President Blasts Terrorist Acts 1973-74, western countries agreed on WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter today ordered an end to U.S. purchases of oil from Iran in reaction to the eight-day seizure of the American Embassy in Tehran where some 60 hostages are being held captive.

He urged Americans to increase their efforts to conserve oil, saying his action poses a " real challenge" to the nation and will test American strength and determination.

Carter said he took the action to eliminate any suggestion that economic pressures could be used to force what he called "unacceptable demands on our country.

The students who seized the embassy in Tehran are demanding that the deposed Shah of Iran, hospitalized for cancer in New York, be returned to Iran to Carter, in a statement nationally broadcast from the White House press room, said it is vital that the lives of American diplomatic personnel be protected. He said the world must see to it that terrorism is not used to impose political demands.

"No one should underestimate the resolve of the American government and the American people in this matter," Carter said.

With that, he announced his order forbidding the purchase of "any oil from Iran for delivery to this country," and said that the move must be part of an international effort to secure release of the hostages.

(U.S. Rep. Kent Hance, contacted at his office in Washington, termed the president's action "a good move."

(The Lubbock congressman said the Iranian oil is "an unstable source" and added, "We've got to tell foreign sources that we can make it if we have to. It may mean some hardship, but we've got to be dedicated in an economic sense and a military sense.)

Carter also said he asked the Energy Department to develop conservation measures in the United States, and promised to strive for fair and equitable

A Texas Savings and Loan League representative told the Senate Interim Committee on Financial Institutions that, altogether, mortgage loans over Texas dropped by $1.2 billion through August of 1979 compared to the same period last year. "Virtually every area of Texas has suffered a sharp decline in lending activity in 1979," said Pat Malone, administrative vice president of the league. Malone cited a report showing that, in the Lubbock area, total mortgage

Searchers Find Missing Plane

The wreckage of a small aircraft, matching the description of a plane missing since Oct. 30 on a flight to Lubbock, was located about 10 a.m. today (CST) in a rugged area 20 miles southwest of Tucumcari, N.M.

A spokesman for the New Mexico State Police said there were no survivors found at the scene.

The downed plane was located by teams searching for an aircraft piloted by David A. Jones, 33, a self-employed Lubbock pilot and his passenger, identified as Michael O'Keefe of Bremerton,

The spokesman would not confirm whether the aircraft found today was the same as the one local and state authorities were looking for. However, Don Davis, mission coordinator for the Civil Air Patrol in Portales, N.M., said the wreckage was that of a Cessna 310 with the same number as the one reported missing on a flight from Grand Junction, Colo., to Lubbock Oct.

Davis said debris from the wreckage was scattered in a hilly terrain spotted by Mesquite trees and Salt Cedars.

The state police spokesman said teams had to get out of their vehicles and walk to the site. The spokesman refused to identify the occupants of the downed aircraft.

The spokesman said rescue attempts were being hampered by the rough terrain. "I don't think we're going to be able to get an ambulance in. I think we're going to have to get them out by helicopter," the spokesman said.

The suspect reportedly had called his brother earlier Sunday from San Luis Obispo, located between San Jose and Los Angeles.

"Our agents just missed him in Santa Barbara (Calif.) in the early part of last week," the arresting agent said.

The FBI held a warrant for DePauw on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

DePauw was charged here Oct. 8 for the murder of Anderson, the 63-year-old owner of Neon Speciality Co. at 2402 Ave. J. Justice of the Peace Charles Smith set the suspect's bond at $100,000.

Anderson was found dead inside his business Oct. 5. He was discovered sprawled in a pool of blood by his brother and an employee. An autopsy revealed the victim died from a crushed skull caused by a blow to the side of his head with a blunt instrument.

The same day Anderson's body was found, police located the victim's car parked in front of a North University Avenue pawn shop. His wallet, empty of money, was gound several days later in trash dumpster by an 11-year-old boy.

Following is what the nation's newspapers were saying last week:

The New York Times

In the zealous eyes of Ayatollah Khomeini, America is the "great satan" and Great Britain its "evil" ally. But it is the Ayatollah himself who is doing the devil's work by inciting and condoning the student invasion of the American and British Embassies in Tehran. This is not just a diplomatic affront; it is a declaration of war on diplomacy itself, on usages and traditions honored by all nations, however old or new, of whatever belief. The immunities given a ruler's emissaries were respected by the kings of Persia during wars with Greece and by the Ayatollah's spiritual ancestors during the Crusades.

The avowed purpose of the embassy takeovers is to force the United States to return the ailing Shah to face a revolutionary tribunal. The idea is unconscionable. The right of political asylum is another valued tradition that the Ayatollah seems to consider diabolic now that he no longer needs his own revolutionary platforms of asylum in Iraq and France..

In the pantheon of Washington bungling, the proposal to give more federal emergency fuel aid to the warm southern states than to cold Vermont and Maine ranks near the top of the list.

It is downright foolish and our congressional delegation should be raising a fuss about it. What do we get from our delegation? A roar of silence.

Vermont and Maine, the two states which have the lowest per capita income in New England, and the two states which need the emergency fuel aid the most, get shortchanged. Yet southern states fare well under the Carter plan. Oh yes, so does New Hampshire, which just happens to have the first presidential primary in the nation ...

Bangor (Maine) Daily News

The report on the Three Mile Island nuclear accident is ... a breath of fresh air in ... a controversy that more often resembles a street skirmish than a crucial national debate.

Among the findings: -The fact no member of the general public has been injured by nuclear power in the past 25 years of nuclear plant operation has made the utility industry too casual about the potential risks.

-No one was discernibly injured from the extremely low levels of radiation released at Three Mile Island. -The principal ill effects on humans was "mental stress" caused in part by misinformation put out by government officials involved.

-There was no imminent danger of a hydrogen bubble explosion as mistakenly reported by those responsible for assessing the status of the nuclear plant emergency.

To us, some things seem clear:

If the nuclear energy business is tosurvive in this country, it will have to improve its construction and design methodology and pay closer attention to safety... However ... the risks, the nuclear power industry still has a good record. It would be a mistake to close down 13 percent of this country's power generating capacity, either by a legislated national moratorium or as a result of an unjustified national hysteria

The Dallas Morning News

A mere half a trillion dollars is what the federal government will be spending in fiscal 1980...And from there it is onword and upward. NEW YORK (UPI) - Oil isn't the only commodity threatened by the political turmoil in Iran. That country's other major export - pistachio nuts - accounts for 90 percent of the world's sup-

But California pistachio producers, who have been trying for years to make inroads into this profitable market, think they now are in a position to fill any shortage of the favored Iranian nut.

After 10 years of experimentation, California growers this year harvested a crop of 12 million pounds worth an estimated $17 million.

But this is little comfort to the small band of pistachio lovers - the nut has only a 4 percent market penetration in the United States - since it won't bring lower prices.

Pistachio nuts retail for between $7 and $10 a pound and the price could escalate dramatically since, even without other problems, an early frost hurt this year's crop in Iran.

Jack Bobker, president of Zenobia Nut Co., a leading importer, processor and distributor of pistachios, said whole sale prices have risen about $1 a pound to around $3.75 in the last six months since the Iranian revolution.

'This year's crop from California is a beautiful nut. It's the best so far." Bobker said. "But it still doesn't have the taste of the best Iranian nut."

California producers began growing pistachios in earnest 10 years ago in the San Joaquin Valley. There are 31,000 acres planted but this year's crop comes from only a little over 4,000 acres, according to the California Pistachio Asso-

According to Bobker, earlier efforts were a disaster. "The quality was so bac we had to give guarantees to our customers not to mix them with Iranian nuts," he said. "This year is much bet-

The California producers have indeed had problems with the little nut, primarily because it takes from 8 to 10 years to mature properly. And the crop is alternating - trees bear a heavy crop only every other year. Pistachios must be harvested in a 30day period in September. They must be hulled and dried within 24 hours or the shell discolors. California growers use an abrasive vegetable peeling machine to hull the nuts and forced air to dry them.

Unlike the familiar red-dyed shell, California nuts are marketed with the natural color - as are premium Iranian

"Only the lower grades and smaller nuts are dyed," Bobker said. "Pistachios have a pink cast on the tree and years ago it was thought the red shells more or less resembled the natural nut." Excluding the latest disorder in Iran, Bobker said the revolutionary government has honored previous commitments for pistachios - with a few disruptions because of strikes or weather. Yes, we're getting shipments, but even with only a 4 percent market penetration there's never been enough to handle demand," Bobker said. "If there were 10,000 tons consumed in the United States, we could sell 20,000 tons. There's that 96 percent of the market to reach.' We hope the California producers can keep improving their nuts. There's a tremendous market and they will find a

But Bobker doesn't look for any relief from skyrocketing prices, even if Iranian imports stay at the present level.

"California producers will have to ask equal or higher prices with production at its present level. If they can in-

Conditions are primitive in the camps, but highly preferable to life in Cambodia where a massive famine threatens to wipe out more than half the estimated four million population. Those trying to escape starvation, malaria, beri-beri and other diseases are in constant danger of being killed in the fighting between the Vietnamese-installed government in Phnom Penh and followers of ousted Premier Pol Pot.

The current tragedy of Cambodia is the latest chapter in the decline of the Khmer people, whose vast empire 800 years ago included much of Thailand, Laos, Vietnam and the Malay peninsula.

The Khmer empire reached its peak during the reign of King Suryavarma II (1113-1150), who built the magnificent Angkor Wat complex in what is now northern Cambodia Vietnam invaded neighboring Cam-bodia and in January installed Heng Samrin as head of state in Phnom Penh. But supporters of Pol Pot's Khmer Rouge government fled to the country-side and are conducting a guerrilla war against the Hanoi-backed regime.

Little if any rice has been planted be-cause of the turmoil and fighting, leading to the current famine that international relief agencies and diplomats say could claim up to 2.25 million lives.

The Phnom Penh government's re-luctance to allow massive international aid to be sent to Cambodia has sparked a mass exodus into Thailand in search of food and medical treatment.

For many arriving at Sa Keo it is too late. Dozens die every day despite the efforts of overworked doctors and nursen handcarts to a Buddhist temple one-quarter mile outside the ba wire camp enclosure.

The bodies are placed in mass graves dug by bulldozers, covered only by their own blankets until the holes are filled in

The President sent Ramsey Clark to negotiate with the Ayatollah Khomeini but the Iranian strongman refused to see him. He said he already had a bad enough impression of America without adding to it.

Our Guv'ment swung right into action, though, just as soon as it became convinced Iran is not a friendly power. Only five days after our embassy personnel became prisoners of war, we halted military shipments to points behind enemy lines.

But out of our national humiliation, there emerged one hopeful sign: Instead of leaving the streets to anti-American demonstrators as we'd done for 15 years, national pride brought out

TODAY'S MAY BOUQUET: To U.S. Rep. Kent Hance, for being one of only 45 House Democrats to vote against the monstrous 1981 budget with its $29.8 billion deficit.

It took courage to go against the Democratic leadership which was pushing the $547.6 billion spending bill. The vote was 205-190 with only one Republican joining 204 Democrats in voting

The projected Democratic deficit is so big it's $2 billion in the opposite direction from President Carter's promised balanced budget before

In his freshman year, Hance is showing a streak of fiscal independence that the country needs if it is to break away from the economic nosedive

He voted for the lesser of two evils in supporting the GOP's $3.2 billion substitute for the Democrats' $3.8 billion welfare "reform" bill. The pigger version carried, of course.

Hance was particularly alarmed that the record budget bill does away with a requirement that the budget be reconciled, saying "you might as well not have a budget."

If the rest of the country will boot out 10 or 15 of the big spenders next year, replacing them with conservatives, Hance would begin winning the close votes instead of losing them.

During the summer, the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act program paid 147 South Dakota Indian youngsters $2.65 an hour to ride horses, swim and play football, basketball and baseball

Idi Amin says the best way to achieve world peace is to make atomic weapons available at cut-rate prices to all countries.

It's the kind of suggestion which, if adopted, is sure to have a great deal of fallout.

TARRANT COUNTY voters did, by George, vote to abolish the office of county treasurer. By a convincing 3-1 margin.

Fort Worth is to be congratulated for this protest of perpetuating a superfluous office. Whether the voters' wishes will be carried out is still an open question, though.

Since the county treasurer's job is provided for by the state constitution, there's bound to be a lawsuit to determine whether the voters can abolish the office without a constitutional amend-

IF HISTORY REPEATS, I'll get a spate of letters from treasurers all over the state who fear their jobs will be abolished if Fort Worth wins. But, like the Tarrant County voters, I'm convinced that it's a waste of money to maintain a treasurer in counties which also have a county audititor. Auditors, who are appointed, bring professionalism to the job of keeping track of county expenditures. Many a county treasurer does a good job, too, but if the taxpayers are convinced the office is unnecessary they should have the right to abolish it.

It's their money. And their government.

and will almost certainly do so again. But he won't be alone. Ronald Reagan reportedly will build much of his formal announcement speech on prime time television Tuesday around a rebuttal of Carter's pessimistic assessment. Reagan's half-hour oration will be televised on stations from which the Reagan camp purchased air time. He had sought to buy 30 minutes of network time, but The Big Three turned him down just as they did a similar request from Carter for his formal announcement Dec. 4.

WHILE HIS FIRE initially will be aimed largely at the incumbent, the GOP front-runner will offer his "prescription of positive action for the future" by carefully crafting his pitch to blame the entire Democratic Party (including Kennedy) for creating the mess we're in.

"It is still possible," he will insist, according to early drafts of his talk, "to expand the economic pie enough so that no one must settle for a smaller slice." But for now, few specifics.

Missing also will be anti-Washington patter. Campaign manager John Sears thinks Carter's performance has given outsiders a bad name and instead created a new premium on experience.

MOST OF HIS opponents have been campaigning furiously for months now, but even after his formal entry, Reagan will not go flat-out until after the first of the year.

He plans a barnstorming tour after his announcement, but that's about it. He has no desire to "peak" too soon, his aides say.

From the outset, Reagan's principal vulnerability has been his age-he will be 69 next year. If elected he would be the oldest person ever to assume the presidency.

The other GOP candidates have indicated all along that whatever edge Reagan enjoys in the polls will melt away when he gets on the griddle with the rest of them. Personalize Wardrobe With Costume Jewelry

WASHINGTON-"Gold of less than 10 karats cannot be called gold or karat gold under U.S. government regulations, you wrote in a column recently. I had not known this and the knowledge has just saved me from throwing away a lot of money on what obviously are pieces of junk.

Thanks. "But with gold jewelry at today's prices, I'm buying the women on my list costume jewelry this Christmas. The stuff is still pretty expensive. What are the government regulations in this area?"

