

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERBELL HALLMARK

SOME INTERESTING and amusing articles were brought by the office early this week and they are being reprinted here for your enjoyment.

THE FIRST, a poem, was brought in by Mrs. Charles Cannistraci and she said she does not know its author. It is a timely article since school will begin next Monday in Cisco. The poem is as follows: LORD, TAKE MY SON BY THE HAND

My son starts school tomorrow.

It's going to be strange and new to him for awhile.

And I wish you would sort of treat him gently.

You see, up to now, he's been King of the roost.

He's been boss of the backyard. I have always been around to repair his wounds, and to soothe his feelings.

But now, things are going to be different.

This morning, he's going to walk down the front steps, wave his hand, and start on his great adventure that will probably include wars and tragedy and sorrow.

To live his life in the world he has to live in will require faith and love and courage.

So, world, I wish you would sort of take him by his young hand and teach him the things he will have to know.

T'ach him... but gently, if you can.

He will have to learn, I know, that all men are not just, that all men are not true.

Teach him that for every scoundrel there is a hero - that for every crooked politician there is a dedicated leader - that for every enemy there is a friend.

Let him learn early that the bullies are the easiest people to lick.

Teach him the wonders of books. Give him quiet time to ponder the eternal mystery of birds in the sky, bees in the sun, and flowers on the green hill.

Teach him that it is far more honorable to fail than to cheat. Teach him to have faith in his ideas, even if everyone else tells him they are wrong.

Try to give my son the strength not to follow the crowd when everyone else is getting on the bandwagon.

Teach him to listen to all men, but to filter all he hears on a screen of truth and to take only the good that comes through.

Teach him to sell his brawn and brains to the highest bidder, but never to put a price on his heart and soul.

Teach him to close his ears on a howling mob - and to stand and fight if he thinks he's right.

Teach him gently world, but don't spare him, because only the test of fire makes fine steel.

THE OTHER article submitted was a story which identifies with present times. The article may be found in the Redeemer Lutheran Church bulletin for this week. It was given to us by Rev. Dell Crockett. It is as follows:

"THE LITTLE RED HEN"

Once upon a time, there was a little red hen who scratched about the barnyard till she uncovered some grains of wheat. She called to her neighbors and said, "If we plant this wheat, we shall have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?"

"Not I," said the cow. "Not I," said the duck. "Not me," said the pig. "No way," said the goose.

"Well, then," said the little red hen. "I will." And she did, and the wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain.

"Well, now, who will help me reap the wheat?" asked the little red hen. The cow said, "You ain't going to milk any work out of me. That's udder discrimination."

And the duck said, "Listen, turkey! Physical labor is not my thing. Besides, I'm liable to lose my unemployment compensation."

And the pig grunted, "Sorry! But union regulations specifically say that pigs in our union can't reap any wheat. We can wallow in it; we can root in it; we can eat it; but we can't reap it."

And the goose said, "Hey, dude! If they ain't workin', I ain't workin'." My mama didn't raise no fool!"

At last, time came to bake the bread. "Who will help me bake the bread?" asked the little red hen.

The cow said, "That would be overtime." The pig said, "The four little pigs in my union are doing a bake-in. So we'll want 35% cost-of-living increase, heated sanitation mud puddles, buffet-style slop lines, and during lunch hours we want to watch technicolor Porky Pig cartoons!"

The goose said, "Pay attention, fool! I ain't reapin', I ain't bakin'. The only thing I'm going to plant is my foot on your feathered posterior."

And the duck said, "If you think I'm going to ruffle my feathers baking your bread, you've got another thought coming."

Well, then, I will," said the little red hen. And she did. She baked five loaves of bread and held them up for the neighbors to see, and they all wanted some. In fact, they demanded their equal share. But the little red hen said, "I can eat them myself."

The cow said, "Excess profits!"

The pig cried, "Hey, you capitalist pig!"

The goose honked, "Chicken, I'm reporting you to the feds and Colonel Sanders!"

And the duck whined, "You money-grubbing savage! You foul racist!"

Finally, the government agent arrived. And he said to the little red hen, "Now, now, you musn't be greedy. You must be willing to share your profits with those who are unwilling to work. You must help out the unemployed, the uneducated, the uncommon, the under-developed, the unnecessary, the unjust, the unwilling, the unsportsmanlike, the unsocials, the unsightly, the unreasonable, the unthankful, and the Uncola."

And so, the bread was given out equally to all the unpersons; and, everyone in the barnyard never understood why the little red hen never baked bread again!

Cisco Noon Lions Club Will Lead 1982 Fall Bike-A-Thon

Wheels are turning to help save children's lives...St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is proud to announce that Cisco Noon Lions Club has been named to lead the 1982 Fall BIKE-ATHON in Cisco.

