HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

DON'T FORGET to set your clocks forward one hour Saturday night when you go to bed, since Daylight Savings Time will come into effect this Sunday.

ONE THING we forgot to mention in the last edition of this paper was about the carnival being in town during the week. The carnival was brought into town and sponsored by the Cisco Fire Department.

It is located on the Rising Star Highway just beyond the IH-20 overpass at Highway 183. It will be there thru Sunday.

ALSO BE sure and attend the 10th annual Folklife Festival this weekend. The Festival began Saturday morning following the downtown parade at 10:00 a.m. The Festival will be continuing thru Sunday.

CONGRATULATIONS to Cisco High School's Lobo Varsity track team for winning the District Track Meet in Cisco on Friday. The eighth grade team also placed first in the meet.

Complete results of the event may be found elsewhere in this edition of the newspaper.

CISCO LITTLE League action got underway Thursday night with games scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights this weekend.

Games will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights until school is out.

Hageman Reunion Set

The annual Hageman reunion will be held Sunday, May 1st, at Lake Wood Recreation Center, located at Highway 36 West between Rising Star and Cross Plains.

All relatives and friends are invited.

In Friday's Hearing:

D.A. Evidence Ordered Turned Over To Lundstrom's Attorneys

Copies of evidence gathered by or under the direction of the district attorney in the case of the State of Texas vs. Loyal Lundstrom were ordered to be turned over to defense attorneys by April 27th by the 91st District Court in a pre-trial hearing Friday.

Judge Jim Wright, presiding at the hearing, also ordered that any and all other motions pertaining to the case be filed for a second pre-trial hearing on May 19th in his court.

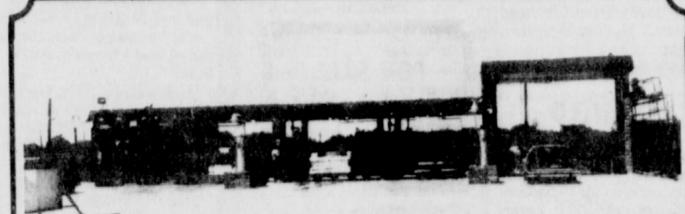

Defense Attorney Bill Hart filed a standard motion of recovery, which asked for copies of all records and evidence the district attorney plans to use in the case, that was heard Friday. The hearing lasted about 45 minutes.

The judge ruled on some 25 questions raised by the defense attorney. District Attorney Emory Walton objected to several of the items, including a request for drawings and pictures. The defense asked that the state be denied use of any letters that Defendant Lundstrom, who has been charged with murder in the March 3rd shooting of his wife, might have written to a minister on the grounds that this would be confidential.

Lundstrom, dressed neat-

IT SEEMS difficult to believe, but I know of at least one person who recently got lost in Cisco. My daughter, Teresa, rode her bicycle to the district track meet Friday evening and when she returned home, she said she had been riding her bike around and she got lost.

I told my wife Wanda that it was hard to believe anyone could get lost in Cisco and it would make a good item for the paper.

Harold & Alura Davies Open Monument Works

Harold and Alura Davies of Cisco recently purchased Cisco Monument Works from Loyal Lundstrom. The Davies will be doing business under the name of Davies Monument Works.

The engraving of monuments will be done at 401 W. 5th Street in Cisco. A display area has not been determined at this time.

Harold and Alura were raised in Cisco. They lived in Houston until three years ago when they returned to Cisco. They enjoy living in this area and "look forward to serving the citizens of the area with quality work in all phases of monument work."

Mr. and Mrs. Davies have three children: Jeremy, Meredith and Timothy.

Cleanup Drive Is Good Success

Last week's annual city cleanup campaign was an outstanding success, City Manager Mike Moore reported Thursday. City trucks completed work Thursday to haul off debris for those who had telephoned city hall last week, Mr. Moore said.

"If we can judge by the amount of trash and debris that was handled, the cleanup campaign was a real success," Mr. Moore said. "Certainly, this will contribute to the appearance and health conditions of our community."

Abilene Choir Will Sing Here

A 40-voice choir from the Southwest Park Baptist Church in Abilene will sing at the evening worship service at the First Baptist Church in Cisco Sunday night, April 24, according to an announcement by the Rev. Buddy Sipe, pastor.

The public was invited to attend the service.

local news in brief

TIRE IS STOLEN
A 12x15 Goodyear tire valued at $50 was stolen from the back of a pickup truck owned by David M. Parten of 1300 Avenue L last Wednesday night, according to a report at the police station. Police were investigating.

Lions Enjoy German Band

The Keinname German Band, which will make several appearances on the program at this weekend's Folklife Festival, provided musical entertainment at the weekly luncheon of the Cisco Lions Club last Wednesday noon at the Colony Restaurant.

The band is directed by Dr. Ayres Cermin, who plays drums, and playing with him were his wife, Joann Cermin, piano and accordion; Alton Roan, bass; Elizabeth Webb, saxophone; Gregg Swindle, trombone; and John Muller, trumpet.

The band played both German and Dixieland music that was applauded by club members.

President Ivan Webb reported that everything was in readiness for the club's booth at the Folklife Festival and workers were assigned to man their sausage-on-a-stick booth. Bob Conner reported that good progress was being made on the picnic pavilion that the club is building at City Park.

Pat Fee, visiting here from California, was a guest.

Real Estate Consumer

David S. Jones

The Real Estate Consumer is brought to you as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to: The Real Estate Consumer, Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2115.

If you are thinking of offering a second mortgage to encourage the sale of your home, here is something to think about.

Generally, the foreclosure on the first mortgage cancels all security interests inferior to it. This means that—on a home you have helped finance—a foreclosure by the holder of the first mortgage eliminates all your rights to use the property as collateral.

Consequently, if you provide a buyer with owner-assisted financing, you run the risk of losing your security interest should a default and foreclosure occur on the first mortgage.

There are several steps you can take which would offer you some protection, but a lawyer is best equipped to explain these steps to you. If you do plan to provide owner-assisted financing, the legal implications should be fully understood, which means that legal counsel should certainly be obtained.

CAREERS IN REAL ESTATE

If you are interested in a career in real estate, a number of educational options are available to you.

For instance, during the 1981-1982 academic year, 50 community colleges offered real estate courses leading to an associate of applied science degree in real estate. Among the state's senior colleges and universities, 43 offered courses leading to a bachelor's degree with a concentration or specialty in real estate. Three of these senior colleges even offered some real estate courses by correspondence.

Community colleges report an enrollment total of 17,000 students in real estate courses. Senior colleges report a combined enrollment of more than 12,000 students in real estate courses.

These statistics indicate that young people are actively pursuing and colleges are offering real estate career training, despite the sluggish economy.

AVOID INSULATION FRAUD

Improper installation and deceptive business tactics can rob you of the energy and dollar savings which home insulation can bring.

Properly installed insulation can result in significant savings. But to ensure you gain these benefits, choose a contractor who has a proven record of honesty and competence. Never hire a door-to-door contractor.

Write down a rough set of specifications for the work to be done. Call at least three contractors and get their opinions and cost estimates. Check references. Put the agreement in writing.

Have the work inspected by a reputable building inspector or utility company. Don't pay for the work until you are satisfied it has been done according to specifications.

If your house needs more insulation, you broker may be able to give you the names of some reputable insulation contractors.

GETTING MONEY FOR A DOWN PAYMENT

Many first-time homebuyers wish they had a rich uncle to help them out with the down payment. In today's creative home financing market, their wishes may come true.

Several mortgage companies have instituted "rich uncle" programs under which an outside investor provides a large portion of down payment cash. In return, the homebuyer agrees to share resale proceeds in the future.

