
DATED THIS 24 DAY OF MAY, A.D. 1982
Scott Bailey

Wearing safety belts are being emphasised

This summer the National Safety Council and the Eastland County Extension Homemakers are asking the public to make a special effort to wear their safety belts.

"Make It Click - Buckle Up" is a national campaign in which volunteers across the country and Extension Homemakers in Eastland County will be asking people to sign pledges promising to buckle their safety belts and put their children in child safety seats.

According to National Safety Council statistics, every year an estimated 1.8 million motor vehicle occupants are injured and more than 35,000 are killed in motor vehicle crashes. Mrs. Morris Underwood, of Extension Homemakers, says the national campaign will focus on the "101 critical days" from Memorial Day weekend through Labor Day. During this period, more persons are injured and killed in motor vehicle crashes than at any other period of the year, explains Mrs. Underwood.

Mrs. Underwood says a pledge to buckle-up is the first step toward commitment. "We hope once people become comfortable wearing their belts during their pledge period, they will make it a lifetime habit."

Extension Homemakers points out that about 12,000 of the 52,600 people killed in 1980 would have been saved if they had been wearing safety belts or were protected by approved child safety seats.

For further information on the "Make It Click - Buckle Up" campaign and safety belts & child safety seats, contact: Mrs. Morris Underwood, Extension Homemakers, Rt. 1, Ranger, Tx. 76470 or telephone 817/647-1903 or contact the National Safety Council, 444 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60611.

Lights from the Christian World

By: Josephine Cleveland

Being a Christian does not guarantee the prayers we pray will be answered as we would desire. It is then we are inclined to falter and doubt. Faith, Friend, is looking to Jesus and believing in Him whether you ever receive any answers to prayers.

Cain and Abel were the first children born into the world. Abel was the keeper of sheep and Cain was the tiller of the soil. Abel offered to the Lord an offering of a lamb which pleased God. Cain displeased God by bringing an offering of food. God wanted a living sacrifice.

In a fit of jealousy Cain murdered Abel. Abel was righteous, faithful and pleased God, yet he died. Cain was evil, full of deceit and the epitome of sin, yet he lived. We judge people when they are not powerful or successful according to the world's standard. Yet Abel was listed among the greatest in God's book. Today the blood of martyr's are crying from the dust while the wicked jeers. But someday Christian, you will stand with other Christians before the King in white robes of righteousness singing songs of rejoicing. You will tramp the street of gold and live in a mansion prepared for you. You will hear the King of Kings say, "Well, done good and faithful servant; enter into the joy of the Lord." -Matthew 25:21.

WORD of GOD

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith,

Meekness, temperance; against such there is no law.

And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.

If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

Galatians 5:22-25

Bird Houses Attract Birds

Want to attract some small birds—even bluebirds—to your backyard?

All it takes, says the current issue of Ranger Rick's nature magazine, is a little creativity and almost no expense. You can transform trash—milk cartons and other throw-away containers—into Detergent Dream Houses, Milk Carton Cabins, Coffee Can Cottages and Margarine Tub Mansions.

Houses made from trash are perfect alternatives for birds who nest in tree cavities, says the monthly children's publication of the National Wildlife Federation. If you decide to build, keep the following tips in mind.

- Spray the interior of any container with black enamel paint, which will make the house seem more like the inside of a tree.

- Most small birds need an opening about 1½ inches across. Keep the opening small or you'll attract starlings and other large birds.

- Make 6 to 8 drain holes in the bottom of the house.

- The house will probably be better off without perches, which can attract sparrows and starlings—the "pests" of the bird world.

- Paint the outside of the house if you want it to last longer. Exterior latex paint is best, says Ranger Rick, and white paint is preferable if the house will be hung in a sunny spot. (White will reflect the sunlight and keep the house cool.)

- To keep rain out of the entrance hole, hang each house so it tilts slightly toward the ground.

- As soon as the young birds have "fledge," or flown from the house, clean it out and get rid of lice, mites or other animals that set up shop in birdhouses. All of these "homes from trash" should be cleaned or thrown out before winter comes, Ranger Rick reminds his readers.

Now that you've got the basics, here are instructions for building three of the homes described in the magazine:

The "Coffee Can Cottage" will provide birds with a home for many years, says Ranger Rick. Drill two holes three inches apart in the bottom of a one or two-pound coffee can. (Use a one-pound can for wrens and a two-pound can for larger birds.) Then drill holes in the mounting board to correspond with the placement of the holes in the can. Before screwing the can to the board, drill drain holes on the bottom side of the can, and nail the completed house to a post or tree.

One of the easiest houses in the magazines is the "Detergent Dream House," built from an empty detergent bottle. This one doesn't even need drain holes; if it's hung upside down with its cap loosened, water will drain through the cap. Cut an entrance hole six inches from the cap. To hang the house, string a wire through the handles or bottle. Then wrap the wire around a tree or post.

Another simple house comes in lots of bright colors; it's made from margarine tubs. The entrance hole should be cut in the bottom of the tub, and drain holes should be drilled in the side of the container that will become the bottom. With tacks or small nails, attach the lid to a mounting board, snap the tub onto its lid, and mount the board on a tree.

With a few such houses, says Ranger Rick, you'll not only be recycling trash, you'll be helping out some of our feathered friends.

Best Time To Pecan Spray May 27-31

It is time to spray pecan trees for the control of the pecan nut casebearer according to Eastland Co. Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon. The best control will be achieved if trees are sprayed between May 27 and 31.

The adult casebearers which are small moths were depositing eggs on the small nuts during the past few days. These eggs will be hatching by May 27 and 28.

Gordon says the spray should be applied after most of the eggs have hatched and before the small worms enter the pecans. This time may vary throughout the county with the southern part of Eastland County needing control earlier than the northern part.

Proper timing through coverage of spray on the trees and recommended insecticides are all important in the control of this pest.

