Farmers Must Organize Says State Leader

"Producers of agricultural commodities have not been accorded the same treatment given industry, labor and other groups engaged in the war effort," President J. Walter Hammond told the annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation at Waco attended by H. E. Schuster, Fred W. Nickels, and Sam Logan of Bailey County.

"Instead," Hammond maintained, "they have been victims of the most vicious campaign of vilification and abuse we have witnessed in our lifetime. They have been denounced as base contributors to inflation, greedy, ravenous seekers of privileges."

"In spite of this unfair and unjust criticism, a discriminatory price policy and other handicaps, American farmers have turned in the greatest production job in history. If our position as to labor and prices continues to decline as much as since Pearl Harbor, then I say to you, God preserve America, because we are in for the most devastating food shortage the world has ever known."

Hammond told the delegation that "we are utterly helpless in the face of great combinations of capital and labor unless we organize to hold our own. We asked that farm organization be given an equal voice with labor and industry in determining the man power policies of this nation. It is our duty to continue the work of eliminating the dollar-a-year-men who have blocked the production of rubber, steel and other war essentials. Any man who deliberately and for selfish reasons hampers our war efforts while American soldiers are dying at the front for freedom, efficient equipment should be shot as a traitor."

Other speakers appearing on the program were H. H. Williamson, director of Texas Extension work of A. and M. College, Dr. V. P. Lea, president of Texas Production Credit Association, Mrs. Wm. G. Kennedy, president of Texas Home Demonstration Club, I. W. Duggan, director of Southern Division A. A. Leonard F. Cowden, SCS, and R. G. Arnold, director of organization, American Farm Bureau.

The delegation was pleased and every farmer in Texas should also be of the 1942 accomplishments of the Texas Farm Bureau and other cooperating farm organizations, and friendly senators in Congress. The recent accomplishments were not altogether what the "Farm Block" was striving to accomplish for the farmer, but the $5.00 a bale more for this year's cotton crop will mean several million dollars to Texas, and at least $150,000 to Bailey county.

Warning was given that the next session of Texas Legislature will witness efforts to tax the itinerant trucker out of existence and to eliminate the exemption of the tax on gasoline used for tractors. Whether or not our farm organization is of sufficient strength to stop these efforts remains to be seen. A much larger and stronger organization is needed to confront such problems.

The convention voted to raise the annual dues from $2.00 to $5.00 in order that the organization would have more money with which to fight for the farmer's cause. This increase will go into effect December 1. This change will not affect unexpired membership of new members before December 1.

E. Schuster, chairman of the Bailey County Farm Bureau, pleaded to learn at the convention that Bailey county had the largest membership in District 2, but even that should be increased three-fold. Mr. Schuster was elected alternate director for District 2 at the convention.

Reservist

MARSHALL M. MORRIS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Morris, has enlisted in the Reserve Corps at John Tarleton College, Stephenville, Lt. J. D. McCullough, enlistment officer, announced on Monday. Marshall was an honor student at Muleshoe high school, and is also one of the top honor students at John Tarleton. He is majoring in aeronautical engineering. The primary object in the Reserve Corps is to train a supply of potential officer material for the armed forces.

All New Farm Machinery Frozen By Recent Order

Freezing orders going into effect November 1 froze all new farm machinery, including windmills, wells, tractors, feed grinders and practically all other machinery, excepting some attachments, County Agent Sam Logan stated.

County quotas will be received within the near future, and until that time the ration board just isn't able to issue permits for new machinery.

It is not expected that these quotas will allow much new machinery to be sold when they are received so the ration committee urges everyone to keep their equipment in the best shape possible. It may have to last a long time.

The county ration committee consists of Lonnie Arnold, chairman; R. B. Dennis and Steve Sullivan, members; B. H. Black and John Johnson, alternates.

21 From Muleshoe At Flying School

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 23.—During the recruiting campaign for the Air Force which has just been completed, 21 men from Muleshoe were enlisted for the Lubbock Army Flying School.