In some cases, the investor also charges a monthly "rent" for the use of the down payment money. Often, the investor pays a portion of the monthly loan payments which are reimbursed in the form of rent by the homeowner. By sharing in expenses, the investor may deduct a portion of the home's value as depreciation.

Approach Owner-Assisted Financing Cautiously

tion, as well as deduct interest and property tax expenses.

This partnership helps the homebuyer get into a home, and may turn out to be a good deal for the investor if the home's value increases.

AGE COMPOSITION IN TEXAS

Texans in some counties are on the average more than twice as old as those in other counties.

According to Dr. Robert Skrabanek, a demographer with the Texas Real Estate Research Center, the median age of a resident of Maverick County in 1980 was just over 22 years. Meanwhile the median age in Llano County was just over 55 years.

Four Texas counties—Brazos, Coryell, Hays and Starr—had usually young populations, with median ages of less than 23. At the other extreme, three counties—Hamilton, Loving and Mills—had populations with median ages of more than 45.

The reasons for these variations are many, says Skrabanek. For example, Llano County has a higher median age than most because many young people have left ranches for metropolitan areas. Such variations in the median age can cause corresponding variations in housing patterns from county to county. And the Highland Lakes region has attracted numerous retirees to the area.

County Extension Agent

Janet Thomas

During the week of April 24, the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs is once again sponsoring a "National Consumers Week". In the Eastland County Extension Service office, however, we feel like every week is consumers week.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service provides ongoing consumer education through educational programs. The Extension Service also provides free pamphlets and information on many consumer topics such as conserving home energy, gardening, choosing an appliance, household budgeting and how to resolve consumer problems.

Consumers are the hub of our economy. Our demand for goods and services determines which goods and services will continue to be available in our free market place economy.

As consumers, we have the rights to accurate consumer information, to product safety, and to product choice.

Most of us have had the experience of purchasing a product and then finding out later that another brand might have been a better "buy." But the frustration of a poor purchase decision can often be avoided by seeking out information before buying.

Many consumers want product information but do not know where to find it easily and in a convenient form. But here in Eastland County we have several sources for reliable consumer information available to all.

The County Extension Office offers free Extension Service Fact Sheets which include objective information about the features, use and care, and operating procedures of various products.

Some of the more popular Fact Sheets include those on microwave ovens, gardening, and family financial management.

Fact sheets are prepared by home economics specialists on the basis of the latest research information concerning that product. Although brand names and prices are not included on Extension fact sheets, they do provide general guidelines which can help in purchase decisions.

The public library is another good source of information. Magazines such as Consumer Reports, Consumer's Research and other specialized publications give brand name and price comparisons along with quality ratings. The librarian can direct you to the consumer magazines available in your library.

Stores can also be a source of information. Manufacturers often provide informational pamphlets on major appliances, for example. Although these materials are also meant to be advertisements, consumers can compare the features of products with this information. Use and care booklets, and warranties available with the products also provide valuable information.

For information about a firm, you can check with the Better Business Bureau. The BBB provides consumers with information on products and selling practices and provides an opportunity to mediate grievances between consumers and sellers.

Gathering product information before making a purchase can increase your "purchasing power" by helping you get the best buy for your needs.

Effective use of product information by large numbers of consumers can also have disciplinary effect on sellers, encouraging them to offer better products or better terms to other consumers.

For further material about consumer information, contact you County Extension Office.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK:
Cold Spiced Carrots
2 lb. Carrots (sliced like coins; don't over-cook)

2 Medium Onions, sliced thin
2 Green Peppers, sliced thin
1 can of Tomato Soup
¾ cup of Sugar
½ cup of Vinegar
½ cup of Salad Oil
1 tbs. prepared mustard
Mix all ingredients and marinate overnight. Steaming the carrots makes this recipe a real energy-saver.

Summer Weather Means Exercise

COLLEGE STATION--- With warmer weather and the bathing-suit season drawing near, countless Texans will be joining the rush to trim down and shape up through exercise.

"But the exercise program you start today could develop into a lifetime health habit if done sensibly," advises Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, a health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

To make fitness a habit that is hard to break, start with a physical activity you truly enjoy, says Shirer. That activity might be tennis, swimming, running, dancing, or even walking.

Shirer suggests trying different activities until you find one that is right for you on a regular basis.

Once you have selected an activity, get a friend to join you. Having commitment to someone else can help provide motivation when you're not as eager to exercise.

"The way in which you actually do the physical activity is critical for building the fitness habit," says Shirer. Shirer suggests trying different activities until you find one that is right for you on a regular basis.

You can largely avoid these problems, however, by including a sensible warm-up, training and cooling down period in each exercise session.

According to Shirer, all fitness programs should include five to ten minutes of warm-up exercises before the activity. Warm-up exercises raise the body temperature and make the muscles and joints move more easily.

A warm-up period decreases the likelihood of straining or pulling a stiff muscle. It also helps you get over the likelihood of straining or pulling a stiff muscle. It also helps you get over the "lead in the feet" syndrome that keeps many people from ever getting started with their exercise.

For the training period, or actual physical activity, plan a reasonable schedule, and always avoid overdoing it, warns Shirer.

A person's circulation, breathing capacity, and muscle mass can improve only so quickly, so let your body set the pace. By setting unrealistic expectations, you may become discouraged about continuing on an exercise routine.

A cooling down period allows the muscles to relax. It gently returns your body to a less active state which helps prevent muscle cramps and sudden dizziness, says Shirer.

Cooling down is accomplished by simply slowing down your activity or doing some stretching exercises for a few minutes.

"Make sure that your physical activities are enjoyable and sensible," says Shirer, "and you will be motivated to make fitness a part of your life."

Race-Track Betting Likely On .0008 Poll

Could it be?

Will Texas usher in pari-mutual betting because the "opposition people" in Eastland County and Senate District 22 failed to express their opinion and only 405 in the district were polled?

A break-through for betting came Thursday when the Senate voted 21-10 to debate the bill. A one vote switch would have blocked debate.

Sen. Bob Glasgow, whose 22nd District includes Eastland County, voted for the debate, stating that while he is personally against pari-mutual betting, the majority of the people in his district favor it, and therefore he is willing for the matter to come to a vote.

Sen. Glasgow said that 62 percent of the people in his district support the measure.

Contacted by telephone Friday morning by this newspaper, Harold Freeman of Sen. Glasgow's Austin office said that a telephone poll was made recently throughout the district. (Results of the poll and mail to the senator's office prompted the vote.)

A total of 405 persons were sampled and all were asked their opinions on these four items: water, property taxes, betting and DWI, the senator's office reported.

The betting question was asked in this fashion, Freeman said: "Would you approve or disapprove of changing the law to permit betting on horse racing in Texas?"

The results were tabulated as follows:

Rural: 52 percent approved, 41 percent disapproved.

Urban: 60 percent approved, 32 percent disapproved.

Male: 60 percent for, 33 percent against.

Female: 50 percent for, 42 percent against.

Republicans: 57 percent for, 38 percent against.

Democrats: 53 percent for, 39 percent against.

Independent: 59 percent for, 36 percent against.

A final Senate vote, expected Monday, is needed to send the bill to the House where a similar measure is locked in a committee that has refused to budge.

Sen. John Leedom, Dallas Republican, and Sen. Ed Howard, Democrat from Texarkana, opposed the debate bill, introduced by Sen. O.H. "Ike" Harris, Dallas Republican. Sen. John Traeger, Sequin Democrat, who has supported horse race betting for 21 years, said after the vote, "They're off."

Sen. Bill Sarpalius, D-Hereford, tried to block the bill by raising a point of order that revenue-raising bills have to originate in the House, but Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby overruled his motion.

Hobby explained that revenues received were incidental and the primary purpose of bill is legalized horse race wagering in Texas.

