MULESHOE BUSINESS CONCERNS GET UNDER THE BLUE EAGLE BANNER

ENTIRE CITIZENSHIP SHOWS PATRIOTIC AMERICAN ZEAL IN GIVING HEARTY CO-OPERATION TO NATIONAL MOVEMENT

VARIOUS BUSINESS CONCERNS HERE CATCH STEP OF PRESIDENT AND NRA FOR BETTER ECONOMICS

Swinging into line behind President Roosevelt in the war against depression, Muleshoe business men have been active this week fixing opening and closing hours of their various concerns preliminary to full co-operation in the National Recovery administration program.

Many of the business men here have already signed the questionnaires sent them by the Federal government, have received their blue eagle emblem and are now proudly displaying it in their places of business.

$1,663 State School Payment Is Made To Bailey Co. $7 Due

County Superintendent J. E. Adams last week received a check for $1,663 from the State Department of Education representing another $1.00 of the state per capita aid for schools in Bailey county, and which makes $10.00 of the $17.00 state fund for the past year that has been paid to date.

Wheat Acreage Plan Not Yet Definite In Date To Be Set

That no definite information has yet emanated from Washington regarding the handling of the wheat acreage reduction, is the statement of J. E. Waide, county farm agent, though the general opinion exists now that it will be done through the forming of associations among the growers themselves, and perhaps under direction of the local farm agent.

FARM PRICES SOAR; IRRIGATION PRODUCTS PROVE THEIR VALUE

There is every indication now that farmers of Bailey county are going to enjoy the sale of their hard won products of the soil this fall and at much higher prices.

Along with the market advance of various commodities the prices of raw materials are also climbing up the ladder of values. For several weeks past cotton, wheat and other staples grown in this section have been advancing considerably, and even with some fluctuation will doubtless continue to maintain their new relatively high positions.

FARMER COUNTY BUYS STRIP OF LAND NEEDED FOR NO. 7

For some time past, at least from the local standpoint, the finishing of paving on State Highway No. 7 has been held up because of failure of Farmer county to secure all the required right-of-way.

Last week the last necessary strip, a block of land belonging to the Santa Fe system was secured, the purchase by the Commissioners' court, and now Engineer Harry Roberts is in position to report the way fully cleared and ready for the bid letting and steam shovel action.

REV. HILL SENT TO LOCKNEY Rev. L. L. Hill, former pastor of Muleshoe church, has been moved by the presiding bishop to Lockney, where he succeeds Rev. A. C. Jones, former pastor of the Methodist church there, who in turn has been moved to Hamilton, in another conference.

BARTER DAY IN MULESHOE NEXT MONDAY, AUG. 7

The regular monthly Trade and Barter day, which has become a nestablished custom in Muleshoe, is slated to be held again next Monday and due advertisement of the same will be found elsewhere in this newspaper. The customary plan of offering for sale, trade, swap or exchange in any manner will be in vogue, and people from all sections of this particular trade territory who have anything they wish to dispose of are advised this will be the day, the time and the place for such negotiations.

ACCEPTANCE OF COTTON GIVEN IN DESTRUCTION

Government formal acceptance of growers offers in the cotton acreage reduction campaign are this week being received by J. E. Waide Jr., emergency agricultural agent at Muleshoe, and notice of performance and certification blanks of same are this week being mailed out by Mr. Waide and assistants to farmers all over Bailey county who have participated in the reduction plan.

Ninety Federal acceptances were received Monday and they have been coming in every day since, and will continue arriving until the total of 27,504 acres offered in this county has been accepted by the government.

Mr. Waide has been advised that there will be a check made of each local committee's work in this county; to see that all of the cotton on the land taken out of production is destroyed; that the amount of acreage is correct and credit given only for acreage actually plowed up. Committees are advised to not sign approval of any performance and certification sheet before they are certain that 100 per cent of the cotton to be destroyed has actually been killed. One or two mistakes in this manner may cause an entire re-check.

