Christmas

SEASON'S GREETINGS HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERRREL HALLMARK

THIS SATURDAY is Christmas Day and I wish you all a very Merry Christmas.

If you are planning to go somewhere else for the holidays, please be extremely careful on your trip and your return to Cisco. Remember to look out for the other guy while driving.

Those planning to stay home are cautioned to also be careful, since most domestic accidents occur in the home.

IF YOU HAVE not already done so, you might like to drive around town one night before Christmas and look at decorations on homes in Cisco.

There are some very pretty ones and some which are unique.

THERE IS only a little over one week left in the year of 1982, so you might be already thinking about your New Year's resolution. Let's hope that a part of everyone's resolution will be to think about other people and do more for them.

A NUMBER of churches have either already had, or are planning to have, special services and singings for the celebration of Christmas.

Let's all remember what this special day is actually observed for, and not just worry about what we are going to receive for Christmas.

Gene Abbott Memorial Fund Still Growing

Persons who have contributed to the Gene Abbott Memorial Fund, but whose names have been omitted from the list in the paper, are asked to call Barbara Pope and give her their names.

Mrs. Pope stated some of the contributor's names have been left off deposit slips so she has no way of knowing who made the contribution.

Contributions may be left at the First National Bank in Cisco and checks should be made payable to the Gene Abbott Memorial Fund.

Recent contributions have been made to the fund by the following persons: Louise Cooper, Terry Cooper Powell, Billy and Sherry Wright, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Austin, Mrs. A.G. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Parker, Catherine Fee, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Witzsche, Mr. and Mrs. John Muller, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wheatley, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wendt, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bradshaw.

Bowling Center To Open In Spring

Eastland County Bowling Center, a brand-new 12-lane facility, will be in operation by early spring (hopefully in April, weather permitting) Developers Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore report.

Construction is underway on an acre plot on East Main St., just east of Sneed Construction Co., and barring bad weather, the concrete floor will be poured this coming week.

AMF officials will be here to install the automatic equipment as soon as the building and the ceiling are completed.

The metal building will be 75 by 140 feet and will also feature a snack bar and video game room. There will be adequate parking.

Newspaper Deadlines Moved Up For Holidays

Press-time schedules are being re-arranged this holiday week in order to meet postal delivery deadlines.

The weekend paper will be printed one day early so that it may be delivered to readers on Christmas Eve, and the deadline for accepting material for that issue will be 10 a.m. Thursday.

The mid-week issue will be on regular schedule, and this week's timing will be repeated next week for the New Year's Weekend paper.

The entire Staff and Management of Your Eastland County Newspapers join in wishing you all a Safe and Merry Christmas.

Louise Gonzales Is Stationed In 'Gateway To The Pacific'

By SPEC. 5 JOHN H. SANDERS

OKINAWA--Few islands played a more significant geographical role for the United States during World War II and the Vietnam War than Okinawa. Today, soldiers are still performing their military duties on this very strategic piece of land, and Army Spec. 4 Louise G. Gonzales of Cisco, Texas, is one of them.

Gonzales, 23, daughter of Mrs. Juanita G. Gonzales, 1006 Beech St., Cisco, is a traffic management specialist with the U.S. Army Garrison, Camp Kinser, Okinawa.

"It's my job to type out military airline tickets for soldiers leaving Okinawa," Gonzales said. "Along with this paperwork, I get involved with the shipment of the soldier's household goods and inspect these items to ensure the contents. I check for damage and keep count of all their goods."

Now united as a part of Japan, Okinawa was captured by the U.S. during World War II. It has great military importance because it lies within easy flying distance of China, Formosa, Hong Kong, Japan, the Philippines and Vietnam.

"I've seen just about every part of this island and I love it," Gonzales said. "The people are friendly towards me, as long as I'm not driving, and they're always willing to help me out. Though it's often too hot for me, the island itself is beautiful."

Military personnel stationed on Okinawa work closely with the civilians on the island, and for Gonzales it's a great experience. "I find the Okinawans I work with to be nice and helpful," she said. "They always put out extra effort during the work day and continue to speak more and more English with every passing day."

A 1977 graduate of Cisco High School, West Ridge, Ark., Gonzales enlisted in May 1979. She arrived in the

Suspect Is Jailed For Eastland Youths Deaths

A Young County man was arrested at his residence Monday on a sealed indictment charging him with involuntary manslaughter in connection with a Nov. 22 accident that left four Eastland County teenagers dead.

Elmer Ellison, 39, of Newcastle, was being held in county jail in lieu of $100,000 bond set last week by a Young County grand jury, said Sheriff Paul Beckham.

Ellison was the driver of a tractor-trailer rig that turned in front of a car occupied by four Eastland County youths returning from a playoff football game in Wichita Falls Nov. 22, said Department of Public Safety Trooper Robert Dial.

Capt. Billy Melton, supervisor of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety region that includes Graham, said Ellison was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Dead at the scene were two, both eighteen of Eastland and one, nineteen of Carbon. The fourth, a 17-year-old of Eastland, was dead on arrival at Graham Memorial Hospital.

A manager will be named later, Mrs. Moore said.

Business Good As Shoppers Prepare For Santa's Visit

Business was good in Cisco stores this week as area residents completed preparations for a long weekend holiday observance of Christmas.

