Land Commissioner Urges Support Veterans Land Purchase Amendment

Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Austin, has written C. D. Gupton, County Service Officer, expressing unqualified approval of the constitutional amendment to be voted on November 7, that would make available to veterans of World War II some 850,000 acres of federal surplus property, some prison and some state owned land, 500,000 acres of public free school lands and such other privatel owned land as seems practical, located throughout the State. Mr. Giles reviews the proposed legislation as follows:

Constitutional amendment to be balloted on by voters of state in November, 1946, sets up necessary machinery authorizing purchase of lands and sales of such Texas veterans of World War II, through Veterans' Land Board.

Specified members of Veterans' Land Board shall be composed of Governor, Commissioner of the General Land Office and the Attorney General.

Effective date of legislation; permits purchase of lands by Veterans' Land Board as soon as passage of amendment certified, and extends life of Board for eight years.

Board is authorized to set up a maximum revolving fund of $25,000,000 in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the creation of the Veterans' Land Fund which may be issued only as needed in the opinion of the Board, under the authority of the Legislature.

Preferential right of purchase of bonds is to be given administrators of the teacher retirement funds, permanent University and permanent free school funds, bearing an interest rate NOT to exceed three per cent.

Funds from the sale of bonds are to be used solely for the purchase, by the Board, of agriculture and ranch lands from the Federal Government, state prison system or any other state agency or private owners as far as practical.

The legislation received final approval in House by vote of 119-0 and in Senate 29-0.

bunal at Nurnberg, await the verdict of that court, the great presses of the United States Government, Printing office at Washington are already impressing their words and the evidence of their probable guilt in permanent volumes for all the world to see.

The mass of documentary evidence collected by the American and British prosecuting staffs including the material relative to the trial, fills eight volumes which are to be made available to the general public for $18 per set through the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Goering and Hess, von Ribbentrop, Schacht and the others, wrote letters and notes on their conferences in their work of enslaving Europe. Now these letters and notes, taken from captured Nazi files, will be available in English translation for all to read and ponder over the coldness, the hardness, the brutality which these Nazi conspirators used to gain their ends.

Two volumes of the eight volume set have already been printed and bound. Contained in these volumes are documents relating to the treatment of prisoners, the use of enforced labor, the battle of the Warsaw Ghetto, the enslavement of Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland, and the work of Hitler's propaganda machine. Here are not the words of foreign observers but the actual words and thoughts and attitudes of the German leaders themselves and the organization through which they worked. These messages and papers leave no doubt of the probable guilt of those on trial at Nurnberg.

The volumes begin with the setting up of the International Military Tribunal, the indictments against the top Nazis and their organizations, the means used by the conspirators to gain control of the German state, the embarking upon the wars of aggression, the special criminal acts performed, and a setting forth of the indicated individual responsibility of the defendants. Then comes the weight of evidence in the form of documents, messages, copies of speeches, personal and official letters, notes of conferences, and drafts of statutes and laws — all authentic translations which all Americans may read.

The publication of these volumes on "Nazi Conspiracy and Aggression" is of historical significance. Nurnberg was the first international Military Tribunal of its kind. Early in World War II it was agreed that this time the leaders, who through their conspiracy and aggression brought on the world conflict, would not escape unscathed as in World War I but would stand trial and pay for their crimes. These printed volumes will preserve the fruition of that agreement. Contemporary writers of history will have the documents and records available to them rather than tucked away in the archives of one particular nation, accessible to only a few.

Farmers Worked 75.4 Hours a Week

Average Hours of Work Per Week—1939, 1943, 1944

American farm operators averaged 75.4 hours of work a week during a recent three years, according to a nationwide survey of work habits in agricultural centers. In the same period, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute, workers in steel plants averaged 41.6 hours of labor a week. The operators of the six million American farms spent nearly 4,900 work hours a year, per man, plus the use of mechanized equipment, to earn a living and to produce the crops and food needed to meet the urgent wartime demands of a hungry world. Farm operators in the West North Central area worked the longest hours, putting in an average of 83.2 hours a week. Second were the farm operators in the East North Central area with 82.5 hours a week, while farm operators in the Middle Atlantic worked 79.9 hours a week. Farm operators in the Pacific states put in the smallest number of weekly work hours, averaging 72.1 for the three years of 1939, 1943 and 1944.

