BOSTON (AP) — Flight attendants were serving lunch to the 38 passengers on an Air Canada flight high over the North Atlantic when a four-foot chunk of its tail blew away.

"All of a sudden it felt like the windows had blown in," said a passenger, Ellen John, 25, of Taunton, Mass. "People started screaming. Food was flying around."

Horrified passengers could see out the gaping hole at the rear of the DC-9 jetliner as Flight 680, carrying 42 persons, limped back to Boston and landed. Food and trays tumbled through the aisle. A fully loaded liquor cart swept out the rear, according to Mike Ciccarelli of the Federal Aviation Administration.

One stewardess fell and suffered a slight cut when the twin-engine jet swayed and bumped while flying 25,000 feet above the ocean en route from Boston to Yarmouth and Halifax, Nova Scotia.

"I gather he did a beautiful job of landing," Steven Pisine, a spokesman for Air Canada, said about the pilot, G. Gill of Toronto.

The FBI said it found no trace of a bomb and turned the investigation over to officials from the National Transportation Safety Board and Air Canada.

"It sounded like a bomb. You could see the sky," said passenger Betty Martin of Syracuse, N.Y.

"We heard a boom," she said. "Everyone turned around...You could see a hole where the tail cone is supposed to be."

"The pilot said he heard a loud bang and became aware of rapid decompression," Ciccarelli said. "He was given a straight-in approach over Logan International Airport."

"We were all praying," said Ms. Martin.

The plane rapidly lost cabin pressure as soon as the tail cone ripped away. Ciccarelli said oxygen masks automatically popped down from overhead canisters, and the pilot nosed his craft down to an altitude where decompression would not injure the passengers.

"By the time they lost pressurization they were low enough so the passengers would not have any effect," Pisine said.

"When we landed, I looked around and it looked like the whole back end of the plane was wide open," said Mrs. John's sister, Holly Yorke, 19, of Taunton.

Ciccarelli said the DC-9 has an escape door located at its rear, which may have loosened and torn open, ripping away the remainder of the tail.

The stewardess, identified as Yolanda Neneman, 27, of Enfield, Nova Scotia, was treated at Massachusetts General Hospital and released. Three passengers were treated at an airport aid station for minor injuries.

Imprisoned Americans say they never gave up while in Cuban prison

MIAMI (AP) — "I never gave up," said Larry Lunt after he and three others stepped onto U.S. soil after years of imprisonment in Cuba on espionage and political charges.

Gaunt, tired and somewhat bewildered, the four Americans arrived at Miami International Airport on Monday night, only hours after learning their release was imminent.

Imprisoned since the Cold War days of the mid-1960s, the four were released 10 days after the United States freed four Puerto Rican terrorists.

The State Department denied any "package deal" with Cuba, but officials acknowledged awareness of Cuban President Fidel Castro's public offer to release the Americans in return for release of the Puerto Ricans.

"I'm happy, I'm happy, I'm three times happy," said estatic Juan Tur, 62, in Spanish as he hugged his wife and daughter. Tur was sent to prison by Castro in 1963 for "counter-revolutionary activities."

The freed Americans were Lunt, 56, a Saratoga, Wyo., rancher sentenced to 30 years in 1965 for espionage; Tur, a Tampa native; Everett Jackson, 39, of Los Angeles, sentenced to 30 years for espionage in 1967; and Claudio Rodriques Morales, 49, of Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, sentenced to 20 years in 1966 for smuggling people out of Cuba.

"I feel very deeply and immensely happy," Lunt said. "All I want to do is go back to Wyoming and ranching."

Looking exhausted, they slumped in front of television cameras in threadbare suits Jackson said were "compliments of the (Communist) Party."

Lunt and Jackson said they had links to the Central Intelligence Agency while in Cuba.

"I have nothing to say about the CIA," Lunt said. "I was involved with the CIA, but I don't want to say what that was."

Lunt said he was ranching in Cuba when arrested on charges of providing information to the CIA.

Jackson said he parachuted into Cuba in 1967 to photograph old missile sites for "journalistic purposes." However, during an interview in Cuba two years ago with a group of visiting congressmen, Jackson said he had been shot down while flying over Cuba on assignment for a California newspaper.

"I had an agreement with the CIA that I was not working for them," Jackson said. "But they were interested in information and they were interested in what I was going to get."

State Department spokesman Hodding Carter refused to comment on whether the four were American agents as Castro alleged. But speaking privately, an official said the Cuban charges were not true.

No compromise on Cuba: Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House officials insist that President Carter is in no mood to compromise on the presence of Soviet combat troops in Cuba, despite the lack of any visible progress in the latest round of negotiations with the Russians.

Top-level U.S. and Soviet negotiators held an unusually brief meeting, lasting 27 minutes, at the State Department on Monday with no sign of progress.

The meeting between Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin was their fourth since Dobrynin returned to Washington from home leave in Moscow to discuss the troops issue, which is undermining prospects for Senate ratification of the strategic arms treaty.

The other Vance-Dobrynin meetings have lasted well over an hour each.

Monday's session followed a morning White House meeting in which President Carter and his top national security advisers made some unspecified decisions about the troop issue, White House press secretary Jody Powell said.

Powell would not disclose what happened at the White House session. "We do not intend to conduct the negotiations in public," he said.

But he did say the United States continues to view the presence of Soviet combat troops on the island as "unacceptable" and as "a very serious matter."

A White House official, who asked not to be named, later told reporters that Powell's statement should not be taken lightly, but was a careful reiteration of the U.S. position designed to dispel any ideas that Carter is ready to soften that position.

The Soviets deny they have stationed a combat brigade on the island 90 miles from Florida, but U.S. officials insist they have solid evidence of a Soviet brigade of as many as 3,000 men, equipped with tanks, armored personnel carriers and artillery.

