Bank Resources

At $37,087,462 At End Of 1984

Total resources of the First National Bank stood at some $37,087,462 at the end of 1984, according to a report by Allen Masters, controller of the bank. This compared favorably with the resources total at the end of 1983, he added.

Deposits amounted to $32,354,407 and loan totalled $13,593,353 as the new year began.

Mr. Masters added that "the bank enjoyed a good year."

"oversee and review the implementation of" education policy. It has broad powers, including the power to subpoena.

The concept of state-regulated schools is relatively new. In the last century children were taught either in their homes or private schools. The State created "free" schools to allow parents who could not afford private education to send their children to "free" schools, if the parents so wished. The schools were controlled by local school boards elected by the parents. Then the State passed compulsory attendance laws. The latest step in the regression from parental rights and responsibilities for their children came in the 1984 Act. Parents are required in the Act to sign a written statement "that the parent understands and consents to the responsibilities outlined in the program." (emphasis added) Article VI, Part G, Section 1. What program? The program to be approved by yet another unelected agency - the Central Education Agency.

The new Act also requires that students spend more time in school - more days per year and more time per day in classroom - yielding less time for parents to spend with their children. The Act also requires "parent training workshops." The new law does not tell us what will be taught in such "workshops."

Rockwell Fund Gets $10,000

The Rockwell Foundation of Houston donated the sum of $10,000 to the James M. and Sarah Wade Richardson Rockwell scholarship fund at Cisco Junior College at the end of 1984, according to an announcement by Dr. Henry McCulloch, CJC president.

The new gift was contained in a letter from Joe Green, trustee for the Rockwell Foundation.

The late Henry Rockwell began his annual gifts to the CJC scholarship fund that honors his late parents in the year 1963-64. Over the years, the Rockwell gifts have totalled some $200,000 since the initial gift.

Dr. McCulloch said the scholarship fund contributions have been made each year to provide worthy students of CJC with scholarship opportunities. Students who receive scholarship funds are not required to repay the money.

"This is certainly a fine memorial to Mr. Rockwell's parents," Dr. McCulloch said.

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

ONE MORE thank you note was received by the Cisco Goodfellow's this week at the Press office. The note is as follows:

"Just a line to say thank you so much for the good food basket you brought to me and my grandson. It made our Christmas brighter and much happier as we had a very nice dinner.

"Also I want to thank you for sending one to my mother. She would write herself but she can't see how. But she asked me to say thank you for her.

"We appreciate the help you gave. God Bless every one. We love you all."

THE WINTER 1984 quarterly magazine from Allsup's carried an article and photo of Carl Gunter, Area Supervisor of Allsup's. The article tells that he was born in San Saba, near Brownwood and now lives in Baird.

The article states, "Most of Carl's Managers have come up through the ranks so they've seen store operations from all angles, he says, 'I've sure got a good group of Managers.' They are: #186 Baird - Barbara Graham, #128 Clyde - Mary Jo Downum, #175 Albany - Sheila Long, #302 Breckenridge - Tony Gonzales, #191 Cisco - Patty Martin, #98 Eastland - Pat Swiney, #189 Ranger - Millie Doughty, and #181 DeLeon - Wanda McGee."

SOME NICE weather had been enjoyed earlier in this week after a fairly warm weekend. Monday and Tuesday were mild and warm, but a cold front was predicted to be headed for the area sometime Tuesday.

More rain was also predicted for the area and I am not going to complain about any rain, especially since the level of Lake Cisco is still low. Area stock tanks are looking real good as we have been enjoying quite a bit of moisture recently.

Let's continue to praise God for the rains we have received and continue to ask for more to fill Lake Cisco. Heaven knows we will need it this summer.

LOCAL SCHOOLS resumed classes this Monday and things seemed to be getting back to normal throughout the town. Everyone is getting over the holidays and settling back into their routine work schedule.

Everyone seems to be looking forward to the Super Bowl next weekend which will feature Miami and San Francisco.

Large Crowd Attends Church Dedication Day

BY VIOLA PAYNE
Press Secretary
Seventh-Day Adventist Church

A large crowd of Church leaders, members and friends attended the Dedication of the Breckenridge Seventh-Day Adventist Church on Dec. 22.

The attractive brick building, located at 405 Sunset, has a Sanctuary which will seat 300 people. The interior is decorated in colors of green and gold, accented by varicolored stained glass windows.

