Little League To Open New Season

The 1983 Little League baseball season will begin with minor team games at 5:30 p.m. Thursday and major contests at 6:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights at Rylee Field, according to announcement.

Little League players began selling stickers Monday and the sale will continue throughout the week. The stickers are $1 each.

The player who sells the largest number of stickers will receive a cash prize of $12 with $7.50 going to the 2nd place winner and $5 to the third, League President Randy Speegle reported.

The major and minor league teams selling the most tickets will be taken to Arlington to see the Texas Rangers play later in the season, Mr. Speegle said.

The league president urged everyone to buy a sticker. "The stickers are one thing that have remained the same price - $1.00," he said.

floats, and riding clubs just to name a few. There will also be three children's divisions - costumes, pets, and

Lundstrom's Pre-Trial Hearing Is Set For Friday

A pre-trial hearing will be held for Loyal Lundstrom, 59-year old Ciscoan, in 91st District Court in Eastland at 1 p.m. Friday, April 22, in connection with murder charges filed against him in the March 3rd shotgun shooting of his wife, Doris.

District Judge Jim R. Wright of the 91st court will preside at the hearing.

District Attorney Emory Walton reported that the defense has indicated that a motion of discovery, which in effect asks to see all evidence accumulated by the state in the case, will be filed. This is standard procedure, he added.

Defense Counsel Bill Hart, who has said that a change of venue will be sought, told this newspaper that "this is not the time to ask for a venue change." The motion to move the trial elsewhere will come at a later date, it was reported.

Lundstrom has remained at liberty under a $100,000 bond. He surrendered to Cisco police some 10 days after the slaying at the family living quarters in Cisco Motel.

First Baptist Churches Of Cisco & Eastland Get Gifts

New gifts from the Estate of Mrs. Norma Carlton, member of a pioneer Eastland County family, were received this month to bring the total for each of the First Baptist Church of Cisco and the First Baptist Church of Eastland to more than $300,000, according to announcement to the congregations.

Mrs. Carlton, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. B.W. Patterson, died in June 1981, and left her estate to some 10 charities, including the Cisco and Eastland churches and her home church in Houston. She was the widow of Dave Carlton, former Exxon Oil Corporation official, who died several years ago.

The new gifts included $146,853.42 in cash, 302 shares of Baker International, 260 shares of Freeport, 429 shares of Halliburton, and 287 shares of Houston Oil Company.

The first gift from the estate, which had an estimated value of about $4,500,000, was 3,999 shares of Exxon stock. This came in 1981, and it has a market value of some $125,000. Dividend and interest earning of some $24,202 will come to the local churches from the stock and the cash each year.

The Rev. Buddy Sipe, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Cisco, told his congregation that "as your pastor, it gives me a great thrill to share some wonderful news: Our church has received a wonderful gift from Mrs. Carlton's Estate. All items of her will have been received." He listed the stocks and the cash gift.

"We need to caution ourselves in a couple of areas," Rev. Sipe said. "We want to be found faithful as God's stewards in this matter, and we will seek His will. The proceeds from the stock and cash will not find its way into our general fund, leaving the day by day expenses to be paid by tithes and offerings of our people."

The church decided soon after learning of the will that money from it would be used for purposes other than day to day expenses, and the pastor, in agreement with the budget committee, asked each member to offer suggestions for the use of the dividends.

The late Judge Patterson was a district judge in Eastland County and a pioneer lawyer. The Carltons were members of both the Eastland and Cisco churches when they lived in this area.

'Vacation Home-Watch' Set By Local Police Dept.

"Vacation Home-Watching" will be instituted this year by Cisco's Police Department, according to an announcement here by Police Chief Randy Whittle. Chief Whittle said the public service will be available to local citizens who plan to be away from their home or business for a few days, or weeks.

Chief Whittle said persons who are planning to go on vacation, or just leave town for a few days, may contact the local police department between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday thru Friday, at 442-1770. They will be asked for some information on what the police officers should watch for and what should be at the residence or business. Those requesting the service should also leave a number where they might be reached in case of an emergency. Chief Whittle urged that this information be given, even if it is not asked for from the department. He said to either give the police the emergency number, or give it to a friend or neighbor.

If a citizen should have to leave Cisco hurriedly because of an emergency situation, they may contact the County Dispatch at 629-1728 and give them any information concerning their home or property which might be helpful to the police. The local department can then get the information from the Dispatch office.

However, Chief Whittle stressed to only call the County Dispatch in the case of a dire emergency when the local department's office is not open. The Dispatch will not have the forms used by the local department and might not get all the information needed.

A citizen might also leave their information with a friend or neighbor, in the case of an emergency after 5 p.m., who can then contact the police department the next day.

Everyone who requests the service is also urged to contact the department upon their return home, especially if they return earlier than planned. Chief Whittle said if they fail to do so and an officer who is checking on the property sees a strange automobile at the home, or anything else which looks out of place or tampered with, they will have to go ahead and check it out even if it is the owner's.

Police Checking Vandalism Act

City police were investigating vandalism at the Banker 24 Drive-In of the First National Bank of Gorman in Cisco Tuesday, it was reported. Details of the case were not available.

