

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

IF YOU MISSED Tuesday night's band concert presented in the Cisco High School auditorium, then you missed quite a concert. The sixth grade and beginner's band started off the program, which also featured CHS's stage band, the Junior High band and the High School band.

All the bands played very well and everyone can be proud of the fine music program available at our public schools.

Band instructor Al Young apparently does an excellent job in teaching Cisco youth how to express their musical ability.

ANOTHER ABILITY witnessed in Cisco public schools this week was in a class play performed by Miss Hobbs' fifth grade class at Intermediate School.

The students of that class performed two plays Wednesday which members of the class wrote, directed and performed.

Congratulations on the fine performances.

IT IS NOT too late to get a congratulatory advertisement in the annual graduation edition of the newspaper, if you call our office before Wednesday noon. Our annual edition will be distributed in the May 22nd edition.

CISCO GIRL Scouts are in dire need of your help. They desperately need adult leadership and people who are willing to accept responsible positions in the organization.

Unless they receive such help, they may no longer exist in Cisco, according to an announcement made by Lloyd McGrew at the annual Girl Scout banquet here Thursday night. A story appears elsewhere in this edition.

NEXT SATURDAY Cisco merchants will be holding a retail trade day sidewalk sale. Watch for advertisements in Thursday's edition of The Cisco Press.

Trial Is Set For Youth In Slugging

The 16-year old Cisco youth who slugged a woman April 27 at her home in Cisco will face aggravated assault charges in 91st District Court at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 18, officials reported Friday.

District Attorney Emory Walton said that if he is found guilty as charged the youth could be sentenced to a state school. He will be tried before Judge Jim Wright. Leslie Vance of Eastland is his attorney. The youth has been free since April 29 when he was released to the custody of his parents.

The assault charges were filed after the youth entered the home of Mrs. W.D. Peavy, 1200 Avenue A, on the pretext of using her telephone. He demanded money and her car and slugged her with a hammer when she hesitated, the charge alleged. Mrs. Peavy suffered head and shoulder injuries in the incident.

JUDGE JIM WRIGHT

District Judge Jim R. Wright will be the guest speaker at the annual CISCO ROTARY CLUB CITIZENSHIP AWARDS LUNCHEON to be held at the Colony Restaurant on Thursday, May 19. The occasion will honor Kendall Anderson and Lezlea Hull, Cisco High School graduating seniors who were chosen as the club's 1983 recipients of awards for good citizenship.

Judge Wright, one of state's younger jurists, is a native of Eastland. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. James T. Wright of that city. Mr. Wright is married to the former Shelia Sneed, also an Eastland native. They have three children—Kevin, age 17, Vicki, age 13, and Kristi, age 4.

Judge Wright graduated from Eastland High School in 1964. He earned a B.B.A. degree from North Texas University in 1969. He then went on to Texas Tech University, where he attended the university's School of Law and graduated with high honors in 1971. He was admitted to the State Bar of Texas in April, 1972.

While in law school, Mr. Wright worked for the Lubbock law firm of Wagonseller and Cobb. He began private practice in Eastland in July of 1972, and he later served as City Attorney for Eastland while in private practice. He is currently serving as Judge, 91st District Court of Eastland County, Texas. He is also currently serving on the District 14 Committee on Admissions to the State Bar of Texas.

"If you are friends of the Andersons, Hulls, or Wrights, you are given a very special invitation to attend the luncheon," the mayor stated, "and we'll be glad to have anyone and everyone who would like to be with us." He concluded, "Just come out to the Colony at noon on Thursday, go through the serving line, and join us in the meeting room." Price of the luncheon will be the Colony's prevailing buffet rate.

Hiring Of Cage Coach Is Approved By CJC Regents

Employment of a men's basketball coach and a counsellor and the purchase of a new equipment for the cosmetology department were agenda items approved by the board of regents of Cisco Junior College at their monthly meeting last Monday night.

Dan Montgomery, Austin, was hired as basketball coach to take the place of Tom Collins, who has resigned to accept a senior college position in Houston. Mr. Montgomery, 43, has been athletic director and basketball coach at St. Edward's University in Austin for the past five years. He will assume duties here June 1st.

Miss Rose Sarzoza was employed to be the counsellor and will move here from Uvalde where she has headed an Upward Bound Project at Southwest Texas Junior College for the past three years. She will replace Mrs. Diana Frailey who resigned last fall.

Mr. Montgomery, married with one child, is a native of Fairfield. He is a graduate of Navarro Junior College and holds BS and MS degrees from Sam Houston State University. He was in high school coaching for 20 years before going to St. Edwards. He has a 168-36 won-lost record at St. Edwards and a 446-180 record since starting his basketball coaching career.

Mr. Montgomery became available for employment here when St. Edwards University decided to do away with its sports program as an economy measure.

Miss Sarzoza is a graduate of Southwest Texas Junior College and holds MA and BA degree from Sul Ross State University. She is a native of Sabinal and plans to begin work in Cisco on August 1st.

The board approved the purchase of new equipment for cosmetology in the amount of $10,800. It will enable the department to expand its laboratory facilities, according to Dr. Norman Wallace, CJC president.

The board also approved plans to discontinue the building trades program for the coming year due to lack of interest, Dr. Wallace said.

New Motions Filed In Lundstrom Case

A number of motions, including one asking for a change in venue, were filed Thursday by the defense for May 19th pre-trial hearing in 91st District Court of Eastland County in the matter of the State of Texas vs. Loyal Lundstrom.

This will be the second pre-trial hearing for Lundstrom, 59, of Cisco who faces murder charges in the March 3rd shotgun death of his wife, Doris, at their Cisco Motel apartment. He has been free under $100,000 bond since he surrendered to Cisco police 11 days after the shooting.

Defense Attorney Bill Hart told this newspaper that the new motions include the following:

- 1. A motion asking for a change in venue.
- 2. A motion to suppress evidence not obtained in the initial investigation.
- 3. A motion to suppress use of communications between a clergyman and a member of his congregation.
- 4. A motion directing the state not to refer to any previous trials in which the defendant may have appeared where was no final conviction.

Mr. Hart said that in the motion for change of venue he was asking that the trial be moved from Eastland County because he was convinced that his client could not receive a fair trial in the 91st Court due to extensive publicity about the case.

District Attorney Emory Walton said that he would oppose a change of venue. His office has talked with people in all parts of Eastland County, he said, and "we are convinced that Lundstrom can receive a fair trial."

