Most Iran diplomats asked to leave U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration, in its latest turn of the screws against Iran, is telling most of the Iranian diplomats in the United States to get out.

About 183 Iranians will be leaving within the next four days, leaving only skeleton staffs at Iran's embassy in Washington and its consulates in New York, Chicago, Houston and San Francisco, according to the State Department.

Undersecretary of State David Newsom called Iran's charge d'affaires, Ali Agab, to the department Wednesday afternoon, and told him of the American demand for staff reductions, department spokesman Thomas Reston said.

Iran must reduce its embassy staff to 15 persons, from the current level of 57. Its consulates, with a combined staff of 161, will be left with only five staff members each, Reston said.

He called the move a "measured step" to show continuing American concern for the plight of the 50 hostages in the embassy in Tehran.

"We don't know what will lead to their release. We want to bring the Iranians to the point of realizing it's in their interest to do so," Reston said.

Last week, President Carter was described as telling a group of about 100 House members at a White House briefing that he was hoping a policy of economic denial — "tightening the screws a little tighter" every few days — would prompt the Iranians to free the hostages.

Carter was briefed today by Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti on yet another U.S. effort to spur release of the hostages, through an order of the World Court at the Hague. Civiletti argued the U.S. case before the court earlier this week.

Iranian embassy officials could not be reached for comment on Wednesday's order. Reston said that as far as the State Department was concerned, the embassy and consulates could stay open.

Normally, governments reach a mutual agreement on the size of the embassy staffs. Telling a government to reduce its embassy is an unusual step, but falls short of breaking relations entirely.

Until Wednesday, the administration had allowed the Iranian diplomats to continue to operate normally.

State Department officials said the embassy staff reduction has been on the administration's list of options for some time. They said they did not know whether the timing of Wednesday's action was related to a federal court decision Tuesday.

That decision, now being appealed, held unconstitutional the administration's program for checking the visas of Iranian students and deporting those without valid visas.

Meanwhile, the State Department said it did not know whether the thousands of pieces of Christmas mail Americans are sending to the hostages will get through.

"The captors tell us they are getting their mail, but we have no indication that they are," said one official.

According to the U.S. Postal Service, there were about 44,000 pieces of mail for Iran handled at the center for foreign mail in New York on Wednesday. About 85 percent of the mail was addressed to the embassy in Tehran.

Late Wednesday, CBS News reported some shifts in the makeup of the militants holding that embassy. An unknown number of Palestinian guerrillas joined Iranians at the site after the Carter administration raised the possibility of military intervention, CBS reported.

Crowd turns out early

To line up for low income loans

By LANA CUNNINGHAM

It was 35 degrees at 6:15 a.m. today and a light rain was falling — the kind of morning that's perfect for staying in bed longer than usual.

But at that hour about 40 persons were waiting at Midland College for the doors to open at Chaparral Center, hoping their guess was right. And it was.

At 7:15 a.m. today, Harry Clark, chairman of the Midland Housing Finance Corporation, announced over radio and television stations that persons wanting to reserve their share of the $29 million in low interest home loan money should be at Chaparral Center at 8 a.m.

Jim Martin was the first one through the doors when they opened and had the honor of getting Ticket No. 1.

He selected the multi-purpose facility at MC after logically ruling out everything else in the city, he said. But as a precaution, Martin sent his wife to the County Exhibit Building.

"It had to be a place big enough to hold everyone and have enough parking," he reasoned. "I eliminated the schools' gymnasiums since school is in session."

WHEN MARTIN arrived at the parking lot, he said there was another car but the driver was still in it. Martin jumped out to stand at the door.

"It's been cold," he said of the wait.

By the time the announcement came over the radio at 7:15, there were more parked cars and the drivers jumped out, Martin said of the situation.

Martin said he had been trying to buy a house, and this program "makes it that much more advantageous. I think it's great for potential homebuyers. I don't think we'll see interest rates ever going below 10 or 11 percent again."

Applicants who qualify can get the loans for 9 1/2 percent under the Single Family Mortgage Revenue Financing program.

Today's session for taking applications and reserving money marked the culmination of 11 months of work.

"I think it's great for potential homebuyers. I don't think we'll see interest rates ever going below 10 or 11 percent again." — Jim Martin, holder of Ticket No. 1 to get the program into Midland. And it could mean that Midland is the first city in Texas to have the program operational.

TO ELIMINATE people camping out overnight on the steps — which has occurred in other cities — the MHFC designed a three-step plan in which people would be alerted the day before applications would be taken. The location and time wasn't announced until this morning.

By 8:25 a.m., 209 persons had gone through the doors and were waiting in lines. They were separated according to odd and even numbers. Applicants were handed tickets with a number, and they could leave the line to sit down or get refreshments from a concession stand.

Top 40 and Christmas music was played over a loud speaker.

Overall, it was a quiet, orderly procession of people going through the process.

One group of applicants who had made it through the first desk and were waiting to see a specific lender commented they had become friends while waiting. All had been in line since 7 a.m., hoping they had guessed the right place.

Ken White is hoping he can get a bigger house through the loan program.

FOR MARK EVANS, it would be his first home. He lives in Amarillo, but already is working at a job in Midland and is planning to move soon to the Tall City.

"We (Evans and his wife) were going to buy furniture and rent a place. But I heard about this program and we decided to buy a house. We can sleep on the floor," he added with a laugh.

Tim Hill is selling his home in Houston and moving to Midland. "This is going to be a giant Christmas gift," he said.

Melanie Huff is hoping to get her first home. She and her husband couldn't afford a house under the conventional 11 1/2 percent interest. For the Huffs, the low interest program would mean a savings of about $80 to $100 a month on the house payments, she said.

"And I think it's great that we all know each other now," Mrs. Huff added.

Hill joked that someone should sell T-shirts emblazoned with "I survived the mortgage loan program."

Still standing far back in line were Robert Delagarza and his wife, also hoping to get their first house. They had been at Chaparral Center since 7:30 a.m.

"We were in the truck and ready to

Fly yours

In cities across the country Americans are being asked to fly their flags during the ongoing Iranian crisis and to show their support for release of American hostages in Iran.

The Midland Reporter-Telegram is joining this call for unity during a time of adversity and urges Midlanders to proudly display their flags each Saturday and Sunday — or every day if they wish — until the crisis is resolved and all hostages are released.

In addition, it has been reported that the hostages are being allowed to receive mail. Residents who would like to send Christmas cards, although they might be received late, or letters of encouragement and support can mail these to: Hostages, American Embassy, P.O. Box 50, Teheran, Iran.

WRITING A CHRISTMAS LIST IS SURE COMPLICATED, AND THERE ARE ONLY 11 DAYS LEFT!

Filibuster blocks windfall profit tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — A filibuster by oil-state senators kept the Senate in session into the pre-dawn hours today and blocked action on the "windfall-profits" tax on the oil industry.

The 17 1/2-hour session ended at 3:25 a.m. with the Senate apparently no closer to breaking the impasse than when it began.

At issue is a $30.8 billion "minimum tax" amendment by Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd that would increase the total tax in the Senate bill to about $185 billion in the 1980s. The House bill would generate $277 billion.

Democratic leaders planned a second attempt today to limit debate on the bill to another 100 hours — one hour per senator. Byrd's Wednesday effort to invoke cloture, which also would bar consideration of unrelated amendments, failed 53-46 — seven votes short of the 60 necessary.

With the scheduled Christmas recess approaching, the filibuster windfall tax of any kind be applied to oil not yet discovered.

Democratic leaders showed no inclination of yielding to that demand.

The filibuster began before noon Wednesday, almost immediately after the Senate, on a 53-44 vote, kept the Byrd amendment alive by refusing to table it.

Nearly 650 amendments were eligible for consideration during the debate, including a stack of 300 that Long introduced Wednesday.

Unless cloture is invoked, each of those amendments could be debated for hours on end.

When it became evident Byrd was serious about keeping the Senate in session well past midnight, some senators took advantage of Army cots that were hauled into rooms near the chamber. Others, including Long, left the floor early and didn't return.

As the night wore on, most Democrats deserted the chamber, leaving all the talking to Republicans.

Tempers were short. After Byrd

U.S. Rep. Kent Hance says he'll introduce a bill to force House conferees to exempt independent producers from the windfall tax. Story on Page 2A.

threatens to delay final action this year on the tax bill as well as on legislation providing federal assistance to Chrysler Corp.

Despite the delay, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., manager of the tax bill, predicted it would be passed before the week is out.

Byrd's "minimum tax" amendment would impose a 20-percent tax on three categories of U.S. crude oil that the Senate Finance Committee had voted to exempt from the windfall tax as an incentive to increase production.

Oil-state senators and most Republicans oppose the amendment on grounds it would drain away money needed by the oil industry for increased exploration.

At various times during the talkathon, Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, Republican manager of the bill, offered a compromise that would result in an $18-billion "minimum tax."

The only non-negotiable demand of Republicans, Dole said, is that no cautioned that part of the planned holiday recess was in jeopardy because of the impasse and left the floor. Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., used some of the harshest language heard in the chamber in recent years to castigate the Democratic leader.

"If he were a man of any stature whatsoever," Weicker said, Byrd would have been able to unite the various Senate factions on energy.

Weicker called the West Virginia Democrat a senator who uses "mealy-mouthed threats... and plays to base human emotions" and who proves that "a wheeler-dealer does not a leader make."

Byrd never responded to Weicker.

As the clock passed midnight, Republicans seized on a parliamentary opportunity that would have meant certain defeat for another Byrd effort to limit debate on the tax.

Byrd, the master of Senate rules, reached into his bag of parliamentary maneuvers and effectively blocked that move.

Hospital officials receive OK for planned cancer therapy center

By SUSAN TOTH
Staff Writer

Midland Memorial Hospital officials got their Christmas wish early this morning: final approval for the Allison Permian Basin Cancer Therapy Center.

The Texas Health Facilities Commission gave final approval for the certificate of need for the regional cancer treatment center about 11 a.m. today in Austin.

Attorney Fred Davis, who has represented the hospital throughout the long series of hearings and plans necessary to reach this point, called from Austin with the news.

The certificate of need from the state health planners was necessary to build the $3.4 million facility.

Hospital officials had been confident they would receive approval from the state agency, and planned to waste little time now that approval has been given.

Hospital district directors planned to consider bids and let contracts for equipment for the facility during their meeting at 3 p.m. today.

More than 300 invitations will go into the mail today for the Dec. 21 groundbreaking ceremony.

The Allison center has been in the planning stages most of 1979, and has undergone revisions in both scope and cost since its idea originated with a $1.5 million gift from Midlander Helon Y. Allison as a memorial to her late husband, James N. Allison Sr., and son, James N. Allison Jr.

The Allison family owned The Reporter-Telegram many years before the sale of the paper to the Hearst Corp. earlier this year.

Originally opposed by officials at Odessa's Medical Center Hospital because it would duplicate services already available there, the center's supporters overcame that hurdle by amending the application to include more advanced and sophisticated treatment capabilities.

A regional ad hoc committee to formulate policies and approve staff applications for the center also was formed. The committee consists of members from both Midland and Odessa plus representatives from other communities in the 17-county West Texas region the center proposes to serve.

The changes in the equipment list were recommended by nationally known cancer equipment expert H.O. McKenzie, who was hired at the suggestion of officials at M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston.

McKenzie's list of changes almost doubled the estimated cost for the facility, but Mrs. Allison agreed to donate another $500,000 as soon as the certificate of need is approved.

The remaining money was guaranteed from the tax revenues of the Midland County Hospital District, which will own the facility, but members of the Midland Memorial Foundation have promised to raise the rest from private donations so no tax money will be used.

The next-to-final step in the approval process was taken Nov. 26 when eight Midland hospital officials made an eight-hour presentation before a hearing officer for the Health Facilities Commission in Austin.

The result of that hearing and the commission's final approval today should mark the beginning of the construction phase of the center.

The facility, which is designed to allow most cancer patients to stay close to home for treatment rather than going to Houston, Dallas or San Antonio, is expected to be completed within 14 months.

The icy, cold harshness of winter's coming transformed the ordinary to art in Midland Wednesday. Smooth, clear ice puts a damper on the bell even as the freezing, drizzling rain coats the bell and drips into icicles — winter's most common mark. Ice enhances the clothes line and wooden pin and gives a delicate, crystal-like look to bare plants.

Hance will offer windfall change

Special to The Reporter-Telegram WASHINGTON — U.S. Rep. Kent Hance has announced he will introduce legislation which in effect would call for House conferees to accept the Senate amendment to exempt independent oil producers and royalty owners from the windfall profits tax.

Big crowd shows for home loans

THE DELAGARZAS were considering buying a home when they heard about the program, they said. When they heard it was definitely going to get under way, they found a house and signed a contract.

"This (program) will save us $50 to $75 a month at least in payments. And our down payment will be about a third as much," said Delagarza.

Getting off from work to stand in line was no problem for Jay Jaye Roberts or Don Sanford.

"My employer said 'go, if it takes all day,'" said Ms. Roberts.

Standing with documents and contract in hand, Ms. Roberts said she probably wouldn't be able to get a house without the low interest loan.

Sanford, who has saved enough money to pay for half his house, said he has been trying for a year to get a loan. "But I couldn't get a loan, no matter how much I had down."

"The longer I wait, inflation is eating up my savings. Without this program, I wouldn't be able to build a house," he said.

Although he has to take off from work, Sanford said the money he will lose is worth it "if I can get the money for a house."

MHFC had been expecting about 500 persons to apply for the loans today which would commit most of the $29 million. Persons who still want to apply can check with the six lending participants to see if any money is left.

Those participants are Citizens Savings & Loan Association, First Savings & Loan Association, Jackie Johnson Mortgage Co., Investors Inc., Mortgage & Trust Inc., and West Central Investment Corp.

of cosponsors to indicate strong support in the House in favor of the exemption.

The Lubbock congressman was the original sponsor of the independent exemption amendment, but the bill was tied up in Rules Committee and never voted on by the full House.

"We feel we have majority support from the full House membership," said Hance. "However, since there has never been a full House record vote, we hope to show the conferees there's, in fact, strong interest for an exemption for independent producers."

"We have already received considerable support," said Hance, "because people are realizing the importance of the exemption and the positive effect we feel it will have on overall oil production."

"Historically, independent producers have been responsible for approximately 90 percent of the exploratory wells and have reinvested 105 percent of additional revenues back into exploration and production," said Hance. "This bill would result in a boost in domestic oil production because independents are involved solely in oil production and not in any other retail or marketing phases of the energy industry."

"They don't own refineries or service stations. They reinvest more money than they make and it all goes for exploration and production," the congressman said.

The first term congressman has a strong record of support for the oil industry.

"It's a lonely fight we fight for the oil industry," he told an audience in Midland Saturday.

Gray skies, cold continue

Midlanders awoke this morning to another day of gray skies, drizzle and cold, and it was much the same throughout the Permian Basin, area weather watchers said.

Although mist and rain was falling throughout the Permian Basin area, residents didn't have to contend with ice and sleet again today. The moisture experienced Tuesday night and early Wednesday in Midland added 1.57 inches to this year's rainfall total, and Wednesday night's mist added another 0.06 of an inch.

The annual rainfall accumulation for Midland now stands at 14.88 inches, more than an inch above the average annual 13.51 inches.

According to the National Weather Service office at Midland Regional Airport, cloudiness and drizzle was expected to continue through today. It should decrease tonight and become fair Friday.

The weatherman predicted a 30 percent probability of more moisture today.

Low temperature tonight should be in the upper 20s, with the high on Friday expected to reach the lower 50s.

Winds tonight should blow out of the north at 5-10 mph.

Low temperature this morning was 35 degrees in Midland. Wednesday's high temperature only reached 37 degrees.

I hear all the hoop and the holler about conserving energy. I see where federal officials were in town lately checking the temperature in certain office buildings.

I live on the west end of College Avenue. The baseball diamond in Ulmer Park is directly across Clark Street at the west end of College Avenue.

The high-powered ballfield clusters of lights on the tall poles light up the whole neighborhood. These lights are run till near midnight daily or five nights a week after baseball season is over until mid-winter.

Those high-powered tall pole lights burn now even though there is no one in the park. This has been the order of the night for years. Yet we are supposed to keep our air conditioners at 78 in the summer and the heat at 65 or 68 in winter. — D.S.

ANSWER: George Logan of the Midland Parks and Recreation Department has been contacted. He says, with the approval of the Midland Softball Association, the Ulmer Park facilities were made available recently to a soccer team for practice.

The lights are operated on an automatic timing system and are designed to cut off at midnight.

There are times when groups using the park fail to turn the lights off with the manual switch, so lights are left burning until midnight.

Logan also said the parks' lighting equipment is the "best available," and the cost of operation is "very inexpensive." He added that every effort will be made to improve communications with the groups using the parks at night to turn the lights off before leaving the park.

How do I get a personalized license plate in Texas? — L.D.

ANSWER: The Texas Traffic Safety Section of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation in Austin says that applications are available from the county tax collector assessor's office.

The requirements are these: no more than six characters on a plate; no duplication of an already assigned registered plate; and the word or message cannot be "objectionable."

A personalized plate costs only $10 extra in Texas. In New Jersey and Tennessee the surcharge is $50. In Hawaii, it's $100.

