News Letter From Congressman Worley

The big question mark in Washington overshadowing even our most acute domestic problems continues to be "What does Russia have in mind?"

A few days ago Senator Tom Connally of Texas, Chairman of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee made his report to the Senate and the nation. His remarks were perhaps a little more temperate than the statements made previously by Senator Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan, who addressed the Senate several weeks back.

I quote below the highlights of the Senator's address:

"At the outset, Mr. President, I want to make my position unequivocally clear. In my opinion the General Assembly was an outstanding success. In my opinion, the United Nations machinery demonstrated undeniably its usefulness and the great influence it may exert in behalf of world peace. In my opinion, the Charter remains the best hope of mankind. . . .

"With all the organizational problems properly disposed of, the General Assembly might have adjourned with its task well done. However, it proceeded to demonstrate its vitality by passing resolutions relating to a wide array of substantive matters, including UNRRA, war criminals, the colonial areas of the world, war refugees, and food, to mention only a few. . . .

"As Senators know, the resolution makes ample provision for adequate security safeguards. Neither the United States nor any other country will be asked to give up any atomic energy secrets until security devices have been established to protect humankind against the terrific blasting power of the atomic bomb. . . .

"I would not be frank, Mr. President, if I were to imply that all was light without heat in London. Just as there are evidences of party politics, sectionalism and pressure-group activities in our own Congress, so there were evidences of nationalism, power politics, and lobbying in London. . . .

"Even so, disappointment has been expressed in some quarters because the Soviet Union voted against the United States on a number of occasions. We differed with them in respect to the postponement of the Security Council elections. We differed with them on the refugee problem and the World Federation of Trade Unions. We differed with them on other fundamental issues. . . .

"Slowly and painfully the 51 United Nations, through the instrumentality of the General Assembly, are learning to cooperate on a peace time basis. We must not be impatient with the progress made. We cannot expect a child to run before he has first learned to walk. . . .

"It is possible, too, that the frank and open statements in the Council may be ushering the world into a new era in diplomacy, when statesmen will speak to the people in a language they can understand. They may be the beginning of a reversion to shirt-sleeve diplomacy in the best American tradition. . . .

"Much has recently been said in addresses and the press respecting the conduct of the Soviet Union and its future course toward the United Nations. . . .

"My contacts at San Francisco and London convince me that Russia does not want another war. When one contemplates the devastation of territories stretching to the gates of Leningrad and Moscow by armies of the enemy; when one remembers the carnage and destruction that left Stalingrad a pile of ruins; when the graves where sleep hundreds of thousands of gallant Russians cry for peace for future generations, it can be understood why Russia does not want another war. . . .

"Russia can have peace by supporting and cooperating with the United Nations. Her responsibility is great, because her power is great. . . .

So long as Russia, Great Britain and the United States are loyal to (Continued on Page 3)

City & School Elections To Be Held April 2nd

A city and school election will be held in Quitaque, Tuesday, April 2, at which time a mayor and three aldermen will be chosen for the city and two members of the school board will be elected.

The term of Mayor H. J. Bailey expires this year, as well as those of city aldermen J. T. Persons, Orlin Stark and I. G. Grundy. Other members of the city council who retain their office for another year are H. G. Gardiner and A. L. Patterson.

Present members of the school board are P. C. Hamilton, George Owens, Alton Johnson, Joe Bedwell, C. T. Rucker, Kelly Patrick and Bill Middleton. The terms of Alton Johnson and C. T. Rucker expire this year and the school election will be held to fill these two places.

In order for a candidate's name to be printed on the official ballot for the school election the name must be submitted to the county judge, who in Briscoe county is ex-officio county superintendent, at least ten days before the date of the election, with the signatures of from 3 to 5 qualified voters. This means, if you have a man in mind whom you would like to see elected to the school board, you, together with from two to four others qualified to vote, should sign a petition and send your candidate's name to the county judge before March 24.

