RI Water Usage Must Be Lowered

Water usage in the City of Robert Lee is currently exceeding the capacity of the treatment plant. The Texas Department of Health has recommended that water usage be lowered immediately at least by 30%. Water usage other than domestic use:

hospital, Housing Authority and courthouse and all customers outside the city limits (6 a.m.-10 a.m.).

Coke Comment:

by Joan Davis

Our publisher, Hal Spain, was involved in what is known in rodeo circles as a wreck last Friday night. While steer roping at a San Angelo arena his right thumb was caught between the saddle horn and his rope, cutting off most of the first joint and badly crushing the base of the thumb. He was taken to St. John's Hospital and remained there until Tuesday morning when he was transferred to a San Antonio Hospital. Doctors there performed surgery to attempt to save the remainder of the thumb by reconstruction. Hal, needless to say, doesn't feel real well and will be off work for a little while.

His decision last week to combine the Robert Lee Observer and the Bronte Enterprise into one county paper is being carried out with this issue, but due to the absence of his expertise, we were unable to come up with the full-size paper he had hoped for. The change in size will enable us to conform to the same advertising copy as all others nationwide.

The changeover has been quite a job and I'm sure minor changes will be necessary as time goes by but when Hal returns maybe he can straighten us out. Until then, bear with us; we hope you will like your new paper.

Steve is a long-time San Angelo resident, who has business interests in the Bronte community. He is president and co-founder of the Town and Country Food Stores.

Due to his business interests in the smaller communities, he is particularly interested in the views of our local citizens, and wishes to meet as many people as possible while here.

Eppersons Back Home After New Mexico Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Epperson, Melanie, Nikki and Stephen returned home last week from a vacation trip followed by a Church Training Week in Glorieta, New Mexico.

On leaving Robert Lee, the family headed for the cool mountains of Colorado. They stayed in Pagosa Springs and Pueblo, taking a side trip to Mesa Verde National Park where they toured two of the park's famous Indian cliff dwellings.

Epperson, pastor of the Robert Lee Baptist Church, and his family came back to Glorieta Baptist Encampment where a week-long training program was in progress. The Southern Baptist Encampment is one of two where training programs or seminars, such as Sunday School, music, or other areas of church work are held.

The Epperson's found the encampment educational, refreshing, and inspiring. The wonderful cool weather was soothing to West Texans, he said.

A highlight of the Glorieta trip was being able to hear renowned Cynthia Clawson. She is a full-time Christian musician and later in the week was in concert at the encampment.

Surgery Stress Battled

From the time a person finds out he is to have surgery until he is back in his hospital room after the procedure, he is coping with a number of anxieties and fears. Doctors and nurses are now more aware of the patient's emotional state as they face surgery, and are helping them deal with that stress.

Surgery is a stressful event. If you are scheduled for a surgical procedure you can minimize your anxiety and enhance your own recovery by acknowledging your fears and getting your questions answered. Doctors and nurses anticipate those fears and are ready to provide you with information and assurance.

By defining and analyzing your fears, you can reduce stress. Try to figure out just what it is about surgery that frightens you. Ask questions. Find out what you can expect.

It is important to prepare yourself mentally for pain. Find out what you can about the anticipated level of pain and what measures will be taken to alleviate it. No one wants to be surprised with pain just because they failed to ask.

Acknowledge beforehand that your surgery is going to be a stressful experience. By preparing yourself for the psychological impact, you will aid your own physical progress to recovery.

Bingo Laws Strictly Enforced — Bullock

AUSTIN, Tex.-- State Comptroller Bob Bullock is warning Texas bingo operators they can say good-bye to their state licenses and hello to local police if they ignore state laws governing the game.

"When bingo people stray outside the Texas Bingo Enabling Act, they risk charges under the state's criminal laws against gambling," Bullock said. "All the Comptroller's Office can do is take away their license, but local police and prosecutors can treat them just like they'd been caught in a back alley crap game-- just like any other two-bit gambler."

Comptroller agents have recently visited 500 bingo games and found nearly a third are violating some section of the bingo law.

"Most of these violations were minor mistakes made by honest charity groups running their own games," Bullock said, "but that doesn't mean we can sit still for them. We have warned these groups and sent copies of the warnings to local police."

"A more serious problem is with commercial promoters who dupe charitable groups into letting the promoters run the game, count the money and give the charity what's left-- if anything. The Texas bingo law just won't allow this. Where we find it, we're jerking licenses faster than you can say B-10. We suspended two licenses for this violation this week and we've got a hearing on a third set for next week.

"We'll be continuing to visit bingo games and our auditors will be looking closely at the books of everybody involved in bingo-- the promoters, bingo organizations, supply distributors and manufacturers. These people can expect to hear from us and they can also expect us to share evidence of whatever violations we find with their local district attorney," Bullock said.

by Tommy Antilley FLEAS AND TICKS BECOME MORE PREVALENT

Those aggravating fleas and ticks have become a problem lately in Coke County both on pets and in and around the house. The warm dry weather we are having is perfect for flea and tick infestation.

Satisfactory control of these pests for any length of time depends on several factors. First, both adult and immature fleas and ticks must be controlled in and around the home and kept off of pets. Reinfestation must then be prevented by using flea and tick collars or approved insecticides for pets.

Chemicals for treating inside your home include Dursban, Baygon, Malathion or SBP-1382. Floor, baseboards and one foot up the walls should be treated. For outside the home use dursban, diazinon or Sevin.

For treating pets, use Dursban, Lindane and Sevin for dogs and Lindane or Sevin for cats. Very young animals should not be treated.

FALL GARDENING AT HAND

Although it still looks like we can't get any rain, it is time to start getting things in shape for a fall garden.