Most offices along with financial institutions, city and county offices, and some stores planned to be closed Friday, Dec. 24, to give their employees a long weekend. A few offices announced plans to be closed on Monday, Dec. 27, as well as beginning the weekend on Friday.

There was every indication that the community would have a merry Christmas. Churches and clubs were taking care of needy families. Most local churches held their Christmas programs last Sunday since the holiday falls on Saturday.

City Manager Mike Moore said that City Hall in Cisco will be closed Thursday and Friday, Dec. 23 and 24, as well as the weekend, giving city employees four days for Christmas. The sanitation department will operate the trash truck runs on both days but not on Saturday, he added. The landfill will also be closed on Friday.

County Judge Scott Bailey reported that all county offices will be closed Friday, Dec. 24, and that some, including the tax assessors-collector and county clerk offices, will be closed Thursday and Friday. County offices will be open as usual on Monday, the judge said.

For emergency police or ambulance service the public was advised to contact the Central Dispatch (629-1728).

Postmaster Wiley Cox reported that Monday, Dec. 20, was the post office's busiest day. He believed that Christmas mail, particularly parcel post, was bigger than usual. The post office will be open until noon Friday and parcels will be given out Friday afternoon. The post office will be closed Saturday and Sunday as usual, Mr. Cox said.

Thrift Mart, a local super market, reported that their store will be closed Saturday - Christmas Day - but will be open for business as usual on Sunday.

Manager Randy Speegle of the Chamber of Commerce reported that a survey of Cisco stores this week indicated that business was good and that the Christmas season compares favorably with past years. The CoC officials will close Friday for the weekend, he added.

Stolen Truck Is Recovered Here

A Ford F-7000 truck (tractor only) stolen from Strawn Rental Company of Dallas was recovered last Saturday at the Guthrie Truck Harbor here, Police Chief Raymond Blevins reported Tuesday.

The big truck, a 1979 model, was noticed by city policemen and after it had not been moved for a day they ran a check on it and found that it had been reported stolen. Strawn personnel were due in Cisco Tuesday to pick up the tractor.

Nobody at the truck stop knew anything about the vehicle, the police chief said.

Mission Trip To Mexico Village Planned By Group

Nine people, including seven Ciscoans, will leave Monday, Dec. 26, for a week's missionary trip to El Palmito, a small Mexico community 100 miles northwest of Torreon, under the sponsorship of the First Baptist Church of Cisco.

The Rev. Bruce Stovall, long-time minister and missionary who operates an oil field service company, will head the group. It will be his fifth trip from Cisco and 25th since he began working with the Shepard's Staff organization.

Accompanying Mr. Stovall will be Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Winnett, Kevin Winnett, Meg Reynolds, Kelly Stovall and Paul Sellers, all of Cisco, and Rose Vielmo and Danny Guettieres, students at Howard Payne University. Five of the group speak fluent Spanish.

Plans call for the group to make the trip in the church van, pulling a two-wheel trailer to carry their supplies. Two tents along with food, water containers, and articles for use in the mission and Bible School program will be taken.

In connection with the trip, Mr. Stovall made the following statement:

"Those of us who are able to go are indebted to others who help make the mission endeavor possible. Several families and businesses give food, clothing and money."

"These contributions make the trip possible and more beneficial to the people in the villages that we will visit. The villagers and the mission team express their appreciation for each gift."

"There is a work force that is left behind that seldom gets recognition. We want to express our thanks to them also. This year, the Act-Teens led by Kim Toler and Gena Winnett did some Bible school preparation work. Willie Willingham and his family cut out some 600 paper crosses to be used in Bible school. Bud Coats and the Missions Committee of First Baptist Church put in a day's preparation.

"Kitty Stovall and Cindy Pharr made menus and bought food. Manning Davis and George Owens furnished tents and a golf cart trailer. Several people have done many meaningful and necessary tasks, hopefully for the glory of God.

"To all of these, we say thank you."

Homemakers Unite Against Drugs

A leadership project of the 22,680-member Texas Extension Homemakers Association has resulted in a united effort in support of the Texans' War on Drugs Program.

A resolution adopted recently by the entire membership pledged the support of Extension Homemaker groups in the war on drugs at both the community and county levels, according to June Cline, organization specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Extension Homemakers are concentrating their leadership efforts, Cline says, in four main areas:

1. Speaking in their communities to increase the level of awareness about the harmful effects of drugs.
2. Monitoring court cases than involve drugs to see that offenders do not get off without receiving the full measure of the penalty that fits the crime.
3. Forming parent peer groups in schools, communities, and churches with parents, and getting together to develop guidelines for their children to follow to help prevent drug involvement.
4. Encouraging drug awareness programs in schools and making drug awareness part of every teacher's in-service training.

Goals of the Extension Homemakers organization are to promote wholesome family relationships and to share community responsibilities with other organizations, Cline says. The anti-drug educational effort is one more voice among many throughout the state that should bring a clear message to drug dealers and users about their being unwelcome in Texas.

Stenholm Opposes Pay Raise

In a tricky bit of legislative maneuvering, Congress approved a 15 percent pay increase Tuesday (December 14, 1982). Congressman Charles W. Stenholm opposed any increase, but due to placement of amendments was forced to cast one vote that made it appear that he supported the 15 percent increase.

