The Rest Of The Record

MES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

Written I have just returned from Bismarck, the capital of North Dakota, where I attended the Jackson Day dinner. I was enthusiastically received by the enthusiastic Democrats according to all reports. I was overwhelmingly beloved by Roosevelt, just as they were by me.

When I saw the President in person, I was in the best of health and spirits of any time I have known him. He seemed to me when I told him that this State were behind the rest of the nation 100 per cent.

... The poll tax... That should be the duty of all good citizens to pay until February first.

... The most important office vote of the people is the vote for Governor. Generation is paid to it by the people and it is a powerful force.

... The Governor presides over the Senate and appoints and removes its committees. This is an important when a committee is appointed. The Governor's rulings can determine whether a bill will pass. For this reason it is so important.

... Candidates are being discussed and none have made a final announcement. Among them are:

Will D. Pace of Tyler, chairman of the State Affairs, was here to attend the last session of the regular session of the Legislature. At the beginning of the session Senator Pace was elected to the race track gambling committee. He is expected to be elected to the race track gambling committee during the remainder of the session and even in the event of a tie when the race track is closed on Back Page.)

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

BY THE BRISCOE COUNTY AGENT

... is the oldest science known to man. It was put into practice by the forefathers of people thru out the world upon farming for a living and every one is dependent upon it for a living.

... Thousands of years ago the old stockmen worked at the "slip-shod" manner. In years have seen a decided improvement in the old hit or miss system and a scientific system of farming.

... In Briscoe county we have two types of farmers—old time and modern. Observations will show that there is no longer remains a place for the "maybe so farmer." If a man wants to succeed on the farm or in these days he must put into practice some of the better methods of farming.

... The State of Texas maintains laboratories and experiment stations throughout the state to put into practice and collect data methods of that will be helpful to farmers. Stockmen who will take advantage of the services. At Lubbock there are stations that wealth of practical information for farmers. At each of these stations can be found practical scientific demonstrations in both farm and stock raising. These demonstrations are put near us so that we can see them personally and thereby. They will not do us any good unless we do observe and follow the lessons they teach here are but very few farmers in this area who would not like to see Mae West come to Fort Worth to see and, but we are few and far between who will drive to Lubbock to learn a practical lesson in farming and stock raising. What to do in this county is visited

L. E. Graham Seeks Another Office Term

To My Friends:

In coming to you to again place before you my candidacy for reelection as commissioner of precinct 2 of Briscoe county, I first want to thank each of you for the support and cooperation you have given me in the past.

A lengthy detail of my qualifications for the place I do not feel is necessary at this time as my record is my best endorsement. However I feel that the experience I have gained since I have been in office places me in position to render even better and more efficient service than ever before.

The commissioners' court is right now in the middle of a very large program that I am desirous of seeing finished before I lay down my tools as your servant.

I will appreciate your approval of my efforts in behalf of the citizens of the county by returning me to office as your commissioner and earnestly solicit your influence and your support at the polls July 23.

Thank you.

L. E. GRAHAM

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY TO GASOLINE THEFT

H A Massingill, about 19 years old, of Oklahoma, was arrested Sunday night by City Marshal Morris and Deputy Sheriff Ramsey on a charge of purloining gasoline from the automobile of Vance Wise which was parked at the home of Mrs Amos Persons. Hailed before Justice Messimer Monday the youth, after a period of bitter denial, finally admitted the theft and was fined $5 and costs totaling $19, which he elected to take out in board at the county jail.

Mr Wise, whose home is in Louisiana, was here to attend the last rites of his brother, Glenn Wise.

FREE SHOW AT GASOLINE SCHOOL THURSDAY NITE

"Petting Ranch" will be presented at the Gasoline community building tonight (Thursday) Jan. 20. Everyone is invited—and you will be disappointed if you fail to attend. Free to all.

Glenn Wise Killed; Car Misses Bridge

Quitaque and Briscoe county were severely shocked last Friday morning when report was sent out of the finding of the rigid body of Glenn Wise in the wreckage of his automobile about a mile north of Quitaque, cold in death.

The Chevrolet coach, found at the bottom of a ditch about ten feet deep where it had plunged in missing the bridge, was a mass of twisted ruins.

Death to the occupant was instantaneous from concussion of the brain, according to surgical testimony at the inquest.

The best information available is that Mr Wise had started for home about 11 o'clock Thursday night, presumably within a few minutes of the time of the fatal mishap. The air was heavy with dust, and vision was obscured except for a few scant feet at best, which is believed as the cause of the accident.