State Senate District 22 includes:

Bosque, 13,401

Comanche, 12,617

Cooke, 27,657

Local Oil Company Gives View

OIL AND WATER DON'T MIX. Everyone has surely heard that statement. Well recently it was brought to our attention once again. Since we are in the oil business, it is required that we submit an application for the Texas Water Resource Department to tell us how much surface casing must be set in order to protect the fresh water zones while drilling for the discovery of oil and/or gas. While it is Not a requirement it is requested on the application that the applicant submit an electrical log on an adjacent well previously drilled to assist with the determination by the Water Board. We have always tried to submit logs when available, and did on the application referred to in this letter.

Mr. Robert Flores of the TDWR called and thanked us for submitting the log and apologized for the change in requirements as the No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 wells drilled on the same lease only called for 350' casing. The cost is significant in surface casing and requires additional rig time and cementing charges amounting to approximately $5,475.00 for 350'. Mr. Flores apologized because the log sent showed that there was a fresh water sand located at approximately 410 feet. The added costs would amount to approximately $1,000.00 since the required amount of casing would now be for 425 feet. We would like to say thanks to Mr. Flores, for doing his job and helping us do ours properly. No apology is necessary when the order is to protect our fresh water supply in Eastland County, which effects every property owner in the county not just those who have wells drilled for oil and/or gas. Without our fresh water everyone would suffer.

What some may not realize is that while the costs are definitely a factor to the oil business, the protection is more than twice fold. Without surface casing, should a well "blow-out" the chances of controlling the well are cut into a very small fraction of what they are when casing is set properly. We in Eastland County are really fortunate since we have had rare occasion where a well was blowing out and out of control. The damages that could arise would be so much greater for the oil operator, as well as the land owner there is really no comparison in cost evaluation.

NO OIL AND WATER DON'T MIX, but in Eastland County, the oil business and the fresh water protection MUST MIX for the benefits offered to us now as well as in the future. A well drilled with surface casing may also be plugged back for fresh water after the oil or gas has been depleted. Is there any farmer that couldn't use another fresh water well?

We would like to see it mandatory to set surface casing in all of Eastland County, the benefits are two-fold, and the rewards are justified.

We would appreciate our name being withheld.

National Consumers' Week, 1983

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

A major function of our competitive free enterprise economy is to satisfy consumer demand. The effective demand of consumers is what keeps producers in the business of supplying goods and services and is vital to keeping the wheels of industry turning. Therefore, it is most important that we fully recognize the crucial role consumers play in our economy.

Everyone is a consumer, but too often this role is the most neglected in terms of preparation and training. In our complex market economy major decisions have to be made about living within our means; protecting our futures through insurance, pension plans, and investments; choosing goods and services from our global marketplace; and voting on issues directly affecting our public and private consumption. Because consumer and economic education can contribute immeasurably to our competence as consumers and citizens, it should be started in the schools at the earliest possible time.

Consumers should have access to a wide assortment of competitively priced goods and services produced here and abroad; accurate information on product content and care, on contractual agreements, on the cost of credit—essentially whatever facts are needed to make an informed choice. But of greatest importance to consumers and private enterprise is protection against the marketing of goods that are hazardous to health or life, a fair hearing of complaints with appropriate remedies where justified, and dutiful consideration of consumer concerns at all levels of government.

It is clear that the greatest fairness for consumers can be achieved through the active cooperation of business, government, and consumers themselves working to insure equity, increased competition, and safety in our free market economy.

Because an effective and efficient system of commerce depends on an informed and educated public, I urge schools, public and private agencies, and all appropriate public-spirited groups to advance consumer competence by helping provide the necessary consumer and economic information for all our citizens to make well thought-out choices in the marketplace. While the responsibility for consumer education rests primarily with the individual, the communications media and other interested organizations and institutions play an instrumental part in furthering the understanding of American consumers. I urge consumers to avail themselves of this valuable information and to wisely select the goods and services they seek.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RONALD REAGAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning April 24, 1983 as National Consumers' Week.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 20th. day of Jan., in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and seventh.

Economic Legislation

AUSTIN—Faced with the problem of whether to cut state spending or raise taxes, legislators last week began to trim — disheartening advocates for the prison system, teacher pay raises and increases in state employees salaries.

The preliminary trims brought hollows from the gored oxen, but more bad news surfaced, even as committees tried to grapple with dwindling state revenues.

Because of a post-World War II record in unemployment, Texas employers must pay at least $1 billion in new payroll taxes over the next few years to repay federal loans and refill the state unemployment benefits fund, consultants told the leadership late last week. The report is headed to Gov. Mark White's office for his reaction.

Meanwhile, last Thursday Comptroller Bob Bullock predicted that state sales tax revenues for 1983 will decline almost two percent, largely because of the oil industry slump and the peso devaluation. Other tax collections may also drop by one percent, a revelation shocking to lawmakers who are used to Texas tax revenues growing by 14 percent yearly.

Budgetary Games?
Some lawmakers reacted by calling for more taxes, while others began belt-tightening for a "no-growth" budget—but many are grumbling suspiciously that they may be pawns in budgetary political games being waged by the governor and Bullock.

Bill Sims of San Angelo, an anti-tax senator, told reporters "something funny is going on between the governor and the comptroller. Nothing could be more embarrassing than if the governor had to raise taxes, and then the comptroller manages to find a couple of million dollars."

Prisons, Teachers
Angered teacher groups opted for new taxes last week after House and Senate budget panels voted to hold the line on teacher salaries for the next two years. The Senate approved a plan to funnel as much as $600 million to local school districts for property tax relief, but set aside no money for the fund.

Governor White stuck to his campaign guns insisting on a 24 percent pay raise for teachers, a viewpoint termed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby as "absolutely" unrealistic.

The Senate budget panel also cut more than $70 million from the prison system budget, and prison officials argued it would create a loss of prison employees.

Speaker Lawsuit
Problem-plagued House Speaker Gih Lewis caught another one last week when he was named in a lawsuit accusing him and an associate of forming a bogus corporation to reduce his tax liabilities. The suit seeks recovery of $450,000 in debts from the firm owned by Lewis which filed for bankruptcy last year.

The House
Last week the House heard Lewis and former Speaker Bill Clayton testify to a committee for the creation of an ethics commission to oversee Texas politics.

The House also approved, after hard debate, a bill partially deregulating trucking for some agricultural products, like citrus.

Also passed was a measure enabling the Legislature to function in case of nuclear attack.

Universal City Representative Alan Schoolcraft said a quiet straw poll of House members reveals a majority favor reform of mandatory legislative continuances, or the postponing of trials for legislator-lawyers while they are in session.

The Senate
The Senate approved a measure tightening bingo regulations, including prohibiting minors and barring anyone from playing for free at games where revenues are subject to the comptroller.

Senators also passed a bill setting up a state board to license dietitians, a bill sought by dietician groups to upgrade their profession.

Also approved was a bill allowing counties and cities to buy insurance covering juvenile offenders on a work program.

Republican Party

Following the forced resignation of Republican Party chairman Chet Upham and vice chairman Dorothy Doehne, the state GOP attempted to rally around its new chairman, George Strake, former Texas Secretary of State.

Face Slapping

Upham resigned and Strake stepped in at a party executive committee gathering in Midland. Amid bitter party infighting, which saw two Republican women slap each other's faces during an informal session, the GOP forged a base of agreement which leaders hope will not be short-lived. Immediately after the leadership switch, the delegation voted unanimously to pass the 1983 budget and eight resolutions.

Proverbs...

1 My son, if thou be surety for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.

3 Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend; go, humble thyself, and make sure thy friend.

4 Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids.

5 Deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

Reflections In Perspective

By I.W. Ussery

Yes, my dear Virginia; there actually is a "Red Baron". And no, Virginia; he is not the figmentation of the fertile imagination of a comic strip beagle. The "Red Baron" in mortal combat with whom Snoopy flies his doghouse was real, too. He was Manfred Baron von Richthofen. He was shot down near the end of World War One, but only after having become the scourge of the skies over Flanders. And he flew a bright red aircraft.