JIMMY'S WHITE HOUSE

Never a dull moment

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rosalynn Carter may not be the soul of drollery but, as her husband's recent stand in the campaign trail, she has shown flashes of humor amid earnest appeals for the president's re-election.

Mrs. Carter gets effusive introductions everywhere, so much so that an uninformed visitor from other shores might conclude she was the embattled candidate.

An introduction last week in Atlanta pictured Mrs. Carter as the only individual who can give the president realistic straight talk across the White House dinner table.

"Jimmy and I have had to give up reality at the dinner table," the first lady deadpanned, "because sometimes you have to swallow."

ANOTHER PRESIDENTIAL surrogate, "Miss Lillian" Carter, reports she's been getting unsolicited donations since remarking, on the stump, that if she had a million dollars she'd put out a contract on the life of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

But no one seems to know how much money has been forthcoming or what the president's mother is doing with it — except that a White House spokesperson said it's safe to assume all money is being returned.

Inquiries were referred to Judy Harrison of the Carter-Mondale campaign committee. Ms. Harrison, who accompanies the president's mother around the hustings, could not be reached at the pair's mid-week stopping place, Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas.

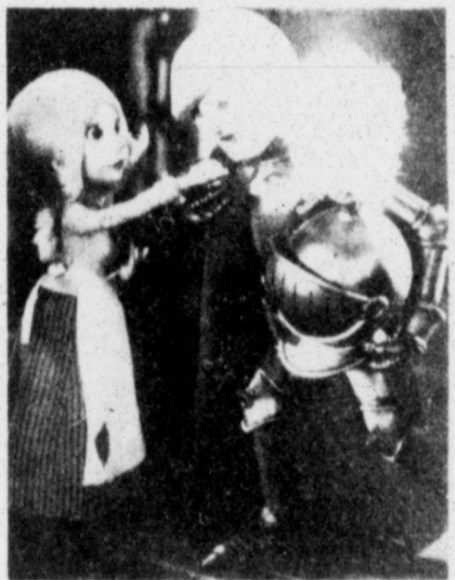

WHEN THE PRESIDENT took his mother to a movie in the White House theater last week, the film coincidentally concerned a religiously oriented ruler who met an abrupt end.

Mary Queen of Scots.

THE PRESIDENT'S MOTHER created a small stir at a state dinner last month that honored Jack Lynch, then prime minister of Ireland.

Mormon leader has tests

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Spencer W. Kimball, president of the Mormon Church, underwent tests Wednesday to determine how well he has recovered from skull surgery last month.

Church Spokesman Jerry Cahill said the results of the tests will be announced as soon as they are made available by Kimball's doctors.

The 81-year-old Kimball, considered a prophet by the 1.3 million member Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, was admitted to LDS Hospital Tuesday. Last month, doctors drained a subdural hematoma — an accumulation of blood and fluid — between his skull and brain.

Despite $961,223 loss, MMH had sound year

By SUSAN TOTJI
Staff Writer

Midland Memorial Hospital had a very sound year in fiscal 1979, despite a net loss of $961,223, more than $309,000 over the amount originally budgeted, according to an outside audit of the hospital's operations.

The audit report was presented to the hospital's board of trustees at their meeting Tuesday and was to be repeated for the hospital district board of directors in their meeting today at 3 p.m.

While the hospital showed a loss, that figure included a $704,699 "Medicare adjustment" which is Midland Memorial's penalty for operating inefficiently, according to Gary Reynolds, who presented the report for the auditing firm of Alford, Meroney & Co.

Medicare accounts for 35 percent of all hospital billings. But the Medicare program pays only 80 percent of the amount due the hospital under the provisions of the plan because, before the current expansion, renovation and updating of the hospital, the institution operated in the black for many years.

That past record of efficiency is used to penalize Midland Memorial, he said, while hospitals with long records of deficits are paid 100 percent of the amount they bill.

On the positive side, Reynolds noted, the hospital increased its working capital in the operating fund in the past year by $91,360.

"I think that is a very positive sign," Reynolds noted, "because it's very easy for an institution to eat up its working capital year after year."

In other business, Trustee Martin Allday told the board he will resign in February with one year left in his term on the appointed board. Allday announced earlier he will run for the mayor's place being vacated by Ernest Angelo Jr.

The board also reapproved the medical staff appointments for 1980 and upped the status for several doctors from associate to active staff of the hospital.

NATO ministers seek release of hostages

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Foreign ministers of the 15 Western allies today denounced Iran's seizure of 50 American hostages and demanded their immediate release.

The ministers, here for the annual meeting of the NATO Council of Ministers, issued the statement in their national capacities and not in the name of the North Atlantic Treaty alliance. Sources said the declaration was not issued under the NATO banner because Iran is outside of the alliance's area of responsibility.

"Any taking of hostages, for any motive whatsoever, is totally unacceptable and must be firmly opposed by the international community as a whole," the ministers said in a statement, adding that they "have no desire to intervene in Iran's internal affairs."

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Defense Secretary Harold Brown lobbied the NATO allies seeking a declaration of support for America's condemnation of the hostages situation in Iran.

The result was the cautiously-worded statement, describing developments as a "grave situation."

It blamed the Iranians, saying the situation was created by the occupation of the U.S. Embassy the seizure of American hostages "in flagrant violation of international law and human rights."

School for deaf plans set back

BIG SPRING — Howard College's plans to locate its Southwest College for the Deaf at Big Spring Industrial Air Park got a temporary setback recently when the Federal Aviation Administration objected to the proposal since the facility would not be a revenue-generating facility.

Bill J. Howard, chief of the FAA's airport district office in Albuquerque, N.M., said the FAA "cannot concur" with the city's plans to give the property away.

The city's plans are to deed over to the college the hospital of the former Webb Air Force Base, which was shut down two years ago in a Department of Defense economy move and which subsequently was deeded over to the city of Big Spring by the U.S. government.

Howard's objection is that the college facility would not generate revenue to support the airport. He said in a letter to Big Spring Mayor Wade Choate that property was deeded to the city "for the sole purpose" of making funds to support the operation, maintenance and development of the airport.

City Manager Don Davis said he was anticipating the letter, which was "almost a carbon copy" of a letter the city received in transferring other buildings for use as a federal white-collar penitentiary.

Davis said he views FAA's objection as a "temporary setback."

Mail early

Post office keeping up with increased volume

By MIKE SLATON
Staff Writer

As Christmas shoppers fill Midland stores to overflowing, their cards and packages are filling Tall City post offices.

Total mail volume is up about 4 1/2 percent this year over past years, according to David Holster, postmaster at the Main Post Office, 100 E. Wall St.

But the post office has managed to keep up with the heavy yuletide mail load — so far.

"Everything is running real well," said Holster. "We're staying up with it."

However, the worst is to come for the postal system. Next Monday is traditionally the heaviest mail day of the Christmas season, said Holster. It's the beginning of the last week to mail before the holiday and there's a weekend's worth of shopping and wrapping to be mailed come Monday.

"We encourage people to mail as early as possible to assure delivery," the postmaster said. Weather as well as volume of mail can slow mail delivery, so it's best to mail early and be sure of delivery for Christmas.

For packages mailed to distant states, the last day to mail and still have a chance of delivery by Christmas is no later than Friday or Monday, he said. For delivery in Texas, packages should be in the mail by Tuesday or Wednesday.

Incorrect addresses and zip codes are the biggest problems the post office faces this year, said Holster. If the zip code on a package is for Alaska, chances are it will end up in Alaska — even if the address is Oklahoma City. "Double-check both street address and the zip code," he urged.

As a safety precaution, Holster suggested that Midlanders place a slip of paper with a return address and the addressee inside the package, as well as on the outside.

In the event the outside address is obscured by weather or postal machinery, the post office can still locate who sent the package and its destination.

To reduce the chance of package damage by postal machinery, the post office discourages the use of mailing paper and twine to wrap the box. Write the address directly on the cardboard and secure the box with a strong filament tape, the postmaster advised.

All rights to baby terminated

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — The woman who abandoned a baby near the manger scene of the First Baptist Church here has lost all rights to her son.

State District Judge William Martin announced he has terminated "all parental relationships affecting the child known as Timothy Christmas."

The action cleared the way for adoption proceedings to begin.

Odessan hurt in fall

Darrell Scott Seibold, 17, of Odessa was injured early Wednesday evening when he apparently fell from the hood of a car on which he was riding and was run over by the right car tire, Midland police said.

Seibold was listed in satisfactory condition with a broken pelvis at Midland Memorial Hospital early today, a hospital spokeswoman said.

"The car was driven by a 14-year-old Midland girl at the time of the accident, police said."

The accident occurred about 5:23 p.m. near the intersection of Thomason Road and Eisenhower Drive, police said.

Stereo system and guitar reported stolen

A stereo system and a guitar valued at $1,100 were reported taken Wednesday from a residence at 3317 Stewart Ave., Midland police said.

Entry to the home of Tom Gillett was either through the garage door or the front door, investigators noted.

Police were notified Wednesday of the theft of $3,100 from Phototronics, 409 Andrews Highway. They also were investigating the theft of $824 worth of tools and work clothes from the back of a pickup belonging to John Steadman, 2900 W. Illinois Ave., officials said.

Six railroads try to block takeover of rail route

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of railroads predicts losses running into the millions of dollars if the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. takes over a 992-mile stretch of the Rock Island Line.

The six railroads last week asked the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to block the Southern Pacific's operation of the line from Santa Rosa, N.M., to St. Louis. On Wednesday, the six roads filed documents supporting their appeal.

The railroads have asked the court to stay an Interstate Commission order that would allow the Southern Pacific temporary authority over the line.

The Southern Pacific is scheduled to take over the line on Friday.

The Kansas City Terminal Railway Co., a switching company owned by other railroads, currently gets $13 million a month in federal subsidies to operate the entire 7,200-mile Rock Island system. That was a result of an ICC order during a strike on the financially troubled railroad.

The six railroads said they will suffer irreparable economic harm if the Southern Pacific takes over the line temporarily. They also say no one will be harmed if the Kansas City management continues to operate the line.

If the Southern Pacific purchases and rehabilitates the line, the railroads said, their losses will be greater.

However, officials of the Southern Pacific have said that if they operate the Tucumcari Line, they would not offer serious competition. They said they would provide local service, and the line will be operated by a subsidiary, the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Co.

An ICC spokesman said the Southern Pacific has offered $37 million to buy what is called the Tucumcari Line.

The six railroads who have asked for a stay of the ICC order are the Union Pacific, the Santa Fe, the Chicago and North Western, the Missouri-Kansas-Texas, the Norfolk and Western, and the Missouri Pacific.

Richard Hautzinger, an assistant vice president of the Union Pacific, said in the court documents that his company would lose $27.6 million a year in diverted traffic if the Southern Pacific buys the Tucumcari Line.

He also said his company, the Santa Fe and other railroads operating transcontinental routes connecting California and Oregon with the East and the Midwest will lose necessary revenues.

Quake toll climbs to 133

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The earthquake toll in southern Colombia rose to 133 dead and as many as 2,000 injured as searchers searched through the rubble and wreckage in six coastal towns. Estimates of the missing ranged from 200 to 2,000.

The Red Cross declared the southwest coast near the border with Ecuador a disaster area. President Julio Cesar Turbay ordered the army to join in the rescue and relief work, and the local police called out auxiliary forces to assist in searching the ruins.

Emergency crews worked to power and telephone service.

Seismologists said the quake early Wednesday measured from 7.8 to 8.1 on the Richter scale. It lasted from 2:59 a.m. to 3:04 a.m., sent 10-foot high tidal waves crashing into the coast and was followed by 10 aftershocks during the next hour.

The scientists said the quake's epicenter was about 20 miles off the coast.

Charco, a fishing town of 1,000 people 165 miles north of the border, was hit hardest. Police said at least 62 persons were killed there and more than 350 were injured as their huts, built on stilts alongside a lake, were brought down. Many of the huts fell into the lake.

"Everything is knocked down," said the Rev. Jose Pablo. "The few houses that are left standing are seriously damaged."

Forty more dead were reported in Tumaco, a port 40 miles north of the border. The four-story hotel was one of the buildings brought down.

Other fatality reports included Curyal, 18; Gural and Olaya Herrera, 4 each; Timiti, 3; and San Juan and Icuande, 1 each.

The quake also shook buildings in Bogota, 400 miles to the northeast, and was blamed for a fire that badly damaged a subsidiary of the Scott Paper Co. It was felt across a wide area of Ecuador, including Quito, the capital 120 miles south of the border, but no casualties were reported in that country.

The U.S. Geological Survey in Golden, Colo., said it was the strongest quake in that part of Colombia in nearly 22 years, since one on Jan. 19, 1958, that registered 7.8 on the Richter scale. An earthquake measuring 6.7 occurred farther north in Colombia on Nov. 23 and killed 41 persons.

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one whole number means a tenfold increase in magnitude.

An earthquake registering 7 on the scale is considered a "major" quake capable of widespread heavy damage while one with a reading 8 is considered a "great" quake, capable of tremendous damage.

The San Francisco quake of 1956, which occurred before the Richter scale was devised, has been estimated at 8.3.

Appeals court affirms revocation of probation

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday affirmed the revocation of Dennis Hodge, convicted June 6, 1978, in Midland County of burglary of a vehicle and sentenced to eight years in prison and a $350 fine.

The court's opinion states the motion to revoke probation alleged Hodge had violated the terms of his probation by failing to report to his probation officer, failing to pay court costs and allegedly committing the offenses of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle and theft of a motor vehicle.

Hodge contended that he had been physically unable to report to his probation officer and that he had been hospitalized twice during his probation period. He also contended there was insufficient evidence to show he had committed the alleged offense.

The appeals court said the state showed Hodge had never paid any of the fine required and that he was employed during the time, so Hodge had the burden of showing he was unable to make the payments.

No abuse of discretion by the trial court was shown, the appeals court said, and affirmed the judgment.

NOW excluded from meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is meeting with representatives of 16 women's organizations but the National Organization for Women, newly on record as opposing Carter's re-election, was not invited.

Eleanor Smeal, president of NOW, said she was excluded from today's White House meeting because NOW's political action committee voted last weekend to support anyone but Carter in 1980.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1979
YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

You may be blessed with many good things in months ahead if you are forceful and candid in expressing ideas and defending beliefs. Relationships with those you love will be strengthened by decisions you make during year. Money may become less of a problem; you might even be able to save. Romantic energy will run strong.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Pay more attention to needs of mate, partner. Be sensitive to child's problem. Keep doctor, dental appointments. Do not risk savings on get-rich-quick scheme.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Physical pursuits may prove more productive than mental ones. Apply moderation in all you undertake. You may receive good news. Money could be part of it. Reserve time this evening for romance.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Some holiday plans may need to be finalized now. Do not commit yourself to travel until you know full cost. Romance is likely to play key role in your decision.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Sensitive issues can be discussed openly, calmly now. Teamwork at home and on the job is favorable. Check travel arrangements before starting out.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Work you do yourself can be very rewarding. Others may not be as cooperative as you would like. At home, avoid taking charge. Some self-sacrifice may be necessary now.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Work behind the scenes to accomplish more. Keep money in bank. Get organized on job and at home. Encounter with fascinating new person can leave you dazzled.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): News you seek could be delayed. Others may not be sensitive to your concerns. Seek advice regarding investments, insurance, tax matters. Use more tact around subordinates.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Ideal time for surprise, brief trip. News from abroad is reason for reevaluation. Special effort may be needed to meet crisis. Rise to occasion and you will attain goal.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Friendly, fun could lead to advancement. Special project may require your total concentration now. One in authority is on your side. Imprint your personal style on all you do.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Home environment may be more important now than in recent past. Accent could be on romance, promise, love. You could be recipient of luxury gift. Romance is favored.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Be prepared for change of scenery. Relationship with loved one may intensify. Give much thought to important problem. Be sure you recognize the difference between fact and fantasy.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You may now get opportunity to display talents in unique manner. Insist on factual information. Money, time likely to be on your side. Luck also helps make you a winner.

AT WIT'S END

Good news at last!

By ERMA BOMBECK

It was such good news I couldn't believe it was in the newspaper.

A group of Boston doctors reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association that "moderate" consumption of beer, wine, and liquor may reduce the risk of heart attack.

Is that only wonderful? Have you any idea how long it has been since anything people enjoyed was declared good for them? Year in and year out for the last decade, we have seen "living" go from a pretty good alternative to a condition that is injurious to your health.

I immediately called my father, who is always shopping for a doctor to tell him what he wants to hear.

"Did you hear about the doctors who said people who had a little drink each day may be less likely to die of coronary disease?"

"I heard," he said, "and I don't trust 'em."

"You didn't say that when you shopped for a doctor who said exercising caused itching?"

"That was different."

"What about the dentist who found who told you you'd have healthier teeth and gums if you smoked a lot of cigars?"

"This isn't the same."

"Why not?"

"Doctors who recommend things you enjoy don't go public. Can you imagine what would happen if you found a doctor who put you on a 4,500-calorie-a-day diet and told you to cut out carrots and cottage cheese? He'd be swamped. Besides, it's not man's nature to like things that are good for him. It isn't any fun, anymore."

"How long do you think people would eat chocolate if they thought it would clear your skin up? Or patty all night if they thought it would get rid of a cold? Do you really think people would eat a pizza just before going to bed if it put them to sleep?"