The day-long program had a number of features, including a Morning Worship service and the dedication at 2 p.m. The local Pastor, L.H. Stephens, welcomed all present. Among the former Pastors attending were Elder and Mrs. B.L. Hassenpflug, Pastor Joe Ray and Pastor Ray Osborn.

Persons offering special music were the Beauchamp family of Breckenridge, the Essig family of Keene, and Viola and Marvin Payne of Cisco. Lillie Thani and Polly

Elect Officers

Monday Night

The Evangelical Methodist Ladies met on Monday night to elect officers for 1985. Those elected were: Beth Spangler, President; Juanita Ellis, Vice President; Dolly Cooper, Secretary-Treasurer; Evelyn Clinton, Missions and Christian Education; Jana Spangler and Wanda Hallmark, Local and Community; Jana Spangler, Pastoral Relations; and Margaret Hallmark, Reporter.

A decision was made to meet the first Monday of each month.

Jana Spangler presented a program on how there is nothing wrong with being rich, but a person's attitude as to whether the riches or Christ is more important is the main thing the Bible talks about concerning riches.

Taylor were pianists.

Elder C.R. Pritchett, Southwestern Union Personal Ministries Director, was speaker for the morning service. His sermon was on the topic "What Have They Seen In Thy House." He stated that the Church should always reach out to the community, representing the warmth and love of God.

Elder Bob Wood, Secretary of the Texas Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists spoke at the 2 p.m. Dedication Service. He used the theme of the following in the steps of Christ, and challenged the church members to continue to walk in the light God has given them, and also to share it with others.

The history of the Breckenridge Church was given by Viola Payne, who told how it began with a three-months tent meeting by Evangelist Hassenpflug in the summer of 1936. This was held on West Main Street, and 25 people were baptised at its conclusion.

Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Henderson were two of the Charter members.

The first Church building was at 210 South Shelton, and various local families joined there. Among them were the Houghtons, Carrolls, Kilpatrick's, Rickels and Beauchamps.

Mrs. Payne noted that the congregation sold the South Shelton St. property in 1975, and under the leadership of Pastor James Miceff and Bible Worker Larry Thomas they began to build the new Church. The present building was occupied Dec. 20, 1975, and the last note on the building was paid recently.

At the conclusion of the history Mrs. L.H. Stephens led out in honoring three dedicated senior members of the Church, Mrs. Rosa Gene Carroll, Mrs. Elton Rickels, and Mrs. Myrtle Kilpatrick. Corsages were presented to the ladies, and a buttoniere to Elder Hassenpflug, who was cited for his evangelistic work here more than 48 years ago.

An impressive Rite of Dedication was given by Pastor L.H. Stephens. The audience gave a response.

The program was concluded by a Christmas Cantata given by the Mineral Wells and Weatherford Band and Choir. This was under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groome. It was enjoyed by all.

Texans Do Things In Style

When Texans do things, they do it in style! This is definitely the case for a choral ensemble of Houston called The Barcus Bunch.

The Barcus Bunch is composed of 36 fourth and fifth graders who attend Parker Elementary Music Magnet School in the Houston Independent School District. Members of the group are carefully selected based on vocal ability and their ability to move to music. This is necessary because the group not only sings choral selections ranging from classical to contemporary American

The St. Mary's University Boy Choir, under the direction of Mark Williams, was formed in the fall of 1982. The choir is made up of boys in grades 3 through 8 from private and public schools in the San Antonio areas.

The boy choir has joined with St. Mary's in performances of the Faure "Requiem", Kodaly's "Psalmus Hungaricus", Gabriel's "In Ecclesiis" and Vivaldi "Gloria".

Members of the boy choir have been cast as Amahl in the St. Mary's University annual performances of the Menotte Christmas opera. Members have been delegates to the International Boy Choir Festival in Saltillo, Mexico.

The choir was featured in a public television production, Religion and the Arts, in 1984.

The St. Mary's University Boy Choir will perform at the Elementary Choir Concert during the time the Cisco Intermediate Choir performs.

The Battlefields - The Salerno Story - from 36th Division History book.

The first wave fanned out onto all four beaches exactly at Hour, 0330. Enemy guns roared as 36th Division infantrymen leaped into the water and started inland for the pre-designated assembly areas. On the left at Red and Green beaches the 142nd Infantry began the push that was designated to take it to the core of the beachhead and to the high ground around Albanella and Altavilla. On the right at Yellow and Blue beaches, the 141st Infantry, moved to maintain contact with the 142nd at Mount Vesole and Magliano, seize Agropoli and defend the right flank. The second and third waves hit the beaches at eight-minute intervals. Nolan was the second wave, with the 143 Infantry.

