

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERRI HALLMARK

The following article is from Marietta Fuller of Jeffersonville, In. and I thought it might be of interest:

THE 23RD PSALM IS FOR DAILY LIVING!

The priceless 23rd Psalm is offered at funerals, but is it made a part of our daily living? Do we hear or read it and there it ends? Since it is filled with many blessings, why not take a verse each day and using it as a text, as a sheep, ask for His mercies, thank the Lord, praise Him, fight the devil, pray for self-growth, pray for others, and seek ways to share this portion of the 23rd Psalm with the living. You see, David did not write it as a young shepherd boy; but as an old man whose life reflected the "highs and lows" of life; he wrote this from the school of learning in its lessons to us that I can only touch on a few; however you can pray into the Holy Spirit and He will teach you all things.

"The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." First, we must realize that we are dirty sheep and need to be cleansed. Jesus said, "I lay down my life for the sheep." (Jn. 10:15) When we believe on Him that He died on the cross for sinners who would come to Him for salvation; then we become the sheep of His pasture and can praise and thank Him. We can fight the devil with the words: "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want...for guidance...for comfort...for wisdom, etc., according to how the devil attacks. We know that we can overcome Satan by the words of the Bible and by the forgiveness of our sins. (Rev. 12:11) In the following verses are some of the things we shall not want because WE ARE HIS SHEEP AND FOLLOW HIM by doing what He says to do in His Bible.

"He maketh me to lie down in green pastures, He leadeth me beside the still waters." The good Shepherd comes in with His rod (the Word) and gets rid of the evil things in the pastures such as snakes (the devil) and poison weeds (false doctrine). In these last days, a child of God is in GREAT DANGER if he is not thoroughly acquainted with the Bible; for "wrongly dividing the Word" is present not only in cults but also in well-known churches. There are no turbulent waters of sins of fear, anger, worry, and the like, for our good Shepherd leads in the still waters of love, peace, joy, and the other fruits of the Spirit, and makes life on this earth an abundant one of green pastures.

"He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His Name's sake." As we like sheep go astray (Isa. 53:6), we can be restored from emptiness of life to fellowship as He forgives us and leads us in the paths of right doing.

"Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me." Jesus said, "Lo, I am with you always..." (Mt. 28:20); so even in death we need not fear for we have His rod (Bible) and His staff (Holy Comforter).

"Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over." The Lord's Supper is a special time of commemoration as we look backward to the cross and forward to His coming again, and are completely cleansed so we do not partake unworthily. However, daily in the presence of Satan and his workers, we can eat of His flesh (words of the Bible) and drink of His blood—that wine of exhilaration which comes as He anoints our heads with the oil of the Holy Spirit of love which splashes out onto everyone we meet as our cup (our capacity) is filled to overflowing. His fellowship fills us with joy.

We conclude with the last verse: "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the House of the Lord for ever." "...though your sins be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." (Isa. 1:18) After the sheep has been sheared, his wool must go through a cleansing process before it is usable. So it is with the Christian. He must come to that mercy seat throughout the day and be cleansed by the blood before Christ can live inside and lead him forth into service. Goodness follows mercy; and by faith in His Word, we know that some day we shall dwell with our Good Shepherd for an eternity! Praise His Holy Name!

Chamber Plans Memorial For Gene Abbott

A true friend of Cisco was lost in the passing of Gene Abbott, Chamber of Commerce manager. He worked hard to keep a good image of our town before the eyes of people in the Big Country.

In order that the efforts of Gene will not be forgotten, a memorial to him is being planned by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Tentative plans call for a brick planter and/or bench in front of the Chamber building with a memorial plaque bearing his name.

If you would like to make a contribution to this fund, it can be sent to the First National Bank in Cisco. Please make checks payable to the Gene Abbott Memorial Fund.

CJC Will Sponsor Washington & Virginia Tour

Band-Belles Will Make Second Appearance In Virginia Festival

Cisco Junior College has announced that it will sponsor an American Airlines tour to Washington, D.C., and the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Virginia April 27-30, 1983. The trip will accompany the CJC Band and Wrangler Belles for an appearance in the famous Apple Blossom Festival, and a tour of the many sites in and around the nation's capitol.

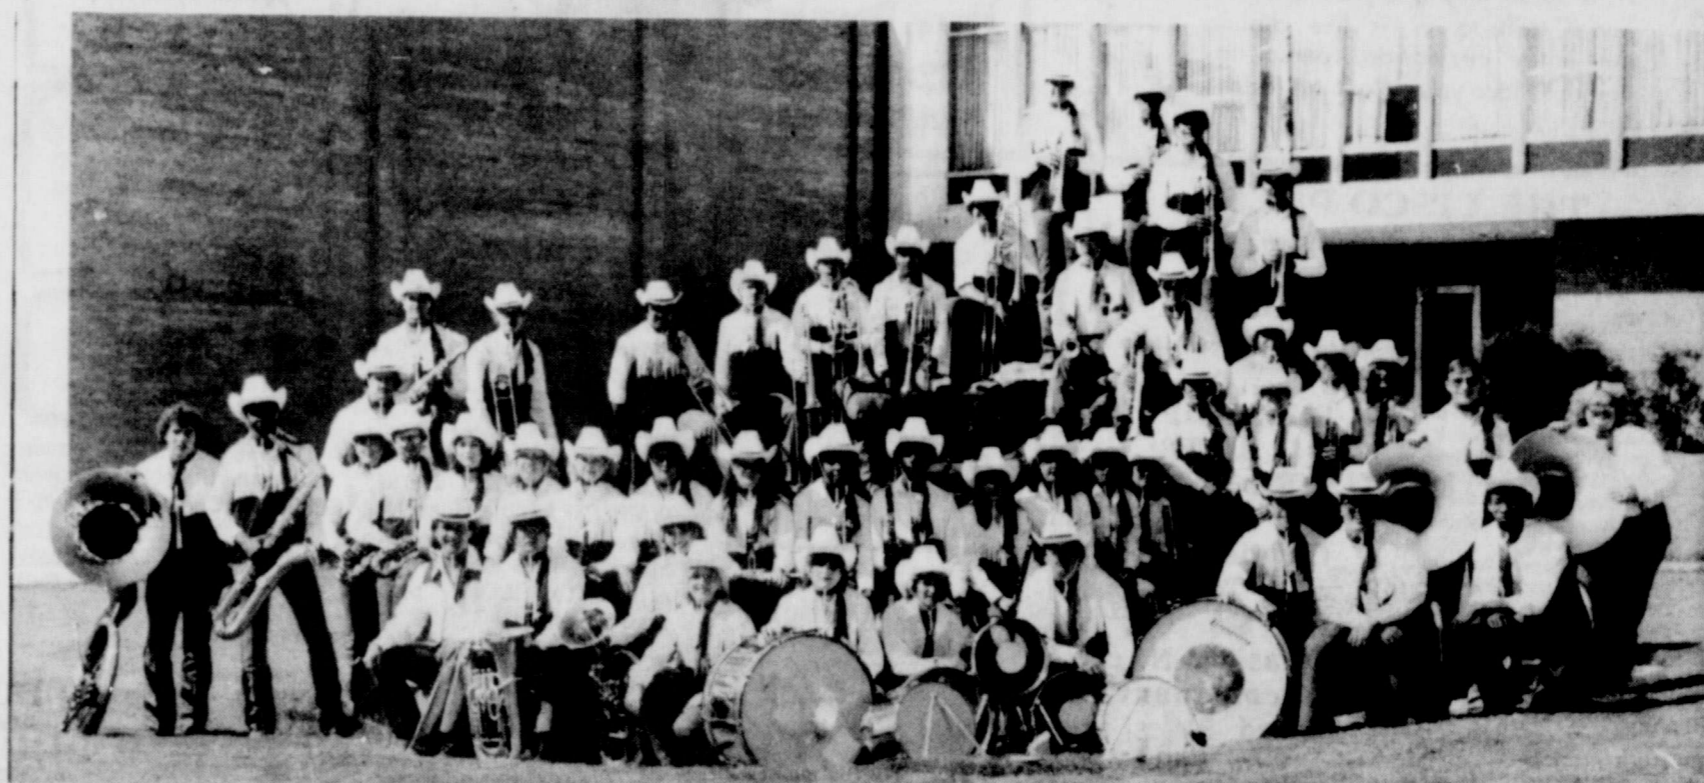

Approximately 100 places are available to the general public on the tour, in addition to those that will be used by the band, dance team, and their directors. These places, along with a tour package, are being offered to interested parents and other "boosters" who would like to make the four-day trip with the group.

A per-person price of $475 will include air travel on American Airlines, charter bus transportation to and from Dallas/Fort Worth Airport, all ground transportation in Washington and Virginia, three nights/four days hotel accommodations in the Washington area, a tour of Mount Vernon, and considerable sight-seeing in Washington, D.C. and the Shenandoah Valley. Among the historic sites visited will be the White House, Capitol, Supreme Court, Library of Congress, Smithsonian Institute, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, Iwo Jima Memorial, and Arlington National Cemetery. Three of the four days will be in the Washington area, with the fourth in Winchester, Virginia, via a scenic drive along the way.

At the Apple Blossom Festival, the Belles, accompanied by the band, will do two or more feature performances for the grandstands crowd prior to the Grand Feature Parade on April 30. The parade is the climax of a week-long celebration in Winchester, and the two Cisco groups will also be prominent attractions in the parade itself. It will be regionally telecast on the east coast by CBS-TV affiliates, and will also go into a national cable television hook-up to selected markets across the country.

