Terrorist bombings in four of the world's major cities injured five people and left police puzzling over possible links between unfamiliar anti-Turkish and anti-Swiss

Two bombs went off Sunday in London, and one each in Los Angeles and New York. A fifth explosion occurred early today in Paris. There were no fatalities.

Anonymous callers said the explosions in the United States and one of the London blasts were the work of Armenians angry over treatment by Turks. Other callers said anti-Swiss groups were responsible for the second London explosion and the one in Paris.

London police said the two bombings there could be related, although different groups claimed responsibility. The blasts were 30 minutes apart and a police spokesman said it would be an "extraordinary" coincidence if they were not related.

Minutes later, an unidentified man called news outlets in Los Angeles and said a group called "Justice Com-mandos of the Armenian Genocide" was responsible for the Los Angeles and New York blasts.

In a massacre that began in 1915, Turks killed an estimated 1.5 million Armenians. In the years since, the Christian Armenians have claimed continuing persecution by Turkey's Moslem majority.

Police said they had never heard of the group.

In London, an unidentified caller said a group called "The Armenian Secret Army" was responsible for an explosion at the Turkish Airlines Office and was protesting the Turkish government's "bloody action" against Kurds and Armenians. The Kurds have been conducting a guerrilla campaign in Turkey, Iran and Iraq to win a

Candidates seek support in biggest states

By The Associated Press

As the last three weeks of the campaign open, Ronald Reagan is chasing votes in the biggest electoral-vote state and President Carter and John Anderson are wooing the next biggest

Reagan plans a campaign blitz today in California, using buses and helicopters to move his campaign to six appearances in the Los Angeles

Both Carter and Anderson will be in New York, march Day parade that is an annual tribute to the Italian contribution to the nation's largest city. Carter then goes on to Illinois and Missouri, and Anderson heads for Pennsylvania.

California, with its 45 electoral votes, and New York, with its 41, are among the key battleground states where it is believed the Democratic president and his Republican rival will fight it out in the final weeks of the campaign.

In the 10 states that will tip the balance in the election, Reagan is believed to have at least an uneasy hold on nine, with only New York now in Carter's corner. Those nine states could give Reagan 215 of the 270 Electoral College votes he needs to gain .

Polls show that Anderson will not et an electoral vote, but he says this will change as voters realize that Reagan may gain the presidency. With that realization, he said Sunday on CBS' "Face the Nation," voters will switch to him as the alternative. Anderson said of the polls: "This is a volatile political season, and they are going to change."

Both Carter and Reagan addressed the voters in paid political announce ments Sunday — Carter on Mutual Broadcasting System radio stations and Reagan on CBS network televi-sion — and both talked about the Reagan said his plan to cut excessive costs of government and balance the federal budget by 1983 "will be the beginning of the end for inflation."

The states at least leaning to Reagan, based on interviews with state political leaders and an analysis of various polls, are California with its 45 electoral votes; Pennsylvania with 27; Illinois and Texas, 26 each; Ohio, 25; Michigan 21; New Jersey and Florida, 17 each, and Wisconsin 11. Carter and Reagan should split California and New Yor can't carry California, he might as well cancel his plans to move into the White House. If Carter doesn't carry New York, he might as well plan to move out of 1600 Pennsylvania Ave-states released Sunday found Reagan's electoral vote total had slipped from a similar survey a week earlier. The latest survey gave the Republican 23 states with 190 electoral votes, compared with 25 states with 233 votes last week.

The drop for Reagan came with the move of Texas and New Jersey from the leaning-to-Republican category to too close to call. The survey found 14 states with 204 electoral votes were too close to call.

Argentine awarded Peace Prize

Human rights advocate imprisoned two years

OSLO, Norway (AP) - Adolfo Perez Esquivel, an Argentine human rights advocate who spent more than a year in prison for his activities, was awarded the 1980 Nobel Peace Prize today for having "shone a light in the darkness" of Argentina's military rule, the prize committee an-

In choosing the 49-year-old sculptor and architect for the $212,000 prize, the five-member Norwegian Nobel Committee passed over such other nominees as President Carter, Pope John Paul II, British Foreign Minister Lord Carrington and Zimbabwe Prime Minister Robert Mugabe.

Perez Esquivel heads the Peace and Justice Service, a network of Latin American human rights organizations that is headquartered in Buenos Aires, Argentina. He was jailed in April 1977 "without cause being shown." the committee said, and was released more than a year

After seizing power in 1976, the right-wing Argentine military sharp-ly curtailed political activity and cracked down hard on a guerrilla insurgency. Hundreds of political prisoners still languish in jails, and thousands of Argentines, mostly leftists, have disappeared and are presumed dead.

Perez Esquivel's selection continued a recent trend of awarding the peace prize to human rights advocates and groups. Soviet dissident Andrei Sakharov won in 1975 and the London-based Amnesty International

The Peace Prize is one of five established in the will of Swede Alfred Nobel, the inventor of dynamite, to honor humanitarian works. Last year's winner was Roman Catholic missionary Mother Teresa of Calcut-

Two other previous winners, Betty Williams and Mairead Corrigan, the co-leaders of Northern Ireland's Peace People movement, nominated Perez Esquivel for the prize, calling him "the most outstanding non-violent activist alive." The Nobel committee's statement said the purpose of the Peace and Justice Service, which Perez Esquivel has led since 1974, is "to work to promote fundamental human rights, basing itself exclusively on non-violent means." It has a network of contacts spanning the South American continent.

The committee likened the views and aims of Perez Esquivel to those of Sakharov, whose human rights activities led to his being sent from Moscow to internal exile in a provincial

The statement traced years of turmoil under Argentina's military government, which it said "has itself made use of extreme violence.'

"Perez Esquivel is among those Argentinians who have shone a light in the darkness. He champions a solution of Argentina's grievous problems that dispenses with the use of violence, and is the spokesman of a revival of respect for human rights...

"The prize winner is an Argentinian, but the views he represents carry a vital message to many other countries, not least in Latin America, where social and political problems as yet unsolved have resulted in an escalation of the use of violence.

A native of Buenos Aires, Perez Esquivel is a well-known sculptor in Argentina, his works having been displayed in the country's major museums and galleries.

In early 1977, the Soviets attempted to forge a socialist confederation in the Horn of Africa composed of Ethiopia, Somalia and South Yemen. But they overlooked Somalia's longstanding claim to the Ogaden Desert and its Somali-speaking tribesmen.

Somalian President Siad Barre abrogated the friendship pact and rejected the confederation idea after the Soviets began sending arms to Ethiopia, which had broken its longstanding ties with the United States.

Five dead in day care center blast

ATLANTA (AP) - An explosio ripped through a day care center at northwest Atlanta housing project today, killing five people and injurin about 15 others, authorities said.

Police Lt. Bill Neikirk said eme: ency crews had recovered the bodie of four children and one adult from the rubble.

The nature of the explosion was no immediately known, but it cause "heavy damage" to the building, authorities said.

'It was terrible, really terrible, said Tinnie Baugh, a teacher at a other day care center across th street.

"I went across to see what I coul do after I heard the explosion," st said. "Some of the kids were badl hurt. I saw one little boy whose firgers were missing.'

Anthony Miller, a spokesman for the Atlanta Fire Department, said there were reports of "about 20 in juries, and we think there are still kids buried under the rubble."

The Gate City Day Care Center is ithe Bowen Homes housing project ! northwest Atlanta, said Margare Ross, a spokeswoman for the Atlant Housing Authority.

The center is operated by a private concern and serves the 650 families living in the project, she said.

A building containing offices and warehouse space used by the city housing authority was damaged in a firebombing incident last week. The explosion set off a blaze which destroyed more than a third of the structure near downtown Atlanta. There were no injuries in that incident.

Earthquake death toll at 1,500

AL ASNAM, Algeria (AP) - Rescuers clawing through the ruins of Al Asnam, hampered by earthquake aftershocks and working by floodlight at night, have found thousands of injured and counted the number of dead found so far at 1,500, officials said today.

"The entire Algerian nation is mo-bilized" to help the estimated 100,000 persons left injured or homeless by the disaster, the state radio said.

The Red Crescent, Moslem Algeria's equivalent of the Red Cross, said the final death toll may surpass initial estimates of between 5,000 and 20,000

But there was still no government estimate of the number of casualties, and some rescue officials expressed hope the final figure could be lower than the Red Crescent's estimate. Many of the dead and injured were in mountain villages within a 20-mile radius of Al Asnam. Some remained isolated by landslides and ruined bridges but a continuous helicopter airlift by the Algerian army was evacuating injured villagers to hospi-

Switzerland, where they were trained to sniff out buried avalanche victims, pawed at the rubble, along with rescuers armed with listening devices. Hopes waned for those buried in the wreckage, but one police officer said he had heard of victims found alive two weeks after a 1954 earthquake that killed more than 1,600 in Al Asnam, 150 miles west of Algiers.

"We will go on searching as long as there is the slightest possibility of survivors," he said.

Traffic was snarled on the outskirts of the city as outgoing ambulances and truckloads of homeless survivors met incoming convoys of bulldozers, rescue equipment and soldiers.

Thousands of survivors camped out in makeshift centers on the fringe of the city. Some were sheltered in army tents, but most slept in the open.

An international army of rescue workers and medical personnel converged on the ruined city. Algerian officials called a temporary halt to further arrivals because of a lack of accommodations.

A U.N. disaster relief official in Geneva said Algeria was having trouble coordinating international aid. "This is a standard problem, particularly in earthquakes," he said. "It is not a problem particular to Alge-

A government statement said 25 percent of all the buildings in Al Asnam were destroyed and 50 percent were "more or less seriously damaged."

Among the leveled buildings was a low-income housing complex for 3,000 people, built to accommodate those made homeless by the 1956 quake. The shattered concrete roof of the city's main hotel, the 150-bed Chelif, was on the ground. Authorities said some 300 guests and employees were believed to have perished.

The government's emergency plan included the mobilization of all available soldiers, police, civil defense personnel, hospital staff and construction workers to speed up the immediate rescue work in Al Asnam and the surrounding villages.

An overall project for the permanent reconstruction of Al Asnam is to be worked out as a top priority. President Bendjedid said special care would be taken to rebuild Al Asnam in accordance with special safety stan-dards maintained in other earthquake-prone cities such as Tokyo and

Street concert ends with stabbings

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Seven people were stabbed early today at the end of an outdoor rock concert that capped a weekend of festivities called the Los Angeles Street Scene and Bicentennial Celebration.

The violence erupted at the conclusion of a performance by the group Blood, Sweat and Tears. Hours later, police were still uncertain whether all the stabbings were related or whether

PEANUTS

This is the first "Peanuts" cartoon drawn * by Charles M. Schulz on Oct. 2, 1950, and is the beginning of a successful career for

Schulz. The cartoon strip, which has become a huge industry, celebrates its 30th birthday this month. (AP Laserphoto)

Charlie Brown turns 30

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) - Good grief! Charlie Brown is 30 years old.

And it all began in a rather unlikely way with a correspondence course in drawing "from one of those places that says 'take our free talent test,'" said creator Charles Schulz, whose humble beginnings blossomed into an empire centered on the cartoon strip "Peanuts," which celebrates its 30th birthday this month.

That correspondence course and talent have made Schulz a rich and famous man.

"I don't know why everybody laughs when I say that - it was a good course," says Schulz, whose world-renowned characters - Charlie Brown, Lucy, Linus, Snoopy and Woodstock appear in some 1,800 newspapers every day.

But the strip is no longer Schulz' only form of income - Peanuts is a huge industry.

Hundreds of Peanuts books have been published in a dozen languages. The first of a string of Peanuts animated television shows appeared 15 years ago, and thousands of products now carry likenesses of Peanuts characters. The engaging drawings have made Schulz a million-

"I make more money than ball players," he said, "but I'd draw comics even if it only paid fifty dollars a week."

Schulz, 58, is a soft-spoken, reflective man, who works Monday through Friday, nine to five, in his spacious studio in this pleasant town about 40 miles north of San Francisco, doing "the only thing I ever wanted to do."

His characters have always been children, but they are children with a simple kind of wisdom that makes them attractive to adults. "I've never thought of it as a strip for kids," he said, relaxing in his spacious, modern, book-lined studio, which is crowded with Peanuts products.

'That's too difficult to do.' The predecessor of Peanuts, a comic strip called "Li'l Folks," appeared in Schulz's hometown newspaper, the St. Paul (Minn.) Pioneer Press, in the late 1940s. That strip evolved into Peanuts when United Feature Syndicate invited Schulz to New York and asked him to work for them. "I wanted to call it 'Charlie Brown,' but somebody suggested 'Peanuts.' I thought that was awful," he said.

'They would all deny it now, but I don't think they had much confidence in the strip," the cartoonist said. The strip was initially sold to newspapers as a "space-saver" with smallerthan-normal drawings.

After 30 years of doing seven strips a week, Schulz still gets most of his ideas in his studio, and he doesn't like to spend much time away. When asked how he enjoyed a recent three-week trip to Europe, he said, "I survived."

Schulz said he fights the urge to spend his time alone working and reading, but he doesn't think he'll change. "I have to be who I am to do what I

It takes him about an hour to draw a Peanuts strip once he has an idea, but he called the work "extremely demanding." Daily strips are due in New York six weeks before publication, and Sunday strips are sent in 10 weeks in advance. He's usually ahead of that schedule.

Schulz, who grew up in St. Paul, has lived and worked in Northern California since 1958. He has five children by his first marriage, which dissolved after 23 years. He remarried seven years

"I think the kids gave me six ideas in twentyfive years," he said, but one of them became one of the strip's most popular sequences. It was the notion of making beagle Snoopy a World War I flying ace battling the Red Baron.

