

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

THE RECENT trip to Washington D.C. and Virginia by the CJC Band and Belles went real well, according to Mayor Eris Ritchie. Mayor Ritchie said the trip went off without a hitch. He also said they received a few unexpected treats when they got to see the presidential motorcade pass by while they were sight-seeing. He said they also saw another motorcade arrive at the White House while they were there.

ten some rain, but we are just as glad to do without the hail."

SPEAKING OF rain, City Manager Mike Moore said Monday that Lake Cisco has not received any appreciable water content since 1981. He said unless we get some substantial rains before summer, Ciscons are going to have to be careful about wasting water, not just thinking about this year but for the future.

GRADUATION ceremonies are planned for Friday night at Cisco Junior College, according to the signboard at the foot of college hill. High School students are not scheduled to graduate until later in the month. Plans are underway for the annual graduation edition of The Cisco Press later this month.

If you would like to run an advertisement congratulating this year's seniors, please call the Press office at 442-2244.

BEAUTIFUL weather has been observed in Cisco this week, with clear skies and warm temperatures. Monday morning there were some threatening clouds south of Cisco, but we only received a slight trace of moisture.

Luckily, the heavy part of the cloud missed Cisco, but dumped golf-ball size hail in DeLeon.

I heard several people say, "we would like to have got-

Youth Free In Slugging Case

The 16-year youth who was arrested last Wednesday on charges of aggravated assault after he slugged a Cisco woman was released last Friday to the custody of his parents, Eastland County authorities reported Monday.

Mrs. W.D. (Alice) Peevy, 1200 Avenue A, identified the youth and told authorities that he knocked on her door and asked to use a telephone to call a doctor. Knowing the boy, who lived nearby, she admitted him. Once inside the house, he grabbed a hammer and demanded Mrs. Peevy's money, car keys and car title. When she hesitated, he slugged her, knocking her down and then hit her again. Some 12 stitches were required to close the wounds.

The youth fled and was arrested a few hours later by Sheriff Johnny Morren. The youth was released to the custody of his parents after he appeared with an attorney before Judge Jim Wright in 91st District Court Friday morning.

Mrs. Peevy was not hospitalized and her condition was reported as satisfactory.

Country And Western Musical Set In Scranton

There will be a Country and Western musical Saturday, May 7, at 7:00 p.m. at Scranton Community Center.

All area musicians have a special invitation.

There will be a concession stand.

Faith Baptist Church Will Hold A Revival

Revival services will begin May 8th, at Faith Baptist Church and continue through May 11th.

Dr. Carl Baugh of Springfield, Missouri, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Baugh is a noted lecturer on Bible archaeology and has conducted many digs unearthing many dinosaur and human tracks proving that these two existed at the same time, contrary to the evolutionist. A documentary on these finds had been aired

Dedication Held For Wright Park

The Wm. B. Wright Memorial Park, located just east of City Hall, was formally dedicated in ceremonies last Sunday that were held under the auspices of the Cisco Civic League.

The park includes a paved patio with a picnic table and benches, flowers and shrubs, a flag pole and a marker. The Civic League supervised the project with funds donated by Robert L. Parker, prominent oil well drilling contractor, of Tulsa.

Mr. Parker, brother-in-law of the late Cisco attorney, was the speaker for the Sunday gathering of the Wright family and friends.

118 Will Graduate In Service Friday Night At Local College

Some 118 sophomores will be awarded associate of arts degrees in the annual commencement exercises of Cisco Junior College at Harrell Fine Arts Building auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday, May 6. The public has been invited to attend the event.

The spring semester for CJC will end with final examinations during the coming week.

The commencement program was announced as follows: processional, Steven Zell; invocation, Rev. Armo Bentley, pastor East Cisco Baptist Church; song, "Hear the Voice in Prayer, CJC Singers; introduction of special guests, Dr. Norman

E. Wallace, CJC president. Presentation of awards, Dr. Wallace; address, Shane McCoy, president of the student body; certification of the class, Carroll Scott, vice-president of the college; conferring of degrees, Dr. Wallace; presentation of degrees, Dick Woolley, president CJC board of regents; song, "The Heavens are Telling," by CJC Singers; Benediction by Rev. Bentley, singing of the CJC alma mater by the audience, and the recessional by Mr. Zell.

A reception will be held at the Maner Memorial Library following the program.

Named as highest honor students were Carol A. Ables, Mona L. Paxton, Lanny Kirk Knight and Karen A. Presley. Others graduating with honors included Russell Landry, Robert C. Dow, Judy Castille, Kimberly Malcolm, Tracy Owens, Billy A. Parrish and Jamie L. Pate.

Class officers are Fred Skinner, president; Frank Martinez, vice president; Lisa McBee, secretary and Judy Castille, treasurer. Student government officers include Mr. McCoy, president; Tracy Owens, vice president; Olivia Elizalde, secretary and Vicki Mangham, treasurer.

Summer school registration will be held May 24 and 25 at Clyde and Abilene and May 30 on the Cisco campus with classes beginning May 31st.

Annual Tourney Is Set At Golf Club

Between 30 and 40 teams are expected to compete Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the annual J.L. Stafford Par-Total-Scram Golf Tournament at the Cisco Country Club. The event is billed as "the fun tournament of the year."

Plans call for the tourney to be limited to the first 40 teams paying the $40 entry fee. Prizes will be cash from the club and trophies put by the Pro Shop, operated by Letha Stafford.

The format calls for the qualifying scores posted for 18 holes on opening day (May 6th) to go with the total scores of both team members on Saturday May 7, and the net score of the scramble rounds on Sunday, May 8, to make up each team's total tournament score.

The tourney, named for the late J.L. Stafford, one of the area's long-time top golfers, was won the past two years by Bennie Nichols and Mike Thiberville. Mr. Nichols, current city champion, plans to enter but Mr. Thiberville, now of Mineral Wells, will be unable to participate.

James Cotton and George Owens, co-chairmen of the tourney, reported that several teams have already entered.

The championship and first flights will tee off at 8:45 a.m. Saturday and at 1:45 p.m. Sunday. The second and third flights will tee off at 1:45 p.m. Saturday and 8:45 a.m. Sunday.

Area golfers were invited to participate.

Ladies Tourney Planned Here

The annual Ladies Invitation Golf Tournament will be held Thursday, May 5, at the Cisco Country Club and some 40 area women golfers are expected to compete in the event.

Plans call for medal play to begin at 9 a.m. and to end around 1 p.m. with an awards luncheon in the club house. Prizes will be awarded to winners of the tournament flights at the luncheon. Mrs. Flo Robinson is chairman of the event.

A number of Cisco golfers, including Pat Owens, Letha Stafford, Dorothy Farnsworth, Ruth Pugliese, Catherine Abbott, and Mrs. Robinson, are expected to compete with others from throughout the area in the annual event.

'Christmas In May' Project Will Begin This Saturday

The project selected for Christmas In May activities this month is rebuilding the home of Floyd Craft in the 300 block of East 7th Street, Manager Randy Speegle of the Chamber of Commerce reported Tuesday.

Work on rebuilding the house will begin at 8 a.m., Saturday, May 7, and anyone who would be interested in contributing labor was asked to be at the site with work tools. Donations of money and materials will also be welcome, Mr. Speegle said.

The Christmas In May Committee, of which Dr. Norman Wallace is chairman, planned to meet at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday at the CofC offices to make final plans for the project.

Robt. L. Parker Is Speaker For Church Service

The work of a church layman is between Sundays, according to Robert L. (Bob) Parker of Tulsa, in a talk at First United Methodist Church here last Sunday morning.

Mr. Parker, in town to take part in dedication ceremonies at Wm. B. Wright Memorial Park near City Hall, is a prominent Tulsa layman who appears frequently in pulpits of the Oklahoma Conference of the United Methodist Church and throughout the country. He heads one of the nation's largest oil well drilling companies with world-wide operations.

Church ministers are in the minority and they probably work hardest on Sundays, Mr. Parker said. "Laymen are also ministers for Jesus Christ — men who work between Sundays," he said.

