The loss of community spirit and the "lost concern" for neighbors in urban areas have contributed to the rising crime rate, thus inhibiting crime-prevention measures, Texas Attorney General Mark White said at a Wednesday luncheon following the 'Citizens Against Crime' workshops

"People don't get to know each other today," White said, "and what's more, they don't care."

White said crime in Texas rose 3 percent in 1978 and totaled 721,000 ncidents of major criminal acts. Of those, 650,000 were committed in cities and towns while 72,000 were carried out in rural areas.

'Most people hold a marked fear for their personal safety and will not walk alone" at night in urban areas, White suggested a deterrent to in more punishment...and must deter criminals from committing more crimes and, most importantly, to protect our citizens.

White said he is pushing for mandabated terms - for those convicted of violent crimes

In turning to the Texas Department of Corrections, White contended Texas operates an efficient penitentiary system wherein inmates are involved in work programs, including agriculture to grow their own food.

Texas spends $7.15 a day to room and board each inmate, while California - which allows its prisoners to "lay around —" spends $30 per day prisoner, he said.

The attorney general described the poor, the elderly and the minorities as among those most hurt - the victims "Crime hurts those (who are) most

Chambliss sentenced to 99 years in prison

Staff Writer

An eight-man, four-woman jury Wednesday night found 18-year-old Kelly Joe Chambliss of Midland guilty of murder in the July 18 shooting death of Army Sgt. J.B. England. Chambliss was sentenced to 99 years

The verdict and punishment were identical to that returned last month for a co-defendant in the case, 20year-old Raymond Wesley Mathis of Midland.

Jurors deliberated about 21/2 hours Wednesday before returning the guilty verdict. At 5 p.m. the jury began nearly four hours of deliberations on the punishment phase of the Chambliss sat emotionless as 238th District Court Judge Vann Culp read the jury's decision of a 99-year prison term. Chambliss' mother wept quiet-

During the punishment phase of the trial, Assistant District Attorney Charles Seltzer told jurors Chambliss shot a complete stranger without provocation. Then he went back to the site and "played target practice on his face," Seltzer charged.

Defense attorneys Allen McFall and Eddie Garza, asking for leniency because of the defendant's age, said there would be no rehabilitative effect from a Jengthy sentence.

Chambliss had contended he was innocent of the charge. It was the co-defendant, Mathis, who shot the 39-year-old Army sergeant in the early morning hours of July 18 about 10 miles east of Midland on Interstate 20, he said.

Throughout the trial Chambliss had contended when Mathis shot Sgt. England, it took him (Chambliss) by surprise that morning.

But during his September trial, Mathis gave law enforcement officers a statement which indicated it was Chambliss who shot England.

England, on his way from Marion, N.C., to Fort Bliss at El Paso, was once in the left arm, according to testimony during the trial.

He was found by sheriff's deputies about 4:30 a.m. that day, some 20 minutes after the shooting, and died at 5:55 a.m. at Midland Memorial

The pathologist who performed the autopsy on Sgt. England testified the man literally drowned in his own blood after being shot on I-20. Testimony indicated the first shot,

United Way at 60 percent

United Way of Midland has achieved 60.02 percent of its $1,017,000 goal for 1980, with a total of $610,442 in pledges collected as of 10 a.m. today.

A full account of contributions was expected to be reported at noon today during a volunteer meeting. This week's total was considerably less than the objective of 90 percent, campaign chairman W.F. "Bill" Ortloff said.

"We appreciate all the hard work of the volunteers involved in the campaign, but I am concerned that we are so short of our weekly objectives. I urge all volunteers to conclude their work so that the campaign can be completed successfully on time," Ortloff said. By now, Ortloff added, most every business should have been contacted by a United Way volunteer. If there are any businesses whose employees have not had the opportunity to contribute, Ortloff said he would appreciate their contacting the United Way office at 682-4358 or 2101 W. Wall. An objective of 99 percent of goal has been set for the next volunteer report meeting at noon Nov. 1 in the Texas Electric Service Co.

Kennedy tabbed odds on favorite

LONDON (AP) - One of Britain's biggest bookmakers, Ladbrokes, has started taking bets on the 1980 presidential race in the United States, and Sen. Edward Kennedy is the early favorite. President Carter is a close second choice.

The odds include Kennedy 7-4 Carter 2-1, John Connally 4-1, Ronald Reagan 5-1 and Gen Alexander M. Haig Jr. 10-1.

Other odds offered by Ladbrokes: ex-President Ford 12-1, Gov. Jerry Brown 16-1, Vice President Walter Mondale 20-1. Sen. Robert Dole 25-1, Sen. Howard Baker 33-1 and Rep. Philip M. Crane 33-1

he signalled to backers that he plans to oppose Carter for the Democratic nomination next year. A Kennedy spokesman confirmed earlier Wednesday that the Massachusetts senator will announce next Monday the formation of an exploratory presidential committee, which will make him legally a candidate. The Kennedy committee will be headed as expected by the senator's brother-in-law, Stephen Smith. But in a surprise move, Morris Dees, nation-

Gambling center to open soon

By TOM STUCKEY

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP) - Patients likely will be bright, aggressive, and talented - and distraught, defeated and perhaps suicidal, the experts say, when Maryland's new compulsive-gambling counseling center opens for business

The center, billed as the first of its kind in the nation, was hailed at a dedication ceremony Wednesday as a pioneering effort that will set the standard for other states to follow.