Lieutenant Alsop is still stationed at this large twin-engine advanced flying school.

A large number of men from all over West Texas and Texas and from 20 other states in the Union were enlisted. However, Texas led the list. Men were enlisted from New York to California and as far south as Florida.

In Texas, Lubbock furnished the greatest number of men from any one city or town, while Abilene held second place, Anson third place and Lamesa in fourth place, followed by Levelland. Men were enlisted from 216 Texas towns.

Lieut. and Mrs. E. H. Alsop are here this week visiting Lieutenant Alsop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Alsop. Lieutenant Alsop is still just "Herschel" to Muleshoe folks, and, as with all the boys in the service, we are glad to welcome him home. He is stationed at Camp Edwards, Boston, Mass., with the 38th Division—Texas' own. Herschel says that the old division is in excellent form, with fine equipment and capable of handling any situation which might come up.

The promotion of Pfc. James Sape to corporal was announced today by the public relations office of Fort Bliss, Tex. The promotion is effective at once and comes in recognition of meritorious application to duty.

Students Back At Work After Aiding Farmers

Classes were resumed Monday at the Muleshoe schools after a three weeks' shutdown to enable students to help gather the cotton crop.

The decision to close the schools proved a wise one, according to Supt. W. C. Cox, in view of the fact that scores of the students rendered valuable assistance in the cotton fields.

Pupils returning to their classes Monday were greeted by two new teachers. A Miss Ross from Lubbock is the new commercial teacher, taking the place of Miss Christine Peck.

John Tucker, grade school principal, has resigned his position on the Santa Fe Railway Company, duties have been assumed by Mrs. Ed Johnson, third grade teacher.

Another new teacher, a Mrs. Kirkland from Canyon, has been added to the high school faculty.

Santa Fe Award Presented County Boy At Luncheon

Bill Dotson, 4-H Club boy of the West Camp community, was honor guest Wednesday at the Lions club luncheon, where he was presented with his Santa Fe award as one of the 19 Texas winners in 4-H Club work. H. M. Balner, agricultural agent for the Santa Fe Railway Company, presented the award, which includes an all-expense-paid trip to the 4-H Club Congress and International Livestock Show at Chicago. He will leave Friday night with other winners from West Texas and New Mexico.

This is the first time a Bailey county boy has won the Santa Fe award, one of the most coveted by club members. It is not only an honor for Bill, but for the county. Mr. Balner paid high tribute to the citizens of Muleshoe for the assistance given to all our club boys, and stated that West Texas was famous for this kind of cooperation. "To prove it," he said, "14 of the 19 Santa Fe winners are West Texas boys."

Bill, accompanied by his father, C. E. Dotson, also expressed appreciation for the fine assistance given him. Mr. Dotson who has been in this section for over 31 years, said that ever since there had been a Muleshoe his citizens have done everything possible to help the young men of the county.

Sam Logan, county agent, introduced the guests, and presented Bill a check for part of his expense to Chicago. The remainder will be given him when he arrives in the city. Some 60 members of the Lions club and other business men were present for the presentation ceremony.

Longview Plans For Thanksgiving

Longview community will observe Thanksgiving with community services and dinner at the school house on Sunday, November 29, it was announced Monday.

Sunday school will be held at the usual hour, with a short Thanksgiving service immediately following. Everyone in the community is asked to bring dinner to be served at the school. At 2 p. m. the pastor will deliver a Thanksgiving sermon. This is being done on account of the rush of crop harvest.

HALF CENTURY CLUB

The Half Century club met with Mrs. Anna Moeller Thursday, November 19, with 11 members present. An all-day meeting with a covered dish luncheon will be held December 3 with Mrs. Wm. Kistler. Mrs. C. C. Mardis will entertain December 17 with a Christmas tree and program. Members are asked to bring inexpensive wrapped gifts with name enclosed.

