Strategic Air Command To Fly Low-Level Practice Missions Over Briscoe County

HQ SAC, Offutt AFB, Neb., — Beginning July 22, 1974, Strategic Air Command (SAC) B-52 and FB-111 bombers will fly low-level practice bombing missions against simulated targets near Dumas, Texas and Ransom, Kansas.

Radar bomb scoring (RBS) equipment at Air Force facilities near these cities will use radio and radar signals to measure the accuracy of the simulated bomb drops.

For the next year SAC B-52 Stratofortresses and FB-111s will fly training missions at sub-sonic speeds along the centerline of an eight to ten-mile wide corridor at 600 to 5,500 feet above the ground. The aircraft will not carry bombs on these training flights.

The route begins approximately eight miles west of Memphis, Texas, where the aircraft begin their descent from high altitude and fly west towards Tulsa, Texas. Passing just north of Tulsa, the aircraft will make a slight turn to the north. Approximately 10 miles from the New Mexico-Texas border, the route turns to the northeast.

The aircraft begin their first simulated bomb drop as they pass approximately five miles south of Dumas, Texas. Ten miles beyond Dumas the route turns to the north, passes through the Oklahoma panhandle and turns to the east just south of Elkhart, Kansas.

The aircraft then fly toward Dodge City, Kansas, turning to the northeast approximately 16 miles southwest of Dodge City, and passing midway between that city and Garden City, Kansas. At this point the aircraft will enter their second simulated bomb run, passing near Ransom, Kansas. The route terminates approximately 12 miles west of Hayes, Kansas, at which time the aircraft climb to high altitude.

There are three additional flight paths that may be used occasionally. The first is an alternate entry path beginning near Dalhart, Texas, passing through the Oklahoma panhandle and entering the low-level route just south of Elkhart, Kansas.

The second is an alternate exit route beginning south of the Texas border and terminating near Dalhart, Texas.

The third is a re-entry route for additional practice bomb runs which begins at the primary route termination point west of Hayes, Kansas. The aircraft execute a 180-degree turn, fly south to a point approximately five miles south of Dighton, Kansas, execute another 180-degree turn and re-enter the route going north.

Mobile RBS facilities are used to inject realism into SAC training programs by providing crews with a wide range of unfamiliar targets and routes. Air Force personnel will operate the sites at Dumas, Texas and Ransom, Kansas. These are radar and electronic technicians and other personnel required to maintain the facility and furnish other support.

Visitors in the Bob McWilliams home Sunday were Ronnie Bills, Walt Lee and Steve Green of Leota, Kansas, and Bruce McFall of Matador.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Langdon of Ralls took Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Harmon to Lubbock Monday night of this week and they had dinner at the Loft. The occasion was to celebrate Mrs. Harmon's birthday anniversary.

Rex Johnsons Are Owners of Gin

Announcement has been made this week that Mr. and Mrs. Rex Johnson are now sole owners of the Caprock Gin Company, formerly H & H Gin, at Flomot.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson now have bought out Wayne's interest and will operate the gin together.

They expressed their appreciation to the two Hunter families for the privilege of being associated with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson stated that they are going to do their very best to serve the customers of the gin in a first rate manner and to give the best service possible. They invite everyone to come by for a chat or to do business with the gin.

Local Assembly Celebrates Water Baptismal Ordinance

Over 50 people attended water baptism services Sunday afternoon at the Assembly of God Youth Camp located on the Dillard Ranch southwest of Roaring Springs.

Devotional services were held in the Camp's outdoor tabernacle, with the Rev. James R. Jackson delivering the message. After the services everyone gathered around the pool.

Rev. D. W. Enos baptised 13 members, climaxing years of praying for some individuals. All those baptised declared their love for God and thankfulness for the shed blood of Christ which cleanses all unrighteousness and stated their determination to finish their lives working for God and the right.

"The public is invited to worship with us Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m. in Sunday School, at 11:00 a.m. for morning worship, 7:00 p.m. Sunday evening worship and Wednesday night Bible Study at 8:00 p.m. We are studying Bible prophecy," Rev. Enos stated.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Mathis this week were her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis of Lockney, also the Mathis' children, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Race and their children, Karl and Randy, Mr. and Mrs. James Race and their children, Jeff and Vicki, all of Lockney, Shelby Race of Morton, Stacie Race of Amarillo and Mary Jon Race of Quitaque. Mary Jon is working in Lockney Convalescent Home, and Stacie is in college in Amarillo.

