Miss Rosalind Coker of Amarillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Coker of Turkey and First Lt. William Acheson of Champaign, Illinois, now stationed at Amarillo Army Air Field, were united in marriage Wednesday, August 7 at 4:30 p. m. in the chapel at the air field.

The ceremony was read by Capt. Clarence L. Oelfke, Methodist chaplain.

The bride wore a heavenly blue dress with black and gold accessories and a white gardenia corsage. She carried a white Bible and a lace handkerchief for something borrowed, and for something old she wore a locket given to her by an uncle for a graduation present.

She was attended as bride's maid by her sister, Miss Martha Coker, who wore a pink dress with a tallman rose corsage.

The groom was attended as best man by Lt. W. B. McCafferty, the bride's former boss, and a good friend of both.

Mrs. Acheson was a graduate of Quitaque high school in 1939 and for the past five years has been employed by the civil service working three years at Sheppard Field and the past two years at Amarillo Army Air Field. Recently she was transferred to the office of Veterans Hospital at Amarillo.

Lt. Acheson has served six years in the air corps. He was a German prisoner of war for two years, returning to the States about six months ago, since which time he has been stationed at Amarillo Army Air Field. He will be transferred to San Antonio September 1 upon the couple's return from their honeymoon.

The happy couple left Saturday for Champaign, Ill., where they will visit his mother Mrs. Walter Acheson, while on a two-weeks honeymoon. Upon their return September 1 the groom will be transferred to San Antonio. He plans to remain in the air corps.

Uncle Billy Graves Is Buried Monday

W A (Uncle Billy) Graves died at his home southeast of Turkey Saturday afternoon, August 10, at 3 o'clock, having used up nearly a century of time. He was 91 years, 7 months and 22 days old at the time of his death, which the attending physician said was caused by old age—that Uncle Billy had just used up his time and lived out his life.

Uncle Billy, due to his feeble condition, fell backwards from the porch at his home a day or two before his death, but Dr. Garner who attended him said he was not seriously injured and that the fall had not contributed to his death.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the Turkey high school auditorium, conducted by Rev. T. R. Shannon. Interment was in Dreamland cemetery at Turkey under direction of Stewart Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Walter Geisler, Paul Geisler, Buster Hanna, Hoy Lacy, Clayton Ham and Pat Brittain.

Uncle Billy is survived by his wife, a number of children, 21 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

Out-of-town relatives present for the last rites were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Payne of Arizona, Mrs. Dave Payne of Earth, Texas; Hiram Graves, Willie Graves and Mrs. Lettie Hanna, all of Waco; and Andrew Graves of New Mexico.

Born in Burleson county, Uncle Billy was a native Texan, and proud of it. He saw much of Texas' history in the making, and helped to make it. His folks came to Texas in 1813 and bought land from Spain, situated near College Station. He first came to West Texas as a child when this whole country was infested with wild Indians. He saw the area develop from the buffalo range and free grass to its present highly cultivated state, and the ranges that were once free and grazed by Mexican and longhorn cattle, along with wild horses and buffalo, transformed into one of the greatest ranching and livestock-raising countries in the world.

Uncle Billy was here a long, long time; and he enjoyed every minute of it.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

CULLING LIFE'S VALUES

By E. B. Thompson

It is well nigh impossible for us adults to keep up with the expressions of our children. They send us scurrying off to the dictionary to see if some word they use is profanity, or just the apt and frank use of perfectly good English. The latest word of this kind we have noticed is the word "cull." "You cull."

Webster gives the meaning of the word as: To pick out, to gather, to select, to separate.—Therefore, to be culled could mean that one has been picked out, separated or gathered, into certain group interests or loyalties. On the other hand it might mean that the opposite had happened, that one had been ousted, pushed aside, left off the list, dropped—culled.

Life has a way of culling its values. Of sifting the grain from the chaff. Of bringing the good into preservation, and the bad into discard and elimination. Jesus taught this fact over and over. He once called attention to the habit of fishermen on the shores of the rivers and lakes of his country—culling the catch. "The kingdom of heaven is like a net which was thrown into the sea, and gathered fish of every kind; when it was full, men drew it ashore and sat down and sorted the good into vessels, but threw the bad away."