"I don't understand you at all," I said. "I thought this piece of news would make you happy. Why don't you just toddle off and have a nice glass of wine before dinner and relax?"

"Do I have to?" he pouted.

DEAR ABBY

His last letter was first class

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'm sitting here on the plane reading the letter in your column about the son who didn't want to put his father up temporarily because he felt his father's visit would be an invasion of his privacy.

That item caught my eye because I am on my way to visit my son in Omaha for two weeks — at his insistence. I was reluctant to do so initially because I felt I might be interfering with his personal activities. I wonder if the son who wrote that letter ever gave a thought to the privacy his father might have forfeited during his son's time at home?

There were times during my children's lives when, given my druthers, I'd have preferred some alternative activity, but now I don't regret one minute of the time I spent with them. I'm only sorry it couldn't have been more. Their time at home seems to have been so brief.

I won't mail this, of course, since I realize you will receive thousands of more articulate letters on the above. This is just my way of

DEAR ABBY: My father died suddenly of a heart attack, and this unfinished letter was in his pocket. My wife and I will miss him very much. Sign this — "A SON WHO REALLY WANTED HIS DAD TO COME." WILLIAM SMZYK, OMAHA, NEBR.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 33 but sometimes acts like a child. He refuses to shave or comb his hair on weekends, thinks deodorants are for women, walks around barefoot, slurps his coffee, blows on his foods, cracks his knuckles, and when he belches he never says, "Excuse me."

We've been married for seven years and he seems to get more gross every year.

I am fairly neat and well-mannered. When I try to correct him, he blows up and picks a fight with me. He wasn't this way when I married him. What shall I do? — ANGRY IN SAN MATEO

DEAR ANGRY: How you "correct" him is important. Take one offense at a time, explaining that his slovenliness offends you and his rudeness hurts and irritates you.

When you attack a man, he'll instinctively either try to defend himself or counter attack. Anger generates anger. Love generates love. Think about it.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for printing the letter from the 16-year-old girl who had recently undergone a hysterectomy as a result of gonorrhea. So many people believe gonorrhea is a minor infection that's easily detected and quickly cured.

Like the girl who wrote to you, I wasn't a "sleep-around" type, either. I had only one boy friend, but even though he KNEW he was infected, and had seen his doctor for treatment, he didn't mention it to me. My doctor misdiagnosed my symptoms, and even though I was 21, I was naive and uninformed, which resulted in my having a hysterectomy, too. I'm still single, but I plan some day to adopt because I want a family.

Please keep warning your readers of the consequences (and symptoms) of VD. This letter is sincere, but please forgive me for not signing my name. — A READER

DEAR READER: VD is still a serious epidemic. Anyone reading this (regardless of age) who suspects that he (or she) has it should phone the VD hotline (toll free) 800-523-1885. All questions will be answered by trained persons, and you'll be told where to get an examination and treatment free!

Mrs. Green entertains at Yule tea

Hospitality Committee members, chaired by Mrs. Percy O'Quinn, served as hostesses to the Yucca Garden Club when it met for the annual Christmas tea in the home of Mrs. Billie Gilbert, 1402 N. C St.

Mrs. Robert O. Burkett introduced the music program presented by Mrs. Bill Green. She sang "The Beauty of Christmas" and was accompanied by Doris Bruce.

Members brought handmade gifts for the Yucca Christmas tree and also gifts for the Big Spring State Hospital.

Mrs. Gilbert reported that the December Delights flower show presented by Midland garden clubs and members of the Lancaster Garden Center was a success, and that several Yucca members won awards for flower arrangements and horticulture.

Guests were Mrs. Pete Jensen and Mrs. Parker Humes.

Baptist employees won't be rehired

DALLAS (AP) — Ten of 128 Dallas Baptist College employees may not be rehired because they would not sign a statement saying they believe in the inerrancy of the Bible and a non-evolutionary view of creation.

Executive vice president Thomas J. Rector said everyone at the college was required to sign the "Articles of Faith" by 4 p. m. Tuesday and refusal to sign means an employee's contract won't be renewed in May.

"They may be wonderful people, just as moral and straight as they can be," said Dr. Fred A. White, academic vice president. "But philosophically they may not be in tune with this document," or the beliefs of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Bridal party honors Miss Klempnauer.

Linda Klempnauer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard G. Klempnauer, was honored with a rice bag party in the home of Mrs. Wm. R. Cain, Jr., 1700 Huntington Place.

Other hostesses included Mrs. Hollingshead, Mrs. Gary Owens, Mrs. Richard Saxe, Mrs. R. M. Malaise and Mrs. Charles East of New Braunfels.

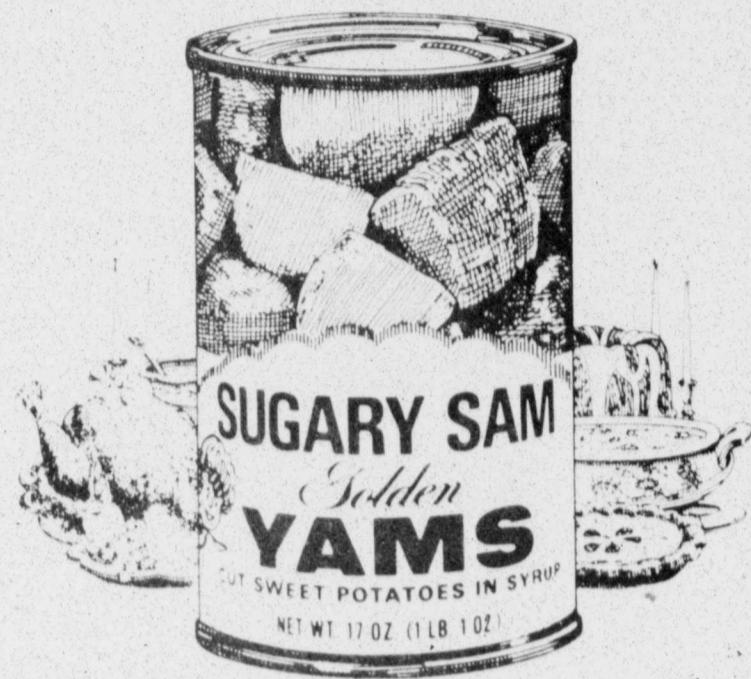

Pink wedding bells adorned the door as the honoree and her mother greeted approximately 100 guests. Presented with corsages were the honoree, her mother, her grandmother, Mrs. R. G. Klempnauer, and the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. G. B. Pearce.

The honoree and Clellan Pearce will marry Dec. 29 in the First Baptist Church.

Her German traditions dominate holiday spirit

Enjoying their visit while eating Christmas Stollen, a traditional German Christmas bread, are Frieda Duggan, right, of Midland and Herta Fuhrman of Andrews. The Black Forest Cherry Cake waits to be tasted while the women discuss Christmas in Germany. Both women were born in Germany, but are now West Texas residents. All of the Christmas decorations on the table were made in Germany, and the lighted Christmas candle on the right signifies the beginning of the Christmas season, according to German religious traditions. (Staff Photo by Mike Kardos)

By SANDI BREEDEN
Lifestyle Writer

Although she has lived in the United States for almost 20 years, Frieda Duggan still cooks and decorates her home for Christmas in German style.

Born in East Germany, Mrs. Duggan vividly remembers her family having to leave what is now East Germany during World War II for their safety.

"When we left East Germany, we got on the last train out and we went through the windows to get on the train," she said. "It was one of the coldest winters I can remember."

The train took them to northwestern Germany, but not without incident. "We almost lost my mother when she went out to get some snow so she could make us porridge," said Mrs. Duggan. "The train started going and she was not on it, but finally she got on."

Her family eventually made Frankfurt, Germany, their home and in 1959 Mrs. Duggan married Jerry Duggan, an officer with the United States Army. Later that same year they moved to the United States and have lived in the states since.

The Duggans have three sons, Ken, 19, Glenn, 16, and Curtis, 11. They have all visited Germany where Mrs. Duggan's mother, sister, nephew and lots of aunts, uncles and cousins still live.

With many beautiful German Christmas decorations in her home, Mrs. Duggan finishes her Christmas celebration German style with her baking.

She prepares Christmas Stollen, a traditional German Christmas

CHRISTMAS STOLLEN

- 2 1/2 lbs. x 12" baking sheets
- 2 cups almonds, blanched and chopped
- 1 cup golden raisins
- several finely cut candied cherries
- 1/2 cup currants
- 1 cup chopped citron
- 1 tsp. grated lemon peel
- 1 cup milk
- 2 pkgs. active yeast
- 1/2 cup warm water
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup softened butter
- 2 tps. salt
- 8 cups sifted flour
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 3 eggs
- 2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 3/4 tps. milk

NUT FRUIT MIX

- Mix 1 1/2 cups almonds with 1 cup golden raisins, 1/2 cup currants, 1 cup citron and 1 tsp. grated lemon peel. Set mix aside.

DOUGH MIXTURE

- Scald 1 cup milk. Meanwhile, soften 2 pkgs. active dry yeast in 1/2 cup warm water. Let yeast stand 5 to 10 minutes.
- In a large bowl, combine 1 cup sugar, 1 cup softened butter and 2 tps. salt. Pour scalded milk over ingredients and stir mixture until butter is completely melted. Then blend in, beating until smooth, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 tsp. nutmeg and stirred softened yeast.

- Measure 6 to 7 cups sifted flour. Add half of the flour to the dough and beat until very smooth. Add three eggs, one at a time, and beat well after adding each egg.
- Add the nut-fruit mixture and mix thoroughly. Mix in enough of the remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn dough onto a lightly floured surface and allow it to rest 5 to 10 minutes.

Knead dough. Form dough into a smooth ball and place in a lightly greased, deep bowl. Turn dough to bring greased surface to top. Cover bowl with waxed paper and shape into smooth balls. Allow dough to rest 5 to 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, lightly grease the baking sheets. Roll or pat out each ball of dough into a oval 13 inch long and about one inch thick. With rolling pin, flatten and press 1/2 rolled ball lengthwise until about 1/2 inch thick. Turn unflattened half of dough over. Flatten half, lightly press edges together. Press the fold down firmly with palm of hand. This helps to prevent dough from springing open during rising. Repeat to shape second oval.

Place one Stollen on each baking sheet. Brush tops with melted butter.

Cover with waxed paper and towel and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1 1/2 to 2 hours).

Punch down dough with fist, pull edges into center and turn dough completely over in bowl. Cover bowl with waxed paper and towel and let dough rise again until nearly doubled (about 1 to 1 1/2 hours).

Again punch down dough and turn out onto a lightly floured surface. Divide into 2 portions and shape into smooth balls. Allow dough to rest 5 to 10 minutes.

Cover with waxed paper and towel and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1 1/2 to 2 hours). Bake at 350-375 to 10 minutes or until stollen are golden brown.

While Stollen are baking, prepare the frosting by combining 2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar, 1 tsp. vanilla and adding gradually, blending after each addition, 2 to 3 tps. milk, just enough to make frosting of spreading consistency.

Remove baked Stollen to cooling racks. Immediately spread frosting over tops and sprinkle reserved almonds over frosting.

Fort Worth to extend home mortgage help

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Fort Worth City Council will form a non-profit corporation to loan money to families who want to buy homes in the city, council members said Tuesday.

The corporation will issue tax-exempt revenue bonds to finance its activities, and home owners could get loans with 9-percent interest rates, said council member Jeff Davis.

The Fort Worth Housing Finance Corp. was pigeonholed earlier this year when questions arose over whether congress would permit a tax-exempt status for the bonds.

Now consultants say developments in congress have cleared the way for the business.

Recipes

EDITOR'S NOTE: Due to the large number of entries in The Midland Reporter-Telegram's recipe contest, many were not included in the special edition. These will be printed on Thursdays until all entries have been published.

3 tps. baking powder
5 tps. shortening
1/4 tsp. soda
1 cup buttermilk

Sift flour, salt, baking powder and soda into bowl. Add shortening and cut in with pastry blender, or two knives until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add buttermilk, all at once and stir until dough follows fork around bowl. Turn out on lightly floured surface; knead half a minute. Roll 3/8-inch thick; brush with melted fat, fold over and cut double biscuits. Bake on ungreased baking sheet at 450 for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 14-16 biscuits.

BISCUITS

By JEAN HALL

2 cups flour
2 tps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup shortening
3/4 cup milk

Mix and roll out on floured board and cut any size biscuit. Yum.

HERBED TOMATO-CHEESE BREAD

By MRS. ANDY MACHA

Sour cream topping (see below)
2/3 cup milk
2 cups biscuit mix
3 medium tomatoes, peeled and sliced 1/4 inch thick paprika

Sour cream topping:
1 medium onion,

minced
2 tps. butter
3/4 cup dairy sour cream
1/3 cup mayonnaise
4 oz. grated Cheddar Cheese (about 1 cup)
3/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. leaf oregano
pinch sage

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Butter a 13x9x2 inch baking dish. Prepare sour cream topping. Stir milk into biscuit mix to make a soft dough. Turn dough onto well-floured board and knead lightly. Pat dough over bottom of buttered baking dish, pushing dough up sides of dish to form a shallow rim.

Arrange tomato slices over dough. Spoon on sour cream topping and sprinkle with paprika. Bake 20-25 minutes. Let stand about 10 minutes before cutting. Makes 12 servings.

Sour Cream Topping:
Sauté onion in butter until tender. Blend with remaining ingredients. Set aside.

Delicious with steaks, chopped. Wrap leftovers in foil and refrigerate. It reheats beautifully.

CARAWAY BREAD STICKS

By KATHRYN NICHOLS

1 loaf frozen bread dough
1/2 tsp nutmeg
1 tsp. caraway seeds
1 tsp. sage

To thaw bread dough, place the dough in a plastic bag (10" x 12"). Pour 1 tsp. cooking oil over frozen dough and roll loaf around inside bag to cover it with oil. Let bread rise 6 hours, leaving bag open.

Cut down center of bag; turn bread upside down on floured board and sprinkle spices over top of bread. Starting at the side, roll spices to the inside, jelly roll fashion.

Cut into 20 pieces. Roll each piece to a long stick shape about 10" long.

Place on greased cookie sheet and cover loosely with wax paper. Let rise until doubled in bulk.

Bake 12 to 15 minutes until delicately browned at 400.

BEER BISCUITS

By MRS. DICK EDWARDS

4 cups Bisquick

4 can (12 oz.) beer
Mix together and beat for two minutes. Fill 24 hot greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake in hot oven.

(425 degrees) for 17 minutes. Serve hot with plenty of butter. M-m-m-m good.

PUMPKIN BREAD

By KAY SUTTON

1 cup oleo
3 cups sugar

Add, beating after each one, 4 eggs
Sift together:
3 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 tsp. salt
2 tps. soda
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. ground cloves
4 tps. ginger

1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
Add to the creamed mixture alternately with:
2/3 cups water mixed with
1 can (1 lb.) pumpkin

Bake in two well

greased and floured bread pans, 350 degrees until test done—about 1 to 1 1/2 hours.
Serve warm or cooled, broiler-toasted with butter or cooled and made into cream cheese sandwiches.

THE FIRST PURPOSE of all interior decoration is to create a setting in which people can live and in their own individual ways. Beauty is essential, but it is possible to create beauty which is not livable for you. That's why chairs should be comfortable to sit in, for reading, watching television, relaxing, entertaining. Furniture placement should not be dictated solely by visual effect, but you should think about conversation groupings that bring people naturally, and consider the activities of your family. That's why the color scheme should be one that you enjoy. Never choose a color scheme because it is currently in vogue. That's why you can use favorite pieces of furniture, even of different periods, if they contribute to the overall comfort, livability and personal appeal of the room. We are specialists in home furnishing, and we will gladly work with you in creating a setting which will express your own ideas and way of life. Beauty will be an essential ingredient in that pattern, but it will be beauty meant for living with. Come in and talk over your decorating problems, soon.

MHS CHATTER

Proud purple keeps winning

By TRACY BEEBE, AMY DAVENPORT, ANGELA TOMPKINS and BECKY WILSON

Say Dogs, only six more school days until Christmas vacation. Don't give up. Time flies when you're having fun(?)

100 Clubbers, don't forget about the Junior Cotillion clean-up at 7:30 Friday morning. Please be here, as you need all the points you can get.

THE PROUD PURPLE Pack did it again! Our mighty varsity roundballers stomped on Pecos Monday night, 94-54. Top scorers for the game were Herbert Johnson, Perry Bolger, Horace Brown and Darren Matlock. Our proud Junior Varsity munched down on Pecos, 86-70. Top scorers were Don Scharnowski, Bruce Philip and Wade Johnson.

We can't stop there. Both our girls basketball teams won, too. Varsity girls outscored Ector Monday night, 61-43. Top scorers were Sandra Rock, Margaret Christian and Jane Trolinder. Junior Varsity also stomped 'em, 47-28. Connie Caton was high scorer. Way to go, Dogs. Four more Victory Buses!

ANOTHER HUGE CONGRATS goes to Renee Ramsey, 1979 MHS Catoico Queen. We are proud to have Renee representing us in this most prestigious position. The theme for this year's Catoico dance is Winter Wonderland. Also congratulations go to the girls named to the Court.

