Banded Birds Help Study Of Wildlife

One day last March, while hunting on the Plains, Bill Ebbs found a banded duck lying on the ground about four miles west of Lockney. The duck was dead but on its leg was a band carrying a serial number. Bill sent the band to the fish and wildlife service of the U. S. Department of Interior, at Washington, D. C., and a few weeks ago he received the following acknowledgement:

Receipt is acknowledged of your recent communication. The bird carrying band No. 41-877501 was banded at Tule Lake Refuge in California. The date of banding and species of the bird is not in our files at this date.

By means of these numbered bands important investigations relative to the migrations and other facts in the life histories of North American birds are being advanced. The bands are attached to the birds by volunteer cooperators, both in the United States and Canada, who serve without pay. Success in the bird-banding work is therefore dependent upon the reports of persons in both countries on such banded birds as come to their attention.

Migratory waterfowl have been banded in large numbers at more than 150 stations scattered over the continent and have been recovered as far south as the northern part of South America. Small song birds have been banded in still greater numbers, and many interesting facts concerning their movements are being discovered. These data are not only of scientific importance but also are of much service in the administration of this valuable wild-life resource.

The Service accordingly, desires to have a report on every banded bird that may be recovered, and it is hoped that you will continue to help in this work by reporting any bands that come to your attention, giving the number (with series designation, if any, as A, B, C, 36, 40, etc.) date of recovery, and the locality.

Thanking you for your interest and cooperation, I am very truly yours,
F. C. Lincoln,
In charge distribution and migration of birds, division of wildlife research.

Mr. Walls stated that he is returning to Hale Center to be associated with his father in a similar business, taking the place of a younger brother, R. J. Walls who will enter school at Angelus Temple, in Los Angeles, Cal., in September.

VISITORS FROM OLTON

Judge and Mrs. I. B. (Dock) Holt of Olton were in Quitaque Tuesday afternoon and night visiting the Scotts. Judge Holt came down to attend the meeting of the Masonic lodge, and being a candidate for state representative from this district, to do a little politicking before lodge time.

Dock is county judge of Lamb county and is rounding out his second term this year. He says he wants to go to Austin as representative from this district at the end of his present term as judge, in order that he might be of better service to more people.

Judge Holt said he would return to this area in a week or two at which time he expected to see every voter hereabouts.

COMMUNITY SINGING

The community singing will be held Monday night at the Baptist church and everybody is invited to attend. All you folks in Flomot and Gasoline and other nearby communities are cordially invited to come over and help along with the singing and fellowship.

The singing held last week at the Methodist church was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

Quitaque Ball Team Defeats Turkey "Subs"

Quitaque won a very slow ball game and semi-track meet from Turkey Sunday afternoon 18-6. The game was really better from an entertainment standpoint than the score would indicate, but it was too late getting started and then moved too slowly after it did get under way.

The Turkey boys showed up in Quitaque without their playing equipment due to Red Williams, who had it under lock and key, being out of pocket. They finally located and got the equipment and then were several players short of their regular lineup.

Wayne Hunter, Bill Farley, Walker the catcher, and two or three other regulars failed to show up, which is very noticeable in the score, and their presence would have added much zip to the game.

The game saw some fair hitting, for extra base, Dock Williams, Dave Guest, Monk, Van Meter 2, Rush 2, hitting two-baggers; Three-base hits: Marion Wilson, Thrasher.

We'd like to see these two teams hook up when Turkey had all of her ball club together, if that's possible, and could furnish some formidable competition. Such a game would really be interesting—we might say exciting, and this is promised soon. But under the circumstances Sunday, Mgrs. Hunter and Chandler had to fill in with the best material available to plug the holes in their lineup to offer any kind of game.

This is not an alibi for Turkey, but a "plug" at the boys who failed to show up and thereby let their buddies down, as well as the fans.

BAPTIST WMS

The Baptist WMS met at the church Monday afternoon for a business session with seven members present, and a visitor, Miss Withers who is here supervising the program of the Vacation Bible school.

