Bill Griffin went along with them to the hospital at Lockney because the wound was bleeding so that it was necessary to hold a compress on it all the way to the hospital. Mrs. Kimbell reports that she is all right at this time.

James Kimbell spent from Thursday until Sunday in the hospital at Groom. At this report he is improving. Mr. Kimbell recently went through the clinic at Temple.

Rain Soaks Area

The weather has been the big news in the area for the past week.

For the first time in several years this part of the Panhandle is thoroughly soaked following four days of a variety of weather that started with gentle fall-type rain and wound up with a day of blustery early summer-type day that saw a heavy down pour in the morning and an afternoon full of tornadoe threats, spotted heavy rains and topped it off with a hail storm that severely damaged crops west to northeast of town.

Four and two tenths of an inch of rain was recorded here in town by the rain gauge in Owens' back yard and this is near the amount reported by most everyone in the community, although the amounts were heavier along the edge of the Cap and north in the brakes. Out at the Jim Stroup ranch a total of 5½ inches fell and that area did not catch any of the hail. Heavy rains fell north of Quitaque but no actual total was available.

Ernest Hamilton and Bud Bailey estimated that damage to crops from hail in their area would probably run a fourth or possibly a third. There were some pretty good cotton crops in that area.

The rains came too late to do the crops very much good but the moisture will slow down the maturing cotton and give it more time to make. The grassland of course will benefit greatly from the rains and the soil will have underground season to begin with on a new year—something that has been lacking for several years. One man pretty well summed up the feelings of most West Texans when he simply said "I like to hear that rain!"

And the new lakes, most of which had not caught a great deal of water since the dams were built, now are holding a lot of water—some of them being brim full—and that is a good sight

Basketball workouts will begin on Friday, October 1 and just two weeks later, on October 15, Coach Gene King and Coach Gano Wilson will usher in a new basketball season by sending the Panthers and Pantherettes against Quail in a double-header to be played at Quail.

Coach Wilson, who is the new basketball tutor of the Pantherettes, will be making his first start as coach against his home town. He is a graduate of Quail High School.

Quitaque's second game will also be away from home, that game to be played at Hedley.

Two games had been matched with Channing, sure to be a powerhouse in Class B here in the Panhandle. The games were to be played in Canyon on successive Saturday nights. However, Channing has cancelled the first game and only one will be played, that one on Saturday night, November 6 in the West Texas State Fieldhouse at Canyon.

There are several open dates in the early season schedule and Coach Gene King hopes that some of the open dates can be filled.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY HAS OVER 70 JOB OPPORTUNITIES

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has announced that the DPS has job opportunities in the uniformed services for over 70 young men interested in a career of law enforcement.

"The positions include opportunities for advanced education, excellent physical conditioning and a chance to participate in an outstanding public service," Garrison said.

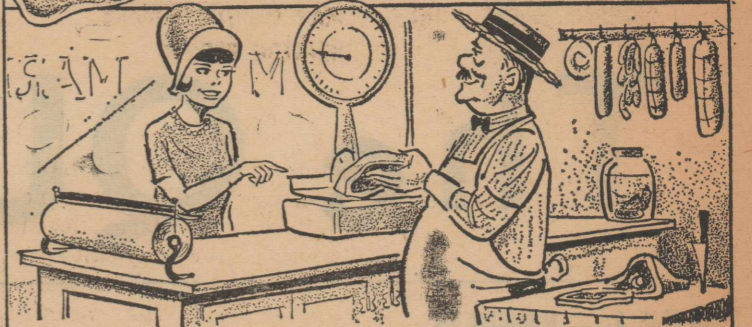

Those who qualify will receive a salary while training. They will undergo training at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin, studying such subjects as Texas Highway Law, accident investigation, first aid, professional driving, care and use of firearms, and many others.

Upon graduation from the 16-week training course at the Academy, the trainee is commissioned into one of the DPS uniformed services. Assignment is based on talent and ability as well as the desire to serve in a particular branch. The services include: Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Driver Licensing, and Motor Vehicle Inspection.

"The work of a patrolman is challenging," Garrison pointed out, "but the rewards are many. Each man answers the call to serve with the best of opportunities for participating in the constantly developing effort to curb the dual menace of increasing crime and traffic accidents.

