

With the eleven Nazi leaders executed I feel like saying, "Good riddance to bad rubbish," and probably did say it under my breath.

Now that Mr. Truman has lifted all price controls from meats, observers throughout the country are saying it won't be long until OPA will be a bad memory.

We are not smart enough to foresee what the people will think about it in the future.

And the observers are saying, furthermore, that the recent action of the President fore-shadows the entire junking of wartime controls over our economic system.

But we must remember that we are not going back to an uncontrolled system such as we had prior to 1933. There are still many controls that are not being dropped and we venture to say that no one can foresee when they will be dropped.

There are still the AAA crop and livestock subsidies, security market restrictions and many other indications of a controlled economy.

I cannot help yearning for the "good old days" when every tub used on its own bottom, yet believe some of the measures adopted by the New Deal to handle the most drastic money panic, unemployment situation, drought and dust bowl condition, that had ever plagued the nation were necessary at the time, or at least some measures like these adopted.

Meantime, many of us conservative old timers, who still delude ourselves that a dollar is a dollar, but with misgivings upon the steadily climbing price of everything. One such, living right here in Muleshoe, a day or so ago assured the editor that everything that goes up must come down.

Personally I would like to see high wages continue and the price of everything we buy go down. It isn't sensible to think this ideal condition is coming to pass in the predictable future.

This scribe personally believes that a system of spending less than one makes can be recommended without reservations. How one is to do this under existing circumstances is his own problem, but if it can be accomplished, this writer heartily approves it.

You don't see so many older men, but there were many elderly ladies. And were those 'hooker' nice to them? They certainly rated the service and attention. They were traveling in style, comfort and with speed and

General Election Ballots Printed

Absentee voting is now permissible for the general election to be held November 5. Ballots to be used have been printed and delivered to the county officials by The Journal. The ballot contains four columns, for Democratic Party, Republican Party, Independent and write-in voters. Nominees for offices from U. S. Senator through constable are listed in the Democratic column. Republican party nominees for state office begin with U. S. Senator and run through state superintendent only. In the other two columns, offices to be filled are listed, but there are no nominees printed on the ballot. The ballot also contains the for and against clauses on the three constitutional amendments to be voted at this time.

Miss Carol Ivy Contest Winner

Miss Carol Ivy, of Friona, was adjudged the winner in the Doris Dodson limerick contest, just completed here by Cobb's Department Store, B. H. Morgan, manager, announced. The test was to furnish a last line for a limerick. A committee of local ladies judged the many entries in the contest. Miss Ivy was awarded a Doris Dodson dress. In addition her entry will be sent to the national contest to compete with others from all over the nation for 12 prizes, each to consist of a year's wardrobe of nine Doris Dodson dresses.

Goss Opens New Service Station

C. W. Goss Auto Company is opening a new service station in Muleshoe, Carroll Goss, announced this week. The station will be located at Main Street and the highway, in the Coe building, formerly occupied by Muleshoe Implement Co. and more recently by OK Rubber Welders. The new station will handle Gulf Refining Company gasoline, oils, and greases. It will offer a complete service to auto owners. Pinky Barbour and Frankie Matthews will be in charge of the station, which will operate 18 hours a day, from 6 a. m. to 12 midnight. The building has been remodeled for the new business, which will handle Gulf tires and tubes, batteries and other automobile accessories.

They would arrive at the home of a loved one un-fatigued by a long journey. And I was just glad these nice old folks could take such a trip, in such a manner.

The Journal badly needs more news items about people and will appreciate your telling some of us about the little things that happen around you and which only you know about your cooperation might help us get the names of "forgotten people" into the news columns of the paper. You know names make news. If anybody has died, married, got sick, or if is visiting somebody, we sure want to have a little squib about it. Never mind waiting until the man bites the dog. It doesn't have to be queer quirk or sensational, just little items about folks is what we are after. Phone 54 and see how quick we will make a note of it.

School Building Plans Take Shape

Muleshoe school authorities are strongly considering an early beginning of the building program. It was learned this week following a board of trustee meeting. Details are still being considered and will be made public as soon as possible. For one thing, they said the public may rest assured that lighted football field will be provided by the time another football season rolls around. Construction of at least one new school building is in the cards. A bond issue of $125,000 was approved by the voters of the district for this purpose.