Police were called to the city water reservoir near I-20 access road in south Cisco Monday after obscene words were painted on the tower during the weekend.

Other weekend police activities included an arrest on charges of disorderly conduct and investigation of three minor auto mishaps.

Chief Whittle said this property watching service by the local police department is being offered "to help the citizens of Cisco, because we want to help them." He said by keeping the department informed that someone will be gone, and telling them what to look for at the home or business, then possibly a burglary can be prevented.

Nichols Wins City Golf Championship

An 18th hole birdie enabled Bennie Nichols to regain the city golf championship from Bobby Smith, the man he lost it to last year, in the finals of the annual tournament at the Cisco Country Club last Sunday afternoon.

Nichols, employee of S&M Supply Company, had a one-up advantage over Smith, local CPA, as they approached the 18th hole. A Smith win would have sent the match into extra holes, but the birdie nailed down the crown for Nichols.

Nichols was one up at the end of nine holes. His putter got hot and he fired a two under par 32 at Smith, who had a 35, on the final nine holes. This was Nichols' fourth city championship.

Bob Bennie, club manager, had to go two extra holes to score a one up victor over David Callarman, local insurance agency owner, in the finals of the championship flight consolation. Bennie was two down at the end of 16 holes, but he sank long putts on No. 17 and

No. 18 to send their match into extra holes. They halved No. 19 and Bennie sank a long putt on No. 20 for the win.

Nichols reached the finals with a first round victory over Ralph Glenn and a semi-finals win by a one-up score over Delbert Schaefer. In the other bracket, Smith beat Callarman in the first match and then won over D. Cates in 19 holes to reach the finals.

In the consolation bracket, Callarman beat Tracy Owens and Bennie bested Ralph Glenn to reach the finals.

In the first flight, Buddy Ramirez was the winner with a victory over Kevin Winnett in the finals. George Owens beat Tim Jones to win the first flight consolation.

Charlie Graham, tournament chairman, won the second flight with a two up victory over Bob Keyes, Cisco Junior College coach, in the finals. Rick Frazier beat J.C. Fletcher, 2 and 1, for the consolation prize.

...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

Real Estate Consumer

David S. Jones

The Real Estate Consumer is brought to you as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to: The Real Estate Consumer, Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2115.

Investors, developers and builders who invest in real estate could benefit from legislation passed in October which radically changed tax statutes regarding Subchapter S corporations.

A Subchapter S corporation normally is not subject to corporate taxes. Instead, its owners include income and loss on their individual tax returns. Until now, Subchapter S corporations were not feasible for most real estate investors.

The new law makes it possible for many of the tax advantages of a partnership to be blended with the nontax advantages of a corporation, through the use of a Subchapter S.

The new law increases the number of shareholders the Subchapter S corporation may have and allows differences in voting rights of common stock. The law also permits an indefinite carryover of unused losses or deductions.

A tax advisor can help clarify the complications of real estate investment.

NEW HOMES IN TEXAS

Many consumers picture the newly built home as a multi-family unit with less square footage than they had in the past.

But, according to a recent survey of homebuyers in Texas conducted by the Texas Real Estate Research Center, respondents who bought new homes in Texas got more square footage than buyers of previously owned homes.

These respondents also were interested in the home's energy features. Buyers of both new and old homes got approximately the same number of bedrooms and bathrooms, and the older homes did not have larger lots.

A strong advantage for the older home was the lower median monthly payment—$640, compared to $900 per month for new homes. While many respondents who bought older homes assumed loans, either through a bank, savings and loan or the previous owner, two-thirds of the respondents arranged a loan from a mortgage company.

FNMA HOME SELLER LOANS

Many home sellers have been frustrated by the inability of buyers to qualify for a mortgage loan. Consequently, they are driven to offering financing as a condition of the sale.

Most sellers, however, need cash from their sale so they can purchase another home. The Federal National Mortgage Association, or Fannie Mae, has a program to assist such sellers.

The seller needs to contact a mortgage lender approved by Fannie Mae. For a fee, the lender will check credit reports and perform other taxes to make the loan acceptable to Fannie Mae. The lender also may be contracted to collect payments after the loan is made.

The seller then negotiates the terms of a first or second mortgage with the buyer. At that point, Fannie Mae stands ready to purchase the loan when the seller desires. For more information about this program contact your broker.

INFLATION AND REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT

To avoid losing purchasing power in inflationary times, many individuals hedge against inflation by purchase some tangible object—such as gold or art—that will maintain its value. Real estate can provide this kind of hedge.

Homebuyers see the value of their homes increase rapidly and, when they sell, realize a tidy capital gain. Many homebuyers routinely expect inflation to make the home purchase profitable.

But reduction in the rate of inflation can cause these expected profits to vanish. When inflation slows, demand for tangible assets as hedges against inflation wanes. Values often do not increase as before and can even decline.

Real estate investments can still prosper without inflation, but buyers should seek properties in growth areas. Growth increases demand and values may increase even without inflation.