The procedure involved a three-step process

1. If Congress had not acted, a 27.2 percent increase was due to go into effect automatically.
2. The first amendment would trim that 27.2 percent increase to 15 percent.
3. The second amendment would continue the current cap on Congressional salaries, meaning NO pay raise at all would be allowed.

The Texans' War on Drugs committee was established by Gov. Bill Clements and is chaired by Dallas businessman H. Ross Perot. The committee, of which TEHA President Billie McCraw is a member, established a three-pronged approach to combat drug abuse: education and prevention; legislation; and law enforcement.

The action arm of the Association's committee responsible for the implementation of education and prevention has been instrumental in establishing and strengthening community and family groups throughout the state, Cline reports.

The level of awareness of drug abuse has already increased considerably, and programs involving parent and various civic organizations are making progress in the effort to eradicate this menace to Texas youth, Cline adds.

legislative subterfuge.

"I have voted against any increase in Congressional pay since I have been in office and I really fail to understand the logic of those in Congress who could support such a move at this time, given the current economic conditions the people we serve are up against," Stenholm said.

Only one more vote was needed on the final amendment to stop the pay increase, with the amendment to continue the salary freeze failing by a 208-208 tie vote.

Stenholm voted for the first amendment, even though he opposed any increase. A vote against this amendment would have approved of the 27 percent increase. Had he opposed the first amendment, (to cut the increase from 27 percent to 15 percent, the higher increase would have gone into effect.

"As far as I am concerned, the key vote on this issue was passage of the rule that allowed this 'Catch-22' situation to develop on the House floor," Stenholm said. "I strongly opposed that rule. Those Members of Congress that supported a pay increase for themselves should have had the courage to be up-front and present the issue before the House and the American people clearly, with no

Real Estate Consumer

The Real Estate Consumer is brought to you as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to: The Real Estate Consumer, Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

Some single persons are combining their incomes and budget with other singles when applying for home purchases. This can make the purchase affordable and economically acceptable to the buyers.

Singles who use this method for home purchase are becoming known in the real estate market as "mingles."

Such a large number of single individuals are joining forces to buy homes that some builders are designing to suit their needs. For the mingles market, there are special floor plans, usually townhomes or small detached homes, with two master bedrooms instead of one or two smaller bedrooms.

Before shopping for a loan, prospective house-sharers should put their business arrangement in writing. Items to consider are: paying the bills, sharing the common rooms, pets, party hours, property maintenance and improvements and dissolving the partnership.

AVOIDING FOOD PLAIN PAIN

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has prepared maps showing flood prone zones caused by watersheds in metropolitan areas.

The maps indicate land in the 100- and 500-year food plain but do not designate the areas of more frequent flooding. Consequently, when you hear of property that is in the 100-year food plain, investigate further to discover the actual estimated flooding frequency.

You may call the Corps of Engineers' regional offices for flood plain information about specific locations, but remember flood plains may change as land is developed. Most homes in flood prone areas qualify for national flood insurance. Many lenders will require homeowners to purchase flood insurance as a condition to granting a mortgage loan in a flood-prone area. Contact your insurance agent or call the National Flood Insurance Program-800-638-6620.

BUYER TIPS FOR TIME-SHARES

Are you considering a time-share arrangement of property? If so, here are some tips.

Find out if it's a deeded time share, where you actually buy an interest in the real estate or a nondeeded time share, where you simply buy the right to use the property annually for a specific period for a stated number of years.

Ask yourself: are vacation plans subject to last-minute changes? Are you willing to vacation in the same place every year?

Look at finance charges, annual fees and travel expenses. Compare the cost of the time share with rates for similar accommodations in the area. Impute an interest rate to your cash outlay. Evaluate investment claims and try to make a realistic assessment of its future value.

Resale of your time share may be difficult since you may have competition from the company that sold you the time share. Your share of profits will be limited by the portion you own.

UPS AND DOWNS OF ADJUSTABLE MORTGAGES

The new adjustable rate mortgages allow a homeowner's monthly payments to rise and fall with current interest rates.

To limit the amount of change in these payments, some loans provide for payment schedules which do not fully reflect the change in interest rates. These loans place an absolute limit on payment increases or adjust payments less than the interest rate.

Unfortunately, these types of loans can create problems when rates go up because the payment is insufficient to cover interest on the loan. The shortfall is applied to the principal balance with the result that the balance owed rises rather than gradually being reduced. This feature helps make mortgage payments more predictable.

On the other hand, the homeowner's equity may be reduced if the house's value does not increase in proportion with the debt. In extreme cases, a loan default may be induced.

CONDOMINIUM CONVERSION DECLINE

To help supply the demand for housing in the later 1970s, developers in Houston and other cities began to convert apartments into condominiums.

When amortized over their 55-launch capability, with five payoffs per launch, three Space Shuttle Main Engines cost about one-third as much as a non-reusable Delta engine system—that's a savings of one-half million dollars per payload launch.

BE A CRIME-FIGHTER Report Drug Abuse • Crime to this HOT-LINE number 828-3181 Cash Rewards Available

These conversions allowed many homebuyers who could not afford detached houses to enter the market. However, due to the shrinking supply of rental housing and hardships on tenants forced to move, some local officials were alarmed at the growth in the number of conversions. But now that high mortgage rates have slowed the demand for home purchases, conversion activity has greatly declined.