The U.S. officials say the brigade apparently has been stationed in Cuba for several years but was only recently discovered by U.S. intelligence.

Fire officials say some homes may have been saved from fire except for Proposition 13 cuts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Some of the expensive homes turned to ashes by the brush fires still raging through California might have been saved if crews had not been reduced because of Proposition 13 cutbacks, fire officials have charged.

Even as they registered their complaint Monday, fires burned out of control in several places.

Maj. Gen. Frank Schober Jr., commander of the California National Guard, alerted the Army National Guard, which is providing support to the California Department of Forestry and the U.S. Forest Service at four blazes — the Shadow fire near Lake Arrowhead, the Paseo fire west of Corona, the Chili Bar fire near Placerville and the Woodward Fire near Lake Isabella in Kern County.

Firemen remained on duty today amid smoldering ruins left by the blaze that destroyed 24 Laurel Canyon homes in the Hollywood Hills over the weekend.

City Fire Chief John Gerrard said some of the homes might have been saved if the department had been at the staff levels set up before passage of Proposition 13, the referendum which cut California property taxes and forced public spending cutbacks.

Engine companies now have four men instead of five, and off-duty firefighters were called in to supplement working crews, he said.

"It takes two hours to call a man in, get him to the station, get him in uniform and out to the fire," he said.

The recent rash of fires in Southern California has charred more than 55,000 acres, destroyed a total of 34 homes and prompted the closing of all four national forests.

Air quality officials said the atmospheric inversion which had trapped smog close to the ground had lifted, easing the situation despite the smoke in the air.

Meanwhile, almost 2,000 firefighters from across the nation tried to keep the 22,000-acre Sage fire from jumping the Angeles Crest Highway in the San Gabriel Mountains, 30 miles northeast of downtown Los Angeles.

The nearby Monte fire was holding at 2,000 acres, officials said. A third fire in the Angeles National Forest burned 5,043 acres in the Mount Wilson area and caused $1.5 million damage. Officials said they expected to control the blaze this morning.

Another fire Sunday charred 800 acres in suburban Hacienda Heights and Whittier, 18 miles east of downtown.

Firefighters also battled a 3,700-acre fire in the Cleveland National Forest in Riverside County, near Corona, which was not expected to be controlled before Wednesday.

In San Bernardino County, 2,300 acres of brush were charred by a fire near the community of Shadow Hills.

Two firemen suffered second-degree burns battling an arson-caused fire northeast of Redlands near the Santa Ana River that claimed 1,400 acres and was still out of control early today.

A fire in Rancho Cucamonga burned 700 acres and caused $200,000 damage before it was contained at midnight Sunday.

A 7,000-acre weekend fire at Black Mountain in San Diego County destroyed 10 homes before being put out.

Decision postponed on change of venue

After hearing two and a half hours of testimony late Monday afternoon in the change of venue hearing for 17-year-old Kelly Joe Chamblis of Midland, 238th District Court Judge Vann Culp postponed an immediate decision on the question.

Chamblis is charged with murder in connection with the July 18 shooting death of Army Sgt. J.B. England on Interstate 20.

Defense attorneys Eddie Garza and Allen McFall have filed a motion to move the trial from Midland County based on pre-trial publicity in the case.

They contend that news coverage of the death of Sgt. England and the trial last week of a co-defendant in the case have made it impossible for Chamblis to receive a fair and impartial trial in Midland.

The co-defendant, 20-year-old Raymond Wesley Mathis of Midland, was convicted last Friday of murder in the case and was assessed a 99-year prison term.

Testimony in the change of venue proceeding Monday was given by numerous news media representatives and others, and centered primarily on news coverage of Sgt. England's death and Mathis' trial.

Reporters from two newspapers, a television station and a radio station testified Friday, along with attorneys, a private investigator and others.

Witnesses expressed varied opinions on whether news coverage of the death and the trial has made it impossible for Chamblis to receive a fair trial here.

After the conclusion of testimony, Judge Culp said he would take the matter under advisement and issue a ruling on the motion at a later date. His ruling is expected this week.

Representing the state at Monday's hearing were Midland County District Attorney Vern Martin and Assistant District Attorney Charles Seltzer.

Just a little place for two ...or three or four or more

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — A heated pool would be nice, but a tennis court is a must for the home Johnny Carson will rent for five days while he performs at the Chateau de Ville here next month.

Clover Associates of Framingham said Carson will pay $1,000 rent for five days, provided the house: is on an acre of land; has luxurious furnishings; has four or more bedrooms and three or more bathrooms, and is within 30 minutes of Framingham.

Advertisements seeking the house, which appeared in local newspapers over the weekend, did not mention Carson by name, but Clover broker Lucille Leaman said she's sure those who have answered the advertisement know who it is. "They can put two and two together."

Carson's West Coast booking agent, Stan Irwin, said Carson always chooses a private home for his outside appearances to avoid crowds and lines in hotel lobbies.

Carson is scheduled to appear at the club Oct. 12-14.

Can you tell me when the next hearing is scheduled in Texas, close to Midland, on the nuclear waste disposal issue? — L.G.

ANSWER: Here's the answer as supplied by the U.S. Department of Energy in Albuquerque, N.M.

Closest to Midland will be a hearing from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Oct. 1 in The Founders Building at The University of Texas at the Permian Basin in Odessa.

There also will be hearing from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Hobbs, N.M., Oct. 2, and one, same hours, Oct. 5 in the New Mexico National Guard Headquarters Complex in Santa Fe, N.M.

According to DOE, the proposal is to design, construct and operate a waste isolation pilot plant for the permanent disposal of defense-related transuranic wastes and for research and development on various defense high-level waste forms in a mined repository.

