

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

I HOPE you had a happy and safe Labor Day weekend. It was certainly a pretty weekend (although a little hot at times). The clear skies made it perfect for getting work done which had been in the plans for awhile. I always enjoy a few days off to catch up on some things which I have been putting off because I "don't have the time" during the week. And as the name implies, labor is exactly what I did over the weekend.

seemed to shine during the first half of the game and also during the third quarter.

DeLeon was able to score against the Lobos in the final quarter of play, but they still did not rally back enough to catch up.

Cisco will be facing the Haskell Indians here this Friday night. Haskell had a big win over Jim Ned in their season opener Friday night, so they may be ready to really give the Lobos a test.

IF YOU MISSED the Lobo-Bearcats game in DeLeon Friday night, you missed a great game. Cisco really

CJC Signs

Two Players

Cisco Junior College Men's Basketball Coach Dan Montgomery has announced the signing of two additional players for the 1983-84 season:

Kevin Lilley--6'6" forward from Holliday. He averaged 14 points and 12 rebounds for his high school team. He was named first team All-District three times. He played in the THSCA high school all-star game this summer.

Steve Strickland--6'8" center from Arlington High School. He received honorable mention all-area and all city in 82-83. He was named to several all-tournament teams.

Wranglers Drop Opening Game, Will Play Tyler

The Cisco Junior College Wranglers, losing their season's opener to the McMurry College Indians in Abilene last Saturday night, will go to Tyler for a football game at 7:30 p.m. Saturday with the Apaches of Tyler Junior College.

Coach Bob Keyes and his staff planned to spend this week sharpening their offense and putting new strength in their defense. The Wranglers have a squad of more than 100 men in uniform.

The program at Abilene was billed as a scrimmage but it turned out to be a regulation game with virtually all members of the McMurry varsity seeing action before they were able to win the contest by a score of 26 to 20.

The opening quarter was scoreless and the Indians began applying pressure as the second period progressed. After two field goal efforts failed, the Indians scored when QB Clyde McKenzie threw for 30 yards to Bobby Campbell in the end zone. Later, McMurry got a safety when Cisco QB Scott Ellison was tackled in the end zone. The half-time score was 9 to 0.

The Indians put another touchdown on the scoreboard in the third period when McKenzie sneaked over from the one. He got away for 59 yards to the one to set up another touchdown with Ron King scoring as the third period drew to a close. A 28-yard field goal in the final period gave McMurry a 26 to 0 lead.

Then the Wranglers began clicking. Henry Canady ran a kickoff back 90 yards for a touchdown. Moments later, the Wranglers recovered a fumble on the McMurry 19 after kicking off to the Indians. A few plays later, Kevin Meyer ran seven yards to score.

With about three minutes left, Scott Ellison led the Wranglers down the field in a sustained drive and scored with 1:12 left on the clock. Wayne Coffey, split end, caught the touchdown pass.

Jury Takes 48 Minutes To Find Lundstrom Guilty

Sentenced to Life For Murder of Wife

A jury of four women and eight men returned a verdict of guilty at 11:40 a.m. Tuesday in the murder case of the State of Texas vs Loyal Edward Lundstrom, 60, Cisco church and civic leader for more than 10 years, in the 91st District Court, Eastland. The jury was out an hour and 12 minutes.

The punishment phase of the verdict began soon after the jury returned its findings to Judge Jim Wright. The jury received the case at 10:52 a.m. Tuesday after attorneys completed their arguments. Proceedings, which had been recessed last Friday until 8 a.m. Tuesday, began with the defense resting its case without presenting witnesses. The defendant did not testify, as expected.

Judge Wright read his charge to the jury. In this, he interpreted the law as it applied to the case. He read a portion of a letter that Lundstrom wrote to his pastor in which the defendant said he only wanted to scare his wife...not kill her. The judge explained accidental death cases and noted that evidence of guilt had to be proven "beyond a reasonable doubt."

The charge cautioned that the jury could consider only such matters as were introduced in evidence by the state and its witnesses and that they were not to consider a possible punishment in their deliberations.

After rendering the guilty verdict the jury returned to the jury room to determine a penalty in the recommendation, which came shortly, was for life in the Texas penitentiary. Lundstrom took the verdict and sentence calmly.

In reading the sentence Judge Wright noted that a "deadly weapon" was used in the shooting and, under criminal law, this will require Lundstrom to serve a minimum of 20 years before being eligible to be considered for parole. Otherwise he would have been eligible for parole consideration in about seven and one half years.

Sheriff Johnny Morren

took Lundstrom into custody and transported him to the county jail immediately after the sentencing. It was understood that he will not be eligible for release on bond if the defense appeals the verdict.

There was no immediate indication as to whether the verdict would be appealed to a higher court. It was understood that the defense has 10 days in which to file notice for appeal.

The district attorney, in the opening argument, spoke some 30 minutes to review the crime from the indictment to the trial. He summarized the testimony of the various witnesses. He quoted from the Lundstrom letter and he reviewed testimony which, he said, proved that "Doris was literally a slave looking after the needs of five children, being their motel maid, working in their tombstone monument shop, looking after office details and helping with the bus station."

Mr. Walton said he did not consider the murder of Mrs. Lundstrom as an act of "criminal negligent homicide." He said he couldn't believe a defense theory that "Loyal Lundstrom wasn't there," adding "if he wasn't there, why did he run off and stay for 13 days?" He told the jury that "this is a case of a domestic quarrel, he shot her and took off for Florida."

Defense Attorney Hart used an hour and 15 minutes in his argument to the jury, noting that "you are dealing with a man's life." He reminded the jury that any or all evidence in the case must be weighed and that they could ask the court reporter to read any part of it to them and could examine any exhibits offered in evidence.

Mr. Hart told the jury that they could note the "time" element in many instances in their study of the case. He asked them to read the Lundstrom letter in its entirety. He refuted the "slave" statement, noting "my wife works, I work." He asked them to consider the relationship between Mrs. Lundstrom and some of the witnesses.

The credibility of crime lab statements as to the time of death being determined after the body had been dead for more than a day and of Cisco police not finding the shotgun until several days after their first search were among items mentioned by Mr. Hart.

Marital discord as indicated by several witnesses was questioned by the defense attorney when he noted that "Rev. Reneau, their pastor for three or more years, told us he knew nothing of this." He wondered why a coffee cup and glass found in the kitchen sink at the Lundstrom home wasn't tested for fingerprints.

The argument was concluded with a reminder that "the state's case must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt."