Another reason for the slowdown is most of the easily converted units have already been converted. Advance Mortgage Corporation estimates 1981 conversions nationwide were 85,000 units compared to 130,000 conversions in 1980. The corporation projects 1982 conversions to reach only 40,000 units.

Save Energy, Money and Water In Home Laundry

High energy and water prices can be cut considerably by some simple conservation practices in home laundry.

The water heater should be set no higher than 140 Fahrenheit, according to Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Normally soiled clothes will wash nicely in warm—rather than hot—water. A cold rinse is just as effective as a warm one, and can save energy.

Conserve water by setting the water level to match the load size. Wash time can be shortened—and energy saved—by using soak cycles.

When buying new appliances, consider how much hot water is used per cycle, Saunders advises. Read the operating manual that comes with the machine carefully and learn all the energy and water saving instructions.

Water and energy savings can be achieved by combining small loads. "Do not overload the machine, however, because this can result in wrinkling, lint or cleaning problems, and can cause other damage to your clothing," cautions

Saunders.

Assure proper cleaning in shorter cycles by pre-treating or soaking heavily soiled clothes. Use the correct amount of laundry detergent for the load size.

Mend any tears or holes in clothing before laundering garments, because washing often worsens these problems, reminds Saunders. Pre-treat stains and spots. The heat of the dryer could make them permanent.

Don't forget that physical energy can be conserved, Saunders adds. "Locate the laundry area near the laundry source, such as the bathroom. The dryer, if not overloaded, also can save on ironing."

Sharing the work load with other family members can help, Saunders suggests. Be sure, however, that everyone who does laundry follows energy-saving procedures.

Voting Behavior Analysis Commissioned

The Secretary of State, as Chief Election Officer, is responsible for providing Texas voters with a uniform election process, and to that end, he must ensure that the campaign process and structural components of elections are made available in such a manner as to encourage voter participation.

An analysis of the factors impacting the behavior of the registered voter in the general election was commissioned along with an analysis of attitudes of the registered voter on modifications in our electoral process and their attitudes of ethical practices in political campaigns.

The overall consensus of the election analysis is that registered voters in Texas favor: 1) consolidation of all State and local elections on Saturday; 2) holding all local elections on a few specified dates, and at the same time polling places in each specific precinct; 3) prohibiting the personal use of unexpected campaign funds by political candidates and office holders; 4) requiring officeholders who have more than one year remaining in their term of office to resign before running for any other office; 5) electing state judges without regard to political partisan affiliation or on a non-partisan basis; 6) allowing Initiative and Referendum in Texas; 7) holding Presidential Preference Primary election on the same day as regular primary elections; 8) holding a unitary primary (i.e., consolidation of party primary elections into one location with one set of election officials in each precinct, and only plurality required to nominate, therefore, no runoff election); 9) requiring the Secretary of State to distribute written summary descriptions of proposed Constitutional amendments to all registered voters; 10) holding Constitutional amendments elections only in conjunction with either gubernatorial or presidential elections; and, 11) requiring a 25 percent minimum turnout of registered voters in Constitutional amendment elections in order to pass any proposed amendments.

The analysis of the 1982 general election is the third in a series of election analyses and the collective impact of these analyses are to establish base data on the profile and attitudes of the Texas voter and provide Texas election officials and elected leaders with insights as to the attitudes and preferences of the registered voter on the State's election process.

To that end, they will shortly be announcing recommendation to the 68th Texas Legislature regarding election reform from these four sources.

The Poinsettia (Euphorbia Pulcherrima) is a native plant of the Republic of Mexico. This plant was brought to the United States many years ago by our Ambassador Poinsettia, and thus bears his name.

This plant is suitable for cultivating for winter display in the deep south, but it requires quite a bit of care for the northern climates. In the South it may be grown out doors and it will grow into large shapely bushes and/or trees, which produce very handsome bracts of red, pink, or creamy white. There are single and double-flowered poinsettias. In the double-flowered poinsettia you will find the bracts to be more numerous and remain attractive much longer.

We here in this area are more familiar with the single stem plant in a six inch pot with a single head of bracts, which are in full bloom at Christmas time. Some plants are grown with more than one branch, but the flower head (bracts) is usually smaller than a single stem specimen. After flowering the plant should be cut back and kept dry in a temperature of 50 to 55 degrees for several weeks. In May they should be pruned to within six to eight inches of the soil and started into growth again by watering and keeping in a sunny, warm location.

After new growth has started, a minimum temperature of 65 to 70 degrees should be maintained. If you want additional poinsettia plants, cuttings can be taken from this new growth and rooted at that time. The soil should consist of fibrous loam, three parts, and one part of equal proportions of dried cow manure, leaf mold and sand. These plants need to be ventilated more freely and the atmosphere should be kept drier than at any other time during the growth season.

Weekly fertilizing with a dilute liquid fertilizer with a reading of 20/20/20 is required for maximum growth and beauty. You must remember that the red (pink or white) bracts is not the flower. The tiny yellow center cluster is the flower of the poinsettia.

