Haskell people this week were studying the full import of a ruling of the Texas Intercollegiate League suspending Haskell high school for the 1956 football season, and on probation for the 1957 football season.

Manager Allen Strickland and directors Gene Overton, Buck Callaway and Howard Montgomery, representing the gin, met with the Board at its regular meeting.

Site which had been considered for the proposed new building is east and adjacent to Indian football stadium, but the gin men told trustees the company did not care to sell the land.

Three Car Wrecks Result During Snow, Ice Seige

Haskell residents began thawing out Monday from the deep freeze which had enveloped the area since the previous Wednesday and was responsible for three auto accidents in Haskell County.

Cars had great difficulty maneuvering in snow which came to an estimated depth of between two and three inches. Moisture content was 45.

A two car collision took place Feb. 4 on S. 1st St. between S. Ave. H and Ave. G when Earl Correll driving a West Texas Utilities pickup, Haskell, attempted to make a left turn. Barbara Collins, Haskell, in a '53 Ford was coming from the opposite direction. Apparently, Correll did not see her and Miss Collins could not stop on the ice to avoid a collision. Neither party was injured, investigators said. Miss Collins' car was damaged.

A Wichita Falls airman, Willie L. Willis and Toy M. Jones, Midland were involved in a two car collision Feb. 3 on Highway 277, six miles south of Haskell. The Willis car was following the Midland man when he skidded on the ice. The car Jones was driving overturned. Willis was hospitalized with minor injuries. Damages are expected to run $1,000 on the Jones car and $500 on the car driven by the airman, the investigating officers said.

Also on Feb. 3 Mrs. L. W. Walker and Mrs. W. E. Armour, both of Eden, Texas, were involved in a one car accident in which Mrs. Walker sustained minor injuries to her neck. Mrs. Walker was driving the car when it overturned on the snow and ice. The accident occurred about 5 miles north of Weirner, and damage was estimated at $550 by officers who investigated.

The Covey Service Station in O'Brien, three miles north of Rochester, was burglarized Tuesday night. Loot taken included three new automobile tires, a 12-gauge shotgun and a .351 automatic rifle. A small sum of money was taken from a bottled drink vending machine, and a cigarette vending machine was pried open. Other items missing included cigars and chewing gum.

As in the Rochester burglary, entrance was gained through a window in the rear of the building.

Operators In Sojourner Oil Field Plan Water Flooding Project

A water flooding project in the Sojourner Oil Field west of Haskell which is designed to ultimately produce between 6,000,000 and 8,000,000 barrels of oil which would not be recovered by conventional operating methods has been approved by four major oil companies owning most of the field production.

Equipping the field for water flooding and carrying out the program will require an estimated investment and expenditure of $2,000,000 on the part of producers operating in the field.

Major companies jointly underwriting cost of the venture are Eastland Oil Company, Sojourner Oil Company, Crown Central Petroleum Corporation, and Stanolind Oil Company. All operators in the field are cooperating in a unitization program necessary to set up the project.

Purpose of the water flooding is to insure maximum production of all oil reserves in the Sojourner Field, which now has 80 wells producing from the Strawn Sand.

Since the first producing well in the field was brought in early in December, 1949, approximately 2,200,000 barrels of oil have been produced, according to available

OUT ON A LIMB

By CHARLENE WHITE

Occasionally, what a week what with trying various practical jokes, friends of information and amusement, were really drag-

For instance, last Wednesday, we were running from the kitchen to the living room. The kitchen, Phoenix, ran in the line of fire and there occurred a production number that would have made circus trapeze artists gasp with admiration. We regained our equilibrium when the rug slipped from under us with that noisy grunting working against us, we figured there was no fighting it and gave up the struggle. We rolled through the air in one with the great old oak in front with an obstruction. After pivoting a farrow with what was once a nose, we came to a screeching stop, wrapped like a mummy in two scaly rug. About five minutes later Mom recovered from her laughing hysteria and came to our rescue.

