Remodeling Studied By Congress

Shortcoming In Job Training Under Fire

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — A Major revision of the anti-poverty program aimed at getting jobs for the poor and unemployed is being strongly pushed in the House of Representatives.

The Education and Labor Committee is preparing to rewrite the anti-poverty legislation, tossing out or cutting back programs that are not centered on training people for jobs and putting them to work.

The effect would be to downgrade or eliminate a wide variety of educational, cultural and experimental programs now being run by the Office of Economic Opportunity—OEO.

Led By Powell

It could also lead to an administrative upheaval within the OEO, with the main thrust of the drive against poverty shifting to the Department of Labor.

The move is being led by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of committee, who wants closer coordination of job-training efforts between the OEO and the Department of Labor.

At a news conference Friday, Republicans on Powell's committee renewed their complaint that the present program is wasteful and inefficient and called for changes closely paralleling those Powell appears to have in mind.

Why? From Start?

Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, the senior GOP member, said the entire program should have been directed at job training from its inception two years ago.

"In the final analysis," Ayres said, "you aren't going to break the cycle of poverty until people have jobs."

Last week, the Democratic study group, which numbers more than half the House Democrats as members, called for a major expansion of the Neighborhood Youth Corps, chief job-finding program in the anti-poverty campaign.

Not Getting Work

Nearly half the OEO $1.5 billion budget goes for job training and work-experience programs, which include the conservation-type camps of the Job Corps, work programs for college students and training for heads of families on relief, as well as the neighborhood youth corps.

What has aroused Powell's concern is that people coming out of the program are not getting work.

Viet Cong Activity Minimal

Rusk, Harriman Visit Saigon

(By The Associated Press)

SAIGON—A hush fell over the jungles of South Viet Nam Friday, broken only by the occasional crackle of a Viet Cong sniper's rifle or the boom of a guerrilla mortar.

It was as if the Viet Cong had begun early the lunar new year cease-fire proclaimed for next week.

For the first time since a massive drive against the Viet Cong's Iron Triangle kicked off seven days ago, U.S. and Australian troops 25 miles northwest of Saigon reported no significant contact or a single guerrilla killed.

Convoy's Undisturbed

Another indication of Viet Cong inactivity came far to the north. Three big South Vietnamese army convoys passed safely from Qui Nhon, 260 miles northeast of Saigon, along a guerrilla-infested road to Pleiku, 160 miles farther north. It was the first successful heavy transportation along the road since last August.

The last known U.S. casualties came Thursday night 15 miles northwest of Qui Nhon. A U.S. Air Force plane flying support for Korean ground patrols pulled out of a strike and rammed a C-123 flare ship. Both planes crashed, killing the pilot of the plane and the six aboard the flare ship.

Sec. of State Dean Rusk and presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman arrived from Bangkok Saturday for talks with U.S. and Vietnamese officials.

Diplomatic sources said Rusk and Harriman would assure South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky that President Johnson's peace efforts would not pull the rug from under his regime.

Fear To Negotiate

Government leaders have expressed fear of negotiating with the Communists without first gaining a military victory, and the Saigon Post said the government's position remains unchanged.

Rusk and Harriman are scheduled to leave Sunday, after talks with Ky, other Vietnamese leaders, U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

A dispatch from Moscow said Soviet Communist Party leader Leonid Brezhnev, now visiting Mongolia, again appealed for Communist unity to fight U.S. "aggression" in Viet Nam.

There was nothing in the dispatch by Soviet news agency Tass to indicate any change in the Soviet Union's support for the Viet Nam government.

AS SHELEPIN VISITS Red China In New Blast At Russians

(By United Press International)

TOKYO—Communist China charged Friday the Soviet Union was working "hand in glove with U.S. imperialism to peddle the Johnson administration's peace talks hoax" and had no right to call itself an ally of North Viet Nam.

The Chinese attack took on special significance because it was made while a top-level Soviet aid mission headed by Alexander N. Shelepin was in Peking on a brief visit.

Shelepin had stopped in the Chinese capital en route home from Hanoi where he reaffirmed Soviet support for the North Vietnamese in week-long talks and reportedly promised beefed-up Russian aid.

Backed By Brezhnev

The hard-line backing for the North Vietnamese Communists expressed repeatedly by Shelepin in Hanoi, found echo Friday from Soviet Communist party chairman Leonid Brezhnev.

Brezhnev, on a goodwill tour in Mongolia, charged the United States with "committing acts of aggression" against the Viet Cong. He urged "peace loving forces" to rally against the U.S. in Viet Nam, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported.

China was apparently not accepting the Soviet anti-U.S. line.

Swallowfield Voted Dry

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A band of outraged voters decreed a tiny spot in one of the nation's wettest counties.

By a count of 73 to 52 in a local referendum, it's back to prohibition for the community of Swallowfield.

Swallowfield is one of the 35 precincts of Franklin County. In Franklin County three major distilleries have 70 million gallons of whisky aging in storage. The other 34 precincts remain wet.

It wasn't whisky which brought out the blue nose in Swallowfield. It was the carrying-on of the customers at the town's two taverns, which by local option law sold only beer. One oasis had already been hit with a 30-day suspension for condoning disorderly conduct.

In the referendum, even some Swallowfield wets voted dry.

"It wasn't really a question of wets versus dries," said a campaigner for prohibition. "It was a question of getting undesirable elements to stop congregating in our community."

Swallowfield — population 400 — is adjacent to Owen County, which is both whisky-dry and beer-dry. So Swallowfield became a stamping ground for frustrated Owen County drinkers, many of whom couldn't hold their beer.

"It was based enough at night," said one Swallowfield observer. "But it got so that children would see all that carousing from the school bus in broad daylight. Now, that's carrying it a little too far."

The successful campaign for prohibition was organized by the Baptist Church and the Church of Christ.

The referendum didn't take the swallow out of Swallowfield at one gulp, so to speak — it gave the taverns 60 days to wind up business.

You might say they're sort of letting Swallowfield drip dry.

Storm Brews On Teaching Of Tippling

(By HAL COOPER)

NEW YORK (AP)—A psychiatrist's suggestion that schools should teach students the techniques of social drinking was greeted with a mixed shower of bouquets and brickbats.

The governor of Iowa said the psychiatrist, Dr. Morris Chafetz of Harvard University, should see a psychiatrist.

A cross-section of educators called the Chafetz proposal interesting, but counseled caution.

Some Outraged

Temperance leaders were outraged.

Some parents were for it, some against. One father declared that if his kid starts hitting the sauce at school he can darned well pay for it out of his pocket money.

Dr. Chafetz told a New York conference on "Alcohol and Food in Health and Disease" Wednesday he thought it would be a good idea for the young to start "practice drinking" in elementary school and continue it through college.

Disagrees 1,000 Per Cent

"Alcohol," Dr. Chafetz said, "is here to stay. People must learn to develop a healthy attitude toward it."

Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, a reformed alcoholic, commented:

"This psychiatrist ought to consult a psychiatrist. I disagree 1,000 per cent. Children ought to be taught the great danger involved in the use of alcohol, not how to drink it."

Mrs. Fred J. Looze of Evansville, Ill., president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, asserted the Chafetz plan "would turn public schools into schools for alcoholism and double this country's 10 million alcoholics and problem drinkers."

But Dr. John Krantz, professor emeritus of pharmacology at the University of Maryland, said: "I think this might be a good idea. After all, roughly half the people in America do use alcohol."

Dr. J. E. Rosenfeld, medical director of the alcoholism division of the Connecticut State Mental Health Department, thought Dr. Chafetz was on shaky ground. The next thing you know, Dr. Rosenfeld suggested, somebody might be touting a course in the moderate smoking of cigarettes.

BEHIND PACIFIC FRONT Cooling Trend Due Over Area Tonight

COOLER weather is expected to move across Lubbock and the South Plains tonight, riding the heels of a swift-moving Pacific cold air mass that will bring partly cloudy skies and gusty north winds to the area.

The new front should reach the Panhandle early today, causing considerable cloudiness and few snow flurries are expected with the lower temperatures. Some very light snow flurries may extend to the extreme northern portions of the High Plains.

No Snow Expected

No snow has been forecast for this area, according to U.S. Weather Bureau officials at Municipal Airport. Winds will be from the west and southwest, ranging between 20 to 30 miles per hour, and as the cold air mass arrives, the winds should shift to a northerly direction.

The front also will bring partly cloudy skies, a change from Friday's pleasant weather when Lubbock and Childress each posted 60 degree readings as the state's warmest spots.

The lingering effects of another cool front which breezed across the state earlier this week still was being felt along the Gulf Coast and East Texas Friday, as clouds and showers dominated the weather picture for that area.

Rains Soak Deep South

Meanwhile, cold rains soaked the deep South for the second straight day Friday with a fresh surge of cold air and light snow moving into the Great Lakes region.

Readings in Dixie were in the chilly 30s and 40s and steady rains spread northward into the Carolinas. Alexandria, La., got almost an inch of rain in six hours, while Ft. Benning, Ga., had two-thirds of an inch.

The rain was expected to change to snow as it moved into the Appalachians. Snow also accompanied the new cold air mass sweeping over the Great Lakes.

Muskegon, Mich., had two inches of new snow and Milwaukee had one inch.

TULIA MISHAP Man Survives 70-Foot Fall

TULIA (Special)—A seasonal employe of a grain elevator here fell 70 feet in a cage type lift Friday morning when cables gave way, but was not considered critically injured.

Ynez Zapata, 32, of Tulia, was in the lift at Harvest Queen Elevator when the cables parted, according to Ralph Payne, elevator superintendent.

The lift fell into the boot pit. A physician was called to examine Zapata. Afterward, the injured man was removed from the pit by a snorkel truck of the City of Tulia and taken to Swisher Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment, then transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo by Wallace ambulance. Zapata suffered broken legs and head lacerations.

Colombian Airliner Bearing 58 Crashes

SOUGHT PRESIDENT'S ATTENTION Man Who Fired Rifle Near White House Held

(United Press International)

WASHINGTON — An escaped mental patient fired a rifle Friday a half block from the White House in hopes of attracting President Johnson's attention.

The patient, Raul Rodriguez Torres, 35, of Yonkers, N. Y., was arrested and sent to a hospital for observation.

Torres, a native of Puerto Rico, had been unemployed since 1958. Failing to get on relief rolls, he hoped to bring Johnson's attention to his plight with the rifle shot, police said.

When police closed in, Torres' wife was carrying a sign reading: "We don't like illegal court martials — illegal prison terms nor illegal state hospitals. We like the U. S. Constitution."

Secret Service agents were investigating reports that the man had written to the White House and had received letters from Army officials regarding his service record.

Police said Torres fled from the State Hospital at Poughkeepsie.

Dr. Arthur Sullivan, assistant director of clinical services, said Torres escaped late last August. He was committed in 1964 and was released last year, but was re-committed after not adjusting properly, Sullivan said.

With him when he pulled the trigger on the 30-caliber hunting rifle was his wife, Carmen, and his 8-year-old daughter.

Johnson did not hear the shot, police said.

Man Dies In Area Wreck

Wife Injured In Car-Truck Mishap

FLOYDADA (Special)—A New Mexico man was killed and his wife was injured near here Friday when the car in which they were riding crashed into a truck-trailer.

The Department of Public Safety identified the victim as Coy Benson Butler, 67-year-old Tucuman railway fireman. He died in People's Hospital here about 3:20 p.m.

In good condition at the same hospital late Friday was Butler's wife, Addie, 63, who suffered numerous cuts and abrasions.

Truck Attempting To Pass

Texas Highway Patrolman D. G. Howard, Floydada, said the Butlers were traveling east on U.S. 62 when the smashup occurred shortly before 2 p.m., nine miles east of here.

Howard said the truck-trailer was headed west and attempted to pass another truck. Apparently seeing the oncoming Butler car, the driver attempted to get back into his traffic lane.

Investigators said the car smashed into the rear end of the big vehicle, throwing Mrs. Butler out and pinning her husband in the wreckage.

Driver of the truck, Clyde Johnson of Sherman, escaped unhurt.

Services for Butler were pending late Friday at Moore Funeral Home here.

It was the second traffic fatality of the year on the South Plains, compared to three in the record year of 1959 and five on the same date of last year.

CONFERRED IN INDIA Humphrey Gives Report On Meet With Kosygin

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reported on his return Friday from India that he and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin had discussed problems of mutual concern "and the whole scope of affairs in this troubled world."

Humphrey disclosed that one of their discussions took place during an early morning stroll in the presidential palace gardens in New Delhi, where both were guests.

Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew to the Indian capital to represent the United States at a gathering of world leaders for the funeral of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Rusk headed for Saigon, South Viet Nam, after the services and Humphrey flew back to Washington. The vice president said that after he makes a preliminary report to President Johnson he and Rusk will get together on a more comprehensive account of their mission to New Delhi.

Rusk met presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman in Bangkok Friday and both were due in Saigon today.

At the State Department, press officer Robert J. McCloskey told reporters that the United States remains in close consultation with the Saigon government on possible peace negotiations with the Communists. McCloskey stopped short of denying reports that the United States was still in the process of negotiating a cease-fire.

IN KIDNAP ATTEMPT

Police Say Slain Gunman Informer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — One of two gunmen slain Thursday night in an abortive attempt to kidnap multimillionaire Leonard K. Firestone was an informant who tipped police to the whole scheme, authorities disclosed Friday.

George Scalla, 28, had gone to Los Angeles police in fear that his confederate would kill him after the kidnaping, said Capt. John E. Hankins, head of Beverly Hills detectives.

When the shooting started, he was supposed to drop to the floor out of the line of fire, but for some reason didn't.

Blinded By Shotgun Scalla and his partner, William Calvin Bailey, 44, entered Firestone's home with raised pistols and met death from the shotguns of staked-out policemen.

Firestone, 58, advised of the kidnap plan, left the house several days ago at the suggestion of officers and was staying with friends in the San Francisco area.

He is president of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. of California and a son of the late Harvey Firestone, founder of the rubber company in Akron, Ohio.

Attorney Albert Garber told newsmen that Bailey had been in trouble with the police in his youth but since 1950 had been a successful land developer and estimator on construction projects.

Not Original Informer Hankins gave this account: Four or five days ago Scalla went to the Los Angeles police and told them of the kidnap plot. He was not the original informer — there had been others — Hankins refused to say how many.

They became scared of Bailey and thought he was going to kill them, so they took off. Scalla got scared, too, so he turned informer," Hankins said.

He told officers he was sure Bailey would kill him right after the kidnaping.

He said he had to appear to be a participant in the kidnaping [that the scar-faced Bailey would kill him if he tried to back out.

West Along With Plan Officers arranged for him to go along with the plan. Under the kidnap plan, Scalla was supposed to steal a car.

"We told him we couldn't become involved in any such crime as that, so Lt. B. L. Cork of our department rented a car," Scalla picked up that car.

"In case shooting started, he was supposed to drop and get out of the line of fire," Hankins said. "Bailey had him cut off so he couldn't get out of the way."

Bailey had his gun raised so the officers, to protect themselves, had to go ahead and shoot.

"Scalla apparently froze in his tracks," said a spokesman for Los Angeles police, who have worked closely with Beverly Hills police on the investigation.

Possibly Others Involved Hankins said police are investigating the possibility that 10 to 20 persons were involved in the kidnaping plot — and that they planned to ask from two to eight million dollars.

This was suggested by cryptic notations on a piece of blue newspaper in Bailey's wallet, Hankins said. It bore the calculations: 200,000 times 10 equals 2,000,000 and 20 times 400,000 equals 8,000,000.

Hankins said there is no concrete indication at present that others were involved "but we are still investigating."

The two men were shot down at the entryway of Firestone's contemporary home in Beverly Hills' millionaire and movie star belt.