SET YOUR SIGHTS

It takes planning to achieve a goal

Some young men know what they want and plan for it. Others are still looking for their niche. The new Regular Army can help both.

Perhaps you want to go to college but can't afford it. If you enlist in the Army, you'll get your chance. Honorably discharged after a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

If you haven't found your spot, an Army enlistment offers you training in any of 200 trades and skills. You leave the service eligible for further training at the best civilian schools.

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may enlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Offices.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

To hear Willie Wells and Basil Strube arguing about trout fishing, you'd think it was more important than the atom bomb. Willie favors dry flies, Basil pooh-poohs anything but wet flies. But on Saturday, each got back from Seward's creek with a catch that couldn't have differed by more than several ounces!

Each had used his favorite kind of fly, his favorite rod and his favorite place to cast. So over a friendly glass of beer, they allowed as how maybe they were both right... which is how so many arguments should end. From where I sit, if we all respected one another's different opinions—whether about trout flies, or drinking beer, or voting, life would be a whole lot pleasanter.

VA Regional Office Swamped

The great number of West Texas veterans who are taking advantage of the G. I. Bill and other benefits offered by the Veterans Administration, has overwhelmed the VA regional office at Lubbock, Robert W. Sisson, regional manager, said today.

"With our present personnel ceiling, we are doing our very best, by working a 48 hour week and overtime nights, to render service to the veterans of our 81-county area."

"WE HAVE GROWN because we have helped others to grow."

R. L. BROWN

Our regional office receives on an average of 5,000 pieces of correspondence daily. There are 58,000 veterans' case files on record here. Approximately 15,000 new case folders have been added to our records in the last three months," Sisson explained.

"We are not offering excuses, we do not believe in excuses, but by way of explanation, we want the veterans who have recently enrolled in college and on-the-job training to know the reasons for the delay in their VA subsistence checks.

There are 3,019 reasons at present to be exact. Of this, 1,908 applications for training are pending issuance of a certificate of eligibility and entitlement, and 1,111 are pending return of this signed certificate and further certification of the finance officer for payment.

I want to emphasize that these figures do not include the avalanche of requests for subsistence payments which we expect to receive as soon as the colleges and schools have processed the veterans' enrollment for the Fall term.

Veterans who applied for schooling under the G. I. Bill just prior to the opening of the Fall term will be delayed for weeks and possibly months in receiving their VA subsistence checks.

It is the old story that so many people can do only so much work. We hope that our situation will be understood and that the veteran will be patient with us until we can overcome this reservoir of work," Sisson said.

Vocational Rehabilitation and Education division has received more than 18,000 applications for training in the last three months, of these 4,200 have been entered in training. It is expected that the total number of applications will reach 300,000 by December 1.

There are 916 businesses, shops, etc., awaiting survey, and subsequent approval by the State Approving Committee, to conduct on-the-job training.

With the seven facility survey officers allocated to this region, we are getting the job done just as fast as it is humanly possible.

For the month of August our finance division had on its payroll 14,499 veterans receiving disability compensation and the total amount of $640,160; while 8,443 veterans were receiving $882,240 as subsistence for schooling or on-the-job training.

We are diligently working at the job, and striving at all times to render the best service, fairly and equally to all," Sisson concluded.

Here Is the Latest News about Chevrolet Deliveries

Everybody from factory to dealer is doing everything that can be done to speed deliveries to you

We have been informed by the Chevrolet Motor Division that the past month has witnessed only a slight improvement in the rate of production of new Chevrolet passenger cars. As a result, shipments of new cars to dealers for delivery are still far below the level we and the factory had hoped to attain by this time. In fact, through August, Chevrolet's output of cars in 1946 was only 22.6% of the number turned out during the corresponding period of 1941.

We know that Chevrolet is doing everything possible to step up its production totals—to ship more and more cars to us and to its thousands of other dealers throughout America... and we know, too, that we are assured of getting our full proportionate share of the current output and of future production gains.

Disappointing as the total figures have been—and despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of the year—it is nevertheless true that Chevrolet led all other manufacturers in production of passenger cars during June 1946, and has continued to maintain its lead in total production from that day to this.