Benefits afforded patrolmen include: two weeks annual vacation; 12 or more holidays each year; 12 days sick leave each year; $10 per month longevity added to his salary at the end of each five years; modern liberal retirement privileges based on age and years of service; traveling expenses as prescribed by law. DPS patrolmen are furnished all uniforms and equipment necessary for performance of their duties.

MEAT IS A BARGAIN IN THE U.S.A.

IN THE ROARING '20'S, AVERAGE WAGES FROM A 40 HOUR WEEK BOUGHT ONLY 70 POUNDS OF MEAT.

IN THE 1960'S THE AVERAGE PERSON WORKING 40 HOURS EARNS ENOUGH TO BUY 133 POUNDS OF MEAT.

AND TODAY'S MEAT ANIMALS ARE BRED TO PROVIDE LEANER, MORE TENDER MEAT THAN EVER BEFORE.

"Applications for these positions should be made as soon as possible," Garrison stated. "The deadline for applications for our next patrol training school is November 29, 1965. Those who are selected to fill these positions have the privilege of knowing that they stand as the symbol of order in our society, and are respected by all law abiding citizens." Full details on qualifications can be obtained from the nearest Department of Public Safety office or any DPS patrolman.

Music In Your Life

by

Music Is For The Non-Musician

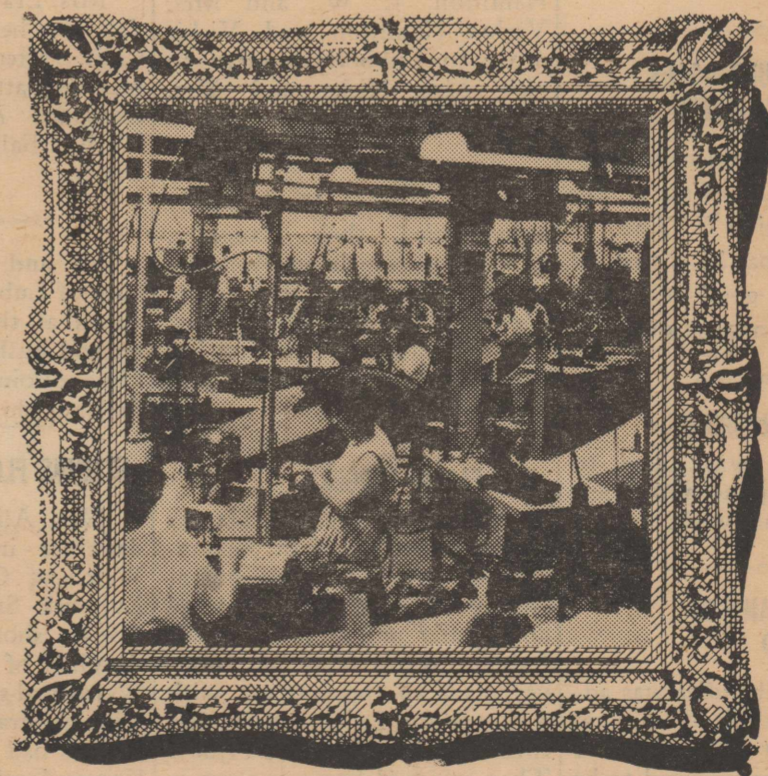

Music is becoming important to more people than ever before and what an encouraging thought that is. I was never so amazed as at the National Music Merchants' Trade Show this year, where there were hundreds and hundreds of musical instruments of all types, all shapes, all sizes, all prices. Could there possibly be this many musicians? Then who would play all those instruments? I'll tell you who — children, teen-agers, grown-ups, parents, grand-parents, and even great-great grandparents. People will play them, not just "musicians."

Playing a musical instrument is the second most popular leisure time activity in the U. S. — second only to reading!

According to the American Music Conference, 37 million people in this country are playing musical instruments of some kind. 25 million adults are studying, and 12 million young people. Just in the keyboard instrument field alone, more than 3½ million are playing the electric organ. The reason is that the Hammond Organ is easy enough for people to play.

