Farmers Union Members And Guests Hear Walter Rogers Speak

About one-hundred members of the Briscoe County Farmers Union and their guests gathered in Silverton City Park Monday night for the Annual Picnic of the Briscoe Farmers Union. Home made ice cream and cake was served to those present.

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa, who is the House of Representatives member from this District was the main speaker of the evening. Mr. Rogers was introduced by State Union vice-president, Joe Byrd of Panhandle.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Rogers stated that many caustic remarks are made and written about our government and the way things are run in Washington. He also pointed out that people of this country are blessed with more freedoms, more rights, and more worldly goods than any people on the face of the earth, and although it is within the rights of people to criticize, the country would be better served if people would try to do something worthwhile with as much vigor as is put forth in their "knocking".

Speaking on agriculture, Mr. Rogers stated that farmers are confronted with one of the greatest problems ever and no one has a complete answer to the problem. He said the trend seems to be to move the farm people off the farms and into the city and in his opinion, this would be a fatal mistake. This country started out as an agricultural country and it must never get away from being a great agricultural country. He says that an American farmer can feed 23 people; in Russia one farmer can perhaps feed 3 people at best. Being able to grow such tremendous crops has in some ways worked to the American farmer's disadvantage but it is one of the main reasons that this country is the greatest in the world, being able to feed herself and any country that is her ally. The Communist countries would give a great deal to be able to produce farm goods on an equal with this country, Mr. Rogers concluded.

Congressman Rogers did not mention the coming general election but it might be pointed out that he will have a Republican opponent in the next election. A big percentage of the voters in this district live in two or three of the larger cities and much of their thinking is directed by newspapers who support the Republican Party in no uncertain terms. People of this Congressional District who favor the Democratic Party and Walter Rogers will do well to keep this in mind in the months ahead. This newspaper will support Mr. Rogers because it feels that he has honestly served this district and the farmer to the best of his ability during his years in Washington.

CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGER'S WASHINGTON REPORT

THE BERLIN WALL
On August 13, 1961, the Soviet government transformed the boundary of the Soviet sector of Berlin up to then no more than a partially controlled demarcation line — into a physical barrier, proclaiming it as a State frontier of the so-called German Democratic Republic. The physical barrier was the now famous — or perhaps more appropriately "infamous" — Berlin Wall.

At first, the reaction was to "knock down the Wall" by physical violence. Some advocated the open declaration of war. The people behind the Wall responded like rats to a sinking ship. Many who had acquiesced in, if not fully accepted, the Communist dogma could now see concrete proof of the prison in which they had been confined since the end of World War II. They ran for freedom. Some died in the canals; some died in the streets from gunshot wounds; some died from injuries received in falls from the Wall and adjacent buildings as they were seeking escape. Others are now languishing in Red prisons for trying to escape or for trying to help their fellow prisoners.

What does all of this mean? It means plainly and simply that Communism is no match for the free enterprise system and never can compete effectively in meeting the needs of mankind, either spiritual or material. The erection of the Wall in the first instance was an open admission of a dismal failure of the Communist-Socialist philosophy. It was at this direct point — to wit, Berlin — that the sharp comparison between freedom and slavery could be viewed in all its aspects. West Berlin was a showcase of what freedom under our system has to offer to mankind. East Berlin was a drab, depressing, sorrowful-looking shambles in comparison. In West Berlin, the people were smiling, congenial, friendly and prosperous. In East Berlin, sadness was etched in the deep lines of the faces of all the people. They would speak only when spoken to; their response was no more than a grunt. They were people without hope, who appeared to be going about their daily chores and continuing to live only because they had to, not because they wanted to.

The officials of East Berlin knew all of this, and they knew something had to be done. The flow of refugees, varying from month to month over the past 16 years, averaged about 25,000 a month in the last year, including a high percentage of skilled men and women in all fields. The majority of the refugees were workers and wage earners — about half were under 25 years of age. This last point is most important, because this group had never known anything but Communism. They had nothing to compare with Communism except what they could see in West Berlin. The Communists knew that if there was a West Berlin in every section of the Soviet republics and the satellite countries, their troubles would be multiplied a thousand fold. These young people, although raised and fully indoctrinated in Communist dogma, did not know what the free world had to offer, but they did know that they DID NOT want Communism.