The best insecticides for yard trees include Sevin, Malathion and Zolone. Commercial producers may use Zolone, Sevin, Guthion, Malathion or Torak P. Malathion gives a quick kill, but the residual lasts for only a day or two. Both Zolone and Sevin will leave a residual for about one week. It takes Zolone about two days before it affects the insects. Gordon warns producers and homeowners to read the label and follow directions on the insecticides containers.

Gordon suggests using zinc sulfate or NZN with the insecticide to provide needed zinc.

It is important for commercial producers to check trees daily to determine the best time to spray.

'Writing is a highly personalized imaginative art'

By Viola Payne
Elizabeth Gilchrist, a nationally known author and Editor, visited briefly in Eastland County this week. Since there was little opportunity for her to meet with local writers, I asked for information which I thought might be helpful to them.

My first impression of Elizabeth Gilchrist was that of a University student - or possibly a young professor - from some upper school. Brown hair, brown eyes and attractive, she had a sort of understated simplicity. And a good vocabulary, of course, with flashes of intensity.

"Elizabeth, when did you begin writing?" I asked.
"In New York, about ten years ago, the first time I realized I could make my living as a writer."

"But you could say I actually wrote a lot earlier than that, in High School. This was a good private school located near my home in Santa Barbara, California."

"I didn't realize then what the teachers of this school were doing for me - they were actually equipping me to function as a writer. For, you see, I didn't like to write!

"But later, in college, I understood what the school had done. For I really didn't learn anything more about writing in College." She brushed her shoulder-length hair.

"What was your first job in New York City?"

"At Good Housekeeping Magazine, as an Editorial Assistant in the Fiction Department, under Editor Naome Lewis. She, by the way was - and is - a very good Editor."

"My job was to answer the phone, and screen material submitted for publication. I didn't read anything which came from agents, for my job was the 'slush' (unsolicited manuscripts) which came in by the basketful."

"Luckily I liked to read, and I read fast. On an average day I read around 8 full stories. Yes, I read them all, although I could tell in the first paragraph whether the person was literate - or showed any promise."

"People who complain that material they submit doesn't get read don't know what they are talking about! Everything gets read at Good Housekeeping!"

"The Editor desperately wants to find some good, fresh material. And I'm not exaggerating with the word 'desperate'! In the case of a 'reader' like myself, it is a real feather in the cap to locate something suitable from the slushpile. The pity is that usable pieces are so few and far between."

"Were you able to find anything?"

"Oh, yes". She smiles. "I found stories which were right. But another thing I am happy about - I managed to 'save' some stories which were not suitable for Good Housekeeping mass publication, yet were very interesting and different. Many were obviously personal experiences, and some were really primitive. Yet they had something to say."

"I collected these stories for a book, which was published and distributed as an 'art' book. It sold in art galleries in New York rather than in book stores. I was very pleased with it."

"There is quite a bit of well-written stuff which is not geared toward the mass market, and excellent writers who are not widely known. Take good regional material, for example."

"What does Good Housekeeping really want?"
"Something that has characters the audience can identify with. A happy ending, or promise of a happy ending. When a story is purchased, it is usually edited, and the title is often changed. On books - the author's title is usually kept."

"Where did you go after you left Good Housekeeping?"

"I became assistant Book Editor at Fawcett Publications, which has a very large mass market in paperback books."

"Paperbacks is actually where the money is for writers. When a book is accepted for paperback, it is expected to sell 100,000 in the first month. That basically pays the author, and the cost of printing. After that, it's mostly profit."

"Some of the Editors of books and magazines are also good writers, but they don't want to write for publication. It has been said that 'writing fiction is fine - if you don't mind looking at your own blood!'"

This is something to think about, before you hit the mass market. Few people realize how it is going to be. Your thoughts and feelings are spread everywhere, for people to see. Few writers take into account what this will do to their lives."

"In 1974 I went to Washington to live, and worked for a Congressman. This was right after Watergate, and he was one of the 'new' members. I was hired to write form letters and type, but eventually I wrote speeches and statements."

"Then I moved to Chicago, and couldn't find a job I wanted to do. It was one of those terrible winters - I don't see how people stand that climate all the time! I kept bundling up and going out to run, for I love the outdoors and love running. It was wierd."

"So during the next 10 months I wrote a novel. I sent it to agents, people I used to work with. It took them a year to sell it to anyone. In the meanwhile I went back to Fawcett Publications as Managing Editor."

"Suddenly the big news came in. My novel, named 'You're Cheatin' Heart' had sold to Macmillan."

"It was published first in hardback, then in paperback under the New American Library Label. I can say that it sold well."

"I moved to Los Angeles, which is not so far from my parent's home. I finished another book, taking five years, and it is out with agents now. I call it 'The Old Gods', and the setting is there in L.A. I think it will be picked up by someone."

"I am living in El Paso now, where I write advertising copy for a firm. I still don't 'enjoy' writing, but I feel I am doing what I should when I work at it."

"What I really like to do is gardening and cooking. Right now I'm helping reclaim an old back yard - and I'm going to put vegetables in with the flowers."

"During your time as a 'reader' and Editor, what were some of the main faults you noticed in the work of writers?"

"Comparatively few people can really write! And I got the feeling that so few of them even read a lot! You must read widely and constantly, into the great stuff, classical stuff even, to have a solid background. Somehow it shows - even in simple writing - if your ideas and knowledge are limited. You need good themes, and to know how to handle them."

"I noticed, too, that few people seemed to understand what a particular magazine or publisher wanted. I wondered if those writers had actually studied the magazine they were submitting to."

"Writing is a highly personalized, imaginative art", she finished. "It is not an easy field to break into. But I always feel that truly good writing will finally surface, somewhere."

"Well thank you for sharing some of your ideas, Elizabeth. For a lot of people hope to write, as you know."