Wore Gloves, Mask Both men wore surgical gloves. Bailey wore a rubber Halloween mask. He carried a gun in one hand and a sack containing four rolls of adhesive tape in the other. Scalla carried a gun in each hand.

Bailey died instantly as he tried to run into the living room. Scalla fell wounded on the threshold and died three hours later in the prison ward of General Hospital.

Firestone said in northern California: "This has been a very distressing and upsetting thing to have gone through." He praised police for a "thorough, intelligent, masterful job."

Flash Hideout The San Francisco Chronicle's society editor, Francis Moffat, reported that Firestone had hid out at Pebble Beach, swank golfing community 100 miles south of San Francisco and was visited by a group including his unannounced fiancée. She was identified as Mrs. Stuart Healey, widow of a banking executive.

Firestone, active in civic affairs since he moved here in 1943, lived alone in the white stucco house. His wife Polly died a year ago. His three children live elsewhere.

Capt. Hankins related this sequence in the kidnaping plot: The first hint came three weeks ago in connection with a Los Angeles burglary. Ten days ago a tipster said Firestone was the intended victim.

Disbarred, Concerned Firestone said he was "disturbed and concerned" and "just made up my mind that I would try to work with the police as best I could."

He left his home and police moved in, with a policeman who posed as the housemaid, answering the door and telephone.

At 6 p.m., Thursday, the phone rang. Policewoman Barbara Ezell told the male caller that Firestone could not come to the telephone.

At 6:20, a black 1965 Ford stopped in the semicircular driveway in front of the door. Through a peephole the policeman saw two men step out of the car, armed.

When the doorbell rang, she asked, "Who's there?" "Parcel post, ma'am," a voice replied.

Police Heavily Armed Behind the policeman stood Lt. B. L. Cork, Sgt. Jack Egger and Detective Jack Mourning, armed with two shotguns and a pistol.

Egger motioned Miss Ezell to leave the room, then jerked the door open.

"They moved in fast and saw us," Cork said afterward. "Bailey raised his gun and pointed it at us. In my opinion, they were prepared to shoot us. We shot first."

Besides the cryptic note, Bailey's wallet contained a slip of paper bearing Firestone's telephone number. The car contained another pair of gloves, a rope, a blanket, another mask and a .38-caliber handgun.

Rented Hideout House Scalla told police that Bailey rented a $150-a-month house in suburban Tarzana to be used as a kidnap hideout. Bailey also rented an alternate hideout for $200 monthly in another suburb, Canoga Park, Scalla said.

Scalla was to have appeared in court next Tuesday for sentencing on his plea of guilty to charges of robbery and burglary.

Police said Bailey had served prison time in Canada for a Vancouver robbery with violence and also was incarcerated in Huntsville, Tex., for burglary, theft and robbery.

Firestone is one of five sons born to the rubber industry pioneer. He has been a board director of Santa Anita Race Track, and an owner of the Los Angeles Rams pro football team and the California Angels baseball team, chairman of the board of trustees of the University of Southern California and a member of the Beverly Hills City Council.

First Aid Course Is Available To Public First aid will be taught in a 15-hour course which will be offered to the public starting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Maxey Community Center, 30th and Oxford Streets.

The course, offered by the Lubbock County Red Cross chapter, will be taught in two-hour sessions. The schedule will be determined at the first meeting.

The advanced first aid course will be taught by Jimmie Myers. Those interested can call the Red Cross office, PO 5-8534, or register at 2109 Broadway.

NO 'INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT'

Charges Levelled At CIA Baseless, Says Symington

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new member of the congressional group charged with overseeing the Central Intelligence Agency's operations told the Senate on Friday he has found no evidence that the agency is an invisible government.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., named to the watchdog committee recently after Harry F. Byrd Sr., D-Va., resigned from the Senate, gave his colleagues a brief, general report of a recent inspection trip he made of CIA operations abroad.

Not Uncontrolled Activity "I found no instances of any kind where CIA activities were uncontrolled, or contrary to U.S. policy," Symington said in a prepared speech.

Some critics of the CIA have charged it has become a secret government, carrying out programs and operations sometimes contrary to the expressed policies of the United States.

But Symington said he found "it would appear difficult, if not impossible, for such uncontrolled activities to occur."

His belief, he said, was based on "coordination procedures and policy directives stemming from the Washington level, plus controls applicable to field activities."

He said every U.S. ambassador he talked to expressed complete approval of the functioning of the agency.

Long Picked To Head Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate formally elected Sen. Russell Long (D-La.), Friday as chairman of its Finance Committee.

WHAT SHOULD YOU SPEND ON A FUNERAL?

Why should you buy a Cadillac? A Lincoln? An Imperial?

Why not a Corvair? A Falcon? A Valiant? Or perhaps a Volkswagen?

They will all take you over the same highways to the same place. But — you buy what you want to buy, at the price you want to pay.

What's different about a funeral?

There has been much stir of late, about the cost of the American funeral being too high. Resthaven agrees: many funerals are too high.

WHY?

But — in almost every discussion of this tender subject, it boils down to high cost of many funerals arranged at time of need, at a time the bereaved family is torn with grief.

And for 18 years, Resthaven has been preaching the gospel of common sense: Don't wait for that time—make these arrangements NOW.

This is a basic reason why Resthaven Funeral Home was born. Funeral Home, cemetery, mausoleum,—all at one place, all under one responsible management, all operated by one efficient staff, why wouldn't you save money, where "everything is in one place".

THE COMMON SENSE WAY

But—Resthaven's "pre-need" plan is revolutionary. It is available to anyone—any age or condition of health.

It is available for as little as $1.25 per week. Money paid in can be used for a funeral for any member of the family (unlike burial insurance). You pay only what you contract for, then pay no more, ever (unlike burial insurance). And—in Lubbock, this plan, including funeral and cemetery arrangements all at one place, is available only at Resthaven.

But—the only time this plan can be available to you, is NOW. And — why wait until the moment of sadness comes? Why not now?

The entire subject covered in this message and others in this series, Resthaven realizes, is a sensitive one. We humbly apologize if these, or any of those carried via TV, cause anyone unhappiness. More Companies Consider Aesthetics In New Plants

By LESLIE CARPENTER
Available-Journal Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Mrs. Lynn B. Johnson, who has been busily sowing 150 pounds of bluebonnet seeds at the LBJ Ranch, not only has inspired a garden club to step up their efforts to beautify the nation, but also has had a profound influence on American history.

She has even made page one of the Wall Street Journal. A recent issue of that financial newspaper tells some of the amazing things which have been happening to factory design. "With a nudge from Lady Bird Johnson," it relates, "and a tug from local communities, more and more companies now are considering aesthetics along with utility when they build plants. The results are surprising, both on the outside and inside of the factories."

Absenteeism Down
"On the outside, witness these examples: A handsome brass foundry near Chicago that is often mistaken for a research lab. A sprawling $400 million steel mill on the Indiana shore of Lake Michigan that has the trappings of a college campus. And a steel-strapping plant in a posh Chicago suburb that is so good-looking its wealthy neighbors want it to expand into an adjoining area to prevent a developer from building houses prices lower than the $50,000-to-$80,000 neighborhood norm."

"On the inside, consider these results: In the pretty plants, labor productivity is above average, absenteeism is down and workers with hard-to-find skills are more easily recruited, manufacturers claim."

The article about Lady Bird Johnson's influence on industry was written, somewhat ironically, by a reporter named Steven Lovelady.

Poor Soil Best
Mrs. Johnson has been planting bluebonnet seeds at the Texas ranch for several years and has found they do better in poorer soil, if it is scratched first, than in richer dirt. She is planting the largest amount ever this year, which obviously means the President will be at the ranch in bluebonnet time this spring. He wouldn't miss such a sight, bearing some emergency which might hold him in Washington. Credit must go to Mrs. Johnson for awaking a general interest in beautification. She has recently had invitations to speak to conventions of such unlikely groups as the National Association of Electrical Contractors, the national trade group of neon signs businesses and the American Association of Road Builders.

Lieta Natural Resources
Thanks to Charles R. Boatner, longtime city editor and political writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the Interior Department has just published a handsome, useful magazine entitled, "The Natural Resources of Texas."

Boatner is director of information for the Department of Interior and assistant to Interior Secretary Stewart Udall. He found the Department has in the past published magazines cataloging the natural resources of 11 other states—but not Texas. Boatner saw it that the situation was corrected. The magazine has handsome pictures and a detailed outdoor recreation guide, among other things.

Still No Vacation
Melvin Manfull of Gonzales is so good at his State Department job that he can't get his well-earned vacation.

Back from four years as the political officer of the U.S. embassy in Vietnam, Manfull was due three months off. With his wife, the former Suzanne Dunning of Gonzales, and children, he headed for Guadalajara, Mexico, and rented a house.

He had just begun to relax when an urgent call came for him to rush to New York as an advisor to the U.S. delegation to the United Nations general assembly.

The vacation will have to come sometime later. Now he must report to London on another assignment Jan. 1.

Bob Waldron, administrative assistant for a decade or longer to U.S. Circuit Court Judge Homer Thornberry of Austin while he was in Congress and, later, in the same job for Rep. Jake Pickle of Austin, has switched professions.

He has opened an interior decorating business in suburban Washington. One of his first customers are William S. White,

Missing Plane's Wreckage Seen

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — A U. S. spokesman reported Friday that what is believed to be the wreckage of a missing C47 with 10 persons aboard has been spotted on a mountainside in southern Greece.

The U. S. Air Force plane, carrying nine Americans and one Italian, disappeared in a storm Thursday on a flight from Cigli, Turkey, to Naples.

One of the planes carrying out an air-sea search reported that what appeared to be the wreckage was spotted on the slope of Mount Helmos in the Peloponnese. There were no signs of survivors.

Rescue teams were immediately dispatched to the area but the mountain is isolated and they were not expected to have definite word until late Friday night or early Saturday.

IN VIET NAM 39 More U.S. Troops Killed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. combat deaths in the Vietnamese war increased by 39 to a total of 1,682 during the seven days ended Monday, the Defense Department has reported.

The increase compared with an average of 53 per week during the last three months of 1965, and with 43 for the previous week.

During the same period, the department said, American wounded increased 244 to a total of 7,893. The current number of men missing increased from 148 to 149, and the known captured remained at 25.

The department has identified 1,706 combat deaths in the Vietnamese war, but these include some that had not been reported as of Monday when the tabulation was made.

House Leaders Claim Odds Against Four-Year Terms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members cast hungry, longing eyes late this week at President Johnson's proposal to extend their term from two to four years. But their leaders said the odds were against it.

For the record, Speaker John W. McCormack said the idea had merit. If the Judiciary Committee should approve the necessary constitutional amendment, he would call it up for a vote in the House.

But he noted pointedly that Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler, the veteran New Yorker who is dean of the House, is against it.

Draw Big Applause
Other House old-timers said even if the Judiciary Committee ran such a proposal over its chairman — which is possible — a two-thirds vote for it would be hard to find in the House, even though the suggestion drew the biggest applause of any single point in Johnson's State of the Union address.

As for the Senate, where a two-thirds vote also would be needed, nobody could suggest much of a reason why any senator would go out of his way to support such a plan. Senators as a rule don't look kindly on changes that might make it easier for House members to seek Senate seats.

House Members Torn
Many House members found themselves torn. They all agreed it would be great not to have to run for election so often.

But faced with a constitutional amendment to double the term, many would vote no. Republicans for instance, know from past sad experience that the minority's best chance of picking up seats in the House is in the off-year elections that Johnson's proposal would eliminate.

Some members, too, oppose the idea on principle. They think the founding fathers knew what they were about when they put the House in direct, every-two-year control of the electorate. They see the two-year House term as a vital part of the system of checks and balances that has made the country great.

FUSSELMAN ZONE

Strike Completed In Dawson County

Texaco, Inc. has completed a Fusselman discovery in the Gin (Spraberry) field, at No. 1 United Presbyterian-Byrd Unit, five miles west of Lamesa in Dawson County.

Perforations from 11,812-822 feet, after being acidized with 500 gallons, pumped 146 barrels of 40-gravity oil, with no water, in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was too small to measure.

The project was dually completed from Spraberry perforations at 8,027-78 feet. That zone was treated with 500 gallons of acid and fractured with 20,000 gallons of fluid. It potentiated to pump 11 barrels of 38-gravity oil plus 33 barrels of water in 24 hours.

The well is the fifth Spraberry producer in the area. It spots 660 feet from south and east lines of Section 8, Block 36, T-5-N, T&P survey, and is one-half mile southeast of the operator's No. 1 Presbyterian Church, discovery well.

PROSPECT SET

Perforations from 6,062-70 feet were completed to pump 62.85 barrels of 25.4-gravity oil plus 10 per cent water in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was too small to measure. The section was stimulated with 10,000 gallons of acid.

The operation drilled to 10,152 feet as a Strawn wildcat, without developing commercial production. Location is 660 feet from south and 1,320 feet from east lines of Section 15, Block A, R. M. Thompson survey.

The flow later by passed the tool, blowing out mud and oil. It flowed gas at the rate of four million cubic feet per day through a 1 1/2-inch choke. The test flowed 45-gravity oil at the rate of 30 barrels per hour. It reversed out 4,000 feet of free oil.

Initial shut-in bottomhole pressure in 30 minutes was 4,800 pounds per square inch. Flowing pressure ranged from 1,100-1,525 pounds, and a one-hour final shut-in pressure was 4,500 pounds.

The prospect is located 660 feet from south and west lines of Section 36-18s-28e, and is two miles northwest of the Russell field.

At last report the operation was testing upper Pennsylvanian perforations from 10,132-134 feet. It is located 700 feet from north and 580 feet from west lines of Section 31-12s-34e.

Reese Working On New Aircraft Inspection Plan

Periodic maintenance personnel at Reese Air Force Base this week are working on a new system of inspection for aircraft which will serve as a basis for possible changes at undergraduate pilot training bases throughout Air Training Command.

ATC has directed that Reese be ready to start by Feb. 1 the phase inspection system which will change periodic inspection. Under the present program T-37 and T-38 aircraft are given periodic inspection every 200 hours of flying. Under the new program, phase inspection will take place every 50 hours of flying time, still giving complete inspection each 200 hours.

The new system would drastically reduce the length of time aircraft are available for flying. Aircraft will be given inspection of certain phases and then returned to flying. Later other phases will be performed, and again the plane released.

Four phases will be performed and planes will return to flight more quickly, but will be brought back for phase inspections more frequently.

Details of the phase work are being worked out by M.Sgt. J. R. Watkins. After operation for a few months here, the new system may be started at other bases.

KITAKYUSHU, Japan (AP) — The gentle tug that Yoshio Fujimoto, 19, felt at his feet as he lay daydreaming in a big plunk on the Sakurajima express was made, it turned out, by an alligator about two feet long. Drop-Off In Communist Aggressive Actions In Viet Nam Follows Pattern

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest drop-off in Communist aggressive actions in South Viet Nam follows a seasonal pattern, officials are studying the development closely in the light of the U.S. peace offensive.

The number of Viet Cong-initiated incidents has tailed off since hitting a record high of 1,133 in the week following Christmas.

Last week, the number of such incidents — attacks, terrorism, sabotage and propaganda acts — dropped to 973.

And this week, it is reported, the total apparently will be still lower.

The latest reported battle contact with North Vietnamese regulars occurred on Nov. 19 in the mop-up phase of the biggest battle of the Viet Nam war in an area close to the Cambodian border.

Officials are not ready to assess the importance of this, noting that the North Vietnamese have accepted battle on relatively rare occasions although they have been present in the country since 1954.

President Johnson told newsmen on Thursday that "I don't say there is any connection between the easing off of Communist activity and our peace moves."

Pentagon experts recall that every year at this time, there has been a slackening of Communist guerrilla operations. This, the experts said, apparently is in preparation for the lunar new year called Tet, which begins Jan. 20 and runs for four days.

Generally, both South Vietnamese government forces and their Red adversaries virtually stop fighting during the Tet period.