The same rule applies to candidates in the city election except that the names should be submitted to the city secretary, not the county judge. And since the Quitaque city secretary resigned some time ago and a new one has not been secured it was suggested (and not by this reporter either), that you just pitch your petition in the door at the city hall. More than likely someone will find it.

If no more interest is shown in the city and school election this year than has been evidenced heretofore, all this information and other preparation to be made, is wasted effort. It is really time NOW for the citizens of Quitaque to sit up and take notice. There is complaint heard on every corner about "Quitaque sitting down on the job" while other communities are busily progressing. If you live here, it is your town, and it is time to quit complaining and go to boosting. Any criticism of your town is a reflection on you.

And—queer things can happen in an election. In a small Michigan community an election was held recently where the interest was about as great as that shown in Quitaque elections. Three votes were cast but the man whose name appeared on the ballot was not elected. His name was scratched and another written in.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morrison returned home last Wednesday evening from Lufkin where they attended the last rites for John Pressnall, father-in-law of their son Ray Morrison.

Mr. Pressnall, 57 years of age, died following a brief illness. He had been a resident of the community for 46 years, and was serving his second term as road commissioner. Survivors are his widow, four sons and two daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morrison are living in Austin where he is attending the university and she is working.

NOW IS TIME TO BRING IN ORPHANS HOME DONATIONS

The Baptist WMU met at the church Monday afternoon for a Royal Service program. Topics discussed by Mrs. Scott Bolton, Mrs. W. Q. Jacks, Mrs. Dunavant and Mrs. Shaw. Ten members were present.

The group will meet next Monday afternoon at the church for mission study.

You are reminded that now is the time to bring in your contributions for the Buckner orphans home. Be sure to bring your donations this week to the Willson & Son Hdw. where there is a box to receive them. Or take them to the church before Monday afternoon. Monday the box will be packed and made ready to ship.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

THE VALUE OF THE INDIVIDUAL

By Rev. E. B. Thompson

In the tenth chapter of Matthew, Jesus is recorded as saying to anxious hearts in a day when life was cheap and human hopes denied, "Are not two sparrows sold for a penny, and not one of them shall fall to the ground without your Father's notice. Fear not therefore, you are of more value than many sparrows."

This is a worthwhile theme for our own day. The world has just witnessed the most heart-breaking desecration of personality of all time. Human lives and human hopes have been ground beneath the ruthless heel of tyranny. Love has been defied and homes destroyed on a scale so vast and cruel as to make a sensitive spirit shudder! Disease, death, and despair, stalk like gaunt specters over vast reaches of war-blasted world because of man's inhumanity to man.

Our complex and crowded life has absorbed the individual in the crowd. He has been catalogued and classified until he is little more than a type in the social files of experts. The writer of a recent outstanding book tells of an experience while visiting in an apartment house. His host referred to a child as "that little brat up in number seven that keeps number eleven awake."

People have become figures in a high production schedule or mass housing problem; and, even in church circles we have been guilty of being more interested in numbers to report than in souls to save. We must learn again the fine art of loving PEOPLE if we are to serve a suffering world.

Jesus knew this, and He therefore talked about a Father-God, so tender in His compassion, and so personal in His attribute that He attended the funeral of sparrows, and knew how many hairs were on the heads of His people! From that simple approach can we not progress to our own faith in a God of love who knows and cares for us everyone? If we can we will be happy—and useful.

SISTER OF MRS. E. G. RICE BURIED LAST WEEK AT TYLER

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Rice returned home Saturday night from Tyler where Mrs. Rice had been for some time with a sister Mrs. Alva Nunn who passed away Wednesday morning March 13.

Mrs. Nunn who was 65 years of age, died following an illness of several weeks, and funeral services were held Thursday in Tyler, with burial in the family plot in the cemetery which is located on Camp Fannin property near Tyler. The Rice Bros. store here was closed Thursday, in respect of the deceased.

