Speer Speaks At C. C. Luncheon

James M. Speer, of the Speer Drug Company, was the speaker at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon held last Friday at the Muleshoe Coffee Shop.

Mr. Speer discussed co-operation among all citizens to build a bigger and better Muleshoe. Civic problems are much easier to solve when all work together toward the desired end, he said.

He told of the projects developed in other towns where he has lived, especially school athletic plants he helped to build, and gave encouragement to plans of local people for a lighted field and stadium for Muleshoe school use.

Service to others, to community and country in which one lives gives more lasting pleasure than anything else one can do in life, Mr. Speer believes.

Horace McAdams Is Building A Modern Dairy Plant For Muleshoe

Plans for a modern dairy show for Muleshoe were announced this week by Horace W. McAdams, to be located on the McAdams farm one mile west and one-half mile north of town.

A home for Mr. McAdams, his wife and their two children, is being built now, and construction on a modern 20 by 40 foot dairy barn capable of accommodating a herd of 60 dairy cows, and a 20 by 20 feet milk house on the premises will begin within the week, weather permitting.

It is his intention to deliver milk to the homes of Muleshoe, beginning if possible in about a month.

Citizens of Muleshoe have long felt the need for such a dairy plant and are sure to cheer when they hear the news.

The farm contains about 40 acres under irrigation, and more land nearby is under lease. Mr. McAdams has already begun purchase of cows to go in his dairy herd.

His plans call for a dairy of the first class. Barns and milk house will have concrete floors, ample lighting and sanitary provisions, and modern equipment will be used including coolers and electric milkers.

Mr. McAdams is recently discharged from the U. S. Coast Guard, with whom he served three years and 3 months. He was a member of the crew of an LST which landed men and equipment in the beaches at Enguinville, Treasury Islands, Guam and Leyte. He is a son of W. B. McAdams, carrier of rural route 2, Muleshoe.

Young McAdams conducted a dairy here before he entered the service, and he said he had promised himself that when he re-entered the business he would have a first class dairy, and that is what he is building now.

J. W. Jennings Announces For Legislature

Joe W. Jennings, has announced his candidacy for the office of representative in the Texas Legislature from the 120th Legislative district. This district comprises Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Parmer and Swisher counties.

Jennings, a Floyd county farmer, recently moved his family to Plainview, but is continuing to own and operate the farm in his native county.

He was a candidate for this office in the 1944 election, running against Tom W. Deen, incumbent representative.

"I believe the people of the district want a change," Jennings said. "In the 1944 campaign there were 12,379 votes cast. Deen, who was re-elected, received 6,353 votes to 3,026. A major victory only 327 votes. The results would have been reversed by only 165 votes.

"Many citizens have talked to me about again seeking the office and they predict much stronger support for me than in the last election.

"I am deeply grateful for the splendid support accorded me in the 1944 election, my first time to participate in any political campaign, and earnestly solicit that support in the coming Democratic primary as well as the support of every other voter in the district."

"During this time it has been my endeavor to equally represent all of the people of the precinct, and to work for the best interest of Bailey County and Precinct 3. I have also gained valuable experience which I believe will enable me to render better service in the future than I have been able to give in the past.

"In this connection I offer my promise, if re-elected, to continue to work for the best things for the most people.

"Upon these grounds I earnestly invite and solicit your cooperation."

That the wind did not blow following the fall, to pile the snow unevenly upon the fields. Cold weather Tuesday night helped to slow the melting process and allow the moisture to do the most good.

The moisture will help to hold down dust during coming weeks should the wind blow too much.

Above all, however, is the benefit to growing wheat and to farming operations, which had been at a standstill in recent weeks. Many told The Journal that tight land has been too dry to stand, and they hesitated to list sandy land for fear of excessive blowing.

As soon as farmers can get into their fields they will be plowing and getting ready for another planting season.

Traffic was seriously hampered because of the heavy snowfall. The snow melted about as fast as it fell during most of Monday, but about night it began to pile up and soon began to interfere with operation of autos. The snow continued to fall during Monday night and Tuesday morning most everybody waded through heavy drifts to get where they were going. Maintainers cleared a path about the city so that traffic could be partially resumed. School was dismissed in most districts since roads were in such condition that buses could not make their routes.

Rural mail carriers out of Muleshoe bravely started out on their rounds but had to turn back after negotiating a few miles.

Local department stores soon disposed of their stocks of rubber overhoes and galoshes.

Many sledging parties were observed and countless persons got hit with snowballs or rolled in the snow as the younger generation dispersed themselves in the snow.

Many stories about Muleshoe's development are breaking this week. Your attention is called to the announcement of an alfalfa dehydrating plant, a creamery, and a modern dairy for Muleshoe. Had you noticed that in many of these stories we carry from week to week ex-service men are figuring prominently? Bailey County ought to be awfully proud of these men who as Uncle Sam released them, hurried back home and began carrying out plans to help develop this country.

You couldn't sit down and think and think and figure out anything we need as much as we need these three enterprises. A loud cheer to those who are behind these projects.

The snow doted Muleshoe up in a way that is beyond words to describe. I set out to tell about it, about how the snow decorated each tree and shrub, each roof, and all I could get out of this typewriter was "It sure was pretty." Out he e in the Holy Street neighborhood dame nature outdid herself and some of us just stood and looked, it was that wonderful.

T. L. Desmond must be about as mad as a man can get. We have messaged up his address and can't seem to get it right. If anyone here knows his address we will be glad if he will give it to us. He lives somewhere in California.

