Fingerprint Health Clues

Rare fingerprint patterns are relatively common among schizophrenia patients, two Michigan researchers have found. The discovery tends to support the theory that susceptibility to mental illness may be inherited, they said.

Human Virus in Cancer

Three Texas scientists report the induction of highly malignant lung cancers in laboratory animals with the use of a virus known to cause a variety of common human respiratory disorders. No other agents were used in the experiment.

Germ-Driven Radio

A bacteria-powered radio transmitter has been built with a range of about 15 miles. The identity of the bacteria is a military secret, but it has been disclosed that the electricity was generated by bacterial activity in a small test tube filled with sea water and sugar.

Multiple Causes

Most students of disease patterns today agree that all diseases have more than a single cause, says a Columbia University epidemiologist. The new concept is called "competing risks."

Cloth of Gold

A fabric covered with 24-carat gold has been developed to protect persons handling space rocket fuels from flash temperatures.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH NOTES

Sunday Morning Services:
 Sunday School 9:45
 Morning Worship 11:00
 Evening Worship 7:00
Wednesday Evening 8:00

Matt. 24: 4-13.
 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.

5. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

6. And ye shall hear of wars and rumors of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

8. All these things are the beginning of sorrow.

9. Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

10. And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11. And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.
 12. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

CHAPEL CHOIR PRESENTS SPECIAL MUSIC SUNDAY EVE.

Special music for the Community Thanksgiving Service, which was held at the First Baptist Church, was presented by the Chapel Choir with Mary Stark directing. The Choir consisted of fifteen members, and the music was presented in a very fine way.

William Bradford, the governor of the Plymouth Colony, has been called "the father of American history", according to World Book Encyclopedia. His book, "Of Plymouth Plantation", tells the story of the Pilgrims from the time of their persecution in England and is the chief source of our knowledge of the colonists.

Janet Prince Weds Dwain Henderson In Home Ceremony Sunday

Mrs. Dwain Henderson

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Owens was the setting Sunday afternoon, Nov. 18, at 2:30 o'clock for the wedding of Miss Janet Prince and Dwain Henderson.

The Rev. Malcolm Prince officiated the double ring service.

White candelabra holding white tapers and decorated with jade greenery and blue bows flanked a white basket holding white gladoli and blue decorative leatherleaf fern.

The bride, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Malcolm Prince of Loco Hills, N. M. was given in marriage by her mother and father.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Owens of Quitaque are the parents of the groom.

Miss Linda Gattis of Loco Hills, N. M. was maid of honor. The candles were lighted by Eddie Owens, small brother of the groom.

Attending the groom as best man was Jimmy Don Marshall of Silverton. Background wedding music was played on a stereo during the entire service.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white brocade taffeta designed with long sleeves coming to petal points at the wrist, closely fitted basque bodice and portrait neckline with bouffant skirt of street length. Her veil of tulle was attached to a crown matching her gown and embroidered in seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations on a Bible covered with white satin and lace with white velvet streamers.

The maid of honor wore a sheath dress of cotton blue velveteen and her colonial bouquet featured white carnations with blue puffs.

Mrs. Prince chose a light blue wool sheath dress with a flower hat in blue with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Owens, mother of the groom, wore a teal blue dress of cotton and silk with pleated skirt and her accessories were black. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was laid with a lace cloth over blue. The three tiered wedding cake centered the table with blue tapers in crystal candlesticks. The napkins, printed in gold, bore the names Janet and Dwain. After the bride and groom cut the cake, it was served with crystal and silver appointments by Mrs. Ronald Vaughan, cousin of the groom, and Mrs. Jo Ann Hendrickson, sister of the bride, served the frosted punch.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple are at home in Silverton where Dwain is engaged in farming.

Guests in the Gaston Owens home for the wedding were the Rev. and Mrs. Malcolm Prince and Linda Gattis of Loco Hills, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hendrickson, Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Bud McMinn of Silverton, Mr. and Mrs. George Owens and Betty June, Mrs. O. R. Stark, Jr., Mrs. Mary Pittman and the Rev. Roy Davidson.

Sarah Josepha Hale, a famous woman's magazine editor during the 1800's, is credited with establishing Thanksgiving as a national holiday. She worked for more than 35 years to promote the idea, reports World Book Encyclopedia, and in 1863 persuaded President Abraham Lincoln to issue the proclamation setting aside the last Thursday in November of that year as a day of Thanksgiving.

