Looking Things Over

By "MACK"

THE WEATHER—Everybody has missed it again—every prophet of note around here stated that rain would fall in our fair county between the 18th and 24th of this month—the fortune teller, Fipley White, and all—but to date this end of Briscoe County is dry—dry—dry. Even the world-famous weather prophet—Old Tack of the Amarillo News—proclaimed this week as rain week—and you see the results.

A month ago we had the perfect prospect for a crop, and several business men were planning to "make" Quitaque this fall—to grab all the money they could and then get out (with all the money possible). Hope they come and look over the situation before they move in their stock for that fall "killing."

The Post hereby announces that it will not mention the weather again until it rains or freezes.

Personal Nomination for the fastest man in Texas—R. Neal Greer, made it from the Baptist Church to his home in nothing flat Tuesday evening. (It was reported that his house was on fire.)

COMMERCIAL FAILURES DROP IN TEXAS IN JULY

AUSTIN, Aug. 25.—A sharp drop occurred in the number of commercial failures in Texas during July in comparison with the corresponding month last year, but there was a substantial increase in failures over the preceding month, it was reported by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Liabilities were down sharply from both comparable periods.

Reports from Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., show a 54 per cent decline in the number of failures and 30 per cent in their liabilities compared with July last year; and an increase of 33 per cent in number but a decline of 32.5 per in liabilities compared with the preceding month, the bureau stated. Average liability per failure was 82 per cent below that of July last year and 44 per cent under that of June.

DROUGHT, WHERE IS IT STINGING?

A local farmer last week, when questioned about the condition of his cotton crop, summed up the agricultural situation to the proverbial "it".

Asked if the hot dry winds and blazing sun of the past few weeks were hurting his cotton, the farmer amazed his listeners with a negative reply—

"No," he said, with the ghost of a smile. "No, my cotton's not suffering at all now—but it burned quite a bit before it died!"

MEETING AT BAPTIST CHURCH TO CLOSE SUNDAY

Large Crowds Continue to Hear Rev. C. Y. Dossey

Revival services at the First Baptist Church entered the second week Sunday, with steadily increasing crowds overflowing seating capacities at both morning and evening services.

Rev. C. Y. Dossey, State Evangelist, will close the two weeks revival campaign next Sunday, Rev. R. Neal Greer, local pastor, announced this week.

Twenty-two additions to the church were announced at the close of the first week's services Sunday evening, while Rev. Dossey continued his soul-stirring campaign this week.

Sunday School Supt. P. P. Rumph, commenting on the large attendance at S. S. classes Sunday morning, urged everyone not attending classes elsewhere to be present for Sunday school services at the Baptist Church Sunday morning. The attendance goal has been set at 250. Attendance last Sunday was 223.

The visiting evangelist announced the following sermon subjects for evening and Sunday morning services during the remainder of the week—

Thursday—"The Horse Race"

Friday—"The Prodigal Son"

Saturday—"Who Will Be Responsible for Every Soul That Goes to Hell from Quitaque?"

Sunday Morning—"The Three-fold Secret of the Great Life of Moses."

Sunday Night—"The Two Ways."

Services are conducted at the Church Auditorium each morning at ten o'clock. Evening services are conducted on the church lawn at 8:15. The Sunday morning service opens at eleven o'clock.

Briscoe County To Receive Nine NYA Students

Nine Briscoe County high school students will receive aid this fall through the National Youth Administration, County Judge W. W. Martin announced this week.

The quota was raised from last year, when six Quitaque High School students received N. Y. A. aid.

Funds allotted are to be distributed among schools of the county, though, according to Judge Martin, the county allotment will probably be divided between Silvertown and Quitaque schools.

Six dollars per month, to be used in the purchase of clothes and school supplies, is allowed each student accepted by the Administration. Qualifications no longer limit the selection of students to families on the relief rolls, though the applicants must be in need of aid and maintain good scholastic averages to qualify.