The Baroncy survived, as it had for generations before Ludwig inherited the title. And it is this day a very real title which is carried by a very real, flesh and blood individual.

We, my Lovely Wife and youngest daughter and I had flown from Teheran to Bombay. After two days and nights there we boarded the liner "CATHAY" for Hong Kong. From that destination we'd fly to San Francisco, thence to Texas and eventually back into Teheran. This would constitute a complete circumnavigation of the globe. Since we'd not had a vacation in several years, our employer approved the long leave which would be required.

Putting in at Ceylon (now Sri Lanka), Penang and Port Swettenham in Malaysia; we arrived for a 24-hour stopover in Singapore. Now the Peninsula and Orient Line, of which the CATHAY was a part, was very, very British. I should have said "is", for "The P and O" has been flying the Union Jack over the sea lanes of the world for many, many years and bids fair to continue to do so. And, being very British and quite proper in every respect; the vessel made due note of any changes in the passenger list. Additions or deletions were duly posted on the "notice board" outside the main dining room (galley? to you sailors) upon departing each port of call.

Upon departing Singapore, I checked the notices and noted that an unusual entry had been made to the list of "Passengers boarding at Singapore". It was, quite simply, "The Honourable Family Richthofen". Now I can't tell you for the life of me where I had learned that the West German Ambassador to Singapore was named Richthofen, but I knew that to be a fact. Perhaps someone in the German Embassy in Teheran, or something.

It was also to be noted by all First Class Passengers that the Captain's Dinner dance was to be held in the main ballroom forward on the second night as from sailing from Singapore. "Black Tie" was indicated. My Lovely Wife and I made due note of the dinner and dance, and duly made our table reservation.

On the evening of the dance we sort of by-passed the Captain's cocktail hour and arrived in the ballroom a bit early. After a few minutes of people-watching, as the guests began filing in to the ballroom, a rather distinguished-looking couple appeared in the doorway not far from our table. Now our table was arranged to seat four people, and as it just appeared that this particular couple did not have reservations I suggested to MLW that we ask them to join us. She agreed, and dispatched me to Upon introducing myself, the beautiful lady of the couple responded in perfect English with just a trace of American accent... "I am Erica von Richthofen, and this is my husband, Oswald". And they would be delighted to join us. Her husband took the chair

A recent American Cancer Society study revealed that cancer costs American industry about $3 billion each year.

to the left of MLW, while Madame was seated to my right. She was a charming lady of about middle age, very cultured, and a pleasant conversationalist. In the course of the first few minutes, I could not resist observing that the name "von Richthofen" was not entirely unknown in the United States. And could it be possible that there was familial connection with "The Red Baron". Madame von R. smiled and replied, "Well, quite properly, yes. My husband is the present Baron von Richthofen. I suppose you could call him "The Red Baron" although he does not fly"

And she continued to relate the Baron's inheriting the title. Manfred was killed in combat, and was never married. His only brother inherited the title and the baronial holdings. Oswald was his only son, and when his father passed away the barony was passed to Oswald. It seems that the baronial properties were quite extensive, mostly of agricultural nature. Oswald was dedicated to improvement in agricultural production, and the up-grading of the quality of his cattle...and pigs. "Oswald is very fond of his pig farms". Was her comment.

No, the Baron had never shown any interest in flying, nor in the aviation industry. He was truly "a man of the soil". He had joined the Foreign Service some years before and had quite quickly arisen to the rank of Ambassador. Yes, he was Ambassador to Singapore.

The were pleasant company. Gracious, the perfect "diplomatic family", and travelling to Hong Kong for a fortnight's leave with their four young sons. They contributed much to the Captain's Dinner Dance's being a very pleasant experience.

So, Virginia, I can assure you that the Red Baron is a real person. I have seen and have talked to him. And Snoopy; the Red Baron will never accept your challenge to a dogfight in the skies over Flanders. The Red Baron is a pig farmer. And a gracious, polished gentleman.

Texas Dairy Queen's Sponsor NKF

DALLAS--The Texas Dairy Queen Operators' Council, as part of International Dairy Queen, will help sponsor the third annual Country Music Festival, a benefit for the National Kidney Foundation. The festival will air the weekend of April 23 and 24 on radio stations across the country, including KERC-AM of Eastland, Texas.

The programming on Saturday will consist of 12, 40-minute pre-recorded segments, which will be a countdown of country music's favorite 100 songs, as voted by country music fans at Dairy Queens across the country. From 1:06 to 8:30 p.m. on Sunday, Emmylou Harris and Ronnie Milsap will co-host a live show via satellite from Nashville and Los Angeles. The show will feature many of country music's top entertainers.

"Bullett" Manale, president of the Texas Dairy Queen Operators' Council, said, "Across Texas, more Dairy Queens and more country music stations are participating in this third annual festival. Within a few years, I believe the fundraiser will reach every part of Texas, giving people an opportunity to help cure and treat kidney diseases, and also providing good country music to those who tune in."

Foundation's Country Music Festival is scheduled to air on more than 300 radio stations across America. Of that number, approximately 50 are part of the Texas State Network, which means the show will reach listeners from Dalhart to Falfurrias and from Sulphur Springs to Fort Stockton.

Last year the County Music Festival netted more than $1.3 million for the National Kidney Foundation. The money is used to fund research, which concentrates on finding a cure for kidney and urinary tract diseases. The work of the National Kidney Foundation and sponsors such as Dairy Queen brings hope to more than 13 million Americans who suffer from kidney disease.

Dairy Queen kicks off its part of the fundraising with a donation of $50,000. In addition, every participating Dairy Queen will contribute 25 cents to the foundation for each sundae and Royal Treat sold during the festival weekend. Also, Dairy Queens have displays for the Kidney Foundation that include canisters for additional contributions from patrons.

"During the festival, Dairy Queen customers can treat themselves to our tasty ice cream dishes," said Manale, "and we will, in turn, help to treat kidney disease."

Newspaper's Project Produces Firelogs

By Viola Payne
Feature Writer
 The Eastland County newspapers are taking the lead in a salvage project which is turning thousands of pounds of discarded newsprint into attractive fireplace logs. The new Economy Fireplace Logs, produced by the Eastland County Berta Hardin Johnson Work Center, are the result of a joint effort between the Center and the newspapers.

Idella Taylor, Director of the sheltered Mental Retardation Workshop, supervises production details of the logs.

"It took some experimentation by the workers," she explains, "Before they could determine the exact amount of paper needed in the hand-roller. They learned that the amount of water and detergent they added was important, as well as various other things."

The clients display the finished product with pride - neat stacks of 16 in. logs with white wrappers. These are ready to be returned to The Eastland Telegram for labels. Others have already been labeled and distributed to retail outlets.

For some time H.V. O'Brien, owner and publisher of the Eastland County Newspapers, had thought about ways to salvage waste papers from the County publishing headquarters in Eastland.

With offset publishing, each time the press is started or stopped there is waste. In the production there are also soiled or damaged papers. And paper, like many product containing wood pulp, is a very expensive commodity.

"I felt guilty every time I saw discarded newsprint in a building out back," he says. "That stuff is too scarce to throw away."

Noting the careful piecemeal work done by the eight workers at the Center, and their desire for continuous employment, O'Brien decided to combine their skills with this waste paper.

First O'Brien did some work of his own with a log-rolling machine, trying to determine the quality of the logs produced. Finding that the product had a practice use, he called Idella Taylor in early February and suggested that the Center undertake the venture.

With the approval of Paulette Fry, MR Workshop Director for the Brownwood area, the local Center began rolling logs in late February. Since then they have produced hundreds of logs, and refined certain of the techniques.