Survivors are one daughter Miss Wilna Nunn of Tyler, and four sisters, Mrs. E. F. Cook, Mrs. Jewel Spinks, and Mrs. Ethel Ferguson, all of Tyler, and Mrs. E. G. Rice of Quitaque.

FRIENDS REUNITED IN MUNICH

A letter from Lt. Onale Grundy in Munich, Austria, to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jess Grundy, tells them that her friend Sgt. Viola Robins had joined her in Munich.

These young women were working and rooming together in Wichita Falls, when they both enlisted in the WACs, expecting to remain together. However their hopes were not realized and they were soon separated by an ocean. Sgt. Robins landing in Europe many months before Lt. Grundy arrived overseas. They have spent several furloughs together but at last have managed to be stationed together and have signed up to remain overseas until September.

OUT OF THE NAVY

Marion Robason came in Wednesday night, his wife going to Amarillo to meet him and bring him home. He received his discharge from the Navy March 18, at Shoemaker, Cal., having been in service since September, 1943. Son was a "dry land sailor", and did not do any ship service. But he said as far he was concerned, March 18 was a national holiday—the day the Navy turned him loose.

SUNDAY VISITORS

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Kimbell Sunday were his cousin, Edwin Kimbell of Dimmitt and her cousins, Misses Lou Ella and Myrtle Lee Scarbrough of Plainview. Edwin had just returned from 31-months overseas service in the Pacific and received his discharge. Miss Lou Ella Scarbrough recently was discharged from the WAC and is now attending Lippert business college at Plainview.

GEORGE BOYLES RETURNS HOME WITH DISCHARGE

George Boyles came in last Thursday having returned from overseas service and received his discharge from the infantry March 13 at Fort Sam Houston. George was inducted into the army at Lubbock in January, 1944. He served as an automatic rifleman, doing overseas service in the European theatre where he was shipped in October, 1944.

He was wounded in action on February 4, 1945, and awarded the Purple Heart. He also holds the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Good Conduct Medal, and the EAME Campaign ribbon with three bronze stars, and the Victory Ribbon and two overseas bars. He saw action in the Ardennes, the Rhineland and Central Europe.

A family reunion and a big dinner was enjoyed Sunday at the home of his mother Mrs. Willie Lou Boyles, and others present for the happy occasion were his dad, Everett Boyles, his brother, G. C., his sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Bonner of Hedley, Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey Mayfield and daughter of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Dud Watters of Silverton and other relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tiffin, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Kimbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McBride and daughter.

Another brother, Sgt. Tate Boyles, is still in Germany.

VETERANS, NOTICE

Paul Miller, veterans county service officer whose regular office day in Quitaque is every Saturday, reported that he would not be in his office next Saturday, March 23, as he was called to Austin to attend a service officers school.

Mr. Miller said he would be in Quitaque again, Saturday, March 30.

Mrs. U. S. Bolton has received a wire from her husband telling her that he has arrived in the States and expected to be here Saturday or Sunday with his discharge from the Army. He has been in the European theatre for about a year, Mrs. Bolton and the children making their home in Quitaque during his service in the armed forces.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Schmidt and little daughter left Friday for a visit in Childress over the week end, and then on to California to make their home. He has recently been discharged from military service and Mrs. Schmidt and the baby have been here for several months with her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Curtis.

Claude Thrasher Dies Following Brief Illness

Last rites for Claude P. Thrasher, 53 years old, were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Turkey high school auditorium with Rev. Alva Johnson officiating assisted by G. M. Covington. Interment was in Dreamland cemetery at Turkey under direction of Stewart-Hardcastle Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Herman Lane of Dimmitt, Bruce Gibson, John Conner, Elbert Hedrick, Paul Meacham and Guy Smith.

Music for the funeral service was furnished by a male quartet composed of Joe Gilmore, Raldo Meacham, Jake Lacy and Odell Cunningham.