Schulz got the idea when his son, Monte, began building models of World War I aircraft.

The new commercials are unabashedly "negaanti-Carter commertive," taking aim at Carter, in contrast to earlier efforts which sought to boost Ronald Reagan more than to criticize the Democratic president.

One new 30-second spot features Carter pledging during the 1976 cam-paign to "guarantee the security of our nation," juxtaposed with a series of photographs: an American flag being burned, American hostages sitting blindfolded and bound in Tehran, Soviet tanks in Afghanistan and Carter embracing Soviet President Leonid I. Archaeologists may have key

LEWISVILLE, Texas (AP) - Archaeologists say samples of seven burned areas from the shore of Lewisville Lake may shed light on early man's first habitation in the North Texas area. The burned spots are reddish-brown and range from 12 to 39 inches in diameter and could be natural or man-made, said Robert Burton, archaeologist for the Fort Worth office of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

"They could be remains of a fire lit by man in the past for warmth and cooking, as a hearth site, or they could be natural, possible caused by burning tree roots or burning accumulations of debris,"

He said the samples will be sent to laboratories in Texas and out of state for analysis, but the results will not be known for six months to a year, he said. The spots are similar to burned sites found at the lake in the 1950s. Early tests indicated they were 40,000 years old — the oldest evidence of man's existence in North America. But the estimate later was deemed unreliable when it was discovered the samples were contaminated with lignite coal. Later tests of sanitized samples date them from 26,000 years ago.

A spear point found at the area was dated to 12,000 years ago, sparking scientific controversy on the validity of the finds and the tests.

District and local

When Midland County voters go to the polls Nov. 4, they'll be choosing among 14 candidates for six positions at the local level and one district level office. All four incumbents are favored by The Reporter-Telegram for re-election in their respective races.

U.S. Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock, a Democrat, faces no opposition from a Republican, but is contested by J.D. Webster, a Libertarian Party candidate.

Congressman Hance has distinguished himself in his first term of office, quickly grasping "the ropes" of Washington congressional life. He quickly minimized the anticipated effects of the retirement of longtime Congressman George C. Mahon, whom we all

John Biggs has been a peace justice for 19 years. That experience makes him a valuable resource to Midland County.

He has performed the many duties of his office capably through the years and should be returned for another term.

The other six candidates are seeking election to three posts for which no incumbent exists.

It's our opinion that C. DeWayne Davis is the best choice in the race for county commissioner of Precinct 3. Davis defeated incumbent Commissioner Jack Leonard in the May primary.

A former instructor of government, sociology and economics, Davis taught at both Midland High School and Midland College. His adherence to the principles of fairness and equality for all Midland County residents should make him a valuable addition to In the only local judicial race,

CHARLEY REESE

Real freedom also means not being financially bound

One day there must be a coalition between the honest left and the honest right in America if we are ever to set the nation on a proper economic

By honest, I mean those men and women who are genuinely concerned for the welfare of the individual and for liberty. Though some call themselves liberals and others call themselves conservatives they get at odds mainly over rhetoric, they are in fact all seeking the same goals.

The dishonest leftist is a statist whose goal is power and the dishonest rightist is a statist whose goal is power. One seeks power under the guise of socialism; the other under the guise of capitalism, but neither of them would leave us either free or You know, there are two kinds of freedom. One is political. If you can vote, assemble, speak and write as you wish, and if you are protected from the abuses of government power, you are politically free. The Bill of Rights is all about political freedom. But a second kind of freedom is economic. You are economically free if you are able to acquire and keep sufficient wealth — goods and property — to sustain life independent of either government or an employer.

Judged by this standard, few Americans - even those who consider themselves well off - are free. To understand what I'm saying you must remember that money isn't wealth.

Charley Reese

Money, whether it's a bank note, gold or wampum beads, is a medium of exchange and a means of measuring wealth. Wealth consists of real things

Let me give you an example. Suppose you find yourself stranded alone in a wilderness. If you have tools, clothing, weapons, food and water, you can survive. You have wealth. But suppose you have only a million dollars in cash. You couldn't survive. You see the cash would be worthless. There's nothing you can exchange it for and you can't eat it or wear it.

like land, tools, food and machines.

Now with that distinction in mind you can see what I mean when I say most of us are not free. Most of us don't own much wealth outright. We live in a mortgaged house and drive a mortgaged car. Our lives depend on maintaining a cash flow from our jobs or our pensions. We are dependent on the source of that cash flow whether it's an employer or a retirement fund That's why losing a job in our society is so devastating. If that cash flow is not resumed, you lose everything.

An ideal society, and this was the original ideal of America, would be a society of people who owned their homes outright and who had a store of wealth (savings) sufficient to sustain I don't mean a society of millionaires or a society of people who don't work, but a society in which labor eventually produced, provided you are frugal and dilligent, economic independence.

Now, sure, there are some Americans who have achieved this, but it seems clear to me the direction we are going is making it more and more difficult for people to achieve.

When government takes 42 cents out of every dollar you earn, when inflation robs the purchasing power of the remaining 58 cents, and when a progressive income tax eats up your pay increases, you have a very hard time accumulating a store of wealth. That's why we need to cut government spending: To cut the taxes to leave the individual more of what he earns to save and invest.

For the same reason, laws and regulations which make it difficult to operate a small business or to acquire and to use property also work against our economic freedom

If we are chained to job and a pension, we are serfs and it really doesn't make much difference whether we are dependents of the government or of corporations.

In such a society of free men there would always be those who for one reason or another would fail to achieve independence, but free people always have enough to share with their less fortunate neighbors. Serfs

Glenn questions timing of 'Stealth' disclosure

WASHINGTON - When Defense Secretary Harold Brown disclosed on Aug. 22 that the United States is developing a Stealth bomber, he blew a military secret that had been faithfully kept in its particulars, if not in its

Brown threw the spotlight on what had been a darkened silhouette. He revealed that prototypes of the radarproof planes had already been tested, a secret that his predecessors had managed to keep under wraps for more than a decade. There's no reason for me not to add that the planes flew undetected over hostile territory

Now that Brown has broken security, in fact, the Stealth story can safely e told, although some sensitive details should still be withheld.

Oddly enough, the story began with a routine contract with the Lockheed Corporation to modify two C-130s. These were huge military transport planes of the model that Libya's dictator Muammar Qaddafi has been trying to scrounge from the United States through everyone from President Carter's brother, Billy, to international swindler Robert Vesco.

At Lockheed's secret works in Burbank, Calif., sources told my associate Dale Van Atta, the C-130s were covered with radar-repellent paint and other coatings that scientists theorized should make the big planes "invisible" to enemy detection. Other devices were also installed to fool the radar scanners.

To test the radar-resistant techniques, the planes were sent on two ultra-secret test flights that convinced our technicians that they had developed the magic trick of the decade - now you see it, now you don't. Both of the planes penetrated hundreds of miles into hostile territory without a blip appearing on enemy radar screens. The experts claim that the Stealth technology can be used to make other military equipment, including tanks and trucks, invisible to

Reagan cautiously approaching 'greatest GOP opportunity'

It has been suspected that the Stealth story was leaked to offset Republican candidate Ronald Reagan's charges that Carter had neglected the national security. If this is a Republican suspicion, it is shared by at least one prominent Democrat - Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio. The former astronaut wrote a private letter to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence condemning the political games being played with the disclo-

Glenn deplored the "manner and timing" of the leak, which raised "the possibility that access to this information was controlled in such a way as to influence the (budget) actions of the Senate. Some members deeply involved in defense matters were briefed, others were not. While some members were kept totally in the dark, some staffers were actually shown the plane.

The Defense Department even released Stealth information to a journalist, Glenn complained, "two days before briefings were finally made available to certain congressional committees.'

Intelligence experts are concerned, meanwhile, that the Soviets may be able to develop inexpensive countermeasures to combat the publicized characteristics of a Stealth craft. Columbus' Pinta believed found

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — It's been 488 years since Columbus sailed with ships that became part of every American youngster's school litany: The Nina, the Pinta and the Santa Maria. Now, just in time for Columbus Day 1980, treasure hunters think they may have found the wreck of the Pinta.

Olin Frick and John Gasque, two Key West treasure hunters, aren't totally convinced the ship they found in 30 feet of water off the remote Turks and Caicos Islands in the Bahamas is the Pinta.

But scientists say an iron cannon and a crudely formed lead cannon ball removed from the wreck appear to be from the 15th century.

And historical records indicate the Pinta was one of the few ships in the vicinity of the islands when it went down in 1499 or 1500.

Next month, backed by a wealthy Dallas investor, Frick, Gasque and a team of 23 divers and archaeologists plan to return to the site to recover the remains of

"We plan to go over the wreck very, very carefully," Gasque said. "We will recover everything that we can find - right down to the last ballast stone.

Like all archaeological work, we may not be able to come up with absolute proof that it is the Pinta," Gasque said of the wreck, which he and his partner first spotted three years ago. "But if we find nothing to contradict it, we think the weight of the evidence will be awfully convincing."

Christopher Columbus took the Nina, the Pinta and the Santa Maria — all wooden sailing ships — on his maiden voyage to the New World in 1492. The Santa Maria is known to have been destroyed after running aground in December 1492, but the fates of the Nina and the Pinta were not known

The Nina accompanied Columbus on his four later voyages to the Americas and then disappeared from

The Pinta, too, slipped into obscurity, until Frick and Gasque got some help in researching a wreck.

From records of journeys in the Spanish archives and a 500-year-old tax report, historian and Natonal Geographic consultant Eugene Lyon has reconstructed the last journey of the Pinta. He says evidence indicates one of the Pinta's owners, Vincente Pinzon, was making a return trip to the New World around 1499 or

According to Lyon, Pinzon island-hopped for about six months in search of slaves and riches before a hurricane sank two vessels in his fleet of four.

Lyon says survivors variously reported the ships went down near "Barbua," "Barbulca," "Bavueca" and "Babeque." While none of those names appears on maps of the period, he said he is convinced the wreck is "within the ballpark" of possible sites.

Lyon now says he'll try to locate records of a lawsuit between the Pinta's owner and the tax collector of Seville. He says the records would list the fleet's cargo, enabling positive identification through artifacts recovered from the sunken vessel.

An agreement between Frick and Gasque's company, Caribbean Ventures Inc., and the government of the British Turks and Caicos gives the treasure hunters sole rights to salvage a number of 16th and 17th century shipwrecks in the area. The government will keep 30 percent of the find.

Reagan blitzing California:

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ronald Reagan, trying to put a padlock on the nation's biggest bloc of electoral votes, courts Californians today in a whirlwind series of rallies around Los Angeles.

Heading into the final three weeks of the presidential race, Reagan chartered helicopters and buses to speed his campaign entourage to appearances in six satellite communities of Los Angeles

From a morning rally at Claremont College in Pomona, to a noontime speech before senior citizens in Seal Beach, and an evening appearance at a Jewish Temple in Van Nuys, it was a colorful program scripted for coverage by television news cam-

Indeed, television networks, local TV stations and two or three radio stations chartered their own flotilla of helicopters to keep up with the candidate's activities.

Reagan also had stops at a Huntington Beach restaurant, at a Fountain Valley rally with singer Pat Boone, and at a Riverside shopping center with actor Efram Zimbalist

With 45 electoral votes, California alone holds one-sixth of the 270 electoral votes Reagan needs to move into the White House.

Reagan, twice elected governor of California, is generally believed to have an edge over President Carter in the state. Reagan pollster Richard

Wirthlin said the GOP candidate's lead ranges from 10 percent to 15 percent in private polls.

Overall, the candidates are believed to be fighting for 10 battleground states with 256 electoral votes. Nine of those are at least leaning if only slightly — toward Reagan.
 These are: California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Texas, Ohio, Michigan, New

Jersey, Florida and Wisconsin. Carter is believed to be ahead in New York, which has 41 electoral votes, the second biggest bloc in the country.

Reagan, who rested over the weekend at his home in Los Angeles, plans to spend much of the three weeks remaining in the campaign in the key states.

He arrives back at his rented estate in northern Virginia late Sataurday night, takes a one-day break, and then plunges into the final two weeks of the campaign, beginning with appearances on Oct. 20 in Washington, Cincinnati, and Lexington, Ky.

Reagan press secretary Lyn Nof-ziger said the Republican candidate would spend most of the balance of the campaign in the big elector-al-vote states of the Midwest and

"The electoral votes are what's important," he said. "The last part of the campaign you concentrate on getting the electoral votes."

NEW YORK (AP) - Seeking votes among New York's politically active Jewish community, John B. Anderson says he would pull the United States out of the United Nations if the world body voted to expel Israel

Wearing a yarmulke and appearing in a highly ornate Jewish synagogue on New York's Upper West Side, the independent presidential candidate said, "I don't think we should retain membership in a body that would expel a democratic state like Israel.'

At the start of a nine-day coast-to-coast campaign tour, Anderson fielded questions for an hour and a half in a locally broadcast radio probgram at the B'nai Jeshrun Synagogue.

To generally favorable response from a live audience of about 1,500 persons, Anderson declared, "I feel a bond for the people of Israel."

He spelled out in detail what he said was a 20-year record of strong pro-Israeli votes and positions during his career as a Republican congressman

They include opposition to the sale of U.S. fighter planes to Jordan, which Andearson noted is now supporting Iraq in that country's war with Iran.

Additionally, Anderson said he would oppose establishing any permanent U.S. military bases in Israel or anywhere else in the Middle East, except for facilities which might aid in the rapid delivery of supplies to Israel or other U.S. allies

The congressman also cited his support for making Jerusalem the Israeli capital, but only as the final stage of a Middle East peace negotiation.