Barbara Harlen of Amarillo visited over the weekend with Mrs. Mabel Christian.

Bob Wills Listed In Critical Condition

Bob Wills, who recently suffered another stroke and spent several weeks in the hospital, but was allowed to return home again, was once again returned to a Fort Worth hospital last Friday, and at last report was reported to be in critical condition.

It is then, perhaps, an ironic and timely coincidence that the following news release was received from John Shaver, supervisor of Texas Rehabilitation Commission in Amarillo, who appreciates the talent of Bob Wills. Following is his news review of "The Last Ah Ha!"

Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys FOR THE LAST TIME recorded December 3-4, 1973 for United Artists Records, Nostalgic Americana performance of Spryngy Western Swing.

The long legend of the great Bob Wills Band may well climax with this, his last album. For 40 years, the Wills family created something new and something old for fans who followed the folk fiddle, the steady spryngy beat, the slightly Spanish sound; but above all, the lonesome sound of the "best damned fiddle in the world."

But, Bob Wills grew into more than the fun-loving fiddler, or the cowhands' court-jester. Research and time may yet show him to be the "Best Damned Leader in the Country."

As a leader, he was always striving for something new, something creative. Instead of just re-recording the old songs, For the Last Time gives the listener new material, new humor, and new insight into the Playboym legend. In "What Makes Bob Holler," Leon McAuliffe spotlights the brand of quality that Bob gave to a good lick or sound when it "turned him on." Bob gave active approval, credit, and shouts of delight when things went just right. He gave lasting credit by mentioning his men and an "Ah Ha Amen" to their best musical moments.

Variety and flexibility spark the album. Merle Haggard sings the rare old Playboym theme and two standards. The band returns to its pioneer western folk roots in "Stay All Night," "Crippled Turkey" and "Faded Love."

This final recording is also highlighted by new material like "Goin' Away Party." It truly is a going away party, since it was Bob's very last recording session; and really his personal, tragic, going away.

The 16 pages of excellent notes from Dr. Charles Townsend's forthcoming book "San Antonio Rose" document that the recording of "For the Last Time" was an important event in the history of American music.

Time finally changes everything and there will be no more Big Balls in Cowtown for the Playboys. But for 40 years, Bob Wills really communicated to his fans, his friends and his musicians. A good show for any group.

This album could become a collectors' choice of western Americana music. It says it all, just like it was, for the last time.

Former Resident Dies In California

Funeral services for Mrs. Marie Golightly Harris, a former resident of the Gasoline community, were held at Visalia, California on Monday, June 17, and interment was in Visalia District Cemetery. Mrs. Harris passed away on June 14 in Visalia.

Mrs. Harris' daughter, Mrs. Bob Wade, wrote Mrs. C. E. Bedwell of Sunray, telling her of the death of her mother and Mrs. Bedwell relayed the news to The Tribune. Mrs. Harris was in Quitaque in 1969 visiting with Mrs. L. J. Bedwell, sr. and Mrs. C. E. Bedwell came to Quitaque for Mrs. Harris and took her to Sunray for a visit at their home. While Mrs. Harris was there, Mrs. Bedwell recorded some of the highlights of Mrs. Harris' life and they are related here now.

Mrs. Harris was born in Germany on September 14, 1894. She was one of 11 children, nine born in Germany and two in America. Her father was a bricklayer and carpenter. On December 26, 1905, the family left Germany by ship and travelled 26 days, landing at Galveston, Texas, and settling in Fisher County. They had never seen cotton and Marie thought it was fun picking the soft, white stuff. They had never eaten watermelon or cornbread. The family had a meal with some neighbors and cornbread was on the table. Marie's mother mistook it for cake, stuck it in her pocket and fed it to her chickens when she got home.

Marie was confirmed to the Lutheran Church in Fisher County at the age of 14 years.