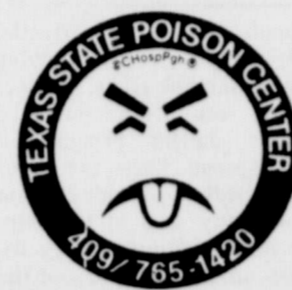

BARRIER ISLANDS PROTECTED

Some unique undeveloped real estate in Texas is protected by the Coastal Barrier Resources Act signed into law October 18. One hundred fifty linear miles of barrier islands along the Texas coast are affected.

The new law does not restrict private landowners from developing their property, but now they do so at their own risk—without federal support. Texas barrier islands are not only habitats for diverse plant and animal life and a shelter for wildlife-rich marshes and estuaries—but they also protect the mainland from the impacts of hurricanes and other storms.

Development of the barrier islands created increasing demands on federal, state and local governments.

The new law eliminates any federal assistance with flood insurance after October 1, 1983. It also prohibits federal aid for work on bridges, highways and VA or FHA home loans on the islands.

The Corpus Christi skyline provides the backdrop for these afternoon sailors out in the bay. Although this group is more intent on a leisurely jaunt, serious sailors can find racing every Wednesday afternoon when the regatta hits the water. And in April sailors and non-sailors alike can join in the fun of Buccaneer Days as the city's oldest and biggest celebration gears up.

Legal Notice

The Eastland County Appraisal District wishes to remind property owners that Monday, May 2, 1983, is the deadline for filing property exemption applications and business personal property renditions.

State law requires that all business personal property be rendered each year. Renditions were sent or delivered to county business earlier this year. If you have not yet returned your business rendition, you should do so before the May 2nd deadline.

If you did not receive a rendition or have lost it; you should check with the appraisal district office.

The deadline for filing open space land exemption applications and residential homestead applications is also May 2nd.

The open space or agricultural use exemptions allows the property owner to pay on an Ag-use value rather than the higher market value. If your land was granted an exemption for 1982 and the use of the land is still the same as previously reported, a new application does not need to be made. Only those whose land may qualify for the first time need to apply.

The residential homestead application needs to be filed by those homeowners who were not signed up in 1982 or who have since changed their place of residence.

Those homeowners who have recently turned 65 years of age should check to

Cancer Answer Line

Question: Are there different types of skin cancer?

ANSWERline: There are three main types of skin cancer, classified according to the cells involved. These are basal cell, squamous cell, and melanoma. More than 90 percent of all skin cancers fall into the first two classifications. Basal cell cancer occurs more frequently, but grows more slowly. It rarely spreads, but if left untreated can extend to underlying bone. Squamous cell cancer occurs less often, but is a greater danger because of rapid spread. These two types of cancer can appear on almost any area of the skin, but most commonly they develop on exposed parts of the body—face, neck, forearms, and the back of the hands. Squamous cell cancer and melanoma skin cancer appear very much alike, showing up either as a pale, waxlike pearly nodule that may eventually ulcerate and crust or as a scaly, red sharply outlined patch. Malignant melanoma is a virulent form of skin cancer, which spreads rapidly. Melanomas are usually dark brown or black in pigmentation. They begin as mole-like growths that increase in size, change color, become ulcerated and bleed easily from a slight injury.

Do you have further questions? Call your local unit of the American Cancer Society or call M. D. Anderson Hospital & Tumor Institute's Cancer Information Service, 1-800-392-2040 toll-free in Texas, 792-3245 in the Houston area.

see if they are not eligible for an additional exemption for those over-65 granted by many of the taxing jurisdictions.

If you have changed your residence between January 1, 1982 and January 1, 1983; a new application will have to be filed on the new residence in order for the exemption to be granted.

The exemptions and renditions must be filed with the Eastland County Appraisal District by May 2, 1983 in order to be accepted for the 1983 year.

If you have a question concerning the filing of your applications or renditions, please contact the Eastland County Appraisal District prior to the May 2, 1983 deadline.

Cancer Society To Survey Texans For Cancer Awareness

Over one-half million Texans will be surveyed during April by American Cancer Society volunteers to determine local health and cancer awareness.

Some 40,000 ACS volunteers will conduct the survey door-to-door as part of the Society's annual educational and fundraising Crusade. The results of the statewide project will be used to plan the organization's educational emphasis geographically.

"This is somewhat of a departure for us," said Charles Oswalt, M.D. of Graham who is spearheading the study as a member of the Texas Division ACS Public Education Committee. "While we've always taken advantage of the educational opportunities that exist when our volunteers visit their neighbors during our Crusade, this is the first time we've asked their help in distributing a survey on such a broad scale."

Dr. Oswalt added that the confidential survey takes just a few minutes to complete and is then to be mailed to local ACS offices.

Questions are divided into those just for women and those for men and women, all related to a history of personal health actions. For example, both men and women are asked if they have ever been to a doctor, hospital or clinic for a proctoscopic exam. Women are asked if they have ever had a Pap Test or if they practice regular breast self-examinations.

"Once these totals are compiled, we'll be better able to target just what our educational emphasis should be in certain parts of the state," Oswalt added.

"If the survey totals in a particular area of the state indicate that few of the men have had an examination for colon rectum cancer, then we can try to boost our educational programs on that site in that particular area—whether it be Beaumont, San Angelo or wherever."