In making the announcement, Clifford Damstrom, St. Jude Director for the Southwest Region, stated that "We are proud to find such dedicated people for this very important job."

"St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research center in the United States, and it is the first research center dedicated exclusively to the research and conquest of catastrophic diseases of children diagnosed with acute lymphocytic leukemia was less than 5%. Today, the disease free survival figure for children has grown to over 50%. Cancer Treatment procedures that originated at St. Jude are now being used to treat children throughout the United States and in other parts of the world. Such progress has brought world-wide acclaim to St. Jude."

With the wheels turning in this Bike-A-Thon, you will be making it possible for these children to have a chance to live! You will make it possible for daily treatments to continue. Danny Thomas, who founded St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital because of a vow, stated its purpose clearly: "To wipe catastrophic diseases of children from the face of the Earth."

"Since Thomas opened the research center in 1962, his dream of conquering cancer and other diseases that destroy our children has been brought closer to reality," stated Damstrom. "Thomas is still extremely active in pursuing this goal, and he inspires all of us in this cause."

Testimony In LeFlore Trial Will Probably Begin Later In Week

Testimony isn't expected to begin in the capital murder trial of Charles LeFlore in 91st District Court until late in the week - if then.

The trial got underway

Bobby Ingram Is Named Local Chairperson For Cystic Fibrosis

Mr. Bobby Ingram has been named Chairperson of the Fall Breath of Life Campaign for Cystic Fibrosis in the City of Cisco. The announcement was made by the North-East Texas Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Cystic Fibrosis (CF) is a chronic, fatal disease - the number one genetic killer of young people in the United States. It primarily attacks the lungs and the digestive system by producing an abnormal accumulation of mucus which interferes with breathing and with the body's absorption of food.

When a child is born with CF, chances are the disease will not be immediately detected. Often called "the great masquerader", cystic fibrosis mimics other lung and digestive problems, so as many as 40 to 50 percent of the individuals with CF are not diagnosed or sometimes misdiagnosed.

Monday when some 400 citizens were called as prospective jurors, and that number was whittled down to 118 (through excuses, sickness and/or other causes), and Presiding

Judge Jim Wright ordered the remainder to be grouped into 25s to report on succeeding days for questioning.

Interviewing of prospective jurors was going slow; one side finished with one citizen by about 10:00 a.m., haming started at 9:00.

Each prospective juror was being interviewed individually and separate from the other prospective jurors, so it's likely to take a long time to seat a jury.

LeFlore, 20, a Cisco oil field worker, was first indicted in January for the shooting death of convenience store worker Debra Garcia. The woman disappeared Nov. 29 from Quickway Grocery, where she worked, and her body was found in a roadside ditch two days later.

The 91st District Court Grand Jury later re-indicted LeFlore on capital murder charges, for which he is being tried. The re-indictment was seen as an attempt to have LeFlore's statement admitted as evidence. It had been earlier been refused as evidence by Judge Wright, and he ruled a second time that it could not be entered because of defense testimony given regarding the taking of the statement, at the first motion to consider the statement.

Don L. Wilson is defense attorney and prosecutors are

District Attorney Emory Walton and Eastland Attorney Bill B. Hart, who has been named a special prosecutor in the case.

Capital murder carries a maximum penalty of death by injection, while life in prison is the maximum punishment for a murder conviction. Law enforcement officials and attorneys connected with the case are prohibited by a "gag" order from discussing the case.

Suposition was that "new evidence" may have brought about the re-indictment, but after Judge Wright ruled against admission of the statement, it was assumed that there had not been new evidence in the case.

Under state law it would appear that LeFlore could have been indicted on the capital murder charge the first time around in the death occurred in connection with the commission of another crime.

Prospective Jurors Called For Friday

A list of prospective grand jurors has been called to report for possible service in 91st District Court Friday, it has been learned.

Paul Hobby will campaign in Eastland Wednesday

Paul W. Hobby, son of Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Bill Hobby, will visit Eastland on Wednesday, August 25, on a campaign tour for his father. He will be at the Eastland Telegram at 3:00 p.m.

Hobby, 21, said he plans to travel across the state this summer and fall campaigning for his father's reelection bid. A recent graduate of the University of Virginia, Hobby said that Texas will need the experience and leadership of Lieutenant Governor Hobby to face the unparalleled growth that is expected to continue throughout the 1980s.

"The lieutenant governor sits at the head of the budgeting process and only his strong guidance can guarantee fiscal responsibility in state government," Hobby said. "That fiscal responsibility, however, has not made Bill Hobby unresponsive to the varied needs within our state."

