

Lions Earn Money For Park Project

Profits amounting to $1,130 were realized by the Cisco Lions Club from their July 4th weekend carnival at City Park, Secretary J.W. Cook reported to the club at the weekly luncheon last Wednesday noon at the White Elephant Restaurant.

President Ivan Webb told the club that plans were underway to use this fund plus other money to build a shelter for the use of reunions and picnics at the City Park. Some of the materials that will be used in the project have already been obtained, Mr. Webb added.

The Lions Club built rest rooms for the park several years ago. A shelter is needed for the use of groups holding reunions and meetings in the park.

Lion Walter Knowlden showed picture slides of a vacation trip he enjoyed recently in Virginia. He said that Lion E.L. Jackson would be program chairman next Wednesday.

Mr. Webb said that he would meet soon with President Jerry Jeffcoat of the Cisco Evening Lions Club to make plans for the two clubs work cooperate in selling advertising for the program of the September Lions Benefit Football game in Breckenridge.

Several Lions, including District Lieutenant Governor Archie Chamness, Deputy District Governor Winston Heidenheimer and Club Secretary Cook, were expected to attend a district meeting in Comanche on Saturday, July 31.

Becky Chamness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Chamness, was presented a certificate as the winner of 3rd place in the Lions district public speaking contest last spring. The event was held for two school students throughout the district.

The club's board of directors, which meets next Tuesday morning, will consider a suggestion that Lions help pay the costs of dentures for a senior citizen.

Guests were Claude McBeth of Fort Worth and Mrs. Archie Chamness and Miss Becky Chamness.

Final Show Of Roof Garden Season Will Begin August 5

The Roof Garden Dinner Theatre in Cisco begins its final show of the summer season, Thursday, August 5, at 7 p.m.

The play is a gay nineties melodrama, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," by Bill Johnson. It is directed by guest artist Steven Vincent and features the apprentices in the summer theatre program of Cisco Junior College.

This play is a ridiculous burlesque that tells the tear-jerking story of Nellie Lovelace, an innocent country girl, in a laughable style. Munro, the viper, has a wife, Ida Ringgold, the belle of the New Haven Music Halls. Having a famous wife does not prevent him from pursuing the innocent Nellie and tearing her from the arms of her dying mother. Neither does this prevent him from driving Adam Oakhart, the blacksmith's son, to drink from blacksmithing, nor from blackmailing the rich Mrs. Upson Asterbilt, or from bewitching her daughter, Leonie.

Six performances are scheduled, August 5-7 and 12-14, which are already filling up. The Roof Garden special price for this show is only $9, which includes an all-American meal with chicken fried steak and banana pudding.

This summer has been the most successful the Roof Garden has experienced. The last eleven shows were complete sellouts. Six performances were planned for the musical comedy, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," but this was increased to nine to accommodate the demand for reservations. All nine performances were completely sold out.

With seating limited to 70, the Roof Garden requires reservations. Call (817) 442-2567 during regular business hours or 442-2589 after hours.

Chamber Announces Plans For Summer Street Fair August 14

booths downtown alongside the merchants. Persons interested in setting up private booths for the sale of antiques, collectibles, hand-crafted or new items are also encouraged to contact the Chamber office. If there is enough interest shown in the private booths, space will be made available on a vacant lot near downtown.

POEM

Drunk Driver

You drunk driver on the road whose heart, because of you, will carry a heavy load you drunk driver see what you have done.

Hear the mother's cry as she buries her only son. You drunk driver see the child lying there.

When you hit him, heard his scream, didn't you even care?

You drunk driver, who's family will have no mommy?

Because you were drunk, killed her on the highway.

You drunk driver, see what you have done.

Wouldn't it have been easier to use a gun!

You drunk driver will go to jail.

You don't care or worry. You'll be out on bail.

You drunk driver, how can you sleep?

Knowing because of you many people will weep.

You drunk driver, I hope you pay.

I hope the laws get tougher, so you won't kill someone on our highways.