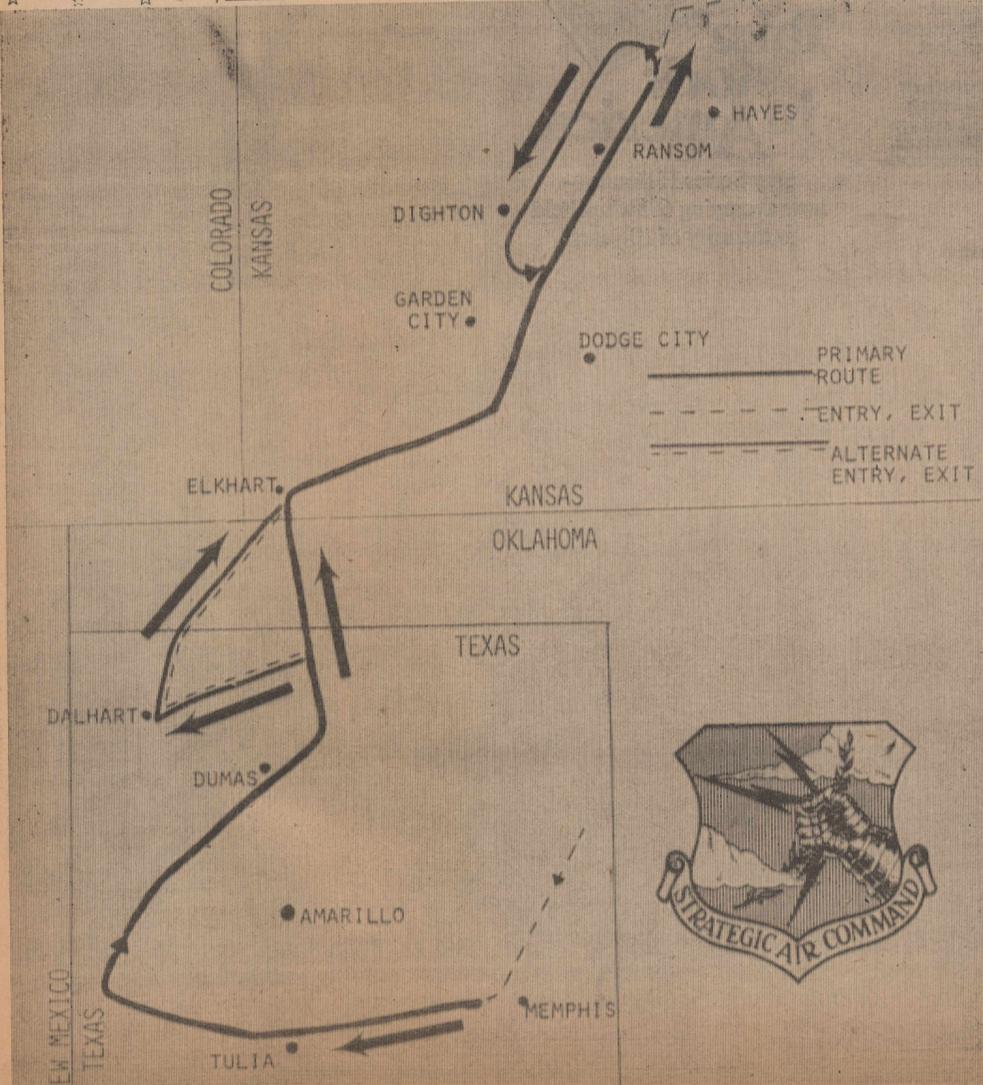

In 1911 the family moved to Plainview and farmed there and at Lockney. Marie worked for a family in Plainview who lived near Wayland College. She knew only two English words: yes and no.

The family moved to Gasoline where C. R. Taylor was running the cotton gin. In 1914 she met Marvin Golightly and they were married in 1916. Nine children were born to this family. It was here that the Golightlys, Grandma Taylor and the L. J. Bedwells became close friends.

In 1930 the family moved to Littlefield, and Marvin died in 1941. Marie moved to California in 1945 where all her children lived. She visited in Texas with friends on two occasions, one being the 1958 Gasoline Homecoming.

The daughter who wrote to Mrs. C. E. Bedwell is Mrs. Bob Wade, 3202 North Dinuba Boulevard, Visalia, California 93277.

Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Hill of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Millard McNabb of Seminole spent Wednesday night, July 3, and all day July 4 with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barrett. Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Barrett, Judy and Danny joined them for dinner July 4. They report a very good time.

Now that you've retired, put your savings to work.

Trade your E Bonds for H Bonds

Bought a lot of Series E Savings Bonds over the years? Well, you probably want to keep your nest egg intact. But retirement is the time when you need some extra income.

Here's how to get that income. Just exchange your E Bonds (in cash value amounts of $500 or more) for Series H Bonds. H Bonds pay out interest every six months by Treasury check mailed right to your door, and at a rate averaging 6% annually when held to 10-year maturity.

Just the thing for retirement, when you need steady income coming in.