CJC has sponsored package tours in the past in conjunction with appearances by the well-known Wrangler Band and Belles. Four of them have been to New York City and the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in 1971, 1973, 1977 and 1981—and the Belles have also been featured in two television specials, the "On Parade Show" with Joe Garigiola in 1971, and the "Stars and Stripes Show" with Bob Hope and other celebrities in 1975.

Reservations may be made for the tour by contacting Mr. Tim Jones, CJC Band Director. A descriptive brochure may also be obtained by calling Mr. Jones at 442-2567. A deposit of $100.00 is required to insure a place on the trip, and participation is of course available on a "first come-first serve" basis. When all available places have been reserved, a waiting list will be employed, Mr. Jones stated. The tour is being coordinated by Mr. Eris Ritchie, of Southwest Enterprises in Cisco. Mr. Ritchie, currently serving as Mayor of Cisco, is former Public Relations Director for Cisco Junior College, and a former band director and coordinator of the CJC Band and Belles. He handled arrangements for the previous trips to New York and Washington.

CJC WRANGLER BAND

CJC WRANGLER BELLES

Mr. Jones and Mrs. Pat Owens, director of the Wrangler Belles, and Mrs. Nicki Harle, Belles' choreographer, expressed delight at the invitation to appear in the prestigious festival in Virginia for a second time, and stated that they are looking forward to a great trip once again. "We're sure that we'll sell all of the 100 available seats quite soon, so those parents and other interested persons should see about making their reservations right away," they concluded.

City Federation Of Women's Clubs Plans Rummage Sale To Replenish Its Treasury

The Cisco City Federation of Women's Clubs needs to replenish the treasury. Together they own and maintain the property at 400 West 7th Street. The Club House is provided for the free use of the six member-clubs and their members; and, for a small fee, the use of any group or individual, for activities which are in the interest of the community of the City of Cisco, (see Article VIII, sections 1 and 2—by laws of the City Federation of Women's Clubs).

The trustees and the Executive Committee of the CCFWC are announcing a rummage sale to be held during Friday and Saturday, November 19-20, at the Federation Club House, 400 West 7th Street. Other details will be given later. The club members will sincerely appreciate any help given toward the success of this project.

Organized in 1922, the Cisco City Federation of Women's Clubs is now composed of the following six member-clubs: Cisco Music Study Club; Cisco Garden Club; Lake Cisco Extension Homemakers Club; Beta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International; Twentieth Century Club and the First Industrial Arts Club. Although all of the clubs have their organizations of higher level, i.e., district, state, etc., each member-club has one or more major projects and many others of community interest in Cisco. One of the clubs owns and operates and helps the City of Cisco financially maintain the Cisco Public Library. Another club established and continues to contribute to the upkeep and growth of the library at the Intermediate School.

Together the member-clubs of the City Federation completed a tremendous accomplishment in initiating and leading the community in the landscaping of the E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital grounds in the early 1970's. They also contributed a gift of $500.00 to the Founding Fund of the hospital. Today, several of the members of the member-clubs are Charter members of the Hospital Auxiliary, many others have also given a great number of hours of service through this organization. Other projects will be described later.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING

Gertrude Jones, president, called the meeting to order and led the group in repeating the "Preamble to the Constitution" and "the pledge to the flag" in unison.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

Shirley Brewster, chaplain, led the invocation.

The secretary reported that she had sent in dues for 17 members.

The Christmas boxes for the Veterans Christmas had been put in the business places of Moran. Any contribution will be appreciated.

The group will again sponsor a "watch night" for New Year's Eve, with black-eyed peas and cornbread served at midnight. Games will be played preceding the midnight supper. More plans will be made at the next meeting.

The group agreed to have a chili supper early in the new year.

The group enjoyed a "pot luck" supper with the Legionnaires preceding the meeting.

BIRTHDAY CLUB PARTY

Members of the Birthday Club enjoyed a Thanksgiving meal at the Moran Snack Bar with turkey and dressing and all the trimmings at the meeting Thursday night, Nov. 4. The Thanksgiving theme was carried out in the decorations.

Those having birthdays in November were Bud Brooks, Vay Turnbull, Tommy Boyd and Elma May Huskey.

Mrs. Bud Brooks read a poem on "The Depression" and Mrs. Lucion Brooks read a poem or an article that Burle Pettit had written about the activities of boys in Moran, a few years ago, and she also showed some very interesting slides taken on trips through the west part of the United States.

Others present were Lucion Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. E.M. Weir, Mrs. Morris Ledbetter, Mildred Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, Dick Cockrell, Mrs. Tommy Boyd, Bill Wootres, Georgiana Freeman, Frances Green, Mae Delle Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Williams, Bessie Fields and Rheba Merket.

No Closed Seasons

Years ago, when I was editing a national magazine out of Chicago, I came across an article written by outdoor writer and sportsman, Mel Ellis. In it, Ellis talked about the days when the hunt was just about the most important thing in his life.

But then he said something I found very peculiar. Gradually, as his life stretched out into those important reflective middle years, the gun became less and less appealing to him. Yet, he still enjoyed the stalk. He enjoyed tracking game through the woods. He enjoyed the woods, themselves. Everything about hunting, in fact, except the taking of the game.

How could that be, I wondered. How could someone to whom hunting had meant so much slowly but surely turn his back on it? I found out not too very long ago.

I'd been walking along the wooded ridge behind my house when I stopped beside a giant oak tree overlooking a deep draw and the hill beyond. There was a light dusting of snow on the ground—just enough to turn the drab brown of early winter into an exciting, vibrant fairytale.

Suddenly, I heard stirring on the opposite hillside. There, to my amazement, stood a white-tail deer—a buck with a rack that must have gone a full 36 inches and a set of haunches that looked like they belonged on the back of a registered hereford bull. It was the buck hunters just after. As it slowly descended the hill, I couldn't help but itch at the thought of peering at it through the crosshairs of a 9X scope.

As the buck reached the bottom of the draw, it stopped, lifted its noble head high, and snorted several times. I was really intrigued by now and couldn't help creeping forward to get a better view. There, to my surprise, I saw another deer, a younger buck, not 20 yards ahead of the first.

I watched as the two stood face to face, only the crisp winter air separating them. Suddenly the young buck let out a squeal, lowered his head, and charged. In a fraction of a second, the older buck did likewise, and with a sound like the retort of a crisp .22 caliber shell, the two beasts collided there on the forest floor.

When the dust and snow had cleared, the young buck, staggered and dazed, looked up into the steaming nostrils of his antagonist. The wisened old buck snorted, pawed the ground, and prepared for a second assault. Ahh, but the upstart had had his fill. In a matter of moments, he turned and raced off along the draw, his hoofbeats finally growing dim and then disappearing altogether.

At that precise moment, as I watched the old buck strut around proudly, I realized that there is some game never meant to be taken with a gun and a bullet. Some is far more suitable to bag with the eyes and the ears and the mind. And, whenever possible, the camera.

Happily, today hunting with a camera is easier than ever before. A wide range of moderately priced telephoto lenses bring even distant subjects in close, and fast 400 ASA film makes capturing them, even in low light, even when moving at surprisingly fast speeds, very possible, indeed.

And the hunter with a camera never need worry about open seasons or legal game, either. A family of young raccoons or a pair of fawns are just as "legal" as a 10-point buck for the bow or gun hunter during those seasons.

If you haven't yet tried hunting with a camera, do so. Go to the library and get a book describing the locally available fauna. Learn their habits, what they eat, when they move around, and how to track them in the snow. Then grab your gear and head on out. Could be you, too-like Mel Ellis—get hooked on the hunt. Without ever firing a shell.

When you do your hunting with a camera, there are no game laws to limit your quarry.

*Lone Star buys the gas you need.
Bob Kimbrel is one of Lone Star's gas buyers who constantly shop the Southwest for gas value and quality, and for contract terms that are favorable to you.*

300 smart buys a year help keep gas first in efficiency.

From offshore and onshore. From East Texas, far West Texas, West Central Texas, North Texas, the Gulf Coast and Oklahoma. From 20,000 wells and 790 producers in 690 different fields, Lone Star gets you the gas you need.

Like you, we buy our gas.

Lone Star buyers shop for value and quality, and for contract terms that are most favorable to you.

These purchase/delivery transactions are extremely complex. The buyer needs to know the good gas from the not-so-good, the rich source from the skimpy one. Each buy has its own variables, and we make about 300 new buys a year.