CARD OF THANKS
We want to thank each person that has helped us so much through this tragic time of our lives. The loss of our little darling Ashley has been made easier by your prayers, love and support during this week. Special thanks to Dr. Cermin and the staff of E.L. Graham and to Rev. Carl Begley and the ladies of Gospel Assembly who provided food for family and friends. And to Angie Cheshire who stayed with us to serve those who came to our silver wedding open house.

Each card, dish of food, flower, and word of encouragement is remembered and appreciated. We are so grateful to Rev. Jim Hester of Arlington, that he traveled this distance to be with us and conduct services. We are at a loss to understand what has happened, but the Bible says to lean not unto our understanding, so we are leaning hard on the Lord and He has helped us so much. We are so thankful for the 58 beautiful days that we had Ashley with us. During her short little mission on this earth, she touched many lives and brought so much love and happiness. We thank God for her - and each of you. Sincerely, Ricky and Tami Hudson, Ted, Nina Jo and Bubba Anderson and families, Bennett and Helen Hudson and families

Theives Steal Possessions Of Bobby & Mary Jane Little

Bobby and Mary Jane Little, after more than 20 years in Tyler, have moved back home to Eastland County, but as they and 11 yr. old daughter La Dawn look across the bare living room of their house in Olden, they realize that things are quite different from what they had expected.

For who would ever expect to have a 24 ft. covered U Haul truck full of your furniture and household goods stolen before you even left the town you were moving from? And the truck found three days later near the town of Zapata (between Laredo and Rio Grande City), empty except for a filing cabinet and some papers?

It is a shocking loss estimated by the Tyler newspapers as around $50,000. It probably runs more than that, for the load included such things as a spinet piano, furniture for three bedrooms, a living room, a den, an L shaped couch, desks, a refrigerator, two deep freezes loaded with food, a washing machine and dryer, and irreplaceable things such as family pictures, original paintings, a coin collection, jewelry and keepsakes.

A number of business papers were packed in the truck. Possibly some of these will be recovered with the "papers" located by the Sheriff of Zapata.

"We had several Bibles in the truck they took," Bobby Little says.

"How we hope they will see something in our possessions that will change their lives!" Mary Jane adds.

The move from Tyler had been planned for some time. Mary Jane Little had accepted the position of first grade teacher in the Ranger Schools, beginning fall of '82. Both had grown up in this area - Mary Jane as the daughter of the late R.V. Rendall of Cisco, Bobby as the son of the late John Little of Flatwood community.

Bobby finished High School at Carbon and went on to Cisco Junior College. After that he attended East Texas University in Commerce, where he received a Masters degree in Agricultural Education. He received an additional certificate as an Educational Administrator.

Mary Jane Little attended Cisco Schools, Cisco Junior College, and McMurry at Abilene. She received her Masters Degree (Library Science) at East Texas University at Commerce.

The Littles taught and did Administrative work in the Tyler Schools for about 22 years. They were also very active in the Baptist Church.

Their older daughter, Lara Arlene (Barfield) and husband Terry Barfield live on Lake Tyler. But other relatives are here in Eastland County - Mary Jane's Mother, Annie Rendall of Cisco, and her Aunt, Lela Latch Lloyd, in Cisco. Bobby's mother, Mamie Little, lives in the Staff community. Two of his brothers, Jimmie Little and Charles Little, live with their families near Lake Leon.

The move to Eastland County began routinely enough. The Littles located the well-kept A.O. Thompson home in Olden, which they "fell in love with" at first sight. After purchasing the property they started moving small household things in a pickup on trips out. Fortunately these items included outside equipment. During the last packing in Tyler Charles and Carolyn Little and Judy and Randy Hall (Mary Jane's sister and brother-in-law of Cleburne) loaded smaller things in their vehicles. In that way the good china, silverware, some clothing, books, and a few keepsakes were saved.

On Friday, July 23 Mary Jane and Bobby cleared the last furniture from their Tyler home and shut the doors on the large U Haul. Among the carefully packed objects was a brass bowl full of silk flowers - a gift which the members of their Baptist Church had purchased with a "love offering".

The Littles were tired, and would not have possession of their Olden home until next day at noon. So they pulled into a Motel 6 to rest until early the next morning.