The entire allotment, providing for six students went to the Quitaque schools last year, since other schools in the county were unable to qualify. A more nearly equal division will be made under the new provisions, however, Martin stated.

KELSAY, MARTIN TO CANYON ON COUNTY SCHOOL BUSINESS

Superintendent A. L. Kelsay of the Silvertown schools and County Judge W. W. Martin made a trip to Canyon Monday, negotiating with officials of this school district in an effort to have Briscoe County schools transferred to the Childress district from Canyon. A recent change in the administration, moving State Inspector J. D. Wilson from Canyon to Childress brought about the application for transfer.

Ed Grundy and Lonnie Edmondson attended a meeting of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association at Quanah Monday.

Briscoe County Receives $56,682 From HOLC

Residents of Briscoe County received a total of $56,682.00 from Home Owners' Loan Corporation during the three-year period of refinancing operations which terminated on June 13, 1936, according to the final figures furnished H. P. Drought, state director for the National Emergency Council. This sum represented 38 individual loans.

A total of 44,361 distressed home owners in Texas were extended aid in the sum of $103,208,774. Of this money it is estimated that $6,343,000 went toward the payment of taxes and assessments, the estimated average of tax and assessment payments per loan in Texas being $143. According to the 1930 United States Census reports there were 374,755 owned non-farm homes in Texas. The Home Owners' Loan Corporation refinanced mortgages on 11.8 per cent of this number.

More than 98 per cent of all money involved went for the refinancing of distressed homes by means of long-term replacement mortgages which are to be amortized fully over the term of the loan in small monthly payments. The balance of the money advanced went for the restoration and conditioning of properties.

Silvertown To Stage Rodeo On Sept. 4th and 5th

September 4th has been set as the opening day of Silvertown's two-day Annual Rodeo and Centennial Celebration. Two full afternoons of Rodeo and Horse Racing will be staged with liberal prizes offered for all winners.

Instead of the usual barbecue, an old fashioned basket dinner will be served with coffee and iced tea free. The afternoon events will start at one o'clock of each day.

A big dance will be held each night, sponsored by the fire boys, and a carnival company has been engaged to enliven the evenings for everybody.

Tom Bomar, well known to all race horse and rodeo men is in charge of those events and all communications for details should be address to him.

ROBERTSON RE-UNION HELD NEAR RALLS AUGUST 13TH

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robertson, with Mr. Robertson's father, J. A. Robertson, attended a family re-union at the J. F. Robertson home northwest of Ralls on August 13.

Six brothers were together for the first time in fifty-two years as members of the family gathered from four states.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Robertson observed the occasion by celebrating their thirty-fourth wedding anniversary.

Thirty-nine members of the Robertson family were present for the re-union. Plans were laid for a homecoming next year in Tennessee, their native state.

Centennial Year Travel Increases Gas Tax Revenue

AUSTIN, August 25.—Sponsors of the bill passed in the state legislature to appropriate $3,000,000 for the celebration of Texas' 100th anniversary pointed out in their fight for the bill's passage that the state treasury would be reimbursed that amount with increased gasoline taxes during 1936. Their promise has been more than fulfilled during the first seven months of the Centennial year.

From January 1 through July 31 the state gasoline tax bill has been swelled by $3,148,749 over and above the amount collected for the same period last year. Taxes from the sale of gasoline to residents and visitors to Texas have already shown a profit of $148,749 to the state on its appropriation of $3,000,000 for the first seven months of 1936 and fall tourist travel promises to add substantially to the tax revenue by the end of the year.

Centennial officials anticipate increased travel into Texas from out-of-state during fall months and if such is true revenue provided by gasoline tax will run the amount past the $6,000,000 mark for 1936, there by showing a profit of $3,000,000 to the taxpayers of Texas on their Centennial investment.