You'll get a tax break on the exchange, too

When you exchange your E Bonds for H Bonds, your tax liability on your accumulated E Bond interest continues to be deferred. Right up until the H Bonds are cashed or reach final maturity (there's an optional 10-year extension privilege after original maturity).

The result? You get more for your money in the exchange. And when your H Bonds are redeemed, and you finally pay your deferred E Bond tax, it's at your lower post-retirement rate.

Get income as it's earned

Steady, dependable income. Twice a year. Or, if you prefer, get interest checks every month. Just buy an H Bond a month for six consecutive months. That way, you've got a regular income guaranteed.

Purchase $500 to $5,000

Your banker has exchange (as well as new purchase) applications for H Bonds. At face values of $500, $1,000 and $5,000. There's an annual purchase limit of $10,000 ($20,000 with a co-owner), but this won't apply if you're trading in E Bonds.

H Bonds. A good way to make sure your money won't retire when you do.

Take stock in America.

Buy Series H Bonds—now averaging 6% when held to maturity of 10 years.

Naman Challenges Farm Bureau Leader

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman has challenged the leader of another farm organization to meet him in a series of public discussions on farm policy throughout the major agricultural producing areas of Texas. Naman issued the challenge in a letter to the President of the Texas Farm Bureau, J. T. Woodson, sent this week to the Farm Bureau leader.

In his letter Naman states that as there are substantial variances in the two organizations' policies toward the current farm crisis, farmers should be invited to hear both organizations' positions and question their impact on the current crisis.

Naman continued, "Farmers are desperately concerned about farm prices, accelerating costs and the many problems which make them anxious about the future. It is an appropriate time for us, as farm organization leaders, to discuss our recommendations publicly, and to give farmers an opportunity to question our views. If we are to represent our members and to give the Administration and Congress an accurate appraisal of how farmers feel about the situation, I feel that it is important that we make public an exchange of our views as soon as possible."

Naman said this series of meetings was prompted by action which the Farm Bureau took at a recent meeting in Dallas. Naman said the policy which was proposed by the Farm Bureau is exactly that which is followed by the Administration and is responsible for the crisis. "The seven point plan advocated by the Farm Bureau adds up to a 'do-nothing' policy," emphasized the Farmers Union President.

Naman has proposed a series of 5-6 meetings during August beginning on the Gulf Coast and moving through Texas to the High Plains.

Naman said he is urging producers and members of Congress alike to attend the meetings to enable the Congress to get an accurate view of the situation from the producers' standpoint.

The Farmers Union President called on Woodson to help him in scheduling the meetings but pointed out that if the Farm Bureau leader did not respond that he would schedule the meetings and be present to air the Farmers Union policies and programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Loran Denton attended the Denton reunion in Ammarillo Saturday.

Texas Families To Be Honored

Farmers and ranchers in Briscoe County whose families have held the same land since 1874 or before will be honored by the Texas Department of Agriculture's "Family Land Heritage Program," according to Commissioner John C. White.

Farmers and ranchers in Briscoe and Hall counties whose families have held the same land since 1874 or before will be honored by the Texas Department of Agriculture's "Family Land Heritage Program," according to Commissioner John C. White.

The program, which will be initiated July 1, will "pay tribute to those families who have proved their respect for and dedication to the land," White said.

This country has some of the oldest establishments in the state, with a long history of dedicated service to the agricultural community and I hope that every qualified family will take this opportunity to be recognized by the people they have served, White said.

Applications and rules for the program may be obtained by writing Commissioner White, P. O. Box 12847, Austin 78711.

Any Briscoe County family who is certified by Judge M. G. Moreland will qualify for the honor. An applicant need only show a continuous family relationship between the founder of the homestead and the present owner.

The land must have been in use for agriculture by the family since 1874 or before, must be at least 10 acres and producing $50 or more from agricultural products.

Those who do qualify by August 31 will be recognized in a special ceremony at the State Fair this year and a short history of their family and land will be published in a land heritage directory. In addition, local recognition will be provided to the families for their long dedication to agriculture.

THREE PASTURES PLANTED TO WEEPING LOVEGRASS

According to David Seitz of SCS, there have been three pastures of weeping lovegrass planted in Hall County this year. Gaylen Aiola planted 51 acres, Jim Goldston planted 30 acres, and Billie Fuston planted 40 acres.

Weeping lovegrass is very productive and well adapted to sandyland which is susceptible to wind erosion.