Bobby locked the truck carefully, noting that it was parked in a well-lighted area near a restaurant, and that the Motel had a security guard. They had several kinds of insurance which they assumed covered their household goods - insurance on the house in Tyler, the one in Olden, and a Travel Insurance which they thought covered the furniture in transit.

Sometime in the night, before 5:00 a.m., someone entered the truck, managed to start it without a key, and drive it away. The Security Guard reported that he had checked it at 3:15 a.m., when he went off duty.

When the theft was discovered, the scene became almost unreal. There was a wait at the police station, among people in various kinds of trouble. Afterward the Littles waited in Tyler, while friends from the Baptist Church tried to help.

And then came a shock when the Insurance companies began to point out various small-print "clauses" in their coverage which would not take care of this type of theft. Furniture in the houses - yes, in a wreck, yes - but not this.

The Tyler Police initiated a statewide search. On Tuesday, July 27 the U Haul truck was discovered near Zapata, with word from that County Sheriff that the furniture had probably gone into Mexico. He would call back, if anything was found.

So the Littles came on to Olden, where they moved in and began collecting enough furniture and goods for essentials.

"You learn real quick what is the most important," chuckles Bobby.

And they keep hoping the next phone call will have some good news, like maybe something found. Some of the cherished family picture, or other things.

"But we realize we have a lot to be thankful for," Mary Jane smiles. "What if Bobby had noticed someone breaking into the truck, and had tried to stop them? He might have been terribly injured. At least our family is all well."

"I would have probably made a run at them out the door," Bobby shakes his head. "But it's not the material things that count so much. It's just surprising how quick something like this can happen to you, and how little can be done.

"I think people should be warned to be more careful about theft, especially when moving or traveling. And they should check insurance policies, to see if they really cover anything. I may get $500.00 from this loss, with a $100.00 deductible!"

"So it's just not just our things. But we do worry about the condition of the world, where such things can happen."

Western Is Theme For AARP Meeting

Western was the theme of the program at the July meeting of the Cisco Chapter of AARP, held on the regular third Thursday of the month date at the Corral Room.

Table decorations arranged by Mrs. Walter Knowlden and Mr. and Mrs. McCoy were cactus plants, replicas of desert reptiles and insects, and two huge bouquets of crepe myrtle. Mrs. Hector Laird brought for display an original painting of Fort Phantom, and President Knowlden exhibited two of his framed leather-tooled and dyed pictures. Leather-tooled is one of Mr. Knowlden's hobbies.

Musical entertainment was provided by two guitarists and a violinist, Mr. and Mrs. Dewain Votaw and Cliff Andrews. All members of the trio were also vocalists. Some of the songs were original compositions, and others were familiar favorites to which the audience was invited to join in singing. The audience enjoyed the performance and was appreciative to the young people for sharing their talents.

Fifty-one persons attended the covered dish supper including guests: Mrs. Janice Copenhaver of Odem, Texas, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton White, and trio of entertainers, Cliff Andrews of Cisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Dewain Votaw, and their children, of Albuquerque, N.M.

The business session included reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Sue Taylor, treasurer's report by Mrs. Velma Joyner, and the chapter's total enrollment report of 116, by membership chairman, Mrs. Margaret Lane. The Sunshine Committee report which lists cards sent and information about members who are ill, was made by Mrs. Bob Greer.

One highlight among reports was made by Mrs. Gertrude Besselaar, chairman of the Public Service Committee. Forty-two caps, made by AARP members, were sent to the M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute (now called the University of Texas Systems Cancer Center). These caps are for patients who have undergone treatment that has resulted in loss of hair, and such contribution is one of the many ways of serving this institution as well as carrying out one aim of AARP's dedication to service to others.

August 21st, according to Mrs. Lela Lloyd, has been tentatively set for another trip by group members to Granbury's opera house. This has been a very successful entertainment venture available to members at a nominal cost. Mrs. Lloyd also proposed as a possibility, a group trip to the "Nativity", staged in Albany around Christmas-time.