In a rebuttal, Mr. Walton told the jury that "the state's case has been proved beyond any doubt." He described questions raised by the defense as "rabbit trails." He concluded that "somebody should stand up for Doris Lundstrom and her five motherless children." He said that a number of witnesses, including her father and her stepdaughter, knew of the young mother's marital troubles. "The evidence points to a verdict of murder," he said.

During some two hours of argument, Lundstrom sat at the defense table, staring straight ahead. He has been free under a $200,000 property bond since a few days after surrendering March 16th and being charged with the March 3rd shotgun shooting death of his 27-year-old wife.

CHS Teams Will Face Haskell During Week

Lobo Varsity Defeats DeLeon 37-20

Cisco High School football teams will be playing their second game of the season this week as the Junior Varsity travels to Haskell Thursday night, for a 7:00 p.m. game, and the Lobo Varsity takes on the visiting Haskell Indians Friday night in Chesley Field at 8:00 p.m.

The Cisco J.V. will be looking for its first win of the 1983 season, following its 32-0 loss last Thursday to DeLeon. The Lobo Varsity will be hoping to continue its winning season after a resounding defeat of the DeLeon Bearcats last Friday by the score of 37-20 in non-district play.

Haskell will also be looking for its second win of the season, following its 35-0 trouncing of Jim Ned Friday night.

In last Friday night's game, the Lobos scored once in the first quarter, twice in the second quarter, once in the third quarter, and twice in the fourth quarter. DeLeon scored once in the first quarter and twice in the final quarter.

DeLeon's side of the scoreboard lit up first with 3:27 left in the first quarter when Shane Bunting took the handoff from Trent Sharp and carried it one yard for the touchdown. The PAT kick by Johnny Lewis was good, making the score 7-0.

The Bearcats scoring drive started out on their own 49-yard line. They reached the Cisco goal-line in nine plays. Main ball carriers during the drive were Bunting, Ken McKillip, Larry Simpson and David Moss.

Seabourn, Doug Hendricks and quarterback Joe Perry moved the ball to Cisco's 49 yard line in five plays. Needing three yards for a first down, QB Perry took the ball from center Craig Foster, saw a hole in the line and streaked for the goal-line. With Glen Starr holding the ball, Butch Jessup's PAT kick was good making the score 7-7 with 1:08 left in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Cisco's Patrick Qualls intercepted a DeLeon pass at the Bearcat 20-yard line to set up Cisco's next scoring drive. D. Seabourn, QB Perry and Hendricks moved the ball closer to the goal in four plays. With the ball resting five yards from the goal-line, QB Perry kept the ball and scored again for the Lobos. During the PAT attempt, a fake by Glen Starr was stopped by DeLeon leaving the score at 13-7.

Later in the first half of the game, Cisco's Tommy Elrod intercepted a Bearcat pass deep in Cisco territory and returned it to DeLeon's 35-yard line. A completed pass to Mike Williams, runs by Johnny Ramirez and QB Perry moved the ball to DeLeon's four. A handoff to Ramirez netted the touchdown with 53 seconds left in the half. The PAT kick by Jessup was good, making the half-time score 20-7.

Cisco received the second half kick-off and started their fourth scoring drive of the game from the Lobos 29-yard line. In twelve plays, Cisco's D. Seabourn, QB Perry, Ramirez, Franky Seabourn and Josh Potter had all run with the ball, moving it to DeLeon's one yard line. A handoff to Potter gained the touchdown. Following the PAT kick by Jessup, Cisco led by the score of 27-7 with 6:37 left in the third quarter of play.

Late in the third quarter, DeLeon recovered a Cisco fumble at the Bearcats 15-yard line to set up their next scoring drive. Bunting, McKillip, QB Sharp, Moss and Simpson all took part in the 12-play drive which moved the ball to Cisco's 10-yard line. QB Sharp hit Brad Gray with a pass for the touchdown. With Chris Caraway holding the ball, DeLeon's Johnny Lewis hit the PAT kick for a score of 27-14 with 10:18 showing on the clock in the fourth quarter.

Cisco's D. Seabourn received the ensuing kick from DeLeon near his own 15-yard line and returned it to the Bearcat's 45 before being knocked out-of-bounds. Runs by D. Seabourn and F. Seabourn, as well as by QB Perry moved the ball to DeLeon's 17-yard line in six plays. A pass from QB Perry to Williams in the end zone gave Cisco six more points with 7:48 left in the game. The PAT kick by Jessup was good making the score 34-14.

On the ensuing kick, DeLeon started their final scoring drive from their own 21-yard line. Runs by McKillip, Bunting and Moss moved the ball to the Lobos 23-yard line in four plays. A pass from QB Sharp to Simpson in the end zone gave the Bearcats another touchdown. A fake by Caraway during the PAT attempt was no good, leaving the score at 34-20 with 5:57 left in the game.

DeLeon then tried to get another chance at scoring with an onside kick. Cisco was ready for the kick and took possession of the ball at their own 43-yard line.

Eleven plays later the ball was resting on DeLeon's two yard line, following runs by Potter, D. Seabourn, F. Seabourn and QB Perry. During fourth down, needing two yards for a first, Cisco's Jessup kicked a field goal with 44 seconds left in the game for a final score of 37-20.

Standouts on Cisco's defense were Doug Hendricks, Johnny Ramirez, Craig Foster, Willard Johnson, Sean Manire, Robert Sherman, Butch Jessup, Glen Starr and Tommy Elrod.

Agencies Join For Cancer

"I Can Cope", a program for individuals with cancer, and their families and friends will be held for eight consecutive weeks beginning Monday, September 19, 7 to 10 p.m. in the First National Bank Conference Room in Cisco. The program will be "Coping With Cancer".

The classes are co-sponsored by The American Cancer Society and Upjohn Healthcare Services. There will be no fees, according to Ima Genen Gurst R.N. Service Director for Upjohn Healthcare, Abilene.

"I Can Cope" is an education and support program whose goal is to help people with cancer and their families move from asking, "What can I do?" to statements like, "Here's what I can do."

The program provides basic medical information about cancer. It separates myth from fact. Questions are always welcome. Group discussions encourage patients and their families to share their experiences with others, who, like them, are living a confident and informal life actively participating in their health care, Ms. Hurst added.

This program is presented in eight Monday night sessions and includes the following topics: Learning About Cancer And Its treatment; Nutritional Support; How To Express Your Feelings And Cope With Stress; Living Up To Your Limits; and Resources That Can Help You.

Classes will be led by health-care professionals including physicians, nurses, social workers, dietitians, ministers, counselors and educators.