Thursday Through Saturday

West Texas: Considerable cloudiness with minor day to day temperature changes. Highs in the 70s except lower 80s extreme south. Lows in 50s and lower 60s except middle 40s southwest mountains.

North Texas: Clear to partly cloudy and mild. Chance of thunderstorms Thursday and east Friday. High temperatures 78 to 86. Low temperatures 59 to 68.

South Texas: Chance of rain Thursday and in east portion Friday. Partly cloudy and a little warmer Saturday. High temperatures from 80 north to near 90 in the south. Lows from the middle 60s to the low 70s.

Texas area forecasts

West Texas: Considerable cloudiness with widely scattered showers. Partly cloudy Wednesday with widely scattered showers extreme southeast. Continued mild. Highs mid 60s to the mid 70s. Lows in the 50s.

North Texas: Cloudy east, partly cloudy west through Wednesday. Scattered thunderstorms and rain showers central and east. Widely scattered thunderstorms extreme west. Highs in the 80s. Lows 60 northwest to 72 southeast.

South Texas: Flash flood watch in effect for portions of the Texas coast. Occasional rain and a few thunderstorms diminishing by Wednesday. Cool through Wednesday. Highs 70s to 80s. Lows in the 70s.

Border states forecasts

Oklahoma: Partly cloudy northwest and mostly cloudy southeast. Scattered showers and thunderstorms extreme west and southwest spreading across most sections by tonight. Highs in the 70s to mid 80s. Lows in the low 50s. Fairly steady to upper 60s southeast.

New Mexico: Partly cloudy north and west to mostly cloudy southeast with widely scattered showers. Generally fair Wednesday with warmer temperatures in the southern portions. Highs in the 60s in the mountains to 70s elsewhere. Lows in the 30s and 40s in the mountains to 50s elsewhere.

No longer a hurricane, Henri drifts to northwest

VERACRUZ, Mexico (AP) — After an "erratic dance" off eastern Mexico, Hurricane Henri was downgraded to a tropical storm today as it began to drift northwest toward the Gulf coast town of Tampico, 250 miles north of here, the U. S. National Weather Service in Miami said.

Henri's top winds were averaging about 65 mph, down to 10 mph in the last 24 hours. But the U.S. weather agency warned persons in coastal areas to be prepared for high winds and tides 2 feet to 3 feet above normal.

The storm was located about 150 miles southeast of Tampico and continued to weaken, the Weather Service said. Because of its nearly stationary course it was difficult to predict whether it would hit the United States.

Earlier, the Meteorological Service here had warned residents along the coast from Tampico north to Soto La Marina to prepare for "hurricane force winds."

Efforts to cap a runaway offshore oil well in Campeche Bay were suspended and the well continued to spew thousands of barrels of crude oil into the Gulf of Mexico. The oil slick was washing up on Texas coast beaches.

About 2,000 Mexicans were forced from flooded homes Monday in low-lying areas of Ciudad del Carmen, an island in Campeche Bay.

About 200 fishermen and their families in the village of Casitas, 180 miles north of here, sought higher ground when tides three feet higher than normal swept into their homes.

"Oil drilling operations were halted in the entire southern zone, both on land and offshore, and offshore platforms were evacuated Monday," officials of PEMEX, the government oil monopoly said.

The port of Coatzacoalcos in oil-rich Veracruz state was closed and crude pumping was suspended at the Parajitos, Veracruz, terminal, where oil is loaded onto tankers, Pemex officials said.

Electric energy interruptions at Cactus, in the natural gas and oil fields in southern Mexico's Reforma fields, closed down 19 wells, officials reported.

PEMEX stopped loading an oil tanker because high winds cut hoses as the ship was taking on crude destined for Spain. The ship was forced to seek shelter in Campeche Bay and was only partially loaded.

Cloudiness to continue

Sunbathers may need to wait a few more days before trying to get that last patch of summer tan.

Weathermen at the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport are calling for considerable cloudiness tonight with a slight chance of light rain.

It will be partly cloudy Wednesday with warmer afternoons, the weathermen say.

High Wednesday is projected for the upper 70s, with the overnight low expected to be in the upper 50s.

The high Monday was 73, much cooler than the record 98 set in 1977. Overnight low was 60, much warmer than the record 47 set in 1971.

There should be light and variable winds at 5 to 10 mph tonight, the weathermen say.

Only a trace of precipitation was recorded Tuesday, keeping this year's precipitation total at 12.21 inches.

Flash flood watches were posted for the Texas coastal plains today as widespread rain and fog descended over the area late Monday.

Brownsville reported over three inches of rain from Monday night until early Tuesday morning. Houston had three-quarters of an inch and Corpus Christi reported a half inch of rain/fall during the same period.

Chrysler models on EPA's list

WASHINGTON (AP) — The financially troubled Chrysler Corp. is the only American automaker to offer 1980 models ranking among the Top 10 in fuel economy, the Environmental Protection Agency announced today.

Two models of the diesel-powered Volkswagen Rabbit — both made in Germany — head the EPA mileage list for the second consecutive year. The five-speed manual transmission version is rated at 42 miles per gallon and the four-speed Rabbit at 40 mpg.

Two Chrysler models — the Dodge Colt and the Plymouth Champ — tied for the next best mileage figures at an estimated 37 mpg each.

That topped all U.S. manufacturers, gasoline or diesel-powered, and all foreign car makers except Volkswagen.

Some autos were not included on today's list and will be covered in an updated version to be published early next year, EPA said.

Of the Top 10 cars, six are gasoline powered.