That makes every day a judgement day. We are accepted or we are rejected, we make the grade or we fail, we are picked out for the blessings of our fellows or we are pushed aside by their condemnation. Sin is destructive, and self-destructive in the long run as anyone can see by reviewing recent world events. It cannot build any lasting structures because of its very nature. It will finally fall from its own weight and rottenness. Truth and goodness are constructive and healing, redemptive, and therefore have the last word. Because they unite, bless and cure the hurt of life, they can not be ultimately defeated—they will win.

Let us learn the fine art of culling the values of life. May our daily choices be right, and our lives separated to goodness, purity, and faith, for in them is life, victory and peace.

Kent Votes In Favor Gasoline Votes No

In the election held Saturday in the Kent and Gasoline communities to decide whether or not the school tax in those communities should be raised to $1.50 per hundred and the school students sent under contract to the Quitaque schools, the proposition met with both favor and disfavor.

In the Kent community, the vote was in favor of the proposition, 23 and 11.

Gasoline turned thumbs down on the proposition with 30 votes against to 19 votes in favor.

Crop Insurance

Texas farmers will be able to obtain comprehensive protection on their 1947 winter wheat crops under federal crop insurance. B. F. Vance, chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration committee, stated in announcing the program for next year's crop.

Farmers may insure various portions of their normal crop returns under partial insurance features of the program. Protection is afforded against all natural unavoidable crop hazards, including hail, flood, drought, insects and diseases.

"Federal crop insurance is strictly a non-profit venture to guarantee an income to farmers," Vance pointed out. Administrative costs are paid by the Government, and all premiums are reserved for payment to insured farmers when their crops are lost.

"No matter how skillfully the farmer plants and cares for his crop, weather is beyond his control," Vance concluded. "His only assurance of some return from his wheat crop is a Federal crop insurance contract. County agricultural conservation officers and authorized crop insurance agents will offer contracts for sale in this State until August 31."

Drouth Is General Over Wide Area

Editorial From The Dallas News
Texas is suffering its worst drought in ten years, the United States Weather Bureau said Saturday, and the picture over the state was one of dry farms, burning ranges, withering crops and thinning livestock.

The summer will go down as one of the hottest in history, with temperatures eight and nine degrees above average. Spring brought no general rains to West Texas and the Panhandle. Except in southeastern and coastal bend counties, it has been an arid summer—weeks of searing sun and cloudless skies and spotted rainfall.

With poor range conditions and a critical lack of protein feeds, West Texas ranchers are culling their cattle herds and sheep flocks heavily. Many ranchmen are disposing of breeding animals. In the last nine months, San Angelo has had but two and one-half inches of rain.

High summer temperatures are threatening to curtail further the state's second shortest cotton crop in fifty-seven years. Last year's short crop of 1,794,000 bales was the lowest since 1839. The Department of Agriculture set this year's estimate at 1,900,000 bales, but last week the department announced that in making the prediction it had not taken into consideration the possibility of a long hot spell.

All summer long, south and southwest winds have blown over the state. The winds are moving out of northern Mexico and from the abnormal, stationary high pressure area over Florida. With this hot, dry air mass over Texas, there is little chance for rain-bearing thunderheads to form.

Cold fronts, capable of forming rain, move down periodically southward from the northern Rockies. These fronts reach a general line across Colorado, northern Oklahoma and Missouri. There they are met by the south and southwest winds from Texas and this opposition causes them to slip off to the east or to disappear entirely.

"Texas' main hope," said a forecaster at the Dallas Weather Bureau, "is that a tropical disturbance will form in the Gulf of Mexico and break up that high pressure area over Florida. Then we would get rain, plenty of rain."

FATHER OF MRS LESLIE CURTIS BURIED FRIDAY AT FLOYDADA

Last rites were held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Floydada for Walter Birch, 65 years old, who died Wednesday of last week at 11:45 p. m. in a hospital at Fort Worth. Interment was in the Floydada cemetery.

Mr. Birch had been in poor health for several years. Residents of Floydada for many years, he and his wife moved to Quitaque about five years ago and remained about a year to be near their daughter Mrs. Leslie Curtis. Later they moved to California and about a year ago they moved back to Floydada where they remained until about three months ago when they went to their daughter's home at Fort Worth.