During the session, it was decided to try to organize a young women's missionary group. The faithful members of the present organization who have loyally carried on the work for many years feel that they need the assistance and enthusiasm of younger heads and are anxious to interest a group to continue the work which they must some day lay down.

Plans are underway to hold a meeting in the near future to organize a group of the younger women.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Youree and children of Odessa are here visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Settle.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

INNER-SPRING SOULS

By E. B. Thompson

In John's narrative about the incident at Jacob's well, Jesus is represented as saying to the misguided woman—"the water I will give—will become a spring of water bubbling up for eternal life." This figure, I think, is one of inner resource, rather than merely that of storage. The spring suggests continual replenishing—and that is what Jesus was trying to do for this person, and all persons. It is also what Paul suggests in his testimony, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." And again what John expressed when he wrote, "To as many as believed Him—to them gave He power to become the sons of God—"

Many souls all about us are utterly lacking in this inner source of power and strength so vitally necessary to steady, logical, and consistent living. Because they have neglected the cultivation of soul powers and strength, they find themselves unable to meet the stresses and strains that life imposes. Starved souls are just as weak and powerless under a load as are starved bodies.

Others simply have no central point of soul-integration. No focal ideals hold them together. Therefore their lives are divided and spasmodic, going from one value and loyalty to another. They are the fanatics, and their theories as well as their general conduct, change often and much.

Then there are integrated souls, who have loyal and strong central ambitions to which they give all attention—but, these in the last analysis are not sufficient. They fail as did the house Jesus talked about which was built on a sand foundation—not because the builder failed to work hard in the construction, nor because he did not love the house nor trust in it, but because the material of it was not of the right stuff to stand the test of the ultimate. Mis-integration is then just as dangerous as dis-integration, for it means that one has fastened his soul to some value which will in the end go down, and because he is so bound to it, he goes down with it.

Let us be careful to integrate our lives around God—and holy values. Let us trust in the highest and best, for it alone is sufficient for our deepest needs. May our souls be inner-spring souls, which live on the bubbling water of eternal life and eternal values.

Stevenson Announces For County Treasurer

Mr. A. G. "AB" Stevenson this week requests The Post to announce his candidacy for County Treasurer of Briscoe County.

In making his announcement Stevenson said, "I have no promises that are necessary for me to make to the people of the county, as I held the office from 1928 to 1932, and those who know me, know my record."

Mr. Stevenson has been a resident of Briscoe county since 1893, and now resides in Silverton, with his family.

Impressive ceremonies marked the installation of new officers of the Quitaque chapter of Eastern Star Friday evening at the Masonic hall. Baskets and bouquets of spring flowers decorated the hall and the installation ceremony was performed in a beautiful candle-light setting. Lovely baskets of white gladioli in East were a presentation of Rev. E. B. Thompson to his wife, the Worthy Matron elect.

For the ceremonies Mrs. Sudie Rice served as installing officer; Mrs. Bessie Purcell as installing marshal and Mrs. Lela Morrison as installing chaplain.

Special songs were presented by Misses Jean Thompson, Margaret Owens and Billie Rae Hutcheson.

The retiring Worthy Matron, Mrs. Sudie Rice, was presented a beautiful Past Matron's diamond pin, and a beautiful Masonic tie pin was presented to Charles Gowin, Worthy Patron, in recognition of their efficient work in the past year.

Mrs. Ruby Thompson, Worthy Matron assumed her duties with an address choosing as her subject the chapter motto, "Faith, Hope, and Charity". Upon her retirement the past Worthy Matron, Mrs. Sudie Rice, presented the chapter a check for the purchase of a white Altar Bible.

A large number of guests were present for the ceremony, those from out of town including Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Long of Matador, Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Rice of Dallas and Mrs. Jack Grundy of Houston. Mr. Long spoke briefly in appreciation of the work of the order.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies and program refreshments were served.

PIONEER BUSINESS SOLD

Last week saw another pioneer business in Quitaque change hands when Joe N. Bedwell bought the building and hardware business of Persons & Sons. The Persons firm also was International Harvester dealer, but they retained this agency, at least for the present.