Also, it was pointed out, there normally are periods of lull at other times of the year.

This happens when the Communists need time to replenish their supplies and regroup their forces, the experts said.

In this connection, air attacks and sweeps made by U.S., Australian and South Vietnamese ground forces into Viet Cong stronghold areas may be causing supply problems which could be a factor in slowing down Communist military operations.

For example, a major U.S.-Australian sweep northwest of Saigon was reported to have destroyed or captured, among other things, more than 25,000 rounds of small arms ammunition and 71 tons of rice.

Like A Fever Chart

The record of Communist incidents over the past couple of months reads like a fever chart, with hups and downs. In the week ended Nov. 20, there were 881 incidents. In the week ended Nov. 27, the total rose to 1,038, a record to that point.

In the week ended Dec. 4, incidents dropped again to 757. The next week, the total was up to 975. In the week ended Dec. 18 there was another decrease to 886 incidents. In the week that closed on Christmas Day

PILOT PROJECT UNDERWAY

Program For Emotionally Disturbed Children Seen

By ROBERT HEARD
AUSTIN (AP) — The legislature probably will be asked next January to expand a pilot project of 20 classes for emotionally disturbed children to a statewide program, an education official said Friday.

Don Partridge, director of special education services for the Texas Education Agency, made this prediction to the Texas Association for Mental Health, opening a two-day convention.

Don Wooten of Abilene was re-elected president of the organization.

72 ENTRIES

First Annual Rifle Match Slated Today

The first annual smallbore rifle match, sponsored by the Junior Rifle Club of Lubbock VFW Post 2466, will be held today and Sunday at Texas Tech ROTC indoor range.

A limit of 72 entries has been accepted, including contestants from Midland, Matador, Sherman, San Angelo, San Antonio, Roswell and Albuquerque, N.M., Texas Tech ROTC, Reese AFB, and Lubbock, according to N. T. Conner, official in charge of the meet.

Members of Clubs

Entries are members of the National Rifle Association or affiliated clubs, armed forces and ROTC personnel.

Competitors will be classified according to the NRA system: marksman, sharpshooter, expert, and master, but there also will be junior (14 to 18 inclusive) and sub-junior (13 and under) categories. Seniors (19 and over) who are unclassified must shoot in the master class, and juniors may shoot in their NRA class.

Shooting will begin at 8 p.m. each day and continue for 10 relays at one hour intervals both days. NRA rules will govern for the position rifle match, including positions of prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing.

Contests will consist of individual firing in each category and also the aggregate of them, as well as two-man and four-man team matches. All four positions of a match will be fired on one relay.

A range fund match is scheduled for the individual aggregate of the 10 shots prone and 10 shots standing.

Woman Released Without Charge In Shooting Case

A 29-year-old Latin American woman was released from city jail Friday without charge in the shooting of a used car dealer here Thursday afternoon.

Ralph Chester Seaver, 59, owner of Western Motor Co., 2015 Clovis Road, was treated at Methodist Hospital and released. Attendants said a bullet entered his mouth and came out about half an inch under the right ear.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill LauBach said Seaver declined to sign a complaint.

Seaver told police he had repossessed the woman's car about 8:30 a.m. Thursday. She went to his office about 5:30 p.m. and wanted to make a payment and take the car.

However, he refused the request, according to police reports, and the woman pulled out a pistol and fired a shot. The woman was arrested three hours later at her residence, police said.

Woman Released Without Charge In Shooting Case

A joint liaison committee voted to encourage similar committees in communities having chapters of each group.

Dr. Forrest Harris, deputy commissioner for mental health in the new department, told of two scheduled studies of the state hospital program for mentally retarded children.

One will be conducted by Dr. Robert Stubblefield of Dallas.

Investigation Planned

A six-month investigation will be conducted by the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. Philip Roos, director of community services for the new department, told the joint liaison committee there is a great need for community services for persons treated at one of the new mental health and mental retardation centers.

"If the center treats a man and he recovers and then he is sent back to his mother-in-law, wife and two dogs who are plotting against him all the time, he'll be back rather soon," Roos said.

Fraternal Groups Set Installation In City Today

Open installation of officers of three Lubbock fraternal organizations will be at 8 p.m. today at South Plains Electric Co-op auditorium, 110 N. Amrillo Road.

L.O.O.F. Lodge 609 will install Charles Pfingsten noble grand; and Odell Elton, vice grand.

Rebekah Lodge 299 will install Mrs. Mildred Grimes, noble grand; and Mrs. Gladys Shipman, vice grand.

Junior Odd Fellows Lodge sponsored by Lodge 609 will install Gene Minkok, chief ruler; and Mike Bowen, deputy ruler.

Three other elective officers and nine appointive officers will also be announced for each group installed.

Special Presentation

A special presentation of the life of Thomas Wildy, founder of Oddfellowship in the U. S., will be presented. L. W. Hamilton, Lubbock, will be installing officer for Lodge 609. He is district deputy grand master. Mrs. Melville Sims will be installing officer for the Rebekah ceremony.

The Junior Lodge will present the outstanding award of the year, Mr. Junior Odd Fellow, and present three awards for participation in the organization. Charles Witty, Robert Bowen and Robert Witty Jr., members of the Lodge 609 youth service committee, will present the awards.

Demand For Texas Oil Is Down For February

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission said Friday February nominations for the purchase of the state's crude oil total 2,649,383 barrels daily, a decrease of 10,565 daily.

The Bureau of Mines forecast February demand for Texas crude of 2,665,000, a decrease of 25,000 from January.

Woman Released Without Charge In Shooting Case

A 29-year-old Latin American woman was released from city jail Friday without charge in the shooting of a used car dealer here Thursday afternoon.

Ralph Chester Seaver, 59, owner of Western Motor Co., 2015 Clovis Road, was treated at Methodist Hospital and released. Attendants said a bullet entered his mouth and came out about half an inch under the right ear.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill LauBach said Seaver declined to sign a complaint.

Seaver told police he had repossessed the woman's car about 8:30 a.m. Thursday. She went to his office about 5:30 p.m. and wanted to make a payment and take the car.

However, he refused the request, according to police reports, and the woman pulled out a pistol and fired a shot. The woman was arrested three hours later at her residence, police said.

'UNDISTINGUISHED,' SAY BRITISH; 'NEAT BUT NOT GAUDY,' SAY DEFENDERS

President Remains Aloof As International Battle Rages Over His Attire

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson stayed aloof above the battle, Friday, as an international argument raged over his duds.

Undistinguished, said British critics; the President should set a higher sartorial standard as leader of the Western world. "Neat but not gaudy," was the defense offered by hautemondre tailors on this side of the Atlantic. The London publication Tailor and Cutter, British bible of men's fashions, started the argument by stating that as style-setters, the Johnsonian clothes add up to a "fat, round nothing."

But the President doesn't wear such attire, even in the East. In Washington, he favors oxford gray or midnight blue suits, and unobtrusive neckties—though he did permit stripes of muted red to creep into his State-of-the-Union tie Wednesday night.

Never has he dressed so emphatically as Harry S. Truman, sports shirt with large red roses ex-haberdasher, sometimes did. On it to take the sun at Key West.

Senators' Candidacy For AG Poses Court Dilemma

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Supreme Court scheduled Friday full oral arguments on whether two state senators are eligible to run for attorney general.

The President reserved comment, but his press office had a newspaper clipping handy. This showed that only last Monday the Fashion Foundation of America pronounced the President "best-dressed for his position, and also for his personality, which is informal, homey, folksy."

Martin To Seek State AG Post

AUSTIN (AP)—Secretary of State Crawford Martin said today he will file Monday as a candidate for attorney general. Two other candidates, Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, have asked the Texas Supreme Court to compel State Democratic Chairman Will Davis to put their names on the May 7 primary ballot.

The President's suits are a bit broader in the shoulders, fuller in the chest, longer in the sleeve than English models. His pants break on his shoes. And he has an un-British habit of hitching them up on alighting from his bubble-top limousine.

Back home on the range, the President inclines to leisure-time jackets of unexciting checks, plus slacks of maybe a doekskin color.

Viet Nam Battleground Still As Fighting Halts

North Viet Nam's stiff demands for a settlement. Bombing lull in 22nd Day. One Johnson gesture in an attempt to get peace talks started has been to call off bombing raids on North Viet Nam. As this lull went into its 22nd day, officials in Washington confirmed reports in Saigon that the North Vietnamese are feverishly rebuilding bombed out railroad lines and bridges to Red China.

In the only action reported Friday involving U.S. forces, a platoon of Marines overran a Viet Cong mortar position about 20 miles southwest of the

U.S. Civilian Fliers Slain By Viet Cong

By RAY F. HERNON
SAIGON (UPI) — Viet Cong guerrillas Friday shot down a civilian Air America transport plane, executed the wounded pilot and co-pilot and hauled a third American crewman away with a rope around his neck, a company spokesman said. The plane was shot down near the Mekong Delta town of Thanh, 100 miles southwest of here, while on a freight-lifting flight. Air America is a civilian-operated charter under contract to the U.S. Operations Mission.

The twin-engine C47 was approaching the landing field when the Communists opened fire. The co-pilot, wounded by a ground fire after the crash-landing, radioed to another Air America freight plane in the area and the second plane pulled for an Air America rescue helicopter.

The helicopter moved in despite heavy sniper fire and landed near the downed freighter. Two men jumped out of the transport wearing Air America uniforms. But the spokesman said they turned out to be Viet Cong.

Both opened up on the rescue helicopter with automatic weapons fire and buried hand grenades while other guerrillas moved in from flanking positions, shooting. The helicopter escaped from the trap. A U.S. Air Force plane tried to land a few minutes later but also was driven off by intense ground fire. An hour later another helicopter arrived on the scene and recovered the bodies of the pilot and co-pilot. Crewmen reported both had been shot in the face and their bodies mutilated.

'Guns Or Butter' Quote Traced To Detested Source

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For more than a generation, various nations have used the phrase "guns or butter" to illustrate the dilemma of whether to increase military power at the expense of some civilian comforts. Yet few who use it realize its origin. Random queries by a UPI reporter evoked guesses from Leon Trotsky to Winston Churchill.

From Detested Source. Actually the phrase seems to have its origins with one of the most skillful yet detested propagandists of modern history, an aide to Adolf Hitler. According to the authoritative John Barrett's "Familiar Quotations," the slogan "probably had its origins in a speech Nazi Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels made in Berlin on Jan. 17, 1936—almost four years before Hitler invaded Poland. Goebbels said: "We can do without butter but, despite all our love of peace, not without arms."

Volunteers File For Hospital Ship

BONN (UPI) — The German Ministry for Public Health is already accepting applications from volunteers for service on a Red Cross hospital ship to be sent to Viet Nam, it was announced Friday. State Secretary Karl-Guenter von Hase said the Federal Council of Physicians also has issued an appeal to doctors to volunteer for service on the vessel. The cabinet agreed two days ago to finance a hospital ship, probably the passenger ship Sigoland, built for quick conversion to hospital purposes. The decision followed closely Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's promise to President Johnson in December to increase German economic and humanitarian aid to Viet Nam. The government reiterated that all German aid will be non-military.

big Leatherneck base at Da Nang. They reported killing four Viet Cong and capturing four 60mm mortars.

Only two significant brushes with the Viet Cong were reported late Thursday. Infantry from Operation Crimp, as the drive against the Iron Triangle is known, came under fire from a Viet Cong company. But the attack was at fairly long range and was broken off at nightfall.

Junks Harassed. Viet Cong mortars harassed a government junk force 42 miles southwest of Saigon. Flares and artillery chased the Viet Cong away but they floated down a water mine that sank one of the junks. A spokesman said Vietnamese casualties were light.

South Korea and South Viet Nam wound up an economic conference with pledges to strengthen cooperation. South Korea agreed to send four medical teams to Viet Nam. That small nation has the largest combat contingent in Viet Nam aside from the United States.

A division of 12,000 Korean troops defends the area around the base of Qui Nhon. Another 2,500 Korean soldiers are assigned to engineering and medical duties. Deputy Premier Chang Keyoung of South Korea, who conducted the talks for his nation, said his observations while in Viet Nam convinced him "of the final victory in our joint struggle against communism."

waukee recorded another inch on top of Thursday's 12-inch snowfall. In international Falls, Minn., posted the nation's lowest mark on Friday with its 38 below zero weather. Temperatures were expected to dip to 10 to 20 below throughout the upper Great Lakes early today. Clear skies and cool temperatures were the rule for most of Texas Friday, but weathermen were watching the new cold air mass that Lubbock residents will be feeling by tonight.

Shows On Coast. Beaumont and Galveston recorded showers for the second straight day, with the two-day accumulation of rain at Galveston measuring about an inch. Scattered rain also fell from Austin and Lufkin southward Friday.

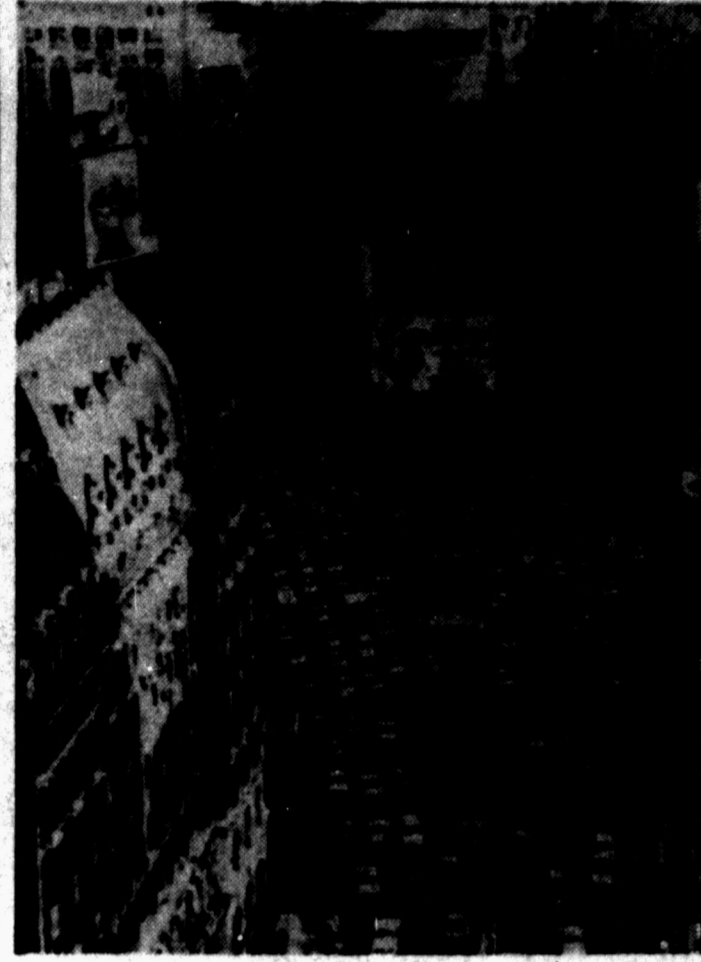

The heavy, wet snow which surprised Big Bend country residents on Thursday melted quickly under Friday's warming sun. The sun brought milder readings over most of the state Friday, with temperatures reaching into the 40s and 50s. The mercury plunged to 16 degrees in Dalhart early Friday morning, before the sun produced the warmer readings.

Lubbock Shares High. Lufkin had the day's coolest maximum of 43, and Lubbock and Childress — usually not among the state's "warmer" spots—shared the top temperature with identical marks of 60. While cloudy skies and cooler weather was due for a portion of the state with the new front's arrival, cloudiness was due to decrease in the east and south by early today. Clear to partly cloudy weather, with slightly warmer weather, was forecast for rest of the state. Today's high in the area should be between 55 and 60, and the low tonight will be in the middle 20s, according to the forecast. The wind shift is expected during the afternoon.