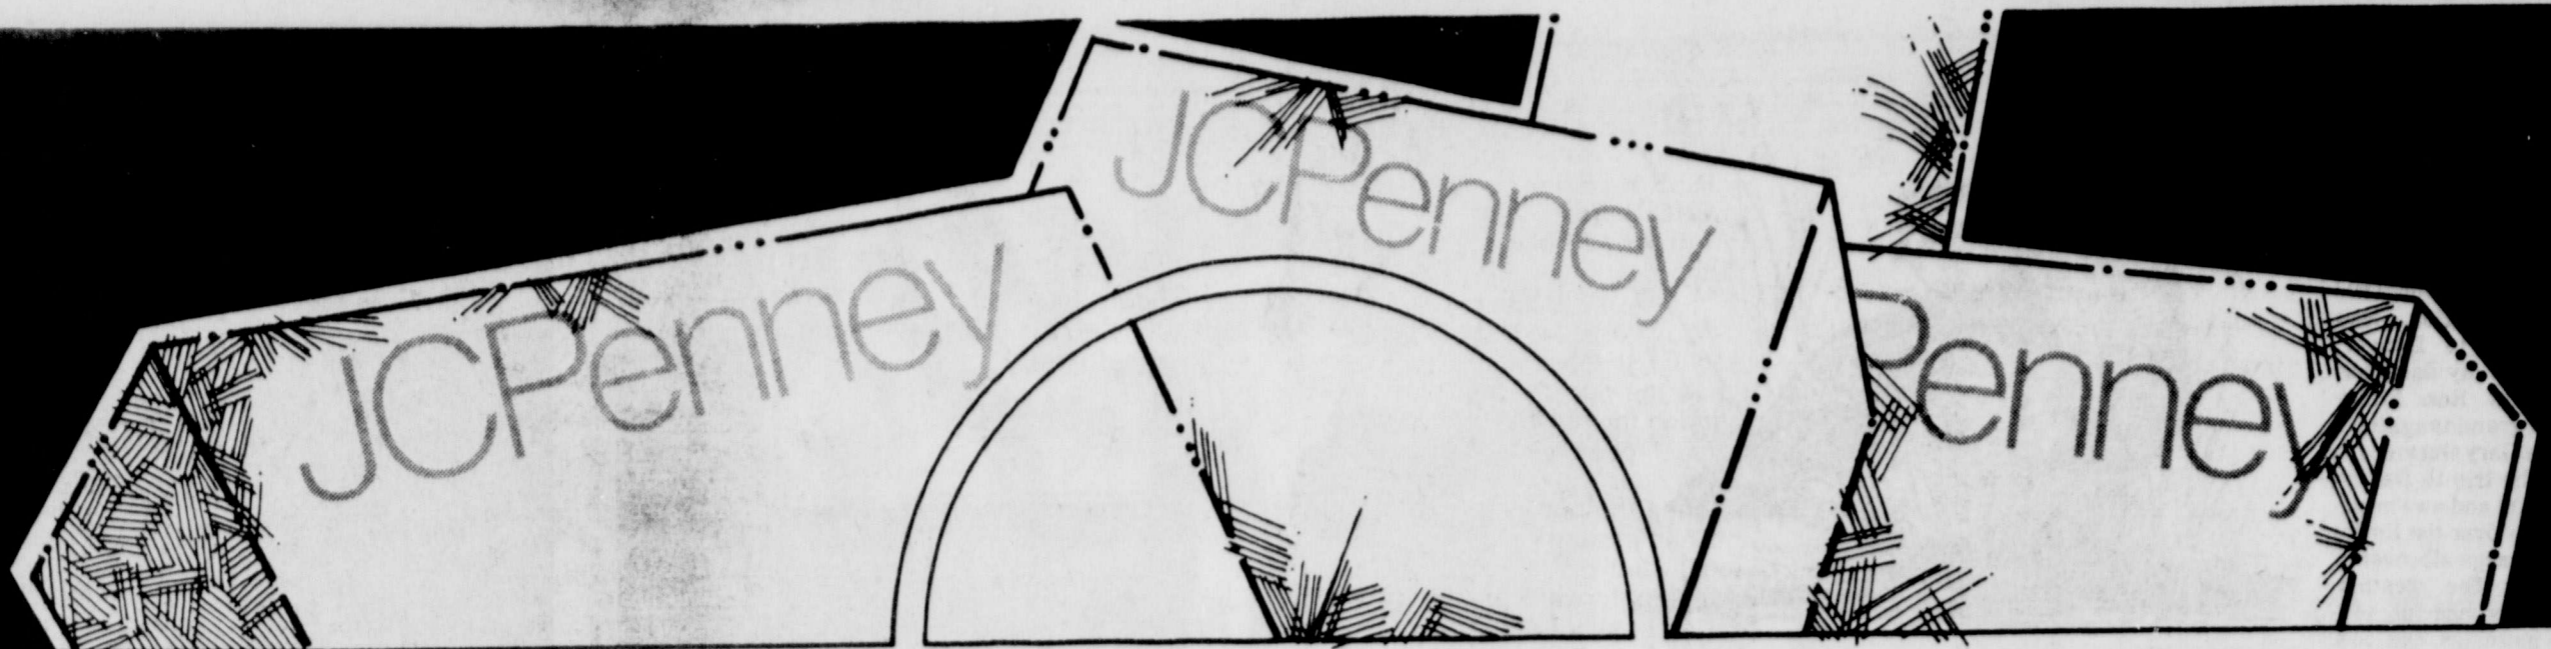

Our buyer may have to bid against as many as 15 others from all parts of the country.

And Lone Star's delivery system must be right there. Able to move the gas from the wellhead directly to your home. Today, that requires 32,000 miles of pipeline. And the system keeps growing.

There's plenty of gas. But it takes a smart buy to secure it. And a mighty pipeline system to deliver it.

Lone Star has both. We get you the gas you need.

Putnam News

By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

It's nice to be back to Putnam and to see all my good friends. I had a wonderful trip to Farmington, New Mexico, and to Denver, Colo., to visit my daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Finley and the granddaughter's family, the Gary Guerrero at Denver. The trip to Denver was beautiful and awe inspiring. We flew over the Rocky Mountains range all covered with snow. The weather there was wonderful too, freezing mornings, but 50's and 60's afternoons. The trees on the mountains were a blaze of color, red, orange and yellow. So pretty. A person can't help but wonder how the great creator has achieved such beautiful nature. Was glad to find that nothing drastic had happened while I was gone.

Mrs. Mary King had surgery at Abilene. She is recuperating at home. Mrs. Faye Woods at Cisco suffered a broken hip at her home. She is doing as well as could be expected at the hospital.

We're sorry to find the I.G. Mobleys had moved to Baird where they have purchased a home. Our loss is Baird's gain.

We were glad to see Mrs. Faye Wilbanks of Albany at the china painting class Friday.

Congratulations are due the family of the late M.E. Fry, formerly of Cisco. His picture and hat will be entered into the Polled Hereford Hall of Fame at Kansas City this week. I hear that the Doug Frys at Cisco went to Kansas City to attend the ceremony.

Mrs. Retha Brown of Fort Worth spent the weekend with her mother, Ollie Burnam.

Mrs. Connie Wagley of Baird had lunch with Anita Buchanan Sunday.

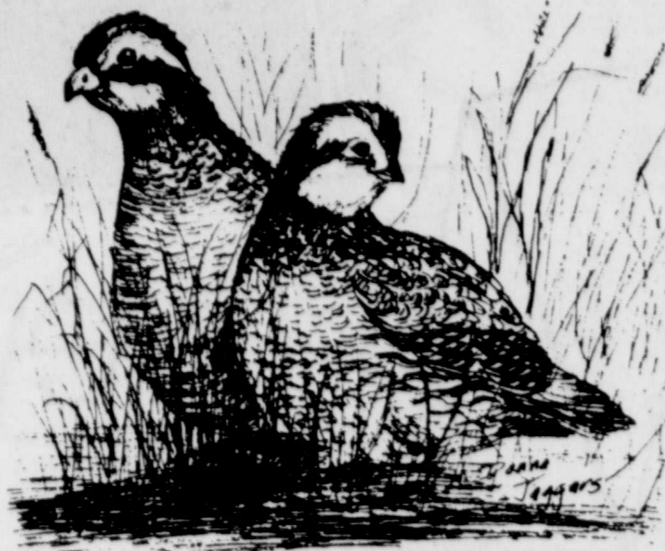

Visiting Mrs. R.C. Speegle and the Milton Donaways and attending the funeral services for Mr. Johnnie Speegle of Cisco were Mr. Billy Speegle of Fort Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. Babe Donaway, Mrs. Red Stovall and Hop Bostick of Odessa, J.I. Simmons and Lorene Sublett of Cisco visited Mrs. Speegle Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Whoop Sublett of Pottsboro visited her sister the Milton Donaways Friday.

Mrs. Edith Ivis and son John went to Valley Mills Friday to attend the wedding of her granddaughter, Jeanine Burns to Mr. Darren Light. Jeannine is the daughter of Mrs. Vina Lee Burns.

Mrs. R.D. Weeks and children of Eastland visited Mr. and Mrs. George Weeks Friday.

Donna Jagers Will Have Art Show At Local Business

Donna Jagers, area artist, will have a show at the Frame Makers, 112 West 6th on November 12, 13, 15, 16 and 17. The show is open to the public from 9 to 5 all five days of the show. She attended Eastern New Mexico University and majored in art. She also has studied under several area artists.

Mrs. Jagers works in several different medias, oils, charcoal, pen and ink and pastels. Nostalgia and wild life are her favorite subjects.

1st Industrial Arts Club Meets Nov. 4

The First Industrial Arts Club met at the Federated Women's Club on November 4 at 2:00 p.m.

Mrs. Ruby Lee Pirtle, club president, presided and expressed appreciation for the hospital gowns members had made for M.D. Anderson Hospital. This is one of the club's projects for the year.

Mrs. Odessa Collins led the collect and pledge to the flags. Bernice Carter was hostess in the absence of Pearl Trapp. Muri Guyger was pro tem leader for the program in the absence of Lorena Smith. Following the committee reports and a brief business session Mrs. Guyger introduced Betty Wallace who spoke on Americanism. She gave an interesting review on the history of America. She started her talk by saying Americanism is really a way of life, and the ism, according to the dictionary, means an action, conduct, culture, condition, language in addition to belief. She also added religion, for everyone needs some strong beliefs.

