

Anderson prepared

to reconsider race

By MIKE SHANAHAN

t Mrs.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Independent presidential candidate John B. Anderson, following an unusual meeting with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, says he would think about dropping his election bid if President Carter does not become the Democratic presidential nominee.

Anderson said Thursday after the hour-long session that if the Massachusetts senator or someone other than Carter were nominated by the Democrats, "it would only be prudent...to perhaps consider what my position then would be.

Previously, Anderson had always insisted that he was in the race to stay, no matter who became the Democratic nominee.

The Kennedy-Anderson meeting, at Kennedy's invitaton, marked a discussion between political "odd fellows," a conservative-to-moderate House member for 20 years and a liberal Democrat who believes government has a major role to play in solving many social and conomic problems.

Kennedy said if he pulled off an upset at the Democratic National Convention and won nomination, he would direct the Democratic National Committee to cease its current legal efforts to keep Anderson off the ballot in some states.

He also pledged that, unlike the president, he would agree to a three-way televised presidential debate with Anderson, Kennedy and Republican presidential nominee Ronald Reagan.

Both men had effusive praise for the other, but they also said no deal had been made regarding support of one for the other.

Kennedy aides said, however, that the Anderson statement would send a signal to Democrats that there might not be an independent candidate to siphon off votes in the fall election should Kennedy be the party's nominee.

Later Kennedy said he was "increasingly hopeful and optimistic" that he would win the open-convention rules fight that is his last chance to take the nomination from Carter.

Kennedy phoned Reagan and got his agreement to debate Kennedy, should he be the Democratic candidate, and an aide said Kennedy told the Republican: "I plan on being the nominee."

However, The Washington Post reported in today's edition that it had taken a survey that showed 54 percentof Democratic delegates against the open-convention rule favored by Kennedy and 41 percent for it. The Post said it surveyed 591 of the 3,331 delegates between July 22 and 29.

There were also these political developments:

-Reagan provided the first peek at his personal finances by releasing copies of his 1979 income tax returns. They showed he paid $230,886 in federal income taxes and $32,050 in California income taxes last year on an income of $515,878.

-Anderson asked a federal court to order the Federal Election Commission to declare him eligible to receive federal campaign funds after the election.

In a suit filed in U.S. District Court in Washington, lawyers for Anderson said if he gets the requisite 5 per cent of the vote and is on the ballot in 10 states he should be eligible for funds which could total $20 million.

The money would not be available until after the election, but Anderson's campaign officials could borrow money if an FEC ruling denying him funds were reversed

After his meeting with Anderson, Kennedy said he liked the congressman's approach to some economic issues.

July's employment figures mixed, but encouraging

WASHINGTON (AP) - In defiance of economic predictions, the number of Americans holding jobs in July rose sharply for the first time in five months, but the unemployment rate crept back up to 7.8 percent, the government said today. In a report laden with encouraging but also mixed economic signals, the Labor Department said total employment based on its survey of American households rose by 459,000 jobs -reversing four straight months of declines brought on by the recession. At the same time, unemployment, which had dropped from 7.8 percent in May to 7.7 percent in June, returned to 7.8 percent last month as the number of jobless Americans increased by 201,000.

The department said unemployment rose in July despite the gain in jobs because people entered the labor market at a faster rate than jobs were created.

The figures, combined with a positive Commerce Department report on economic trends issued earlier this week, suggested that the recession is bottoming out sooner than economists had expected.

had expected. In fact, the government had been looking for another drop in employ-ment in July accompanied by a larger rise in the jobless rate, which had surged from 6 percent in February.

Only two weeks ago, the Carter administration predicted in a revised economic forecast that unemployment would peak at 8.6 percent by early 1981 and remain there throughout the year. The prediction, however, was based on the very rapid deterioration in economic activity during the spring, a trend that appears to have slowed significantly in the past

But department economists also pointed to a conflicting report suggesting that the government may have overestimated the rise in employment in July.

A separate survey of business es-tablishments reported a 240,000 drop in employment, an opposite trend from the household survey.

Department economists 'sought to reconcile the differences by suggest-ing that perhaps employment re-mained essentially stable in July, and that its statistical treatment of the information may have been somewhat off base.

In another sign of the bottoming out of the recession, the government said the unemployment rate in Michigan edged downward for the second month in a row. That state, suffering a severe slump in the auto industry, had a 13.6 percent jobless rate, down from a 14.1 percent rate in June and 14.4 percent rate in May.

Janet L. Norwood, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the latest job figures "show a level-ing-off in the employment declines that began earlier this year."

Commissioners propose no change in tax rate

By ED TODD Staff Writer

Midland County's tax rate and assessed valuations for 1980 will be identical to last year's if the Midland County Commissioners' Court, meeting as the board of equalization, picks up no flack in a public hearing set for 5 p.m. on Aug. 12 in the courthouse. The tax rate is to be set at 95 cents per $100 valuation on 32 percent of assessed values. Though real and personal property valuations will remain unchanged, the valuation on minerals has been effectively increased by 60 percent.

The commissioners set the date for the public hearing late Thursday afternoon in a session attended by County Judge Bill Ahders, the four commissioners, County Attorney Les Acker, County Tax Assessor-Collector Elmo Linebarger and his apparent successor, Chief Deputy Frances Shuffield. Linebarger is not seeking re-election, and Ms. Sheffield is unopposed in the Nov. 4 general election.

The 1980 assessed valuation of real and personal property and minerals is approaching a half billion dollars, $439,576,890, which out-distances $357,-960,260, of 1979. The fair-market value would be 3.125 times the assessed valuation, Ms. Shuffield said. The $81 million increase is due to an upward re-valuation of minerals, mainly oil and gas, new businesses and improvements since 1970, she said.