THE DOWNFALL OF THE DANDELION

In observing the many yards lately, it appears that we are going to have a bumper crop of dandelions. Believe it or not, dandelions are as easy to be rid of as walking across the lawn behind a spreader.

There are many tales (Old Wives) as to methods of eradicating the dandelion, and some of them are very humorous. One such tale is to dip a sharpened oak peg tapered very thin into a saturated solution of sulphur of iron. Then stab the dripping peg into the heart of the dandelion and let the sun do the rest. I have always heard that it has to be an oak peg. I wonder if a good East Texas Pine peg would do just as well. Another solution was the use of dairy goats because they can select weeds from grass. Gasoline and/or kerosene have been favorite curses in many tales.

When you see those yellow dandelion blossoms and the puffballs that follow in the Spring, it is a sure clue that the time is right for the homeowners to take action against the weeds in their lawns. The dandelions and many other broadleaved weeds absorb the chemical control best when the plants are actively growing.

Dandelions are perennials and are different from crabgrass, which reproduces itself from seed left over from the previous year. The same dandelion can return year after year. Digging them up is impractical for as long as part of their taproots remains in the ground, the plant will grow back.

When using a broadleaf weed control, you should apply the granule material when the lawn is moist so that the active ingredient will stick to the leaves and then move into the plant, causing its eventual disintegration.

If you follow the following steps, you will effectively control these weeds:

1. Mow the lawn before applying the weed control, in order to keep the grass blades and weed leaves from touching the bottom of the spreader.

2. Select a day when rain is not expected for at least 24 hours, since the weed control particles need to stick to the leaves for at least that long to accomplish their mission.

3. Be sure the lawn is wet at the time you put down the weed control. This could be from rain or watering, or probably best of all from early morning dew.

4. Be sure to use a precision lawn spreader to give an even and accurate application without waste.

5. Stay off the lawn for at least a day after, to avoid knocking the particles off the leaves.

Within a few days the weeds will begin to curl and shrivel noticeably, and in approximately one month they will disappear completely.

Since late Spring is the time when most lawns can use a second fertilization to replace the much-needed nutrients and to strengthen them against the stresses of Summer, the use of a combination product that weeds and feeds at the same time will be very beneficial. The fertilizing of the lawn will not reduce the effectiveness of the weed control, but will encourage the grass to fill in the spaces the weeds leave as they fade away.

After the weeds have been removed if you will keep a thick and vigorous as well as a healthy stand of grass it will be the best way of keeping the dandelions from reappearing.

Oil Report

Producing 1,557,000 CF of gas per day, the No. 1 James A. Cox was completed successfully as a wildcat by Trinity Exploration Company of Fort Worth.

Drillsite is eight miles northwest of Rising Star. It was drilled to 3,242-ft. total depth and will produce from an interval 2,650 to 2,658 feet into the wellbore. Production tests were run on a 5/8 choke, and absolute open flow was estimated at 3,800,000 CFPD.

The location is in a 190-acre lease in Eastland County's Mary Ann Clark Survey.

At a location six miles north of Gorman, Show Petroleum Inc. of Breckenridge has finished a new gas well in Eastland County's North Desdemona Field.

The well is designated as the No. 1 G. Hunt, producing gas at the rate of 46,000 cubic feet per day on a 1/4 choke. Absolute open flow was estimated at 49,000 CFPD.

Location is in a 20-acre lease in the McLennan County School Land No. 1 Survey. Bottomed at 3,250 feet, the well will produce from perforations 3,195 to 3,200 feet into the hole.

A 1,500-ft. developmental well is planned by Three Way Energy Inc. of Arlington at a drillsite eight miles south of Cisco, Eastland County. The location is in an 80-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey. Well's designation is the No. 6 Stroebel. It is in the East Nimrod Field.

The No. 2 Gray Acres was finished by Bridwell Oil Company of Abilene.

It is a developmental well in the Desdemona Field, ten miles southeast of Eastland. Drillsite is in a 160-acre lease in Eastland County's McLennan County School Land League.

Daily potential of 32,000 CF of gas on a 12/64 choke was posted with the Railroad Commission. Absolute open flow was estimated at 64,000 CFPD. The well went to a 3,505-ft. bottom and production will be from perforations 3,477 to 3,482 feet into the wellbore.

Ridgeway Oil Exploration & Development Inc. of Dallas has revealed plans to drill two 2,000-ft. wildcats. The operator has 160 acres leased, with drillsites in Eastland County's H&TC Survey and has designated the ventures as the Nos. 2 and 3 Delbert Taylor. Drillsites are one mile west of Romney.

Hanvey Production Company of Dallas has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 City of Cisco, a 4,200-ft. developmental well one half mile north of Cisco. Location is in a 212-acre lease in Eastland County's H&TC Survey. The City of Cisco well is in the Kleiner Field.

Ray Herring of Graham has filed first production figures on a new gas wildcat. The No. 1 Keith showed potential to make 888,000 CF of gas per day on a 1.125 choke. Absolute open flow was estimated at 1,000,000 CFPD.

The operator has 158 acres leased, with drillsite in Stephens County's T&PRR Survey, nine miles south of Breckenridge.

The well will produce from an interval 3,831 to 3,838 feet into the wellbore. Total drilling depth was 4,253 feet.

At a location eight miles southeast of Breckenridge, Fagadau Energy Corp. of Dallas has finished a new oil producer in Stephens County's Four J Field.

The well is designated as the No. 1 C.W. Wulfien, pumping oil at the rate of 14 barrels per day. The well also showed potential for 70,000 cubic feet of casinghead gas per day.

Location is in a 165-acre lease in the TE&L Survey, A-822. Bottomed at 4,318 feet, the well will produce from perforations 3,706 to 3,710 feet into the hole.

An Austin-based operator has staked location for the No. 2 McCluskey, a wildcat to be located one mile east of La Casa. With projected total depth of 4,100 feet, the well is in a 480-acre lease in Stephens County's T&PRR Survey. The operator is LHG Resources Inc.