Discovery of the tragedy was made about 7 o'clock Friday morning by Bruce Gibson of Turkey who recognized the victim and returned post haste to Quitaque to report his gruesome find to Ray and J. T. Persons, brothers-in-law of Wise. They, with Paul Hamilton and Gibson went to the scene and removed the body from the wreckage and carried it to Hardcastle Undertaking parlors at Turkey for medical examination to determine the cause of death, and preparation for burial.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the school auditorium by Rev. J. Taylor Smith, Baptist pastor of Quitaque, assisted by Rev. G. L. Keever, local Methodist pastor and

Has Operation

Miss Jennelle Auburg, daughter of Mr and Mrs F D Auburg, was taken to Plainview Friday where she entered the sanitarium for an appendectomy. Her brothers and sisters, D. R. Auburg and family of Flomot, D M Auburg and Annis and Maggie drove over Sunday to be with her. Her mother has remained with her at the sanitarium but she is getting along so well that they expect to be home Sunday.

The auditorium of the Methodist church has been treated to a coat of paint and calamine, the improvement in appearance being due to the efforts of the ladies missionary society. The job of refreshing the various class rooms is under discussion, and if plans materialize the whole interior of the church will have "spring housecleaning."

Rev. J. E. Eldridge, pastor of the Flomot Baptist church.

Surviving are his wife and two children, Billy Joyce, a daughter, 12 years old and a son Bruce Persons Wise, 10 years old; two sisters, Mrs Sam Wilder of Monroe, La., and Mrs Douglas Hahn of Helena, Ark; four brothers, S C Wise of Monroe, La., Lavelle Wise of Tallulah, La., Vance Wise of Arcadia, La. and Dewey Wise of Abilene, Texas, all of whom were present for the last rites except S. C. Wise and Dewey.

The funeral was attended by a large concourse of friends from all over this area, many coming from Silverton, Flomot, Gasoline, Floydada, Matador and other places to pay their last respects to a friend.

Pall bearers were E. G. Rice, Jim Stell, Orlin Stark, P. C. Hamilton, E. B. Tunnell and P. P. Rumph.

Thomas Glenn Wise was born January 22, 1896, in Lincoln Parish, Louisiana. He came to Quitaque in 1916. Reaching his majority in 1918 while the United States was embroiled in the world war he volunteered his services to his country and entered Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, where he was in training when the Armistice was signed.

He was married to Miss Gladys Persons of Quitaque on December 31, 1922. In 1923 he was converted during a revival meeting conducted by Rev. J. Pat Horton and united with the Baptist church. Since his marriage he has been farming and also engaged in the coal and grain business.

His untimely passing is a distinct loss to the entire area.

Able to Be Out

Lockett Payne, who has been confined to his home with rheumatism for about seven weeks, a part of which time was spent in the Plainview sanitarium, is able to be up part of the time on crutches and was in town Tuesday. Mr Payne underwent a tonsil operation while in the sanitarium from which he suffered two hemorrhages. He has had a terrible time of it and says he will always remember Christmas of 1937, which he spent miserably in the hospital. His many friends are glad of his improvement.

Robbie Jo, small daughter of A L Morris, who has been in a Lubbock hospital nearly two weeks, is doing very nicely and was able to be brought home Wednesday. Her grandmother, Mrs. Lena Mayhall, has been with her during her stay at the hospital.

Broken Glass and Dented Fenders

Here are some tid-bit items in regard to automobile accidents which I have picked up here and there.

The Soviet Government recently executed a hit-and-run driver by the firing squad method.

Well, why not? Murder is murder whether you commit it with a six-shooter revolver or a six-cylinder motor car.

Not long ago, in a Midwestern traffic court, a driver who had been involved in an automobile accident was brought before a judge. It developed that he had been drinking, that he had a glass eye and that his car had little or no braking power.

And I suppose he had one arm around a girl.

Berlin; consequently drivers must keep a sharp lookout; the pedestrian death rate has been considerably reduced.

The horn-driver is still a menace in America.

A coupe going 60 miles an hour can turn over a 10-ton truck.

The steering wheel probably goes through your chest. Want to try it?

More than 100,000 accidents a year are directly charged to drivers asleep.

About 60 per cent of the "autocides" occur at night according to The Travelers Insurance Company, when there is only 25 per cent of the traffic on the roads.

When it's dark, crawl, brother, crawl

Hunters Should Be Kind to Game Laws

Men who hunt geese out of season are presently having another dangerous characteristic—they don't value their lives at all.