"Nobody is getting ripped off," Ms. Shuffield said. "It shouldn't alter their tax bill one iota."

However, tax bills from other taxing agencies, including the city, school, college, and hospital, are leaping upward at inflationary rates.

"There will be no change in Midland County taxes," echoed Commis-sioner Durward Wright. He said "real and personal property" taxes will remain unchanged.

What will change, however, will be taxes paid by mineral owners. Pritof cable concerning Libyan visit WASHINGTON (AP) - Billy Carter, reversing statements he made a day earlier, acknowledged today that someone in the White House gave him a State Department cable concerning his 1978 trip to Libya.

told reporters in Plains, Ga., this morning that he did indeed receive a copy of a cable from the American charge d'affaires in Tripoli saying 'that he appreciated me coming there and that it helped his job."

Asked who gave him the cable, Carter replied, "I assume I got it from someone in the White House." Asked if that person was the president, he replied: "I won't comment on that directly. It was over a year ago and I don't remember."

He said the cable is now in his lawyer's possession.

In Americus, Ga., on Thursday, Billy had strongly denied that he had any government cables, that the president ever gave him any or that he ever said otherwise to Justice Department investigator Joel Lisker.

"I have State Department copies of nothing," the president's brother said at the time. "Jimmy has not shown me anything.'

Asked today why he had initially denied receiving any cables, Billy replied, "I didn't realize you were talking about it (the charge d'affaires' memo).

Billy Carter also had denied lying to Lisker last January about receiving any money from Libya. Today, Billy said Lisker never asked him directly about the money

'The record speaks for itself," Lisker, who heads the Justice Department's foreign agents registration section, said Thursday. Also on Thursday, the White House released seven apparently innocuous State Department cables on Billy's visit to Libya and sought to discount any suggestion that the president gave his brother sensitive government information.

The cables reported there was "no negative fallout" from the trip, and one consisted of nothing but a news account on the lack of beer, then Billy' favorite drink, in Libya.

White House press secretary Jody Powell said Thursday that even if the president had given the cables to his brother, "it wouldn't have amounted to a hill of beans."

This morning, Powell upbraided members of Congress and the news media for their handling of the disclosures of the cables earlier this week.

"I just think that when you're dealing with the integrity questions about the conduct in office of a president of the United States, members of Con-gress and everybody else ought to know what they're talking about be-know what they re taiking about be-fore they leap to conclusions." Powell, interviewed on ABC-TV's "Good Morning, America" program, said he saw no impropriety in the president sharing the cables with Billy, especially since they had been made available to syndicated colum-nict Lock Anderson 14 months ago nist Jack Anderson 14 months ago.

The seven cables were released as a special Senate committee investigating the Billy Carter-Libyan affair agreed to begin hearings Monday and to try to finish gathering evidence.

DPS files pessimistic state budget requests

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The Department of Public Safety is pessimistic about the future price of gasoline. Col. Jim Adams, DPS director, told examiners from the Legislative Budget Board and the governor's office Thursday he expects gasoline prices to hit $1.75 a gallon in 1982 and $2 in 1983.

"And some consider that to be conservative," Adams said. The DPS budget request to the next Legislature includes $6.8 million in 1982 and $7.8 million in 1983 for gasoline for highway patrol cars, compared with $3.1 million in 1981.

Adams said he thinks Texas will meet this year's federal goal of 40 percent compliance with the 55 mph speed limit.

"My problem is the 50 percent next year. We need additional visible (highway patrol) units. We don't have what you would call saturation coverage," he said.

Adams said he also wants the Legislature to get rid of the long-standing prohibition against the use of aircraft, including helicopters, for speed law enforcement

"I think this is an area the Legislature should leave to the judgment of a law enforcement agency," Adams said. He said aircraft "have been accepted in almost every state as a valid, effective weapon for speed law enforcement."

Adams said if the provision is removed, he would do a "very thorough study" of the cost effectiveness and usefulness of aircraft before using them to identify speeders.

"We only have seven aircraft, and we are making full use of them now in law enforcement and criminal investigations. So there is ample protection against the widespread use of aircraft," he said.

The DPS wants $138.4 million for 1982 and $152.4 million for 1983, com-pared with its 1981 appropriation of $102.8 million. The proposed budget includes money to add 101 highway patrolmen to the present force of 1,494 troopers. Included are pay raises of 17 percent in 1982 and 10.2 percent in 1983 for all employees, with an additional 3.4 percent in the second year for law enforcement officers.

GOP officials said the leadership wants to keep key government vacancies open for Ronald Reagan to fill should the Republican presidential nominee capture the White House. The Republican leaders also believe Carter is sending up an unusually heavy load of nominations to strengthen his political support.

Some Republicans complained that the president appeared to be trying to fill every vacancy for multi-year terms so that a new president would be unable to make any appointments of his own for at least a year.

"The story we get is that whenever there's a vacancy, he's trying to fill it," said one Republican official, who did not want to be named.

Tax board seeks 'chief appraiser'

By ED TODD Staff Writer

The newly-formed Midland County Tax Appraisal Board is conducting a search for a "chief appraiser" for the six taxing entities in the county.

"If you're going to go first-class," board member Walter B. "Walt" Holton said Thursday, "it's going to cost you a lot, but it's worth it as time goes

The Texas state tax appraisal office has suggested that the annual salary range for a chief appraiser for a city comparable to Midland be between $32,000 and $50,000.