THE WORLD A GAME OF STRENGTH

The game of the world is a pre-uptial trial of strength between man and events, wrote Ralph Waldo Emerson. The common man is the victim of events. Whatever happens is too much for him. The superior man is at home in his own mind. We, like cool people, who neither hope nor fear too much, but seem to have many strings to their bow and can survive well enough if stock should rise or fall, if their money or their family should be dispersed; who can stand a slander very well; indeed on whom events make little or no impression and who can face death with firmness.

Bedtime beauty rituals should include ice facials with ice applied directly to the skin as shown by Kay Starr, Mutual's beautiful "Spotlight Bands" singer. You will enjoy the tingling refreshment as the ice technique closes up pores to help keep the skin dirt-free and healthy. Kay retains her velvet-smooth skin by using a weekly facial of patted on plain milk as a skin softener. Left on overnight, the milk mask works wonders in softening the tissues.

C. S. Sullivan Is Chosen Head Of Bailey County USDA Council

The U. S. D. A. Council of Bailey County met Monday, January 7, 1946, in regular meeting. W. L. Key resigned as chairman of the Council. Motion was made and seconded that we accept Mr. Key's resignation. A motion was made and seconded that C. S. Sullivan, chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation Association, be elected by acclamation as chairman of the U. S. D. A. Council. A motion was made that a letter be drafted to Mr. Gibb Gilchrist of Texas A & M College, Coilege Station, Texas, supporting the move to get the Hereford Prisoner of War Camp for an experimental station and a 4-H Club encampment for West Texas. The following committee was appointed to draft the letter: Mrs. Laurette Wilson, J. K. Adams, N. S. Abbott and E. P. White. Bailey County Fat Stock Show plans were discussed and the show is to be held in March. A motion was made and seconded that all deferments granted on agricultural needs that boys be considered on their own merits. W. L. Key gave a very interesting and informative talk giving the different steps of the farm program since its origin in 1933. The 1946 farm program for Bailey County will consist of pay-

- ments to the following soil building and conservation practices carried out on farms.
- 1. Construction of standard spreader terraces for which proper outlets are provided.
- 2. Construction of diversion terraces.
- 3. Levelling for irrigation land for which water is available.
- 6. Reorganization of farm irrigation system according to a comprehensive plan.
- 9. Drilling or digging wells.
- 11. Contour furrowing noncropland.
- 12. Strip cropping on the contour.
- 13. Field strip cropping not on the contour.
- 14. Dep plowing of sand cropland to prevent wind erosion.
- 15. Protecting summer fallowed acreage.
- 16. Contour listing or furrowing of cropland or land planted to crops in 1946.
- 17. Contour farming intertilled crops.
- 18. Seeding drilled crops on the contour.
- 21. Leaving on the land as a protection wing erosion the stalks or stubble of sorghums or millet.
- 23. Deferred grazing.
- 24. Seeding perennial pasture grasses.
- 25. Seeding adapted pasture

- grasses, pasture, legume or mixtures of grasses and legumes.
 - 27. Plowing fireguards on non-crop open pasture or range land.
 - 28. Harvesting grass or legume seed.
 - 29. Establishing a satisfactory cover of winter legumes seeded in the fall of 1945.
 - 31. Establishing a satisfactory cover of small grains (except wheat) seeded in the fall of 1945 and the growth is not harvested for grain or hay.
 - Crowing green manure or cover crops.
 - 25. Application of phosphate other than raw rock phosphate.
- Important: One of the most important phases of the 1946 ACA program is the fact that before any producer will be eligible to receive payment on any practice approved for the county, he must secure prior approval to be eligible to receive payment thereon.

Freeze, Can or Cure Meat for Varied Farm Menus

Berniece Kaples, left, slices a round of partially thawed sausage for dinner. All seasonings except the salt were added before the meat was frozen. Berniece is a 4-H girl in Platte county, Nebr.

In preparation for storage in a freezer locker, this 1-meal piece of meat is wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof paper and inserted in an elastic stockinette which will be tied shut at both ends.

Cured salt pork can be sliced and fried, then combined with slices of apple and cooked sweet potato.

ALTHOUGH fall is still the popular season for butchering, freezer-locker facilities make it possible almost any month, according to Marjorie Griffin, Rural Home Editor of Capper's Farmer. "Farm homemakers like to use their home freezers and freezer lockers to hold beef, pork, lamb, veal or poultry at its freshest until needed," she writes in the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families. "However, the old standby methods of curing and canning meat continue to be used. "Many farm families find that preserving by all three methods gives greatest variety to the menus. "A plan often followed is to freeze tender cuts from ribs and loin; can shoulders, shanks and other less tender cuts; cure sides and hams of pork and the inside round of beef. "Young chickens are frequently frozen; hens may be canned. Poultry should be well fattened for slaughter before freezing. "The length of time meat can be frozen successfully depends on the temperature at which it is stored, the points out. It should be kept at 0° F. or lower. In general sausage and ground meat can be kept for 6 months; fresh pork, veal and fish from 3 to 6 months; beef and lamb 6 to 12 months; and poultry 8 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swint, M. S. Anna Moeller and Mrs. Hertha Walker returned first of the week from Denver, Colo., where Mr. Swint received his honorable discharge from the Army Air Forces. A sergeant, he had been based at Clovis. Mrs. Swint is the former Betty Ruth Moeller. They say still they were glad to get back to warm Muleshoe, for Denver had a deep snow on the ground and sub-zero weather while they were there.

It was zero weather here Wednesday morning. A low of one half degree below zero was registered at the local weather recording station. Many commercial thermometers registered as low as five degrees below zero.