Persons & Sons have been operating the hardware store since June, 1927, when they purchased the business from John Ewing. The senior partner of the firm, Amos Persons, passed away Feb. 5, 1934, since which time the sons R. B. and J. T. Persons have conducted the business.

DOUG CHAPMAN FINISHES HIS ARMY CAREER

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Buford Davenport and daughter of Abernathy were here this week end visiting their mother Mrs. W. V. Chapman.

Douglas has just received his discharge from the army and has started construction of a new building in Abernathy where he will resume the agency for Dodge and Plymouth cars which he had before he entered service.

Douglas received training in the army for reconnaissance work, was sent overseas to Italy as an infantry replacement and two weeks after landing was manning a gun in an armored tank in Germany.

He raced across Germany with Patton's army and saw many grueling days of active combat. He was returned to the States soon after V-E Day, for a 30-day furlough, after which he was headed for the Pacific theatre, but the war ended before he was ordered back into overseas service. He served the remainder of his period enlistment at various posts in the States.

Texas Teachers Must Have Salary Raise

The Texas State Teachers Association has just completed a survey among city and county school superintendents to determine the condition of the teacher personnel in Texas. Replies were received from 945 superintendents representing 36,057 teaching positions or about 80 per cent of the total in Texas. Since the opening of school in September, 3,633 teachers have resigned their positions which represents about 10 per cent of the total. Of the teachers included in the survey, 5,546 were listed with sub-standard qualifications which represents approximately 15 per cent of the total.

Local districts are exerting every effort possible to keep teachers in the classrooms but many superintendents report that it appears impossible to fill all of their positions this coming year because of the low salaries paid and the number of resignations which are anticipated at close of the current school year. Practically all of the cities in Texas report resignations averaging 13 per cent. Many local school districts are voting to increase their tax rate or will increase all property valuations in order to secure more revenue for teachers' salaries. 110 independent school districts have voted a tax increase above the rates they levied a year ago and 143 report that they plan to hold elections for tax rate increases soon. In 40 counties, one or more common school districts have increased their tax rates and 10 counties report that they plan to hold elections for this purpose soon.

It is estimated that 3,500 Texas teachers entered the armed forces and industry from September 1941 through 1945. However, only 1,277 have returned to teaching.

In looking over the results of the survey, Elizabeth Kock of San Antonio, President of the Texas State Teachers Association, said: "If we are to keep a staff of well trained teachers in the public schools of Texas, we must materially increase salaries. There is no other solution to the problem. The continued exodus of our teachers from the classrooms presents an alarming condition. We must give our attention to this problem immediately with the hope that local communities and the next session of the legislature will provide greatly increased support for the public schools."

IN THE GOVERNORS RACE

Monday was the last day for state office candidates to file with the Texas Democratic executive committee, Harry L. Seay, chairman, of Dallas, said Saturday.

"The crop seems to be all in," he declared, aware of the report that friends of Miller Ainsworth, Luling, might file his name for governor. So far this nomination has not been seen in.

Three World War II veterans have filed for governor—Jerry Sadler of Austin, Caso March of Waco and Reese Turner of Cameron. Several others saw service in World War I, including Beauford Jester and John Lee Smith.

Barring last minute entries, Texans on July 27 will ballot on these gubernatorial candidates:

Jester of Corsicana, Jerry Sadler of Longview, Caso March of Waco, John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, Walter Scott McNutt of Jefferson, Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs, Homer P. CANADIAN BRIDE FORMERLY TAUGHT AT QUITAQUE

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Dorothy Simpson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Simpson of Canadian and Lt. Robert N. May, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. May of Amarillo on Sunday morning, June 2. Rev. N. S. Daniel, pastor of the Lefors Methodist church, read the double ring service in the First Methodist church at Canadian.

Preceding the ceremony instrumental and vocal nuptial selections were presented by Miss Zona May of Lubbock and Mrs. H. R. Fielder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a dress of dusty rose crepe, completed by a white halo hat, and a corsage of gardenias and Johanna Hill roses.

Miss Carollee Payne of Amarillo attended the bride, George Simpson, the bride's brother was best man, and R. G. Gibbon of Pampa served as usher.