The answer to my correspondent is: There are no government regulations standardizing the manufacture, content and pricing of fashion (or costume) jewelry.

If you want to be sure you're getting high quality jewelry at fair prices to you, stick to products made by brand-name manufacturers and to repu-

Fashion jewelry is made of non-precious materials-including semi-precious stones, base metals or materials such as wood, plastic, shell, rhinestones, lucite and glass stones. Generally it is mass-produced and will be priced from $5 to $45 (although some high-fashion items this season may cost more). Here are key guidelines to help when you shop.

 Fashion jewelry is not solid gold or silver. The gleaming color you see is a thin layer of bright metal deposited by electroplating on the surface of white metal or brass jewelry. In electroplating, clean, polished "raw" jewelry is dipped into solutions containing set amounts of gold or rhodium (a hard, brilliant, silver-like met-Suspended by a slim copper thread, the jewelry

Multiple plating: the finished article plated successively with various gold alloy solutions. Fine fashion jewelry is plated three times at a minimum-first with a copper plating, then nickel and finally the gold or rhodium solution.

Heavy gold electroplate: the electroplated item is finished with a rich karat topcoat solution which lends a fine jewelry appearance to articles constructed of sturdy base materials.

A FINAL GUIDE: You are not buying jewelry to pass on through generations in your family. You are buying ornamentation for today, for fun, for a self-image, for your life-style.

Don't be turned off by the seemingly ridiculous materials being used in fashion jewelry these days; the more ridiculous, the more alluring the piece may be. Wood? Why not? Plastic? What's wrong with it? Lucite and glass? It beckons in a way that even the most costly diamond may not.

And that wondrous feeling that you're not inviting a thief as you walk down the street with your ornamentation in full view. You needn't worry about insurance either. Sheer bliss

French Have Way With Words

PARIS-An American traveler in France can and look at the faces of the drivers. Maybe I'm find plenty to complain about in terms of high prices, but except for a few other hazards and shortcomings he will find far more to praise. Such, in any event, is the judgment of my fellow countryman from Rappahannock County, Va., J. Taliaferro Spelvin. J. T., as he is universally known in Sperryville, Woodville, Flint Hill and Jenkins Hollow, has been wandering about France for the past several weeks. We met for a stroll in the Tuileries.

James J. Kilpatrick:

In his best Virginia accent, which is fine for speaking Virginian but abominable for speaking French, he was saying "bonjour" to passersby. To my amazement, they were smiling and saying 'honjour' back at him.

"THE OLD HORROR stories about the rudeness of the French," J. T. remarked, "are no longer to be believed.

"Even the people who work for Air France, who used to be hired on a snootiness rating from one to 10, have been unbelievably civil. Innkeepers, waiters, taxi drivers, gendarmes, salescierks -they are as friendly as folks in Dallas or Memphis. Watch this.'

My friend stopped a lovely young lady. "Pardonnay moy," he said, "oo eh la moosay daze ampressioneestes?"

THE SUPER-HIGHWAYS are at least equal to our interstates, and the rural roads-J. T. had driven 800 miles on rural roads-are kept incredibly clean and trimmed. Eighty percent of the drivers, by his estimate, use their shoulder harness seat belts.

"Of course," he added meditatively, "there may be a reason for that. A little lust for the Grand Prix dwells in the heart of every true Frenchman. Set loose on a limited access highway, where the speed limit of 79 miles an hour is constantly ignored, he lays a heavy foot on the

Americans, capital punishment is gradually work-

When we read of demonstrations against or sabotage of nuclear facilities, let us remember Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. This pair of Communist espionage agents were electrocuted, June 19, 1953, at Sing Sing Prison, for passing pre-Hi-roshima sketches of the atom bombs to our perfi-

Choi has proposed that the next president be elected for an interim term in accordance with Park's 1972 constitution, by an electoral college composed almost entirely of supporters of the assassinated leader. The anti-Park politicians want the constitution amended to provide for free democratic elections.

Political sources say the 2,583-member electoral college probably would elect Choi, Park's prime minister who became acting president in accordance with the constitution when the head of the Korean Central Intelligence Agency assassinated Park on Oct. 26. He would then be in control of the machinery for the election of his successor.

Former President Yun Po-sun read a statement at a news conference demanding the resignation of the Choi government, formation of an interim government by "democratic forces," the immediate release of all political prisoners and restoration of freedom of the press and free political activity.

Electing a president in the electoral college is a shameless act of betraval.' the statement said. "We can never accept it. We must amend the constitution within three months and hold a general election as soon as possible." The statement also was signed by Kim Dae-jung, Park's opponent in the 1971 presidential election, and Quaker leader Ham Suk-hun. They and Yun are co-chairmen of the National Alliance for Democracy and National Unification.

The leader of the only opposition par-Park permitted to operate, Kim Young-sam of the New Democrats, also has denounced provisions of the 1972 constitution, which Park wrote to perpetuate his dictatorship. Kim is demanding rewriting of the constitution within three months and election of a new president in six or seven months.

Choi said the constitution should be amended and a president elected for a full term "as soon as realistically possible" after the electoral college chooses a president. The U.S. State Department endorsed Choi's proposal, calling it "a constructive effort to lead Korea ... toward a government which will have the broadest possible base of support.'

Deposed Leader Attends Mass For Coup Victims

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) - Deposed President Walter Guevara and members of his cabinet briefly came out of hiding today to attend a special mass for people killed in the bloody aftermath of Bolivia's latest coup.

Guevara, standing atop a car, later told some 3,000 persons that the only solution to the country's current political crisis was to oust Col. Alberto Natusch from the presidential palace. Natusch deposed Guevara in a Nov. 1 coup.

The people chanted "Down with military!" and "A united people will never be defeated!" as Guevara stretched his arms upward in a "V" for "victory"

sion estimates more than 600 people were killed, wounded or arrested during 'cleanup' operations Natusch instituted throughout La Paz following the coup. Bolivia actually has two governments now: Natusch and his cabinet, who occupy the government buildings; and Guevara and his cabinet, who remain in hiding but have the overwhelming support of the Congress, the unions, the students, the church clergy and the private sector. Each of these groups have issued statements supporting Guevara.

Hundreds of people jammed the streets in front of the church after Guevara's speech to keep the police or gov ernment security agents from following him and his cabinet as they departed.

Natusch claims his government is nationalist and leftist, but several years ago he said he was to the right of a demagogic, right-wing general, Hugo Banzer, who ruled Bolivia from 1971 to 1978.

Reagan has kept this lead intact while doing almost no campaigning playing the part of the sleeping giant while other Republican candidates battled for attention in early-primary states.

But the time for lying low has ended, and the one-time film star is using his declaration of candidacy to kick off a five-day, 12-city campaign swing.

Reagan strategists hope the grueling campaign schedule will dispel any concerns by voters that age may be slowing the candidate down. If he wins the nomination and the race, Reagan, who will be 69 next February, would be the oldest person ever elected president.

His entry rounds out the list of ma-

The Vietnamese and their Cambodian proteges rejected the truck-convoy proposal, which was first made by a group U.S. senators who visited Cambodia and Thailand last month. Officials in Phnom Penh objected because some of the supplies would go to areas controlled by Pol Pot's Khmer Rouge

Some relief supplies are being flown into Phnom Penh, carried up the Mekong River to Phnom Penh and landed at Kompong Som, Cambodia's chief seaport. But Western relief officials said these avenues are inadequate to meet the need, and sufficient supplies can be delivered only by the truck convoys.

The women who made the trip to Cambodia were Reps. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y.; Margaret Heckler, R-Mass.; Lindy Boggs, D-La.; Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo.; Barbara Mikulski, D-Md., and Olympia Snowe, R-Maine.

A seventh member of the group, Millicent Fenwick, R-N.J., remained in Bangkok, and an aide said she was "overtired" after a visit she and four others made Sunday to the Sa Kaew refugee camp 30 miles from the Cambodian border and to a Free Khmer camp of 100,-000 anti-communist refugees on the bor-

Nixon Studying Sites For New York Office

President Richard M. Nixon, who is moving from California to New York, is studying "several" locations for a midtown Manhattan office that could cost taxpayers from $100,000 to $280,000 a year, sources say.

Government officials have refused to give details on the search for a new government-paid office for Nixon, who bought a $750,000 Manhattan townhouse last month.

However, based on the former president's space request and what sources say the bids are asking in price-persquare-foot, the office could cost from $100,000 to $280,000 annually. The government pays for the office space of former presidents as well as providing money for staff, supplies and transportation. Ex-presidents also receive a $69,600-a-year pension. Government sources say the cost for moving Nixon's office furniture from San Clemente, Calif., to New York City could be an additional $7,000 to $8,000. Nixon notified the General Services Administration on Oct. 12 that he would need office space in New York City ear-move into his new townhouse. The GSA, the government's landlord and supply agency, advertised for the space in The New York Times' classified ads, requesting 4,000 to 8,000 square feet of "first-class air-conditioned office

ly next year, when he is expected to space in mid-Manhattan." GSA officials said "several" offers were received and forwarded to Nixon, who is expected to decide which one he wants - if any - within a month or so.

However, the officials refused to say how much the bids were for or where the prospective office sites are. They said information on unawarded bids was confidential.

Officials Mull MX Missile Deployment

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The military is proceeding with development of the new MX Intercontinental missile, but officials are still considering alternatives to the proposed "race track" system of hiding its launchers. The system recently selected by President Carter involves 4,600 launchers in remote desert areas of Utah, Nevada, Arizona or New Mexico, with 200 closed loop roads or "race tracks," and 23 shelters located every 11/2 miles. Each missile would be moved on a huge transport-erector launcher that could pull in at any one of the concealed shelters and prepare for firing. Each 192,000-pound missile could carry 10 individually targeted warheads. The Soviets undoubtedly know the location of all U.S. fixed silos, but the new system would present 4.600 potential launching positons, so there would be no way to know where they were at any given time. The Air Force estimates the system will cost $3.3 billion a year for 10 years plus annual operating costs of about $400 million, for a total $37 billion - an amount that could double with inflation, escalating labor costs and overruns.

The cheaper alternatives which have been suggested so far include:

-Mobile missiles to be carried on STOL (short takeoff and landing) aircraft that could be deployed at up to 100 bases and lift off at the first sign of a Soviet first strike. The aircraft, each carrying a missile with up to 10 warheads, could land anywhere - on a highway, in a field - to set up the "bird" and fire away if Russian missiles were determined to be under way.

-A fleet of small, unsophisticated submarines carrying several multi-warhead missiles apiece

Iranian Citizens Find Life Uncomfortable

By The Associated Press

Whatever their politics, some Iranians say they don't find life in the United States easy today. Angry Americans are shouting at them, shunning their businesses and - in rare instances - acting out U.S. frustrations with violence.

The slogans aimed at Iranians in the United States in recent days have been bitter - "Rape All Iranian Women," Nuke Iran," "Get The Hell Out of America.

And while some have marched in support of Moslems holding 62 Americans hostage in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, other Iranians who do not support the takeover are feeling a hostile American backlash.

Since the takeover:

-Some Iranian-American businessmen in California have changed the names of their stores to remove the word "Iran.

-A non-Iranian student at Ohio's Case Western Reserve University was beaten when angry youths broke into his dormitory room looking for his Iranian roommate, university officials said.

-Three Denver teen-agers went out to "find some Iranians to hassle," police said. Before the night was over, one of the teen-agers was dead and two were wounded.

-Iranian effigies were hung from a traffic signal and a dormitory window at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, one Iranian student said. Others reported threatening telephone calls.

-At least three threatening phone calls were reported by Iranian students at Clemson University in South Carolina, said Otis Nelson, director of the school's international services office. He said the calls probably were cranks, "where people look up the names in the phone book and if the name even looks Iranian, they'll call."

Carter Expects Action On Students

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter wants the government to move swiftly to deport Iranian students who are in the United States illegally. But the Justice Department says that will take at least several weeks.

"The president expects the Justice Department to move on this without de-White House press secretary Jody Powell said Sunday.

But a Justice Department official said deportations will not begin until December at the earliest.

"We are certainly not going to see any actual deportations within the month," said the official, who did not wish to be identified. "It will take a little longer than that."

The order to deport Iranian students who are not in compliance with the terms of their entry visas was given Saturday by Carter.

The action was intended to discourage Iranian student demonstrations out of fear for the safety of the approximate-

The president is known to believe that protests here, especially if they are violent, may escalate tensions and further endanger the captives.

But it remained unclear whether the deportation order would have the intended effect, except perhaps psychologically, since demonstrating itself is not cause for deportation.

While urging rapid action on the de-portation order, Powell stressed that not all Iranian students sympathize with the demand that the shah be returned to face criminal charges in Iran before the hostages are released.

We have had Iranian students and other Iranians contact the White House to express their concern for the lives over there," Powell said. "Just being an Iranian in this country is not a sign of sympathy with the holding of the hos-

We will be putting out more complete information on how this process is supposed to be handled," the official said. "Until the notice comes out, people are not expected to just come forward.'

There are several violations of student visas that may be cause for deportation. They include dropping out of school; working without permission; not taking a full course load; not being in good academic standing; having an expired visa, and being convicted of a crime of violence and sentenced to at least a year in prison.

In each case, an immigration judge will hold a hearing and decide whether to deport a student. If there is no appeal, the immigration judge will set a deadline by which the student must leave the country.

It will take time to schedule the hearings and any appeals will take considera-

Stamboulieh was released Saturday on orders from Assistant County Attorney Paul Lindholm. He said there was 'no evidence whatsoever' to suggest that Samboulieh was involved in the alleged plot.

Stamboulieh and the four Iranians, who are all Mankato State University students, were arrested after police received a tip about the alleged plot.

Stamboulieh said he was arrested after he came to help a friend from the school who was being held by security guards at the mansion. He said he hopes his arrest does not prevent him from becoming a permanent U.S. resident.

The four Iranian students remain in Ramsey County Jail today, awaiting arraignment. They were booked on a charge of conspiracy to kidnap, and on charges of conspiracy to commit assault and possession of a pistol without a per-

Lindholm said Sunday that the investigation was continuing, but said he did not know when the four might be arraigned.

He said formal charges must be filed by noon Tuesday under state law or the students would have to be released.

Stamboulieh and two of the Iranian students were arrested during a reception for foreign students at the governor's mansion. The other two Iranians, who were not invited to the reception, were arrested in a car near the mansion. Two shotguns and a handgun were taken from the car, according to St. Paul Police Chief Richard Rowan.

