JULY IS 50TH ANNIVERSARY MONTH FOR FEDERAL LAND BANKS

For some 4,200 people who make their living from agriculture in Floyd, Briscoe and Motley counties, July will be a month - long testimony to the fact that they—and most other farmers—have turned out to be good businessmen.

It will be "Land Bank Month", the 50th Anniversary of the Farm Loan Act which helped put farming on a business basis in the U. S. for the first time in history. Farmers at last were able to borrow money on reasonable terms and put it to work as a production tool.

Jake B. Watson, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Floydada, said that farmers at the turn of the century were regarded as poor business risks. "No one would lend them money to operate the way a businessman must if he is going to grow and contribute to his community," he said. "Interest rates for farmers were twice as high as for city businessmen, and the loans were for very short terms."

"Three presidents — Theodore Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson—studied the problem, and finally the Farm Loan Act was signed by Woodrow Wilson on July 17, 1916. This Act created the Federal Land Bank System, through which farmers could make long-term, low-cost real estate loans from their own organizations."

The Federal Land Bank Association of Floydada is one of seventy-three associations in the Federal Land Bank district of Houston, which in turn is one of 12 Federal Land Banks that serve the 50 states.

"Altogether," Mr. Watson said, "The Federal Land Bank System nationally has loaned its farmer-members more than $12 billion. The Land Bank of Houston has loaned Texas farmers more than 1.1 billion dollars."

Not only have farmers proved to be outstandingly good loan risks—Land Bank foreclosures are almost unheard of today—but, given money to work with, they have proved to be production geniuses of a quality rarely found anywhere in American business. Mr. Watson said.

"There are half as many farmers today as there were 50 years ago, and they're feeding a population that has doubled in this century," he said. "They rank among the greatest users of technology the world has ever known. Anyone who doubts it should visit a modern farm today."

"What goes on there—in new breeding, feeding, and other production techniques — makes many of the rest of us look as if we and not the farmers are living in the horse and buggy days."

"I don't know of another industry in the country that is producing today with 1975 methods and selling—for the most part—at 1955 prices."

Mr. Watson said that 723 farmers currently holding Land Bank loans in the three counties his association serves. Most of the loans have been used to expand, improve and modernize farm land and equipment. The largest category of borrowers (who are also Association members) produce cotton. Second are producers of grain sorghum. The average size of the loan made by the Association in 1965 was $21,508.00, compared with an average loan of $30,589.00 in 1964.

Boating Tips...

HANDLING CHARACTERISTICS

Bear in mind that your boat's stern always swings out when you turn. You have to get used to this, since it's different than driving an automobile; the front of the car veers right or left when you turn. When your Mercury outboard motor, mounted on the stern, turns to either side, propeller thrust is no longer parallel to the boat's centerline and the stern swings wide. Take this into consideration, or you will clip or bump moored boats, scrape against pilings, and otherwise get into difficulties. To check the boat handling characteristics on turns, pilot it past a marker at different speeds, beginning turns as you pass. Make fairly gentle turns before trying sharper ones to be sure you're acquainted with the boat. While you're "feeling out" the boat, makes runs at full speed past the buoy. Cut the throttle as you come abreast of the marker and observe how little distance you need to come to a dead stop.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES TO MEET IN DALLAS AUGUST 3-7

Local Jehovah's Witnesses plan to be included in the more than 30,000 delegates at the August 3-7 "God's Sons of Liberty" district assembly at Dallas' modern Market Hall.

According to V. D. Tiffin, the local congregation received advance program information this week. "Normally much of the program material is kept as a surprise to the delegates until they arrive, but this year we have been briefed on some of the subject matter so that we have our spiritual appetites whetted in advance."

Tiffin cited the program feature, "Building on a Right Foundation with Fire - Resistance Materials" as an example. "Any Christian knows it is difficult maintaining Bible integrity in these critical times. And one glance at this particular subject reveals it is not a run-of-the-mill treatment of generalities, but a hard and factual analysis of Christian responsibility for today."

Commenting on the program Tiffin noted that part of the program will deal with dramatizations offering vivid portrayals of Bible accounts that are filled with meaning for all Christians now. "Imagine, seeing the integrity-filled lives of Daniel, Jeremiah and Joshua unfold before the eyes, and with application. This is something to look forward to."

"It is material such as this," he said, "that is real enough for modern use. This way we can effectively combat the current religious fad that 'God is Dead' as well as keeping strong in a materialistic, atheistic, sadistic and morally corrupt system."

The highlight of the program will be reached at 3 p. m. Sunday, August 7, when the public lecture, "What Has God's Kingdom Been Doing Since 1914?" will be given.

Approximately 13 million Americans are afflicted with arthritis and rheumatism, according to a recent national health survey conducted in the United States.