Mrs. May was graduated from Canadian high school and WTSC, Canyon. She also attended the University of Colorado, Boulder, and Colorado State College, Greeley. For the last four years she has been a teacher in the Lefors school.

Lt. May was graduated from Canadian high school and attended Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

The couple will be at home in Denver, Colo., where Lt. May is stationed at Lowry Field. (Mrs. May taught in the Quitaque schools in 1941 and 1942.)

MISS ILA FAE SELBY IS BRIDE OF WACO MAN

Miss Ila Fae Selby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Selby, Sr., of Denton, and Richard A. Tibbs, son of Mrs. W. L. Tibbs of Waco, were united in marriage Wednesday night in a double ring ceremony in the piers of the Austin Avenue Methodist Church in Waco.

Dr. A. Norman Evans, pastor, officiated at the ceremony, performed in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple. Decorations used were baskets of white gladioli.

Pre-nuptial solos by Mrs. R. L. Selby, Jr., were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hulén Bills of Waco.

For the ceremony the bride was attired in a light weight beige suit with alligator accessories. There were no attendants to the couple.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Tibbs will be at home in Waco, where he is employed.

Mrs. Tibbs is a graduate of North Texas State College in Denton, for the past several years she has been employed in Waco as home supervisor for the Farm Security Administration. Her husband recently received his discharge from the service after four years in the armed forces. He is a graduate of John Tarleton College at Stephenville and formerly in the ranching business in Waco.

Those from Denton attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Selby, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Selby, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Selby, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Dickie, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamilton.

A number of pre-nuptial parties were given during the past several weeks, in honor of the couple.

Announcement of the approaching marriage was made at a tea when Misses Doris Goodrich Jones and Bernice Puckett were hostesses at the home of Miss Jones.

The bride-to-be, her mother and Mrs. Martha Tibbs greeted the guests. Assisting the hostess were Mesdames W. W. Dickey and Paul Hamilton of Denton, Powell Gibson, Adolph Rose, W. H. Hester, Hulén Bills, and Misses Grace Gooda, Willie Mae Dunhan and Catherine Daniels.

Silver clappers of two white wedding bells above the gardenia-laden table announced the date of Miss Selby's marriage, May 29.

Among the many other pre-nuptial parties was a dinner at Lake Waco Country Club with Mrs. Hubert Johnson of Waco and Mrs. Paul Hamilton of Denton as hostesses. Gardenia corsages were given as favors to each guest and the personnel of the party presented a place setting of the honoree's chosen sterling to her.

A line arrangement of white gladioli on long narrow mirrors made the table decorations.

The dinner was served to Misses Doris Jones, Gladys Blankenship, Bernice Puckett, Marie Johnson, Mrs. E. C. Price and Mrs. C. C. Edwards, of Waco; Mrs. Andrew Kendrick and Misses Maude Alye Painter and Mammie Sue Halbrook, of Gatesville; the brideelect, and the hostesses, Mesdames Johnson and Hamilton.

THE MONKEY'S VIEWPOINT

Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree.

Discussing things as they're said to be. Said one to the others, "Now listen you two,

There's a certain rumor that can't be true, That man descended from our noble race.

The very idea! It's a dire disgrace! No monkey ever deserted his wife, Starved her baby, and ruined her life,

And you've never known a mother monk To leave the babies with others to bunk,

Or pass them on from one to another "Till they scarcely know who is their mother.

And another thing! You'll never see A monk build a fence 'round a coconut tree.

Starvation would force you to steal from me. Here's another thing a monk won't do:

Go out at night and get on a stew; Or use a gun, or club or knife To take some other monkey's life.

Yes, man descended, the ornery cuss. But, brother, he didn't descend from us.

The boy next door whose dad wouldn't trust him to drive around the block in their $500 automobile is now piloting a $500,000 bomber and responsible for the lives of 14 others.

Like the fellow who bought a half interest in a cow. In fact, he bought half of the cow, the front half, and his partner owned the rear half. This fellow said: "All I did was feed my half and the other man milked his half." "What did you do about it?" somebody inquired. "Oh, I quit feeding my half—and his half died."