Both assault battalions of the 142nd on Red and Green beaches were pinned down from time to time. On the right flank the assault battalions of the 141st Infantry landed on schedule and began working through wire obstacles and mines. Intense fire from machine guns, field pieces, mortars and tanks made their progress difficult. Everywhere there was great confusion. Officers and men were separated, assembly points were not easily located. Shortly after 0530, the amphibious "ducks" came ashore. The 133rd Field Artillery Battalion brought in twelve 105-mm howitzers.

Each of these guns were loaded on a "duck" together with 21 rounds of ammunition and a gun section of seven men.

At 0640 the 143rd Infantry, initially in reserve and commanded by Colonel William H. Martin, crossed the beaches and began moving toward Capaccio a village from the slopes of Mt. Soprano.

Almost from the moment of landing, enemy tanks in scattered positions had made it difficult for all combat teams to reach their objectives.

But not until 0700 did they attack on a large scale. At this time the battalions of the 141st were still attempting to reorganize when they were struck by 15 or more Mark IV's, five on each flank and at least four in the center. Then a column of the 36th Cavalary Reconnaissance troop landed on Yellow Beach and helped to fight off seven Mark IV's which were firing opposite the right flank. In the center of the 141st line, the men of the 2nd Battalion beat off tanks with infantry weapons. Meanwhile, more tanks threatened the 1st Battalion in the fields south of Blue Beach.

By noon the main tank assault on the southern beaches had been brought virtually to a stand still. Naval gunfire and fire from mortars and howitzers had helped to make the operations costly for the enemy, but to a large extent the battle had been fought by infantrymen with infantry weapons.

To the north the principal tank attacks came later. At 1145 Division Cp personnel in the tobacco warehouse at Casa Vannullo saw 13 German tanks approaching. From the ditches along the railroad the men watched the enemy come within easy range. On the main coastal highway on artillery piece, set hastily in defense, opened fire. Another howitzer was brought up and unlimbered from its "duck" carrier even the tanks were nearing, and fought off the German armor. When five of the enemy tanks were KO's, some at 200 yard range, the rest of the German turned.

Throughout D-Day, while the 142nd on the left flank fought toward Hill 140, and 141st on the right struggled forward, the 143rd RCT was forced to occupy a wide front in the center as it advanced. On the left flank of the Division, Lt. Col. Samuel S. Graham had assembled elements of the 2nd Battalion, 142nd near Paestum station at 0645 and with them moved east to the Capodifiume River, a half-hour later. By 1000, Colonel Martin assembled the 143rd's two leading battalions, the 2nd and 3rd, at the railroad. Their objectives was Hill 386, a projection running northwest from Mount Soprano and ending abruptly in a cliff just above the junction of the roads to Capaccio and Rocca d'Aspide. Mount Soprano, dominating the entire area, was an important objective of the Division. By nightfall on D-Day the 143rd controlled the southeast slopes of Mount Soprano and a vital stretch of the road leading to the plain.

The 36th, untired in battle, had landed under fire, overcame prepared beach defenses, and reached its initial objective. The Allies now controlled the plain south of the Sele River and occupied the high ground, an average distance of five miles from the beaches. On the right flank, the 141st Infantry had absorbed vicious enemy attacks, but was ready to occupy its assigned objectives on September 10. Men, vehicles, artillery, and supplies continued to pour onto the beaches, where the engineers labored efficiently under constant fire. The hours of confusion had passed.

Dumps were set up, exit roads were operating, anti-aircraft batteries were in position and communications finally worked.

The Salerno landing had been successful in spite of the a prepared and alerted enemy. The 36th now occupied the important hills from Altavilla to Ogliaastro. On the 10th of September, the second day ashore, the beachhead was enlarged, positions consolidated, and more tanks brought in to prepare for heavier clashes to come.

The 142nd Infantry moved forward in preparation for an attack on Altavilla and Hill 424.

After we attended the ceremonies in Salerno, and walked along the beaches we went on to Altavilla. It was up in the mountains, and a long winding road took us up to the village nestled in the hills. The men looked off the mountain at the olive trees growing on the hillsides, and at the plains below where they had fought so many years ago.

When we arrived in the village, there were Germans there to meet with the men of the 6th, men who had fought against them.