We shall continue to make deliveries of new Chevrolets to our customers just as fast as we receive them; we regret delays as deeply as you do; we thank you for your friendly patience and understanding; and we promise you a new high motoring experience when you take delivery of your new Chevrolet, giving BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST!

Keep Your Present Car Alive

Meanwhile, may we suggest that you safeguard your transportation by bringing your car to us for service now and at regular intervals. Let us help you to keep it in good running condition—to maintain its performance, appearance and resale value—until the day when your new Chevrolet comes along.

An Allegory

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

IN THE MIDST of a forest there was a shrewd mouse-trap manufacturer who turned out a dependable item. Son Joe worked long hours making steel springs by hand. Mother kept the books and wrote the letters. Dad did the assembly work and finishing. There were no sales problems. Customers already had beaten a path to his door—and formed a waiting line.

But there was beeping in the line. Deliveries were slow and service was bad. Finally one day, in a stack of third-class mail, Mom found an advertisement for spring-winding machines. It was very timely because Joe's workbench was the bottle neck. Nobody else could make springs and he was always rushed to keep up with Dad. So Dad bought Joe a spring-winding machine.

Prosperity TURNING out a Acquired better trap than ever, and a lot more per day, business was fine. Prosperity came. Dad was flush, declared Saturday afternoons off and raised pay all the way around. About the time the general good feeling was at its height, Joe married a cute little communistic viewpoint. Then it was that the rodent extermination industry started to undergo complete reorganization.

The little c.v. convinced Joe that he ought to have a half interest in the business, and there wasn't much Dad could do about it. After the 50-50 partnership was formed, the c.v. started telling Mom off right regularly, making quips about faked accounts, and gifts from buyers, to shock the F.T.C. Mom had to keep books with the c.v. looking over her shoulder, eating an apple.

Prosperity FINALLY the Junior Destroyed partner made bold to demand a spot on the payroll for the c.v., at Mom's pay, with authority to watch Mom and keep her honest. That was the day the spring-winding machine broke down. Repairing it seemed quite useless to Dad, what with a shop full of headaches, padded payrolls, no profits, and all departments working at cross purposes. He'd just quit!

After Dad and Mom left, labor costs increased and Joe missed a few payments on his new spring-winding machine but the little c.v. devised a solution: Raise wages again and boost the price of traps. This brought an unpleasant reaction from the customers and the waiting line melted down to a third of its average length. Joe sensed trouble and ran after the customers but didn't catch many.

Early one morning a man came in a truck and took the spring-winding machine away, leaving the whole crew wondering where to look for a job. They say the machine was offered to Dad, cheap, but he was not interested. By this time, old crafty Dad was busy with research on an odorless electronic, destined, in due time, to put mouse-traps off the market entirely.

Farmers Know What a Profit Is For

AS his own boss, the farmer has long since found out that a profit is not just an extra sum, above the bare cost of doing business, which can be used as you please. It is the main source of funds necessary to pay for a new silo, buy better machinery, and improve the house and the barn.

In spite of the great rise in income, farm profits are no more than necessary to keep the farm plant producing efficiently. It's the same with the iron and steel industry which makes the materials for the farmer's tools.

In 1945 steel companies had left, after meeting all expenses but before paying dividends, only a little more than one-tenth of one cent on each pound of steel sold. The profit on each dollar invested was less than five cents. Year by year since 1941, when the war started, earnings have been declining.

Although last year's output of steel was 19 per cent greater than in 1940, the last prewar year, pay rolls were nearly double but dividends were lower.

There are many misunderstandings and misrepresentations about profits. Some people forget that reasonable profits are a necessary incentive of the American system, which results in abundant low-cost farm products and abundant low-cost steel products.

It is up to those who know what profits are for, and what they can do, to see that they are not destroyed—and with them our high standard of living.

Steel mills need all the scrap iron and steel they can get. The shortage is serious. Farmers can get extra dollars and help increase steel output by sending worn-out machinery, etc., on its way to the furnaces. AMERICAN IRON and STEEL INSTITUTE, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.