War industry in Texas will need fifty to seventy-five thousand women within the next 18 months, according to a bulletin just issued by the Texas State committee of ESMWT.

Coast Guardsman

Yeah! You guessed it. It's Coast Guardsman Robert Lee Jones, Jr., who is helping keep watch on a stretch of Florida coast line. Of the six boys who left here to join the Coast Guard last summer, one of which was Bob, no two are together at this time. They are scattered from Florida to Maine. Bob's address is: U. S. Coast Guard Detail, Hollywood Hotel, Hollywood, Fla.

18-19 Year Olds Will Register In December

All youths who have become 18 years of age since last June 30 will register for military service during the three weeks from December 11 to December 31.

It is officially estimated that there are 600,000 youths in this age bracket.

In a proclamation, President Roosevelt directed that during the rest of the war young men who were born after Jan. 1, 1925, shall register for military service as soon as they reach their 18th birthday.

Youths born during July and August will register during the week of December 11. Those born in September or October will register during the week beginning Friday, December 18. Those born in November or December will register in the week beginning Saturday, December 26.

Certificates Of War Necessity Still Available

Under a recent announcement from the Office of Defense Transportation, the effective date has been postponed from November 15 to December 1 at which time certificates will be required on all farm trucks, buses, taxicabs, and similar commercial vehicles.

Gasoline rationing also becomes effective in Texas on December 1.

According to B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA War Board, farmers who have applied for but have not received certificates by December 1 will receive temporary gasoline rations.

He explained that after certificates are received that regular coupon books would be issued and deductions made for gasoline used under the temporary rations.

Operators subject to the registration order will not be able to obtain tires, parts or gasoline without Certificate of War Necessity.

Members of the Farm Bureau especially want to express their appreciation to all local people for coming to the fields for cotton picking. They have not only benefitted themselves, but the farmers, too. Whole families, some of the children no more than five years old, have put in every day, when weather would permit, and it has meant the saving of many bales of cotton, which otherwise might have been lost.

A few schools are still closed, while others have re-opened, but with a large percentage of pupils still out.

Students' Aid In Gathering Cotton Proves Beneficial

Turning out of schools so that pupils could help in gathering crops in this section has meant the saving of thousands of bales of cotton, farmers said this week.

The record here speaks for itself. Mr. McDermott, through FSA, has aided more than 200 farmers in this county to pay out of debt and get ahead financially. Another fifty will clear up all debts this fall and be in a position to finance themselves in 1943. These farmers have an average of eight dairy cows and complete farming equipment, besides flocks of poultry and brood sows. Six years ago they had just about given up hope of ever being able to do other than work for farm wages, if that.

Mr. McDermott wishes to express his sincere appreciation to the citizenship of Bailey county for their fine cooperation. "I know that Muleshoe and Bailey county have the finest people in the world, and I never felt so bad about leaving a place in my life," McDermott said Wednesday.

A successor for the local office will be announced in the near future, possibly within the next two weeks.

Kennedys Selling Property Here

Property of Wm. G. Kennedy, long-time resident of Bailey county who recently moved to Hico, Tex., will be sold at public auction at his old place, one-half mile north of Progress, Tuesday, December 1.

Col. W. D. Wanzor, auctioneer, will officiate at the sale. Property to be sold includes 29 head of cattle, 54 head of hogs, chickens, farm equipment, household goods, and so forth. Lunch will be served by the Progress Home Demonstration club women.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have been prominent in community and county affairs during their residence here. Mr. Kennedy was an early-day county judge and has taken an active part in all affairs tending toward the progress of the county. Mrs. Kennedy has been especially active in home demonstration club work and is president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

NEW RULING EFFECTIVE

A recent ruling of the Selective Service Board provides that men who have reached their forty-fifth birthday cannot be inducted into the armed service without their consent. This ruling became effective November 19 and states that "every registrant who reaches the age of 45 years before induction, whether he has been ordered to report for induction or not, shall be classified Class 4-A and shall not be inducted for training and service without his written consent."