The current procedures, with clients working at various tables, involve several major steps. The work begins with the delivery of neatly foled waste papers from The Eastland Telegram. These are weighed, with 2½ lbs.

(dry) allowed for each log.

Water, "the hotter the better", is mixed with detergent, and slowly poured across the newsprint as it is rolled. About ½ gal. of this mixture goes into each roll.

After this the rolls are tied and put out to dry, either in the sun or under a big fan. (More than sun lately!)

When almost dry the logs are wrapped in white paper - and carefully taped on each end.

The paper logs are stacked in neat piles. These stacks are carried to the Telegram and labeled, then distributed to outlets for sale.

It is hoped that this new business will help Center workers earn more money, and save fireplace owners some wood chopping. It could even spare some local oak trees.

Furthermore H.V. O'Brien can rest easier about waste at his own business. It's a lot more pleasant to think of a crackling fireplace on a cold winter day!

Spring Brings Tractor Accidents

COLLEGE STATION--Spring brings a sharp increase in agricultural activities, and that means more tractor accidents.

Overtures still cause the most tractor-related deaths, says Dr. Gary Nelson, safety specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Soft ground from spring rains combined with irregular terrain can trigger a tractor overturn," says Nelson.

Also, sudden bumps due to ruts and washouts can cause extra riders to fall off and often be run over the tractor or a trailing implement. Of course, extra riders should not be allowed on tractors in the first place, he cautions.

The specialist points out that vegetation can hide a washout or deep rut. And side slopes of hills require extra driving care even under the best of conditions. A sudden drop of just a few inches of the downhill wheel into a hole or rut can flip a tractor before the operator can react to the situation.

"A good defense against sudden tipping is to avoid irregular ground, ruts and holes while operating at reduced speeds," advises Nelson. "Speed can turn a small bump into a real trouble spot. Quick turns even at medium speeds on rough ground also can lead to overturns."

"Slowing down helps you see trouble spots while reducing the motion that can send you into an overturn," he says. "Also, if your tractor has a roll-over protective structure, wear your seat belt to keep you inside the protective device."

Nelson gives these additional reminders for safe tractor operation:

1. Be prepared for a safe day at the wheel. Get enough rest. Take occasional breaks to reduce fatigue. Limit or avoid tractor operation when you are ill or taking medication. Dress appropriately for the weather and work conditions, including safety shoes or boots and a bump cap. If your tractor doesn't have a protective cab, you may need a dust respirator at times and acoustic ear muffs or plugs.
2. Give the tractor a safety "once over" before starting work. Check belts, lights, wipers, steering, tires and hydraulics. See that it's properly serviced.
3. Make sure that all youth and employed tractor operators are trained and competent. Only those with a driver's license should take farm equipment on the highway.
4. Do not allow riders. Keep children and non-workers safely away. See that everyone is clear before moving.
5. Always hitch drawbar loads to the drawbar, not the axle or an elevated three-point hitch.
6. Match ground speed to operating conditions. Cut your speed on turns, when near ditches and obstacles, on rough, hilly or muddy ground, and when visibility is poor.
7. Always disengage the PTO and turn off the engine before unclogging or working on a power-driven machine. Keep all guards in place.
8. Turn off the engine before refueling. Set the brakes when parking and remove the key to keep children or thieves from starting the tractor. Never jump-start a tractor without making certain it's not of gear and the brakes are locked.
9. Make certain the tractor is securely blocked so it cannot fall when wheels are moved. Get plenty of help or use mechanical aids when handling big drive wheels as they can pin or even crush someone.

Two Gas Wells Completed By Trinity Exploration

Two excellent gas wells have been completed in Eastland County's T.E.C. Field eight miles northwest of Rising Star by Trinity Exploration of Fort Worth.

The wells are designated as the No. 2 B.L. White and the No. 3 James A. Cox. On half-inch chokes, they showed potential to produce

1,422,000 and 1,273,000 CF gas per day, respectively.

The White well is in a 110-acre lease in the Holcomb and Davis Subdivision of the Mary Ann Clark Survey. It bottomed at 3,168 feet and will produce from Caddo perforations 2,624 to 2,638 feet into the wellbore.

On absolute open flow, it was rate at 8,800,000 CFD.

Trinity's No. 3 Cox bottomed at 3,267 feet and will produce from perforations in the Caddo Formation, 2,674 to 2,684 feet into the hole. It is in a 190 acre lease, Mary Ann Clark Survey.

The well was rated at 7,500,000 CFD on absolute open flow.

A total of five 2,000-ft. developmental wells are scheduled for spudding in Eastland County's Flatwood East Field, with A.W.S. Petroleum of Eastland as the operator.

All located about five miles southeast of the Eastland city limits, the wells are designated as the No. 1 Paul Norris, No. 1-A Nolen, No. 1 Lasater, No. 1-A Garland Andrews and No. 3 Haynes.

A.W.S. has a total of 571 acres under lease. Locations are in Eastland County's Charles Messer, S.J. Robinson, McLennan School Land and H&TCRR Surveys.

Pumping 56 barrels of oil and 110,000 CF gas per day on open choke, the No. 3 Monroe Walker has been brought on line in Eastland County's R.E.B. field five miles northwest of Eastland. Snow Oil of Abilene is the operator.

Snow bottomed the well at 4,075 feet and plugged back to 3,482. It will produce from a set of Marble Falls perforations 3,492 to 3,516 feet into the hole.

Location is in a 160-acre drilling unit in the H&TCRR Survey.

Operating out of Louisville, Ky., Mike Becker has completed two pumping oilers in Eastland County, one mile northeast of Gorman. Both of the wildcat ventures showed potential to pump 10 barrels of oil daily on open choke.

The new producers are designated as the No. 1-A and No. 2-A Wesley Warren. They are situated in a 142-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey, Eastland County.

The No. 1-A bottomed at 562 feet, while the 2-A went to total depth of 575 feet. Production intervals will range from 510 to 544 feet into the hole.

Two 4,200-ft. Eastland

County wildcats are scheduled for spudding five miles northwest of Eastland, with Richey Inc. of Fort Worth as the operator.

The explorer wells are designated as the No. 1 J.B. Greer and No. 1 M. Walker. Both are in a 40-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey.

Three new producers with combined potential for 75 barrels of oil daily have been finaled in the Eastland Regular Field by Palo Petroleum Inc. of Dallas, about seven miles southwest of the Romney community.

The wells are designated as the No. 1, 3 and 4 Johnson "C".

They are in a 71-acre lease in Eastland County's Mary Ann Clark Survey.

The wells bottomed at 1,190, 1,213 and 1,213 feet respectively. Production intervals range from 1,132 to 1,143 feet into the hole.

Ridge Oil of Breckenridge has staked location for two developmental wells in Eastland County.

Ridge's No. 1 Higginbotham is located five miles northeast of Cisco in a 471-acre lease H&TCRR Survey. It is scheduled for 4,000-ft. total depth and is aimed at Marble Falls Formation oil pay.

The No. 1 Longmire is located five miles northwest of Ranger in a 200-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey. It is scheduled for 3,750-ft. TD and is aimed at oil production in the Black Lime West Formation.

Ensorce Inc. of Midland has staked drillsite for a shallow oil wildcat five miles west of Rising Star. The well is designated as the No. 1-A Gibbons. It is in a 90-acre lease in the J.A. Syfrett Survey. Projected total drilling depth is 600 feet.

Dallas Energy Development Inc. has staked drillsites for three 1,300-ft. developmental wells in Eastland County's Midkiff Field, 10 miles south of Cisco. The wells will be known as the Nos. 4, 5 and 6 A.H. Stover. They are in a 112-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey.