There are an estimated 40,000 compulsive gamblers in Maryland, and until now they had no place to go for full-time, professional help.

But by next week the center, operated by Johns Hopkins University, will be ready to start accepting up to 45 patients whose lives have been shattered by uncontrollable gambling. The pilot program will cost nearly $100,000 for the first year.

The dedication, in a red brick house set among the trees at the Mount Wilson Center, attracted several persons active in the national movement to aid compulsive gamblers, including Dr. Robert L. Custer, a Veterans Administration psychiatrist. Custer, who set up a VA counseling center for gamblers, said there is a their gambling problem and to gain remarkably consistent pattern among compulsive gamblers. "They are bright, expressive, competitive, athletic, hardworking," he said. "They are good gamblers at the beginning. They win, and it makes them optimistic.

Then they inevitably begin to lose, he said. As the debts mount, they use up their savings, exhaust their credit, borrow from friends and family and even, in some cases, resort to crime to get the money they must have.

Custer said a compulsive gambler who reaches the stage of seeking professional help is usually in a desperate condition

$5.5 billion war against drugs slowing, but not stopping trade

WASHINGTON (AP) - The 10year, $5.5 billion federal war against illegal drugs has slowed but not halted the lucrative drug trade in the United States, congressional investigators said today.

A study by the General Accounting Office reported success in the government's efforts to disrupt some drug supply lines but added that greater commitment and cooperation are needed from government agencies.

'Federal agencies have fought hard to reduce the edverse impact of illegal drugs on American society, the GAO said, noting a drop in drugrelated injuries and deaths.

But the agency added: "The drug trade continues to flourish and the problem persists for reasons tied to the enormous supply of and demand

In its report, the GAO called for increased cooperation among government officials and a stronger drive to apprehend and prosecute major drug

The report complained that the war against the drug trade lacked a comprehensive border patrol plan, suffered from uneven prosecuting efforts. and was hampered by the failure of judges to consistently mete out stiff sentences to drug traffickers.

The GAO report was released today at the start of hearings on the drug trade being held by a Senate Appropriations subcommittee on justice, chaired by Sens Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz. The GAO is the investigative arm of Congress.

Despite its criticisms, the GAO praised "notable successes" achieved by the federal campaign against drug smuggling.

The congressional investigators said heroin supplies have been sharp. ly reduced because of the interruption of smuggling routes from Turkey and Mexico and the cooperation of those countries in reducing production.

'Current indicators suggest that there is a major shortage of heroin in the United States, a significant accomplishment against the nation's No. 1 drug enforcement priority," the "However, this and other hard-won

"Today's concern is that as Mexican heroin availability declines, heroin from Southeast Asia and the Middle East will fill the gap. Some also fear, that use of dangerous synthetic drugs will continue to increase.

The GAO said efforts to stem the flow of illegal drugs were also ham-billion a year for marijuana alone. "The enormous profits of drug trafficking attract an ample number of entrepreneurs who see opportunities that far outweigh those offered by legitimate businesses," the GAO

The congressional agency added that the lucrative drug trade attracts dealers from all walks of life, including doctors, lawyers, accountants. businessmen and entertainers.

Navy judge can't prosecute sailor The Whelan case is not finished. Since the decision

Saturday, Whelan has been restricted to the naval base 50 miles northwest of Manila, purportedly to complete paperwork removing him from the Navy. Keough charged, however, that he was told by base authorities that the U.S. government would pressure the Philippines to reopen the case if he successfully pressed the fraudulent enlistment

The U.S. Embassy said there was no plan to do that. But Keough said just in-case, the American Civil Liberties Union in Honolulu was petitioning the U.S. District Court to order the Navy to return Whelan to American soil immediately.

Once away from Philippine territory, it is unlikely that Whelan could be extradited back for trial in Philippine courts

Yes, indeed, voters of the Midland Independent School District had their say at the polls Tuesday, defeating the proposed $10.2 million school bond issue by an almost 2 to 1 count (4,806 to 2,948)

. This is the American way. The people have spoken, those at least who took the time to go to the polls, and the public school system will take it from there, doing he best it can with the situation at

At the same time, one cannot blame school board members and administrators for being disappointed, and even somewhat discouraged. Right or wrong, they had worked long and hard in developing the program, which they onsidered essential, and particularly in getting the various issues before the public in recent weeks: They had said over and over that their sole objective in submitting the bond issue was "to bring our chools up to adequate."