Jack Frost Pays Early Visit Here

Jack Frost has paid his first preliminary visit to Muleshoe country. Considerable damage resulted from the first frost, which occurred last Friday night when the official temperature reading here was 32 degrees. Blackeye peas, tomatoes, and such were nipped and growth was undoubtedly stopped in much cotton and grain sorghum in this territory. Especially in low ground was the effect of frost noticed. One man told The Journal that about a third of some cotton stalks from the top was affected. Grown bolls will mature, development of other cotton was far enough advanced that the yield was not materially affected. Growers of late grain, however, had been hoping for a late frost. It was not to be. The normal frost line is around October 25, and thus the first frost, while not described as a "killing frost," came about two weeks early and undoubtedly did considerable damage. It is a curious circumstance that the frost usually occurs in the south of the country a few days later than it does in the territory immediately around Muleshoe and to the north.

Johnny will go in a special chartered Greyhound bus which will leave Lubbock October 19. The delegation of Texas representatives will spend Saturday night in Oklahoma City and will arrive in Kansas City Sunday evening. One-half of the local delegate's expenses will be paid by the Muleshoe chapter. The purpose of this convention is to initiate all candidates for the American Farmer degrees, to elect new national officers for the association and to have reports of the organization from all parts of the Union. The convention will be in session seven days. There will be delegates from every state in the Union with the exception of Rhode Island, Puerto Rico and Hawaii will also be represented. The local representative will bring back a full account of the convention.

S. D. Clements Buys Amerson's Farm At Auction

S. D. Clements was the high bidder on the Lee Amerson 100 acre farm northeast of Muleshoe, paying $60.50 per acre. Mr. Amerson, who is moving away sold the farm, livestock, household goods, farm implements, etc. at an auction held last Wednesday, October 9. Mr. Amerson said he was well pleased with the sale. Some fine milk cows with calves by side sold at an average of $224. Some things did not bring as much as he thought they might, others sold for a very good price, he said. Col. W. D. Wanzor conducted the sale. Col. Wanzor said that as long as he has been conducting farm auction sales on the Plains he has never had a sale to equal the Amerson sale for good prices.

City Officials Ready For Petitions On Paving—Urge Citizens To Sign Up

Indications were today that one main residential east-west street will be paved through town and one or more intersecting streets will be paved to the Clovis highway, giving one or more "loops" through the residence section, in the city paving program, city officials said. They urged property owners who want their streets paved to get in touch with the city secretary, R. J. Klump, and sign letters that have been printed and are now on hand. And they urged those anxious to get said paving to get enough of these letters for each property owner on their block so that complete units can be considered. Many property owners already are busy on this paving program, and the city officials said they will consider each unit proposed on the basis of "first come, first served." East and west streets will be paved at a cost to the property owner of $3.00 a front foot, and north and south street paving will cost the property owner $3.50 a front foot. These prices will include the cost of installing curb and gutter. Arrangements have been made to finance the cost to the property owner on a five-year basis. Property owners are to pay one-third on each side and the city will pay one-third. A bond issue of $25,000 was voted last December to provide the city with funds to finance the paving.

November 14 Is Legion's Big Day

Work Starts On Cox Addition

Construction was started Monday on a 40x50 foot addition to the building of Fry & Cox Bros., Muleshoe Minneapolis-Moline dealers. The new section will be used to house the machine shop, and the Blacksmith shop, Jack and Jim Cox told The Journal. The tin building now housing the blacksmith shop will be used for a warehouse. The new arrangement will give the firm much additional room for display of machinery parts, and will give Fry & Cox Bros. a room for the compact arrangement of the machinery in their machine shop, one of the best in this section. Fry & Cox Bros. maintain a big supply of parts for M-M machinery, stock irrigation power units, Westinghouse electrical supplies, and maintain a one-stop farm machinery repair service.

New Dump Ground Opened By The City

A new dump ground has been opened by the City of Muleshoe, and the old one has been closed, Mayor Julian L. Nau told The Journal today. He urged the people to refrain from dumping junk matter anywhere except in the spot provided, which is fenced. In the old dump ground some junk was thrown along the road and the city was put to the expense of cleaning all this up before moving to the new grounds. To reach the new dump ground, drive down the Sudan highway three-quarters of a mile, where a sign on the right hand side of the highway gives directions to the dump ground.