Altavilla - the battlefield from the 36th Division Book. Throughout the next few days the struggle raged furiously back and forth over the Altavilla hills. On the morning of Sept. 11, the 142nd Infantry's attack against Hill 424 and the high ground beyond succeeded with deception ease. The 1st Battalion began the march on Altavilla itself and occupied it shortly after noon. During that night enemy units infiltrated around Hill 424. At daybreak T-Patch troops received fire from so many directions that the enemy seemed to be everywhere. Communications were severed; no amount of work could keep the lines open.

The fight grew steadily more desperate; the enemy broke through and pushed down to Altavilla, cutting the battalion in two parts, the regained Hill 424. Now to retake and hold Altavilla, a greater force was needed.

In the meantime units of the 1st Infantry were moved north of the Sele River to strengthen the left of the Sixth Corps, and the 2nd Battalion, 143rd Infantry was ordered into an exposed position between the Sele and Calore Rivers to fill a gap in the center of the Corps. Colonel Martin was ordered to assemble a force from two regiments for an assault on Altavilla and Hill 424. The 3rd Battalion, 142nd Infantry marched from Albanella; the 3rd Battalion, 143rd Infantry moved to an assembly area northwest of Altavilla.

Artillery preparation for the attack on Altavilla began at 0545 on the 13th. The infantry jumped off 15 minutes later, and the artillery advanced its concentrations to support the attack.

On the right flank, Companies I and K, 142nd Infantry, fought their ways up the slopes of the neighboring unnumbered hill. After neutralizing machine gun positions which had held them up, Companies I and K reached the top of 0730. There the enemy, reinforced by artillery, stopped their advance. Companies L and M could not move beyond the lower slopes of the hill. Later I and K were forced back and dug in with the rest of the battalion.

The 1st Battalion, 142nd Infantry came up through the draw south of Altavilla, where the length of its formation was caught in heavy concentrations of German artillery fire. The companies became disorganized and it was nearly midnight before the 1st Battalion could be pulled together.

On the left the 3rd Battalion, 143rd Infantry, under Lt. Col. Barnett, pushed up the ridge northwest of Altavilla. The battalion reached the top of the ridge and sent Company K into Altavilla to protect the right flank.

That same day the Germans launched a powerful tank attack on the Corps center against the exposed 2nd Battalion, 143rd Infantry, attacking it from three sides. The battalion was overwhelmed and many of the men were surrounded and captured by the Germans. This misfortune gave the enemy full possession of the ground between the Sele and Calore Rivers and paved the way for counterattack, which was not long delayed, on the exposed left and rear of the 36th Division, now in possession of Altavilla.

The enemy's counterattack was made simultaneously from the front at Altavilla, and from the left rear across the Calore River. Time and again the Germans, attacking from the front, beat against the battalion defenses and every time they were thrown back.

But German troops advancing across the Calore River from the North and rear were not strongly opposed. They gained a position in rear of the infantry battalions and forced them to change positions. Snipers and machine guns opened up on our infantry from the rear, the Germans threatening to cut off our troops in Altavilla.

A grave situation faced the commanders as they assembled at Corps Headquarters. There was a gap in the center of the Corps position. In the 36th alone, the 1st and 3rd Battalions, 142nd Infantry, and the 3rd Battalion, 143rd Infantry, were almost to be cut off. The 143rd's 2nd Battalion had been smashed in the Sele-Calore lowland. These men had fought well at every point against the overpowering mass of the enemy armor, artillery and infantry, but troop-power had been too extended to meet the attacks that the enemy had launched.

When after dark, the order came to withdraw, Company K had been surrounded and had to remain in Altavilla until the night of the 14th. The rest of the battalion and the two battalions of the 142nd Infantry withdrew to La Coas Creek. The effort to recapture and hold Hill 424, so nearly accomplished, had failed.

All night long, a new and last line of defense was hastily formed along the little LaCoas creek from the Calore to Mt. Soprano. It was but a light natural barrier but the best defensive position available. To man the defense was necessary to draw troops from every possible source, for the 36th had been so extended and

Thursday,
January 10, 1985

had suffered so heavily during the 31th that it did not have the strength to occupy and prepare the position.

That same night in the Gulf of Salerno, naval vessels moved shoreward to pound enemy installations with their heavy shells, and Allied planes carried out one of the war's heaviest bombings in support of tactical operations. Before midnight, massed flights of C-47's, friendly orange identification light glowing, swept in from the sea bearing paratroop reinforcements from Sicily. Confidence mounted and determination settled.