DA Considering Action To Take In Shooting

DENVER (AP) - While the governor urged Colorado residents to "stay District Attorney Dale Tooley said it could be Wednesday before he decides what charges, if any, to file against an Iranian held in the shooting death of a 15-year-old high school boy.

Two other youths, who police said were looking for "some Iranians to hassle," were wounded in the shooting Sunday, which followed several days of demonstrations in Denver and Boulder, over the seizure of American hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

Afshin Shariati, 21, a student at Loretto Heights College, was being held in the city jail. Tooley said Shariati would be advised of his rights at a hearing to-

LB.

"We're investigating a possible homicide, a possible burglary and several other matters," Tooley said.

Shariati was arrested Sunday after Paul Moritzky was found dead near Shariati's third-floor apartment, where a window had been smashed.

Steve Roane, 17, and Michael Lopez, 16, both of Denver, also were struck by gunfire, police said. Lopez was wounded in the arm and hospitalized, while Roane was treated for a leg wound and

Gov. Richard Lamm called a news conference at halftime during the Denver-New England professional football game to urge Colorado residents to "not react with lawlessness" to the shootings.

Police Detective Doug Hildebrant said the three youths who were shot, along with several others, apparently had decided Saturday night they would "find some Iranians to hassle." Hildebrant said the youths apparently were searching for mailboxes in the apartment complex, where several Arabs live, for an Iranian name.

Washington Post owner Katharine Graham is No. 1 on the newest list by the World Almanac, and actress Jane Fonda is in second place.

Almanac editors called Mrs. Carter the nation's most powerful woma, but shedid not get the top slot because there is a segment of the population that just doesn't like Mrs. Carter, maybe because they consider her too powerful," said almanac publisher Jane D. Flatt.

She said the selections announced Sunday were made by the editorial staffs of 126 newspapers that co-sponsor the almanac - publications that she said "represent a broad spectrum of American thinking."

Miss Flatt said Mrs. Graham, who was No. 2 last year, was "the runaway favorite in the new list." She is chairman and chief executive of the Washington Post Co., which owns the Washington daily newspaper, Newsweek magazine and radio and television stations.

New to the 1980 list were Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne, consumer columnist Bess Myerson, television commentator Shana Alexander, Children's TV Workshop president Joan Ganz Cooney and soprano Beverly Sills, who heads the New York City Opera.

Kennedy Leads 'Best-Dressed' List

CHICAGO (AP) - Just a few days after he threw his hat in the ring, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., already has upset President Carter as the best-dressed man in Kennedy, who announced his candidacy for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination last week, was chosen by the Custom Tailor's Guild of America. Each year, the guild asks its members to name their choices for the bestdressed men in 10 different career fields.

The 10 must be "immaculately groomed and properly dressed for all occasions," said Alfonso Caprio, president of

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - The Dixieland Saints played 'McNamara's Band," and the Irish Channel neighborhood bloomed green as nearly 1,000 persons jammed a narrow street for a block party honoring Ireland's Prime Minister Jack Lynch.

"From all over New Orleans, this is where people come to have a good time," said bass drum player Harold Scherer between Irish tunes. He said the band members all come from the Irish Channel.

Acuff Receives Gift From China

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Country music star Roy Acuff looked at the gift from his new Chinese friend and said he thought the only thing bamboo could be used for was a fishing pole. Acuff exchanged gifts Saturday night on the Grand Ole Opry stage with Chai Zemin, the Chinese ambassador to the United States.

Chai gave Acuff a painting mounted on a bamboo backing while Acuff reciprocated with a book on the Grand Ole Opry

Chai headed a six-member delega-ACUFF tion from the People's Republic of China on a three-day visit to Nashville.

Iranian Crisis Dampens Veterans Day Activities

Americans gathered as usual on the 11th day of the 11th month to honor the nation's combat veterans, but traditional activities were overshadowed by recent events in Iran.

The bitterness of many Vietnam veterans, underscored by a recent poll showing more than half their countrymen believe they were "suckers" to take part in that conflict, also cast a pall over some observances.

We've been thrown in the dump like an old pair of shoes," Marine Set. Raymond Puller, 39, said at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Washington, where he is recovering from the 35th operation on a leg shattered during his third day in Vietnam in 1971. "And to think I enlisted."

The VA commissioned the recent Louis Harris and Associates poll that indicated only 20 percent of the American public believes sending U.S. troops to Vietnam was the right thing to have done. Nearly two-thirds of those polled believed U.S. involvement in that conflict was a mistake, while the remainder had no opinion or were uncertain.

Regardless of their position on the war, a majority of those surveyed ex-pressed positive feelings about Vietnam veterans - and the survey showed increased sympathy for their plight. In 1971, 48 percent of those polled felt Vietnam veterans were treated worse than those who served in previous wars, compared to 64 percent this year. Still, bands played, flags flew and wreaths were placed at gravesites around the nation as they have been since Armistice Day marked the end of World War I. The holiday later was renamed "Veterans Day" to honor veterans of all conflicts in which American lives

Vietnam veteran who lost both legs and one arm in combat - placed a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Washington.

In Philadelphia, about 200 veterans gathered in the rain at Washington Square, displaying the flag and saluting as the Police and Fireman's Band played the national anthem. Politicians and military officers addressed the crowd, expressing relief that no Americans now are on the battlefield.

Veteran Bill Wibble reminded the crowd that all is not well, however, with a sign saying, "Iran can keep the oil but can't keep the Americans."

About 60 Americans have been held since Nov. 4 at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran by Iranians demanding that the ousted shah be returned to Iran for trial.

Club Notables

By CONNIE CHAPMAN Family News Staff

There are so many "notable events" planned for the week ahead of us that it is hard to know where to start in highlighting them.

Before we look at some regular club events, let's spotlight a few which received detailed coverage in Sunday's Family News.

If you make it through this work week. Saturday offers a dazzling choice of enjoyable and edifying events. The Prime Time for Women conference scheduled by the Continuing Education Division of Tech, because of its broad spectrum of topics and the coming of Lubboock own special headliner, Sarah Weddington, has to top the list. Following closely on that list must come the Before Christmas Financial Planning Seminar sponsored by Family Service Association of Lubbock and scheduled for the morning at First United Methodist Church. A seminar for recently remarried persons is also scheduled for that busy day at Second Baptist Church.

But Saturday isn't the only busy day predicted for this week. Remember the Fooderama sponsored by those super cooks, the Sisterhood of the Temple Shaareth Israel scheduled for Wednes-

Details on all these programs can be obtained by pulling yesterday's paper out from under the sofa (that's where it is in our house anyway) and reading again the Family News section.

Leafing through the many club notices which were turned in to us last week, we noticed several clubs are having special dinner meetings which fea-- what else? - the traditional turkey bird for Thanksgiving repasts.

The title for the Saturday meeting of AAUW caught the eye before we realized here was another event for that very busy day. The scope of the Widow Support Unit will be the topic for the 9 a.m. meeting at the Lubbock Women's Club. Special guest speakers will be Caroltta Highland and Dr. Phyllis Silverman of Washington, D.C.

The Green Thumb Junior Garden Club which is sponsored by the Petal Pushers Garden Club will have a workshop on making dish gardens Thursday at Ballenger School at 1 p.m.

Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The Epilepsy Society of the South Plains will meet at the Maxey Community Center, 30th and Oxford, to hear Dick Lupia, vocational rehabilitation counselor, discuss services available to the handicapped.

Another vote for "notable topic" goes this week to the Lubbock Educational Secretaries Association who will be meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Board room of the Central Administration Building of LISD. The eye-catching title for the secretaries' program is the increasingly popular "Chisanbob" math. Elementary math consultant, Ila Curry will lead the discussion.

THIS WEEK AT THE LUBBOCK WOMEN'S CLUB: Friday at noon the Flair for Living Roundtable will hear Mrs. Tim Moore telling about the history of glass and the process by which it is

MODERN DINING - What ever happened to modern? Not, contemporary, or transitional but pure, elegant modern, the kind of furniture that functions as sculpture within a room, that makes a statement about beauty, about simplicity. Come January, that clean, hard-edged modern will once again appear in stores, designed by Paul Evans. Both buffet and table are five feet long, and the table can be extended with two 15inch leaves. As for the buffet, Paul Evans has designed it with two doors that are executed to resemble four, giving this piece a pure architectural look that shines with quality

West German Created Children's Village Idea

NEW YORK (Special) - A West German humanitarian who has already set up 117 villages to house orphaned children in 60 countries around the world, said recently that he has 17 more in the planning stages as well as 18 more under construction

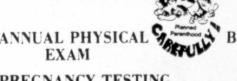

In an interview published in the current "Quest/79" magazine, Hermann Gmeiner, three times nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize and the recipient of scores of high honors, says that his villages are now receiving $70-million annually from friends around the world to house more than 15,000 youngsters.

Gmeiner's international network of SOS Children's Villages puts six to eight boys and girls of varying ages into brother-and-sister like homes with a surrogate mother instead of relegating them to orphanages or a series of foster homes.

The one-family house arrangement conceived by Gmeiner is operated by a salaried mother who, unlike a foster mother, does not have children of her own to compete with the adopted siblings. Nor is there a father in the house. Gmeiner concedes that "it is an artificial family, of course, not to be compared with adoption or a good, permanent foster home. But how many of those can

According to "Quest/79", Gmeiner began his operation with $24 in April, 1949, because he did not want to see European children orphaned by the Second World War relegated to "a prison or a

Dear Abby,

reasonably successful man - never married, but very much in love with a beautiful young woman with a Southern mountain background. My hangup is that I have a strict New England heritage, and am accustomed to dating girls who would not even consider kissing a fellow on a first date. This girl I'm in love with admitted that she let every guy she ever dated have his way with her.

She says that all young girls "in those hills" were raised that way, and it wasn't until her family moved to a major city that she learned "right from

DEAR ABBY: I am a 32-year-old

So here I am, a man who has always dreamed of marrying a virgin, in love with a girl who can't even remember when or how she lost her virginity. (She 'thinks" she was 12 or 13.)

I would like to convince myself that I can forget her past and marry this extramp and live happily ever after.

What are the odds, Abby? I am desperate for some professional advice.

DEAR GENTLEMAN: As long as you view this girl as an "ex-tramp," I would estimate your chances for a happy marriage are zilch. The poor girl has al ready been the victim of an amoral upbringing; spare her the added burden of a "holier than thou" husband.

DEAR ABBY: I feel kind of weird writing to you, but here goes. You see, there is this real cute guy at school who follows me in the hall, pulls my hair and socks me on the arm. He has tried to trip me, grab my jacket and shove me into the lockers. He kicked me on the bus once and hit me in the head with his

All the kids say he likes me. So why does he act this way?

LIKES HIM IN ANAHEIM

DEAR LIKES: It's his way of making YOU notice HIM. If you react, you'll probably lose him. Ignore him and you'll drive him wild.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17, and I don't like to brag but I guess you could call me a "popular" girl. I have a good reputation and don't want to spoil it, but here is my problem:

After a fellow has taken me to a movie or a dance, and somewhere afterwards to eat, I hate to turn him down when he wants to make out.

I never go too far, but I feel sort of cheap afterwards. I guess it's because in a way I am really trying to "repay" him for what he's spent on me.

I'm not serious with any of these guys, Abby, they're just dates. But after a guy has spent his hard-earned money on me, how can I turn him down? ALLENTOWN

DEAR ALLENTOWN: It's easy. All a guy is entitled to on a date is the pleasure of your company. And unless you want to lose your hard-earned reputation, don't feel obligated to give him his 'hard-earned' money's worth.

Consumers Reduce Loyalty

NEW YORK (UPI) - Loyalty is disappearing from the supermarket - a victim of inflation, the gasoline shortage and growing numbers of women in the work force, according to one survey.

Loyalty by shoppers, that is, to particular stores and to particular brands.

More than half the retailers surveyed recently by a grocery trade magazine expect consumers' loyalty to particular stores to decline significantly in the 1980s. Only four out of 10 insisted store preferences will never change.

Writing in the current issue of Progressive Grocer, associate editor Jo-Ann Zbtyniewski said the shopper's ultimate choice for a food store may be the supermarket that's nearest to his or her home, job or leisure activity.

As for consumers' loyalty to favorite brands, half the retailers contacted in the survey expect brand loyalty to decline by 1984, as consumers looking for ways to cut food costs switch around a lot of them trying out generics (the noname items) and private labels (the supermarket chain's label rather than a na-

Predictably, nearly two-thirds of the manufacturers queried say the decline will never happen," Zbtyniewski adds.

Shopping trips will be fewer, she predicts, mainly due to the impact of working women who have less time to shop and high gas prices which would force people to use their cars less often.

Zbytniewski says retailers expect convenience foods, microwave ovens and other appliances to slow the trend toward eating out, starting in the early

President Robert Power of the National Restaurant Association disagrees, she adds. He says, "The eating-out trend is continuing without let-up.

Power also told the magazine consumers are trading up to "tablecloth" restaurants from the fast food type because of smaller households and families and the aging population, all of whom are becoming more sophisticated in their preferences.

Old concepts of the "typical" female or male shopper are outmoded. Zbytniewski says, replaced by working women. one-person households, the elderly and after-5 p.m. shoppers. She said 52 percent of the persons surveyed for her report expect male shoppers to double

What do you bid now? A.—Partner has made a vulnerable overcall, and you have a fine hand and good trump support for him. A. - There is no question about playing a slam - indeed, your main concern should be about reaching a grand slam if partner has the right cards. The most descriptive bid you can make is a jump to six clubs. This shows our two-suiter and denies holding an ace (you would have cue bid it if you had one). In addition, one of your suits must have a hole in it, for with solid suits, you would simply have asked for aces. Partner should bid the grand slam with all four aces and the queen of diamonds.

By ERMA BOMBECK Okay, women of America. If we don't do a blessed thing all year, we've got to put our shoulders to the wheel and get Prince Charles married off.

The kid is 30 years old, hangs out at the castle a lot, and his best friend is his polo pony. Now don't tell me his mother isn't worried sick about him.

The trouble with the Queen is she knows nothing about the Jewish Mother syndrome. This includes: (a) sighing eving your son why he is trying to kill you; (b) marking an X on the calendar each day and anloudly nouncing

Another day without grandchildren," and (c) offering finder's fees to anyone who can uncover a girl with straight teeth who knows her place.

Frankly, I don't think royalty knows anything about making a match. Let's examine Prince Charles' habits. What does he do for a living? He goes to funerals. Is that any place to meet girls? Maybe if he took a few informal classes or dropped in at a Thank God It's Friday, things might look up.