HARD TO GET LUMBER? TRY ADOBE

COLLEGE STATION — Adobe is an almost ideal building material for arid and semi-arid climates and has distinct possibilities for use in all parts of Texas, especially in the construction of inexpensive farm and ranch buildings.

That is the conclusion drawn by Edwin L. Harrington of the Texas A. & M. College Civil Engineering Department in a publication "Adobe as a Construction Material in Texas," issued by the Texas Engineering Experiment Station.

To date the practical use of adobe in Texas has been confined to the area of 25-inch rainfall or less, which also has a soil ideal for use in making the material, Harrington believes, however, that research may find ways to make adobe suitable for use in East Texas and the Gulf Coast.

The use of asphalt emulsion as a stabilizer and waterproof agent is one fairly recent development which enables adobe to withstand more humid climates.

Adobe, Harrington points out, is an inexpensive material, for it can be made by unskilled labor and from local materials. The only saving over other types of construction, however, is in the walls. The cost of asphalt compounds or cement as a stabilizer is not excessive, but labor cost will rise due to the increased difficulty of mixing and compacting the bricks.

The publication includes detailed instructions for selection of the soil, making bricks and adobe construction.

A limited number of copies of "Adobe as a Construction Material in Texas" have been made available to the Texas Extension Service for distribution to the public. Single copies may be obtained by writing to "Director, Extension Service, Texas A. & M. College, College Station, Texas."

WHERE'S THE MEAT?

COLLEGE STATION — There's a good reason why so few livestock were marketed during September, and why there's hardly any meat in local markets now.

Roy Snyder, meat specialist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service explains that the current meat shortage is partly due to the large number of livestock that was marketed during July and August, when price control was out of effect. During those two months, the meat specialist says, much livestock was marketed that would have been on the market this fall.

For 1946 as a whole, United States Department of Agriculture meat men have estimated the meat supply to reach 148 pounds per person by the time the year is out. Last year the supply was 138 pounds per person. Even though this year's meat supply may be about the same as the record supply in 1944, consumers will still be unable to buy all the meat that they would like to buy at ceiling prices.

Still another answer to meat shortage question lies in distribution. Our meat distribution is now very uneven, making the shortage much worse in some areas than in others.

PLAINS COTTON GROWERS HANDICAPPED

COLLEGE STATION — High Plains cotton growers each year lose money because they can't have their cotton harvested before the first frost.

Superintendent D. L. Jones and Agronomist H. D. Lynn of the Texas A. & M. Agricultural Experiment Station No. 8 at Lubbock say that this condition may be remedied if cotton farmers will accept three recent developments — power driven strippers' stormproof cotton and chemical defoliation.

The experiment station men point out that only half of the Plains cotton is harvested when the frost comes around November 4, the 30-grower must depend largely on migratory labor to pick his cotton, and when frost and colder weather set in, the labor moves South, leaving the cotton farmer "holding the sack." Obviously, the answer lies in harvesting the cotton faster, and that's where the three recent development figures in.

Power-driven strippers will allow the grower to harvest his cotton just as soon as it is sufficiently mature, Jones and Lynn predict. In connection with mechanical stripping, chemical defoliation would kill the leaves of the plant in late October, and allow harvesting without having to wait for frost to defoliate the plants. The third development, storm-proof cotton, will prevent losses that growers usually suffer by late-harvesting cotton with normal bolls. The normal bolls flare open at maturity and many of the locks either fall to the ground or string out and collect trash. Stormproof cotton locks are pinched at the base of the boll and stick firmly to the hulls, preventing losses incurred by growers when fiber falls to the ground and strings out.

Miss Bonnie Brooks of Lubbock visited over the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Damrcn.

PROTECT YOUR MOTOR

with this TWIN ACTION AVIATION OIL

Flows Freely at ZERO or BELOW

STANDS UP at BOILING or ABOVE

In winter your car needs an oil that flows freely and lubricates instantly. Equally important, the oil you use must not thin out or break-down after your motor gets hot.

With Champlin HI-VI (High Viscosity Index) you get this TWIN-ACTION.

Champlin HI-VI was developed especially to meet the weather demands of Uncle Sam's rampaging Air Forces.

N-Hexane, a remarkable new solvent, thoroughly de-waxes Champlin HI-VI producing a remarkable new cold-pour test rating.

It flows freely at zero and below, and due to its high viscosity index it has the extra stamina to withstand extreme temperatures.