The district attorney said that "people everywhere told us that they have read about the case but would be willing to listen to the evidence before rendering a verdict."

The other motions being the defense were referring in part to newspaper reports that Lundstrom was convicted in Crow Wing County, Minn., in 1968 in the death of his first wife. His 18 month prison sentence was later overturned on a technicality.

Mr. Hart said the state still hadn't turned over to them copies of an autopsy report. Mr. Walton said the Dallas lab that conducted an autopsy on the body of Mrs. Lundstrom still had not sent a final report to his office or to Cisco police.

Judge Wright will decide on the new motions after the May 19th hearing. The defense has asked for a speedy trial.

Council Commends Work At Cemetery

A resolution of appreciation to the Cisco Cemetery Association for their work at Oakwood Cemetery was passed by the City Council at the regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday night at City Hall. The resolution was adopted following a report by President Anton White of the cemetery association on activities for the past year.

In other action, the Council passed on second and final reading an ordinance prohibiting the consumption and possession of alcoholic beverages on public lands and parks. An ordinance amending and updating the City Plumbing Code was also approved on second and final reading.

In introducing the resolution commending the cemetery association, Mayor Eris Ritchie noted that "this is an effort to express our very sincere appreciation to the association and its officials for an outstanding contribution to community beautification."

Councilman Brad Kimbrough said that Oakwood Cemetery was unique among burial grounds for its excellent condition.

President White, in his annual report, said the association has passed its goal of $100,000 in trust fund money for perpetual care purposes and that a new goal of $200,000 has been set due to increasing expenses. He said that records show that at least 80 per cent of gifts to the perpetual care trust fund have come from out-of-town persons with loved ones buried in the cemetery.

Mr. White's report showed that new water lines have been installed and more than 500 tombstones have been leveled during the past year. He added that over 5,000 graves are located in the cemetery and that records are now complete as to locations.

The cemetery has sufficient land for another 50 years, Mr. White said. Long range plans, he added, include a chain length fence for the new section of the cemetery. "Community and city cooperation has been good," Mr. White said.

The ordinance to prohibit alcohol consumption at Lake Cisco and in city parks was "deemed necessary to regulate activities and promote orderly conduct," the measure said. "It is deemed inappropriate, dangerous and a definite public nuisance to mix lake recreational activities with the consumption of alcoholic beverages and it creates an unacceptable liability for the City of Cisco."

The ordinance covers public areas of Lake Cisco, Williamson Dam, Lake Cisco Park and City Park in town. The measure covers open containers of alcoholic beverages. City police and lake patrolmen were authorized to enforce the ordinance, which provides for penalties of up to $200 for violation.

The City Plumbing Code amendment provides for inspection fees of $10 for the first two trips by the city inspector if labor and materials are furnished or $25 if not furnished. Re-inspections will be $7.50 or $15. Minimum grades for plastic pipe in sewer lines were also set.

Closing of East 7th Street from Hilton Avenue to the old railroad was authorized from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, May 21, when the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Retail Trade Day. The event will include a sidewalk sale, a Little Miss Cisco Pageant and other activities.

During a brief citizen-council discussion period, the city agreed to make efforts to stop bottle breaking at City Park.

Present were Mayor Ritchie and Councilmen Kimbrough, Linton Batteas and Bobby Rains, City Manager Mike Moore and City Secretary Ginger Johnson.

When Our Trees Go Down In Flames, Our Dollars Go Up In Smoke.
Southern forests are more than homes for our wild life and playgrounds for our people. They play a major role in our economy. When our forests burn - by accident or arson - jobs and money are lost. And prices go up on the thousands of items made from wood and paper. With these print materials, you can help make people more aware of how valuable these forests are to all who live here. You can help stop Southern forest fires. Just spread the word - when our trees go down in flames, our dollars go up in smoke.

Real Estate Consumer

David S. Jones

The Real Estate Consumer is brought to you as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to: The Real Estate Consumer, Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2115.

If you have ever been confused regarding terminology used in appraisal or investment, then a new publication from the Texas Real Estate Research Center is for you.

The Glossary of Appraisal and Investment Terms is authored by Dr. Jack Friedman, head of the research center's staff, and Dr. Nicholas Ordway of Department of Finance and Real Estate at the University of Texas at Arlington.

More than 500 appraisal and investment terms are defined in the 20-page booklet. Definitions cover everything from Triple-A Tenant—that's a tenant who is given the highest credit rating and is considered the least risky—to zoning—the police power that allows for legislation division of space. For your glossary, send $1 to the Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, 77843-2115, and ask for publication number 374.

SECURITY DEPOSITS CAN CAUSE PROBLEMS

Security deposit refunds can be a major source of conflict between tenants and apartment managers.

To get a full security deposit refund, a tenant must give written notice before vacating a rental unit. A tenant must also occupy the unit for the full term of the lease, make all rental payments and leave the premises in a clean condition.

A tenant cannot deduct the amount of the security deposit from the last month's rent. If this happens, a tenant can be sued for three times the amount of the deposit, plus attorney's fees.

Within 30 days of move-out, however, the security deposit must be refunded with an itemized description of withholdings. If a tenant doesn't receive a refund or explanation within the 30-day period, he or she may sue for three times the amount illegally held, plus attorney's fees and a $100 fine.

Leases can vary. Consult your written lease for specific terms.

SEWAGE BY THE SEA

Septic systems can cause a lot of headaches for homeowners along the Texas coast.

That's because traditional septic systems will not always work in coastal areas. Tightly packed clays or high water tables will not let effluent drain through the soil. If waste water can not go down, it comes up—resulting in seepage which may pollute nearby streams and estuaries, in addition to causing problems for homeowners whose toilets will not work.

Researchers have discovered, however, that septic tanks are more effective if effluent is released into the soil in small, controlled amounts. Such an alternative septic system is in operation at Quintana Beach Park in Brazoria County. The modified system uses water-conserving plumbing and a low-pressure-pipe soil absorption system. It may be worth noting, however, that when compared with the old system, this new system requires more maintenance.

REASONS FOR BUYING HOME VARY

In 1981, more than $7 billion were spent for homes in Texas, based on Multiple Listing Service data for the state.

Reasons for buying a home depend on several factors. The primary incentive for purchasing a home seems to be the tax and investment advantages of home ownership. Job-related factors are apparently important to long-distance movers to the state.