MARINE LEADER OPTIMISTIC General Greene Back From Far East Inspection Trip

HONOLULU (AP) — Gen. Wallace M. Greene, commander of the U.S. Marine Corps, returned to the United States from the Far East on Friday with two more medals and a good word to say about everything he'd seen and heard. Greene spent the past 12 days in South Viet Nam, South Korea, Formosa and Thailand. He received the Order of the Cloud and Banner with grand cordon from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in Formosa, and the Order of Service Merit first class from Chung Hae Park, president of the Korean Republic. Both were for Greene's "efforts to maintain a combat-ready military force to help the world maintain freedom."

Greene Optimistic. America's top Marine was filled with optimism when he met newsmen on arrival in Honolulu. Yes, he said, the South Viet Nam government forces and their allies are continuing to win the military battle against the Communists. Yes, they are holding the territory they gain. Yes, the pacification program is progressing satisfactorily. Yes, U.S. Marines in Viet Nam have everything they need, including arms, ammunition, equipment and supplies, and, more important, an "esprit de corps." Greene said 2,000 Marines have voluntarily extended their 15-month tour in South Viet Nam. He said many are 18- to 20-year-olds "who feel they are making a real contribution and want to stay on to see the results of their efforts." The four-star general said he was impressed by what he termed "the marked increase in

TO DISCUSS PEACE OFFENSIVE Rusk Renews U.S. Pledge Upon Arrival In Saigon

SAIGON (Saturday AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Saturday the United States was determined to do everything in its power to insure the safety, freedom and prosperity of South Viet Nam. Rusk arrived in Saigon together with the roving presidential ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, to discuss the progress of the war in Viet Nam and President Johnson's peace offensive. He said: "I bring the people of this great country and government the greetings of President Johnson, the determination of the American people and our confidence in the future." After this brief statement to newsmen, Rusk and Harriman declined to answer any questions. Diplomatic sources said the key purpose of Rusk's visit was to offer fresh assurances to the South Vietnamese government that President Johnson's worldwide efforts to get peace talks started would not undermine the vital interests of this country. South Vietnamese officials privately have expressed the fear that the American desire for peace might lead them to make some deal that would allow the Communists ultimately to take over here.

U.S. SAID TO APPROVE RED AGENCY ACTIVITY. WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States would not object to the Communist National Liberation Front—an arm of the Viet Cong—remaining politically active in South Viet Nam after a peace settlement, U.S. officials indicated Friday. They made clear this country would have no objections to the front, which is the political arm of the Viet Cong guerrillas, taking part in genuinely free elections. The officials, however, stopped short of any willingness to recognize the front as a separate entity from the North Vietnamese Communists at any peace talks. The South Vietnamese government has strongly opposed any recognition of the front as a negotiating power.

IN CONGO Water Chief Is In Hot Water

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) — The head of Leopoldville's water supply agency, "Regideco" has been arrested on charges of corruption and will be tried by a military court, officials reported Friday. M. Kisuka is accused of misappropriating water works equipment, giving unauthorized payments to his family and friends, using his official car as a taxi, and embezzling $3,300. He is reported in Ndolo Prison undergoing questioning. "Regideco" is a government agency. It has been under attack for providing water only part of the day. That water is usually filled with thick brown mud and was recently declared undrinkable by health officials. The United States recently granted "Regideco" $330,000 to improve the water supply.

The general was instructed by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato to urge Soviet leaders into a more active role in bringing North Viet Nam to the conference

FATAL BLAZE—Firemen put water on a large gasoline transport truck which crashed and exploded in front of a liquor store in Brownwood Friday. The driver, Jack Jackson of Abilene, burned to death in the wreckage. Damage to the store and other property was estimated at $100,000. (AP Wirephoto)

IN BROADCAST GOP To Assess LBJ's Message

NEW YORK (AP) — All three television networks and one major radio network will give Republicans half an hour next Monday night to assess President Johnson's assessment of the State of the Union. The President's message to Congress, delivered Wednesday night, will be discussed by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and by Rep. Gerald Ford (R-Mich.) in a program taped for broadcast by the Mutual Broadcasting System at 9 p.m., by the Columbia Broadcasting System at 10:30 p.m. and by the National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co. at 11:30 p.m. MBS, CBS and NBC said they were not granting the Republicans equal time and were not required by law to do so, but felt the Republicans' viewpoint was newsworthy. ABC said, in effect, it was granting equal time.

U.S. Ammo Dump Found In Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — A secret supply dump of U.S. ammunition has been found in the Soviet Union, Tass said Thursday. It is all more than 40 years old. The official Soviet news agency said it was used to supply White Guard units during the civil war. The Whites represented Czarist elements fighting the Communists, or Reds. The secret store of ammunition was discovered by a timber cutter near Okhotsk in eastern Siberia. Experts dismantled more than 30 artillery shells. They also found a store of other ammunition marked with English letters. White units fought Communists in the area in 1922-23. Tass said the White "gangs were widely equipped by foreign imperialists."

Fast Talkers Can Get 750 Words In LD Call

DRIVER DEAD Truck Crash Ignites Store

BROWNWOOD (UPI) — A gas transport truck crashed into the front of a liquor store Friday, touching off two explosions and a giant fire which consumed both the store and the truck. Four persons that were in the liquor store escaped the flames, but the truck driver was pinned in the wreckage of his truck and burned to death. Police late Friday night identified the dead driver, his body cremated in the roaring gas-line-fueled flames, as H. C. Jack Jackson, about 40, of Abilene. The first explosion came as the truck careened into the store, located on U. S. 67 a mile from the downtown section of Brownwood. The fire spread quickly through the store and to a number of other storage trucks near the store. The second explosion intensified the fire, sending flames soaring up to 75 feet into the air. Patrons of a drive-in restaurant next door to the liquor store were evacuated as a precautionary measure, but the flames did not spread to the restaurant. The intense heat of the fire kept firemen from getting close to the truck long after the fire began. After a lengthy battle from a distance, the flames were calmed enough for the fire fighters to close in on the source of the blaze. Traffic on one of the state's main arteries, U. S. 67, was jammed for hours after the wreck and explosions.

OF 'MAXIMUM PLEDGE' Italian Premier Wins Vote Of Confidence On Policy

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro won a vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies Friday night on his conduct of Italian foreign policy after Amintore Fanfani's resignation as foreign minister. The vote of 325-154 — the needed majority was 240 — went along party lines. The four government coalition partners — Christian Democrats, Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans — voted support for Moro to offer Italy's "maximum pledge" of help in the search for a Viet Nam peace. Leftist In Opposition. Communist, Liberal, Fascist, Monarchist and extreme-left proletarian Socialist deputies voted against a support motion put up by the coalition parties. Moro, speaking at the close of debate, said Italian foreign policy is undergoing no change, now that he is his own foreign minister. The premier praised Fanfani as a person and a statesman. He told the chamber that Fanfani, because of his agreement with American government leaders on secrecy concerning the Giorgio La Pira mission-to-Hanoi peace feeler, had said nothing about it to the Italian government in November or December. Hit For Supporting U.S. Moro said his government had sometimes been criticized at home for speaking of its "understanding" for the American position in Viet Nam, a term which he said had been viewed by some as too strong and by others as too weak. "Understanding signifies natural respect, dutiful attention toward the greatest of our Allied friends," said Moro. "Understanding," he continued, "signifies an attentive and calm evaluation of the situation in Southeast Asia and the objectives of guaranteeing independence and global equilibrium which the United States is pursuing, paying so high a price in blood and resources in Southeast Asia." Trust And Full Favor. Moro said the Italian government had followed Washington's peace offensive "with trust and full favor." Fanfani had told the chamber he resigned in the wake of the Pira peace feeler because he "preferred personal sacrifice to insensitivity." Moro discussed the Viet Nam situation at length. He said: "The spirit of friendship (by Italy for the United States) and an objective consideration of realities have not stopped us from encouraging the American government to moderation and prudence in a way that there be controlled, to the best degree possible and through an innate sense of responsibility, a difficult and painful and dangerous situation." Encourage Peace. "We have encouraged the American government above all in that vigorous and sincere peace initiative which began with the Christmas truce and the indefinite suspension of bombing in North Viet Nam. "We earnestly need to say, therefore, that we are following this action with trust and full favor. "Nothing makes us think that the American peace offensive is ending and such is certainly not the interpretation that we can take from President Johnson's State of the Union message."

"Every time a person comes out of the Job Corps or the Neighborhood Youth Corps and can't find work," he said, "the money we've spent has been wasted." Meeting Planned. Powell is not singling out any specific educational or cultural programs for extinction. He said he would leave it to the administration to decide what must go. But he said he will insist that a much larger share of the OEO money goes into the Job Corps, Neighborhood Youth Corps and work-experience programs. Powell is due to get together with OEO Director Sargent Shriver and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and try to arrange closer coordination between the two agencies. The Labor Department already is administering the Neighborhood Youth Corps for OEO at a cost of $140 million a year. In addition, it has two big on-the-job and vocational training programs under the $357-million manpower development and training law.

This time the Communist Chinese hierarchy virtually ignored him during a longer stop. After a day in Peking, Shelepin and members of his party — which included a top rocket expert — left to return to Moscow. There were rumors Shelepin would stop first in Mongolia to confer with Brezhnev. There have been reports in the West that Shelepin actually was trying to talk the North Vietnamese leaders into agreeing to discuss peace. This was denied by Moscow sources but Peking's statements showed the Chinese distrusted the Shelepin mission completely. Johnson Accused. The Chinese press made no mention of Shelepin's stay in Peking or his mission to Hanoi. Instead, the official Peking People's Daily accused President Johnson of committing heinous crimes in Viet Nam while the Russians worked with him. An editorial in the paper entitled "Johnson administration cannot escape justice" said the "U.S. aggressor army in South Viet Nam is madly pursuing a 'scorched earth' plan marked by its large scale and unprecedentedly barbarous and bloody method. "Wherever the aggressor troops go, they burn all, kill all and destroy all. They are attempting to wipe out all life in vast areas in South Viet Nam."

Student's Body To Be Exhumed

PUEBLA, Mexico (UPI) — Police Friday ordered exhumation of the body of a 26-year-old Pennsylvania University graduate student, found with a bullet wound near here. Philadelphia trial lawyer Joseph Head II, in Mexico City, positively identified photographs of the corpse as that of his son, Joseph Head III, U.S. Embassy investigators reported. Assistant chief of state police Javier Soza de la Cuadra said that "there was an 80 per cent possibility that the younger Head was slain, possibly by a hitch-hiker he had picked up." Gen. Pedro Larios Espinosa, chief of the state police, said it had been determined that young Head had entered Mexico through the border city of Juarez, opposite El Paso, Texas.

Phillip To Visit Three Texas Cities

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, will visit three Texas cities March 12 to promote British exports. A spokesman for the royal family said this week the prince's first engagement will be in Houston, where he will meet with Braniff Airlines executives. Braniff has bought the 111 jetliner from the British Aircraft Corp. Philip will fly in one from Houston to Dallas and El Paso.

CHICAGOAN MAY BE CHOSEN Pope Paul To Name New Cardinals During January

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI is expected to name a number of new cardinals on Jan. 25, including at least one from the United States, Vatican sources said Friday. The sources said they did not know how many prelates would be elevated to the rank of prince of the Roman Catholic Church, but there has been speculation the Pope would name a "large number," possibly as many as 50. How many American prelates would be named cardinals would appear to be based on the total appointed by the pontiff. American Mentioned. But it is almost certain that John Patrick Cody, recently named archbishop of Chicago, will be one. Other Americans mentioned as possibilities included: —John J. Kroll, archbishop of Philadelphia. —John Francis Dearden, archbishop of Detroit. —Leo Binz, archbishop of St. Paul, Minn. —Joseph Thomas McGucken, archbishop of San Francisco. —Patrick Louis O'Boyle, archbishop of Washington, D.C. —Paul J. Hallinan, archbishop of Atlanta, Ga. There are now five U.S. prelates in the College of Cardinals including: Francis Spellman of New York, Joseph Elmer Ritter of St. Louis, Richard James Cushing of Boston, Francis McIntyre of Los Angeles, and Lawrence Joseph Shehan of Baltimore, Md. The latter was named in the consistories last Feb. 22. A consistory has been expected for some time. Since elected spiritual leader of the church on June 21, 1963, Pope Paul has held only one consistory for the naming of 27 cardinals. He said then he planned to call another consistory after the Vatican Ecumenical Council ended last Dec. 8.

Plains Farming Farmer In Terry Wins Top Honor

By DUANE HOWELL
Avalanche-Journal Farm Editor

A 34-year-old Terry County cotton producer was named Star Young Farmer of Texas at the 17th annual convention of the Texas Association of Young Farmers Friday night in Austin. Weldon Mason of Meadow, who has $130,430 invested in farming, was selected for the top honor from a list of 10 regional winners. He represented Area 2. Truman Dunavant of Floyd, who leases 720 acres, represented Area 1. He is 28 years old and grows sugar beets, cotton, milo and wheat. Mason owns 160 acres of irrigated land and rents an additional 320 acres. He has farmed as much as 860 acres in recent years and has operated 14 irrigation wells. Cotton, milo and wheat are Mason's main crops. He also is building a registered herd of Angus cattle.

Began Farming In '51
Mason began farming in 1951 with 320 acres of rented land, none of which was irrigated. He increased the productivity of the place by utilizing conservation practices, drilling irrigation wells and installing sprinkler irrigation. In 1966, Mason rented additional land irrigated by small wells. He used modern agricultural methods and recommended varieties to nearly double cotton and milo yields on this land. Mason, who has served as state president of both the Young Farmers and the Future Farmers of America, moved to a smaller but more productive place last year. He holds the highest national award bestowed by the FFA, the American Farmer degree.

Mason is active in church work, the Terry County Farm Bureau, his soil conservation district, the rural area development program, local cooperatives and the Masonic Lodge. He is married and has three children. Received $1,000 Bond Each of the area winners received a $100 bond and Mason also was awarded a $1,000 bond.

First 1966 meeting of the Better Business Bureau of Lubbock, Inc., board of directors was conducted at a Friday luncheon in the Hob Nob Room of Hemphill-Wells Montreux. Reports of past year activities and installation of officers marked the session at which 20 were present.

Robert L. Snyder is incoming president, and other elected officers include Alex Miller, 1st vice president, E. K. Hufstedler, 2nd vice president, and C. H. Cummings, treasurer. Tom V. Watson is executive director and manager.

New Directors
New directors are Robert B. Gaffga, Owen Hamilton, J. R. Hancock, Joe R. Horkey, M. P. J. Minter and J. C. Rickman.

Retiring directors include E. D. Griffith, Howard Hunt, R. B. McAllister, Gordon Rose, A. B. Watkins and Rex Webster, immediate past president. Holdover directors of the bureau are Snyder, Miller, Hufstedler, Cummings, Milton Conine, Louis E. Griffin, Pete West, Robert H. McKeely, Pat McNamara, William L. Morlen, King Sides and J. W. Smith. In reporting on the past year's operation, Watson revealed 10 areas of complaints investigated by the Bureau. Heading the list (in numbers of instances investigated) was magazine sales, followed in order by insurance, appliance sales and service, automotive equipment and service, photography, mail order houses, home improvements, dry cleaners and laundries, TV-radio sales and service, and advertising promotions. Inquiries to the group totaled 4,774, with 817 complaints registered.

The world's first cities were built about 5,000 years ago in Mesopotamia. Oranges and lemons and a heavy production of bananas also were observed by Ammons. He earlier visited the Ang Gang area, about 85 miles west of Saigon where the main crop is rice. "Nearly all the work in the vegetable fields around Dalat is done by hand," Ammons said. "Most of the fields—I think of them as gardens instead of fields—are too small for anything else." Telling of a meeting of direc-

Man Sought In Attempt To Kidnap Woman

City police Friday were seeking a man who claimed to be a policeman and tried to force a Lubbock woman into his car about 10:30 p.m. Thursday. Rochele McKee, 2008 41st St., said she was driving north when the man began honking his car and waved her to the curb at 39th and Avenue H. He told her to get out, that he was taking her to the police department, the woman told officers. She said she got out and asked for his identification. Instead, she related, he took out a knife and pulled her by the arm toward his car. Another car approached, and the woman yelled for help, according to police reports. The man fled as the car, occupied by a couple, stopped to assist the woman.