Earlier in the day, the six-member. board had interviewed four appraising firms, including Pritchard & Abbott, to do contract appraisal work. But the board chose none and opted instead to seek out and hire an individual to do the property appraisals for the city of Midland, Greenwood Independent School District, Midland Independent School District, Midland College, Midland Memorial Hospital

District, and Midland County. "What would you think about advertising in Texas newspapers — El Paso, Dallas, Midland?" suggested board member Charlie Welch.

Among those already considered for the job were Virgil Jones, the city's tax assessor-collector; Wilburn Long, the county's chief appraiser; and Joe Shuffield, an abstractor.

The city has been doing the tax work for the city, college, Midland public school and the hospital. The county tax office has been doing appraisal, assessing and tax collecting for the Greenwood ISD, as well as for the county.

'What we envision is one (tax) office" for the six taxing entities in the county, said Gil Tompson, appraisal board chairman, "and putting all of them (the chief appraiser and the several assessors and tax collectors) in one office. It certainly makes sense.

"That's our goal," he said. "That's our dream. It's got to be something all the taxing agencies agree to."

He said the board is looking for somebody "with the very best cre-dentials" to be the chief appraiser. The county appraisal board is to oversee the countywide property appraisals beginning Jan. 1, 1982.

The board also speculated on the county-proposed courthouse annex to be constructed at Baird Street and Illinois Avenue if that segment of Baird Street between Illinois and Texas avenues is ever closed. Tompson suggested that the tax office might occupy the first-floor offices if the courthouse annex is ever built.

At any rate, he said that tax offices should be easily accessible to the public. And he noted the keen interest in rising taxes. "It's a hot issue right now, no doubt about it, and with good reason, I guess.

Board members and their representative bodies are Bud Lea, Greenwood ISD; Fred Wright, Midland College; Joe Nuessle, city of Midland; Welch, Midland County; Tompson, Midland ISD; and Holton, hospital.

year politics;" he said. On Monday, Republican Sen. Orrin G. Hatch of Utah circulated a "dear colleague" letter to fellow Republicans, saying "I have discovered a plan by President Carter and the Democratic majority in the Senate to fill all existing presidential appointments this month, even those which do not expire until the fall."

Hatch said Carter was doing this "to give patronage jobs to special interest groups and deny Gov. Ronald Reagan the opportunity to make a number of key appointments when he is elected."

Hatch said Carter made 1,635 nomi-during a comparable period last year. Some recent nominations, he contended, were for posts that have been vacant for three years.

Hatch urged his colleagues to "give serious thought to supporting a position which would slow down or completely stop the consideration of fixed-term presidential nomineeds under these circumstances.'

Despite Hatch's charges, the Senate's executive clerk, who oversees presidential nominations, said he hasn't noticed an unusual pattern of appointments.

"I suppose it may be a matter of interpretation, but it looks like a normal flow to me," said Gerald Hackett.

chard & Abbott, valuation consultants, doubled the value of minerals. But, on a motion of Charlie Welch, the other commissioners, meeting as the equalization board, approved a 20 percent reduction, which Welch interpreted as an overall 60 percent increase in minerals.

"Midland County did not change any value of any real or personal property," Welch said, "but P&A did change the mineral values. As a matter of fact, they doubled them."

But Wright surmised that any increases in mineral taxes will be well offset by profits mineral owners are making off of oil and gas sales.

involved in the mission but negligently failed to provide Ryan and his party with adequate security and military protection.

The State Department in Washington had no immediate comment.

Ryan led newsmen and others to Jonestown in 1978 to investigate reports of mistreatment of U.S. citizens at the colony led by the Rev. Jim Jones, whose Peoples Temple had its headquarters here in Ryan's district. Ryan and Harris, whose non-professional name was Roy Darwin

Humphrey, and three others were slain by followers of Jones on the minister's orders, as they boarded an airplane.

That night Jones and more than 900 other followers died in a mass suicide; primarily by taking or being administered poison.

The suits, filed by attorney Marvin Lewis, said the State Department had a special duty to warn Ryan of the dangers and risk.

An'agent of the Central Intelligence Agency and an employee of the department "knowingly, intentionally and maliciously" led the two into a trap at the air strip which cost them their lives, the suits say.

The $3 million Ryan suit was filed by Christopher Ryan, 30; Shannon Jo Ryan, 28; Patricia Ryan, 27; Kevin Ryan, 25, and Erin Ryan, 23. All live at Burlingame, a San Francisco suburb, except Christopher, who is from Roxbury, Mass.

The other action for $5 million was by by Shirley Humphrey, 41, and children, beffrey, 18; Claire, 17, and Lauren, 14, all of the Los Angeles area.

Exactly how many nominations will be contested as political will be left up to a three-member screening committee made up of minority whip Ted Stevens of Alaska, John Tower of Texas and Mark Hatfield of Oregon.

This strategy was chosen Tuesday at the Senate Republicans' weekly policy meeting, chaired by minority leader Howard Baker of Tennessee, but it was not made public at the time.

"They decided there will not be a blanket hold on all appointments, but rather a case-by-case review by the ad hoc committee," Thomas Griscom, a Baker aide, said Thursday when asked about the effort.

Griscom said the Republicans would oppose an appointment "if it is clearly political and can be held up" without causing a disruption of important agency work.

Although the 41 Republican members of the Senate lack the votes for an outright defeat of a presdential nomination, which requires a simple majority, they can mount a filibuster and deprive the Democrats of the 60 votes needed to shut off debate. Several Republicans said they are doing the same thing the Democrats did to former President Gerald R. Ford before the 1976 presidential election. At the time, the Democratic leaders in the Senate told Ford, a Republican, not to send up any more nominations.

