Rex Johnson Named Chairman of Benefit

Rex Johnson of Flomot has been named Motley County Chairman for the second annual Cotton Round-up for Crippled Children which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene. Herman A. Propst of Anson and Elmer Martin of Colorado City are General Chairmen for the event.

Cotton producers are asked to bring a bale, or bales, of cotton to the Round-up with the proceeds going into the operation of a private, non-profit rehabilitation facility which serves the handicapped of the Southwest. Pledges from Motley County should be made through Johnson.

This year the West Texas Rehabilitation Center will provide services to almost 4,500 handicapped persons regardless of age, color, creed, or ability to pay. Cotton Round-up for Crippled Children plays an important role in providing these services.

Quitauque Lions To Sponsor Christmas Decorating Contest

Residents of Quitauque and the surrounding rural area are urged to spruce up during the holiday season. The Quitauque Lions Club will award plaques to the outstanding decorations in three categories: residential, business and most original. Out-of-town judges will make the rounds on the week preceding Christmas. Let's celebrate this festive season and light up Quitauque.

Following are some suggestions for your Christmas decorations.

You might use a star, Christmas wreath or a Christmas cross on your windows and doors. These make pretty displays either with or without lights.

If you have a yard light, decorate it with garland and Christmas bows.

Use your imagination for an outdoor lawn display. A manger scene is always appropriate.

String lights up your television antenna.

Use a spotlight to set off a front door decoration that needs special emphasis.

Consider lighting up a tree in your front yard. Twinkle lights sometime add a special effect.

Don't overlook the roof of your house for a lighted scene or some type of display.

Strips of green cedar around a picture window with sprayed snow makes a pretty scene.

Write a message on a picture window with spray snow.

Angels or other Christmas figures pasted on the inside of windows add a cheery holiday note for those who pass outside.

Be sure to get your children in the picture. Ask them for ideas and encourage them to participate in putting up the decorations.

You might team up with your neighbors and line the sidewalks of your block with lighted luminaries. You make these by placing sand in paper sacks for weight and sticking candles in the sand in each sack. When candles are all lighted in the sacks, this makes a beautiful street scene.

Do be sure to arrange your lighted Christmas tree so that it can be seen from the street.

For an attractive entrance, cover your entire front door with bright holiday wrapping paper, and add a wreath or a Christmas message to top it off.

An ordinary tumble weed sprayed with whitewash and decked with a cap makes a jolly snowman scene. Two smaller snowmen complete the picture.

Tiny miniature Christmas lights work well when used to decorate trees and shrubs. They are effective, both with twinkle and continuous lights.

Be sure to get your tree and outdoor decorations up as early as possible. You can add to your decorations as Christmas approaches.

If you own a business, try to add a little to your decorations this year. Consider rotating themes so they will be different each year.

A spotlight on a cross that has been sprayed with glitter produces a striking scene.

Santa Claus pictures drawn on paper by your children and pasted on windows add to the Christmas spirit.

Consider stringing a series of Christmas lights around all of

The Valley High teams won three of four games played here Tuesday night at Valley and got a bit of revenge in addition as the Motley County boys upset the Patriots in games played at Matador last week and the Motley girls forced the Valley girls into overtime before the Valley girls won it.

The Valley JV girls pulled off a bit of an upset (according to the Motley girls) in the first game of the evening's bill by taking a 38-37 win over the Motley JV girls. The Motley girls had not lost a game since they were in the sixth or seventh grade (when ever they had started playing together as a team) but they were matched against a team of girls who had not lost many games in the last two or three years, and Tuesday night of this week the Valley girls were the best. Laura Fuston and Lisa Herrington shared scoring honors with 15 points each for the Patriots, with Dubella Martinez adding seven points and Brenda Coker one point for the winning team.

In the second game of the evening Motley won its only game as their JV team won over the Valley JV 43-34. Jeff Crump scored 13 to pace the Valley boys with Terry Brittain tossing in eight points, Dane Cheatham six, Mike Rice four, Lyndal Couch two and Greg Ramsey, one point.

Despite the fact that the Motley girls forced the game into overtime at Matador last week, this game was strictly no contest this week.