Benjamin Franklin once said, "A house without a woman or fire-light is like a body without soul or spirit." And another of his sayings was, "Beware of meat twice boiled or an old foe reconciled."

Bill Nye rived Caesar's "I came, I saw, I conquered," in this report on his visit to Washington: "My friends and money gave out at 3 a. m."

Truth is stranger than fiction—to some folks.

It may be, though, that they really have a high regard for the value of truth—and that is the reason they are so economical in the use of it.

Like the old soak. Somebody was complaining that the price of whiskey had gone away up. The old soak said, "It's just now bringing in its true worth."

Somebody ought to produce a book, well-illustrated (in fact, the illustrations would be the best thing about the book) on spots around Austin that are associated with the world's greatest storyteller, O. Henry.

There is the old Land Office, with his desk, and the winding iron stairway, which he described in one of his early tales, "Bexar Scrip 2692."

And there is the old church, a block away, with its sharp spires and, above the portal, the big window with stone columns like spokes of a wheel. And, of course, the Capitol itself—for O. Henry was a member of a military company and took part in the cornerstone ceremonies. In fact, during the program, a pretty girl recited a poem. She was destined to become his wife.

And don't forget the Driskill Hotel, for in the lobby, its old chairs shadowed by big pillars of marble, he used to wait while his wife practiced songs with a choral club on the mezzanine floor.

Too, there are the old, black trees in the hollow on the Capitol grounds.

The Millett Mansion, with its atmosphere of the Old South, was there in O. Henry's day.

His home is preserved as a museum. Many of the stately mansions past which the young dreamer strolled still stand. The building that housed the bank in which he worked was torn down a year or two ago, but the old Federal Building is still there, most tragic of all with its O. Henry associations, for it was in a courtroom there that he was tried and sentenced to prison for something of which the world now believes he was innocent.

Just a few observations: The world has two classes of people: Those who are willing to work and those who are willing to let them work.

No man can be wrong all the time. Even a clock that isn't running shows the correct time once every 12 hours.

If a cat has kittens in an oven, that doesn't make them biscuit.

There's nothing like being able to adapt yourself to your surroundings—like the applicant for a job of teaching school in a mountain district. Asked whether he taught that the world was round or that it was flat, he replied "I teach the round system or the flat system—whichever the trustees want."

And—to give a very serious illustration—like the time that Jeff Davis (the Arkansas one) was making a speech to a jury in a damage suit as the result of a pathetic accident wherein a little boy's foot was caught in a rail and he was crippled by a train. Governor Davis said: "His mother looked on as the mighty engine bore down upon him, powerless to aid her helpless boy."

The opposing attorney interposed "But, governor, his mother was dead."

Davis thundered, "I mean, gentlemen of the jury, she looked down from the golden balustrade of heaven." The fact that the child had been a half-orphan caused the jury to bring in a bigger verdict.

A man who calls his wife an angel explains that she is always up in the air and always harping on something.

Then there was the spinster who said she didn't need a husband as she had a parrot that swore, a stove that smoked and a cat that stayed out at night.

However, when a man phoned one day and asked the maiden lady, "Will you marry me?", she said, "Yes—who is this speaking?"

Immigration Official—I'm sorry, but there's been a mistake here. We've got your hair done as dark instead of blond.

"Well, what did you want—a singer or dancer?"

NOT ON YOUR TINTYPE

Grandma looks calm and collected as she poses for posterity, but she wasn't—not on your tintype! Getting her family ready for this picture was a long, weary business.

The day this photo was snapped, Grandma was up at dawn, wrestling with the old wood stove, coaxing the kettle to boil, cooking breakfast. And the day before, she ironed the mountain of starched clothes that had needed such hard scrubbing. The day before that—

But that was Grandma's life. She didn't know any other kind. Her way of housekeeping took lots of time, lots of elbow grease. In Grandma's gayest dreams she never imagined the time would come when a woman would have dozens of electric servants daily for the cost of a bar of soap.