On only one issue did Anderson appear to split from the current policies of the Irraeli government, saying the establishment of settlements in Arab lands which are heavily populated are "obstacles to

Waco raid closes gambling operation

WACO, Texas (AP) - Local gamblers lost a fun house here when state troopers and Texas Rangers converged on a small home and scooped up $20,000 cash, assorted gambling paraphrenalia, and arrested 22 people in a surprise raid.

Investigators say the sophisticated operation may be only the "tip of the iceberg" of Central Texas gambling, but police were calling it was the biggest raid in Waco's recent history.

"This may be a situation where the grand jury will want to conduct its own investigation," said police legal adviser Richard Carter. "Our goal is to find out if there are other people involved.

The small house contained two blackjack tables, a casino-style dice table and assorted gambling paraphernalia such as cards, dice and chips, officials A pickup truck loaded with 20 officers - along with several unmarked and marked police units and a white van - converged on the house during the raid, authorities said. The people inside offered no resistence, police said. Carter said the raid may not have collared everyone involved in the gambling operation, which police believed operated only on Friday nights. Arrested early Saurday and charged with felony counts of gambling promotion were Randy Ray Roberts, 26, of China Spring and Gerhard Hefele, 26, of Waco. Both were charged by Justice of the Peace Clarence Weikel and released on $10,000 bond each.

John Thomas Ash of Waco and Henry Sprague III of Waco also were charged with felony counts of gambling promotion. They were released on $5,000

The other 18 people were arrested and charged with misdemeanor counts of gambling. Bonds of $53.50 were set.

District and local

When Midland County voters go to the polls Nov. 4, they'll be choosing among 14 candidates for six positions at the local level and one district level office. All four incumbents are favored by The Reporter-Telegram for re-election in their respective races.

U.S. Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock, a Democrat, faces no opposition from a Republican, but is contested by J.D. Webster, a Libertarian Party candidate.

Congressman Hance has distinguished himself in his first term of office, quickly grasping "the ropes" of Washington congressional life. He quickly minimized the anticipated effects of the retirement of longtime Congressman George C. Mahon, whom we all admire.

He is one of the brightest, most capable first-term congressmen we've had the pleasure of knowing. His future is bright and the 19th Congressional District will benefit if he is returned to office.

As sheriff, Dallas Smith has shown that he is capable and qualified. Under his guidance, the sheriff's department has performed ably and efficiently.

Smith has improved pay scales for department personnel and stresses law enforcement education and expertise for his deputies. He should be returned to his job for another four-year

His experience would be sorely missed if he was not returned to his position.

John Biggs has been a peace justice for 19 years. That experience makes him a valuable resource to Midland County.

He has performed the many duties of his office capably through the years and should be returned for another term.

The other six candidates are seeking election to three posts for which no incumbent exists.

It's our opinion that C. DeWayne Davis is the best choice in the race for county commissioner of Precinct 3. Davis defeated incumbent Commissioner Jack Leonard in the May primary.

A former instructor of government, sociology and economics, Davis taught at both Midland High School and Midland College. His adherence to the principles of fairness and equality for all Midland County residents should make him a valuable addition to

CHARLEY REESE

Real freedom also means not being financially bound

One day there must be a coalition between the honest left and the honest right in America if we are ever to set the nation on a proper economic

By honest, I mean those men and women who are genuinely concerned for the welfare of the individual and for liberty. Though some call themselves liberals and others call themselves conservatives they get at odds mainly over rhetoric, they are in fact all seeking the same goals.

The dishonest leftist is a statist whose goal is power and the dishonest rightist is a statist whose goal is power. One seeks power under the guise of socialism; the other under the guise of capitalism, but neither of them would leave us either free or prosperous. You know, there are two kinds of freedom. One is political. If you can vote, assemble, speak and write as you wish, and if you are protected from the abuses of government power, you are politically free. The Bill of Rights is all about political freedom. But a second kind of freedom is

economic. You are economically free if you are able to acquire and keep sufficient wealth — goods and property - to sustain life independent of either government or an employer.

Judged by this standard, few Americans - even those who consider themselves well off - are free. To understand what I'm saying you must remember that money isn't wealth.

Charley Reese

Money, whether it's a bank note, gold or wampum beads, is a medium of exchange and a means of measuring wealth. Wealth consists of real things like land, tools, food and machines.

Let me give you an example. Suppose you find yourself stranded alone in a wilderness. If you have tools, clothing, weapons, food and water, you can survive. You have wealth. But suppose you have only a million dollars in cash. You couldn't survive. You see the cash would be worthless. There's nothing you can exchange it for and you can't eat it or wear it.

Now with that distinction in mind, you can see what I mean when I say most of us are not free. Most of us don't own much wealth outright. We live in a mortgaged house and drive a mortgaged car. Our lives depend on maintaining a cash flow from our jobs or our pensions. We are dependent on the source of that cash flow whether it's an employer or a retirement fund. That's why losing a job in our society is so devastating. If that cash flow is not resumed, you lose everything.

An ideal society, and this was the original ideal of America, would be a society of people who owned their homes outright and who had a store of wealth (savings) sufficient to sustain them I don't mean a society of millionaires or a society of people who don't work, but a society in which labor eventually produced, provided you are frugal and dilligent, economic independence. Now, sure, there are some Americans who have achieved this, but it seems clear to me the direction we are going is making it more and more difficult for people to achieve.

When government takes 42 cents out of every dollar you earn, when inflation robs the purchasing power of the remaining 58 cents, and when a progressive income tax eats up your pay increases, you have a very hard time accumulating a store of wealth. That's why we need to cut government spending: To cut the taxes to leave the individual more of what he earns to save and invest.

For the same reason, laws and regulations which make it difficult to operate a small business or to acquire and to use property also work against our economic freedom.

If we are chained to job and a pension, we are serfs and it really doesn't make much difference whether we are dependents of the government or of corporations. In such a society of free men there would always be those who for one reason or another would fail to achieve independence, but free people always have enough to share with their less fortunate neighbors. Serfs

The Defense Department even released Stealth information to a journalist, Glenn complained, "two days before briefings were finally made available to certain congressional committees.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — It's been 488 years since Columbus sailed with ships that became part of every American youngster's school litany: The Nina, the Pinta and the Santa Maria. Now, just in time for Columbus Day 1980, treasure hunters think they may have found the wreck of the Pinta.

Olin Frick and John Gasque, two Key West treasure hunters, aren't totally convinced the ship they found in 30 feet of water off the remote Turks and Caicos Islands in the Bahamas is the Pinta.

But scientists say an iron cannon and a crudely formed lead cannon ball removed from the wreck appear to be from the 15th century.

And historical records indicate the Pinta was one of the few ships in the vicinity of the islands when it went down in 1499 or 1500.

"We plan to go over the wreck very, very carefully," Gasque said. "We will recover everything that we can find - right down to the last ballast stone."

"Like all archaeological work, we may not be able to come up with absolute proof that it is the Pinta," Gasque said of the wreck, which he and his partner first spotted three years ago. "But if we find nothing to contradict it, we think the weight of the evidence will be

Christopher Columbus took the Nina, the Pinta and the Santa Maria — all wooden sailing ships — on his maiden voyage to the New World in 1492. The Santa Maria is known to have been destroyed after running aground in December 1492, but the fates of the Nina and the Pinta were not known.

The Nina accompanied Columbus on his four later voyages to the Americas and then disappeared from nistorical record.

The Pinta, too, slipped into obscurity, until Frick and Gasque go* some help in researching a wreck.

From records of journeys in the Spanish archives and a 500-year-old tax report, historian and Natonal Geographic consultant Eugene Lyon has reconstructed the last journey of the Pinta. He says evidence indicates one of the Pinta's owners, Vincente Pinzon, was making a return trip to the New World around 1499 or

According to Lyon, Pinzon island-hopped for about six months in search of slaves and riches before a hurricane sank two vessels in his fleet of four.

Lyon says survivors variously reported the ships went down near "Barbua," "Barbulca," "Bavueca" and "Babeque." While none of those names appears on maps of the period, he said he is convinced the wreck is "within the ballpark" of possible sites.

Lyon now says he'll try to locate records of a lawsuit between the Pinta's owner and the tax collector of Seville. He says the records would list the fleet's cargo, enabling positive identification through artifacts recovered from the sunken vessel.

An agreement between Frick and Gasque's company, Caribbean Ventures Inc., and the government of the British Turks and Caicos gives the treasure hunters sole rights to salvage a number of 16th and 17th century shipwrecks in the area. The government will keep 30 percent of the find.

Reagan blitzing California:

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ronald Reagan, trying to put a padlock on the nation's biggest bloc of electoral votes, courts Californians today in a whirlwind series of rallies around Los

Heading into the final three weeks of the presidential race, Reagan chartered helicopters and buses to speed his campaign entourage to appearances in six satellite communities of Los Angeles.

From a morning rally at Claremont College in Pomona, to a noontime speech before senior citizens in Seal Beach, and an evening appearance at a Jewish Temple in Van Nuys, it was a colorful program scripted for coverage by television news cam-

Indeed, television networks, local TV stations and two or three radio stations chartered their own flotilla of helicopters to keep up with the candidate's activities.

Reagan also had stops at a Huntington Beach restaurant, at a Fountain Valley rally with singer Pat Boone, and at a Riverside shopping center with actor Efram Zimbalist

With 45 electoral votes, California alone holds one-sixth of the 270 electoral votes Reagan needs to move into the White House.

Reagan, twice elected governor of California, is generally believed to have an edge over President Carter in Wirthlin said the GOP candidate's lead ranges from 10 percent to 15 percent in private polls.

Overall, the candidates are be-lieved to be fighting for 10 battle-ground states with 256 electoral votes. Nine of those are at least leaning — if only slightly — toward Reagan. These are: California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Texas, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, Florida and Wisconsin. Carter is believed to be ahead in New York, which has 41 electoral votes, the second biggest bloc in the country.

Reagan, who rested over the weekend at his home in Los Angeles, plans to spend much of the three weeks remaining in the campaign in the key states.

After today's rallies and a news conference in Los Angeles on Tuesday, Reagan flies to Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Sioux Falls, S.D.

On Wednesday he stumps for votes in Ohio, before heading for stops later in the week in Michigan, New York, Illinois and Missouri.

He arrives back at his rented estate in northern Virginia late Sataurday night, takes a one-day break, and then plunges into the final two weeks of the campaign, beginning with appearances on Oct. 20 in Washington, Cincinnati, and Lexington, Ky.

Reagan press secretary Lyn Nof-ziger said the Republican candidate would spend most of the balance of the campaign in the big elector-al-vote states of the Midwest and

"The electoral votes are what's important," he said. "The last part of the campaign you concentrate on getting the electoral votes."

Israel in U. Anderson wants

NEW YORK (AP) - Seeking votes among New York's politically active Jewish community, John B. Anderson says he would pull the United States out of the United Nations if the world body voted to expel

Wearing a yarmulke and appearing in a highly ornate Jewish synagogue on New York's Upper West Side, the independent presidential candidate said, "I don't think we should retain membership in a body that would expel a democratic state like Israel.'

At the start of a nine-day coast-to-coast campaign tour, Anderson fielded questions for an hour and a half in a locally broadcast radio probgram at the B'nai Jeshrun Synagogue.

To generally favorable response from a live audience of about 1,500 persons, Anderson declared, "I feel a bond for the people of Israel."

He spelled out in detail what he said was a 20-year record of strong pro-Israeli votes and positions during his career as a Republican congressman from Illinois.

They include opposition to the sale of U.S. fighter planes to Jordan, which Andearson noted is now supporting Iraq in that country's war with Iran. Additionally, Anderson said he would oppose establishing any permanent U.S. military bases in Israel or anywhere else in the Middle East, except for facilities which might aid in the rapid delivery of supplies to Israel or other U.S. allies

The congressman also cited his support for making Jerusalem the Israeli capital, but only as the final stage of a Middle East peace negotiation.

On only one issue did Anderson appear to split from the current policies of the Irraeli government, saying the establishment of settlements in Arab lands which are heavily populated are "obstacles to

In another appeal for ethnic votes in two-days of campaigning in New York, Anderson was to join President Carter today for a march in the city's Columbus Day parade

Then, from New York, Anderson planned to skip across the country with stops in Philadelphia, Milwaukee, Chicago, Oregon, Washington state, California, Minnesota and Upstate New York. Earlier Sunday, during an appearance on CBS'

Waco raid closes gambling operation

WACO, Texas (AP) - Local gamblers lost a fun house here when state troopers and Texas Rangers converged on a small home and scooped up $20,000 cash, assorted gambling paraphrenalia, and arrested 22 people in a surprise raid.

several unmarked and marked police units and a white van - converged on the house during the raid, authorities said. The people inside offered no resistence, police said.

Carter said the raid may not have collared everyone involved in the gambling operation, which police believed operated only on Friday nights.

Arrested early Saurday and charged with felony counts of gambling promotion were Randy Ray Roberts, 26, of China Spring and Gerhard Hefele, 26, of Waco. Both were charged by Justice of the Peace Clarence Weikel and released on $10,000 bond each.

John Thomas Ash of Waco and Henry Sprague III of Waco also were charged with felony counts of gambling promotion. They were released on $5,000

The other 18 people were arrested and charged with misdemeanor counts of gambling. Bonds of $53.50 were set.

Judge isn't taking broken foot sitting down

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Lansing District Court Judge William Collette isn't taking his broken foot sitting down because this is the time of the year for running.