The program reviewed preferences, devotion, traits, loyalty and responsibilities to and for the United States of America. Mrs. Wallace closed her talk by saying, "I'm glad I'm an American." In conclusion the group sang "God Bless America" accompanied by Mrs. Lynn Williams at the piano.

She and her husband, James have three children and reside in Putnam.

Ed Wendes Return From 3-Week Tour

Ed and Irene Wendes recently returned from a three weeks tour of western United States. Stops included Bishop, Ca., to visit Irene's brother, Louis Prange and family. A visit in Olympia, Wash., with Fritz Thies family. While there a sister of Irene's was also there for a visit before leaving for Monrovia, Liberia, Africa, to work with Bible translators for two years. Ed enjoyed getting a lovely catch of trout not far from Mt. St. Helena.

At Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, they visited Ed's sister and family, the Merrill Swaffards. This is a really beautiful place.

Then they crossed Montana and North Dakota to St. Paul, Mn. where they visited their son, Rev. David Wendes and family. On the way home they stopped to spend the night in Fort Worth to visit their daughter, Marcia Pippin and family. So when they got to Eastland they got to see all their children and grandchildren within three days. The weather was warm all the way and the fall colors so beautiful.

Eastland Will Play Junction

Texas High School Football Playoffs begin Friday night and for the first time in its history the UII. has allowed the second place team to advance into the playoffs.

With that in mind the District 9-AA Champions Eastland Mavericks will travel to Gordon Wood Stadium in Brownwood Friday night to take on the Junction Eagles, 10-AA runner up, for the bi-district title. Kickoff will be 8 p.m.

Eastland takes the state's number one ranking into the contest along with a perfect 10-0 record. Junction, a 49-6 winner over Mason last week, brings a 6-4 season mark and a 4-1 district record to the game. Junction's only district loss came to district winner San Saba. The Eagles run out of the I formation on offense and run several types of defense. Their basic defense is a 5-2, however the Eagles change the 5-2 a little and also run a 6-1 some.

Eastland head coach Rod Hess said, "On offense they have two boys that are real good. Their end, Nicky Haines, is a big boy. He can catch the ball real well and is also a good blocker. My guess is that he is their best all around football player. Ronnie Carpenter, their quarterback, is a good passer and has good speed when he gets pushed out of the pocket."

Coach Hess also said that Jay Cashman and Nicky Haines are two real big linebackers on the Eagles defense. The Eagles are a pretty balanced bunch. They run and pass about the same.

When asked about the Mavericks coach Hess said, "I think we are ready for the game. We are in real good physical condition and we are taking a lot of momentum into the game. I think we are in good shape."

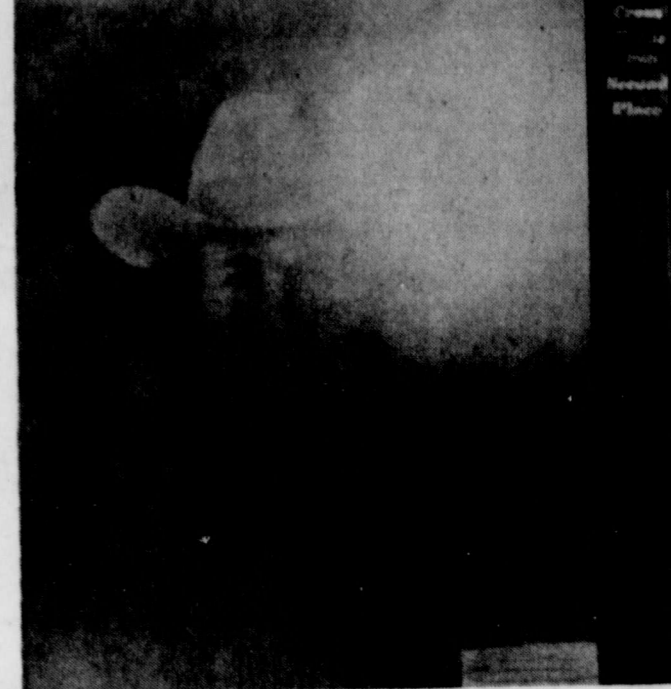

For the playoffs the Mavericks will be taking a larger team with them. Coach Hess has moved up several sophomore's and junior's bringing the team total to 38 players.

Those players that were moved up were two juniors, 14 Wade Knox and 39 Pat Jackson.

Eleven sophomores were moved and they are: 11 Curtis Gvan, 33 Wade Knox, 33 Curtis Sanders, 40 Jon Carter, 42 Rodney Phelps, 43 Bill Dool, 55 Robert Moran, 65 Todd Shirley, 66 Kevin Bailey, 69 Steve Moorehead, 70 David Morren, and 75 Don Rossander.

Tickets for the game are currently on sale at Eastland High School.

Winters the district 9-AA runner up will play district 10-AA San Saba Saturday in Brownwood at 8 p.m.

THE SECOND place winner of the Cross Plains Art Association Show was a portrait of Ken McCulloch of Cisco. The painting was done by Myrtle Wilks of Cisco. (Staff Photo)

MRS. WILKS also had two honorable mentions in the Cross Plains Art Association Show held last weekend. These two paintings will be on display at Interiors Unlimited, 106 West 8th, Cisco. (Staff Photo)

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Bob Cox, Community Relations Manager.

Some Answers for AT&T stockholders

In Southwestern Bell's territory, there are 224,000 AT&T stockholders and more than 100,000 of them are right here in Texas. Many of you have questions about what will happen to your AT&T stock after divestiture.

Currently, AT&T stock represents an investment in the total Bell System—Long Lines, Western Electric, Bell Labs and the operating companies, like Southwestern Bell. At divestiture, the assets of the Bell System will be divided.

For example, a share owner who currently owns 50 shares of AT&T stock will still own 50 shares of AT&T stock after divestiture. In addition, the stockholder will own a proportionate interest in the divested operating companies.

No final decision has been made on a procedure for dividing the stock once AT&T spins off the 22 operating companies. However, AT&T is working on a plan to make it easy and inexpensive for share owners to manage their holdings.

Specific investment procedures and other details have not been finalized. Any plan regarding AT&T stock requires review by the Bell operating companies, the Department of Justice and the federal court before it can be enacted.

Whatever plan is accepted, AT&T is committed to ensuring the plan is fair and equitable. In addition, AT&T plans to minimize, as much as possible, transaction costs associated with the consolidation of small share holdings.

Check Identification Whenever in Doubt

It's a good idea to make sure you're satisfied before letting anyone in your home. That's why every Southwestern Bell employee carries an identification card.

The ID card shows his or her name, a photograph and an expiration date. The next time a Bell employee comes, you can request identification, if desired. He'll understand that you don't let just anyone enter your home.

Planning Before Emergencies Occur

The best way to prepare for emergencies is through advance planning. Make sure that every family member—especially small children—understand what they should do when the unexpected happens.

Remember to keep important telephone numbers near the phone. Police, fire and ambulance numbers should head your list. You might also note doctors, hospitals, neighbors and near-by relatives.

In families with small children, note the pediatrician, poison control center, school or day care numbers as well as how to reach you at work. Also take time to review how to report an emergency with youngsters.

They should give the nature of the emergency, name and address and a contact number. If the emergency requires leaving the house, always give a neighbor's phone number instead of your own.

A Directory Keeps Numbers Safe, Handy

Record emergency numbers as well as important addresses and dates in a Personal Directory. If you'd like a free copy, send your name and address to: Southwestern Bell, Personal Directory, P.O. Box 225265, Dallas, Texas 75265.

This time of year reminds me of all the good things in life to be thankful for. I hope that this year's holiday season is equally special for you, too.

Lobos Win Final District Game, But Lose Chance At Playoffs

Cisco High School's Lobo Varsity won their final District 9-AA game against Jim Ned Friday night, but lost their chance of a District play-off when Winters defeated Albany, 34-0.

The Eastland Mavericks won the District title and the Winters Blizzards were runners-up. Both teams advanced to play-off spots this weekend.

Cisco defeated Jim Ned 29-20 to end the Lobos district record at 4-2-1 and their season record at 6-3-1. Jim Ned fell to 4-5-1 for the season and 2-4-1 in district play.

The Lobos received Friday night's opening kick-off and moved it downfield from Cisco's 34-yard line to Jim Ned's two yard line in five plays making two first downs. The ball was fumbled on the next play and Jim Ned recovered it in the end zone putting the Indians on the 20 yard line.

Jim Ned then moved the ball downfield with Randy Earnest at quarterback. Runs by Don Dacus and Steve Aldridge moved the ball to Cisco's 14 yard line in eight plays with four first downs. A handoff to Dacus got the touchdown with 5:45 left in the first quarter. A try for two extra points by Aldridge was no good making the score 6-0.

On the ensuing kick-off by Jim Ned, Lobo Jason Potter received the ball and raced 85 yards for a touchdown. The extra point kick by Kenneth Preston was good making the score 6-7 in favor of Cisco with 5:32 left in the first quarter.

Not to be outdone, Jim Ned's Aldridge returned Cisco's kick-off 90 yards for a touchdown with 5:18 left in the first quarter. A handoff from QB Earnest to Dacus netted two extra points for a Jim Ned lead of 14-7.