Mr. Thrasher became ill Sunday night, March 10, having suffered a brain hemorrhage about midnight. He was taken to the Plainview Sanitarium Wednesday morning where he passed away at 5:15 p. m. Saturday, March 16.

Claude Preston Thrasher was born at Brookston, in Lamar county, Texas, on December 4, 1892, and while a child moved with his parents to Farmersville, and lived there until 1908 when the family moved to Turkey. He had made Turkey his home since that time.

In 1913 he was married to Miss Pearl Clark and to this union four children were born, all of whom survive. His first wife died in 1925 and he was later married to Mrs. Josephine Summers who with two stepsons, David and Marion Summers, also survive.

The surviving children are Mrs. Orlene Chandler of Amarillo, Claude Travis Thrasher of Washington state, Dan and Harold Thrasher of Turkey.

Other survivors are two brothers, Pugh and Carl Thrasher of Turkey, and four sisters, Mrs. Lily Jones of Estelline, Mrs. Pat Lane of Flagstaff, Ariz., Mrs. Vera Case and Mrs. Lee Gregory of Turkey, and four grandchildren.

For a number of years, Claude was interested with his late father and brothers in the operation of a gin at Gasoline which was destroyed by fire in 1937, however Claude made his home in Turkey during that time.

He later entered the trucking business and for several years operated his truck with the Trailer Transport company, but for the past year or so had been a partner of his son Dan in the wholesale oil business at Turkey, being consignee for the Texas Company.

Claude was a splendid fellow and numbered his friends by his acquaintances, as was attested by the large concourse that assembled in the school auditorium to pay their final tribute. Out of respect for this long-time citizen and his family, all of the business houses in Turkey closed during the funeral hour.

THANKS FROM MISS MARY

A note from Miss Mary Simmons in California, sends thanks to all of her good friends here who have sent her words of cheer and encouragement during her recent illness when she has been threatened with the loss of her eyesight. She is anxious for them to know how grateful she is to be so kindly remembered.

Miss Mary and her mother went to California early in January for an extended visit in the home of her brother S. I. Simmons and family. Soon after arriving there she became ill. Her latest correspondence stated that she was improving.

The address in case other friends would like to write her is: Miss Mary Simmons, Rt. 6, Box 511, Bakerville, Cal.

REV. LANDRETH TO PREACH AT METH. CHURCH SUNDAY

Rev. E. B. Thompson announces that the Methodist District Superintendent, Rev. E. D. Landreth of Clarendon will fill the pulpit at the Methodist church for Sunday morning service. An invitation is extended to all to hear this good preacher.

Miss Snow Chandler returned home Saturday from Lubbock where she spent several days last week having some dental work done.

Junior Class To Present Play Next Week

The Junior Class of Quitaque high school will present their play "It's Tough To Be Rich" on Friday, March 29. It is a three act play consisting of eleven characters. Due to the student shortage the juniors had to borrow Jean Thompson, Ernest Barbee and Marjorie Crabtree from the sophomore class.

The characters are as follows: Pa and Ma Ross, typical everyday people, honest and hard working and completely bewildered by the strange people who are suddenly thrust into their lives—Lit Bogan and Billie Rae Hutcheson.

Carolyn, their eldest daughter, contrasts greatly with her talk and dress—Eloise Tunnell. Edna, Carolyn's sister, tries to imitate her manners but clearly shows her lack of education—Margaret Owens.

Tommy Hedges, in love with Carolyn and well educated—Ernest Barbee. Slug McGonagill, an ignorant ex-convict—Roy Grundy.

Henryetta Vandergrift, a social worker determined to elevate the living standards of the people on the island—Betty Adkins.

Aunt Bertha suffers from delusions of grandeur and thinks she is a wealthy woman; takes herself seriously at all times—Evelyn Kimmel.

Maisie, Miss Hudson and Mrs. Earton are three distinct characters, who are played respectively by Marjorie Crabtree, Othelia Woodruff and Jean Thompson.