Survivors are his wife and the one daughter Mrs. Leslie Curtis; and three in Vernon. All were present for the last rites except one of the sisters from Vernon who was ill.

Pallbearers were nephews of Mr. Birch, all of whom had served overseas in the armed forces.

Attending the funeral from Quitaque were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Curtis, accompanied by Mrs. Cagle of Childress and Mrs. McWilliams of Silverton.

Visitors in the H. E. Curtis home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Curtis of Fort Worth and Leslie's son Billy Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McWilliams and children of Silverton, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Davidson and children and Leonard Curtis and family.

Billy Curtis is with the Merchant Marines and now on a 20-day leave. He will visit in Borger before reporting to San Francisco for further duty.

Boy Scout "Swim-o-ree" At Plainview Aug. 20-21

There is going to be a "swim-o-ree" for the Boy Scouts at Plainview Aug. 20 and 21. All registered Scouts are supposed to go.

The American Legion will reserve the pool for some 200 Scouts from 9 to 12 each morning. The boys will have to pay if they swim during the afternoon or at night.

Swimming and life-saving will be taught both mornings. There will be contests and the best swimmers from three classes—juniors, intermediates and seniors—will compete separately. The winners of each class will go to the council swim meet at Lubbock Aug. 26.

An added feature of the meet is that the Lions Club of Plainview will give the boys a big barbecue feed the evening of the 20th. The boys will camp under shelter-halves that night in the city park. Every Scout is expected to go.

Every Scout must pass life saving before he can become an Eagle Scout.

Scouting offers the boys a splendid program and it is noted that there is no juvenile problem with the Scouts. The armed forces found during the war that the Scouts made the best men. Parents should see that their boys go to the swim meet at Plainview and encourage them in Scouting at all times.

A boy must be 12 years old and willing to obey the Scout rules before he can be a Scout.

Stewart Funeral Benefit Association

A Local Mutual Aid Association, Licensed by the State Department of Insurance.

As most of you who read this probably already know, we recently announced a new service for our friends and patrons—the Stewart Funeral Benefit Association Policy, a cash policy which is a fuller and more complete burial insurance than we were able to offer by our Stewart Burial Association policy.

This enables you to add to your burial policy whereby you can buy a nice funeral, and your regular insurance will not be taken from your family to pay funeral expenses.

With your Burial Policy you can now have:

Ages 1 to 60	Ages 61 to 65	Ages 66 to 70	Ages 71 to 90
$650.00	$450.00	$350.00	$300.00

The Stewart Funeral Benefit Association will work hand in hand with the Burial Association by supplying patrons with a Cash Policy in order that they may buy a nicer funeral if they wish, pay doctor bills, or whatever bills occur at the time of death. This is strictly a Cash Policy; you can spend any part for a nicer funeral and the balance is paid in cash to the beneficiary.

POLIO VICTIMS SHOULD BE TREATED AT GENERAL HOSP.

A militant campaign is being waged against the "prejudice and fear" that prevent poliomyelitis patients from receiving treatment at the majority of general hospitals in the country. Dr. Hart E. Van Ripper said as he assumed medical directorship of the National Foundation for infantile paralysis.

Asserting the 3500 member institutions of the American Hospital Association were cooperating with the Foundation in seeking wider admittance to general hospitals of polio patients, Dr. Van Ripper said the June issue of the association's magazine, "Hospitals" featured a symposium on this general theme.

Dr. Van Ripper said, "There has never been a single authenticated case of cross infection either to members of the staff or to other patients in general hospitals treating polio cases."

"Still," he added, "there remains a majority of general hospitals refusing to admit the polio patient, thus denying him his only hope to overcome a disease which may leave as high as 20 per cent of its victims with some permanent handicap."

Dr. Van Ripper, himself a former general hospital medical director, said the Foundation opposed special infantile paralysis hospitals because they would be inadequate during an epidemic and would be wasted at other times. Only the general hospital, he said, was suitable for the polio patient.

Unwarranted fear on the part of the public, he added, rather than opposition by the medical profession or hospital administrators was responsible for failure of some hospitals to admit polio patients.

"Polio is not nearly as catching as people think," he went on, "and isolation is carried out as much for the protection of the sick child against other infections as to prevent the spread of polio to doctors, nurses and other patients."