Early in the second quarter of play, Cisco received a short Jim Ned punt and took possession of the ball at the Indians 19 yard line.

Runs by Potter, David Seabourn and quarterback Randall Rattan moved the ball to the one yard line in six plays with one first down. A handoff to D. Seabourn gained the touchdown with 9:11 left in the second quarter. A pass from QB Rattan to Brian Fleming made two extra points, giving Cisco a 15-14 lead.

Cisco strengthened their first half lead when they received a Jim Ned punt and put the ball into play on Cisco's 39 yard line. The first play, a pass from QB Rattan to Larry Adams, got the touchdown with 6:48 left in the second quarter. The PAT kick by Preston was no good making the half time score 21-14.

Neither team was able to score in the third quarter, but both managed touchdowns in the final quarter of play.

Jim Ned scored first, following a fumble recovery on Cisco's 21-yard line. On the first play, Indian QB Earnest was dropped for a five yard loss by Cisco's Johnny Seabourn. On the next play, Dacus took the handoff and passed to a receiver in the end zone for the touchdown. A try for two points by Dacus failed making the score 21-20 with 8:12 left in the final quarter.

Later in the quarter, Cisco recovered a fumble and started their final scoring drive on their own 20 yard line. Potter and QB Rattan moved the ball to Cisco's 35 yard line in four plays with one first down. Potter took the next pitchback and raced 65 yards for a touchdown with 1:01 left in the game. A pass from QB Rattan to Billy Escovedo netted two extra points making the final score 29-20.

Jim Ned defensive standouts were Mike Stamey, Kevin Tutt, Don Dacus, Steve Aldridge, Eddie Hart, Shannon Berry, Glen Adcock, Steve Insall and Randall Reid.

CJC Homecoming Is Spoiled By Wranglers' 24-9 Loss To NEO

By Bill Roberts

You'd think when a team rolled up 400 yards total offense, had one player with 128 yards rushing, picked up 22 first downs to its opponent's 11 and had a quarterback who completed 11 passes for 137 yards that that team won a ballgame, right?

Wrong! The Cisco Junior College Wranglers accomplished those four feats Saturday at Chesley Field before a large Homecoming crowd and still came up on the short end of a 24-9 score.

For the seventh time in eight games, CJC's old nemesis Northeastern Oklahoma A&M, ranked as the No. 9 team in the nation among junior colleges prior to the game, had used two long passes to measure the difference between the two ballclubs—and to help provide the victory.

Reserve quarterback Kevin Adams stepped into the starting quarterback role last when starter Chat York was sidelined with an injury. All Adams did was rush for 68 yards on 15 carries, complete nine of 14 passes for 180 yards (two for touchdowns) and help the Golden Norsemen chew up 322 yards total offense.

Those two touchdown passes came in the third quarter, and both went to flanker Ernest Givins. One covered 54 yards and the other 44. Before that first bomb, NEO had built up a 10-0 halftime lead and the Wranglers were still in the game—in fact, even trailing 24-6 as the fourth quarter started, the Wranglers kept up the strong effort to score, but nothing the CJC team tried could produce more than nine points.

Randy Pippin, a 5-9,

200-pound sophomore running back from Mesquite, did the damage to the Norsemen on offense as he rushed only 11 times for that 128 yards—including the 75-yard scamper which brought the Wranglers their only touchdown of the game.

That run came with 2:19 left in the third quarter and showed the Wranglers still had life. The Wranglers went for two on the conversion but quarterback Johnny Yglecias missed tight end Andy Brennan on the attempt.

So what else happened to slow the Wrangler cause? Head coach Bob Keyes could only shake his head on the sidelines as he watched two quarterbacks throw four interceptions (Yglecias three and reserve QB Scott Ellison one) and as runners coughed up the football four of five times on fumbles.

Those eight turnovers and the two bombs from Adams were all the Golden Norsemen needed as they continue their bid for a playoff spot. NEO captured the National Junior College Athletic Association championship in 1980.

"This is the best team we've played all year," NEO head coach Glen Wolfe told the radio audience back in Miami, Okla., following the game. "We'll be feeling this game all week. They really hit us."

"We did a lot of things well—but they did their things just as well. If it weren't for fumbles and interceptions, we could be where they are right now." Then he added, "I'm just glad it's over."

CJC can start concentrating on basketball now, but even with the loss, the Wranglers recorded their fourth straight winning season, finishing the season 5-4 with Keyes completing his first year as head coach.

The Wranglers closed out their scoring in the fourth quarter when sophomore Kioumars Rezaie booted a 35-yard field goal with 10:43 left in the game.

But that wasn't the last try. Two series later, Yglecias drove the Wranglers to the Norsemen seven. In the drive, he completed passes to Wade Hunt for nine yards, to Matt Simpson for 10 and to Eugene Carodine for 14 and 17 yards. The next play, however, he completed one to a Norseman to kill the drive.

On the next series, CJC drove to the NEO 24 before a fourth down pass to Lloyd Voight fell to the turf with 31 seconds left in the game.

Another note on the defense: CJC has been holding its opponents to 77.2 yards a game on the ground this season. Saturday, the Wranglers gave up 142 yards rushing, but held fullback Robert Parker, who had gained over 200 yards in the last two games, to only 36 yards on 13 carries. Besides those two long passes, the Wrangler defense checked NEO for only 82 other yards.

CJC got 263 yards on 47 rushes and the 137 yards passing for its 400 yards total offense.

During halftime, Vicki Mangum was crowned Homecoming queen. Mrs. Pat Agnew Kincaid, of the class of 1952, was presented as Coming Home queen prior to the game.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

When I ran for City Council, I stated that one of my objectives would be to try and do something to help our young people of our city.

That is why this letter has been written. I feel that the complete structure has become totally destroyed from the office of the superintendent to the principal and is spilling over into the sports program. The people who showed up for the monthly meeting Monday night of the school board were just the tip of the iceberg. Those that did attend the meeting had a message to send to the elected officials of this school system, that they need to take a good look at the complete picture and vote the way the people who elected them to office want, instead of following the wishes of the administrative office. I feel that the last two years our school system has had at least a district champion football team, but failed to obtain that goal which a lot of good athletes had tried so hard to achieve. The game should be fun, and a learning tool for the boys and girls. The players begin to lose confidence and the team starts pulling apart, and before long it is not fun anymore. American youth are winners not losers, they have been taught to be winners by us parents.

We can't blame our young men and young ladies but we can blame ourselves because we as parents are aware of the problem in our school. But unless we stand up and be counted, the problems will continue to exist.

I would like at this time to apologize to the complete student body of Cisco High School for not speaking out last year. But I will not be guilty of waiting again. I want to say again I am sorry.

Impressions Of Political Candidates And Their Families

By Viola Payne
The election is over, and the dust has begun to settle. It is a good time to sort impressions of the candidates - and their families - whom I met recently.

I liked all of the political figures I met this year, although I did not agree with everything they said. But the current crop seemed particularly bright and articulate, and dedicated to visiting with as many people as possible.

They were up against quite some odds on this, for the public simply did not turn out in numbers for any candidate except Rep. Charles Stenholm. It is hard to know whether this is due to apathy, a feeling of hopelessness, a distrust of the electoral process, or whether the citizens have decided that Stenholm is one of the few with anything meaningful to say.

I have talked to more candidates, they are approached by a reporter in a strange realm of mental equality which cuts across social and other barriers. No patronizing of a writer in this situation!

For candidates have a very healthy respect for the Press, knowing that a misquote or even biased newspaper coverage can ruin their campaign.

When you come away from the phantom-world of viewing candidates on television and actually meet them, new impressions crowd in. Quick shots of Congressman Charles Stenholm, for example, rarely show that he is a tall man, and moves about with the controlled quickness of a tennis player. He wears casual but neat dark suits, and semi-sports shirts in varying blue-gray shades. He has steady gray eyes, a ready smile, and a firm handshake.

Stenholm always bounds a few steps ahead of his staff members and I am not the only one who can testify that trying to keep up with him up three of those double length flights of stairs in the Eastland County Courthouse will make you understand why elevators were invented!

The Congressman never carries notes with him, yet can stand in front of an audience and answer a full hour of questions ranging from the political life of the inhabitants of Siberia to the most minute details of our own national budget. Furthermore, there is intellectual insight in his answers, combined with the realism of a west Texas farmer. A potent combination - and it draws more people than any other meetings with state and national figures in Eastland county. Even more, I understand, than the String Band along with the State Democratic Chairman.

but those who did were business, community and educational leaders of the area towns. It is probably fair to say that 21 yr. old Hobby has had a number of advantages in his life, including those of heredity, intelligence, education and appearance.

Yet I found him an unpretentious person to meet - a pleasant and genuine individual. His desire to relate to local people and learn more about the County was, I believe, sincere. Some of his last comments (to the Press) dealt with the isolation of those who are governed from those who govern.

Then he walked outside the Courthouse, looked about, and inquired about the way to Cross Plains.

Annette Strake is a beautiful woman, with luminous gray eyes and copper-toned hair which photographs much darker.

She stopped in Cisco while campaigning for her husband, George Strake, who was running for the Lt. Gov.'s office held by Bill Hobby. She had survived the long route intact, and entered the Laguna Hotel with a bright smile and quick step. She had hoped to meet a number of citizens, but was greeted by the Republican faithful and a small group of friends.