The action of the play takes place in some unknown part of Mississippi on Island 40. Pa Ross is very much against education and also thinks money is a nuisance.

Carolyn comes home from the mainland bringing two guests, Henryetta Vandergrift, a social worker and Slug McGonagill, sort of a human guinea pig for Henryetta. Carolyn wants Henryetta to improve the living standards of the people on the island. Aunt Bertha returns to the island after an absence of fifteen years. Due to her mental disorder she considers herself wealthy and writes checks for enormous sums. Slug gives Aunt Bertha the old malarky in order to get her money.

After discovering that Aunt Bertha has escaped from a mental institution when two hundred dollar checks that she has written for Ma's operation come bouncing back, Slug is left holding the bag with several thousand-dollar checks from Aunt Bertha, and everyone is filled with agitation.

The play provides fun and excitement for all and the junior class extends on invitation to all to be sure and attend.

the obligations of the Charter and adjust differences as they arise, there will be peace. Those who want peace must not commit acts that tend to provoke war. . .
"It is my belief that our proper course is to meet each issue in the Security Council or the Assembly or in diplomatic conduct as it arises, and to take our stand firmly upon our rights under the Charter, under treaties and under international law, and to hold to that position with firmness and insistence. The consequences that follow would establish our honorable and just course in our dealings with foreign nations and issues of peace. Let us say to Russia, "We want your friendship. We want to cooperate. We shared your comradeship in the bloody chapters of the most tremendous war of all time. We want your comradeship in the peace. Our countries have been traditional friends. Let that traditional friendship be cemented and strengthened and buttressed by mutual labors in behalf of world peace."

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock
Settlement of the General Motors strike, following relatively soon after agreement in the steel industry removes another important obstacle to industrial recovery in the United States, but other wage adjustments appear certain.
United Mine Workers are seeking more money and railroad employees are negotiating for a pay raise. In Washington, there is a little more open talk about price changes to meet higher operating costs and union officials are talking less about payroll increases not requiring higher prices.
Even if a number of wage adjustments still lie ahead, business may take some consolation in the fact that the direct relation between wages and prices is getting more recognition in official circles. The ultimate advantage of wage increases to the worker is difficult to estimate because general increases bring about higher prices of the materials he purchases. To those unfortunate enough to have been idle during prolonged strikes the advantage is very slim, if it exists at all.

MORE TIME FOR BASEBALL
No statistician has ever dared try to figure the baseball time lost by small boys forced to paint screens in the springtime. Now it appears that the small boy's best friend is the metallurgist. Because of metallurgical advances made in handling light medals, aluminum screens are rapidly becoming a part of the modern home as central heating. And they require no painting, will not rust, or stain adjacent woodwork. Manufacturers report that orders on their books for aluminum screening now run into many millions of feet.

It is estimated by the Aluminum Company of America that about three billion square feet of metal screening of all types is in use today, with about one-third of this in need of immediate replacement. Thus here is a ready outlet for that enormous aluminum capacity built during the war.
While the modern architect is only now beginning to specify aluminum screens freely, actually the first one was installed in 1899, saw 22 years of continuous service.

BITS OF BUSINESS
Big users are obtaining corn by swapping other grain or feedstuff. A couple of rates: one carload of cottonseed meal or one car of bran for five of corn, one car of meat scraps for 10 of corn, one car of soybeans for one of corn.
Onions are a black market attraction. One wholesaler is reported to have paid double the ceiling price.
New York subways city-owned and up to their ears in losses each year, will shortly be faced with a new wage increase demand. That demand obviously will not be based on any "share the profit" plan.
Lack of goods which are pinched off as wage labor difficulties continue is spurring black market operations.
Economists are trying to figure what advantage wage increases will be to the worker if everybody gets one. Living costs will be higher and taxes will take a bigger bite so the net gain may be more apparent than real.
The Rural Electrification Administration faces a problem. Officials report sufficient funds available for new projects but say that bids from construction firms are so high they fear "inflated costs." On the other hand, the agency fears that if construction is delayed private companies will move in to the desired areas and "skim the cream" off the business.
Men's shirts pile up on shelves of manufacturers while retail stores are bare. The manufacturers say average price regulations cause the log jam. The reason is as complicated as a government regulation, but has to do with the price of an individual shirt but with the over-all average at which the manufacturer sells his entire lot.
Department of Commerce has a plan which if carried out will provide agents throughout the country who will furnish the "know-how" for small business men. The plan is not dissimilar to the one which Commerce Secretary Henry Wallace used to help farmers when he was Agricultural Secretary.