Griscom said the GOP would not contest long-term nominations that are non-partisan, such as military appointments, or nominations of foreign service officers who serve at a president's pleasure.

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge, ruling on a suit by an unidentified 19-year-old man, has refused to halt the nationwide draft registration program.

U.S. District Judge John F. Grady. on Thursday rejected arguments that the program discriminates, against 19- and 20-year-olds.

The ruling came as a result of a suit filed by attorney Nicholas Kitsos on behalf of the unnamed young man. The suit charged that 19-and 20-yearolds were the victims of discrimination because there was no registration of others in the 18- to 26-year age marketbasket bill was up in 11 cities and down in only two, for an overall increase of 3.1 percent - almost 41/2 times as big as the July rise. The marketbasket bill at the checklist stores has gone up an average of more more than 7 percent this year and is about 12 percent higher than it was at the start of August 1979.

Food items accounted for a disproportionate share of the July price rise. Foods represented 79 percent of the items checked by the AP, but accounted for 89 percent of the increases. Eggs and chopped chuck each went up in seven cities; frankfurters increased in six cities.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has been predicting that food prices alone will rise between 7 percent and 11 percent this year. Most economists believe the increase will be near the top end of the estimate. The USDA is sticking to its prediction so far despite the hot, dry weather, but the full extent of the damage to crops and livestock will not be known until later in the year.

The drought could cause problems in the beef industry. After several years of reducing their herds because of low cattle prices, ranchers had started to rebuild. The National Cattlemen's Association says that ranchers have not yet been forced to sell off animals on a widespread basis. A continued lack of water, however, could cause "some liquidation of basic cow herds," the association says. That would mean a temporary increase in supply and a temporary drop in price, but it would also mean a decrease in beef production later on. A look at the overall number of items in the AP survey showed fewer increases during July than during June. Here are the percentages of increases and decreases:

Echardt defends rail amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Texas, complains that opponents of his amendment the bill passed as amended. to the railroad deregulation bill are resorting to "scare talk."

He denied that the amendment could lead the federally subsidized Conrail system to bankruptcy. 'Conrail this week issued a letter to the members of Congress threatening to come to Congress for more money or - God forbid - apply for bankruptcy if my amendment stays in the bill," the Houston congressman said Thursday at a news conference. 'That is scare talk.'

The Conrail system was put together from six bankrupt railroads primarily serving the East Coast.

Eckhardt said there is no dispute about Conrail's troubles, but it would not survive without more federal money regardless of the outcome of the battle over his amendment. "The bill will simply not affect Conrail in the least," he said.

The bill's sponsors abruptly pulled it from the floor last week after Eckhardt's amendment was approved narrowly. Rep. James Florio, D-N.J., the chief sponsor, has said he does not want to complete action on the bill until he is certain he has enough votes to reverse the outcome.

Eckhardt said a misconception has arisen that his amendment would set a ceiling on the rates railroads could charge.

"This has been a persistent rumor, a persistent assumption that is hard to get rid of," he said.

The amendment sets a lower threshold for the Interstate Commerce Commission to be able to review a railroad rate in cases where a shipper is dependent on one railroad for service.

Men get probation on drug charge

ODESSA - Two Akron, Ohio, men who had fled into Mexico after they had been arrested by federal officers near Big Bend for possession of mari-juana were placed on strict probation for five years and were fined $2,000 by Federal Judge Lucius D. Bunton in Odessa on Wednesday.

The two had pleaded guilty to pos-session of marijuana with intent to distribute, but the indictment charging them with jumping ball was dis-missed in a plea-bargaining agree-ment. ment.

Bunton admonished the two, James Thomas Farley, 23, and Robert Allen Krukow, 24, for going astray and said that their heading into Mexico to avert a court appearance "was not only wrong but exceedingly stupid."

"You'd think one mistake (hauling marijuana) would be enough," the judge told the duo.

Bunton told Farley, a former college student, and Krukow, a one-time professional race car driver, that they must be a "heartbreak" to their parents and families for twice breaking the law.

"Hauling marijuana is not a very good way to raise money," Bunton told the men.

They were arrested between Presidio and Lajitas last December for importing 338 pounds of marijuana from Mexico. But once on bail and under indictment, the two fled into Mexico and were subsequently indicted for failure to appear in court.

Later, each voluntarily returned to the United States and turned themselves over to federal officials. Both had been living in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. Farley returned to the United States in early June and gave himself up at Los Angles, Calif. Krukow gave himself up a month later in El Paso. Instead of sentencing them to the penitentiary, Bunton ordered the two to Permian Place Community Program Center, a halfway house which helps prepare federal prisoners for release into a free society.

The two are to work regular jobs, such as oil field work, until they have completed their 120-day stay at the halfway house, which is for "people on their way to society from the penal institution," Bunton had noted.

But Bunton cautioned the men that if they "so much as thumb your nose" at their boss or supervisor, that the judge would revoke their probation under the Youth Corrections Act and would and sentence them to prison.

"If you can't live up to it (conditions of probation), it will not bother me one bit to sentence you," Bunton said.

Earlier, Farley had pleaded for probation as opposed to a prison sentence

"If you gave me the opportunity, I promise you I wouldn't mess up," ' he said.

Larry Barber, an Odessa attorney representing the two men, told the judge that the defendants "have never been arrested before, except for this incident ....

"They have been pretty good people up to this point."

Musicians join actors in nationwide strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP) -- With talks at an impasse and a strike deadline passed, the film industry's musicians apparently went on strike today, compounding the woes of producers who lost 60,000 striking actors 11 days ago. Negotiations reached a "total impasse" and broke down just two hours before a midnight PDT strike dead-

Neither the union representatives nor officials of the producers associa-tion could be reached for comment after the deadline passed, but the halt in talks virtually assured the musicians would go on strike.