It is a shame that the public didn't hear her speech, for she dealt in clear-cut differences and issues. And when she spoke with me privately she had the marvelous quality of complete concentration, as if I was as important as any individual in Texas.

As I visited with candidates there were surprises from them, but to me the worst surprise was not how they acted, but how I felt around them! I have begun to define my hangup as a "touch the hem of their garment" impulse - a reaching toward someone who has (or may have) the power to govern. There is probably something a bit unhealthy about it, as if I expect government to effect a transformation in the human condition.

But the most of this type of reporting is over for awhile. It's a long time until another election. But long before then some directives, some questionnaires - and if I don't miss my guess, Rep. Charles Stenholm will show back up in Eastland County!

Letter To The Editor

Editor
In a recent issue of your newspaper (dated October 28th), a message from a local church included Christian Science among a number of groups which were called "cults". Really, it is sad to see this label applied to a responsible Christian denomination of many years standing in the community.

We are not interested in religious debate. But in fairness to your readers, I would like to make clear that Christian Scientists, in common with other Christians, do regard Jesus Christ as the Son of God, the Saviour of all mankind.

We believe in the virgin birth of our Lord and accept his crucifixion and physical resurrection as narrated in the Scriptures. We also hold that by obedience to his teachings, everyone can be freed in some measure from the limitations and discord of material living. But this requires true Christian discipleship, with all that entails of repentance and regeneration.

Whatever the theological differences between churches, these don't justify name-calling. No single denomination has a monopoly on Christianity. We hope and pray that all the churches may come to understand each other better and judge-as the Master directed-by the "fruits" brought forth in living.

Cordially,

Cisco Raises $900 For St. Jude

The St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life Bike-a-thon is over for this year and, looking back, we want to sincerely thank the citizens of Cisco for their generous support.

We are extremely proud of the twenty riders, the hard working volunteers whose efforts made this a success, and the citizens of Cisco. Thanks to them, we raised a grand total of $900.00.

Because the diseases that St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is battling can strike any child anywhere, this money will be helping to save children's lives all over the world.

"The ride was a great success and showed that Cisco understands the importance of research being done at St. Jude Hospital," Bike-a-thon Chairman Ken Parker said in announcing the ride's results. "Everyone who participated did a wonderful job."

We want to especially thank the volunteers and riders. Volunteers from the Cisco Noon Lions Club conducted the Bike-a-thon. The riders which participated were as follows: Doug Whitt, Chris Begley, Junior Stroebel, Timmy Skiles, Sandy Price, Ken Drozski and Amy Whitley. The following riders peddled over 10 miles each: Kathryn Ward, Missy Jacobs, Jeremy Davies, Chelsie Pittman, Bradley Fleming, Heather Parker, Brady Dennis, Dawn Garibaldi, Melanie Steward, Kelly Steunt, Brad Goosen, Dawnielle Rabel and Arron Whitley.

Parker urged all sponsors and riders to turn in their donations as soon as possible at Heather's Hallmark in Cisco.

OILFIELD DISPATCH

P&R Completes Successful Well

One of the better oil wells to be completed in Eastland County in a number of years has been brought on line six miles northwest of Eastland. It is the number one Baggett, a well cat venture of P&R Oil Inc. of Eastland. The well showed ability to yield 800 barrels of sweet crude per day, flowing open choke. Flowing tubing pressure, came in at 520 PSI.

to 100,000 CF casinghead gas per day.

It is in a 69 acre lease and section 457 of the SPRR Survey. A company official said B&J has another 12,000 acres on which it holds drilling rights.

Production will be from the Lower Duffer Limestone, a formation rather rare in the area.

Testing showed about 30 of pay, and the well will produce from perforations ranging from 3,914 to 3,928. The well bottomed at 4,142 with Eastland Drilling Inc. doing the hole making.

The 38-40 gravity crude will be processed by Pride Refining of Abilene for marketing by Union Oil. The casinghead gas will be transported to market by Enserch.

Drilling required about 10 days, according to Tom Robertson, P&R Vice President. He said the discovery allowable for the un-named field is expected to be 80 B.O.P.D. plus gas out per period. Robertson and J.M. (Pat) Patterson, company president founded P&R Oil in April, 1979. Patterson is a native of Ranger. Robertson is a native of Grove, Oklahoma.

.....give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

Wallace Home Opened For October 25th DAR Meeting

Charles Crawford Chapter, DAR, met in the home of Mrs. W.W. Wallace, 1306 1/2 Royal Lane, Cisco, at 2:30 p.m., Monday, October 25, 1982. Mrs. H.A. Bible was co-hostess.

Delicious refreshments of pumpkin cake and Russian Tea were enjoyed by eight members and one guest.

Mrs. Joseph Perkins, Regent, shared a document received from Judge Earl Conner written by a Henry Young pledging his allegiance to the Constitution of the United States after the Civil War. The document is dated October 1865. The original has been placed in the archives of the Eastland Memorial Library.

Mrs. W.W. Wallace, Chairperson of the committee on schools gave highlights of the history of Hillside School in Marlborough, Massachusetts. Hillside School is one of the approved DAR schools which receives financial assistance from DAR chapters across the country. Each member received a pamphlet on the history of Hillside School. Mrs. Wallace, chaplain, lead in the invocation.

Mrs. H.W. Durham, Vice-Regent, gave a report from the National DAR Committee on Transportation and Safety. Mrs. Durham reminded the members that the local DAR chapter does not have such a committee. Some of the safety tips mentioned were: (1) Fire extinguishers should be carried in the car (2) When attending public gatherings an individual should take notice of all exits (3) in case of fire in a multi-story building never take an elevator (4) physically handicapped should stay on or near ground floor in a motel/hotel... the motel/hotel should be informed of what room the physically handicapped person is in (5) in case of fire, try not to panic, but try to remain calm.

Mrs. Perkins shared a card from the Texas Society Daughters of the American Revolution recognizing Mrs. Pat Crawford for her outstanding leadership and service to the TSDAR while serving as Chapter Regent.

Allie Terrell was recognized for her fine work on this year's yearbook. Mrs. Charles Pence, treasurer, reported our account to be in good standing. Members were reminded that of $15 are due.

Mrs. Perkins lead in a brief discussion of candidates for National DAR offices. Mrs. Perkins called attention to the DAR magazine and encouraged reading of the articles. Mrs. Perkins also mentioned the 100th anniversary of the seal and that this is the Year of the Eagle as proclaimed by President Reagan.

Members viewed the Midlander magazine which had an article on the Texas room of the National DAR Museum.

Mrs. Durham called attention to the information sheets for officers and committee members and to the reporting process at the end of the year. Mrs. Durham read from the 83rd Annual Report. The Charles Crawford Chapter had a nice accounting of the Chapter's activities of the past year in this report. All members are proud of the Chapter's accomplishments and contributions.

Report was made on papers coming in shortly on 3 new members.

Members enjoyed the opening of the meeting with reports and comments by members. It is a pleasure to have Mrs. Perkins serving as Regent for her 3rd term of office. Mrs. Perkins introduced Mrs. Frances by citing many of Mrs. Francis' contributions and accomplishments. Mrs. Francis then presented "The Defense Policy of the Reagan Administration" by Dr. Fred Ikle. The program was enjoyed by all. The meeting adjourned at 4:30 p.m.

Senior Bazaar wants to thank Mrs. Monroe Walker for the music she played for them.

Shirley Trigg from DeLeon, Texas married Fred Hoffman of Gorman, Texas in Lawton, Oklahoma on October 25. She married an A-1 Radio and TV repair man.

6 Arrested On Marijuana Bust

Marijuana charges are pending for five adults and a teenager arrested at a home near Eastland in what County Sheriff John Morren called a pot party.

Three men, two women and the teenager were arrested Friday night in a joint effort by the Sheriff's Dept., Texas Ranger Gene Keas, Gorman and Ranger Police Departments at a home some four miles southeast of Eastland.

Formal possession charges pend the results of chemical tests from Austin, the sheriff said.

One man is free on $10,000 bond; two are free on $5,000 bonds; and three on $1,000 bond, set by Justice of the Peace I.W. Ussery.

Head On

By Roy Boyd
Unemployment

We have the idle people and we have a lot of jobs that need doing. Let's start a work program, similar to the old WPA, to reduce our unemployment.

These people could be useful to rebuild our bridges and highways that are beginning to fall apart. There are lots of other projects that also need doing.

We could even sell their labor by making a variety of things for companies who would furnish their tools and machinery and their own expertise.

The state highway departments have the engineering people available who could be used to head up this program.

We have a large surplus of corn, wheat and feed grains that could be turned into alcohol.

Not only would the unemployment be reduced, our farmers would certainly be helped considerably and our fuel situation would be bolstered, as well as the oil imports be reduced.

Texas alone needs more than five thousand LVNs now. Let's train them, the jobs are waiting. Almost every hospital in the country could use some of these trained nurses, they would be ready within a year.

If you ask the average American what they think of steel, automobiles and other items being imported which have shut down our plants, they would say that we need to limit these imports to match the importing nations buy from us, so as to cut down on our trade deficits.

This would certainly put several million people back to work.

After World War II we spent billions of our money to rebuild Germany and Japan, the ones who did their level best to take us over, they rebuilt their countries bases on what they could make for our market and it is time that they stand on their feet somewhat.

We could put our steel mills and our auto plants back to work if we would just limit imports from these countries to the amount of their purchases from us.

