

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

LOCAL CITIZENS seem to be busy raking leaves from their yards and placing full trash bags near the curbs. The trees in this area have mostly all changed colors for the fall season and most of the leaves have fallen to the ground.

Temperatures had been cooler this week, but by the end of the week they were starting to warm up again. Forecasts called for cooler weather again this weekend with several days of colder weather being expected.

I GUESS MOST football fans will be glued to their television sets this weekend as professional football games are planned.

Seems as if they decided to clear up their disagreements before the holiday season, so there will be plenty of football on Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's.

SPEAKING OF football it looks as though the Eastland Mavericks may go all the way to state this year. They seem to be rolling over everybody and will represent Eastland County well in the play-offs.

REMEMBER TO watch next Thursday's paper for a new addition to the newspaper which will encourage everyone to shop their local hometown stores.

If you would like an advertisement in this section, be sure and turn your ad in at The Cisco Press office before 5 p.m. Monday. Ads taken after the deadline will not be included in this section.

Also, to have your advertisement included you must run your ad in Cisco, Eastland and Ranger papers.

DON'T FORGET, shop your hometown merchants this holiday season.

NATIONAL Bible Week will be observed November 21-28, 1982, and the slogan is "The Bible. Read it for yourself."

Some interesting facts for the Bible Week are that 1982 marks the 200th anniversary of the Bible's first printing in America. Commissioned by the Continental Congress because copies were so scarce, the Bible was then as now, an important source of spiritual guidance and inspiration.

And we need the Good Book now more than ever. In times plagued with violence, moral confusion and international tension, the Bible is a refuge people can turn to. A

Chamber Plans Abbott Memorial

A true friend of Cisco was lost in the passing of Gene Abbott, Chamber of Commerce manager. He worked hard to keep a good image of our town before the eyes of people in the Big Country. In order that the efforts of Gene will not be forgotten, a memorial to him is being planned by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Tentative plans call for a brick planter and/or bench in front of the Chamber building with a memorial plaque bearing his name.

If you would like to make a contribution to this fund, it can be sent to the First National Bank in Cisco. Please make checks payable to the Gene Abbott Memorial Fund.

place where young and old alike can find courage, strength and faith.

National Bible Week reminds us the Good Book is here to be read. Sponsored by the Laymen's National Bible Committee, this annual, week-long interfaith program celebrates the Bible's enduring legacy.

National Bible Week coincides with Thanksgiving, America's only non-sectarian religious holiday. It's a perfect time to reflect on the Bible's indestructible truths. A perfect time to pick up the Bible. And read it for yourself.

CJC Madrigal Singers Will Present Christmas Dinner

The Madrigal Singers of Cisco Junior College will present their ninth Christmas Madrigal Dinner, December 2 and 3, at the Roof Garden Dinner Theatre. The singers are pictured with their director, Wyley Peebles, chairman of the Fine Arts Department at CJC.

The 1982 Madrigal Dinner begins at 7:00 each evening with a trumpet fanfare announcing the entrance of the singers, who process to the madrigal table as they sing. They light the Christmas candles, and another trumpet fanfare announces the bringing in of the wassail bowl, a hot punch which is served to the guests. In a similar manner the trumpets announce the procession of the roast pig, and each guest is served a portion of this unusual delight. At the conclusion of the meal a flaming pudding is brought in and all is served to the accompaniment of Christmas carols.

Finally, the concert of madrigals and carols begins. The concert this year will have at least four bona fide madrigals, some ancient religious music, and plenty of traditional Christmas

Eastern Star Chapter Will Have Salad Supper

Cisco Eastern Star Chapter No. 461 will have a salad supper Tuesday, November 23, at 6 p.m., honoring the Deputy Grand Matron. This will precede the regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

City Hall Will Close Two Days For Thanksgiving

The City Hall will be closed November 25 and 26 in observance of the Thanksgiving holidays. The Sanitation truck will NOT run on these two days, but will run its regular run on Saturday, November 27, 1982. The landfill will NOT be open on Thursday, November 25, but will be open on Saturday, November 27, 1982.

County-Wide War On Drugs Rally Set In Eastland Dec. 4

A County-Wide War-on-Drugs Rally will be held Saturday, Dec. 4, beginning at 7 p.m. at the Siebert Elementary School in Eastland, it has been announced.

Citizens Helpful In Drug Campaign

Police Chief Raymond Blevins complimented Cisco area residents Friday for their cooperation in efforts to control the sale of drugs in Cisco and Eastland County. He said officers have received and acted on a number of calls from interested citizens during this month.

"We obtained and used a search warrant Thursday after receiving a tip," Mr. Blevins said. "This kind of cooperation is very helpful in our work."

Trash Burning Is Against State Law

The Texas Clean Air Act prohibits the burning of trash and brush and violators are subject to arrest and fine, Fire Chief C.W. Guthrie reminded Ciscoans this week.

Cisco Volunteer Firemen answered three alarms to extinguish grass and trash fires during the past week, including one in the Humbleton area, another east of town and a third north of town. There was no property damage.

"Burning leaves, trash and grass could result in serious fires," Mr. Guthrie said. "And the practice is strictly against the law."

Sponsored by the County Anti-Drug Committee in cooperation with TANE, the program will feature the current, dramatic and informative film "Epidemic" and an expert in the field of combating drug abuse. TANE (Texas Alcoholic Narcotic Education) is a non-denomination information organization, sponsored by corporate, individual and church donations.

Another highlight of the program will be a presentation by County Sheriff John Morren and in inmate of the County Jail on the consequences of drug abuse. Other program features will be announced.

The film "Epidemic" was recently shown in the county, but due to projection problems, was not seen to its best advantage.

Sheriff Morren has given the anti-drug program at a number of schools and service clubs in the county and this will be an opportunity for entire families to see it together. The entire public is invited and there will be no admission charge.

A number of churches in the county are also making arrangements with TANE for specialist speakers from that organization to speak in churches on the Sunday following (Dec. 5). Persons of any denominations are invited to contact First Baptist Church, Eastland (629-1728) for information.

The school is located in the southwest part of town.

C.J.C. Basketball Teams Lose To Clarendon College

By Bill Roberts

After hitting 55 percent from the floor for three consecutive games and winning five straight games, you'd think the Cisco Junior College Wranglers would have things down pat—well, not just yet.

Thursday night in the CJC Gym proved to be the Wranglers that you can't do that kind of thing in fast-break basketball all the time as the men of Coach Tommy Collins dropped a 67-64 decision to unbeaten Clarendon College and fell to 5-3 for the season.

In the earlier game, Coach Ronnie Hearne's Lady

Rebecca Sunday School Class Meets Nov. 15

The Rebecca Sunday School Class of East Cisco Baptist Church held its quarterly social Monday, November 15, at the home of Mrs. Dessie Covington.

Hostesses were Dessie Covington, Clara Hallmark and Frances Pence, who was ill and could not attend. The meeting was conducted by President Omalee Holdridge. They discussed plans for their Christmas social, but plans were not completed.

The class agreed to bring cans of food to class each Sunday as a start for collecting food for the needy at Christmas season.

Since most of the class work they voted to dismiss the plan to be responsible for the clothes closet for needy.

Mrs. Covington brought the devotion in place of her sister, Mrs. Pence, who was ill. The subject of devotional was "True Worship" taken from Psalms 100, verses 1-3. The prayer before the meal was also brought by Mrs. Covington.

Refreshments served were chicken soup, crackers, chips and dips, chicken salad, baked apples, tea and coffee.

Those present besides hostesses were Omalee Holdridge, class president, Marie Ivie, teacher, Marie Brock, Clara Hallmark and Jewel Kinard.

USE POLICE DISPATCH

With the City Hall closed on Thursday for Thanksgiving, area residents were advised to call the county dispatch (629-1728) for police. Police Chief Raymond Blevins said the dispatch would contact local authorities by radio.