There were no announced plans by the musicians regarding the use of picket lines.

Negotiations between the American Federation of Musicians Union and representatives of the Association of Motion Picture and Television Pro-ducers broke off late Thursday.

A work stoppage by the 5,000 musi-clans would halt all scoring sessions at most major studios and networks. It could cut down the supply of new programs since some shows shot be-fore the actors' strike began July 21 have not yet been scored and could not be broadcast without music.

With the halt of filming and taping, and the prospect of a fall without new TV shows, network officials are already scrambling for contingency programming.

The "total impasse" reached Thursday night, according to AFM president Victor Fuentealba, involved the musicians' insistence on receiving compensation for reruns of TV programs and films. "We've always felt this was an inequitable situation," he said, citing residual payments to actors, directors and writers for prime-time network TV shows that are repeated.

However, a management negotiator, who requested anonymity, said there was a significant difference between paying residuals to a few actors and doing the same for an orchestra with 50 members.

In contrast to the musicians' issues, the dispute between the actors and producers revolves around actors' demands for contract provisions to cover compensation for home video cassette sales.

There were no comprehensive figures available, but union and studio officials have said the actors' strike has caused widespread layoffs of nonacting studio personnel. And agents, who in most cases are paid a percentage of an actors' income from bookings, are also losing money, agent association president Marvin Faris said.

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, FRI., AUGUST 1, 1980

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) - Mexico's President Jose Lopez Portillo warned the United States that his country "will not stand for anything to be done to Cuba, because we will feel it is being done to us."

The Mexican president was speaking at a reception President Fidel Castro gave for him Thursday night. Mexican and Cuban officials interpreted his remarks as a warning to Republican presidential candidate Ronald Reagan.

Lopez Portillo, who arrived Thursday for a three-day state visit, did not name the United States. But he made clear his target by this quotation from Jose Marti, the leader of Cuba's struggle for independence from Spain: "From the North, a mischievous neighbor is materializing." He told Castro Mexico had demonstrated its determination to stand by Cuba, "and we will continue doing so in the exercise of the historic congruence that deeply binds us." The Cuban president expressed thanks for Mexico's support, especially in the 1960's "during the hour of shame ... when traitorous and cowardly cabals ... lent themselves to the infamous moves from Washington to try and amputate Cuba from Latin America." Mexico is the only member of the Organization of American States that did not break diplomatic relations with the Castro government in 1964 because of its support for revolutionary movements in other Latin-American countries. The OAS quarantine was lifted in 1975, and two years ago the United States, and Cuba established "special interest sections" in their capitals. But the United States has not resumed diplomatic relations and still bans trade between the two countries.

Cuban Vice President Rafael Rodriguez told reporters traveling with Lopez Portillo that the election of Reagan would create a "dangerous circumstance" for Cuba.

Asserting that the Republican nominee's Latin-American policies represent a return to Theodore Roosevelt's "walk softly and carry a big stick," he said: "But now it's even worse. Before it meant stick and carrot, but Reagan only wields a stick without the carrot."

Lopez Portillo's visit is expected to produce several economic agreements, including one for the sale of 400,000 tons of Cuban sugar to Mexico and another for Mexican technical help in oil exploration in Cuba.

doing very well WASHINGTON (AP) - The widespread belief that millions of Indians are starving is inaccurate and actually the nation is doing well in producing food, a published report says. The confidential report by the World Bank says the outlook for India is "substantially more optimistic than many past projections," it was reported today in the Washington Post. "Food grain self-sufficiency or surplus, if it comes about, will be an impressive achievement of a long-standing goal of Begin's rightist Likud coalition, said he would continue to support the gov-ernment in the Knesset, Israel's parliament. That was a relief for Begin, since recent defections have reduced his support to 62 of the 120 Knesset members, or a majority of only four. Tamir said in a television interview he was resigning because his party had three cabinet seats and only four seats in the Knesset, and that was unfair over-representation in the cabinet.

"I felt that I would be lying to myself if I remained one of three ministers from a party with four members," he said. "I couldn't make peace with it."

Informed sources said he was resigning to try to revitalize the party fore national elections next year. They predicted a power struggle with the party leader, Deputy Prime Minister Yigael Yadin.

The Democratic Movement was founded in the mid-1970s as a centrist alternative to the left-of-center Labor Party that had dominated politics since the founding of the Jewish state in 1948. It elected 15 members to the Knesset in the 1977 election that brought Begin to power and joined his ruling coalition.

Later, however, it was fractured by internal rivalries. Since defections nearly wiped out its Knesset holding, it has been under fire for holding on to three seats in the Cabinet. Recent public opinion polls indicated none of its members could be re-elected. Tamir's resignation could help Begin end a political stalemate within begin end a political stalemate within his coalition that has forced him to retain the defense portfolio since Weizman gave it up in May. Rival factions in the coalition have been contending for the defense post; now Begin has two key jobs to divide between them between them.

Meanwhile, Begin rebuffed the new Arab-Israeli peace effort by the European Common Market nations. He met in Jerusalem with Gaston Thorn of Luxembourg, current president of the European Community's council of foreign ministers, and told him Israel would not be distracted from the the Iranians are to be photographed fingerprinted, and questioned. The results will then be matched with Immigration and Naturalization Service records to ascertain their identities, said an INS spokesman who declined to identified. Protesters who voluntarily give their names and have valid visas will be released, officials said. Those who don't will be brought before an INS judge to show cause why he or she should not be deported, according to Justice Department spokesman John Russell.