The younger Hobby said that education and highway reforms initiated by his father have readied Texas for the challenge of the years ahead. In addition, during his ten years in office, Lieutenant Governor Hobby has preserved and enhanced the state's capacity to attract investment that has spawned a rate of growth unparalleled in the nation, he said.

"Texas has maintained a fiscally sound state government throughout the 1970s in spite of experiencing some of the most explosive population growth in the nation," Hobby said. "The fact is that growth of state government has been kept within reasonable bounds by Bill Hobby's affirmative policy of fiscal responsibility."

With a background of experience in newspaper and broadcast media, Paul plans to explore work in other areas of communication, particularly media affairs. He will attend the University of Texas School of Law in the fall of 1983.

He was graduated from the University of Virginia in Charlottesville this spring with a Bachelor of Arts in history. He played linebacker on the university's varsity football team for three years and was president of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity during his senior year.

Littles pick up stolen remains in Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Little of Olden, who had all their household furnishings and a U-Haul truck stolen as they moved from Tyler recently, have not been able to recover their belongings.

As reported in a previous news story, the only thing found in the truck - abandoned near the Mexican border at Zapata - was a filing cabinet with some papers.

No trace has been found of the other things, which included furnishings and personal belongings for a three bedroom home. It is believed that the furnishings were carried into Mexico and dispersed there.

The Littles have gone to Zapata to pick up the cabinet and papers.

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES

Myrtle Wilks - A Window On The World

by Viola Payne
The studio of artist Myrtle (Mrs. Voy) Wilks, in her farm home south of Cisco, attracts a number of visitors. First they cross the spacious yard around the brick house, into a comfortable living room. They stop to admire favorite paintings—a landscape, with clear water tumbling into a blue-green pool, a portrait of husband Voy Wilks, and paintings of the five grown-up Wilks children. These pictures are all prize winners, like so many others of Myrtle Wilks.

The artist, pleasant and soft voiced, leads across her kitchen to a narrow room with shelves of canned goods. Home canned things in glass jars, with the same jewel-tones of the Wilks paintings.

Finally comes the studio—a room with large windows opening to green lawns and pecan trees. It's a magnetic spot—a room which almost seems like an extension of the outdoors. Mrs. Wilks says it is a "dream come true"—a place to plan and study and work.

The paintings, too, lined along the walls and on easels, are like open windows on a world captured by Myrtle Wilks. There are a few Central Texas scenes, showing bluebonnets, oaks with fresh leaves, and still ponds. But most of her paintings depict a land far to the northwest—silhouettes of mountains and trees, and inland bodies of water. Gurgling streams, splashing brooks, a melting glacier, waterfalls, and lakes which mirror the sky.

The colors of aure, turquoise, blues and greens predominate, with flashes of gold, apricot, or rose. There are few mechanical things in the pictures. Just a lone windmill, a rowboat, a homestead covered with snow. This is serenity transcribed and bordered with canvas.

But Myrtle Wilks paints much more than landscapes. She works in various mediums—oils, pastels, watercolors, acrylics, pen and ink. The pictures in the studio reflect only a portion of her output, for many paintings have already sold. She has painted a number of portraits, which she says is actually her favorite type of work. She has drawn persons of all ages, and has plans to draw all her 15 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

She points to a portrait in an easel—a blonde girl with Anglo-Saxon features. Symmetrical and lovely-cool blue eyes and shining hair. "Every face is a challenge. I like to get acquainted with a person, be with them long enough to get an impression of their personality. I work with a photograph as reference, but like to have one good sitting, sometimes as many as three."

How she conveys this impression from the brain to the hand to the canvas is a process which seems to defy analysis.

On the technical side of art, however, Myrtle Wilks points to some fine teachers who have assisted her. She has studied under Sue Millinax of Cisco Junior College, Phyllis Sanders of Seymour, Robert Miller of McMurry College, John Birdsong of Canyon, and Naomi Brotherton of Dallas.

During recent years Mrs. Wilks has entered in many art shows, and carried away prizes from almost every one. These have included exhibits in Cisco, Eastland, Abilene, Graham, Snyder, and Cross Plains. Prizes have consisted of cash awards and ribbons, enough to cover a whole side of the studio.

Mrs. Wilks has won popular awards, such as the "Best Of The Show" decided on by public vote. She has also had a one-person show in Throckmorton, an exhibit at the Chamber of Commerce Bldg. in Eastland.

and has been featured three times as "Artist For The Month" at the Maner Learning Center at Cisco Junior College.

Myrtle Wilks has lived in this area about 30 years, but her early life was spent in other places. She was born in Oklahoma, but lived in Arkansas, New Mexico and various parts of Texas before coming here.

She remembers trying to paint when she was a child, and feeling more love for crayons and their colors than any other part of school. Once she spent her school-paper money on crayons and then she had nothing to paint on. So she spent the whole day painting her crayon box.