Conference Is Called By Clifford Jones WTCC Is Recognized

First official act of Clifford B. Jones, newly appointed federal public works administrator for Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico, was to summon into conference at Spur last Friday W. D. Cline, president, D. A. Banded, general manager, and Charles E. Coombes, general attorney of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

At conclusion of the conference Jones handed newspaper men the following typed statement: "In view of the familiarity of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce with the National Industrial Recovery Act, and the possibilities it offers to the territory served and to West Texas projects eligible to federal loans granted from several months work by the many hundred applications on file and in process of completion, Regional Administrator Clifford B. Jones today sought at Spur, Texas conference with D. A. Banded, general manager, and Charles E. Coombes, attorney, of that organization, to the end that he and the administration might have the benefit of the comprehensive information assembled by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the experience of that organization in expediting the servicing of the pending applications."

The Curry County, N. M., budget, Clovis being the county seat, has been cut approximately $6,000 for the coming year, being reduced to a total of $11,760.

LIGHTNING BOLT KILLS AMHERST BOY AT ANTON

Striking twice in a crowd attending horse races at Anton, 22 miles northwest of here, lightning killed one young man, gravely injured a 16-year-old boy, and knocked at least two other persons unconscious Saturday afternoon.

Gerwood Murrell, 18, of Amherst, was killed instantly. J. T. (Tolly) Peters, unconscious and in a serious condition, was brought to Lubbock sanitarium for treatment. Jack Cundiff, about 13, apparently had recovered from effects of a severe shock suffered when Peters was struck. Arthur Couch, about 24, who lives three miles southwest of Anton, also was knocked unconscious.

The first bolt crashed into a crowd near a concession stand, injuring Peters and Cundiff and knocking down several other persons. Two minutes later a second bolt killed Murrell, who was standing near the east edge of the field, about 200 yards from Peters. Couch was injured then. The lightning struck during a brief electrical storm. Little rain fell. The crowd of about 600 persons was thrown into confusion and rumors spread rapidly. First reports said three persons had been killed.

The crowd rushed about the unconscious Peters boy who was on the ground. J. L. Goode, who had been engaged in the arena, had a rope in his hand. Crow and others held the surging crowd back from Peters' body. A doctor examined Peters, pronounced him dead. While plans were being made to move him, bystanders saw signs of life. Artificial resuscitation was given and the boy began breathing.

Oxygen was later given to the boy at a Lubbock sanitarium. For a time several men were required to hold him on a bed. Later he became quiet, his pulse weak. F. E. Collins of 2024 Tenth street, Lubbock, was standing in what he said was "reaching distance" of Murrell when lightning struck. Collins said he felt no shock. Lightning sparks played all over the young man's body and the dropped like he had been shot," Collins said. Joe Rieger, former deputy sheriff of Lubbock county, attended the races with Collins.

MULESHOE JOURNAL ENDORSES PROGRAM OF THE PRESIDENT

The Muleshoe Journal hereby goes on record as unqualifiedly backing program now becoming effective. We are glad to "do our part" in any way and manner that will be for the benefit of the citizenry at large. While hundreds and even thousands of heads of business and industry of various kinds are telegraphing the President of their co-operation in this gigantic nation-wide movement for better economic conditions we, also, are glad to join in this great consecration of faith and activity for the benefit of America and its people. Whatever plan is worked out for our sphere of activity, the Journal pledges itself its personnel and its resources to follow the code of operation laid down by the Federal government. We believe this is no time to quibble, to hesitate or to doubt. A united America can accomplish wonders; a doubtful, hesitating nation will merely continue to founder in an uncertain manner. Let's all—producer and consumer—do our part!

Important Meeting Of School Trustees Will Be Held At Sudan, 9th

County Superintendent J. E. Adams is in receipt of a letter from State Superintendent L. A. Woods announcing that a meeting for Lamb and Bailey counties will be held at Sudan, August 9, beginning at 2:00 p. m., for the purpose of considering and discussing provisions and plan of operation of the Rural Aid Law as passed by the last legislature, and its effects upon rural schools in these two counties.

Because of the far-reaching effects of this new law on all types of schools from the one-teacher rural school to the large affiliated schools, it is urged by Mr. Adams that this meeting should be widely attended. Every member of the county board, local boards of trustees, teachers and patrons generally should be present. Mr. Adams said.