Texas Oil Tax Revenue Compared To Other States

Proponents of increase in the Texas severance taxes for oil and gas production have frequently claimed that other producing states, notably Louisiana and Oklahoma, tax the petroleum producing industry more extensively than Texas does. Analysis shows that this is not true.

The attached table, based on conservative estimates, underscores the contention that the Louisiana tax burden on oil and gas producers and royalty owners is significantly less than that of Texas. In fact, if Louisiana's tax structure had been applied to Texas oil and gas production in 1982, the Texas industry would have paid $511 million less than it did under Texas taxes!

Similar analysis comparing Texas with Oklahoma indicates that Texans would have paid $840 million less in 1982 under Oklahoma's tax structure. General information available further indicates that Texas producers and royalty owners would also have fared better in the other producing states in the Southwest.

ESTIMATED REVENUE COMPARISON OF TEXAS AND LOUISIANA TAXATION STRUCTURES ON TEXAS OIL AND GAS PRODUCTION 1982

...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

Jim Mattox Speaker At Law Banquet

Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox will be the featured speaker for the 12th Annual Eastland County Law Enforcement Banquet to be held Thursday, April 28 at the Siebert Elementary School.

Tickets at $7. each are available from all lawmen in the county for the 7 p.m. event.

If anyone can claim the title "The People's Lawyer," Jim Mattox can. His brand of populist, people-oriented politics is an extension of his upbringing in a working class neighborhood of East Dallas. Born on August 29, 1943, the first of three children of Norman and Mary Katherine Mattox, Jim went on to graduate from Woodrow Wilson High School.

In 1961, Jim Mattox enrolled at Baylor University in Waco to pursue a career in the ministry. Later, he changed his major to economics and in 1965 graduated magna cum laude, finishing first in his class in the Baylor School of Business (for which he received The Wall Street Journal Award for Academic Excellence). After Baylor, Mattox enrolled in the Southern Methodist University School of Law and in 1968 graduated in the top 10% of his class. He received the third highest grade on the statewide bar exam that year, and was ready to begin his legal career.

From 1968 to 1970, Mattox earned a reputation as a tough criminal prosecutor as Dallas County Assistant District Attorney under the tutelage of the legendary Henry Wade. He compiled an impressive record, winning convictions in about 95% of the cases he handled. One repeat criminal offender he prosecuted received a 500-year sentence.

In 1970, he entered private law practice as a founding partner of the law firm, Crowder and Mattox. He is a lifelong member of the East Grand Baptist Church in Dallas, and frequently fills the pulpit as a visiting minister in other churches. His family includes his father, Norman; his sister, Janice (a lawyer); and his brother, Jerry (a stockbroker).

Beginning in 1973, Mattox served two terms in the Texas State Legislature, where he gained recognition for his outspoken leadership and for being the champion of legislative reform. He played a key role in sponsoring the "Big Five" package of open government legislation: open meetings, open records, full financial disclosure, campaign finance reform and lobby registration. In 1975, Texas Monthly Magazine named Mattox one of the "Ten Best Legislators" and referred to him as "an indefatigable fighter... (and a) dedicated political organizer."

Mattox began his first term as a U.S. Representative in a leadership role.

Shortly after being elected to represent the 5th Congressional District of Texas in 1976, Mattox was elected the first chairman of the New Members Caucus of the 95th Congress.

Mattox also began his Congressional career by becoming the only freshman elected to the powerful House Budget Committee. Mattox later chaired the Budget Committee's Task Force on National Security and Veterans Affairs. He also served on the House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs.

Mattox was elected 47th Attorney General of the State of Texas in the general election of November 2, 1982. Taking the oath of office from former Attorney General John Hill, Mattox began his term on January 3, 1983.

The Attorney General has the mandate to defend the laws and the Constitution of Texas when they are challenged and to represent the State in enforcing civil law.

As the lawyer for the State, the Attorney General acts as legal counsel to the Governor, the Legislature, and to State government and its nearly 300 boards and agencies. The Attorney General also has a direct duty to represent the citizens of Texas in matters vital to the economic, political, and social future of this State.

One of the most important functions of the Attorney General is to issue legal opinions as they are requested by the Governor, heads of all State Departments, and certain other officials. These interpretations of Texas statutes and its Constitution are of great importance because the Attorney General's opinions have come to be looked upon as quasi-judicial, bearing the weight of law, unless and until changed by the courts. The Attorney General also makes decisions through the Opinions Committee on questions arising under the Open Records Act.

Jim Mattox is well known as a public servant who honors the Judeo-Christian principles of honesty and integrity. He has been conservative when it comes to spending the taxpayers' money, and he has provided progressive humanitarian leadership for our growing state. Above all, he has been an independent who is not afraid to stand up and fight for what's right.

Fire Destroys

Travel Trailer

A 12-foot travel trailer used by the City of Cisco as a summer office for Lake Patrolman C.H. (Cats) Ingram on the south shore at the lake was destroyed by fire around 1:30 a.m. Tuesday. The trailer was valued at about $800.

The city had owned the trailer for several years and it had been at the lake since April 1, having been moved there from its storage place at the city barn. Fire Marshal Bill Webb inspected the ruins and said the blaze probably started from an electrical short.

Fireman Webb said he received a call around 1:30 a.m. Tuesday at the fire station that the trailer was on fire. It was a total loss, he added.

Homemakers

Club Meets

Mrs. Etta Judia, president, presided Wednesday, April 20th, when the Extension Homemakers Club met for their regular monthly meetings at the Federated Club House. After the opening exercises, roll call was answered with response, "What Electric Appliance Can I Fix," by Maude Bailey, Edna Bint, Ruth Brown, Ardythe Caldwell, Etta Judia and Alberta Sims.

Following committee reports and a brief business session, Mrs. Edna Bint, program chairman presented a program on changes in fashions in driers and hair styles. Each member had been asked to bring pictures of yesteryear fashions which proved to be interesting, delightful and sometimes humorous.

A few pictures were after the Civil War era, then the mid 1800's and each decade which follows to the present new decade we are in at the present time. Interesting to observe are "new fashions" which are just repeating themselves after a few decades.

Extension Homemakers Club meets each third Wednesday at 2 p.m. Visitors and new members are always welcome.

CHS Varsity Track Team Wins District 9-AA Meet

Scoring first place honors in eight of 15 events, the Cisco High School varsity track team won the annual District 9-AA Interscholastic League Track and Field meet at the new Lobo Track here Thursday. Cisco had a total of 143 points to 119 for Eastland.

The Cisco Junior Varsity placed 2nd, the 8th grade Lobo team won first, and the Cisco 7th grade team came in third.

Larry Adams, senior member of Coach Tom Slagle's Lobo varsity, ran an impressive 1:55.1 in the 800 meter race to post the best time of any school boy half-miler in this region. He came in five seconds ahead of Shem Culpepper of Eastland, who posted a 2:00.25 time.

Jason Potter, Lobo sprint star, won both the 100 and 200 meter sprints, and he anchored the Lobo sprint relay team to a victory.

Other first place winners included Randall Rattan, discus; Brian Fleming, pole vault; Kenneth Preston, shot putt; and Lobo teams in the 400 meter and 1600 meter relays.

Two Lobo stars were disappointed when they failed to perform as they had done previously this year. Tommy Elrod missed qualifying in the 3200 and 1600 meter races, and Butch Jessup's best high jump was 5-10 when he cleared 6-4 the previous week.

Winners of first and second places will take part in the regional meet May 6-7 at Tarleton State University facility in Stephenville. Winners of first and second at Stephenville will go to the state meet in Austin May 13-14.

Pasture Management Important

Eastland County livestock producers should realize the importance of good pasture management, as it can prevent numerous problems as well as increase profits. This means more pounds of beef per acre at a lesser cost.