The Communists, under the circumstances, HAD to build the Wall. They knew that only by physical restraint could they prevent their regime from collapsing like a house of cards. It was their last resort. It stands today as a monument to be viewed by all free nations and all young areas of the world now emerging into the family of nations — a monument to utter and complete inadequacy of any philosophy of government that does not recognize the freedom and dignity of the individual.

The Wall can also be viewed as a monument to the basic proposition that the founders of this country, with Divine guidance, prepared the greatest document in the history of mankind when they wrote the Constitution preserving and protecting the rights of the individual human being as created by God. It would be well for all people in all countries, INCLUDING OUR OWN, to read and re-read this document so that this freedom and dignity of the individual may be preserved in all of its glory as intended.

Two Boys Hurt Near Lingos Falls

Two Lubbock County youths were hospitalized after they fell about 20 feet from a cliff in the breaks in the Lingos Falls area southwest of Quitaque Wednesday afternoon.

Rushed to West Texas Hospital in Lubbock by Roberts Funeral Home ambulance were Jerry Oldham and Billy Winters, both 16. According to Bill Griffin, who drove the ambulance to Lubbock, they suffered cuts, sprains, and possible fractures but their condition was not considered serious.

The boys had been on a hunting trip with a third youth, Larry Lide, also, 16, of Lubbock. The trio drove in a pickup into the rough country as far as was possible, and walked an additional mile before making camp.

Lide stayed behind to make a fire while Oldham and Winters went hunting. They were about a quarter of a mile from the camp when the accident happened. Winters managed to crawl back and alert Lide, who drove to Silverton for help.

The two youths were brought out of the breaks on horseback by two Silverton men on horseback, Dock Wallace and Ben Bingham. They were assisted by Dr. Neville Muckleroy of Silverton, Bill Griffin of Roberts Funeral Home, Inc., and James Maples, of Silverton. Griffin praised Dr. Muckleroy, who did not wait for the boys to be brought to his office, but who hiked down into the rugged breaks to administer first aid.

Wheat Quota Vote August 30

College Station, Aug. 23 — Wheat farmers will vote in a referendum August 30 to decide if marketing quotas will apply for the 1963 crop, according to C. H. Bates, farm management specialist, Texas A & M College.

The referendum was announced recently by Secretary of Agriculture Freeman in accordance with the present law which makes such action necessary when wheat supplies are more than 20 percent above normal. The same situation exists now as existed in 1961, before the emergency wheat program was enacted, for the 1962 crop, the specialist said.

The law directs that wheat acreage allotments are to be used each year but at least two-thirds of the voters in the referendum must favor quotas if they are to apply to the next crop, he continued.

Approval of marketing Quotas would mean, (1) in commercial wheat states all farmers with more than 15 acres of wheat will be subject to quota penalties on their "excess," except those who comply with the fed wheat provision. The penalty rate would be 45 percent of parity price as of May 1, 1963; (2) growers who comply with their wheat allotments will be eligible for price support at the level announced, of not less than $1.82 per bushel on a national basis.

Disapproval of Marketing Quotas would mean, (1) marketing quotas and penalties will not be in effect for the 1963 wheat crop; (2) acreage allotments will be used to determine eligibility for price support; (3) the wheat price support rate will be at 50 percent of parity or about $1.21 per bushel national average.

Those who can vote are the farmers in the 39 commercial wheat states who will harvest more than 15 acres of 1963 wheat as grain but those taking part in the 1962 "feed wheat" program are not eligible to vote.

Producers will receive official notice of their allotments by mail before the August 30 vote, Bates adds. These notices will be helpful to the farmer in his decision on the referendum.

For further information on the wheat marketing quota, contact your county ASC committee.

ADVICE FOR HAY FEVER SUFFERERS

Hay fever, producer of several million watery eyes, runny noses and sneezers each season, is produced by substances called allergens. One of the most frequently involved allergens in hay fever is ragweed pollen.

From mid-August to first frost is the worst season of the year for hay fever sufferers.

