ALL PEOPLE PART IN AUTO CHECK XMAS EVE

and Mrs. R. F. Williams Recovering from Injuries

Persons were seriously injured and another badly hurt as a result of an automobile crash on Christmas Eve on the plains between Quitaque and Silvertown Tuesday night, December 24.

Mrs. R. F. Williams and Mrs. R. F. Williams are recovering from serious injuries sustained as the Ford V8 driven by Williams missed a detour and drove into an open culvert on the highway. C. T. Rucker received a fractured shoulder in the crash, and Tomack, other occupant of the car, escaped with minor abrasions.

The party was en route to Amarillo to spend Christmas when the accident occurred. Williams, disregarding the detour, kept to the main road and crashed into the culvert, which had been recently torn away by construction crew.

A section of the highway, which had been closed off and a detour arranged, was blocked until the culvert was repaired until the construction crew was able to clear the highway a few days before the accident.

Williams sustained several rib injuries, an injured arm, and injuries as he was thrown against the steering wheel of the car by the impact.

Lubbock Girl Becomes Bride of Quitaque Teacher

In a quiet ceremony at the home of the bride's father at 161 Avenue Y in Lubbock at 8:30 p. m. Christmas Eve, Miss Evalyn Macia Hamilton became the bride of Mr. Trenton T. Davis of this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Thomas Hamilton of Lubbock. She was a student at Texas Technological College of that city.

Mr. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Davis of St. Jo, Texas. He graduated with the class of '35 from Texas Tech, where he was student manager of the Tech Athletic teams, and is now a member of the faculty and head coach at the Quitaque High School.

Rev. H. A. Smith, pastor of the First Church of Christ in Lubbock, presided at the Christmas Eve ceremony, reading the impressive ring ceremony.

Miss Margaret Hamilton, sister of the bride, was Maid of Honor. The Best Man was Mr. Claude H. Brown of Abilene.

The ceremony was conducted in the beautifully appointed parlor of the Hamilton home. Decorations were carried out in Hawthorn leaves, berries, and holly in the softly candle-lit room.

Close personal friends and relatives of the young couple were the only attendants at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left immediately following the wedding on a brief tour through Central Texas, and to St. Jo, where they made a short visit in the home of Mr. Davis' parents. Returning to Lubbock,

Strict Rules Set For Old Age Pensions

"Major provisions are the following:

1. A qualified applicant must be 65 years of age and a citizen of the United States.

2. He must have lived in Texas five out of the last nine years, and have lived in the State continuously one year preceding application.

3. He must not at time of receiving aid be an inmate of a public or private institution.

Resettlement Employees Have Busy Season

"New Year, is it?" Geo. Hulsey, Briscoe county supervisor for the Resettlement Administration, looked at the calendar Tuesday and hoped he would get an hour off for New Year's dinner. He has had a crowd of clients around him night and day for several weeks while he and his helper worked out plans for these families to get back into farming, where they can earn their own living and stay off the relief rolls. A county advisory committee of volunteer workers has also been meeting regularly, to approve the plans.

"Every Resettlement employee serves about 200 people," Mr. Hulsey said. "In this region of Texas and Oklahoma almost 200,000 individ-

Panthers To Open Conference Play Friday Evening

Opening conference play in the newly organized District 4-B Basketball league Friday night, the Quitaque Panthers will take on the Paducah Dragons in a fast game at the Panther gym here.

Having won over Lockney, split games with Turkey, and lost by a one-point margin to the Carey quint in non-conference games before the holidays, the Panthers will take the floor Friday after a week of training to attempt to score their first conference win.

On the following Tuesday evening, January 7, the Panthers will meet the Lockney Lornhorns on the home court in another conference tilt. Having won over the Longhorns in a non-conference battle at Lockney two weeks ago by a decisive score of 43-21, the Panthers are expected to win the tilt here. Both teams, however, will put up a stiff battle for the games that may mean the early season lead in the new conference.

Both games are scheduled to start at 7:30. Admission will be ten and twenty cents, Coach Trenton Davis announced.

Coach Davis opened training Monday afternoon, working hard to get the squad in shape for the first title game Friday evening.

Final approval was received October on a $20,000 appropriation for hard-surfacing lateral road from Highway 10 miles east of Quitaque through line to the Motley County line. The project was accepted by WPA officials on October 25.

The proposed road meets a similar project in Motley County extending through Flomot to Whitehat.

According to plans, practically the entire five-mile stretch between the Highway and the county line will be hard-surfaced, and adequate drainage will be provided.

The project is under the direct supervision of Mr. Moore, with George

THE MOST SENSATIONAL IMPROVEMENT

TO TAKE MYSTERY OUT OF BANKING

By ROBERT V. FLEMING
President American Bankers Assn.
The American Bankers Assn. has cooperated wherever it could do so in every measure for recovery.