We managed to drag the limp body down to the office Thursday morning just in time to receive a phone call from John B. Martin at the hospital. He wanted us to come down and spend some part of blood, we'd offered in a moment of rambunctious several days ago. It was easy enough to talk about then. Besides, it appeared rather remote. Any amount of things might happen in the interim. It might be called off if we had a heart that fluttered for any reason other than sheer fright. But our physical condition if not our mental is of such stuff as mayors are made of. So there was nothing else to do but go through with it.

On the way to the hospital, we played an old childhood game. If the traffic light turns red by the time we reach the corner, it's not going to hurt. It turns green. If the car ahead turns off before a certain corner, it will hurt like fury. It turns off instantly. To make matters worse, we read on a sign backed up by a fanatic. "Prepare to meet your Maker." Feeling like a combination of Huckleberry Finn and Herb in "Little Women," we were only hoping we would meet death like an astronaut.

Both the assistant, who kept her and chief responsibilities was busy at her desk when we arrived so we gingerly took a seat and sadly reflected that we were too young to waste this time of years.

Presently John B. arrived and heartily suggested that as long as they were at it, they might as well take a quart. Funny man. He took us down the hall and introduced us to the stenographer, Buddy G. Heard. She asked if we're single—which was pretty obvious of her. We told her that we're a little jittery. She smiled at us toward an imbecile child and asked what there is to be afraid of. We had an answer, but decided it is not the time for car-cast.

After all that worrying, we were a little disappointed when it really didn't hurt. We felt a sharp prick and that was about all. And after we were all reconciled to being a martyr. The whole process only took a few minutes. Later we considered suggesting that we all shake hands and hold a short prayer service, but decided against it for fear the others would think us weird.

Wanda's Cox, it came in and admitted shamelessly as well he might, that he had ever read the column. We were reading proof on last week's masterpiece so we magnanimously offered it for his perusing. We want you to know that it is no wonder that he has been such a success in his own functions. That man is a diplomat. When asked what he thought of it he replied, "I'm sure that whatever needs to be done is in your hands. As George Gould would say, 'Shut up, we will.'"

Speaking of constructive criticism, Brother Bill called at 1:30 again from Kansas to offer some of the same. Head-shrinker said he thought it would inspire us to greater things. His comment? "That was the punkiest piece of print I ever feared my peepers on." Oh well, you can't please all the people all the time, but we'd settle for just part of the time.

We recently received a letter from an organization with the impressive title of Christian Flying Saucer Intelligence Intelligence. We are exhorted. Are you aware of the fact that you and your newspaper are being flooded of one of the greatest news wires of all time? Few realize. We urge the newspaper editors of this country to step forward and demand the truth from the powers of the world. We're still trying to figure out what they mean.

Encouraging?

YOU'LL KNOW THE MOMENT YOU SEE IT...

The Texan Was Made For You!

It's your kind of car... this handsome, rugged Texan by Dodge! At the very first glance, you'll know this is true. And when you take the wheel and "give the gun" to its mighty, aircraft-type, Super Red Ram V-8 engine, your enthusiasm will burst all bounds. For the Texan boasts a power plant just like the Dodge that made automotive history on the famous Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah.

Surely you've read or heard recently how a '56 Dodge stock car shattered 306 world records for endurance and speed in that sensational 14-day, non-stop run. This officially witnessed performance covered over 31,000 miles of round-the-clock driving at an average speed of 92.86 miles per hour... the greatest distance at the fastest pace any car has ever travelled!

Now this handsome, flair-fashioned, specially-trimmed Texan offers you the same rugged endurance and the same eager power as the Dodge that established these records. What's more, you'll be in for your biggest surprise when you glance at the price tag. Big, powerful and luxurious as it is, you'll expect to pay perhaps a thousand dollars more than that tag reads. Yet here you'll discover that this Texan, with all its beauty and size and ruggedness, is priced right down with the so-called "low-priced three." Come and see for yourself.

Never will you find a better "buy" nor make a better deal than your nearby Dodge dealer will give you today. Better not delay for the supply is limited.

By MRS. DELBERT LEFEVRE

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan and son of Hobbs, N. M. visited with Mr. and Mrs. Claud Gunn last weekend. The bad weather and bad road conditions kept many of the people of this community close to home during the latter part of the week. Although the weather was cold and disagreeable, everyone admits that they would welcome more bad weather if it means more moisture.