Most of her longing for art was unsatisfied, for there were few supplies and no studios available. So she simply sketched things using her own ideas. Her first real painting was a dramatic landscape done with water colors.

While living in De Leon, Myrtle met Voy Wilks, a young man who lived in Dublin. They were married during wartime, World War II, and six weeks later Wilks left for the Army. It was more than two years later before the war was over and he could return home.

After the war Voy Wilks worked around Carbon, and then Cisco. In 1953 the Wilks bought a farm in the Nimrod community, an area with gently rolling landscapes. Myrtle was "sold" on this land when she saw a beautiful grove of pines at a home adjoining the property.

When they moved to their farm the Wilks first lived in what they call a "goat shed". But soon they began to construct their brick home, working in slow stages.

"Very slow stages," laughs Myrtle.

As he built this house Voy Wilks found bricklaying so interesting that he was encouraged to learn more about the construction business. After that he became a full-time bricklayer.

Those early years on the farm were busy ones. The Wilks had five children, who grew up there.

They are: Alva (Nelms), Cisco; Beth (Maynard), Rising Star; Ruth (York), Cisco; Farris, Cisco; and Dan, who lives at Lake Leon. The younger Wilks are now in various businesses and professions.

Along with house building and other activities, the Wilks led out with the local Seventh-day Church of God. The Church had a number of community projects, such as furnishing programs and music for Nursing Homes. The Wilks also established a large Church library, with books on such subjects as Creation vs. Evolution.

By 1960, with her children older, Myrtle Wilks had more time and energy for painting. She became a Charter Member of the Cisco Art Club—a group which made numerous contributions to art in this area. She recalls some other Charter Members who encouraged her: Mr. and Mrs. Macie Hyatt, Marjorie Reaves, Winifred Pippin, and Helen Crawford.

Mrs. Wilks served for a time as Secretary and President of the group. She also worked on committees, assisting with exhibits, workshops, and programs. Those were happy and rewarding years, with interest being shown in her paintings. She took time out to study with good teachers and travel to scenic areas.

After about 18 years the Cisco Club no longer held regular meetings. But Myrtle Wilks had won a lot of public recognition by this time, and continued to paint at a rapid pace.

Sometimes artists must struggle through all sorts of difficulties, even discouragement from their families. Not so with Myrtle Wilks, her family has always been appreciative of her paintings. Voy Wilks was instrumental in finishing the studio, and enjoys all the art work done there. Sometimes he suggests things for his wife to paint, and assists her in displaying work at various places. He has also saved clippings and accounts of honors given Mrs. Wilks.

Myrtle Wilks' plans for the future include putting in as many hours as possible in her studio. She is looking forward to studying for two weeks in Ruidoso, New Mexico under nationally known artist Albert Handell. This late-summer course will deal with portraiture and pastel work.

"I want to go into more portrait work, water colors, and the pastel medium," states Mrs. Wilks. She explains that the word "pastel" does not adequately describe the bibid shades now available in this medium.

At this time some of Myrtle Wilks paintings can be seen at Central Mud Co., Interiors Unlimited, and Central Masonry in Cisco.

At these businesses, just as in an art show, it is interesting to watch the effect the Wilks paintings have on people who see them. The observer usually lingers and looks intently at the painting, as if he has discovered something. Perhaps it is a long-lost dream of tranquility.

This indicates that the artist has been able to fully use the mechanics of technique, and thought has become form and substance.

Rebekah Sunday School Class Holds Meeting

The Rebekah Sunday School class of the East Cisco Baptist Church held its regular quarterly social on Monday, July 19, at the Educational Building of the Church. The meeting was a salad supper and business meeting combined. Four members were promoted to another class and their offices had to be filled.

The class joined hands in a circle of love and repeated the watchword (Philippians 4:13). Then Mrs. Leona Morton opened the meeting with a prayer.

The devotional, presented by Mrs. Jewel Kinard, was about strength. She read a short story illustrating that a broken piece welded together again is even stronger than in its original form. She gave a short version of Psalm 46:1-3. Philippians 4:13 was used to illustrate strength to forgive when forgiveness seems impossible.

The hostesses were Mrs. Bonnie Ervin, Mrs. Marie Ivie and Mrs. Jewel Kinard. The meal, besides salads, included desserts, mints, nuts, coffee and tea.

After the meal was finished, Mrs. Bonnie Ervin presided at the business meeting that followed.

The officers elected were Mrs. Marie Ivie, teacher, Mrs. Omalee Holdridge, president, Mrs. Bonnie Ervin, vice president, Mrs. Frances Pence, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Leona Morton, sunshine girl and assistant secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jean Posey, activities chairman, Mrs. Jewel Kinard, reporter, Mrs. Christine Moran, leader group I, M.s. Clara Hallmark, leader group II, Mrs. Dessie Covington, leader group III.