Based on a Texas Real Estate Research Center survey, other reasons for purchasing a home which were thought to be important—such as the desire to improve one's housing status—are less significant in today's market. The survey indicates that the intrinsic value of home ownership is outweighed, in many cases, by the investment potential of the home.

But whatever the reasons for buying a home, the goal of home ownership is still one which has a high priority among many Texans.

DESIGN, ENERGY-EFFICIENCY CONCERN HOMEBUYERS

Buyers of homes in Texas last year were particularly concerned about the design of their dwelling, insulation and other energy-saving characteristics.

Access to places of work and shopping were not viewed as especially salient factors, according to a Texas Real Estate Research Center survey. Buyers of new homes considered energy efficiency to be more important than did buyers of older homes.

Repeat buyers—those purchasing a home for a second or subsequent time—were more conscious of energy efficiency in the decision to buy a home than were individuals buying a home for the first time. Homebuyers in Texas, especially those purchasing newly constructed units, are paying attention to a wide variety of energy-related characteristics in their decision to buy a specific home, and this of course affects the state's housing market.

House Of Representatives

Jim Parker-District 05

This past week has been the most difficult and frustrating week of the Session for me because of the action of the House in regard to the Appropriations bill. Of course, the Appropriations bill is the legislation that dictates the spending of state dollars over the biennium.

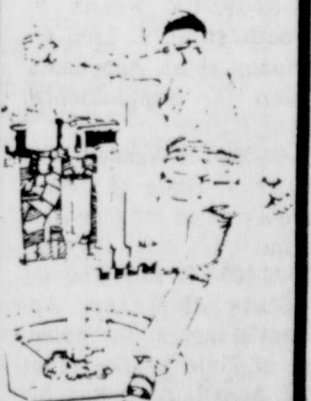

The bill that was passed was totally unpalatable to me for several reasons, all of which I think are valid. In the first place, the bill, and the solvency thereof, is predicated upon three items, at least, that may or may not actually come into being. The items are the $220M amount derived from a reduction in the state's contribution to the Teacher Retirement System, (I have supported reduction if the funds generated would be used in the education field.); the "speed up" of tax collections by the Comptroller; and passage of Senator Leedom's bills increasing fees to users of state services. As I say, none of these enumerated matters may come to pass and I think it is bad business for the State of Texas to spend money they may get.

Another good and sufficient reason for opposition to the Appropriations bill is the fact that because of the change in the local fund assignment formula, local school districts, statewide, will have to make up an additional $122M out of the only source they can, ad valorem taxes. I cannot for the life of me see why 82 members voted for such a measure, realizing the outcome, but can only conclude that they either did not know what effect it would have or did not care. In spite of the efforts of 50 of us who voted against the Appropriations bill, I fear most members simply did not know what they were doing.

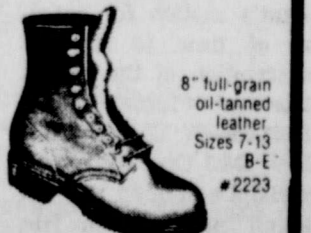

Finally, the Appropriations bill simply is not adequate to meet the needs of the state. It is much like a good, conscientious carpenter who is asked to build a house but is only given three-fourths enough lumber. He can conceivably build the house but, regardless of how skilled he may be, he cannot do the job he was commissioned to do in a satisfactory manner.

USAF Altitude Chamber Breathtaking Experience

By Gary Slade
Staff Writer

BROOKS AIR FORCE BASE, TEXAS—Several area news media people were invited to go to Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas last weekend to experience and observe the altitude chamber.

The chamber is a part of the preparation that all of the air force pilots go through before being turned loose in the real thing and gives the person a chance to experience hypoxia.

It all started last Thursday evening when the media people (newspaper, radio and television) assembled at the main gate of Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene.

Once everyone had checked in we loaded our gear into the van we would make the trip in and were soon on our way.

Sargent Ralph Hogan of Abilene was our driver and told us what to expect once we got to the altitude chamber.

Everything went fine until we reached downtown

Brady. For some strange reason our van died at the red light and a puzzled look came over Hogan's face.

At about 8:30 p.m. the owner of Lane's Auto in downtown Brady came out of his building and asked if he could help us. That he did as he gave us a jump start which would allow us to go to a gas station on the south side to get gas and find out what the problem was. The problem was the our van had a bad alternator thus leaving us stranded in Brady until motor pool from Dyess could arrive.

Arrive they did—four and one-half hours later (it's a two hour drive) with a new van and a wrecker.

By 2:00 a.m. we were on our way again and bad feeling was going through not only the Sargent but the media as well.

We arrived in San Antonio about 5:00 a.m. Friday morning and got to Brooks Air Force Base at 5:30 a.m.

We were scheduled to arrive at the base at 10:00 p.m. Thursday, have a nice sleep in our reserved rooms, and then go to the altitude chamber at 7:00 a.m.

We still did all of that but you can leave out the rest and sleep part. We did go to our rooms long enough to take a shower and get refreshed a bit.

We then met back at the van to go to the altitude chamber.

Once there we went through a classroom course during the morning where we learned about the dangers of going up in high altitudes and what to do about those dangers.

Major Ernest C. Treubig of Brooks Air Force Base gave the lecture along with going over the slide and film presentation.

After breaking for lunch we returned that afternoon for the real thing.

Air Force personnel helped us get fitted with helmets and masks so that we could begin phase one of the test.

Phase one was to simulate us going up to a height of 8,000 feet then up to 22,000 feet before going through what is known as rapid decompression. That is where you are at 22,000 feet and the operators of the chamber drop you to 8,000 and then back to ground level all in a span of three seconds.

This is an experience all its own as words cannot begin to describe the feeling of breathlessness, tingling, and the headaches that overcame us.

Some survived this phase and went on to step two and other did not.

Step two simulated what is known as a main flight. Media persons were to stay in the chamber for 30 minutes breathing pure oxygen before the actual test began.

Step two then started by taking media persons to 18,000 feet, then to 25,000 feet and finally up to 35,000 feet.

Once again they brought the media back down in a hurry to 25,000 feet to experience what is known as hypoxia.

Hypoxia is the impairment of body functions caused by an oxygen deficiency at the lung, blood, and or cell level.