Our basketball teams keep winning and our Choir keeps singing. Vocalists who were selected for the West Texas Area Choir are Deirdre Madison, first soprano, Scott Morris, second tenor, and Tone Boswell, second bass. First alternate is our own Angela Tompkins, second soprano. Second alternates are Sheila Pruitt, second alto, Melinda McLain, second soprano, and Frank "Mone" Carramone, second bass. These tremendous singers will compete in state competition at Lubbock. Good luck to all of you!

Junior Rotarians for this week are Marthann March and Mark Stanley. Way to go, you two.

FROM ALL THE MEMBERS of the Midland Youth Center, another great big thank you to Mr. Wayne Proctor of the Grapevine Music Store for all his help during the years. We are most grateful. Well, that's about it until next week.

Becky, Angela, Tracy and Amy
P.S. Claire, I hope you had a great 18th. Love, Bee!

MC offers course in word processing

A new course in word processing will be taught at Midland College during the spring semester with one daytime and one evening course.

The introductory course, Business Administration 2313, is designed to assist the secretary with understanding the concept of word processing. A combination of lecture and hands-on practice will be used to instruct the course.

Operation of the MT/ST transcription machines and reprographic equipment will be included during the one semester, three-hour credit course.

Taught by business instructor Peggy Jacobson, the class will be offered from 11 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays and on Tuesday from 7 to 9:50 p.m.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Jacobson at 684-7834, extension 223.

Preregistration is underway at Midland College for the spring semester. Students may preregister in the office of student services in the Administration Building from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday or 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday through Dec. 20.

Preregistration resumes Jan. 2-8 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Registration for the spring semester is slated for Jan. 9 and 10 with classes starting on Jan. 14.

City of Cincinnati named in rock concert lawsuit

CINCINNATI (AP) — A $11.25 million lawsuit contends the city of Cincinnati failed to follow crowd control measures at the Riverfront Coliseum rock concert where 11 people died in a rush of fans Dec. 3.

The suit was filed in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court by attorney David A. Chicarelli, on behalf of John and Betty Snyder, parents of Phillip Snyder, 20, one of the victims.

"The city has authority over the Coliseum, it knew beforehand of possible trouble, it ignored safety recommendations two years ago by the Cincinnati Human Relations Commission and failed to enforce the liquor and drug laws," Chicarelli said in an interview.

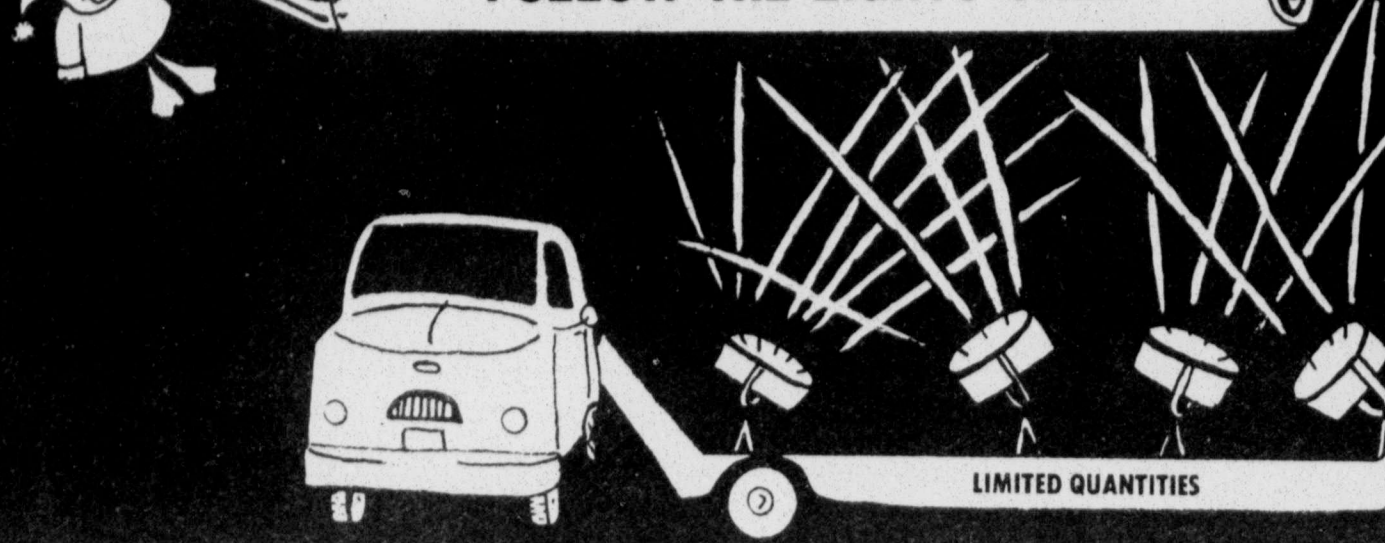

Named as defendants in the suit were the city, Riverfront Coliseum Inc., members of The Who, performers at the concert, the promoter, Electric Factory Concerts of Philadelphia, and Cal Levy, the local agent, and off-duty Cincinnati policemen employed by the Coliseum.

A class action suit filed last week seeks more than $27 million but did not name the city as a defendant.

The Snyder suit claims the organizers failed to provide adequate seating, security, ushers, ticket takers and crowd control devices.

Chicarelli said the city had ignored recommendations for limiting attendance and eliminating general admissions at concerts.

House debates Chrysler loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is beginning to debate a proposal that would provide $1.5 billion in federal loan guarantees to the Chrysler Corp., which says it faces the threat of bankruptcy early next year without government help.

The House received clearance Wednesday from the Rules Committee to start floor debate today on the proposal, which also asks employees to agree to $400 million in wage concessions.

Under the procedures adopted by the committee, the House won't start considering amendments until Tuesday. Once the amendments are out of the way, the House will take a final vote.

Chrysler, the nation's third-largest automaker, wants $1.5 billion in federally guaranteed bank loans. The automaker says it expects to lose more than $1 billion during 1979.

The administration asked Congress to approve $1.5 billion in loan guarantees and require Chrysler to come up with a like amount on its own. The House Banking Committee approved a modification of that measure.

But the proposal ran into trouble in the Senate Banking Committee, which substituted a plan that would provide $1.25 billion in loan guarantees and require $2.75 billion in non-federal contributions including a three-year wage freeze for employees.

Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., chairman of the economic stabilization subcommittee of the House Banking unit, told the Rules Committee on Wednesday that the Senate panel's action made the Chrysler aid proposal "less workable but more palatable politically."

In an effort to find a bill that would pass both houses, Moorhead said, a compromise was worked out restoring the $1.5 billion in loan guarantees but cutting the outside aid to $1.83 billion. It would require $400 million in concessions by hourly workers, but no wage freeze.

"I think the resulting legislation is so mean and so nasty that no other corporation is going to want to come in" and seek similar government help in the future, Moorhead told the Rules Committee.

Sen. Donald W. Riegle, D-Mich., who originally backed the administration's plan, described the compromise as containing "the essential elements necessary to the ultimate success of the recovery plan."

He also indicated he would be reluctant to support any increase above the $400 million the United Auto Workers union, which represents Chrysler employees, would have to come up with under the compromise.

Southwest flights to New Orleans OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southwest Airlines apparently will be able to continue its new service between Dallas' Love Field and New Orleans without fear of congressional interference.

A conference committee broke its stalemate Wednesday on an amendment that would have banned interstate air service from the older, in-city airport.

The amendment in its new form essentially would restrict Southwest, or a similar airline that does not offer connecting service to other lines, to turn-around flights between Love Field and cities in the four neighboring states of Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Those flights cannot continue to other cities. The amendment would not apply to cargo or commuter flights.

House Majority Leader Jim Wright had succeeded in attaching an amendment to ban the flights to two bills after the Civil Aeronautics Board authorized Southwest to start the first interstate service at Love Field since Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport opened in 1974.

The amendment then ran into a roadblock in the conference committee.

The bills containing the amendment—one an airport noise bill and the other an international aviation measure—next return to the Senate and House for final approval. The amendment needs only one of the two bills to pass for it to become effective.

Wright, of Fort Worth, has said he opposed interstate service at the Dallas field because it could threaten the financial stability of the regional airport.

Other airlines had signed agreements to move their service from Love Field to Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport when it opened.

The cities of Dallas and Fort Worth and the regional airport board had fought Southwest's bid to start interstate service.

Escaped mental patient commandeers city bus

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — An escaped mental patient commandeered a city bus, threatened the driver and lone passenger with a sharp stick, and drove it about 10 miles before he was apprehended Wednesday, officials said.

The patient entered the hospital Tuesday for psychiatric treatment, according to Eberlin.

Long Island rail workers' walkout into sixth day

The 26-year-old man hurled a potted plant through a window, escaped through the opening, outran guards and attendants at the San Antonio State Hospital and boarded the city bus, a hospital spokesman said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Union leaders representing striking employees of the Long Island Railroad have two new contract offers in hand today and a management promise for face-to-face bargaining.

Dr. Eugene Eberlin, director of professional services at the hospital, said the patient later gave up without a struggle in the northeast section of the city.

"He did real well with the bus, obeying all traffic signs and signals," said Eberlin.

There were no serious injuries, although one hospital guard was struck with the stick.

No charges were filed, but Eberlin said the patient spent Wednesday night in the city jail.

Eberlin said the patient will be transferred to Rusk State Hospital in East Texas, where tighter security is available.

Meanwhile, the walkout on the nation's busiest commuter railroad entered its sixth day, with most of the 180,000 daily weekday commuters traveling by buses, carpools and other means of transport.

The walkout by 6,200 workers who belong to 17 unions shut the only rail link to Manhattan for the 2.7 million residents of Long Island.

The unions are to give an answer on the offers this afternoon when negotiations are set to resume.

Baptists name Dr. Allen to head radio-TV effort

FORT WORTH (AP) — Dr. James R. Allen of First Baptist Church in San Antonio Tuesday was named president of the Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission.

Allen, immediate past president of the Southern Baptist Convention, the world's largest evangelical denomination, will take over his new duties Jan. 15.

The commission has seven major radio and four television programs aired 4,390 times a week on 3,217 stations.

Carter aide sees gray lining in silver cloud

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's campaign manager says the president's sudden surge in public opinion polls because of his handling of the Iranian crisis will be hard to translate into votes and could even backfire.

Tim Kraft, chief strategist at the Carter-Mondale campaign committee, said in an interview he expects "tremendous relief and appreciation" if Carter manages to free the 50 Americans being held hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

Carter's handling of the Iran situation obviously has raised his standing with the general public, as reflected in the public opinion polls. The latest major poll, by George Gallup, shows Carter leading Democratic presidential rival Sen. Edward M. Kennedy by 48 percent to 40 percent among Democrats.

But Kraft says Carter's sudden rise in the polls from record lows only a month ago does not necessarily "translate into hard Democratic votes in different primary states on a very continuing basis."

"I think just as soon as you have saved their (hostages) lives, gotten the people back, that the floodgate of recriminations and political criticisms will unload on why the shah was admitted, why our intelligence about those countries so abysmal," Kraft said.

He also said that despite the ratings boost the Iran situation has handed Carter, it could turn into an albatross if the crisis is not resolved soon.

"It's a walking on eggs situation," Kraft said.

Kennedy suggests more aid for Israel

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is accusing the Carter administration of allowing American aid to Israel to decline over the last three years and is calling for a $350 million increase next year.

Kennedy, in a speech prepared for a New York fund raising dinner Wednesday night, said he favored more aid to Israel "because it is in our national interest... and because it is right."

"Israel has never let America down. Now America must not deny Israel sufficient help in this time of need," he said in the speech text. Kennedy did not deliver the portions of the speech devoted to Israel, but his aides said later he stood by the text's positions.

The text represented the second time this week the Massachusetts senator, who is challenging President Carter for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination, has emphasized a foreign policy issue of unique importance to a bloc of ethnic voters.

In Chicago on Monday, Kennedy won the endorsement of Greek American groups who pointedly cited his opposition to the administration's plan to resume military aid to Turkey.

Two GOP congressmen want minority position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two high ranking House Republicans — Bob Michel of Illinois and Guy Vander Jagt of Michigan — say they want the job of House minority leader expected to be vacated by Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona.

Rhodes, 63, saying his seven year service as minority leader "is enough," disclosed Wednesday that he doesn't plan to seek the job again when his present term expires at the end of 1980.

Although Rhodes said he hasn't made up his mind for sure and still wants to keep his options open, by the end of the day both Michel and Vander Jagt had declared their candidacies for the post.

Brown plots strategy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jerry Brown, the forgotten man of the Democratic presidential campaign, is plotting a strategy in which he would emerge to challenge the survivor of the race between President Carter and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

"One of them (Kennedy or Carter) is going to stumble. There's no question about that," says Brown campaign manager Tom Quinn. "One of them will have serious problems, based on how the early primaries go. That will create fund-raising problems, and I don't think either has the ability to economize and run a low budget campaign the way we do. Then we will get our chance."

But in the meantime, Brown is reportedly mired in a fund-raising crunch of his own — the California governor has not yet qualified for federal matching funds — and is relying on next month's Iowa debate to stir some life into a campaign that is largely hidden from public attention.

Midland group to hear Duke University prof

Dr. Donald R. Kirks, associate professor of Radiology and Pediatrics at the Duke University Medical School, Durham, N.C., will be the featured speaker at the December meeting of the Midland-Odessa Chapter of United Ostomy Association, Inc., at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium of Odessa's Medical Center Hospital.

Roy Minear of Midland, is announcing the meeting, said all interested persons are invited to attend.

Dr. Kirks, a 1964 graduate of Rice University and a 1968 graduate of Washington University School of Medicine at St. Louis, Mo., will discuss the use of, and subsequent treatment for, diseases of the intestinal tract.

He was selected as the recipient of the John Caffey award by the Society for Pediatric Radiology at its annual meeting held recently at Toronto, Canada. His articles have been published in the Journal of Radiology, The Pediatric Radiology Journal, American Journal of the Diseases of Children and other professional publications. One of his recent articles in The Pediatric Radiology Journal concerned a study of Crohn's Disease.

Mrs. Ernestine Adkins of Odessa, chapter president, will preside at the meeting.

The chapter's territory includes the 20 county area adjacent to Midland and Ector counties.

First 600 always toughest, especially last one

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

The first 600 victories would seem to be the hardest for Ray Meyer. Especially No. 600. The DePaul coach, who admits that losing basketball games "used to tear me up," reached that exalted plateau Wednesday night with a victory over Northern Illinois.

said. "I figure perhaps two or three more years." DePaul's victory was sealed by Mark Aguirre's two free throws with no time left in overtime. There were ceremonies for the DePaul coach to go along with this historic triumph.

entire and Ricky Ross, chipped away at the lead and tied at 47 with 5:53 left on a basket by Chester Giles. Bowie, a 7-foot-1 center, got the Wildcats back on top with a stiff shot, but a jumper by Ross with 3:37 left made it 51-51.

ELSEWHERE, Mike McGee scored 36 points to lead Michigan to an 85-72 victory over Detroit in the inaugural game at the new Joe Louis Arena in Detroit. Keith McCord and Larry Spicer scored 28 and 23 points, respectively, to lead Alabama-Birmingham to an 86-67 victory over Washington State.

Rigney's back with armful of yarns

Bill Rigney, Jr., returned from last week's baseball meetings in Toronto just in time to escape missing Midland's, first chilling blast of winter, but even that didn't bother the Midland Cubs' general manager.

body agreed on was that the Dodgers' No. 42 was the greatest player who ever put on a major league uniform. The Cubs general manager related, "Jackie Robinson might not have been the best hitter or the best second baseman, but he might have been the best base runner ever and he'd find a way to beat you."

This is week for Redskins ambush of favored Pokes

By KEN DENLINGER The Washington Post If ever there is a week for the Redskins to ambush the U.S. Cowboys in Dallas, this is it.

so the obvious intrigue is not how they can win their divisional championship for the 11th time but how they could lose it to a collection of Clarence Dickens.

or Harvey Martin decides to swallow Joe Theismann before halftime. Still, when was the last time the Cowboys were giving on-the-job training to most of the left side of their defense? Not just the line, but the linebacker and the cornerback.

bomb—and nearly as explosive when all the parts fit and are properly activated. Doomsday was quite proper at one time.

("nickel" for the NFL junkies) defense. The ultimate ramifications of the Hughes shoulder separation might be a new defensive term called the "plug nickel."

weeks working on it. Throwing out the bad plays means practices are better, because you're working on things that'll probably gain yardage four and five times instead of once or twice.

Chaps defeat Hawks to win 14th straight tilt

BIG SPRING — Coach Jerry Stones' Midland College Chaparrals, hitting a sizzling 67 per cent from the floor, gunned down the Howard College Hawks, 108-94 Wednesday in a Western Junior College Conference basketball game in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

inch sophomore from Chicago, Ill., ripped the cords for 31 points in pacing the Chaps to their 14th victory of the season against no losses, but more important, their fifth WJCC win without a loss.

that should be a great one since the Westerners are ranked No. 1 in the nation in the junior college ranking," added Stone.

Randy Hughes is the reason for the other troubles. His shoulder injury means the regular left cornerback, Bennie Barnes, probably will open at strong safety and rookie Aaron Mitchell will trot off the bench and play left corner.

Will Dallas use the 4-3 defense again Sunday? Harris, recalling what makes this rivalry so special, wants more than victory against Washington. "I want to knock 'em out," he said.