Wranglers and the Clarendon women played trade-out almost until just before the final buzzer. Clarendon had the edge, 73-70, as the Lady Wranglers dropped to 5-4 for the season.

The two CJC teams host Schreiner Institute Saturday in the CJC Gym, with action getting underway for the women at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. for the men.

Bruce Coleman continues to have a "hot hand" in scoring for the Wranglers 20.0 scoring average. He hit 24 against the Bulldogs after a 30-point performance against South Plains Tuesday.

The Lady Wranglers played five players in double day night in an 86-72 win. Freshman David Jones has a 16.6 scoring average and got 14 points against South Plains.

Man Arrested In Slashing Of Tires

Michael Wylie Ward, 20, of Dallas, was in police custody here Friday on charges of criminal mischief, Police Chief Raymond Blevins reported. He was arrested after investigation of the slashing of seven automobile tires in the Cisco Junior College dormitory area, Mr. Blevins said.

Officer Jackie Hobbs handled the investigation and arrest.

Local Youths Named To College 'Who's Who'

Olivia Elizalda, Mary McGrew, Dickey Seider, Mike Sherman, Kelly Simmons and Tracy Owens of Cisco have been named to the 1982-83 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges". Twenty-eight Cisco Junior College students have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

figures but it wasn't quite enough as the Bulldog women got revenge for an earlier 67-45 loss to the CJC women.

Barbara Williams hit five of 13 field goals but went to the line 16 times and hit 12 for 22 points against the Lady Bulldogs.

Williams is currently leading the Lady Wranglers in scoring, with a 14.9 average. Next is freshman Linda Bubert, who has a 13.9 average through nine games. Bubert hit 12 against Clarendon.

Clarendon took command just before the half against the Lady Wranglers, leading by as much as nine points with 57 seconds remaining in the opening 20 minutes. CJC came back to take the lead twice by a point and even led by as much as six before the Lady Bulldogs closed the gap. A couple of baskets by Paula Dotson, however, pushed the visitors back to the final three-point margin with 56 seconds left in the game.

Thirty deer hunters and cooks attended a deer hunters program last Monday night in Eastland. This was the first time we have conducted a program of this type. The response was very good, therefore other programs on this subject will be offered in the future. Game Warden Kenneth Payne gave an excellent presentation on hunting laws and hunting courtesy. The Extension Agents presented a program on deer meat quality and preparation for good eating. Deer hunters will soon be bringing home a lot of venison, and its quality depends a lot on how the deer carcass is handled.

The entire process of handling the carcass from field to table can add or detract from the desirability of the final product. The hunter plays an important role in determining whether a deer steak is tender and tasty or tough and bad-flavored.

These are recommendations for hunters to help improve the quality of venison they bring home.

1. Whenever a choice is available, select a female animal for less flavor intensity (gaminess). This does not mean that male animals provide undesirable meat, but rather that most consumers may prefer the less intense flavor of the female.

2. Whenever possible place the shot in the neck or head to insure a clean, rapid kill. This prevents post-shot stress and also reduces tissue damage considerably.

3. Field dress the animal as soon as possible. If contents of the intestine or paunch have spilled, rinse the carcass with water. A publication, L-634, entitled "Field Dressing Big Game" is available from the county Extension office and provides more information.

4. When weather permits, leave the skin on the carcass to help conserve moisture. However, a little common sense dictates that carcasses should be skinned and covered with a fly proof bag in hot weather if a cooler is not accessible. Also, a male in the rut may have a strong urine odor on the hind legs and probably should be skinned prior to storage.

5. If the family prefers a somewhat more intense flavor which is similar to aged beef, hang the carcass in a locker for about a week before final processing. Again common sense dictates storage in a clean locker which eliminates contamination or odors from poorly handled carcasses.

These recommendations are not the only way to handle carcasses. Many hunters have preferred method for bringing home quality venison.

If a hunter has no experience in handling deer carcasses, or has had a bad experience with deer meat, these suggestions may provide a means of increasing the use of deer meat. Further suggestions on care and cooking of venison can be found in the publication MP-1333, "Big Game Cooking Care," also available from the county Extension office.

"Farm and City: Partners in Progress-You Can't Have One Without the Other" is the theme of this year's Farm-City Week Nov. 19-25.

Purpose of the observance is to focus on the involvement of farm and city people as partners in the growing, processing, marketing and consumption of food and fiber.

In other words, Farm-City Week is aimed at promoting better understanding between farm and city people and increasing the knowledge and appreciation of each for the American way of life.

Farm-City Week is under the direction of the National Farm-City Council, Inc., which is coordinated by Kiwanis International.

Agricultural production, marketing and processing provides jobs and income for about a fourth of the working force in Texas.

One out of every 30 Texans is a farmer or rancher, and 30% of the state's retail trade business is directly associated with agricultural production and selling of food and fiber products.

Total cash receipts from Texas agricultural sales were just over $10 billion and just over $35 million in Eastland County in 1981. Economic activity generated from these marketings exceeded $35 billion.

Total farm assets in Texas are estimated at $80 billion. With 186,000 farms in Texas, assets average $430,000 per farm. Many commercial size, full-time operators, have in excess of a million dollars invested in their farm or ranch business.

Texas ranks in third place in total cash receipts among the leading agricultural states, behind California and Iowa. Texas, however, is number one in the sales of cattle and calves, cotton, grain sorghum, sheep and wool, goats and mohair, cabbage and spinach. Eastland County ranks fourth in Texas in peanut production.

One farm worker today provides food and fiber for 78 people. He also creates jobs for more than 5 nonfarm people who produce the things farmers need and who process, transport and merchandise the crops farmers harvest.

American agriculture is the world's largest commercial industry with assets exceeding $1 trillion. This industry employs nearly 23 million people, a full 22% of America's total labor force. The agricultural industry encompasses manufacturing, farming, transportation, processing, and merchandising.

Farm and city people make the best food and fiber team in the world and give this country the capacity to feed its own people and to export for economic gain as well as for humanitarian purposes.

A Mysterious U.S. Agency

By Viola Payne

Of all the agencies of government, none seems as puzzling to most citizens as the Federal Reserve Board. Unless a person is in the banking business, or has studied college Economics, the Board (or Feds, as it is often called) is almost unknown.

Perhaps this is partly the Board's own fault - it stays generally low profile, with no PR specialists to sing its praises. Yet the Board has a voice, as newscasters will tell you. Pronouncements from a meeting of this Body - as happened this week - will send a nervous stock market up or down. And when Chairman of the Board Paul Volcker makes statements about interest rates, the jobs and welfare of several million people are affected.

The decisions of the Board have such far-reaching effects that its members are sometimes referred to as "the most powerful group of private citizens in America". And sometimes the skirmishes between its financial experts and government personalities resemble aerial combat - it is out of our control and far removed - yet terribly vital.

Due to a series of disastrous bank failures, the Federal Reserve Board was established in 1913. The Federal Reserve Act was passed by Congress and signed by President Wilson. Its purpose was to place the regulation of currency in an independent but clearly government agency - a system of public central banks. The country was divided into 12 Federal Reserve Districts, each with its own Federal Reserve Bank.

The Federal Reserve Bank for the Eastland County area is located in Dallas, and it holds federally regulated deposits of member-banks from a wide territory. The Federal Reserve Board in Washington, with these 12 regional Banks, constitutes the American "central bank". Through this the Government handles its transactions, coordinates and controls the commercial banks, and helps control the nation's money supply and credit conditions.

The Federal Reserve considers itself a "public" agency, and it is directly responsible to Congress (only indirectly to the President).