With the coming of dawn, the battle raged in new fury as the Germans tried to force an opening. At 0930, with German infantry and a company of Mark IV Specials approaching Mt. San Chirico, six tanks of the 751st Tank Battalion moved up to meet the challenge and knocked out eight Mark IV's with the loss of only one. At 1043 at least three more tanks, supported by a battery of self-propelled guns, attempted to cross the Calore at the burned bridge and road northeast of it.

The successful defense of the 14th indicated that the Salerno beachhead was assured.

Five more days German and Allied troops sparred but Altavilla was recaptured and elements of the 36th Division had pushed east to Serre and Ponte Sele, every part of the Salerno plain was firmly in our hands.

Our supporting fires repelled the whole attack and the enemy withdrew. Division Artillery had fired more than 4,100 rounds.

By dusk, the Germans ceased attacking along the LaCoas Line for the effort was proving too costly.

Fishing Report

Terry L. Wilson

With the new year brings new changes in the Eastland County Bass Club. Officers for the 1985 season are as follows: Pres. Terry Wilson; Tournament director Ipa Pennington; Entertainment director Don Flowers; Associate Entertainment director Tom Peebles; Sec. Treasurer Herman Dunlop; Reporter Terry Wilson.

Board of Directors include all officers mentioned above plus Tommy Maynard and Tommy Thompson. Many items were discussed during our opening meeting. Changes include the paying of Angler of the Year plus 2nd and 3rd place. Also appointment of committees for studies of fund raising, special tournaments, invitational tournament and special activities. Also we shall be drawing at each meeting for some wonderful prizes and each third meeting there shall be a drawing for a special prize. The more meetings you attend the better the odds of winning.

Other items concerning our format discussed were as follows.

During our monthly tournaments we shall again be paying $40.00 first place, $24.00 second place and $16.00 for third place plus trophies. Again this year we shall be drawing our lake each month during our meeting, to allow anglers to better plan their trips and perhaps make a family outing to go along with the tournament. We shall again be using 3 fish 14" minimum for our tournaments.

We would like to invite everyone to attend our next meeting and possibly even join one of Americas fastest growing sports, fishing. We realize you don't need to join to enjoy, but many extra benefits are just waiting for you and your family. So don't wait for warmer weather and join now. "The Eastland County Bass Club, Needs YOU".

Area lakes are slow in all aspects, with recent heavy rains, but with fresh water flooding weed beds we should have an excellent next 2 years as these weeds will decay and enrich the water tremendously.

Letter To The Editor

I have just completed reading your article, which was in the Cisco Press on December 20, 1984, regarding Mr. Henry Schaeffer.

Let me congratulate you on an excellent article describing the man's life. His determination over the past number of years, through your article, should be an inspiration over other handicapped individuals who are trying to overcome their disabilities.

I was also pleased to see that the Texas Rehabilitation Commission had a part in making this transition somewhat easier for this outstanding gentleman.

Again, thank you for sharing this man's life with the readers of your area. Occasionally, individuals with handicaps such as Mr. Schaeffer, may be brought to your attention. The Texas Rehabilitation Commission provides Vocational Rehabilitation Training and training related services to it's eligible handicapped individuals. IN THE INTEREST OF SERVING THIS AREA,
JIM CALDWELL BRINGS YOU THESE IMPORTANT MONEY-SAVING ARTICLES:

How much does it really matter if an engine is dirty? One important point: a dirty engine is more likely to have trouble starting on a damp day, because that's where moisture collects.

Buckle up—and have passengers wear seat belts, too. According to industry studies, most passengers would put on seatbelts if the driver asked them to. (They do in airplanes, without complaint.)

Cooler weather causes the pressure to drop in your tires. Check them regularly. Remember: too-low pressure wastes gas and increases wear.

Special safety measure on fuel-injection systems will shut off fuel supply to the engine if there is a collision at 30 MPH or more.

If one radiator hose goes, it's smart to replace both at once. Smarter yet: replace hoses periodically, without waiting for trouble.

Mr. Scheuren, who lives with his family at 510 West 8th St., has recently been employed by a wholesale Company in Abilene. Lake Cisco gained 20 inches of new water during the past week, as 3 in. of rain and 3 in. of snow fell in the region. The total is expected to climb, for Lake Bernie is running over, and Battle Creek pumps are in operation. Lake Cisco gained some 4 ft. of new water during rains in November. So things are really looking up concerning Cisco's water supply.