The "I Can Cope" program was initiated in 1977 through North Memorial Medical Center in Robbinsdale, Minnesota and through the Minnesota Division of the American Cancer Society. Then late in 1977 it was decided that the pilot program which had been tested with nearly 100 cancer patients should be expanded. With the process and materials developed by two oncology nurses who originated the course, Judi Johnson and Pat Norby, it was decided to offer the program to health professionals to use with cancer patients in other communities.

The course is available to cancer patients and families because some patients have given up on their ability to cope with the chronic disease of cancer. They have looked around and decided that there is much too much unknown, too many confic-ting theories, too many unproven claims-all the things that have persisted for years, but now, somehow, seem to be out of hand for them.

Others, on the other hand, have faced up to improvements in medical and psychological treatments that have brought about hopeful changes in the lives of patients and the lives of those around them.

The concept of "I Can Cope" is based on a single rather simple assumption: many worries and anxieties that cancer patients have can be helped by learning from other people who are in the same boat, Ms. Hurst said.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Ms. Hurst at Upjohn Healthcare Services, 720 Pine, Suite 3, Abilene, Texas 79601, phone 915-677-7842. All interest persons are urged to attend this important meeting.

Former Inmate Writes Letter Commending County Jail System

The Eastland County Jail and County Sheriff John Morren have received a compliment from a person qualified to evaluate: a former inmate here.

The letter of approval came by way of the Texas Commission on Jail Standards and Executive Director Robert O. Viterna, who wrote in forwarding the letter:

"Not too many jails get this kind of user commendation. Keep up the good work. Eastland County should have no jail lawsuits with your type of management."

The letter from the former Eastland County inmate reads:

gentlemen:
I am an inmate at the Texas Department of Corrections, Diagnostic Unit, Huntsville, Tx. My job duties here are in Photo & Identification. As such, I hear many complaints about various jails throughout the state.

I was Bench Warranted to the Eastland County Jail in March of this year and remained there for a period of four months. This letter is prompted by my observations of said jail.

New officers are President - A. J. Luna of Eastland; Vice President - Oscar Holbrook

I was indeed impressed with the operation of Eastland County Jail, especially with the cleanliness and method of the general supervision there of. Sheriff Johnny W. Morren should be commended for the Jail's operations.

African Violets Need Plenty Of Light

If you want African violets to "light up your life," then be sure they get enough light.

"Although African violets cannot tolerate direct sunlight, they often need more light than most people give them in order to bloom," says Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"If African violets fail to bloom, more than 90 percent of the time it's due to insufficient light," he points out.

Too little light causes the central stem of violets to stretch and the leaf petioles to elongate as they reach for the light source. The result is a misshapen plant with few, if any, blossoms, Janne notes.

In contrast, a well-lighted plant will be symmetrical with closely spaced leaves and an abundance of flowers in the center.

"Fluorescent lights are excellent for growing African violets," says the horticulturist. "However, don't crowd plants under the light and keep about 8 inches between plants and lights. If plants seem to stretch, lower light slightly or raise the plants."

Janne suggests watering African violets only when the soil is dry to the touch, and then watering them thoroughly. Water should be at room temperature or slightly above because cold water can cause leaf spotting. Wick systems used by some violet growers work well if the soil is leached thoroughly every four to six weeks to get rid of soluble salts that may accumulate.

Use only well-drained potting soil high in organic matter for growing African violets, recommends Janne. Specially formulated fertilizers are available for African violets, or use soluble fertilizers recommended for indoor flowering plants after diluting to about one-fourth strength.

Insects—since the time of the earliest settlers—have influenced the types of homes we build, the furnishings we choose, and our housecleaning habits. When the Pilgrims first set up housekeeping in Plymouth colony, it is almost certain that the knitted shawls and blankets they unpacked were infested with moths.

Early American methods for controlling moths were extremely primitive. Tobacco and cedar twigs were the "Moth Balls" of the 1700s.

It was also thought that tar paper, used to line closets and trunks, would keep moths away. And it was not unusual for the early American housewife to make frequent inspections of clothing and furnishings followed by beating, brushing and sunning those items most susceptible to moths. Carpet beetles—more abundant and far more voracious than moths—were an even bigger problem to colonists. In addition to eating clothing and furnishing, they enjoyed feeding on feathers, fur, tortoise shell, ivory, hair and bristles.

Recommended remedies for carpet beetles included two thorough housecleanings a year in spring and fall, and frequent rug beatings. Housewives were also counseled to place tar paper under their carpets. When beetles were found in the carpet, a damp cloth was placed over them and ironed with a hot iron. This generated steam which killed the insects.

The bed may not have been invented if it were not for crawling insects and rodents, and the use of canopies and draperies around beds was not, at first, a decoration but a practical addition to keep out insects. In the 1800s, when it was discovered that mosquitoes carried deadly typhus and other diseases, netting became a standard summer-time accessory for beds, cribs and baby carriages.

Bedbugs were another insect problem faced by the colonists. They often placed the legs of their wooden bedsteads in cups of kerosene to keep bedbugs away. The iron bed became an overnight sensation in the mid-1800s, when early American advertising proclaimed the new bed "entirely free from insects."

Early methods of fly control may seem old-fashioned now, but they were important functions in the homes of the colonists. Cooks often used a "shoo-fly chair" to protect themselves and the food they prepared from flies. The chair had a foot treadle which operated a fringed rod, swinging it back and forth, over the cook's head. It wasn't until the early 1900s that window screens, which first appeared in America in 1881, became a must for every home.

Today, many of the insect problems that face the colonists are under control. Through use of pesticides, many insect-borne diseases, such as malaria and typhus, can be controlled. However, heavy concentration of population and industry breed conditions that continue to cause insect problems in our everyday lives.

Modern remedies have been carefully developed and researched. Pesticides, such as Diazinon, when properly applied will help keep your home bug free.

To properly spray your home's foundation pay particular attention to corners, door and basement window moldings, and visible cracks and mortar-chinks. Walk around the house spraying the foundation three to four inches above the ground. Also, be sure to wet the soil border along the foundation wall. The average foundation spraying requires about six gallons of mixture to produce an effective barrier. Methods of insect control have come a long way since early American times. And it's certain that new and better methods will evolve as insects continue to be a part of our lives at home.

Inmates To Speak On Crime Results

Public school students, parents and others will "hear it the way it is" when inmates from the Texas Department of Correction visit Eastland next week.

Told by the men who lived it and who are now paying the penalty, countians will hear vivid detail the results of drug abuse and crime. Sheriff John Morren and the Eastland County Sheriff's Department are handling the arrangements for the appearance here of three convicts from Huntsville who are now dedicated to warning young people to help them keep from making similar mistakes.