Seitz stated that a good fertilizer program is a must in the establishment and management of weeping lovegrass.

Some other management tips for weeping lovegrass are:

1. Fence grassland into three or more pastures and rotate grazing to prevent spot grazing and allow recovery periods for plants after grazing.
2. Complete rotation of grazing cycle at least each 30 days to keep a thick stand.
3. Never grass closer than five inches.
4. Fertilize twice each year with 15 lbs. actual nitrogen and 20 lbs. actual phosphorus.
5. Keep cattle on tender grass.
6. Provide cattle a high phosphorous mineral supplement.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Wooten and family of Baytown and Mr. and Mrs. Joe David Payne of Plainview visited over the weekend with the E. L. Hills and with Goldie Russell and Bob.

New higher interest rate on U.S. Savings Bonds.

Now U.S. Savings Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity.

Here's how it works: The higher interest rate applies to all new Bonds purchased since December 1, 1973, raising their rate from 5½% to 6% when held to maturity. And the maturity period on Series E Bonds is shorter, too. Now E Bonds mature in 5 years, with a first-year rate of 4½%.

Series H Bonds, with a 10-year maturity, will earn 5% the first year; 5.8% for the next four years; and 6½% for the last five years. This gives you an average 6% yield over the 10-year period.

It works for Bonds you now hold, too. There's no reason to redeem your older Bonds to buy new ones.

Their yield has improved, too.

All outstanding E Bonds will receive a ½% increase in yield for each semiannual interest period beginning on or after December 1, 1973, payable upon redemption. This also applies to any Freedom Shares you may still hold.

All outstanding H Bonds will receive a ½% yield increase for each semiannual interest period beginning on or after December 1, 1973. This is payable in the form of increased semiannual interest payments.

It all works to your advantage. Now, more than ever, it makes sense to buy higher-paying U.S. Savings Bonds and hold them to maturity or beyond.

Sign up now to buy Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or buy them where you bank.

MRS. DOROTHY POWELL

Mrs. Powell Named Lamb County Extension Agent

Mrs. Dorothy Powell of Silverton has been named the new Lamb County Extension Agent (Home Economics). The announcement was made by Lamb County Judge J. T. Sides and Mrs. Catherine Crawford of Lubbock, district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The new agent is a native of Duncan, Oklahoma, and graduated from high school in Temple, Oklahoma. As a youngster, she was a 4-H club member for four years. Mrs. Powell attended Lubbock Christian College and then transferred to Texas Tech University. She was graduated in December 1971, with a bachelors degree in home economics.

During her college career, she was named to the Dean's List and was chosen for Phi Kappa Phi, a national academic honor society. Mrs. Powell is a member of the American Home Economics Association and is an officer in the District 2 Association of Extension Home Economists.

In her new position, she will work with Extension Agents Buddy Logsdon and Jim Kuykendall and will specialize in conducting educational programs for homemakers and young people in home economics and related areas.

The new agent is the wife of William D. Powell, jr., and the couple will live in Littlefield.

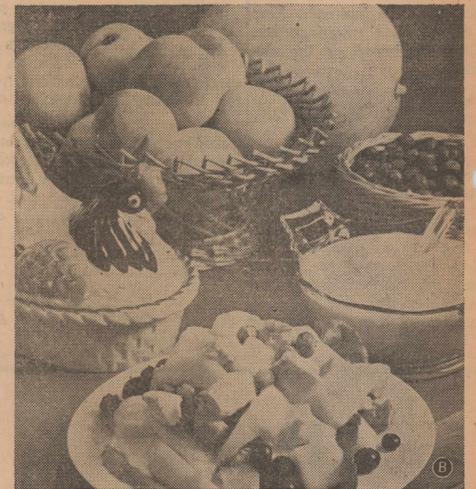

He says the seeds of many Texas weeds such as sunflower, croton, ragweed and prickly poppy provide excellent quail and dove feed.

As anyone who has tried to grow a garden or lawn knows, growing weeds is easy, as long as Mother Nature provides some rainfall.

Given adequate rainfall most sandy soils will grow quite a crop of weeds, according to McMurry. But an area of disturbed soil will invariably grow more weeds in sandy and especially in loamy and clay soils.

McMurry says the simplest way to create a food patch for quail is to use a disk harrow to break up small patches of ground near areas of good cover.