"Doctors emphasize that there is no record of direct contagion, despite the thousands of polio patients which have been cared for in general hospitals."

Other doctors in responsible positions testify that they see no reason why infantile paralysis patients should not be admitted to general hospitals and state their belief that this is a proper and necessary service to the community.

RATS ARE BORN IN DEFIANCE OF ATOMIC DEATH

Despite deaths from radioactivity among animals aboard target ships in the Bikini atomic bomb test, the animal population remains almost stationary, reports from the USS Burlison, animal ship of Joint Task Force 1, reveal.

To offset the deaths from radioactivity, a litter of white rats was born aboard the USS Pennsylvania and the new arrivals were unaffected by the bomb. Originally there were 150 goats, 150 pigs and 3,100 white rats placed aboard 22 ships of the target fleet. Deaths from radioactivity are continuing according to reports from the Burlison. Loss of life among the animals already has exceeded the 10 per cent figure originally announced.

The little pig, found swimming vigorously toward land after sinking of the Sakawa, is presumed to be still alive.

STATE FAIRS

Watch your state fairs this year for more things to come. You may see on display the Chicken-of-Tomorrow. All over the country (in 44 states to be exact) poultrymen are competing with each other in a chicken breeding contest. Object of the contest, in which federal and state agricultural experts as well as poultrymen are participating, and which will run for three years, is to produce an improved meat-type chicken. Such a bird could substantially add to poultrymen's earnings, now so heavily dependent upon eggs. There is a $5,000 award for the breeder who produces the best example of an improved meat-type chicken offered by A & P Food Stores, whose officials originated the idea.

The best chicken raised so far in 1946 will be on exhibition at many state fairs this year. In addition, there will be wax models to portray the ideal chicken. The other day Dewey Termohlen, director of the U. S. Department of Agriculture poultry branch, predicted the Chicken-of-Tomorrow breeding program would result in "a complete revolution in the production and marketing of poultry meat within the next five years."

Entertainment for a Penny

What's the cost of the electricity used by your radio for one evening? Well, for a single penny you can keep your many tube radio playing for three whole hours. That's a lot of entertainment for a penny.

And that's just one example of the bargain you get when you pay your electric bill. Yes, you're really getting twice as much electricity for your money as you did fifteen years ago, despite the fact that most other commodities cost much more than they used to. Business-managed, tax-paying electric companies are continually striving to keep on supplying the dependable electric service you now enjoy at such a low cost.

Mr. Barnhill, who was 63 years and 7 days old, died Aug. 10 at 4 o'clock and was buried Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

He was severely injured when he was jerked down by a mule on July 7 and spent some time in the hospital. He had been dismissed from the hospital and seemed to be recovering from his injuries when he had to return to the hospital Aug. 3 where he passed away Aug. 10.

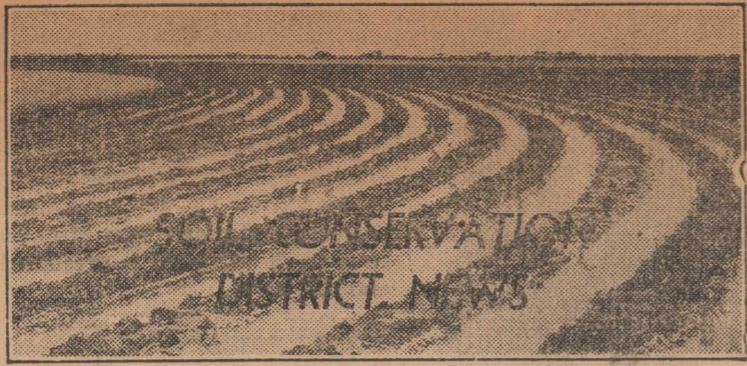

J. E. is the only surviving brother. Two sisters survive, both of whom live at Crockett.

At a meeting of the supervisors of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District Friday, August 9, the importance of maintaining adequate cover on the land in the district was discussed. Since the last two years have been below average in rainfall and forage yields have been proportionately less, the hazard of soil loss by wind erosion has been increased.