F. Michael Schultz, M.D. of Brownwood, chairman of the Division Public Education Committee upon which

Dr. Oswalt serves, points out that the survey itself has an educational value. "It will serve as a reminder that specific early detection tests are vital to successful treatment before cancer spreads," he said.

Along with the survey, volunteers will also be armed with other educational information to help Texans know how cancer can be prevented.

Funds from the Crusade will be used to sponsor the Society's three-fold attack on cancer through research, education and patient services.

Wet, Wet Rapids

Getting wet is the order of the day on Six Flags Over Texas' new river rafting adventure, Roaring Rapids. The $4.2 million dollar attraction recently opened at the Arlington theme park. It features more than a quarter mile of thundering rapids and wave-swept lagoons.

Roaring Rapids Mak

ARLINGTON—The biggest ride in the history of Six Flags Over Texas, the Roaring Rapids river adventure, opened Friday, April 1, at the Arlington theme park.

The $4.2 million dollar attraction simulates the excitement of rafting down a wilderness river complete with white-capped rapids, rippling lagoons, threatening boulders and waterfalls which tower above the banks.

Circular fiberglass rafts, encircled by huge flotation tubes, carry twelve passengers each along the thundering waterway.

Six Flags General Manager Ray Williams said the concept for the ride came from a Six Flags executive who was intrigued by the man-made river which was used for kayaking competition in the 1972 Munich Olympics.

He said Six Flags asked Intamin, AG, of Zurich, Switzerland, to create a similar river which would be totally safe for the average person to ride. Roaring Rapids is the result.

Intamin is the same firm which designed such thrill rides as the Shock Wave double loop roller coaster and the Texas Cliffhanger freefall ride.

Williams commented, "Roaring Rapids is as close as the average person is going to come to the thrill of a ride down a stretch of rapids. Up until now," he said, "the experience has been limited to those folks who could travel to wilderness areas and join in guided rafting trips."

He cautioned that, "like the real thing, people can just about count on getting very, very wet."

Lakes Debut At Six Flags Over Texas

"As each raft plunges down the final set of rapids, a wave about three feet high breaks over the leading edge of the raft. At that point, it really gets wet," he explained.

Williams said Roaring Rapids holds nearly two million gallons of water in a "riverbed" formed by 11,100 tons of concrete. The river is more than a quarter of a mile long.

Two 400 horsepower pumps force 167,000 gallons of water per minute into the river. The rapids effect is created as tons of water are forced over specially-designed contours on the river's sloping floor.

There are four sets of rapids on the ride, connected by four lakes, two of which are equipped with wave machines. In addition, two of the lakes feature waterfalls, the largest of which towers 36 feet above the river. It produces some 10,000 gallons of water per minute.

Roaring Rapids can carry up to 2,000 riders per hour, making it the largest capacity ride in the Six Flags lineup.

While Six Flags was busy opening Roaring Rapids, Astroworld (a member of the Six Flags family) in Houston was busy opening the Sky Screamer.

The ride gives riders the sensation of falling from a ten story building opened at Astroworld Saturday, April 16. Former astronaut Alan L. Bean, fourth man to walk on the moon, was present and compared similarities between Astroworld's new ride and a space ride.

The Sky Screamer and Astroworld will be operating weekends through the spring and daily starting June 1.

When Our Trees Go Down In Flames, Our Dollars Go Up In Smoke.

Southern forests are more than homes for our wildlife and playgrounds for our people. They play a major role in our economy.

When our forests burn—by accident or arson—jobs and money are lost. And prices go up on the thousands of items made from wood and paper.

With these print materials, you can help make people more aware of how valuable these forests are to all who live here. You can help stop Southern forest fires.

Just spread the word—when our trees go down in flames, our dollars go up in smoke.

Capacity Crowds Attend Local Circus

"For many Eastland County youngsters, this was the first time they have ever seen a circus," reported a spokesman of the Eastland Volunteer Fire Department.

The circus was in town Saturday for two performances, at 3:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. According to members of the fire department, the circus tent was filled to capacity for both shows.

Many area fire departments will be displaying equipment as well as several fire apparatus sales companies.

Everyone is invited to this free presentation. Any donations will be used for future purchases of needed equipment and safety gear.

CJC Opens Variety Show

Curtain time for "Big Country Revue", the traditional spring variety show at Cisco Junior College, is 7:30 p.m., Friday, April 22, in the Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium. There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend. Format of the 1983 Revue will be similar to that of Hee Haw. Band president Bob Stone and vice president Arlieta Thomas will serve as co-chairmen for the show. The Wrangler Band, Belles, and Singers, provide the cast and crew.

The Stage Band will provide much of the music for the show, but the Concert Band will also be heard. Some of the featured groups are two special ensembles—a Country Band and the Wrangler Pops, the CJC singers, and those world-famous Wrangler Belles.

Pat Owens, director of the Wrangler Belles, will be the featured vocalist, Nicki Harle, Belle choreographer, will appear as a solo jazz dancer, and Steve Zell, CJC music instructor will be featured on the organ.