Sun Exploration & Production Company of Abilene has revealed plans to drill two 3,500-foot developmental wells in the Stephens County Regular Field. The operator has 5,766 acres leased, with drillsites in Stephens County's T&PRR Survey and has designated the ventures as the Nos. 22 and 30 Veale-Parks. Drillsites are five miles southwest of Breckenridge.

The No. 1 Chalker 77 was finished by AEC Oil & Gas Inc. of Weatherford.

It is a wildcat one mile north of Eolian. Drillsite is in a 160-acre lease in Stephens County's Blind Asylum Survey, A-2374.

Daily potential of 296,000 CF of gas on a 1/2 choke was posted with the Railroad Commission. Absolute open flow was estimated at 330,000 CFPD. The well went to a 4,417-ft. bottom, and production will be from perforations 3,814 to 3,820 feet into the wellbore.

A 4,400-ft. developmental well is planned by Ray Herring of Graham at a drillsite eight miles south of Breckenridge, Stephens County. The location is in a 160-acre lease in the Stephens County Regular Field, T&PRR Survey. Well's designation is the No. A2 Scarlett A.

Ridge Oil Company of Breckenridge has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 Glenn, a 3,650-ft. developmental well 17 miles southeast of Breckenridge. Location is in a 93-acre lease in Stephens County's W. Amason Survey. The Glenn well is in the North west Ranger Field.

An Abilene-based operator has staked location for the No. 1 Robertson-Crowley, a wildcat to be located four miles northeast of Breckenridge. With projected total depth of 3,876 feet, the well is in a 20-acre lease in Stephens County's TE&L Survey, A-918. The operator is Sun Exploration & Production Company.

D&D Drilling of Graham has revealed plans to drill a 4,999-ft. developmental well in the Stephens County Regular Field. The operator has 275 acres leased, with drillsite in Stephens County's T&PRR Survey and has designated the venture as the No. 1 Trammell Crow. Drillsite is eight miles southwest of Breckenridge.

A 1,600-ft. developmental well is planned by Jerry E. Wylie Oil Drilling Company of Abilene at a drillsite ten miles northeast of Breckenridge, Stephens County. The location is in a 248-acre lease in the TE&L Survey. Well's designation is the No. 2A S.J. Allen. It is in the Stephens County Regular Field.

Bullock Sent

City Sales

Tax Checks

State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks totaling $96.5 million to 966 Texas cities as their share of the one-percent city sales tax for May.

"This fifth monthly rebate for this year brings the total these cities have received to more than $318 million," Bullock said. "That's almost 13 percent ahead of what these cities had received this time last year."

In Eastland County the total amount received was $88,302.00.

Houston received the biggest check, $20.3 million, which brings the total that city has received to $67.6 million, up 16 percent over last year.

Dallas received $10 million, for a 1982 total of $34.3 million, up nearly 8 percent over 1981.

Microcomputers Help With Farm Decisions

COLLEGE STATION--Farming and ranching is a tough ball game, especially in today's complex environment. Making the right decisions isn't easy, so farmers and ranchers need all the management information they can get their hands on.

Enter the microcomputer. This home or office-sized computer can put a wealth of information at the fingertips of agricultural producers so that they can manage their operations more efficiently and effectively, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Many farmers and ranchers currently do not have all the management information and decision-making tools they need, such as enterprise budgets, various production records, market analyses and cash flow statements, to do the best job in controlling and managing their operations," points out Dr. James McGrann. "Therefore, the great area of potential innovation in agriculture in the '80s is farm and ranch management, and the microcomputer can be an important tool in improving this management."

An increasing number of farmers and ranchers are turning to computers due to advancements in hardware (computer and related equipment) technology and increased availability of agricultural software (instructions or programs for computers), notes the economist. And more producers will be able to profitably use microcomputers in the future.

"With a tax deductible investment of $6,000 to $10,000, a producer can put together a fairly complete management information system," points out McGrann. "Used effectively, such a system can pay for itself in a few years by improving management decisions. It also can increase the motivation of the decision-maker to more adequately evaluate production, marketing and financing alternatives."

Of course, with the many selections of microcomputer software and hardware now available, choosing the right system for a particular farming or ranching operation can be a difficult task, says the economist. So getting a good handle on computer terminology is the first major step.

"Once a producer understands some of the basics about computers, the first and most critical consideration is selecting software," emphasizes McGrann. "Computers have no use if software is not available, and software costs will exceed hardware costs over the useful life of the system."

The economist recommends "hand on" experience to give producers a "feel" for various computer systems and to become familiar with their capabilities. Software support, including a good user's manual and overall dealer service is critical to the general feasibility of the system.

The Extension Service has conducted workshops on computer application that have provided hands on experience from many farmers and ranchers," notes McGrann. "Such workshops and training sessions will continue in the future. These have provided valuable information to help producers more effectively use the computer in managing their operations."

County Extension agents and Extension economists located at district Extension offices over the state can provide further information on microcomputer applications, notes McGrann.

After identifying software that will best fit a producer's needs, the next step is to select the hardware (computer, printer, storage devices, keyboard and related items).

"It's important to actually run the desired software on the system before buying it to make sure there are no incompatibility problems," advises McGrann. "Again, dealer support is extremely important."

The economist suggests that a farm or ranch business computer system meet at least these requirements: 64K-central processing units (CPU) with the ability to go to 128K, dual disk drive and capability or running the Digital Research CP/M or a CP/M 86 operating system.

Since the amount of disk storage is a problem with a large record system, McGrann advises producers to allow for sufficient storage capacity to meet an-icipated needs and to purchase a system with storage growth potential.

He says that any microcomputer should be able to run standard word processing, mailing list and electronic worksheet type software.

"As with any new technology, an initial learning period is necessary to effectively use a microcomputer in farm and ranch management," points out McGrann. "The microcomputer and software are only management tools that provide the decision-maker with better information."