Pastor R. Wendel of St. Paul's Lutheran Church is attending a pastors' conference this week at Roscoe. He was accompanied to Roscoe by Pastor Bruno Gaskamp of the Trinity Lutheran Church in Haskell. Pastor's Wendel's mother of Fredericksburg is visiting here with Mrs. Wendel while he is away. Leon Stegemoller was honored with a birthday party in his home

Sunday night Feb. 5. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baitz, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hertel, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hertel and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Olson and family of Stamford, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Raphael of Stamford, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swofford of Irving visited with Mr. and Mrs. Loll Young part of last week.

The teachers of the Sagerton school attended the Haskell County Teachers meeting at the Rule school Monday night of this week. The polo drive in this community ended last week and the total receipts were more than the quota of $200 which was set for this community. As the climax of the drive some of the fathers and mothers played basketball against the Sagerton high school boys and girls at Old Glory gym Tuesday night of last week. The men's team and the women's team were both made up of some of the best players in high school in the past years, although some of them had been out of school 15 years and more, and the men's team and women's team both won their respective games. The total receipts of the game were more than $40.00.

Between the games the grade school boys showed their skill in boxing refereed by A. L. Gibson. Miss Irene Stewart, principal of the Sagerton school, kept her promise to the students and appeared wearing her basketball suit that she wore when she went to school, which was a black bloomer-type suit that went to her knees. Mmes. John and Reece Clark returned from San Antonio Monday after visiting there with Altmann 3-c and Mrs. Ted Terrell.

HASKELL VISITORS

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fore recently were their son, Senior Hospitalman first class James C. Fore, Mrs. Fore and their daughter, Betty of Newport, R. I., where the Navy petty officer has been stationed for the past five months. The couple's two other children, Jimmy and Mary, have been making their home with the Lester Fore's and attending Haskell schools. This was the first time these children had seen their parents and baby sister in about two and one-half years. The Navy officer and Mrs. Fore and baby left last week for Corpus Christi where he has been assigned duty at a Navy hospital.

Heart Fund Gifts May Be Made By Mail

Contributions to the 1956 Texas Heart Fund now being conducted may be mailed directly to "Heart," care of the postmaster. It has been emphasized by Senator Lyndon Johnson, 1956 Heart chairman for the state.

"In Texas, as throughout the nation, diseases of the heart and circulatory system rank as the number one killer," declared Senator Johnson. The Texas Heart Fund Chairman, who suffered a heart attack last July, has recently resumed his congressional duties. "Medical research supported by your Heart Fund dollars has made tremendous strides in the fight against the killer in recent years. Your contributions to the February Heart Fund will materially aid science and physicians in combating heart disease."

Contributions to the Heart Fund are used through local, Texas and American Heart Associations. To finance continue research, education and community heart programs, it was pointed out.

Haskell County Was Scene of Bitter Battles Between Redskins, Whites

This is the second in a series of articles on early days in Haskell County and this section based on information compiled by the late R. E. Sherrill in his "History of Haskell County."

Haskell County was never a regular home for Indians. It was their hunting ground for buffaloes, which furnished their food, clothing, bedding and shelter.

Pushed westward to their last favorite hunting ground they resisted with desperate tenacity that meant extermination to whites by any method known to the savage, rendered more cunning by the desperate struggle of a dying race. The fight continued for about fifty years, growing more savage till death or conquest brought the unequal contest to an end.

The late Judge B. F. Reynolds said: "I would be safe in saying there was not a light moon passed that there was not a raid made somewhere through the country and most always through Throckmorton and Shackelford counties. The Indians would ride in as far as Haskell County and there leave their horses, and occasionally kill a man who got in their way, and travel west faster than the news could travel; before a posse could be collected they would be so far ahead they generally made a clean get away. In fact, their strategem could not be improved upon."

The Buffalo Creek fight is one of the earliest fights we know about. It occurred in 1857, some five or six miles southeast of Haskell. Colonel Buck Berry while out scouting came upon a bunch of Indians on Paint Creek. The Indians began to run and he pursued and overtook them in the red hills of Buffalo Creek, where the battle was fought. A good many Indians were killed and scalped. After night the Indians slipped back and buried their dead.