Popular Silvertown Couple Marry at Matador Friday

A wedding of much interest to the people of this county occurred Friday August 21st, when Miss Sarah Jane Cline became the bride of Mr. W. E. Schott, Jr. The ceremony was read by the pastor of the Baptist Church of Matador.

Mrs. Schott is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth B. Cline of Silvertown. She is a popular member of the younger set of that city.

Mr. Schott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schott, who live in the north part of the county. He is in the life insurance business and is well-known in Quitaque.

The young couple are at home to their friends at Silvertown.

INSPECTORS COMPLETE PENSION INVESTIGATIONS

"Every applicant for Old Age Assistance in Briscoe County has been investigated, and those approved by the Commission may expect their payments in the very near future," Investigator McWilliams of the Plainview District, Texas Old Age Assistance Commission, advised Judge W. W. Martin this week.

McWilliams was in Silvertown Tuesday, Martin stated, and gave assurance that all applicants in this county accepted by the Commission will be paid, probably by September.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Taylor and family and Frank Wise returned Monday evening from a trip to Shreveport, Louisiana, where they visited relatives.

New Coach Issues Call For Football Candidates Monday

Coach Roy Morris, recently named mentor of Quitaque High School Athletics for the 1936-37 term of school, this week issued the first call for football training, ordering all Panther grid prospects to report for practice at four o'clock next Monday afternoon, August 31, at the Panther gym.

Head Coach at Hamlin for the past seven years, Morris was named last month by the Quitaque School Board to succeed Coach Trenton Davis as local athletic director. A graduate of Hardin Simmons University, he has established a fine record as head-coach during his years at Hamlin.

Morris will arrive this week-end to be ready for opening practice session Monday.

Loss of several regulars through graduation and ineligibility has weakened the prospective Panther grid squad greatly this season. Morris will depend on a number of inexperienced freshmen and sophomore candidates to plug wide holes in both line and backfield.

Probable ineligibility this season of three stellar gridsters from last year's squad, Capt. Elliott Lee, end, and Jack Bickford, through the 18-year rule, and Jack Hutcheson, regular center, by way of the eight-semester regulation, will leave gaping holes in the Panther ranks.

Rumors that the Panthers will play "outlaw" football this season were emphatically denied by Supt. E. W. Scheid, however.

"Unless it is absolutely impossible to form a squad from the eligible players," Scheid stated Tuesday, "we will play our regular conference schedule. Under no conditions will we allow a strictly 'outlaw' team, however. If it is necessary to play ineligible in order to form a squad, we may do so, but no players will be allowed on the team who are not in school and passing grades satisfactorily," he emphasized.

In the event that it is necessary to play ineligible men, the Panthers will probably go through the conference schedule already arranged, but will, of course, have no conference standing. This, however, appears to be a remote possibility.

While the season's schedule is incomplete, the Panthers have matched conference games with Lockney, Turkey, Silvertown, and Flomot in the northern half of the split District 4-B. In the southern half of the district are Floydada, Matador, Spur, and Paducah.

The championship of each half is to be determined by November 20, when the District Championship game will be played.

MRS. HERMAN DUNCAN TO PLAINVIEW SANITARIUM

Mrs. Herman Duncan was taken to the Plainview Sanitarium Tuesday evening, suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis. Her condition, however, was not serious, and doctors refused to operate, allowing her to return to her home here Wednesday morning. Mrs. Duncan was accompanied to Plainview by Myrtice Hadaway, Ernest Morris, Ovil Robins, and Mr. Duncan.

CENTENNIAL WORLD OF SPORTS

DALLAS—The Chicago Bears, most colorful football eleven in the National professional league, played football fifteen years before their management would agree to take them away from their home gridiron for one of their early season inter-sectional clashes. Then Texas took the limelight with its Centennial Exposition. Thus on September 7 the Bears will meet an All-American eleven in the Centennial Exposition's Cotton Bowl in what is expected to be one of the most sensational gridiron battles ever played on a southwestern grid.