Tied for fifth place — behind the two Volkswagens, the Dodge Colt and Plymouth Champ — are two diesel-powered Volkswagen Dashers and a gasoline-fueled Honda Civic with a five-speed transmission. Each of the fifth-place cars is rated at 36 mpg.

Rounding out the Top 10, each getting an estimated 35 mpg, are a Honda Civic with a four-speed transmission, and a Dodge Colt and a Plymouth Champ with four-speed transmissions slightly different from the Colt and Champ models ranking higher on the list.

EPA estimated the annual fuel costs for the No. 1 Rabbit at $286. This figure assumes the car is driven 15,000 miles a year, with the cost of diesel fuel at 80 cents a gallon.

San Francisco officials endeavor to reopen strike-bound schools

By The Associated Press

Officials in San Francisco vowed to open school for half the system's pupils despite a teacher walkout now in its second week as strikes by teachers in two New Jersey school districts ended.

More than 34,000 teachers today are on strike nationwide, disrupting classes for 677,400 pupils in Alabama, California, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Washington.

Negotiators for Indianapolis teachers and the board were allowed to go home Monday night after spending most of the day sequestered in a court jury room by order of Marion County Circuit Judge Frank P. Huse.

While contract talks continued, Huse threatened $25-a-day fines against every teacher who does not show up for work. There was no report on progress in the dispute, which has kept about 1,300 of the 3,400 teachers in the district off the job.

In Detroit, negotiators for 12,000 teachers and the school board are resuming talks today under an order issued Monday by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Patrick Duggan.

State mediators Robert B. Blackwell and Robert Piasarski brought the two sides together Monday night. Although a news blackout continued, Blackwell said the talks are "looking good."

In the nation's largest strike since schools began opening three weeks ago, about 300 Detroit schools have stayed closed for 189,000 pupils since teachers walked out Sept. 10.

Teachers in Paterson, N.J., ratified a new contract Monday calling for a 30 percent wage increase over three years, a family dental plan to begin next year and an individual prescription plan to begin in 1981. The salary increase amounts to an average of $4,300 over the life of the contract for 1,700 Paterson teachers, who currently earn an average of $14,300.

In Woodbridge, N.J., teachers returned to work Monday afternoon, but the district's 15,000 students, who have attended classes on half-day sessions since the strike began Sept. 4, had already gone home for the day. The 1,100 teachers ratified a new two-year contract Monday calling for a 9 percent increase each year.

San Francisco School Superintendent Robert Alioto said Monday that classes for 30,000 kindergarten through fifth grade pupils would be taught beginning Thursday by administrative, supervisory and substitute personnel. Classes for 30,000 junior high and high school pupils would also eventually resume, he said.

"We'll continue the negotiations but the progress has been agonizingly slow," Alioto said. "We cannot continue holding up school...the first duty is to the child."

The 3,500-member union has demanded the rehiring of 1,200 teachers fired in the spring and is seeking a 5.7 percent wage increase.

Meanwhile, classes resumed for 16,000 Springfield, Ill., students Monday when 935 teachers ended their strike, but teachers hoisted picket signs in East Cleveland and North Canton, Ohio, boosting the number of striking teachers in that state to more than 1,900.

Judge to take polygraph test

STANTON — County Judge Jimmy Mathis is scheduled to take a polygraph test in the continuing search for almost $1,300 missing from the Martin County tax office.

The money, reportedly taken at three different intervals since about Aug. 27, included $697.35 in checks and $582.36 in cash, according to Martin County Tax Assessor-Collector Donnie Kennedy.

The money was taken from the safe in the office, apparently by someone who "had keys and knew the combination," Mrs. Kennedy said.

Employees in the tax office already have taken polygraph tests, according to Stanton Police Chief Jerry Register.

The county judge and other employees and officials with keys to the building now are being asked to take the tests.

O'Neill doesn't have last word

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says voters should be mulling over his statements on a possible run for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination, rather than those of House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill.

Kennedy, responding to O'Neill's statement that Kennedy probably would not run for the White House next year, indicated Monday the House speaker's thoughts did not necessarily mirror his own.

"Tip's a good friend," Kennedy said of O'Neill, like himself a Massachusetts Democrat.

But Kennedy added: "I've expressed my thoughts. My views are probably the ones to think about."

In a radio interview over the weekend, O'Neill said he had "strong feelings" that Kennedy would not challenge President Carter for the Democratic nomination.

And in today's Washington Post, O'Neill said he based his feelings "on the fact that the people closest to (Kennedy's) organization have not been notified of his plans... If he were a candidate, he would be out there organizing. There's no advance men sent anywhere by Kennedy."

He added that that was not the way the Kennedy family operated.

In the past, O'Neill has said that if Kennedy were to run, Carter should be expected much help from members of Congress from New England.

Because of that, political observers were surprised at O'Neill's weekend statement, with some speculating the House speaker was repeating what Kennedy had told him.

Midlander jailed on assault charge

A 36-year-old Midland man charged with aggravated assault in connection with the early Monday morning stabbing of another Midlander was in Midland County Jail today in lieu of posting $10,000 bond.

George A. Cook, 1116 E. Cowden Ave., was charged in reference to an incident in which Billy Coleman, 25, 1100 E. Pennsylvania Ave., was stabbed in the stomach, back and arm at Rabbit's Lounge on Midland's south side.

Coleman was treated and released at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Cook, arrested by police Monday, was charged before Peace Justice Robert Pine, who set bond.

Nurses, attendants reject plan

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — More than 1,900 nurses and attendants at the Rhode Island Medical Center rejected a state-backed plan to end their five-day-old walkout.

The Department of Mental Health, Retardation and Hospitals has been operating the hospitals, which serve about 1,600 patients, with the help of National Guardsmen and volunteers.