This innate desire to express one's self in music, and share the many moods of music is not new. Haven't you seen people who thought their talents not worthy of real playing, yet who wanted to participate so badly they improvised their own instruments — a wash tub string bass, a musical saw, a tissue-papered comb, a stringed cigar box, or washboard brush drums. Yes, the desire to create music has always been with us, and always will be. Isn't it a wonderful thing that modern electric organs make it possible for people to enjoy music without laborious studies of theory and scales? Isn't it wonderful to see music being loved, created, and enjoyed by people not just by professional musicians?

CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS' WASHINGTON REPORT

THE INFORMATION GAP

For more than a day after the Senate passed its version of the omnibus farm bill there was not to be found in Washington a detailed summary comparing the House and Senate measures. The reason for the delay was that the farm bill is a very complex piece of legislation and even among the experts there are sometimes differences of opinion as to the meaning of certain provisions. Even though summaries of the bill have now been prepared, persons not familiar with farm legislation would have difficulty understanding them. The words are English but the meaning is Greek. I am reminded of the farmer in the Panhandle who wrote to me earlier this year to say that regulations of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) were so difficult to understand he thought he might get out of farming. It is difficult to pose a practical answer to the problem. It is absolutely essential that the Government make itself understood. The people certainly have a right to understand as well as to be told the regulations, whether enacted into law or imposed administratively, under which they must live. A summary of regulations written in unintelligible language does not serve the public.

I am going to suggest to Secretary Freeman and others in the Agriculture Department that its best information specialists be put to the task of preparing pamphlets and other material explaining—in everyday language easily understood—the provisions of the farm program soon to take effect. I am familiar with the kind of information available to explain the present program, and I am convinced that a much better job could be done to explain it. The new program will cover a four-year period. American farmers can't be expected to make the proper personal decisions open to them unless they can understand the program's alternatives.

Too often in the Federal government there is a tendency for "experts" to decline to share their specific knowledge with others. Each agency and department has on its staff men who specialize in very limited areas of that office's jurisdiction, and they become steeped in the most detailed and obscure precedents and rulings affecting their specialties. Specialists of this type on the legal staffs of regulatory agencies pose a most difficult challenge for lawyers in private practice representing clients on the side of a question. The agency specialists have become experts at the taxpayer's expense: the private attorneys, who must represent clients in a broader spectrum of matters, are at a disadvantage. This same problem exists in other branches of a Federal department. Bureaucrats talk a specialized language beyond the ken of the layman. They tend to become impatient with persons not so well versed as they. The "information gap", as you might term it, is a serious problem when Americans must deal with highly complex law and regulations. The people can't be expected to feel that the government is truly theirs when all they know of it is the need to meet certain government-im-

400-Mile 'Parade of Trucks' Shows Farm Crops' Appetite

A line of trucks, extending from Corpus Christi to Dallas would cause a migraine traffic headache — but it could cause even more serious problems for agriculture in Texas. Those farm trucks, 80,000 or more of the five-ton type, would be needed to carry the 400,000 tons of plant nutrients contained in this region's crops each year, according to a noted agronomist. "Crops consume huge amounts of nutrients during a growing season, and take them off to market," Dr. S. M. King, agronomist with International Minerals & Chemical Corporation, world's largest producer of agricultural chemicals, says in illustrating the problem of maintaining adequate fertility in farm soils. Findings are Valid Based on acreage reports and known nutrient consumption data for major crops, agronomists can determine the amounts of each nutrient removed each year. "In this total are nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, the traditional three basic fertilizer ingredients," Dr. King explains. "Also revealed in these studies are the large amounts of two other important nutrients that

GRIFFIN GULF SERVICE

Weldon Griffin Phone 8941

I will continue my campaign to bring clarity to government publications explaining the details of government programs. Too many government information specialists are engaged in promoting the public relations of their departments and too few are doing the hard work of transplanting complex regulations into simple English.

Plains Research Foundation.

Four foreign countries and eighteen states and Washington, D. C. were represented at the Field Day. Forty-five out of state communities and 154 Texas communities were included in the registration. Foreign countries represented were Portugal, Turkey, Pakistan, and Iran. Attendance was the largest in the 9 years history of the Field Days at the Foundation's Research farm at Halfway.

The highlight of the day was the announcement of the new short - season soybean named PATTERSON in honor of Virgil Patterson, Vice Chairman of the Foundation's Board of Trustees and Chairman of the Board of the First National Bank of Amarillo.