Another drawback is the Queen. Who wants a mother-in-law who expects her son to live at home after he's married? All I know is if Prince Charles doesn't get off the dime - and soon all the goodies will be gone.

Debbie Boone would have been perfect but someone picked her off a few months ago.

Marie Osmond would be great. She's a smiler and a waver, but Prince Charles must have a disciple of the Church of England and Marie is a Mormon. (Besides, there wouldn't be room in Westminster for the bride's entire family.)

Gloria Steinem is out because she's too militant to walk behind the Prince and call him "Sir" for the rest of her life. (Besides, her philosophy of "If a man's home is his castle, let him clean it" might be unpopular.)

Ladies, I think we're looking for a unique woman from English background who is decorative, subservient, has a good sense of humor, can embrace Protestantism, be comfortable in gowns and jewels, be non-threatening to the Queen, and have international appeal.

Good Lord! I have just described Miss Piggy!

the $547.6-billion budget. The "windfall profits" tax on the oil industry is expected to tie up the Senate for at least a week.

Carter proposed the tax to soak up about half the extra money that will flow to the oil industry over the nextdecade as a result of his decision to phase out federal price controls on crude oil produced in this country.

The House changed the tax slightly in June and passed a version that from 1980 through 1990 would bring in close to the $298 billion Carter had asked.

The Senate Finance Committee, con-The purpose of the exercise is to cerned that a tax that is too stiff would evaluate each unit's ability to respond rob the oil industry of money needed for exploration and production, exempted For that reason, no warning was passeveral categories of oil, cutting the revsed to participating troops and the 2 a.m. phone call was their first notice, enue projection to about $138 billion.

Several of those exemptions were supported by some of the 11 moderate and liberal Finance Committee memkind of fightings units, which the United bers who now are pledging efforts to States may eventually designate as part strengthen the tax once again.

The group, led by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., reported to the Senate that some of the exemptions are not justified because "they do not enhance production and ... they significantly reduce badly needed revenue.

The group of five Democrats and six Republicans will concentrate on trying to increase the tax on "new" oil from the 60 percent rate voted by the committee to 70 percent. That would bring in an additional $25 billion. Another amendment is aimed at retaining the tax well into the 1990s.

On the other hand, conservatives and oil-state senators will try to convince the Senate the tax should be weakened further by granting additional exemptions for producers not associated with the giant oil companies.

Some in this group, such as Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, are trying to kill the tax outright - branding it an attempt to punish the oil industry because of rising energy prices. But even some of the oil industry's closest supporters concede that a tax at least as tough as the one recommended by the Finance Committee will be approved by Congress this

Both the House and Senate already have passed legislation to help the nation's poor pay their heating bills this winter. The Finance Committee bill would earmark close to $65 billion for such aid over the next decade.

In addition, the measure would set aside $32 billion during that period for tax credits to encourage conservation and switching from oil to other fuels. Another $15 billion would go for transportation improvements.

By The Associated Press

A Palestinian delegation many regarded as the best hope for winning freedom for the U.S. Embassy hostages in Tehran gave up its efforts today and left the Iranian capital, a Palestine Liberation Organization official announced in Kuwait.

Word of the PLO's apparent failure to end the impasse came as Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's regime and the Moslem militants holding 98 hostages at the Tehran embassy reaffirmed their determination to face down the United States in the tense confrontation.

Tehran Radio said the Iranian people, heeding the call of the student militants, began a five-day hunger strike today to press the Iranian demand for the extradition of the deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi from the United

A State Department spokesman said there were no indications that the hostages would be forced to take part in the

The official Iranian radio, monitored in London, also reported that Khomeini's Revolutionary Council had met and discussed the possibility of U.S. military intervention or economic reprisals to end the embassy standoff.

One Council member, identified as Dr. Bahonar, said that if the United States, which exports large amounts of food to Iran, begins a trade blockade, the Iranians might strike back with an oil embargo, the radio reported. These statements came before the report of the cutoff in U.S. oil purchases.

In another move, Iran's new foreign affairs chief, Abolhassan Bani Sadr, summoned all foreign ambassadors in Tehran for a meeting today and urged that their governments pressure the Carter administration to extradite the shah, an Iranian Foreign Ministry spokesman said.

PLO sources reported over the weekend that the three-man delegation sent by PLO leader Yasser Arafat was engaged in intense talks at the Foreign Ministry with Iranian officials and representatives of the students.

But Salah Khalaf, No. 2 man in Arafat's Fatah guerrilla group, told reporters in Kuwait today that the delegation had left for Damascus, Syria

Iranians that "despite the fact that we side with the Iranian revolution on any confrontation or battle, and despite our high regard for the Iranian revolution, we believe America cannot be fought through occupation of its embassy but rather through a serious and radical confrontation.

Khalaf did not say how the Iranians responded to the PLO's efforts.

He insisted that the Palestinians were not engaged in mediation. PLO officials had said previously that acting as an intermediary requires both sides' agreement and they were acting without U.S. sanction. It was not known whether the three

GALVESTON (UPI) - Firefighters have decided they might be unable to extinguish the 11-day-old blaze aboard a wrecked oil tanker that has spilled thousands of gallons of oil into the Gulf of Mexico.

Coast Guard spokesman Richard Griggs said today Dutch and American firefighers instead were trying to contain the fire in compartments that had not burned, hoping it will burn itself out soon. Estimates were that could take

The 772-foot Burmah Agate, carrying 16 million gallons of crude oil bound for Houston refineries, has burned and spilled oil since 5 a.m. Nov. 1 when it collided with the outbound freighter Mimosa. Thirty-two crewmen died.

"They (the firefighters) are primarily concentrating their efforts on keeping the forward tanks that have not been affected cool," Griggs said.

"If, at some point, the fire goes down enough that they think they can put the fire out without danger of re-ignition from the heat of the ship, they would like to do that.

Griggs said the exact amount of the spill was undetermined, but early estimates were 15,000 to 20,000 barrels or about 840,000 gallons.

Enough had spilled so that the vessel, previously grounded in 40-foot water, had refloated. Griggs said nine of 30 damaged compartments appeared to have spilled or burned cargo exposed to the sea and that the spill had slowed.

"There's just not that much oil comng from the ship," Griggs said.

He said there had been no repetition during the weekend of last week's series of damage expanding explosions, but he said the danger that fire and blasts could further open tanks to the sea kept firefighters pouring water on the vessel to keep it cool.

Meanwhile, Griggs said a 5-mile-long, half-mile-wide patch of oil that washed into environmentally sensitive Galveston Bay late Friday had disappeared, most of it apparently washing ashore on Smith Point and Bolivar Peninsula.

He said there had been unconfirmed reports of a few oiled birds on San Jose Island immediately north of the entrance to Corpus Christi Bay.

Griggs said the leading edge of the spilled oil had drifted 170 miles from the collision site and today was offshore of Padre Island south of Corpus Christi

The island was blackened last summer by spilled oil drifting 500 miles from the Ixtoc I well in Mexico's Bay of Campeche, which blew out June 3 and remains uncontrolled

Griggs said beach cleanup crews worked on Galveston Island, but that most of the "several miles" of polluted beach along a 140-mile stretch of Texas coastline would be left untouched.

He said scientists had decided cleanup can do more damage than leaving the oil for nature to clean up.

His main problem has been with William Loeb, publisher of the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader, whose paper bitterly attacked Crane, calling him among

Crane barred Union Leader reporters from his news conferences - a decision he later rescinded - and blamed Reagan for the attack. This led the conserv-

Conservative direct mail expert Richard Viguerie, who helped Crane overcome his lack of name recognition with a massive direct mail campaign, also became disillusioned. Crane staffers complain that Viguerie spent almost as much in his fund-raising effort as he raised

Crane shrugs off the dissension, saying it amounts to "intramural fights within the family."

The Loeb attacks, which upset him at the time, are "a ripple on the conserva-tive ocean," he says now.

Dole Hurt By Lack Of Money

By ROBERT SPEPARD WASHINGTON (UPI) - Sen. Robert Dole is a man who has been to the heights and glimpsed the political promised land.

In 1976, he stood before a cheering Republican convention as President Ford's choice for a vice presidential running mate.

In 1980, the Kansas senator hopes to again stand before the GOP convention hearing the roar of applause, but this time as his party's presidential nominee.

To reach that goal, Dole, 56, must fight his way through a crowd of GOP contenders. At the moment, he is generally ranked in the middle of that group, pushing a campaign that must show early signs of success in order to survive.

Dole is frustrated by a shortage of money and the fact that his Senate duties have limited his campaign forays.

He cites occasional polls in New Hampshire and Iowa placing him second or third and says, "Just think what we could do if we had money. Dole sees Sen. Edward Kennedy as Fernandez said earlier this year that one of the issues to confront an American president in the 1980s is how to handle relations in the Western Hemisphere where the Caribbean is becoming a communist area.

He has said that other key presidential issues for the 1980s are relations with now oil-rich Mexico, the problem of illegal aliens, keeping inflation low and employment high, and adequate low-cost housing without too much government involvement.

Fernandez has appeared at a number of the Republican candidate forums around the nation in the last year. His usual approach is to tell his life story and to suggest that there is no candidate more representative of the American dream than he. Time after time, he has brought the GOP audiences to their feet in applause, in some cases completely

Stolen Car Suspect Involved In Two Accidents

A woman who allegedly stole a car in the 2300-block of Second Place was involved in two separate traffic accidents shortly before midnight Sunday and early this morning, with one of the mishaps injuring a 29-year-old Hurst man.

Reports indicate the 25-year-old Lubbock woman was ticketed in the first accident for failure to yield the right of way and driving without a license after the car she was driving was in collision with a motorcycle at North Avenue Q Drive and Erskine Street.

The driver of the motorcycle, Jeronimo Galban Jr. of Hurst was listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Health Sciences Center Hospital.

About 21/2 hours later, the woman was involved in another traffic accident in the 2400-block of Auburn Street, according to police.

Reports indicated there were no injuries in the second mishap. However, police were told by a man living in the 2300block of Second Place that the woman had taken his car without permission.

Officers investigating the woman's second accident found her two previous traffic citations on the front seat of the vehicle. There were no reports showing the woman was in custody early today.

In another traffic-related incident, a 19-year-old Lubbock woman was arrested for allegedly being intoxicated when she was involved in an accident at 23rd Street and Avenue O about 3:30 a.m. to-

A 22-year-old Lubbock woman was taken into police custody for allegedly being drunk when she slammed her car into a tree in the 1500-block of 30th Street about 12:15 a.m. today.

Reports indicate the woman drove through a fence and hit a tree in the back yard of a residence. An assault victim, taken to Methodist Hospital about 11:30 p.m. Sunday, told police she was beaten by her 25-year-old husband in front of a cafe at East Cornell Street and Guava Avenue.

She told police the man apparently was angered because he overheard her talking to some friends about one of the suspect's girlfriends.

A 23-year-old Lubbock man, taken to St. Mary's Hospital about 8:30 p.m. Sunday for treatment of a gunshot wound in the hip, said he accidentally shot himself, but the investigating officer, in his report, stated it appeared the man had been shot by another subject.

The victim who was listed in satisfactory condition today at St. Mary's, said he was in an altercation with several other men at 14th Street and Avenue E when he pulled a .32-caliber pistol and threatened to shoot them if they did not

He said that after he persuaded the men to go, he was tucking his weapon back into his pants when it accidentally discharged, the bullet striking him in the hip. He said he forgot the gun was cocked when he was putting it away.

Two Lubbock men walked into the police station about 9:45 p.m. Sunday and reported the theft of a pickup truck which had been found earlier in the night at the scene of a burglary at Lubbock Transit Co. at 1809 Ave. C.

Although reports indicate one of the men resembled a suspect police saw running from the vehicle about 6:50 p.m., he was in different clothes and was not questioned about the break-in at John Wilson, a transit company executive, told police the break-in resulted in about $1,200 in damage and stolen property, including eight bus tires. Four of the stolen tires were recovered from inside the truck, which was parked near the office.

Police saw a young black man running from the vehicle, but were unable to apprehend him, according to reports. The two men reported the truck stolen about three hours after the burglary was discovered.

Steven Sims of 4415 37th St. said he lost $6,375 in property, including suits and jewelry, when his home was burglarized and ransacked between Friday and 6 p.m. Sunday

About $2,000 in guns and skiing equipment was the apparent loot taken in the break-in of Dwayne Clanton's 2124 31st St. residence between 6:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Sunday.

Lawrence McLinn of 2605 E. Bates St. told police that a black male shot him in the left arm about 12:30 a.m. Sunday outside his residence.

McLinn said that he had stepped outside to talk to another black male when the suspect began shooting at him.

The victim was treated and later released from St. Mary's Hospital.

A 22-year-old Texas Tech student was treated and later released from Methodist Hospital with injuries suffered in an assault about 3 a.m. Sunday at his 24th Street home.

Charles Pinkerton of 2402 24th St. described his attackers as white, 18 to 25, tall and of medium build. Pinkerton said that the two suspects had knocked repeatedly at his front door, left and later entered his home. He reported that one of the suspects struck him on the head with a flashlight before both suspects fled.

Pinkerton was taken to Methodist Hospital by private vehicle.

Police were called to a fight in progress at Number 16 Greek Circle about 2 a.m. Sunday, where a 20-year-old Tech student told them that five males from Number 20 Greek Circle had assaulted him and taken a $250 picture.

Greg Pagett of 304 Toledo Ave. gave police the name of one of the suspects. Reports indicate police later recovered the $250 picture.

Pagett was treated and later released from Methodist Hospital.

A 15-year-old Matthews Junior High School student told police that three Mexican-American youths assaulted him about midnight in the 200-block of Akron Avenue.

The boy said that he had seen one of the youths "prowling around" his sister's backyard and told him to leave. Reports show two other youths walked up behind the youth and that the first suspect hit him in the face and one of the other suspects tried to cut him with a knife before he could flee.

Police arrested a 19-year-old man for public intoxication, being loud and profane and resisting arrest about 1:58 a.m. Sunday at the Santa Fe Station restaur-

Reports indicate that police were trying to keep onlookers away from EMS technicians who were helping a heart attack victim at the restaurant. When police told a man to move away, the suspect reportedly became angry and began yelling at an officer.

When the officer told the suspect he was under arrest, the suspect allegedly began struggling with the officer but was restrained when the officer called for assistance.

Police arrested a 25-year-old Lubbock man for various traffic violations, including attempting to elude police, during an incident about 8:30 p.m. Satur-

Police were called to an assault at 20th Street and Indiana Avenue where they found a couple arguing in their car. The woman requested that police take her to her sister's house.