In accordance with the Chapter's custom of honoring deceased members, a memorial will be sent to the Cisco Cemetery Association in honor of Willie Stuart.

The August meeting on Thursday, the 19th, according to Program Chairman, Mrs. Thelma Bosworth, will celebrate "birthdays."

County Tax Re-Evaluations Almost Complete

RE-EVALUATION OF property in Eastland County is complete except for that in Ranger, County Review Board Chairman John Nevill has announced.

The Review Board has recessed after a three-day session ending Wednesday at 7 p.m., and Chairman Nevill reports that the period "went very well" and except for isolated cases of clerical errors and/or areas where the appraisers could not see and know all the circumstances affected a property, there have been no problems.

Estimates are that the Ranger property values probably will be mailed sometime in August.

YOUR TRIP

Alhambra of West in Death Valley

Share your pleasant travel discoveries with readers. Address letters to Your Trip, Travel Section, The Dallas Morning News, Communications Center, Dallas 75265.

Better known as Scotty's Castle, this Alhambra of the West attracts hundreds of tourists each winter. A restless, insecure Westerner, Walter Scott (Death Valley Scotty), and a Chicago millionaire, Albert Johnson, combined Scotty's imagination and Johnson's money to build a magnificent palace in the 1920s for their home.

Unplanned, it came into being room by room on a 3,000-foot elevation at the north end of Grapevine Canyon, Death Valley, Inyo County, Calif. A room was finished before furnishings were ordered or made.

Scotty traveled five years with Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, and covered the United States and Europe. In his wanderings, he discovered the famous Alhambra at Granada, Spain. Obsessed with its architecture, history and location, he convinced Johnson they should leave a memorial in this land of natural wonders.

Built 500 years apart in time, there is likeness in the architecture of the two palatial homes; both sit high above surrounding countryside, and both were built for homes, magnificent enough to bolster feelings of insecurity, an overpowering desire to gain recognition.

The original Alhambra was a fortress built over a period of 100 years by a succession of rulers from A.D. 1300 to 1400 — the last stand of the Moors against the Christians in Europe.

There are more subtle resemblances between these palatial structures. Scotty had enemies in Death Valley as well as friends. His $40,000 bedroom has unique protection — a ricochet plate that would deflect a bullet.

The view as one sweeps up the drive to Scotty's home looks like a palace in The Arabian Nights. However, colonnades supporting graceful arches, a red tile roof and white stucco finish reflect California influence, and tie it to this setting of sagebrush and sand. Softening the harsh surroundings are 40-year-old palm trees, trucked and transplanted amid Joshua and olive trees with clumps of cactus.

A swimming pool — 180 by 150 feet — looks inviting in this land of little water. Scotty had pipes laid on the hillside for the sun to warm water for household use. Underground streams were tapped for water to cool the house. This idea came from the Spanish Alhambra.

A guide led us through a heavy door hung on wrought-iron hinges. Everyone put on soft shoes to enter the $100,000 living room covered with Italian carpet. A large sofa faces a huge fireplace — one of 18. Scotty's chair sits at one end and Johnson's at the other. An oak table displays a 350-year-old Majorcan vase. The furniture is very early Spanish.

The upper rooms are built around a banistered balcony. There sits a 2,500-pound secretary, which had been hoisted into place before this part was finished.

The Italian room has carpet from Sicily, and beds, chairs, chests and draperies from Italy — a peep at early Italian elegance. In the Spanish room are 16th-century chests, tables, a Majorcan rug and scenes of Moorish battles; also, a picture of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella.

The French room is exquisite, accented with a feminine touch. There are curved legs on chairs, bed and chaise longue. Bouffant curtains at the windows match the bedspread and blue carpet. Early American furniture in the Will Rogers room appears a bit out of place compared to the ornate style of other periods, but is beautiful in its simplicity.

Tourists should plan to see this interesting memorial in winter, when there are comfortable 60- to 70-degree temperatures. Allie Terrell, Cisco

Rising Star Church Plans Celebration

August 7 and 8 will be special days for friends and members of the First Baptist Church in Rising Star, when the activities of these two days will mark the 100th anniversary of the church. The church was organized in 1882 by a group of early pioneers, and the first services were held in the school building which was located just east of the present cemetery. The first church was built in 1889, a full time pastor was called, and the church has enjoyed a steady rate of growth since that time.