This new law actually raises the question of the further existence of some schools in Bailey county, said Mr. Adams, unless arrangements can be made for participation in the $3,000,000 fund the state has authorized for rural state aid. There are also several other matters of importance to be discussed at this meeting, such as net scholastic population, high school and grammar grades enrollment for 1923-24, assessed valuation together with taxation rates number of teachers to be employed, new rules for teachers contracts and their payment.

Arthur P. Duggan Is A Candidate For Congress In 1934

Arthur P. Duggan, Littlefield, who last year was elected state senator for this district, has announced his candidacy as congressman for the nineteenth district, this state. Mr. Duggan made a good record during the last meeting of the state legislature, introducing and working to a successful passage several bills of importance to the citizenry of the state.

Duggan has always been a strong advocate of a simpler and more equitable system of taxation, and this subject will probably occupy an important plank in his platform to be announced later. The Senator was a few years ago resident of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, serving that organization with considerable success and satisfaction to the regional membership.

The recently organized cheese factory at Loveland will open for business August 15. It has a capacity of 16,000 pounds of milk daily.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: If you would you should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.—St. Luke, 6:13.

Justice always whirls in equal measure.—Shakespeare.

FARMING A BUSINESS: Not that it makes any difference to Henry Ford, but we cannot resist taking exception to his statement that "farming is not a business, but a method of making a living."

THE ROAD BACK: It's a mistake to think normal conditions will return overnight. No community is going to wake up some fine morning and find everything running as it was a half-dozen years ago.

JAUNTY JOURNALISTES: Everyone in Muleshoe knows that beauty is skin deep, and to get proof of it just go to the swimming pool.

STUNG: The deeds of hornet, wasp and bee. Are often widely sung; But the saddest wail from the lips of men, Is the wail that says, "I'm stung."

CHANGED IN MEANING: "Myriad" is of Greek origin and literally means 10,000. As popularly used it means a great but indefinite number.

Speed of Whale: Whalers estimate that the average whale can cover a distance of about 12 miles in an hour.

It's an old saying, "every dog has his day," and it's equally true that every Muleshoe girl has her day.

A wise Muleshoe man is one who keeps his credit in such repair condition that when an old auto tire blows out he can get another one.

Now that the dollar is worth only two-thirds its real value, maybe some of the Muleshoe schemers will pause to realize that selling their souls for 67 cents is a bit too darn cheap.

When a group of laborers in Russia ask for a labor raise they are promptly hanged; but in America they are just turned "to the RFC."

Pavement Pickups: The uptown has come just in time to save Henry Ford, according to Neil Rockey, local Ford dealer.

After all, the government isn't so bad," insists E. R. Hart. "It merely waits until you get a bank-roll and then takes it, but doesn't kidnap you first."

After reading some ads in a city daily, Fred Jenkins says he can't quite figure out how one can make anything by spending $6 for gasoline to save 10c on a distant bargain.

Now Jess Osborne is worrying for fear prosperity will return before the government gets all the big crooks investigated, and he maybe right.

J. W. Givins is telling a group of listeners the other day about falling off of a 20 foot ladder. "How did it happen you were not killed," gasped one of the crowd.

Post office Ruth says she looks like the nation is surely going west, yet she is still of the opinion there will be some places left in the U. S., where it will be so dry the citizens living there will have to use pins to attach postage stamps to their letters when they mail them.

Always come in before losing your temper, advises Lud Taylor, "and if the other fellow is big enough to lick you, then count 10,000."

H. A. Eckler says he thinks probably the reason there are more auto wrecks than train wrecks is because the fireman isn't always trying to kiss the engineer.

SNAP SHOTS: If people are punished for their sins here on earth, then there are a lot of them that are hiding their hard luck.

To date the beer tax is the closest we have come to a tax that carries its own anaesthetic.

The only jigsaw puzzle that nobody has yet been able to assemble correctly is the map of Europe.

A Chicago woman in her divorce papers charged her husband with being mean, irritable, disagreeable, selfish, unclean, cold, bitter, brazen and jealous. She finally withdrew the suit so it is presumed that outside of these things he is probably all right.

There are more than 300,000,000 married women in the world, it is estimated. But maybe that estimate was made just before leap year.

War should be unnecessary hereafter. Nations have learned to cripple themselves and one another without it.