The new PATTERSON soybean will be available for release to farmers after harvest this year. It is of especial interest to farmers in the North Plains as a second crop with harvest early enough to permit planting of wheat and as a catch crop in the South Plains when weather conditions prevents replanting of cotton or grain sorghum.

A special gift to the Foundation to augment the irrigation research of a Valley irrigation system was announced. Valley Manufacturing Company donated a complete sprinkler irrigation system worth $10,000.

Certain-Teed Products Co. contributed the asbestos cement pipe necessary for the system. Materials were obtained with the help of the Shur-Gro Irrigation Equipment Co.

Large trucks were busy all afternoon transporting the visitors over the research farm to the four stops. Guides on each truck were professional agricultural representatives of the Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, and Farmers Home Administration.

The farm and ranch equipment display had thirty-seven firms with the latest in farm equipment and machinery. A large number of visitors were present at this area all afternoon.

Visitors were treated to a barbecue given by the Hale County State Bank and the Plainview Co-Op Compress and served by the area Lions Clubs.

The evening program started with a musical program by the Plainview Barbershop chorus. Dr. Oliver Willham, President of Oklahoma State University, was the Field Day speaker. His address on the need for continuous agricultural research and the future prospects of agriculture was well received by the guests of the Foundation.

Attendance prizes won at the close of the day were: a Cole and Price cotton topper was won by Kenneth Littlefield of Tulia; a hand flame burner given by Gene Bumpus Co. of Plainview was won by Alton Dendy of Petersburg, and the 5 bushels of the PATTERSON soybean given by the Foundation was won by Lloyd Botsford of Hereford.

Mrs. Dwain Henderson and Sonya of Silverton and her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Malcolm Prince of Loco Hills, N. M. attended church services at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening.

Mission of Ysleta by E. M. Schiwetz

THE MISSION OF YSLETA

The Church that changed sides!

When the Indians revolted against Spanish rule in 1681-2 in the upper Rio Grande Valley in New Mexico, refugees sought safety at the mission at El Paso del Norte (now Juarez). One group settled on the Mexican river bank and named its community Ysleta del Sur (South). This settlement was established in 1681 and a mission was completed the following year on a small island in the Rio Grande.

The Rio Grande changed its course and the site is now in Texas. Ysleta and its mission are generally given the distinction of being the oldest permanent settlement in Texas... truly a church that changed sides!

CHOOSE THE SIDE OF FREEDOM...with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Thus, Ysleta del Sur, the refuge of the oppressed, became the earliest of settlements to identify itself with a brave, new land of freedom.

Today, millions of Americans choose the side of freedom and they do something about it -- by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every dollar you invest in Savings Bonds gives Uncle Sam exactly that much help in the vital task of safeguarding liberty for yourself and your family. Buy Savings Bonds at your bank or on the payroll savings plan where you work.

What They Wore...by RHYLLIS JOYCE

THE TEENAGE GIRL OF THE 18TH CENTURY HAD NO CLOTHES TO CALL HER OWN. EVERYTHING WAS A REPLICATION OF HER ELDERLY WARDROBE. TO CAMOUFLAGE THE POPULAR LOW NECKLINE OF THE TIME, THE TEENAGE MISS FILLED IN THE LOW DECOLLETAGE WITH A "HANDKERCHIEF" (WHAT WE WOULD CALL A SCARF). THIS COULD BE DISCARDED IN AN INSTANT WHEN A MORE FORMAL APPEARANCE WAS CALLED FOR.

THE FAVORITE OUTDOOR GARMENT FOR LITTLE GIRLS FOR MANY YEARS WAS THE "RED RIDING HOOD." IT WAS MUCH PREFERRED TO A COAT, WHICH WOULD CRUSH THE LITTLE LADY'S WIDE SKIRT.

IT WAS NOT UNTIL THE 1860'S THAT CLOTHING WAS DESIGNED FOR THE ADOLESCENT. CHECKS AND TARTANS WERE YOUTHFUL AND WERE FREQUENTLY WORN BY THE TEENAGE SET.

TODAY...WHEN BUYING WOMEN'S OR CHILDREN'S APPAREL LOOK FOR THIS LABEL-THE SYMBOL OF DECENTY, FAIR LABOR STANDARDS AND THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.