Electric service—ready and willing round the clock and calendar—is a modern miracle Grandma missed by being born too soon. But electrical dependability (and cheapness, too) didn't happen by accident. Not on your tintype! They're the result of plenty of hard work and practical experience on the part of your neighbors who operate this company.

NEW DISCOVERY ELIMINATES STATIC IN COTTON GINNING
College Station.—The end may be in sight for static electricity in gins, according to F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. When both cotton and air are very dry, static electricity is generated by the movement of cotton through the gin. In many West Texas points, Lichte says, static is often so bad as to force gins to stop work for several days at a time. Even if the gins can operate, the lint cotton is often so fluffy and resilient when it goes into the press that it is impossible to put out a bale of standard weight. Such cotton is penalized by the buyer.

The problem has been investigated by the U. S. Cotton Ginning Laboratory at Stoneville, Miss., and preliminary tests indicate that a fine mist of water and sulphurated oil may be the answer. The mist, when sprayed on the cotton as it goes through the gin, has per- and compression of bales to standard weight.

Lichte, who helped install the equipment for tests in several gins in Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas, believes the mist will also result in an improved job of ginning.

Further tests are being conducted under supervision of the Stoneville laboratory.

MAN IN SERVICE WANTS LETTERS FROM HOME—GIRLS

Ray B. Turner, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Turner of Flo-mot, volunteered for military service April 19, and went directly from Lubbock where he enlisted, to Fort Bliss and is now stationed at Aberdeen, Md., a long ways from home.

Ray B. writes that he started training May 6th, for eight weeks of training, then eight weeks of schooling. He says the chow is really good, and he is not too dissatisfied but he'd like to hear from his friends at Turkey and Quitaque, particularly "his girl." In case "the girl" and other friends would like to have Ray B.'s address, here it is: Pvt. Ray B. Turner, 18249839, ASFTC, Co. C, 2nd Regt., 6th Bn, 4th Plt., Barracks 7, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

SANTEE RY. TO HAVE AFFILIATED AIR LINE

Chicago, Ill.—The Santa Fe Railway Company has announced it was organizing the Santa Fe Skyway, Inc., as an affiliated company for the purpose of engaging in contract air transportation.

Fred G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe, said the affiliated company will offer specialized contract air service in the general territory served by the Santa Fe.

Santa Fe Skyway will be manned largely by veterans of the military air forces. Surplus army planes of the Douglas C-47 type will be used in the initial operations, Mr. Gurley explained.

Studies are being made of specialized equipment for loading and transportation of cargo to best fit the needs of those contracting for air service.

GEN. WAINWRIGHT TO SPEAK AT FLOYDADA

Floydada—Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, the hero of Bataan and Corregidor, will address assembled war veterans of this area in Floydada on July 4, it has been announced by W. B. Henry, commander of McDermott Legion Post, at Floydada.

The general will attend a big two-day celebration July 3 and 4. Gaines Davis is the committee chairman in charge of the program.

Sen. Tom Connally presented Floydada's invitation to General Wainwright who said he would try to be in Floydada in time to view the parade at 10 o'clock the morning of July 4. Tentative time of General Wainwright's speech is 2 o'clock in Courthouse Square.

Allen Kellum, a cooperor of the Grass Conservation Group, lowered the pump in his irrigation well a good twenty feet last Wednesday and practically doubled the water capacity of the well. Soil Conservation Engineers assisting the Supervisors of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District gauged the amount of water being pumped and the depth on Mr. Kellum's well several weeks ago.

Terraces constructed by H. W. Hamilton, W. W. Woods, B. L. Chandler and Jack Williams, cooperators, were checked for completion by Soil Conservation Service Engineers last Thursday.

Earl I. Cantwell, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, sent a copy of the following letter regarding land levelers to all irrigation cooperators last week:

The letter which I sent to you regarding the land leveler has drawn so much attention, that I think it expedient to write still another.

The results of the inquiry are such as to show that the proposed plan would never be workable. Too many cooperators over too great a territory have expressed an eagerness to participate in the plan. This being the case, I am suggesting to you another plan which I have submitted to a great many who came to see me and which seems to be received by them as a much better plan.