Everything possible was done to get their message across. They , schools up to adequate. hould have no regrets in this re-

The trustees at the moment may feel like throwing in the towel, but they won't. Rather, they will go right ahead, conducting their reponsibilities and assignments in the very best interests of the hool district at large. This is the ay it should be.

But school authorities undoubtedly are wondering just what the people want and are willing to finance in meeting the needs of the school system and in expanding and improving the overall school-program.

The results of the election did not eliminate the needs as expressed in the various issues involved. It must be considered a delaying action.

It might not be a bad idea for the school board to call a mass meeting of residents, at the proper time, to explain existing conditions and to gain citizen input in developing a revised bond pro-

WASHINGTON - A citizen can fily gnash his or her teeth after gading how seemingly deserving federal programs wind up as fraudulent not illegal.

If you want to risk such dental exercise, read the first-rate piece of investigative reporting by Patty Newman on how the Feds gave $2 million to provide services to farm workers, only the money was largely pent for the benefit of Cesar Chavez' Inited Farm Worker's Union, Her article appears in the current Reason, a little-known but valuable magazine published in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Now Chavez is immediately appealing. Who can't sympathize with farm workers? I am for them, whether they are citizens or aliens. They work hard and help bring food to us.

Once exploited solely by employers, Today all manner of politicians, righteous bureaucrats and other interlopers prey on these sweaty toilers. Indeed, political celebrities love to spend taxpayers' money to build and expand Chavez' increasingly political. vehicle for their own ultimate pur-

By establishing a network of taxexempt organizations with emotionally appealing titles (Robert F. Kennedy Medical Plan, Martin Luther King Jr. Farm Workers Fund), the union wangled, for example, $800,000 to build a microwave communication system, supposedly to serve a string of medical clinics and Campesino (social service) Centers for farm work-

Instead, according to Newman's well-documented article, the communication system is nothing more than the union's "publicly financed private" phone, television, FM and expansive two-way radio system serving union headquarters and regional union facilities." The medical clinic system, she reports, is nonexistent, and the so-called social service centers are exclusively for union members' use and are located in union hiring halls.

Since she got the runaround from union officials, Newman had to nail down the communications story by checking FCC license records and using U.S. Geological Survey maps to fix the locations of the microwave equipment. The federal grant for this system prohibits its use for union activities, but neither the Community Services Administration nor HEW seems to care. Another $684,000 federal grant went for the union's job-training program and was proudly announced by Labor Secretary Ray Marshall. This one

NEW YORK (AP) - Some followers are praying for the deposed shah of Iran's recovery from cancer and gallbladder surgery, but others say they hope he will survive only to meet a violent death.

Four Iranian women conducted a prayer vigil Wednesday inside New York Hospital for Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi as surgeons removed his gallbladder. Outside, demonstrators chanted "Death to the shah!"

The shah, whose six-year battle with cancer of the lymph system was disclosed following the operation, was described as "resting comfortably."

During the procedure, doctors sought to determine the extent of the lymphoma, which a team of French specialists has been secretly treating, according to the shah's spokesman Robert Armao.

A spokesman for the hospital, where the shah is in a $300-a-day room surrounded by bodyguards and private security agents, declined Wednesday to give any further clues to his condition.

But Armao, said "recovery without complications is anticipated" from the gallbladder surgery. He said the shah, who celebrates his 60th birthday Friday, would be hospitalized for two to three weeks.

Armao said the shah, deposed in January by the revolutionary government of the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, had not wanted his long battle with cancer to be known because it would not be "in the best interest of

During the 21/2-hour operation, about 150 demonstrators held back by police-barricades outside the hospital shouted anti-shah slogans and waved a banner reading "A peaceful death is too good for the shah!

OAS members criticize U.S. for show of force

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)-Two more members of the Organization of American States criticized the United States for its show of force in the Caribbean in response to the presence of Soviet combat troops in Foreign Minister Carlos Ozores of Panama told the OAS General Assembly Wednesday the Marines' practice landing at Guantanamo last week and the U.S. plans to expand its military maneuvers in the Caribbean were "potentially dangerous...to the peace and security of the hemisphere. The Caribbean cannot "continue being a scene for the cold war, much less be considered a sphere of influence to be dominated by a power just because it is close to that power," he said. Grenada's foreign minister, George Louison, also said the U.S. military maneuvers were a "threat to the stability and peace of the region. "In light of President Carter's own admission in his speech of Oct. 1, that Soviet troops in Cuba consitute no threat to the United States, we view the setting up of a Caribbean task force and the decision to expand military maneuvers in the regions as a hostile, intimidating and threatening act," he said. He charged that the U.S. government was reacting "to the wind of change which has brought in new governments in Nicaragua, Grenada, St. Lucia and

Bombs planted in Paris set fire to oil tanks

PARIS (AP) - Bombs planted early today by Corsican nationalists set fire to five small oil tanks at a military depot in the suburbs and caused extensive damage to the Ministry of Universities in Paris. No injuries were reported

Five bombs exploded in a 15-minute period in the city and its suburbs.