The Motley girls scored first, Valley came right back to tie it at 2-2, but from there on in it was just a question of how much as the Valley forwards were hitting almost everything they put up and the Valley guards, Darlene Hendrix, Martha Reed and Debra Parsley were just overwhelming the Matadors' efforts. In fact, after their first score to open the game, that was it in the first period as Valley led 21-2 at the end of the first quarter of play. The winners had increased the lead to 37-11 at halftime although Coach Phelps had already pulled some of the starters. The reserves played most of the second half. Joanie Turner scored 19 points for the Valley scoring parade, Sherice Price 16, Jena Mullin 13, Paula Lipscomb 12 and Karla Meyer four.

The varsity boys game was hotly contested all the way. Valley scored eight points before Motley got on the board but then Motley tallied 10 points before Valley could find the range again and recommends the supplemental assessment be 4/10ths of one percent of the gross sales price per bale of cotton beginning with the 1977 crop. (For example, if cotton prices were 60c per pound, the supplement on each 500-lb. bale would be $1.20.) The order also provides that, beginning with the 1978 crop, the rate can be increased in increments on recommendation of the Cotton Board and approval of the Secretary of Agriculture. However, the final rate cannot exceed one percent of the bale's gross sales price.

Holland adds that the producer-run Cotton Board has publicly testified it would not recommend an increase to the Secretary unless an in-depth study showed that (1) the program was being conducted with maximum effectiveness, (2) its effectiveness could be increased only with additional financing, (3) producers indicated an overwhelming sentiment for an increase, and (4) the Board determined the exact level of the increase desired by producers.

Holland explains that budgets developed by the CI staff are submitted first to CI's board of directors. Members of this board are cotton farmers who have been elected by cotton producer organizations in each of the cotton-producing states. Once the budget is approved by CI directors, it is then submitted to the Cotton Board. This Board is named by the Secretary of Agriculture from a list of nominees chosen by cotton producer organizations, and has full responsibility for collecting and administering CI funds. After the budget is approved by the Board, it must then be approved by the Secretary of Agriculture who is responsible for seeing that it complies with the Order's provisions.

*Helpful Tips
 For your Dishwasher*

- ★ A dishwasher will usually hold a whole day's dishes. It takes as much hot water and energy to wash one dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on.
- ★ Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware.
- ★ Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher.

In Memory of Mrs. Tom Young
 I'M GOING THAT WAY
 by Paulita Young

Mama Young was ninety, Her eyesight almost gone, Her memory was growing feeble, But still she hummed along.

How she loved gospel music! She could listen all the day, She'd pat her hands to the rhythm, As they sang, "I'm Going That Way."

It thrilled her heart at worship, When she heard the leader say, "Let's sing one of Mama's favorites, Number thirty-one, 'Watch and Pray.'"

She never missed church services, She sat in a certain chair. Unless providentially hindered, Rest assured that she'd be there.

But Mama Young was ninety, And God has called her home. Her chair at church is empty, She's gone on to meet Tom.

In Memory of An Uncle
 BO BO
 By Paulita Young

BoBo was an Indian,
 A Chickasaw by birth.
 He loved the ways of nature,
 He loved the grassy earth.
 He loved the flowers in springtime
 The colorful trees in fall,
 All the things of God's creation,
 He loved them, one and all.
 He would walk into the desert,
 Pick up some pieces of wood,
 To the untrained eye 'twas rubbish
 To the artist, it was good!
 He could fashion things from nothing,
 He had a talent in his hands.
 Tho' he was small in stature,
 He was a big, big man.
 All the pretty things he made for me,

I'll treasure 'til I'm old,
 All the happy memories of him,
 Are more precious to me than gold!

His spirit's with God who gave it,
 His body is resting, I know,
 On a sloping, green and grassy hill
 Overlooking the valley below.

I loved my Indian uncle,
 His work was not in vain,
 The memory of his quiet ways,
 Will long with me remain!

Mrs. W. E. Morrison returned home Monday afternoon after spending the past ten days visiting her daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bedwell, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Setliff and Mr. and Mrs. Birt Lane. While she was there she attended the annual Widow's Luncheon which was held in the Bedwell home this year. There were sixteen widows and a few other guests.

Mrs. Morrison also had some dental work done while she was visiting in Plainview. Mrs. Bedwell and a grandson brought her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McFall of Matador visited his grandmother, Mrs. Delila McFall, Saturday night and took her out to eat.