The woman's husband reportedly left the scene at a high rate of speed, and police pursued him on a chase which eventually ended at the suspect's home in the 2800-block of 32nd Street. When the suspect got out of his car, police told him he was under arrest. However, the suspect began walking away but police caught him.

The first burglary occurred Aug. 15, when someone tore a grate from the south window of the Lone Star Body Shop at 1902 Ave. C, and took $2,300 worth of items, including a Victor torch, a midget set of sockets, two Snap-on ratchets, two sets of Snap-on tools, two radios, an assortment of wrenches and a tool box. They also broke into cigarette and soft drink machines.

The second burglary happened at the body shop sometime be-tween Nov. 2 and Nov. 5, when someone again entered the building and took an assortment of automotive hand tools, two pneumatic grinders, a rotary fan blade and some Snap-on hand tools.

Persons with information on any of these or any other felony crimes are urged to call Crime Line. If the information aids police in solving the crime, the caller will be eligible for a reward of at least $300

undocumented; the city's method of handling its expense money was inefficient; the city office staff has completely turned over; and the city leaders have shown an almost complete lack of foresight into their impending financial cri-

Yet more responsible for Morton's bankruptcy than all of these factors combined is the antiquated and dilapidated city-owned natural gas system, which as one city employee said, "is not quite as leakproof as a screen door.' That may be putting it mildly - city records show that during the fiscal year that ended March 31, 1979, the system leaked some 108,223,300 cubic feet of natural gas, which cost the city $143,937

In recent weeks, Morton, population 2,738, has found itself in debt perhaps as much as $200,000 (about three times its annual tax collection), and has been forced to lay off 17 members of its 27-

Immediately following the vote, the Alabama pastor, the unanimous choice of the pulpit search committee, accepted the church's offer. He will begin his duties here Dec. 9. His family will arrive in Lubbock before the end of the year.

Wolfe presently is the pastor of Cottage Hill Baptist Church in Mobile. He has served that congregation for 7 1/2 years. Cottage Hill has a membership of 6,600 and is the second largest Southern Baptist Church in that state.

By coincidence, the last pastor of First Baptist, Dr. Jaroy Weber, who resigned in September of 1978, also came to Lubbock from Mobile.

Gas System Blamed For Morton's Financial Pinch

its accounts to the tune of about $88,000. If we could straighten out that gas system, we'd be flying high again," said Mayor Pro-Tem Hazel Hancock, who has assumed command of the city since Mayor J.A. Love became hospitalized out of state earlier this year. "Right now, that thing's killing us."

Morton is almost literally bleeding to death, actually, as audits indicate that those 1979 figures are almost twice as bad as the preceding year, and those weren't exactly uplifting. During the five-year period encompassing fiscal years 1974 through 1978, the gas system leaked 418,893,000 cubic feet of natural gas, causing losses of city revenue of $236,776, according to city audits performed during that time.

The audits showed that:

in fiscal year 1974, the pipeline leaked 83,204,000 cubic feet of natural gas, costing the city $18,471.

in fiscal year 1975, the pipeline leaked 63,807,000 cubic feet of natural gas, costing the city $15,250.

in fiscal year 1976, the pipeline leaked 130,268,000 cubic feet of natural gas, costing the city $80,246. That loss was 41 percent of all the gas piped through the system.

in fiscal year 1977, the pipeline leaked 84,345,000 cubic feet, of natural gas, costing the city $60,475. in fiscal year 1978, the pipeline leaked 57,272,000 cubic feet of natural gas, costing the city $62,334. Those figures, added to the 1979 losses, show that through fiscal years 1974-1979, the Morton natural gas pipeline system leaked 527,119,300 cubic feet of natural gas, costing the city $380,713.

And the situation got worse, Morton's natural gas crisis finally came to a head in May, when Carroll Shelton, a certified public accountant who has handled the city's audits since 1968, noticed that "two-thirds of all the gas in the system leaked away.

"I told them (city council) we'd be bankrupt in three or four months," he said. "And we are."

Former city manager Wiley Hodge, who stepped down during an emergency city council meeting Oct. 29 and is now facing the awesome responsibility of handling the runaway network, explained that the system is constructed of ancient "invasion pipe," which was designed to carry oil to U.S. military forces during wartime, and "certainly not something designed to last 40 years.

"There were always plans to replace it with top quality pipe," he said. "But when gas was only 15 cents a thousand (cubic feet), the losses were considered no big deal. Now that we're paying so much more, the figures have become immense.

"This was never a concern to past councils because gas was so cheap, Hodge said. "This thing came up 10 years ago and the council just didn't do anything.

The city council did make a move toward replacing the system in 1977, when Hodge first came to work for the city. At that time, the council secured a $250,000 Community Development Block Grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, from which $180,000 was earmarked for replacement of the leaky network. All the materials have been purchased, said Hodge, but only $20,000 of the grant remains, and only about 11,000 feet of the 52,000 feet of pipe have been laid. We felt like we could put the pipe in for about $1 a foot then, so we bought all the materials," Hancock explained. "Then we found out it wasn't quite that easy - that we had to work around all the water and sewer pipes that were already there, and that it would cost us $3 to $5 a foot to get it in the ground.

'Meanwhile," he said, "those leaks were just a-blowin' and a-goin'.

Hodge explained the city lost some other gas revenue this summer because the abundance of rainfall allowed many farmers with natural gas-fueled irrigation systems to farm dryland all year "That probably cost us a good

"In the winter we can make a profit even with our great leaks, but in the summer sales go way down while our overhead stays the same," he explained. The irrigation sales in an average dry summer are about equal to what Morton residents will buy in an average winter, so that usually gets us through the summer. But this summer was so wet nobody used any gas. We had some wells we didn't even crank up.'

Morton also operates its own water system, which doesn't leak. "We hope to make enough on gas each year to pay the city employees and keep a little ahead. We have a bond on the water system that costs us about $2,600 a month, so it takes all we bring in," Hancock said. "That gas system is supposed to be our bread and butter here.

The city council's action leading to the declaration of emergency "Are simply amazing," said one city employee. They should have seen it coming and done something about it.'

Minutes from city council meetings throughout 1979 indicate that as early as January 18, city employee Shelby Chancey "recomended the city purchase a gas leak detector and start fixing the leaks. Hazel Hancock told him we were working on the situation and would

Yet the minutes show a motion to buy the gas leak detector, a small, torchlike machine costing $2,195, was not carried out until the meeting of May 14, some four months later. During that time, the city books indicate the gas pipes leaked some 36,897,500 cubic feet of gas at a net retail value of approximately $65,000.

And during the meeting of June 11, the minutes show that the council requested an outside contractor be hired to install the remainder of the system. That motion was passed, but because of the city's financial crisis, it was never

The minutes from the Oct. 29 emergency session show that councilman Ray show running. And that's what we need

Luper "declared a financial crisis," and outlined a six-point program through which he felt the city could begin to regain its precarious financial footing. His proposals included consolidating the city and county law enforcement agencies; regenerating the help; fixing the gas leaks; laying off employees; hiring a qualified city manager, preferably one with a college degree and managerial background; and holding a bond election to fix the gas lines. The three-man police department was completely abolished, and while the Cochran County Sheriff's Department didn't exactly consolidate (they added an extra man but not one of the three ex-Morton policemen), it has lent some support. Seventeen of 27 city employees were laid off to save money, the search for a city manager is on and the bond election still is being considered.

In the meantime, there remain some very real and difficult problems for the town, including a frustrating Catch-22 with the gas system. "What would be best is if we could put a bunch of people out there and just get all the new system in the ground as fast as possible," said "But since we don't have the money to pay them, we can only have a minumum of people out there working on it. And the fewer people we have working on the lines, the longer it will take to fix them and the more lost gas there is the more its going to cost us.'

We've begun to collect our tax rolls and by Jan. 31, we should have about $77,000 from there," said Shelton. We've laid off the police department and several more employees and the city will now operate as conservatively as possible and provide the minimum amount of services. And once we get square with the bank, we think we can borrow about $25,000 to keep us going."

We've made some good progress with the leak detector, and we hope to cut the losses from the gas lines to a liveable amount in the next 90 days and hope we have a mild winter," said Hodge. "Actually, we have a crew of five working on the gas lines, and it's been very efficient. We like it like that."

"We'll interview three men for the city managers job this Monday night (tonight)," said Hancock. "If we don't get a city manager soon, we'll very likely go to a consultant and get him to explain all our options to us and exactly what each of them entails. Then we can reach some decision on our own.

'Currently, we feel like we're looking at three choices," he continued. "We can vote a tax raise and borrow from the bank; we can issue bonds on the city; or we can have a bond election. I really don't know what we'll do for sure right

"We do feel like the worst part is over with, though, and now we just have to concentrate on picking up the pieces and going from here," he said. "Now everyone will know exactly what the situation is, and we hope they'll continue to give us their support

You know, when things are going good, almost anybody can run the show," Hancock philosophized. "But when things start going bad, it takes some pretty special people to keep the

U.S. Awaits Report On Attack Of Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP) - The State Department is still waiting for information from the Haitian government on an incident at Port-au-Prince in which a U.S. diplomat was slapped in the face, a spokeswoman says.

Department press officer Susan Pitman says the confrontation occurred Friday night when the head of the Haitian Human Rights Committee, Gerard Gourgue, called a meeting to discuss such rights in Haiti. Witness said Gourgue and his wife and daughter were attacked and beaten by a group of men.

Leon Harris. Wolfe preached at all services at First Baptist Sunday and also held an open forum to answer questions from church members in the afternoon before the written vote was taken.

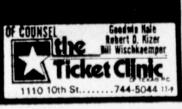

First Baptist has been looking for a pastor for 13 months, Harris said. Weber resigned for reasons of ill health and has continued to live in Lubbock. Weber came to the church in 1973.

The church which was founded in 1891 has had 10 pastors in the course of its history

First Baptist Church now has 10,277 members and in 1978 recorded receipts statement of belief and "believes that of $1,600,000. The church staff presently consists of nine ministers and 21 other

Garden, Gift & Christmas Shop Seen As Bonanza For Selection

"Garden, Gift & Christmas" what more appropriate name could there be for the big department at Bowman Lumber Co., 8301 S. University!

"Possibly nowhere else at this time is the Thanksgiving and Christmas preparation more evident in retail displays and in products and services rendered.

Long Hours Note the following: New winter hours for the Garden Gift & Christmas center are 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays. Also . . . this huge department will be open on Sundays, from 1:30 p.m. until 5 p.m., until Christmas.

Furthermore, a holiday open house is scheduled Nov. 29 through Dec. 1. Watch for details.

Of immediate interest is the fantastically increased stock ... with new gift lines from throughout the world. Cindy Harrist, department manager, emphasizes the several related services that one might not expect, such as:

Free Arranging, Wrapping Free gift wrapping! And free arranging of silk flower groupings when the materials are purchased in the Garden, Gift & Christmas Center. (If you have a container at home that you wish to use, great! We'll be glad to make the arrangements to fit it, or we have containers in stock, for sale to enable one's complete satisfaction and freedom of selection.

Specific Sale Prices Silk flowers (of which the center has scads), copper and brass wares, and baskets are sale priced at 25 per cent off until this Thursday, Nov. 15. So don't delay be in readiness for Thanksgiving and at sale prices until Nov. 15. Christmas Bows

Cindy and helpers add that they do custom Christmas bows for tree or for floral design, too, with a huge selection of Lyon ribbon in stock.

Tulip Sale Also, it is rightfully reminded that now is the time to put out tulips, daffodils, Dutch iris, etc., and Bowman is doing its part in stock and pricing. (Tulips presently are on sale at $2.88 per dozen.)

Now also is the time to apply Pax Winterizer, and free use of a spreader is afforded by Bowman upon purchase of

"November is a big month at Bowman's . . . and can be an equally significant season for you, too, what with the special considerations of the big Garden, and Christmas, for decor or for gifting. Gift & Christmas Center there.

November Specials Among Convincing Reasons For Relying On 5-Point Salon

November Specials have been announced at the 5-Point Beauty Salon, 5103 34th St., phone 795-4151! This means that a special assist for Thanksgiving and other season-related occasions has been the thoughtful consideration of this beauty salon. For the remainder of November, free haircuts are available with every permanent, from any of the experienced operators at 5-Point Beauty Salon.

And as another special, operators Vicki Wheeler and Ann Green are throughout the rest of November giving a hair cut and blow dry, regular $14, for only $10! Be sure and ask for Vicki or Ann for this special

The elite staff at 5-Point Beauty Salon includes Judy McKnight, Frances

All beauty services are afforded, it is emphasized, including haircuts for both men and women Whether pedicures, facials, mani-cures, razor eyebrow shaping or even for the famous Redken products, including makeup, a trip to 5-Point Beauty Salon surely is in order. It is a friendly place, and the invitation is extended to come on in, enjoy a cup of coffee and receive finest beauty services from folks whom likely already are your friends!

Don't delay, call 795-4151 now for an appointment, whatever the beauty service desired, and especially for the November specials.

Faye Butler has been owner since April of '78, and customer comments regarding the type shop provided have been most favorable.

The salon is open Mondays through Saturdays, and early and late appointments can be arranged.

For traditional beauty services, including the current specials, acquaintance and early patronage is heartily encouraged at the 5-Point Beauty Salon,

Cottage Antiques & Gifts Participates In Vicinity's Sunday Open House

"We want you to visit us on any weekday, but we especially extend invi-tation to our Open House this Sunday, 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., at The Cottage Antiques & Gifts, 2247 34th St., phone 744-3927.

The "Cottage" and a number of adiacent merchants at the 34th Street location are staging open house affording special opportunity to browse, plan and select for holiday needs.

"So come by our Open House, enjoy spiced tea with us" and discover just how very much is afforded in gift item and decor needs for the holidays at

For antiques that are out of the ordinary, for collectibles, distinctive gifts, decorator accessories, beveled glass, furniture, primitives and more, an entire new world awaits at The Cottage Antiques and Gifts.

The "cottage" outside appearance of the big facility may be misleading, for actually it is found that people are surprised when they come in for the first time, discovering the shop to be so much larger than expected.

There are 12 rooms bursting with antiques! And a warehouse area of furniture to be refinished

New Christmas Room There is a special depresssion glass room, a kitchen room, primitive room, Oriental room, year-around Christmas room, and others!

Ina May Stewart, owner, is a secondgeneration antique dealer; her parents had the Morgan Antiques in Shawnee, Okla. She has been in business at 2247 34th St. about six years.

If searching for a unique gift, The Cottage certainly would seem the answer. A really distinctive gift wrap is provided. Layaway is encouraged, as is use of Visa and Master Charge.