Mill power making a healthy comeback

By DON BENSON Associated Press Writer

HOPKINTON, R.I. (AP) - Bill Johnson, a bushy-bearded geologist who grew up in a miller's house beside an Ohio grist mill, found himself working in the city at age 34 - and getting nervous that it might run out

But when he and his family left crowded Providence four years ago for a quieter life in this small New England mill town, Johnson had no idea he would soon be leading a kind of technological renaissance.

"I basically began to get nervous with life in the city. I figured it might not be too swell if the energy situation got out of hand. And the idea of self-sufficiency began to be quite at-

Willing to take the chance on his own, Johnson established a new home and a small machine shop in a rundown, deserted, 135-year-old brick

Adjacent to the mill was a small brook and dam which he thought might provide hydro power to generate electricity for his needs. But Johnson soon discovered he could find neither the right equipment to harness that power nor the necessary technology to build it.

"I found out that other people had had the same problems," he said. "That's why none of these old dams are being used - nobody's building equipment anymore."

Companies that had once made turbines to harness water power from small dams had either gone out of business or had turned their attention to building larger turbines that generated too much power and were too

The smallest unit we could find gotten turbines the size we wanted in Europe, but they cost too much to import.

It took months of thumbing through old magazines and catalogs before Johnson discovered a turbine he thought could be adapted to fit his mill. The European design had never been tested in North America, he found, although students at the University of Oregon had experimented with a similar design more than 30 years ago and had published a pamphlet about their work

This cross-flow turbine, he explained, is more efficient because it causes moving water to spin completely around the power wheel instead of simply brushing the water as it passes by. It is the turning of this wheel that generates electricity.

Eventually it became apparent to the former teacher and consulting engineer that as long as he was developing the skills to harness water power, he might as well put them to better use.

With the help of a technician, an engineer and a consultant, Johnson formed a company called New Found Power to develop and test smaller turbines that businesses and ho-meowners could use.

"We decided to change course from just working for ourselves to building the equipment for others," he said. 'No one else was doing it.

The U.S. Department of Energy found out about Johnson's project and provided an inital grant of $4,800 in the fall of 1979 to help the company restore the mill site and install its first turbine. After conducting tests on the device, Johnson said, he discovered there were many ways to improve the construction and economics of its design.

Meanwhile, the Ohio native began hearing from people in other parts of the country who wanted to know how to use ponds and small streams near their homes to produce electricity.

"As energy becomes more valuable," he said, "it seems like the need for this gets greater and greater and the idea becomes more attractive.

"For someone really into self-sufficiency, the right combination of equipment and water volume can produce all the power you need."

Last spring DOE offered New Found Power another grant - one that Johnson hopes will offset more than half of the projected $192,000 cost of developing a standard piece of machinery for home and business use. This one, he said, will utilize a better, more flexible design that will be fairly inexpensive.

"I would say we'd have to keep the cost down to less than $5,000 or it wouldn't be worth it, " he said. "When you realize some people spend $2,000 a year or more on energy for their houses, it'll pay for itself in just a few years.

With his blue jeans, bushy beard and friendly manner, Johnson projects the image of what one might expect a pioneer to look like. In the early history of this country, he said, waterfalls and small ponds were perfectly adapted for mill wheels, which produced steady and reliable sources

He predicts a steady increase in the number of people who will look again to a more basic style of living to save energy and money.

"What it'll be, essentially, is a return to what was.

If the grant is finally approved, Johnson expects to have design testing on the small units completed by next spring. From that point on, he said, New Found Power would probably assemble the equipment, perform on-site evaluation and installation, and perhaps handle sales.

But becoming a business tycoon is not in his plans, he said.

"I don't want to run a factory. I want to deal in water power."

Students wait to get sugar fix

DALLAS (AP) - High school students here must wait until 1 p.m. each day to satisfy their sugar cravings. The deadline is part of a new U.S.

Food and Drug Administration guideline that affects schools with federally administered food programs.

Students at 38 Dallas schools are forbidden from buying soft drinks, hard candy, water ices and Cracker Jacks before 1 p.m. The Food and Drug Administration will allow students to purchasing candies with peanuts, peanut butter, caramel and coconut in the morning hours.

Study urges more support for small solar businesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is giving inadequate support to small businesses for the development of solar energy, a small independent study group said Saturday.

The Citizens' Energy Project, a study group that focuses on energy matters from the consumer perspective, issued a report summarizing the expansion of major petroleum companies into alternative energy sources. The group then went on to argue that the large corporations' tendency to favor costly, highly technical solar devices could squeeze out cheaper, simpler approaches offered by small companies.

It recommended federal legislation to prevent major corporations from gaining control of competing energy sources. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, plans to schedule hearings by the Senate antitrust subcommittee on the question of ownership and control of the solar energy industry, his spokesman

Nation's orange crop should hit new record, USDA forecast says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite hot, dry weather, the nation's orange crop should hit a record in the 1980-81 season, 276 million boxes, according to the Agriculture Department's first citrus forecast. Department officials said Friday that Florida's citrus groves were in good-to-excellent condition despite hot, dry weather, and noted that Hurricane Allen had brought needed rain for groves in Texas. The department predicted a crop of 276 million boxes, which would be 1 percent above last season's record and 31 percent more than the 1978-79 crop.

The nation's grapefruit crop should total 68.7 million boxes, 2 percent less than last season and 6 percent more than the 1978-79 crop, the Agriculture Department said. Lemon production was forecast at 25.9 million boxes, up 25 percent over last year and 32 percent higher than two years ago.

Drought is creeping evil leaving scary ugliness

By JULES LOH AP Special Correspondent

OLD TAPPAN, N.J. (AP) - Of all of nature's ways of teaching humility to man, the most insidious is drought.

Earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, floods, tornadoes, these mighty menaces announce themselves grandly, call attention to themselves. Drought does not. Drought, no less a menace, is a sneak.

It sneaked up on this area recently. A confused, stunned 14-year-old ran home with the news.

"Our lake is dry. Lake Tappan is dry. I walked all the way across it. It was really ugly. Kind of scary, too."
In the world of a 14-year-old, a big lake, in this case a reservoir, has a special place. It is clearly the dominant feature of his slice of the planet, not so much a source of water as a place of adventure.

In all his young years of exploration and wonder, the lake had never failed him and now it was dry, and there had been no warning of that, and he seemed to feel personally betrayed.

But, then, drought is personal be-cause everyone is individually vul-nerable. There is no huddling together in a storm shelter, no stacking sandbags along a levee. Only nature can stop a drought, when nature is good and ready.

The National Weather Service keeps a table called the Palmer Index Chart to rank the intensity of drought across America.

The drought in this area is graded "severe," as bad as the drought that crept up on Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas and much of the southeast, not as bad as the "extreme" drought suf-fered in Wyoming, Montana and the Even words like "extreme" and 'severe" do not describe the creeping evil of a drought. Only when a boy's own lake dries up before his eyes does the scary ugliness sink in.

The boy's father recalls a wicked drought in Texas during the 1950s. Without alarm or siren or outcry the ground simply dried up, and with it many people's lives.

He remembers ranchers gathered over coffee at a cafe, speaking in tones usually heard in a funeral par-

They were discussing the use of a blowtorch as a farm implement. Their need was to burn the spines off the prickly pear cactus so the cattle would have something, anything, to eat. It had come to that.

Every Bogart fan knows what the real treasure of Sierra Madre was. It was water, not gold.

Drought robs man of that treasure, drop by missed drop, without any-body noticing, until it happens that one awful morning the lake is dry. The governor landed his helicopter on that cracked lake bed the other day to be photographed there, to tell peo-ple to pay attention, to ration their water, the treasure is gone.

He never had to do that, of course, when a hurricane hio this coast. Hurricanes are out in the open. They don't Apparently his message got through. That 14-year-old's sister, who is nine, appeared downstairs in her bathrobe the other night carrying

"This is the water I used to brush my teeth," she said. "Do you have a plant I can pour it on?"

Maybe it takes eyes young enough to view a lake in wonder to realize how scary it is when it is no longer

Two youths killed, two hurt after fall during hayride

LOWVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Two young people on a hayride sponsored by a Mennonite church group were killed and two others were injured when they fell off the wagon and were run over.

Sheriff's deputies said Kimberly Beebee, 11, and Tina Besaw, 20, both of Watertown, were run over when a board gave way on the front of the wagon and four of about 40 passengers toppled off.

Karen Besaw, 18, sister of one of the dead, was listed in fair condition at the Lewis County hospital Saturday. Gary Ayers, 9, of Watertown, was also injured and was expected to undergo plastic surgery.

Apartment fires in Chicago kill five, injure seven others

CHICAGO (AP) - Two apartment fires in the Chicago area during the night a mother and two children were killed when fire broke out on the third floor of a three story frame apartment building in suburban Palatine, Cook County sheriff's police said. A policeman and a bystander suffered minor injuries. Two men were killed Friday night on Chicago's South Side when fire swept through the top two floors of their apartment building. Five firefighters sustained minor injuries. killed five people and injured seven others, authorities said Saturday.

Georgia's first black federal judge among those honored by NAACP

ATLANTA (AP) — U.S. District Judge Horace Ward, the first black federal judge in Georgia, was among those honored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Ward, who is credited with opening the University of Georgia to black students, received the NAACP's Walter White Award at an awards dinner.

In 1959, Ward became the first black man to apply to University of Georgia Law School. His application was denied, but he returned to Georgia after completing his law degree at Northwestern University in 1960 to fight the legal battle which eventually opened the university to black students.

Los Angeles City Hall ceremony becomes international incident

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A flag-raising ceremony honoring Taiwan's independence has touched a diplomatic sore spot with the People's Republic of China,

The U.S. State Department asked the city to "disassociate itself" from the event after the ceremony at City Hall on Friday, which went on as scheduled despite a formal protest filed by China.

The salute to Taiwan's Oct. 10 Independence Day is part of a 30-year tradition here. The city's participation was requested by the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association and approved by the City Council last month.

Contaminated water from Titan II silo destroyed by firm hired by Air Force

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Energy Systems Co. of El Dorado has destroyed the first truckload of water contaminated by diesel fuel and chemicals from the Titan II missile silo near Damascus.

The company has been hired by the Air Force to destroy at least 150,000 gallons of the wastes from an explosion Sept. 19 that wrecked the missle site and killed one man.

Melvyn Bell, Energy Systems Co. president, said the waste was incinerated in a test Friday. The contaminated water contains hydrazine, nitrates and diesel fuel, a mixture that has been described as moderately hazardous by state health department officials.

California group wants no more refugees to settle in their state

YOUR BIRTHDAY TO-DAY: Those born on this date are versatile, peaceable and mindful of their responsibilities to others. In the year ahead, expect a new emphasis on joint financial endeavors. A confident, positive attitude will be the key factor in a substantial career or business victory. Those who have expressed doubts in the past now rally around, and a network of valuable friendships is developed.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Investments are subject to review and change. A reputation for being on the ball will result in extra income. Discuss new ideas with an astute loved one.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You may get a chance to display a variety of unsuspected talents. An influential acquaintance may soon be working to further your in-

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Personal style may undergo changes as the result of some new advice. Some one may be trying to work against you behind the scenes. Keep up on the latest developments in your field.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cooperation may be in short supply at place of employment today. Be careful not to isolate yourself from those in positions of influence.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Follow the dictates of good judgment even if emotions draw you in another direction. All the facts may not be known yet! Risk-taking of all types is best avoided today. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept.

♦A83 ♥752 ♦KJ1084 ♦Q10 The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 Pass 1 0 1 + 3 O Pass

What action do you take?

A .- This is a difficult hand to judge. You could have a slam, or the heart weakness could prove fatal to a game. For the moment, we recommend a cue-bid of three spades. That announces a game-going hand and hints at a slam, but unless partner does something dramatic, we would be content with game. Q.2-As South, vulnerable, you hold:

A.- Be sure that your suits are neatly arranged as you place your dummy on the table. There is no reason why you should even think about converting to four hearts, unless you know that partner is certifiable. Assuming that he still possesses even the slightest vestige of sanity, he is saying that he thinks he can make nine tricks at no trump despite the enemy bidding. If he wanted to hear about your hearts, he would have doubled. In all probability, partner has a running minor suit, a stopper in spades and probably a trick outside.

Q.3-Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♦KJ1062 ♥83 ♦J54 ♦852 The bidding has proceeded: North East South West Pass 14 Pass Pass 3 0

What action do you take? A .- If it were legal to retreat to one heart, we would suggest that course. However, the opponents are unlikely to accept this bid. You have even less than the law permits for you original response, so there is not a reason in the world why you should want to act over partner's non-forcing jump rebid of his own suit. Pass.

Q.4-Both vulnerable, as South you hold: +Q5 ♥976 ♦Q643 +A754 The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

Pass 1 NT Pass 2 + Pass What action do you take? A.- The important consideration is not to persist with no trump. Your stoppers in the minor suits will not stand up under assault. You should take a preference to three hearts. Indeed, with a conservative partner we would venture four hearts. With three trumps, an ace and a doubleton honor in partner's second suit, this is a most suitable supporting

What action do you take? A .- If we were forced to choose between a pass and six diamonds, we would opt for the latter! We might not have much, but what we do have is gold. Partner is short. in clubs, and we have a working queen and a good six-card trump suit. Failure to bid five diamonds will certainly earn you a nomination for

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♦ Pass 1 ♦ Pass 1 NT Pass 3 NT Pass Pass Pass

What is your opening lead?

A. - Against no trump, lead fourth best from your longest and strongest suit. In this case, that is a heart. Your major suits are of equal length, but the hearts are better. To illustrate what might happen, suppose that partner has the queen in the suit you lead. A heart lead might enable you to collect three heart tricks when you regain the lead, but you will still be struggling to set up your fourth spade after a spade lead.