The suspect was described as about 30 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, slender, well-dressed with a coat and tie, and driving a Ford Mustang. A license number was reported to police. New York City's Verrazano Bridge, which links Brooklyn and Staten Island, handled 17 million vehicles and collected more than $9 million in tolls during its first year of operation.

Marchers Protest Snub To Left-Leaning Legislator

ATLANTA (AP) — Nearly 1,000 demonstrators marched to the state Capitol Friday, snarling downtown traffic and protesting to the Georgia House's barring Rep.-elect Julian Bond. The marchers came from two directions. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. led about 650 from the campus of Atlanta University. A smaller group marched from Ebenezer Baptist church. Legislators had gone home for the weekend and Gov. Carl E. Sanders had left the building. The demonstration came four days after the Negro refused to seat Bond, a House civil rights worker, after his endorsement of a statement opposing the draft and denouncing U.S. participation in Viet Nam as aggression. A federal court suit was filed Thursday in a move to get Bond into the legislature. The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, of which Bond is a member, joined with King's organization in a protest. Led By King The three-mile march led by King traveled the wrong way on a one-way street after reaching the downtown area.

LONG SEARCH PAYS OFF
Family Will Be Reunited Here Today After 24 Years Of Waiting, Hoping

By GAYLE NOLL, Avalanche-Journal Staff
TWENTY-FOUR YEARS of waiting and wondering if he had a family are over for Glenn Boyett.
The 27-year-old San Bernardino, Calif., man will be reunited in Lubbock today with six brothers and sisters he wasn't sure existed until last summer.
After years of searching for her brother, who was adopted from Milam's Orphans' Home in Lubbock when he was 3, Mrs. Neal Burroughs, 4515 40th St., found Boyett in August 1965 in California after what she calls a "chain of miracles."
The story began to unfold in 1938 when the effects of the depression still held a grip on the country.

LIVED ON FARM NEAR LITTLEFIELD
The John Beckham family lived on a farm near Littlefield, where the father worked as a farm laborer. That year Mrs. Beckham died after giving birth to Glenn, her seventh child.
Joyce Beckham (now Mrs. Burroughs) was 5 when her mother died. The other children ranged in age from 3 to 16. After their mother died, the seven children went to live with relatives for a year, then returned to Littlefield.
The three older children, Kenneth Doyle Beckham (now of Eureka, Calif.), Vonda Lee (now Mrs. Gus Jones of Brownwood) and Jeraldine (now Mrs. J. B. Springer of Tulsa, Okla.) left home to "rough it" for themselves.

THE OTHER SISTER, Martha Alice, who was about 10 at the time, went to live with a Littlefield woman who moved to Denver, Colo., shortly after the child went to live with her.
The three younger children, Joyce (Mrs. Burroughs), Glenn and John remained with their father.
But soon after that, the father had to leave, and Mrs. Burroughs, who was only 6 years old then, says she was left to care for her two younger brothers.
"We always had been very, very poor, but after my father left, we were destitute. We lived by ourselves in a little shack in Littlefield," Mrs. Burroughs recalls. "We lived on W.P.A. (Work Progress Administration) rations. I remember making flapjacks out of flour and water."

CHILDREN LIVED ON INSTINCT
"I don't know why I knew even how to put flour and water together, except that, even though I was only 6, I knew there was little between us children and death, so we lived on instinct."
"We used to go around town and pick up metal and old scrap iron and sell it at the junkyard for a few pennies to buy food."
"This went on for a couple of years, then when I was 8, I was caught taking hamburger meat at a supermarket."

Peace Move Creates Unrest In Both Areas

NEW DELHI (AP)—Bubbles of discontent over the India-Pakistan peace declaration surfaced in both countries Friday.
The agreement, signed in Tashkent, U.S.S.R., set off a cabinet dispute in New Delhi and threw open the race for prime minister. Rehabilitation Minister Mahavir Tyagi resigned, saying he objected to interim Prime Minister Gulzari Lal Nanda's pledge to honor the declaration before a new government is formed.
In Pakistan, President Ayub Khan went on national radio in an attempt to quiet Pakistani fears after demonstrations against the Tashkent agreement were reported in the West Pakistan capital of Lahore, and elsewhere.
Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, en route home from Tashkent, sent a message to Ayub saying he was sure the people of Pakistan liked the pact.

TAKES OVER LAB
Young Chemist Newest Member Of DPS Here

JERRY McCARTY, Avalanche-Journal Staff
Take the evidence in a test tube, add the testing of a young Department of Public Safety chemist and toxicologist, and the results may put the defendant in a criminal case behind bars.
It's all part of the job of 23-year-old Bob Craig, one of the newest members of the DPS team which puts science to work in law enforcement.
Craig mans the lab at the Department of Public Safety headquarters at 41st Street and Avenue R, serving the 60-county Lubbock region. It is one of six such labs in the state.
He took over operation of the lab Dec. 6.

Idle One Year
For more than a year the lab had stood idle following the transfer of Eldon Straughn to the headquarters lab in Austin.
The job is Craig's first since graduation from Arlington State College last June with a bachelor of science degree in chemistry.
He landed the assignment in Lubbock after a five-month training period at the Austin headquarters lab, which has a staff of seven and during Straughn's absence had handled all work from the Lubbock region of DPS.
"Ninety-five to 100 per cent of my work is devoted to blood alcohol analysis," Craig said.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ACTION

Two Klansmen Refuse To Answer Probe Questions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two alleged Mississippi Ku Klux Klansmen declined to answer any questions Friday about the slaying of two Negro youths near Meadville, Miss.
One of the Klansmen, Charles Marcus Edwards, had been arrested in the case. Edwards steadily declined to answer as Donald T. Appell, chief investigator for the House Committee on Un-American Activities, brought out a dark picture of nocturnal floggings not only of the two Negroes, but of a white Klansman who fell out with his associates.
Appell relied mainly on a statement he said Edwards gave to the Mississippi State Highway Patrol and the FBI after he was arrested for the murders of Charles Moore and Henry Dee.
The decomposed bodies of Moore and Dee were found in a backwater of the Mississippi River in July 1964 while authorities were searching for three civil rights workers who had disappeared in the area of Philadelphia, Miss. It was not previously known the two Negroes had been missing.
In Edwards' statement to the highway patrol, Appell said, he and James Ford Seale and others had taken the two Negroes to a field and whipped them, and left them there alive, and he didn't know what happened to them after that.
The bodies were found chained to a Jeep motor block in the river.
Edwards told the highway patrol the Negroes were whipped because his wife had See KKK Page 9

363 DIE IN FLOODS

Rains End In Rio; Sun Finally Breaks Through

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—The sun on Friday broke through clouds that dumped four days of heavy rain on the city and its surroundings, leaving at least 363 known dead. More than 40,000 persons have received typhoid injections in an effort to ward off a possible epidemic in the wake of the worst floods in the city's 400-year history, public health authorities reported.
The principal problem for health authorities is getting the estimated 40,000 refugees evacuated from the city's hillside shantytowns to inoculation centers.
Rain-loosened landslides roaring off the hills, that make this city by the sea famous for its beauty, hit the shantytowns hardest and 193 bodies were recovered there and from several hillside middle-class houses.
Another 170 are known dead in Rio de Janeiro State that sprawls behind the mountains surrounding this city, including 100 in the mountain resort of Petropolis 26 miles to the north.
With the end of the record rains and the intermittent return of the summer sun, streets dried and the city began to return to normal.
The chief water department engineer said that repairs on a huge broken main which cut off water from 40 per cent of the city would be completed by Sunday.
There remained the problem of housing for the estimated thousands whose homes were destroyed.

Going Deeper Into Spirit Brings Joy

Gems of wisdom from the book of Proverbs were spoken throughout a homespun tale of a young man's college experience and dealings with his fiancée's family during a program by Mrs. J. J. Willingham at noon Friday in the Lubbock Women's Club.

Topic for the Bible Roundtable was "A New Walk in Old Paths."

She spoke of the joy found in delving deeper into the mysteries of life in the realms of matter, mind, and spirit.

Members and guests were exhorted to see deeper into life and its mysteries.

"The wisdom literature of the Bible," she said, "portrays the human problem, and directs the attitude toward fulfillment of the divine purpose of creation."

"We must be led by the heart and not by the head," she added.

"Israel has a new walk because she is led by the Spirit and not by the head. Before the Greek philosophers was Israel."

True wisdom is the revelation of God's orderly plan in the universe and in the lives of men, she said.

The intelligent observations of men down through the ages do not constitute great wisdom.

Chairman of the Roundtable is Mrs. Clyde Tatum, and co-chairman is Mrs. Frank Haden. Committee members include Mmes. Lloyd Buzan, S. E. Cone, Lawrence Green, W. K. Lokley and H. I. Robinson.

ANN LANDERS

Writer Needs Empathy

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a teen-age boy with no problems. I like girls and girls like me but I am not going steady with any of them and I don't want to. I work hard in school and I get As and Bs. So what am I writing to you about?

I read your column every day and so does everybody I know. I have decided that the people who write to you are nuts.

I always cover up your answers and guess what it will be and I'm usually right. I'm not brilliant or anything like that. I just use common sense. Why can't people who write to you do the same thing? Then they wouldn't have to write.

I am not trying to put you out of business, Ann, but then there's no danger of that. Like most sensible things, this letter will be ignored and people will continue to write you those crazy letters.—No 8-went

Dear No: I guess it's too much to expect a 15-year-old boy to have empathy (look it up) but this is what you lack.

Somebody else's problems might look nuts, but when (and if) the problem is your own you'll use a less brutal adjective.

People in trouble are often too emotional to see the solution that is obvious to an unbiased outsider. Under stress this thing you call "common sense" is not so common.

If you get through the next two years without a problem, please write to me and send your address. I want to send out a photograph.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 23 years old but I look about 17. I am married to a man who is 33 but looks 30 years older. Unfortunately Mike is quite bald and he weighs about 30 pounds more than he should.

It just kills me when people mistake Mike for my father. We used to laugh when people made remarks to Mike about his "cute daughter."

Northup-Turner Vows Pledged In Minnesota

WAYZATA, Minn. (Special)—Miss Kay Nell Turner and George Otis Northup were married at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Wazata Community Church, with the Rev. W. O. Simpson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Turner, Otis AFB, Mass., and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McGlaun, 1710 Ave. O, Lubbock.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Don Warner of Detroit Lakes, Mich., and the late Mr. A. N. Northup.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Karen Turner, as maid of honor and Miss Susan Kazia of Chicago, Ill., as bridesmaid.

Best man was Mike Steinke of Duluth, Minn., and ushers were Greg W. Larson and Dave Ragstad, both of Minneapolis.

The couple will be at home at 111 Grand Ave., Apt. B-24, Wayzata, where the bridegroom is employed by Chas. Pfizer Co. in Minneapolis.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Montana State University.

Dear Folks:
If you are one of those darlings who likes fried shrimp, but hate cleaning the fishy oil out of the deep fryer, try frying this type of food DIRECT in a two- or three-pound can itself!

Natch, you have to remove the label from the outside of the can — so it won't catch fire — but the lid may be left attached to a shortening can, and left open while frying the goodies. . . .

After you have finished frying, all you have to do is let the grease cool, close the lid, and put the can away for the next time. If you use a coffee can with a plastic lid, just snap it back on the can of cooled grease, and label the top "fish", so you won't use it for anything else.

This saves washing a pan or deep fryer.

Also, because the can is so tall, it keeps splatters off the stove — so we eliminate that nasty clean-up job.

Dear Heloise:
Why is it that signs are placed in antique and gift shops which read, "Handle at your own risk and most always the price is on the bottom where it cannot be seen unless the item is lifted or moved?"

A Chinese laundry operator told me how he got sheets and linens so white. . . .

Several months ago I read in your column about peanut butter taking gum out of little girls' hair.

Thank goodness my little bubble-blowers haven't gotten gum in their hair yet . . . but I do know the peanut butter works wonderfully for getting the gum off their faces when a bubble pops!

WATER BOARD DIRECTORS—Members of the Lubbock County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 were given the oath of office at a meeting at Buffalo, Lakes Friday. All incumbents, the men took over new offices. The officers and their new positions include T. E. Milam, secretary, seated, and from left, H. D. Waller, vice president; V. G. Brown, treasurer, and Burl Kizer, president. (Staff Photo)

BY POLISH CHIEF

Political Loyalty Of Catholics Demanded

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka on Friday night demanded loyalty from Polish Roman Catholic officials in political affairs.

"Let the Church conduct its activities which belong to it, but we demand that it maintain a loyal policy toward the state if it wants to deal in politics. If (Stefan) Cardinal Wyszynski or other bishops want to express views on political problems, we do not forbid it, but let it be in accordance with the policy of the government of people's Poland," Gomulka declared.

Gomulka made the demand in an angry, hour-long attack against the conciliatory letter sent last month to the West German Roman Catholic bishops by the Polish bishops and Cardinal Wyszynski, the Polish primate. Gomulka's speech to the Communist National Unity Front was devoted entirely to Poland's deteriorating church-state relations.

Travel Barred

The Communist regime last weekend barred Cardinal Wyszynski from foreign travel charging that the letter had invited West Germans to discuss the postwar Polish-German frontier and other issues in a spirit of "mutual forgiveness."

The government considers the frontier issue beyond discussion. In a rare admission that the majority of Poles are Catholic, Gomulka said, "The Polish people in the majority are believing, they go to church, but in this matter they will never believe the Polish bishops."

He said Poland feels no forgiveness toward West Germany for obvious reasons: "Born government circles demand 1937 frontiers and atomic weapons. Now they have an argument in the form of the Polish bishops' letter. Without contrition there is no forgiveness and the Born government has shown no contrition."

Cardinal Accused

Gomulka also accused Cardinal Wyszynski of attempting to swing Poland to the West by calling it a Christian bulwark.

"What is behind this bulwark? It is the Soviet Union," as Cardinal Wyszynski would say, godless atheism and communism. No, they will not impose this line on us. This nation knows what it met at the hands of the West in history. This nation has changed."

The Communist leader declared that "The state and party make no obstacles as far as religious freedom is concerned. But we fight and will fight against all political activity, open or masked, directed against the interests of people's Poland."

Crop Switching Program Slated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today its cropland conversion program will be operated on a pilot or experimental basis this year in 67 counties in 21 states.

This program is supposed to improve farm income by helping farmers convert land now being used to produce surplus crops to some long-range income producing use such as forest, grain, water storage, wildlife habitat or recreational facilities.

Farmers signing agreements to convert land for periods of 5-10 years will receive payments and technical assistance. The Texas counties are Archer, Cottle, and Jack.

Horse Show Set To Open Gaines Event

SEMINOLE (Special)—A day, said Gaines County Agent horse show is scheduled at 8 a.m. today at the horse arena Monday will include barrows at 8 a.m., steers at 1 p.m., and annual Gaines County Junior Livestock Show. The weighing in of all other animals will begin at 4 p.m. to animals.

Swisher County Agent Chli Smith of Tulla will judge the animals.

Burglary Charge Filed In City

Burglary charges were filed Friday against a 17-year-old Lubbock man accused in a recent break-in at Hemphill-Wells Monterey store.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Laubach said the felony charges were lodged against Robert Reed, 2315 54th St.

An intruder used a Boy Scout shovel and Boy Scout flashlight while pilfering $250 in cash from 10 cash registers at the shopping center store the night of Jan. 7, police said.