A judge was to consider a contempt of court motion against their union leaders at a hearing today.

The nurses voted 74-20 Monday night at a closed meeting to reject the compromise and keep their picket lines up. The compromise would have guaranteed them a voice in negotiations over staffing levels.

The strike began Thursday after the state questioned whether the nurses could participate in arbitration hearings on the staffing issue because they had changed unions over the summer.

The nurses now belong to Local 79 of the National Association of Government Employees. When the state and Medical Center unions first agreed to submit their staffing dispute to arbitration, they belonged to a different union.

The vote put the dispute back in the hands of Superior Court Judge Anthony A. Giannini, who ruled Friday that the strike violated the state law prohibiting walkouts by state employees. Giannini ordered the nurses to return to work, but they voted overwhelmingly Saturday to defy his ruling.

The judge began a hearing Monday on the state's motion to have union leaders held in contempt, but delayed the hearing to give the 220-member union time to consider the state's proposal.

Most of the 1,700 members of Local 1350, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, which represents attendants, cooks and maintenance workers at the center, have honored the nurses' picket lines.

Daniel Caley, an MHRH spokesman, said Monday that except for one patient at the Institute of Mental Health swallowing glass Friday, there have been no medical emergencies since the strike began.

The center includes the IMH, which treats persons with psychiatric problems, and the General Hospital, which handles cases of long-term illnesses.

ICC studies rail strike situation

The source added.

The ICC reportedly has balked at administration pressure to move swiftly for directed service by arguing that it needs to conduct an extensive review because of the complexities involved.

Lesser said the ICC must ponder several questions about directed service.

ANSWER: According to a Midland attorney, yes, the service can enter your home without having in hand a search warrant, when there is "probable cause" for the action.

However, you have the alternative, since there is no legal basis for the invasion of your home, to refuse admittance, non-violently, of course, and to take your side of the case to court.

Your sweet potatoes probably are an early variety and may have been subject to some type of "stress," such as lack of water or incorrect use of insecticides, etc. When this happens, the sweet potato will mutate, rather than vegetate.

Utility firm agrees with rate increase

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gulf States Utilities has tentatively agreed with consumer groups and cities in its service area to rate increases totaling $20.8 million.

The utility originally had asked the Texas Public Utility Commission for electrical rate increases amounting to $50.4 million over a 12-month period.

"We have a tentative agreement, apparently," said Texas Public Utility Commission hearing examiner Cleve Moten, who monitored the negotiations all day Monday.

Moten said his hearing of the Gulf States case would reconvene Sept. 26 to determine if all parties to the rate case have signed the agreement. If so, Moten said he would submit the settlement to the commission for approval.

At one point in the negotiations, he said, East Texas Legal Services, representing low-income consumers, balked but ultimately agreed to the proposed settlement.

Gulf States had sought rate increases producing $50.4 million in additional revenue over a 12-month period.

The commission staff recommended $20.8 million — the amount to which Gulf States agreed under the settlement.

Other parties to the case included the Texas Municipal League, Texas Industrial Energy Consumers, Jefferson Chemical Co. and several individual cities.

Gulf States serves Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange, Conroe and some Houston consumers, as well as Lake Charles and Baton Rouge, La.

Moten said the compromise allows Gulf States to impose a minimum monthly charge of $5 to households that use 50 kilowatt hours or less per month. He said the package includes seasonal differentials, with higher rates in the summer than in the winter. But households using 500 kilowatt hours or less during the summer would get the cheaper winter rate on an experimental basis.

The company would be required to report the results of the experimental rates the next time it comes before the PUC with a rate request.

Moten said the package also includes incentives to install solar hot water heaters.

Second oil spill suit filed

HOUSTON (AP) — A second $100 million lawsuit has been filed in federal court seeking damages resulting from the world's largest oil spill.

Named as defendants in the suit filed Monday were PEMEX, the Mexican national oil company; Permargo, a privately-owned Mexican drilling company; and SEDCO, Inc., the Dallas firm that supplied the drilling equipment for the well. The same defendants were named in a $155 million lawsuit filed Thursday by a group of Texas fishermen.

The suit alleges the spill, which resulted from a June 3 blowout of a PEMEX well in the Bay of Campeche, caused at least $100 million in damages.

The suit was filed in behalf of the Willacy County Navigation Dist., White Sands Developers, Hilton Sea Island Hotel, Port Mansfield Utility District and all Willacy and Cameron county subdivisions that lost tax revenues as a result of the spill.

U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor has granted SEDCO requests that all claims be filed in Houston and set an October 23 deadline.

The Monday suit alleges the navigation district has lost unspecified amounts of revenue from its seafood processing operations and marketing of ice and fuel to fishermen because of the oil spill.

The district's Port Mansfield Seafood Plant announced Friday it was closing until next spring because of business losses since the spill. The plant has about 15 full-time and 100 part-time employees.

Because of sharply curtailed tourist trade in the South Texas area, the Hilton Sea Island alleges it has lost more than $1 million since oil began washing up on the beaches in early August.

Congress would have one chance to block ration plan

By TOM RAUM

WASHINGTON (AP) — House-Senate conferees have reached basic agreement on a compromise that would give Congress one chance to block a proposed standby-gas rationing plan once it has been drafted by the president, congressional sources say.

If Congress did veto the president's first submission, he would be given a free hand to develop a second standby program without having to send it to Congress for prior approval, under the proposed compromise.

Several members on both the House with the House panel after a subpoena threat.

Texaco's absence at Monday's hearing prompted a threat by subcommittee Chairman Toby Moffett, D-Conn., that a subpoena would be considered. He said Texaco was the only one of 11 companies that flatly refused to testify before his panel.