"Many farmers and ranchers over the country are finding profitable ways to use microcomputer technology," he contends. "Microcomputers will be one of the important tools in bringing about innovations in farm and ranch management in the years ahead."

SPEED LIMIT 55
 Some drivers are still puzzled over the National 55 MPH speed limit. A recent survey shows that nearly 75 per cent of the drivers say they want to keep 55 because they know it SAVES LIVES and conserves fuel. But many drivers still exceed the limit on occasion.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION MEMBER 1982

20th Annual Jaycee Rodeo July 8, 9, 10

Ranger Jaycee's 20th Annual Rodeo will be held July 8, 9 and 10. Children under 12 can get a ticket for $1.50 and adults for $3.50. A parade at 5 o'clock on Thursday, July 8 will get this years rodeo underway. There will be a drawing of program numbers each evening. $25.00 will be given away on Thursday and $25.00 again on Friday. Saturday night will be the big drawing...$250.00. The Jaycee's gave $25, Ronnie Guess of Guess Texaco gave $25 and David Rogers put up the $250.00. Be sure to attend the Rodeo and buy a program at the gate each night...maybe more than one. Lloyd Woodley will furnish the stock again this year. He is well known for raising some really wild animals. Tom Ward will be back this year to perform some of his great specialty acts.

New Parish Priest

Father Jim Miller began his duties in the Strawn, Ranger, Eastland and Cisco Catholic Churches April 21, 1982. Father Jim was born September 8, 1931 in Michigan. He was the fifth of six children. In 1950 he enlisted in the United States Navy. He served 22 months in the U.S. and 26 months in Korea and Japan (mostly in Japan). He was assigned to electronics in the Naval Air Force. Within four days after being discharged in 1955 he was enrolled in college in Detroit, Michigan. He graduated in 1960 with a degree in Electronic Engineering. After working three years in electronics he entered a seminary in Cleveland, Ohio to study Latin. He then went to the Catholic University in Washington, D.C. and completed his studies in five years. He was ordained June 1, 1968. He was first assigned to St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Dallas where he spent 11 months. He went to Immaculate Conception Church in Denton and was there for six years. In 1975 he was assigned to the Bridgeport and Jacksboro churches. In 1977 he started St. Michael's Church in the Hurst, Euless, Bedford area. In June, 1979 he was on loan to the diocese of Fairbanks, Alaska. He served six months in Bethel, six months in Fairbanks and a year and a half in Kotzebuc, Alaska. From Alaska he returned to Texas then went on to Cuernavaca, Mexico to study Spanish. Now he is in our area and we hope he will enjoy getting acquainted and working with the people here.

Our Grand Canyon Trip

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, written by Voy Wilks of Cisco, deals with his personal experience of a Grand Canyon Geology Tour last year. The tour is sponsored annually by the Bible-Science Association, Minneapolis, Minnesota, and is scheduled for June 28-July 10 of this year. The tour is divided up into two separate hiking trips, each for a week's time. The Association has 30 permits for each week and will reserve permits for the first ones who send their registrations to Ed Nafziger, 1402 - 22nd St. N.E. #252, Auburn, Wash.

98002, or call (206) 833-9455 no later than June 7. The association must know the number in your party which will make each hike, so they can reserve the exact number of permits needed.)

By Voy Wilks

The Grand Canyon of Arizona is unique, as there is nothing like it on planet earth. It is 277 miles long, up to 18 miles wide, and is approximately one mile deep. It is such a gash in the crust of the earth, and has such formidable cliffs, that there is a noticeable difference in both the plant and animal life from the south rim to the north rim. The climatic zones range from the Sonoran to the Canadian, and this also contributes to the different types of life. Because of these conditions it is sometimes said, "Two rims, two worlds."

The Grand Canyon is also considered to be the best display on earth of the sedimentary rocks. For this reason, scientists are continuing their studies of this geologic display - those scientists who believe in special creation, as well as those whose faith is in the evolutionary theory. Yearly, the Bible Science Association sponsors a combination fun and educational trip into this area.

Last year Beth, my daughter, and I took this trip with a Bible Science Association group, and we had a wonderful time! It consists of two back-packing trips. The first one took us into the Havasu Canyon, an arm of the Grand Canyon. We met our party on a Monday evening on the Hualapai Hilltop, which is not a hilltop at all, but a ledge on the side of a mountain. This spot is the end of the road. From this place, there is only a trail. Even the U.S. mail is from this point delivered by mule train to the Indian village down in the canyon. We spent the night on the hilltop, then at daybreak set out on the trail. It is eight miles to the village of Supai, and two miles beyond is the campground. The scenery is so beautiful that the miles went by pleasantly, so that we arrived at the campground by 2 p.m., after stopping for a visit at the village. Each day there was an interesting hike, which usually lasted until noon, or a little after, then swimming and relaxation in the afternoon. Each evening there was a lecture by our guide, Ed Nafziger. He is certainly qualified as a guide in the Grand Canyon area, as this made his 15th year to serve in this way for the Bible Science Association. His lectures are very interesting also.

On Thursday we hiked down the canyon to the Colorado River and back, crossing the Havasu Creek 16 times in those 19 miles. There was no relaxation in the afternoon on this day, however! The day was used up when we arrived back in camp! After fording the creek so many times, 65 year old Larry Christainer humorously commented,

"I'll never go around another puddle of water as long as I live! I'll just walk right through it."

The blue-green water of Havasu and Mooney falls, and the many travertine terraces, make Havasu Creek one of the most beautiful of streams!

After four delightful days in the Havasu canyon, we came out and drove the 200 miles to the south rim of the Grand Canyon, where we spent the weekend. From Grand Canyon Village on the south rim, it is only about nine air miles across to the north rim. By highway, however, it is about 215 miles. On Monday we made this drive, with a short stop near Tuba City to see the dinosaur tracks, and when we crossed the Colorado we had a quick look at Lee's Ferry. Monday night we spent on the north rim, then began the descent soon after daybreak on Tuesday. The north rim is heavily timbered with pine, spruce and fir, and is much more broken than the south rim. Also it is further from the river.