Bond of $1,000 was ordered for the suspect by Justice of the Peace George H. McCleskey.

DURING BOARD MEETING
Leash Type Law Passed For Buffalo Lakes Area

Approval of an ordinance controlling dogs, cats and other animals at Buffalo Lakes and the reorganization of the board of directors highlighted the Friday meeting of the Lubbock County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1.

Oaths of office were given by Elmer East, attorney for the district, following the canvass of votes which recently returned all the incumbents to the board.

Officers Named

Burl Kizer was named as the board president, after serving as treasurer last year. H. D. Waller, moving from the 1965 secretary position was named vice president and T. E. Milam, former president, filled Waller's place. V. G. Browning, former vice president, is now the treasurer. Gordon H. Rose, who wasn't present at the meeting, is a board member.

The approved ordinance, which will automatically go into effect five days after it has been published weekly in the newspaper for two consecutive weeks, puts a control on dogs, cats, cattle, horses, swine, sheep, goats and poultry on the premises of the water district.

It requires that all these animals, whether kept inside or outside, must not be allowed to run at large and must all be inoculated against rabies and tagged.

Also under the provisions, animals which are brought to the recreation spot by vehicle must comply with the ordinance and must be either kept in the vehicle or on a leash.

All animals on the boundaries of the district that are 6-months old or older are also required to have had the rabies shots and be tagged.

To keep the animals from running at large they must either be fenced or kept on a leash and cannot be considered dangerous animals. Dangerous animals are considered to be those which have attack anyone at anytime, according to the document.

Any animal can be held for observation should it attack anyone and should it attack a second time it must be removed from the premises.

Carries Fine

Riding of the saddle horses or ponies at the riding academy on the premises is not considered running at large under the ordinance, but controls were placed on the hitching of these animals or horses brought in by any group.

None of the horses can be tied or hitched to any trees or bushes on the property and must be ridden on approved trails or the shoulders of the roads.

The document prohibits diseased animals on the premises and the spots where animals are kept must be kept clean and free of disagreeable odors.

The ordinance carries a fine of $200 per day.

In other action the board accepted the bid of Continental Oil Company of $6,363 for the year's petroleum needs; approved paving of a ski point known as Sand Peninsula; approved the purchase of approximately $1,500 worth of picnic grills and the purchase of a fire proof filing cabinet.

Verdict Favors Defendants Here

A jury in 137th District Court Friday deliberated four hours before returning a verdict in favor of the defendants in a damage suit.

After deliberating on 17 special issues, the panel returned its verdict to Judge James A. Ellis, presiding, about 6 p.m.

Margie Lee Sisk sought $8,170 judgment from Paul Reed Burns and J. H. Burns, alleging injuries arising from a traffic accident Aug. 17, 1964, at 31st St. and Nashville Ave.

No recovery was awarded because the jury found negligence on the part of the plaintiff.

An intervenor, however, was granted damages.

Joseph S. Miles was awarded $363.05 from the plaintiff and both defendants, alleging that his car, which was parked at a curb, was struck by Mrs. Sisk's vehicle following the original collision.

Jurors included Joe B. Pate Sr., Maria Sanchez, W. D. Cross, William M. Paul, Robert Terry, Merlo E. Davis, Mrs. Alton Meeks, E. L. Tatum, Thomas J. Wooten, Janice M. Owen, Betty J. Smith and Wayne L. Hogan.

FOR BUYERS
Wholesale Items To Be Shown Here

Annual summer showing of the Western Wholesale Market Association will be conducted Sunday and Monday on seven floors of the Caprock Hotel, according to John Mallory, association president.

About 500 buyers from the South Plains and surrounding areas are expected to attend the showing at which 55 exhibitors have made reservations for display of clothing, jewelry, cosmetics, etc.

The market association, sponsored by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, holds three showings annually in Lubbock with events in January, May and October. Grey Lewis of the chamber staff is manager of the shows.

Top Show Expected

"The market is developing Lubbock into one of the outstanding market centers of the Southwest," Mallory reports, "and we expect the forthcoming show to be even better than the previous ones that have had excellent reception by area buyers of hot goods and the related items presented in convenient and attractive displays."

The Lubbock market is believed to be largest of its type this side of Dallas, Mallory said.

Exhibitors will move their wares into the hotel headquarters Saturday to enable two full days of showing, beginning Sunday morning.

Northwestern Professor Due

Dr. Donald D. DeFord, chairman of the Department of Chemistry, Northwestern University, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the South Plains Section of the American Chemical Society Tuesday on the Texas Tech campus.

His topic will be "Column Efficiency in Gas Chromatography."

The meeting will begin with a dinner at 6:30 p.m. in Tech Union followed by the lecture at 7:30 p.m. in Room 101 of the Tech Chemistry Building. The lecture will be open to the public at no admission charge.

Dr. DeFord, whose research in analytical chemistry includes the fields of chromatography and chemical instrumentation, is expected to emphasize practical problems in design in his discussion here.

Dr. Richard R. Thompson, assistant professor of chemistry at Tech, is program chairman of the South Plains Section of ACS, and Dr. Ulrich Hollstein of Eastern New Mexico University is section chairman.

Catholics Plan Sunday Supper

Christ the King Catholic Church will have a "pot luck" supper at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in the school cafeteria for all adult members of the parish.

Members will take covered dishes of their choice.

The Pete Morales orchestra from O'Donnell will play. Bridge games and other social activity will follow.

The Rev. James Fitzgerald, pastor of Christ the King Church, expressed hopes for attendance of many parishioners as possible to enable them to become better acquainted. New members who have recently moved to Lubbock have a special invitation.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of representatives of all parish organizations. Coordinator is Sister Kathleen.

Causes of RELIGIOUS DIVISION

We have noticed from the Bible that God is displeased with the divided condition in the religious world. Although men seem to be content and happy with all the denominations in existence today, Jesus Christ prayed for the oneness of His disciples (John 17:20-21). It is common, however, to hear church leaders thank God for the various sectarian groups "so that everyone may go to the church of his choice." Friends, this type of prayer makes mockery of the Lord's plea for unity. Why does such a condition exist?

One of the first causes of this division in "Christendom" is a departure from God's word. In II Timothy 4:3-4 we read of some in that day who had turned away from the sound doctrine and had begun to "heap to themselves teachers" who would tickle their "itching ears." This simply means that they departed from the Truth of God, and sought out teachers that pleased them. We believe this same attitude prevails today as a cause of division.

Another great cause of schism in the religious world is the exaltation of men and their teachings. In I Corinthians 1:11-13 we find that this very thing had happened in Corinth. The people began to exalt Paul, Apollos, and Peter above Christ. Today we see in evidence the same point. It caused division then; it continues as one of the basic reasons for denominations today. We should do away with the human names and allegiances of this modern age and call ourselves Christians and only by that name. (Acts 11:26, I Peter 4:16).

Another contributing factor to the confusion in religion is the abundance of creeds, manuals, catechisms, and disciplines of the various sectarian groups. Friends, as long as these exist we can never hope to see Christ's prayer for unity fulfilled. These creed books forever stand in opposition to God's divine will. In Psalm 19:7-9 we read that "the law of the Lord is perfect." Paul tells us that the inspired (not man made) scriptures will make "the man of God complete" (II Tim. 3:16-17). These plain passages teach that God's Word alone is all that we need. The Bible can be the only source of authority in religion. I would prevail if we would all use the Bible as our "but, as long as we hold to creed books written by men, we will see the reality of division in religion."

So, we, as members of the church of the Lord, plead for a return to the Book of books—the Precious Bible Divine.

A WORLD IN TROUBLE

What has happened to this marvelous world of ours in this twentieth century of God's grace? Mankind seems to be passing through a sea of troubles which has no counterpart in human history.

There are wars and rumors of wars among the nations, and many of the nations themselves are split into warring factions, each faction striving for supremacy, and each intolerant of the views, hopes, and rights of others.

The great trouble with the world is that men have forgotten God. They no longer seek spiritual guidance, but follow the vain ways of the modern world. We have become a cynical, materialistic generation.

If this drift toward world tragedy and chaos is ever stopped, the churches of the world must do it. The world's hope—our hope—is in God and His Church. He alone can save mankind from a sorrowful fate.

The Church seeks to turn the hearts of men from the ways of war and fear and hate to the ways of peace and love.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LABOR IS DOING ALL RIGHT

'Double Standard' Still In Effect

ORGANIZED LABOR would appear to have no great cause for dismay over recent events affecting its principal fields of endeavor.

A minimum wage increase, higher unemployment benefits and repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act are on President Johnson's Congressional schedule.

The message contained nothing really alarming to labor, in spite of the section in which Mr. Johnson stated: "I also intend to ask the Congress to consider measures which, without improperly invading the local and state authority, will enable us to deal with strikes which threaten irreparable damage to the national interest."

This unambiguous statement has been considered by some labor sources as having been a token recognition of the horrific New York City transit strike.

Civil Service Week

SUNDAY WILL mark the 83rd anniversary of the signing of the Civil Service Act, under which the nation started its great movement away from the old political patronage system.

It is the first day of "Civil Service Week," to be observed throughout the country January 16-22.

One of the members' prime purposes is to remind the general public that the Federal Government doesn't just mean Washington, but that 90 per cent of the career service, is actually located in communities throughout the U.S. and in posts around the world.

Many of their services, such as weather forecasting and mail handling, are so taken for granted that we forget the qualifications these employees had to possess before they started and the merit system under which they earn advancement.

It is no secret that in all departments of the Government civil servants are really the "indispensable people." Moreover, it is remarkably seldom that one of them, even in a top executive position, really forgets his or her duty to the people.

The emphasis during National Civil Service Week should be on these people.

The Poverty Press

THERE'S ANOTHER indication that Poverty Boss Sargent Shriver learned a lesson from the hoos who greeted his supplemental income scheme.

The Rev. William A. Wendt, Episcopal pastor and president of a neighborhood anti-poverty council in Washington, has applied for a Federal grant of $150,000 to establish a "poor folks" newspaper in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Shriver, shuddering, has stated: "We are not going to underwrite the production of newspapers in competition with regular newspapers."

Washington, which has three dailies, is not likely to be the first city which the Government goes into the newspaper business. Unless, that is, the Johnson Administration has gone out of its poverty-pickin' mind.

ART BUCHWALD:

Women, Not Men, Essential To New York Economy

NEW YORK It's probably hindsight, but it seems to be that Mayor John Lindsay's biggest mistake at the beginning of the subway strike was when he appealed to men to stay out of New York City unless they considered themselves essential.

Had Mr. Lindsay asked all men to stay home during the strike, New York would not be in the economic shape it is today.

THEY ARE the ones who support the department stores, the hairdressers, the specialty shops, and the restaurants. If they were not coming to town, there was no need for anyone else to be in the city, so many department owners have sadly discovered.

MOST BUSINESSES in New York are run by secretaries who know more about what is going on than their bosses. Proof of this is that a boss can be out for a month and nothing will happen, but a secretary can be sick for one day and any business will collapse.

THEY ARE the ones who support the department stores, the hairdressers, the specialty shops, and the restaurants. If they were not coming to town, there was no need for anyone else to be in the city, so many department owners have sadly discovered.

sources, quoted by the Associated Press, might have hit it exactly on the head when he said: "I'm not at all sure it will ever see the light of day again."

But the real payoff seems to be that the "double standard" which the Administration applies to wage-price stabilization efforts is still in effect.

The contrast with the all-out Government pressure applied to Bethlehem Steel Corporation when it announced structural steel price increases is obvious enough to reassure all organized labor.

"I'm not fighting steel," Mr. Johnson said. "I'm fighting inflation." If inflation is to be fought on all fronts, it seems logical that weapons should be sought by the Government to curb the unions' excessive demands.

Whether the weapons will be sought vigorously is a question which must be viewed with a great deal of skepticism.

Note To Criminals

WOULD BE KIDNAPERS of Leonard K. Firestone got their come uppance in Beverly Hills, Calif. Thursday, when alert police officers shot them down while in the commission of a major crime.

The action of the officers, who met the heavily armed thugs head-on as they entered the Firestone house, probably did not have opportunity to realize it at the time, since their own lives were very much in danger.

As all who read well know, crime of all kinds—including the most violent sort—is encouraged by weird appeals courts rulings, the slowness by which our creaking system of justice moves, by legal red tape and petty foggers of countless descriptions.

It is fitting then that the new project is headed by James Farmer, just resigned as national director of the Congress of Racial Equality.

Andrew Tully: Revolt Due By Liberals

Revolt Due By Liberals

WASHINGTON Mike Quill is a vulgar man, and a lawbreaker. But he is not what is wrong with the country.

History can paraphrase Barry Goldwater in reporting the liberals' thinking about the New York City transit strike because it boils down to the premise that extremism is okay if it is committed in the cause of trade unionism.

ON CAPITOL Hill, the so-called liberal bloc runs and hides when the transit strike is mentioned. It doesn't be hastily to Mike Quill because he represents labor, and labor has the votes.

PROBABLY IT will do no good, but I will buy the sentiment in an editorial in the Ashbury Park, N. J., Press that the time is ripe for a revolt of the liberals.

IN ALL THIS, the Democratic party cannot avoid being cast as the villain. New Yorkers are a property cynical lot, and they saw the strike as the Democratic machine's attempt to discredit John Lindsay on the very day he took office.

ROWLAND EVANS & ROBERT NOVAK:

A Test In Civil Rights

WASHINGTON Nearing approval by the Federal poverty officials is an $80,000 grant that poses both an opportunity and a threat for the civil rights movement.

EXPLAINING HIS shift from the excitement of the protest movement to undramatic adult education, Farmer has called for a turn from street demonstrations to a "more sophisticated weapon."

BUT THIS is the tip of an iceberg. The project is only the first undertaking of the new National Center for Community Action Education, Inc., which plans to pool private and foundation funds with Federal money for a major assault on poverty.

AND INTERFERENCE by the free world in the Red-dominated zones is called a threat to world peace. But when there are Red intrusions into Cuba, Santo Domingo, or throughout the rural continents we're told we "must learn to live with" these as normal in "our changing world."

ifies the divided, rudderless state of the civil rights movement today.

EXPLAINING HIS shift from the excitement of the protest movement to undramatic adult education, Farmer has called for a turn from street demonstrations to a "more sophisticated weapon."

BUT CERTAIN harsh facts of life must be faced. Jim Farmer, an old line Norman Thomas Socialist and pacifist, is intensely political and not likely to occupy himself wholly with adult education.

Victory Is Only Way

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S State of the Union message is analytical, which is what it is intended to be. The largest problem of the Union, however, is philosophical. And it has to do with war.

DIANTHUS WHITE STAR—Pure white and an excellent variety for foundation plantings.

"DIVINE FLOWER"

Dianthus White Star To Be Introduced In Spring

A new addition to the ranks of the flower that the Greeks christened "Dios-anthos" or "Divine Flower" is the pure white dianthus White Star. To be introduced this spring, White Star has an ethereal quality that fully justifies the Greek description. Along with the white flowers is foliage that has a silvery sheen, a pungent old spice fragrance and a wealth of bloom. The exceptionally hardy plants grow 12 inches in height and spread a full 18 inches across. At the same time the plant is neat and compact. An excellent variety for foundation plantings or as a specimen.

White Star has fully double flowers that are 2 inches across large for a dianthus. They appear in the second year of growth and continue from early June through July. They keep well when cut for indoor use and the quantity of flowers produced on a single plant makes a striking display in the garden. This variety is completely winter hardy and requires only minimum care.

MILD WINTER BLAMED

Activity Of Bulbs Problem In Area

By ED ZUKAUCKAS
Tech Horticulturist

Gardeners now are starting to express concern over activity of spring-flowered bulbs, which are beginning to show their noses above ground. While it might be pretty early for some of the bulbs to show up, most of these, like the crocus and the daffodil and the Dutch iris, are not severely damaged by rather cold conditions after the plants appear. Usually injury does not occur unless the plants are much further along and flower buds are pretty well developed.