Later in the day, Texaco voluntarily agreed to testify and Moffett scheduled a hearing for Thursday.

"Now they're saying it was a misunderstanding. If that's the way they want to categorize it, that's okay. It's water over the dam," Moffett said in an interview.

Texaco said in its statement that it had been unable to appear before the subcommittee because of a scheduling conflict. It said it had been asked only last Thursday to appear at Monday's hearing. Texaco officials are willing to appear before the subcommittee "with reasonable notice," the statement said.

ENERGY OIL & GAS

and Senate negotiating teams predicted their week-long stalemate on the rationing bill would be broken by the tentative agreement, expected to be formally adopted at a late afternoon session today.

"It's already been accepted in principle by everyone," said a House Democrat on the committee who asked not to be identified.

Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La., acknowledged that Senate negotiators had already informally approved the "compromise" and were awaiting the reply of the House bargainers.

"We're very close," Johnston said. The conferees previously agreed to give Congress the right to veto rationing at the time the president attempts to impose it — a power he would have only in a national fuel shortage of 20 percent or more.

At issue is whether Congress should also have an earlier say on details of the standby plan, when the president finishes drafting it and before it is put on the standby shelf.

The proposed agreement is a compromise between the Senate wish to give Congress the right of prior approval on any rationing scheme and the House bill, which would give the president a relatively free hand.

Meanwhile, President Carter's call last week for a freeze on heating oil prices — which have climbed more than 50 percent from last winter to 80-85 cents a gallon — is drawing mixed responses from major oil companies.

Officials from Gulf and Sun Oil companies told the House Government Operations Committee's energy subcommittee Monday that they plan to hold prices as low as possible but can't guarantee there won't be more increases.

Gulf Vice President C.H. Bowman said further increases in crude oil prices might force up the price of heating oil. But at the same time, he suggested the possibility that a mild winter could bring about a "softening of the market" and lower prices to consumers.

Mobil Oil Corp., meanwhile, told the Energy Department in a telegram that it would try to hold the line on home heating oil prices through the end of the year. But Standard Oil of Indiana (AMOCO) sent a telegram saying winter heating oil prices were "impossible to predict."

And Texaco, which had earlier earned the praise of President Carter by announcing it would freeze its heating-oil prices for the rest of the year, agreed to discuss its policies

New England plan told

BOSTON (AP) — New Englanders, faced with rising fuel costs, will be able to say "charge it" when the home heating oil truck arrives at the door this winter.

The New England Fuel Institute, which represents 1,100 of the region's fuel dealers, and the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, the nation's third largest commercial bank, have reached a tentative agreement allowing consumers to charge their oil on Master Charge and VISA, an institute member said Monday.

Interest rates for oil purchases under the credit card system will remain the same — 1 percent a month if the credit balance is over $500, 1 1/2 percent a month under $500. Officials say there are no plans so far to change customers' credit limits under the new arrangement.

If the credit card plan is approved by the institute's board of directors as expected this week, it would be the first time large numbers of consumers could buy heating oil with credit cards.

Bankers and heating oil dealers say the idea could lead to creation of a new "energy card" for consumers that might have a higher credit limit, greater availability and different payment terms than Master Charge and VISA. Plans for the energy card are still in the discussion stage.

"The Master Charge and VISA structure is really not set up for a household necessity such as fuel oil. It is structured for pleasure, leisure or a one-time purchase item," said James Garrett, president of Volta Oil Co. of Plymouth, Mass., and one of the institute's board of directors.

Historically, banks have not allowed credit cards to be used for basics like rent and heating oil due to the potential impact on consumer debt.

But now that the price of fuel oil — currently about 80 to 83 cents a gallon — has doubled in the past two years, and both dealers and consumers are faced with stricter payment terms for oil, a few banks decided to explore alternatives to the traditional method of payment.

Pennsylvanian oil discovery finals; WT counties gain wildcat explorers

A Pennsylvanian discovery has been completed in Pecos County, and wildcat operations have been scheduled in Pecos, Scurry, Garza, Terrell, Crockett and Runnels counties.

PECOS DISCOVERY
American Trading & Production Co. of Midland No. 1-16 University has been completed as a flowing Pennsylvanian oil strike in Pecos County, seven miles north of Bakersfield.

The opener finished for a daily potential of 460 barrels of 28.8-gravity oil, no water, through a 1/2-inch choke and perforations from 5,194 to 5,202 feet. The gas-oil ratio is 404-1.

Operator acidized the pay with 500 gallons.

Total depth is 5,771 feet, 4.5-inch pipe is set at 5,444 feet, and hole is plugged back to 5,390 feet.

The Pennsylvanian was topped at 4,888 feet on ground elevation of 2,502 feet. Other tops include the Yates, 770 feet; San Andres, 1,540 feet; Wolfcamp, 4,670 feet, and Ellenburger, 5,398 feet.

The well is 5/8 mile west of a depleted Ellenburger discovery in the Renaud & Tunstall pool and 660 feet from north and 2,100 feet from west lines of section 16, block 20, University Lands survey.

PECOS EXPLORER
Exxon Corp., operating from Midland, staked its No. 3 Longfellow Corp. as a rank wildcat in Pecos County, 16 miles northeast of Sanderson.

Scheduled to 8,500 feet, it is 660 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines of section 39, block 1, TCRR survey.

SCURRY PROJECT
Terra Resources, Inc., of Houston No. 3 Dan E. Whatley is a new 8,400-foot wildcat in Scurry County, 2.5 miles southeast of Fluvanna. It also is a project in the Fluvanna, South (Strawn) pool.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 428, block 97, H&TC survey. It is one location north-east of Terra Resources No. 2 Whatley, a project in the Fluvanna, South (Strawn) field now drilling below 7,367 feet.