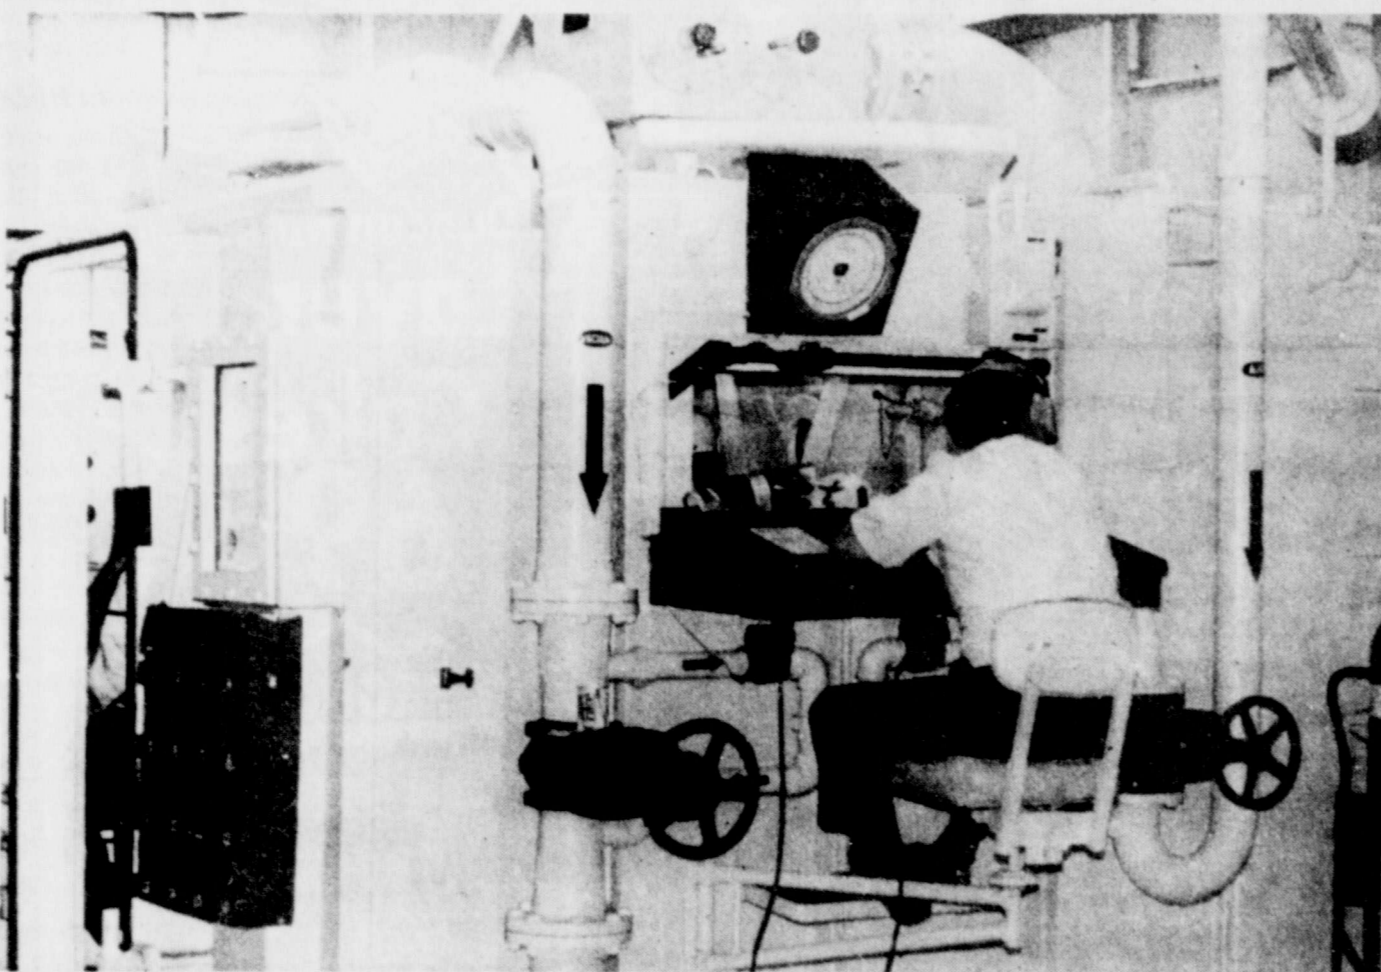

While each person was able to experience something different under hypoxia the general conclusion was that it did slow the thinking process down and in some cases almost brought it to a complete stop.

Speech was also affected. Media were then brought the rest of the way back down to ground level to end the test.

We then assembled back in the classroom to ask questions about the two part test and to tell others about what was experienced.

We then loaded back into the van to make the long trip back to Abilene where we arrived a little after midnight—all without sleep.

Time For A Check-Up

Now, before the hot summer weather arrives, is the time for an annual physical for your air-conditioning system, suggests the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute (ARI).

If you have a service contract, you're probably already on your contractor's list for a periodic checkup of your cooling system. However if your air-conditioner hasn't been tuned up for a year or more, a maintenance call is indicated. It could help avert a more costly service call later. Equipment that is in top running condition operates more smoothly and uses less energy, according to ARI.