Now is the time to make plans for fall and winter cover crops on land subject to wind erosion. An effort is going to be made to get Austrian Winter Peas seeded on land planted to cotton and peanuts on the sandy area in the Quitaque area, according to Pierce White, supervisor of that subdivision. Austrian Winter Peas are hardy in this area and may be purchased locally for approximately six cents per pound. This crop will furnish winter pasture and improve land fertility similar to clover, alfalfa and other legumes.

According to Leo White, agricultural extension agent, who was in attendance at the meeting of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation district supervisors, Austrian Winter Peas should be treated with proper nitrogen inoculant in order to secure the greatest benefit from this crop. Mr. White will give demonstrations on proper inoculation of Austrian Winter Peas in the Gasoline and Antelope Conservation groups. The proper seeding time for this crop is September to early October at the rate of 25 to 30 pounds per acre drilled alone, or from 10 to 15 pounds per acre drilled with small grain.

Turkey Ball Team Wins One, Loses One

Dickens out-hit, out-scored and "out-errored" Turkey Saturday, making 15 hits good for 12 runs to cop a good ball game 12 to 3, before a fair crowd of enthusiastic fans.

The local boys admit they were out-classed, but they enjoyed that kind of competition nevertheless.

Sunday's game with Silvertown was a different story, however—and also a very different ball game. There was a huge crowd present to see Turkey finally defeat the visitors after score had been tied three different times, the final count being 15 to 12.

This game was nothing but action from the call of the ump's to play ball until the final whistle which ended the game. Every man on the Turkey roster scored at least once and some as many as four runs. In addition to that every man on the club except two collected all the way from one to four hits, stacking up 19 hits while Silvertown was accumulating 13.

Silvertown, being visitors, were first "in town" and scored three runs in the initial inning on a walk, a hit and two errors. Turkey came to bat in that frame and tied the score on a walk, a hit, a walk and three successive hits.

Turkey scored two more runs in her half of the second, but Silvertown couldn't push over a counter in that frame so tied it up again in the third. Turkey's half of the third and fourth innings were blank while Silvertown scored four additional tallies in her half of the fourth.

Silvertown went out 1-2-3, in the first half of the fifth. The Turkey lads came to bat in their half of the frame with vengeance in their hearts and proceeded to score four runs on four hits to knot the count, for the third time.

Silvertown went scoreless in the fifth, sixth and seventh, but Turkey brought the old hickory into play again in her half of the 7th, scoring four runs on five hits, making the score 13 to 9.

Silvertown scored two more in the eighth only to have the Turks repeat the performance, bringing the totals up to 15-11. The Briscoe boys marked up another tally in the ninth, but being three shy of a tie and four short of a victory, the game was over. The final score 15-12.

Some people get the idea they are worth a helluva lot of money just because they have it.

Allan Shivers Is People's Favorite

Senator Allan Shivers, in thanking the voters of Texas for the heavy lead they gave him in the July primary to make him the favorite candidate for lieutenant governor, also warned citizens that attempts will be made by "scheming minority pressure groups" to defeat him in the August 24 runoff.

The Jefferson County legislator, lawyer and farmer, pointed with pride to the overwhelming support which he received in his present home county and in the county where he was reared to manhood. Shivers, a World War II combat war veteran (the only veteran in this race), polled approximately 75 per cent of the votes in Jefferson County, his present home, and was a 25 to 1 favorite over his runoff opponent in Tyler County, where he spent his youth. Senator Shivers led his runoff opponent by approximately 100,000 votes in Texas.

"I am deeply grateful for the confidence the people of Texas have shown in me and the progressive program for Texas which I advocate," Shivers said "I shall strive even harder to work for the welfare of Texas."

"Because I represent the masses of the people, there will be those in the runoff campaign who will conspire to defeat me," Shivers predicted. "I will not be swayed by these radical, minority groups—the C.I.O. noisemakers in particular. My opponent is welcome to the support which they are giving him. I will continue to fight for the right and welfare and progress of our people who make up the backbone of Texas." (Adv.)

NO REPORT ON WOLF

No report could be given on the coyote head sent to Austin last week for examination for rabies, Irl Twilla stated. The animal was shot through the head tearing the brain which was in such a state of decomposition when it reached the laboratories that examination was impossible.

Twilla advises that should another similar coyote appear not to shoot it through the head. He also advises farmers and stockmen in the Wolf Flat and Bridle Bit communities to keep an eye on their pet animals and stock just