Our guide asked us to watch for animal tracks as we passed through the coconino sandstone formation. Sure enough, we found some! He explained that during the time of the universal flood these tracks were buried and preserved by the sediment laid down above them. Eventually, all turned to stone. This trail, the North Kaibab, is indeed a beautiful trail. In places it passes along a ledge that is hanging to the face of the cliff. The first day, there was Roaring Springs. That night we camped at Cottonwood Campground - under oak trees! The second day, Ribbon Falls was the outstanding beauty spot. This night we spent in scenic Bright Angel Campground, near the Colorado River.

As we descended, the sedimentary rocks eventually gave way to schist and granite. This river gorge is about 1000 feet deep, and is classed as precambrian. In it no fossils have been found. Many scientists think that this is the rock which was formed during the first six days of creation, therefore we should not expect it to contain fossils. All the rock layers above this basement rock do contain fossils, however. This is to be expected, the scientists say, as these were surely laid down during the universal flood.

As we crossed the Colorado River, we were lucky enough to see several rubber rafts making the eight day trip from Lee's Ferry to Lake Mead. The third night, we camped in Indian Gardens Campground. It was here that rain came. We had asked the park ranger if we should take along our rain gear.

"Rain? In the Grand Canyon? No, no! Even if it rains, the drops will not reach you down in the canyon. They will evaporate before reaching the ground." We were soaked - for two hours!

The fourth day, up to the south rim and Grand Canyon Village! From that vantage point we looked down across the canyon. At our feet was a magnificent spectacle - the Grand Canyon of Arizona!

The Murayamas-Good Ambassadors

By Viola Payne

An attractive Japanese couple, Mr. and Mrs. Wataru Murayama, of Kashiwazaki, Honshu Island are visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Yukiko and Carl Kleiner, and children of Cisco. The Kleiner children are daughter Akiko, 11, and son Christopher, 3 years old.

Both Wataru Murayama and his wife, Atsuko, took time from family visiting to share experiences and observations.

"The Cisco people are nice, warm, and kind," they stated. "We are enjoying it here."

This is the second trip to Cisco for Mr. and Mrs. Murayama, with the first being in 1974. They visited another daughter, Hideko Sakhai, in her home in New York City before coming here this time. The Murayama son, Shuichi, lives in Japan.

The Murayamas speak only a little English, but daughter Yukiko translated to them. Yukiko Kleiner speaks three languages, English, Japanese, and Spanish. She described the Japanese language as "calm", without the amount of "strong" or even angry words found in other languages.

Their home town of Kashiwazaki, explained Mr. Murayama, is northwest of Tokyo, across the large middle island of Japan. The population is 80,000, and it is considered a modern city. It has many automobiles (narrow roads, though) and such conveniences as propane gas for cooking and heating. The city is in a beautiful location, lying between mountains and the Sea of Japan.

The climate, while not too severe, is colder than in the part of Japan fronting the Pacific Ocean. Natural vegetation includes pines and cedars. Fishing and rice farming are extensive in the area, but individual farms are very small as compared to American agriculture.

At this time Japan is quite prosperous, and has surplus of rice for exportation. A lot of this goes to China and Thailand.

Mr. Murayama worked for the Government for a number of years a Collector of Taxes. (Quite similar to the work of the Internal Revenue Service here). Recently, as shown in the picture, he was given an award by the Emperor for this Government service.

"There is no sales tax in Japan," explained Mr. Murayama. "Social Security taxes and payments are low also. Wages are generally lower than in the United States, and the rate of income taxes is figured differently. But I believe that income taxes generally run higher in Japan than in America.

"The people who work for companies have a very simple form of taxation," he continued. "But for those who run a business, it is much more complicated."

In discussing the most obvious differences between the United States and their homeland, the Murayamas noted that the U.S. had much more space and less density of population.

Mrs. Murayama (Atsuko) noted that the food is quite different here, and that many ingredients found in Japanese cooking cannot be obtained. She and Yukiko Kleiner named over some of

The food staple of Japan, Yukiko Kleiner said, is rice. It is cooked three times each day, regardless of what other food is available. The small type of the grain is preferred, and steaming is the usual method in which it is prepared. Soy sauce is the usual seasoning, with gingerroot and other spices commonly used. A number of unusual types of familiar "American" fruits and vegetables are raised in Japan. There are exotic kinds of squash, cucumbers, pears, mandarin oranges, and watermelons.

The Murayamas discussed a number of other topics, including how the land is cared for and utilized in Japan. They mentioned how art is widely used, even in common objects. And the Japanese treats they brought out (one kind consisted of peanuts covered with delectable soy flour pastry) were made with an artistic flair.

It was difficult to realize that these interesting folk would soon be far away, flying back to Japan on May 24. The trip would take 18 hours and propel them halfway around the world.

But for those who had met the Murayamas, Japan would never be just another blob of anonymous islands on a far-away sea. It would be the home of living, breathing people, with emotions not far different from our own.

REPORT FROM SECRETARY OF STATE DAVID A. DEAN

Elections Update

An amazing 76 percent of Texas' registered voters chose not to participate in the State's May 1 primary elections. Only 24 percent of Texas' 6.6 million registered voters voted in the May 1 statewide primary elections or some 1.5 million voters—1.3 million or 20 percent in the Democratic primary and 264,000 or four percent in the Republican primary. The statewide voter turnout in the 1982 primaries equals the statewide voter turnout in the 1956 primaries of 1.5 million voters which represented 65 percent of the state's registered voters at that time. More than a quarter of a century later, we have roughly three times the number of registered voters with a voter turnout of 1.5 million equating a dismal 24 percent voter turnout statewide. An analysis of the primary elections is currently being conducted by my Office and will include an examination of the factors accounting for the voter apathy on May 1.