Another cause for divorce is the fact that marriage doesn't change the disposition of two spoiled kids.

Progress News: Sunday School was very well attended. Rev. Treis Needham preached the morning sermon.

There was League Sunday night and after the program the singing class sang a few songs.

Quite a number of friends enjoyed the little social given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hogan, Thursday night.

The Willing Workers' club met with Mrs. Will Burns last Thursday afternoon. There was quite a number present.

Several of the people from this community attended the base ball game at Lariat, Sunday afternoon.

There will be a pie and ice cream supper at the school house next Friday night. The proceeds will go to paying for the lights.

James Hoy and Tom Johnson spent Sunday afternoon with Edward Gwyn at Lariat.

Mr. Kemp has announced a 10 night singing school to start next Monday night at the school house.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Barger, of this community, are rejoicing over the advent of a new boy, "Virgil Ralph," weight eight pounds, that arrived at their home, July 29.

Earl Barger, of this community, who underwent an appendicitis operation at a Lubbock hospital about two weeks ago, is recovering nicely and it is now thought he may be able to return home Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are being visited by two of their daughters. One of them is from South Texas, and Miss Welthea is from Amarillo.—Reporter.

Girl Scout News: The Girl Scouts met in the American Legion hall Tuesday with Commissioner Mrs. J. C. Weaver in charge.

The Scouts were delighted to have their captain, Mrs. Good Harder, with them once more.

Ruth Eckler, who has just returned from her visit with relatives in Missouri, gave an interesting account of her trip and also, displayed a very attractive book of "spatter prints" from leaves of 25 trees and shrubs.

She is now ready to get her tree badge. Mrs. Levi Churchill was present and gave valuable advice on the planning of trip menus. The girls are all eager to be off on their camping trip, but will wait the final word from selected quarters on the Rudoso, before starting. This may make a delay of a day or two.—Reporter.

How All the People Played a Part In Building Nation's Credit Structure

Banker Describes the Way Loans and Securities of Banks
Are Based on the Hopes and Plans of All Classes--Values Dependent on Public's
Ability to Meet Obligations

By FRANCIS H. SISSON,

CREDIT may be informally described as future hopes, plans and good intentions converted into present purchasing power. The farmer, the manufacturer, the merchant, the home buyer, the purchaser of household goods, the investor and the speculator, all borrow at times, all borrow at times, all borrow at times. They plan to repay with the earnings of their crops, proceeds of the sales of their goods, incomes from their wages and salaries or profits from the resales of their securities at enhanced market values, each as the case may be.

The greater part of these various forms of credit is obtained by the borrowers directly or indirectly through the expansion of the loans and investments of the banks. It is this which creates the notes, securities and mortgages in the portfolios of the banks. The banks are able to extend these loans because a great many people deposit money with them.

Even under the best conditions the plans of a small percentage of borrowers go wrong through mistake, hard luck or dishonesty, and the judgment of the banker in such cases is proved by the after event to have been at fault. The losses caused under such conditions are ordinarily fully met by funds set aside out of the earnings of the banks for just this purpose and do not affect the money of the depositors, who seldom hear anything about such losses.

In the vast majority of cases and in the overwhelming volume of business involved the confidence of the bankers in their customers and the confidence of the customers in their own ability to carry out their plans and obligations to successful conclusions are wholly justified. This is the normal economic situation and it constitutes the conditions under which the use of credit adds to public welfare and progress.

The Faith of the Banks
Such was the structure of hopes, good intentions and common confidence in one another that existed among all classes of the nation's community life when the series of economic shocks began to shake the nation's social fabric in 1929. The people had deposited billions of dollars with the banks because they had confidence in them. The banks had loaned large volumes of these deposits on farm and home mortgages and on notes of manufacturers, business men and finance concerns, and had invested in the standard securities of the nation's corporations, state and local government units and the national government itself, because they had confidence in the citizenship and business conditions of the nation.

Their mortgage and other loans to owners of farms aggregated $5,500,000,000. Loans on urban real estate were $4,000,000,000. Loans to individuals secured by U. S. Government, municipal and corporate securities totaled $11,000,000,000. Loans to industrial and commercial enterprises in connection with the production and distribution of the nation's infinite varieties of goods amounted to almost $19,500,000,000. Investments in Federal, State and municipal bonds were almost $8,000,000,000, and in various kinds of railroad and corporate securities $11,000,000,000. These made total loans and investments of $38,000,000,000.