The Paint Creek fight occurred in 1864 on the hill at Scott's Crossing of Paint Creek. A company of Camp Cooper soldiers were sent out under Lt. Stockbridge into Haskell County to look for Indians.

They found where the Indians had deposited a good many things in the way of camp outfit and buffalo robes. They discovered their horses and watched the camp. The third morning they saw the Indians coming up the valley of Paint Creek with a bunch of horses they had stolen from the settlers.

Stockbridge ordered the men to charge. The Indians dismounted and began to fight. Their leader proved to be a brave warrior and very skillful in handling his men. The whites killed several Indians, but Lt. Stockbridge and Bill Sharp are said to have quit the conflict, leaving the men to fight it out. The whites finally got the best of the fight, for the Indians drew off, but did not run away. A Mr. Seymour, one of the fighters said they did not get the name of the leader of the Indian band and that he was as brave a man as he had ever seen, and understood military tactics.

The California Creek fight took place in March, 1868. Capt. W. Charles, commanding a officers and 20 enlisted men and 7 Tonkawa scouts, engaged a band of Indians, killed 7 of them and suffered 2 wounded among his own men. Two captured Comanches were left with the Tonkawas while the balance of the command pursued the other Indians. The soldiers knew the prisoners would not escape, because the Tonkawas had such intense hatred against the Comanches. When the soldiers had returned they found the Tonkawas had killed the Comanches by knocking them in the head and scalping them. When asked why they had not shot them, one of the Tonkawas said they did not want to waste ammunition and knocked them in the head with their rifles.

Whatever may be your views about the strife between the whites and the Indians, or whatever you may think of the guilt or innocence, the justice or injustice of either party, the struggle was sure to come. The lure of the grassy plains and the timbered creeks was a kind of power irresistible and one that neither race could resist without a mortal struggle.

Willenborg said the same increase would be offered to organized employees in his division which includes trunk gathering and branch line facilities from the Red River to the Houston Ship Channel and operations in West Central Texas which include ten counties. Veteran WTU Man Resigns After 40 Years on Job

Reynolds has been a resident of Munday since 1924, but for the past nine years has been driving to Knox City every working day to the Knox City office.

Prior to his transfer to the Munday office, Reynolds resided in Haskell for a year. He has held many positions in the company and since May, 1947, he has been working as cashier and bookkeeper in the Knox City office.

They Torqued it up for the BEST TAKE-OFF YET

FIRST THING you need in a car, of course, is power to spark performance.

And you get that in a 1956 Buick in plenty — from big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines that hit new highs in horsepower and compression.

But the power under the hood must be carried to the rear driving wheels in the form of twisting force on the drive shaft.

That's torque — the end-product of your transmission. And the higher the torque build-up — the greater the "torque multiplication" in starting and accelerating — the better the getaway and response.

So if you want to feel take-off that leaves your breath behind you, come try a '56 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

For in this airplane-principled transmission, Buick engineers raised the ceiling on torque to give you the best getaway yet.

They did it with something they call "double regeneration" — a new way to make flowing oil do its own velocity.

And when you use the full torque of a Buick engine like the one pictured above, you're using the highest torque multiplication to be had in any standard-production American automobile today.

Come see for yourself what that means in new power and new safety.

You'll find brilliant new getaway response in the inch of pedal travel—plus greater gas mileage to boot. You'll find an electrifying new safety—surge of full-throttle acceleration when you floor the pedal and steady pitch.

And you'll find this spectacular performance built into the smoothest-traveling, the sweetest-riding, highest-powered and the easiest-handling Buick ever built. Drop in on us this week—today, if you can judge things firsthand.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

TIL Penalizing Youths for Mistakes Of Adults, Haskell Mother Believes

A Haskell mother and long-time Parent-Teacher Association member, Mrs. J. Belton Duncan, has sharply criticized the Texas Interscholastic League in a letter written because of Haskell's suspension from football in 1956.

helps equip our children for higher education." The suspension will endanger the well-being of the community's young people, she said. She said the theme "for the last 20 years in civic organizations, schools and churches has been the uplifting of children and solving of juvenile delinquency. Your decision, I believe, will contribute to more delinquency in Haskell in 1956 than all the organizations will be able to eliminate. With no football training, there will be too much idle time on their hands. Idleness breeds delinquency." Mrs. Duncan's letter was addressed to the executive council of TIL and dated Saturday. It was written after that body last week suspended football for 1956 because an official was struck during the Haskell-Albany game last fall.