The church membership, along with former members and friends, will commemorate this period of growth and service on August 7 and 8, in celebration of praise and thanksgiving.

The activities will begin with a reception on Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock, in the Fellowship Hall. This will be a time of visitation and music. On Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. R.D. Williams will conduct the worship service, guests will be registered, and dinner will be served in the Activity Building.

At 2:00 the anniversary service will be held in the sanctuary of the church, with Rev. Jimmy Turner as the guest speaker. This phase of the program will also include the recognition of guest and former pastors, special music and presentation of the church history, which has been compiled and published under the supervision of the Centennial Committee.

The pastor, R.D. Williams, and the church family, extends a cordial invitation to friends and former members to come and share in this time of celebration.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Unemployment is certainly getting in our hair. It's a shame that we don't have the people who are out of work, located where the jobs are.

Oil fields are still looking for workers and anyone looking for work can get a job. Probably those who are out of work are not looking for the kind of work available, which is mostly roust about, construction, gauging and general oil field jobs, which are mostly held now by aliens and are the only ones who apply for these jobs at all.

It is altogether possible that the laid off auto worker and others may never get their old jobs back and have to migrate to some other part of the country to find employment. The aliens sure know how to find these jobs.

We have so many job openings in almost every newspaper every day and if it is education that is needed to man these jobs, we have a lot of people going to college that are evidently taking the wrong courses.

Did you know that there are a shortage of computer programmers and these jobs are now available at $50,000.00 a year and are going wanting. Just call Computer Science Department at SMU at Dallas and they will confirm these openings.

Can't see how we can count the number of unemployment until we fill all our job opportunities and it's beginning to look as if our American people are just too lazy to work anyway.

Pest Alert

Gordon Woolam

Peanut growers don't become complacent about peanut leafspot and its control. In recent years control of leafspot, especially dryland peanuts, has not been extensive due to dry weather.

Peanut leafspot is one of the major limiting factors in peanut production. Leaves manufacture all food that is stored in the nuts, thus premature defoliation from leafspot infection reduces yield and grade.

Requirements for peanut leafspot development include presence of the fungus, a susceptible host and favorable weather conditions. Fungi causing the disease are present in all peanut growing areas. The fungus and susceptible host are present. Therefore, the limiting factor to disease development is favorable weather conditions.

Prolonged high relative humidity is conducive to disease infection. Early season excessive rainfall has provided an abundance of soil moisture which has resulted in higher than normal relative humidities, especially in the plant canopy.

Low levels of infection are occurring in local fields. These low level infections serve to increase inoculum potential. The inoculum potential is the number of spores available to initiate infection.

The infection process occurs in 4 to 12 hours when the relative humidity is 95% or more at the leaf surface. Infection is most rapid when humidity and temperatures are high.

Because of leafspot is not visible to the unaided eye until 10 to 12 days after the infection occurs, infection must be anticipated. In dryland peanuts (Florrunners or Spanish), begin fungicide applications at the first evidence of leafspot or when rains or dews favor disease development. In irrigated runner peanuts, fungicide applications should be 60-65 days after planting (35 to 40 for Spanish).

Protecting Landscape Trees

By John Blair Extension Agent

Often building sites for new homes are chosen because of the presence of mature trees. However, any change in the grade or top soil around existing trees can have a marked effect on their survival and future growth.

One problem encountered is when the grade or level of the soil around trees is lower. This exposes the existing roots to the air and reduces the supply of nutrients and moisture. Your also damaging the most important part of the root system, the outer edge. This is where the root hairs are and most of the nutrients and moisture intake happens.

Another problem is when you add soil or raise the grade level. When fill of any type is placed over the existing root system, it causes a reduction in the oxygen supply to the tree roots and slows down the rate of gas exchange between the roots and the air in the soil pore space.