The entire show will be generously seasoned with comedy and downhome humor. The show runs just over an hour.

All the firemen and their families want to thank the people of Eastland County for their support. The money earned from the circus will be used for purchasing additional fire equipment.

The department has also scheduled a program, on Saturday, April 30 at Siebert Elementary, with the Red Adair Company from Houston, showing films on well fires and the equipment used to combat these fires. The program will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Earlier in the day, from 12 noon until 6:00 p.m., the local fire department will display equipment at the fire station, located at 414 S. Seaman.

School Representative To Be At EHS Friday

Stenograph Institute of Texas, nationally reknowned proprietary school located in Abilene will be making a presentation at Eastland High School on April 22th at 9:00 a.m.

The representative, Mrs. Louise Tilbrook, will be discussing the merits of establishing a career in Court Reporting, Accounting, or Secretarial Science. This is an open forum and those high school students interested in these career fields are invited to attend. Individuals not currently attending either high school should seek attendance permission by calling the high school.

A BETTER CHANCE TO MAKE A BETTER BUY

Many of your friends and neighbors attend auctions regularly because they enjoy having a chance to offer their bids for items they want and need. Here's some tips to help you have a better chance to make a better buy.

Come to our auctions early on sale day so you can take your time and inspect all the items thoroughly. Your knowledge of the condition of the offering will give you an advantage when the bidding begins.

Find out the "sale order" so you can be ready to bid for the items you want. And think about the amount you will bid for an item before it comes up for sale.

Bid what you think is right for you. Make a good buy... or let someone else have the item. But don't fail to attend because someone else will get it if it's a bargain. And remember, when it comes to buying or selling AUCTION'S BEST.

Education: brings
The joy of learning — a life-long experience

Education is a life-long process, not something which can be contained within the walls of any school, however distinguished. It is as much a territory for adults as children — there is no limit on curiosity. Pity the person who truly believes that he has nothing more to learn, because that person has ceased to grow.

People learn by a variety of methods. Book learning is one, chief among them, as is the interchange of ideas and facts among people: teacher to pupil, pupil to teacher. Informally, people learn by opening themselves to the world around them, by allowing their senses to interpret their surroundings, leaving their pores open, metaphorically speaking, to the world that nature and art and children have to offer.

Whether your interests lie in specific areas, or whether you are controlled by everything the world has to offer, there is one concept always to keep in mind: Education is nothing so small as it is not worth learning, nothing so large as it is not worth teaching.

Perfect picture

Capturing the spirit of summer in photographs can be as easy as thinking in the sun, when you follow a few simple tips on picture taking.

Not matter how ideal the lighting and other conditions, ultimately the quality of your pictures depends on the way you handle your camera.

Although many cameras are automatic, you still need to know what appears in the viewfinder is the result of how you compose the shot.

One of the greatest advantages of an instant camera is that you can see your results immediately. You can tell right away when you look the time to compose a shot in the viewfinder or when you need to try again.

A student writes . . . and is answered with scholarships

LOS ANGELES — Patrick Mary Ann Maxim, Executive Director of the Student Assistance Council, said that hundreds of students have been awarded scholarships ranging from $500 to $10,000 a year through the Council's Scholarship Search program.

Thousands of awards are available through the Council's information bank, which includes 250,000 donor awards, including privately-funded (non-government) sources such as foundations, trust funds, associations, religious groups, professional and civic groups, colleges and universities, and other donors.

She said, "Millions and millions of dollars of school and have gone unclaimed and unused in the past 10 years, because the money was not claimed. Computerized search is essential to find the myriad of available scholarships."

Matching a high school senior with a scholarship manually would be virtually impossible, especially in dealing with hundreds of thousands of students, each one very, very different.

Maxim said the Council has aided more than 100,000 students in the last 12 years, locating sources of college funds.

Did Jack Frost bite your toes Friday morning? There was a white coat on the grass here, but luckily it did not kill our beans and potatoes, got some of the tomato and pepper plants. Surely this will be last frost of this spring.

The ones who have fruit trees say they have some peaches and apricots left, so maybe we will have fruit after all the freezing weather.

We had a nice shower Tuesday night and everything is so pretty and green. The Buffalo Clover is blossoming and the "old mesquites" are getting green, so I guess spring is really here.

The Women's Study Club met at the Community Center last Monday afternoon. Eight members answered roll call. Mrs. Allie Feeley showed slides and gave a very interesting talk about their trip to Mexico. The Pres., Mrs. Ida Mae Waddell, presided at a business meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Mary King. The club will host the Birthday party for April at the Golden Holiday Nursing Home on Wednesday, April 20, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Maxie Solomon attended graveside services at Scranton last Tuesday for Bill Blaylock of Fort Worth. Bill was the son of Mrs. Truman Blaylock of Fort Worth, a long-time resident of Scranton.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Clara Lunsford of Odessa. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ramsey, early day settlers of the Union Community north of Putnam. She was a sister of Veda Yarbrough of Baird Nursing Home and Mrs. Faye Wood of Cisco and a step-sister of Ollie Burnam.