Ceramic Country at 2705-A 26th St. (Plaza Center) can eliminate a lot of those preparation headaches!

Affording both greenware and finshed items. Ceramic Country seems to be about the most appropriately-named business one could imagine. Everything in the attractive and relatively-new shop is related to ceramics.

And for that Christmas preparation: Special Orders Welcomed

Ceramic Country, phone 792-7502, still can take special orders on finished pieces! But hurry!

Lots of stock has been added since the shop's grand opening in September, and it has become especially well known for its individual attention at any hour during the day for those pursuing ceram-

New Hours Arranged Long pre-Christmas hours have been announced:

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays the shop is open from 10 a.m. until an 8 p.m. closing; on Tuesdays and Thursdays, hours are 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.; and on Saturday it is 9 'til 1.

The heavily-increased stock includes many, many items not only right for Christmas, but many of a Thanksgiving motif. Select from turkeys, platters, trays, bowls, nativity scenes, Christmas trees and numerous novelties

Big, Unique Selection The wildlife selection is especially noteworthy, including pheasants, tur-

"Did you realize that Arcadia Stone in Lubbock has a new home?"

Arcadia Stone Co., Inc., long at 1922 Ave. E. is now in big new facilities at 327 E. 74th St., just off the Loop 289 access road in southeast Lubbock; phone

We at Arcadia Stone, in our new home, invite your visits, inquiries and inspection. Most likely you have observed and admired the use of Arcadia Inc Stone in homes, businesses, yards or institutions in your neighborhood or community, wherever you live within the South Plains area. We would consider it a privilege to give a free estimate in

For a truly beautiful and functional fireplace, for stone work to modernize an existing home or business, to be utilized in expansion or new construction, commercially or for the home, Arcadia Stone is the firm to know.

Individuals and contractors alike, throughout the region, have voiced enthusiasm for Arcadia Stone. This is no surprise, for after all, can you imagine a lightweight and durable man-made stone at a fraction of the cost of some other materials, and available in seven decorator colors?

Full details of the product and services are available at the home-owned and home-operated Arcadia Stone Co.,

Arcadia stone has been used for exceptional beauty and warmth in numerous area situations . . . commercial and residential. It can be used wherever stone or masonry veneer is desired. It can be used to veneer complete homes or to enhance the quality of one's present residence.

Arcadia Stone is an enduring investment, whether for attractive fireplaces, for beautiful wall and floor tiles, for stepping stones, even the very popular exterior use on metal buildings. (Or interior walls for offices, as another practical and functionally-beautiful usage.) Arcadia Stone is ideal for other interior ornamental work such as walls, arches, columns and planters; it affords the attractive way to add a distinctive new look to the home's interior.

The Lubbock firm has its own installation crews, or one can purchase the stone for "do-it-yourself" projects.

Adaptable for either inside or exterior use. Arcadia Stone is flexible; it can be used on any sound surface including metal, wood, block and even sheetrock. It can add architectural beauty to shopping centers, commercial and professional buildings.

Maybe it is an entryway, a bath or a kitchen . . . or exterior landscaping and whatever the situation, Arcadia Stone is an attractive accent.

Cooperatives Increasing Across U.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) - The Food Fair sign still towers over the parking lot, but inside the vast supermarket one of America's new generation of food cooperatives has unplugged the soft music and taken over.

The New Haven Food Co-op, which moved into the boarded-up building last month, is replacing the manager's office and vending-machine area with a library

The Co-op has a van for transporting elderly shoppers, posters explaining food additives, a delicatessen serving knishes and pickled herring; and, in the tradition of most food cooperatives started in the 1970s, a wide selection of wholewheat spaghetti and organic peanut but-But perhaps most important for up to 12 percent in exchange for 12 hours of work each year.

Although cooperatives have been around as long there has been commerce, two periods in the past century produced a burst of new food cooperatives in the United States: The 1930s, when the nation was in a depression, and the 1970s.

Friendly Small Town Grocery Closes Doors After 45 Years

Former Treasurer Heads Food Firm

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Her signature appears on millions of $1 bills, but today Romana Acosta Banuelos is back to making money the way she did for years before becoming U.S. Treasurer making tortillas, tamales and other Mexican food specialties. Mrs. Banuelos was the highest-ranking Mexican-American appointee of the Nixon administration. Now she runs Ramona's Mexican Food Products Inc., which she began 30 years ago in suburban Gardena. She also is active in banking and community affairs and glances occasionally at the 3rd Supervisorial District of East Los Angeles.

Mrs. Banuelos seemed the ideal political appointment when President Nixon chose her for treasurer in 1971. But the nomination ran into immediate controversy culminating in televised Senate hearings after immigration officials found illegal aliens working in her plant.

Mrs. Banuelos, who believes political enemies were behind the immigration raid, satisfied the Senate that she was unaware of the illegal workers and was confirmed unanimously. Raymond Farrell, then head of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, later termed the raid "a put-up job." But she shows no bitterness over the controversy and says she enjoyed her three years in Washington. "It was fantastic, exciting and very educational, she said in a recent interview.

Her company, which will this year gross more than $12 million, had its beginnings in a small shed in front of the house where she was raising two sons who are now vice presidents of Ramon-

Mrs. Banuelos' second husband, Alejandro, invented some of the food processing machinery used at the plant.

Ramona's - the company got that name because everyone kept mispronouncing Romana - now has more than 400 employees. But Mrs. Banuelos, 53, still watches over the making of the tamales, burritos, chile rellenos and other products that are sold in markets and on trucks throughout Southern California and in several other states.

She resigned as U.S. Treasurer in 1974 because "there was nothing for me to do," Mrs. Banuelos says. "I'm a very energetic and active person with a lot of plans, so there was no reason for me to stay there. Also, the company suffered while I was gone, quite a bit."

Mrs. Banuelos became a Republican after working for former California Gov. Edmund "Pat" Brown's first election as a Democrat.

"We felt we had participated in his election," she recalls. "Then Brown was asked at a banquet in East Los Angeles if he intended to make any Mexican-American appointments. His response was 'Yes, if there are any who are qualified.' It was the same story we had heard before. If we were qualified to vote for him, there should have been someone who could be appointed.' Nixon, says Mrs. Banuelos, made more Mexican-American appointments than any other president, including Cart-

Three inmates were still at large today after police apprehended Stephen Jack Hart and Thomas Burton along a state highway early Sunday.

Police said Hart, 24, touched off the Wednesday escape when he pulled a gun on a guard in the maximum security prison's command center.

An off-duty state trooper, Philip Kesner, was killed during the escape. Police said he was driving by the penitentiary when he was pulled from his car and shot. Several prisoners fled in his car, and one was later found dead in the

Hart was serving a life sentence on a conviction of first degree murder. Burton, 30, was serving a 10-to-20 year sentence on a conviction of rape.

Police said Hart and Burton were being held in the Wood County jail until arrangements could be made to return them to the Moundsville penitentiary.

Since 1974, Davis' attorneys have battled the divorce suit, a charge that he murdered his stepdaughter at his Fort Worth mansion and a charge that he tried to hire someone to kill his divorce

The murder trial, which lasted several months in 1977, ended with Davis' acquittal. The first time he was tried on the charges of soliciting the murder of Judge Joe Eidson in 1978, the case ended in a hung jury in Houston. The retrial ended last week with the innocent ver-

Davis, along with his brother, inherited Ken Davis Industries - a corporation that includes 80 different companies and last year made about $40 million.

And attorneys on both sides of the murder solicitation trial agree Davis' wealth gave him a courtroom advantage.

"Cullen Davis had the financial resources," said Davis' chief defense attorney, flashy Texas trial lawyer Richard 'Racehorse' Haynes. "He was able to assemble a staff of lawyers and investigators who worked for months preparing

But Haynes said Davis' wealth was not the only reason for the innocent verdict in the murder-for-hire trial.

I believe juries would have found a poor man innocent in these cases.

Now the Oakland Raiders are ready to throw away the book and start over.

The Oilers took a page from their history book Sunday when Pastorini and Burrough reformed the old demolition team for touchdown bombs of 55 and 35 yards en route to a satisfying 31-17 victory over the shocked Oakland Raiders.

The victory boosted Houston to an 8-3 record and kept them one game behind Pittsburgh in the tough AFC Central Division race. Oakland dropped to a games this season.

Pastorini, with one of the worst quarterback ratings in the AFC, had been ineffective in mounting a strong passing game most of the season. But the Raiders felt the sting of Pastorini's judicious use of the forward pass. He passed only 13 times but completed eight for 208 yards and made each pass count.

"We thought we had to concentrate on stopping their running game and the passing game would take care of itself," said Oakland linebacker Phil Villapiano. I thought we did a good job on Campbell, but we didn't know they were going to move the ball that well.

he Raider didn't really stop Campbell, who rushed 107 yards on 32 carries and became the first player in AFC history to gain more than 1,000 yards in his first two seasons in the league. Campbell has 1,039 yards this season.

Winning Not Enough

THERE SHOULD BE A ROWDY neighborhood brawl at Texas Stadium tonight when the Dallas Cowboys take on the erratic, but very dangerous, Philadelphia Eagles. These two teams have been whanging away at each other for 20 years, so there's enough rivalry to make it interesting under any cir-

A few weeks ago, the Eagles stunned the National Football league by defeating the Pittsburgh Steelers. The Cowboys had just been drubbed by Cleveland, so the Philadelphians immediately vaulted into the position of prime challenger to the 'Pokes in the NFC East. Now comes an end to Dallas' domination, the experts proclaimed.

Since then, though, the charges of Coach Dick Vermeil have hit the slump that seems inevitable during a 16-game schedule. The Eagles lost some toughies, but got back on the track last week despite a last-minute loss to Cleveland. The Warbirds no doubt will be filled with fire and inspiration tonight, under the searching gaze of Howard Cosell and the network cameras.

ALTHOUGH THE COWBOYS have an impressive won-lost record, they haven't looked all that great of late, either. The Dallas offense died at Pittsburgh and was buried, with full military honors, at New York a week ago. Only a final flurry against the Giants kept the 'Pokes from being 7-3 instead of 8-

Coach Tom Landry also keeps pointing out that it isn't enough for a team to just muddle through. The gridders with Super Bowl dreams need to improve as the weeks go by and build up some momentum, in order to have a chance in the playoffs.

'Just getting into the playoffs doesn't mean anything, if you have to back in," Landry warns. "If you are not playing well, you're not going very far in the playoffs. You are going to get beat by the first good team you meet.

So Landry is looking for more than just a victory tonight SOME OBSERVERS ALREADY think that the Cowboys are doomed in their quest for another Super Bowl trophy. They have lost too many big games to the Steelers in recent years, the experts say, and Pittsburgh holds both physical and psychological advantages over the 'Pokes. Nonsense, say the Cowboy players and coaches in both private and public

We just failed to execute," a grim Landry declared after the 14-3 loss to Pittsburgh last month. "We can move the ball against them, but we didn't do it. It was one of our worst offensive performances in a long time.

A few days later, after time for analysis and evaluation, Landry had not changed his views at all.

'Pittsburgh's secondary is vulnerable." Landry asserted. "We have had a lot of success throwing against them. But the hard part is getting your receivers downfield - the Steelers work them over pretty good at the line of

Is Pittsburgh using illegal tactics?

'The officials don't throw the flag," Landry said, leaving the interpretation up to his listeners.

INDIVIDUALLY, THE COWBOYS are not awed by the Steelers. Some of the 'Pokes quickly assume their boxing stance at the mention of Pittsburgh, remembering some of the incidents of Super Bowls X and XIII, but none of Sub quarterback Danny White got his first chance to see the Steelers at close range during the tussle last month, after Roger Staubach was knocked out in a helmet-to-helmet collision with L.C. Greenwood. Roger was evading rushers and trying to pass, and was still behind the line of scrimmage. The NFL rule book says the quarterback shall not be hit in the head by anything fist, forearm, shoulder or helmet. But that's another story.

Missed Opportunities Hurt Tech's Chances

By NORVAL POLLARD Executive Sports Editor

Saturday's 3-3 homecoming tie with Texas Christian didn't do much to lift the sagging spirits of Texas Tech's coaching staff. It was a disappointing setback of sorts.

And has been the case so many times this season, it was a matter of the Red Raider offense not taking advantage of several scoring opportunities that would have made the difference in the contest.

We could have walked in for a touchdown on the fourth-and-goal play if we would have made the pitch," Tech head coach Rex Dockery said after reviewing films of the game Sunday. "But we didn't make the pitch. It was just one of those unfortunate things.

action to the left. A fake handoff to fullback James Hadnot attracted most of the Horned Frog defenders, but freshman quarterback Jim Hart was just slightly off on his pitch to tailback Mark Olbert and a fumble resulted. When Hart finally pounced on the loose football, TCU had turned back the Red and Black and regained possession at the Tech 15-vard line.

The Horned Frogs went on to march 81 yards on their final offensive possession of the contest, and Greg Porter kicked a 28-yard field goal to allow the Frogs to tie the heavily favored Raiders.

We had our opportunities to score," Dockery added. "We just didn't take advantage of them. We played an excellent game defensively, but we couldn't score when we had the chance.'

Hart, who started the game in place of the injured Ron Reeves, turned in a decent performance. He rushed for 67 yards and completed eight of 14 passes for 96 yards. The first-year player from Irving

Senior linebacker Jeff Copeland and junior noseguard Hans Bischof played the finest games of their careers, according to Dockery.

Copeland stopped one TCU drive with an interception, recovered a fumble and made 13 unassisted tackles to pace the defensive unit. The 6-2, 230-pounder from Sterling City also was in on three other stops.

Bischof, from Las Cruces, N.M., had a hand in 13 tackles.

Dockery also pointed out that Tech's secondary played one of its finest games of 1979. Tech coaches moved senior Larry Flowers to cornerback for the game and he turned in an excellent perform-

The Red Raiders, now 3-4-2 on the year and 2-3-1 in Southwest Conference olay, might have their hands full against SMU. The Mustangs whipped Wichita State 34-0 last Saturday.

"It will be rough," Dockery admitted. "We have to buckle down this week and get with it. This is always a big game for us. We'll just have to continue to work hard and try to improve.

Kicking Specialists Determine Three NFL Contests

By The Associated Press Alex Karras wouldn't have appreciated the goings-on in the National Foot-ball League Sunday.

Karras was the monsterous Detroit defensive tackle who frowned on place kickers trotting on the field at the last moment with clean, fresh uniforms to decide the outcome of games.

But it was those kickers who turned around three NFL games Sunday. Washington's Mark Moseley and Mike Woods of San Diego booted last-minute field goals to secure victories, the Redskins edging St. Louis 30-28 and the Chargers topping Cincinnati 26-24. But Toni Linhart missed two usually routine extra points and that was the difference n the New York Jets' 14-12 loss to Buffalo.