Root pruning will cause drought symptoms to occur. Fills made while installing curbs or other masonry structures may cause root pruning. The construction of driveways, patios and other masonry or asphalt structures near or around trees will again interfere with the exchange of gases around root systems and result in root pruning.

If you plan on building a new home or add on to the one you have now, it would be good to remember these problems that may occur. If you have any questions, contact the County Extension Office, (629-1093).

Homemaking Hints

By Janet Thomas

Meals on the run, mid-morning breaks, after-school snacks, TV munching and bedtime snacks. Frequent small meals are replacing the traditional three and consumer surveys confirm Americans are eating more food between meals. Snacking has become part of the American way of life.

Sound familiar? Don't fight it! Just make it your way to eat nutritious snacks. Kick the bad snack habit and BE A SUPER SNACKER!

Snacks are an important source of everyone's daily nutrient and calorie intake. Although habit influences food selection more than health, eating nutritious snacks can be a choice, not a change. Through a state-wide campaign, the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is introducing a BE A SUPER SNACKER! program to promote snacking as a super way of keeping up with good nutrition.

Super snacks are delicious, a snap to fix and super for you - whether you're on a restricted diet or trying to lose weight; whether you're on the go at home or at the office.

Who Needs Super Snacks?

Young children generally are so active that they are constantly burning up energy and calories. They have small appetites and small stomachs so they can't eat enough in one meal. Children need enough energy to last until the next meal and still be able to play, grow and feel well.

Active teen-agers often are too busy to sit down to eat a full meal. Those involved in athletics require an extra large number of calories to meet their energy needs. Super snacks can help balance the meals teenagers miss, as well as supply extra energy.

Older adults often feel more comfortable when they eat several small meals. Overweight people may find they can better control appetite when they eat five or six small meals a day to keep from getting too hungry and "pigging out" at the next meal. Underweight persons, on the other hand, sometimes have trouble eating a large meal and can eat more if the food they need is spread out with snacks between meals.

People in poor health, particularly those who have an ulcer or gastric intestinal problems, generally respond better to treatment when they eat several small meals during the day.

This week I am featuring a wonderful super snack recipe which is very high in nutrition and low in calories. This will make a great snack for the family.

ORANGE BRAN COOKIES

Mix and sift together:
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

ADD:

1 cup bran flakes
1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
1 egg
1 teaspoon grated orange peel

1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
Artificial sweetener (equal to 2 cups sugar)

2 Tablespoons unsweetened orange juice

Mix until well-blended. Form into 2 rolls, 1-1/4 inches in diameter; wrap in foil. Chill in refrigerator overnight or several hours. Slice thin. Place on greased baking sheets. Bake at 400 degrees for 8 to 12 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

The location is in a 475-acre lease in the T&PRR Survey, A-1906. Bottomed at 4,717 feet, the well will produce from perforations 3,867 to 3,935 feet into the hole.

Producing 4,271,000 CF of gas per day, the No. 41C M.H. McMurry "C" was completed successfully in the Dalton Field by M.O. Rife Jr. of Fort Worth.

Drillrite is six miles north of Palo Pinto. It was drilled to 4,210-ft. total depth and will produce from an interval 4,118 to 4,124 feet into the wellbore. Production tests were run on a 1.5 choke, and absolute open flow was estimated at 6,000,000 CFDP.

The location is in a 1,970-acre lease in Palo Pinto County's L.B. Dayton Survey, A-133.

Walter Exploration Inc. of Dallas has filed first production figures on a new gas well in the Palo Pinto County Regular Field. The No. 1 Johnson showed potential to make 616,000 CF of gas per day on a 1 1/2-inch choke. Absolute open flow was estimated at 750,000 CFDP.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

Texas summers are notorious for extremes in temperature, and we can be assured we will have a repeat performance this summer.

Most folks can tolerate the heat but some, whose bodies cannot adjust, are subject to heat exhaustion and heat strokes. This may happen to young or old and is not a respecter of persons.

Heat stroke is more severe than heat exhaustion because our body temperature zooms up because the body is unable to cool itself.