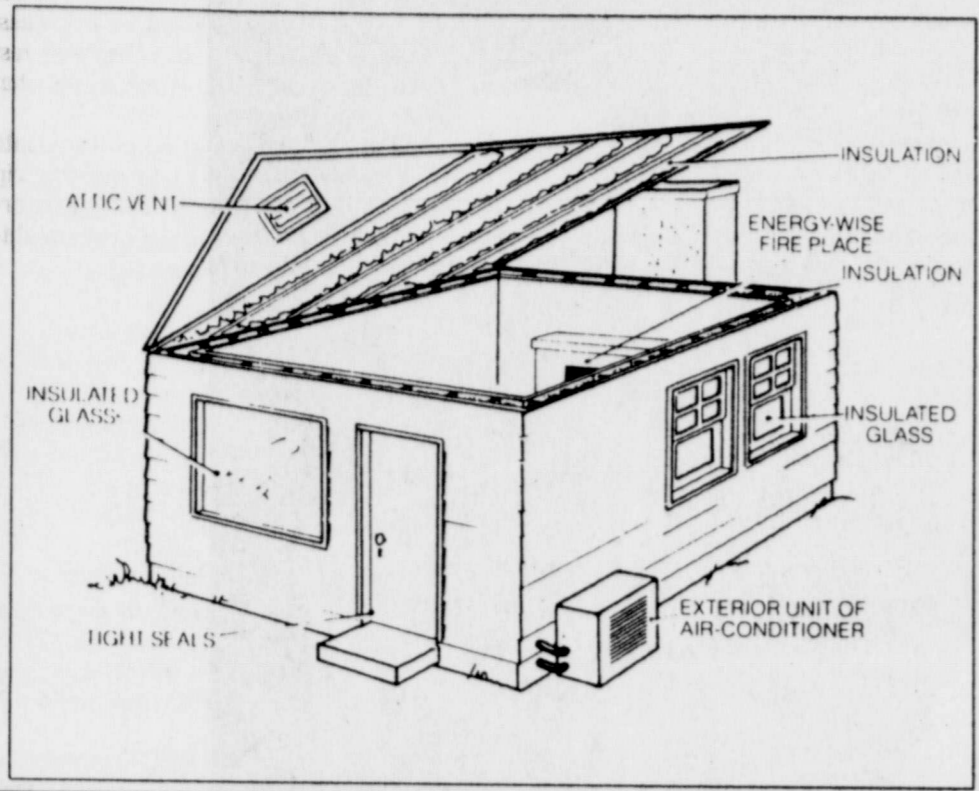

Your contractor should provide the following services in at least one yearly maintenance call, says ARI:

- Check the level of the refrigerant.
- Oil the fans and motor on the condensing unit and inside the evaporation unit.
- Clean the condenser.
- Clean and replace air filters.

- Test all electrical switches and contacts.
- Test the accuracy of the thermostat.

Between maintenance calls, you can cut down on costly service calls by doing the following:

- Change or clean the air filters frequently. Don't let them become clogged with dirt and dust. Disposable filters should be replaced; permanent filters can be cleaned with soapy water and hosed off.
- Set your thermostat at the highest comfort level and leave it there; don't keep changing the setting, as this puts extra demands on the system. During a heat wave, try to maintain a modest difference of no more than 15-20 degrees between indoor and outdoor temperatures.

Spring Is Time To Think Cool

After a long winter, the last thing many homeowners feel like doing is thinking cool. But right now is the best time to do it, says the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute — especially if you have decided to have your home centrally air-conditioned or to replace your existing system.

Buying a unitary (whole-house) air-conditioner is a big investment, and it makes sense to make it in the spring — when you may be able to take advantage of pre-season rates, and before the weather heats up. Your local air-conditioning contractors will have more time to look over your house and advise you on equipment in the spring than in the middle of August heat waves.

How can you get the best buy—the most "cool" for your money? Here are some shopping tips from the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute:

- Get more than one bid on installation. Before making a bid, the contractor should visit your home in order to calculate its cooling requirements. The contractor should also look at your furnace and duct system to determine how easily air-conditioning can be added. Most newer homes are designed to accept air-conditioning; however, an old house may need adjustments in duct sizes and distribution.
- Compare bids carefully. Note whether they are for equipment with the same cooling capacity. Find out what kind of warranties cover the equipment. Be sure you understand the reason for any significant differences in cost.
- Consider equipment efficiency. A high-efficiency air-conditioner unit may cost more than a standard unit. However, the added cost will be offset in a few year's time by savings on your cooling bills. Some contractors offer computer services that can estimate "pay-back," or the length of time it will take for the added cost of efficient equipment to repay you in energy savings.
- Specify certified equipment. Most central air-conditioners are certified for performance and capacity ratings under a product certification program run by the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute. If the model you are purchasing is listed in your contractor's ARI Directory of Certified Unitary Equipment, that means it meets industry performance and rating standards.
- Ask your local utility about rebates on high-efficiency air-conditioners. Many utilities are adopting incentive programs designed to cut down on their summer "peak demand."

A&M Research Results In Effective Ant Baits

More effective fire ant baits may result from research by entomologists at Texas A&M University.

"We have found that the preferred bait particle for the fire ant is composed of a 30-to-40 mesh particle and contains 30% soybean oil by weight," according to Dr. Bradleigh Vinson, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

"We also found that an edible protein particle of the above specifications is preferentially fed to the queen and larvae of the colony, while baits presently in use are first fed upon by the workers.

"This is a key factor in effective colony control and this new information should alter the current standards for fire and bait production."

As stated, the bait form most readily accepted in the laboratory and the field was composed of 20-to-40 mesh particles which contained 30% (weight/weight) once-refined soybean oil.

This bait was dyed and presented to ants in the laboratory. Larvae became dyed within one hour, queens within three hours, and workers after five hours, proving that larvae and queens were fed the bait before workers.

By contrast, an inedible bait formulated from 20-to-40 mesh pregel corn grits and 30% (wt./wt.) dyed soybean oil was also tested in the laboratory. Workers became dyed within one hour, larvae after four hours and queens after 12 hours.

The explanation for this, discovered in previous research by Vinson and other scientists, seems to be that oil in baits of inedible carriers is often consumed by foraging workers in the field and therefore is returned to the colony at a slow rate. Vinson suggests that workers may predigest oils.

Vinson and Dr. Ann Sorenson found that 70% of the oil fed to the colonies is distributed to workers while 80% of the protein (egg yolk) fed to the colonies is distributed to the larvae and queen.

Earlier research by Vinson and others showed that workers fed solid protein directly to the larvae, instead of consuming it themselves.

Gordon Spot County Extension Agent

DeMarquis Gordon

The news media recently carried some potentially alarming information about deaths in Texas attributed to Rocky Mountain spotted fever (RMSF) also known as tick-borne typhus. This disease is transmitted to humans by certain tick species, which also have been reported from throughout the state in unusually high numbers this spring. Evidently, the mild winter experienced in many parts of Texas has favored the survival of ticks.

The incidence of RMSF appears to be on the rise. The number of cases has increased in Texas from 22 in 1979 to 45 in 1981 to 64 in 1982. Already in 1983, 3 cases have been reported, 2 of them resulting in deaths. There has been a gradual increase of RMSF in the United States with 1,115 cases reported in 1977, accompanied by a shift in geographical distribution of the disease to the South Atlantic states. Despite the strong regional localization of RMSF, its distribution is fairly extensive with cases reported in 39 of the 42 states in 1976.

The RMSF pathogen is a microscopic organism. This organism is a rickettsia, which are classified and intermediate between bacteria and viruses. Rodents and other wild animals serve as a reservoir for the rickettsia. The rickettsia is transmitted among rodents and other animals by ticks. Should a tick that has fed on an infected animal later feed on man, then the pathogen could be transmitted to that person. Also, when grooming dogs and removing ticks, always avoid touching the tick with your bare hands. If an infected tick is crushed between the fingernails, the rickettsia may enter through a cut or abrasion.