This great credit structure was built while the country was at peace, while the farms and factories were productive, while the nation and the world provided great active markets for their outputs, while the earnings of all kinds of enterprises were large, while the

FARM ACCOUNTING CONTEST LAUNCHED

Bankers Evolve Plan for Stimulating Important Aid to Farm Success

THE Cache county, Utah, bankers recently added a stimulus to banker-farmer cooperative work by launching a farm accounting contest. At a meeting of the Clearing House Association the project was put before the bankers, and methods and plans formulated.

Each bank in the county agreed to enroll a minimum of five farmers in the farm accounting project. The names of the farmers when enrolled will be sent to the Secretary of the Clearing House, and also to the Extension Division of the Utah State Agricultural College. The bankers agree to cooperate and keep in close touch with each farmer they enroll so as to insure the completion of a maximum number. The bank which succeeds at the conclusion of the contest in enrolling the largest number of farmers completing the project will be given a special recognition at the annual meeting.

Governor M. Ferguson Urges Supporting Of National Recovery Act

Governor Miriam Ferguson pleads with Texans to support the National Industrial Recovery Act.

Mrs. Ferguson said the proposed agreements asked of industry and business by the President should be readily signed.

"The President says 'sign, and sign we should,'" she said. "Let us recur to that old time hymn, 'Trust and Obey for There's No Other Way to Be Happy in Jesus, but to Trust and Obey.' Sign it though the heavens fall."

She said, "Whether we agree with the plan proposed or not, everybody must agree that something had to be done."

"The depression has destroyed not only the property of the American people but it has destroyed their hope as well," she said. "To cure this condition, amounting to a tragedy, the President has asked and received from Congress extraordinary powers under which he hopes that the hopes of the American people will again be revived and that a re-employment of the unemployed masses will bring back prosperity and restore the full dinner pail to our toiling masses. Our President has grappled with our troubles with a fearlessness unequalled in the official life of any nation or of any age, and under his authority he has set up a plan of industrial recovery far reaching in its provisions but so broad in its scope that it may be difficult for many to understand."

"I realize, as many people realize, that the plan is such that we can not stop to cavil, to fatter, to doubt, or to do anything less than hold up the hands of our President, and, whether it suits us or not, our duty to our country makes it our solemn obligation to put our shoulder to the wheel and free ourselves from any possible charge that we have not done our whole duty in seeking to relieve our own condition."

"It matters not, personally, to the President what the people decide in this great crisis. It is, however, a matter of deep concern to him as well as the rest of us, as to what becomes of the prosperity and the happiness of the American people."

"As Governor of Texas, let me urge upon the people to promptly sign the agreements presented by the President and trust in his purpose and encourage him in his struggle for our good and for our welfare."

"If there is anything you don't understand about the agreement, just sign it anyway and investigate afterwards. If there is some point of law that occurs to you, just sign the agreement and then consult the lawyer. If you are doubtful whether the plan will work, just sign and you will find out. Don't forget that the success of this plan depends upon the united team-

FRUITS TO BE HIGHER

Muleshoe grocers are advising the buying public to can all the fruit they can during the summer months, also stating it is advisable to now lay in a good supply of canned fruits.

present prevailing prices. Fruits are destined to be much higher this fall. The crops in South Texas and California, as well as in other sections have been considerably shortened by nature, as well as being affected by general depression conditions. In this section the unprecedented freeze last January killed most of the fruit.

MRS. NEIL ROCKEY AND DAUGHTER VISIT SOIL SOLDIER SON-BROTHER IN A WYOMING CONSERVATION CAMP

Mrs. Neil Rockey and daughter, Miss Melzine, returned the latter part of last week from a 10 days trip to Wyoming where they spent five days visiting O'Neil Rockey, son and brother, respectively, who is a member of the United States Citizens Conservation Corps.