R. V. FLEMING

ferred constructive recommendations for changes in banking laws and organized a campaign to open Banking 1935 after a period of broader and, at the same time, re-affirmed the fundamentals which we believe vital to our national welfare and have played a large part in our country, in a comparative space of time, to the position of greatest industrial nation on the globe.

The Public and Banking

It is necessary that the public have a thorough understanding of the operations of banks, what they can do for them, and what they cannot do, for it is recognized that to many people the business of banking is still a mystery.

We should frankly explain to the public, acquaint them with the laws under which we operate, emphasize the vital part which banking plays in the economic life of the country. Therefore, in order that there be the fullest cooperation and understanding between the banks and the public of the country, it will also be our objective to take the mystery out of banking wherever it exists in the public mind.

Banking Conferences

A series of Regional Banking Conferences will be held in various sections of the country, embracing all types of banking. The new laws and the regulations issued under them will be carefully analyzed, and our bankers will have a thorough understanding of the broadened scope now made possible.

The question of public relations, how we can best serve the people, and the communities will be another topic for discussion. Clinics or forums on specific questions of interest to bankers and the problems confronting them in their particular localities will also be included in these conferences.

A Festive Coconut Party Cake

WHEN you prepare for company, don't be afraid to make your most economical cake. You can completely hide its economy under a luscious coconut covering or turn it into a cake delectable with a delicious filling. Add these recipes to your repertoire.

Coconut Boiled Frosting

1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon light corn syrup
2/3 cup boiling water
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups moist, sweetened coconut
Combine sugar, corn syrup, and water. Bring quickly to a boil, stirring only until sugar is dissolved. Boil rapidly without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a soft ball in cold water, or spins a long thread when dropped from tip of spoon (240° F.). Pour syrup in fine stream over egg whites, beating constantly. Add vanilla. Continue beating with rotary egg beater 10 to 15 minutes, or until frosting is cool and of right consistency to spread. Use wooden spoon when too stiff for beater. Spread on cake. Sprinkle thickly with coconut while frosting is still soft. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers, or top and sides of 8x8x2-inch cake, or about 2 dozen cup cakes.

Mocha Coconut Frosting

3 tablespoons butter
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon strong coffee (about)
Dash of salt
1 1/2 cups moist, sweetened coconut

Cream butter; add part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add remaining sugar, naturally with coffee, until of consistency to spread; add Spread between layers and on top of cake, sprinkling generously coconut. Makes enough frosting to cover tops of two 9-inch layers, or top and sides of 8x8x2-inch cake, or about 2 dozen cup cakes.

Lemon Coconut Filling

1 cup confectioners' sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 1/2 cups shredded coconut
Combine sugar, salt, lemon and juice, and egg in top of boiler. Place over boiling water and cook 5 minutes, or until mixture is thick, stirring constantly. Remove from boiling water, add coconut and cool. Makes enough filling to spread between two 9-inch layers.

Coconut Fruit Filling

1 cup cooked apricots
1 cup drained crushed pineapple
1/2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons orange juice
1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup moist, sweetened coconut
Combine apricots, pineapple, and sugar in saucepan. Cook over low flame 5 minutes, or until fruit is clear, stirring constantly. Cool; add orange juice, rind, and coconut. Chill before spreading. Makes enough filling to spread between two 9-inch layers.

tags over to the National Pool. All these papers have been signed and returned to Washington. So if you had any tags in the Special Pool you don't have but two worries left. One is, when do we get a check for what was sold in the Special Pool and the other is when if ever will we get any money on the part that was put into the National Pool. And as smart as this office is we cannot answer either of those questions.

—1935 Cotton Tags—

We have decided to extend the time of acceptance of 1935 tags for the National Pool until January 15 in order to allow every one in the county to finish gathering their acorn crop—or as we say out here "the bolies." This 15 day extension should give everyone enough time to complete his "pulling" nearly enough so that he can guess awfully close to the exact poundage of certificates needed to gin on. Be sure to pool the rest, if you want to.

—Inventory Time—

As we come to the close of an old year and the opening of a new one it would be well for us to pause long enough to reflect a bit on the past. We should take inventory of what we have on hand. This inventory should include not only the physical possessions that we have, but our mental and spiritual possessions as well.

This is a good time to discard those things that we possess (whether they be old worn-out implements or bad habits) which cannot be used at a profit for greater building in future years.

A good new years resolution to make (and a better one to keep) is, resolve that we will survey our past and hold fast to the worthwhile things we find therein, and use our mistakes as stepping stones to a higher, nobler more profitable life in the future.