Symptoms of spotted fever develop 2 to 14 days after contact with an infected tick. The first symptoms are the sudden onset of headache, fever and aching muscles. If these symptoms occur within 2 weeks of a tick contact, you should seek immediate attention. Indicate to your physician if you have been bitten by ticks, or had to remove one from your body.

Treatment during the early symptom stage averts serious illness or complications. A rash, hence the name "spotted fever", develops 2 to 3 days after the fever starts, beginning at the wrists and ankles spreading to the palms and soles and to the trunk of the body.

There are at least 2 species of ticks in Texas known to transmit the pathogen of this disease to humans. The principal vector is the American dog tick, but the Lone Star tick, can also transmit RMSF to man.

Always remove the tick with its mouthparts intact. Hasty removal of an attached tick can break off the mouthparts, which left in the skin can transmit disease organisms or cause secondary infections. Touching the tick with a hot needle or a few drops of camphor, alcohol, turpentine, kerosene or chloroform may or may not facilitate removal. Sometimes the best method is to grasp the tick firmly with tweezers or fingers and remove it with a slow steady pull. Wear gloves to avoid touching the tick with your bare hands. Always treat the wound with a germicidal agent.

When outdoors for extended periods of time, use commercially-available insect repellents. Apply as directed, but be sure to cover shoes, socks, and pant legs. Most repellents are effective, but only for short periods of time. Several applications may be necessary, depending upon how long a person will be outdoors and the type of activity in which they are involved.

Deaths In Texas Attributed To Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever

Letter To The Editor

Congratulations are in order for Gov. Mark White, Sen. Ted Lyon of Rockwall and Rep. Fred Agnich for their successful efforts in passage of the Texas Wildlife Conservation Act of 1983.

Not to be forgotten is Texas for Wildlife Conservation, whose members include the more than 800 sportsmen's clubs in Texas. The group was formed to promote passage of the act, which would not have been possible without their devotion and sacrifice of time and energy.

The act gives the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department statewide authority for wildlife management and eliminates locally specialized wildlife laws previously in effect in 116 Texas counties. The Texas Wildlife Conservation Act at last enables the Parks and Wildlife Department to manage our state's wildlife resources on a scientific basis statewide.

Generations to come of outdoor enthusiasts and sportsmen truly owe Governor White, Senator Lyon, Representative Agnich and Texans for Wildlife Conservation a debt of thanks.

Sincerely,
Vice Chairman
Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission

County Agent To Hold Field Demonstration

Livestock owners who have problems with coyotes destroying livestock are encouraged to field demonstration and meeting Tuesday, May 17. County Agent DeMarquis Gordon says the demonstration will be on Cowan Hutton's place near Sabanno and will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Two members of the Texas Rodent and Predatory Animal Control Service will demonstrate methods other stockmen may use to control predator animals on their land. They will give training on setting traps, snares and other devices.

To reach the Hutton farm go to Sabanno on Highway 569. Turn east on county road at the Sabanno Church and continue for 1 1/4 miles, then turn south and go 1/2 mile to the Hutton farm. Sabanno is located in the Southwest part of Eastland County.

Gordon says coyotes continue to cause economic loss to stockmen in Eastland County. Livestock owners can reduce this damage by learning how to trap and control coyotes and other predators on their own place.

The demonstration and training will end by noon. Everyone is welcome to come.

POSITIVE SELLING Vs. NEGATIVE HAGGLING

Don't become another victim of negative haggling. Have you noticed how people haggle over the price and try to talk you down when you have something to sell? There is a better way.

Let me sell your items by auction. We're the pros at talking your things up.

A public auction is positive selling at its best. I'll list your items and advertise them properly so crowds of interested people will come to bid.

And when I conduct the bidding the prices increase for you. More bids mean more money for you. It's as simple as that.

I work quickly and can get cash for you right away. Avoid negative haggling by giving me a call now. You'll be pleased at the way my positive auction selling adds up to profits for you.

Remember, when it comes to buying or selling AUCTION'S BEST (sm).

Season Tickets Available For Roof Garden Theatre

For the first time season tickets are available for the summer season at the Roof Garden Dinner Theatre in Cisco. Season tickets entitle the holder to preferential seating as well as significant savings. Season tickets are being sold for $32 while individual ticket prices will be $12 for the plays and $12.50 for the musical. According to director Philip Craik, "This summer will be by far the most ambitious and entertaining to date."

Starting off with Deathtrap, by Ira Levine, theatre goers will be treated to one of the greatest popular successes of recent Broadway history, which offers a rare and skillful blending of gasp-inducing thrills and spontaneous laughter. Dealing with the devious doings of Sidney Bruhl, a writer of thrillers whose recent works have all been flops, and who is prepared to go to any lengths to improve his fortunes, it provides twists and turns and sudden shocks in such abundance that audiences are held spellbound until the very last moment.

Fiddler on the Roof by Joseph Stein, Jerry Brock and Sheldon Harnick is quite simply one of the finest and best loved musical plays ever written. Based on the Sholem Aleichem stories, the play centers around Tevye, a simple peasant dairyman, who along with his wife and daughters, comprise one of the hard-working families of the small town of Anatevka. Their lives are filled with simple joys of living guided by their ability to take adversity with gentle humor and an abiding faith in God.

Well-known songs from the score include "Matchmaker, Matchmaker", "If I Were a Rich Man", and "Sunrise, Sunset". Tartuffe by Moliere is one of the funniest and best known French farces. It is the story of a hypocrite named Tartuffe who manages through deception to gain control of his benefactor's estate. Not until the scoundrel makes advances on Orgon's wife does the master finally see the light and banish Tartuffe. Too late, it appears, for the villain has gained control of certain incriminating evidence and threatens to blackmail Orgon. Of course good triumphs in the end and evil is punished, but not before everyone has been treated to a thoroughly elegant evening of comedy.

Those interested in purchasing season tickets should send a check or money order to Cisco Junior College, Roof Garden Dinner Theatre, Cisco, Texas 76437.

For further information write to Cisco Junior College or call (817) 442-2567, extension 128.

AARP Will Sponsor Course In Driving

The AARP sponsored Driver Improvement course, termed, "Fifty-five Alive" will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 17 and 18, according to Cisco Chapter President Walter Knowlden. The course will be conducted by Charlie Garrett of Gorman, AARP certified instructor and will be held at the First Baptist Church in Cisco, 9th and Ave. E, beginning at 8:00 a.m. Cost is $7.00 per student.