Progress HD Club

Black cats and West Texas lemon trees decorated the home of Mrs. Cecil Sigman Tuesday, October 15 when the Progress home demonstration club met there. Several of the members were dressed in the halloween costumes.

With the president, Miss Elzada McMahan, presiding, the meeting opened with roll call and the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Raymond Brown.

The afternoon program consisted of a talk "The Origin of Halloween," by Mrs. G. T. Maitby, and a talk "Value of Club Exhibits," by Mrs. Lewis Stewart, chairman of exhibit committee in which she stated that one of the easiest ways to learn was by exhibits and demonstrations. Mrs. D. O. Smith, another member of the exhibit committee showed a beautiful chenille rug which she had made.

Following the program routine business and reports were taken care of. It was decided to postpone the election of officers until next meeting. An amendment to the constitution to include an alternate delegate in the list of officers will be voted upon at that time.

The hostess' gift was drawn by picking the lemons from the West Texas lemon tree each lemon bringing five cents.

Games arranged by the hostess were enjoyed after the business was cared for.

Refreshments of watermelon, cheese wafers, pickles, pop corn and cocoa were served by the hostess: Mrs. Russell Bearden, a guest; Mrs. Jeff Gray and Mrs. George Gross, new members; and sixteen members.

To have an apple you could try your luck over a tub where they floated on the water.

Next meeting will be at 2:30, November 5, in the home of Mrs. G. T. Maitby. Mrs. Laurette Williamson, the agent, will give a demonstration on "Quick Refreshments." Please be on time.

Want a Vacation from Marriage?

Alvin Blake went south on his vacation, for some fishing, and left his Missus to enjoy a vacation from the corn-cob pipe, clothes in a heap, and solos on the harmonica.

First few days, Martha enjoyed it—house neat and quiet, top back on the toothpaste, no morning mess from Alvin's midnight snacks (Al's partial to a bit of cheese and beer at bedtime).

Come the end of the week, she began to fidget; couldn't even read the Clarion; it looked so unmissed; didn't have any appetite with nobody to cook for. She was about to wire Al, when he barges home a week ahead of time, and she almost cries for gratitude. ("Felt the same way myself," says Al.)

From where I sit, those differences of habit and opinion—whether they have to do with corn-cob pipes, a glass of beer, or playing the harmonica, seem mighty trivial when you're separated. And they are, too!

"Our organization is in full accord with the amendment," J. Walter Hammond, president, declared, to be voted upon in November 5th. "Farm-to-market roads are uppermost in the minds of rural people and the Good Roads Amendment is our assurance of obtaining greatly needed improvements."

Continuing, Hammond said, "We are in dire need of better facilities for all-weather roads which will benefit rural mail and school bus routes as well."

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation is one of thirty state organizations which have already pledged ardent support of the Good Roads Amendment. The amendment, list of three to appear on the November 5 ballot, assures the availability of gasoline taxes and motor vehicle registration fees for road purposes, with the exception that one of every four cents paid in gas taxes will continue to be allocated to the Available Free School Fund.

FAIRBANKS-MORSE Hammer Mills

You can get a Fairbanks-Morse Hammer Mill immediately.

Fairbanks-Morse Hammer Mills grind grain or roughage fast, and with low power cost.

Because of their large breaker plates and large screen area, most of the grain is ground first time through.

Large-diameter cylinders give the necessary hammer-tip speed at only 2400 r.p.m. This permits using a larger pulley for greater efficiency. One of three models will match your tractor perfectly, and combine low fuel consumption with greatest grinding capacity.

Howdy Folks: Living has returned to normal with children back to school and college students back to dear old alma mater.

Of course you all know what a college is. That's a fountain of knowledge, where all go to drink.

Now days, college courses not only include Greek, but also a little Scotch.

Of course, many students work their dads through college. Sometimes the best way to get a B A is with the support of a PA.

Daffy-nation College bred -- A four year's loaf made with father's dough.

And at the finish a bar examination might be a test to see how much the student could hold.

FAA BOYS IN TRIP TO SOUTH PLAINS FAIR

Last Thursday the local FFA chapter members went to Lubbock to enjoy the Panhandle-South Plains Fair. Sixty-five boys, accompanied by the advisor, Edward White, left the high school building at noon in a truck leased from Raymond Green.

The students returned after the night performances, very tired and with a slight decrease in their financial standings.

The class also maintained a booth at the fair. It was educational in nature.