Here is an important message from the USDA Soil Conservation Service to benefits interested livestock producers.

The preparation of an adequate plan is the first step in pasture management. The operator will find it impossible to manage his pastures unless he has sufficient acreage of separate pasture and forage crops for seasonal use by his livestock.

Field fences, cross fences, access lanes, and the water supply should be considered in the plan.

The plan should include separate pastures for the seasonal grazing to furnish a maximum of grazing for as nearly year-long use as possible. It should include, too, the necessary crops for a reserve supply of hay and silage. The crops selected should be the best that could be grown on the land for available use. Each pasture should be fenced separately to permit controlled grazing.

The relative acreage in each of the seasonal pastures is governed by the productive capacity of the soil, the extent to which fertilizer will be used and the needs of the operator. The dairy farmer generally uses more intensive production practices and needs more supplementary grazing crops and silage than the beef cattle producer. The beef cattle producer may find hay more economical than supplementary winter grazing crops.

When an adequate acreage of seasonal pastures has been established, there is always a surplus of forage during the spring and early summer. This surplus should be used for hay or silage for winter. Additional hay and silage crops should be included in the plan should be included in livestock operations. Developing a good annual plan would prevent many problems that during critical periods. Assistance is available from the USDA Soil Conservation Service, so please feel free to call 629-1480 or come by the Petroleum Building, Room 311 to visit with your conservationist.

We have had many calls this spring concerning peach trees with puckered and distorted leaves. This is caused by a fungal disease known as peach leaf curl. Leaves become distorted and may be bright red or light green. These leaves will later fall. This condition only occurs in the spring and may affect your peach or plum crop, but does not usually kill the tree.

The only time to effectively control peach leaf curl is in the fall with a copper-containing fungicide such as Kocide 101. Do not spray trees now with this copper spray, because it will cause the leaves to fall. Be sure to spray fruit trees this fall when 70 percent of the leaves have fallen.

Hay supplies were generally depleted this past winter due to extensive cattle feeding, so planning your hay needs will be particularly important this year.

Although weather plays a major role in forage production, the person cutting and baling the hay has the greatest impact on its quality. Thus management of a hay meadow is the primary reason for high or low quality. Thus management of a hay meadow is the primary reason for high or low quality hay.

Fertility and cutting management are important factors producers can combine to produce the best hay possible. With proper management, fertilizer can boost production of a high quality hay, but it cannot do the job by itself.

Past studies at Texas A&M on fertilizer effects on Coastal bermuda hay production showed 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre yielded 4.38 tons of hay with 9.1 percent crude protein. Nitrogen applied at 600 pounds per acre yielded 10.65 tons of hay with a crude protein of 12.4 percent.

In a demonstration in Eastland County last year 80 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre yielded 3,450 pounds of hay that tested about 8% protein. Another acre in the same field had 240 pounds of actual nitrogen applied. It yielded 7,620 pounds of hay that contained 11% protein.

Fertilizing is important in high quality hay production and is increasing production, but it must be coupled with good cutting management for top quality hay.

Stage of growth at cutting is an important aspect of quality hay production. Young grass is high in protein and high in digestibility crops.

A study in Georgia showed a clipping frequency of three weeks yielded on the average 9.7 tons of hay per acre, 19 percent crude protein and 27.7 percent crude fiber. In comparison, a clipping frequency of every 12 weeks yielded 11.6 tons of hay per acre, 9.7 percent crude protein and 35 percent crude fiber.

A high rate of fertility in the study boosted production and crude protein levels higher than normally expected, but results do show the decrease in protein and increase in fiber accompanying aging in grasses.

Early cutting does sacrifice some production, but you get higher quality hay that can better meet the nutritional needs of livestock.

Boating Safety Is Important

Weekend boat ramp scenes at Texas reservoirs and coastal waters often resemble a Keystone Cops rerun. But it's not funny to the careless boat owner to see his boat swamped or his cherished truck rolling backward into the brine.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department technician Karen Meador said good safe boating practices should start before the boat hits the water.

"Department fisheries personnel see plenty of potential hazards at boat ramps while conducting surveys," Meador said, "and some of them can be dangerous as well as embarrassing."

Meador pointed out that an unwritten rule is that whomever gets his boat into position for launching has the right-of-way. "Always make sure the way is clear and that animals, children and other vehicles are not in the launch path," she said.

Auction's Best

by Fred Tucker

A BETTER CHANCE TO MAKE A BETTER BUY

Many of your friends and neighbors attend auctions regularly because they enjoy having a chance to offer their bids for items they want and need. Here's some tips to help you have a better chance to make a better buy.

Come to our auctions early on sale day so you can take your time and inspect all the items thoroughly. Your knowledge of the condition of the offering will give you an advantage when the bidding begins.

Find out the "sale order" so you can be ready to bid for the items you want. And think about the amount you will bid for an item before it comes up for sale.

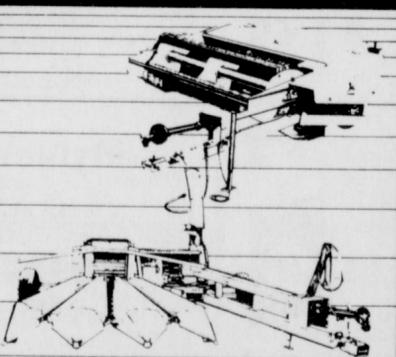

Bid what you think is right for you. Make a good buy . . . or let someone else have the item. But don't fail to attend because someone else will get it if it's a bargain. And remember, when it comes to buying or selling AUCTION'S BEST

Cheyenne Co. Acquires Eastland Firm

Wyo.—Cheyenne Resources, Inc. (OTC-CHYN) announced today it has obtained an option to acquire Brown Operating Co. of Eastland, Texas for cash and stock.

The final purchase price of Brown was not announced, but will be based on an audit of the company. If Brown is purchased, it would add approximately ten percent to Cheyenne's net assets of $4.7 million.

Brown, a well operator, operates approximately 75 wells in the Eastland, Texas area. It expects to operate more than 200 wells by the end of the year. Presently, Brown receives about $350 each month for each well that is operated. If Brown's revenues continue at this pace, Cheyenne's 9 month revenues could increase 24 percent ($280,00) over 1982.

Lions Clubs Looking For Disabled Kids

Throughout Eastland County there should be a good number of young people who are eligible to attend the Texas Lions Club Camp at Kerrville.

The crippled, the blind and those with diabetics are eligible.

There are four Lions Clubs in Eastland County (Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Carbon) and each contributes to the Texas Camp.

Persons have youngsters who might qualify for the camps or persons who know of youngsters who might qualify, are urged to contact their local Lions immediately to see about making arrangements for attending this worthwhile training program.

The Eastland Club will sponsor Troy Jones to the camp this summer, and would welcome the opportunity to send others.

Brown Operating is located at I-20 and Spur 490.

The president of Brown Operations, Wayne Brown, will continue to manage the company for Cheyenne. In addition to its present operations, Brown will operate Cheyenne's Eastland Properties.

Cheyenne President Robert Spatz said, "the acquisition of Brown will enhance Cheyenne's cash flow, financial position, and diversification into the oil and gas business.

"Wayne Brown is well known in the oil and gas industry. He'll increase Cheyenne's ability to acquire choice leases," Spatz said. Wayne's specialty is bringing neglected wells back to full production and acquiring neglected properties.

Twenty people are employed by Brown, which also performs maintenance, roustabout, workover and pipeline installation.

Cheyenne Resources is in the business of acquiring interests in oil, gas and other mineral properties for exploration, development and resale. The company is based in Cheyenne, Wyoming. It was formed in 1970. It is quoted on the NASD system under the symbol CHYN.