Arthritis is most susceptible to quackery and faddism, because knowledge and treatment of arthritis is limited. Texas regional staff members of the Food and Drug Administration emphasize.

Today's Indians Extend Hand Of Friendship To Summer Vacationists

Nobody speaks with a forked tongue about today's Indians. At least not if they're talking about the progress many tribes are making in attracting tourists to their reservations during the summer. The Bureau of Indian Affairs has even launched a program with the theme: "See America first with the first Americans," the idea being to get you to stop by at a reservation on your way to or from your vacation jaunt.

They — the Indians, that is — have even got Dan "Hoss Cartwright" Blocker of the NBC-TV Bonanza show to do a mess of spots for them on radio and TV. "Many reservations are areas of unspoiled, scenic beauty" says Dan, "and they offer some of the finest recreation spots in the country. Fishing, especially, is outstanding."

Take the State of Minnesota, for example: one of the areas that Blocker mentions in his radio spots. On the Greater Leech Lake Reservation, in North Central Minnesota, there are almost 25 thousand acres belonging to the Chippewa Indians. It's one of the finest recreational areas in the State with many tourist camps and resorts and plenty of fishing area.

At White Earth Reservation, the Chippewas have an additional 58 thousand acres in the western part of the State, featuring an annual Indian Pow Wow in June, and boating, hunting, fishing and swimming all summer long.

In northern Minnesota, along the lower Red Lake and about 30 miles north of the town of Bemidji, there's the beautiful Red Lake Reservation of over 584 thousand acres, populated by 2,900 Chippewa Indians. You'll see Indian owned fishing and logging industry here, interesting examples of Indian art, and there's plenty of fishing in the many lakes and streams all around the area for trout and the famous northern pike.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs says that facilities on Indian reservations can range from some very fancy ones, complete with lodging, swimming pools and hot baths, to simple trails through wooded forests. If you like to rough it, there are still places where you can blaze a trail. If you like comforts with your out-of-doors enjoyment, you're not limited in your choice, either.

WORKS FOR INDIANS — NBC-TV's Dan Blocker has contributed his services to the Indian economy by making a series of radio and TV spots telling of the advantages of visiting Indian Reservations for fishing, scenic beauty and historic sites.

If you tarry, you can expect to drop a little wampum for handicrafts, a fishing license or a guide. A letter to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C. will get you a list of the 25 States with federally administered reservations and a free map of those areas.

As Dan Blocker says: "When you take a vacation in Indian territory today, you're going to see some beautiful scenery, get in some good fishing, relive historical moments, and at the same time you're helping these Americans help themselves, economically." Good medicine.

water, alfalfa tablets, "immune" milk, "glorified aspirin" and similar concoctions, all of which are rejected by medical science.

This means that $50 a year of misplaced hope is spent by the average arthritis sufferer.

While no specific diet in itself will cure arthritis, it is important to follow good basic nutrition, national and state Extension nutritionists emphasize.

All foods needed for the arthritis patient can be found in local food markets. The alluring array of modern convenience foods may appear to be a boon to the homemaker whose energy and function are limited. However, the homemaker needs criteria to evaluate the many products available, first in terms of nutritive values and costs and then in terms of palatability, keeping qualities and suitability for use in family menus.

Patients with osteoarthritis, gout and some other rheumatic conditions may be overweight. A physician prescribes a calorie-restricted diet for them. Weight control is of special importance for persons with arthritis, since extra pounds put an added burden on the weight-bearing joints, aggravate the pain, make movement more difficult and may even accelerate the progress of the disease.

Keep Pesticides In The Original Container
Always leave pesticides in their original containers until you are ready to use them, says Becky Hall, County Home Demonstration Agent. Keep these containers closed and air tight. Transparent tape will help keep the label on the container.

Unlabeled products can be deadly. This includes pesticides and many other products that you have in and around your home. Pouring dangerous products into old milk bottles, soft drink bottles, measuring cups, pails or pots and pans is a dangerous habit to acquire. The original container is designed to hold the product safely until you are ready to use it or until it is opened by you or someone else.

Why is it so important to keep pesticides in their original containers? When children are involved — your own, your neighbor's or your grandchildren — you are immediately faced with a situation of association. You have taught the children to associate cups, soft drink bottles, fruit or jelly jars, bowls and other cooking utensils with food and drink.

Remember that the very young children have not developed their sense of taste and smell and they will taste anything. It should come as no great surprise then, that they think anything in a soft drink bottle is a soft drink and they will drink it. They are only trying to do so don't confuse them by substituting some dangerous material in a common food-type container.

There is another good reason to use only the original container. It has the important label information that you will need each time you use the product. If you find a container without a label, or with part of the label missing, the best thing you can do is to get rid of it.