PEKING (AP) - A legendary actor known as the "Chinese Clark Gable" - once persecuted and imprisoned by the wife of the late Chairman Mao Tse-tung — died Friday of cancer in a Peking hospital, the Xinhua news agency reported. He was 66.

Zhao Dan was regarded by many as China's greatest film stars. His life of brilliant successes, persecution and imprisonment parallels the history of the arts in China just before and after 1949, when the Communists took over.

Mao's successor as the Communist Party chairman, Hua Guofeng, who is not considered a patron of the arts, made an unannounced and modest visit Thursday to Zhao's bedside. Even a taxi driver wept on hearing that he had been hospitaized. Zhao recently signed to play his first role in 10 years in a Chinese-Japanese production, "The Unfinished Game of Chess." Just last week several of his vintage films were shown in London at the National Film

Theater. Handsome and versatile, he was known for playing both noble historical roles and the parts of the lowliest paupers in pre-Communist

"The arts should bring people beauty, truth and happiness," Zhao had said in a recent interview with a Western friend,

Pat Wilson of London. "Great ups and downs, mine is a strange fate,' Zhao wrote in a poem published in the April issue of Chinese Litera-

"Twice in jail, yet my hair remains black. "Sour, sweet, bitter

Jiang Qing, now in prison and facing charges of treason, is said to have hated Zhao because he knew of her past in Shanghai, which has been described as undistinguished and, by some, as tarnished.

As stage actors in 1935 they starred together in Ibsen's "The Doll's House," with the part of Nora played by Jiang Qing, then known as Lan Ping, Chinese for blue apple.

Zhao married his first wife in a ceremony with two other couples, including Jiang Qing who married a theater critic. The three newleywed couples went on their

This $5 bill is well traveled, but Josefine gets it back

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Imagine Josefine Frank's surprise when she discovered that a $5 bill she received in change at a local store was marked, "To Josefine Frank from Uncle Ted."

The 16-year-old girl knew she had seen the bill someplace before — eight years earlier, in fact, when the bill was given to her as a birthday present.

Her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Richard of Security, had sent the $5 bill to her home in Germany in 1972. They later visited the girl in Germany, exchanged some money, and brought back the inscribed bill with them and

During a recent visit to Colorado Springs, Josefine was stunned when a store clerk handed her that same bill as change for a purchase she had made.

The operator reported a calculated absolute open flow of 1,860,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with a gas-liquid ratio of 114,00-1. Gravity of the liquid is 66.3 degrees.

The pay zone was acidized with 4,500 gallons and fractured with 40,750 gallons. The project, scheduled as a wildcat, is bottomed at 6,210 feet and 41/2-inch casing is cwmented at that point. Plugged back depth is 6,140 feet.

The conglomerate was topped at 6,083 feet on ground elevation of 1,830 feet. Other tops include the Canyon, 4,395 feet; Palo Pinto lime, 4,906 feet; Strawn reef, 5,615 feet, and Mississippian, 6,120 feet.

Wellsite is 1,980 feet from north and 2,100 feet from east lines of section 1, I&GN survey.

CROCKETT COMPLETIONS

J. Cleo Thompson of Dallas No. 2-23 University "E" is a new well in the University 31 (Strawn-detrital) field of Crockett County, 101/2 miles west of

The 10th well in the field and 5/8 mile southeast of comparable production, it finaled for a calculated absolute open flow of 1,900,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with a gas-liquid ratio of 250,448-1. Gravity of the fluid is 48.8 degrees.

The final was taken on perforations at 9,101-9,145 feet after a 500-gallon acid treatment.

Drilled as a wildcat, the project is bottomed at 9,175 feet, and the 41/4inch casing is set at 9,187 feet.

Location is 1,320 feet from south and east lines of section 33, block 31, University Lands survey.

J. Cleo Thompson No. 1-3 University has been completed from the Can-yon as a gas well in Crockett County. It is 3% miles northwest of a recent 51/2-mile northwest extension to the Ozona (Canyon gas) field. It has been assigned to that pool.

It finaled for a calculated absolute open flow potential of 1,250,000 cubic fee of gas per day, through perforations from 6,513 to 7,464 feet after a 2,000-gallon acid treatment.

The well was drilled as a wildcat to 9,460 feet and 41/2-inch casing is set at

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 3, block 31, University Lands survey.

The American (Canyon gas) field of Crockett County gained a one-mile northwest extension with completion of Dameron Petroleum Corp. of Midland, No. 1-20A Armond Hoover.

The Crockett County well finaled for a calculated absolute open flow potential of 900,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 7,134 to 7,782 feet after a 52,000-gallon fracture job.

Location is 30 miles southwest of Ozona and 1,000 feet from the most northerly north line and 500 feet from the most northerly west line of section 20, block NN, GC&SF survey.

The Holt Ranch multipay field of Crockett County gained its second 1,000-foot oil producer with completion of Robert M. Wynne of Midland No. 2 Gulf-Williams, six miles north of The well, 3/8 mile southwest of the other producer, pumped 15 barrels of 298-gravity oil and 51 barrels of water on 24-hour potential test. Completion was through perforations from 967 to 1,030 feet after a 1,750-gallon acid treatment and an 8,000-gallon fracture job. Drilled as a wildcat, it is bottomed at 1,473 feet and 51/2-inch casing is set at total depth. The plugged back depth is 1,060 feet. Location is 1,097 feet from south and 2,340 feet from east lines of section 14, block OP, GC&SF survey.

WARD EXTENDER

Paul Page of Eldorado No. 1-142 Wilson has been completed 1.5 miles north of the Rhoda Walker (Canyon 5900) field of Ward County, six miles east of Barstow.

It finaled from the Canyon 5900 pay for a daily pumping potential of 22 barrels of 40-gravity oil and 780 barrels of water, through perforations from 5,798 to 6,334 feet. The gas-oil ratio is 724-1.

The pay was acidized with 3,000 gallons and fractured with 35,000 gal-

Wellsite is 660 feet from northwest and 1980 feet from southwest lines of section 142, block 34, H&TC survey.

Stock market gains

NEW YORK (AP) - Stock prices gained slightly in a session interrupted by a computer problem which halted trading for 54 minutes this morning.

Stock prices which had been slipping in the early going, were up slightly shortly after trading re-

Trading was halted from 11:11 a.m. to 12:05 p.m. on the New York and American stock exchanges because of a problem in the market data system and failure of the backup system.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 1.88 at 952.56 as of 12:30 p.m. The average had been off less than a point just before the trading halt.

Gaining issues outnumbered losers by a tiny fraction on the NYSE. Trading volume was expected to be low today because many banks and

Trial set to decide who gets cash

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - A federal trial has been set for Feb. 24 in Waco to determine whether two teen-agers can keep $483,604 they unearthed on a South Texas ranch three years ago.

U.S. District Judge Fred Shannon scheduled the trial to finally disburse the cash seized by Waco police on Jan.
31, 1977, from James Dean Bridges and Percy Arnold Garcia, both 15 years old at the time.

The Internal Revenue Service, the state of Texas, McClennan County and the two teen-agers have filed claims for the money and a 1977 Thunderbird car the pair was driving at the time of their arrest.

Bridges and Garcia told police they found the money on a ranch near Alice and went on a spending spree, buying the new car in Dallas, before they were stopped on a traffic viola-tion by Waco police.

"It's the only 1977 Thunderbird with 300 miles on it," said Garcia's attor-ney, Charles Barrera.

Police found $483,604 in currency in two suitcases in the car's trunk. It remains on deposit in two Waco banks where it has accumulated more than $100,000 in interest. Bridges and Garcia, now 18 and working as oil field roughnecks, contend the money they dug up on Jan.

30, 1977, belongs to them. They said the money was found in an ice chest on the ranch of Bridges' stepfather 10 miles from Alice. However, the pair has refused to answer qustions about origin of the money on grounds it might incriminate them. They claim they are entitled to the cash because it was abandoned by whoever buried it.

Foreign students in Texas a record

The Associated Press

The number of foreign students in Texas colleges and universities reached record proportions for the 1979-80 academic year, ranking second in the nation only to California, an Institute of International Education Survey reveals.

The booming enrollment reflects the nation-wide increase of foreign students, amounting to about 286,000, the New York-based institute report-

BUSINESS MIRROR

'No children allowed' adds to the frustration

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The battle for a place to live already is frustrating for many young families and, because of a factor often overlooked in the traditional supply-demand analyses, it may get tougher.

That factor is the "no children allowed" sign.

Families already face a depressing set of factors: an existing housing shortage; a bulge in the age-30 population that seems destined to add more pressure; rising prices; rising monthly carrying charges.

Now, according to a just completed study, the "no children" sign is going up more frequently. The national persentage the study found has risen to centage, the study found, has risen to 26 percent of all rental units from 17 percent in 1974.

The study also found other percentages that add to the portrayal of a a huge national problem, one in which an entire generation could be pressed into undesirable housing or compelled to forgo ownership.

The study, by the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan, found that families with two children were excluded from half the rental units surveyed, and those with three children from 6 of 10. Already, the report's authors say, "Families with three or more children have been forced to live in what they see as lower quality homes in less desirable or less convenient neighborhoods. According to the authors, Robert W. Marans and Mary Ellen Colten, the increase of "no children" policies is evident not only in newer apartment houses but in older buildings which used to accept children.

Their conclusions follow a government-sponsored survey they conducted of renters and the managers of their rental housing, and which revealed, among other things that:

—Managers believe that increased maintenance costs are the biggest problem faced by those who rent to families with children. -More than half the managers sampled said they think families without children are bothered by neighbors who do have children. However, a much smaller percentage of renters reported being actually bothered.

—Eighty percent of respondents living in places which exclude or restrict children said they would not move if families with children were allowed to move in.

The "no children" policies can be seen as part of a syndrome in which millions are faced with unsatisfactory choices in housing, at least in comparison with families of the previous three decades.

three decades. Already, housing industry officials say, high prices and interest rates, and an economy that discourages home building, has forced millions of young Americans to forgo dreams of ownership. Forced to rent, they are again met by high costs — often forced on land-lords by rising heating and mainte-nance expenses — that sometimes consume 50 percent of takehome pay, or twice a rule-of-thumb average.

The pressure has led to formation of national tenant groups to assert renter rights, has provoked numerous battles over rent control, and has been a force behind conversions of rental units to condominiums. Involved in the disputes are fundamental issues, most important of which appears to be the rights of private property ownership, with some tenants maintaining their rights to a home are superior.

Those who study the housing situation often maintain that whatever form the pressures take — tenant rights, "no children" policies, high prices, high rents — they can be traced to a housing shortage.

And the shortage, they maintain, seems destined to worsen if inflation isn't restrained, and more housing units aren't built to accommodate the bulge of young families now moving through the population.

Travel in China could be hazardous to health

PEKING (AP) - They fall and break a hip at the Great Wall of China and they stuff themselves on Peking duck and collapse. Warning to elderly tourists: Travel in China may be haz-

Some travelers, usually elderly people fulfilling a lifelong dream, en-counter serious medical problems in China. Some die, others are rushed to hospitals elsewhere. One cynical U.S. Embassy official, a desire for anonymity, has dubbed the tourist plague "The Great Wall Syndrome," or "Death by Duck."

Last year, 14 American tourists died in China, and five have died so far this year, the Embassy reported. All were elderly, often in their 70s, and all had heart trouble.

"They never should have come," said the embassy officer. Those who died left the United States in poor health. One man in his 70s came with a pacemaker and suffered a heart attack in Inner Mongolia. He was rushed to Peking, where

After the normalizing of Sino-U.S. relations, 10 tourists were rushed from China on medical emergencies in a four-month span in 1979. This year, 10 or 12 have been flown out for treatment.

In 1979, about 35,000 American tourists visited China and an estimated 50,000 will visit this year.

"Our purpose is not to complain about China," the Embassy officer said. "But we want to warn tourists, urge them to assess their own health and stop them before they pay their money.

Complicating factors are the weather - very hot in summer, very cold in winter - and the fact that many hotels have no heating or air conditioning. Air pollution is a problem for those with respiratory ailments.

And the orchestrated pace of tourism here can be punishing on elderly travelers used to slower going, as groups are herded about on often frantic schedules from morning to The Embassy official said visitors

"have no idea of the primitive medical facilities and poor treatment. Things you take for granted when you travel elsewhere you won't find here." He cited life support equip-ment, saying it was not available in some hospitals in Peking or Shang-

"The Chinese are very conservative in their medical judgments," the Embassy officer said. "They are afraid people will die in China and create an international incident." Chinese doctors, he said, almost cially hips, fearing the patient will die during surgery. Such patients are flown out of the country, usually tied to stretchers.

And tourists injured at the steep and sometimes slippery Great Wall, the Embassy officer said, are taken down a twisting mountain road in the back of a flat bed truck. As he spoke, he surveyed the suit-case and effects of an elderly, overcame here and died. "People who shouldn't venture 50 miles away from any hospital still come here," he la-Then there's "Death by Duck," a uniquely Chinese problem, the Embassy official said. Peking duck is loaded with monosodium glutamate, a flavor enhancer believed by some to be linked to hypertension because of its sodium — or salt — content.

Tourists routinely are taken to a factory-like restaurant in Peking for heaping servings of duck. Some have suffered reactions to the MSG, and one man died after the meal. One group complained of swollen joints and lethargy, and said their symptoms disappeared when MSG was left out of their food.

When death occurs, problems continue. Two years ago, a woman was cremated against the wishes of her Orthodox Jewish family because local authorities had no cold storage for her body. The family refused to accept the remains, and her ashes were buried by the Embassy this month.