Mrs. I.G. Mobley of Baird and Mrs. Taylor were shopping at Cisco Friday. Mrs. Mobley visited friends and ate lunch at the Community Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ivie and daughters of Roscoe have been visiting his mother, Mrs. Clinton Ivie this week.

Mrs. George (Myrtle) Weeks celebrated her 84th birthday Tuesday. Her nieces Mrs. Leta Jones and Mrs. Etta Summers of Admiral and her son R.P. of Eastland helped her celebrate the happy day. She received a wonderful gift, a great grand-daughter, born to John and Peggy Hurd at Clyde. Congratulations Myrtle and we hope you enjoy many more birthdays.

Spotlights & Sidelights

Julia Worthy

One of my great-grandfathers fought in the Battle of San Jacinto.

The anniversary of that battle always reminds me of that particular twig on my family tree, though he left no descendants.

My great-grandmother, his sister, was prolific to the tune of twelve children. In my father and mother's time people weren't so uptight about genetic history, so two of the aforementioned twelve turned out to be my maternal and paternal grandfathers.

This, according to all the current fofooraw, is supposed to cause me and my only sibling all kinds of trouble.

And it has. You'd never believe how long it took me to get a Social Security number.

What I was thinking about in regard to this relative this year concerns the rest of the fellows who put the wharmy on Santa Anna. Looking at them as if they were family members, I have to erase all ten-foot-tall hero types parading around in gorgeous uniforms.

My San Jacinto relative probably was exposed to good manners and a sketchy education as his mother, "from a well-to-do Virginia family," was on the vicious side when it came to doing her duty.

But frontier life is frontier lie any way you slice it, and his ma and pa wound up in Austin's "Old Three Hundred" only after coming to it via Vera Cruz. I doubt Greatgranduncle John was ever accorded any scholarly title, but I credit him with as much social conscience as any his collateral descendants.

When Sam Houston gathered his motley crew for that bayou binge, Uncle John probably regarded it as a nuisance he couldn't dismiss from his mind.

If he resembled by latter-day uncles, John worked like a demon when he worked. He relaxed in the same way, and he preferred to do both on his own whim.

I would dearly love to think John heard echoes of the Liberty Bell ringing down the years, but there are many, many misty mountains and boggy rivers between the Lavaca River in Texas and Independence Hall in Pennsylvania.

In getting his gear together and sloping off toward Harrisburg in the general direction of the action, anger was most likely the emotion charging John's batteries. The Mexicans had caused the Runaway Scrape. There was the Goliad massacre, and things had heated up pretty well around Gonzales.

After he got what crops he intended to put in laid by for awhile, I expect John cleaned his rifle, checked his saddle girth, and told his ma he'd likely be gone a spell.

Maybe he explained to her he was tired of all this war foolishness. Probably he just beat the dust out of his old hat, saddled his horse—it would have been a good'un to judge by his nephews' choices of horseflesh—and left.

John wouldn't have a uniform...didn't even have kakh. His pants might have been that hard twill that would give of today's chambray, and pants were that indeterminate shade called "charcoal" now. The buttons on both were bone.

Boots or brogans? Yarns tell me his ma was "fixey". Boots may have been his choice. On the other hand, a streak of hard practicality might have left the boots at home for a less chancy day.

In my mind there is no doubt John was on eof the main fretters and stewers at the inaction prevalent when he got to that bayou farm.

Those men had come to get in a little target practice. If they didn't get it, they were going home. So Sam Houston bestirred himself to get his act together and the morning of April 21, the ball commenced and ended.

Santa Anna had Houston out-manned and out-supplied. If he'd had more heart in what he was doing, Texas might be part of the Mexican oil supply today.

Known as "the Napoleon of the West," Santa Anna probably made the mistake of many another ruler and believed his own publicity. Publicity, however sweet, does not pack the persuasiveness of a bullet.

When John, and others of his ilk, had seen Santa Anna presented to Sam Houston, they drifted away. They had done what they meant to do, and it was time to go home.

My ideas of Great-granduncles John may have no true perspective, but milling over the branches of my family tree, I suspect ordinary men are the ones who fight the extraordinary wars.

Photography Club Holds First Annual Contest

If over 100 entries and unbounded enthusiasm spell success, the first annual Microplex Photo Club Photography Contest was certainly a big one - SUCCESS that is.

The contest, which was held in the Conference Room and Treehouse Level of the Best Western Inn, Eastland, April 8, 9 and 10, drew some 114 print entries and 51 slide entries.

Club President Ron Mouser was very impressed with the large turnout from local as well as area photographers. These were entries from Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Stephenville and Breckenridge in the contest. He expressed a desire to get the entrants from the microplex to join and take part in the Microplex Photo Club.

Five categories in Black/White and Color prints, a Slide class and Novice class were judged by Louis Cady of Brownwood.

Cady is the instructor in photography for Continuing Education at Howard Payne University. He developed the photography curriculum and has taught photography there for the past two years.

Three courses he teaches that might be helpful to one if his or her interest is photography are: (1) How to use your new camera, (2) The joy of photography and (3) Weekend photography workshops, which are modeled after the Nikon School of Photography.