The present schedule calls for the convicts to speak Ranger High School at 8:30 a.m., Wednesday, Sept. 14; at Eastland High School at 10 a.m.; and at Cisco High School at 1 p.m.

Other schools will be invited to attend these sessions and parents and interested persons are urged to attend any of all of the sessions. The convicts will have lunch at the Eastland High School cafeterias, and will be available for "rap sessions" at other times. Persons interested in arranging other appearances should contact Sheriff Morren to see if details can be worked out, he said.

A similar program was held in Eastland County in the mid-1960's and excellent results were reported from that program.

Bass Club Report

By Terry Wilson

Attention fishermen and women. Sunday the 11th we shall hold our monthly tournament. We shall draw at 5 a.m. at the White Elephant Restaurant. There are only 2 tournaments left for the year so lets all make plans to attend them both.

Area lakes are all showing declining water levels. And for the majority of them the fishing also. Leon is producing numbers small fish in the 12" to 2 lb. range. Cisco is slow with a few 3lb.-4lb. fish.

Lets all plan to make it Sunday the 18th for our annual Invitational own Lake

Leon. All members are asked to be present at Chock-a-Block Saturday around 1:00 p.m. to help set up and prepare for a huge and successful tournament. Good Fishing.

Savings Bonds Sales Up 38 Percent In Texas

During the first half of 1983, sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in Texas amounted to $137,573,100, an increase of 38.2 percent over the same period a year ago, John W. Dixon, Chairman of the Board & CEO of E-Systems, Inc. in Dallas and Volunteer State Chairman for Texas, announced today. These sales represent 61.2 percent of the state's 1983 assigned dollar goal of $224,700,000.

Sales of Series EE Bonds were $4,751 during June, 1983, for a total of $142,363 for the first six months of 1983 in Eastland County, Jim R. Wright Volunteer County Chairman, said. These sales represent 92 percent of the County's 1983 assigned dollar goal.

Nationally, June 1983 sales of Series EE Savings Bonds amounted to $332 million, up 33 percent over June 1982, making a January-June 1983 total of $2.11 billion, an increase of 37 percent. Redemptions of Bonds for the first six months of 1983 were $3.3 billion, a decrease of 31 percent from 1982.

According to County Chairman Wright the new competitive interest rate that EE Bonds now pay is the primary reason for sales being up and redemptions down. The new market-based rate for Bonds held five years or more was effective November 1, 1982. The rate is adjusted each six months, i.e., May 1 and November 1, and is 85 percent of the rate paid on 5-year Treasury marketable securities. The rate on EE Bonds for the first six months period ending October 31, 1983 the rate is 8.64 percent for a first year average rate of 9.87 percent.

Cancer Answer Line

American Cancer Society

QUESTION: Does a lump in the breast always indicate malignancy?

ANSWERline: No it does not. But any such condition should always be brought to the attention of one's doctor. Many women have lumps in their breasts and often experience pain. Recently a group of physicians at the Sidney Farber Cancer Institute and Harvard Medical School questioned the liberal use of the term "fibrocystic disease" for benign conditions in biopsy specimens. "The nonspecific and ill-defined nature of the label 'fibrocystic disease' would not matter were it not for the prognostic implications that have been attributed to it," the physicians wrote in the October 14 New England Journal of Medicine. "The real problem is that this nebulous disease has been said to impart a two-fold to four-fold increase in the risk of breast cancer. If fibrocystic disease were not considered a harbinger of malignancy, it would be more readily accepted as a physiologic variant. Thus it behooves us to examine carefully and critically all the evidence for this alleged association."

Mini-Caravan Tours Seven States

By MARY CROFTS
A mini-caravan of four Cisco couples and their trailers (one Airstream and three S.O.B.'s (that means "Some Other Brand")) has just completed a circle tour of seven Western states. The party included the Doug Frys, the Ed Bradshaws, the Willis Parkers and the Sutton Crofts.

The first major stop along the way was Colorado Springs, where two days were spent visiting the usual beauty spots, culminating in a Chuck Wagon dinner and Western show at the Flying W Ranch, an outdoor affair where coats were advisable.

Next came Jackson Hole, Wyoming and the glorious Teton Mountains. Three busy days saw our travelers first scaling Mt. Rendezvous (by means of an aerial tram which kept them waiting two hours for a thunderstorm to pass) where they got a glimpse of the Grand Teton itself through the clouds, and fed the chipmunks which were storing tourist donations against their winter hibernation). In Jackson City, two of the members got a nice surprise when they ran into a couple they had met on an Alaskan cruise last summer. One unique feature of Jackson is the four arches around a central park, constructed entirely of elk horns. Other activities included a boat ride on Lake Jackson by some, for a closer view of Mount Moran and neighboring Tetons, while others chose to float down the Snake River on a raft.

Fishing Bridge in Yellowstone was headquarters for a grand tour of that parkful of natural wonders and interesting wildlife. Starting at Canyon, where the gorgeous two falls of the Yellowstone River were viewed from both sides, the party drove to Tower Junction and Memmoth Hot Springs before heading back, via Norris Geyser Basin, to Old Faithful, where they had a good dinner at Old Faithful lodge, and saw the geyser erupt on schedule from the dining room windows. Though the "wildlife" along the route didn't seem as plentiful as in former visits, they did spot two mama moose with offspring, and one large bull.

Also seen were numerous elk, a few buffalo, a family of marmots at Old Faithful, beavers and squirrels, some geese, ducks and swans, but no bears this season, though it used to be that cars would be lined up for half a mile on the road to watch a mother bear and cubs. And time was when grizzly bears were fed every evening by the Park rangers, but that got to be a problem, with too curious spectators, and it is said the government has moved all the grizzlies to higher ground away from tourists.

Some had planned to fish in the Yellowstone River next morning, but it turned out cold and misty, and judging by the crowds that had been seen fishing the day before, it was decided that probably the river was fished out, anyway, so the dyed-in-the-wool fishermen gracefully gave in for the greater good, and the caravan moved on through East Entrance and Cody, through beautiful forest and lake country. The way led up a 10,000-foot mountain pass, through the Big Horn Mountains - very scenic and very steep!

After a night spent in Gillette, Wyoming, a detour was made to see the famous Devil's Tower, that monstrous, thimble-like, rock formation featured in "Close Encounters of the Third Kind". Nobody attempted to climb it, though it has been done.