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve Systems consists of seven governors, one appointed by the President every two years for a term of 14 years. From these seven the President appoints a Chairman for a term of four years. This term does not coincide with the Presidential term - a circumstance that helps prevent a President from controlling a Board that is unwilling to follow his leadership.

Since the beginning of the Federal Reserve Board it has had a conservative influence on government. It seems to operate on several premises: that limitation in the supply of money is necessary if money is to have value, that the dollar must remain sound, and that inflation is one of the greatest enemies a government can have.

The Board's desire for a balanced Federal Budget has long gone unheeded. A number of President, including Truman and Kennedy, have disagreed with the Board on various matters. Traditionally the Republicans have been most supportive of the Board on monetary policies - yet seemingly the Board has been rather cool to the policies of President Reagan. It has been noticeably reluctant to lower interest rates down to the point he desires.

The Treasury-Federal Reserve Accord of 1951 freed the Federal Reserve from any obligation to support Treasury issues at par. This Act was considered a milestone in the independence of the Board from the Executive Branch, although there have been challenges since.

The greatest challenges in the history of the Board will probably come in the next session of Congress, where some House members have already indicated a desire to "break the power" of the Federal Reserve. The Reserve policies are blamed for unemployment and economic woes, brushing aside the poor management of national affairs by legislators.

All of us should study the basics of the financial system we live under. For knowledge has power - the power to help us make rational decisions.

BILFIELD DISPATCH Independent Producers Entitled To Tax Exemption

Effective Jan. 1, 1983, independent producers (but not royalty owners, unless the Government decides to let the Wyoming Federal Court decision stand) are entitled to have their stripper production exempted from the Windfall Tax. An exception is that production attributable to an interest which was owned at any time after July 22, 1981 by a person other than an independent producer does not qualify.

Court Decision Allows Advance Oil Royalties

In July, 1982 a 7th Circuit Court of Appeals decision allowed percentage depletion on advance oil royalties, whether or not there was production in the year of payment. The Court's decision would also apply to lease bonuses.

there is no production. (Farmer and Snugg, Nos. 15-807, 16 80T, Sept. 22, 1982).

But now the U.S. Court of Claims has ruled differently. In a case involving bonuses, the Court agreed with IRS that percentage depletion is not available in years where

The conflict between the Court Claims and the 7th Circuit may have to be resolved by the Supreme Court. The outcome of these decisions will have quite an effect on local royalty owners. Depletion allowable on oil production for 1981 was 20%, but this is being gradually phased down.

Application Provides Funds To Seal Old Ore Shafts

AUSTIN--The Railroad Commission has authorized an application for $83,910 in federal funds to seal approximately 25 open, vertical shafts resulting from mercury ore mining operations decades ago in the Terlingua area in West Texas.

federal abandoned mine land funds. Texas has such a program, administered by the Commission's Surface Mining Division.

The staff of the Commission's Surface Mining and Reclamation Division said that the shafts are along Farm Road 170, which is the only highway between Presidio and the northern entrance to Big Bend National Park. The area is heavily travelled by tourists. Most of the shafts are easily accessible, and pose a serious health and safety hazard. Tourists have been seen near many of them.

Before proceeding with the application, the Commission must get a supporting letter from the Texas Governor. The final decision on the Commission's request will be made by the federal Office of Surface Mining.

Some of the shafts are 900 feet in depth. Under provisions of the federal "Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977" a state with an approved abandoned mine program is eligible for the IRS has not yet issued regulation on how to claim the exemption.

What to do? The Federal Programs Advisory Service, publisher of the Crude Oil Pricing/Windfall pricing Tax Information Service, recommends that producers (including working interest owners) certify to the IRS, and to their operator or purchaser that production from specifically identified properties qualifies as exempt stripper oil.

The certification should be signed and dated by the producers, under penalties of perjury. It should also include the name, address, and taxpayer identification number of the producer. A revocation must be filed within ten days if the producer no longer qualifies for the exemption.

The Advisory service recommends that producers accomplish this by modifying Part 1 of the existing Form 6458, by adding and checking a new box identified as "Exempt Stripper Oil (Section 4994g)". It is understood that the IRS plans to modify Form 6458 in this way.

..... give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE TO WATER CUSTOMERS OF HIGH TURBIDITY

Dear Customer:

The City of Cisco during the month of September, 1982, supplied water that exceeded the Texas Department of Health's "Drinking Water Standards," which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act," Public Law 93-523 (US), for turbidity. The water supplied failed one or more of the following criteria: (1) the monthly average exceeded 1 turbidity unit (TU).

The presence of excessive turbidity or cloudiness in drinking water may interfere with the effectiveness of disinfection of the water. Permitting the turbidity level to exceed the standard may present a risk to the health of persons drinking the water.

However, up to five turbidity units (TU) may be allowed if the supplier can demonstrate that the higher turbidity does not: (1) interfere with disinfection, (2) prevent maintenance of an effective disinfectant agent throughout the distribution system, (3) interfere with microbiological measurements.

The water system is being studied to correct any high turbidity at any future date.

The notification of the public is in compliance with Texas "Drinking Water Act," as a means of keeping the public informed.

Navy Offers Alternative To Cost Of Education

What alternatives does a parent have to overcome the staggering cost of a college education for their children? Look no further than the United States Navy. Through the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps (NROTC), a qualified student earns up to $40,000 worth of education at no expense to the student or the frustrated parent. The student also receives $100 per month tax free pocket money.

The program is highly competitive, and an interested applicant must be determined to complete certain prerequisites in the allotted time frame. Next to scholastic ability, time is the most critical factor in applying for the program.

Screening for the 1983 NROTC program is underway now. Initial applications must be postmarked no later than 1 December. To qualify scholastically for the program under the American College Test (ACT), applicants must take the examination during the month of October, 1982. An ACT score of English 18 and Math 24 are the minimum for the consideration for NROTC.

For those applicants who intend to compete through the Scholastic Aptitude Test, they must participate in the examination by the end of November 1982. A minimum of 430 Verbal and 520 Math is required for the SAT applicant. Students can ensure rapid delivery of the test scores to the NROTC Scholarship by indicating the four digit program code "0656" on their registration form.

Applicants interested in the Marine Corps must score a minimum Math plus English of 45 on the ACT or a Math plus Verbal of 1000 on the SAT.

Other requirements that must be met by the applicant are: U.S. citizenship, age (at least 17 and not have reached 25 by 30 June of the year of graduation), high school graduate or equivalent, physically qualified and display moral integrity.

With the probability of receiving as much as $40,000 worth of free education, a person might wonder at the Navy's generosity. The reason is simple. The Navy needs quality officers. Once selected for the program, the student must agree to pursue an academic major of interest to the Navy or the Marine Corps. They must also successfully participate in the required naval science subjects, attend drills and complete summer training.

Upon graduation, the person will be commissioned a Navy Ensign or Marine Corps Second Lieutenant. Under the current program, a six year obligation is incurred by the graduate of which four years must be served on active duty.

Making Things Right

Have you ever come across that "perfect" subject...and yet passed on taking the shot because something wasn't quite right? Perhaps the light wasn't as you wanted it, or the subject wasn't close enough, or something.

That's happened to me more than once. Most often, I've run across the problem when out taking "grab shots"—those unposed photos which, for one reason or another, must be taken as they come or not taken at all. Press photographers frequently run across such situations. But, if you do enough shooting, sooner or later it's a sure bet you will, too.

What do I do when I run into the problem? There was a time when I'd analyze the situation, think about all the things that were wrong with the shot, and then, chin to chest and heels dragging, slowly walk away.

No more. Now, I figure, what the heck. What's the cost of a frame or two of film compared with a really first-class subject? Even if I never do quite figure out how to turn the frame into a useable image, I take the shot.

And you know something? There are more times than I can count when that "unuseable image" has turned into a very serviceable photo, indeed. More than likely it won't turn out to be a prize-winning photo. But, then again, who says it has to?