AUTOMOBILES

While America's Big Three of the automobile industry discussed with union officials the question of increased wages, the newest entrant showed its first models to eager New Yorkers. Kaiser-Frazer Corporation's exhibit at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel gave evidence of at least one positive least one positive ambition of the American people—imitation beaver, seal and fox to be made cheaply from sheepskin by coating pelt with plastic. Such furs least one positive ambition of the American people—desire to own a shiny new automobile.
During the five day exhibit, 156,000 people went to the—desire to own a shiny new automobile. During the five day exhibit, 156,000 people went to the display and some 9,000 of them placed orders for the Kaiser and Frazer cars. Those orders represented nearly $12 million of business. The show opened Sunday afternoon at three o'clock and along before that time the swanky Waldorf was jammed with a line of people which extended from the third floor where the cars were on display, out onto 49th Street and around the corner to the Park Avenue entrance. Six hours later the line was almost as long. Thus did one of the first big postwar companies get off to a rousing start.

EMPLOYMENT TRENDS
There is a tendency among those who discuss manpower reconversion to talk only in terms of employment in factories. When they speak of future jobs for the millions of war veterans and former war plant workers, they usually consider the ability of "industry" to absorb these men. In doing this, they overlook the largest employment field of all—the service industries. John E. Haines, vice president of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, who has just completed a study of employment trends, says that of the United States' estimated work force of 54,827,000 persons in 1947, approximately 28,989,000 will be employed in service industries. This classification includes radio repair men, heating equipment maintenance men, movie ushers, insurance men—in fact, everyone who is not engaged in manufacturing, mining, construction and agriculture. By contrast, it is estimated that in 1947 the country will have 16,857,000 employed in manufacturing, mining and construction and 8,981,000 in agriculture. Economists agree that the trend definitely is related to the rise in living standards, pointing out that countries like the United States and England, with high standards, have the largest proportion of workers in this classification.

VETERAN RE-EMPLOYMENT

While re-employment of veterans may pose difficult problems for American industry, a current report from one large company—B. F. Goodrich—reveals that the returning servicemen are helping to solve a major industrial problem. By the end of 1945 more than 25 percent of the 11,000 who went in to the services from B. F. Goodrich plants and offices throughout the country had been re-employed, and 6,300 veterans not previously on its rolls had been hired. E. P. Weckesser, re-employment administrator reports. They greatly improved the company's manpower situation," he says, adding that re-employed former workers are "excellent men who have done the work before and know how to do it and who take pride and satisfaction in it." In recent months, lack of manpower in the rubber industry has been frequently cited as one of the chief obstacles between American driver and the new tires he needs. Now the returning veteran, it would seem, may be one of the principal factors responsible for the upturn in production of rubber goods, including tires, currently mentioned in industry-wide reports.

THINGS TO COME

A new paint which can be applied to wet surfaces. Reputed to help prevent mold, it is finding a market in dairies, canneries and other places where dampness weakens ordinary paint.
A new toaster-cooker for quicker breakfast preparation. It boils eggs or coffee while making toast.
Aluminum venetians blinds to go outside of window instead of inside.
Synthetic tanning agent to replace natural tannins which once came from the chestnut tree, now blighted. New type of nylon shavingbrush made of synthetic bristles and said to be almost equal to bad-natural synthetic wax for use in shoe will not melt below 250 degrees centigrade against a melting point of 88 degrees for natural waxes.