That night, on the advice of former visitors, they attended the Passion Play in Spearfish, South Dakota. Though they had been warned to take a blanket to this amphitheater, a light wrap proved sufficient. At least, the temperature was 10 degrees cooler than it would have been had they reversed their route and gone to the Black Hills first.

Next day was spent among the wonders of this unusual country, with the great stone faces of the four presidents, gazing down imposingly on the spectators at Mount Rushmore, being a highlight. The party was very fortunate that one of their members drive a Suburban which carried eight passengers, and the driver was most generous with using it for many of the side trips.

The drive through The Needles was one of the most spectacular of these side trips, winding over corkscrew roads, and even "pig-tail" bridges, where the road curled around and went under itself. Every so often, after going through a tunnel, one could glimpse the presidential faces on Mt. Rushmore, which added interest to an already highly interesting drive.

Leaving Rapid City next day, the travelers left most of the scenery behind, going along I-90 to its junction with Hwy. 83, which leads straight down the map to Texas, through Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma. Some with has said that the difference between scenery and landscape is that "landscape is cows, but scenery is where it looks like its going to fall down on you." There was plenty of "landscape" between Murdo, S.D. and Abilene, Texas, and the three ranchers in the group kept the C.B.'s hot discussing the relative merits of cattle herds, crops, types of haystacks (of which there were thousands in Nebraska's Sand Hills), and spotting pheasants as they flew across the road. They also enjoyed driving through the famous "Four Sixes" ranch, which extended for miles and miles, and noting the fire-breaks dug all along the stalwart fences, as well as the oil wells that presumably keep this gigantic operation from going broke.

Coming into Texas the following day, the party felt they had come full circle. After spending nights under electric blankets in the Tetons and Yellowstone, it was somewhat of a blow to find the temperature at home the same as it was when they started out, two weeks earlier.

At least it was good to be home, without having suffered any major mishaps - no illnesses and not much car trouble. When there was any, the unfortunate one could count on three willing and able helpers to come to his aid. And best of all, there was no dissension or disagreement among the members, which is rare in so large a group. If there was any dissatisfaction, the individual managed to be "with difficulty sweet", and all went merry as a marriage bell most of the time. Wagonmaster Parker did a yeoman job of leading the caravan all the way and nobody ever wanted to apply for his job.

WORD of GOD

Old Testament

And the Lord said unto Moses, Write thou these words: for after the tenor of these words I have made a covenant with thee and with Is'ra-el.

And he was there with the Lord forty days and forty nights; he did neither eat bread, nor drink water. And he wrote upon the tables the words of the covenant, the ten commandments.

CHS Juniors Planning For College Should Take Test

Juniors in high school who are interested in going to college after graduation should take note that the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) will be given on Tuesday, October 18, 1983, at Cisco High School.

The PSAT/NMSQT is co-sponsored by the College Board and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. It is administered annually to more than one million students and measures verbal and mathematical abilities that are important in college work.

The PSAT/NMSQT gives students a chance to find out what the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like and can be used to predict scores on the SAT. It also helps students in planning for college. Further, students who opt to participate in the College Board Student Search Service have an opportunity to hear from colleges that they might not otherwise learn about.

The PSAT/NMSQT is also the qualifying test for students who wish to participate in the nationwide scholarship competitions administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Students in competition for this scholarship awarded in 1985 must take the PSAT/NMSQT in 1983.

Before the test, students will receive the PSAT/NMSQT Student Bulletin which contains a complete sample test with an answer key and scoring instructions. In December, students will receive a Report of Student Answers which displays the correct answers and the students' responses as well as scores. Schools will return test booklets at the same time so that students can review the original questions. Students will also receive About Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores, a booklet containing information on interpreting PSAT/NMSQT results and on general college planning.

The fee for taking the 1983 PSAT/NMSQT is $4.50 per student to be paid at the time of registration. Fee waivers may be requested for students from low-income families who cannot afford to pay the fee. Students may register for the test in the counselor's office before October 4th. Students requesting fee waivers must register before September 26th.

In the past, your electric bill was "just another item" in your family budget, but that is not true anymore. However, as a consumer of electricity, YOU can make a difference. How you use electricity is an individual matter - it is in your hands - and in your pocketbook.

At West Texas Utilities we are working to provide dependable service at reasonable rates. Unfortunately, the costs of producing and supplying electricity have soared. WTU has had no choice but to raise its rates to pay for the high cost of fuel to generate electricity.

We know you are concerned about your electric bill, and we suggest a few things that can help you save money and energy.

Make it a family project to learn more about conservation. Keep your thermostat set at 78 degrees or higher in the summer and 68 degrees or lower in the winter. Operate your washing machine, dryer and dishwasher only with full loads. Turn off the television and lights when you leave a room. And check around your house to find other energy-saving measures that can mean dollar savings on your electric bill.

WTU is working to ensure an adequate supply of electrical power for YOU and all of our customers, while trying to assure the most value for your energy dollars now and in the future.

Why Buy A Telephone?

MONEY!

You'll save it in the long run by avoiding monthly equipment charges - which vary by state and the model you rent. And, if you install your own wiring as well (with kits), you can save even more on installation and monthly expenses. The sooner you buy, the sooner you can start saving.

WHERE TO SHOP, WHAT TO LOOK FOR. Local stores, specialty phone stores, discount stores and electronics stores, as well as your local phone company and American Bell Phone Centers, are all vying for your business. The best strategy is, as always, to comparison shop, noting the different models available, payment options and especially warranty protection.

Your local Bell company's warranty may be as short as thirty days when you buy the phone you're already renting; American Bell - like many retail outlets - will have year-long coverage. In addition, the American Bell phones are new, while often those sold by the local telephone companies are refurbished models.

WHAT ABOUT BUYING YOUR RENTED BELL EQUIPMENT? Bell companies in five states now offer customers the option of buying their own equipment. More states will follow shortly. Before you buy the phone you now rent, be sure it's in good working order. If there's any problem - with the body of the phone or with the connection of a call - return it to a service center for replacement. Try the replacement for a few days before "signing up."

Your local newspapers sell I.T.T. & Webcor Telephones in All models From as low as $24.95. Also complete installation equipment is available locally.

Blair Gets Ready For Fall Concerts

By Viola Payne
Feature Writer

The last days of summer give Stacy Blair, internationally known trumpet player, a few days at his Eastland home before the fall 1983 concerts begin.

The personable young musician will give his first concert of the fall season at Woodward-Dellis Recital Hall, Hardin Simmons University, Abilene, September 13. John Campbell, from the Music Department of the University, will accompany him on the organ.

After that concert, Stacy Blair will travel east, playing in Philadelphia and New York.