Poinsettias resent drafts and are easily damaged by spraying of insecticides. They need short days and long night to bloom. Light at night prevent flowering and the formation of the bracts. The old myth that the poinsettias are poisonous has been recently disproved. If you like plants and enjoy working with them, you may want to pick up some poinsettias after Christmas and try to make them bloom for the next year.

WORD of GOD

New Testament

Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.

But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jo'as:

For as Jo'as was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

The men of Nin'e-veh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jo'as; and, behold, a greater than Jo'as is here.

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Bob Cox, Community Relations Manager.

Crackdown on fraud

Has someone ever placed a long distance call and charged it to your phone number without your permission? Placing a call and charging it to another number is a third-number call. Charging that call without the third party's permission is fraud.

More than six million dollars was lost by Southwestern Bell in suspected fraudulent third-number long distance calls in 1981. We investigate these calls and assist law enforcement agencies in bringing cases against the individuals involved. But, just as consumers pay for shoplifters through higher costs for goods, it is the honest customers who help pay for the fraudulent call losses through higher rates.

Positive Authorization Needed Before Completing Calls

The company is now taking stronger action against fraud. We are changing the way we authorize third-number calls. Under the old system, operators placed a third-number, long distance call before verifying the call with the third party.

Today, if you make such a call from a public phone, the operator will try to get authorization from the third party. Before your call is completed, the operator will call the number and ask if the charge will be accepted. This process takes about 35 seconds.

In 1983, operators may be required to get verified permission before completing long distance calls to a third number. It may take a few more seconds of inconvenience, but it means an eventual savings for customers as we tackle this multi-million dollar problem.

Industry Changes Begin Next Month

Beginning in January, the first of two major decisions affecting the telecommunications industry takes effect. (The second significant change--the settlement of a federal court case against AT&T will be discussed in future columns.)

On January 1, 1983, a Federal Communications Commission ruling, designed to encourage competition in the telephone market place, requires the establishment of a fully separate subsidiary. That's been done. The company is American Bell, Inc. American Bell will be offering terminal products... mostly telephone instruments to both business and residence customers.

As a result, throughout 1983 the only new telephones we can provide are those which were in Southwestern Bell inventory as of the last day of this year. That doesn't mean we won't have any phones.

During next year, business and residence customers will be able to obtain Southwestern Bell equipment while our inventories last.

Those customers who use Bell PhoneCenters also may find a major difference after January 1, 1983. Certain locations will remain with Southwestern Bell. After January 1, they'll be called Southwestern Bell Service Centers. Customers can continue to use the Service Centers to pick up equipment available in our inventory. Other PhoneCenters, particularly in our major markets, will become part of the separate subsidiary.

Throughout 1983, the company will continue to repair Southwestern Bell sets that you lease. You can exchange your leased sets at a Service Center or contact our repair department. If you own your phone, follow the maintenance arrangements provided when the set was purchased.

Quality Services, Equipment Top Priorities Statewide

A last word on service despite these industry changes. Southwestern Bell employees are committed to providing quality equipment and services. I feel confident we can adapt to our new environment and that we will be successful.

If you'd like a booklet which explains additional details of changes in the telephone industry, send your name and address to: Telecommunications in Transition, Southwestern Bell, P.O. Box 225265, Dallas, Texas 75265.

Seeds From The Sower

Michael A. Guido

A man asked a preacher, "Is it right for you to profit from my mistake?"
"No, sir," he answered.
"Then," he said, "return the ten dollars I gave you when you married me. I made a mistake. My marriage is on the rocks."
How is your marriage? A failure? It does not have to be.
When you took your marriage vows it was a three-way contract: you, your companion and God. But you have left out God. That is your trouble. Your marriage cannot work without Him.
Turn your hearts and home over to Him. He has enough love for anything you need. Do not turn it down. It is the only way you will find victory. It will transform greed into gratitude, selfishness into service, frustration into forgiveness, and barriers into bridges.
And do not tone it down. Do not get less of it. Get more of it. Open your hearts, your minds, your wills, your spirits and let Him pour His love into you now. Then you will have the successful marriage you have always dreamed about.

Life Of Christ On Display At Christus Gardens

GATLINBURG, TENNESSEE - The gentle blue haze which touches the tree-shrouded slopes of eastern America's highest peaks gives them their name - the Great Smoky Mountains. The half-million acre national park which protects and preserves vast stretches of these magnificent mountains is the most visited of all our national parks.

And its gateway city is Gatlinburg, by all odds and in all seasons one of the most appealing little resort town in the East. It's a fine place to shop for native handicrafts, enjoy excellent down-home cooking, and get to know some of the friendliest, most welcoming folks you'll meet anywhere.

For two decades, Gatlinburg has also been home to a most distinctive visitor site, internationally-renowned Christus Gardens. So strong is its appeal that some persons have been known to complete a tour, by another ticket, and re-enter to view the displays again.

In a handsome low-lying contemporary structure of native Tennessee and Georgia marbles, complementing rather than competing with its serene mountain setting, Christus Gardens depicts scenes from the life of Christ in a series of life-sized dioramas peopled with amazingly realistic wax figures.

For its painstaking attention to detail and authenticity alone, Christus Gardens would be outstanding. Add to that such a sensitive treatment of its subject, and it becomes truly unique. It's as if pages of a giant-sized Biblical picture book were unfolding before one's eyes, each viewed to the accompaniment of an appropriate musical background recorded by the Christus Gardens Choir.