Wanda King of Silvertown was a local visitor Tuesday afternoon. Miss King, who will return this fall to teach in the local high school, has recently returned from a two-months' vacation trip in old Mexico.

HEAVY VOTE IS CAST IN SECOND PRIMARY SAT.

Coffee Wins Judge's Race with 16 Votes Majority

In one of the most hotly contested political races in County history, W. Coffee, Jr., defeated Judge W. W. Martin for the office of County Judge by the narrow margin of sixteen votes in the second democratic primary election Saturday.

The margin of victory was two more votes than that polled in the Second Primary in 1934, records reveal. At that time, Coffee, completing an appointment to office as successor to Judge O. R. Tipps, and candidate for his first elective term, was defeated by Judge Martin in the run off by a margin of fourteen votes.

L. E. Graham, candidate for reelection to his sixth term as County Commissioner from Precinct No. 2, defeated W. Vaughn Chandler by a margin of 102 votes.

In the race for County Chairman, Homer Sanders led by a wide margin over his opponent, M. C. Potter, after falling by a few votes to receive a majority over several opponents in the first primary July 25th.

Voting Saturday, with one of the shortest ballots in the County's history before local voters, was much heavier than was anticipated, falling only 120 votes short of the heavy poll of 1,500 in the July primary. A total of thirteen hundred and seventy-eight votes were polled Saturday, as interest in local political races reached a high point.

Four hundred and forty-nine votes were polled at the Quitaque box, the largest of eight county boxes, only twenty-six less than the record in the first primary.

W. Coffee, Jr., received the largest individual ballot in the Quitaque box with a total vote of 290, with L. E. Graham a close second with 286.

No marked interest was exhibited in campaigns for two state offices. Ernest O. Thompson, candidate for re-election as Railroad Commissioner, more than doubled his opponent, Frank S. Morris, in this County; while J. E. McDonald, candidate for re-election as Commissioner of Agriculture, polled nearly four times as many votes in Briscoe County boxes as did his opponent, Geo. B. Terrell.

All returns listed here are unofficial, but complete. The figures were released by County Clerk R. E. Douglas, and are approximately correct.

Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Price and daughters, Isabel and Rosemary, returned early Monday morning from Dallas and Fort Worth, where they attended the Central Exposition and Frontier Celebrations of the Texas Centennial. The Price family left last Tuesday for Denton, where Rosemary took part in commencement exercises at North Texas State Teachers College, receiving her degree as Bachelor of Arts Wednesday.

WHAT ARE THEY HOWLING ABOUT?

It was Jay Franklin, in his column in the New York Post the other day, who hit the nail on the head when he said that investors of the nation "are making more money than ever and yet they howl."

Mr. Franklin pointed out that by the Republican gospel of material prosperity alone, the country is far advanced on the upgrade and the G. O. P. had nothing to do with it, except as members of Congress voted for New Deal measures which started recovery.

"In this connection," wrote Mr. Franklin, "it is important to point out that the net farm income for 1935 was higher than for 1930, that bank deposits are higher than at the beginning of 1930, that kilowatt-hour production and assets of life insurance companies are at all-time highs, that 5,000,000 of Hoover's unemployed have been absorbed into private industry, etc."

"In fact, reserve requirements have had to be increased to prevent an ungovernable boom and even the Wall Street Journal declares that 'Pessimism becomes difficult'."

"What, then are the Tories howling about? Why do they rush, with every sign of panic, to London and the G. O. P. as the one hope of survival in what they announce is a terrible crisis? Where is the fire?"

"The profit system and their own profits seem to be unimpaired and the nation has been rescued from disaster—Why all this bitterness, this malice, this meanness, this fury? What, then, are they howling about now? Surely not that they, as well as their poorer neighbors, must help pay the price of recovery? Or did they really expect to pass on to the masses of the people the cost of the depression as completely as they unloaded their inflated securities on the public in the years before the crash?"