Having some time in Eastland gives him a chance to practice on his trumpets - various ones which have been restored since the fire in his home last May.

"I appreciated the concern of my friends about that fire," he says, "and am so happy that most of the instruments could be repaired."

STACY BLAIR

It has been only a few years since Stacy Blair graduated from Eastland High School, then Hardin-Simmons University and Louisville University, but those years have seen the rise of a brilliant musical career. His travels have spanned the United States, Europe, Israel, Australia and on to Poland and Russia.

Blair has won 40 state and national and four International awards for his playing. In 1979, under a Fulbright Scholarship, he studied in Paris France under Maurice Andre, a world-famous trumpet player.

He has performed as guest soloist for the Abilene Philharmonic Orchestra, Louisville Orchestra, Dallas Symphony Orchestra, the Ensemble Orchestra in Paris and many Chamber Orchestras throughout the world.

The notes of the Blair trumpet seem to ring through all political differences, calling for friendliness and good will. Critics and audiences have been touched by his radiance of sound and powerful imagery. Furthermore, they have found the musician approachable - easy to talk to. Summers are usually a relaxed season for the player, but Stacy performed a number of times in the southwest this summer.

He began at the First Baptist Church in Midland, then went on to a large Baptist Church in Albuquerque. From there he traveled across New Mexico to the Glorietta Baptist Encampment - an enjoyable place to be.

Afterward he went straight to the Summer Music Festival at Kerrville, to a program featuring American music. At this event he played with the Austin Symphony Orchestra, presenting "The Quiet City" by Aaron Copeland, and "Prayer of Saint Gregory" by Alan Hovhanass.

Next Stacy presented a concert at a State Convention for the Blind at Baylor University, Waco. There he played various gospel arrangements and some classical numbers, including "Trumpet Voluntary" by Henri Purcell.

Stacy mentions that he particularly enjoyed playing for this group, for he is also visually impaired. Since he is unable to read notes, all his music must be memorized from records and tapes. And many of the numbers he plays are extremely difficult.

Stacy mentions that he enjoys playing a wide variety of music, but particularly likes Baroque. This music from the late Renn period - colorful, with complex forms. He likes to make up his own cadenzas - solo, unaccompanied passages.

As he plays in various churches and concert halls around the world, Stacy has a chance to evaluate many aspects of his tours. He notes "A special electric feeling" when he steps out before a large audience. And he perceives cultural differences in the way people respond to music.

"In Germany the people are very quiet until you finish. Then they clap and clap, and the children bring flowers. The Spanish people are animated - very enthusiastic. But all the European people love music, and call for a number of encores. I've been well treated everywhere.

"I particularly enjoy playing in the cathedrals of Europe," he adds. "They give a great sound. But I believe the best acoustics anywhere are in the new concert hall at the University of Texas, Austin. This place will hold only about 3,500 people - not a huge place - but it is really outstanding.

"Too much carpet in a room deadens sound," he explains. "But too much brick or stone in a small room will make the trumpet too 'bright'."

As Stacy discusses these nuances it is evident that his ability to distinguish sound variations contributes to the quality of his tone. Add to that an intensity and love of the art, and you realize why this sound has crossed the barriers of distance and race.

"But no matter how far I go," Stacy Blair, says, "Eastland is my home. This is where I got my start in music - and I will never forget the people of this town."

Thurs. Marks Deadline For Hay Show Entries

Thursday, September 15 is the deadline to enter hay in the Eastland County Hay Show, reminds County Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon. Entries may be left at any feed store in the county on or before September 13 or delivered to the C&D Feed Store in Eastland by September 15. Anyone who has an entry to be picked up should call the County Extension Office - 629-1093 and a member of the forage committee will pick up the entry.

Only county residents are eligible to enter the hay show, but the hay may be produced anywhere.

Any entry may consist of one bale, regular or large bale. No fee is charged when entire bale is entered. As another option a producer may enter a cross section of a regular bale, 6 to 8 inches in thickness, string tied with a $3.00 fee for testing. If an entry is made from a large bale put a minimum of 3 pounds of hay in a box approximately 6 x 14 x 18 inches with a $3.00 entry fee.

The hay show is an educational event to help producers learn how to produce high quality forage. Gordon says because of the short supply of forage this year it is extremely important for producers to know the quality of hay they are feeding. The hay show is the best way to learn about the quality of your hay.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

Little Johnny asked his mother, "Are we made of dust and do we go back to dust when we die?"

"Yes," she answered. "Mom," he said, "I looked under the bed this morning, and I found someone coming or going."

The Bible says, "The Lord God formed man from the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living being."

The word translated "formed" describes the work of an artist who skillfully molds a masterpiece by careful design.

The dust was dust until God touched it, transformed it, and put life into it by His Spirit.

This first inbreathing brought life and spiritual understanding so that man could fellowship with God and enjoy Him forever.

You can get along without God - like you can get along without health. But you will never be the man you could be without God.

Man in fellowship with God is man at his best. Come to Him through His Son and be at your best, won't you?

The annual Gorman Homecoming Dance will be held Saturday, September 17, following the Gorman-Lometa football game.

The dance will be at Frank Gray Park from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Playing will be "Nuthin' Fancy", and admission will be 15 for singles and $8 for couples.

But, you can turn these accumulated possessions into quick cash by holding an auction. A well planned auction can cash out your entire household in just a few short hours. And, I provide complete auction service so you don't have to worry about a single detail.

Ciscoans Cover Near-4900 Miles On Trip

By CHRISTINE REICH
What started out as a simple plan to attend the 95th Infantry Division Reunion at the Ramada O'Hare Inn in Chicago August 12-14 ended in a near-4900 mile trip in which Ernest and I traveled through twelve states, excluding Texas, and two Canadian provinces.

Although this was the 34th annual reunion of the 95th Division (dubbed the Iron Men of Metz), it would be Ernest's first. Telephone calls and invitations began coming from men of his old 2nd platoon of Co. H. Plans developed and the itinerary grew.

Our first out-of-state stop was in northeastern Arkansas where my mother had spent her girlhood years while her father served as Lutheran pastor in the little community of Lefe, Arkansas. Relatives still live there.

From Arkansas we drove to Hickman, Kentucky to spend the night with an ex-

Army buddy who had gone through all of combat with Ernest, Joe and his wife Anita Youree. We drove in convoy to the home of another veteran of the 2nd platoon, Co. H., T.B. and Rose Taylor of Michigan City, Indiana. This city is located on the shores of Lake Michigan, and here we experienced the coolest weather of the trip; however, at no time did we need sweaters or jackets.