For example: Do you see the photograph illustrating this article? It's what I call a very serviceable image. It's a cute subject; it has good composition; and it tells a story—of a toddler having fun on a warm day in the park. It would have been a shame to pass the photo by simply because circumstances were definitely second rate.

For openers, the light—the photographer's friend and sometime nemesis—was all wrong. The child was positioned on the swing in such a way that a narrow streak of bright light fell across the shoulder and chest, while the rest of the child, including that all important face, fell into fairly deep shadows.

If I'd had electronic flash, I would have used it as fill to lighten the shadows just enough to provide more highlights in the face. But my flash unit was resting comfortably at home.

If I'd had time, I would have used a reflecting card to bounce some of the sunlight onto the child's face, producing a natural-looking, soft-light portrait. My mouth waters at the thought.

The Navy's generosity does not stop with the Scholarship Program. Upon entering the Officer Corps, the Navy promises a wide diversion of job opportunities, promotion and immediate supervision. Travel, medical and housing are also offered by the Navy and pay is equitable to the civilian community.

So there you have it: education, pay, travel and management experience—all at the Navy's expense...a good deal, agreed?

Incidentally, if your son or daughter is already in college, the Navy offers a two year NROTC program. Check into it.

Can a poor photographic situation result in a better-than-average photo? Sure, if you follow some after-shooting suggestions.

But, alas, the moment was fleeting, I was too far from the subject to use a reflecting card, and besides—I didn't have one with me.

How did I get that touch of light in the child's face? By making the print myself, and "dodging," or preventing some of the light from reaching the face during the enlarging process. If you do your own darkroom work, you could accomplish the same thing. A little trial and error will tell you just how much dodging is necessary to produce an acceptable photo.

If you don't do your own darkroom work, take your negative to a custom lab and request a custom print. Specify the areas you want dodged. You'll pay a few bucks more for the service, but it may turn out to be worth every penny.

Another thing wrong with the original shot was that I was too far from the subject to fill the frame. I had only a short lens with me, and I didn't feel I had time to get closer before snapping the shutter. Again, I zoomed in on the child in the darkroom, increasing the enlargement size until the child filled the frame. You can do the same thing—or request your photo technician to do it for you.

So the next time you come across a scene that's almost but not quite perfect, go ahead and take the shot. Could be that, with a little after-shooting manipulation, you, too, could end up with a very serviceable image.

Audition Scheduled For CJC Wrangler Belles

Auditions for the 1983-84 Wrangler Belles drill team of Cisco Junior College will be held Sunday, November 21, in the gymnasium on the CJC campus. The tryouts will begin at 1:00 p.m. and should be completed by 5:00 p.m.
 All senior girls are invited to audition and no previous experience is necessary. Shorts and tennis shoes should be worn by the girls. A simple routine will be taught to the girls and they will audition in groups.
 All Wrangler Belles receive a scholarship, the amount depends on place of residence (on or off campus) and classification.
 For more information contact Mrs. Pat Owens at 817-442-2567, extension 121.

THE REAL ESTATE CONSUMER

UNDEVELOPED LAND HAS APPEAL

Since Peter Minuet bought Mahatten Island for $24 in merchandise, the appreciation potential of land has been apparent.

One of the main avenues of gain through undeveloped land is local growth. Local growth may be in the form of geographical expansion or population and employment increases. As the city and its suburbs grow, everything from transportation arteries to shopping centers and schools expand as well.

Land once considered too distant from the city for anything except agricultural purposes is seen for its development potential. And, although most changes are gradual, speculative buying or an announcement about a new thoroughfare or annexation, may bring about rapid appreciation of property value.

Because it is tangible, indestructible and useful, undeveloped land is considered an excellent hedge against inflation.

POPULATION TRENDS IN TEXAS

The population of Texas should continue to grow faster than the population of the nation, at least through the 1980's.

The growth in Texas is expected to include more counties and take place in both rural and urban areas. But the area of in-migration probably will begin to slow in the latter half of this decade.

The horizons of metropolitan areas will be extended, and people will become more widely dispersed and more distantly removed from the boundaries of central cities. Because of a greater concentration of younger persons, the number of Hispanics is expected to increase at a more rapid rate than the number of Anglos or blacks.

On the average, Texans will be slightly older in 1990 than in 1980, and the margin by which females outnumber the males will remain relatively unchanged.

Collectively, these population trends have far-reaching implications for the state.

RENTAL PROPERTY IS TAX SHELTER

One of the best ways to reduce your income tax burden is to acquire improved rental real estate.

Why? Buildings acquired in 1981 and after can be depreciated over a 15-year life. Generally, the entire building cost can be depreciated, regardless of the amount of cash invested.

Even though it is a non-cash expense, depreciation is tax deductible. Often, deductions for depreciation, interest and maintenance expenses exceed rental income. This generates tax losses which shelter other income. This can reduce your income tax burden.

If you are considering the purchase of depreciable real estate, be careful to determine whether there will be cash flow. If none is expected, estimate whether the proposed investment is worthwhile and be sure that you can subsidize the project using cash earned from other sources.

DESIGNING THE PURCHASE AGREEMENT

When you and the seller have agreed on the price for a house, some form of purchase agreement or earnest money contract in which a seller agrees to sell and a buyer agrees to buy a piece of property. Terms and conditions of the sale are spelled out in writing, and the agreement is signed by both buyer and seller.

Before you sign an agreement to buy a house, get the advice of real estate professionals. Since the agreement binds you to all its terms, you may wish to get the advice of a real estate attorney, who can also represent you at the closing.

Negotiate all the terms before you sign, especially the sales price. Your broker can assist in this process.

Know exactly what the agreement says - Read it carefully several times before signing. Take your time. Be realistic. Be thorough.

FINDING A PROPERTY MANAGER

If you are a landlord who is tired of tenant problems and complaints or just do not have the time to manage an investment, perhaps you need a property management firm. Here are some tips on finding a property manager.

Look at the company to determine what proportion of its resources are devoted to property management. It's one thing to claim the title, but quite another to provide competent service.

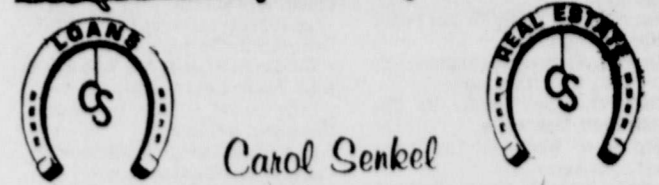

You want a professional company but not one so large that it will lose your property in a huge portfolio. Match your investment with the manager who specializes in your kind of property.

Meet as many members of the firm as you can, especially the one who will be involved with handling your property.

Examine a sample draft of the management contract. Be sure it spells out all the services, liabilities, procedures and duties of the agent.

And finally, negotiate the management fee carefully.

Homemaking Hints

By Janet Thomas

The holiday season is beginning. Holiday fashions are exciting and beautiful this year. The main influences for the holiday are the continuing of the romance of the Renaissance, a softer version of the prairie look, and the sophisticated tuxedo look.

Silhouettes will range in variety from lots of ruffles and frills to the simple loose styles.

The elegance of taffeta has returned! This fabric will be showing up in all forms for the holiday - solids, prints and plaids. We will see blouses, cummerbunds, skirts, dresses, pants, and jackets. The number one item to update a wardrobe will be something in taffeta.

Metallics will still be shown but toned down from last year's looks. Simple gold or silver thread will be woven into fabric for blouses and dresses. Gold lame and black will give sparkle and sophistication to any holiday look.

Velvets, velveteens, panne, silks, jacquards and tapestries will be prevalent during this season to give the romantic, feminine approach to fashion. Blouses will have full sleeves - pleated or gathered. Ruffles around the cap of sleeve puts the romance in the prairie look. Bows also add to this look.