Some tourists seem undaunted by death. Last year in Canton, a man in his 70s died and was cremated. His wife went to the consulate to complete the paperwork and urged officials to be quick.
"Please hurry up," they quoted her as saying, "I want to get him into my suitcase because I'm going to a banquet tonight and I'm leaving in the morning. "I paid all this money to come to

China and I want to get my money's worth." TODAY'S ANSWER

Influenza vaccine shortage possible in several states

ATLANTA (AP) — Declining production of influenza vaccine coupled with an unusual clamor for the shots may bring nationwide shortages just as the flu season gets into full swing this year, health officials say.

Georgia and Indiana already have reported vaccine shortages, and other states are being surveyed, said Dr. Alan Hinman on Thursday. Hinman directs the immunization division at the national Center for Disease Con-

Scoring binge brings Cowboy smiles

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Drew Pearson is happy. Danny White is happy. Coach Tom Landry is happy.

Fifty-nine points will cause happiness for most teams in the National Football League and Sunday's 59-14 rout of the San Francisco 49ers by the Dallas Cowboys healed a potential rift on the team just in time for this week's critical meeting with the Philadelphia Eagles. Pearson, who said he was sick and tired of being used as a decoy, caught three touchdown passes as Danny White completed a career record four scoring tosses. It matched Dallas' highest point output in the team's

"We didn't plan on throwing three touchdowns to Drew," said Landry. "He was just in the right place against that defensive set. In our offense this year, everybody will get their receptions if they hang in

"We recognize the difference in this team (the 49ers) and the Eagles. This was an unusual, lopsided game. I don't think we're dumb enough to think we can do it again," he added.

Pearson said, "I'm satisfied because they used me in the game plan. It feels good to be back in the offense and a part of it. "There was no friction, just a feeling on my part that I wasn't being used enough. They used me in the game plan today, but one game does not make a season.'

White, who completed touchdown passes of 16, 22, and 17 yards to Pearson plus a 12-yarder to tight end Billy Joe DuPree, said, "I didn't react to Drew's outburst last week because as far as I'm concerned things never changed. So much has been said of it that it got overblown, but we got over that today, I'm sure. He's a first class professional who never stops working even if he hadn't caught a pass in three weeks.' With an eye toward the Eagles and the showdown for the lead in the National Conference Eastern Division, White said, "It was probably one of the easiest games we'll have for years and years, but next week will probably be one of the toughest."

San Francisco Coach Bill Walsh had little to be happy about as quar-terback Steve DeBerg completed touchdown passes of 52 and 19 yards to Dwight Clark but also hit the Cowboys with five intercepted passes.

"Obviously Steve did not have a good day and we'll make changes where we feel it is necessary," said Walsh. "We didn't put Joe Montana in the game because this was Steve's game to win or lose. I wanted to give Steve every opportunity to win this

Never say die Phillies

The Phillies joined the Royals in ending years of frustration by winning their league pennant to reach the best-of-seven Series, which starts in Philadelphia tomorrow night.

Kansas City, an expansion team which had never won more than its West Division, captured the American League pennant in a three-game sweep of the New York Yankees. It was a tougher road for the Phillies, who had to go the full five games before subduing the Houston Astros to win the National League flag.

PHILADELPHIA fell behind two games to one, and came back to win the two final games, both in extra

The Phillies closed out the West Division champion Astros, 8-7 in 10 innings Sunday night in the Astrodome, with Garry Maddox, once a playoff goat, doubling across the win-

Both the Phillies and Royals won their divisions in four of the last five years. The Royals lost three AL playoffs to the East champion Yankees. The Phillies were swept by Cincinnati in 1976, and lost 3-1 to Los Angeles in both 1977 and 1978.

While the Royals are making their first World Series appearance, the Phillies' history isn't much better. Philadelphia reached the Series just twice, in 1915 and 1950. They won just one game 65 years ago against the Boston Red Sox, and were swept 4-0 by the Yankees in '50.

Their life has been frustration, especially in 1964, when they led the one-division league by 61/2-games with 12 to play and lost 10 straight to blow

the pennant. The Phillies, who edged the Montreal Expos for this year's East Division title on the next-to-last day of the season, won the first game of the playoffs at home in the series against the Astros.

THEY WERE the favorites to blow out the almost anonymous Astros, who had to beat the Dodgers in a one-game playoff to win the West. But after winning the opening game, the Phillies were taken to a major league record-setting four straight extra-inning postseason games before heading for the champagne.

It was a series that featured weird plays, such as a triple play that became a double play after a 20 minute rhubarb, a Houston run cancelled because a runner left third base before a sacrifice fly was caught, a ball that was trapped in right field and resulted in a rally-killing double play when the umpire ruled it had been caught.

All that happened in the fourth game. In the finale Sunday, the Astros scored three in the bottom of the seventh and the Phillies rallied for five in the eighth.

The Astros wouldn't quit. They scored two and tied it 7-7 in the eighth, and held on until Del Unser doubled and scored on Maddox's two-out doue in the 10th.

For Maddox it was retribution. In 78 at Los Angeles he dropped a utine line drive that gave the odgers the clinching NL playoff vic-

"I'd forgotten about that," said the nappy Maddox in the madhouse that

The Astros took a 1-0 lead in the first inning behind fireballing Nolan Ryan on an RBI-double by Jose Cruz. The Phillies came back with two in the second as Bob Boone ripped a two-run single.

Houston tied it in the sixth with the help of a two-base error and a pinchsingle by Alan Ashby. When the Astros scored three in the seventh, it looked like the Phillies were done.

But the team many said lacked character refused to quit. They came back with five in the eighth to take a 7-5 lead. The Astros tied it with two in the eighth, but Dick Ruthven, a starting pitcher, came on in relief and retired six straight batters, while Unser and Maddox provided the win-

Phillies Manager Dallas Green, champagne dripping from his 6-foot, 5-inch frame and tears welling in his eyes, said of his team:

"I don't know if I'll live through this one. I badgered these guys about the necessity of character since spring training. I don't know any greater display of character than this team showed in the month of September, in clinching the division and in this series. They didn't quit. It was incredi-

BOONE, THE veteran catcher who with Mike Schmidt, Larry Bowa, Trillo, Pete Rose and Bake McBride formed the core of this team, was in an emotional state.

Usually cool and verbal, Boone lay exhausted on a table, and the words

"It was unbelievable. All the pent up emotions of all these years, it was all worth it. Ask the city (Philadelphia) about character on this one."

Bowa said this was something he dreamed of since he was 5-years-old, and now that it was here he found it hard to believe.

Rose, a tower of strength and example of leadership by action, said the World Series would be fun. He observed that the playoffs, against guys he had competed against all season — friends, he called them was the real pressure.

Manager Bill Virdon of the Astros said the playoff "has been outstanding. It typified the two clubs that played in it. The Phillies played well and always came back at us. The Phillies are deserving win

Chiefs whip Oilers in big second half

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two weeks ago everybody was predicting the Kansas City Chiefs, winless in four games, were on the verge of disaster, perhaps staring down the barrel of an 0-6 start.

But, after Steve Fuller's scrambling fourth-quarter 38-yard touchdown run led Kansas City to a 21-20 victory over Houston Sunday, the Chiefs are 2-4.

"I'm sure a lot of people were ready to write us off when we were 0-4, admitted Fuller, a second-year pro out of Clemson. "It was just a horrendous start for us. I think all those problems are behind us now. Shoot, we're right back in this thing.'

The Chiefs spent the first half proving why their offense is ranked dead last in the American Football Conference, gaining just 55 total yards and three first downs while the Oilers took a 10-0 lead on a 41-yard Toni Fritsch field goal and Earl Campbell's 3-yard scoring burst. The Oilers spent most of the game proving Campbell is one of the most durable, devastating running backs in the game. Campbell, shaking off the affects of a pulled groin muscle that had slowed him much of the year, carried a club-record 38 times for 178

But Fuller's 31-yard scoring strike to Henry Marshall and, less than two minutes later, linebacker Gary Spani's 47-yard touchdown return of a Ken Stabler interception, put the Chiefs on top 14-10.

Fritsch booted a 46-yarder late in the third period to pull the Oilers to within a point at 14-13, then Houston got two big breaks to take a 20-14 lead in the fourth period on Stabler's 26yard touchdown pass to Mike Bar-

The first came when Vernon Perry picked off a Fuller pass at the 3-yard line and returned it 42 yards to the Houston 45. The second came when linebacker Thomas Howard was called for holding after the Chiefs stopped the Oilers on a third-and-13 Given a first down on the Kansas City 27, Stabler let Campbell bull for a yard, then unloaded a 26-yard scoring pass to Barber, who beat safety Herb Christopher.

But there was one big break left, and it belonged to the Chiefs.

Fuller, facing a second-and-12 situation on the Oiler 38, was chased out of the pocket by Jesse Baker. He scrambled forward, paused at the first-down stakes, then juked two tacklers and sprinted into the end zone untouched.

"The defensive end came free so I rolled up left," said Fuller. "I was going to try to get a first down, and I kind of hesitated, and when I did that, they seemed to hesitate, too. It was one of the most exciting plays I've ever been involved in."

"He made a good run," said Houston Coach Bum Phillips after seeing his team drop to 3-3 with its second straight loss. "We sacrificed everything to get to him and we got to him, but we just didn't grab him. When you have the chance to make the big play you have to take advantage of it. We didn't, and they did."

Buffalo Bill's perfect record is dashed by Jones' Colts

By The Associated Press

For five weeks the Buffalo Bills led a charmed existence. Even when they trailed going into the fourth quarter, they somehow found a way to

Not Sunday. Buffalo's bubble was finally burst as the Baltimore Colts, led by Bert Jones, beat the Bills 17-12 to spoil the National Football League's last perfect record. In racing to a 5-0 mark with their best start since 1964, the Bills twice had rallied to win in the final period. So when they found themselves behind the Colts 17-9 going into the fourth quarter, they weren't particularly worried.

"We had a feeling that we'd come back," said Bills guard Reggie McKenzie. "It was just a matter of stopping the mistakes. But it never happened. All the Bills could come up with was a 20-yard field goal by Nick Mike-Mayer in the late going, and it wasn't enough.

Despite a driving rain, Jones completed 10 of 21 passes for 206 yards, including a 38-yard touchdown to Mike Siani. Don McCauley's 1-yard plunge 47 seconds before halftime gave Baltimore a 17-6 lead. The Bills came back on a 49-yard Mike-Mayer field goal before intermission, but couldn't get anything but another field goal in

Bengals 17, Steelers 16

"We're a better team than Cincinnati, so why in the world did they beat us twice?" asked Pittsburgh tackle Joe Greene after the Bengals, behind quarterback Ken Anderson, raced to a 17-0 halftime lead and held on. Steelers kicker Matt Bahr had an extra-point try blocked and also missed a 39-yard field goal attempt with four seconds left.

"If anybody would ask me what my biggest win as a coach was, this would have to be it," said Bengals Coach Forrest Gregg. "To beat these people twice and to beat them here (in Pittsburgh) is something. We played under a type of malaise," said Steelers Coach Chuck il. "That can happen when you forget where you've come from and being tooted, you get fat. Raiders 38, Chargers 24 Oakland's Kenny King ran for 138 yards and two touchdowns, one of them on a club-record 89-yard run that broke a 24-24 tie. Just 11 seconds later, San Diego's Chuck Muncie fumbled a kickoff return and Oakland's Todd Christensen fell on it in the end zone for another touchdown.

the hard work it took to get you there. When you listen to all the horns

"We made some big mistakes," said San Diego Coach Don Coryell. Browns 27, Seahawks 3 Mike Pruitt rushed for 116 yards and two touchdowns as Cleveland beat Seattle for the first time in four meetings.

"Since I've been at Cleveland, this is the best job we've done collectively in a football game," said Sam Rutigliano, the Browns' third-year coach. "Seattle is one of the most potent offensive teams in the league and we kept them from scoring a touchdown. Jets 14, Falcons 7

Kevin Long, who came to training camp overweight and never challenged for the Jets' fullback job, got in the lineup anyway last week when starter Clark Gaines suffered a broken leg.

At Atlanta he carried 25 times for 100 yards and scored the winning touchdown on a 1-yard plunge with 1:38 remaining to give the Jets their first victory of the season Lions 24, Saints 13

Rookie Billy Sims rushed for 91 yards and scored a pair of fourth-period touchdowns, the first of which was set up by Rick Kane's 62-yard 'Rick's return was the key to the game," Detroit Coach Monte Clark said. "The Saints had just come back and tied the game (at 10-10) and we were kind of struggling. But his return really got the team up again. He got a game ball for that.

Patriots 34, Dolphins 0

"We got beat bad," Miami Coach Don Shula said after the Dolphins suffered their most one-sided loss in 10 years. Steve Grogan and Matt Cavanaugh each threw one touchdown pass for New England and the Patriots' defense limited Miami to just 88 yards and eight first downs. Eagles 31, Giants 16

Louie Giammona filled in for the injured Wilbert Montgomery and ran for two of Philadelphia's four second-half touchdowns as the Eagles rallied to beat the Giants and keep pace with Dallas atop the NFC East at

Packers 14, Bucs 14, tie

Tom Birney, a substitute junior high school teacher until the Packers signed him last week after cutting kicker Chestor Marcol, missed a 24yard field goal try with 1:09 left in regulation, then failed on a 36-yard try with five seconds left in overtime. So the game ended as the first tie of

"I'm not going to second-guess myself," Starr said of the decision to cut Marcol. "Who's to say anyone else would have made those field

Tampa Bay Coach John McKay said it would be "an understatement of the year to say we did not play well." Asked his game plan, McKay snapped: "To stumble, fumble and throw incomplete passes." Rams 21, Cardinals 13

Vince Ferragamo passed for one touchdown and ran for another as the Rams beat St. Louis to raise their record to 4-2 and pull into the lead in the NFC West, one game ahead of Atlanta and San Francisco. Vikings 13, Bears 7

Ted Brown's 1-yard scoring run early in the fourth quarter erased a 7-6 deficit and game Minnesota an error-filled victory over Chicago.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — The University of New Mexico Lobos are still alive in the Western Athletic Conference football race, but the prognosis is not a good one.