Transferred

Bailey county is losing one of its most useful citizens December 1 when W. McDermott leaves to take over new duties as district supervisor for the San Angelo area of the Farm Security Administration.

Mr. McDermott will be in Lubbock for a few weeks before going to the San Angelo office, probably through December. The move is quite an advancement for Mr. McDermott, and came about through his excellent work in this county. Coming here in 1936, his assignment was one of the toughest in the state. Within a year, the situation here was well straightened out, and some progress being made. If every county in Texas had the same supervision that Bailey has since 1936, FSA would undoubtedly be "top" as an aid to low-income farmers.

The record here speaks for itself. Mr. McDermott, through FSA, has aided more than 200 farmers in this county to pay out of debt and get ahead financially. Another fifty will clear up all debts this fall and be in a position to finance themselves in 1943. These farmers have an average of eight dairy cows and complete farming equipment, besides flocks of poultry and brood sows. Six years ago they had just about given up hope of ever being able to do other than work for farm wages, if that.

Mr. McDermott wishes to express his sincere appreciation to the citizenship of Bailey county for their fine cooperation. "I know that Muleshoe and Bailey county have the finest people in the world, and I never felt so bad about leaving a place in my life," McDermott said Wednesday.

A successor for the local office will be announced in the near future, possibly within the next two weeks.

Farm Loan Ass'n Makes 1,000th Loan

The Western National Farm Loan Association has had a big part in the 10,000 Federal Land Bank loans closed in Texas. According to Noel Woodley, secretary-treasurer, 1,054 loans have been made in this territory to farmers and ranchmen.

The recent closing of loan No. 100,000 in Grayson county thru the Sherman National Farm Loan Association makes us proud of the service rendered by the land bank system in its 25-year history. This loan was only a few miles away from loan No. 1 closed in 1917, and today in good standing, well on the road to being paid off through systematic payments out of earnings under the farm under a long-term, low-interest-rate loan," stated Mr. Woodley.

The Western National Farm Loan Association has closed 598 Land Bank loans, and 456 Land Bank Commissioner loans for a total of over $2,500,000 in this territory, as of this date.

Coffee Sales To Be Resumed November 29

When housewives went to market this week they were not able to buy any coffee, but starting Sunday, November 29, coffee purchases may begin again by surrendering one stamp from War Ration Book No. 1 — the book they have been using for sugar purchases during this year — E. W. Johnson, chairman of the Bailey County War Price and Rationing Board, explained today.

"Retail coffee sales will be frozen all this week for the purpose of enabling storekeepers to stock their shelves for the beginning of ration sales," Mr. Johnson said.

In order to prepare for coffee rationing, he advised, those who do not have War Ration Book No. 1 or who have lost it should apply immediately to the local War Price and Rationing Board.

"When coffee rationing begins on November 29," he said, "War Ration Book No. 1 — which most people probably call the 'sugar book' — will then be used for buying coffee. The stamp in the book, No. 28, and down to No. 20, will be the coffee stamps. The first coffee ration stamp is No. 27, then in order follow No. 25, 23, 21, 22 and 20."

He explained that this apparently disconnected sequence of the stamp numbers is to be used because of the arrangement of the stamps in the ration book.

"Another important point to be borne in mind," he said, "is that those whose ration books show they have to be over 15 years old may purchase a pound of coffee for each of these coffee stamps. Persons who have attained the age of 15 years, since the ration book was issued, are not eligible to purchase coffee. The reason for this age limitation is to allow larger coffee rations for grownups."

The first ration period will be for five weeks from November 29 through January 3, 1943.

"Consumers who have stocked up on coffee will have about one and a half pounds of coffee they have on hand November 28 as a part of their ration," he added. "When the consumer applies for War Ration Book No. 2, sometime after the first of the year, he will be required to declare the amount of coffee he had on hand at the start of rationing and stamps will be removed from his book to cover any excess supply. This means that the consumer will be unable to continue coffee purchases until he has used up his stock on hand at the rationed rate."