Why Don't We Have Lumber For Home Building?

There are plenty of trees, plenty of lumber mills, but very little lumber for Home Building. WHY?

Here are the simple facts behind the lumber shortage—these facts are stopping Home Building:

1. Over 50% of our lumber was once cut by small mills. Thousands of these mills were put out of business during the war by OPA ceiling prices. OPA still clings to wartime policies and these mills are still out of business.
2. OPA's blind "hold the line" policies, plus lack of enforcement, have led to the development of a huge Black Market in lumber. "Black Market" lumber is lumber that costs the people more money than they would pay if lumber were flowing to them through the normal channels of distribution—the retail lumber dealer.
3. Wartime ceiling prices made it profitable for the lumber manufacturer to cut sizes of lumber suitable for war uses but not suitable for home construction. As OPA continues this unrealistic policy, manufacturers continue to cut lumber sizes which are unsuitable for home construction. In some cases premium prices granted by OPA encouraged production of lumber not usable for Home Building. Proper peacetime adjustments have not yet been made to encourage production of home construction lumber such as flooring, ceiling, siding, millwork, plywood—all essential items in home construction. This situation affects all lumber production.
4. The manufacturers of lumber have been provided with a hidden premium on export lumber. The OPA has made it more profitable to produce lumber for export to foreign countries than to produce lumber for home construction.

These are merely examples from the lumber field which indicate the type of OPA action that is blocking the production of home building materials in many fields.

The fact remains that homes cannot be built by any industry or Government without materials.

Homes cannot be built without lumber—whether that home be wood frame, brick, concrete, or stone.

The lumber and building material dealers, and the contractors of the nation can build all the homes needed—if they have the materials. But the flow of materials must be unblocked. Only increased production of building materials can solve the so-called housing problem and the unrealistic pricing policy of OPA is the biggest present block to increased production!

Any government program that does not FIRST remove the obstacles blocking production of materials will simply add additional difficulties to the problem facing the building industry.

CALIFORNIA SCENERY

We appreciate very much a note (and a very clever card) from Mrs. W. J. Carter who is in California entertaining a new grandson, born March 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Carter at Hanford, Cal.

Mrs. Carter is admiring the California scenery as well as her grandchildren, and she says: "I wish you could see these homes and thousands and thousands of acres of olives, apricots, peaches, plums, oranges and lemons. I don't guess I'll be here for the roses, but a riot of flowers I see. They are so pretty, and lots of fine cattle and alfalfa. But it's very dry, and nice and warm."

HUNDRED YEARS OF PROGRESS FOR SMALL LOUISIANA CHURCH

Following is a story from a Louisiana newspaper telling of plans for the celebration of the one-hundredth anniversary of the founding of a church. One of the founders was Ambrose Wise, who was the grandfather of two Quitaque men, J. F. Wise and Frank Wise.

The story follows:
The Rocky Springs Baptist Church, one of the oldest churches in north Louisiana and the first in Claiborne parish will observe its 100th anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 14th, with a well arranged program beginning with the Sunday school hour at 9:45 a. m. The pastor, Rev. D. E. Byrd, will preside over the program.

This church was organized in 1845 by a faithful group of charter members, some of whom were: Moses Oakes, Elijah Sparks, Ambrose Wise, Billy White, and Aaron Nolen. The first building was a one room weather boarded structure, one end of which was reserved for slaves who were members of the church.

In 1882 during the pastorate of Rev. J. W. Melton the present building was erected. No records are available of the pastors who served the church from 1845-1850. Some pastors who served in the early days include: Rev. Jesse Tubbs, Rev. A. Harris, Rev. C. E. Foster, Rev. A. C. Simmons.