The course endeavors to teach drivers to be more aware of traffic hazards and how to cope with them. On completion, students will receive a certificate which may be presented to their insurance companies for a discount on liability coverage.

Golf Tourney Is Planned Here

The annual Couple's Golf Tournament will be held at the Cisco Country Club May 21-22, according to an announcement this week. The event will be limited to the first 48 couples who pay entry fees of $60 per team, the announcement said.

The format calls for scramble play with team members hitting the ball from the best position each time. Harvey and Margaret Allen of Waco, the defending champions, plan to return to defend their title.

Plans call for a free practice round on Friday, May 20, with medal play beginning Saturday with a shotgun tee off at 1:30 p.m. unless the number of teams participating necessitates an earlier tee-off.

The Saturday program includes a 7 p.m. reception followed by dinner at 8 p.m. The entry fee will cover these events. Prizes will be cash.

Co-Chairmen for the event are Letha Stafford and Flo Robinson.

CJC Will Offer Driving Course

Petroleum Industry Underwrites Costs

By Avery Rush, Jr., Chairman, Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association

The Texas petroleum industry has been the greatest entity underwriting the cost of government and its services to the people of Texas through tax payments to governments at all levels, which include the state, cities, counties, and school districts. Today, the level of support — with one-year payments in excess of $4.7-billion — remains unparalleled. So does the need for it.

In Fiscal Year 1982, the industry paid $2.5-billion to the state in severance, franchise, and regulatory taxes; 28-percent of all state tax collections. In Calendar Year 1981, the industry supported local governments with $1.2-billion in property tax payments. This support of cities, counties, and school districts accounted for one-quarter of such collections statewide. Now, Bob Bullock, the state's comptroller, has released a report showing that 30-percent of Texas' sales tax collections — more than $1-billion — is linked directly or indirectly to the various parts of the petroleum industry. Direct payments account for $372-million, with indirect effects adding another $654-million.

These figures underscore the importance of the role of Texas' petroleum industry in the state's overall economic wellbeing. When the petroleum industry is healthy, the economy of Texas is healthy.

Unfortunately, the Texas petroleum industry has not escaped the effects of a general downturn in business activity throughout the industrialized world. As a result, it now flounders in a part of its business cycle characterized by more crude oil than the marketplace will accommodate, with accompanying lower prices and a resulting lack of enthusiasm by investors. These factors, combined with uncertainty over what the Congress will do about decontrolling natural gas prices and what OPEC plans for production levels and prices, have prompted a lessening of industry activity in Texas and elsewhere.

For example, rotary drilling rigs actually making hole in Texas during the first part of April totaled 704. This is down from 1,119 so engaged one year ago and 1,221 at the same time in 1981.

Despite these disquieting figures, oil men — efficient, experienced, dedicated oil men — remain committed and optimistic that the industry will recover. After all, you have to be a supreme optimist to be in this business in the first place.

That said, however, the fact remains that the petroleum industry could use help and understanding from the people of Texas. The one thing this industry does not need at this juncture is to have what little investment capital is available to finance exploration siphoned off through additional state taxes.

Many Good And Sincere Individuals
...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

Homemaking Hints County Extension Agent

Janet Thomas

Beautiful gardens are visible throughout Eastland County which means food preservation time is just around the corner!

Frozen fruits and vegetables spice year-round menus with garden-fresh flavor. But the nutritive value and quality of these fruits and vegetables depend largely on the treatment before freezing, storage temperature and method of cooking and serving.

Most fruit can be frozen satisfactorily.

Select sound, ripe fruit which is slightly riper than for canning but not soft or mushy. Tree or vine ripened fruits contain more vitamins and richer flavor than fruits picked green and allowed to ripen before freezing.

In general fruit is prepared for freezing as for eating.

Some fruits, such as peaches, apricots, apples and pears, discolor easily. Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) is available in tablet, crystalline or powdered form. Use 1/2 teaspoon of this per quart of syrup to prevent this discoloration.

If you don't want to pack the fruit in syrup, sprinkle dissolved ascorbic acid over fruit just before adding sugar. Use 1/2 teaspoon in 1/2 cup cold water to each quart of fruit.

Most fruits have better texture and flavor if packed in sugar or syrup. Some fruits may be packed without sweetening for use in special diets.

Quickly getting vegetables from the garden to the freezer is a must for top-quality frozen vegetables. During hot weather, harvest vegetables in the early morning before they absorb much heat.

In preparing vegetables for the freezer, heat the vegetables in boiling water before freezing. This is called blanching. The length of heating time varies with the vegetables. The heat kills enzyme action in the vegetable. Enzymes help the plants grow and mature but if not deactivated the vegetables will develop off flavors and often discolor or toughen during freezing.

Place the blanched vegetables immediately into ice water. When the product is cool throughout, then it is ready to pack for your freezer. Pack in airtight moisture-vapor-proof containers, leaving 1/2 inch headspace.

The Eastland County Extension Service office in the courthouse has a good supply of food preservation bulletins available to the public. These bulletins are free, and you may request them by calling me at 629-2222 or P.O. Box 189, Eastland 76448.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK:
The recipe I am featuring this week is from Dr. Al Wagner, who is a Food Technologist with the Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

BEEF PICKLES
3 quarts peeled, cooked small beets

2 cups sugar
2 cups water
2 cups vinegar
1 teaspoon whole cloves
1 teaspoon allspice
2 sticks cinnamon, broken into small pieces

Select small, young, tender beets. Cook until tender and skins slip easily. Dip in cold water. Slip off skins. Make syrup of sugar, water and vinegar; add spices in cheesecloth bag. Add beets and cook 10 minutes. Pack beets into hot jars. Add boiling syrup to within 1/2 inch of jar top. Close. Process in boiling water 20 minutes if whole, 5 minutes if sliced. Start to count processing time as soon as water returns to boiling.

Just a reminder, that the Extension Office is offering free a mailout Food Preservation series.

Lights From The Christian World

Josephine Cleveland

A writer, Neva Salsar, shared that their Citrus trees were obviously sick. The leaves were spotted. Bare limbs here and there attested the presence of disease. But every limb was covered with blossoms.

The horticulturist said, "These trees are dying." "That can't be. We gave these trees good care. We even mulched the trees well during the summer's heat," she protested.