Dorsett is one of the glamor runners in the league, swift and strong. But in his three years against Washington, his longest run from scrimmage has been 11 yards. He did not catch a pass until the loss here this season.

Evansville families seek plane crash damages

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A lawsuit seeking $32 million in damages was filed in federal court here Wednesday for families of five victims of a plane crash that killed the University of Evansville basketball team two years ago.

"I was really pleased with the way the team played. We didn't play that well Monday in the overtime victory over Amarillo and we were concerned or even scared a little bit, so we worked on everything hard and it paid off with our best performance of the season," said Stone.

The Hawks were led by Mike Wallace, who gunned in 36 points while teammate Ron Akins added 25 more. MC lost Charles Johnson, Derrick Wilson and Williamingham when all three fouled out of the game.

Toy-Bowl game slated Sunday

The Midland Jaycees will play the Clyde Jaycees in the annual Tall City Toy Bowl flag football game at 1 p.m. Sunday in Memorial Stadium.

It's all part of the Midland Jaycees Toys for Tots drive to help make Christmas merry for underprivileged children.

After losing four of five games, the Dallas minds decided to perform surgery on the offensive playbook. They did an efficiency study of the prior games and ripped out between 15 and 20 plays.

Two numbers suggest both teams are less than awesome. The Cowboys have turned the ball over nine more times than they have taken it; the Redskins have surrendered nearly 200 more yards than they have gained.

Specialists can boost fees from Blue Cross programs

BOSTON (AP) — A few busy specialists can greatly increase the fees they and other doctors receive from Blue Shield programs for operations and other medical treatment, a new study says.
The way fees can rise is outlined in a report published today in the New England Journal of Medicine. It showed that the amount of insurance money doctors received for certain operations rose as much as 75 percent in three years in the Blue Shield program in Washington, D.C.
The report, by Thomas Delbanco of Beth Israel Hospital in Boston, said the maximum fees Blue Shield will pay are secret, but doctors can easily figure them out by turning in ever higher bills.
Ray Freson, a spokesman for the District of Columbia Blue Shield, acknowledged that a few specialists can raise fees for everyone.

"The observation is correct that if you have a few people who are doing exotic procedures, they will charge what they want, and that will have an effect on other people in the field. It's inherent in the system," he said.
More than 70 million Americans use Blue Shield plans to pay their doctor bills. Of those, 46 percent subscribe to the most comprehensive policies that allow doctors to be reimbursed at the going rate in their community.
The fees, called "usual, customary and reasonable" charges, are typically set at the 90th percentile, or the point at which only 10 percent of the charges in the community are higher. However, doctors can submit bills that are lower than the maximum charge.
In the Washington program, the researchers found that to determine the highest possible fee, "all the physician has to do is charge a high fee and see what is paid. If the entire charge is accepted, he or she is at or below the customary level."

They looked at several controversial operations and found that the fees paid to doctors increased dramatically. In one case, fees for coronary bypass operations jumped 75 percent between 1975 and 1978.
However, in 1976, two Washington physicians were doing 48 percent of these operations, and their rates set the standard for what other doctors could collect for performing coronary bypasses.
That year, the two "alone established the $500 increase in the customary allowance level in the area through a combination of high charges and large volume procedures," the researchers wrote.

Oldest transit system facing shutdown

BOSTON (AP) — The country's oldest transit system, Boston's MBTA, faces a shutdown a week before Christmas over a battle of wills among workers, its administration and the community leaders who pay the freight for the aging trolleys and buses.
The transit system is nearly broke and cannot meet the Dec. 20 payroll unless the MBTA Advisory Board comes up with a $15 million emergency allocation, says Robert Foster, chairman of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority.

But the board, which represents the 79 towns served by the transit network, says Foster won't get another penny from them, and blames the crisis on management.
The system's 6,500 employees, who believe there is enough money for their salaries, say no pay, no work.
Caught in between are some 550,000 daily riders.
"We can understand a delay of pay for one or two days. But if it's an extended period, our attitude is, no pay, no work," said George Adams, president of the Boston Carman's Union Local 589.
Built in 1894, the "T" has four rapid transit lines, nearly 200 bus routes and 10 commuter rail systems along Boston's North and South shores. It carried nearly 160 million passengers last year, and ridership is running 4 percent higher this year. But it last turned a profit in the mid-1940s; this year it is $166 million in the red.
The MBTA has been plagued by equipment problems and political squabbles.
In September, 325 of the system's 1,000 buses were out of service and half of 80 new "light rail vehicle" trolleys were on repair tracks.
Foster claims the $280 million budget is insufficient, and has battled the board for additional money.
His request for $26 million in July was trimmed to $11 million, and the board's budget committee later asked Gov. Edward J. King to fire his appointee. King refused.

The MBTA blames the budget problems on fuel costs and salaries that increase quarterly to keep pace with inflation.
But the advisory board blames them on poor management.
King has said he may call on the Legislature to bail out the troubled transit system. He also has the power to take control of the MBTA if service is halted.

Drinking water alternatives listed

By ED TODD Staff Writer
Pure water is about as rare as clean air. And when you do find it, likely it'll not be free for the taking.
"Water is tremendously important to us," Ed Swinney, marketing manager for Ozarka Water Co., told the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday noon in the Midland Hilton. "It has been free for so long, we're taking it almost as for granted as air."
Water, which is as essential to man as air, touches every facet of life, Swinney said.
"Because in a sophisticated society, we don't want just water," Swinney said. "We want good water."
And a primary source of good water for drinking and cooking is purified bottled water, he said.
And on that account, the citizenry in the Midland-Odessa-Big Spring area drink more bottled water per capita than just about any other region in the nation, Swinney said.
He said good drinking water needs to pass a three-point test. Does it look good, does it smell good and does it taste good? Bottled water passes the test.
Swinney suggested that West Texas tap water, derived from surface reservoirs such as lakes and from deep wells, doesn't always pass the test. The tap water is too salty.
"We have a problem with taste," Swinney said. "We have a problem with the quality." He suggested an expansion, such as more lakes, of West Texas water supply.
But what Swinney did not suggest, however, was upgrading municipal water purification plants to bring all tap water up to his three-point look-smell-taste test standard. He said that that would be impractical as far as cost and since only about one-half of one percent of city water is used for human consumption.

"The cost would be so astronomical that none of us would stand for the increase in taxes," Swinney said.
Swinney, a former minister, outlined what he called the "three alternatives" for getting good drinking water:
—"Good wells. But there are drawbacks, he said. "The main problem with wells is that they can go bad."
—"Softened water. It, too, has drawbacks, Swinney said. "It's fantastic for your (water) pipes, for washing clothes, but it's not good for human consumption." Softened water's salt content is higher than that of the original tap water, he said.
—"Bottled water. This brand of water is experiencing such a high sales rate here that Swinney called this part of West Texas "one of the most fantastic areas in the country." The consumer has two options in selecting bottled water: (1) distilled water and (2) "mineral fortified" water purified via the reverse osmosis process.
Ozarka's water is prepared from the city's tap water, Swinney said, but has been fortified with the same minerals found in spring water from the Ozark Mountains, he said.
In commenting on a more-or-less competitor to bottled water, Swinney said even his boss, Ozarka President J. Schlichting, "drinks it (Perrier's carbonated water) all the time and says 'It's worth it.'"
"It's a no-calorie soft drink; it's different," Swinney said.

Taxpayers appeal rule

IRVING (AP) — The Citizens Taxpayers Association says it is appealing a district court decision overturning Irving's tax limitation charter amendment.
A notice of appeal was filed Monday in district court. The court ruled in November that the tax limitation was invalid.
CTA member Roy Brown said the group decided to appeal because its members believe the city council doesn't "intend to do anything about this except drag their feet."

Midland-Odessa music groups join for concerts

The Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale joined forces this week to present traditional Christmas concerts. The concerts, well-received by audiences in the two cities, offered a variety of Christmas music ranging from portions of Handel's deeply reverent "Messiah" to favorite and familiar carols.

For an extra measure of musical fun, the orchestra contributed excerpts from Tchaikovsky's intensely melodic and evocative "Nutcracker Suite" to which the world-famous "Nutcracker" ballet is mounted. The orchestra had provided the accompaniment for Permian Civic Ballet Association's annual presentation of "The Nutcracker" last week, and thus was sharing its newly-acquired "Nutcracker" musical expertise with the symphony audience Monday night in Odessa and Tuesday night in Midland.

As an added bonus, the orchestra and chorale presented performances of a work by an Odessa resident, Minnie Mae Everett. The work, titled "An Old Fashioned Christmas," was interesting and melodic. In the presentations of the "Messiah" excerpts, the symphony and chorale were under the direction of Dr. Stan Engebretson, new chorale director. Joining the resident musicians in the work were four guest vocalists, including Loretta Bybee-Riek, Emilia Simone, John Gillas and Terry Cook.

On the podium to conduct the orchestra for other concert portions was Dr. Tom Hohlstadt. He was joined by "Santa Claus" in his traditional special appearance with the orchestra to conduct a number or two. The presentation of a group of Midland Symphony Debs was another highlight of the Midland concert Tuesday night.

UTPB singers to present annual Christmas program

ODESSA — The University Singers of The University of Texas of the Permian Basin will present an annual Christmas concert Thursday night. The 8 p.m. event in UTPB's Devonian Room will be open to the public free of charge.

Programmed for the event are works which were either composed or arranged by 20th century composers.

Title of the concert will be "A Ceremony of Carols," taken from a Benjamin Britten work which will be the opening selection of the program. The concert will be under the direction of Dr. Stan Engebretson, assistant professor of music at UTPB.

The opening work by Britten will feature Pamela Hahn of Midland as harpist and Janice Archer and Marsha Barid as soloists. Miss Hahn also will be featured in "A Carol Suite" by Carlos Salzedo.

Continuing the program will be a variety of Christmas music. A Spanish number by Paul Csonka, titled "A la Nanita Nana," will feature female vocalists, while Zoltan Kodaly's "Christmas Dance for Shepherds" will spotlight female voices and piccolo.

Traditional carols to be presented will include "Star Carol," "We'll Dress This House" and "Ah, Bleak and Chill the Winty Wind." Also programmed are several more serious Christmas musical works. A special highlight will be "Whence Comes This Rush of Wings," for choir, harp and flute, as arranged by UTPB senior music major Darrell Archer.

Odessa theater to open play for holidays

ODESSA — Permian Playhouse, Odessa's community theater, will open its holiday production Friday night.

The attraction is "Amahl and the Night Visitors," a drama-with-music by Gian Carlo Menotti.

"Amahl" was presented at PPH during the 1978 Christmas season and is being staged again this season in response to popular demand. The production has been directed by PPH director Coy Sharp.

Following the opening performance at 8 p.m. Friday, "Amahl" will have a second presentation at 8 p.m. Saturday and additional performances on the evenings of Dec. 21 and 22. Seating for performances may be reserved through the PPH box office, 362-2329.

CBS wins in Nielsen race

NEW YORK (AP) — The networks' prime-time ratings race tightened just a bit during the week ending Dec. 9, as CBS won the weekly competition for the third time in a month.

CBS now is less than a point behind ABC for the season to date, thanks in large measure to several popular series.

CBS' "Alice" finished No. 1 in the A.C. Nielsen Co.'s most recent sampling of prime-time programs, followed by "60 Minutes," another CBS regular. CBS listed five other shows in the Top 10.

CBS' rating for the week was 19.8 to 19.3 for ABC and 16.5 for NBC. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 19.8 percent of the homes in the country with television were tuned to CBS.

NBC now has been last in the ratings seven of the past eight weeks.

CBS' rating for the season so far is 18.9 to 18.7 for ABC.

The rating for "Alice" was 30. Nielsen says that means of all the homes with television in the country, 30 percent were tuned to at least part of the Sunday night program.

ABC's best for the week, "Three's Company," was third, while NBC's top-rated program was a special — "Little Rascals Christmas" — No. 16 in the ratings.

CBS' "60 Minutes" continued its rather remarkable run near the top, in stark contrast to ABC's "20-20" newsmagazine, which was No. 36 for the week, NBC's "Prime Time Sunday," which ranked 63rd.

All three networks have announced schedule changes for the second half of the season, involving four of the week's five lowest-rated shows.

"Prime Time Sunday," No. 63, will become "Prime Time Saturday," while CBS' "Paris," 65th for the week, already has switched timeslots. No. 66 "Shirley," from NBC, apparently will be dropped, while "California Fever," from CBS, No. 67, has been canceled.

Here are the week's 40 highest-rated programs: "Alice," with a rating of 30 representing 22.9 million homes, and "60 Minutes," 29.5 or 22.5 million, both CBS; "Three's Company," 28.8 or 22 million, ABC; "One Day at a Time," 28.6 or 21.8 million, and "The Jeffersons," 28 or 21.4 million, both CBS; "Taxi," 25.9 or 19.8 million, ABC; Movie "Aunt Mary," 24.9 or 19 million, CBS; "Mork and Mindy," 24.5 or 18.7 million, ABC, and "Archie Bunker's Place," 24.2 or 18.5 million, and "M-A-S-H," 23.8 or 18.2 million, CBS.

'Mary of Nazareth' at Globe Theater

ODESSA — A musical play, "Mary of Nazareth," is having its second production at the Globe of the Great Southwest here.

The play by Agnes Sanford, with music composed by Fern Crowley of Odessa, had its initial presentation here in 1978 and is being repeated this season in response to widespread demand.

Final presentations of the play are scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Reserved seating for all remaining performances is available from the box office of the Globe theater, located on the south edge of the Odessa College campus.

Dr. Ted Whitmire has guest directed the play which tells of the miraculous birth of Christ announced by the Angel of the Lord. Janice Archer of Midland is the choral director of the production and is seen as the Angel of Annunciation. Musical accompanist for the production is Rosamund Webber.

The part of Mary of Nazareth is played by Tami Jo Whitmire, with Cindy Anderson alternating in the part. David Baulch portrays Joseph, the baffled earthly father.

Ida Kennedy plays the part of Hannah, companion and advisor to Mary, while Lamar Casparis is in the role of the fictional character, Thaddeus, a wealthy merchant who sees in Mary something for which his soul yearns.

The first and second servants are portrayed by Don Whitmire and Bill Richmond. The handmaiden to Mary is played by Mildred Sickels. The Angels who sing heavenly music from the upper stage of the Globe are portrayed by Jackie Thompson, Karen Skinner, Pat Jackson, Patti Wortman, Sharon Marris and Karen Johnston.

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Hestand of Odessa, charter members and long-time financial supporters of the Globe Theater, are sole sponsors of this year's production of "Mary of Nazareth."

Two Rhodesian troops, many civilians dead after Governor Soames arrives

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — At least two Rhodesian troops and an unspecified number of guerrillas and civilians have been killed since Rhodesia's first British governor in 11 years arrived in Salisbury, security sources reported today.

Meanwhile, guerrilla leader Joshua Nkomo told reporters in London there will be no cease fire until he is assured his men will not be vulnerable to government attack in the camps they are supposed to report to under the British sponsored truce plan.

The new British governor, Lord Soames, said he understood he had to walk a fine line in his new job. "I'm just set ting in and meeting people. I don't want to rush in where angels fear to tread," he said.

He made the comments to reporters Wednesday night after his first TV address to the nation. "This will not be an easy period for any of us," Soames said in the broadcast.

The black nationalist guerrillas, who have waged a war against the Salisbury government since 1972, has insisted Soames was wrong to come to Salisbury before a cease fire took place.

But Soames said he hoped the British sponsored peace talks between the guerrillas and the outgoing government of Prime Minister Abel Muzorewa, now in its fourth month in London, will bring a cease fire soon.

He urged Rhodesia's 6.8 million blacks and 230,000 whites to support him.

"In emerging from a long and bitter war there will be many difficulties. But together we must overcome them, looking to the future rather than the past," he said.

"Soames said his task was to hold the government of the country in trust while the political leaders put their case to you and seek your votes." After elections and legal independence, he said, "My task will then be complete and I shall return to London."

Soames will meet today with local politicians, businessmen and other key black and white figures. His security chiefs will meet with their local counterparts to discuss implementation of a cease-fire and supervision of new elections. A 1,200 strong Commonwealth military force will be on hand to monitor the cease-fire and voting.

The governor's arrival Wednesday and the hoisting of the British Union Jack over the colonial mansion that will serve as his headquarters officially ended 11 years of rebellion against Britain.

Absent from the welcoming ceremony of brass-band and guard of honor at Salisbury Airport was former Prime Minister Ian Smith, whose all-white government unilaterally declared its independence in 1965 in a move to head off black rule.

The British House of Commons late Wednesday approved the blueprint for Rhodesian independence, incorporating constitutional changes that will create an independent, black ruled Zimbabwe early next year.

British sources here said the Commonwealth monitoring force from Australia, Britain, Fiji, Kenya and New Zealand was not expected until a cease fire was formally concluded in London between the outgoing Salisbury government and guerrilla leaders.

Army officers arrest General Seung-hwa

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A squad of army officers arrested South Korea's martial law commander after a shootout with his bodyguards and rounded up several other top generals, accusing them of complicity in the assassination of President Park Chung-hee, authorities said today.

Observers said the surprise move Wednesday night by one group of generals against another did not appear aimed at the civilian government of Park's successor, President Choi Kyu-hah, but there was speculation Choi had not been told of it in advance.