This plan is that the members of each designated group purchase at least one leveler among themselves as this could be done at little more cost than the advance lease which we had in mind under the other plan. The purchase price of one popular machine is approximately $300.00, which could well be less than the cost of building a wood float.

SCHOOLS MAY ACQUIRE AERONAUTICAL PROPERTY

North Texas Educational Institutions have been invited to send representatives to a meeting with war assets administration officials in Denver on June 10 and 11, said Hamilton Morton, WAA Regional Director, Fort Worth, Saturday. The representatives will receive first hand information on how to obtain surplus Aeronautical property for school use.

In addition to Texas, schools in 10 other adjacent states have been invited to send representatives. While original invitations were sent only to those schools which had shown an interest in the program, all schools in these states are invited. The meeting will be held in the Denver high school Gymnasium. Morton said that the school officials will be given complete information on the Aeronautical Educational disposal program and will see a display of typical examples of material that is available to them. The officials may place orders on the spot for the equipment.

The Denver meeting, he added, is part of a nationwide program to assist eligible educational institutions in obtaining surplus aircraft and aeronautical equipment of all kinds for classroom use. Similar meetings which have been held in other sections of the country have resulted in the disposal of large amounts of this material to schools.

It takes a woman longer to dress than a man because she has to slow down for the curves.

"I understand your wife is a finished singer."
"No, not yet. But the neighbors almost got her last night."

Please express your opinion in regard to such a plan and if you find it advisable to enter into such a plan, either contact me or someone in the local Soil Conservation Service office and inform us as to your desires.

Hubert Setliff, cooperor of the Gasoline Conservation Group, constructed 4 miles of terraces on his farm. Terraces were constructed by two row farm tractor with 28-inch disc attachment which he uses for all other tillage operations. Mr. Setliff stated that terraces constructed with this equipment are easier to work and have a smaller bar-ditch left on either side than terraces constructed with heavy equipment and that an effective height and width may be maintained from year to year with little expense.

Leonard Matthews, cooperor of the Rock Creek Group, constructed irrigation ditches for irrigation of row crop on his farm last Tuesday. Allen Kellum and Alvin Redin, cooperators of the Grass Group, irrigated native pasture land on their farms last week.

Terraces constructed by Pierce White, G. C. Thomas and J. N. Partin of the White Conservation Group were checked for completion by SCS engineers assisting the supervisors of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District.

Ed Vaughn, Elbert Stephens, H. R. Stephens and Eural Vaughn, cooperators of the Cap Rock SCS District attended the Field Inspection and tour of improved pasture mixtures sponsored by the supervisors of the Floyd County Conservation District at Lockney Friday afternoon.

GIRL SCOUTS ENTHUSED ADULT HELPERS NEEDED

The Brownie troop of the Girl Scouts met Wednesday afternoon at the school with ten girls present. Two new members attended.

The leaders Mrs. Gene Berry and Mrs. Hood Wise directed a period of instruction on the origin of the Girl Scout movement, gave a talk on honesty and helped them memorize the Girl Scout Promise.

A program was presented consisting of musical selections by Peggy Starkey and Mable Ann Wise, and readings by Naomi McBride and Becky Dodson.

The Brownies sewed on dresses for their dolls, which they will try to finish next week. At the next meeting they will answer roll call with a memory verse from the Bible and will hear a program by Carol Berry, Mary Joyce Woods, Sandra Settle and Rochelle Craig.

After attending four meetings the girls will become permanent members if they wish and their names will be registered with Girl Scout headquarters. They will then be entitled to wear the Scout uniform.

The meeting time for all groups, Brownies and Intermediates has been set at three o'clock. And both troops will meet next Wednesday afternoon at the school house.

Nineteen girls were present for the Intermediate troop which met at the home of Mrs. A. C. Barrett Wednesday afternoon. This group is to be divided into two troops, with Mrs. J. T. Persons as leader of one group and Mrs. Barrett leader of the other. More adult helpers are needed and are urged to come.

The work is worthwhile, the young girls are enthusiastic and