"Too many people are willing to use God but aren't willing for Him to use them," Mr. Parker said. He added that the Bible has all of the answers needed by anyone at anytime and that the answers can be found by looking for them.

Mr. Parker told the congregation that he was married to the former Cissy McDaniel, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.C.

McDaniel, in the Cisco church 39 years ago.

Visitors at the service included Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Haney of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yates of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Meyers of Dallas, all here for the Wright Park dedication.

Loboes Ready For Regional Events

Eight athletes will participate in eight events at the Cisco High School track team participates Friday and Saturday in the Texas Interscholastic League regional track and field meet at Stephenville, Coach Tom Slagle reported Tuesday.

Loboes scheduled to participate were listed as follows:

Sprint relay — Joe Perry, Larry Adams, Randall Rattan and Jason Potter.

100 meter sprint — Joe Perry.

800 meter run — Larry Adams.

200 meter sprint — Jason Potter.

1600 meter relay — Brian Fleming, Randall Rattan, Jason Potter, Joe Perry and Larry Adams (four of those listed).

Pole vault — Brian Fleming.

Shot putt — Kenneth Preston.

Discus throw — Randall Rattan and Kenneth Preston.

The Lobo track team qualified for the regional meet by placing first or second in the recent district meet. Those who place first or second at Stephenville will be eligible for the state meet in Austin on May 13 and 14.

Coach Slagle said the Friday program calls for all preliminary events with the finals to begin at 1 p.m. Saturday. The regional meet will be held at Tarleton State University track.

Evelyn McGuire Is Appointed In Olney Branch

Evelyn McGuire has been appointed Assistant Vice President/Branch Manager of Olney Savings' Cisco branch, according to Alan D. Myers, Jr., President and Chief Executive Officer.

McGuire is responsible for the Cisco branch operations and held the same position with United Savings.

A thirteen-year resident of Cisco, she is married to John M. McGuire. Mrs. McGuire is a member of the Cisco Civic League. Olney Savings is a $500+ million state chartered savings and loan association with branch offices in Olney, Seymour, Jacksboro, Bridgeport, Nocona, Weatherford, Azle, Graham, Archer City, Bowie, Brownwood, Wichita Falls, Vernon, Decatur, Boyd, Throckmorton, Anson, Albany, Cisco, Coleman, and Holliday. Also, Ranger Savings in Ranger, Eastland Savings in Eastland, and Electra Savings in Electra. All are divisions of Olney Savings.

$2,200 Is Top For Heifer Sale Price

The sum of $2,200 was the top price paid for a registered Angus heifer in the 8th annual heifer sale at Heyser Angus Ranch here last Saturday. Some 65 open heifers were offered for sale in an auction at the event.

The average price for the heifers was $750. J.V.

Heyser, Jr., of the ranch said the sale was successful. Some 100 persons from throughout the region attended the event, which was co-sponsored by the Texas Angus Association. A barbecue was served at noon prior to the beginning of the auction.

John Brandon of Stephenville was the auctioneer. He was assisted in the auction ring by Joe Heyser, ranch manager, and E.M. Holt of Navasota, also assisted with sale details.

Dr. Leon Woods of Brownwood, president of the Leon Valley Angus Association, and Casey Heatherly of Rock Springs, president of the Texas Angus Association, were among visitors. Glen Hubbard of Eastland, president-elect of the TAA, also was present.

Mr. Heyser, vice president of the Texas Angus Association, announced that the Leon Valley association would have a sale May 13th.

The Heyser brand has been in use here since 1887.

City Federation Of Womens Clubs Will Meet Monday

The City Federation of Women's Clubs will meet in regular session on Monday, May 9, at 2:00 p.m. in the Federation Club House. This will be final meeting of the 1982-83 Club year and the initial meeting of the 1983-84 Club year.

It is important that a good representation of all six member-clubs attend. All elected Federation Officers and Trustees, appointed Representatives to the Federation and as many as is possible of the other good club members are needed at this meeting.

Surely, the majority of the members are aware of the problems faced by the Federation president last September and are appreciative of the tremendous support and physical efforts of members of all the member-clubs to attain financial status again. There is still need for help, and there will always be necessity for cooperation if we live up to the goals of the Federation's motto.

Some sixty-one years ago our "Founding Mothers" organized and gave their "all" in a magnificent effort to build a Community Center. They had to give a second thought—they aimed, this time, at "Our new Club House", but, finally settled for just a house, the former residence of one of the "Founding Mothers". Their motto became, what it remains today, "Better Homes, Better Schools and Better Communities". Always nourishing the City Federation of Women's Clubs and their modest little Club house, they knew that no one club could accomplish much toward their goals without embracing the theme of their Texas and General Federations of Women's Clubs unity in Diversity and those of other clubs with similar mottoes and goals; so, now the Federation is composed of six member clubs as follows:

Twentieth Century Club, First Industrial Arts Club, Music Study Club, Cisco Garden Club, Lake Cisco Extension Homemakers Club, and the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International.

This last meeting of this year and first meeting of next year will give all members an opportunity to help carry the load of providing a good and comfortable meeting place for all the clubs—also to help make plans for a still better year and to remind the treasurers to pay the club's dues for 1983-1984!

Putnam News

By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

Not much happened in Putnam this week.

Annie Mae and Milton Donaway made a trip to Brownwood Friday to visit with Warren, Cindy and Leslie. They enjoyed a Mexican dinner out.

The Buchanans enjoyed the company of Calvin Joy from Baird over the weekend. Calvin returned home earlier than expected to see the new addition. His cat had two kittens.

Glover Johnson is back home and doing fine after his stay in Scott and White Hospital in Temple.

Linda Rivers was honored with a baby shower Friday night at the Putnam Community Center. Linda's baby is due in early June. She got lots of nice things to welcome the baby.

Virginia Johnson attended graveside services of her great uncle, Emmett Doss, in Blanket Wednesday.

John and Edith Ivie made a trip to Valley Mills Sunday to see Edith's new great-granddaughter. She is the daughter of Jeanie Light. Shannon returned to Putnam with Edith to attend school at Baird.

A community lunch was enjoyed by several Sunday at the Community Center.

Samatha Bomar won a bicycle for selling the most spices for a Baird Band fund raiser.

The most adventurous thing I did this week was clean out Bo and Joe's closet. But not before I made sure my heart was all right and got a tetanus shot.

Anyone having news to report this week please call me at 662-3251.

Christian Women Fellowship Counsel Holds April Meeting

The Christian Women Fellowship Counsel met April 27 at 7:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall with 16 present.

The meeting was called to order by President Olga Fay Parker leading in prayer. She had a most interesting and informative lesson on "Trees for Tomorrow".

The National Christian Men Fellowship organized this movement in 1965 to replenish and preserve trees and vegetation in all parts of God's World. Since that time several million trees have been planted in all parts of the world.

Ruth Powell gave the devotional taking as her scripture Psalms 95-7 using "The Alverna Covenant".

She reminds of God's Creation of The World and its Seasons.

God gave man Stewardship of the earth. He has established perfect order. Let's be wise in use of all God's gifts.

Ruth asked for offering for Fowler Home. The offering was blessed by Jan Steffen.

Abilene Man Is Charged In Theft Here

Charges of felony theft were filed last Friday against Leon Tatum of Abilene in connection with the theft on April 25th of farm equipment from Thompson's Used Cars and Farm Equipment in Cisco. The machinery, including a tractor-mounted post hole digger, was valued at $850 and other items worth more than $400.

The charges were filed in Justice of the Peace Court at Eastland by Cisco Police, Chief Randy Whittle reported. Tatum still had not been arrested Tuesday, the chief added.

Moran News

Real Estate Consumer

David S. Jones

The Real Estate Consumer is brought to you as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to: The Real Estate Consumer, Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2115.

If you own a home and have to move for one reason or another, renting your house is an alternative to putting it up for sale.