Editorial

America is finally going to honor those 2.7 million Americans who served this country by fighting and dying in Vietnam. We believe is it long overdue.

The Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund - the organization constructing the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C. - is planning a five-day tribute that promises to combine the dignity of Veterans Day with the excitement of the Fourth of July.

This National Salute to Vietnam Veterans, which will take place Nov. 10-14 in Washington, D.C., will consist of a dedication of the Memorial to Vietnam veterans, a candlelight vigil where the names will be read of the almost 58,000 Americans who died or are still missing; an entertainers' salute hosted by Jimmy Stewart; unit reunions and receptions; a grand parade down Constitution Avenue; and religious services nationwide.

Vietnam veterans should register now for the event by contacting the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund at (202) 659-2490 or by writing VVMF, 1110 Vermont Avenue, NW, No. 308, Washington, D.C. 20005.

We urge all Americans to participate - to become part of the homecoming that the Vietnam veterans never received. It will be a great week for all of us who love this country.

KITCHEN DESIGN IS IMPORTANT

The design of the kitchen can go a long way toward making a home a comfortable and convenient place to live. Here are some features you might want to consider if you're contemplating the purchase of a home.

A door leading from the kitchen to the outside will allow you to bring in groceries and take out garbage without tramping through the living room or bedrooms. Such a door also provides a useful foul-weather entrance where muddy shoes can be dropped on the linoleum floor rather than the carpeting.

Other convenient features include an oven located at counter-top level and a work light over the kitchen sink. Finally, you might want the dining room separate from the kitchen to preserve a greater sense of formality at meal time.

With careful attention to design features, a home can provide a pleasant and functional living environment at a reasonable cost.

TIPS ON BUYING MANUFACTURED HOME

Here are some tips on buying a manufactured or mobile home.

While it's true manufactured homes must conform to federal standards, some are built with better-than-standard features. Energy efficient is one area to consider.

In looking at the energy efficiency options available, keep in mind that federal standards require a certain level of construction, safety and energy efficiency for which you should not have to pay extra. However, some things you may wish to have added at the factory for an additional charge include: extra floor, wall and roof insulation, insulation of ducts to heating, ventilating and air conditioning equipment, storm doors and double-pane thermal windows, tinted glass, high energy efficiency heating and air conditioning, efficient fireplace units or stoves and exterior foam sheathing board.

Remember, mobile homes can save energy, too.

INVESTING IN UNDEVELOPED LAND

Undeveloped land in the path of a city's growth is one of the most alluring—yet risky—forms of investment.

Such land usually does not provide income but requires regular cash payments for interest and taxes. The outflow of money is reduced only by income-tax deductions. The investor cannot recoup money quickly because it may take months or years to sell undeveloped land at its fair market value.

Despite these drawbacks, the appeal of land is undeniable. With favorable growth patterns, substantial gains can be made in land. Dairy farms that once sold by the acre may now sell by the square foot. Gains through appreciation provide rewards which can be magnified by financial leverage. But be cautious. Undeveloped land may be like a mousetrap—easy to get into but difficult to get out of.

INSECTS AROUND THE HOUSE

Have you found winged insects in your home? These creatures may be winged ants or termites, a real concern for thousands of homeowners.

Examine one of the insects as carefully as you can. The antennae on winged ants are elbowed, and the middle section of its body is very narrow. Other wood destroying creatures are common in many Texas homes. For example, the powderpost beetle and its relatives, the old house borer, can do a great deal of damage to your home. On the other hand, the carpenter ant, a large slow-moving insect, causes little harm because it does no structural damage. This insect should not cause alarm.

If you think there is the slightest chance of wood destroying pests living in the house you own, don't hesitate to seek the help of professional exterminators. Your home is an investment. And if you are about to buy a house, ask for a termite and other wood-destroying pest inspection.

RESTORING DOWNTOWNS

Old buildings in downtown shopping districts in cities across the nation are getting a second life.

Groups in Baltimore, St. Louis, Chicago, Fort Worth,

Dallas and other cities are restoring older commercial buildings to acquire needed space and save money.

Structural soundness is the first consideration, according to Thomas Woodward, president of a Dallas-based architectural firm. He said you could spend a fortune just trying to make the building safe. However, special attention should be given to priceless architectural feature or irreplaceable hand-detailing.

Sometimes it is desirable to strengthen these buildings even at great expense. The estimated cost of a restoration project involving a structurally sound building is about 30 percent less than the cost of a new building of comparable size.

FmHA Provided Loans To 7,672 Texas Farmers

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) provided loans to 7,672 Texas farmers in Fiscal Year 1982 which ended on September 30, FmHA State Director, J. Lynn Futch, announced today.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It provides loan assistance to farmers who need credit but who cannot get it from a private bank or other lending institution. The loans are to be repaid in full, plus interest, to the U.S. Government. FmHA has over 2,000 field offices throughout the country with 130 offices in Texas.

Early, preliminary figures show that nationally the agency provided about 100,000 loans to farmers across the country. The total amount loaned through FmHA Farmer Programs was approximately $4.1 billion.

The breakdown of Farmer Program preliminary totals show that Texas FmHA provided 3001 farm operating loans for $106,170,070; 205 farm ownership loans for $16,307,270; 4401 natural disaster emergency loans for $257,136,730; and 36 soil and water loans for $805,700. Some farmers received more than one type of loan, Mr. Futch said.

IT'S TIME TO PREPARE SPRING BULBS

It's the time of the year to plan and purchase your bulbs for spring bloom. I will cover three of the most popular spring bulbs here, the tulip, the hyacinths and the daffodil or the narcissi. The narcissi is the botanical name that encompasses all varieties of daffodil and jonquils. In many instances the name daffodil is used for the entire Narcissus family. Since our winters here in the South are more like the springs in the North I recommend the early varieties for more satisfaction and repeated seasons of bloom.

The narcissi can be grown in most any type of soil but they need fertilizing after their bloom and again in the fall. Use one-half pound of bone meal or blood meal and superphosphate to every ten square feet of clumps of plants. This mixture should be worked in lightly and then watered in. Remember that all bulbs need good drainage.

Narcissus are good for borders and naturalizing. They may remain in the ground from one season to another. However, every fourth year they should be lifted and divided to insure bloom. There are many good varieties for Texas to name a few; Yellow, King Alfred, Unsurpassable, Aerolite and Alasnam; White, Mount Hood.

Hyacinths both the Dutch and the Roman varieties in delightful shades are most attractive in groups. They should be stored in the refrigerator (not Frozen) until the weather cools.

They hyacinth will grow eight to twelve inches tall with six to ten inch pom pom like clusters of singles or double flowers. In planting your hyacinths, space them four to six inches apart in a sunny location. Cover the bulb with four to five inches of soil.

The hyacinths makes an excellent border for walks and beds as well as being excellent naturalized. Left undisturbed, they will produce flowers for years.

Hyacinths have a sweet, haunting fragrance that is associated with spring. Some of the more noted varieties are; Amsterdam (salmon pink), Bismark (pale blue), City of Harlem (primrose yellow), L'Innocence (pure white), King of Blues (rich indigo) blue) and Pink Pearl (deep pink).

Tulips are composed of many species and varieties. Tulips are a mainstay of spring gardens everywhere and can provide an abundance of flowers in a wide spectrum of colors from March through May.

Dwarf tulips are excellent in rock gardens and the taller ones are excellent in borders and naturalizing. Most tulips make excellent cut flowers. There are over four thousand named varieties of tulips which are grouped into fifteen classes.

It is necessary to refrigerate tulips five to six weeks (not freeze) here in Texas before planting. After the completion of this refrigeration period the tulips should be planted immediately.

An application of five to six pounds of bone or blood meal per one hundred square feet should be worked into the soil at the time of planting. Then when the first shoots appear in the spring work in a light application of 5-10-5 fertilizer.

The bulbs should be planted two to three inches apart since they will not repeat here next year. They should be planted five to six inches deep here to protect them from our heat in the late fall and early winter.

You can plant annuals above the tulips. The tulips will push up and the annual will hide the maturing tulip foliage and faded flowers. All tulips do best in full sun but will bloom if they receive at least six hours of light per day.

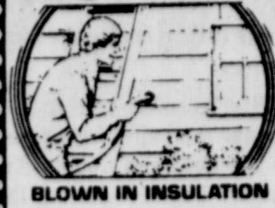

One of the more notable classes and varieties is the Darwin Tulips, which is a midseason variety and grows twenty-two to thirty inches tall. The Darwin tulip is a large cup flower. Some other varieties are Apeldoorn (orange-red), Gudoaknick (creamy-red), Aristocrat (violet rose) La Tulipe Noire (blackish purple) and Zuanenburg (white).

Cottage Tulips grow sixteen inches to three feet tall with egg shape flowers. Some of the more popular cottage tulips are Georgette, a clear yellow with red edges, and Mrs. John T. Scheepers, soft yellow with rosy wings pink shading to white at the base.

Parrot Tulips are late flowering twenty to twenty-eight inches tall, and produce blooms with twisted petals. The edges are cut into feather-like segments. Some of the more popular varieties are Allard Pierson (blood red with a blue base), Blue Parrot (lavender blue), Fantasy (green markings on a red pink background).

Remember to refrigerate your bulbs in the crisper of the refrigerator for six to eight weeks before planting them here in Texas in order to insure a good bloom next spring.

How to stand out in a crowd . . .