Primary runoff elections in Texas are scheduled for Saturday, June 5, 1982. In order to vote in the runoff elections, citizens must have been registered to vote by May 6, 1982. The absentee ballot period by personal appearance for the runoff elections begins May 26 and ends June 1. Requests for absentee ballots by mail can be made to the absentee voting clerk's office and completed absentee ballots must be received in the absentee voting clerk's office by 7:00 p.m. on June 5, 1982.

Voters may vote in the runoff election even if they did not vote in the May 1 elections, but if they voted in the primary elections, they must then vote in the same political party's runoff election.

Due to the fact that the number of statewide Democratic runoff elections has decreased from six to four and the fact that there are no statewide Republican runoff elections there will undoubtedly be a low—perhaps record low—statewide voter turnout in the June 5 runoff elections.

I urge all eligible voters to participate in the primary runoff elections and remind voters, candidates, and election officials to call my office toll-free at 1-800-252-9602 on June 5, 1982 to report any observed election irregularities or to receive answers to their election questions.

Based on the extremely low voter turnout on May 1 and the nearly $6 million cost to Texas taxpayers to finance each political party's primary and runoff elections, the Secretary of State's Office is examining the merits of a unitary primary system for Texas. In a unitary primary system, all candidates for a particular office are placed on the primary ballot together, regardless of party affiliation. Thus, there are no separate Republican or Democratic primaries, but rather one primary. A candidate receiving a majority of the votes in a unitary primary is automatically declared the winner. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes, then the two candidates receiving the largest number of votes face each other in the general election—be they both Republicans or Democrats. An obvious advantage to the unitary system is the cost savings aspect, as each vote cast in the May 1 primary alone cost taxpayers approximately $4.00, however, all pros and cons of the unitary primary will be examined.

Based on requests from state officials and the news media, the Secretary of State's Office is looking closely at the election return process to assess the desirability and feasibility of a State sponsored elections bureau within the Secretary of State's Office. Due to the fact that there is no state monitoring of election returns and the fact that in some primary races, final returns were not available until five days after the election, there may be advantages to both voters and candidates of placement of an election central function within the Secretary of State's Office. Anyone with any ideas about how the election return process can be improved is welcome to contact the Secretary of State's Office, with their suggestions, toll free at 1-800-252-9602.

Putnam News
By Anita Buchanan

Putnam hasn't been very lucky this week as to rain. We seem to miss all the showers that go all around us. However everything is so pretty I have never seen wild flowers any prettier and the prickly pears are gorgeous. We drove over in our pasture this afternoon and those old rocky hills are a blanket of yellow and white daisies and prickly pear blooms. The gardens are doing well too. My neighbors brought beans from her garden. They are so good.

We still have too many on the sick list. Dink Pruettt is still in an Abilene hospital. Last report she was improving. Mr. Wilburn McKinney is also in an Abilene hospital. Mrs. Thelma (Odum) Davis is improving in a rest home at Abilene. Mr. Howard Farmer of Baird is very ill at Hendricks Hospital at Abilene. He suffered a stroke at his home Thursday night. We are sorry to report the death of Mr. Osborne Little this past week. Mr. Little attended Putnam school and his parents lived here many years. His brother, Truett Little still lives here. Our sympathy to all the family.

Mrs. Maxie Solomon went to Mineral Wells this weekend to visit her daughter, the Bud Taylor family.

Mrs. Ruie Sunderman of the rest home at Baird spent Tuesday at Putnam visiting the beauty shop and friends. We miss Mrs. Sunderman who was our neighbor.

Mrs. LaFlore of DeLeon visited her daughter's family, the Ray Maxwells this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Isenhower who have been in school at Ames, Iowa, are home for vacation. They are going to Switzerland for the summer.

The James Isenhower family of Coleman visited Gayle's mother, Mrs. Ollie Burnam Saturday.

Tom and Cheryl Lemmons of Abilene visited her grandmother, Mrs. R.B. Taylor Sunday. Cheryl is the daughter of Mrs. Bobbie and the late Pete Taylor of Snyder.

Mrs. R.C. Speegle visited her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weed of Dan Horn Sunday.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Henry Rhynes is home from the hospital. She came home Tuesday and is doing o.k.

Blayne Buchanan has been having dental problems. He had two wisdom teeth extracted and they have been giving him a lot of trouble.

Mr. Norris Weeks of Baird and Mr. Dick Weeks of Abilene visited their parents, the George Weeks Saturday.

EVEN WHEN YOU'RE AWAY...YOUR HOME KEEPS RUNNING

You may naturally expect your home to use less electricity while you're away for a week or more. The reduction may not be as great as you think, however. That's because there are many factors that can affect your usage: weather conditions, billing periods and even vacation preparation.

1. Very hot weather before you leave and after you return means increased use of air conditioning, this makes it difficult to compare your bill with a previous month of milder weather.
2. Hot weather causes your refrigerator to run longer particularly if your home air conditioning is turned off while you are away.
3. If the time you're away falls within two billing periods the reduction you expect will be split between two bills.
4. If you didn't turn off your electric hot water heater before you left, it continued to keep your water hot 24 hours a day, even though you weren't there.
5. And don't forget... when getting ready for a vacation you often use more electricity than usual for cleaning, washing, drying, ironing, cooking and general preparations. The same is true about your return.

Check your meter.

If you learn to read your own meter, you can find out just how much electricity was used while you were gone. And, you'll see just how much energy you're using during the summer, the heaviest electricity consuming season, with your air conditioning operating most of the time.

CISCO FOLKS are really behind the Little League program as evidenced by the fact that more than $1,300 worth of stickers were sold to supporters by players during the recent one-day drive. As announced, the winning groups will get a trip to Arlington soon to see a major league baseball game.