The class voted to dedicate the class yearbook to: Mrs. Lois Holt, Mrs. Chrystine Nance, Mrs. Louise Pryor and Mrs. Dorothy Wright, they are sisters in Christ, they were promoted to the Mary Martha class.

A class project was decided on, but some materials have to be located before it can be started. Also some suggestions were made for the class Christmas project, but nothing was decided on for sure.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs. Marie Ivie, teacher.

Those attending besides the hostesses were Mrs. Leona Morton and Mrs. Clara Hallmark.

Alma Dunning Returns From California Trip

Mrs. Alma Dunning recently returned from an eight-day trip to California. Others, who also made the trip, were her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stroebel from Rising Star; and their daughters and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roy from Seguin, Texas.

They visited their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stroebel in Montebello, Calif. They boarded a jet in Dallas and rented a Hertz car in Los Angeles and traveled to other parts of Calif.

From Los Angeles, they enjoyed sights at Knotts Berry Farm, Long Beach, Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks. They saw the Sherman Tree which measures 102.6 feet in circumference and 36 and 1/2 feet in diameter and is several thousand years old. They drove through Travis Air Force Base and spent a night in Fresno.

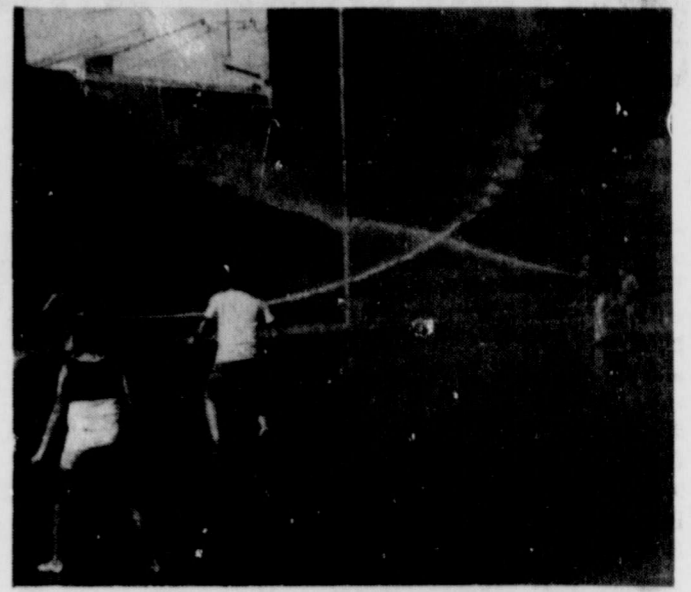

The greatest thrill was crossing the San Francisco Golden Gate Bridge. In San Francisco, they enjoyed the beautiful parks, China Town, the Cable Cars, Fisherman's Wharf, quaint Victorian Homes, made the 17-mile drive and saw Alcatraz from a distance.

They traveled the Pacific Ocean Route back through Pasadena to Montebello. This route was very beautiful and interesting. They boarded an L. 10-11 jet back to Dallas on a clear day enjoying the sights below from 33,000 feet over Phoenix, Arizona.

It was Mrs. Dunning's and the Stroebel's first plane ride.

FREE EDUCATION AND THE UNDOCUMENTED WORKER

On June 15, 1982, The Supreme Court ruled, 5-4, that Texas and other states must provide free public education for the children of undocumented workers—people in this country illegally.

Our current Lt. Governor, Mr. Hobby, was happy with the decision, praising it as the "only rational decision" the court could have made.

On the contrary, I think it was a wrong decision that defied both law and logic.

One of the principal underpinnings of an orderly society is that one should not benefit from breaking the law. All around the world, thousands of people stand patiently in line at our embassies, waiting for legal entry into this country. By its recent ruling, the Supreme Court told these people that, if they are smart, they will ignore our immigration laws, find some other way to enter, and then there's a good likelihood all manner of taxpayer-supported benefits will be open to them and their families.

We can all feel sympathy for people driven to emigrate by desperate economic conditions. And I believe we should be compassionate toward the children of undocumented workers who are here through no fault of their own. We have been told we must educate these children and we will; it is our duty.

But I am deeply concerned about the effect this will have on our school systems and the quality of education. We have only a certain amount of desks and dollars with which to address the problems of educating Texas' children.

The court was essentially establishing social policy under the guise of ruling on a constitutional question. The result was bad law and bad social policy. It should now be up to the Federal Government to help pay for the mess they have created by not properly policing our borders.

Letter to the President

Sure you don't need any advise but you certainly know that the budget has to be balanced, so that other people can borrow operating capital with a much lower rate of interest and so that the economy can get back on the right track.