You may recognize a heat stroke by feeling of being too warm. The skin will be hot, dry and flushed. Weakness, nausea, dizziness and rapid pulse are other symptoms.

In extreme cases the body temperature goes to 105 degrees, or higher, and the victim loses consciousness, experiences brain damage or even die. How can you help victims of heat strokes or heat exhaustion? 1. Remove from the sun or heated area as soon as possible. 2. Apply cold compresses or give a cool bath. 3. Make attempts, with a fan or cooler, to lower the temperature. 4. Contact the doctor for advice.

How can you help yourself to prevent a heat stroke or heat exhaustion? Use a bit of common sense and you'll probably do all right. If your body says, "Cool it!" do it!

Programs for the week were Janet Thomas, County Extension Agent, presented a nutrition program entitled "Help Your Heart Eating Plan." Rev. and Mrs. W.E. Hallenbeck, Steve Wilson sang with Mrs. O.T. Killion accompanying on the piano. Everyone enjoyed the lovely singing. Dinner music was provided by Leah Brown, Anna Dytzel and Vida Killion. The choir sang with Billie Wood accompanying. We appreciate all the talented volunteers that make our programs a big success.

The menus for the week are as follows:
Monday--meat loaf, blackeyed peas, spinach, sliced peaches, bread, butter and drink.
Wednesday--braised beef tips w/gravy, rice, peas and carrots, orange whip, bread, butter and drink.
Friday--vegetable beef soup, raw vegetable salad w/dressing, cream pudding w/banana and cookie, cornbread, butter and drink.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Most of the strife in today's world is the result of discontent because of what we don't have, and disenchantment with what we do have. This is not a new thing to man.

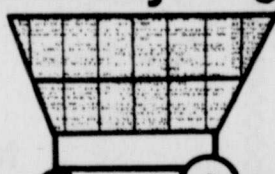

1900 years ago there lived a man who had everything, but was not content. Saul of Tarsus came from a wealthy family. He had friends, education, prestige and position. He was a success. But Saul, like the rest of us, was made in God's image and could not find permanent satisfaction in any of these things. He owned much; he had nothing. His house in Jerusalem was full of beautiful things, but it was empty. After his conversion he became a preacher, a missionary, and as such he owned nothing. But he had everything. Instead of his former prestige he was now thrown out of nearly every city he preached in. There were few places where he was welcome. He was stoned, imprisoned, beaten and often went hungry.

In spite of all this Saul wrote to one of his churches: "Not that I speak in respect of want, for I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content. I know both how to be abashed and how to abound, how to be full and to suffer need."

A GROUP OF Ciscoans will be in San Antonio Aug. 4-8 to take part in the 11th annual Texas Folklife Festival. Planning to make the trip are the Dr. Ayres Cermins family, the Willis Parkers, Lucy Collier, the Eddie McMillans, Gus Smothers and daughter, Shelly, Bob and Jeanne Rains, the Dr. Allen McGinness family, the Bill McDonalds, the Bobby Smith family and maybe some others.

The Cermins will have a booth to display and sell wooden toys made by son Jon. The other activities by Ciscoans will include a booth to make and sell Rush Lights - candles made with cattails, a booth to make hoe cakes and other items. The Cisco group's projects will be similar to those that attracted considerable attention at the recent Cisco Folklife Festival. We're commissioning Shelly Smothers to be our scout at the San Antonio festival and to prepare a full report of the activities of Ciscoans there for The Press.

OUT EAST ON the old Highway 80, the E.W. Rusts are building themselves a new house. It's going up in the place where their Rust Processing Plant was located before operations moved into the new plant across the highway.

Plans call for the new Rust home, which will be a nice two story dwelling, to be completed by October 1. And the present Rust residence, located nearby, will be the home of their daughter and family, David and Elaine Johnson and a daughter Brandy, 3. Mr. Johnson is employed here by United Energex (EnRe).

Business never was better at the Rust Processing Center, we were told.

THE DALLAS Morning News for July 25th printed a very interesting travel article by Alye Terrell of Cisco. It tells about a visit to Death Valley in California, including a tour of Scotty's famous castle. You'll find it reprinted elsewhere in The Press.