Mr. Johnson explained that coffee stamps in the ration books of children under 15 years of age will be set in their books and will be surrendered when War Ration Book No. 2 is issued.

For the benefit of those who live in remote localities or where transportation facilities make the buying of supplies in small quantities a hardship, Mr. Johnson pointed out that a consumer may apply to his ration board for a certificate to buy as much as five pounds of coffee at a time, but in such instances, of course, a sufficient number of stamps will be removed by the board to cover such advanced rations.

RED CROSS NEWS

Members of the Red Cross met at the sewing room Wednesday and Thursday of last week, with 15 women present the first day, and only three the second day.

It was announced this week that more machines are needed at the sewing room. There is also a need for cutters. All women who wish to, may sew garments for the Red Cross at home, it was said.

Present Wednesday were: Mesdames G. O. Jennings, Barbour, Walter, C. H. Young, Harold Wren, Anna Moeller, Doris Taylor, Bell Snyder, Jessie Wright Goodson, St. Clair, Bessie Burts, C. C. Mardis, Joel Lee, and Mrs. Mann.

Those present Thursday were: Mesdames R. Jordan, St. Clair and Mardis.

Public opinion has stepped in to block proposed compulsory war manpower mobilization legislation. While pressure will be used to keep key men in key positions through Selective Service and other Government agencies and through sanctions, the voluntary method of labor allocation will continue.

Because Congress was by-passed in the swift action of the President to limit net incomes to $25,000, additional broad powers will not be handed out so liberally by that body in the future. There is growing resentment in the way this drastic measure was railroaded through on presidential directive without Congressional specification.

Realization that we have a tough fight on our hands—and that it is going to get tougher—is spurring all moves to speed the war effort and to apply inflation brakes as rapidly as possible.

Scrap is still a major problem in the war production program. Chief Donald Nelson has appealed to industry to get to the bottom of the barrel in an endeavor to bring out every ton of iron and steel that is not now serving a useful war purpose.

The War Manpower Commission is urging all manufacturers to start at once an inventory of all employees according to occupation, age, sex, dependency, and other factors. This would assist in determining the potential Selective Service classification of employees.

Manpower officials here are considering urging manufacturers to adopt a system of utilizing "half-shift" employees. The idea, now being tested in Cleveland by the U. S. Employment Office, calls for white collar workers, after completing their regular day's work at their desks at 4 p. m. to go on a four-hour shift in the factory. They would work until 8 p. m. and then be relieved by another "half-shift" team.

In a formal statement on deductions for advertising in figuring income taxes, the Bureau of Internal Revenue says that it recognizes advertising as a "necessary and legitimate business expense so long as it is not carried to an unreasonable extent or does not become an attempt to avoid proper tax payments."

What becomes of the miles you don't drive?

Today undriven miles are war weapons.

The rubber you don't use is airplane tires, antitank-gun treads, machine-gun mounts, life rafts, tank-intel. pads, pontoons, and hot water bottles for field hospitals.

The gasoline you don't use is fuel for fighter and bomber planes, for jeeps and tanks, for motor torpedo boats and armored cars. And more, the magic of the new petroleum chemistry takes the material, which formerly became gasoline, and Aladdin-lamps it into precious synthetic rubber and devastating high explosive.

TECH PROFESSOR'S LATEST NOVEL IS PUBLISHED

LUBBOCK, Tex. — "The Bankcock Murder Case," published October 5, by E. P. Dutton Company of New York, is the latest novel by Dr. A. B. Cunningham, professor of English at Texas Technological College.

It is the story of the hunt for the murderer of pretty Sue Dun, mine nurse in the town of Bankcock, supposedly in Kentucky. Sheriff Jess Roden does the "Murder at Deer Lick," "Murder at the Schoolhouse," "The Strange Death of Manny Square" and "Death at the Bottoms," all by Professor Cunningham. Several of these titles have been issued in pocket editions and have sold as many as 40,000 each.