A federal game warden and two deputies can vouch for the disregard of life. Twenty-five miles west of Hereford the three found a car, believed to be from Amarillo, with the occupants shooting at geese from the automobile.

When the men in the car saw the government machine approaching, they put on a burst of speed, smashed through a barbed wire fence and careened down the highway.

For 25 miles the officers pursued the fleeing hunters—most of the distance at a speed of 95 miles an hour and never less than 90.

But the hunters eluded their pursuers in Hereford and got away—after risking death to escape being caught for violating the game laws. The officers have a pretty fair idea as to the identity of the car, and were seeking it in Amarillo yesterday.

But this is not just an isolated case. Yesterday a deputy "jumped" a New Mexico car which ostensibly was hunting ducks.

"Those boys just put her in gear and showed me the way to New Mexico," the deputy commented. Their car was so much faster than his he didn't have a chance.

There are a lot of game law violators, though, who don't get away with it.

On January 14 two hunters were caught with ducks in their possession. The season closed December 26. Joe Cogwill of Hereford was fined $10 and costs; Rogers Brumley, also of Hereford, paid $25 and costs.

And these are not the only out-of-season hunters who have been caught and paid for their law breaking with good hard cash.

The Panhandle is being thoroughly patrolled by game wardens and deputies. Sooner or later they are going to nab a greater majority of the violators.

As one warden put it: "A man who hunts out of season shouldn't squawk when he's caught. He might just as well reconcile himself to the fact that he is going to have to pay. We are covering this area thoroughly, so if a man doesn't want to pay a high premium for the privilege, he better not hunt."

The wardens warn the hunters "the hunting season has closed on everything, so the best thing to do is not to hunt—unless you like to spend a lot of money and get nothing for it." Amarillo News.

Big Rodeo Will Be Exposition Feature

Fort Worth—From Mexico, the mountain range of the West and the coastal plains of Texas will be assembled the wildest of the rodeo livestock for the forty-second annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, which will be held in Fort Worth, March 11 to 20.

Manager John B. Davis, believing that the success of the rodeo depends largely upon the animals, has gone to extra pains to gather in sturdy calves, steers and vicious broncs. Many of them have never been ridden or conquered by man. Several head of bulldogging steers have been brought from Mexico.

Thrills and spills were promised when the cowboys vie with the rodeo stock this year.

Verne Elliott of Johnston, Colo., and Eddie McCarty of Chugwater, Wyo., have contracted to bring 120 bucking horses to the rodeo. In the lot will be new horses with outlaw reputations to make. The chutes also will be opened for many of the old favorites—had horses that have caused contestants to suffer nightmares in past years.

The rodeo prize list of approximately $10,000, in addition to entrance fees for various events, have been mailed out to contestants throughout the United States.

E. A. Trowbridge of Columbia, Mo., has been named judge of the horse show to be held in connection with the rodeo. He is nationally known as a livestock and horse show judge.

Mrs. Calvin Jones, Mrs. Jarrell and Jerry Ann of C... mother, sister and niece of Lowry, and Mr Jarrell spent here with the Lowrys.

Why Are We Fearful?
(By Mable C. Bogan)

We are on the third week of the new year, just leaving the shore. I wonder how fast we are moving in our boat. Have the waves of restlessness begun to rock it already and we feel fear stealing over our souls? We see there many other little boats around us. Waves are rocking them too. People are in them, their hearts chilled with fear. Why?

There was such a large multitude listening to a Preacher one time that He entered a little ship in the edge of the water so everyone might see and hear Him, and His sermon (Mark 4) was delivered by parables to them, but when alone with His disciples He expounded all things to them. When the day was over He told them to "Let's pass over to the other side." I wonder why He chose the other side? Did He know the coming storm? I believe He did.

The multitude was sent away and the disciples took Him as He was in the ship. It says too, there were other little ships with Him. We have no more mention of them though, if they sailed along with them or not. Master went to sleep. A great storm arose, so severe that the waves beat into the ship and it was full. They called Him, asking Him if He did not care if they perished, He only spoke to the waves as far as we know: "Peace, be still," then of His own beloved disciples He asked "Why are you so fearful? How is it that ye have no faith?"