Warm Winter

Some gardeners are also reporting that there are a few roses still remaining in a reasonably attractive condition, and not even all geraniums have frozen this season. In one instance, an unprotected palm tree out of doors in a western South

Plains community appears relatively unscathed by this winter's blasts. There is some need for gardeners to start to plan their tree planting activities quickly in order to take advantage of the relatively favorable weather conditions which have been available for this type of operation. Soil areas in the flower or vegetable garden could be tilled to advantage; and if weather conditions remain mild, garden construction work can progress ahead.

Don't forget to give your flower and shrub beds a good watering; otherwise bright, sunny, windy days could cause damage to your shallow rooted herbaceous plants. Areas which you plan to include into bed areas this coming season could well have the grass dug from them at this time.

Some gardeners are also enjoying the animation of birds in the landscape and are now benefiting from the planting of berryed shrubs and the use of easily-viewed bird feeders. Yaupon holly and Indian currant and even the oaks are supplying food for some birds, and the voracious feeding bluejays are apparently even stealing pecans.

Those gardeners who normally contemplate sowing their own spring seed and raising their own plants should have their catalogs for now or should be planning to obtain their seed soon for the slowest growing seedlings. It won't be long before the end of the month and before the time that snapdragon and petunia seed will need to be sown for early plants.

Family Reunion To End 24 Years Of Waiting

and the welfare agency moved in and took us to Millam's home in Lubbock.

WHEN THE CHILDREN arrived at the home, Mrs. Burroughs recalls that she had tuberculosis and all three were suffering from malnutrition. Although she was 8 years old at the time, Mrs. Burroughs remembers that she had gone to school only part of one year, and that was while she was living with relatives. But when she came to Lubbock she was given an exam and put in the third grade.

"I never failed anything, but it was hard for me to catch up with the class. I remember learning to write by watching the teacher write on the blackboard."

Shortly after the children arrived at the orphanage, Glenn was adopted when he was 3. And none of the brothers and sisters saw him again until last summer when Mrs. Burroughs "found" him.

Also, John was adopted a few months after Glenn left the orphanage by J. P. Hewlett, who now resides in Wilson and is superintendent of Tahoka Public Schools. But the family never lost contact with each other, except for Glenn.

REMEMBERS NOTHING ABOUT CHILDHOOD

Glenn Boyett says he didn't remember anything about his childhood, except that he thought he had a sister named Joyce.

"But I never was really sure I had a 'real' family at all until I met my sister last summer," Boyett said in Lubbock this morning.

After Mrs. Burroughs was married, she began searching for Glenn, not even knowing who had adopted him. Finally, she heard he had been adopted by a family in Sweetwater, so she made numerous trips there to try and locate her brother.

On one such trip in 1955, she and her husband stopped in a cafe to drink coffee and asked another customer if he knew of a family there who had adopted any children. The man recalled Glenn's foster parents, and the chain of "miracles" began to link up.

BUT GLENN'S FOSTER FAMILY had moved from Sweetwater to San Bernardino, Calif., and it was 10 years later that Mrs. Burroughs found her brother.

"I was determined not to give up the search. Glenn was just like my own child. I would have searched until I was 100," Mrs. Burroughs asserts.

Tracing down a cousin of Glenn's foster parents, Mrs. Burroughs learned in about 1956 that her brother was in San Bernardino.

"My husband promised me that when we got the money, we would go to California and look for Glenn. And last summer the possibility finally arrived," Mrs. Burroughs recalls. So, five months ago, Mrs. Burroughs and her husband went to San Bernardino, a city of about 110,000 persons, to search, knowing only her brother's name.

FOUND NAME IN OLD PHONE BOOK

They stopped at a small cafe and looked in a telephone book and to their surprise found the name "Glenn Boyett." They went to the address listed, but the Boyett family had moved. However, a neighbor gave Mrs. Burroughs the Boyetts' new address.

"We drove over to the address . . . and when Glenn came to the door and I told him who I was, he was stunned. It was the first time he had seen me in 24 years, and wasn't even for certain I really existed," Mrs. Burroughs recalls.

Boyett was surprised to learn they had found his name in a phone book, because he hadn't been listed in the book for more than a year. Miraculously, Mrs. Burroughs had looked in an old phone directory in the cafe.

WHEN MRS. BURROUGHS started to leave San Bernardino, Boyett told his sister he'd like to meet the rest of his family.

Boyett arrived in Lubbock at Mrs. Burroughs' home late Thursday night for that prearranged reunion, and Saturday he will see his other brothers and sisters for the first time since his childhood. And the family—except for one brother, Kenneth Doyle Beckham, who lives in California and couldn't attend the reunion—will be together for the first time in 24 years.

So far Mrs. Burroughs is the only one of his brothers and sisters Mrs. Boyett has seen since he left the orphanage.

How does he feel about "discovering" his family? "It's hard to describe my feelings, but 'very happy' would sum it up," Boyett says.

Man, Woman Die In Plane Crash

MIRANDO CITY, Tex. (AP)—A man and a woman were killed in a plane crash near here Thursday, about 25 miles east of Laredo.

They were identified as Hazel Willoughby, 45, of Temple and John Uranga of El Paso. Mrs. Willoughby was a nurse at a Temple hospital and formerly lived in El Paso.

The area was heavily overcast and a light rain was falling when the small plane crashed shortly after dark in rugged brush country.

Investigators said the bodies were badly burned. Witnesses said the plane was as far as it circled Mirando City before crashing.

The plane, registered to the Paso Del Norte Oil Co. in El Paso, was en route from McAllen to Laredo.

that she was afraid of Negroes who parked in front of their house at night.

The charges against Edwards later were dropped.

James Ford Seale followed Edwards to the stand clenching a cigar in his teeth. He refused to answer all questions about the whipping of the Negroes, or about Edwards' statement.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., asked Seale if he and Edwards had fabricated the peeing incident. He got no answer.

Willis said the Negro youths had never been involved in any civil rights activities.

Then Seale's father, Clyde Wayne Seale, was called to the stand, and was identified as the exalted cyclops or leader of the Klan Klavern they all belonged to.

Appell said the committee's investigation showed that a member, Earl Hodges, fell out with Clyde Seale and on Aug. 16, 1965, his body was found severely beaten, although he apparently died of a heart attack.

Clyde Seale, who said he was a farmer, refused on constitutional grounds to answer any questions about this death.

Appell said another white man, Alton Alford, was beaten by Klansmen but for what reason was not made clear. In the scuffle, Appell said, Alford tried to shoot James Seale with a shotgun, but it didn't go off. He said Seale then took the gun and beat Alford with it, sending him to the hospital.

Appell said Clyde Seale told a Klan meeting that a collection for "the White Christian Protective Association defense fund" had been placed in a crossroads store near Meadville, and of the $12 collected Negroes had put in half.

Appell also said Seale attended a Klan meeting with Imperial Wizard Sam Bowers, leader of the White Knights group. When a jet plane flew overhead, Appell said, Bowers ordered his men under trees "because he said the FBI could photograph a page of the Bible from 40,000 feet."

Craig tests the specimens for alcohol content and preserves the evidence for use in court, where he may be called to testify.

No Court Calls
Though he tested specimens for 55 cases in December, Craig as yet hasn't been called to court and when he does, it will be his first experience as an expert witness of the Department of Public Safety.

During his training, however, he attended court and listened to other chemists and toxicologists give testimony.

Craig's work isn't limited to blood alcohol analysis, though. Tests can be made to determine whether a substance is marijuana, although all other tests on evidence in narcotics and drug cases must be sent to Austin. This includes heroin, morphine and other narcotics and barbiturates and amphetamines.

Another type of evidence which might be submitted to the lab is clothing from a murder case for analysis of blood stains, part of an automobile involved in an accident, for blood tests, hair comparisons or even an automobile crankcase or gastral Asian city. Indian Home Minister Gulzari Lal Nanda took over as interim prime minister and immediately announced India would honor the declaration.

The first public sign of division in India came with Tyagi's resignation. Reports said he also objected to the part of the pact which commits New Delhi to withdrawing troops from along the India-Pakistan frontier.

His resignation also opened the doors to supporters of four political figures who entered unofficial challenges to Naïda to become permanent prime minister. The ruling Congress party Wednesday elects its parliamentary leader, who is automatically asked to head the government.

Spokesmen said party leaders hoped to agree on a candidate before then but fresh political maneuvering indicated Nanda, a leading contender, would have to fight to win.

The four other potential candidates are:

Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan, Information Minister Indira Gandhi, right-wing leader Morarji Desai, and Congress party president Kumaraswami Kamaraj.

In his message to Ayub, the Soviet premier said he had seen "how favorably the people of India receive your joint efforts aimed at strengthening peace."

According to a dispatch by the Soviet news agency Tass, from Kabul Afghanistan, where Kozmin stopped briefly en route from Shastri's funeral, he told the Pakistani president:

"We are sure that these efforts have been highly evaluated by the people of Pakistan, too."

In his radio speech, Ayub asked his people to remain "united and steadfast" and urged them to do everything possible to implement the Tashkent declaration.

"If the efforts for peace provided for in the Tashkent declaration to resolve the Kashmir dispute are not fruitful, Pakistan will continue its preparedness," he said. "No sacrifice made during the war will go to waste."

Sadler has been commissioner since he defeated Bill Alcorn in 1960 Democratic primary. He was elected railroad commissioner in 1938, ran unsuccessfully for governor in 1940 and 1946, and had three terms in the Texas House from 1954 to 1960.

Lubbock Man Is On Committee

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith Friday named 14 lawyers and judges to two interim legislative committees—one to help write a state commercial code and the other to help codify water law.

Named to the commercial code committee were:

Supreme Court Justice James R. Norwell, Tom Arnold of Houston, Prof. Alan R. Bromberg of the Southern Methodist University Law School, Carroll Cobb of Lubbock, J. Chris Dougherty of Austin, Stanley Pletman of Beaumont and Prof. Millard H. Ruid of the University of Texas Law School.

Members of the water code committee are:

Supreme Court Justice Joe R. Greenhill, Victor W. Bouldin of Houston, Joe D. Carter, Chairman of the Texas Water Rights Commission; Dean Carlton of Dallas, Prof. Corwin W. Johnson of the University of Texas, Neal King of Mission and Roy D. Payne, director of field operations for the Texas Railroad Commission.

Presiding Bishop To Attend Consecration

AUSTIN (AP)—The presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, the Rev. John E. Hines, will attend the consecration of the new Christ Chapel of the Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest Sunday.

Bishop Hines, together with the late Bishop Clinton S. Quin, founded the Austin seminary in 1951 and was chairman until he became presiding bishop.

"CORAL SUNSET" New Hybrid Tea Rose To Be Introduced In Spring

Because its flowers stand out like a brilliant coral flame in the light of early evening, a new hybrid tea rose that will be introduced this spring has been named Coral Sunset.

Its large 5-inch flowers have from 25 to 30 petals that are strong and resistant to wind and rain. They are also constant in color even under the hottest summer sun. When cut, they are long lasting providing a gay splash of color inside the house as well as in the garden.

While flowers are usually borne on long straight stems they sometimes appear in tall, generous clusters.

Always prolific in bloom, the plants are well covered with disease resistant foliage that provides an eye catching background for the bright colorful flowers. Plants average 2 1/2 to 3 feet in height.

Exhibitors, as well as home gardeners, will find the Coral Sunset a blue ribbon rose.

Monterey In 80-50 Massacre Starters Leave Early In Game

BORGER (Special)—The Monterey Plainsmen, despite the regulars seeing little service in the second half, fired 56 per cent from the field here Friday night to drub Borger, 80-50, to start the second half of 3-AAAA on the right foot.

Coach Gerald Myers' Plainsmen, 17-2 for the year, jumped to a 21-11 first period score and were never headed as Borger never offered much of a threat.

Regulars Leave Early
In fact, the regulars were on the sidelines early in the second quarter and the subs kept pouring 'em in as the Plainsmen rolled to a 40-23 margin.

The seniors came back in during the third period, but after four minutes of action, the subs took over and finished things up. The 80 points were the most the Plainsmen had scored in a single game and the other previous high was against Borger in Lubbock when Monterey posted a 73-52 win.

Hardin Leads Scoring
Steve Hardin led the Plainsmen with 21 points getting 14 in the first half and eight in the opening period. Craig Wright added 13 points and Kenny Coleman 10.

Dale Dawson had 15 points for the Bulldogs and Wayne Fryer had 12. In all, Borger made good on 42 per cent of its field goals. Monterey scored 10 of 17 free throws and Borger hit 10 of 18 from the charity line. The

Panther Rally Stops Carver Five, 56-52

The Dunbar Panthers suffered through almost an entire half of cold shooting, then came blasting back to erase a 17-25 halftime deficit and wrench the District 1-AAA leadership from previously unbeaten Amarillo Carver, 56-52, Friday in the home gym.

Coach Curtis Gibson's charges are 4-0 in league play and 16-6 for the year. Amarillo is 3-1 and 17-2 with both season losses going to Hub City cage squads, the first to Lubbock High.

In a way the victory was a revenge match for Dunbar which had fallen to the Dragons earlier this year in the visitors' tournament in Amarillo.

The Panthers managed only five of 30 field goals in the first two periods and, three minutes before intermission, they trailed by 13 points.

According to Gibson the Panthers were getting their shots but were not hitting. "At the half we didn't change anything," he said, "we just decided that we were going to hit."

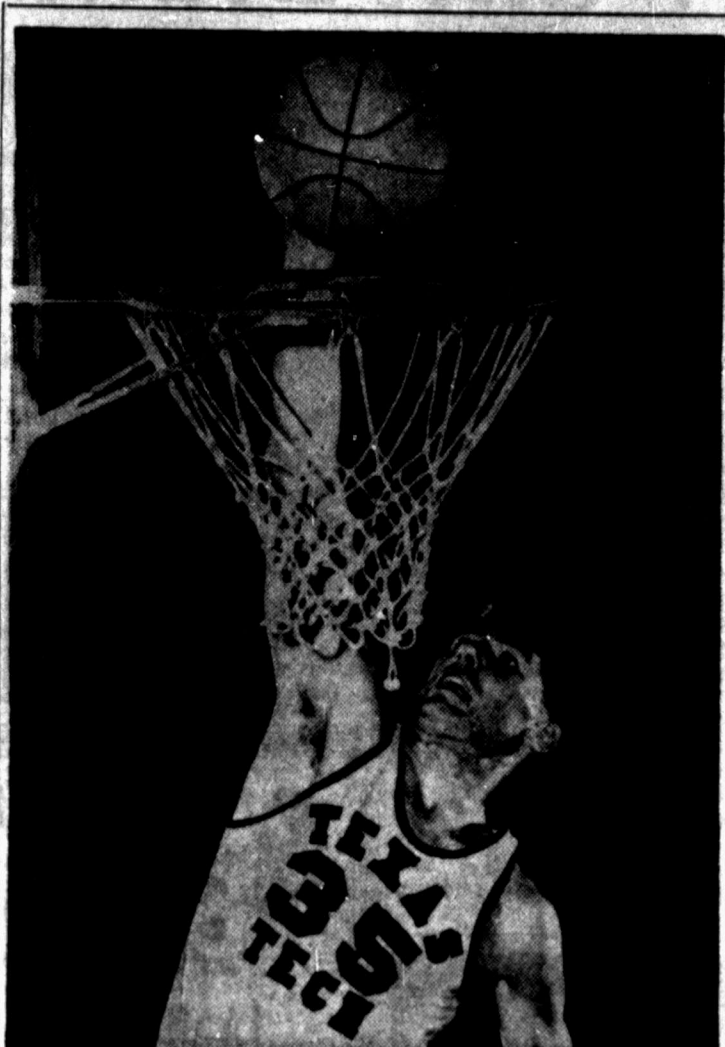

In the second half the locals clubbed through 19 of 39 field shots while continuing their evening-long dominance of the boards.