Agency officials have said that many of the Iranians, most of whom claim to be members of the Moslem Students Association, were probably already violating their student visas and were refusing to identify themselves for fear of deportation.

The schools they were attending would be contacted to see if they were still students, Russell said.

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The veteran autoworker who held 17 people captive at gunpoint in a General Motors Corp. body plant "felt that society and the people he worked with were against him," his lawyer said.

Woman has right not to get pregnant

HAUPPAUGE, N.Y. (AP) - A man is not entitled to divorce his wife just because she refuses to bear him children, a state Supreme Court Justice has ruled

"It follows naturally that if a woman can terminate a pregnancy without the consent of her hus-band, she should be allowed to make the unilateral determination to prevent it," said Justice Joseph Jaspan.

Herbert Zagarow, 34, of Stony Brook had filed a divorce action against his wife, charging mental cruelty because she would not have sex with him unless he used contraceptives.

In a ruling last week, Jaspan said that was not sufficient reason to seek a divorce. But Jaspan granted a divorce to the couple anyway, because Zagarow's wife, Eileen, 30, had also filed a divorce suit. She accused Zagarow of adultery and was awarded $75 a week in alimony.

The couple had no children after 10 years of marriage.

Jaspan based his ruling against Zagarow's suit on a U.S. Supreme Court decision that said a woman could have an abortion in the first 12 weeks

By MATT BOKOR

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) -- Riot-equipped police met little resistance early today as they swept through a predominantly black neighborhood following a third straight night of sporadic vio-

Two officers received minor injuries and at least 30 people were arrested as police and troopers cordoned off a 20-square-block area of this Florida city.

Early this morning, police were "putting away the riot helmets, so it looks like it's coming to an end," said Orlando police spokesman Michael Burns. But increased patrols would continue n the area all night, he said.

The only property damage reported late Thursday was a shattered window at a convenience store and the firebombing of a boarded-up liquor store. That blaze was extinguished quickly by passing police officers.

More than 60 people have been arrested here during three nights of trouble sparked by the arrest of a robbery suspect. Two other Florida cities have erupted in race rioting since May.

Black ministers, who took to the streets early Wednesday trying to restore calm, again volunteered to patrol the streets Thursday night to help coax youths to return home. But police said that tactic met with little success.

"The type of crowd we're talking about, if they were inclined to listen to a minister in the first place, they wouldn't be out there doing what they're doing," said Lt. Tom Wylie. Wylie said patrolmen met only scattered resistance as they approached congregations of blacks and urged them to disperse. Orange County Sheriff Melvin Coleman suffered a minor cut on his face when his car was hit by a rock. An Orlando policeman suffered a bad leg bruise when he was run over by his own patrol car.

The neighborhood, about 19 miles east of Disney World and other area tourist attractions, was sealed off late Thursday when sporadic rock and bottle throwing erupted. Helmeted police carrying nightsticks, mace and shotguns patrolled the area four to a cruiser.

They warned black youths to go home and arrested those who refused.

The city's violence exploded early Wednesday when white officers arrested a black female robbery suspect inside a bar in the predominantly black neighborhood of southwest Orlando.

An unmarked police car was torched and an angry group of about 150 blacks pelted police and passers-by with rocks and bottles. On Wednesday night, the youths returned to the streets. Several buildings were set on fire and by Thursday morning, police had 29 adults and two juveniles in custody. "We don't know who we're dealing with except a bunch of rowdy youngsters," Coleman said. "It seems like some of the traditional leadership such as the ministers, have not been able to communicate.

"The ones I saw that were apparently the ones causing trouble appear to be teenagers anywhere from 13 to their early 20s. I'm not sure they have any responsible leadership themselves other than street types," the sheriff said.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) - Mayor Charles buck" and let the demands languish by sending them "Pat" Rose has warned black leaders not to push to committees. him too hard or too fast on demands they made following last week's racial disturbances

The leaders told Rose in a meeting Thursday that the demands for more jobs for blacks and for more blacks in city government should be acted on quickly and that action should not be delayed by unduly long study.

Black leaders residents presented the demands to Rose and other city leaders last Saturday after three days of shootings, firebombings and vandalism sparked by the acquittal of two Ku Klux Klansmen charged in the shootings of four black women. Another Klansmen was convicted on reduced charges.

The mayor said Saturday he would set up committees to look into the demands. At Thursday's meeting, set up by Rose for further discussion on how the studies should be carried out, black leaders pressed Rose for action and a timetable for results. George Key warned the mayor not to "pass the

fight city council Nazis, KKK may

DETROIT (AP) - The head of the American Nazi Party in Michigan says he and the Ku Klux Klan may go to court to fight restrictions imposed by the city council on a proposed march and rally by the two organizations.

A parade permit request for the Aug. 23 demonstration was approved Thursday by the council. The council changed the location of the march and rally from downtown Detroit to a more isolated location, and the use of hoods and swastikas in the demonstration was banned.

The council will be asked again for permission to hold the march as originally planned, said Nazi Party spokesman William Russell.

"If we don't get it we're going to sue the city of Detroit for violations of First Amendment rights and freedom of expression on the grounds that we can't express ourselves without our paraphernalia,' Russell said.

Council President Erma Henderson said the new site was "more policeable ... there's no danger of any passers-by being harassed."

The ATF has set up a special "Mideast Firearms Task Force" to investigate the cases, according to Tom Herset, group supervisor for the ATF in Detroit. He said the force also includes customs and immigration agents.

The ATF says the Toledo residents are told to bring the weapons to Detroit Metro Airport and from there attempts have been made to transport the weapons to Lebanon and Yemen.

Three Toledo residents have been arrested on charges related to the smuggling.