After spending the night in Michigan City, where the tales were tall and the sleep short, we drove in convoy to the Ramada O'Hare in Chicago. T.B. wanted to show us the sights via the steel industry surrounding Gary, Indiana, so we drove on an 8-lane highway on a busy Friday morning. Being proved exciting, especially with the quick change in lanes, but it's the kind of excitement Ernest and I can do without!

We made it to the Ramada (safely!), and the happy confusion of trying to find familiar faces in the midst of the 850 registered veterans and their wives began.

Ernest had served as commanding officer of the 2nd platoon, Co. H., 377th Regiment, in the European theatre of combat during WW II. He received a battlefield commission with special permission to remain in the platoon where he had acted as tech sergeant. Although casualties were high in this group of 38 men, 8 of this platoon found one another here in Chicago to "Chew the fat" and fight WW II again.

Good-natured gripes against their former commanding officer were brought up: "Ernie," a former ammunition bearer recalled, "remember when you smashed that jeffep of cognac we confiscated?" And his old Polack driver reminded him, "How about that time you had me dig a six-by-six, only for you to throw a toothpick in the hole, and then tell me to cover it up again?"

Good-humored laughter was followed by a few tears as the group recalled those lost in combat or since deceased. When departure time came, we separated from our friends and headed for the International Tunnel in Detroit.

Stopping at a busy service station for diesel just prior to taking the tunnel for Windsor, Canada, we found the cautious cashier behind a glass cage with an opening just large enough to accept cash and sell cigarettes.

Outside of Texas, prices for diesel varied from the lowest in Arkansas and Oklahoma at $1.05 per gallon to $2.00 to $2.50 per gallon in Canada. This did not mean a great variation, since Canada has 4.6 quarts per gallon, and the American dollar brings $1.20 in Canadian currency exchange.

Ernest and I took the 14-lane McDonald-Cartier Freeway through the heart of beautiful Toronto, a city of 2,144,000 population. Speed limit on this freeway is 100 kilometers (60 mph), and most cars zipped right past us.

My sister Mary Darau lives in Pembroke, Ontario, 100 miles northwest of Ottawa, Canada's capital, but her cottage is 15 miles distant in the province of Quebec, located on the Ottawa River. We took up location at her cottage, enjoying the beach and swimming facilities of the Ottawa River.

While in the Pembroke area, we visited Shute Falls, connected to the Ottawa River, where the last of the river-driven logging operations will cease this year to be replaced by the more economical trucking transportation.

Just 40 miles from my sister's home the Chalk River Nuclear Research Laboratories are located. Here a guide explained to us the difference in the Canadian and the American method of producing electrical energy from nuclear power.

Taking a different route back to the States, Ernest and I crossed the eight arch International Bridge on the St. Mary's River. This river connects Lake Superior with Lake Huron and separates Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario from Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan. After securing motel accommodations on the American side, Ernest and I returned to visit the historic Soo Locks, said to be the world's busiest and longest.

Hindsight is better than foresight; we later regretted not taking the tour that gives one a view of all five of the American and Canadian Locks, passing directly above the roar of the St. Mary's rapids.

On our way to visit my brother, Erwin Prange and family in Forest Lake, Minnesota, we saw the most verdant areas in all our travels, the picturesque farm and dairylands of Wisconsin. This area was said to have experienced the rainfall that so many agricultural areas missed this summer.

My brothers lives in a small town north of the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolis. His area had just experienced tornadic winds, leveling trees taller than his house, but leaving his tow-level home untouched.

While visiting there, we had dinner with Dr. and Mrs. Bill Bacus, a Christian clinical psychologist with whom my brother works. Dr. Bacus lived in Cisco in 1947-48, working with the local Lutheran church as a vicar prior to his ordination as a Lutheran minister. Both Bill and Erwin serve as associate pastors of North Heights Lutheran Church, a 3000-member congregation in the Twin Cities.

Another former Ciscoan we visited was David Wendes, son of the local Ed Wendes. David pastors a large Lutheran congregation in St. Paul.

The last of our visits was with Mrs. George Paulsen & family, Ernest's sister in southern Minnesota. Here we received delayed word from our children of the fire which had occurred in our absence. Our trip was a blessed one despite our loss, and we thank God for His protection through all those thousands of miles. It's good to be home, and we know the rains will come to Texas, too!

Putnam News

By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

Still no change in the weather. And Charlie still says two weeks before we do have a change. Again I hope you are wrong Charlie. We did have a little break Wednesday evening. It rained enough to wet the top of the ground. And do you know the temperature dropped 20 degrees in about that many minutes. It was so nice while it lasted. Some farmers are plowing but mostly it is too dry to plow.

There seems to be a "bug" going around especially the school children. All the Ray Maxwells have been sick nearly all week. Ronald Green was not able to go to school today. Maybe a good rain would clear the atmosphere, we hope so anyway. We haven't heard from the sick folks in the hospital.

Billy Wagley's sister, Mary Fay Barris and twin daughters, Michael Ann and Michelle from California are visiting her family here, Mary Wagley at Baird and Hershell Wagley. She is on her way to New Jersey.

Ollie Burnam attended church at Cisco Sunday and had lunch with Fay Woods, Stella Hughes and Linda and JoAnn Collinsworth. They also visited with Mrs. Viola Everett at Cisco.

The Wednesday evening Bible study group at the Baptist church met Wednesday evening with the Steve Rhymes in the Scranton Community.

WORD OF GOD

Psalm 50:15-23
And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.

But unto the wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldst take my covenant in thy mouth?

Seeing thou hatest instruction, and castest my words behind thee.

When thou sawest a thief, then thou consentedst with him, and hast been partaker with adulterers.

Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.

Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother; thou slanderest thine own mother's son.

These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such a one as thyself; but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.

Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.

Whoso offereth praise glorifieth me; and to him that ordereth his conversation I will show the salvation of God.

Psalm 50:15-23

A SIGN ON the front porch at 1011 West 7th Street says "Home of Lobo Coach." Coach John P. Archman of the CHS Lobos resides there with his family. He and his staff and his football team made a fine impression on Cisco folks at DeLeon last Friday night.

The Abilene newspaper had predicted a three touchdown victory for De Leon... Cisco fans appeared more numerous than De Leon fans at the game, our scouts report.

Every Monday during football season, the Abilene news per quotes a number of Big Country coaches. This week, they quoted Coach Panchman as follows:

"Offense Joe Perry, quarterback, and David Seaburn, tailback, had good games. On defense it was inconsistent. We helped them out with 15 yard penalties and I let them break a couple of long runs.