THIRTEEN PERSONS HONORED AT DINNER PARTY SUNDAY

What $10,000,000 Will Do Before June

Here are two extremes—below the Texas Centennial Exposition grounds in Dallas as it looks today; above artists' conceptions of the Petroleum Products building, right, and the Administration Building, left, both permanent structures, costing together approximately $625,000, which will arise on this rough site. Exposition heads are rushing work on projects which call for the expenditure of $10,000,000 before the opening date, June 6.

No one ever gets much for his second hand car if he lets his conscience fix the price.

"EXTRA GIRL"

When Texas Centennial Exposition officials began to select the Rangerettes, hostesses for the Exposition, they planned to have one who was born in each of the 48 states. Then along came Mabel Rooks, shown above, and she passed the strict requirements. Officials found later she had been born in the District of Columbia, so they increased the corps to 50, giving themselves a little leeway in the matter of states.

"The property restriction," Mr. Carpenter continued, "as well as that of cash or security ownership, must be clearly understood."

"A qualified old-age pension applicant—

"Does not own property, real, personal, or mixed, the fair value of which, taking into consideration assessed valuation for State and county tax purposes less all incumbrances and liens, exceeds, if the applicant is single, $5000, or if married, $7500.

"Does not have or own cash or marketable securities, the fair value of which exceeds $500 if the applicant is single, or if married, $1000," Mr. Carpenter stated.

"An important restriction concerns income of qualified applicants. Incomes of applicants must not exceed from any and all sources, $360 yearly if single; and the combined incomes of both spouses, from any and all sources, must not exceed $720 yearly, if applicant is married," Mr. Carpenter explained. "A sworn statement of all income during the preceding two years must accompany the application."

"All applications will be handled through local agents after the new law goes into effect February 14," he added.

—Xmas Cards—

Just prior to and during the holidays this office passed out Xmas greetings from Uncle Sam in the form of parity checks in excess of $25000.00. It seems that our old Uncle knows what it takes to make Christmas merry.

With few exceptions all rental and parity checks have been received and delivered for Briscoe County. Our 1935 cotton program is almost wound up and all contracts completed. If you happen to be one of those who were not happy during the holidays by not receiving from Uncle Sam, you still have time to be happy.

To date no 1936-39 contracts have been received, but as soon as we do receive them everyone who signed an application will be notified. It will be remembered that the applications which we signed a few weeks ago were not contracts—they were options on contracts. We may or may not sign the contract when it is presented.

CHRISTMAS "INSIDE"

By GERTRUDE H. WALTON

THE LARGE house interested Celia. There seemed little life within, no Christmas decorations in the windows as in many wellings on the streets. Tonight, dim light in the back, with the early Christmas eve twilight, heightened its drabness.

"One may be excused for inquisitiveness, tonight," Celia led Ann, her roommate onto the porch. This house, outside, looks gloomy but no more than is my heart. I'll admit being disappointed because of no opening, after our singing audition over WGQ this afternoon.

Celia, slipping to a side door, with Ann, began singing Christmas carols. A door opened and a dignified woman said:

"Come inside, girls, and sing. I'm Mrs. Ashby. There's a piano, not opened since Beulah—"

"We'll sing if you join us," Celia answered. After singing, Celia told of ambitions for her voice and of the afternoon's disappointment.

"Girls, you have given me a happy pre-Christmas eve and birthday, as well. Many of my club members have birthdays at this season. Please come again, tonight, you wish. You're across the street."

Celia and Ann, at home, were sitting, when, answering the telephone, Celia swung Ann around to dizziness.

"We're to report for a program tomorrow afternoon over WGQ! Someone not filling engagement! I'll practice on Mrs. Ashby's piano. Let's decorate her windows with these wreaths," Celia cried. During the Christmas day program, dedicated to those with birthdays of the season, when Mrs. Ashby's name was mentioned, the announcer said:

"Mrs. Ashby will enjoy this program. She called us last evening—asked that you girls sing for birthdays of her club members—her members asked for you, too. Mrs. Ashby travels, gives of time and money to a shut-in club of which she is national president. Her daughter is the wife of a famed doctor in India. You probably will have a permanent program for birthdays of listeners."

"Maybe that house interested me because, even through boards and some, human kindness, character, oozes through. Her windows look pretty, though, with our wreaths," Celia told Ann.

CHRISTMAS IN THE HOME

CHRISTMAS festivities are likely to be much more in when the whole family helps, says the New York state college of home economics.

The older children are always get to trim the Christmas tree, select Christmas greens, and make wreaths. Often they have no ideas on how to arrange these holiday decorations. Because they ask are unusual they have a special appeal, but with the right encouragement from father or mother, even the more routine work may be a part of the general family sharing at Christmas.

Big brother and sister can be a help if they show their small brothers or sister how to help in odd cornering jobs that come with Christmas. If mother is busy, older brothers or sisters can help the youngsters to dress or get ready for bed.