In July, 1886, during the state Baptist convention held with Rocky Springs as host, the women of the state held their first separate meeting. The members of the state official group are invited to attend the centennial meeting.

In 1924 under the leadership of Rev. H. S. Frazier, the church advanced to half-time pastorage. In 1928 under Rev. J. L. Stone, the building was re-modeled and Sunday school rooms added. While Rev. T. E. Edmonston served in 1937, a pastor's home and educational building was added to the church. The baptistry was installed in 1940.

In 1941 Rev. C. E. Miller served as full-time pastor. The development of the oil field at Lisbon, made possible the improvements in this church.

All former pastors, and many members who do not reside here now will return and enjoy the day's worship. At noon dinner will be served.

NEW SECRETARY-TREASURER FOR PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSN.

Memphis—Ralph Howe, secretary-treasurer of the Memphis Production Credit association, which serves Hall and surrounding counties, has resigned his position effective Saturday, March 16.

Howe, who has been active in civic work since coming to Memphis in the summer of 1941, will be succeeded by Don Wright, present assistant secretary-treasurer, members of the board of directors have announced. Howe came to Memphis from Crosbyton where he served as county agent for seven years.

Wright, who has been with the association for the past two and one-half years, was engaged in the cotton and gin business 25 years before joining the association.

VETERANS WHO INTEND TO ATTEND SCHOOL LATER ARE ADVISED TO GET APPLICATIONS

Veterans who intend to take advantage of the free educational and training benefits provided for them by the government should apply for their certificates of entitlement as soon as possible, even if they do not intend to go to school for several months, Harold E. Van Horn, 502 Oliver-Eagle Building, Amarillo, contact representative for the veterans administration, said today.

Mr. Van Horn said a number of veterans visiting his office are under the impression that they cannot apply for eligibility certificates until they arrive at the school or college they wish to attend, often in distant states. This is not the case, and it is to every veteran's advantage to apply for the certificate well in advance of the date he expect to enter school.

Applications for eligibility certificates may be made at Mr. Van Horn's office, which forwards the applications to the Veterans Administration Regional Office for approval. The completed certificates are returned to the veteran in a short time. The veteran may then use the certificate at any time to obtain free instruction at any institution approved by the Veterans Administration. The certificate is presented to the school officials when the veteran enrolls.

By applying for and obtaining the certificate in advance, the veteran eliminates the possibility that the school will require him to pay

Millers Use New Names For Government Flour

Well known trade names are disappearing from the flour sacks on the grocer's shelves, as the new dark colored flour, manufactured under the government's war food order No. 144, is introduced on the market, since March 1.

Most millers have indicated that they will not put the darker flour in stores under their familiar and advertised labels. The trademarks are too valuable a property to risk public resentment if the "Truman flour" does not become popular in the Nation's homes.

Most mills will place new brand names on the flour sacks. Others will market the emergency flour in plain sacks printed only to show that the product was milled in accordance with government requirements. The few using the familiar trade names will overprint the labels with "Made According to Government Requirements."

For years nutrition experts have tried to popularize wholewheat flour, but the American public has not accepted it. Less than three percent of the flour bought in this country is of the darker variety, but the bread and pastries made from this flour are just as healthful as those made from white flour.

Experiments showed that the new flour will require more salt and more liquid than the present high grade type, but that results in making bread, rolls and pie crusts were good. In the making of cakes, however, the new coarser product is sadly lacking in quality.

The two most popular flour brands in this community are Everlite, milled by the Harvest Queen mills at Plainview, which calls it present product, "Skylite", and Gold Medal, which is producing the "Truman flour" under the trade name of "All-American."

tuition and other fees in advance, refunding these sums at a later date when the veteran secures and presents his eligibility certificate.

The same certificate, Mr. Van Horn pointed out, may be used by veterans who wish to take vocational training or on-the-job training. In all cases it is to his advantage to obtain the certificate before he enrolls at the school or goes to work under the "on-the-job" plan.