In Sunday's other games, it was Houston 31, Oakland 14; Seattle 29, Cleveland 24; Miami 19, Baltimore 0; Tampa Bay 16, Detroit 14: Pittsburgh 30, Kansas City 3; Chicago 27, Los Angeles 23; New Orleans 31, San Francisco 20: Green Bay 19, Minnesota 7, New York Giants 24, Atlanta 3; and Denver 45. New England 10.

Redskins 30, Cardinals 28

St. Louis erased a 27-7 deficit with three fourth-quarter TDs, but Moseley's 39-yard field goal with 36 seconds to play salvaged the victory for Washington.

The winning three-pointer came despite a bad snap from center which was salvaged by holder Joe Theismann. "Joe has great hands," Moseley said. "I know he'll get the ball down. My leg already was in motion by the time he did.

College Powers Line Up, Eye Bowl Invites.

With invitation time one week away, the lineup for a couple of major bowl games rests on the shoulders of a team that can't even go to a bowl.

The Tigers of Auburn University are ranked 16th in the nation by The Associated Press - they defeated Mississippi State 14-3 Saturday - but are on NCAA probation and therefore ineligible for postseason action. Instead, they will have to be content with having a good deal to say about who goes to the Sugar and Orange Bowls. . . and

Unranked Georgia has thrown a monkey-wrench into the Sugar Bowl's plan to have No. 1-rated Alabama return to New Orleans as the Southeastern Conference's

Although Alabama is 9-0 to Georgia's 5-4, both are 5-0 in SEC play - Alabama nipped Louisiana State 3-0 in the rain Saturday night while Georgia pounded Florida 33-10 - and Georgia can make it to the Sugar Bowl by defeating Auburn next Saturday, regardless of what Alabama does against Auburn on Dec. 1. That's because Ala-

If Georgia wins - the Bulldogs are 5-0 against SEC teams but 0-4 outside the conference - that could free Alabama to meet second-ranked Nebraska in a national championship Orange Bowl showdown. Or will it?

Although second-ranked Nebraska is unbeaten following Saturday's 21-12 comefrom-behind triumph over Kansas State, the Cornhuskers must still face Iowa State next weekend. Then comes the annual Big Eight confrontation with Oklahoma on Nov. 24. The sixth-ranked Sooners walloped Kansas 38-0 and remained tied with Nebraska for the lead and a trip to Miami.

Suppose Alabama coach Bear Bryant, who has been known to arrange a bowl matchup or two in the past, asks the Orange Bowl to wait a week?

"In that case, I think there would be a lot of sentiment to invite Florida State," says one member of the Orange Bowl's selection committee. "There's still some animosity against Bryant anyway.

The Orange Bowl is miffed at Bryant because he and Notre Dame's Ara Parseghian arranged a match on their own several years back. In addition, the Bear likes to keep his troops at home as late as possible and that led the Orange Bowl to put in a rule that the teams must hit town at least five days before the game.

Seventh-ranked Florida State is just as unbeaten as Alabama - the Seminoles trounced 19th-ranked South Carolina 27-7 - but the Orange Bowl, like all bowls, has a natural aversion to teams whose followers are within easy driving distance. They prefer the tourist trade, folks who will spend both time and money

As an opponent for the SEC representative, the Sugar Bowl is considering the Nebraska-Oklahoma loser, eighth-ranked Texas — the Longhorns handed No. 5 Houston its first setback 21-13 and seem certain to rise in The Associated Press ratings - and No. 12 Pittsburgh, a 24-17 winner over West Virginia. Texas' victory jumbled the Southwest Conference race. Houston and ninth-ranked Arkansas are tied with 5-1 records - the Razorbacks wiped out a 17-0 third-quarter deficit and knocked off No. 17 Baylor 29-20 - while Texas is 4-1. If all three win their remaining games, Arkansas goes to the Cotton Bowl.

The Rose Bowl has no such trials and tribulations, but that doesn't mean it doesn't have a problem here and there. . .like in the San Francisco Bay area and Ann Arbor, Mich.

Fourth-ranked Southern California apparently clinched its 10th Rose Bowl trip in 14 years by defeating No. 15 Washington 24-17. But the losers could be back in the race if the Pacific-10 Conference, headquartered in the San Francisco suburb of Walnut Creek, rules that Arizona State used ineligible players in beating Washington last Third-ranked Ohio State will become the Big Ten's representative in Pasadena if the Buckeyes defeat Michigan in their regular-season windup at Ann Arbor next week, or if Purdue beats Indiana. This past weekend, Ohio State trimmed Iowa 34-7 while No. 14 Purdue bounced No. 10 Michigan 24-21.

If the race ends in a three-way tie - Ohio State is 7-0 and 10-0 overall to 6-1, 8-2 for Michigan and Purdue - the trip goes to the team with the best overall mark. If it's a two-way deadlock, head-to-head competition decides and Ohio State doesn't

At any rate, bowl invitations can go out at 5 p.m., CST, next Saturday. Not long thereafter, most of the berths should be filled.

... But Cotton Waits For Host Nominee

The Cotton Bowl committee can sign a guest team Saturday, but the way the Southwest Conference race is going they aren't going to have a host until after Thanksgiving and maybe just three weeks before Christmas.

Everybody predicted a competitive SWC football chase this autumn, but nobody thought it was going to be THIS

Right now Arkansas is in high cotton IF the Razorbacks beat Texas A&M in College Station Saturday - no gimmie by any means - then whip Southern Methodist in Little Rock on Nov. 24.

Arkansas. Houston and Texas are atop the SWC standings with one loss each thanks to the Longhorns' 21-13 victory over the Cougars Saturday night in the Astrodome and Arkansas' 29-20 thriller over Baylor in Favetteville.

If it ends this way, Arkansas goes to the Cotton Bowl because both Texas and Houston have been to the New Year's Day Classic since the Razorbacks.

This is such a tough, screwy conference." said Texas coach Fred Akers. 'You just can't tell what's going to happen. All I know is that every team had better take care of business every week. 'This gives us new life, but we can't let up. We've got three more games and we'll have to be ready for each one." Houston coach Bill Yeoman was philosophical in the Cougars' first loss of

"So we didn't get this one," he said. 'You get some and you don't get some. A loss hurts anytime, but unless I'm mistaken we're tied for first now, right? Arkansas still has A&M and Tech to

'Texas still has Baylor, A&M and TCU to play, and we still have Rice and Tech. So now maybe the fans will buy up all the tickets to the remaining games. . . there's some excitement left in it now.

Then he added, "That's why we did all this tonight, to keep the excitement

In other games Saturday, Texas Christian tied Texas Tech 3-3 and Southern Methodist defeated Wichita State 34-

man beings lined up over there. They didn't have on Darth Vader masks and they didn't have laser beams.

'We made some good plays, and I probably gained more confidence from those 10 or 12 minutes than at any other time in my career. I'd love to play a whole game against them.

Club president Tex Schramm shares that feeling. During one of his radio talk shows the other night, Schramm was asked something about the Super Bowl and the Cowboys' probable opponent.

"I sincerely hope the Cowboys get to Pasadena (site of Super Bowl XIV)," "Schramm sighed. "And I hope there's a certain team — a certain team — facing us out there on the field."

Amherst's Johnson Passes 2000 Yards

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff With Lazbuddie already holding the playoff berth from District 2-B South Zone, you'd think Amherst didn't have much to play for against winless Whiteface in the last game of the season.

The Bulldogs had their sights on a 2,-000-yard season for their fine running back Ronald Johnson. That might seem out of reach to some, since Johnson was about 350 yards short.

But in a game like that, anything is possible. Johnson carried only 18 times, but gained 369 yards to end up with 2,-020 yards on the season.

For those of you with an historical inclination, only three other runners' from this area have gained more yardage in a single season. The first one was Denver City's Bert Gravitt, now head coach at Levelland. In 1960, he gained 2,443 for the Mustangs. Then there's Jimmy Brown, who gained 2,053 for Hart in 1972. And then there's Jayton's Mark Fincher, who broke 2,000 yards not once or twice, but three times in his career. The prolific Jaybird had his best season in 1973 with a 2,531 year. In 1974 he gained 2,260 and in 1975 he had 2,201.

That 2,020 Johnson gained pushed him to 4,092 in four years (he gained 1365 in his junior season).

Only three players have done better than that. Most recently, Tahoka's Clifford Bailey gained 4,485 yards. Tulia's Raymond Williams got 4,745 from 1973-75 and, of course, Fincher wound up with 7,260 from '72-75.

Johnson also scored 34 points on touchdown runs of 81, three of 45 and a 25. He kicked four extra points. That gives him 127 points on the year.

But Friday night's performance alone is enough to give him the Avalanche-Journal's South Plains Offensive Player of the Week award.

The top defensive player was Littlefield's Dale Demel. The linebacker made 17 tackles and picked off three passes. He intercepted another two that were called back by penalties. Offensively. Demel caught seven passes for 98

Abernathy's Sylvester Dunn rambled for 218 yards and a pair of touchdowns on 18 carries while his teammate, quarterback Tony Heath, completed six passes for 118 yards and another score: Heath also ran two TDs across as the Antelopes blitzed Floydada 36-0.

For a surprise starter, Shallowater's Rufino Maldonado gave Plains a surprise Friday night. Subbing for injured Rodney Jackson, Maldonado ran for 211 yards on 31 carries. Included were scoring runs of 78 and 31 yards.

Shallowater got its other touchdown the 20-7 victory from quarterback Neal Luck, who completed eight of 11 passes for 127 yards. Luck pitched 26 yards to Marcus Lara for a score.

Hale Center's Gordon Compton carried 25 times for 201 yards and a touchdown. Owl quarterback Freddy Palacios completed eight of 15 for 167 yards and two TDs in a 35-12 win over Lorenzo.

Muleshoe quarterback Mike Northcutt completed eight of nine passes for 148 yards and a touchdown as the Mules dumped Dimmitt 34-0.

Petersburg running back Eddie Phillips carried 30 times for 181 yards but the Buffaloes were beaten anyway, 6-0 by to Crosbyton.

Ropes' Junior Ybarbo, a senior fullback, gained 171 yards on 15 carries and scored a touchdown as the Eagles dumped Anton 14-0.

Motley County's Harvey Lee gained 170 yards on 32 carries, including a 10yard touchdown as the Matadors edged Silverton 15-12, their second upset in a row. Last week they tied Nazareth 13-13.

Estacado, Kelley Wary Of Canyon In Finale

By CHUCK McDONALD

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff Estacado coach Louis Kelley has been in plenty of biggies before and knows all the right things to say. The upcoming Estacado-Canyon battle hardly provided a challenge. "This is it," said Kelley. "There are no more tomorrows if we lose this ball

'If we can't get ready to play this game, well, we don't deserve to win anyhow," he added And with that warning, Kelley assured that his Matadors would be ready to play this Friday night when they meet the Canyon Eagles at Lowrey Field for the District 1-AAA title. Canyon coach Deane Wright was even more blunt with his words - all the information that could be garnered from Wright was the steady buzz, buzz, buzz of the busy signal.

After repeated attempts to call the coach, an operator was called in to help. Apparently, she said, the receiver at that number has been taken off the hook. Obviously the Canyon coach doesn't want anyone disturbing him during this time of total concentration And the Matadors give him plenty to worry per contest. But the Eagles are no slouches either. With Canyon's 35-0 humiliation of Dumas last Friday, the Eagles have run their win streak to five in a row and are 4-0 in District 1-AAA play.

So the game Friday is for all the mar-

"I'm real impressed with Canyon's offense," said Kelley "They run a (University of) Houston type veer and execute the option real well. They're lots better offensively than they were a year

They've come on like gangbusters in their last four ball games - last week they just pushed Dumas up and down

Canyon opened the season with a 35-7 loss to the Monterey Plainsmen but, says Kelley, the Eagles have come a long way since then. We haven't faced a real option team yet this year," said Kelley. "So we're worried about that. Levelland ran the option against us some in the first half (Friday night) and they made us look pretty bad. 'It's going to be hard to stop them offensively," he added. "So we're going to have to score some points - because they'll score their share.

Americans' Real Income Down

Associated Press Writer Americans are earning more and making less than they were 10 years ago. That's the conclusion of a new study which shows that the after-tax, after-inflation median income for a typical family is smaller than it was in 1969. The study was conducted by the Tax Foundation Inc., a non-profit research group with headquarters in Washington,

The foundation said that from 1969 to 1979, the median income for all families with a single, full-time wage earner almost doubled, going from $9,277 to $18,-

The group figured out how much federal income tax and Social Security would be due on the median income for a married couple with two children filing a joint return. It calculated that the after-tax income for the family went from $7,947 to $15,546.

Next, the foundation adjusted the 1979 figure for inflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index, and it found

1969 dollars - was only $7,800, almost $150 less or 2 percent less than it was a decade earlier

These statistics don't even take state and local taxes into account and they have been rising even faster than the federal levies in most places. The foundation said that in 1969, states and cities took about 10.5 percent as much from people's earnings as the federal government; by 1979, they took 16.3 percent.

The turning point for the typical family with a median income came in 1972, the Tax Foundation said. Until, then "real" income rose steadily; it reached a peak of $8,500 seven years ago.

Since then, federal income taxes for the family used in the foundation calculations rose 82 percent; Social Security taxes went up 142 percent; and prices increased 75 percent. It all adds up to an 8 percent drop in actual purchasing power since 1972.

Tax bracket creep is one reason that earnings don't keep pace with inflation - even when paychecks go up. As your income increases, so does the bite taken pushed into a higher tax bracket. A Library of Congress study shows, for example, that from 1965 to 1975, the number of people in the 20 percent bracket rose from 19 percent of the population to 53 percent.

Several proposals have been made to cure tax bracket creep by a system called indexation which links taxes and the inflation rate. It's easier to understand if you look at some hypothetical

Suppose your income is $15,000 a year. Assume you pay 10 percent in taxes - $1,500 - for an after-tax income of $13,500. The Consumer Price Index goes up by 10 percent and so does your salary. You now earn $16,500 a year. Without indexation, you are automatically boosted into a higher tax bracket - let's say you pay 11 percent or $1,815. You are left with $14,685. Your 10 percent raise has just shrunk to 8.7 percent less than is needed to keep up with the 10 percent boost in prices. With indexation, your tax bracket would remain the same. You would still ary. You would be left with $14,850: your 10 percent raise would leave you 10 percent more money - enough to at least keep pace with inflation.