Renting may be a good choice in a number of circumstances. For instance, you might accept a temporary job assignment in another city but expect to return after a year or so. Or you might want to move up to a better house but fail to find a buyer for your old home.

You might want to move now but keep the older home for retirement, or you might wish to retain the old home as an investment.

By renting the home instead of selling, you receive income to offset mortgage payments and the costs of upkeep. You also can take advantage of certain tax deductions and enjoy holding your property while it appreciates in value. But renting your home does alter your tax benefits as a homeowner, so consult your tax advisor prior to becoming a landlord.

SERVICE CONTRACTS OFFER PROTECTION

Unexpected home repairs can wreck even the most carefully thought out budget. If you are buying a previously owned home, you may want to investigate residential service contract coverage against breakdowns. Residential service contract companies are licensed by the Texas Real Estate Commission. Essentially what they offer is insurance against breakdown of major built-in appliances or of mechanical or electrical systems.

If you purchase such a contract, an inspector will examine the components you wish to insure and the company will quote a price of one year's coverage. Any malfunctions must be corrected before coverage begins. During the service period, the company will pay for any repairs according to the terms of the contract. Most contracts do a "deductible" amount which the homeowner must pay.

SELECTING A REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT

Before you sink some of your hard-earned money into a real estate investment, remember—real estate projects differ in investment, economic and management characteristics.

Not all real estate investments provide the owner with an immediate cash return nor do they all provide an opportunity for depreciation. The real estate investor must become acquainted with the investment characteristics of a particular project prior to acquisition.

Each individual real estate investment is traded within its own real estate market, and an analysis of the supply and demand for specific types of property will reveal different economic characteristics.

Remember, analysis of real estate characteristics prior to investing any money will help you achieve your investment objectives. Ask your broker for recommendations.

FUTURE OF RENT HOUSING BLEAK

Texas who rent will not take much comfort from recent research which shows apartments will become more scarce in the 1980's.

The supply of multifamily rental units will be restricted for three main reasons. First, rents have not increased enough to offset increases in owner's costs. Nationally, rents increased almost 5 percent per year from 1967-1979. During that time, expenses increased more than 7 percent annually.

The profit squeeze encourages conversion of rental units to owner-occupied housing. The second reason for the decline in multifamily housing is that local communities continue to employ land-use controls to discourage development of rental units. And, lastly, tax incentives for apartment construction have been decreased by recent tax reform bills.

BUYING NEAR RECREATIONAL FACILITIES

Physical fitness enthusiasts might consider their future home's proximity to recreational facilities.

Some houses are near jogging trails, tennis courts, handball and racketball courts, swimming pools, nature trails and more. With most fitness programs, convenience is a very important factor.

If most of your exercise time is spent driving across town to the gymnasium or to the jogging tract, you may lose interest in your program. But if your recreational facility is just down the street, your self-discipline in your fitness program is not likely to become overworked.

Love Designated Professional Real Estate Appraiser

Barbara A. Love of Eastland, has been designated a professional real estate appraiser by the National Association of Master Appraisers, according to Dr. Marvin T. Deane, president.

The designation Master Residential Appraiser (MRA) was conferred after completion of all the qualifying procedures of the organization. Requirements include intense educational courses in residential appraisal and the preparation of actual demonstration appraisals.

"Each member of the National Association of Master Appraisers has agreed to subscribe to the highest professional standards of conduct required by the organizations code of ethics" said Dr. Deane.

The National Association of Master Appraisers designates those members of the real estate profession who have attained a high degree of excellence in the art and science of real estate appraisal. It also encourages specialized education in real estate appraisal through cooperating schools, to provide the industry with fundamentals courses, educational seminars and workshops. Such educational courses are designed to insure the public will have qualified professional real estate appraisal services when buying or selling their homes.

Bass Club Report

How's fishing where you've been? Well if its not been up to par you might want to try our down the river lake Proctor. Some real fine stringers in the 8 to 11 lb. range are being taken with Proctors usual consistence. Leon is also fairing well with lots of 3 lb. fish and an occasional 4 being taken shallow. Eastland Lake, you remember the mud hole north-west of Eastland, has turned out some real nice fish in the 3 and 4 lb. range. Crappie are biting fair to good on all three lakes.

Thursday, May the 5th will be our night to meet. Our committee for recommendations will submit their ideas for the invitational scheduled in September. So everyone plan to attend to cast your vote.

Many other items of business will be discussed also plan to attend, because without you the members active participation we can't continue to improve and grow as an organization.

Our monthly tournament will be held as scheduled May the 8th. This is on Sunday and lets not forget since our time change we will draw at 5:00 a.m. so plan to be at the White Elephant in Cisco prior to 5:00 a.m.

Canyon, Texas, Summer 1983

Who would want to drive 25 miles out of their way to see "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon? In 1982, 88,182 people did just that. They came from all fifty of the United States and 84 foreign countries. They camped, stayed in motels, or visited with relatives. They dined in restaurants, cooked their own meals, and ate barbeque with the show's caterer. In age, they ranged from Brownie Scouts to senior citizens.

Most of the audience statistics came from information on groups that attended a performance. In 1982, 577 groups, as defined as 20 or more people, attended the show. Groups journeyed from 131 Texas cities, 19 other states, and 3 foreign countries (Canada, France, and Scotland). Commercial tours came from as far away as Ontario.

Eight-four clubs or families included a performance of "Texas" as part of their celebrations, and thirty educational groups journeyed to Palo Duro Canyon for the show.

By far the largest number of groups come from churches. Two hundred eight-nine church sponsored groups came to "Texas". One church in Lubbock, more than 100 miles away, sent six different parties. It seems that "Texas" is on the way to the Southern Baptist Retreat at Glorietta, New Mexico, and many groups spend the night in Canyon or Amarillo on their way to camp.

"Texas" has obvious appeal for all sorts of people. Small children, senior citizens, honeymooners, scholars, tourists, boy scouts, and commercial tour directors have all found the show to be entertaining and enlightening.

Come and see "Texas". Chances are that you will like it too. The 1983 season is June 15 through August 20, nightly except Sunday. There will be a special performance on Sunday, July 3. For reservations information, or group rates, call or write "Texas", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015; 806-655-2181. Showtime is 8:30 p.m.

Service To Collect Crop Information

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in mid-May for 1983 crop information and mid-year livestock inventories.

State Statistician Doug Murfield emphasized that information from the crop surveys will be used by county ASCS offices to set yields for the farm programs. "A good response on these surveys means that we can return more accurate acreage and yield figures back to the counties," Murfield said.

"This information is more important than ever in 1983, especially with the many production options available to farmers and ranchers," Murfield added.

The confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, can also help producers in planning their production and marketing programs for the coming year.

To reduce survey costs, Murfield is urging farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. The reported information will be combined for state and county estimates.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and pecans, vegetables, and cash receipts from the sale of farm products.

Copies of these bulletins can be obtained by contacting the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767.

Spider Mites: A Texas Garden's Worst Enemy

Spider mites are a problem in almost every part of Texas. These tiny, usually red mites attack both vegetables and landscape plants. Be on the lookout for early detection and prompt treatment are your best weapons against them.

Spider mites, often called red spiders, most frequently attack vegetables like beans, corn, eggplants, and tomatoes, and ornamentals like boxwood and roses. They also damage cole crops, cucurbits, and onions. One of their favorite host plants is the marigold. Texans who interplant marigolds in their vegetable gardens may live to regret it, since spider mites often build up on marigolds and then spread throughout the garden.

Spider mites reproduce very rapidly. They prefer hot, dry weather, and under these conditions can multiply to unbelievable proportions. Mites are generally found on the underside of leaves. On heavily-infested plants, you will see very fine webs, with eggs and immature mites underneath them.

Mite damage first appears as small, white or gray stippling on the leaves. As damage increases, entire leaves become stippled and lose color, and eventually turn yellow and fall off.

Eventually, the plant loses many leaves and dies.