Why not put it up to congress to cut the overhead by ten percent or whatever it takes to balance the budget and go on TV asking the people to get after their congressmen to get the job done. Both the conservative democrats and the republicans would certainly get behind you. Maybe even some of the liberal democrats would back this plan. This would be exactly what a businessman would have to do to keep his head above water and when you get right down to it, that is what the government has to do also, no other choice whatsoever.

You know, Washington is where the fat is and it doesn't make sense to cut social security where someone is getting three of four hundred dollars per month instead of someone making three or four thousand a month.

Most of all government projects could be cut by more than ten percent of it allocations and things would go on about the same. So if you don't have the money to keep things going at the present pace, cut it down to where you can.

We can't wait until another hundred billion is added to the indebtiness, which we will do this fiscal year.

We know that the democrats (bollweeels excepted) are going to give up hard, but the people are certainly tired of all the money being thrown away without even balancing the budget.

Remember, we are back of you.

WHAT IS A WEED?
A weed is any unwanted plant. Therefore, a weed could be a rose in your tomato patch. But that's not our typical notion of a weed. Conventional wisdom holds that a weed grows so fast and in such profusion that it crowds out a desired plant, crop or lawn. But weeds are not always what they seem. Some are beautiful-like orange day lilies, and daisies and purple thistles. And all types of weeds are used in fresh and dried floral arrangements. Often what one person considers a weed is a welcome addition to another's garden. Many homeowners delight in the morning glory and its bloom. But the same morning glory is nothing but trouble for the farmer who calls it bindweed. And the crabgrass that drives every homeowner crazy is often used by strawberry growers, instead of hay, to mulch between rows. There is agreement on one point, though, and that is that weeds grow and develop at a much faster rate than do many cultivated plants. Weeds reach soil moisture faster and cut out valuable sunlight for cultivated plants—thereby crowding out wanted plants. Lawn weeds are especially troublesome to homeowners. A thick, healthy turf is the best way to prevent lawn weeds. Weeds, like every other plant, need moisture and nutrients to survive. If they can't find a place to take hold, they will not survive. Regular mowing, water, proper fertilization and pest management will keep your lawn in tip top shape so weeds won't stand a chance. But even the healthiest and best cared for lawns have spot weed problems. Some weeds can be controlled during July and August but because grass grows at a slower rate during these hot months, bare spots left by dying weeds will most likely be filled by new summer annual weeds—such as crabgrass—rather than grass. These summer, annual weeds are even tougher to get rid of, and some, there is no control. It is best to wait for cooler fall weather to attack big weed problems. If weeds are a scattered problem, try spot treatment now. The following are listed as patients in the Ranger General Hospital:

COWBOYS
By Richard
Even though the players were sluggish from the heat, the Dallas Cowboys first exhibition game with Buffalo was exciting. We had the game won, then lost it on turnovers, said Cowboy Coach Tom Landry, who was more interested in looking over his young players. Although the Cowboys didn't seem to play well, only two rookies were cut, a punter named Jeff Pierce and a linebacker from Morehead State. A new feature this year is a four player taxi squad which will allow the teams to keep four more players under contract for replacing players lost to injuries. Fullback Tim Newsome is shifting to tailback where Landry says that he believes he will play better and contribute more. Players looking good in the Buffalo game include Mike Downs, James Jones, Gary Hogeboom, Phil Pozderac, George Peoples, and Rod Hill. Danny Spradlin has also looked good but was sick from the heat. A passing attack is perfected quicker than a running game and next Saturday night's foe San Diego is expected to pass a lot. According to Cowboy President Tex Schramm, Coach Landry would especially like to keep an eye on the performances of Dwight Sullivan, Bill Purifoy, Don Smerek, Ron Spears, Jeff Rohrer, Rod Hill, Brian Carpenter, George Peoples, and Phil Pozderac. The exhibition games Dallas plays are all at 8 p.m.

Cole Recognized

Charles Edward Cole, 504 Avenue I, Cisco, was recognized among 1,081 honor students in engineering for the 1982 spring semester by Dean Earnest F. Gloyne of the College of Engineering at The University of Texas at Austin.

To achieve the engineering honor roll, a student must have maintained at least a 12-hour course load throughout the semester, passing all courses with a minimum grade-point average of 3.25. Total grade points are calculated by multiplying course hours by the value of each grade (A equals 4 points).

Putnam News

By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

The weather report is just a broken record. Hot and dry, hot and dry; and here August is 1/2 gone. Maybe when September gets here we will have a change.

Farmers are harvesting hay and what a hay crop there seems to be. I don't think stock will lack roughage this winter.