The Corsican National Liberation Front, which has set off hundreds of bombs in Corsica and in Paris over the past few years, claimed responsibility for the latest blasts.

The explosion at the military depot caused a major oil fire, but firemen from six Paris stations managed to prevent it spreading from the five tanks to a nearby 5,000-ton storage area.

The bombers also struck in various suburbs: at a building of the French state tobacco monopoly, a railroad shunting yard and an oil pumping station.

The nationalists contend Corsica should be autonomous from France and protest what they claim is mainland financial domination of the Mediterranean island off the southern coast.

But official confidence was shaken by the discovery in Barcelona, the Catalonian capital, of a tunnel presumably dug by terrorists planning to blow up an apartment block in which 2,000 army officers and their families

Officials believed the tunnel had been dug by Basque terrorists, not Catalans, because it was like the tunnel ETA dug beneath a Madrid street in 1973 to blow up Premier Luis Carrero Blanco.

Indicted Italian financier free on $3 million bail, under guard

Michele Sindona was free on $3 million bail and under-24-hour guard today after telling a federal judge he was kidnapped and freed only after he agreed to help "punish" corrupt political figures and rich people in Italy Sindona told U.S. District Judge Thomas P. Griesa on Wednesday that the kidnapping had prevented him from appearing for trial last month for alleged fraud that led to the biggest bank failure in American history

Sindona is accused of looting the Franklin National Bank of some $45 million in 1974, causing its collapse He also is wanted in Italy for the alleged theft of $225 million from two banks he owned in Milan.

He said he was abducted Aug. 2 by several men, one of whom had claimed to be a friend of Sindona's lawyer in Italy and who claimed to need the finan-

Authorities suspected the 59-year-old financier, who had been free in $3 million bail, had fled to avoid prosecution in the Franklin National case. But Sindona told Griesa he was kidnapped when he went to Nov. 26.

NEW YORK (AP) - Indicted Italian financier meet the man who claimed to be his lawyer's Sindona said the kidnappers, who he said spoke broken Italian, said they wanted him to provide documents and other evidence that would help them bring down the "Christian Democrats (the ruling political party in Italy) and rich people.

"They tried to convince me I was completely a criminal because I was pro-establishment, pro-America - against the leftists, against the people," Sindona told Griesa

He said he was freed after some 10 weeks only after he agreed to his captors' demands. When Sindona returned Oct. 16 his bail was not revoked but he was placed under arrest at Doctors Hospital, where he was treated for a leg wound. He said he had been shot in the leg earlier when he tried to escape.

Griesa made no judgment about whether Sindona had actually been kidnapped and continued his bail. But Griesa ordered the financier temporarily confined to his Hotel Pierre apartment in the custody of his lawyers and under 24-hour private guard

Meanwhile, Sindona's trial was rescheduled for

Laughing gas could cause trouble

DALLAS (AP) - Dentists and dental workers who chronically sniff laughing gas as they use it in their work could develop liver, kidney or neurological problems, a study released by the American Dental

The study says dental patients are not endangered, because infrequent doses of laughing gas - nitrous oxide - are not harmful

"The report offered evidence suggesting an increase of specific health problems in male and female dental personnel exposed to trace inhalation anesthetic-sedatives, compared to those who were not," said Dr. William Greenfield of New York City who did the research.

The ADA released preliminary results of Greenfield's study during the group's Dallas convention, which ends today.

"Significant increases among heavily exposed dentists and female assisting personnel were noted relative to liver, kidney and general neurologic

The study showed that nitrous oxide was used as a

Ministers meet on Mideast talks

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - Israel's chief nego tiator in the Palestinian autonomy talks flew to London today to meet Egyptian Premier Mustafa Khalil and U.S. envoy Robert Strauss to discuss the future of the stalled negotiations.

"I hope we can prove the momentum continues, and in any case, that Israel is not the cause for what I'd call the 'anti-momentum' in the talks," Interior Minister Yosef Burg told reporters at Ben-Gurion Airport.

"We have to find new methods for making progress," Burg said, "That's the purpose of our meeting in London.

Defector Stanislav A. Levtchenko left Wednesday night after getting permission to enter the United States, the U.S. Embassy said. Kyodo, the Japanese news agency, said he travelled on a Pan Am airliner Levtchenko had been Tokyo correspondent for the Soviet magazine Novoye Vremya (New Times) since February 1975. A Foreign Ministry official said he left his wife and child in Japan. The official said Levtchenko visited the U.S. Embassy on Wednesday, informed officials he hoped to obtain asylum in the United States and later told the Foreign Ministry and the National Police Agency of his intention to defect.

The study concentrated on nitrous oxide specifical

Greenfield said the study showed no statistically significant increases in cancer incidence.

The problems extended to the families of the dentists and assistants, Greenfield said.

"Presence of a reproductive hazard was indicated by an increase of spontaneous abortion in wives of heavily exposed dentists as well as female dental assisting personnel," Greenfield said. "The latter group (female assistants) also showed an increase in congenital abnormalities of their children. No such ncrease in congenital abnormalities was recorded in the children of wives of ... exposed dentists.