A good switching once in awhile for a growing kid seems to be going out of fashion as a stimulant to respect for constitutional authority. There used to be a saying, and maybe it is still extant somewhere, that a licking about every so often loosened a lad's hide so he could grow.—Floyd County Hesperian.

A Hot Weather Necessity

The necessity for modern plumbing, with the advantages of a good shower in the bathroom and a large, easily-cleaned sink and drain board in the kitchen, becomes more apparent this hot weather.

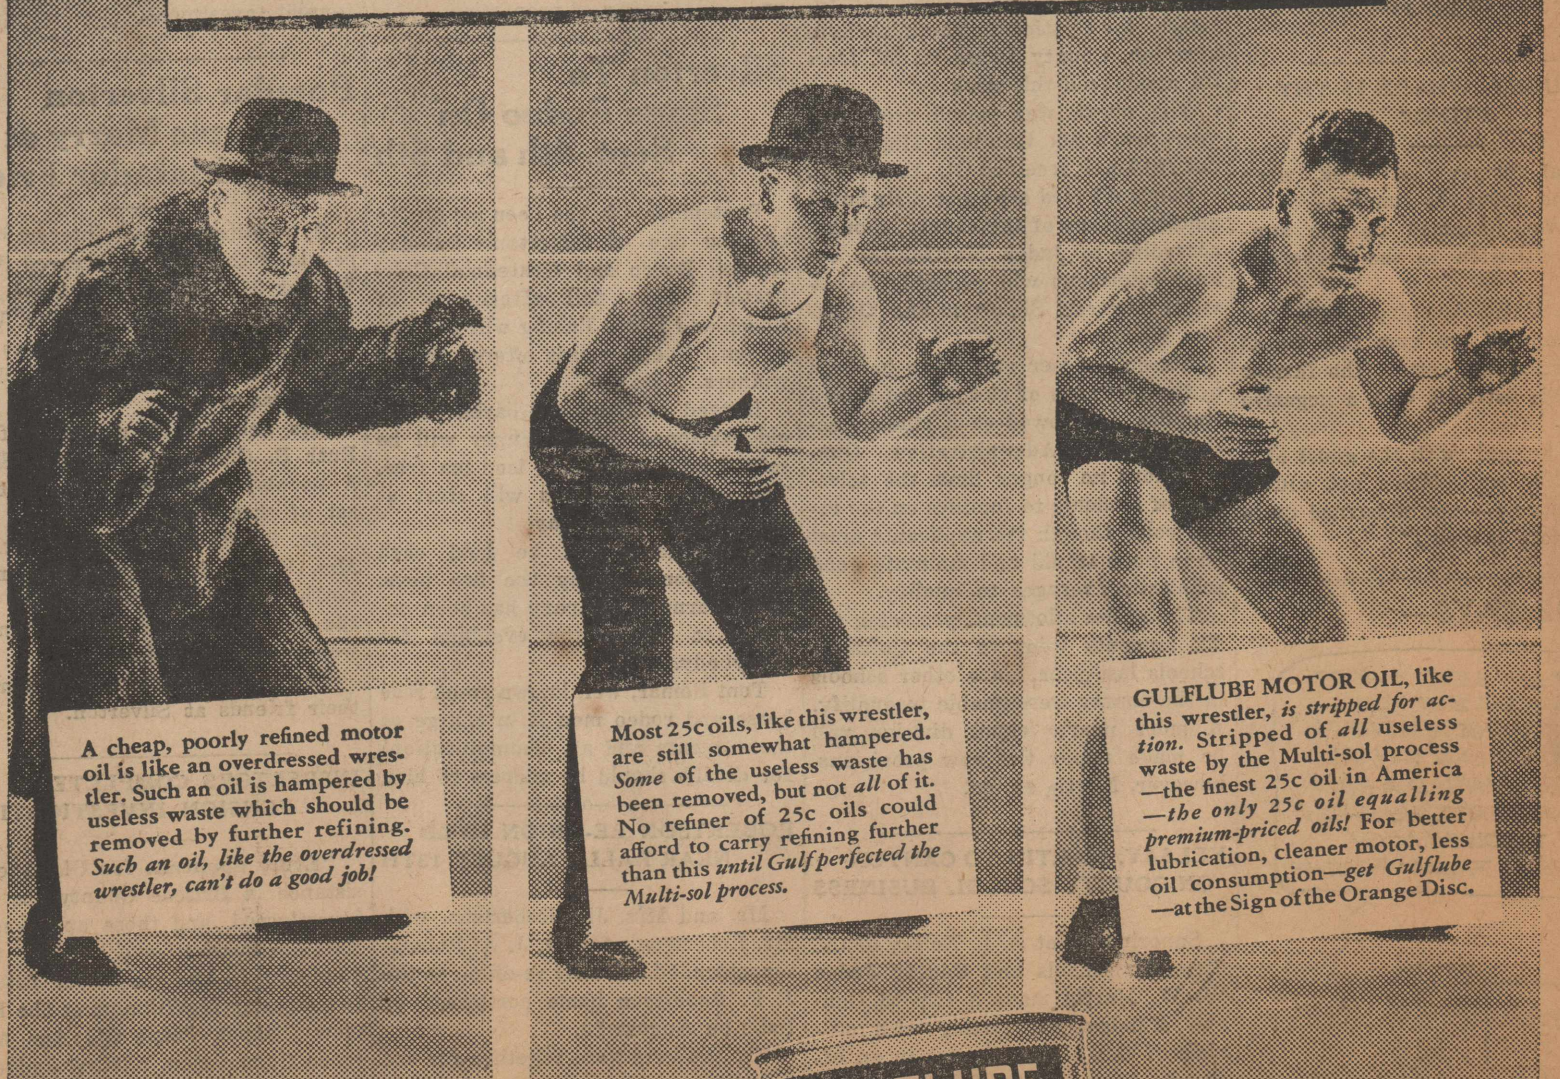

When you come home hot and tired in the evening there is nothing so refreshing as stepping into a nice clean shower or tub and have the cool water trickle over your tired body. Many men enjoy starting the day off by getting under the shower for a couple of minutes before they shave and dress.

The hot weather makes it necessary for the fastidious lady that would appear cool and attractive, to rinse out all her dainty undergarments each time they are worn. This all requires a lot of water and unless your home is connected to the sanitary sewer it may mean an overflowing septic tank with the unsanitary mess it creates in your yard. Enjoy your plumbing fixtures to the fullest extent without this worry.

Such is life in a mining camp. We are seven miles west of Pinos Altos and it takes more than one hour to make the first four miles in a truck, if you can make it at all.

We are camping in the real old type log cabin that has been here more than fifty years. We have all learned to pan free gold and will bring our own samples home. The hot sun blistered Jim Curry's shins while he was sifting in the creek with his pants legs rolled up panning nature's yellow gold. Jimmie holds the highest record by finding 22 colors in one pan. Simply meaning 22 pieces of gold. Thus far I have panned out the largest color, Mr. Marshall says it is worth about ten cents. It is about the size of two pin heads.

I killed a fine rattlesnake, skinned him, but the boys refused to eat such high priced food.

The first day we worked at making a dam about 3 feet high across Bear Creek to hold the spring water for Mr. Marshall's hydraulic pumping system in washing the creek bank into the creek bed through pig troughs and across screens that catch the gold. The next day a mountain shower came above us with a roar that sounded like a cyclone, here came a head-rise that meant destruction for our dam. In 10 seconds from that time the head water touched the dam, it washed over, and in less than one minute our dam was completely gone! Next morning everything was normal. It's a dangerous treat and one you will never forget to see a mountain stream head-rise after a dashing rain. We now have our third dam and the next shower will get it, of course.