To prevent infestations, inspect your plants weekly for spider mites. Examine the bottoms of leaves, especially on plants with a dull or off color. You can also shake leaves vigorously over a piece of white paper to dislodge and see the mites better.

If you find only a few mites, but see no damage as yet, reexamine the plants every 2 days. You need not immediately resort to miticides, because if beneficial insects are feeding on the mites, or if the weather conditions are not favorable for mite buildup, the mite population may stay below damaging levels and even decrease.

Light infestations can at times be controlled by spraying plants with water from a hose. Be careful not to damage tender foliage, however. If your infestation is confined to a few plants, you can try removing them, while keeping a watchful eye on the adjacent plants left in the garden.

If you have an infestation that is causing damage, you will probably need to use a miticide, like Kelthane. In choosing a pesticide, read the label carefully to ensure you are using the right chemical for your particular plants.

Gordon Spot

County Extension Agent

DeMarquis Gordon

We continue to get calls concerning peach leaf curl. There are many peach trees infected with the fungus because we had rain when the trees were in bloom. The organism lives in the bark and in years when there is no rainfall during bloom it does not become a problem.

However, if rain falls during the spring of the year when the peaches are in full bloom, or at least coming into full bloom, this disease organism usually manifests itself into a rather serious problem. The leaves become thickened and take on a grotesque, blistered appearance.

Once you see the problem it is too late to do anything about it. These leaves will soon drop off and by mid-season you can't tell that the disease was present. The fruit that is left will be fine.

The time to control this disease is during the fall and winter when the tree is dormant. Kocide 101 at 2½ pounds per 100 gallons of water should be applied to the trees about the first week of November or when 70 percent of the leaves have fallen and again in January of February prior to any bud swell.

No self-respecting gardener wants to be governed by the whims of Mother Nature. So to get a jump on spring gardening, use mulches to warm the soil and to prolong production.

Black plastic, usually made of polyethylene, is a great mulch, and offers these benefits:

- Reduces evaporation of soil moisture
- Reduces fluctuations in soil moisture
- Retains soil moisture
- Reduces fluctuations in soil temperature
- Provides warmer daytime surface temperature
- Reduces weed growth
- Reduces soil compaction
- Reduces leaching of fertilizer salts
- Prevents soil crusting
- Promotes activity of microorganisms
- Reduces soil rot of fruit
- Increases water use efficiency
- Increases yield and improves quality

A plastic mulch can hasten the maturity of crops as well as control weeds. It absorbs more the sun's heat than organic mulches and radiates the heat back faster at night. Thus, plants mulched with plastics are less susceptible to frost injury than those mulched with organic mulches such as leaves and compost.

Make black plastic sections for mulching by splitting regular garbage bags on the seams. Heavy duty bags last longer.

Make sure the soil is well supplied with water from rain or irrigation a few days before laying the plastic.

As far as organic mulches are concerned, they are especially desirable on light, sandy soils and on cool-season crops. Organic mulches such as leaves, compost, hay and grass clippings keep soil several degrees cooler than bare soil or soil covered with black plastic mulch. They also reduce heat radiation from the soil, increasing the chance of frost damage on a cool night.

Organic mulches are best applied after soil is warm and as soon as plants are large enough to avoid being buried by the material.

Plastic mulch can be laid immediately after planting, but for most transplanted crops, it's easier to apply it first and plant through it. If drip irrigation is to be used, put drip hoses in place on or in the planting bed before covering with plastic.

When applying a plastic mulch, make small furrows with a hoe or shovel 3 to 4 inches deep on each side of the planting bed. The distance between furrows should be slightly less than the width of the plastic. Place the soil from the furrows on the outer edge of the plastic to hold it in place. Then punch or cut holes for transplants. After setting out transplants, mound soil around the plant holes to keep wind from whipping the plastic loose.

For small-seeded crops that are seeded directly in the row, plant seed first and then lay the plastic. Cut it down the middle and anchor it with soil from small furrows on each side of the planted row.

THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS

MULCH YOUR GARDEN WITH NEWSPAPERS

In their search for the easiest method of eliminating weeds and quack grass from their new garden, the Eugene Engeldinger family ruled out herbicides—because of their effect on the soil and on the produce—heavy mulching (the family thought they'd never accumulate enough organic material to cover their sizable garden), and black plastic, since they wanted to give the land the benefit of decaying matter. What was needed, they decided, was a material that would decompose but that would deny the weeds access to sunlight (for at least three months), yet allow rain and air to penetrate the soil. Finally, the family settled on newspapers covered with a mulch of leaves and grass.

A test of the "new" method was conducted on the family's good-sized potato patch. By April 20th, their Wisconsin garden was tilled, and 10 pounds of Norland Reds, 10 pounds of Kennebecs, and 10 pounds of Sebago sets were in the ground.

At the end of May, when the sprouts were two to five inches tall, and the weeds were also coming in strong, a two- to four-sheet layer of newsprint was spread between the potato plants, leaving three-inch-square spaces around the sprouts. Then the contents of numerous bags of leaves, grass, and pine needles, that had been collected during spring lawn cleaning, were placed—to a thickness of two or three inches—over the papers. The extra-organic material kept the sheets from blowing away and provided a cushion that allowed the gardeners to walk down the rows throughout the summer without making holes for the weeds to grow through.

At the beginning of July the Engeldingers pulled away the mulch from around the early Norlands and harvested the first new potatoes—which were lying on top of the ground—without disturbing the rest of the plants. And, after the middle of July, they harvested the rest of the reds, selling 25½ pounds and keeping 50 pounds for use at home.

The ground was still damp when Eugene dug the spuds... whereas his unpapered garden soil was drying up because of a lack of rain. This residual moisture allowed the family to plant a green manure crop of oats that was turned under later in the fall. (The area received no appreciable rainfall for another six weeks, so the water "saved" by the mulch turned out to be invaluable to the patch's productivity.) The family was also pleased to find that—while performing their weed-discouraging and moisture-conserving tasks—the newspapers had decomposed. In July, to the point where they presented no obstacle to the rototiller when the green manure bed was prepared.

The Kennebecs and Sebagoes weren't dug until late October, but—as they'd done with the reds—the Engeldingers harvested some tubers earlier, as needed, by simply pulling the mulch away from around the plants. And they were pleased that the production of their late white potatoes compared well with that of the early variety. Despite a very dry summer, Eugene and his family said the crop was "fantastic", and credited the success to the great performance of their newspaper mulch.

The Wisconsin family seems convinced of the effectiveness of newspaper mulch since the results of their potato crop speaks for itself.

POSITIVE SELLING Vs. NEGATIVE HAGGLING

Don't become another victim of negative haggling. Have you noticed how people haggle over the price and try to talk you down when you have something to sell? There is a better way.

Let me sell your items by auction. We're the pros at talking your things up.

A public auction is positive selling at its best. I'll list your items and advertise them properly so crowds of interested people will come to bid.

And when I conduct the bidding the prices increase for you. More bids mean more money for you. It's as simple as that.

I work quickly and can get cash for you right away. Avoid negative haggling by giving me a call now. You'll be pleased at the way my positive auction selling adds up to profits for you.

Remember, when it comes to buying or selling AUCTION'S BEST (SM).

CJC Art Course Will Begin May 11

Cisco Junior College will offer a community service Intermediate Painting II class beginning May 11. The class will be taught by Bonnie Erwin Hill, freelance artist from Austin. Intermediate Painting II will meet May 11, 12, 18, 19, 25 and 26 from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. each night in the art room of the Fine Arts Building.

Bonnie is a graduate of Cisco Junior College and has studied art at the school of Fine Arts and Galleries with Charles Berkley Norman, at the Laguna Gloria Museum and School with Gustav Likan and at the Instituto Allende in Guanajuato, Mexico. She has taken advantage of opportunities to learn from European artists and has made frequent visits and extends study trips to Mexico. She owns and operates her own studio in Austin where she teaches classes and gives individual instruction. She conducts painting workshops both out of town and in various places in Austin. Bonnie believes the best way to learn to paint is by painting. Printed material will be handed out for your reference, but your studio time will be devoted to painting. During the first week of class a mountain scene will be painted, a palette knife floral the second week, and the third week will be spent painting miniatures. Tuition for Intermediate Painting II is $60. You will be required to buy your own supplies. A list of supplies will be given you when you register. Registration deadline for the class is May 9. To register or for more information call Mrs. Watts at (817) 442-2567, extension 113. Be sure to watch for Ms. Hill's workshop in wildlife painting during the summer months.