Greenfield cautioned that final analysis of datefrom the survey has not been completed

The survey was sponsored Jointly by the ADA and the Stanford University Medical School, and was supported by the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health.

The survey was based on questionnaires answered by 64,209 dentists and dental auxiliaries.

But the session lasted only three minutes before another adjournment. It was expected that the assembly would remain closed for the rest of the month while Democratic Republican leaders negotiate with leaders of opposition parties.

All 66 members of the New Democratic Party and three deputies from splinter groups resigned Oct. 13 to protest the expulsion from the assembly of New Democrat leader Kim Young-sam. Kim was expelled by unanimous vote of the Democratic Republicans because of his criticism of Park

Park Joon kyu, chairman of the Democratic Republican Party, said earlier this week that the riots were evidence of "considerable dissatisfaction" with the government. He promised the party would review its policies.

But he said if the opposition deputies did not return to the assembly by December, the Democratic Republicans would have to go ahead and consider major legislation, including the 1980 budget. The budget must be approved by Dec. 2.

The party chairman originally said Kim would not. be allowed to return to the assembly "under any conditions." Later he said Kim could return if he won a by-election, but no election is scheduled.

Mrs. O'Hair filed assault charges against the Albuquerque man Wednesday. George Morrison, a spokesman for the Bernalillo County. district attorney's office said the charges would be investigated.

The incident occurred Tuesday night after Mrs. O'Hair, addressing the newly formed Albuquerque Chapter of American Atheists, asked all Christians to leave the room. About a dozen persons refused Hunter, who was sitting in the front row, opened his brief case, removed the pie and hit Mrs. O' Hair in the right side of the face.

Police were summoned to remove Hunter and the hecklers Hunter, who was not arrested, said he hoped the pie was completely thawed, adding, "She got the Supreme Court to outlaw prayer in public schools while I was a little kid in school. I really first got mad at her back.

Ex-scoutmaster draws six-month term in killing

MIAMI (AP) - Carmine "Chuck" Falco, the former scoutmaster who set a firearm booby trap in his home and killed a 14-year-old member of his Boy Scout troop, has been given a six-month jail term. Falco, 31, pleaded no contest to manslaughter Wednesday in the death of Richard Brush Jr. He had described the boy as "my right-hand man, a key leader in my Scout Falco was sentenced to spend every other week in jail for a year and to two years' probation. Defense attorney Paul Lipton said Falco will ap-

Before passing sentence, Circuit Judge Frederick Barad heard several character witnesses praised Falco's record of service to youngsters.

"But I must point out to you. Mister Falco, that on July 18 you failed to obey the law with tragic consequences. Barad said.

Falco never denied rigging a 22 caliber rifle to a chair inhis living. room with the trigger connected to a bathroom door by a string.

"I knew exactly how to set it up. how to scare somebody away," Falco said of the booby trap in an earlier interview.

He said he learned how to set booby traps while in Vietnam. "Unfortunately the only thing the Army taught. me was how to use a weapon to destroy an individual in every possi-

The booby trap was designed to shoot at anyone coming out of the bathroom. The night before the shootmg, a burgiar had entered Falco's home through the bathroom window. The night of July 18, Brush, a neighbor, close friend and member of

Falco's Scout Troop 85, apparently climbed through the bathroom window and tried to enter the living

He died instantly as the rifle fired a single shot into his chest.

'I haven't the slightest idea why the boy broke in," Falco said. "Anything I had I would have shared with him. He was too beautiful a person to do something like this"

Falco's attorneys said the family had been beset with burglaries while Falco and his wife, Kerri, worked at a home for troubled juveniles. Lipton said state law gives homeowners an implied right to defend their homes with deadly force, even when the homes are unoccupied.

"If he'd known it was a kid, he wouldn't have set it," said the Rev. Joseph Carroll, who spoke for Falco at the hearing. "He had been burglarized three times, the last time the day before. He just set the gun, a little single-shot gun, to scare someone."

Surely, the victim had committed a crime," Barad acknowledged. "But Mr. Falco, did as 14-year-old young-ster have to die for that?"

Barad made no official finding of guilt in order to leave Falco without a criminal record.

Falco was sentenced to serve his time in a minimum security Dade County jail to allow him to keep his youth-oriented county job.

He was released pending a ruling on his appeal.

Brush's father, Richard, interviewed before Falco was charged, said "Richard was a little boy. He was a nice boy. He was an ordinary boy who loved camping. Why he went in that house I don't know."

Midlanders use coupons, fish and chicken to cut food costs

By SANDI BREEDEN Lifestyle Writer

Anyone who dares to walk through an aisle in a grocery store acknowledges what is be coming universal knowledge.

It is no secret that grocery costs have soared during the last year and more people are having to watch their food budget to keep costs down.

During a random survey this week, most Midlanders asked said they too were cutting down on food costs.