Seven of us boys are having a wonderful vacation. Mr. Marshall is doing lots of thinking and we are trying to put it into action.

I won't tell you how much gold we are getting as you wouldn't believe me if I did. You just don't believe gold stories.

When you are smart enough to take nature's gold out of these streams in paying quantities, then you have done something.

Milton Smith is our head mechanic and keeps the engine pop-popping. Garner Weems and Hiram Brock have a perfect suntan down to the waist line and have lots of fun holding the fire hose into the bank that really will dig.

Jim, Curry, Riley Holmes and all of us just trade jobs around and try to wash out the gold. It's about time for the boys to shave.

Preacher's Peak is in sight of this camp and from surrounding territory. We get back to camp by watching it. Preacher's Peak was named for an old cowboy that the boys called "Preacher" because he didn't go in for too much of their rough stuff. He was killed by a mountain lion on this certain peak.

I will give you many of the old stories that are being told here. They are very interesting to us out here where we can get the real connections.

Since dogs have become so fashionable in Paris, the pampered poodles have led social lions' lives.

HOW THE BANKS AID THE GOVERNMENT

Normal and Emergency Needs Met by Advances of Commercial Banking Credit

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—The American commercial banking credit system is an absolute essential in the financial operations of business and government. Harold G. Moulton, President of the Brookings Institution of Washington, D. C., said here recently in an address before the Graduate School of Banking conducted under the auspices of Rutgers University and the American Bankers Association. If the flexibility and expansibility provided by commercial banking credit were eliminated, Dr. Moulton declared "it is scarcely too much to say that the economic system itself would shortly be destroyed."

"Normally the amount of credit extended by commercial banks to the government is small in amount and for the purpose mainly of financing temporary requirements in anticipation of tax collections or bond sales. But in periods of war and acute depression, when the financial requirements of government expand with great rapidity, the expansion of commercial bank credit is on a tremendous scale. Such is the case at the present time.

How Public Needs Are Financed "The purchase of government securities by individuals and by the commercial banks provides the government with the means by which its manifold activities are financed. The Treasury obtains the funds, with which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other government credit agencies finance their operations through the sale of securities, largely to commercial banks. These funds, in turn, have gone to the assistance of distressed banks and other financial institutions, to aid industrial and agricultural enterprises, to finance new public and private capital construction, and to provide relief to the unemployed." Dr. Moulton declared that it is not true that the world depression was caused by a breakdown of the American banking system "which did not, in fact, occur until the depression had been under way for more than three years." He added: "Nor is it true that the world maladjustments existing in 1929 can be explained simply by undue extension of commercial banking credit in the preceding years. These maladjustments involved world agricultural, industrial, commercial and financial relations."

REAL "LIFE INSURANCE"

"Life Insurance" is really living up to its name.

It used to be that far more life insurance money went to the beneficiaries of deceased policyholders than to the policyholders themselves. Today the situation has changed drastically.

During the six years of depression, $6,000,000,000 went to beneficiaries upon the death of the insured. Twice as much, $12,000,000,000 went to living policyholders through matured endowments, surrender values, dividends, etc.

This proves the salient fact that life insurance is being used to an increasing extent as an investment as well as for protection of dependents. Millions of persons of average means regard life insurance as the safest possible investment.

Mrs. S. T. Bogan

Tomorrow never comes, they say, But if time gives us another day It will not be the same. So take courage for the task, Do the things that Duty asks, And with fairness, play life's game.

Some old friend you may meet As you hurry down the street, One perhaps been gone for years, When suddenly to his surprise A new light shines from your eyes Then flows friendships tears.

But if time sends not another day Then we must unavoidably say, This temple shall go back to dust. Our spirit He gave eternal breath And for which there is no death. Shall return to God it must.

All He asks of you and ye, Is just to walk humbly As we live life's little span. And as the whole conclusion we seek Fear Him and His commandments keep, That's the whole duty of men.