Gardens are about gone, so about all we have to look forward to is the pecans. Hope we have a good crop of them.

Mrs. Chris Sunderman came from Fort Worth Thursday to visit her aunt, Mrs. Ruie Sunderman, at the Golden Holiday Nursing Home at Baird. She brought word of the death of Mrs. Sunderman's brother, Mr. Jake Hurds at Waveloud, Mississippi. Mr. Jake lived with his sister a lot and has many friends in the Putnam area. Mr. Hurd was 86 years old. He leaves the one sister, Mrs. Sunderman; one son, John Hurds of Waveloud; and one daughter in North Carolina; and five grandchildren. Our deepest sympathy goes to Mrs. Sunderman and the rest of the family.

Mrs. Ida Mae Waddell and Mrs. R.B. Taylor attended graveside rites at Scranton Thursday for Mr. Jim Simmons of Cisco. Mr. Simmons was well-known in the Putnam area.

Mr. and Mrs. I.G. Mobley entertained most members of the Green family Sunday, honoring Mrs. Julia Green from Phoenix, Ariz., grandmother of Ray and Hall Green. Mrs. Green celebrated her 80th birthday while here.

Ronald Green has spent the week with his brother, Buford, and wife at Perryton.

Visiting Maxie Salomon this past week have been her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Taylor and daughter Glenna of Mineral Wells; her son, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Salomon and family of Houston. Glena Taylor, Sheila and Shannon Salomon spent all week with their grandmother.

Billy Wagley and children, Morrison, Sandy and La Lena, spent two days at Six Flags last week. They report a most delightful time.

Anita Buchannan hosted an art show at the Community Center last Friday evening.

Ida Mae Waddell and Ruby Weathermon hosted a Tupperware party at the Community Center Tuesday afternoon.

Charla Brown of Fort Worth spent the past week with her grandmother, Ollie Burnam.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Nettles and family of Henrietta, Oklahoma, are visiting his parents the Benny Nettles.

THANK YOU
Ray and Judy Maxwell and James and Dixie Parton of Cisco wish to express their heartfelt thanks to the people of Putnam for the many kindnesses shown them during the illness and death of their mother, Mrs. Irene Maxwell of Cisco. For the food, flowers and the contributions given at the Community Center. You will always hold a special place in their hearts.

your filter can get dirty, clogged, waste energy...

but a clean filter
saves energy, money.

The purpose of a filter on your air conditioning or heating air blower is to help catch dust and dirt before it can enter your unit. In time, the filter will accumulate dust and dirt... if it gets clogged, it can't do the cleaning job it's supposed to and uses more electricity. To avoid damage to your unit and to save energy and money, be sure filters are clean. Permanent types can be cleaned according to the manufacturer's instruction. Non-permanent types should be replaced. It is wise to check filters every 30 days.

THE UPI story about Cisco and the oil wells appeared in newspapers last weekend. In case you haven't seen the article, we quote it as follows:

In the 1920s, Cisco was the heart of a booming oilfield. The town's population swelled to more than 20,000. Young Conrad Hilton operated his first hotel here, a two-story, red-brick building that still stands. Some of the rooms were rented three times a day to oilfield workers toiling around the clock.

But by the 1950s only a few low-volume wells remained among the scrub oak, mesquite and cactus. The oil boom was over. The population had dwindled to about 4,000 people trying to make a living from a largely unproductive, hilly range-land about 50 miles east of Abilene.

"This area was well known to oilmen as a depleted field," Dallas oilman Don Hanvey said. "They said it had low pressure and low volume. Well, they were wrong. It's high pressure and high volume."

Hanvey, who specializes in finding oil others have overlooked, has drilled 13 wells in the Cisco area since January and struck oil or gas in every one.

"The other oilmen call me the Cisco Kid," he said with a grin.

All are relatively shallow free-flowing wells. Hanvey has one pump unit on the scene, but hasn't had to use it.

"We finished this one two weeks ago," engineer Harry Brooks said of the J.B. Boggs Lease Well No. 2. "It was flowing 1,500 barrels a day on a 2-inch opening."

Hanvey sells the oil to J.M. Petroleum Co. in Dallas. In addition, the gas from this well and others will be sold to Enserch, which is building a six-mile pipeline to the area, Hanvey said.

He said drilling and completion costs on the well were about $190,000.

Within a 200-foot radius of the well were two dry holes, heartbreaks of many years ago that helped condemn the area as non-productive. Hanvey has drilling rights on 4,000 acres in Cisco and north of the city.

One well is being drilled at the city airport and two producing wells were sunk in the town dump.

On high ground near the airport a rig was drilling a hole 3,800 feet deep under a 90-foot derrick. Every time the drill went another five feet, Beth Broyles, 22, of Cisco scurried out of a portable laboratory to scoop up a sample of sand and analyze it.