A graduate of the University of Missouri at Kansas City, with Bachelors and Masters Degree in Music, Cady is presently the Artist in Residence in Piano in the Howard Payne University School of Music. He plans to resume his Pre-Med studies at North Texas State University in Denton this fall.

Cady was very complimentary of the number and caliber of entries in the contest. He also offered helpful criticism and comments to those present during and after the judging.

Linda Brothers of Stephenville and her Black/White print entered in the "Forms of Transportation" category walked away with the Best of Show honors.

Other winners included: Flowers & Insects: Color - 1. Kevin Coplen, Eastland; 2 & 3 Charlie Brockman, Ranger. Black/White - 1. Jessie Brockman, Ranger.

Forms of Transportation: Color - 1. Ruth Sheets, Eastland; 2.&3. Dale Waddle, Ranger. Black/White - 1. Linda Brothers, Stephenville; 2. Larry Parham, Stephenville; 3. Jessie Brockman, Ranger.

Slide Class - Neal Raney, Eastland.

Novice Class - 1. Wade Parham, Stephenville; 2.&3. Holly Brothers, Stephenville.

Three door prize drawings were held - two for entrants in the contest and one for non-entrants. Neill Hitchcock and Wade Parham won the entrant drawings and Keith Bulgerin of Eastland won the non-entrant drawing.

The Microplex Photo Club would like to thank the following who helped make the success of the Contest possible with their donations.

1. Ray and Ruth Wilbur - use of the Best Western Inn facilities; 2. Eastland Galleria & Gift Shoppe - two picture frames; 3. Arno's Mfg. of Ranger - Bosom Buddy Tripods, which were given to the first place winners; 4. Steven Printing & Photography of Eastland - 50 xerox copies, which were used for publicity purposes; 5. The Club would like to extend a personal invitation to those who have an interest in photography to come to the next meeting and get involved with people who have the same interest. Mr. Carl Boustead of The F Stop will be beginning a series of programs on Beginning Photography at the May meeting.

The Cisco Girl Scouts went to Camp Wood Lake, Brownwood Texas. There were eight girls and two sponsors. The first night we were there we went to a sing-a-long and learned some new girl scout songs. There were girls from other surrounding towns there. We walked to the State Park Saturday and had fun. We got first place in the knot tying contest. Saturday night we had a square dance and learned some new steps. We cooked out and spent some time around the lake looking for shells. We had a real good time.

Cisco Library News

This is the 26th annual National Library Week, April 17-23, and very fortunately, corresponds with our Frontier Days and Folklife Festival.

Erika Fiske of the Abilene Reporter authored an interesting article in the April 16 edition on "book treasures" in the Abilene Library, and refers to one unusual book at the Cisco Library that has been mentioned in this column before: "Back Roads of Texas", a hand-written and illustrated book of a couple of hundred pages by Earl Thollander.

Traveling the "back road" between Hamilton and Lampasas, Thollander describes the fields of "deep blue spiderwort". This brings to mind that these blossoms are native to Texas, have been used in a "pilot study to detect cancer-causing agents in our environment", according to information from the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. A TFWC project has been to collect spiderwort for mailing to Science Park in New York, a part of the University of Texas Cancer System. Technicians examine the blossoms for color change. Naturally bluish in color (quoting from the TFWC report) the blossoms change to pink or become colorless in the presence of radiation.

The Library's booth at the Festival will have for sale, some back issues of magazines and books. On exhibit will be some school books "oldies" and other books of yesteryears, and some very special books to be available soon at the Library; the biography of Audie Murphy, the Texas boy who became the highest decorated soldier in American history. Also "In Our Image", a publication conceived by an idea of Houston Harte, founder of the Harte-Hanks newspapers chain. This is a collection of character studies from the Old Testament, illustrated by Guy Rowe. The book was published by the Oxford University Press. More about these books later.

It will soon be time for summer vacation and Story-Telling Sessions for the youngsters, sponsored by the Library.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

Last week we were discussing the nutritious benefits of the lowly peanut. Lowly or not... it is one of the more nutritious foods grown in the United States.

This plant, the peanut,

This is the couple's first child.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Emma Kent and Mrs. Sam Jones of Cisco.

from Africa. Arriving here as slaves, Africans brought with them peanuts, which they planted throughout the south. They also brought the peanut's nickname "Goober" which comes from the congo word for peanut, "Nguba."

The first commercial use of peanuts in this country was on the farm, where it was fed to hogs, turkeys, and chickens.

It was not until the latter half of the 19th century that peanuts began to be cultivated extensively in the U.S.

This latent commercialism was due partly because peanuts were regarded as food for the poor and partly because of difficulties with growing and harvesting the crop. This was changed, however, when labor saving machinery was invented around the turn of the century.

Next week we will discuss the impact that the peanut made during the Civil War and how The Confederate and Union Soldiers turned to the peanut as a high-energy snack food.

Programs during the past week included: J.W. Cook presented a humorous program and played the guitar, and sang. The Priest Band presented a musical program, and the Senior Citizens Band and Choir entertained. Game Day was enjoyed with Cisco going to Eastland for table games.