RANGER

Ranger's New Year is getting off to a very good start! The pipe has arrived for the new water system, with the money for this material coming from the First Grant in 1983. The contractors are expected to arrive with the equipment for the work soon, beginning work on these badly needed improvements.

Your Local Newspaper Sells Office Supplies

Bookstore With Southwestern Material Opens In Abilene

Have you ever been lost in the maze of a large bookstore while you searched for local books? Did you know that most bookstores are "chain" operations now, and the buyers live far from this area?

To help in this situation, the Abilene Writer's Guild has opened its own store next door to the Paramount Theatre in downtown Abilene. The quarters are actually part of the Paramount building.

The project is being operated by members of the Guild on a volunteer basis. Juanita Zachary is director of the project, and Charles (Chuck) Weeth, former owner of Sanders Book Store is an advisor. Clint Hamilton is in charge of decorating the store.

Eastland County authors, as well as others from the area, will have books in the store.

"We have written these books," Juanita Zachary says, "because we felt the subject we've written about is history that must be saved. But many people in the Big Country do not know they exist.

"Why? Because we have had no extensive promotion and publicity. And because many of these people are new residents who have not yet had opportunity to hear about our books.

"When a regional book is published and the first publicity has passed, promotion usually ends there. As one of the more than 40 Big Country authors, I'm hoping for your support in this venture."

Mrs. Zachary says that advertising will be done by mailing and distributing flyers, and in newspapers as finances permit. Flyers will be available to all patrons attending events at the Paramount. Mail orders will be encouraged.

The Book Store will be open during day hours in which the Paramount is open, and from 9:30 to 5 on the four Saturdays preceding major holidays. Books will be accepted for sale on consignment.

Among the Abilene Writer's Guild members are Shirley Strawn, who also belongs to the Cisco Writer's Club. Shirley and her husband, Frank Strawn, grew up in the Morton Valley area. They, with other Guild members, are frequent visitors in Eastland County.

Act Allows Districts To Establish Guidance Centers

The legislature left it up to an unelected board to decide.

The Act allows districts to establish "school-community guidance centers" to "assist children with problems which interfere with their education including but not limited to juvenile offenders and children with severe behavioral problems or character disorders." (emphasis added) Article VI, Part C, Section 1. Who will determine whether a child has a "character disorder?"

Public schools already include courses of "values clarification." The values of children taught by parents are being "clarified." Who will determine how values should be clarified?

The autonomy of the local school board was eradicated by the 1984 Act. The unelected State Board of Education will establish standards and duties for the local school boards and their members. Investigators will determine compliance and if the local district fail to meet their requirements, State funds may be withheld. The Commissioner of Education is given the power to appoint a "master" to oversee a school district. The Act gives the power to the master to "approve or disapprove any action of the board of trustees or the superintendent of the district."

The power of the central bureaucracy is also increased by the new "equalization plan" which allocates dollars away from the community where raised and transfers them to some other community, as determined by the appointed board.

C. The Act Gave Us Our Largest Tax Increase in Our History.

Mark White pledged in his 1982 campaign against Governor Clements to have no new taxes. Two years after taking office, he signed into law the largest tax hike in Texas history.

Texans are willing to pay the price for the education of their children. But how are dollars for education best spent? More than $4,500 per child is spent in public education per year in Texas. The average cost of private education is far less. The problems of schools are widely recognized, as are the problems of poverty. But throwing billions of tax dollars at public schools will no more solve the problems of education than pushing hundreds of billions into the welfare system has solved the problem of poverty.

Teacher pay raises account for only a portion of the tax increase. What will the rest of the tax increase be used for? Compliance with all the new regulation is very expensive.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

If you believe, as we do, that parents should have the primary rights and responsibilities for educating their children and that the measure passed by the Texas legislature in the 1984 Special Session will, although very costly, prove ineffectual to reverse the decline in the quality of state regulated schools, then, please:

1. Diligently pray that leaders will be raised up who will be guided by principles of parental freedom, fiscal responsibility and free enterprise. Be faithful to pray for those in office.

2. If your State representative or senator voted for the 1984 education bill, work to replace him or her in the next election with a candidate who will vote to repeal the Act.

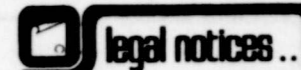

3. Get acquainted with the legislators in office and explain to him or her your views on education, and other matters. Thank those who vote for family values.