Your mistake with these trees was misguided, excessive care! Citrus trees must never be mulched. Mulching conserves moisture, but moisture encourages fungus that kills the roots. You loved your trees to death. You should have let them suffer through the summer's heat. If you had, they would be strong, thriving trees now because their roots would have found underground water.

Have you wondered why you are being allowed by God to suffer? The Bible says, "Think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you; but rejoice, inasmuch as you are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, you may be glad also with exceeding joy." I Peter 4:12,13.

"But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto His eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that you have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you. To Him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen." I Peter 5:10, 11

Suffering, then, is not a cruel twist of fate. It is intended by God to perfect us and to prepare us to be of greater use here and for the greater glory of eternity with Him.

WOULD YOU like to have a United States Flag to fly in your front yard?

The local American Legion Post has on hand 12 lawn flags for sale at $20 each. They're complete with staff and an anchor that you can put in your yard so they'll stand up and fly right. The Legion Post also has gravemarker flags for 50 cents.

Mr. E.L. Jackson, finance officer, has the flags for sale. They're real nice.

THE ABILENE Reporter-News is being talked about in our town again. Last Tuesday morning they had a story about Cisco Police Chief Randy Whittle resigning. The story indicated that there had been trouble between Mr. Whittle and Sheriff Johnny Morren and DA Emory Walton. All three men deny the allegations and says there's no basis to speculate about any such thing. All of which should indicate that the RN had oughta check facts before printing. That's certainly the policy of this country newspaper.

The past two or three days, the RN has been leveling its front page guns at Rising Star. One of the ladies involved in the publicity is talking to lawyers. She says much of what's been printed just isn't true.

The RN is a good newspaper but its policy of looking for negative things to print about small towns in the region leaves something to be desired.

THE REST OF the story: You read here the other day about Mr. Frank Barrett of Thornton Feed Mill getting himself soaked in syrup from head to toe when a pipe leading from the syrup tank to the feed mixing machine broke and a two inch stream of syrup started shooting out.

After the damaged pipe was under control, they loaded Frank in the back of a pickup truck and drove him home. His wife Jo had been alerted and she met him outside, led him to the patio out back, had him strip off his syrupy clothes and hosed him down a bit before ushering him to the bath tub. Frank still hasn't recovered his appetite for syrup.

GLAD TO HEAR that Dr. C.M. Cleveland, who is on the mend from burns suffered in a fire several months ago, is doing nicely and expects to return to his office before long... Ann Adams, who lives on West 9th Street, found a silver dollar in her garden the other day. And it was minted in the same year Ann was born. A good omen, huh? They're cleaning paint and so forth off the exterior walls at the old Red Front Drug Store building. And a Coca-Cola sign is emerging. It was painted there years and years ago.

terior walls at the old Red Front Drug Store building. And a Coca-Cola sign is emerging. It was painted there years and years ago.

THEY HAD a good plan at the Hardin-Simmons University commencement that we attended a week ago. As graduating students walked across the stage to receive their diplomas from the college president, parents or relatives or close friends in the audience stood up...

Home from her freshman year at Southwest State University at San Marcos is Miss Sandra Nichols, daughter of the E.N. Nicholse. She'll return as a sophomore in the fall.

THEY'RE JUST about finished cleaning up the City Park Swimming Pool in preparation for opening the 1983 season on Saturday, May 28, with a free splash day, reports City Manager Mike Moore. Shirley Darr will manage the pool again this year and her staff will be announced soon.

Understand price of tickets will be the same as last year - $1 for adults and 50 cents for children accompanied by adults. Splash Day also will be held July 4th and on Labor Day. There will be an announcement soon about it all.

A DUMP TRUCK spilled a load of crushed rock and gravel in the Hilton Avenue block between 8th and 7th Streets last Tuesday morning. State Highway Department equipment, including a big sweeper, came to town to pick up the debris. There was quite a committee of sidewalk consultants during the operation, with Mr. John Webb as the ex-officio chairman.

JUSTICE OF THE Peace Carlton Holder, back home after a month in an Abilene hospital, was downtown Wednesday, waving to friends from the family car. Glad to see him up and out... Ditto for Mr. Marston Surles who underwent surgery over in Big D recently... The Mike Thibervilles recently moved to Mineral Wells... Danny Kent, member of the CHS coaching staff who recently resigned, has accepted a position at Early High School... The Ed Bradshaws got home late Wednesday after a visit with their daughter and family, the Robert Millers, in Plainview... Rainfall and light hail measuring about half an inch fell here our area during a thunderstorm last Tuesday afternoon late.

Could This Be Last Girl Scouts Here?

Could this be the last year of Girl Scouting in Cisco? That was a question posed by Lloyd McGrew of Cisco at Thursday night's annual Girl Scout banquet in the Corral Room.

Mr. McGrew explained that unless the Cisco Girl Scout organization is able to prove itself to the Girl Scout Council by the latter part of August, then the Council may have a hard time in considering allowing the Cisco organization to continue as part of the Council.

He stressed that Cisco's biggest problem in Scouting is leadership and the lack of it. He said more people are going to have to get involved in the Girl Scout program. "These young ladies count on and need you," he stressed.

Cisco's Girl Scouts will have to make a concentrated effort to recruit leadership in order to continue. Mr. McGrew stated the Cisco Scouts are in the middle of reorganization and several positions are open for adult leadership. He urged parents to become involved and he urged everyone to ask people to serve, if they seem qualified for the position and will be an asset to the Scouts. Another area where the Girl Scouts are going to need some help is in paying back money borrowed from the Council during the past three years. The local organization has had to operate on borrowed money and needs to repay it. Mr. McGrew said the girls need to sustain a drive to raise around $3,000 in order to just continue as Girl Scouts.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

Last week we discussed the warning of poisoned food from the result of home canning. We talked about the matter of identifying spoiled food that has been canned at home.

Briefly, we want to give a few pointers in how to prevent that wonderful food, that you took such good care of in the garden, from spoiling.

Be sure that the food is cooked in accordance with the directions of the cook book. Be sure that the bacteria has been killed by using sufficient time in cooking.

Be sure that the utensils and fruit cans (jars) are very, very clean. Sterilize them so all germs will be controlled. Finally, be sure the lids that you use, seal properly, and that you store in a cool place.

That good home-canned foods is the very best, take good care of it.

ceremony to officially make them Junior Girl Scouts.

All the scouting troops participated in a talent show, coordinated by Senior Troop 54, for the entertainment portion of the program.