They report O'Neil to be getting along fine with his work, his fellow citizen-soldiers and his superior officers, he recently having had a promotion in his work along with an increase in wages, neither of which seemed to make him angry. He has swapped some of his superfluous adipose tissue for harder chunks of muscle, exchanged his lily white complexion for a husky coat of tan, and in his daily wrestling with stumps, rocks and trees is in a fit condition to make a physical tackle of almost anything from a pigskin on a college diamond to a young cyclone sneaking up one of the canyons of that mountainous state, anxious to get away from President Roosevelt who is so successfully reversing the laws of economics and may any time take a notion to turn the elements of nature inside out.

O'Neil is in a camp of about 200 other workmen, located near Gillette, in the northern part of Wyoming. The boys are quartered in 28 army regulation tents and are supplied with every required necessity and many of the luxuries of outdoor life. They are given the same amount of attention, said Mrs. Rockey, being supervised by older and experienced men who constantly keep tab on their actions, demeanor and health conditions. They go to work in the morning at eight o'clock, have an hour off for noon, and quit in the afternoon at four o'clock. Lights are out at nine o'clock at night. The cots are inspected every seven and the boys must be there or else explain. The camp is equipped with a good hospital tent, manned by capable physician and nurses and all the equipment necessary for taking care of any accident or immediate emergency sickness. There is a commissary tent where practically everything needed may be purchased reasonably. There is a library where current magazines, newspapers and some books may be obtained, and various musical organizations have been perfected for passing away the evenings in recitals, orchestra numbers, quartets, solos, and various vaudeville stunts frequently making up set evening programs attended by most members of the camp.

This particular group of men are now engaged in extinguishing the fires from mines in this section, some of these mines having been on fire for the past 15 or 20 years, not only being more or less of a menace to that particular section but destroying thousands of tons of coal which would be of value to future generations. The putting out of the smouldering and sometimes raging fires is a real conservation act of incalculable value to the nation at large. Recently O'Neil in command of a bunch of 10 other men put out a mine fire which officers estimated would take about two months to eradicate, but the lads tackled the job with such a degree of vim and efficiency that the last coal lay smouldering in just two weeks time.

Incidentally O'Neil, who is naturally of a humanitarian disposition, feels he is accomplishing in this particular labor a great deed for the human race generally, and a distinct favor for some of his friends back in Muleshoe.

"A view of these ravishing, burning coal mines, with all their attending flames, heat, smoke and sulphur smell, gives one a graphic picture of the here after," he told his mother. "The Bible, you know," he said, "tells us that 'the earth shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also, and all the works contained therein.' No doubt this great catastrophe will come about largely through these mine fires. The fires of the present are but the forerunners of the earth burning up. After awhile these two fires, the ascending and the descending, will meet, and then will occur the end of the world, when it will burst forth in one great mass of burning nebulae—a flaming torch of a lifeless planet leaping out on the funeral pyre of crisp, consumed worlds—and some of my best friends back in Muleshoe will not be paying the penalties of their indiscreet words and actions." O'Neil doesn't quite put himself in the role of a human saviour; but he does insist that this conservation work he is now engaged in under the direction of President Roosevelt is going to have its lasting and eternal benefits for all humanity—and he may be right.

Mrs. Rockey reports that all the boys in that camp are getting along nicely, enjoying themselves finely, have perfect health, amiable dispositions, appreciate recreation, treatment, and are receiving and are happy in their work. They brought back with them O'Neil's best regards to all his friends here in Muleshoe.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school 9:45 a. m., with a devotional program will be the opening part of the services. This being the first Sunday of the month we shall administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at the morning hour. This is a sacred matter in the life of the Christian church and we shall try to make it worth while to those who attend.

The leagues meet at 8:00 p. m. The evening services will be at 8:30 p. m. The pastor seeks to make as great a variety in the services as he can so that they may not be monotonous. But in spite of all they may do there is a certain amount of repetition. But people attend other meetings where there is no variation at all in any part of the program and they seem to enjoy that. Those meetings are just for the present and do not tend to do anything for their purpose the work of the church.

Mid week meeting Wednesday night, studying "The Temptation of Jesus."

The choir meets at Miss Iris Harden's this Thursday night.

The missionary society will be in gear again soon with this cooler weather, and we hope they will put on a profitable drive for several new members.