Cisco's Larry Adams Has Enough Incentive

By BILL HART
Asst. Sports Editor

CISCO — Larry Adams of Cisco doesn't need any more incentive than he has for the Region II-AA track and field meet next week in Stephenville.

He wants to go to the state meet, an honor he's been deprived of the past two years although he started each season headed in that direction.

He made a positive step that way again last week when he ran a 1:55.1 in the 800 meters at the District 9-AA meet. That's one of the top times in the state, regardless of class.

Two years ago at the regional meet, Larry, who is about 5-9 and weighs 140, came in third with a 1:57.3, a good time in his classification. However, the winner ran a 1:57.1 (then ran over two minutes at the state meet), while the runner-up ran 1:57.2 and finished second at Austin two weeks later.

"I was two steps from winning, one step from the state meet ... but I stayed home," he said. "That really hurt, especially the way one of the guys ran at the state meet."

Last year, Larry injured a leg long-jumping at the district meet, and later in the afternoon, he finished third in the 800 and didn't qualify for regional.

"I ran a 2:01 that day, but I just didn't have any strength because of the ankle," he recalled. "I guess what really hurt more than the ankle was at regional the next week, the winner ran a 2:01."

Adams didn't long-jump this year. He was afraid of the injury possibility.

In addition to the half-mile, Adams has the kind of speed to run on the sprint-relay team, which has run a 43.01, and he's on the mile-relay team that ran a 3:28 last week. He ran a 49.3 leg.

His 800 time at district was his best ever by two seconds, yet he figures he can run a little faster, perhaps a 1:53.

Adams was introduced to track in the sixth grade when Kenn Norris, then a coach at Cisco, took a bunch of boys down to a 200-yard mini-track.

"Everyone whipped me in the sprints, but I was doing all right on the longer races, so Coach put me in the 800 and I've been in the longer races ever since," he said.

He's had the speed for the half-mile, but a new wrinkle was added this year when Coach Danny Kent started running him cross-country and it has helped his strength and endurance.

"We run out to Cisco Junior College (about two miles from the high school) and then we'd run up and down the hill several times," he said.

He also gives credit to Ricky Roberts of Goldthwaite and Danny Kittley, the Abilene Christian freshman half-miler, for bringing his times down.

"Danny told me I needed to run my first quarter a little faster," Adams said. "He told me I needed to run it around 54 or 55 seconds. I had been running it around 57 or 58. I've averaged 55 or 56 seconds most of the time this year.

...improving half-miler

"Roberts is a great half-miler and competing against him has helped, too. He ran a 1:50 at Brownwood and I ran 2:01. Then at De Leon, he ran a 1:56 and I ran a 1:57. I'd like to run him again. I might not beat him, but our times would be better. If we're even in a race, Ricky will win because he's got a longer stride."

Not many half-milers run on the sprint relay, but Adams thinks the sprint race helps loosen him up for the 800.

Larry also is coached by Tom Slagle and has a "home" coach in brother Lane, who now lives in Oklahoma but comes to see him run. Lane was on hand for the Thursday district meet, offering encouragement.

"I can't remember Lane missing a meet I've run in since I was in the seventh grade, even if he lived in Stephenville or Oklahoma City," Larry said. Lane and Barry, another older brother, are the main reasons Larry got interested in sports.

The district meet was the sixth straight time Larry has run under two minutes, and he'd like to run in college if given the opportunity. He plans to enroll at ACU and study pre-med.

"College coaches haven't shown me any interest," he said. "Maybe after today (with the 1:55), some will notice me."

They will, especially if he gets it down to 1:53.

WORD of GOD

Parable of Jesus

Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven:

And he spake a parable unto them: Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master.

And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.

New Gaither Vocal Band Due In Concert In Abilene

The name Bill Gaither is synonymous with the best of gospel music. The singer/songwriter is the mainstay of the Bill Gaither Trio, and is known for composing such songs as "Because He Lives", "Something Beautiful", "Rejoice, You're A Child of the King" and many, many others that run the gamut of musical styles from traditional to upbeat.

Gaither, who admits to being somewhat of a fanatic about quartet music, grew up listening to southern gospel quartets that filled the nation's airwaves via radio in the 1950's. In the spring of 1980, Gaither convinced Gary McSpadden (part of the Bill Gaither Trio) and two of their background singers that a quartet number during the Trio's concerts would be appreciated. As it turns out, the term 'appreciated' does not come close to describing the overwhelming, enthusiastic responses the four men received. Gaither explains, "I had been trying for months to convince them that a quartet number would go over. But when they heard the word 'quartet' all they could think of was country gospel with the very high tenor. Now I like that style of music, but to me a strong four-part masculine sound is symbolized by the groups I grew up with in the fifties - the Four Aces, the Ink Spots, the Mills Brothers, and the Four Freshmen. I just figured there had to be a few people out there who would enjoy that kind of quartet music, which I would classify as somewhere between the Imperials and the Gaither Trio sound."

Thus the beginning of the group known today as the New Gaither Vocal Band, which will be coming to the Abilene Civic Center to perform in concert on Friday, June 3. Tickets are on sale locally at Songs and Psalms Bible Bookstore in Cisco. All seats are reserved with ticket prices at $7.50 and $6.50.

In addition to Gaither, the group consists of Gary McSpadden, Steve Green and Jon Mohr. They went to the recording studio in 1981 to produce their first album, entitled simply, "The New Gaither Vocal Band." Immediately upon its release, the album scored high on the gospel charts across the country, making the top twenty in most during its first month out. This month will see the release of their second effort, "Passin' the Faith Along". This album contains songs written by each of the vocalists, as well as songs written by Gloria Gaither, Dony McGuire and Billy Smiley (who co-produced the album.)

The best way to describe the Vocal Band's concerts is electrifying. All of the artists are tremendous musicians, and dynamic performers. They are accompanied by a band comprised of some of the best studio musicians around. Gaither's down home sense of humor and his graciousness breaks down all barriers between those onstage and the audience. He makes no bones about the fact that they are in the gospel music business only to bring glory to the Lord Jesus Christ. As they so aptly sing in the song in the title cut off their new album:

"Passin' the faith along to my brother, passin' the faith along, Helping' to build the faith of another, passin' the faith along, Sharing a word of hope with my brother, helpin' to make him strong.

Passin' the faith along to my brother, passin' the faith along." Join Bill Gaither and the New Gaither Vocal Band on Friday, June 3 at the Civic Center for their Abilene debut.

About Reflective Surfaces...

Q: I have a problem I hope you can help me with. I have a small store and periodically set up special window displays. The problem comes in when I try to photograph the displays from outside. Sometimes the displays come out perfectly, but other times, a reflection spoils the results. I need the photos so I know from year to year how the displays were done in the past. What am I doing wrong, and how can I correct the problem?

Gene Barth, Chicago, IL

A: Light glare and reflections are a serious problem for photographers working around glass, water, snow, ice—any reflective surface. Before you can eliminate the problem, you should understand it.

Reflections are images in smooth, shiny surfaces. Unwanted reflections are often outside the camera's field of view, but they show up in the scene because the shiny surface is within the camera's field of view. Glare is the spreading of light around a bright light source or around the reflection of a light source. Glare interferes with vision because of bright light bouncing around within the eye. It can also interfere with the photographed image because of light bouncing around in the camera...as well as irradiation and halation in the film.

With that in mind, there are a couple things you can do to minimize or eliminate reflections and glare. First, change the camera angle so that the reflection or the glare does not enter the lens. This is the simplest solution for a photographer shooting a scene in which there is a reflective surface which might reflect his own image back to the camera. It's also a good solution for avoiding "hot spots" when using electronic flash in a scene where there's a polished background.