ISOVERSION

More than 100 Octane aviation gasoline for the allied air forces and more vital synthetic rubber for war needs can be made as the result of a revolutionary new catalytic process, Isoversion, recently discovered in Phillips Petroleum Company's research laboratories. Isoversion, according to a statement released today by Frank Phillips, changes petroleum products formerly of almost no value in the war program, into war products which are vitally needed in large quantities to make 100 octane gasoline, synthetic rubber, and other critical war materials. Secrecy, said Mr. Phillips, prevents the release of any definite data concerning the process or the extent to which it will increase the supply of this valuable and essential war material. He was able to say, however, that Isoversion will substantially increase the total potential supply of this product, and thus will be extremely important in alleviating any shortage which might result from the increasing tempo of aerial warfare.

"Things have come to a pretty pass all right," I told my husband the other night. "I can't even buy the kind of beans we like to have on Saturday nights. There are beans, to be sure, but only one kind. I'm lucky when I can get bacon. As for coffee, well you know about that, and there hasn't been a pair of nylons in town for a month."

"The shoe is beginning to pinch," he suggested.

"Yes and I suppose it's going to get worse. Of course we'll always have enough to eat. But it's so strange to have to plan meals according to what you can get—not according to what you want. And to buy the length of skirts the government thinks we should wear, not what we fancy. It makes me feel cautious—almost afraid in a way I've never known before."

"I understand what you mean," John said thoughtfully, "and it shows that our type of production which has been wholesomely competitive, has meant more to us than just the material things it provided. It's given us the right to choose from a big supply in much the same way that our democratic form of government has given us the right to choose those who govern us. It's had a lot to do with making us courageous and imaginative and maybe just a wee bit too cocky."

"I saw immediately what the meant. Don't you? The skills and machines and efficient management of our industrial system have not only given us food and clothing and luxuries of all kinds. They've added to that feeling of freedom which is so essential in a democracy."

Right now we can get along with bare necessities because winning the war is what matters. But when it's over it will be terribly important for industry to be free again from all government regulations and restrictions so that it can produce lavishly and imaginatively once more and so give us freedom of choice. Loss of that freedom might easily pave the way to the loss of those other freedoms that are absolutely essential to the American way of life; freedom of speech and of press, freedom of worship and freedom of the ballot.

25,000 Expected At T. U.—Aggie Game

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 23 —With the traditional football battle between the University of Texas and Texas A. & M. as the headline attraction, the university will open its doors to an estimated 25,000 visitors here on Thanksgiving Day.

The 700,000 volume Library and the Texas Memorial Museum will be open Thursday, though normally closed on holidays. The Library's Rare Book Collections will display an exhibit of fine printing dating from the Gutenberg Bible, while both Texas and Latin-American collections will also be open.

Thanksgiving services have been planned by several campus churches.

The football game is a near sell-out, with all tickets except a few in the end zones gone. The A. and M. band will be present, but the entire corps will not make the trip.

Health Officer
Warns Against Diphtheria

AUSTIN, Tex. — With the incidence of diphtheria showing a seasonal increase in the state of Texas, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, is again warning parents to make sure that their children are protected against this killing disease by diphtheria immunization.

According to the State Health Department, records show that less than 50 percent of the children in Texas are inoculated against diphtheria.

"Inasmuch as typhoid inoculation has and will prevent diphtheria, it seems incredible that so many of our children are allowed to remain open to attack," Dr. Cox said. "Diphtheria is a killer and a vicious one. There are few diseases which cause the victim more agony than does diphtheria, and it is certainly the solemn responsibility of parents to make sure that their children do not fall victim to this disease."

Dr. Cox advised that children be taken to their family physician for inoculation and stated further that in the event parents are unable to pay for this service, county health units will administer the toxoid without charge.