FRESH FRUIT STEALS THE SUMMER SHOW

Plump, juicy peaches... succulent melons... tantalizing blueberries... all are members of the fresh fruit ensemble—Mother Nature's audition for this year's summer stock. Fresh fruit is so popular that it's been booked for breakfast, lunch, and dinner fare; appearing alone or in fruit medleys. The act that's received the critic's raves is Salad Supreme; a combination of our delectable trio—peaches, blueberries, and melon. Cubed-chicken boosts Salad Supreme to the "big time," making it the star of a garden luncheon or light supper.

What holds this act together? None other than a mouth-watering dressing beginning with Condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup. Simply blend the soup with cream cheese, milk, and tangy flavorings of apple jelly and lime juice. Toss with fruit and chicken, and you're ready for show time. It's "curtain going up" on a Salad Supreme that will steal the summer show.

SALAD SUPREME

- 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) Condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup
- 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons apple jelly
- 2 teaspoons lime juice
- 1 large honeydew melon, cut in cubes (8 cups)
- 2 cups blueberries
- 4 peaches, sliced (2 cups)
- 1 1/2 cups cubed cooked chicken

In small bowl of electric mixer, blend soup and cream cheese. Add milk, jelly, and lime juice; beat until well blended. Chill. In large bowl, toss remaining ingredients. Serve on crisp salad greens with dressing. Garnish with fresh mint, if desired. Makes about 11 cups salad, 1 1/2 cups dressing.

MRS. JAMES ANDREW GWINN

Nuptial Vows Are Pledged in Turkey

Nuptial vows were solemnized for Miss Daria Gwyn Cruse and Mr. James Andrew Gwinn in a double ring ceremony at 8:00 o'clock in the evening, Friday, June 14, in the Church of Christ at Turkey. Minister Earl Cantwell of the Rock Creek Church of Christ officiated.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cruse of Flomot, the bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gwinn of Matador.

Miss Cynthia Guest of Eules, soloist, sang "More" and "Calm As the Night," accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Jimmy Guest. Mrs. Guest also played an arrangement from "Love Story" and The Wedding March.

The altar area was decorated with branched candelabra, flanked by baskets of white gladioli, blue carnations and baby's breath. Pews were decorated with devotional candles, greenery and white satin ribbons to mark the bridal aisle.

The bride wore a formal gown of candlelight kitten peau satin with an empire waistline. The sleeves and bodice overlay were of Alencon lace. The sleeves had a double trumpet flounce of angel wing. Her fingertip veil was of bridal illusion attached to a tiara of Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid and a cascade of white carnations and baby's breath accented with satin picot ribbon.

She wore the traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue," the old being a cameo pendant belonging to her mother, a gift from her brother, which was bought in Italy. Miss Deidra Kim Cruse, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Donnie Cruse of Plainview, was bridesmatron and another sister, Miss Derinda Cruse was junior bridesmaid. Flower girls were Reneigh Gwinn, niece of the bridegroom, and Melody Cruse, cousin of the bride. Regina Cruse, niece of the bride, and Chris Gwinn, nephew of the bridegroom, were ring bearers.

The bride's attendants wore floor length dresses of white fascination, flocked with blue forget-me-nots, featuring empire waistlines with low necklines, wide ruffles and long sashes. They wore blue straw hats trimmed with white lace and carried long stemmed blue carnations with greenery and blue satin ribbons.

Larry Clifton of Roaring Springs was best man. Groomsmen were Darrell Cruse, brother of the bride, and Dennis Gwinn, nephew of the bridegroom. Ushers were Donnie Cruse of Plainview, brother of the bride, and Robert Gragson of Turkey.

Lee Browning and Richard Rogers of Lubbock were candlelighters.

Miss Glenna Cotten of Lubbock registered the guests.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Browning, maternal grandparents of the bride.

Mrs. Lynn Payne and Misses Juana Cotten and Debra Gragson presided at the refreshment table, which was laid with a white lace cloth over blue. The centerpiece was an arrangement of blue and white candles and white satin flowers which were filled with rice and handed to the guests later.

The three tiered cake was decorated with garlands of confectio flowers, two gold wedding rings and three wedding bells. Filigree columns supported each tier. Silver and crystal appointments completed the setting. Others in the house party were Mesdames G. P. Driskill, jr., Milton Cotten, R. V. Johnson, Tom Eudy and Tommy Cruse.

Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn are residing in Roaring Springs, following their return from a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico. Mr. Gwinn is engaged in farming. He is a 1972 graduate of Roaring Springs High School. The bride graduated from Matador High School with the 1974 class and is employed as bookkeeper at the First State Bank in Matador.