New Mexico went into Saturday's WAC game against Colorado State in sole possession of the league lead with the prospects of padding that advan-tage with a pair of back-to-back home games against the Rams and Hawaii this coming weekend.

They came out of the offensive showdown with a 31-26 defeat and the loss of club leader, quarterback Brad Wright, a former star at Midland Lee. Wright suffered a broken collarbone midway through the fourth quarter after throwing a 4-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Derwin Wil-liams and is expected to be out the rest of the season.

To remain in contention for the league title and a Holiday Bowl bid, the Lobos face the task of having to win their remaining four WAC games against Hawaii, Texas El Paso, San Diego State and Utah. And, three of those games are on the road.

'Three Men----Tried and True

My friends have been asking me about the Precinct one candidates in next month's general election. Well, I'm not running for reelection this year-my time will come in 1982, the Good Lord willingbut I don't mind telling one and all that these are my choices, based on my own observations during the 16 years I have served the citizens of Midland County:

'DURWARD WRIGHT:

If there was ever a blue-ribbon candidate for office, Durward Wright is one. His own background of business and fiscal management meshes perfectly with the traditional conservative polices of Midland County and his deep involvement with community work and youth programs complements the invaluable ex-perience gained through his 12 years in office.

'JOHN BIGGS: The 19 years he has served as justice of the peace-almost two decades of service which have brought him many awards from his fellow justices and his fellow citizens-have failed to change the compassionate dedication John Biggs has for his job, whether it involves a coroner's inquest at the scene of tragic violence or a simple speeding ticket.

'CHARLIE JONES:

The warm and friendly personality of Charlie Jones, intertwined with his dedication to the principles of law and justice, has served him well during the more than three years he has been a deputy constable, continuing a career of service which includes 23 years as an officer of the Midland Police Department and a deputy in the Midland County Sheriff's Department.

'I have been in a position to know and work with these men over the years and they are good men-three men, tried and true deserving, I think, of your support and your vote.

Washington 13. Miami, Fla. (4-1-0) lost to Notre and the hitting of the likes of George Dame 32-14. 14.Penn State (4-1-0) beat Maryland Brett and Amos Otis.

The first two games of the best-of-seven Series will be held Tuesday and Wednesday in Philadelphia.

The matchups: FIRST BASE - The Phillies have a man called "Charlie Hustle," also known as Pete Rose, at first. A former batting king, the switch-hitting veteran hit just .282 during the regular season, but his average was .400 in the NL title series.

Kansas City counters with Willie Aikens, a second-year man who swings from the left side of the plate with authority and regularity.

Both men field their positions well,

but the edge has to go to Rose on experience.

SECOND BASE — Manny Trillo of the Phillies and Frank White of the Royals each was named MVP of his respective playoff series. White probably is a little better fielder, but just barely, while Trillo hits for a better average. Each can steal an occasional base. Second base is a tossup. THIRD BASE - Mike Schmidt holds much of Philadelphia's hopes in his hands. He led the majors in homers (48) and RBI (121), but he had a dismal NL series, hitting just .208 with one RBI.

George Brett of the Royals, .390 during the regular season, hit only marginally better in the playoffs, .273, but two of his hits were home runs. His second homer, a three-run shot, won the series for the Royals.

The edge still goes to Brett. SHORTSTOP — Larry Bowa of Philadelpia is one of the best in the business, but Washington is on the rise. Since they both play on artificial turf, neither has to handle that grounder in the hole, and neither makes many errors.

Washington is a base-stealing threat with 20 during the regular season, while Bowa is not. Each man was hot during the playoffs. Bowa hit .421, Washington .364. The edge goes to Bowa.

Deadly new disease frightens women

By JULIE DUNLAP Associated Press Writer

The numbers are so small. Forty deaths stretched over five years. Forty deaths among 50 million

Still, however few, women are dying - menstruating women who use tampons. And because no researcher can yet explain why, a rare disease caused by a common bacteri-um is sending shudders through the $700 million-a-year tampon industry. Publicity about the disease has frightened some women. 'This is the last sanitary belt we have in the store," the manager of a big drugstore on Manhattan's East Side told a customer. "We sold out of all our adhesive pads, so women are buying the old-fashioned napkins

Others are defiant.

"I've been using tampons since I was 12, without any problems, and I'm still alive," said onel33-year-old

New Yorker. Toxic shock syndrome, a disease recognized since 1975 and named since 1978, was linked to the use of tampons in menstruating women in June, stirring a storm of government action, public reaction, lawsuits and the voluntary recall of the much-touted Rely tampon.

Rely was used by 62 percent of toxic shock victims surveyed in one study, by 72 percent in another.

Procter & Gamble - which spent almost $18 million advertising and distributing 60 million free samples of Rely to 80 percent of the nation's households this spring — last week began an unprecedented ad campaign telling consumers not to buy Rely and to get rid of those they already had. The company said its recall should be 100 percent effective by Monday.

The federal Food and Drug Administration wants all tampons to carry a warning label advising women that they may want "to consider not using tampons or alternating tampons with

The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists asked its members last Tuesday to warn women about tampons which use carboxymethylcellulose, a synthetic fiber found in Rely and most of the other tampons billed as "super-absorbent."

These body blows to the tampon industry, probably fatal in the case of Rely, ironically came at a time when tampon makers were engaged in fierce competition for a market expanding at the expense of the more traditional products such as sanitary pads and napkins.

Dominated for decades by Tampax Inc., the industry opened up in 1972 when the ban on TV advertising of tampons was lifted. That is also the year Procter & Gamble began research and development for Rely.

Tampax, which sold 71 percent of all tampons in 1972, within a couple years found itself vying with tampons called Kotex, Playtex, Pursettes and o.b. (which stands for "ohne binde," or "without sanitary pad" in G5rman). In June of this year, Tampax' share of the market was down to 38 percent.

The industry's latest development was the "super-absorbent" tampon, with its prime example - Rely climbing to No. 3 in sales by the end of the summer, behind Tampax and

But the boom may be over. It cer-Tampax, the industry leader, also tainly is for Rely — "I do believe the advertised warnings, telling women product is dead," industry analyst Hercules Segalas of the Wall Street firm Drexel Burnham Lambert told Advertising Age - and other manufacturers seem certain to suffer, at least for a time.

'The real issue will be whether adolescents and adults are going to take the warnings seriously," said Jill Rierdan, an assistant psychology pro-fessor at Wellesley College, who has been researching menstruation four

"Are women going to be willing to stop using tampons because of a danger," she asked, "or have they become such a way of life or such a superior way of dealing with menstruation that the warnings will be ignored?"

Interviews with women around the country indicate most are aware of the dangers but are neverthelecs unwilling to give up the convenience of tampons. Some examples:

-Linda, 32, an expectant mother in St. Louis: "I used the Rely sample they sent me but haven't used them since. I probably shouldn't continue to use tampons at all, but they were out for 30 years before this came up."

-Susan Mattingly, New Orleans: "I'm concerned about the whole idea of using tampons ... but I would need more proof to stop using tampons completely. I've been using them for years without negative consequences. don't intend to stop using other brands.

-Charlene Harrison, 33, Boston: "It would have to be something pretty serious for me to switch back to pads. There would have to be a wave of deaths or something else for me to switch."

Pharmacies in Boston, Los Angeles, New Orleans and Raleigh, N.C., reported no noticeable changes in tampon sales, although some spokesmen noted that neither tampons nor pads are frequent purchases

HINTS FROM HELOISE Right way to nick a wick

This morning's paper had a query in your column concerning how to properly trim kerosene lamp wicks. As a self-made expert on the subject, I respond to the romantic couple wanting to enjoy dinners in the soft glow of the kerosene lamp.

Years ago, in a remote mining community, we were users of kerosene, not by choice, but by necessity. It took four lamps in our living room to satisfy our insatiable desire for reading.

At first, the horns of the U-shaped flames would quickly blacken the glass chimneys, reducing the already inadequate light.

Deciding to experiment with wick-trimming, I snipped the wicks squarely across the burner, then turned the wick up a quarter of an inch and enjoyed one sightly inch off inch and snipped one-eighth inch off each corner at a forty-five degree angle. We had fat, round flames high in the middle and full at the ends, but with no "horns."

My wife no longer had to wash lamp chimneys on a daily basis. - Evan W.

Those fabulous forties: the women, not the era

Turning forty can be a frightening experience for many women. But for some famous 40-year olds who were asked by Harper's Bazaar what difference it has made in their lives, the answers were positive, varied and unique. Hopefully, even an inspiration for millions of others who might now enter their fifth decade with a little more lilt. Here are their comments as published in Bazaar's October issue:

Diahann Caroll: "I prefer to be over 40 now rather than 10 years ago. I think there's less concentration on middle age. I rollerskate with my daughter and I don't feel the least bit awkward. There are realities, though. Many actresses can make the over-40 transition more easily than I because there are more roles open to white actresses. That part of it is very difficult - the roles simply aren't Mary Tyler Moore: "I have so much more in my heart and in my head than when I was 30. I'm doing now at 42 what most people do at 22. Before, I concentrated just on acting and ignored a lot of other areas in my life...I suppose the biggest change in my life now is the transition I'm in from being married for 17 years to having to be independent, on my own. Now that I'm separated, that's a real challenge.

Susan Strasberg: "I know I'm in transition now...When I was younger, I lived life like a horse with blinders on. I never saw the options that I had...The minute you stop taking risks you start to grow old. I compare myself to a bottle of wine - the older I get, the better I'll be. By the time I'm 90, I'll be just about ready to uncork. God willing, I'm going to be one hell of a terrific old lady!"

Sunny Griffin: "This is really a coming of age for me. I feel more strongly than ever that I can do whatever I want to do. I always wanted to be a dancer and at 38, I began taking daily classes, and that's the best thing in the world for my body. Working out every day has reshaped me — toning, stretching, elongating. I'm in better shpe now than when I was 18! I'm off on a new decade and new challenge in TV. 'Too old' simply does not

Mary Travers: "At 30, I believed that failure was a catastrophe. But at 43, I know those failures are just part of learning, living and experience. I'm less fragile than I was when I was at 30, and I don't mean that I've traded that off for insensitivity. At 43, I want to do what makes me feel good. what is meaningful to me. Those are the same criteria I had when I was 23. And I still get involved in elections, in civil rights and human rights."

Sophia Loren: "I did not really think about turning 40 and there is basically no difference. I do feel much better now. When I was 20, I felt as though I was 50 - so many problems. Now I'm at the ideal age; I have had so many beautiful things in my life - my family, my success. Christina Paolozzi Bellin: "What keeps me young? The fact that I really don't want to grow old. I had a facelift. It's wonderful - there are no scars...I just lost 20 pounds. To keep my bosom up, I lift weights, and do tummy reduction exercises. You can't get past 30 without exercising every day...That's one rule to live

Judy Collins: "When I was very young, I had a fantasy that I would get to do what I wanted when I was older. I don't know where that came from, yet because of it, I've never looked at age as something to be feared, but as something to be looked forward to. And I've had a lot of examples in my life of people who just get better...If a singer has studied and preserved her voice, the 40s are the best time of life."

Brooke Hayward: "There's a psy chological barrier at 40 which affects both men and women. It accounts for a lot of strange behavior in people, particularly men, who get very pan-icky about growing old and losing their sex appeal. You see a lot of marriages begin to falter when men and women reach age 40-1-2-3...Approaching 40 I really had to reevaluate my entire life in a way perhaps, with youth and carelessness, one simply doesn't do. You begin to think about taking chances you never took before. In my case, I wrote Hay-

Susan Kohner Weitz: "I can't remember any dire moment when I said 'This is it; I can't go back again.' Turning 40 wasn't a big adjustment. I do have a brother who is two years younger and now I say he's two years older. It's all such a mental attitude, age, really. My mother is 70, is incredible looking. So the numerical figure doesn't mean a thing.

Dina Merril: "I play loads of golf and tennis, and, other than having to take a hot shower after four sets or I'll get stiff, I haven't noticed any major physical changes since turning 40. If you've got health - which I am lucky to have - then this is a fine time of life. I certainly can't think of any new problems which have cropped up."

Elsa Peretti: "One thing I'm having trouble with - and I know it's a phase a lot of women are passing through - is drinking. When I was in my 30s, I could drink a lot and have no problems. Now that I'm 40, I have to be careful - I can't handle it. I think drinking stems from a basic need for security: It gives you a lift, so you find yourself doing it more and more frequently. It's really lethal."

DEAR ABBY

She wants to be parent without partner

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I want to be a surrogate mother. I've been married for 14 years. My only child is 13, but I'm still young enough to have another. (I'm 33, but don't look it. I'm still asked for my I.D. when I go out.)

The problem is my husband. He doesn't approve of the surrogate mother idea at all. When we married, he was a widower with six childrenall grown and gone now. We had one child together, then he had a vasectomy, and I've been wanting another baby ever since.
Abby, I have always felt that giving birth is the most noble function a woman can perform; it's the reason we were put on earth. Those of us who are able-bodied and fail in this duty are committing some kind of crime

I feel so full of life and want more than anything else to have a beautiful, healthy baby for some woman who can't have one. I wouldn't mind giving it up. I just want to experience the thrill of pregnancy and childbirth again. Please help me feel fulfilled. My husband, who is 55, is against up by a New York tailor named Wetzel. (he makes my clothes; that's where I got this story.)