Is your little boat filled with the storm waves of life today? Just call the Master can still the hardest storm that ever raged on the sea or within the human heart. Don't be careful, just call Him. He has to rest, but He always awakes to comfort a breaking heart, for His was broken for lost souls. Don't fear. I say again, just call Him.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our appreciation for the many acts of kindness and neighborliness shown during our dark hour when the Grim Reaper took from us our dear husband and father. We wish to thank each of you for all that was done for him, or the sympathetic words spoken to alleviate our sorrow and for the beautiful flowers that formed the lovely canopy for his last resting place. May God bless each of you.

Winner in Paralysis Fight Is Buyer of First Ticket to Ball

Doris Harrell, restored to normalcy from an infantile paralysis attack, which left her apparently a hopeless cripple ten years ago, started the campaign for the President's Birthday Celebration in Texas this week by buying the first ticket in Chairman Jesse H. Jones' State organization from George Waverley Briggs, vice chairman. Miss Harrell, freshman at Denton's Texas College for Women, now plays tennis, rides horseback, shoots a rifle, and plays the piano. "I wish the new foundation to fight infantile paralysis every success," Doris Harrell says, "I know that without the skilled treatment given to me without cost I would still be unable to walk or use my right arm." President's Birthday celebrations will be held in every county and city in Texas January 29.

We are certainly very glad to have Bob Grundy back in school with us again after two-weeks absence. Nobody knows what happened during those two weeks unless it's Bob.

Description:
 This junior boy has little black eyes, dark hair, olive skin, a Roman nose, and a slow drawl. He is about five feet eight and is built medium-size. His clothes fit him in a wonderful style. He is rather witty. Do you know him? (Last week, Sterling Herrington.)

Did you know that—
 Shirley Jo Powell is very nervous.
 Rosalind goes to Turkey every week end?
 Lela Mae is as pretty with a permanent as with out one.
 Johnny Gowins possesses a very keen wit?
 Bart Stevenson is the great grandson of old Robert Louis?
 Billy Brown is as smart as a whip?
 Shirley Jo went to Turkey Sunday?
 (What! Again! Unnmm.)
 Eva Lee Payne and Juanita Mayhall just love to go to Turkey? (With two certain boys.)
 Juanita Case is crazy about Turkey, too? (Is it Turkey?)
 Elene and Inez didn't go to Turkey this week end? (I can't believe it.)

People must think that "the other town" is more romantic or thrilling.
 Every Sunday Quitaque goes to Turkey and Turkey comes to Quitaque.

SOPHOMORE HEADACHE

 Harold Jack's hair is turning gray.
 Lorene is forgetting to show off

 A junior and a freshman boy's

 Skeet Hall is a worse question mark than ever—as well as the rest of the class.
 Marie Hall doesn't have time to carry on her flirtations.
 Last but not least, Emily Margaret is all smiles—'cause she is exempt and there are no exemptions in that.

THE ELEPHANT AND THE DONKEY

The elephant and the donkey as the symbols of the Republican and the Democratic parties, respectively, were originated by Thomas Nast (1840-1902), the famous cartoonist.

It is said that the idea was suggested to him by an article in the New York Herald describing the escape of some animals from the local zoological park.

Nast first used the donkey to represent the Democrats in a cartoon published in Harper's Weekly on January 15, 1870. This cartoon portrayed Edwin M Stanton, who had died a few weeks before, as a dead lion being kicked over by a donkey libeled "Copperhead Papers." Under the picture were the words: "A live Jackass kicking a dead lion. And such a lion! and such a Jackass!"

Later Nast, who was a Republican, used the donkey to typify the Democratic party more specifically. The elephant as a party symbol was born four years later. On November 7, 1874, Harper's Weekly published a Nast cartoon in which the assembled animals of the forest—representing various papers, states, and issues—are shown being frightened by a donkey in lion's skin crying "Caesarism."

The elephant, which is labeled "Republican Vote" is frightened also, and is running toward a pitfall covered loosely with deceptive planks. It was the cartoonist's way of making good-natured fun of his own huge but timorous party.

In this particular cartoon the donkey does not represent the Democratic party, which is symbolized by a fox having a face suggesting that of Samuel J Tilden.

Nast continued to use the two symbols, which seemed to please the public fancy, and they have been employed as popular symbols of the two major parties ever since.—Geo. W. Stimpson in State Observer.

HOORAY FOR THEM

By Joseph R. Fliesler

Ed Wynn
At top: E. Y. Harburg and Harold Arlen.

ONE Broadway musical comedy that is attracting visitors, as well as native New Yorkers, (always a sign of success) is the Shubert production of Ed Wynn's new starring vehicle "Hooray For What?"