What can the small members of family do? Little Johnny or tiny Mary can cut out gingerbread men or other fancy shaped cookies, which mother will lift onto the baking sheet. Father will also be pleased to know how well his small son or daughter can find his tools, or the string used to wind the Christmas wreath when both of father's hands are busy, or to help with other preparations.

One thing father and mother should remember is to watch for signs of fatigue or nervous strain in the younger children. They should not ask the children to do too many or too difficult tasks.

MEANING OF "NOEL"

"NOEL" is the French name of the Christmas feast and the old carols formerly sung in the French country churches at this season. Its derivation is from the Latin "natalis," meaning "born," and the word was originally shouted or sung to express joy over the birth of Christ. With the spelling "Nowel" it is found in Chaucer and other early writers.

JUNIOR TO PRESENT ANNUAL PLAY

In the month of January the Junior class intends to present the play "Punkin Crick Trains 'Em Slick." The play is just full of good laughs and fun. We are completing a very capable cast, and we want you to ask Santa to leave you the money to purchase a ticket to the show of the season—The Junior Play!

But wait—more yet—not only do you get to see the Junior play, but we have been promised a male quartet from Hardin Simmons University to entertain before the play and between acts. They say they may bring an accordion player with them. Take it from us—and plan on an evening of fine entertainment. Two shows for the price of one—something new. Taken from the letter of the manager of the quartet—"Let us know when to come and we will have a real show for you." Don't miss this at regular prices.

By the way, girls, we hear this quartet is a group of handsome singers—each equal to Bing himself—and, boys, look out for the accordion player. We are anxious to see a good program.

I am not asking for anything for myself this year, but I would like for you to remember some of my friends. Please tell the Juniors some books on "How to Act in High School." Please don't bring them toys this year, because I am sure they would want to play with them in the study hall, and I am afraid that would bother the study hall teacher and also the Freshmen's grades. When Christmas Grew

HE WAS a small boy named Tim who had never been more than ten miles from his home in the Ozark hills. His teacher said he couldn't even bound Arkansas, his own state, but what his teacher didn't know was how well he knew the mountain 'crick' and the hill slopes circled with green-gold pine trees that bounded his father's tiny farm. He also knew what it took to keep a family of six children and that for as long as he could remember his father's farm had scarcely been able to produce enough to stretch over every need.

It was just before Christmas time that he heard his father tell his mother that if there was to be anything "extra" to give the day its meaning for the children, he'd have to get the ax and hack out a few ties. Her face went white, for she knew what that meant. She often had been forced to remain on the hacking of a few ties to be sold on the railroad for dire necessities that practical all their timber available for the purpose was gone. And trees don't grow overnight. She could tell by the look on her husband's face that he was taking a desperate chance of finding a few logs tough enough for the commission man to buy.

As she looked out of the window and saw the passing cars of winter "tourists" on the new scenic road the government had built through the hills, she wondered by what magic folks could come to own automobiles and take time off life that to go traveling. But she had many moments to spare on such thoughts, for her husband had returned to say that the ax was gone. Could one of the children have taken it?

The father had borrowed an ax from a willing neighbor but on the day before Christmas he was absent as he unhitched his team from the wagon lot. Christmas tomorrow he had been forced to bring back the load from town. The commission man had been troublesome, for he did need ties; a lot of these were large enough to creep up to a window, but in the sense of failure that made him ashamed to walk to his doctor. There an odd sight straightened him. Inside were Tim and his mother joyously trimming a Christmas tree. Tim raced to the door to keep the younger children bursting gleefully into the room and learning its great secret. When the father entered the house, no one asked him about it. "Dad, dad!" Tim shouted. Do you know those red berries that grow up the crick? Awful hard to get to, but when I found them I thought they were so purty I took some to school. The teacher said, 'that's holly' and then I read about holly and learned that folks will pay for it to have it for Christmas. So I gathered a lot of it and made me a holly stand up on the new road just hoping they would. And dad, they did buy it! Stopped their cars and said 'Why it's holly, who would have thought we'd find it here!' They wanted so much I had to work awfully hard getting it, but gee, it was fun! I wanted to surprise mom and you, and now I'll tell you both that I made $27.82. There's $20 right in that bureau drawer left after buying our Christmas. Gee dad, I love this old farm! It's got lots of surprises on it yet. This one's the last one."

The father brushed a tear from his eye and kissed his wife. Then he shook hands with Tim. "You're the kind of son a man can be proud to own," he choked.

"But dad, will you forgive me?" the boy suddenly implored. "Why Tim, forgive you what?" the father asked in surprise. The boy led the way to the kitchen. "You see dad, I just had to have it?"

The father pretended to frown as Tim pointed and then he winked. "Well, being as it's just a Christmas for us, as well as the rest of the world, I guess I'll overlook it." For there in the corner of the room stood the tree. It was Tim who had borrowed the ax. © Western Newspaper Union.