First diorama in the series depicts the Nativity, accompanied by the universally recognized strains of "Silent Night." Other scenes which follow include Christ at the age of 12 being questioned by the elders in the temple, the temptation of Christ by Satan, John the Baptist presenting his disciples to Jesus, and the Sermon on the Mount, backgrounded with a musical rendition of "The Lord's Prayer."

One especially moving scene shows Christ with a smile on his face, blessing little children. A masterful diorama of the Last Supper depicts the artist Leonardo da Vinci's famous painting of this subject. Following scenes show the Crucifixion, Jesus appearing to Mary

Magdalene at the empty tomb, and the Ascension, accompanied by a triumphant rendition of Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

An adjoining rotunda houses Christus Gardens' priceless collection of coins from Biblical times, considered the finest in the United States and one of the three finest in the world. There are 168 coins in the entire collection, dating from the 6th century B.C. to 1192 A.D.

Among those of special interest are the Shekel of Tyre - the type of coin which made up the 30 pieces of silver paid Judas for betrayal of Christ, the Biblical "widow's mite," the Biblical tribute penny, and one of the rarest gold coins in existence, a 10th century Byzantine Empire coin which was the first to portray the head of Christ.

In the rotunda is also displayed a notable collection of Bible, some quite old. Many are treasured family Bibles contributed to the Gardens by visitors.

In the jewel-like patio garden which visitors see after touring the galleries is an unusual Carrara marble sculpture, the most photographed single feature in Gatlinburg. It is a concave carving of the head of Christ, so skillfully crafted that not only the eyes but the entire face seem actually to turn and follow the movements of persons walking before it.

Christus Gardens' impeccably groomed grounds are beautifully landscaped, surrounded in autumn with flaming red, gold and russet mountain hardwoods.

Christus Gardens is completely non-denominational, and appeals equally to those whose interest may be primarily in religion, history, sightseeing - or a combination. To date, visitors from all 50 states and some 60 other countries have signed its guest book.

Indicative of its universal appeal, many have been from non-Christian nations such as Thailand, Israel, Egypt, Syria, Laos, Japan, the Republic of China, India and Russia.

To call Christus Gardens a tourist attraction is to oversimplify. It is that, of course, but it's something much more. It's the dream-come-to-reality of a most remarkable personality, Ronald Ligon of Franklin, Tennessee. Youthful still, Ligon was a young man, 'teens when he first developed the idea of the gardens. As with so many meaningful projects, it had its beginnings in adversity.

Ronald Ligon was stricken with tuberculosis while a student at Nashville's Vanderbilt University. For a time, it was doubtful whether his health would be restored. And the young man had time to do some serious thinking. He resolved that if he became well again he would devote whatever time and effort might be required to building a significant memorial to Jesus Christ.

The idea for Christus Gardens slowly grew, an expensive undertaking, but one in which Ligon was encouraged and assisted by his family. As he recovered, he devoted the next several years to planning, research, design, and - finally - the building of his dream. When his father became unable to assist him financially any longer, somehow he found the means and energy to continue the project on his own.

All in all, Ligon traveled some 80,000 miles to see existing memorials in other countries. He visited the greatest museums of Europe to view paintings and artifacts, talking to museum directors, medieval scholars and teachers, determined that every minute aspect of each figure and diorama would be as authentic in costuming and setting as possible.

Resolved that the figures would be displayed in graphically realistic dramatic action dioramas, not the static poses of early wax museums, he engaged a Toronto, Ontario, family, the Deroys - internationally renowned as diorama builders - to design the scenes.

Another world-famous concern, Gems, Ltd., of London, England, was selected to create the 81 characters from Biblical times to people the dioramas.

The costumes for the figures were created by B.J. Simmons, Ltd., also of London, which made the costumes for such motion pictures as "Quo Vadis" and "Ben Hur." And in August 1960, Christus Gardens finally opened, the final three figures for its Crucifixion scene having arrived barely in time by chartered plane.

THE CHRISTUS GARDENS NATIVITY SCENE at Gatlinburg, Tenn., is thought to have been viewed by more people than any other scene of its kind in the world. One of the series of life-size, three dimensional scenes from the life of Christ on display year-around at the Gardens, it includes figures of Mary and Joseph at the manger, the three Wise Men and four shepherds. The life-sized figures were created by Gems, Ltd., of London, considered by many the finest wax-figure artisans in the world. The realistic setting was designed by Deroys Displays of Toronto, Canada. The figures are clothed in fabric imported from the land where each biblical character lived. The life-like mounted sheep were furnished by a taxidermist.

Besides the compelling subject matter, there is another obvious reason why so many visitors return to Christus Gardens for repeat visits. The attention to detail is so comprehensive that new facets become apparent on each successive viewing.

For example, the animals in the Nativity scene, which may seem at first to be wax figures too, prove on second glance to be real, provided by one of the nation's best known big game taxidermists, Louis Ray of Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

In the scene depicting Christ meeting the elders in the temple, the high priest wears a colorful breast-plate of gem stones, each representing one of the 12 tribes of Israel.

Genuine palm trees in one diorama were specially transported from the Everglades. The pottery in one of the favorite scenes, Christ with the children, was fashioned at nearby Pigeon Forge pottery by outstanding art potter Douglas Ferguson, who did infinite research before producing appropriate stoneware authentic for this period.