President Jerry Jeffcoat of the Little League tells us that five business firms recently spent $250 each to buy uniforms and support teams. This group included Oil States Rubber Co., Quickway Grocery, S&M Supply Co., City Drug, and Hargrave Insurance. Other groups already had sponsors and uniforms.

The Little League field soon will be equipped with new lighting poles and reflectors, Mr. Jeffcoat reported. They already have some steel pipe for the poles and funds to buy the reflectors.

The concession stand, where Linda Cozart is the supervisor, has some new equipment, including a microwave oven. Little League mothers take turns working in the stand. . . Contractor Steve Cozart contributed his labor and tools to improve the stand. . . Mrs. Jerry Jeffcoat, music teacher at Intermediate School, is the league scorekeeper and helps with game announcing. She recruits assistants from time to time, including Buddy Sipe, David Adkins, Al Anderson and others.

One of the best I.L. pitchers we've seen (and we haven't seen too many of them) is Robert (Scooter) Wages, a southpaw with the Giants. They Giants, by the way, won the first half of the season, and the second half got underway this week.

One of the smallest players in the program is Danny Yoch, a minor leaguer, who recently spent a good many weeks in traction after injury in an accident. You'll want to drop out these evenings to see the action.

A COPY OF the Duff Hale oil well picture that appeared in The Press the other day was donated to the Cisco Public Library by Duff's parents, the Ted Hales, and same has been framed and hangs on the wall there. . . Mrs. Carl Kleiner's parents departed Monday for their home in Japan after an extended visit here and in the USofA. . . Guess you've noticed that gasoline prices have been inching upward hereabouts - up about six cents per gallon this month.

CITY COUNCILMAN Bobby Ingram took a 10-pound catfish off his trotline at Lake Cisco the other day. . . Mr. Wallace Johnson, one of the CCC's top senior citizen golfers, was pleased to see his pitch shot from about 100 yards out roll into the cup for an eagle two out there one day last week. . . Ed Pugliese, who got his BA degree from Howard Payne University recently, works the night shift at Quickway Grocery these nights. He is weighing opportunities to teach school next fall. . . The Gene Abbotts went over to Lewisville last weekend to attend a dance recital. Their eight-year old granddaughter was in it.

THE J.C. Fletchers of our town went to Grapevine last Saturday to attend funeral services for Mr. Don LaCass who passed away there Friday. He formerly lived in Cisco and his wife, Myra Jean (Tompkins) LaCasse, died last September. . . The W.E. (Dizzy) Deans went down to Goldthwaite last Saturday to meet their grandson, Steve Bailey of Austin. They gathered in the city park there for a picnic lunch that included a birthday cake for Mrs. WED. . . The hollyhocks and other beautiful flowers are blooming out back of the F.D. Moore home at 1500 Avenue N and you'll want to see same.

THE MANY friends of Mr. Roy (Dago) Huffmyer, who passed away recently, will be pleased to know that he left the bulk of his estate, including his home on West 13th Street, to the Church of Christ of which he and his late wife Lucille were devoted members. The

OBITUARY

Services For Osborne Little Held Friday

Graveside services for Osborne M. Little, 66, of Weslaco, a former resident of Putnam, were at 3 p.m. Friday, May 21, at the Putnam Cemetery, directed by Parker Funeral Home of Baird.

Mr. Little died at 2:51 a.m. Wednesday, May 19, in Knapp Memorial Hospital in Weslaco after a short illness.

He was born May 27, 1915, in Morenci, Ariz. The family lived there until 1919, when they moved back to Texas. He grew up in Putnam and graduated from Putnam High School and Howard Payne College. He was a high school coach in Weslaco from 1938-45 and coached at Gonzales, Donna, Eagle Pass and other places. He returned to Weslaco High School in 1968 to teach and had lived there since that time. He and his son, Osborne M. Little, Jr., owned and operated Camp Vallecito in Bayfield, Colo. He was a member of Masonic Lodge No. 1212 and was a lieutenant in the Navy during World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Gwendolyn of Weslaco; his son, Osborne M. Little Jr. of Bristol, Tenn.; a brother, Truett B. of Putnam; and a grandson.

Funeral Services For Clyde Bynum Held Saturday

Funeral services for Clyde H. Bynum, 80, of Moran, were at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 22, at Moran Church of Christ, directed by Godfrey Funeral Home of Albany. The Rev. Jim Boswell, of First United Methodist Church of Albany, officiated. Burial was in Moran Cemetery.

Mr. Bynum died at 7:30 estate amounts to about $100,000.

The Church of Christ, which has a new building out on IH-20, has just about outgrown the structure. We understand they will probably take a look at enlarging the building. The church also supports mission work in several countries.

Results of the Huffmyer legacy will be a fitting tribute to Roy and Lucille, we're sure.

WE TOOK OUR travel trailer to Abilene Star Park last weekend to help three grandchildren enjoy an outing. And a highlight of the stay under stately pecan trees in delightful weather was to watch as a male Cardinal, a beautiful red bird, asserted his control over his territory. He saw his likeness in the mirror on the fender of our tow car, and he made numerous trips there to attack and fight the image he saw in the mirror.

Neither the real Cardinal nor the image won, but they both put up a good fight. And we'll bet the real Cardinal felt that he had won when the mirror with his image left the park - leaving him as lord of his domain.

It was a fine outing that would have been a bit better, perhaps, if the swimming pool had opened May 22nd instead of May 29th.

Tracie Bivins Is Honored With Bridal Shower

Miss Tracie Bivins, bride-elect of Scott Morgan, was honored with a come and go miscellaneous bridal shower Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 4.

Approximately 25 guests called or sent gifts. Refreshments of cake, punch or coffee and mints were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Jay Smith and Mrs. James Kirkin.

WORD OF GOD

Married to an Unbeliever?
For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband; else were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

1 Corinthians 7:14, 16