It seems that Wetzel also made clothes for a Mr. G. who loved to eat. Mr. G. confided to Wetzel that after a filling meal he would slip down his zipper a bit. His wife thought this crude, so Wetzel solved the problem by putting two zippers in all of Mr. G's trousers-one in front and one in back-so Mr. G. could reach around under his jacket and pull the rear zipper without being noticed!-N.Y. And you expect praise?

Next on my list of items to write you about is something else I cannot agree with. For it sounds as if more harm than good is done when you meet together for your communion services.

Everyone keeps telling me about the arguing that goes on in these meetings, and the divisions developing among you, and I can just about believe it.

But I suppose you feel this is necessary so that you who are always right will become known and recognized!

When you come together to eat, it isn't the Lord's Supper you are eating.

But your own. For I am told that everyone hastily gobbles all the food he can without waiting to share with the others, so that one doesn't get enough and goes hungry while another has too much to drink and gets drunk.

What? Is this really true? Can't you do your eating and drinking at home, to avoid disgracing the church and shaming those who are poor and can bring no food? What am I supposed to say about these things? Do you want me to praise you? Well,

Public outraged over release of U.S. sailor in Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) - A judge's decision to free a 19-year-old American sailor who admitted killing a Nairobi prostitute in a drunken brawl has set off a public outcry in this strategic East African nation.

High Court Judge L.G.E. Harris released Frank Sunderstrom of Coventry, R.I., two weeks ago on a $70 good behavior bond. Charged with manslaughter, he could have been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Instead, he was allowed to return to duty aboard his ship, the La Salle, flagship of the U.S. fleet operating in the Indian Ocean and the Persian Sundstrom confessed to killing Monicah Njeri, 29, in the Kenyan seaport town of Mombasa on Aug. 3. The sailor, who was on shore leave, said the killing occurred during a drunken fight over how much he should pay the woman.

It was the most serious incident involving an American sailor since the Kenyan government agreed last summer to let U.S. Navy ships use Mombasa, Kenya's chief port, in exchange for increased U.S. military and economic aid.

Public criticism of Sundstrom's sentence reflected the feeling that the American got special treatment.

Bankers urged to help cut costs

CHICAGO (AP) — America's bankers must use their clout to demand an end to the "debauchery" of money by government spending, a prime cause of inflation, banker David Rockefeller says.

"To put it bluntly, the root of our current inflationary crisis is clearly the soaring price of government," he said.

Rockefeller, chairman of Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's third largest, said, "The growth of social programs can no longer exceed the growth of the business on which they finally depend."

His remarks came in a speech prepared for delivery this morning to a convention in Chicago of the American Bankers Association.

Bankers, Rockefeller said, must work "to demand an end to the debauchery of the money of the American people and the betrayal of their trust" posed by government spending. He told the bankers that government's role in inflation is not sufficiently recognized.

"A recent study of the coverage of inflation on television news programs found that 80 percent of the reports deal with the problem only as a matter of price hikes or wage increases," Rockefeller said.

He said the public learns to see inflation in terms of businesses raising prices and pulling in higher profits, or workers demanding raises, or bankers de-manding higher interest rates. The government is left out of the picture, be contended.

Stockton port still closed

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) - The channel in and out of the Port of Stockton remained closed to pleasure craft over the weekend during cleanup of a fuel spill, although commerical vessels were allowed through at high tide, officials said.

More work was planned today to remove what remains of 300,000 gallons of flammable jet fuel that spilled Friday when a pipeline burst as the fuel was being tanken from the Navy tanker Shoshone. About 10,000 gallons remained in the water Saturday night,

"Officially the port is closed to all craft, period," said Coast Guard Lt. John Simpson. "But the Port of Stockton indicated it would be willing to make arrangements for commercial vessels.

COMMERCIAL & INDUSTRIAL REAL ESTATE "Inflation, as every banker knows, is a decline in the value of money," Rockefeller said. "And only the government has the power to debase the currency by creating too much of it.

Between 1975 and 1979," Rockefeller said, "the federal tax bill for all Americans increased more than eight times as much as their fuel bill.... To put it bluntly, the root of our current inflationary crisis is clearly the soaring price of government.

Rockefeller said social welfare programs of the 1960s forced the government into deficit spending, which he said fueled inflation.

"Environmental, health, safety and other regulations proliferate," Rockefeller said. "They not only add directly to costs, and therefore prices; they also pre-empt billions in capital that otherwise might be productive.'

He said the regulations reduce the amount of capital available for investment and cut into produc-

Hospitalization can be traumatic for a child

By NEIL SOLOMON The Los Angeles Times Syndicate

Dear Dr. Solomon: My mother is becoming increasingly nervous as she waits to be called for has never been hospitalized for any reason, and I'm concerned about the effect it may have on her, regardless of the success of the operation. Is it possible to have cataract surgery done on an out-patient basis? I'd be willing to provide whatever assistance she would need during the period of recuperation.

- Donald Dear Donald: Some eye surgeons are of the opinion that traditional hospital care is unnecessary for cataract patients. Acording to Dr. Allan D. Jensen, a past president of the Baltimore chapter of the Maryland Society of Eye Physicians and Surgeons, many cataract patients are able to care for themselves within hours after surgery. However, they continue to require frequent examinations with sophisticated equipment for several days after the operation. For many, a motel room or other place for them to live near the examining facility, and a driver willing to take them to the office each day, would be sufficient.

Some cities have outpatient or "same-day" surgical facilities. Your local medical society should be able to tell you if such care is available in your community.

Dear Dr. Solomon: As you have mentioned, hospitalization can be a traumatic experience for a child and his/her parents. At Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston, we recognize this and have age-appropri-

Bergland unveils plan to aid farmers get loans

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — After visiting drought devastated areas Friday, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland unveiled a plan to help farmers to get federally guaranteed 5 percent loans through local lending

Bergland said the federal government would subsidize interest payments for loans that would cover the amount of farmers' losses caused by the summer-long drought.

Farmers will be able to negotiate a loan through their traditional bank or savings and loan association and pay an interest rate of 5 percent. The government will make up the difference between the 5 percent rate and the interest rate that the institution actually charges. No dollar figure was given for the program.

Bergland - who admitted that he was on a "campaign trip" and reminded farmers of the administration's achievements on their behalf - said the program is the answer to many of the regulatory problems farmers seeking financial assistance have encountered.

The program was part of a package signed into law Sept. 26 by President Carter with little fanfare. Bergland said the loans through the program would begin next spring. He said his department would study the losses during the winter and hold informational meetings on the program in Arkansas "probably in after harvests are completed. The government' assistance on the loans pertains only to the amount of the loss, Bergland said.

Meanwhile, he said, farmers would be able to determine their losses

"Any amount above (the loss) is at the going rate," he said.

Bergland made the announcement after he toured farms in the Brinkley area that have been devastated by the drought.

Loan guarantees to help finance gasohol plants loan guarantees to help finance $482 fullion in gasohol plant construction were announced Friday by Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland. The Farmers Home Administration will guarantee $341.6 million in bank loans for 15 projects, Bergland said.

Bergland said the plants will eventually produce 246 million gallons of ethanol a year, almost half of the gasohol production that President Carter said was his goal in an energy address last Jan. 11.

The government previously has approved $36.2 million in loan guarantees for 14 other plants capable of producing 18 million gallons of ethan-

Bergland said the total loans "far exceed the $100 million goal" set in January when the Farmers Home Administration began to promote production of fuel alcohol. The FHA is the Agriculture Department's rural credit agency.

Last year, gasohol production was about 80 million gallons.

Bergland said most of the new plants will use corn, but some will use molasses and potatoes and other grains to produce alcohol. The plants would require more than 110 million bushels of corn if no other feedstock

The gasohol from the plants is intended to replace about 6.3 million barrels of oil a year for use as motor

The loan guarantees will cover up to 90 percent of any net loss a lender may incur, Bergland said.

The projects, loan amounts and annual plant production capacity are: Florida Ethanol Inc. of Mayo, Fla., $10 million, 5 million gallons; Southeast Energy Group of St. Marys, Ga., $19 million, 10 million gallons; Power

Soviet grain crops are also plagued by bad weather, reducing estimates

WASHINGTON (AP) - Bad weather continued plaguing the Soviet Union in the past month. prompting the Agriculture Department on Friday to reduce again its estimate of the 1980 Russian grain crop. "The crop is still likely to come in at over 200 million metric tons,' said Dawson Ahalt, head of the department's World Food and Agricultural Outlook and Situation Board. But Ahalt indicated the latest department estimate of 205 million metric tons could still be above the amount of usable grain the Soviets will harvest.

While the estimate is down 5 million tons from last month, we know there have been quality quality problems they have had all year long,' Ahalt said. "We know that crop is wet." The department's October forecast is more than 32 million metric tons below the Russian's record 1978 crop and well below the target they set for this year. Next week, the department will release its projections on Russian grain utilization, which should give some indication of how much of the 1980 crop will be usable. A month ago, department analysts increased their estimate of dockage and waste in this year's harvest because of heavy moisture con-to run below last year's records WASHINGTON (AP) - Following the summer heat wave, the nation's farm crops are continuing to drop from last year's record yields with the estimated 1980 corn harvest at 6.46 billion bushels, the Agriculture Department said Friday The new corn estimate is 17 percent below the 1979 record of 7.76 billion bushels. The figure is also down 1 percent from the Sept. 1 forecast of 53 billion bushels.

Dawson Ahalt, a department spokesman, said the reduction in corn and soybeans in the latest estimates should not have any additional impact on consumer prices. The department said previously that crop losses from the drought probably will increase retail prices 1 percent next year, mostly in higher meat prices.

In an exception to the general pattern, the 1980 wheat harvest is projected at 2.36 billion bushels, even larger than the record the department had been predicting. Most of it was harvested before the summer drought had much of an impact.

As of July 1, the department estimated corn prospects at 7.28 billion bushels. Thus, the harvest estimate has been reduced by about 810 million

It is the first annual decline in U.S. corn production since bad weather shriveled yields in 1974, reducing the harvest to 4.7 billion bushels. Overall, the department's "all crops" production index for 1980 was shown at 129 percent of crop production in 1967, a base year used for comparison. Last year, the index rose to an all-time high of 144 percent. It was 131 percent in September.

The people we all love to hate

By TIMOTHY HARPER

Associated Press Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Randy Knuth is an affable young man who is resigned to the idea that people love to hate him. Sometimes it seems like they come to his office in Tuscon, Ariz., just to tell him so.
"I just hate dentists," they moan

"I'd rather be anywhere than here." "They say 'no offense, don't take it personally'," Knuth reflects. "Maybe after a period of time, a person could get tired of that. But so far I just accept it."

Dentists are among many people we love to hate simply because they do what they do. Whether it's dentists, police officers, door-to-door salesmen, landlords, collection agents, tax auditors, meter maids or dogcatchers, almost all of us love to hate

The services they perform may be necessary, but that doesn't keep us from regarding them as at least a little bit evil.

Consequently, it doesn't hurt those people to have thick skins and perhaps even a bit of naivete.

'Funeral directors shouldn't be lumped in with the people you love to hate," complains Jean DeSapio, editor of the Funeral Service Insider newsletter in New York. "You're talking about stereotypes that haven't existed for years and years."

She says morticians sometimes bear the brunt of a family's grief and anger, but that is widely accepted as part of the job.

'Maybe they've come to grips with something everyone else is terrified of." she says

'Not all bill collectors, though they're painted that way, are ogres,' says Harold Slaughter, manager of The Rent Collection Co. in Washington, D.C. "It doesn't affect me, but

"In fact, it's the opposite," he says. 'My dealers tend to have more complaints about customers than vice versa. If you've ever been in sales, and the majority of your customers are middle-aged women, you know what I'm talking about.'

'You walk into a party, and everybody starts saying, 'Cheese it, the cops are here.' You lose your identity except as an authority figure. It ostracizes you pretty much," Layman

That's also the reason, he says, that police officers usually don't have any friends except other police officers.

"You lose your common bond with other people," he says.

There have been few studies of how the people we love to hate react to being hated.

And being hated often leads to stress and strain both at work and at home: fear, anxiety, depression, psychosomatic illness and alcoholism.

"If someone is going to talk to you in an angry tone, you're going to answer that way, too," says William Kroes, a Los Angeles psychologist

He says government bureaucrats, bank tellers and postal clerks are typical targets of public frustration when people can't get what they need

Such attacks and attempts to assassinate Turkish diplomats abroad by Armenian terrorists occur periodical-

The Armenian people's feud with the Turks dates back to 1514 when the expanding Ottoman Empire swallowed up the Armenian plateau, the historic homeland of Armenians since 800 B.C.

In 1894, Ottoman Sultan Abd al-Hamid II, leader of the predominantly Moslem Turks, began a systematic campaign to wipe out the Christian Armenians. The slaughter reached a peak in 1915 during World War I, when the Turks accused the Armenians of siding with Turkey's Russian invaders.

The Turks, fearing an Armenian alliance with the Russians, expelled 1.75 million of them from eastern Turkey. More than 1 million are believed to have died during the forced march into the Turkish province of Syria, which then included Lebanon.

By the end of World War I in 1918, about 1.8 million Armenians were estimated to have died and hundreds of thousands more had fled to other countries in a diaspora, often likened to the Biblical dispersion of the Jews from Pales-