Ronald Ligon today is the picture of vibrant good health, a friendly, enthusiastic, outgoing man with three handsome sons of his own. He laughs now when he talks about that bleak day his father telephoned to say he would no longer be able to help him financially.

"I know now that's the greatest thing my father ever did for me," he muses. "You know, so much of what can be accomplished in this world is measured by how much work you want to put into it. Then, I knew I had to work as I had never done before to succeed. And," he added, "sometimes your biggest asset can be a liability. I was young and enthusiastic, and people responded. They wanted to help me."

As well as being a popular four-season family vacation center, Gatlinburg is a notable second home and retirement city. During autumn, there are spectacular foliage displays in the Great Smoky Mountains, and mid-winter when conditions are favorable, there's skiing on Mount Harrison.

Wildflowers being to bloom in early spring. Dogwood and red bud dapple the mountain slopes by late April, giving way to summer to dramatic blooms of mountain laurel, rhododendron and flame azalea. There is an excellent assortment of hotel, motor lodge and cottage facilities for every budget.

For accommodations listing, area information, write Chamber of Commerce, Department CG, P.O. Box 527, Gatlinburg, Tennessee 37738.

KENDRICK EASTER PAGEANT of Eastland County, Tx., is also becoming known around the nation as one of the most outstanding features to visit at Easter Time and during the summer productions. The Kendrick Center also features a year-around Religious Diorama with true-to-life walk-through scenes from the Old and New Testament. Part of the cast and animals are shown here in a recent presentation.

Putnam News
By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

Well here it is, Christmas is right on us- and where has this year gone. Seems only a few weeks since last Christmas. Hope this wonderful weather lasts through the week- it's just ideal.

We are sorry to relate that Mrs. Neda Yarbrough formerly of near Putnam, now at Moran is still in Eastland Hospital hopefully she will be able to come home in a few days.

Mrs. Fred Graham has been in Stephenville Hospital most all week. She underwent eye surgery there.

Also that they have been cheated in comparison to veterans of other wars.

Also this bulletin mentioned that auxiliary members could pay their dues up for life known as Life Membership. This is mentioned in the constitutional by laws. During this meeting it was mentioned that the 17th Dist. meeting of WW I Bks and Auxiliaries was held on Nov. 17 in Mineral Wells.

Word Of God

And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:

And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.

Oilmen Want Caution In Gas Legislation

A Lubbock independent oilman has wired the Texas Congressional Delegation that two-thirds of the increased cost of natural gas to residential consumers is due to costs other than the price of the gas. He urged their support to delay natural gas pricing legislation effecting producers during the "lame duck" session.

"Some congressional leaders want to freeze natural gas prices and interfere with producer sales contracts," he said. Rex Fuller, Lubbock, Chairman of the National Energy Policy Committee for the 5400-member Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO). "But wellhead price freezes will have no effect on 90% of the factors which have caused consumer price increases," Fuller continued.

"The most recent Department of Energy data show that for every one dollar increase in natural gas prices, only 32% represented the additional cost of natural gas. The other 68 cents was increased cost of transportation by the pipelines and utilities," Fuller pointed out. "The overall problem is too complex for the current 'lame duck' session to address without leading to more difficulty.

The text of Fuller's wire, sent individually to all Texas Senators and Congressmen, said:

"We believe that efforts to initiate emergency legislation concerning natural gas regulation, such as producer price freezes and abrogation of take or pay contractual provisions, are arbitrary stop-gap measures that would aggravate rather than resolve the natural gas problem for the consumer. The overall problem is extremely complex and demands full analysis to reach a sensible solution. For example, virtually two-thirds of the arising cost to consumer is due to factors other than producer wellhead pricing, such as transportation and distribution. Further, hasty and inadequately considered adjustments to contractual rights involving the producer and his purchaser would lead to serious erosion in exploration activity. This would cause another round of supply shortages that would be damaging to consumer interests."

"We urge your support in delaying to the 1983 Congressional Session consideration of the natural gas issue."

Fuller said that a thorough hearing on natural gas deregulation should be held in Congress early next year. He pointed out that while domestic producers currently receive an average of $2.35 per 1000 cubic feet at the wellhead, the proposed freeze would have no effect on Canadian natural gas being sold for $4.94, or Algerian LNG at $7.16 per cubic feet.

"Such high-priced gas is a large component of the price midwestern and eastern consumers pay for natural gas," Fuller said. "We believe any legislation should carefully address all factors relating to Federally-regulated gas prices. These continue to rise, while producers have a temporary surplus that they can't sell at reasonable prices."

THE OIL Companies out at Kamon House keep Mr. Ivan Webb, an official of all of them, moving around. For example, Monday, Dec. 13, he was in Detroit, and the next two days were spent in New York City, and on Thursday, Dec. 16, he was in Philadelphia, Pa., and then he flew to Houston for more business on Friday.

Back home last Saturday, Ivan played host to the annual Christmas party for the 18 employees of the Kamon companies at the Webb home. Entertainment included everybody singing Christmas carols with Lloyd London playing the organ and Frank Spangler strumming the guitar. It was a very nice affair, our scouts reported.