The Press received compliments on the recent article that Mrs. Sutton Crofts of our town wrote about their tour of Alaska. Travel articles are always welcome in the columns of The Press. People appreciate you sharing your experiences and vacations with them. (Understand the Crofts are planning a trip in their travel trailer to meet some of their children in Colorado. Maybe Mrs. Crofts will report from there.)

MR. BENNY PIPpen, who moved back to Cisco sometime ago and now lives at Lake Cisco, has taken over the pro shop at the Cisco Country Club.

His entry into business was marred somewhat last Monday night when thieves broke into the shop. They looted two coin drink machines, took all candy, a pair of binoculars, some golf gloves and a few golf clubs. The loss was figured at about $150.

The same thieves broke into Lucy Collier's golf cart shed. Her golf bag was without a putter.

The sheriff's department was conducting an investigation and expected to pick up a suspect Thursday or Friday.

CJC JOURNALISM Prof Bill Roberts is a student these days -- taking a graduate school course at ACU in Abilene. Eastland County Sheriff Johnny Morren attended the convention of the state sheriff's association over in Abilene this past few days. Dr. C.M. Cleveland is the head cook out at their house these days. His wife Josephine left last week for a 20-day mission trip that will include stops in Taiwan, Hong Kong and the Philippines. She is a member of a missionary team.

CISCO's BOY Scout group was due home this weekend from Philmont, New Mexico, and a 12-day 50-mile hike in the mountains. Their plans called for being back home Thursday night or Friday. Making the trip were Scoutmaster Lloyd McGrew, Methodist Pastor David Adkins, Clyde Fisher, Glen and Dusty Deitiker, Harold Roan, Patrick Qualls, Todd Hopson and Steve Wheeler. We hope to have a full report on the trials and tribulations of a 50-mile, 12-day stroll through the mountains. Bet it was an interesting and rewarding experience.

SENIOR FOLKS, particularly widows, need to be especially careful about dealing with strangers. A city official called our attention to this the other day. He told us this story:

Two widows were approached at their home by folks who had some buckets of material to repair roofs. There was a leak in the house and the ladies told them to go ahead and fix it. When it was over, the fixers came in to collect - said they'd used 11 buckets and that would be a little over $400. A bit confused, perhaps, the ladies got out their money and when the fixers saw they had a bit over the figure they quoted, they hastened to add that labor and another item or two would hike the cost to around $600. The fixers left the widows with empty purses.

It was too bad that they had no auto license number or real means of tracing the crooks. Our city friend suggests that before you deal with a stranger, you should check his credentials very thoroughly or call police.

SAW AN AUTO bumper sticker the other day that said only "bumper sticker." Unusual, huh? Mrs. Marie Brock has been the secretary over at the East Cisco Baptist Church for 20 years. Frank Young, the city utilities superintendent, is the only cigarette smoker we know who rolls his own.

We were all set to help a lady we know find her wedding ring. It disappeared and she retraced her steps to Eastland and around town in Cisco only to find the ring buried in a living room rug. We told her that if she'd make some fresh pecan ice cream we'd try to keep her name out of the papers.

RAMONA'S Mexican Food Restaurant, which is located near the Gulf Service Station on IH-20 just south of Eastland, was back open last Monday after being closed while everybody had a vacation. Ramona, Pat and Maggie of the restaurant went to Hawaii and enjoyed touring several islands for 10 days or so. Understand that Maggie, the head waitress, reported to work in a grass skirt last Monday night.

POLICE CHIEF Raymond Blevins suggests that you take your keys out of your car when you park and that you lock the doors. Several folks have missed items from their unlocked cars lately, the chief reported.

City Manager Mike Moore tells us that UPI, the national news organization, has been in touch with him in a feature story they are working on regarding oil wells that Don Hanvey Company of Dallas has been drilling on city land. Three-Way Constructors, Inc., has leased the service station building on Hilton Avenue just south of Thornton Feed Mill. Understand they have a contract to build a 12-inch pipeline for Mobil from the Nimrod area to down near DelEon.