GARZA TESTER
Penn Exploration Limited 79 of Abilene announced location for a 9,000-foot wildcat in Garza County, 20 miles southwest of Post.

It is No. 1 Lot, 1,450 feet from north and 2,500 feet from east lines of Jasper Hays survey, abstract 565. It is one and one-quarter miles north of the lone Strawn producer in the Rio Brazos field which produces at 7,984 feet.

TERRELL WILDCAT
H. L. Jr. of Midland No. 1-4 University has been staked as a 9,600-foot wildcat in Terrell County, 22 miles southwest of Sheffield.

It is 990 feet from north and west lines of section 4, block 36, University Lands survey and 1.5 miles southeast of Brown No. 106 Amoco, an active wildcat drilling below 5,400 feet. It also is 1.5 miles southeast of Brown No. 1-1 Amoco-Brown, another active project. No reports have been made on that test since drilling reach 8,702 feet.

The active wildcats are 2.5 miles east of production in the KM (Ellenburger and Wolfcamp) field.

CROCKETT AREA
Harrison Interests, Ltd. of Houston No. 17-30-30 University Land is a 9,500-foot wildcat in Crockett County, 16 miles west of Ozona. The operator also will test the project for Canyon gas production in the Howards Creek multipay area.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 30, block 30, University Lands survey.

RUNNELS TRY
William H. ZuHome Jr. of Mattoon, Mich., reported location for a 4,200-foot wildcat in Runnels County, one-quarter mile south of Crews.

It will be drilled as No. 1 Norval Alexander, 660 feet from the most easterly south line and 2,200 feet from the most southerly east line of Juan H. Miguel survey No. 72, abstract 422.

The field produces from the Dog Bend at 3,349 feet and the lower Fry at 3,621 feet.

The new location is 3/8 mile northwest of Dog Bend production.

HOWARD PRODUCER
W. C. Blanks of Midland No. 1 Choate has been completed from the Fusselman one mile northwest of the Big Spring (Fusselman) field of Howard County, four miles northeast of Big Spring.

The operator reported a daily flow of 308 barrels of 49-gravity oil and one barrel of water, through a 1/4-inch choke and perforations from 9,573 to 9,583 feet. The gas-oil ratio is 600-1 and the pay was acidized with 500 gallons.

T-1-N, T&P survey.

WARD ACTIVITY
MGF Oil Corp. of Midland announced potential test and a new location in the War-Wink (Delaware 5085) field of Ward County.

The operator's No. 1-32 University was completed as a long southwest extender to the field, 9.5 miles northwest of Pyote.

It completed on the pump for 44 barrels of 41-gravity oil and 142 barrels of water, through perforations from 5,002 to 5,008 feet. The gas-oil ratio is 3,000-1.

The pay was acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 7,000 gallons.

Total depth is 5,260 feet and 4.5-inch pipe is set on bottom.

It is one and three-eighths miles southwest of the field's only other well and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 32, block 17, University Lands survey.

MGF will drill its No. 1-30 University as a 5,300-foot test one location southeast of the discovery well of the War-Wink (Delaware 5085) oil pool.

Drillsite is 10 miles northwest of Pyote and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 30, block 17, University Lands survey.

LEA SITE
Conoco Inc. of Hobbs, N.M., has filed application to drill No. 10-E State in the Langley field of Lea County, nine miles southwest of Eunice.

Wellsite is one-half mile northwest of Ellenburger oil production and one and five-eighths mile northwest of the Ellenburger gas opener and lone producer from that pay and seven-eighths mile west-northwest of the two-well Devonian oil area.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17-22s-36e.

Contracted depth is 15,700 feet.

KIMBLE PROJECT
Kamluk, Inc. of Houston will drill the No. 1-B Prentice as a seven-eighths mile east outpost to the opener and lone producer of the Prentice (Strawn) gas field of Kimble County.

The project is 1,320 feet from north and 1,120 feet from west lines of section 2, J. Prentice survey, abstract 2033.

Contracted to 2,600 feet, the wellsite is seven miles southeast of Roosevelt.

Increase suspended

AUSTIN (AP) — A rate increase request filed by the Texas Southeastern Gas Co. Monday was suspended by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The company is asking for rate increases ranging from 12.8 to 15 percent for customers in Bellville, Brenham, Columbus, Eagle Lake, Hempstead, Navasota, Sealy and Waller.

TRC Gas Utilities Division Hearing Examiner Jim B. Cloud said more time is needed to conduct a hearing on the rate hike request. The 30-day suspension becomes effective on Sept. 20.

The commission Monday also approved an application by Bay City Gas Co. to purchase up to 10 million cubic feet a day from Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. Bay City officials said its gas supplier may not be able to deliver enough gas for the city's peak demand periods.

Gaines flood given okay

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission approved Monday a utilization agreement and secondary recovery operation that is programmed to squeeze an extra 7,865,000 barrels of oil from a Gaines County field.

Samedan Oil Corp. of Midland proposed utilization of production in the Robertson and Robertson North fields.

Samedan expects a $5.5 million investment in waterflood operations to repressurize the fields to yield net before-taxes revenue of $72.1 million from additional oil production.

Man indicted in map case

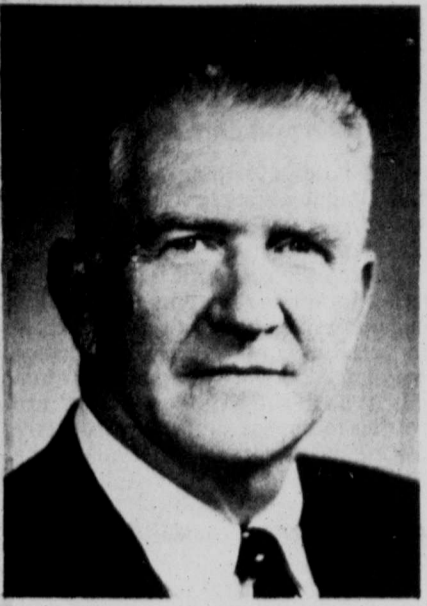

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted a Galveston paint store operator on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and impeding a witness in an stolen oil map case that was dismissed in October.