Kamon House and grounds are attractive these nights with Christmas decorations.

OUT AT 909 WEST 5th Street, the Clifford Pippen home is very attractive this Christmas season. They've added to the Nativity in the yard... Mr. Roy Hathaway, retired school administrator, was the speaker at the monthly breakfast of men of the First Christian Church last Saturday morning. His talk had a Christmas theme, and it followed the serving of sausage and eggs and biscuits... Steve Bailey of Austin spent the weekend at the home of his grandparents, the Dizzy Deans. He planned a train excursion trip as a Christmas vacation.

MAYOR ERIS Ritchie arrived back home in Cisco last Sunday night in time to spend the week getting organized for Santa Claus' annual visit next Friday night. He spent last week in Chicago with a display of Southwest Enterprises' nice things for bands. He attended a national convention of band and orchestra folks. En route home, Eris visited old friends in Fort Madison, Iowa... They're building modular homes on the lot just east of the new Linton Bateas project on East 8th Street. The modular building will be for sale.

CITY JUDGE Jasper Cook tells why a kindergarten teacher gave up her job. She explained it to him as follows:

I had gone through a particularly hectic day. At last, the closing bell rang. I had just finished struggling to put overshoes on one little boy when he said, "Those aren't mine."

Wearily, I unbuckled and took them off. Then he said, "They belong to my sister. My mother makes me wear them anyway."

OUR SCOUTS report that Stanley Sharpe, who grew up in Cisco, was transferred a few months ago by the oil company for which he works to Norway. And as a special Christmas treat, the two children of the Sharpes, who are both students of the college at San Marcos, were flying to Norway to spend the holidays with their dad.

Their mother, Pat, was due to greet Santa Claus in Cisco at the home of her parents, the Doug Frys.

IF YOU CALL the first National Bank, their new switchboard is answered by either Pam Donaway or Paulette Dempsey. And both have nice telephone voices...

The Dean Madison home out on the Rising Star highway is attractively decorated with Christmas lights these nights... D.O. Naylor of the auto sales place out on IH-20 Access Road sold two pickups Monday morning... Wednesday, Dec. 22, was the year's shortest day.

DROPPED IN AT the open house that Doris Guilder's Hair, Inc., held last Friday at the new place of business at 602 Hilton Avenue. They had a table full of goodies that included such things as real tamales with a sauce that was very deluxe. Mrs. Guilder moved here last March from San Antonio and is very pleased with her new business.

Hair, Inc., is located in the old Savoy Cafe Building, and they haven't remodeled the back end yet. You can almost smell the steaks that Nick and Sam used to serve there. When we arrived in Cisco some 35 years ago, the Savoy was THE place to eat in this town.

Hair, Inc., by the way, cuts men's hair as well as the ladies'.

ANOTHER OPEN house last Friday was held at Olney Savings offices where they greeted visitors and served punch and coffee and an assortment of cookies. Very nice, indeed... Guess John Webb, the old pro, is going western. He was sitting out front of his White Auto Store Monday wearing a big western hat. He'll probably be wearing boots next.

You probably read in the papers or saw it on television about a man being arrested in Abilene last Friday night in the act of trying to use stolen credit cards. He had kidnapped a man at Arlington earlier in the day. The Marshall Joneses of Cisco were in a store in Abilene and witnessed the man trying to cash a check and watched while the store owner phoned police and pointed to the man who was arrested.

EMPLOYEES OF Thornton Feed Mill enjoyed a Christmas dinner and party last Saturday night at the Cisco Country Club... First National Bank employees held their Christmas party a week or so ago out at the Best Western Motel's activities room... Rose and Gilbert Garcia have the Cisco Country Club reserved for a reunion on Christmas Day... Things were a bit hectic over at Cotton's Studio last week. Both James and Irene Cotton were almost down with colds and the flu and Christmas picture shooting had to go on...

Isn't The Gazebo, the ladies ready-to-wear store, nice after being rebuilt following a fire?

OUR SCOUTS report that Justice of the Peace Carlton Holder will be on Abilene television station Channel 32 (Cable 7) at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 22. Frank Healer of that station was over the other day and interviewed Carlton about the infamous Santa Claus bank robbery and made some pictures.

It was on 23, 1927, that a man dressed in a Santa

WORD OF GOD

What shall be the sign?

Mark 13:4
Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?

Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

Verily I say unto you, That he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming;

And shall begin to smite his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken;

The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,

And shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall he be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Matthew 24:44-51

Merry Christmas

Cow Country Code

By S. Omar Barker

Don't take sech a lot o' laws
To keep the rangeland straight,
Nor books to write 'em in, because They's only six or eight

The fust one is the welcome sign
Wrote deep in Western hearts:
"My camp is yours an' yours is mine"
In all cow count-y parts.

Treat with respect all womankind,
Same as yuh would your sister.
Take care o' neighbors' strays yuh find,
An' don't call cowboys "Mister."

Shet pasture gates when passin' through;
An', takin' all in all,
Be jest as rough as pleases you,
But never mean nor small.

Talk straight, shoot straight, an' never break
Your word to man nor boss.
Plumb always kill a rattlesnake.
Don't ride a sore-backed hoss.

It don't take law nor pedigree
To live the best yuh can!
These few is all yuh need to be
A cowboy an'—a man!