Second, place the camera lens flush against the glass or plastic surface you're shooting through in order to photograph what's on the other side.

Third, spray the reflective surface of the object with a dulling spray (available at art and hobby stores), which deposits a thin coat of wax on a shiny surface, thus eliminating specular or mirror-like reflections by diffusing the light. The spray may be wiped off when no longer needed.

Fourth, diffuse the light by reflecting it from a white, dull surface rather than aiming the source directly at the subject. This is a good means of eliminating flash "hot spot" from a person's eyeglasses—something you might get when shooting direct flash. By bouncing the light off a dull white card, for example, you'll soften the source, creating a reflection-free, more natural-looking shot.

Fifth, use a polarizing filter. Rotate the filter until the glare or reflection is minimized or eliminated. If you're using a single lens reflex camera, you'll be able to see the results as you peer through the finder. If you use any other type camera, hold the filter up to your eye, rotating it until the reflection is eliminated or reduced to an acceptable level. Then place the filter over the camera's lens in that same orientation. If necessary, you can put a small pencil mark on the top of the filter when it's in the proper position, then be sure the mark is on top when the filter goes on the lens.

Q: I enjoy your articles on photography very much. Now, I have a question. Is there an electronic flash unit I can use with my old Kodak 35 mm Signet camera? It takes excellent photographs and is a keepsake.

Arthur H. Kranich, Milwaukee, WI

A: I commend you for keeping in use a valuable old camera. While I'm not personally familiar with whether or not the Signet accepts electronic flash, I can tell you how to know.

If your Signet—or any camera, for that matter—is fitted with a small circular receptacle marked "X," you can plug any electronic flash unit into it and get perfectly synched photos. If not, I'm afraid you'll have to do without electronic flash.

THEY SAW President Reagan and rode the longest escalator in North America. That's the report of Mr. Neal Moore when we asked him about the trip some 200 area residents took last week to Washington, D.C., and Winchester, Va.

The CJC Belles and Band made the trip, you know, for the Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, and scores of folks went for the ride. Mr. Moore said the president's car, accompanied by several motorcycles and a dozen or so cars, passed the Texans Wednesday night as the President went to the Capitol to address Congress. They saw the prime minister of Canada in a motorcade next day.

The escalator is part of DC's underground subway transportation system. The longest escalator in the world, Neal says, is located in Moscow. Neal was most impressed with the Library of Congress building and the botanical gardens of the Smithsonian and the blooming tulips and azaleas around town.

Everybody came home and the buses arrived in Cisco at midnight Saturday. It was a fine trip in perfect weather, concluded Neal.

THEY'LL ANNOUNCE winners in the Little League Sticker Sale Contest this weekend, President Randy Speegle of the LL tells us. Winners will be guests at a trip to Arlington to see the Texas Rangers play. The golf team of Bennie Nichols and Bob Bennie of Cisco placed third in the championship flight of a partnership golf tournament at Olney last weekend. And Bobby Smith and Delbert Schaefer constituted a team that won third place in a similar tournament at Brownwood last weekend. Glad to see Mr. Ralph Glenn, CJC business manager, up and out again after an illness.

Services For Mrs. Ghormley Will Be May 7

Graveside services for Ruby Pearl Foreman Ghormley, 81, Eastland County native who gained prominence as a writer and educator, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 7, at Oakwood Cemetery in Cisco. She died Saturday, April 30, in St. George, Utah.

Mrs. Ghormley was born in Cisco on Nov. 26, 1901, and attended the schools of Cisco and a business college in Abilene. In 1918, she became the legal secretary for a Cisco attorney. She married James G. Ghormley, optician, here and had two sons.

In 1943, Mrs. Ghormley moved to Austin and accepted employment as supervisor of publications for The Daily Texan, student newspaper at the University of Texas. She held this job until 1958 when she became administrative secretary to the chairman of the Department of Psychology at UoT. Later, she attended the UoT and studied English.

After retiring in 1962, Mrs. Ghormley began a writing career that produced three books: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow; Eastland County, Texas, a historical and biographical survey; and Ghormley and Offset, biography of her oldest son, Grant, who lost his life in 1967 in the crash of his P-51 airplane.

A member of the LDS Church, Mrs. Ghormley had lived for several years in Utah.

Survivors include a son, Dr. Luther Wayne Ghormley of Blackwell, Okla.; a brother, Luther Vernon Foreman; five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Local arrangements were being handled by Cisco Funeral Home.

You'll want to see them. Muri Guyger's Iris at 9th and Avenue N are real nice. Ditto for the Iris at the E.L. Jackson's across the street. Iris and other flowers are real pretty around town these days.

BLUE BONNETS AND other flowers were never prettier down south in Central Texas. That's the report of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graham and Mrs. Crystal Gaines and daughter Lana. They drove down that way last Sunday to celebrate anniversary No. 34 for the Grahams.

After lunch at a famous place in Fredricksburg, they went to nearby LBJ Ranch where they toured the home of the late Lyndon Johnson. It was a nice outing, they report.

THEY'RE REMODELING the old Gulf Service Station building at 9th and Hilton and it will become the Cisco Bus Station, Nina Jo Anderson, proprietor. Major Farnsworth, who has some 20 mother cows at their place south of town, baled 425 bales of hay last Friday. Members of Calvary Baptist Church are working on plans to observe their 30th anniversary on May 15th.

MRS. LOUISE Cooper, legal secretary, has been meaning to write a letter to the editor. She wants to compliment the Cisco Cemetery Association on the fine work they're doing at Oakwood Cemetery. The local cemetery is a place of real beauty. Two eagles shot at the Cisco Country Club golf course recently (not the feathered kind) belong to Catherine Abbott and Nadine Elliott, two local lady golfers. Mrs. Abbott's came on No. 3. Abilene Trade Fair Will Open

On the weekend of May 14-15, 1983, the Abilene Trade Fair will open in the Round Exhibition Building at the West Texas Fairgrounds. There are over 60 spaces inside the Round Building and over 200 outside spaces, for dealers and small businesses of all types.

Spaces are available by the day and by the weekend for persons wishing to hold a garage sale, flea market, fund raisers, etc. Also included are approximately 70 spaces for vehicle, camper, boat, R.V. sales, persons wishing to sell a motorcycle or whatever, may bring it down for people to see.

Spaces rent from $5.00 per day outside and $10.00 per day inside. Also, there are spaces set aside for civic groups, churches, boys-girls organizations for fund raising sales at no charge.

They look forward to this being one of the largest events of its type in the state. Already there are dealers, artists, craftsmen and traders from Big Spring, Snyder, Eastland, Coleman, Lubbock and Ft. Worth, Texas, as well as many local entrepreneurs, according to Dana Morrison, Trade Fair Events Coordinator.

They would like to invite all persons and groups who are planning a fund raiser or just converting unneeded items to cash, to come down and join them for their grand opening or any weekend, thereafter. Persons contemplating starting a small business may find the Trade Fair a good place to start out. They still have several inside permanent spaces.

Interested persons should call 676-2946 to reserve a location.

NOTICE TO WATER CUSTOMERS OF HIGH TURBIDITY

Dear Customer:

The City of Cisco during the month of March 1983, supplied water that exceeded the Texas Department of Health's "Drinking Water Standards", which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act", Public Law 93-523 (US), for turbidity. The water supplied failed one or more of the following criteria:

(1) the monthly average exceeded 1 turbidity unit (TU). The presence of excessive turbidity or cloudiness in drinking water may interfere with the effectiveness of disinfection of the water. Permitting the turbidity level to exceed the standard may present a risk to the health of persons drinking the water.

However, up to five turbidity units (TU) may be allowed if the supplier can demonstrate that the higher turbidity does not; (1) interfere with disinfection, (2) prevent maintenance of an effective disinfectant agent throughout the distribution system, or (3) interfere with microbiological measurements.