Widows charged with disrubting city council

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The widows of two men slain during a November "Death to the Klan" rally here have been charged with disrupting a city council meeting — one of them by allegedly shouting at the mayor, "you've got blood on your hands." A half-dozen members of the Communist Workers Party entered council chambers Thursday and said they were protesting what they called a cover-up of facts about the rally killings, according to today's Greensboro Daily News.

Police cleared the meeting room at the request of the mayor.

Five members or associates of the Communist Workers Party were killed at the Nov. 3 rally. Six members of the Ku Klux Klan or American Nazi Party are on trial in the deaths. Testimony begins Monday.

Signe Waller and Dale Sampson, who allegedly told Mayor James Melvin he had blood on his hands, were arrested and held in lieu of $500 bond each on charges of creating a disruption in a public build-

Wallace said Alaskan land bill could cost nation's poor

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Moving congressional debate on the Alaskan Land Bill to the "deepest slums" might illustrate how much the bill could cost the nation's poor in possible jobs, says Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace.

Wallace urged the Texas congressional delegation to support a Senate committee version of the bill rather than the "highly restrictive" ver-sion that passed the House last year.

"There is no more far-reaching" energy legislation pending before Congress, Wallace said in a Tuesday letter.

He said the bill drafted by the Senate Energy Committee would create 102 million acres of wildlife lands in Alaska. The House measure would mond as saying development of Alas-ka's mineral potential could create 32,000 jobs in Alaska and the "lower 48" states.

"Never in my lifetime did I expect to see this great nation of ours -clearly in a crisis situation - locked in such a tormenting, self-destruc-tive debate that pits 'needs' against 'wants.' The debate is symbolic of wants. The decate is symbolic of the schizophrenia that has gripped Washington," said Wallace. "Unbelievably," he said, "this debate attempts to match the merits of a lifeblood issue such as the energy needs of Americans - which translate into jobs for the unemployed and food for the hungry - with the needs of caribou, wolves, curled-horn Dall sheep, starry-eyed visions of tundra, and pretty, but inaccessible parks.

"Perhaps the real significance of congressional action on the propos-focus for the American public by having the legislation debated - not in the halls of our nation's Capitol — but, instead, in the deepest slums of the nation where the poor, hungry and unemployed can be told millions

cut prices

NEW YORK (AP) - Falling U.S. petroleum demand has spurred several of the nation's largest oil companies to reduce prices on crude oil. Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) cut the price of 250,000 barrels of Alaskan crude oil it sells in the lower 48 states each day by $4 to $29 per 42-gallon barrel. The reduction by the producer of nearly half the Alaskan North Slope's 1.6 million barrels-a-day oil output was retroactive to May 1.

Sohio, Gulf Oil Corp., Atlantic Richfield Co. and Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), meanwhile, announced reductions of $1 to $1.50 a barrel on crude oil they produce or buy in states other than Alaska.

Spokesmen for other major producers, including Exxon Corp., Mobil Corp. and Texaco Inc., said Wednes-

'The town is gone,

By CHRISTOPHER CORBETT

DANIELS, Md. (AP) — No one lives here anymore, but on a quiet summer evening the strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" drift out of the Methodist church and across the empty streets. The church is just about the only thing left in the once-bustling mill town. Over the years, the company-owned town began to deteriorate as the cotton industry shifted to the South. The houses were eventually torn down, and in 1972 Tropical Storm Agnes finished off what re-mained.

But the members of the Daniels Community Band, some of whom are not much younger than the 101-year-old band itself, faithfully troop in from their new homes to practice in the Gary Memorial United Methodist Church.

William Webb, who plays trumpet and baritone horn, says he keeps the band going partly because it reminds him of his now-deserted hometown. "To me, it's a labor of love... The town is gone, but the band plays on," he said.

"I think we have a real good country band," says Russell Rudacille, who used to work in the mill and joined the band in 1915 when the group was known as The Alberton Cornet Band.

A photograph from that year shows the members of the band in tunics, peaked hats, and sharply creased white trousers emblazoned with dark stripes down the sides.

Rudacille won't say how old he is, except "I wasn't born in this century." He plays the tuba.

"I'm the oldest and the worst musician in the band," said Rudacille, laughing. "I can't see the music too good and that's a big handicap."

But what he lacks in musical talent he makes up for in spirit.

"I love to play 'God Bless America,"" he said. "Over the years," recalled Webb, "the Rudacilles have been the backbone of the band. Of course there were four brothers.

Brother Lester, now in his 70s, still plays the clarinet. Roy and Bernard are dead. But Russell's son, Earl, and Roy's son, Gary, are in the band, carrying on the family tradition.

The number of band members has fluctuated over the years. There are now between 20 and 25.

"It's a nice, friendly group," said the 67-year-old Webb, who joined the band when he was 10. "Musically, we are not a good band, but we have a lot of fun and we fill a need. We play for the joy of playing. Some of us have very little musical training."

The band mostly plays for free, at nursing homes and Fourth of July picnics, and for the local American Legion on Memorial Day.

The band does not have uniforms any more and does not march. It is "a strictly seated band," said Webb, a balding, gray-haired, wiry man. It is a band that plays "for our own amazement," he added.

Its repertoire strongly favors the marches of John Philip Sousa and "old favorites," like "Walting For The Robert E. Lee" and "Over The Waves.'

'We don't play 'The Stars and Stripes Forever' too often, it's fairly difficult," Webb added.

Political conventions tell but the band plays on' same story over and over

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG

WASHINGTON (AP) - Political conventions inevitably are a retelling of the same story, efforts to capitalize on the same national yearnings and frustrations. Only the names and dates change.