"But we were pleased. We were just real excited Saturday morning. We played much better than we had in our two scrimmages. It was our best effort, no question."

STREET DEPARTMENT Supervisor Frank Young reports that they're still pretty busy with the street repaving program. They're working in Humboldt and expect to complete 21st Street from there to Hilton Avenue near the Dairy Queen before they finish the current program.

The street repaving work in Royal Oaks and Avenue N turned out real good... They're letting Front Street from West 8th Street north settle for a time before shooting it with asphalt and gravel.

DOVE HUNTING in this region was spotty at best, according to reports. Early morning hunters seemed to be doing better than those going out at other times of the day... Local restaurants and motels did a pretty good business with dove hunter guests over Labor Day weekend.

MR. IVAN WEBB, official of the oil companies out at Kamon House, flew home last Friday late from Guyana in South America in time to celebrate Labor Day weekend. The oil companies are working on a deal that promises to result in exploration for oil and gas in Guyana.

Mr. Webb has made previous trips to Guyana to inspect properties and confer with officials of that country.

THEY'VE MOVED into obituaries....

Services For Rev. Huffman Are Saturday

Funeral services for the Rev. Garland L. Huffman, 72, a retired Assembly of God minister from Cisco, were at 2 p.m. Saturday at Eastland Assembly of God. The Rev. G.C. Fustion of Breckenridge, the Rev. Bill Thomas of Abilene and the Rev. Norman Oden of Eastland officiated. Burial was at Oakwood Cemetery in Cisco, directed by Cisco Funeral Home.

Rev. Huffman died at 10:30 p.m. Thursday at West Texas Medical Center after a brief illness.

He was born Oct. 9, 1910, in Purcell, Okla., and he married Oleta Marshall Dec. 19, 1931, in Lovington, N.M. An Assembly of God minister, he retired in 1978. He was a member of the Assembly of God Church in Eastland.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Marshall D. of Odessa, Ray of Lubbock and Rodney of Pecos; two daughters, Mrs. James Perkins of Red Oak and Mrs. Michael Coleman of Corpus Christi; a brother, J.D. of Kansas; eight sisters, Beulah Neely of Oklahoma, Edna Hatley of Colorado, Leah Hatley of Seminole, Ruth Hatley of New Mexico, Thelma Tabb of Midland, Avo Huffman and Mildred Borland, both of Denver City, Ella Mae Sims of Andrews; and 11 grandchildren.

their new offices at the Central Masonry Building, formerly the Kirk or Reynolds Building, in Cisco. Mr. Dan Wilks and his Central Masonry Company and the Central Oil Company and the Central Mud Company occupy the entire second floor of the building.

The second floor has been completely remodeled and redecorated. They lacked only one window when we looked last Saturday to have all new windows in the building. Understand they'll remodel other floors of the building as space is needed.

CISCO firemen went over to Abilene last week to attend sessions of the school for firemen that was put on for West Central Texas by top instructors. Making the trip were Chief C.W. Guthrie, Fire Marshal Bill Webb, Fireman David Gill and Fireman Elmer Escobedo... Mike Johnson of the auto sales firm out on I-20 Access Road started to refill his ice tea glass at a Lions Club meeting the other day. He tilted the pitcher a bit too much and his glass, plate and area around it suddenly filled with ice cubes. Lions sitting near by couldn't smile out loud as a man was speaking.

MR. C.H. (Cats) Ingram, Lake Cisco patrolman, tells us that he hauled off two barrels full of carp after the fishing derby a couple of weekends ago... Maggie Jimenez reports that the folks at Ramona's the Mexican food restaurant over near Eastland, gathered for a hamburger cookout on Labor Day evening. No Mexican food? ... If you've missed Auto Salesman Harold Phippen's ambulance - the one you can buy on a layaway plan - don't despair. He hasn't sold it. Just moved it out on the Abilene highway. Better exposure, maybe.

WEEKEND VISITORS with home folks included Ken and Beverly Hawari of Austin. Ken has just started his senior year in law school at the UofTexas and wife Beverly works for the State of Texas as she is a graduate of the UofT.

Ken spent the past summer working for a law firm in Big D and has been offered a position with the firm when he finishes law school. He is the son of the Tarek Hawaris and Beverly's parents are the Charles Prestons.

ONE OF OUR scouts was visiting in Amarillo recently and he learned something about the newspaper business there. When there's an error in the newspaper, they run a correction along with the name of the reporter who made the mistake.

A lot of mistakes, of course, are proof errors and these are taken into consideration by the Amarillo editors, our friend learned. It's hard to keep proof errors out of the newspapers and these sometimes mess up facts, which all newspapers seek to present fairly and accurately.

MR. AND MRS. Marcus Ray and three-year old son Marcus, Jr., went out to breakfast the other morning. Little Marcus ordered a short stack of pancakes, which his mother buttered and treated with syrup. Then, Marcus took possession of the toast that came with his mother's eggs. He dipped the toast in the syrup on the pancakes and ate all of the toast, leaving the pancakes... Met up with Mrs. Calvin Harris of Big D at the restaurant. She was out for a weekend of rest and relaxation while her husband, Dr. Harris, spent a couple of days dove hunting near Cisco.

The Harrises lived at Ranger where he practiced medicine for a number of years before they moved to Dallas. A year or two ago, Dr. Harris sold his Dallas clinic and retired. First thing he knew, the folks at SMU offered him a position as director of the student clinic at the college. He took it and has told us that he finds this work very interesting and rewarding. He's just beginning another year as head of the clinic at SMU. He and Cisco's W.E. (Dizzy) Dean have been hunting buddies for many years. They usually get in several dove and quail hunts each fall plus an outing or two for deer. Over the years, they've made a number of trips to places like Moab, Utah, to hunt.

Dear Editor: On August 23, the news stated "Cisco Girl Scout's Hut is gutted by fire." Upon hearing the news, a director said "the Girl Scout's program in Cisco is finished." She went ahead to state that the building had a minimum of insurance. The premium was more than they could afford.

To me, it was not that Scouting was finished but a bit of nostalgia had gone. Years ago the old yellow MKT depot from Carbon was moved to Cisco, remodeled, fireplace added, and made into a meeting place for girls.

As a child of the post-depression era, I remember watching special Pullman trains, with their crystal set dining tables, each with a fresh rose, come to Carbon. Celebrities, politicians, etc. entertained the farming community's student body from the platform of the depot.

I am of the opinion that we cannot let a building over 100 years old not be restored. Can you help? Mrs. Clyde Fisher, and other Scout sponsors, would appreciate your suggestions.

Sincerely, June Hicks