The water system is being studied to correct any high turbidity at any future date.

The notification of the public is in compliance with the Texas "Drinking Water Standards" and the "Safe Drinking Water Act" as a means of keeping the public

Legislative Process Test

A recent article by Robert L. Medcalf, former school superintendent, and presently professor at Wright State University, Dayton, O., in the current AMERICAN SCHOOL BOARD JOURNAL, addresses the question of how we can all be good lobbyists. (We've edited out all reference to school affairs so that the article could apply to all segments of society.)

No matter how carefully you consider each question of governance many of your decisions are at least guided-if not mandated-by law. Legislative influence is something we must accept as part of the territory (although not without an occasional grumble).

Therein lies the rub: Simply accepting legislative mandates is not enough. To be sure citizens, must carry out what federal and state governments legislate. But citizens must do more: We must work to influence the legislative process before the laws are passed. Too many laws, it seems to me, are enacted without the proper influence.

Trouble is, many of us don't know where or how to start to influence our elected legislator. Here's how you can test your awareness of-and current influence on-the legislative process; you'll probably discover that you can do much more than you are doing now.

1. Did you vote in the most recent general election?
2. Have you ever visited any of the following?
 - State legislative committee hearing.
 - State legislative session
 - Any other state agency session
 - Congressional committee hearing
 - A meeting conducted by a federal agency
 - State court session
 - Federal district court session
 - Federal Supreme Court
3. Can you list two committees in the U.S. House of Representatives?
4. Can you list the committees in the U.S. Senate that have such influence?
5. Do you know if a federal legislator from your state serves on any of these committees?
6. Can you name the committees on which your U.S. senators and representative serve?
7. Have you ever contacted (by letter, telephone, or personal visit) your members of Congress concerning pending legislation?
8. Do you know the name of one staff person who works for any of your members of Congress?
9. Have you ever met with your members of Congress or a staff member concerning a local issue?
10. Have you ever written a letter of appreciation to a member of Congress regarding the legislator's efforts.

Your answers to these questions will give you a good idea of how you can be more active in influencing education legislation. Tips on getting involved:

Identify your goals. Thoroughly analyze what kinds of legislation you think are needed. Develop an area of expertise. For example, study finance, with an eye toward legislation. Facts and sound knowledge are what you need to influence lawmakers. Strong feelings and emotions are helpful, but buy themselves, they are not enough. Know the territory and the process. Get to know your legislators, and if possible, develop a personal relationship with them. Become acquainted with their staff people, too. These well-informed individuals exert a great deal of influence over their bosses, and having good relationships with them can yield invaluable results. In addition, contact key legislative advocates in related fields; let them know you want to help.

Work with those who influence legislation. Volunteer as a campaign worker for candidates, even if it means just stuffing envelopes. Work with political groups, advisory groups, and political parties. Find out what's going on in all areas of legislation. And remember: What all elected officials have in common is the need to be re-elected. Other than that, they're no different from you or me.

Communicate well. Writing effectively, you'll find, is essential if you want to have any impact at all. Some suggestions: Never send a carbon copy or a photocopy of a letter to your legislator if you expect your letter to carry weight. (The legislator has no other way of knowing whether your letter represents your own ideas or the directives of some other person or organization.) Keep it brief. Legislators are swamped with correspondence and rarely take time to read a letter longer than one page; supporting information should be attached on a separate sheet. Tell in your own words why you think proposed legislation is good or bad. Write only about the matters that are of deep and serious concern to you. (If you write about every issue, the legislator might not pay attention to any of your communications.) And be sure to say Thank You. When, in your opinion, your legislators cast a good vote, drop a note and thank them for their concern or interest. Sign your name and address.

Be prepared to compromise. If you want to be successful in influencing legislation, you must be realistic about the need to give and take.

Offer to help others. Keep in touch with legislation throughout the year, and offer your help. Don't turn to lawmakers only when you need their support.

Give public officials the benefit of the doubt. With rare exceptions, they are honest and intelligent, and they want to do a good job. Your task is to inform them of what you think is the correct position to take.

Be ready with alternative solutions to problems. Otherwise, you're liable to become known as a complainer who shrinks from actions.

Finally, never fight people. Only fight for or against issues.

Given the breadth and depth of issues facing legislators, citizens are remiss not to step forward and offer lawmakers our knowledge and experience. With dedication, we can do much to make the legislative decision-making process one that favors good laws.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

On the "opinion page" you said we can ask questions and give answers to questions which is a very nice idea and will be interesting to everyone.

I am asked every week "Is your father and mother still living?"

My father is Plumber J.M.

Smith that had Smith's Plumbing for over 50 years in Eastland. Yes he is 87 years old and still lives at home 110 N. Walnut. He and mother are feable but other than aging they are fine. Stop by and say "hello" they will remember you.

Drug Abuse Hot Line Open

Have you ever known a young person who should be beginning a rewarding career - but whose brain had been destroyed by drug abuse?

Do you know that most of the men in Texas prisons were using alcohol or drugs at the time their crimes were committed?

Are you aware that 50% of all fatal auto accidents are caused by someone driving while intoxicated.

Do you know that most neglected, abused or abandoned children come from homes where alcohol and drugs are abused?

Do you know that drug dealers realize that most marijuana users will eventually turn to "hard" drugs?

Since citizens of Eastland County wish to protect their children and others from these disasters, they have formed a "Hot Line" for drug abuse information. Volunteers man phones 24 hrs. per day to take calls and tips from citizens.

The County Drug Abuse Hot Line Numbers are:

629-3161 days
629-3182 nights

A caller to these numbers will hear a pleasant voice on the other end of the line. He does not have to give his name. He will be given a number in case he wishes to call back. The person answering the Hot Line, also, will not identify himself.

Information will be taken by the Hot Line, and passed on to authorities who might be able to help. Ordinarily there will be no further contact between the caller and the Hot Line, unless the caller wishes to make further contact.

The Hot Line has already been of service, and stands ready to give further assistance.

Alcoholics Anonymous, a nationwide organization, has an Eastland County group which is willing, ready and able to assist anyone who wishes to stop the use of alcohol. A call to No. 442-1797 will bring help.

The Eastland County group meets each Tues. and Sat. night, 8:00 p.m. in the Reddy Room, Texas Electric Bldg., Eastland. Once each month there will be a "Birthday Party", and the meeting will begin at 7:00 p.m. The goal of this group is to remain sober and help those suffering from alcoholism. There is also Al-Anon meetings for the families of alcoholics.

The support group, as well as the Drug Hot Line volunteers, provides an inestimable service to our communities.

Important Numbers Listed

You may not be able to talk to the president himself (and guesses are, some bankers would like to), but there are now some Washington telephone numbers where you give and get information.

To leave a message for President Reagan - 202 456-7639, 9 to 5 Monday thru Friday.

To reach any senator or representative's office or any committee or subcommittee -- 202-224-3121, 7 a.m. to 11 p.m., Monday thru Saturday.

To receive information on pending bills and hearings - 202-225-1772.

Still no one from Eastland County (County, cities, chambers of commerce, etc.) listed as supporters by resolutions, petitions, policy statements, for increased highway transportation funding.

Safety Bids

AUSTIN—Bids on a project to improve safety on Texas 6 in Eastland County are to be tabulated April 19 by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT).

The project calls for eight culverts on about seven miles of Texas 6, from 1.5 miles east of Carbon to the Comanche County line, to be widened for greater safety clearance, according to DHT District Engineer Lawrence Schulz of Brownwood.

Schulz said the project, which is estimated to require 120 work days, will be supervised by DHT engineer R.P. Haun Jr. of Eastland.

A contract to the successful low bidder is expected to be awarded later this month by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof;

26 I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh;

27 When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

State Capitol Highlights Texas Press Association Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN—In the topsy-turvy world of state politics, taxes, taxes, taxes are hogging the limelight while pretty near blinding any observer trying to closely watch the show.