In Washington, A State Department spokesman warned the South Korean military that any move to disrupt the nation's shift toward democracy would have a "severe adverse impact" on U.S.-South Korean relations.

CIA trained SAVAK, says former member

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The CIA was the architect of SAVAK, the shah's secret police, trained its agents in the United States and gave them guidelines on "physical and psychological" methods of interrogation, a former official of the organization says.

Former SAVAK adviser Hassan Sana made the allegations during a day long tour Wednesday by foreign reporters of the police agency's former prisons. The Ministry of National Guidance conducted the tour to publicize the revolutionary regime's charges that the United States was a partner in the torture and murder of thousands of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's opponents.

"It wasn't just cooperation with the CIA and Mossad (the Israeli secret service), it was joint activities," said Sana, who told reporters he had advised the SAVAK commander on security and economic affairs for 11 years. "The CIA devised our entire system."

He said the Americans did not give SAVAK agents direct training in torture methods. But he said they provided general guidelines on interrogation techniques, such as attaching electrodes to sensitive parts of the body, and taught agents how to carry out surveillance of dissidents.

SAVAK also worked to a lesser degree with the intelligence services of Britain, West German, France, Pakistan, Iraq and Egypt, Sana said.

Names in the News

LONDON (AP) — If there was an election this month, 9 percent of the women who voted for Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and her Conservative Party would cast their ballots for Labor, a new poll says.

The survey, announced Wednesday, was conducted for the Evening Standard newspaper, which normally supports the Conservative government. The drop for men was less sharp, only 3 percent.

Among the 1,854 adults polled, the survey also showed the Conservatives have declined in overall popularity since the May elections.

LONDON (AP) — Great Britain's most famous bachelor apparently believes in advertising if you've got a good thing — such as his non-addiction to tobacco.

Prince Charles said Wednesday that girls who kiss him may find they enjoy it more because he doesn't smoke. The prince said he was kissed by three girls during a two-day visit to Nottingham in northern England. He recalled one of the three "bugged him" particularly aggressively, which gave me enormous pleasure.

"It's just as well, I suspect, that I don't smoke. Otherwise, her reaction might have been quite different," he said.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The 1.3 million members of the Mormon Church are awaiting a medical OK on their prophet Spencer W. Kimball.

The 84-year-old Kimball, leader of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, underwent tests Wednesday at LDS Hospital to determine his rate of recovery from skull surgery last month, according to church spokesman Jerry Cahill.

Last month, Kimball was treated for an accumulation of blood between his skull and brain. Doctors predicted a full recovery.

Kimball has been recovering from the surgery at his home since he was released from the hospital Nov. 20.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Some of the biggest names in rock 'n' roll — including Wines and The Who — will perform in four post-Christmas London concerts to raise money for the Cambodian refugees, U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim says.

On Dec. 26, the group Queen will perform, followed by Ian Dury and the Blockheads, Matmbi and a mystery act on Dec. 27. The next day The Specials and The Who are on stage, followed Dec. 29 by Billy Connolly, Elvis Costello and the Attractions, Rockpile and Paul McCartney and Wings.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A star-studded crowd showed up to honor Frank Sinatra on his 49th anniversary in show business and his 64th birthday.

Old Blue Eyes was the center of attention at a three-hour gala Wednesday at Caesars Palace, where he has been appearing for a number of years.

Among those in the audience who gathered for an unusual group picture were Sinatra, Dean Martin, Milton Berle, Lucille Ball, Paul Anka, Red Skelton, Glenn Ford, Harry James, Gene Kelly and the singer's daughters, Nancy and Tina.

Sinatra was presented with the first "Pied Piper Award," given by the American Society of Composers, Authors & Publishers.

ORU denied federal grant

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Federal officials say Oral Roberts University may not receive a $2.7 million grant because the award would violate the constitutional doctrine of separation of church and state.

The school, founded by evangelist Oral Roberts, had sought the money to fund part of its medical school's family medicine residency program.

"The school is operated in a manner which is so pervasively religious as to preclude the federal government from awarding grants," John R. Westcott, grants management officer of the Health, Education and Welfare Department's Bureau of Health Manpower, told ORU officials Wednesday.

The application had been filed in August. It was the third ORU application to be administratively withdrawn.

It was not clear what effect the ruling might have on the City of Faith Hospital, a part of the school's medical complex.

The City of Faith, now under construction, is being challenged in the courts by other Tulsa hospitals. The lawsuit alleges Tulsa already has a surplus of hospital beds.

In the letter to Carl Hamilton, ORU provost, Westcott said awarding grants would violate "the First Amendment to the Constitution requiring in effect that there be a separation of church and state."

"It's an interesting issue," said James Winslow, ORU vice provost for health affairs. "I don't know what they mean when they say 'pervasively religious.' And the federal government has not been good about defining it when we have asked them."

"Are parochial schools not pervasively religious? A lot of them receive federal money. Does the executive branch of the government have the right to deny somebody due process on the basis of an executive interpretation of the Constitution?" Winslow asked.

Winslow said the university cannot appeal Westcott's action to a higher authority because, technically, the grant application has not been acted upon. The school may ask Westcott to review the application, he said.

Another lawsuit filed in 'concert stampede'

CINCINNATI (AP) — A third suit has been filed in connection with the stampede of people outside Riverfront Coliseum at The Who concert Dec. 3 in which 11 persons died and 12 were injured.

Shawna Lynn Abbott, 20, Cincinnati, seeks $150,000 in a suit filed Wednesday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court. She said she was hospitalized for chest and leg injuries.

She named as defendants, the coliseum, members of The Who, the producers and the city of Cincinnati.

Midlander appointed to advisory committee

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements has announced the appointment of Mrs. Cindy Miller of Midland to a 25-member state advisory committee for the White House Conference on Families for Texas.

The advisory committee will determine direction of the project for Texas within White House guidelines.

Clements said the conference will present Texas an opportunity to have an impact on federal programs affecting Texas.

OC sets Midwinter Session

ODESSA — Last day to register early for the Midwinter Session or spring semester at Odessa College is Friday.

The Midwinter Session is scheduled to meet from 8:30 to 11 a.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m. each weekday Dec. 27 through Jan. 9, with a holiday set Jan. 1.

The midwinter term is designed so that an entire course can be condensed into nine days. Seventeen classes will be offered.

Notes from the black experience

With BOB TIEUEL

U.S. Rep. Mickey Leland, the only black member of the Texas congressional delegation, is confident the House eventually will approve a bill to establish the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday as a national holiday. The bill fell short of the two-thirds majority it needed for passage in the House recently. Black churches and their leaders, as well as civic, social and business leaders, over the nation are urged to continue their efforts to gain passage of the bill to make King's birthday a national holiday.

organ of the denomination: He often expressed an opinion that the church was too concerned with monetary matters to the neglect of seeking out the lost and the strayed. He believed that the church needed more missions in the smaller and rural areas and more ministers to administer them. His son, Dr. Luther Stewart, is a prominent practicing physician in Odessa and has been for many years. Truth is eternal, Bishop Stewart.

THINKING BACK: A few years ago we were pastoring a church in Odessa, and ever so often the late Bishop Luther Stewart of the C.M.E. Church would drop by and we would chat on problems of the church until the wee hours. Bishop Stewart was well acquainted with many issues that faced the church then, having served as a pastor for many years. He later served as editor of The Christian Index, official

Saudi Arabia to jump gun on crude price increase

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Oil Minister Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani said today Saudi Arabia will raise oil prices even before next week's OPEC pricing meeting. Another Arab oil chief said the Saudis and some other producers plan $6-a-barrel hikes.

Oil Minister Mana Said al Oteiba of the United Arab Emirates said Saudi Arabia, Qatar and the UAE will put the $6 increase into effect Jan. 1. This would be a 33 percent increase over the current Saudi base price of $18.

Yamani, asked by a reporter to confirm this, said, "Part of that report is true." But he would go no further.

Asked then whether his country would raise prices before the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries' winter meeting, which begins

Monday in Caracas, Venezuela, he replied, "Yes."

The Saudi minister would not elaborate. He was in Brussels for talks with Foreign Minister Henri Simonet and other Belgian officials.

The newspaper Al Fajer in Abu Dhabi, part of the UAE, had reported that several major OPEC members were planning to raise crude oil prices by $8 a barrel.

Oteiba's statements, made as he left his Persian Gulf nation for the Caracas meeting, appeared to be an attempt to set a guideline for the meeting. There was no immediate confirmation from Qatar.

A $21-a-barrel price would be 30 cents above the OPEC ceiling set in June. But a number of the oil countries have already breached the ceiling, and some ministers have been talking about a new base price of $30 a barrel.

Nigeria, for example, reportedly has suggested it may raise its $26.27 price to $30.

Increases in that range could add 5 to 10 cents to the price of a gallon of gasoline or heating oil in the United States.

The UAE agency report said the UAE's base price would go up $27.56 a barrel, an increase of 27.8 percent, while Qatar's would rise to $27.42, an increase of 28 percent.

Saudi Arabia is now producing 9.5 million barrels of crude oil daily and supplying nearly 20 percent of the United States' imports. The UAE produces 1.6 million barrels a day, and Qatar's daily output is 147,000 barrels.

Land commissioner installs officers of Midland Desk & Derrick Club

Charlene Hutchison, administrative assistant for University Lands oil, gas and mineral interests in Midland, was installed president of the Desk and Derrick Club of Midland Wednesday night.

The installation ceremonies, handled by Bob Armstrong, Texas land commissioner, were held in the Midland Country Club.

Other new officers installed include Dee Wilson, executive secretary and office manager for Adams Exploration Co., first vice president, Juanima Hamm, production accountant, Great Western Co., second vice president, Jean Saunze, secretary, Hunt Oil Co., recording secretary, Suzanna Johnson, executive secretary, Alan B. Leeper, corresponding secretary, and Onie McNeese, vice president and secretary-treasurer for McNeese Logging Service, Inc., treasurer.

Tomina Clark, secretary, Mobil Oil Corp., and Barbara Morgan, production clerk-engineering secretary, Knox Industries, were named two-year directors of the Desk and Derrick Club.

Hold-over directors who will serve on the 1980 board are Martha Elder, corporate officer, Robert B. Fitting & Associates, Inc., and Wanda Hicks, secretary, Forest Oil Corp.

Joyce O'Bannon, executive secretary, American Quasar Petroleum Co., is outgoing president and will serve on the new board of directors.

Parents, teachers favor 'little red schoolhouse'

By ANDREW ANGELO

SHILOH, Mich. (AP) — "I just think they learn more."

That's the opinion of a parent who has sent five children to a one-room wooden schoolhouse painted fire engine red.

This year, 26 families are sending 29 children to the 100-year-old Shiloh School, where teacher Linda Hausserman handles kindergarten through sixth grade.

"It's just our way, and we'll be here until the state forces us to close," says June Leland, treasurer of the three-member school board for Shiloh, 30 miles east of Grand Rapids. Barbara Beamon, the mother whose five children have attended Shiloh, is school board president.

But closing is unlikely for Shiloh School. While other such schools have fallen prey to district annexations and consolidations, Shiloh keeps going strong. It is one of 35 one-room schoolhouses left in Michigan, seven of which are here in Ionia County.

The school provides an education the parents consider worth holding onto, and that is how the school survives. The parents supply the more than $30,000 a year needed to run the school.

Because there is only one teacher at Shiloh, involvement among parents, children and teacher is greater than at a larger school.

"I have parents coming in all the time," said Ms. Hausserman. "Before school, after school — they want to know how their child's doing. They even bring in Kleenex for the school."

The job of teacher at a one-room school today is much as it was 50 or 100 years ago, says Linda Emelander, who teaches at the one-room Piper School two miles north of Shiloh. More than 100 years old, Piper has only 11 students.

"You have to be very loyal and ready to put forth many more hours," said Ms. Emelander. "You have to have a willingness to do everything, from being a janitor to a nurse. We mend clothes, the whole bit."

Ms. Emelander acknowledges that one-room schoolhouses cannot offer modern science equipment and other perks readily available at larger schools. But she believes country schools excel at giving children the opportunity to be independent and to feel secure with basic math, reading and writing.

"They know they aren't going to be led by the hand through things," she said. "It's coming back to the basics. Kids must have them. And you find the basics stressed very much at the country school."

The approach can pay dividends. In 1978-79, the six Shiloh children taking the state assessment tests scored above average. All six scored within the 75 percent to 100 percent range in math while five of six scored within the same range in reading.

State averages for fourth graders show only six of 10 students scoring within the 75 to 100 range in reading and four of five in the same range in math.

"What we are emphasizing in all schools is individualized attention, and that's one thing the old one-room schoolhouse gives," says Teresa Staten, acting supervisor of the state Department of Education's curriculum division.

But country schools have disappeared by the dozens in the last 15 years because of school district reorganization and dwindling pupil populations. The future of the one-room schoolhouse in Michigan is uncertain.

"I can see us in the future all gone," said Ms. Emelander, "unless some fighting goes on."

One likely fighter is 80-year-old Elsie Haynor, whose family has educated five generations at Shiloh School. Mrs. Haynor studied and taught there and her 6-year-old granddaughter, Marcey Pace, is a Shiloh first-grader.

They have too many things going on at those town schools that aren't as important as the three R's," said Mrs. Haynor.

"Maybe those town schools have more gadding about and more athletics, and maybe there aren't as many frills at a country school. But at the bigger schools, all they learn is more devilry."

Police in the Portland, Ore., suburb of Lake Oswego said a man burned to death in his car near the city's business district Wednesday after dousing himself and the vehicle with gasoline, driving to a nearby intersection and setting the car on fire. (AP Laserphoto)

Man burns car in fiery suicide

LAKE OSWEGO, Ore. (AP) — Service station manager Magland Countryman looked up to see his customer pumping gasoline all over himself and his car. When the man left, he set fire to the car and climbed back inside, police say.

"He had some grease on them and I thought he was cleaning them, like some guys do," Countryman said. He said he waited on another customer "and when I looked back he was soaking his shirt in gas. Then he poured it over the whole car — the top, the hood and the trunk."

Countryman said he finally decided something was wrong and grabbed the nozzle from the man and asked to be paid for $28 worth of unleaded gasoline. Countryman said the man didn't say anything, just took two dollars from his wallet, and then tried to light a match.

Bank offers grim forecast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Bank of America, in a grim forecast leveled at the nation's fiscal health, says the United States won't make an economic comeback early in 1980, and warned that the Federal Reserve must maintain a tight-fisted money policy for any hope of eventual economic recovery.

Despite a 3.1 percent increase in the Gross National Product in the third quarter of this year, the world's largest commercial bank said in its 1980 economic outlook that the improvement will not hold up.

The bank said Wednesday the recession will begin "no later than the early part of next year" and will last about three quarters of the year. It will mean high interest rates, higher unemployment and an intensified decline in housing demand, Bank of America said.

Court says loan commitment fees not subject to usury limit

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Loan commitment fees, computed as a monthly percentage of a proposed loan, are not interest and do not come under the state usury limit, the Texas Supreme Court has ruled.

The decision Wednesday agreed with findings by both a Fort Worth trial court and the 2nd Court of Civil Appeals in Fort Worth.

For the next months at hand, however, the bank forecast a 2 percent decline in U.S. Gross National Product along with high interest rates and record debt levels that will reduce or flatten consumption.

MOVE questions admission of tapes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Members of the radical group MOVE, on trial for murder, cross-examined a police photographer about who fired the first shots when a policeman was killed outside MOVE's barricaded headquarters 16 months ago.

Acting as their own attorneys with court-assigned backup lawyers, the five men and four women defendants assailed the judge Wednesday for allowing the prosecutor to show the video tapes of the Aug. 8, 1978, confrontation.

Justice Jack Pope dissented, saying, "the more we define clear words, the more we confuse them." He quoted a character in "Alice in Wonderland" who said a word "means just what I choose it to mean" and said the court majority had done just that in interpreting Georgetown Savings & Loan's use of the word "interest."

Common Pleas Judge Edwin Malmel, presiding at the non-jury trial, rejected the plea but said he would ignore sounds and voices on the tape "that have nothing to do with what happened on the street."

Another dissenter, Justice Franklin Spears, observed that Stedman was charged 10 percent interest on the loan during the commitment period before he actually took out the loan.

Spears said the lender "received two yields on the money — 10 percent per annum interest from Mr. Stedman plus whatever yield the funds could earn in the short-term money market during the period of the commitment."

24-year-old, sentenced to die, describes murder, rape scenes and Mahaffey who would shoot her. "She said her mamma loved her too much for her to die," Mahaffey testified.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Tommy Taylor and Carlotta Hartness began the day of Oct. 29, 1977, with a trip to nearby Camden for a high school history project.

At sundown, Taylor and Miss Hartness were dead. Shaw and Roach had committed two murders.

Roach and Shaw fired a total of five shots into the girl's head.

Now Shaw, 24, is scheduled to die Friday in the electric chair.

They left, but Shaw, still under the influence of drugs, later returned and molested the girl's body. The rifle was found by law enforcement officers about a mile away.

Taylor, 17, and Miss Hartness, 14, returned from Camden and parked near the private Wildewood School they both attended.

Shaw, Roach, Mahaffey and another man, Robert Neal Williams, were arrested five days later. The four also pleaded guilty to the Oct. 18 shooting death of Betty Swank, 21, the wife of a Fort Jackson Army sergeant, who was abducted on her way to work. They all received life sentences for that slaying.