We are away over the crest of the hill in our work and time and we are seeking to make this a good closing year, regardless of the freakishness of the year and the hard conditions of things. This has been a costly year to some people while others have run down on the same plane. Suppose we bestir ourselves and attempt something for some one—E. G. RANEY, Pastor.

ALLEN FENTON HONORED

Allen Fenton was very pleasantly surprised last Saturday when a number of his friends and relatives gathered at the Penton home about six o'clock p. m., to do honor to his thirty-first birthday anniversary. Each car was well laden with fried chicken and the other good things for a big feast for the occasion, which was duly enjoyed by all participating. After the sumptuous repast games of pitch and 42 were enjoyed by all until a late hour.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Allen McGee and children, Cecil and Model, Mr. and Mrs. Claud McGee and children, Pauline, Burbaughn, Harold Jean and Bobby, Sam Cook and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lockett and children of Happy, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Penton and daughter, Nora Bella.

TO HANDLE HOME LOANS

Cecil Tate, attorney, and M. G. Miller, formerly handling RFC loan applications in Bailey county, have been recommended by Congressman Marvin Jones to handle applications in this county for loans from the Federal Home Owners Loan Corporation, according to information.

The appointment is expected to be made sometime this week.

Attorney Garland Woodward, of Big Spring well known in Muleshoe, has been appointed general attorney to pass on all loans in the Plains-Panhandle area. He will be located at the Amarillo office, 309 Polk street.

AMBULANCE SERVICE?

- No, we are not furnishing ambulance service to anyone. On the contrary, we are doing everything within our mechanical power to keep you from needing that last dread service.
- It pays one to keep their truck or passenger car in tip-top repair. One never knows when a loose bolt may let some part of the car drop out place, producing a wreck and demanding the services of a doctor or an undertaker.
- We are not trying to throw a scare in any one—just reminding you, as a matter of good business, that the old saying, "a stitch in time saves nine," may come true any time and the surgeon may have to take a few stitches in you if your car goes askew sometime.
- It costs nothing to drive in for an examination and very little for most repair jobs. Better see us TODAY!

LATE PLANTING

Mr. Don L. Jones, Superintendent of the State experimental farm at Lubbock, Texas, states the latest he has planted maize and obtained a good yield was August 31st.

Sudan, Hegari, Cane or Millet will mature earlier than Maize.

The ten year average rainfall for Bailey County is 18.80. The highest rainfall for any year in the past ten years was 13.99. We are due 10 inches of rain to even up with the highest year. This rain should fall within the next two months. This will give ample rainfall for maturing grain or seed, with a late frost.

WHAT HOME BREW DOES

Somewhat sent the editor of the Pokes town Gazette a few bottles of home brew. The same day he received for publication a wedding announcement and a notice of an auction sale. Here's what he had to say: "I received from William Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at a public auction at my farm a mile east of a beautiful cluster of rose on her breast and two white cats, before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of about 70 guests including two milk cows, six milks and one bob sled. Reverend Jackson loved the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay rope and the bridal couple left on an extended trip with terms to suit the purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with our best regards and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some fifty chickens.—Scandia (Kan.) Journal.

WILDERING GORED BY BULL
W. M. Wildering, of the Y L community, while starting to lead a fine Shorthorn bull he recently purchased to water, was severely gored by the animal which pushed him into the wall of the stable, knocking him down and then trampled upon him.

Wildering suffered several lacerations from the infuriated animal's hoofs, also severe bruises, but fortunately no serious internal injuries. While exceedingly sore, he is able to be up the latter part of this week.

TO PAVE TWO MORE BLOCKS IN MULESHOE WITH RFC FUNDS
The recently authorized RFC committee the first of this week started construction work on another street block in Muleshoe, digging out the base to grade and filling it in with caliche.
This is the fifth block to be so constructed in the county seat town, and it is understood the street block in front of the City hall will also be so improved if funds are available.
Tuesday afternoon Attorney Pat R. Bobo, local administrator for the rehabilitation committee, received a letter from Lawrence Westbrook, Austin, stating that in accordance with the national plan, wages paid here in the future would be advanced to 30 cents per hour and the labor time allotment to each workman would be correspondingly decreased, he thus getting the same amount of money but for less labor given.