GROW WEEDS FOR QUAIL

"Grow some weeds" might not be the greatest gardening tip in the world, but if you want quail on your farm or ranch, it's not bad advice.

Weeds are easy to grow, make lots of quail food, are inexpensive and require little or no cultivation, according to M. G. Murry, a biologist in Carrizo Springs for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"This is not to say that a man should convert his entire property into a weed patch to help quail," says McMurry, "but a few small patches of weedy cover in strategic locations can certainly be of benefit."

Children Need Eye Exam Before Starting To Public School

Before going to public school for the first time, parents know that a child must have had all his shots. Some parents get a physical exam and dental checkup for their kids.

Dr. Burton Fisher of Arlington, Texas, says that "It is vitally important that parents also have their children's vision tested before the kids go to school."

Fisher, a practicing optometrist for the past ten years, specializes in children's visual perception and learning problems. He has worked as an optometric consultant with two Texas public school systems and with several private schools. He is the Texas Optometric Society's current representative to the State Coordinating Committee on Early Childhood Development (Texas 4-C Council), an advisory council for the Office of Early Childhood Development, Texas Department of Community Affairs. The difference between eyesight and vision is a crucial one. Fisher explains it by saying that "Eyesight is the eyes' response to light. Vision is the result of the ability to understand and correctly interpret the information coming through the eyes."

It is good vision as well as eyesight that enables a child to read. "Vision testing a young child is the best way for a parent to assure himself that his child will not develop a whole series of learning problems once he gets into school. If you wait until the child is already in the classroom to discover that difficulties exist, the problems will only be harder to solve," says Fisher.

"You can give a test as early as between three and four years of age—after a child is verbal and can understand simple directions. "Look at it this way," Fisher says. "Vision is the single most important sense modality for the human being. It leads learning. Any problem with vision and learning is automatically interfered with."

"A child can have perfect eyesight, 20/20, and still have a vision problem which interferes with learning."

"Vision is a very complex thing and it doesn't have only to do with whether a person is nearsighted or farsighted. The Snellen eye chart test one gets from the school nurse tests one thing more or less—whether a child is nearsighted.

Chances are the nearsighted child may learn to read well and may do very well in school, whether his nearsightedness is recognized or not. He can see his book fine. "But what about the child who has problems focusing and switching from near to far and the reverse? He may have problems in visually following along a line of print. His eyes may not work well together. These and many others are vision problems. If a kid has a vision problem, chances are he will have a reading problem. And reading, let us face it, is basic to learning."

It is a thing Fisher can get passionate about. Ideally, he feels that the state should adopt vision testing and optometric referral for all Texas children as a part of regular screening procedures.

Some school districts have regular preschool screening programs already, but none test for vision as yet.

Between now and the time a law is passed, Fisher says it's going to be up to the parents.

"Family M. D.'s and pediatricians get to see children from birth on—and with good reason," Fisher says. "Lately parents have begun to realize that the first dental exam needs to come before the child is four. 'See your dentist twice a year.' Very effective slogan. Now I'd like to get a campaign started on the need for a vision check with a qualified optometrist.

"How does the child begin to learn? Much or most of it through reading. First through third grade, the child learns to read. From fourth grade on he reads to learn. Naturally he reads with his eyes. If he is having difficulty, he may not be dumb—although that's the way it is often interpreted—he may only have a vision problem."

Might not parents be afraid that an optometrist will put glasses on a child unnecessarily?

"They shouldn't be," says Fisher. "The optometrist who knows what he is doing and doesn't just fit glasses will do the right thing. Sometimes glasses are only a temporary measure. Sometimes only specialized exercises and training are involved for the correction. If permanent glasses are necessary, fine. But they aren't the only measure available."

How does a parent go about finding an optometrist who has continued his training and at the same time has interest and knowledge about vision and its relationship to school achievement?

Fisher recommends asking five questions of an optometrist, the same five questions that Dr. David Rose, head of the Committee on Children and Youth for the Wisconsin Optometric Association, recommends asking:

Do you make near point vision tests on children?

Do you make visually related perception tests?

Do you provide vision learning care for children with learning problems?

Will I get a report from you?

Will you see my child again during his first school year to ascertain progress?