Early last week, House and Senate budget writers crowded they had finally balanced the state budget at $29 billion with no new taxes, and conservatives in the House (where a tax bill by law must originate) vowed no tax bill would make it out of committee there.

Within four days, following an onslaught on the Capitol of tax hike proponents, most of that same leadership was touting the probability that some form of tax hike will be passed this session.

Governor Mark White, who wants a tax hike to upgrade public education and teachers salaries, announced after an hour-long skull session with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Gib Lewis he expects the trio to reach agreement to raise some state taxes and finance most of the state's spending needs.

Speaker Lewis, who had until last week stood firm against any tax hikes, did not commit publicly to a softening of position, but surprised many by saying he is looking at the options.

Most surprising was Hobby's announcement he may have found a loophole allowing the Senate to initiate an increase in the state gasoline tax which funds highway construction.

"The Pothole Bill"

Hobby said the proposed "pothole bill" which revises the highway spending formula could provide a legislative vehicle for a fuel tax hike. The Senate can initiate a tax-increase proposal provided the money was intended for a dedicated fund and not for general coffers.

However, the initial reaction of Capitol legal staff was their office would not provide such a loophole.

A gasoline tax is favored by many legislators because its proceeds are split 75-25 between highways and public schools, thus providing an estimated extra $642 million for roads and $214 million for education.

"Wish List"

Why the need for taxes if the budget leadership has balanced the budget as it claims?

This session the Legislature is writing the budget in a manner different from the past: the first six sections are the traditional appropriations bill which the lawmakers have balanced. But added this year is a seventh section, dubbed the "wish list" section, which contains proposed increases in funding if taxes are raised.

Contained here are the proposals to increase highway construction, prison construction, increase teachers' salaries, increase state employees salaries, fix the state's potholes. Spending in Section Seven is about $2 billion.

The Senate

The Senate voted to suspend the rules and allow consideration of the controversial horserace wagering bill, but an all-afternoon filibuster by Dallas Republican John Leedom postponed a vote on passage until after the weekend. Leedom read fistful after fistful of anti-horseracing mail while his bored constituents yawned, left to go eat lunch, then returned to give him the temporary victory.

Earlier in the week, the Senate approved measures to:

—Authorize school districts to excuse students of all faiths on holy days but count the students present for state funding purposes.

—Outlaw sport dogfighting for betting or entertainment.

—Allow the Texas Motor Vehicle Commission to order new car dealers and manufacturers to replace "lemon" vehicles or refund the purchase price.

—Penalize persons giving false residence information or establish guardianships so school-aged children can switch public schools.

The House

The House approved legislation which would:

—Set up a "workfare" program for recipients of state welfare benefits.

—Allow Texas voters to decide whether to issue $500 million in bonds for low-interest loans to farmers and ranchers.

—Make the unofficial counting of votes in statewide elections a duty of the secretary of state, replacing the private Texas Election Bureau.

Hart, Mondale

Two Democratic presidential hopefuls separately addressed joint sessions of the Legislature last week, getting mostly yawns on both occasions. Colorado U.S. Sen. Gary Hart called on legislators to rethink opponents, not outspend them, just after he met with the governor and minority caucus members. Former Vice President Walter Mondale, speaking two days later, vowed greater support to education and science.

Mondale touched a little closer to home by asking legislators to increase education funding, but he drew the line on telling Texans to raise taxes for teachers salaries.

He blamed the state's revenue woes on the policies of President Ronald Reagan.

When Our Trees Go Down In Flames, Our Dollars Go Up In Smoke.
Southern forests are more than homes for our wild-life and playgrounds for our people. They play a major role in our economy. When our forests burn—by accident or arson—jobs and money are lost. And prices go up on the thousands of items made from wood and paper. With these print materials, you can help make people more aware of how valuable these forests are to all who live here. You can help stop Southern forest fires. Just spread the word—when our trees go down in flames, our dollars go up in smoke.

Air Force Gets Media Ready

By Gary Slade
Staff Writer

ABILENE-In the process of getting ready for a trip to San Antonio to spend a day at the air force base, with other invited media, step one had to be passed.

That step was to go to Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene Monday and have a physical examination.

Well that is all fine and good except for one thing—this was going to be a military exam and like anything else the government does it can not be simple, it cannot be quick and it has to have the paper work to go with it.

After arriving at the base hospital a little before sunrise our media group was asked to fill out the necessary forms, sign them, date them and then go to blood clinic so a blood test could be given.

After waiting in line for over an hour we were given our test and sent upstairs for blood pressure, height, weight and more paper work. This seemed kind of backwards because why should they take our blood pressure after they just drew it all out?

After filling out the second set of forms we were sent to another room for more questions, more forms. Finally an examination was held after waiting in line again.

After the exam we filled out the final form, signed it and dated it before being sent to X-Ray.

X-Ray turned out to be the final part of the examination for the long morning and again, it too, had its share of waiting for your name to be called.

Our group of media representatives then left the base waiting now for what should be an exciting Friday when we go to San Antonio for a test in a pilot's test chamber and a flight on an Air Force bomber.

Cancer Answer Line

American Cancer Society

Question: Is chemotherapy replacing surgery and radiation in the treatment of cancer?

ANSWERline: At present surgery and radiation are the methods most often used in treating cancer. Chemotherapy ranks third. In some cancers all three of these are used. A fourth method under intense investigation is immunotherapy. In this method, attempts are being made to stimulate the body's complex self-defense system, so that it will recognize and reject a foreign substance, such as cancer. Immunotherapy is producing good results in some cases of melanoma, and is being tested on a variety of other cancers including leukemia and breast cancer. Much more work is needed for immunotherapy to become a major cancer treatment.

Requests For Lower Transportation Rates Approved

AUSTIN, Texas--The Railroad Commission has approved contract amendments sought by natural gas pipeline companies in the state which will lower gas transportation costs to other companies. Commission approval of contract offered by Red River Pipeline to Intratex Gas Co. will mean lower costs for gas that may be resold to Houston Pipe Line

Co., Westar, and Junction Natural Gas Co. The decrease in rates will, in turn, affect downstream city gate rates. The city gate is the delivery point at which a city distribution system receives gas from its supplier. With the change, Red River's annual revenues will decrease by approximately $3,402,460. The contract amendment will allow Red River to reduce the rates charged for the transportation of gas from 48.6 cents per Mcf (thousand cubic feet) to 20 cents per Mcf for a two-year period. The Commission also approved a contract amendment proposed by Winnie Pipeline Co. for the transportation of gas delivered by Winnie To Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. for Lone Star Gas Co.

The rate will decrease from $.1825 per Mcf to $.15 per Mcf for gas transported on and after April 1, 1983. However, the rate change will have no effect on Lone Star's bills for city gate deliveries or any of its bills to transmission pipeline buying gas from Lone Star.

RRC Chairman Lists February Production

AUSTIN, Texas--Texas crude oil production totaled 66,316,416 barrels in February, according to Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace.

The figure compares with reported January production totaling 74,517,565 barrels and February 1982 production of 67,399,418 barrels. Texas oil production averaged 2,368,444 barrels daily in February, down from 2,403,792 barrels daily in January and down from 2,407,122 barrels daily in February 1982.

The February production allowable totaled 84,742,341 barrels. The preliminary February summary indicated Texas oil production was 21.7 percent under the allowable for the month.

Drilling Away

Eastland County continues to prosper from increased oil field activity. Drilling can be seen throughout the entire county, including this rig south of Eastland.

Oil Facts

Crude oil reserves have declined 7 billion barrels (46%) from 1951 high.

Texas used more natural gas last year than any other state, including about 60% of the gas it produced.

In 1980, Texas' natural gas was consumed accordingly: 47% by electric utilities; 41% by industries; 6.5% by residences; and 4.2% by commercial customers.

About 1.43 trillion cubic feet of natural gas was consumed in 1980 in Texas to generate electricity.

Wellhead value of Texas gas in 1981 was $12 billion, with an average price of $1.79 per 1000 cubic feet.

Many Good And Sincere Individuals

...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.