On that climactic night he accepts the presidential nomination of the out-of-power party, the challenger tells of his travels across America, of the greatness he has seen, and bemoans the lack of leadership.

An incumbent seeking renewal of his White House lease, no matter how high or low his standing in the polls, talks of the need to continue his work.

When Richard M. Nixon accepted the Republican nomination for a second term, he talked of his first four years and said, "We can be proud of that record, but we shall never be satisfied. A record is not something to stand on, it's something to build on."

Four years and Nixon's resignation later, Gerald R. Ford accepted the Republican nomination with reference to "the challenge of a job well-begun, but far from finished."

If President Carter is nominated for a second term at the Democratic National Convention, he undoubtedly will accept with a speech citing the work he has begun and the need to carry it forward with another four years in the White House.

The themes and appeals change so little from convention to convention that it sometimes sounds like the candidates, regardless of party, are working from the same text.

Take Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan. No one is likely to accuse them of agreeing on much. Yet as challengers for the presidency they had remarkably similar views of the nation.

At the 1976 Democratic Convention, Carter spoke of how he took his campaign "directly to the people of America, to homes and shopping centers, factory

611 more teachers purged in Seoul

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) - The Education Ministry today purged 611 teachers and officials, raising to 8,634 the number of officials and employees of government firms fired since the martial law command began its "social purification" campaign last month. The campaign is run by the military-dominated Special Committee for National Security which says corrupt, disloyal and inefficient employees are being weeded out.

Those purged pre-viously included 4,992 government officials, 1,-819 executives and officials of government banks and corporations, and 1,212 officials of agricultural and fishery cooperatives. On Thursday, the martial-law regime shut down 172 weekly and monthly publications which is said printed material that was "obscene, vulgar, instigated social confusion or created a mood of class consciousness." This was 12 percent of the 1,434 weekly and monthly periodicals.

The martial-law command also announced the indictment of Kim Daejung, the nation's foremost foe of military rule, and 23 of his followers, setting the stage for their court-martial. They were charged with conspiring to overthrow the government and could get the death penalty if convicted. The military prosecu-

'From one end of this great nation and to the other, over many months and thousands and thousands of miles ... in the big cities, the small towns and in rural America."

And what did they find?

"A new mood in America," said Carter. "Our people are seeking new voices, new ideas and new leaders.'

"A party ready to build a new consensus with all those across the land who share a community of values," said Reagan.

Are these troubled times?

"Never before in our history," said Reagan, "have Americans been called upon to face three grave threats to our very existence, any one of which could destroy us, We face a disintegrating economy, a weakened defense and an energy policy based on the sharing of scarcity."

"We have been shaken by a tragic war abroad and by scandals and broken promises at home," said Carter.

Reagan accused the Democrats of telling the American people that the future would be "one of sacrifice and few opportunities." He blamed "mediocre leadership.

Four years earlier, Carter said, "We Americans reject the view that we must be reconciled to failures and mediocrity, or to an inferior quality of life." And what would they do about it?

"My view of government places trust not in one person or one party. ... The trust is where it belongs - in the people," said Reagan.

"Give the government of this country back to the people of this country," said Carter.

TESCO hearing

to resume Monday

AUSTIN - The hearing on the application of Texas Electric Service Co. for a $123 million rate inrease will resume Monday before a Public Utilities Commission examiner.

Thursday's session saw completion of the case on revenue requirements, and the hearing will resume on questions of rate design.

The hearing had been set to begin Monday, but was recessed Monday and Tuesday to allow TESCO attorneys and representatives of the 78 cities involved in the hearing to attempt to reach a settlement.

That effort failed, and the hearing went forward on Wednesday and Thursday.

The PUC staff has recommended an increase of $69.4 million, while Austin attorney Don Butler says the 28 cities he represents feel an in-crease of $24 million is all that is justified.

Many of those cities rejected the proposed settlement, which amount-ed to about half the increase requested by TESCO.

day night. Shanks was transferred to Midland County Jail from Abilene, where he had been arrested Tuesday on charges of aggravated assault, relating to an assault this past weekend on McPeter's 16-year-old daughter.

Shanks was treated for stab wounds at the Sweetwater emergency room about 2 a.m Tuesday. He was arrest-ed in Abileme early Wednesday morning. Abilene law enforcement officials notified Midland deputies, that Shanks was in custody.

Midland man shot early today

A 33-year-old Midland man who told police he was shot early today by unknown assailants was released from Midland Memorial Hospital's emergency room after treatment for a gunshot wound to the leg.

Raymon Silva Gonzales, whose address was listed by police as 307 N. Mineola St., told officers he had just closed the Doghouse Lounge and was walking home after getting a bite to eat when a vehicle drove past him and shots were fired. He said the shooting occurred in the 1600 block of West Front Ave. sometime after 2 a.m. Police were called to the hospital's emergency room at 4:20 a.m

According to a hospital official, Gonzales was treated for a gunshot wound to the right leg. The wound apparently was made by a small caliber weapon, according to police reports.

Police have no leads in the case.

Odessa man shot to death

ODESSA - An Odessa man was pronounced dead at the scene following a shooting incident which occurred a little after 10 p.m. Thursday in a north Odessa apartment complex.

According to investigating officers. William Gerald, 50, had been visiting in an apartment and was outside when the apartment's renter asked him to leave. He refused, and began kicking the door in, when he was shot in the upper left chest with a pistol, according to police.

An Ector County peace justice pro-nounced Gerald dead at the scene, and his body was taken by ambu-lance to Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Home

No persons have been taken into custody in the case, which will be submitted to the Ector County Grand Jury later this month.