Ed Wynn, native of Philadelphia, Pa., has earned a reputation in his years of public appearances as a comedian in vaudeville, stage, motion picture and radio performances. His life as a songwriter, however, has not been so heavily publicized, and yet Wynn is a veteran songwriter and composer, who has written the books, lyrics and music for shows he produced himself, such as "The Ed Wynn Carnival," "The Perfect Fool," "Grab Bag," "Simple Simon" and the "Laugh Parade."

While his name is not identified with any particularly outstanding song success, due largely, of course, to the definite "typing" of himself in the public mind as a comedian, his musical accomplishments were enough to earn him the recognition of membership in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

The lyrics and music for "Hooray For What?" were supplied by two other members of ASCAP, E. Y. Harburg and Harold Arlen, shown above in that order. "Yip" Harburg, as he is familiarly known, was born in New York City and is a versatile lyricist. His song hits include "April in Paris," "Isn't It Heavenly?" and "Brother, Can You Spare A Dime?"

Harold Arlen, born in Buffalo, composer of "Stormy Weather", "I Love A Parade", "Between The Devil And The Deep Blue Sea" and other familiar tunes, wrote the music for "Hooray For What?" including "Down With Love" and "Life Is A Dance," which will soon begin their radio round.

ASCAP's banner on Broadway also includes the Cohen, Rogers and Hart show "I'd Rather Be Right" and the Dietz-Schwartz musical "Between The Devil" public, when stamps ran up into real money. The fee for carrying a letter containing a single sheet of paper a distance not exceeding twenty miles away was 6 1-4c, or for fifty miles, 12 1-2c and so on up. If one had so much to say it took two pieces of paper, the price was doubled, and for three pieces, tripled. No wonder the pioneers were known as men of action rather than words.

Band Association To Meet In Canyon

Canyon—High school band directors of the northern division of the Texas Band and Orchestra Teachers Association will bring many of their best student musicians here February 18-19 for the first annual band clinic at West Texas State college.

Directors are being asked to state what instruments they can supply in the formation of two 90-piece bands. The players will be designated according to the balanced instrumentation needed. Victor Grabel, famous Chicago band master, composer, and teacher, will direct the clinic. He will conduct the band sessions and also will lecture.

The band clinic is expected to present an assembly program Saturday morning, Feb. 19, and a public program that evening. Superintendents and principals will be special guests of the clinic Saturday. Replies being received by Prof. C E Strain, director of the Buffalo band, indicate a keen interest in the clinic throughout the Panhandle.

One of the bands will be made up of advanced musicians selected by the visiting directors and will play grade A and B music. The other will be chosen from musicians who can best play C and D grade music. The college band will be the nucleus of the more advanced groups. Contest music will be played for the most part, as requested by the directors, and Mr. Grabel will direct the playing of these numbers in addition to lecturing on the response. Morning and afternoon sessions will be held.

Victor Grabel was born near Prairieville, Texas. He was studying at Texas Christian University when Sousa's Band came to town. This event altered the course of his life. It so fired him with the determination to become a band conductor that he gave up the study of law and immediately enrolled at Dana's Musical Institute in Warren, Ohio.

Four years of uninterrupted study caused his health to fail, so he enlisted in the 7th Infantry Band at Detroit in order to secure more of an outdoor life. During this period he travelled over a large part of this country and to many places in the Orient.

Later he directed the 3rd Regiment Band at Hillsboro, Texas and the State Vocational Band at Lansing, Michigan.

In 1914 Mr Grabel organized his famous Chicago Band which occupied his time until war was declared in 1917.

When the war broke out, Grabel immediately enrolled in the Navy, where he soon began to attract national attention. At his own expense he recruited a fine concert band that was soon the pride of the Great Lakes Station. This band played in many of the leading cities of the country.

Immediately after being mustered out of the service, Mr Grabel accepted the directorship of the Municipal Band at Danville, Ill.

He next accepted the position as head of the Music Department of the Western Electric Company of Chicago, one of the largest industrial institutions in the world. For five years he remained with this company playing noon concerts with his sixty piece band and giving concerts at Orchestra Hall which drew capacity houses.

Mr. Grabel then formed the Chicago Concert Band made up of the finest musicians obtainable. It is this band that the critics have acclaimed as one of the finest ever assembled anywhere at anytime. This band has achieved a definite place in the musical life of Chicago and the Midwest. And Mr Grabel proudly offers it to the public as his greatest achievement.

Mr Grabel is one of the founders of the American Bandmasters Association and has continually held office in that organization.