State Board Finds Water Level In Irrigation District Is Declining

AUSTIN, Sept. 16—The rapid development of wells for irrigation in the High Plains in Texas, which is believed to be unprecedented anywhere in the United States, continues unabated. Records collected by the State Board of Water Engineers in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey show that less than 300 wells were pumped to irrigate about 25,000 acres of land in 1934, whereas conservation estimates now place the number of wells in operation at about 4,500 and the land under irrigation at about 550,000 acres during the summer of 1946. The pumpage to irrigate this land is equivalent to a continuous withdrawal of about 450,000,000 gallons a day. The foremost question in the minds of many irrigation farmers and merchants in the High Plains is this: what effect is this tremendous withdrawal of water having on our underground water supply? The answer to this question is gradually unfolding as data are accumulated showing the rate of change in standing and pumping levels in wells. Water levels in several hundred observation wells throughout the High Plains have been measured in February or March of each year 1935; and pumping levels in many irrigation wells were measured during the irrigation seasons of 1937-

AUSTIN — The tremendous and increasing use of water in the high plains area of West Texas is resulting in a serious water situation which can be remedied only by the utmost conservation or "wise utilization." The state board of water engineers, working in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey, has been studying the situation for several years. Results of the studies show alarming declines in water levels and pumping levels which have been almost continuous since 1934. Most significant is a graph published by the two agencies, which shows the declines in an irrigation well in one of the heavily pumped areas in the Texas high plains. The water level, which was at about 54 feet in 1934, declined almost steadily up to the present time, when it is down to about 75 feet. At the same point, the decline in the pumping level is even more alarming. In 1934 it was at about 75 feet. Now it's down to about 113 feet.

39 again in 1946. As to the most heavily pumped areas, the water table is declining at a rapid rate; the lift has been greatly increased, due partly to unwatering of the sands, partly to interference between wells, and partly to the installation of larger-capacity pumps; and the yield of many wells has declined. In one large heavily pumped area in Hale and Floyd Counties the standing water level showed a net decline averaging about 5 feet during the one-year period 1945-46, and a net decline ranging from 10 to 18 feet and averaging about 15 feet during the period 1939 to 1946. In the same area the pumping level showed a decline from a few feet to more than 50 feet from 1937 to 1946.

Wheat sowing in this section is at least 50 per cent complete, it is said. Many growers had their wheat sowed during August. Indications are there will again be a very large acreage planted to wheat.

He and Raymond Gaede and Mr. Sanders will accompany the boys on the trip.

Rains Slow Down Harvest Of Grain

Recent rains have stopped practically all harvest of sorghum grain crops in this territory. Harvest began about two weeks ago but was stopped in most fields due to moisture.

Price of maize and kafir, quoted at local elevators has declined to $2.25.

Everyone early this week was hoping for clear, warm weather. Following recent rains there were several days of cloudy, cool weather, during which grain crops had little chance to mature, and it is remembered that the time for a killing frost is rapidly approaching.

Prison Rodeo Gets More Publicity

Sheriff Buchanan handed the writer another piece of publicity about the Texas Prison Rodeo, mention of which was made in this paper a week or so back. C. C. Springfield is handling the publicity for this year's rodeo, to be staged on four successive Saturdays. Among other things Springfield says:

Right now, the riders are ready to go. For that matter, all the convicts are ready, although their "going" is somewhat hampered by legal red tape and numerous shotgun guards.

Riggin's being readied; stock are being groomed; riders are being fitted with zoo-suit raiment. Yes, stripes will be the fashion at this year's show!

All the contestants will enter the arena in stripes. Solely for photographic effects, however, since stripes in prison are reserved for escapees and mutineers.

"Piddlers," as inmates craftworkers are known behind the walls, are working every spare minute to manufacture novelties for sale at the show. The novelties are sold throughout the year as well as at the rodeo. One inmate said he was trying to make enough to put his boy through high school.

The Brahma bull riders take the biggest chance. This is truly a "gamble" with death. However, most convicts are gamblers. They gambled on the outside with the law and lost. Inside, they take to the bulls. The prison rodeo yearly attracts a big crowd and the performances are broadcast by a Fort Worth radio station.

WHERE IS WHOLE WHEAT FLOUR?

COLLEGE STATION—Why is there no whole wheat flour on Texas markets?