Shaw, Roach, now 19, and Ronald Eugene Mahaffey, now 18, washed and dried clothes at a laundromat, visited a drug dealer, ate lunch and then decided "to go out and see if we could find a girl to rape," Mahaffey said.

Shaw later said in an interview that he had been in an apparent state of euphoria, aided by alcohol, after killing Mrs. Swank.

Statements by the trio described this sequence of events after they found the young couple parked near their school.

"For some reason or other...it just seemed like everything I'd always worried about was gone," he said. "I didn't have to worry about anything any more."

At Shaw's instruction, Roach propped a .22-caliber rifle on the window of Taylor's car and demanded their money. After taking the money, he fired three shots, two striking Taylor in the face, apparently killing him instantly.

But after killing the teen-agers, he said, it was different.

They then took Miss Hartness in their car to a secluded dirt road, and after a discussion, the three raped the girl. As she began to beg for her life, Shaw asked Roach

"It kind of made you sick inside. You know, I kind of looked at myself and said there's something really wrong with me that I'm going out and doing all this. Why am I doing all this? It's really not like me...I just couldn't understand it. I didn't know what was wrong. It made me sick inside."

If government 'victim,' report says crime 'pays'

By ROBERT PARRY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime pays, a New York congresswoman says, at least when the victims are the federal government and the American taxpayer.

Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., said Wednesday a report by congressional investigators shows that most people who defraud the federal government are allowed to keep the stolen money.

The General Accounting Office report found that the Justice Department is so preoccupied with criminal prosecution that it often fails to file civil suits to recover taxpayers' dollars.

The GAO, Congress' investigative arm, said the Justice Department also does a poor job of collecting civil penalties when they are assessed.

The GAO noted that nine of 12 out-standing fraud debtors in one U.S. attorney's district had paid the Justice Department nothing, and two others were delinquent. The GAO also said the cases had not been reviewed for two years.

The Justice Department defended its handling of fraud cases, claiming that it does seek both civil and criminal penalties. It also disputed the GAO charges that it neglects the collection of civil penalties.

While criminal penalties can result in prison terms or fines, civil penalties sometimes require a defendant to pay double the amount that was defrauded, a figure that often exceeds the possible criminal fine.

"This is a disgrace," Ms. Holtzman said of the reported lack of civil penalties. "Crime against the government now pays. At a minimum, criminals must be forced to return the dollars they took out of the federal government."

Although no one knows how much the government is defrauded each year, Ms. Holtzman noted that some estimates have put the figure at between 1 and 10 percent of federal programs.

A coordinated prosecutive strategy based on the full range of available criminal and civil sanctions is needed to effectively combat fraud in government programs, the GAO said.

The GAO also said even when the Justice Department obtains a money settlement against a defendant, the penalty often is not collected. It cited data showing that of 191 debtors listed, 16 percent had paid nothing on their fraud settlements, 27 percent had made no payment in six months and 27 percent were making regular payments.

The investigators said government fraud can range from false claims for Medicare benefits to multimillion-dollar schemes involving giant government contracts.

PROFESSIONAL INDUSTRIAL SALES
IF YOU HAVE THE PAST, WE HAVE YOUR FUTURE.

If you are an aggressive professional with a strong background in industrial sales, we can offer you an opportunity for high earnings and advancement to management.

Imperial is a Fortune Top 50 Division, marketing a technically sophisticated approach to lubrication. Our success with the nation's leading manufacturers has made us number one in our field. The increased demand for our products and services has created a need for a representative in the Midland area.

To be successful, you must be able to communicate on all levels. You will have to discuss return on investment with plant managers and be able to describe technical concepts to maintenance personnel.

If you have the talent, energy and ambition, we will invest in your future. In addition to a complete benefits package, we will guarantee your income while you develop the repeat business in your territory. Our representative, Mr. H.D. Twitchell, will be at the Holiday Inn in Odessa (915) 333-9911 on Dec. 13, 14, 15, & 16. Call COLLECT for appointment, 7 AM-9 PM.

The icy, cold harshness of winter's coming transforms the ordinary to art in Midland Wednesday. Smooth, clear ice puts a damper on the bell even as the freezing, drizzling rain coats the bell and drips into icicles — winter's most common mark. Ice enhances the clothes line and wooden pin and gives a delicate, crystal-like look to bare plants.

MMH's year very sound despite net loss figures

Midland Memorial Hospital had a very sound year in fiscal 1979, despite a net loss of $961,223, more than $309,000 over the amount originally budgeted, according to an outside audit of the hospital's operations.

The audit report was presented to the hospital's board of trustees at their meeting Tuesday and was to be repeated for the hospital district board of directors in their meeting today at 3 p.m.

While the hospital showed a loss, that figure included a $704,699 "Medicare adjustment" which is Midland's share of the federal program.

Howard College school for deaf plans set back

BIG SPRING — Howard College's plans to locate its Southwest College for the Deaf at Big Spring Industrial Air Park got a temporary setback recently when the Federal Aviation Administration objected to the proposal since the facility would not be a revenue-generating facility.

City Manager Don Davis said he was anticipating the letter, which was "almost a carbon copy" of a letter the city received in transferring other buildings for use as a federal white-collar penitentiary.

Davis said he views FAA's objection as a "temporary setback."

Memorial's penalty for operating inefficiently, according to Gary Reynolds, who presented the report for the auditing firm of Alford, Meroney & Co.

Medicare accounts for 35 percent of all hospital billings. But the Medicare program pays only 80 percent of the amount due the hospital under the provisions of the plan because, before the current expansion, renovation and updating of the hospital, the institution operated in the black for many years.

That past record of efficiency is used to penalize Midland Memorial, he said, while hospitals with long records of deficits are paid 100 percent of the amount they bill.

On the positive side, Reynolds noted, the hospital increased its working capital in the operating fund in the past year by $91,360.

"I think that is a very positive sign," Reynolds noted, "because it's very easy for an institution to eat up its working capital year after year."

In other business, Trustee Martin Allday told the board he will resign in February with one year left in his term on the appointed board. Allday announced earlier he will run for the mayor's place being vacated by Ernest Angelo Jr.

The board also reapproved the medical staff appointments for 1980 and upped the status for several doctors from associate to active staff of the hospital.

Gray skies, cold continue

Midlanders awoke this morning to another day of gray skies, drizzle and cold, and it was much the same throughout the Permian Basin, area weather watchers said.

Although mist and rain was falling throughout the Permian Basin area, residents didn't have to contend with ice and sleet again today. The moisture experienced Tuesday night and early Wednesday in Midland added 1.37 inches to this year's rainfall total, and Wednesday night's mist added another 0.06 of an inch.

The annual rainfall accumulation for Midland now stands at 14.88 inches, more than an inch above the average annual 13.51 inches.

Three youngsters wash clothes aboard one of two fishing boats that brought 26 Nicaraguans to the United States this weekend. The groups seeks political asylum in the U.S., claiming the government of their country is threatening to nationalize the fishing industry. (AP Laserphoto)

Fearful and seasick, 26 persons flee Nicaragua in fishing boats

PORT ISABEL, Texas (AP) — Most of the 26 persons aboard two fishing trawlers got seasick their first day out from Nicaragua in a trip for freedom in the United States.

But one of the captains says the group was always determined to head for American waters and away from what he considered an oppressive government at home.

"They (the government) wants to take everybody and abuse them and tell them what to do," said Kent Ellis Gordon, a 27-year-old lobster fisherman who requested political asylum with the others.

Gordon and another boat's captain complained the Nicaraguan government is threatening to nationalize the shrimp and fishing industry and has invited Cubans to help take over private operations.

"The Cubans are coming to work free for the government," said Gordon, who is being held with five other men at the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service detention center at Las Flores.

The group docked at Port Isabel Saturday. The two women, 16 children and two of the men were allowed to remain on the boats.

In Nicaragua's recent civil war, Sandinista rebels forced President Anastasio Somoza from power.

The new government has not solved the food lines or monetary problems, Gordon said. Private property is confiscated, mail inspected and phone conversations monitored, he said.

"They just come in and take your things away. They find some excuse and they give you 24 hours to leave," said Gordon, who said he left "before it is too late."

Others want to leave the country but no one talks openly of fleeing, he said.

"You don't know who is who and you don't want to say anything," he said.

Gordon, a native Nicaraguan, left his wife and five children. He hopes to communicate with them through a third party and eventually bring them to the United States.

The 26 refugees came from two small fishing towns on the Atlantic coast of Nicaragua.

Sandra Hughes, 16, traveled with her parents, five brothers and four sisters.

"It wasn't so bad," she said. After the first day of seasickness, the group recovered and ate rice, beans, meat, coconuts and bananas.

All rights to baby terminated

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — The woman who abandoned a baby near the manger scene of the First Baptist Church here has lost all rights to her son.

State District Judge William Martin announced he has terminated "all parental relationships affecting the child known as Timothy Christmas."

The action cleared the way for adoption proceedings to begin.

In making the ruling late Tuesday, the judge issued a gag order preventing everyone involved in the case from discussing it except as is necessary in the adoption proceedings.

"The basis is that any further publicity would not be in the best interests of the child," Martin said.

The judge appointed the Department of Human Resources as managing conservator for the infant. The identity of the mother was not revealed by the court.

The discovery of the child 10 days ago near the manger scene at the First Baptist Church drew nationwide publicity.

The judge said abandonment is not the way to dispose of unwanted children.

"This can be done without the fanfare, and confidences can be protected in the best interest of the child by relinquishing the child to the Department of Human Resources," said Martin.

Crewmen missing

AVONDALE, La. (AP) — Three crewmen were reported missing early today after two tugboats collided on a foggy stretch of the Mississippi River near this Jefferson Parish town, sinking one, the Coast Guard said.

Coast Guard spokesman James Morrison said the tug Jane Hoiland reported colliding with an unknown vessel near midnight Wednesday while pushing an empty barge upstream.

NATO ministers seek release of hostages

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Foreign ministers of the 15 Western allies today denounced Iran's seizure of 50 American hostages and demanded their immediate release.

The ministers, here for the annual meeting of the NATO Council of Ministers, issued the statement in their national capacities and not in the name of the North Atlantic Treaty alliance. Sources said the declaration was not issued under the NATO banner because Iran is outside of the alliance's area of responsibility.

"Any taking of hostages, for any motive whatsoever, is totally unacceptable and must be firmly opposed by the international community as a whole," the ministers said in a statement, adding that they "have no desire to intervene in Iran's internal affairs."

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Defense Secretary Harold Brown lobbied the NATO allies seeking a declaration of support for America's condemnation of the hostages situation in Iran.

The result was the cautiously worded statement, describing developments as a "grave situation."

It blamed the Iranians, saying the situation was created by the occupation of the U.S. Embassy the seizure of American hostages "in flagrant violation of international law and human rights."

"They (the ministers) reaffirmed (that) their countries' fully respect the independence of other states and recognized the right of all peoples to chart their own political, economic and social course," the statement added.

On Wednesday, NATO foreign and defense ministers approved an American plan to deploy hundreds of U.S. made nuclear missiles in Western Europe beginning in 1983 to counter the threat of sophisticated Soviet SS-20 missiles aimed at the Western European heartland from the East.

The ministers coupled their decision to modernize the alliance's nuclear strike capability with a proposal for new arms control talks with the Soviets.

Under the plan, 108 Pershing II rocket launchers will be based in West Germany to replace the Pershing I launchers already there. In addition 112 medium-range Tomahawk cruise missiles will be stationed in West Germany, 160 in Britain and 96 in Italy. The plan calls for Belgium and Holland to take 18 each, but they must first defuse domestic opposition to the missiles.

The weapons plan was designed to counter Soviet missile deployment in the East, including more than 100 SS-20s, each armed with three nuclear warheads.

The decision reportedly sparked sharp argument among the NATO allies, with Holland arguing for arms control talks before the missiles are deployed and Belgium, Denmark and Norway backing that stand.

Holland said it would make a decision in two years on whether to accept the missiles, and Belgium said it would decide in six months.

In an apparent compromise bid, Vance, the current chairman of the NATO council of ministers, said the United States was ready to begin new arms reduction talks with the Russians right away.

As a show of good faith, he told a news conference the United States will withdraw 1,000 obsolete nuclear weapons from the estimated 7,000 weapons it has stockpiled in Western Europe and will pull out one nuclear warhead for each new one deployed there.

Carter's defense budget 'near' skeptics' demands

By TERENCE HUNT

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's blueprint for sharply increased defense spending through 1983 appears to come close to meeting some demands of key skeptics of the SALT II treaty.

Carter sent Defense Secretary Harold Brown to the Senate Armed Services Committee today to sketch in details of the program, which emphasizes increasing U.S. ability to rush troops to remote trouble spots such as the Persian Gulf.

Previewing Brown's testimony, Carter told a group of businessmen Wednesday that he is proposing annual increases in defense spending authority of more than 1.5 percent for the next five years. That is 1.5 percent above inflation.

The fiscal 1981 budget will propose $137 billion in budget authority, an increase of more than 5 percent, he said.

Under normal circumstances, the defense budget would not be announced until January. However, Carter apparently tipped his hand now in hopes of winning Senate votes for the arms limitation treaty with the Soviet Union.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., expected to play a pivotal role in the SALT II debate, said Wednesday he had been briefed by Brown on the administration's proposals, but was not ready to say whether he would support the treaty.

Nunn and former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, along with others, have been demanding a 5 percent increase in defense budget authority. Among other demands, Nunn also called for money to compensate for unpredictable increases in inflation. Carter said Wednesday he would do that.

Nunn is not expected to announce his position on SALT II before Christmas, and perhaps not until the start of debate on the treaty next year.

A high administration official, who asked not to be named, said Carter's address to the Business Council "indicates a mutuality of perspective" with Nunn.

"I will not claim that it involves an identical conclusion involving this or that program or the size of it," the official said.

Quake toll climbs to 133

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The earthquake toll in southern Colombia rose to 133 dead and as many as 2,000 injured as searchers searched through the rubble and wreckage in six coastal towns. Estimates of the missing ranged from 200 to 5,000.

The Red Cross declared the southwest coast near the border with Ecuador a disaster area. President Julio Cesar Turbay ordered the army to join in the rescue and relief work, and the local police called out auxiliary forces to assist in searching the ruins.

Emergency crews worked to power and telephone service. Seismologists said the quake early Wednesday measured from 7.8 to 8.1 on the Richter scale. It lasted from 2:59 a.m. to 3:07 a.m., sent 10-foot high tidal waves crashing into the coast and was followed by 10 aftershocks during the next hour.

The scientists said the quake's epicenter was about 20 miles off the coast. Charco, a fishing town of 1,000 people 165 miles north of the border, was hit hardest. Police said at least 62 persons were killed there and more than 350 were injured as their huts, built on stilts alongside a lake, were brought down. Many of the huts fell into the lake.

Appeals court affirms revocation of probation

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday affirmed the revocation of Dennis Hodge, convicted June 4, 1978, in Midland County of burglary of a vehicle and sentenced to eight years in prison and a $350 fine.

The court's opinion states the motion to revoke probation alleged Hodge had violated the terms of his probation by failing to report to his probation officer, failing to pay court costs and allegedly committing the offenses of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle and theft of a motor vehicle.

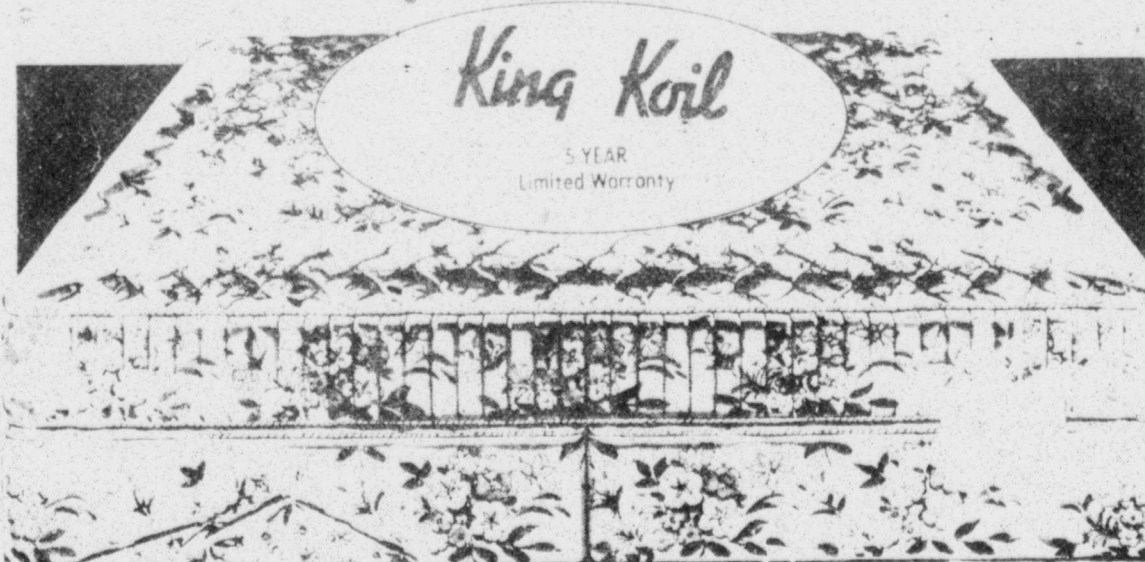

Hodge contended that he had been physically unable to report to his probation officer and that he had been hospitalized twice during his probation period. He also contended there was insufficient evidence to show he had committed the alleged offenses.