Skirts are full or straight, and hem lines go to all extremes - long to short. The bubble skirt will also be making its return.

Sparkling belts in all width will add to the festive air of the season. Cummerbunds made of bright plaids or solids will complete the tuxedo look.

All in all the fashion for the 1982 holiday will be festive and romantic.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK: The holidays mean parties! The recipe I am including this week is for Pecan-Meringue Chews. This is a delicious recipe from the EAT MORE PECANS bulletin.

PECAN-MERINGUE PECANS
2 egg whites
2 cups brown sugar
4 cups pecans, chopped

Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold in brown sugar; add pecans. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased baking sheet and bake at 375° F., until golden brown; about 10 to 12 minutes.

Pest Alert

By Gordon Woolam

Proper pruning enhances the beauty of almost any landscape tree or shrub, while improper pruning can ruin or greatly reduce its landscape potential. In most cases it is better not to do it than to do it incorrectly. By using improper pruning methods healthy plants are often weakened or deformed.

Pruning, like any other skill, requires knowing what you are doing to achieve success. More trees are killed or ruined each year from improper pruning than by pests. Remember that pruning is the removal or reduction of certain plant parts to improve the health, landscape effect or value of the plant.

Pruning can actually be done at any time of the year; however, recommended times vary with different plants. In general, the best time to prune most plants is during late winter or early spring before growth begins. Dead wood can be removed at any time.

Dead trees should also be removed as a safety precaution. Dead roots can rot away and with wet soil and high winds trees can topple onto houses, garages or cars.

Sanitation is the key to prevention of many diseases and insect problems. The removal of dead limbs and the proper care of pruning wounds are important steps in pest management of landscape plants. Normally, wound dressings are used on cuts larger than an inch in diameter.

More information is available in Extension publication B-1347 Pruning and Training Landscape Plants or by contacting your County Extension Office.

County Pecan Show Scheduled

The 30th Annual Eastland County Pecan Show has been scheduled for December 3 and 4 reports Dan Childress, President of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association. The pecan show is sponsored by the growers association and the Eastland Chamber of Commerce. The event will be in the county courthouse lobby.

The pecan crop is small this year, but the quality of pecans are generally very good according to County Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon.

Anyone producing pecans in 1982 may enter the pecan show. An entry consists of 43 pecans of one variety and native pecans from any single native tree. All entries should be sacked and labeled with the grower's name, address and variety of pecans. These should be selected from the best pecans, usually among the first to fall. Entries may be left at the County Extension Agent's office anytime the courthouse is open now until 4:00 p.m. December 2.

On Friday, December 3, ten pecans from each entry will be weighed, shelled, and kernels weighed to determine the number of pecans in one pound and percent kernel. These two factors are important along with appearance, color, uniformity and texture.

Plaques will be given for the champion in-shell, champion shelling, and champion native pecans. Rosettes will be given to the reserve champion in each group. Ribbons will be awarded to the first, second, and third place entries of each variety.

Childress hopes to have 200 entries representing over 40 varieties in the show. The Eastland County Pecan Show is the oldest continuous pecan show in Texas and one of the largest.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce will assist processing of pecan entries.

Everyone is invited to enter the Pecan Bake Show and Centerpiece divisions.

The rules for these divisions are:

ADULT DIVISION
1. There shall be 6 divisions of products with a requirement for each:

- Pies - must enter one whole pie
- Cakes - must enter one whole cake
- Candy - must enter at least 12 pieces
- Nut Bread - must enter one whole loaf
- Cookies - must enter at least 12 cookies
- Snacks - must enter whole recipe or ample portion for judging and display. Food entered as a snack cannot be entered in the above 5 baked food divisions. Suggested pecan snack items would include coated or salted nuts, party appetizers, etc.
- Recipes should accompany all bake show entries.
- All entries must contain pecans. No refrigerated items and no food products made with mixes will be accepted.
- Anyone, man or woman, from Eastland County may enter products in the show.
- All entries must be entered and in place by 11:00 a.m., Friday December 3 when the judging will begin in the Courthouse lobby.
- The judges will be trained in Home Economics.

7. Score cards will be used to judge entries in all 6 divisions and cash prizes and ribbons awarded according to score. Cash awards shall be as follows:

- 1st - $2.50
- 2nd - $1.50
- 3rd - $1.00

8. There will be a Grand Champion and a Reserve Champion for the whole show. Cash awards shall be as follows: Champion - $5.00; and Reserve Champion - $4.00.

9. Entries in the adult pecan bake show division will be returned to their owners between 4 and 5 p.m. on Friday, December 3. Pecan Bake Show entries not claimed by 5 p.m. on Friday, December 3 will be sold to the public and money will go to the Extension Homemaker Council treasury fund.

10. One piece of prize winning entries shall remain and be on display to the public during the remainder of the show.

All pecan bake show entries should be entered on disposable plates, foil, or paper, or pieces of stiff cardboard. All products need to be covered with clear plastic wrap.

All cash awards and ribbons are sponsored by the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

PECAN CENTERPIECE ARRANGEMENTS
This division will consist of centerpieces and arrangements made from pecans or parts of the pecan plant, such as the leaves. The rules for this show are as follows:

ADULT DIVISION
1. There will be 3 prizes given to the top three entries as follows: 1st - $5.00, 2nd $2.50, 3rd - $1.50.
2. All entries must have the arrangement: pecans or part of the pecan plant such as the leaves.
3. Anyone, man or woman from this county, may enter an arrangement in the show.
4. All entries must be entered and in place by 11:00 a.m. when the judging will begin on Friday, December 3rd.
5. The arrangements must remain in place until noon Saturday, Dec. 4th. Arrangements must be claimed no later than 12 noon on Sat., Dec. 4th.
6. Centerpieces and arrangements must be original and created in 1982.

All cash awards and ribbons are sponsored by the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

PECAN CENTERPIECE ARRANGEMENTS
This division will consist of centerpieces and arrangements made from pecans or parts of the pecan plant, such as the leaves. The rules for this show are as follows:

A Look Back At Pleasant Hill Baptist Church

(Editor's Note: This closes the Tucker history. After this account was written, Pastor Puryear resigned to continue his studies, and former Pastor Dr. Leon Woods of Brownwood accepted a call to pastor the church and the September Homecoming 1982 had a large attendance.)

Nov. 29, 1915 P.D. (Dick) O'Brien accepted "care of the Church". O'Brien was a teacher in the Shade Grove school. Often the tall, thin Baptist minister had his basketball games interrupted by young couples in their buggy wanting a quick marriage ceremony.

During O'Brien's tenure, a benevolent committee of R.L. Poe, B.F. Trout, and N.S. Kinard was appointed to look after Mrs. Kelly Parks, whose clothing had been ignited and caused severe burns. $36.95 was given to the lady.

The same committee was appointed to check into request for help from Baxton, Texas, as their Church was badly burned.

I.W. Lawrence pastored the Church after O'Brien. He started mid-week prayer services in the homes of various members of the community. He and his wife lived on Mr. Lee Poe's place. They had a sweet potato patch in their garden. The vines were just regular vines of a good production year. The Lawrences knelt down in the patch and had their picture made. The picture was sent back to their family with a note on "That's how tall sweet potatoes grow in the Pleasant Hill Community."

Houston Scott pastored the Church after Lawrence. (After that) Pleasant Hill was led by one of its own, Lawrence Trout, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.F. Trout. Lawrence had grown up in the community and the Church. He and Altie Hardin were ordained by the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church sometime about 1924. Lawrence married a community girl, the former Ruth Martin. He went on to pastor West Texas Churches and became the Cisco Association's missionary. The Leuder's Encampment Ground dining hall is named for he and his wife.