Opponents of indexation say it is better to adjust for inflation with periodic

Carter's Achievements

More and more people are entering and remaining in the rental population because of the rising cost of buying a house, the report said, and therefore rental housing will continue to be the sole source of shelter for millions of American households.

A crisis exists, therefore, because of low levels of moderately priced new private construction and losses of existing units through abandonments and conversions to condominiums," it said.

Also contributing to the situation are rapidly escalating operating costs and the increasing age of existing units, it lion renters with annual incomes of $10.-000 or less and for the 11.9 million renters who pay 25 percent or more of their income for rent. The agency recommended creation of a commission of federal, state and private organizations to develop alternative strategies to minimize the impact of the crisis and propose a national rental housing policy.

During 1978, about 100,000 rental units were estimated to be converted to condominiums and for 1979 another 130,-000 units are expected to be converted," the GAO said.

cause of "the increasing demand for home ownership, with its tax benefits and inflation hedge, and the fact that returns from rental ownership have been low - rent increases have not been able to keep pace with costs of operation even in markets with very high occupancy," the report explained.

Also, it said, it is reported that most apartment buildings are worth twice as much after conversion, so many new rentals are designed "with the goal of converting as soon as they have used up their tax shelter.'

The GAO said abandonment "is becoming a more serious problem across the nation" with 113 of the 149 cities that responded to a GAO questionnaire reporting housing abandonment problems to some degree.

Stock Mart Shows Rise In Trading

NEW YORK (AP) - Stock prices rose in light trading today, adding to gains registered Friday.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 4.10 points at 810.58, with advances outnumbering declines by a 7-4 margin among issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The index of blue-chip industrials gained early nine points Friday.

With most banks and federal government offices closed for Veterans Day, trading was light.

Some analysts said the market was unlikely to continue the climb that started Friday because investors were concerned about the onset of a recession and the possible severity of the economic downturn. Also holding the market back are record-high interest rates, which makes borrowing by corporations costly, analysts not-

However, some Wall Streeters say the market could stage a sustained rally if investors believe that interest rates have peaked. Analysts attributed Friday's rally, when the Dow Jones industrial average rose nearly nine points, to a Federal Reserve report that growth in the nation's basic money supply had slowed. Slow expansion of the money supply means that the Fed would have no need for further credit-tightening.

Nude Gunman Held After Crime Spree

MIAMI (AP) — A gunman on a two-hour rampage abducted a nurse, kid-napped a motorist, raped a prostitute, committed several robberies and, naked at the wheel, rammed a stolen car into another vehicle — then knocked an officer out cold, police say.

Police said Clarence Mullins, 26, wrapped in a blanket after his capture early Sunday, told them it may have been someone else who did the things he is accused of doing.

Mullins was charged with robbery, false imprisonment, aggravated battery, rape, abduction, attempted abduction, auto theft, battery, resisting arrest and using a gun to commit a crime

According to police: A man stopped Alberto Prats at a downtown Miami intersection and, saying he had a gun, forced the 19-year-old into the trunk of his own car. Driving Prats' stick-shift automobile with difficulty, the man made his way to the emergency room at Jackson Memo-rial Hospital, where nurse Mary Lou Barredo, 26, was returning with a breakfast tray when the man grabbed her.

She said the man hit her, marched her out of the hospital and ordered her into the car, but she placed the tray of scrambled eggs and bagels atop the car, climbed in the driver's side and slid out the passenger door, screaming for help.

The man drove away, ahandoned the Dodge in the middle of a street and flagged down motorist Jose Sefe, $8. Sefe was pistol whipped and his Chevrolet stolen. He was hospitalized Senday in fair condition

From there, the man drove to an all-night restaurant, where he choked Diane Lathrop and took her purse. A few blocks away, he picked up a 25-year-old prostitute. When the woman complained that he was driving "crazy," the man forced her into a sex act.

He then drove to a park, forced the prostitute to undress, shed his own clothes and raped her. When a passerby came through the park, the man still na ked, drove off with the woman, but rammed the Chevrolet into the rear of

The prostitute snatched the car keys and ran naked across an intersection. The driver of the other car also ran while the man pulled on his shorts and chased the prostitute.

Police say as they closed in on Mullins at the accident scene, he punched

Texas Education Board Takes Action On Books

AUSTIN (UPI) - The State Board of Education has approved new textbooks costing $6.8 million for use in Texas' public schools, but has requested that a paragraph on homosexuality be deleted

State school officials adopted the new textbooks in six subject areas Saturday, voting to delete from "Health and Safety for You" a paragraph asserting homo-sexuality is not a mental disorder.

Mary Ann Leveridge, chairman of the textbook committee, said the committee thought sufficient evidence was unavailable to prove whether homosexuality was a mental disorder.

"We have no objections to the subject of the book, just that paragraph,' she said.

The questionable paragraph read: Some now believe that homosexuality is not a mental disorder but is another less common kind of sexuality.

The board also recommended five civil government textbooks that Mrs. Leveridge said might make the subject more stimulating for high school students. She said local school districts will have the option of which of the five text"Most students learn about govern-ment through television. We want to make government less dry than it has been, and more interesting for the students," she said. "And also, we believe that education should fill the individual needs of students. I think we can do that by giving local districts a set of texts to ch

New textbooks also were approved for computer mathematics, automotive trades, beginning typewriting and advanced typewriting.

The board also named a special com-mittee to help the Texas Education Agency identify and evaluate challenges faced by urban area school districts. The committee and TEA will conduct a five-month study on the implications of federal court orders dealing with the education of minority students. Dr. Alton Bowen, Texas commission er of education, said he will consider voluntary alternatives to meet the educational challenges the Houston Independent School District has received from the NAACP. The order requested TEA to develop a plan based on "volun-

Railway Firm Receives Stiff Fine For Rebates

ern Railway Co. was fined $1.9 million today after pleading guilty in federal court in Columbia, S.C., to one count and no contest to 94 other counts of making illegal rebates and concessions to shippers, the Justice Department an-

The fine was the largest in the 70year history of the Elkins Act. which outlaws rebates and concessions by rail carriers, department officials said.

The government charged that Southern, based in Washington, D.C., transported and entertained shipper representatives at lodges and other recreation facilities owned by the railroad.

porting A.K. Pentilla, a shipping compa-ny representative, from Southern's hunting lodge in South Carolina known as the Brosnan Forest in December 1974. The company pleaded no contest to 94 similar counts that were contained in a criminal information filed with the government. Under this process, the government files formal charges without having to submit them to a grand jury.

The firm was fined the maximum of $20,000 on each of the 95 counts.

The plea agreement ended a 22month investigation by Justice Department attorneys, the office of U.S. Attorney Thomas E. Lydon Jr., and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Course In Designing Rescheduled At SPC

A course in interior design at South Plains College in Lubbock has been rescheduled to begin Nov. 13 at 7 p.m. The class will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings for four weeks.

Basic principles of good design will be stressed along with help in choosing accessories, floor coverings, draperies and wall coverings.

The course is designed to meet the needs of persons whose jobs demand a basic knowledge of interior decorating as well as those who want to decorate their own homes.

Registration may be made by phone by calling 747-8111 or at the South Plains College building at 1302 Main Street.

Joanne Woodward Provides Top Performance In TV Drama Their paths cross when she sees him

By JOAN HANAUER NEW YORK (UPI) - There's good news and bad news about a television drama called "The Streets of L.A." The good new is that it stars Joanne Woodward, who always brings with her a convincing and moving portrayal.

The bad news is the script, which is just too silly to be believable.

The G.É Theater special, which airs

Tuesday at 8 p.m. Central time on CBS. relates an incident in the lives of two Los Angelenos - a 43-yeàr-old divorced 'Anglo" woman and a teen-age Mexican 'illegal Both are convinced that life is using capes a roundup of illegal aliens, gets ripped off by a waiter in the restaurant where he works as a busboy, carries out a garbage bag only to have it rip and dump on him, and narrowly misses his bus home.

Jane Fonda Subject Of PBS Documentary I was the All-American girl next door -By PETER J. BOYER

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Jane Fonda is the subject of a British television documentary airing tonight on PBS. Some might wonder what interest British TV viewers would have in Jane Fonda. American TV has never done a documentary on Jane Fonda. Bui Miss Fonda makes a good sub-

Strauss Leaves Mideast Peace Quest Lagging

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) - Robert S. Strauss leaves his job as President Carter's special Middle East mediator with the quest for an Arab-Israeli settlement lagging but by no means lost.

Strauss is going back to politics as manager of the Carter campaign and in one of his farewell assessments of Middle East diplomacy, he said he had not achieved "an iota of an agreement."

Actually, there has been a bit of headway during Strauss' six months as a diplomat. It's at least an iota of progress, although nothing approaching a settlement on the future rights of Palestini ans now in Israeli-controlled territory.

Those bits of procedural progress are about the only encouragement available to Sof Linowitz, who succeeds Strauss in the long line of American troubleshooters who have tried to resolve the conflicts of the Middle East.

From Joseph Sisco, William Rogers and Henry Kissinger, through Cyrus

Vance, Alfred Atherton and Strauss, they had persuaded, cajoled, bullied and coaxed the two sides along.

The net result is that, today, Egypt and Israel are at peace, even though they are far apart on an autonomy plan for the 1.1 million Palestinian Arabs who live on the West Bank of the Jordan River and in Gaza.

Linowitz gets his first opportunity next week when he goes to the Middle East to participate in ceremonies marking Israel's return of Mount Sinai to

Unless there is a dramatic and unexpected change in U.S. strategy, though, he will not use pressure tactics.

Before quitting to manage Carter's bid for re-election, Strauss had concluded that neither Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin nor Egyptian President Anwar Sadat wanted to be hurried.

As a result, Strauss was forced also to conclude that the informal May deadline for arranging Palestinian elections probably would not be met.

He was taking one measured step at a time, hoping to make enough headway by May to draw Jordan and possibly some Palestinians into the talks.

He made headway, but no headlines, except when his frustrations came to the surface.

Linowitz, who is less of an arm-twister by nature, is unlikely to change this Late last month, Strauss and Mustapha Khalil and Josef Burg, the top Egyptian and Israeli negotiators, met in London. Without much notice, they took a couple of significant steps. First, they decided Israeli and Palestinian civilians would conduct the elections on the West Bank and in Gaza. with neutral observers and the international press on hand to see that the balloting was free and fair.

Second, they cleared away a procedural roadblock.

Instead of trying to decide in advance which governing powers would be turned over to an elected Palestinian council and which would remain with Israel, they decided to simply define the government functions that are necessary in the West Bank and Gaza.

The list embraces everything from automobile registration to such sensitive items as law enforcement and water

The idea is to define all the powers of governing, and then to find which can be assigned to the Palestinians without controversy, and which will have to be set aside for later negotiation. These are modest steps. But they indicate a continued willingness by both Sadat and Begin to move ahead. In the same vein, there is agreement on monitoring Israel's continuing withdrawal from the Sinai. As Linowitz takes over, however, the outlook for further accommodation between Israel an Egypt is not clear. Triple-digit inflation, the resignation of Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan and a Supreme Court decision disallowing some West Bank settlements have weak-a harder line in negotiations once Israel turns over the Sinai oilfields Nov. 25. With that prize in Egyptian hands, Sadat would not be running a risk if he rejected Begin's limited approach to Palestinian autonomy and insisted on more liberal self-rule.

Problems With Medicines

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have three small fibroids in my uterus. They were discovered during a D and C to stop the bleeding. The doctor told me I sholdn't wait more than six months before having surgery.

My problem is I'm one of those in a thousand who's allergic to medications. I mean everything. So what can I do? I've been sitting here crying and am depressed and afraid of having it done for fear that I will not make it through surgery. I get so deadly sick whenever they try anything new. They also think I have one

When I think about it I just get cold, sick to my stomach because I know there's no way out except surgery. Isn't there anything they could give for allergic people? How about the cut? Couldn't they put medicine on it so I wouldn't need so much medicine for pain afterwards?

DEAR READER - There are people like you who have enormous problems taking almost any medicine, including antibiotics. The best thing you can do is to tell your doctor about your history and give himn a list of all the things that you know that you're allergic to

Yes, there are lots of things that can be done to help people with such problems, including medicines to block the allergic reaction. Of course, the best treatment of all is to avoid the things that a person is allergic to.

I presume you're going to have a hysterectomy and probably have your ovaries removed as well in view of the comment about having one bad ovary. That might also depend on your age. In some cases the doctor can do a vaginal hysterectomy which leaves no scar on the abdomen at all. However, the pain after most such surgery isn't limited just to the incision through the abdominal cavity. People have different levels of pain thresholds and maybe you'll be fortunate enough not to require much medicine for that problem.

Talk to your doctor about how disturbed you are about this and the fact that you've been crying and depressed. It might be that you would be helped with some professional counseling before surgery. There are lots of things that can be done to help people who are depressed. Again, re-moving the cause is a big help, and, in your instance, the anticipation of surgery is certainly a precipitating cause. No one looks forward with joy to having surgery.

Because you expect surgery and will have changes that are associated with the menopause, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 5-12, Menopause. Other readers might want to know that not all fibroid tumors of the uterus need to be removed. It depends a lot on the size and whether they are causing symptoms or not. Excessive bleeding can be caused by fibroids and that is one reason why they must sometimes be removed Sometimes the fibroid tumors get smaller after the menopause.

Weather Delays Corn Planting

WASHINGTON (AP) - For the third year in a row, planting of the 1980 corn crop could get off to a slow start, a weather analyst for the Agriculture Department's outlook board says.

Wet weather the last two seasons has delayed planting of what turned out to be huge crops.

In general, soil moisture conditions throughout the country are normal or better, except for the northern Rockies, Richard E. Felch told the annual outlook conference. As usual, he said, April rainfall will be the real key to how the planting will develop," with soils already wet as they thaw.

He added that the problem is bad weather which has delayed this year's harvest so much that some fall plowing has had to be put off. So "additional fieldwork will be required in the spring," Felch said.

Shari's Code Based On Phone Numbers

By SHARI LEWIS Sometimes we all do things that make us feel plain dumb. When I was a kid, nothing made me feel as dumb as when I would set up a system for sending secret messages and then forget the code.

Here's how it works: Let's pretend your phone number is 527-

Look at that phone number. As you can see, you have a lot of ones. Think of each of the ones as being either a one or as the first part of a two-digit number, like 12, 13, 14 and so forth.

The secret of this code is that you use your phone number -527-1315 - as the hidden pattern, that is, the fifth word, the second word and the seventh word would be the first three words of the message that you're trying to send. All the rest of the words don't matter! The sentence you put together can make sense or not, as you wish.