That's a question that folks over the state are asking now. Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation for the Texas A and M College Extension Service, points out that the shortage is most probably due to manufacturers' backlog of orders for 80 per cent extraction flour. Since there is a much larger scale market for the regular flour than there is for whole wheat, manufacturers are naturally catering to the larger demand.

Probably another reason for the present shortage is that manufacturers produce smaller quantities of whole wheat flour during the summer months. It spoils rather quickly in hot weather and the demand drops at that time.

Now that wheat is becoming readily available, the backlog of regular flour orders should soon be reduced to the extent that millers will take care of the smaller demand for the whole wheat product, Lawrence says.

There are no government regulations prohibiting the manufacture and distribution of whole wheat flour, and the product should soon be back on Texas grocery markets.

Final Appeal In For Student Nurses

In a final appeal for student nurses for the state's 37 accredited schools of nursing, Miss Lucy Harris of Fort Worth, president of the Texas League of Nursing Education, Thursday urged girls between ages 17 and 25 years who might qualify to enroll at their nearest hospital before Fall classes close Oct. 1.

Miss Harris termed a recent intensive campaign for student nurses conducted by six state-wide organizations as extremely successful for the brief period involved, but pointed out that openings still are available and asked that prospective students who could not enroll before the Oct. 1 deadline consider making application for new classes beginning in February.

Success of the campaign was attributed directly to the "splendid support of the press and radio of Texas, ministers, physicians hospitals, and civic organizations as well as certain business establishments which were extremely generous with advertising contributions."

Some Hints On Fall Gardening

COLLEGE STATION.—Since germination in the fall is usually poor, fall gardeners should plant about one-fourth more seed than in the spring in order to obtain a good stand of vegetables.

This is the opinion of J. F. Rosborough and C. R. Heaton, horticulturists of Texas A and M College Extension Service, who also point out that seed with a hard coat, such as spinach, beets, and Swiss chard, should be soaked in warm water overnight before planting. These soaked seed should not be planted in dry soil. Gardeners should irrigate before planting or plant immediately following a rain. To bring the seed in direct contact with soil moisture so that growth will start at once, the soil may be pressed around the seed by tamping with a hoe. Walking along the row and pressing the dirt down will help start germination quickly.

Due to high temperatures during the late summer and early fall, soil moisture is quickly lost through evaporation. It is important to stir the soil frequently to conserve moisture and prevent packing. Generally, say the horticulturists, it is safe to stir the soil about two inches deep. Deeper cultivation damages the roots of growing vegetables.

In irrigation, a shallow furrow between the rows should be made, so the water may run slowly and penetrate to the plant roots. This system is better than a rapid irrigation or sprinkling on the surface of the soil.

Soil Conservation District News

During the week ending September 13, applications for assistance in soil conservation work were received from E. B. Luce and Ed Nelson.

Conservation (farm) plans were worked out with E. W. and M. D. Locker on their 4 farms and with J. A. Dearing on a 180 acre farm owned by E. R. Hart.

A conservation (soil) survey was made on a portion of League 66, Bailey County, which is owned by the McLaughlin brothers of Rails, Texas.

Irrigation well sites were located on the farms of Willis W. Williams, Byron Griffiths, and Ed Nelson.

Irrigation ditches and borders were staked out on the following farms: Ernest Kolbe, for 11 acres of alfalfa; E. R. Hart, for 15 acres of alfalfa; Troy Atkinson, for 2 acres of improved pasture; Roland Bigham, for 20 acres of alfalfa; Fred Koplin, for 160 acres of alfalfa; John Williams, for 16 acres of alfalfa; and E. P. Burismith, for 6 acres of improved pasture.

Norther Brought 38 Degree Weather

A low temperature reading of 38 degrees was recorded here Sunday night after a norther had hit about 12 noon. The low temperature didn't do the maturing sorghum grain crop any good.

Muleshoe has now had 421 inches of rain in September. R. J. Klump, weather recorder said. The latest rain came last Thursday, September 19, when a fall of 1.41 inches was recorded here. Cool weather has prevailed for some time, but Friday, Saturday and early Sunday morning reached 85.

Howdy, folks: A soldier, just returned from Italy, says that when you enter a restaurant in that country you are greeted with the national air-garlic and onions.

In this country, a restaurant is an eating place that does not sell drugs.