Here's how they do it: Mrs. R.D. Hansen, 1402 Louisiana, has cut down on food costs mainly by making the baby food for her baby

Maybe it's because pork is one of the best buys in the meatcase these days, and therefore more and more people are making pork a regular part of their diet. NEW YORK (AP) - Life insurers are furious that they call a "reckless misrepresentation" of the facts and a deliberate attempt to mislead insurance

They seem to have a case too, and they may have won sympathy for it at a congressional hearing last week in which they also called the report, by the Federal Trade Commission, "biased," "flawed,"

But there is another remarkable aspect of it too, one that involves a distortion affecting the fortunes of many millions of Americans, one about which very little is likely to be said in any future hear-

In December 1976, the FTC authorized its staff to investigate whether adequate cost information was insurance. That report was made public last July

In it, the FTC staff interpreted whole life insur-

be a hybrid of term insurance and a savings account

That figure, said the American Council of Life

Insurance, was a distortion produced by invalid assumptions and sloppy calculations. The correct figure, the council said, was 5.9 percent.

Bad as that was, the council was outraged by the assumption that whole life is a hybrid of term and savings. "It is wholly life insurance," said an irate John Filer, chairman of Aetna Life & Casualty.

He explained that the cash value accumulates in order that the insurer can guarantee a benefit at death. It is an asset that, together with a company's investments, permits it to guarantee that death

Comedy is the new attraction

LUBBOCK - A high-flying comedy,"Boeing Boeing," is the new attraction at Lubbock's Country Squire Dinner Theatre.

The hilarious farce about a swinging bachelor who keeps three airline stewardesses on the string by keeping close tabs on their respective flight schedules in and out of Paris - and who finally gets tripped up by conflicting schedules will be the Country Squire's featured offering through Nov. 24.

'Boeing Boeing' has performances at 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday each week, preceded by buffet dinner served between 6:30 and 8 p.m. nightly. Table reservations may be made by telephoning the box office, 806-792-4353

The Country Squire, formerly the Hayloft Dinner Theatre, is located 21/2 miles west of Loop 289 just off the Brownfield Road, in extreme southwest Lubbock

Falk to star

in 'The Scout'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) -Peter Falk will star in 'The Scout," an original comedy set against a baseball background... Howard Zieff will direct "Private Benjamin," starring Goldie Hawn as a woman soldier... Robert Duvall stars in "The Great Santini," based on the life of Marine Corps air ace Col. Don Conroy.

Lawrence Kasdan, who wrote the sequel to "Star Wars," will write and direct an origanal screenplay called "Body

ALPINE - The Big Bend Chamber Orchestra and Chorus will present the first concert of its 1979-80 season Sunday night through late November.

Programmed for the event, scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. in Graves-Pierce Gymnasium on the campus of Sul Ross State University, are works by Mozart, Haydn, Beethoven and Brahms. The concert theme is "A Night With the Classics in Music.

The public is invited to attend the event free of charge.

According to Dr. T. Rex Wilson, musical director and conductor, the concert will feature some of "the finest moments in musical history — compositions which have thrilled listeners for centuries.

The orchestra, under the baton of Dr. Wilson, will play one of Mozart's · most celebrated works, the famous. Symphony No. 40. Another high point of the evening will be the presentation of Beethoven's Symphony No.

Still another highlight of the evening will be the presentation of Brahms' "Songs of Destiny," featuring the 50-voice Big Bend Chamber Chorus. The choral ensemble combines the Sul Ross State University Concert Choir with the Big Bend Community Choir.

The latter ensemble is made up of people of varying ages and occupations from Alpine, Fort Davis and surrounding areas.

Concerts of the Big Bend Chamber Orchestra and Chorus are sponsored jointly by Sul Ross State University and residents of the Big Bend region, with financial support provided by the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

Wilson said that grants received from the state and federal agencies_ are matching grants.

Therefore, anyone wishing to support the orchestra and chorus in a positive manner is asked to make a contribution to be-used to help meet the matching grants. Funds will help defray costs of the Sunday concert as February and a closing concert next

Persons may send their contributions to the Big Bend Chamber Orchestra and Chorus, in care of Sul Ross State University, Alpine 79830.

Musical features Blake song hits

LUBBOCK — In 1916, "Eubie!", critics have Eubie Blake had already termed the production been active for almost 20 years as a stage per- flashy, uproarious and former and songwriter. delightful' and But his great hits such as "thoroughly entertaining 'I'm Just Wild About and unerringly profes-Harry" and "Love Will sional." Find A Way" were still to come These hits and others from Blake's collection of 1,500 songs are featured in the new-from-Broadway musical honoring the now-96-year-old Blake, "Eubie!", which comes to Lubbock Municipal Auditorium for one performance only on Nov. 7

Tickets for the performance are on sale daily at the Texas Tech Uni versity Center, priced $8, $7 and $5 for the public and $4, $3.50 and $2.50 for students

Although he is known for his syncopated sounds of the early decades of the 20th Century. Blake's music, as presented in "Eubie!" spans a lifetime of types from classic vaudeville music to hot Latin, tango and even gospel music. After a stint in vaudeville, Blake expanded his horizons to the musical industry, a task that would not be easy for a black man in the early 1920s. However, on May 23, 1921, after a year's hard work, the curtain in the 63rd Street Theatre in Manhattan opened on the musical "Shuffle Along," It was the first show on Broadway ever written, produced, performed and directed by American black people.