All children should be immunized against diphtheria before reaching their first birthday, but if not, they definitely should have the inoculation before entering school. Dr. Cox said, "There is always danger of diphtheria among school children and until every child in Texas is inoculated before school age there will be no way of preventing the incidence and spread of diphtheria among our Texas school children."

and thoroughly refreshing as her rollicking story of "Cap'n Bob Yancey" in "The Vanishing Virginian."

Father said she was too old to climb trees and should take up some more feminine pursuit — "like keeping a diary." A diary, he said, would train her powers of observation and discernment. Rebecca thought it might be a good idea, too, and so she followed his advice, jotting down the events and reflections of a stream of excitement — packed days when they were all young together in Lynchburg, Va.; Elizabeth, Rebecca, Bob, and the youthful four: Joe, Mary, Caroline and little Henry.

There are quick, flashing descriptions of their childhood, then parties for the young Rebecca, then—romance entering her life in the person of the stammering young Carter who was so upset by her sudden allegiance to a boy from V. M. I. that he "smoked an entire package of cigarettes in two hours."

You'll enjoy this book by one of America's most refreshing writers.

Share The Meat Campaign Is On Among Civilians

Again the civilian population over all the nation is being called upon to make a rigid check-up on their meat consumption and to cooperate in a nation-wide share the meat drive says Miss Lillie Gentry, county home demonstration agent with the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

In this movement the Extension Service and the community and neighborhood victory leaders will cooperate with the OCD and state and national county nutrition committees, Miss Gentry said.

The share the meat program is a campaign for voluntarily dividing fairly the beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton which is available for civilians after the needs of the armed forces and lend-lease commitments have been met. This program does not include fish, poultry, nor the internal organs of the animal, such as hearts, kidneys, livers, sweetbreads, and the like.

The program is aimed only at the person who consumes more than the allotment of two and one-half pounds per week and not at the person eating less than this amount. To be sure, the person who is eating less than this amount should increase his meat intake for the sake of good health, Miss Gentry says.

And here's an arithmetic problem for you if you are interested in determining the amount of meat your family should eat in a year's time under the new share the meat program: Allow two and one-half pounds per week for every member in your family over 12 years of age. This will give you 130 pounds per person per year. For children between the ages of 6 and 12 years, allow one and one-half pounds per week, and for children under six years allow three-fourths of a pound per week.

In storing or canning meat for a year's supply the total of these figures should be considered and all other meat above this amount should be sold so that every person in this locality will have sufficient meat to eat.

Details of the meat rationing program have not been worked out as yet, but let us as people interested in the welfare of the people as a whole, voluntarily stay within the meat allotment and begin it today.

SMALLPOX VACCINATIONS TO BE GIVEN AT TECH
LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 23 — Smallpox vaccinations for all students and faculty of Texas Technological College will be compulsory the second semester, officials have announced. Students to register next semester must present the medical examiner with a certificate showing vaccination within the past seven years. Those not presenting certificates will be vaccinated before admission to courses. Letters are being sent parents explaining the new policy and urging family physicians to administer the vaccine. Students unable to visit their own doctors may call on the college nurse for assistance, if they bring the vaccine and seek the aid prior to registration.

Broadcast To Be Heard By Farmers

American farmers from coast to coast will be honored for their record-breaking wartime production in a nation-wide broadcast Thanksgiving night, the Texas USDA War Board has announced. The program will be heard from 9 till 9:30 p. m., Thursday over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The script for the broadcast was written by Stephen Vincent Benet, Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard will participate on the program. The broadcast will highlight the national Thanksgiving Harvest Observance which is being observed during the month of November, according to the USDA War Board.

Industry now has in use the first 1,000,000-volt industrial X-ray machines for boiler-drum and pressure-vessel inspection capable of penetrating eight inches of steel in good commercial time. The unit operates at 2 1/2 times the maximum voltage previously available in industrial equipment and weighs only 1,500 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boothe and Juanita Harmon were Clovis visitors Sunday.