When hay fever allergen enters the body it speeds up production of antibodies. These chemical policemen rush to battle the histamine. The favorite temporary remedy is an antihistamine, to combat the effect of histamine in the body.

A tolerance to pollens can be built up by injecting a dilute solution of them under the skin, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association. The common method is to begin three months ahead of the season and inject increasingly large doses at five-day intervals. These shots must be given only by experts. Improperly used they could cause more trouble than the hay fever itself.

Hay fever is a wide open field for the medical quack, and the sufferer will hear of a wide variety of cures. Most of them are useless. The most common preventives for hay fever are:

- Get specific anti-hay fever shots well ahead of the season.
- Keep away from areas where ragweed pollen loads the air.
- Air conditioning, both at home and in the office, combined with good air filters, will often help.
- Antihistamine drugs lessen congestion and relieve itching.
- Keep your home immaculately clean and free of dust.

PEOPLE ARE ALIVE

"People aren't statistics. They are alive."

God gave them a mind with which to strive. They are individuals with a choice.

God meant that they should speak with a free voice. He made them different colors, but said,

"Whether black, or white, or yellow, or red,

In His sight we are all equal and kin;

God looks not on the surface, but within.

We're not to be parts of a big machine,

But we're to be like actors in a scene;

Each one doing his part as he sees fit.

And letting God direct each little bit.

Why can't this truth of truths in all hearts survive:

"People aren't statistics. They are alive!"

Nearly every hand in the church was raised.

"That's right," said the minister. "You are the folks I want to preach to. There isn't any twenty-ninth chapter of Matthew."

FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION RECORD $637 MILLION LOANED BY IN FISCAL YEAR 1962

The Farmers Home Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture loaned farm families and other rural people a record $637 million in fiscal 1962 which ended on June 30, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today.

The volume of loans, largest during any 12-month period in the agency's history, was 61 percent larger than the 1961 total of $395.7 million, and 106 percent above the $308.9 million loaned in 1960.

Nearly half of the total loaned during fiscal 1962 went for farm operating expenses, almost a third for the purchase, development, or enlargement of family farms, and about a sixth went for the construction and improvement of houses and service buildings on farms and in rural communities.

Approximately 205,000 families were using Farmers Home Administration credit for these and other purposes at the end of the fiscal year — 12 percent more than the year before.

"The rise in the number and amount of loans," said Secretary Freeman, "reflects a continuing increase in operating expenses necessary to keep pace with today's modern farming methods. It also indicates the reduced returns from the sale of farm products which have many efficient farm owners hard pressed."

Secretary Freeman added, "I believe it is especially noteworthy that in spite of the enormously increased activity in its lending programs and management work with farm families, the Farmers Home Administration has scarcely increased its personnel at all."

A woman's husband asked her what she wanted for her birthday the next week. She thought for a minute, then said, "No more scarfs, or stockings, or sheer black nighties. This year I want cold, hard cash for a change."

The next day her husband filled her request. He put $20 in nickels, dimes and quarters into a quart jar, then filled it with water.

On her birthday he handed his wife a solidly frozen bottle of change from the freezer locker.

The present law has plagued legally separated but not legally divorced persons for years, Rogers explained. As an example, the Congressman cited the plight of a young man who was supporting his mother and eight brothers and sisters. Although separated from the father and not receiving support from him, under the community property laws, the mother is considered to have vested right in the father's community income which exceeded $600.00 and is liable for the tax on her one-half of the community income. The son, the actual breadwinner, is not now entitled to claim proper dependency.

"Even though taxes are a necessary evil", Rogers said, why not encourage children to take fiscal responsibility toward their parents instead of defeating them with insurmountable roadblocks."

Rogers noted that it is probable that some taxpayers in community property states like Texas are already claiming exemptions thinking they are within the law. "Technically they are in violation of the law", Rogers said, "and could be subjected to severe penalties. Hence, immediate action should be had to correct such an unconscionable situation."

Despite the approaching adjournment of Congress, Rogers hopes that his bill will put the Congress on notice that such a correction should be included in the overall tax revision planned for early next year.