Loneliness. It is everywhere. At one time or another, it hits everyone. No matter how you may be isolated, you need never be separated from God's love in Christ Jesus. Dr. Oswald Hoffman, Lutheran Hour speaker, explains this in his message "One in A Million" aired on radio station KERC in Eastland Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

The Parish Hall Committee will meet in the Parish Hall Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The Cisco Nursing Center worship service will be Wednesday at 10:00 a.m. Catechism is at 4:00 p.m. in the Parish Hall. The Choir will have practice in the Church at 7:30 p.m.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

For the past two weeks we have been discussing the very nutritious food - the peanut.

Today, more than 1 1/2 million acres in the country are planted with peanuts. Small in size, but not in stature, the peanut is one of the six basic crops in this country, with a farm value of nearly one billion dollars.

The average family eats nine pounds a year, according to the national peanut council. The peanut is consumed as peanut butter, party snacks, and a countless number of chocolate covered confections.

It may surprise some that peanut butter was invented by a St. Louis physician in the 1890s as a highly nutritious concoction. Intended as a health food for invalids.

The peanut has been known for generations and we take it for granted. But stop and crack open a peanut and you will find ink, lipstick, cooking oil, margarine, paint, soap, explosives, paper, flour, milk, shaving cream, shampoo, ice cream and cheese.

Yes, the peanut is a little "fellow" but it is a main item in our food and industry.

The program for the past week included: Walt Knowlden presented a safety program entitled "Fire You Can Prevent." Mae Green of the Cisco Nursing Center presented a musical. The dinner music was presented by Al Sims, Dixie Montgomery, and A.E. McNeely.

The menus for the week are:

Monday--swiss steak, hominy, cheese sauce, pineapple and carrot jello, cobbler, bread, butter and drink.

Wednesday--oven fried chicken, glazed carrots, potatoes, fruited jello, bread, butter and drink.

Friday--beef stew, mixed vegetables, raw vegetable salad, birthday cake, cornbread, butier and drink.

IT WAS OUR HAPPY privilege to serve as one of the judges for the CJC Ranch Day Chili Cooking Contest last Wednesday, and it was quite an event. There were 16 entries and each of the judges, including Dorothy Spencer and Carl Bray, was served 16 cups of chili.

Col. Dick Spencer, the contest chairman, gave each judge a big glass of ice water, a handful of crackers and some fresh orange slices. Thus equipped, you could neutralize your taste buds and begin afresh occasionally. Prof. George Brazell strolled in and told the judges that he had been out where the cooking was going on and that they were all winners. Each paper cup was numbered and the judges were asked to grade the chili for texture, color, aroma, taste and spiciness.

There were two divisions - one for CJC students and another for adults who did not have to be students. And the winners were Ruth Keyes, Division One (adults), and Mike Keating and Tracy Owens, Division Two.

RANCH DAY WAS a big success as you'll read elsewhere in The Press. Barbecue with all the trimmings was served at noon on the grounds near the cafeteria. Faculty members were in charge of each contest and event. The CJC Stage Band provided music during the dinner hour and same was real good. The Ranch Day program was the opening event of Cisco's annual Frontier Jubilee celebration. Abilene TV Channel 32 had a camera crew at the Ranch Day program.

THE FOLK LIFE Festival, which was on the schedule for Saturday and Sunday to conclude the Jubilee, got some good advertising on Mid-Day with Kay, the 12:15 p.m. daily program on Abilene TV Channel 9 last Tuesday. The entire 15-minute program was devoted to the festival.

Ruth Heidenheimer and Joann Cermin came on first with Kay to tell about the festival and they introduced others, including Vallie Parker in costume to demonstrate pottery making. And then Pat Isbell, also in costume, demonstrated the use of an old fashioned spinning wheel and a fruit press. Barbara Pope appeared, also in costume, to introduce the art of hammock making. It was brought out that the festival is dedicated to teaching pioneer skills to young people, as you will see when you visit the CJC Ag Building this Saturday and Sunday.

An entertainment feature was the Kindertarzen dancers, a group of 10 youngsters in attractive costume. The dancers were Kyle Crockett, Ken Roark, Russell Abbott, Brian Callarman, Justin Heyser, Amanda McGinness, Kelly births.....

Jonathon Wayne Schaefer, born in Ranger Hospital at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday, April 19, 1983, created quite a bit of interest in Eastland County and elsewhere. For not all babies have as many living grandparents, much less a living great-great-grandmother.

Jonathon Wayne weighed 7 lbs. 14 1/2 oz. at birth, and was 20 inches long. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Schaefer of Eastland. He has a sister, Rachael Leann.

Maternal grandparents are Pete and Doris McCoy of Eastland. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schaefer of Cisco and Marilyn Whitely of Cross Plains.

Maternal great-grandparents are Joe and Pearl Howell of Eastland. Paternal great-grandparent is Oscar Schaefer of Cisco. The baby's paternal great-great-grandmother is Ida Gray of Staton, Texas.

Assoc. Meet Is Set

For May 2nd

The annual meeting of the Romney Cemetery Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday night, May 2, 1983 at the Christadelphian Church at Romney.

Seven children preceded her in death.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. May Poe of Cisco and Mrs. George Nowlain of San Angelo; six sons, Donald of Cisco, Tommy and Denneth, both of Danbury, Robert of Angleton, Gerald of Brazoria and Billy of Eastland; two sisters, Cadola Lohse of Temple and Lois Scroggins of San Angelo; 29 grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Tollett, Deitra Hearne, Media Campbell and Misty McCullough. You'll see them at the festival this weekend.

The Ciscoans had Kay, the MC, pulling taffy candy throughout the 15-minute program.

COACH BOB KEYES of the CJC Wranglers tells us that they've signed 40 boys to agreements to play football here next year. Coach Keyes and his staff are still sending their Wranglers through daily spring training workouts.

Bobby Broyles, son of Mrs. Rosa Lee Broyles of our town, is the music and education director at Southwest Park Baptist Church in Abilene, and he'll bring his choir to Cisco to sing at the First Baptist Church Sunday night at 7 o'clock. Bobby, who grew up here and got his start as a Press paper boy, has a 40-voice choir.

UNDERSTAND THE motorcycle precision riders from Moslah Temple, Fort Worth Shrine, will be in Cisco to ride in Saturday's Jubilee Parade. Mr. Ralph Glenn, CJC business manager, and his missus went to Corpus Christi last Sunday to attend a three-day meeting of college officials.

Mr. V.B. Ferguson, retired mail man, enjoyed a good mess of fish after an outing to Lake Leon the other afternoon. There's a new baby at the Dick Spencer home out on 16th Street. A colt was born last Monday night female and not named yet. The pretty bouquet of flowers delivered to Mrs. Morgan Fleming at Dean Drug last Wednesday were from her son Brian.

CITY JUDGE Jasper Cook tells us that there's a new interpretation of the rules if you take and pass the Defensive Driver's Course. You get a 10 per cent discount on every car you own and of which you're the principal driver.

If you're a two car family and both you and your wife drive both cars, it would be a good idea for both of you to take the course, Judge Cook says. It's possible that you can earn the discount for both cars but it would be beneficial for both drivers to take the course.

The AARP Chapter here and Cisco Junior College hold Defensive Driving Courses from time to time. Watch for announcements.

The organizational and informational meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Tower Room of Texas American Bank/Breckenridge downtown. On hand for the meeting will be a representative of the North Texas State Soccer Association, the governing body of soccer in the northern half of Texas.

Robinett said the meeting is open to all persons interested in helping to form an area association, including parents of children interested in playing and persons interested in helping as coaches and officials in other capacities. Instructional clinics will be available for persons wishing to serve as coaches or officials but who have little or no experience.

For more information on the meeting, or on the local soccer association, interested persons can contact Robinett at (817) 559-5412 (559-8644 evenings). Eastland County residents can contact him toll-free from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. weekdays at 629-3171.