The milestone musical introduced jazz dancing to Broadway, plus a blending of ragtime and operetta-type music that became like a trademark for Blake. And, "Shuffle Along" was the first black musical to play in 'white" theaters across the United States.

Now, 31 years after normal retirement age, Eubie Blake continues to write songs, fill club dates all over the country and perform on national television.

But despite his reputation and the national recognition gained over the years, Blake did not reeive his first "Tony" (Antoinette Perry) Award nomination for best score of a Broadway musical until this year. At age 96, Blake is the oldest nominee in the history of the prestigious Broadway awards.

Johnston said that without some guarantee of adequate supplies from home or abroad, refiners have stopped expanding their capacity to produce adequate gasoline to meet increasing demand.

Johnston's efforts were supported by Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash... chairman of the Energy Committee.

An additional $800 million would be available to the states to administer form of making direct grants to eligible families or establishing lines of credit with energy suppliers. A family would be eligible for such aid if its income did not exceed the official proverty level by more than 25 percent. The poverty level for an urban family of four is about $8,375.

If any state decided not to operate such a program, its share of the $800 million would be mailed automatically to its welfare recipients.

The remaining $125 million in the bill would be combined with $250 million already approved for an emergency assistance program run by the Community Services Administration. Most of that money is distributed through state-run programs.

There is no estimate in the bill on how much aid a typical individual or family might receive. However, similar administration proposals have mentioned target figures on the order of $100 for an individual and $200 for a family

The speed with which the bill is advancing drew criticism from some Appropriations Committee mem-

Meanwhile, in other energy-related developments in Congress:

-The Senate Energy Committee voted 14-2 in favor of a multi-billion dollar energy package designed to reduce American dependence on imported oil. The measure includes a $20 billion synthetic fuels program, a $5 billion effort for residential and commercial conservation and $475 million in low-interest loans for solar heating

The House bowed to the wishes of the Carter administration and voted to retain price and allocation controls on gasoline through Sept. 30, 1981. The 225-189 vote was a reversal of a vote taken last week.

-Energy Secretary Charles Duncan and chief Carter domestic adviser Stuart Eizenstat met with a small group of House members to discuss rival bills to establish an Energy Mobilization Board. Rep. Tim Wirth, D-Colo., said the administration officials did not express a preference between two competing bills to set up the board, which would speed development of high-priority energy projects. The principal issue in the dispute is whether the board would have authority to override existing federal, state or local laws. -The Senate Finance Committee postponed a final decision on its own plan to help lower-income Americans cope with rising fuel prices in the future. The committee already has voted to earmark money for such a program from the "windfall profits" tax it has approved.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock, who represents Midland County in Congress, voted in favor of lifting price and allocation controls on gasoline Wednesday.

Fuel supply shows drop

NEW YORK (AP) - Supplies of heating oil and gasoline fell slightly last week but remained substantially ahead of inventories at this time last year, the American Peteroleum Institute said Wednesday.

For the week ending Oct. 9, supplies of distillate - heating oil - declined to 239.1 million barrels from 239.6 million the previous week

The Carter administration had asked the oil industry to have 240 million barrels on hand by the end of October in preparation for the winter heating season

An API spokesman said the drop in supplies last week, after several consecutive weeks of increases, probably was due to the start of winter deliveries. "The drop is considered normal at this time of year with the advent of colder weather in some parts of the nation," he said.

But supplies remained well ahead of last year's distillate inventories 214.9 million barrels - for this time. Distillate production of 3.2 million barrels daily was unchanged from the previous week's level.

Gasoline supplies also declined in the week ending Oct. 9 to 223.4 million barrels from 225.1 million barrels a week earlier. But they were substantially above the 216.9 million barrels on hand a year ago.

The output of gasoline from refineries slipped to 6.4 million barrels daily from 6.6 million barrels daily in the previous week.

Speaker O'Neill terms oil industry profits 'disgrace'

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter threatened today to pursue unspecified proposals that "could be quite punitive to the oil industry" if Congress does not pass a satisfactory 'windfall profits,' tax.

Carter also said the surge of profits posted by major oil companies in the third quarter "vividly demonstrate the need for a major portion of unearned profits from the oil companies to go into the general service of the. American people.'

The president made his comments, the first on the oil industry's new financial reports, in a speech to a citizens' coalition having breakfast at the White House before visiting Capitol Hill to push for passage of Carter's Carter vowed that if he fails to. bring the Senate around to supporting a bill stronger than that before the Senate Finance Committee, "we will shift our combat zone" to the House-Senate conference that will work out difference between the Senate bill and a bill more to Carter's liking that the House approved.