GRASSLAND BEING CONVERTED TO CROPLAND

An estimated 2600 acres of Hall County grassland has been converted to cropland for the 1974 growing season, Henry D. Gregory, Soil Conservation Service District Conservationist, reported today.

Gregory said some acreage was converted last fall, but most of the land use change was this spring. The new croplands will grow primarily cotton.

Gregory pointed out that while (some) of the new cropland is suited to growing cotton, much is subject to excessive soil erosion and on sloping land would be better kept under a cover of sorghums or left in grass.

"Our estimates show," he added, "that 1600 acres of Class IV soils in Hall County have gone back into crops. These soils have very severe limitations as cropland and will require good conservation measures if erosion losses are to be kept at a reasonable level. Landowners should consider rotating high residue crops in their conservation planning."

Dodi Lane was a guest of the club.

The Pot of Gold, containing $6.90, was won by Lion Rev. Roy Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Richmond and family of Anson visited over the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mayfield.

Dinner guests in the Floyd Gilmore home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gipson, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Forrest and family of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Price and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wheeler and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Denton and Roger, Joe Jordan and his friend, Do, of Plano, and two small great-grandchildren of the Gilmores.

Lana Fuston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fuston, is spending a few days visiting with the Jerry Don Georges of Hereford.

Paula Lipscomb, Kelly Hawkins, Lisa Herrington, Jacquelyn Reed and Truette Stephens are in Ranger this week attending the Basketball Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Kelley of Amarillo spent Friday night and Saturday at Lake Theo fishing. They spent Sunday with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelley and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carroll of Tullia visited his mother, Mrs. Addie Carroll, Friday of last week. The three granddaughters, Donna, Kari and Susie, remained until Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll went out for supper Saturday night to celebrate their eighth wedding anniversary. They came back Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Carroll and the girls, taking them home with them Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barrett and boys visited the Carrolls Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Wilburn Leeper and Rhonda visited Mrs. Leeper's sister, Mrs. Norvell Roberts, in Plainview over the weekend. Mr. Leeper was gone to Dallas with a church group as bus driver.

Mrs. Wilburn Leeper and children attended the Thomas reunion in Childress Sunday. The Thomas family are relatives of Mr. Leeper's mother.

Mrs. John Rogers, Mrs. Leslie C. Burns and Mrs. Michael Wittig took Mr. John Rogers to Lubbock Monday for a checkup with his doctor. Mr. Rogers had surgery recently at Methodist Hospital there. He is reported to be some improved now. Before returning home, they visited Mr. Rogers' cousin, Miss Geneva Estes, in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Corky Morris of Dimmitt visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Morris, Saturday afternoon. They were returning from Childress where they had been on a business trip.

WIND OF FAITH

Old-timers used to rely on this mill. This mill used to depend on the right wind. Despite man's most valiant efforts the wheel was frequently at a standstill. What then? Waiting, waiting, waiting! What patience they must have learned—only faith sustained them. The wind would blow again.

The patient life also requires a foundation of faith. It can come early or late, slowly or fast.

If you lack the necessary faith to fulfill your life's needs, turn to the Church. The wind will blow again.

Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried—a place where you could be alone with your thoughts—a place where you could untangle your problems?

If you would, then you are like most people. Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage—but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your church.

Let your church be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace, and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life.

- DISHWASHER: Make sure it's empty. Shut the door, but do not latch.
- DISPOSER: Run and flush with cold water.
- ELECTRIC RANGE: Make sure all switches are in the "Off" position.
- WASHERS: Turn off water supply at faucets.
- WATER HEATER (ELECTRIC): Turn off at circuit breaker panel. When you return, run a small amount of water from a hot water faucet to make sure there is water in the tank before you turn the circuit on.
- TRASH COMPACTOR: Remove any accumulated trash.
- TELEVISION SETS: Unplug from electric outlet and disconnect the antenna lead-in cable.
- CLOCK RADIOS, ETC.: Check these and all other items with automatic "On-Off" controls. Disconnect the ones that won't be needed.
- LIGHTING: Be sure that all lights are off except those needed for security, such as: 1) yard light and/or other exterior lighting with automatic controls — on at dusk, off at dawn; 2) portable lamp in living area with automatic control; 3) hall or bathroom light.
- AIR CONDITIONING: Normally, air conditioning should be turned off completely while on summer vacation. However, if there is anything in your home that might suffer heat damage, the thermostat setting could be raised 5 to 10 degrees above normal operation and the unit left on. For comfort, you might have a friend or neighbor turn on the unit the day of your return.