4. Consider entering your children in a church or home school. Home schooling is still legal in Texas. But the Texas Education Agency has already stated its objective to ban home schooling. And the new Act sets as one criterion for state funding of local school district "the effectiveness of the district's efforts to improve attendance" (in public schools). Article IV, Part G, Section 1. All freedom-loving Texans, even those who don't choose to educate their children in a home or church school, must work to prevent it happening in Texas, as it has in Russia, that the state can forcibly take children away from their parents to be educated as the state sees it.

5. State informed. The news media has not presented an accurate and complete picture of the 1984 Education Act. Subscribe to a publication providing accurate information. You might find the following to be informative and helpful: Texas Council For Public Policy, 8609 Northwest Plaza, Suite 341, Dallas, Texas 75225; Pro Family Forum, P.O. When You're Looking For A New Home, Look For An E.S.P. Home...

It'll Save You Money!

SAVE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS on your electric bill over the life of your home by owning a WTU-Approved E.S.P. Home. Some homes on the market may seem energy efficient, but you can be confident an E.S.P. Home really is. WTU has carefully inspected and qualified each E.S.P. Home to meet energy efficiency requirements.

E.S.P. REQUIREMENTS include some of the most important energy saving features, such as:

- Ceiling insulation of R-30 and wall insulation of R-16.
- Storm windows or insulated glass.
- Weatherstripping and caulking around all doors and windows.

- Electric heat pump with a Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio (SEER) of 8.0 or above.
- Air conditioning with a SEER of 8.5 or above.
- Air infiltration control.

COMPARE HOW MUCH YOU CAN SAVE with an E.S.P. Home over a one-year period:

An average 1800 square foot home will cost you approximately $775 a year to heat and cool. An E.S.P. Home of 1800 square feet will cost approximately $570 a year to heat and cool, which results in an annual savings on electricity of 26 percent or more. (Energy savings may vary according to the type of home, family size and individual energy usage habits.)

New Year's Day Snow Scene

SNOW COVERED local automobiles, yards and roads, Wednesday morning after snow started falling on New Year's Day and continued throughout that afternoon and night. Approximately 2-3 inches of snow fell in the area and sleet underneath the snow made for hazardous driving on Wednesday. (staff photo)

Putnam News

By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

Old man winter came with a bang and ushered in the new year. It snowed all day Jan. 1st and all the Big Country was covered. We had about four inches here. We are thankful that the temperature did not get very low so we have not had any frozen pipes like we did last year.

I have always heard that if a snow stays on the ground three days, it will snow again in three days, so look out!

We were so sorry to hear of the death of Earl Sunderman of Ft. Worth. Earl came to Putnam with his family during the Boom Days of Putnam. He attended school here. We extend our deepest sympathy to the Sunderman family.

Also Retha Brown suffered another heart attack at her home at Weatherford and was taken back to a Ft. Worth hospital. She was recovering from a recent attack. She is back home again.

Ollie Burnam has been in a Cisco hospital most all week. She has been undergoing tests.

The Milton Donaways had their family home last weekend. There were Hubert and family of Odessa; also grandson Dwayne and Laura of Odessa; Lee and family of Amarillo; L.C. family of Albany; Warren family of Brownwood; George and Nettie Ramsey of Austin; Kim Ramsey of Greeley, Colo.; Mark and Lisa Perekhodak and baby Lindsey Rae of Denver, Colo.; also, Mrs. Nettie Speegle of Baird nursing home. Lindsey is the fourth generation of the Speegle family.

Maxie Solomon spent New Year's week at Houston with her family, son Billy and daughter Betty.

The G.W. Weeks also had their family for the New Year week: the Dean Billiks of Omaha, Neb.; Sargeants from Grand Prairie; Roy Keels and the Capertons of Brownwood; Danny Weeks family of Dallas; Roger Weeks of Tuscola; Jim Weeks of Baird; Rusty Lee of Midland; Hinnegers of Abilene; and John, who is on vacation from Baylor U. at Waco.

Mrs. Edith Muzny is spending a few days with her daughter, Delores Krnkie at Dallas.

Ruby Weathermon is home from Humana Hospital at Abilene where she has been recuperating from injuries received from a car wreck last week. Mrs. Mary Fry has been managing the nutrition program for her.

Mrs. Myrtle Weeks is home after spending some time with her son Norris and family at Baird.

Homer Taylor of Sweetwater was home with his mother a short time Friday.