Charles Lee Gautler, 37, was charged with agreeing to find someone "to get rid of" a former draftsman in the Houston office of Union Oil Co.

The draftsman had been among four men named in a 1978 indictment alleging a scheme to use $200,000 in maps and other data stolen from Union.

The grand jury indicted Gautler on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and impeding a witness in an stolen oil map case that was dismissed in October.

Head of DPS since 1968 to announce his retirement

DALLAS (AP) — Col. Wilson E. Speir, who has led the Texas Department of Public Safety since 1968 and was head of the Midland-Odessa Department of Public Safety for several years, was expected to announce his retirement at a news conference today.

Speir has been in Dallas for the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, of which he is outgoing president.

Sources said Speir's resignation would take effect Dec. 31.

Speir, 62, became director of the statewide police agency in 1968 after the death of the director, Col. Homer Garrison Jr.

Speir rose through the ranks from highway patrolman to chief of the massive agency in his 38 years at the DPS. The agency's responsibilities range from driver licensing to criminal investigations by the Texas Rangers.

There was speculation in Austin that a leading contender for Speir's job was Jim Adams, former No. 2 man in the FBI and now executive director of Gov. Bill Clements' criminal justice division.

The director of the DPS is chosen by the three-member Texas Public Safety Commission.

Teachers to hear past president

ODESSA — Virginia Stacey of San Antonio, immediate past president of the Texas State Teachers Association, will speak at a TSTA-NEA District workshop for area teachers at 5 p.m. Thursday in Permian High School.

Workshop session topics will include political action, legislation, collective bargaining, teacher rights and the role of faculty representatives.

Vernon Vashinder of Odessa, president of TSTA District 18, will preside.

Consultants for the discussion groups will be Roger de los Santos, A.H. Hooser and Art Coltharp of the TSTA central staff in Austin; Jewell Harris and Ken DeMore of the Abilene regional office, and George Segna, executive director of the Amarillo Classroom Teachers Association.

Skin disease teleconference topic

Skin disease will be the topic of the weekly teleconference to be broadcast from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

This will be the second of a series of 90-minute medical teleconferences MMH is providing at no charge to participants. This series is especially designed for persons over 55.

Presenting the program will be members of the faculty of The University of Texas Health Sciences Center in San Antonio.

Teleconferences will be broadcast over a network of two-way audio systems with reception and transmission, similar to the quality of radio.

Interested persons wishing additional information should call Ellen Kennedy, RN, inservice director, at 682-7381.

Redskins rip Giants

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a fair bet that New York's Brian Kelley and Washington Benny Malone aren't high on each other's party list.

A third down play which would have forced Washington to punt. Instead, Kelley's outburst gave the Redskins new life in a drive which ended with Clarence Harmon's reception of a 4-yard touchdown toss from Joe Theismann.

"It's never back down. It's going to stay personal. It started the first time I carried the ball," he said.

received the other first-place vote and 976 points. Notre Dame got 953 points, edging Penn State, which received 947 points following a 45-10 rout of Rutgers and climbed from seventh to sixth.

He added quickly, however, that the defense got one of the touchdowns. "The penalties helped our drives," he continued, "but they (the Giants) keep coming at you."

Mike Schmidt (20) of the Phillies, is caught attempting to get back to third base in game with the Cardinals Monday night in St. Louis. Ken Reitz finally tagged out Schmidt after taking throw from catcher Ted Simmons. Philadelphia went on to win anyway, 7-5. (AP Laserphoto).

Alabama, which didn't play over the weekend, received 12 first-place votes and 1,153 points. Oklahoma and Texas held onto the third and fourth positions as the poll's top four remained unchanged.

Ponies, Owls, Buffaloes are still undefeated

By RICHARD VINCENT Sports Writer Andrews, Stanton and Reagan County each posted their second straight impressive nonconference victory during last Friday's area schoolboy football action.

tally as the Buffs tallied 375 offensive yards, 287 of which came from a steady ground game. There were a couple of first-time winners in the area last Friday as District 7-AA Crane and District 6-A Rankin recorded triumphs.

City 7-0 and Sonora waylaid Ballinger 27-16 while the only loser was Ozona, blanked 13-0 by Junction. Along with Stanton, three other 5-A teams won contests, including ranked and powerful Seagraves and Shallowater.

Lee spikers nab first win

It took Linda Weikel's extremely young Midland Lee Rebels a while to get going but they finally managed to notch their first victory of the year during what otherwise was a tough week.

Then, after a couple of series against Reagan County's behemoth linemen, starting fullback Robert Arana and regular halfback B. J. Terry had to be helped from the field.

As it turned out, Reagan County's defense spent more time in the McCamey backfield than the Badger backs. McCamey, which had 440 yards in their opener, was held to 72 steps, the constant victims of sacks.

The Oilers held the Chiefs to a 55-yard punt return for a touchdown by J.T. Smith although Fuller directed KC inside the Oiler 20 several times with his passing.

"On the punt return, we didn't get set up to that side," Phillips said. "And when we finally got over there we didn't make the tackle."

The Oilers, 2-1, go on the road to Cincinnati Sunday and despite the Bengals' 0-3 record, Phillips has no lack of respect.

"They always seem to play well against us," Phillips said.