Nugent Baldree (another Pastor) had been reared in the Corinth Community, and employed by Humble Pipeline Co. This job was considered by the Cisco area people of the late '20's to be an excellent paying job. Nugent Baldree was called to preach, quit his job, and became PH's Pastor.

Elwin Skiles, whose father owned a Cisco grocery store, began his pastoral duties on Aug. 27, 1933. Skiles, a handsome, intelligent, very young man, introduced white shoes to the pulpit of Pleasant Hill Church during the depression years. He was the envy of people like Shannon Ramsey and Garner Altom. He probably has gone on to receive the highest degree of any of the pastors, becoming a President of Hardin Simmons University.

On the second Sunday of Dec., 1933 Robert Tucker and Henry Hines were ordained as deacons. On Aug. 6, 1934 the Church met in a called conference because it was necessary to purchase a new gasoline lantern.

On Nov. 24, 1935, the church unanimously called T.J. Sparkman as Pastor. Bro. Sparkman loved to ride on the front fender of a Model A, and with a 22 rifle prove that he was a crack shot at rabbits. Rabbit hunting was a big sport, as farmers would permit cars to drive over the wheat stubble to rid their farm of rabbits.

W.J. Poe, Henry Hines, and Robert Tucker made up a committee to invite a singer to help Rev. Sparkman with his summer revival. The summer revival was always held under a brush arbor made of willow brushes just north of the church house. The revival started every year the Friday night before the first Sunday in August, and lasted for ten days.

On March 12, 1939 W.J. Poe donated a light plant for the church, provided members would move the plant. In April a Baptist Young People's Union (BYPU) was organized, with Shannon Ramsey, Director, Mrs. J.O. Warren, Assistant, and Juanita Tucker, Pianist.

Sept. 1939 the average attendance in Sunday School for the year was 33, B.Y.P.U. 32. Money was requested to buy a new tarpoleum to cover the piano when used outside. The old tarp had been stolen during the revival services.

BYPU name was changed to Baptist Training Union in fall of '39. Orville Richardson, reared in Cisco, Pastored the Church. This was his first pastoral duties, as so many of the pastors before him and after. Richardson went on to pastor Churches in North Texas, mainly Wichita Falls.

The first recorded evidences of a Women's Missionary Union (WMU) was when Willie Hines was elected President and Johnnie (Mrs. Robert) Tucker Vice President in the fall of 1939. The church voted to give the WMU $1.00 a month for their expense.

On Oct. 8, 1939 Rev. Leon Woods was called as Pastor. An annual budget of $516.00 was adopted "as long as the Church could pay it." The Pastor's salary was $420.00.

Leon Woods and his wife, Marie, lived in the community. The couple was extremely young, and trying to live on the meager salary paid by the church. The farm community felt pleasure in giving them eggs, milk, and other commodities. Today Dr. Woods is a retired Vice President of Howard Payne University.

During the World War II years of the 1940's a banner-type flag was displayed at the church. A blue star in the background represented a member in the Armed Services. Stars were there for Gene Kinard, Glenn Kinard, Roy Kinard, Garland Kinard, Robert C. Hooker, C.E. Hooker, L.D. McCurry, and Buster J. Hastings. It was unnecessary to change any of these to a gold star, for all members returned from the war safely.

In June 1942 Leon Woods resigned as Pastor. In August Lee Fields was called to pastor the church.

On Nov. 1, 1942 Hines and Tucker were appointed to buy electric lights, as the Rural Electrification Association would soon illuminate the county's rural areas.

Discussion began about the purchase of the Pleasant Hill school building, which had been vacated by consolidation to Cisco. In April '44 permission was given the Treasurer to buy the school house for building purposes.

In July the members voted 100% to tear down the old church building and construct a new one from lumber from the church and school building. The suggestion to build to the existing church failed to gain any support.

This year Mr. Hagerman became the Sunday School Superintendent with a most humble and modest air. Although a very well self-taught man of German ancestry, he often reminded his audience of his lack of English. He was a very knowledgeable Christian man.

Late in 1944 a special building offering was taken up. With the tearing down of the old church, heating changed from wood to kerosene. "Study pictures" were purchased for the Juniors, and a blackboard purchased for the beginners.

June 1945 was set as dedication for the new church. Women volunteered to paint the church floor, with the church buying the paint.

Eager to show off their new church building, Pleasant Hill hosted the Cisco Association Worker's Conference in April, 1946. In June a new brush arbor was constructed. The old church pews would give the arbor permanent seats. Willows were gathered from the Dead Horse for the thatch roof. Finally, in 1946, the Church was wired for electricity.

A Christmas committee of Vergie Hale, Leona Morton and Charlotte Hastings reported that the church Christmas tree, selected by Ralph and Buster, would be decorated for the Dec. 23 party.

In Oct., 1947 the church voted for the first time to pay a janitor. Mr. Robert Hagerman, for several years, had cleaned the church, lighted the fires each Sunday morning, and been a general "sexton" without pay. The Church voted to pay him $1.00 each time he cleaned the church. The next year this was raised to $1.50.

In 1948 the church voted to have a "Daily Vacation Bible School" and to invite the "Summer Invincibles" to instruct the school on the week of the summer revival.

Graves Butane Co's representative presented a price quotation to the church for a new heating system. On Oct. 13, 1948 a motion was presented to cast votes for one of three methods of heating - oil, wood, or butane. Butane carried.

In March of '49 electrical wiring was run from the church to the arbor. Progress was taking away the gasoline lantern with a mantel. Later, air conditioning made it more comfortable to have the summer revival in the main church. The arbors are no longer seen on the countryside.

On the first Sunday of December, 1949 the Sunday collection was donated to the East Cisco Baptist Church for their building fund.

Lloyd Elder was called as Pastor on April 18, 1954. Elder is today a member of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Association. Gladys Hale was installed as song leader and Mrs. Lloyd Elder as pianist.

Due to a terrible hailstorm, the church had to undergo repairs. Robert Hagerman, Marvin Hale and Earl Harris repaired the roof. The men met "next rainy day" to repair the church ceiling.

A committee of Evelyn Mangum and Billie Wood was appointed to find out when and where "preachers and wives would eat". Evidently this was the last summer revival to be held outdoors under the brush arbor.

Summer and fall of 1958 brought more progress as the right-of-way was given for Highway 2526 to be constructed N. of the church.

On Sept. 20, 1959 Bruce Stovall, from the Cook community, married to the former Kitty Phippen of Cisco, came as Pastor. Bruce was a former football player for McMurry College, and Decatur Baptist College during the time Otis Strickland was President of DBC.

The church was expanded, and three Sunday School rooms were built on. The church made a deposit to send six persons to Glorietta Baptist Encampment during the summer. Kitty Stovall was Director of the VBS during this time.

A student at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary pastored the church from 1962 to 1968. By this time the Pastor's salary was $40.00 per Sunday. In May, 1966, Claude Harris preached his first sermon as Pastor.

In 1968 Homecoming date was permanently set as second Sunday in September. Because of declining population, intermediate class was discontinued.

A contract was let to tile the auditorium in Feb., 1969. An offering was taken to aid in establishing a Baptist Student Union at Cisco Junior College.

Jan. 4, 1970, because of theft and vandalism it was necessary to start locking the church. Locks were placed on all outside doors. In March Training Union was discontinued.

The seventies brought a decrease in church attendance, as the population changed their residence from rural to urban areas. Sunday School attendance remained stronger. Buford and Willie Cozart joined the church after Nimrod "disbanded".

Vic Allen, a Cisco resident, pastor the church from 1972-76. Then Lee Fields returned to pastor the church. He and R.L. Shannon are the only pastors to return to pastoral capacity. Mrs. Ruth Livingston became church clerk as well as women's teacher.