A Mexican turkey with a Spanish accent may have been the ancestor of some of the birds on the Pilgrims' Thanksgiving menu. World Book Encyclopedia explains that Spaniards brought Mexican turkeys to Europe in the early 1500's and later they reached England. The Pilgrims are reported to have brought several to America in 1620.

TIPS ON HOW TO COOK WILD GAME

College Station -- Hunters who enjoy hunting but dislike the gamy flavor of their catch will find good news in a new publication, B-987, "Wild Game - Care - Cooking," put out by the Extension Service, Texas A&M College.

The quality of game meat depends to a large extent on how the game is handled from the time of kill until served, according to the bulletin written jointly by specialists in wildlife conservation and foods and nutrition.

The new publication describes with detail and illustrations the proper care of small game, big game, and game birds while in the field, in camp and at home.

Methods of cooking big game are given along with tricks for tenderizing mature and tough game. Small game cookery and care is also explained. The flavorful cooking of many kinds of Texas game birds is discussed and tips on the freezing and storage of all types of game are given.

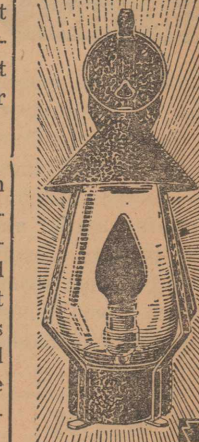

The bulletin comes to a delicious conclusion with a list of many wild game menus calculated to convince the hunter that Texas wild game is good for more than tracking and hunting.

"Wild Game - Care - Cooking" can be obtained from your county agent or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

economic level. Catholic, Jew and Protestant find tolerance, reverence, patriotism, and self-respect as a part of the fundamental lessons of Scouting. Scouting appeals to rural boys as well as urban boys. Boys join Scouting to have fun, however, to become a Scout a boy must voluntarily accept and carry out in his daily life the ideals of Scouting. Scouting trains a boy for useful participating citizenship. Scouting encourages a boy's interest and directs his attention to a wide range of hobbies, vocations, and professions.

It is fitting that all adults in communities where Scout Units are to be found, contribute their financial support to the Scouting program. Your generous contribution means more Scout Units (Packs, Troops and Posts), and more boys, (Cubs, Scouts, and Explorers). It also means more trained leaders, better camp facilities, more visual aid materials, more direct service to Scout Districts and the towns located therein.

tempts to provide all boys the opportunity to become Scouts. Since the beginning, Scouting has continued to grow and serve more boys and adults each year. With this growth has come by necessity the need for more financial support for the program. Scouting works in your community 365 days a year. The money you give is spent in your community for your own boys. "Tomorrow" depends upon today's BOYS.

THANKSGIVING CELEBRATION IS OLD CUSTOM

The Pilgrims were joining some strange company when they declared a Thanksgiving celebration in 1621. For the practice of giving thanks for a plentiful harvest goes back almost to the time when man first gave up wandering and hitched himself to a plow.

Along the Mediterranean, ancient peoples held festivals at harvest time in honor of a mother goddess. The Semites called her Astarte, while the Phrygians named her Semel.

The Romans honored Ceres, the goddess of agriculture, in a celebration called the Cerealia, reports World Book Encyclopedia. And the Greeks paid tribute to Demeter in secret rites called the Eleusinian Mysteries.

Christianity put an end to many of these festivals, but a pagan-inspired belief in the Corn Mother, or the Mother of Grains, survived among some peasants in the British Isles and Europe. Her spirit was thought to live in the last sheaf of grain left standing in the field.

In northern England, the last handful of corn was the "kirm", and sometimes it was fashioned into a "kirm doll." In Austria it was shaped into a wreath and placed on the head of a girl who became the harvest queen.

During the Middle Ages the most common thanksgiving and harvest festival was held on the Feast of Saint Martin of Tours, or Martinmas, on November 11. People throughout Europe still celebrate the day with feasts and new wine.

The Pilgrims probably became familiar with this celebration when they went to Holland to escape persecution in England, and it may have been the remembrance of this holiday that inspired them to hold a thanksgiving feast after their first prosperous year in the New World.