Brooks, the engineer, was confident this well also would strike oil or gas, probably both. "This field was abandoned in 1953," he said.

Cisco City Manager Michael Moore said the city anticipates an annual income from the wells of $150,000 to $200,000, depending on current prices.

Hanvey, 36, admits there has been some luck mixed with a lot of sound research.

"My forte is completing these wells in the right manner," Hanvey said. "We do extensive research. We study and study and study. Plus I'm a little lucky. Just a little bit."

"You drill a well that might be your best prospect, and it turns out to be a dry hole," he said.

After you have read the story, you'll probably join us in the hope that the income figures quoted therein aren't mis-represented. If so, we'll be able to pay for water and sewer systems and pave streets.

Let's keep our fingers crossed.

Josephine and Carolyn Cleveland Return From Crusade

Ms. Cleveland and daughter, Carolyn, returned to Cisco this week after a three week Christian Crusade tour. They joined with team members from the United States and Canada to assist in the Nora Lam International Ministries. The group assembled in Los Angeles International Airport and flew via China Airlines to Taipei, Taiwan.

While in Taipei, they held two children's crusades and three night crusades with approximately one hundred thousand in attendance. Chinese Bibles were given to all who attended.

Ms. Lam is heard each week on Taiwan television and also daily on radio. She conducts the only Christian television ministry allowed in the Republic at the present time.

During the stay in Taiwan, Ms. Lam, accompanied by her husband S.K. Sung, General Robert Huyser USAF and Senator W. Johnson of Oklahoma, was received by the Premier of Taiwan. This year U.S. Four Star General Robert Huyser and wife, Senator W. Johnson of Oklahoma and wife were a part of the team's endeavors.

While in Taiwan, Ms. Cleveland and Carolyn were invited to attend a dinner meeting. Those in attendance at this meeting were Four Star General Wu and Four Star General Lai of the Republic of China; Senator W. Johnson and wife of Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Scotvold, former engineer of the United States Space Program; Samuel H. Howe, vice president of the Gideons International in the Republic of China; and Ms. Cleveland and daughter, Carolyn. Such meetings have served to provide good will between United States and The Free Republic of China.

Nora Lam Sung in her ten years of ministry in the Far East was presented a distinguished commendation from President Reagan for her efforts in promoting good relations between her people and the United States. Ms. Cleveland was given an invitation last fall to attend this presentation, but was unable to attend.

In Manila, crusades were held in the Philippine Plaza Hotel General Ballroom. The group again ministered to capacity crowds. While in Manila, Ms. Lam was granted permission by Melito Geronimo, superintendent of Paaron ng Buhay, the maximum security prison of the Philippines to speak to the prisoners.

General Robert Huyser was asked by the officials to conduct a review of the several thousand prisoners who were placed in formation on a large field in the prison compound. This occasion was the first large assembly of prisoners ever granted permission to meet for a Christian meeting in a maximum security prison.

The prisoners listed attentively to Ms. Lam as she spoke. Over one thousand of the men made a confession of faith in Christ during this meeting.

Ms. Cleveland and four other team members spent one day while in Manila with the Bible School students in the Paaron ng Buhay Prison. Mr. Garcia of Manila began this ministry among the prisoners last year. A Bible School was organized after thirty-one men accepted Christ.

Ms. Cleveland met with this group last year and it was a gracious day of renewing the friendships made with the Bible School students she had met previously. The men who attend this Bible School within the prison walls were given permission by the superintendent to build a small building to carry on their school. Because of the response of the men who heard Ms. Lam it is expected that many will be joining in the activities of the Paaron ng Buhay Bible School.

From Manila the group flew to Hong Kong where they held crusades. In Hong Kong some team members returned to the States, but Ms. Cleveland and daughter remained with other members for a tour into mainland China. The group departed Hong Kong by hydrofoil. After arriving in Macau, completing immigration formalities, they boarded a tour coach to the Chinese frontier of Gongbei.

Again, it was necessary to complete immigration formalities in Gongbei. They proceeded to Cuiheng Village where they visited the birthplace of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, former President of China. The group later visited a fishing village, a Chinese farm and home on a commune.

During their stay in mainland China, the group accompanied everywhere by communist guards, was particularly successful in giving Bibles to the Christians in mainland China. Although the Chinese government opened relations with the United States, they still adhere to their communistic ideology and want no books or outside knowledge of Christianity given to their people in subjection to them. The team completed their tour in Hawaii before returning to the States.

Gratified with the results of the team's efforts, Ms. Cleveland however, sees such a complexity of needs and problems in the countries visited that she feels on the sovereign God will be able to bring a solution to the problems facing our world.

The Bible. It has a lot to offer.