After Pastor Fields term as pastor Pepper Puryear, a Cisco High graduate, continued the tradition of pastoring the church while working on an undergraduate degree at Howard Payne University. He will continue his studies at Southwestern.

Although small in number, the church maintains a "sweet spirit", and you know you're in the house of the Lord.

Life Members Club Holds First Meeting

On Monday evening, Nov. 15 around 25 Life Members gathered at the Eastland V.F.W. (Carl and Boyd Tanner Post 4136) for the first meeting of a Life Members Club. The Charter for this group was received on Oct. 25.

Enthusiasm was high among these dedicated Veterans. Bert Kent of Lake Leon was elected President, Jack Mathis of Olden Vice President, Burton Phillips of Olden the Secretary-

Treasurer, and W.B. Enser of Eastland the Chaplain.

There are 43 Life Members of the organization at this time. The group will meet at the V.F.W. Clubhouse at 8:00 p.m. the third Monday of each month.

Goals of the Club were set as promoting the ideals of God, Country, Education, Health, and Community.

The Veterans wish to continue to make peace-time contributions to the Country they served during time of war.

Convicted Rapist Being Considered For Parole

Eastland County Criminal District Attorney Emory Walton has received notification that James Duke Creel is being considered for Bill Chaney Will Be 'Roasted' In Abilene

Big Country residents are invited to a "roast" Monday, November 29 for Bill Chaney, local TV personality. Proceeds are to help Chaney recover from financial debts accumulated during his long hospital stay.

David Bacon, sports director for KTAB-TV in Abilene, will emcee the event which begins with a dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the Abilene Civic Center.

"Roasters" for the evening will be Groner Pitts of Brownwood, Dr. Don Newberry of Snyder, Fred Lee Hughes, Jim Tittle, and Dick Spaulding, all of Abilene, followed by a response from Chaney.

Chaney is a native of Lohn, Texas and has been a local TV personality in Abilene and the Big Country for 17 years. He has recently returned to Abilene after a nine month stay in Houston Methodist Hospital and a series of five major surgeries. A fund for him has been set up at Abilene National Bank.

Tickets for the dinner and "roast" are $15, $25, or $50, and are available at Abilene banks and Savings and Loan institutions as well as Big Country electric utility companies: West Texas Utilities, Texas Electric, and Texas Power and Light, or by mail from KTAB-TV, P.O. Box 5676, Abilene, 79608.

parole in the immediate future. Creel was convicted in October 1971, for the brutal rape and strangulation of a 10 year old Abilene girl after the case was transferred to Eastland County. At his trial, Creel denied any involvement in the rape and murder of the child; however, the jury found him guilty and assessed his punishment at life in prison.

Walton said that in the punishment phase of the trial the Eastland County jurors thought they were giving Creel the maximum punishment by assessing his punishment at life in prison.

While Creel was in jail in Eastland County after his trial, former Sheriff L.E. (Lefty) Sublett received information of a planned jail escape by Creel and other prisoners. According to the information received, Creel wanted to escape so he could kill his wife and then planned to flee to Mexico. Walton stated that fortunately the information was received in sufficient time to prevent the escape by Creel and the other prisoner, both of whom were facing long terms in prison.

According to Walton, he has filed a protest to parole for Creel and notified Taylor County District Attorney Pat Elliott who has also filed a protest with the Board of Pardons and Paroles in Austin.

Walton said that he hopes the jurors in the Creel case and other interested citizens in the County will want to protest the parole of Creel. To do so, a person should write to the Board of Parons and Paroles, 711 Stephen F. Austin Building, P.O. Box 13401 Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711 and in the protest Creel should be referred to as "James Duke Creel, Inmate No. 232292, convicted of murder in Eastland County in October of 1971.

There is now a law which provides that if person commits a crime using or exhibiting a deadly weapon he must serve a minimum of 20 years or 1/3 of his sentence, which ever is less, before being considered for parole. Otherwise, according to Walton, a person is now eligible for consideration of parole after serving 15% to 20% of the sentence imposed.

Justice Dept. Will Appeal

Windfall Tax

Word from Washington is that the Justice Department decided on Nov. 18 (Thursday) to appeal the Wyoming District Court decision declaring the so-called Windfall Profit Tax unconstitutional.

The matter is expected to go on to the supreme court for a final ruling. Millions of dollars from Eastland County Oil will be tied up in this final decision, along with the $5.5 billion per year paid by the industry nationwide.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

We all have things to be grateful for at Thanksgiving time... especially in this time of world turmoil and unrest. Freedom, our most precious gift, we take for granted most of the time. We can say what we want, go where we please, and worship as we please. More than half the world cannot exercise these privileges.

We have much to be thankful for in that we have this bountiful land rich in everything that matters. No man must be a lord and no man need remain a serf. And if there are inequities - and there are - the promise and the dreams we have remain unfulfilled.

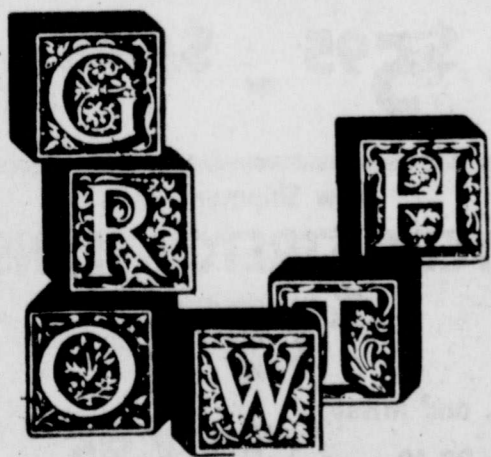

Today we should be thankful that although patriotism might seem at low ebb at certain times, each generation has tried to raise sons worthy of their fathers, men who knew where their duty lay and made the hard choice... some at a heavy price. The future is theirs and they have earned it.

At this time, before we sit down with friends and relatives to celebrate Thanksgiving, it might be well for us to say: "Yes, life in America provides much to be thankful for"...

CHURCH SERVICES

Sunday, November 21, 1982

REDEEMER LUTHERAN CHURCH
Sunday School and Bible Classes begin at 9:30 a.m. Our Worship Service begins at 10:30 a.m. Pastor Crockett's message is entitled "History's Contours And Faith's Shape!" based on Daniel 7:13-14. The Lutheran Hour will be aired over KRBC in Abilene at 8:00 a.m. Most people are thankful when something good has happened to them, or when something bad has not happened to them. But the Bible teaches that we should give thanks in all things and in all circumstances every day of the year. Pastor Wallace Schulz talks about this in his sermon "Thankful In All Things!" The Lutheran Youth Fellowship meets at 5:00 p.m., in the Parish Hall. Family Night with pot-luck supper begins at 6:00 p.m., sponsored by AAL Branch 1920.

New Testament History class meets in the Parish Hall on Monday at 7:30 p.m. The Cisco Nursing Center worship service will be held on Wednesday at 10:00 a.m. Our Thanksgiving Day worship service will be on Thursday at 10:00 a.m. Pastor Crockett's message is entitled "Thanks For Nothing, Lord!" based on Psalm 103:1-5, as we consider poor crops, failing economy, rising unemployment, spiraling violence and crime, and ever-fattening inflation.

and Mrs. Paul Blaine, Mr. and Mrs. M.M. Endebrook and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pippen, November 24.

Open Jackpot Barrel Race Set Sunday

There will be an Open Jackpot Barrel race in Breckenridge, Sunday, November 21, at the Rodeo arena on East Walker. Books will open at 1:00 p.m., and start at 1:30 p.m.

$100 has been added to the Open. All other classes will follow.

The jackpot has been approved by W.T.B.R.A. and L.S.B.R.A. For more information contact Ila Doss, 817-559-2435.