SHADES OF AUNT JEMIMA . . .

Cornbread, Cornpone and Just Plain Corn In HHS Negro Minstrel Monday Evening

"Gilt over yore Confederate money, the South's goin' to rise again!" Of course, the seniors of HHS advise you not to take that statement too seriously when the time arises for purchasing your tickets to their laugh-packed Minstrel. The sparkling, fast-moving variety show will be presented Feb. 13 in the HHS Auditorium.

Madame Butterfly (Puccini is gonna flip in his grave.) John "Nat 'King' Cole" Matthews will tear your heart out with a rendition of "Mammy." Blaise Armstrong in the person of Carroll Thompson will serenade the audience with a trumpet solo, right out of the deep south.

Tickets went on sale Tuesday morning; the price is 50c for students and 75c for adults. If you haven't bought yours yet, and can't find a senior willing to sell you a couple (which seems unlikely) they can be purchased at the door.

Five make-up artists are Nella Rose, Jackie Hattox, Nancy Becker, Charlene Highnote, and Barbara Strey. The book was written and the show directed by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bell.

Rain, Sleet, Snow Mark Trip to Air Conditioning Meet

C. P. Woodson of this city, is beginning to think that the Post Office slogan, "Neither rain nor snow nor dark of night can stay these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds," was written with him in mind.

Last week Woodson and E. J. Martin of Throckmorton drove to Lake Murray, nine miles south of Ardmore, Okla., through freezing rain, sleet and snow to attend a two day meeting. What kind of meeting? What else, one for Carrier Air Conditioning dealers and salesmen. Woodson said that more than 200 were present at the meeting in the ultra modern lodge. Following the meeting, Woodson purchased his second set of tire chains this season and the return trip was made. You guessed it, through more ice and snow.

Two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Woodson attended a Philco Dealers show in Fort Worth and were caught in an ice and snow storm. No tire chains.

The one bright spot is a trip made last week by the Woodsons, accompanied by Margie Blackwell. They went to Lubbock to a Zenith dealer meeting. On the return trip they stopped in Sweetwater for the opening ceremonies of station KPAR-TV. And they didn't buy any tire chains.

One year lost, they will not be wanted on college teams. They can not understand why they are being punished and their opportunities taken away because of one spectator lost his temper and few, through ignorance, drink and gamble, and verbally attack the officials.

"When my children started to school 13 years ago, I started attending PTA, trying to learn better to understand children and help in the community in making a better place for them to grow up. The theme for the last twenty years in civic organizations, schools, and churches, has been the uplifting of children and the solving of juvenile delinquency. Your decision, I believe, will contribute to more delinquency in Haskell in 1956 than all the organizations will be able to eliminate. With no football training there will be too much idle time on their hands. Idleness breeds delinquency.

"Perhaps you have been so busy with your duties that you have forgotten that the child is involved, but if you could see the children with the look of disappointment and bewilderment on their faces, as I have seen it, wondering why they are being punished for something an outsider did, I believe you would go no farther than probation, since no member of the school is involved.

"It seems that there should be a solution by which the fans could be punished instead of the innocent child. I represent no one in this plea. I speak as a mother of a disillusioned child, one whom I have taught to live by the Golden Rule and conduct himself properly and he will have nothing to fear. I am afraid this is a poor climax for my teaching. What I have said may not have any influence with your board but I could not sit idly by and see the youth of our community suffer for the mistakes of adults. If just one youth is lost from this disappointment, it is a tragedy.

Sincerely,
MRS. J. BELTON DUNCAN
506 N. 7th
Haskell, Texas."

Last week I placed an advertisement in this paper to the best of my ability questions that I have been asked about Color TV.
Evidently somebody didn't like my answers and expected. Some peevish person cut the advertisement paper and mailed it with an unsigned typewritten note. Distributor in Fort Worth. In this note the person asked views, but failed to sign their name so they could not know the name but they don't.