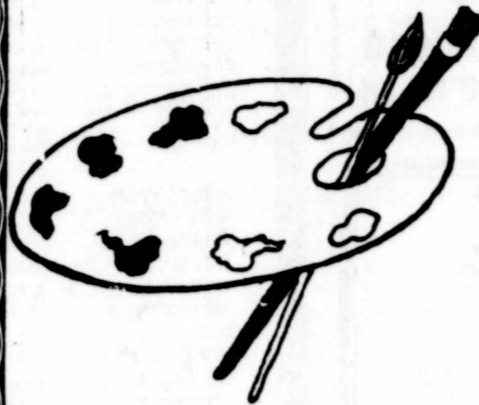

Visiting the John D. Isenhowers have been their children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Isenhower from Ames, Iowa; David and children from Sherman; also grandchildren, David and Jeanette McClendon of Dallas; daughter, Linda and Joe Fiore of Houston.

Laura and Kim Massingale of Abilene spent Thursday and Friday with her parents, Mita and John Doyle Isenhower.

WORD of GOD
Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? Who shall dwell in thy holy hill?
He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.
He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbor, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbor.
In whose eyes a vile person is contemned; but he honoreth them that fear the Lord. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.
He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

DEER SEASON ended last weekend and the shooting was pretty good, according to the folks out at Rust Processing Center's new venison department. Eight deer were brought in over the final weekend, and all of them were shot in this area.

For the whole season, the Rust center processed over 100 deer. This was real good for their first year in business, they think. Most of the deer were shot in this region, but a goodly number were brought in from New Mexico and Colorado and points west in Texas.

The Rusts processed 13 wild hogs. They were not javalinas but regular swine that had got out and gone wild. All were nice and fat and made good bacon, ham, spareribs and sausage. They also processed one turkey.

A GROUP OF Ciscoans folks enjoyed a mission trip to Palmito and Rodeo, two small towns 100 miles west of Torreon in Mexico, recently. They left Cisco Dec. 28th in a van and returned home Jan. 4th.

Making the trip were Bruce and Ginger Stovall, Gerald and Francille Winnett, Ben Argil, James R. (Bud) Coats and Kevin Winnett. All live here except Ben, a Howard Payne University ministerial student from the Torreon area.

The group visited Baptist missions in four towns and passed out gifts to children and held religious services for adults. Mr. Stovall, who speaks good Spanish, and Mr. Argil were in charge of the services.

This was more of a trip to encourage people the Ciscoans had met on a number of previous visits there, according to Mr. Winnett, who was co-chairman with Mr. Stovall of the mission venture. They are still looking for a boat motor of about 50 horsepower to take to Mexico for use of the mission team stationed there. They have a boat that could be used for visits to people up and down a river if they had a motor. If you're interested in helping obtain a motor, contact Mr. Winnett.

The group encountered no problems incrossing the border on in travel on the highways in Mexico, Mr. Winnett reported. Plans call for a return trip there in a few months.

MR. BEN Sancillo, chief deputy under Sheriff Johnny Morren, has accepted a job with the Ranger Police Department, according to scout reports... Mrs. Beth Prickett of the City Hall staff tells us that her daughter Sheila had a 3.5 grade point average to make the dean's list at ACU last semester. Does she take after her mother, we asked? Nope, Beth answered. The Ronnie Ledbetters of our town went with a group from Eastland to Laredo last weekend. They enjoyed a visit across the border into Mexico.

MR. WM. E. (Bill) Austin of the furniture store was due home Tuesday of this week from Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene after spending several days there for medical treatment... Mr. W.L. (Bill) Darr of the Darr Auto Service and a long-time Ciscoan underwent surgery at Hendrick hospital last week. He was taken out of ICU Monday and will probably be in the hospital another week or so. His condition has been improving, reports his son Gerald. Mrs. Darr has been staying in Abilene with her husband.

THE GOOD NEWS from Australia was a report that two more oil wells have been completed on a concession under which the Golden Triangle Oil & Royalty Company of Cisco has royalty interests. That's the report that Mr. Robert Kamon of the Kamon House oil companies brought home Dec. 24th from Australia where he spent a month on business.

Mr. Kamon was unable to visit the site of the wells due to the rainy season that had inundated the region with mud and water. The only way that supplies could be moved in was by helicopter, he reported.

Mr. Kamon probably will return there in March on business for his companies... The Kamon's children, Ken and Kay, got home for the holiday season.