Because our sins are forgiven, our death is swallowed up, our eternal punishment is averted, our guilt is removed, and our diseases are healed - all through Jesus Christ - nothing terrible has touched our precious souls and bodies. A special offering will be received in order for our Synod to continue its world-wide ministries of God's Word and Sacraments. The regular offering for the day will be sent to our District Office toward our annual Mission Commitment.

People n Things

THE TRIP HOME from Ecuador last Tuesday was a full and interesting day that began at 7 a.m. when the JWSs and their baggage were picked up at the Colon Apartments in Quito. (The apartments, incidentally, are owned by an 83-year old man who fled Hitler's persecution of the Jewish people in the early 1940s. He founded the Colon Hotel, the best in Quito, and now operates the apartment complex in his retirement years.)

At the airport, we found a long line of folks at the Eastern Airlines counter and stopped at the end. Before long, a couple of dozen others were back of us. The young publisher of the Quito newspaper took us to the airport and waited an hour or so with us to say goodbye. Soon, another of the newspaper's executive arrived to add his parting words and to help make us feel real good.

After tickets were checked, we lined up again to pay a $5 per person airport tax. Then to the immigration counter for passport stamping and through the x-ray machine. The ball rang when we went through so we did it over, handing the man our camera, and there was silence.

ABOARD THE Douglas DC-9 at 8 a.m., we had time to stow hand luggage and fasten seat belts before the jet engines roared into action. Soon after reaching 35,000 feet, breakfast was served. It consisted of greenish eggs (We told Mrs. JWS they were turtle eggs.) with meat, bread, jam, grapefruit, orange juice, sweet roll and coffee.

After an hour and a half in the air in perfect weather, we dropped down over the Panama Canal and landed at Panama's airport that's named for their strong man who died in an air crash there a few months ago. On the ground an hour, we were allowed to go into the airport and browse among the duty free stores that sold everything from watches and stereos to camera, liquors, tobacco and the like. We had come down from a city of 9,500 feet altitude to near sea level. And you could feel the humidity.

AFTER THE pleasant stop in Panama, our airliner headed north again. It was two and a half hours to Miami and the flight path was directly over Cuba. We could see Havana but not very well from 35,000 feet. Cuba looked nice and green and full of small farms.

Had to drop down through a lot of clouds to get on the ground in Miami—our first sight of USA soil in two months. It was raining but the airliner pulled up to a slot with cover so nobody got wet.

THE NEWSPAPER headline at Miami was in red ink and it said: Football Strike Over! Mrs. JWS, who had almost wished she'd stayed home so she could enjoy the football strike, was speechless. "They've settled it on your first day back home—settled it in your honor," she consoled.

Collecting baggage, we headed toward customs. Mrs. JWS was pretty disappointed when the customs man waved us through without opening bags. She had carefully made a list of every little purchase—arts, crafts, souvenirs and the like. And the man didn't even want to see it!

IT WAS MORE than three hours later that our flight to D-FW Airport began. It was raining (cats and dogs, some man said) as the Boeing 737 taxied out to wait 30 minutes or so for takeoff clearance. And it was about three and a half hours flying time to D-FW where we arrived at 8:30 p.m.—an hour or more late. A highlight of the flight was a nice steak dinner.

Relatives met us. When the baggage conveyor began unloading, we weren't able to find one of our bags—the one in which most of the Ecuadorian souvenirs were stowed. So we filed a claim and went on our way to spend the night with relatives in Arlington.

Next morning, we drove by the airport before heading to Cisco. And our bag with its contents intact was there—locked with a chain to a post. The airline man said it had gone on to Oklahoma City without floating, and it had returned on the next flight south.

And like always, the best part of our two months away was getting back home.

We'll be reporting regularly on the home scene as we've done for some 35 years.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

The final discussion of the articles by Carol Davis, Food Service Sanitation Specialist at TCU, and Dr. Phil Hartman, TCU, TCU biologist will be in this column.

The couple states bacteria grows more rapidly in high-moisture and high-protein foods, such as meat and dairy products. They also grow rapidly in such dishes as casseroles.

They indicate we should be aware of the three most common types of food-related illnesses:

Staph Bacteria food poisoning causes diarrhea, vomiting and cramps. The symptoms appear two to four hours after eating and last about 24 hours.

Salmonellosis, caused by Salmonella Bacteria, has symptoms similar to those of staph food poisoning, but the symptoms last longer.

Botulism is not as common and the symptoms are far more severe. Botulism is usually caused by improper canning techniques and some cases can be fatal.

One thing that the highly trained specialist warns: If there is doubt about the food, do not taste it.

The programs for the past week included: the sixth graders presented a Thanksgiving program under the direction of Davene Jeffcoat; Sue Taylor, Dixie Montgomery and Jack Montgomery sang several songs; dinner music was presented by Vida Killion, Marguerite King, A.E. McNeely and the Senior Center choir.

The Senior Center band went to Brownwood and Rising Star and presented programs during the week.

The Cisco center will be closed November 26 for Thanksgiving holidays.

The menus for the week are:

Monday--Barbecue chicken, potatoes au gratin, greens, lettuce and tomato salad, caramel pudding, bread, butter and drink.

Wednesday--(Thanksgiving Dinner) Turkey and dressing, giblet gravy, whipped potatoes, green beans, cranberry sauce, fresh fruit with whipped topping, bread, butter and drink.

Friday--The center will be closed.

Post Office Urges, 'Shop And Mail Early'

This year, the Postal Service is joining forces with the business community of Fort Worth, Texas, in urging customers to shop early and mail early for the holidays.

Postmaster W.H. Hathman has officially declared the start of the holiday shopping season by asking shoppers to shop early and mail early this year and to make certain that mail is addressed correctly (including Zip Codes) and packages are wrapped correctly so that cards and parcels reach their destinations in plenty of time for the holidays.

"Normally, we handle about 1.2 million pieces of mail a day—including cards, letters and packages, but during the holiday season, volume goes up to about 4.7 million pieces," the Postmaster says.

The key to successful holiday mailing is to mail early and correctly. Postmaster Hathman says that includes planning now for gifts that must travel long distances by Christmas.

"Many overseas mailing dates—including those for the armed forces stationed overseas—occur this month. Mailing can get specific information on the international dates by calling us here at 334-2985," Hathman said.

"Customers should also take care to write legible zip coded addresses for both the intended recipient and the sender. Since mail sorting depends on the zip code as well as the name of the particular city and state, the use of the correct zip code will aid us in processing the mail.

"Last year, our customers helped us tremendously. They mailed early in the season and early in the day. We hope they will choose with us again this year, so we both will have an enjoyable holiday mailing season."

Acknowledges Gifts

MILDRED JOHNSTON

Mildred Johnston Honored By Friends On Her Birthday

"And a good time was had by all" was the general thinking as a group of friends left the home of Mabel Thetford after honoring Mildred Johnston on her birthday.

"This is the first time in my life I have ever had a surprise birthday party," stated Mrs. Johnston.

Mrs. Johnston was born at St. Clairsville, Ohio, and later her family moved to Wheeling, West Virginia.

She obtained her degree in nursing at the Ohio Valley General Hospital in Wheeling, prior to her marriage to the late James Johnston.

She moved from Ohio in 1943 and was at the Japanese Camp in Tule Lake, California, when some 19,000 Japanese endeavored to seize the base. She was a registered nurse at the camp at the time of the attempted seizure.

She married in 1944 and began to follow her husband, going from Longbeach, California, to Pueblo, Colorado, to Coulee Dam, Washington and finally back to California before she retired.

She and her late husband moved to Cisco in 1974 and immediately became involved in the Senior Citizens program. She is one of the individuals who takes blood pressures when the clinic is held at the Center. She is a member of the Eastern Star in the state of Washington. She is an active member of the Church of the Nazarene.