Call 442-1557, if you are 60 years or older, and make reservations for a nutritious meal and a day of fellowship.

The menus for the week are:

Monday - Beef stew with mix vegetables, raw vegetable salad, cheese, pudding, cornbread, butter and drink.

Wednesday - Turkey roll and dressing, stewed tomatoes/green beans,

MR. MARVIN Payne of our town, who will be getting a master's degree in chemistry over at Tarleton State University in a month, or so, is taking part in an unusual experimental project at the college. They're working on a project to make methane gas from chicken manure.

One of the scouts reported that Marvin, who is the son of Mrs. Viola Payne of the newspaper staff, was explaining his connection, saying that he was low on the pole - running manure computer equipment.

Understand Marvin has been employed to teach chemistry out at CJC next year.

MR. AND MRS. Harold Davies are the new owners of the Cisco Monument Works, having purchased the stone cutting equipment and stock and materials. The business was started and operated for some 10 years by the Loyal Lundstroms at the Cisco Motel.

The Davises plan to move the shop to the yard at their home, 401 West 5th Street, and will obtain a location for the stone monuments.

THE MARTINS are a bit late this year. That's the report of Mr. Bill Reynolds who has a regular apartment house for the nice little purple birds at his place out of Hilton Avenue. When we talked to Bill the other morning, he had some 30 martins in the house and room for more.

Bill, whose office is in the yard at their home, has been observing Cardinals and Robins, there lately. He has a shiny chrome gasoline pump that is a pretty mirror. The birds see themselves, and they go on the defensive. They don't want other Cardinals and Robins trespassing in their territory, but the birds in the mirror are always there when they look.

MRS. CAROLYN Page of the CJC faculty drove over to Ardmore, Okla., late weekend to attend a sister's 50th wedding anniversary party. O.L. Stamey and Winston Heidenheimer, local Lions Club members, were on television last Friday night. An Abilene TV cameraman was at a Lions Club luncheon there and so were the Ciscoans. There was a pretty heavy frost here last Thursday night.

THE HEYSER Angus Ranch is gearing up for a registered heifer sale at 1 p.m. Saturday, April 30. Doug and Lillian Fry of our town observed their 50th wedding anniversary recently. Glad to hear that Miss Nancy Cluck is out of the hospital and doing nicely. She lives in Big D where she's a college teacher. Her mother, Mrs. Bob Cluck of Cisco, visited over there recently. Police have released the Loyal Lundstrom car that they pick up at DFW Airport and stored here while it was being checked out. Understand the car has been sold.

LETHA STAFFORD, who got home last Saturday night from a Caribbean Cruise, has taken over the golf pro shop at the Cisco Country Club and will be selling golf equipment, drinks and snacks and the like. Lady golfers at the CCC are doing their bit toward beautification at the golf course. They've planted flowers and shrubs here and there around the fairways. Very neat and appreciated. Men of the First Christian Church enjoyed an egg-sausage-biscuits breakfast meeting last Saturday morning. Joe Ed Schaefer and friends of Arlington came out last weekend to hunt turkey gobblers with his dad, Rudolph. And Mr. Rudolph was the only one of the party that had scored when we talked to them early Sunday.

MR. TOM AUTREY, the telephone man, has a brand new 30-year pin that is attached to the band on the watch that SWBell gave him when he finished 25 years with the company some five years ago. Guess we can get set for some interesting stories. Annual Aggie Muster takes place on Thursday, April 21st. They got the hammer mill going at Thornton Feed Mill after a shutdown of three days and then the big motor went out. Bossman Frank Barrett loaded up and took the motor to Abilene last Friday to get back into operation.

SORRY TO HEAR that Justice of the Peace Carlton Holder is a patient (ICU) at Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene. His condition was reported as serious. Daughter Janice of Odessa has been here with her mother and father. Police Chief Randy Whittle was in Austin on Monday attending a meeting of Texas police officials. Chief Bobby Arriola of Eastland accompanied him.

FOUR CISCO MEN - Bruce Stovall, Gerald Winnett, Bud Coats and Joe Philpott - got home Saturday night from Torreon, Mexico, where they went to visit a couple of churches that Ciscoans had helped this year.

They attended a meeting where a mission was converted into a church, and the Ciscoans presented them $1800 with which to buy adjoining land that will be used in expanding facilities. Local Baptists are making donations to the land fund and their expenses.

Mr. Stovall and Mr. Winnett headed a group that went to Torreon between Christmas and New Year's, and they went with another group around Feb. 1 to build pews and put a roof on a small church building. Last week, they attended a dedication service at one church and the organizational meeting at another. Both churches are in Torreon suburbs.

Anyone who wants to have a part in this fine work can do so by slipping a piece of folding money into Bruce's or Gerald's hand.

Cisco Care Center Will Host Dinner

Cisco Care Center will host an Appreciation Dinner for the volunteers who have donated time and service to the residents of the Nursing Home.

Oscar's barbecued dinner with all the trimmings will be served in the dining room of the home at 7:00 p.m. Monday, April 25, 1983.

Cisco Care Center wishes to honor all volunteers who have given of their time and service to the Nursing Home in the past year.