Dunbar got great effort from 6-1 Jimmy Gary who hit for 17

Tascosa Triumphs By 46-43

Verner Shines Despite Defeat

AMARILLO (Special)—The Tascosa Rebels, following the dead-eye shooting heroics of Pat Estes and Jerry Mudroch, spoiled Lubbock High's second round debut in District 3-AAAA action here Friday night, taking a narrow 46-43 victory.

The win avenged a 38-42 loss suffered at the hands of the Westerners in Lubbock during the first round of play.

Estes led the scoring attack with 17 points and Mudroch was close behind with 15 as the Rebels hit on 16 of 45 shots from the floor and connected on 14 of 22 free throw attempts.

Stocky Wesley Verner, having one of his best nights to date despite the loss, led the Lubbock point makers with 14 points. Big Bill Green hit for 11 and playmaker Jimmy Poe contributed 10 as the LHS crew dropped its third game in a row.

Max O'Banion's charges hit on 18 of 41 from the floor and seven of 13 from the free throw line but were unable to silence the long range Rebel guns.

Verner was the top rebounder for the Westerners as he was credited with 18. Green hauled down an even 10.

Estes got the Rebels off to a swift start as he hit for nine of Tascosa's 15 points in the first period of play. The lanky Rebel star was impressive from the top of the key as the Amarillo combo managed a 15-11 lead after the end of the initial eight minutes of play.

Midwestern Invades Raider Lair Tonight

By BURLE PETTIT
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

Today's dawning found Tech's Raiders in a confused state of basketball bewilderment—like standing in the middle and looking in both directions.

They're one week removed from a humiliating loss; a week ahead of the season's most important game to this point. And to top it all off, they must close out this day by an opponent which can do them nothing but harm.

Good Indian Record
Midwestern University, whose record is much more impressive than its basketball reputation, invades Municipal Coliseum at 8 p.m. in high hopes to catch the Raiders right where Arkansas left them—resting flat on their laurels.

And, if you listen to Coach Gene Gibson, the results could be just as fatal tonight as they were a week ago in Fayetteville. Because the Indians, says Tech's Big Indian, are a pretty cotton pickin' fair ball club. "Midwestern is an exceptionally good small college basketball team," Gibson said Friday. "They have speed, rebounding power, a pair of veteran guards and four starters averaging in double figures."

"I know they'll be ready to play. I'm not that sure that we will be."

Gibson has had his problems this week, and it wouldn't be greatly unnatural if his forces weren't already thinking about next Saturday, when SMU's Mustangs roll into town. That has not, however, been where the rub's come in. "We haven't looked good at all," he said. "In fact, we've looked awfully bad, because we haven't been able to work out together. We're giving top priority to the exams and study periods, so we've never had all the players together at one time. You can't look very good working out in shifts like that."

What with dead week, exam preparations and all, Gibson has had to schedule his workouts in, around and between the academic demands of the season; consequently, some drills have been hampered by a notable shortage of manpower. Anyway, the game will go on and, according to Mrs. Mildred Wright, almost anyone who so desires can watch this one. Tickets were on sale at the Athletic Department yesterday for the first time since most people can remember. They'll stay up for grabs until noon today at the ticket office, then will be available at the gate tonight.

Tickets Plentiful

"We are anticipating a very small student turnout," Mrs. Wright said Friday. "Because most of them will be studying for finals. On the basis of this anticipation, we have released the general admission tickets for sale here."

The show gets underway at 8:45 p.m., with the once-beaten Pledors entertaining the Midwestern junior varsity. The feature tilt will follow at 8 p.m.

Aggies Meet Baylor Today

(By The Associated Press)
Texas A&M's league-leading Aggies face a stiff test Saturday afternoon when they face the second-place Baylor Bears at Waco before a statewide television audience.

The Aggies, now 3-0 in conference play following a 75-72 victory over Arkansas Tuesday night, would like to take a 4-0 record into the upcoming examination lull.

In other games Saturday, the Texas Longhorns play Arkansas in a day game at Fayetteville.

There will be only two conference games next week as most teams are idle for examinations. Texas A&M will journey to Austin for a game with the Longhorns Tuesday night and Southern Methodist will meet Texas Tech at Lubbock Saturday in the weekly television game.

Allen In Quest For New Staff

Ram Boss Recruiting Despite Legal Suit

CHICAGO (AP)—George Allen, professed new head coach of the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League said Friday he is attempting to round up a Ram staff although still held in a legal headlock by the Chicago Bears.

Allen, defensive coach and personnel director for the Bears, is only theoretical Ram boss, pending resumption Tuesday of a Circuit Court hearing on a Bear injunction to prevent him from taking his new job.

Bear Owner-Coach George Halas filed a breach of contract suit against Allen, 43, who Monday agreed to become $40,000-a-year Ram pilot with two years left on his $19,000 annual Bear Contract.

Legal Sparring
Hearing on a temporary injunction to keep Allen in the Bear fold started Wednesday but was continued after several hours of legal sparring.

"I'm trying to organize a staff of five assistants," said Allen, an eight-year Bear employe. "I'd like three aides on offense and two on defense."

Allen, whose skill as a defensive strategist was cited in the Bears' 1963 march to the National Football League title said he would work on Ram defense choices.

"I think that's my strongest point," said Allen.
"As Coach Halas knows, no head coach is better than his assistants. And while I'm on the subject, where are league owners going to get coaches who know the league and its personnel if they don't move up assistants?"

The Bear suit contends Allen's skills are unique and that he failed to obtain written permission, as specified in his contract, to deal with the Rams.
Bear President George Halas Jr. said Friday that the suit goes deeper than the intent to retain Allen.

He cited a growing disregard of contracts and agreements in pro football, including signing of college seniors before bowl games in violation of NFL and American Football League pacts with the colleges.

"These contracts have been allowed to stand and they should not have been," he said.

Small Field Pushes Off For Monte Carlo

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Only 192 cars took the starter's flag Friday in the 35th Monte Carlo Rally, the smallest number since 1949 when the event was resumed after World War II.

The cars started from nine cities during the day—Oslo, London, Lisbon, Athens, Warsaw, Minsk, Bad Homburg, Monte Carlo and Reims.

The runners barreled along different courses toward Monte Carlo, where bad weather looked like it was getting worse.

Last year, 275 teams started.
The nine itineraries, from 1,700 to 2,000 miles long, will merge Saturday for a common dash—time off minute by minute—into Monte Carlo.

Weather Unfavorable
Weather, usually the decisive factor, already is unfavorable in most areas from the looks of the heavy clouds over this usually sunny resort will likely be almost nightmarish before the Sunday arrival.

Shockers Tip CHS

The Pampa Shockers pulled away from the Coronado Mustangs on foul shots in the waning seconds of play to preserve a 51-47 overtime win here Friday night at Monterey Gym.

Coronado, trailing by two points with time running out, worked the ball in, but missed a shot and Pampa got the rebound. The Mustangs had to foul to hope for a chance at the ball and the Shockers made good to put the game out of reach.

Pampa jumped to a 12-8 first quarter lead, but Coronado bounced back to tie the score at 27-27 at half-time. It was tied, 34-34, going into the final eight minutes of play.

Pampa had a two-point lead late in the game, but Lynn Shuttlesworth hit a field goal with 11 seconds left to tie the score at 43-43, sending the game into an extra period.

The Mustangs scored the first two points, but the Shockers came back to tie the game, take the lead and retain it for the victory.

Sammy Holt paced the Mustangs, now 8-9 for the year and 3-7 against District 3-AAAA members, with 17 points, while Shuttlesworth had 10, six coming on free throws.

Carl Lang had 12 points for the Shockers and Jim Cornutt added 11.

'IT'S HIM OR ME'

Bones Wants Blanda Out

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Houston Oilers Coach Hugh (Bones) Taylor says he doesn't want veteran quarterback George Blanda on the team anymore.

He asked Oiler Owner K. S. (Bud) Adams Jr. Friday to either trade the 37-year old passer to another American Football League team or pay the $38,500 it would take to buy up the remaining half of Blanda's two-year contract and release him.

No Trade Clause
Blanda said he has a clause in his contract that he cannot be traded without his permission and the Oilers are trying to make him "the sole scapegoat for a losing season."

The Oilers, with Blanda as quarterback, won two AFL titles and three Eastern Division championships before dropping to 4-10 seasons the past two years.

Taylor said Blanda "refuses to grow old gracefully."
Blanda counter that the Oilers were trying "to get me mad enough so I'll throw up my hands and tell them to go ahead and trade me."

Taylor put the request to

Adams on a "him or me" basis. "I know this," Taylor said, "one of us won't be back next year. I learned one thing in my first year as head coach. You can't let a player dictate to you. Lou Saban didn't take it from Cookie Gilchrist in Buffalo. Cookie was gone as soon as the season was over. I don't plan to take it from George Blanda."

Adams, Taylor Agree
Adams apparently is in agreement with Taylor. He has mentioned possible trades involving Blanda.

Taylor indicated there is no place for Blanda in the team's current rebuilding program.
"We have two excellent young quarterbacks in Don Trull and Jacky Lee," he said. "My plans right now are to let them fight it out for the No. 1 job."

Taylor said Blanda demanded to be in the regular quarterback

when the season started last year. He said Blanda threatened to quit and go back to his home in Chicago.

"I told him to go right ahead if that was how he felt," Taylor said.
At Jacksonville, Fla., where he is working on an off season job, Blanda told the Houston Chronicle by telephone that he was shocked by Taylor's attitude.

"It'll Be Him"
"If he's put it on a 'him or me' basis it will be him because I have a no-trade clause," Blanda said. Frankly, they can pay me my salary and I'll sit home in Chicago and watch the games on television. That's not the way I'd like it, because I'm the sort of guy who wants to play.

"I've had some pretty good seasons with the Oilers. But after one bad year they forget about the good times and try to force me out."

Taylor said Blanda's attitude toward Trull and toward the team is "pretty selfish."
"Other great quarterbacks have taken pride in grooming their replacements," Taylor said. "They know they won't go on forever. George is different. I guess. But he could learn a big lesson from what others have done."

Buffalo Bills Try AFL Stars Today

HOUSTON (AP)—The champion Buffalo Bills meet an American Football League All-Star team today in a game that presents a new formula for pro football post-season classics.

The nationally televised game (NBC, 2 p.m. EST) will be the only one in pro football to match a championship team against an All-Star group. The rival National Football League champions do not compete in a post-season game but meet a college All-Star team each August.

FROM CFL

Chandler Resigns

NEW YORK (AP)—A. B. Happy Chandler added another former to his name Friday when he quit as commissioner of the Continental Football League in an unhappy hassle over image.

The ebullient Kentuckian — former baseball commissioner, former D.S. Senator and former governor — resigned from the one-year-old league mainly because the trustees voted 8-1 to consider using optioned players sent down by the National or American Football Leagues.

"Don't Want Money" Chandler said such an arrangement "would make the CFL a minor league" and was counter to the promise made him when he became head of the league a year ago.

When Chandler was named to the commission, he was given a five-year contract calling for an average of $40,000 a year. He waived rights to any further pay.

"I asked them to relieve me of my contract," he said. "I don't want any money. I'm all right financially."

Which is fine with the Continental Football League, an outfit not too all right financially. None of the clubs made money last season and one, the Rhode Island Indians, went broke and dropped out — leaving the CFL with nine teams.

Sol Rosen, former general manager of the CFL Newark entry, was named by the trustees as interim commissioner, pending a league meeting in New York Feb. 12-13.

Proposed Move Factor
The proposed move of the league office from Lexington, Ky., to New York, which Rosen said was almost a sure thing, also was a factor in Chandler's resignation.

The member of the nine-man board of trustees agreeing with Chandler in opposing the idea of optioned players was Len Mercer, president of the Philadelphia club. He voted against the proposal and promptly left for home.

On the matter of optioned players, the league statement said the board "felt a study group should investigate the subject without committing the league." A report on the study is to be made at the February meeting.

In its first year, the CFL used players not affiliated with the NFL and AFL — most of whom held other jobs and played for something like $75 to $200 a game.

Execs Favor Move
Club executives who favor using optioned players feel it not only would give the CFL bigger names, but also would help financially since at least part of the player's salary would be paid by his NFL or AFL team.

Under such a set-up, players who don't make an NFL or AFL roster but still are under contract to a team in one of those leagues might be optioned to the CFL. The study group will approach the two other leagues on the matter, but the CFL probably would align itself with only one of the older leagues.

The CFL teams are Newark, Philadelphia, Norfolk, Toronto and Wheeling, W.Va., in the Eastern Division and Charleston, W.Va., Fort Wayne, Ind., Hartford, Conn., and Richmond, Va., in the Western.

The 10th franchise might be awarded before the February meeting, with Washington a possibility.

While the executive matters were being handled in one hotel suite, CFL coaches were drafting players in another. They picked players who had not been drafted by the NFL and AFL.

PHILLIES OKAY TERMS
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Cookie Rojas, the club's leading hitter last season, and rookie pitcher Larry Colton signed with the Philadelphia Phillies Friday.

Rojas, a second baseman, hit .303 in 142 games last season. He currently is managing in the Puerto Rican Winter League. Colton won 12 and lost 10 with Eugene, Ore., of the Northwest League last year.

The AFL All-Stars, drawn from the league's seven other teams, will have the advantage of pro experience — quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets is the only rookie on the club — in their battle against the team that has played together all season and won the championship the past two years.

Coaches In Debut
And it was those ingredients, a match-up between the All-Stars' vast talent and the champions' pride and coordination, that led the AFL to change its format after four years of moderate success in matching the NFL's East-West post-season Pro Bowl formula.

Both coaches, Buffalo's Joel Collier, making his debut as Lou Saban's successor, and All-Star Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego, admit the new formula presents a situation that could be tough for their respective clubs to handle.

"You've got a team like the All-Stars with highly qualified personnel — more qualified than any All-Star team the league has ever had," said Collier. "There is no place you can let up on them."

"You've got a well coordinated team like Buffalo playing against one that has only been together a week," said Gillman.

Alworth Out
Gillman, however, is getting as much coordination in his backfield as he can by using three of his Chargers — quarterback John Hadl, halfback Paul Lowe and fullback Keith Lincoln. Only an ankle injury to flanker Lance Alworth deprives Gillman of an all San Diego backfield.

With Alworth out, Don Maynard of the Jets will be the starting flanker, Kansas City's Frank Jackson the split end and Willie Frazier of Houston the tight end.

Gillman also can throw in a second line backfield crew with the league's No. 2 and 3 rushers, Denver's Cookie Gilchrist and Clem Daniels of Oakland. Namath would be the quarterback, passing to such outstanding receivers as Boston's Gino Cappelletti, Kansas City's Fred Arbanas and Houston's Charley Hennigan.

Strong Defensive Team
To match that offensive array Collier will have his competent but statistically overmatched crew of quarterback Jack Kemp, running backs Wray Carlton and Billie Joe and receivers Bo Roberson, Paul Costa and either Ernie Warlick or Ed Rutkowski.

The Bills also will have to contend with a strong All-Star defensive unit that is particularly impressive up front where Earl Faison and Ernie Ladd of San Diego and Kansas City's Buck Buchanan and Jerry Mays line up with 1,195 pounds of beef — a 298 pound average.

Masonic Home Needs Contest

Masonic Home, near Fort Worth, is searching for a football game with a team near Lubbock. Coach Stephen Reid has announced.

Reid says his team would be happy to come out this way for a game with a Class B school or a small Class A school either Sept. 16 or Sept. 23.

Masonic Home, now a Class B school, once was a powerhouse in Texas high school circles and turned out some top football players in the college ranks.

Any area school needing a game on those dates should contact Reid by writing to him at Box 3010, Masonic Home, Fort Worth, Texas.