Six railroads try to block takeover of rail route

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of railroads predicts losses running into the millions of dollars if the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. takes over a 992-mile stretch of the Rock Island Line.

The six railroads last week asked the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to block the Southern Pacific's operation of the line from Santa Rosa, N.M., to St. Louis. On Wednesday, the six roads filed documents supporting their appeal.

The railroads have asked the court to stay an Interstate Commission order that would allow the Southern Pacific temporary authority over the line.

The Southern Pacific is scheduled to take over the line on Friday. The Kansas City Terminal Railway Co., a switching company owned by other railroads, currently gets $13 million a month in federal subsidies to operate the entire 7,200-mile Rock Island system.

That was a result of an ICC order during a strike on the financially troubled railroad.

The six railroads said they will suffer irreparable economic harm if the Southern Pacific takes over the line temporarily. They also say no one will be harmed if the Kansas City management continues to operate the line.

If the Southern Pacific purchases and rehabilitates the line, the railroads said, their losses will be greater.

They said they would provide local service, and the line will be operated by a subsidiary, the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Co.

An ICC spokesman said the Southern Pacific has offered $57 million to buy what is called the Tucumcari Line.

The six railroads who have asked for a stay of the ICC order are the Union Pacific, the Santa Fe, the Chicago and North Western, the Missouri-Kansas-Texas, the Norfolk and Western, and the Missouri Pacific.

Richard Hautzinger, an assistant vice president of the Union Pacific, said in the court documents that his company would lose $27.6 million a year in diverted traffic if the Southern Pacific buys the Tucumcari Line.

He also said his company, the Santa Fe and other railroads operating transcontinental routes connecting California and Oregon with the East and the Midwest will lose necessary revenues.

Chicago, Ill. (AP) — Fire destroyed two two-story wooden homes in this suburb south of Chicago early today, killing eight persons, including six children, authorities said.

A spokesman at St. James Hospital said the dead were six children and two adults. One person was treated for injuries and released.

An unidentified witness said there had been a fire Wednesday in the attic of one of the houses, but it was not learned early whether the fire and the one today were related.

DEAR ABBY His last letter was first class

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'm sitting here on the plane reading the letter in your column about the son who didn't want to put his father up temporarily because he felt his father's visit would be an invasion of his privacy.

That item caught my eye because I am on my way to visit my son in Omaha for two weeks — at his insistence. I was reluctant to do so initially because I felt I might be interfering with his personal activities.

I wonder if the son who wrote that letter ever gave a thought to the privacy his father might have forfeited during his son's time at home?

There were times during my children's lives when, given my druthers, I'd have preferred some alternative activity, but now I don't regret one minute of the time I spent with them. I'm only sorry it couldn't have been more. Their time at home seems to have been so brief.

I won't mail this, of course, since I realize you will receive thousands of more articulate letters on the above. This is just my way of

DEAR ABBY: My father died suddenly of a heart attack, and this unfinished letter was in his pocket. My wife and I will miss him very much. Sign this — "A SON WHO REALLY WANTED HIS DAD TO COME." WILLIAM SZYK, OMAHA, NEBR.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 33 but sometimes acts like a child. He refuses to shave or comb his hair on weekends, thinks deodorants are for women, walks around barefoot, slurps his coffee, blows on his foods, cracks his knuckles, and when he belches he never says, "Excuse me."

We've been married for seven years and he seems to get more gross every year.

I am fairly neat and well-mannered. When I try to correct him, he blows up and picks a fight with me. He wasn't this way when I married him. What shall I do? — ANGRY IN SAN MATEO

DEAR ANGRY: How you "correct" him is important. Take one offense at a time, explaining that his slovenliness offends you and his rudeness hurts and irritates you.

When you attack a man, he'll instinctively either try to defend himself or counter-attack. Anger generates anger. Love generates love. Think about it.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for printing the letter from the 16-year-old girl who had recently undergone a hysterectomy as a result of gonorrhea. So many people believe gonorrhea is a minor infection that's easily detected and quickly cured.

Like the girl who wrote to you, I wasn't a "sleep-around" type either. I had only one boy friend, but even though he KNEW he was infected, and had seen his doctor for treatment, he didn't mention it to me. My doctor misdiagnosed my symptoms, and even though I was 21, I was naive and uninformed, which resulted in my having a hysterectomy, too. I'm still single, but I plan some day to adopt because I want a family.

Please keep warning your readers of the consequences (and symptoms) of VD. This letter is sincere, but please forgive me for not signing my name. — A READER

DEAR READER: VD is still a serious epidemic. Anyone reading this (regardless of age) who suspects that he (or she) has it should phone the VD hotline (toll free) 800-523-1885. All questions will be answered by trained persons, and you'll be told where to get an examination and treatment free!

UTPB singers to present annual Christmas program

ODESSA — The University Singers of The University of Texas of the Permian Basin will present an annual Christmas concert Thursday night. The 8 p.m. event in UTPB's Devonian Room will be open to the public free of charge. Programmed for the event are works which were either composed or arranged by 20th century composers. Title of the concert will be "A Ceremony of Carols," taken from a Benjamin Britten work which will be the opening selection of the program. The concert will be under the direction of Dr. Stan Engebretson, assistant professor of music at UTPB. The opening work by Britten will feature Pamela Hahn of Midland as harpist and Janice Archer and Marsha Barid as soloists. Miss Hahn also will be featured in "A Carol Suite" by Carlos Salzedo. Continuing the program will be a variety of Christmas music. A Spanish number by Paul Csonka, titled "A la Nanita Nana," will feature female vocalists, while Zoltan Kodaly's "Christmas Dance for Shepherds" will spotlight female voices and piccolo. Traditional carols to be presented will include "Star Carol," "We'll Dress This House," and "Ah, Bleak and Chill the Wintry Wind." Also programmed are several more serious Christmas musical works. A special highlight will be "Whence Comes This Rush of Wings," for choir, harp and flute, as arranged by UTPB senior music major Darrell Archer.

Midland-Odessa music groups join for concerts

The Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale joined forces this week to present traditional Christmas concerts. The concerts, well-received by audiences in the two cities, offered a variety of Christmas music, ranging from portions of Handel's deeply reverent "Messiah" to favorite and familiar carols. The events were not especially memorable from the standpoint of programming or performance, but certainly they offered pleasant enough holiday entertainment.

For an extra measure of musical fun, the orchestra contributed excerpts from Tchaikovsky's intensely melodic and evocative "Nutteracker Suite" to which the world famous "Nutteracker" ballet is mounted. The orchestra had provided the accompaniment for Permian Civic Ballet Association's annual presentation of "The Nutcracker" last week, and thus was sharing its newly-acquired "Nutteracker" musical expertise with the symphony audience Monday night in Odessa and Tuesday night in Midland. As an added bonus, the orchestra and chorale presented performances of a work by an Odessa resident, Minnie Mae Everett. The work, titled "An Old Fashioned Christmas," was interesting and melodic. In the presentations of the "Messiah" excerpts, the symphony and chorale were under the direction of Dr. Stan Engebretson, new chorale director. Joining the resident musicians in the work were four guest vocalists, including Loretta Bybee-Riek, Emilia Simone, John Gillias and Terry Cook. On the podium to conduct the orchestra for other concert portions was Dr. Tom Hohstadt. He was joined by "Santa Claus" in his traditional special appearance with the orchestra to conduct a number or two. The presentation of a group of Midland Symphony Debs was another highlight of the Midland concert Tuesday night.

Odessa theater to open play for holidays

ODESSA — Permian Playhouse, Odessa's community theater, will open its holiday production Friday night. The attraction is "Amahl and the Night Visitors," a drama with music by Gian Carlo Menotti. "Amahl" was presented at PPH during the 1978 Christmas season and is being staged again this season in response to popular demand. The production has been directed by PPH director Coy Sharp. Following the opening performance at 8 p.m. Friday, "Amahl" will have a second presentation at 8 p.m. Saturday and additional performances on the evenings of Dec. 21 and 22. Seating for performances may be reserved through the PPH box office, 362-2329.

CBS wins in Nielsen race

NEW YORK (AP) — The networks' prime-time ratings race tightened just a bit during the week ending Dec. 9, as CBS won the weekly competition for the third time in a month. CBS now is less than a point behind ABC for the season to date, thanks in large measure to several popular series. CBS' "Alice" finished No. 1 in the A.C. Nielsen Co.'s most recent sampling of prime-time programs, followed by "60 Minutes," another CBS regular. CBS listed five other shows in the Top 10. CBS' rating for the week was 19.8 to 19.3 for ABC and 16.5 for NBC. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 19.8 percent of the homes in the country with television were tuned to CBS. NBC now has been last in the ratings seven of the past eight weeks. CBS' rating for the season so far is 18.9 to 19.7 for ABC. The rating for "Alice" was 30. Nielsen says that means of all the homes with television in the country, 30 percent were tuned to at least part of the Sunday night program. ABC's best for the week, "Three's Company," was third, while NBC's top-rated program was a special — "Little Rascals Christmas" — No. 16 in the ratings. CBS' "60 Minutes" continued its rather remarkable run near the top, in stark contrast to ABC's "20/20" newsmagazine, which was No. 36 for the week, NBC's "Prime Time Sunday," which ranked 63rd. All three networks have announced schedule changes for the second half of the season, involving four of the

'Mary of Nazareth' to open soon at Globe

ODESSA — A musical play, "Mary of Nazareth," is having its second production at the Globe of the Great Southwest here. The play by Agnes Sanford, with music composed by Fern Crowley of Odessa, had its initial presentation here in 1978 and is being repeated this season in response to widespread demand. Final presentations of the play are scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Reserved seating for all remaining performances is available from the box office of the Globe theater, located on the south edge of the Odessa College campus. Dr. Ted Whitmore has guest directed the play which tells of the miraculous birth of Christ announced by the Angel of the Lord. Janice Archer of Midland is the choral director of the production and is seen as the Angel of Annunciation. Musical accompanist for the production is Rosamund Webber. The part of Mary of Nazareth is played by Tami Jo Whitmore, with Cindy Anderson alternating in the part. David Bauich portrays Joseph, the baffled earthly father. Ida Kennedy plays the part of Hannah, companion and advisor to Mary, while Lamar Casparis is in the role of the fictional character, Thaddeus, a wealthy merchant who sees in Mary something for which his soul yearns. The first and second servants are portrayed by Don Whitmore and Bill Richmond. The handmaiden to Mary is played by Mildred Sikkels. The Angels who sing heavenly music from the upper stage of the Globe are portrayed by Jackie Thompson, Karen Skinner, Pat Jackson, Patti Wortman, Sharon Marrs and Karen Johnston. Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Hestand of Odessa, charter members and long-time financial supporters of the Globe Theater, are sole sponsors of this year's production of "Mary of Nazareth."

Two Rhodesian troops, many civilians dead after Governor Soames arrives

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — At least two Rhodesian troops and an unspecified number of guerrillas and civilians have been killed since Rhodesia's first British governor in 11 years arrived in Salisbury, security sources reported today.

Meanwhile, guerrilla leader Joshua Nkomo told reporters in London there will be no cease-fire until he is assured his men will not be vulnerable to government attack in the camps they are supposed to report to under the British-sponsored truce plan.

The new British governor, Lord Soames, said he understood he had to walk a fine line in his new job. "I'm just set ting in and meeting people. I don't want to rush in where angels fear to tread," he said.

He made the comments to reporters Wednesday night after his first TV address to the nation. "This will not be an easy period for any of us," Soames said in the broadcast.

The black nationalist guerrillas, who have waged a war against the Salisbury government since 1972, has insisted Soames was wrong to come to Salisbury before a cease-fire took place.

But Soames said he hoped the British-sponsored peace talks between the guerrillas and the outgoing government of Prime Minister Abel Muzorewa, now in its fourth month in London will bring a cease-fire soon.

He urged Rhodesia's 6.8 million blacks and 230,000 whites to support him.

In emerging from a long and bitter war there will be many difficulties. But together we must overcome them, looking to the future rather than the past," he said.

Army officers arrest General Seung-hwa

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A squad of army officers arrested South Korea's martial law commander after a shootout with his bodyguards and rounded up several other top generals, accusing them of complicity in the assassination of President Park Chung-hee, authorities said today.

Observers said the surprise move Wednesday night by one group of generals against another did not appear aimed at the civilian government of Park's successor, President Choi Kyu-hah, but there was speculation Choi had not been told of it in advance.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman warned the South Korean military that any move to disrupt the nation's shift toward democracy would have a "severe adverse impact" on U.S.-South Korea relations.

CIA trained SAVAK, says former member

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The CIA was the architect of SAVAK, the shah's secret police, trained its agents in the United States and gave them guidelines on "physical and psychological" methods of interrogation, a former official of the organization says.

Former SAVAK adviser Hassan Sama made the allegations during a day-long tour Wednesday by foreign reporters of the police agency's former prisons. The Ministry of National Guidance conducted the tour to publicize the revolutionary regime's charges that the United States was a partner in the torture and murder of thousands of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's opponents.

"It wasn't just cooperation with the CIA and Mossad (the Israeli secret service), it was joint activities," said Sama, who told reporters he had advised the SAVAK commander on security and economic affairs for 11 years. "The CIA devised our entire system."

He said the Americans did not give SAVAK agents direct training in torture methods. But he said they provided general guidelines of interrogation techniques, such as attaching electrodes to sensitive parts of the body, and taught agents how to carry out surveillance of dissidents.

SAVAK also worked to a lesser degree with the intelligence services of Britain, West Germany, France, Pakistan, Iraq and Egypt, Sama said.

Saudi Arabia to jump gun on crude price increase

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Oil Minister Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani said today Saudi Arabia will raise oil prices even before next week's OPEC pricing meeting.

Monday in Caracas, Venezuela, he replied, "Yes." The Saudi minister did not elaborate. He was in Brussels for talks with Foreign Minister Henri Simonet and other Belgian officials.

Nigeria, for example, reportedly has suggested it may raise its $26.27 price to $30. Increases in that range could add 5 to 10 cents to the price of a gallon of gasoline or heating oil in the United States.

Midland operators announce drillsite for a deep wildcat in Gaines region

OC offers new courses

ODESSA — Two new courses for educational aides will be offered during the spring semester at Odessa College.
The new courses are "Teaching Skills" and "Adaptive Movement and Recreation."
"Teaching Skills" is scheduled to meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays, with a 9 to 10 p.m. lab following each class session.
"The new course in teaching skills is the one to take for anyone interested in becoming an educational aide," said Mary-Joyce Harding, department head and professor of child development.
"In the class, students will learn how to assist elementary school teachers in teaching reading, spelling, writing, mathematics, and other subjects," she said.
Celia Vykukal, long-time public school teacher, will serve as instructor for the new course.
A second new educational aide course, "Adaptive Movement and Recreation," will meet from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays and will be followed by a lab from 7:30 to 8:20 p.m.

"Although the adaptive movement class has been especially designed for the educational aide program, the course also serves as physical education credit for P.E. majors or those needing P.E. in their degree plans," said Harding.
"The new course, which will be taught by Bill Lawrence from the Odessa College P.E. faculty, will concentrate on teaching movement to handicapped or non-athletic children," she explained.
Interested persons may sign up in the registrar's office located on the second floor of the Student Union Building.
Those signing up early have the option to pay at the time of registration or up until Jan. 8.
Spring classes begin Jan. 14.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Skin cancers seldom fatal

Definitive care must be provided within 10 minutes for maximum benefit.

Dear Dr. Solomon: What are the chances of skin cancer proving fatal?—Ned.

Dear Ned: Skin cancer is rarely fatal, but it can kill if untreated. According to the National Cancer Institute, 95 percent of patients successfully undergo treatment of the disease. In some rare cases, skin cancer can spread through the blood or lymph and affect other organs.

Dear Dr. Solomon: A neighbor of mine has a 13-year-old son who developed a ulcer. Is this unusual?—Mrs. K.J.

Dear Mrs. J.: Ulcers can develop at any age, even in infants. Generally, however, they tend to occur after age 20; and people in their 30s, 40s and 50s have a greater chance of developing duodenal ulcers than do older people, but it is not rare for a teen-ager to develop an ulcer.

Dear Dr. Solomon: A number of organizations in my community are sponsoring courses in cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Does this really do any good?—Mr. K.H.

Dear Mr. H.: If you consider saving a life doing good, the answer is "yes." A study conducted by the King County Department of Public Health in Seattle showed that initiation of cardiopulmonary resuscitation efforts within four minutes of cardiac arrest contributes significantly to reduced mortality.

Clinical Research Unit, several diabetic patients who were 50 to 100 pounds overweight were placed on a high-protein, no-carbohydrate diet to control their blood-sugar levels. So far, results have been good.

Insulin is discontinued as soon as the patients arrive at the Research Unit. After a few days, they are placed on a 300 to 400-calorie diet consisting of a high-quality powdered milk protein, especially made to dissolve in diet soda, and supplemented with vitamins and minerals. The patients return home after two to three weeks, but remain on the diet for from six to eight months, until their excess weight is lost.

You may want to discuss the study with your physician. This is definitely not a do-it-yourself diet for diabetics, and the entire program is still experimental.