It makes sense to tell people about your business when they are looking for information about LOCAL HOMETOWN firms. Local Newspaper advertising answers questions and provides information to turn prospects into customers and that's why you're in business - to do business. BUT THE PEOPLE HAVE GOT TO KNOW ABOUT YOU! We of Eastland County Newspapers recommend CONSISTANT, CONSERVATIVE advertising - keep that name, telephone number and address constantly before the public, so that WHEN they need what you have, they'll come to YOU FIRST. Talk about our special monthly rates to get the most mileage for your advertising dollar. Don't blow it on the wind; invest it where it works.

BASS CLUB REPORT

Lets get those hooks sharpened. Sunday the 14th will be the day for our November tourney. And as everybody knows these next few months are when our larger fish are caught. This month we shall draw our lake at the White Elephant in Cisco Sunday morning. We shall draw at Sunday morning, we hope everyone will plan to attend as this is our next to last tourney of the year.

Reports are good from all area lakes with Cisco being the most consistent stringers. Leon is producing well with some nice 4 lbs. fish being taken early and late of a day. Proctor is furnishing its usual excitement with water level beginning to drop steadily. Lake Daniels near Breckenridge has turned out a number of 4 and 5 lbs. fish taken on spinners. Don't forget our meet for the tourney Sunday, Nov. 14th.

Eastland County Bazaar - Showcase For Talents

The county-wide Senior Citizens Bazaar held in Eastland Nov. 4 and 5 was a pleasure to visit. Its location - the Rebekah Lodge - was alive with the smell of good cooking, the sound of happy voices, and the sight of booths displaying bright, handmade objects.

Anyone tired of stereotyped factory-made products would appreciate the beauty and creativity of these hand-crafts turned out by the local Seniors.

The Senior Citizen's Bazaar was first sponsored by the Eastland County Extension Service during the 1960's, before any Senior Citizen Centers were organized in the county. It has served a most useful purpose since, helping to bring many fire craft to the attention of the public.

One of the first booths near the door was that of Lois Melton of Ranger, who had a very unique item. She had crocheted armadillos from soft, silver-gray thread, and they stood among hand towels, ceramics, and other crocheted articles.

R.E. Blalock of Cisco had a number of objects made from wood on his table. These included attractive candle holders, cups, drinking "glasses", vases, jars, and lamps. Most of these were made from local wood he had picked up - mesquite, pecan, oak, elm and cedar. Several items were made from aspen, pine, and black cherry from other places.

Mrs. Nola Blalock, at a table beside her husband, displayed some fine pieces of ceramics.

D.F. Williamson of Eastland had some excellent wooden objects on his table. He makes beautifully detailed model oil derricks, as well as pen and pencil holders.

Most visitors paused beside the large wooden Wishing Well at the table of Roy Maddox, of Cisco. Mr. Maddox was also displaying smaller wishing wells, as well as miniature wooden rocking chairs. Mrs. Maddox had doubleknit laprobes, pillow cases, aprons, and other household things.

At the end of one table sat Mrs. Edna Huffman of Ranger, busily working with a crochet hook. Her snowy hair matched the gleaming snowflake Christmas decorations on her table. She also had dresser scarves, doilies, and various other articles in white and stunning colors.

The tatting of Mrs. Luna Lane, Ranger, sold out fast. It seems that the public made a run on her beautiful Bible bookmarks, and other heirloom type things.

The MHMR Booth, which was staffed by Christell Gaines and Nell Broom, had sewing baskets and Christmas items lovingly handmade by Mothers and Grandmothers of clients at the Center. With relatives like that - you can't lose!

Mary Hightower of Cisco had some delightful hand-crafted flower arrangements. Her Christmas decorations, too, were eye-catching, especially her lovely red butterflies.

The stunning quilts, afghans, baby clothing, handmade shoes and other objects blended into booth after booth. Maydell Meredith, Eastland, had a number of crochet and needlework items. Elsie Clemmer of Desdemona brought handmade dolls. Lucille and Grace Harrelson of Cisco exhibited beautiful crochet work. Bessie Reynolds of Cisco had plants, Christmas type decorations, and crochet. Lily Hogsten of Ranger is an artist with crochet work, and brought it to exhibit. Among the others who displayed their lovely crafts were Geneva Wallace, Ranger, Lula Mae Basham, Eastland, Mavis Thames, Cisco, Geneva Leard, Cisco, May Carr, Cisco, Bessie Reynolds, and N.H. Geist, Cisco. A number of items were sold during the first day of the Bazaar.

The food Concession Stand, sponsored by the Extension Homemaker's Clubs, proved to be a very popular place during the event. There County Agent Janet Thomas could be seen assisting in many ways. This type of dedication has helped the Bazaar to continue, making it a showcase for crafts. Senior Citizens are proving that talent doesn't know the meaning of birthdays.

Visit A Vet On Veterans Day November 11th

by Steve Orders
1982's Outstanding Disabled Veteran of the Year
Disabled American Veterans

It will make you - and a veteran - feel better. Perhaps the stories of a couple of veterans I met on a recent visit to a VA hospital will help explain why I, as a representative of the Disabled American Veterans, am asking you to do something more than fly an American flag on November 11th this year.

school buddies - now in their middle thirties - have long since forgotten about him. Sometimes Tony forgets things too, due to the North Vietnamese shrapnel lodged deep inside his skull since that day, that year, Tony seems unable to place. "Maybe my family thinks I can't remember them, don't notice when they don't come here so much anymore," Tony told me.

Some stories are happier, some even sadder. Only a few patients have gone to the VA, like Ed, to die. And, certainly, not all will spend their lives walking up down the VA's wards like Tony.

and Tony and others like them to become forgotten people. All of us owe a tremendous debt to the men and women who have fought America's wars, and all of us know that.

But let's do a little more than that this year. In honor of Veterans Day, the Disabled American Veterans urges you to drop in at the VA hospital nearest you to visit just one or two veterans. They need to be remembered.

After Vietnam War wounds put me in a wheelchair, I spent a lot of time in Veterans Administration (VA) hospitals, but I was lucky because I always had the support of my family and friends.

Today, Ed's ticker is getting ready to quit. At 85, he's outlived all of his closest relatives and friends. Ed tried to smile as he told me, "The younger people, they just don't have time." Somehow it just escaped Ed that I was two generations behind him. Ed's alone, he's old, and he's dying.

Not every patient in our VA hospitals has a story as gut-wrenching as these.

I don't need to explain why none of us should allow Ed and Tony and others like them to become forgotten people. All of us owe a tremendous debt to the men and women who have fought America's wars, and all of us know that.

Today there are nearly 90,000 men and women in our VA hospitals, many without close family or friends. Some will be there for a long time. These veterans need to know that they're not forgotten, that people still care.

Then there's Tony who, I'd say, has many years ahead of him. But his old high school buddies - now in their middle thirties - have long since forgotten about him. Sometimes Tony forgets things too, due to the North Vietnamese shrapnel lodged deep inside his skull since that day, that year, Tony seems unable to place. "Maybe my family thinks I can't remember them, don't notice when they don't come here so much anymore," Tony told me.

Some stories are happier, some even sadder. Only a few patients have gone to the VA, like Ed, to die. And, certainly, not all will spend their lives walking up down the VA's wards like Tony.

and Tony and others like them to become forgotten people. All of us owe a tremendous debt to the men and women who have fought America's wars, and all of us know that.

THOUGHTS ON WRITING AND JUDGING
By B.A. Butler
(Editor's Note: For several years B.A. Butler of Cisco, widely known newspaper Editor and writer, has judged Articles in the annual Cisco Writer's Club Contest. Mr. Butler always gives each article a careful critique, and in addition gives some general observations on the craft of writing. These are his 1982 thoughts on judging articles and writing them, as presented to the Club. The group felt this fine writing of B.A. Butler deserved an even wider audience.)
Butler states: An appraisal begins with whether or not the piece arouses and satisfies an interest. If so - the next step is analysis - a process in which critics do not always agree. Of vital consideration is the question: "Is the subject worth the time of the reader?" And certainly, on this count, there will be disagreement. But the reader is the ultimate judge, and the critic is a reader with, we hope, a somewhat better qualified sense of form and method.

What we call writing, the putting together of words and phrases, is a structural matter. To write simply for the sake of writing is to waste talent, except as it may achieve a better mind and skill of expression.
Any active person with the necessary tools and a knowledge of mechanics can make a house. But it is not thereby a home.
I do not believe that writing, as an art form, can be taught. It must be mined of the soul - a solitary toil. And if the ore does not contain the talent, the most that can be learned is the process - the technique. This is not to say that the effort to write is not worthwhile.

In this day of packaged commentary and TV capsuling, which so little defies the intellect, the effort to make the written word speak for us is one of the most saving of cultural influences. It is an exercise in independence, a challenge to keep us ahead of technology, making it a benefit rather than a Frankenstein guided by a few. "I think, therefore I am," said a great philosopher.
I do not presume to instruct you in the mechanics of writing; there are many texts by people much more qualified than I. But the most important element in good writing is having something to say. Ideally, technique and the rules of rhetoric should become a "hidden nature", a sort of subconscious, and the author so moved by what he/she has to say that the expression achieves itself without mechanical awareness.
What I am saying is Write! Identify a vital theme and try to express it as you feel it. The more difficult the effort the greater the benefit. We learn by our failures, not by our successes. In doing so, and whether or not you are accepted as an author, you are helping to keep the machine in general control and not the instrument of a masterful few!