If the final measure does not meet his approval, "we'll move toward additional proposals to the Congress which could be quite punitive to the oil industry," the president told the National Citizens' Coalition for the Windfall Profits Tax.

'I will not hesitate to do that if necessary," he said, without spelling out any specifics.

Referring to the coalition's mission and his belief that the Senate bill is inadequate, Carter said: "I think the aroused voices of the American public led by you is the best possible way we can meet the tremendous influence of the oil lobbyists on Capitol Hill."

Energy and politics were the focus of Carter's public activities throughout the day. He was flying to New Jersey in the afternoon to address an energy forum in New Brunswick and then to attend fundraisers for Democratic Party legislative candidates in-East Rutherford.

Algeria oil price goes up

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) - Algeria announced Wednesday an increase of $2.77 per barrel of crude oil, making it the sixth member of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to boost-prices-in recent weeks.

The official Algerian news agency said the price would go from the OPEC ceiling of $23.50 a barrel to $26.27, effective immediately, "bringing Algerian crude oil into line with increases announced by other Mediterranean exporters.

It said if Sonatrach, the state oil monopoly, had not raised the prices above the level set by the 13-member OPEC in June, Algeria would have faced a serious loss of earnings.

Coupon-conscious teacher fights inflation, saves $1,400

CHICAGO (AP) — Jan Leasure figures she has 3,000 money-saving coupons around her house, more than she can ever use

So the 30-year-old English teacher, who estimates she has saved $1,400 in the last year by battling inflation with coupons and refunds, attaches some to each copy of her monthly newsletter, "Refunders Against Inflation" - a publication with its own refund offer.

"I have 500 coupon clipping subscribers in 28 states and the circulation is growing," the Waukegan junior high school teacher said Wednesday. "A year's subscription is $10. A person can save that much by just going to her medicine cabinet and reading some of the refunds available on certain items.

Mrs. Leasure said she became coupon conscious two

"My husband also is a teacher and we just couldn't seem to keep up a lifestyle we wanted on our two salaries. Then, too, we had a daughter 17 months ago."

"I started looking for coupons and refunds during my regular shopping," she said. "Now I spend about four hours a week making the rounds of hardware stores, drug stores and supermarkets in Lake County. There's a big difference between coupons and refund

"I buy only the regular items my family uses and get my refund forms that way — dog food, baby food, pop and so forth," she said. "You certainly wouldn't buy something you didn't need just to get a form. In the first 18 days this month, I've gotten $29.50 in refunds. In the last year it amounted to $360 in cash. Savings by using coupons for the same time were $1,040.

Mrs. Leasure said that during a year, 80 percent to 90 percent of grocery items use coupon come ons. A particularly big coupon coup comes when she finds an appealing bargain and buys in bulk. "I've gotten as much as $130 worth of groceries for $30 cash," she

Carter loses to Congress in ship battle

WASHINGTON (AP) -- A two-year battle between Congress and President Carter over building a $2.1 billion nuclear aircraft carrier is coming to a close with Congress the clear win-

Carter won the first round last year by successfully vetoing the huge ship. Congress came back with a knockout punch this year by approving the carrier with a landslide margin in the House, leaving little hope that another veto would be upheld.

The ship was included in legislation authorizing $41.4 billion in weapons purchases. The bill, a compromise between earlier versions passed by the Senate and House, was approved Wednesday by the Senate and is expected to be passed by the House by Friday.

Sources say Carter will sign this year's bill: The nuclear-powered carrier will cost about $477 million more to build than the smaller, oil-fired carrier Carter originally proposed Supporters of the bigger ship say the rising cost of oil makes a nuclear carrier a better buy in the long run.

In a victory for Carter, Congress agreed to drop a Senate provision of: the bill that would have forced the president to lift trade sanctions against Zimbabwe Rhodesia.

Instead, the bill now contains a non-binding "sense of Congress" resolution saying the United States should have unlimited access to strategic and critical materials from Zimbabwe Rhodesia.

Overall, the legislation totals $1.3 billion more than Carter requested. The bill includes $6.7 billion for 14 new ships, including the carrier, a nuclear-powered Trident submarine, two nuclear attack submarines and the conversion of an LPH amphibious ship to a light carrier. In addition, the legislation earmarks $13.6 billion to buy 705 aircraft, $5.1 billion for new missiles and $1.7 billion for tanks and other tracked vehicles.

The aircraft include 30 F-14A fighters, 25 F-18 fighter-attack planes, 10 C-12A utility aircraft, 15-AH-1S helicopters and six A-6E medium attack plane. The administration had requested no money for the utility aircraft, helicopters or A-6E attack planes, and had asked for only 15 of the F-18s and 24 of the F-14As.

It also authorizes $13.5 billion for military research and development, including $670 million requested by Carter to develop the MX mobile mis-sile, and $107 million for civil de-