Fall vegetables usually have better quality and flavor than those grown in spring. Most popular of these are tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, okra, squash, etc.

The so-called winter plants such as cabbage, broccoli, greens, carrots and cauliflower can be planted now for early harvesting. Later planting of these should furnish fresh vegetables well into the winter.

You should first get the land into good shape. For new gardens apply 2 or 3 pounds of complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and work into the soil. If plants make slow growth, apply a light amount between rows and water in.

For good seed germination and early plant growth, adequate watering is essential. You should probably pre-irrigate prior to planting and maintain a moist non-crusty condition thereafter by slowly watering 2 or 3 times a week.

These practices should insure a winter of fresh vegetables and also help keep your mind off when it is going to rain.

Kidney Failure Victims Can Look To Medicare

People in the San Angelo area suffering from permanent kidney failure should be aware that Medicare health insurance is available for those who need regular kidney dialysis or a kidney transplant, Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said recently.

A person who has permanent kidney failure can get Medicare if he or she:

-- Worked long enough to be insured under Social Security, or

-- Already gets Social Security benefits, or

-- Is the husband, wife, or dependent child of someone who has worked long enough under Social Security.

Medicare coverage generally begins with the third month after the month the person starts getting dialysis treatments.

Coverage can also begin in the first month of a course of dialysis if the person takes part in an approved self-dialysis training program and the person expects to self-dialyze after the course.

Coverage can also begin the month the person is admitted to an approved hospital for a kidney transplant if the transplant takes place within 3 months.

Medicare generally ends 12 months after the month a person no longer needs maintenance dialysis or 36 months following a kidney transplant. For more information about Medicare coverage for people with permanent kidney failure, get in touch with the San Angelo Social Security Office by calling 949-4608.

Shading Saves Energy

The unrelenting August sun forces Texas energy consumers to seek opportunities to control energy use through effective SHADING techniques. By calling the TEXAS TUNE-UP ENERGY HOTLINE, 1-800-643-SAVE, consumers can receive information at no cost helping them determine the most effective shading strategies for their residences. The Texas Tune-Up is a public service project of the Public Utility Commission in cooperation with the Governor's Office.

SHADING is an excellent way to control summertime energy use and lower energy costs. Sunlight hitting unprotected east, west and south walls and streaming in windows makes your air conditioner work harder. A well planned and implemented shading strategy for your home will help take the load off the AC system and cut cooling costs.

Exterior SHADING is more effective than interior devices. Exterior solutions block all or most of the sunlight from penetrating your home in the first place, rather than minimizing its impact after it has entered. Trees, large shrubs, and vine covered trellises positioned to shade walls, roof, and windows during the heat of the day provide the most effective energy conserving landscaping.

Proper SHADING in summer can reduce the wall surface temperature by 50°. Properly shaded windows can lower indoor temperatures from eight to 15 degrees in August and lighten your air-conditioning load by 25 percent. If air is allowed to circulate between the shading device and the window glass, solar heat gain can be reduced as much as 80 percent.

If you don't have trees in the proper locations now, your shading strategy might include planting a fast-growing species for future protection while adopting other means of immediate protection. Awnings, solar shades, shutters, and solar screens will help cut your cooling load immediately. The better made varieties of solar screens will block out 75 percent of the sun's radiation and glare. Interior treatments such as drapes, blinds, or roll shades, though less effective, can reduce incoming solar heat as much as 50 percent under optimum conditions. Light colored surfaces reflect sunlight back out the window instead of converting it to heat inside the house.

RL Citizens Travel To New Orleans Fair

Making a recent vacation trip to New Orleans, Louisiana were Joan and Nadine Davis of Robert Lee, Billie Wallace of Buda, and Debe Reed and Maxine Benson of Randlett, Oklahoma. The five women met in Ft. Worth flew to New Orleans. Joan experienced heart palpitations on the plane; it was her first time to fly.

The group stayed five days at a small inn inside the French Quarter, a 7x15 block area, some of which is over 200 years old.

They attended the 1984 World's Fair, took a 4½ hour bus tour of the historic city, a paddle boat cruise on the Mississippi River, and traveled across New Orleans on one of the few existing streetcar lines left in the United States.

The five ladies also enjoyed the cuisine of New Orleans. They ate at K. Paul's Creole Kitchen where K. Paul, recently on the Gary Collins Show, was autographing his newest cookbook. They also took most of their meals in the French Quarter, where they made a day of the French Open-Air Market, took a carriage ride of the area, and shopped the hundreds of small shops.

New Orleans' many customs and cultures made interesting subjects. The food, the historic buildings, river boat traffic, raised above-ground burial tombs due to below sea level terrain, and the language were all strange to the West Texas and Oklahoma eyes and ears.

Two other side trips taken by the group were to the New Orleans Museum of Fine Arts and the ancient Cabildo building. The Faberge Collection was on exhibit at the Museum. It is a valuable collection of jeweled pieces done by world famous goldsmith, Peter C. Faberge, for the Czar of Russia in the 1800's. On exhibit in the Cabildo building on Jackson Square was the Sun King collection of art objects belonging to Louis XIV of France.

MARY HINTON WAS voted Resident Month and Dean Kinsey, Employee of the Month for August at West Coke Co. Nursing Home. Gifts were presented to the winners and refreshments were served by the employees.

Nellie Adair Family Reunion Slated Sept. 8

In Kerrville, along the banks of the Guadalupe River on the 8th of September, 35 family members will come together in celebration of the courageous journey Nellie Adair and her late husband, Jim, embarked upon some 65 years ago from Arkansas to settle in the Bronte community. This is to be the First Annual Nellie Adair Family Reunion and will be hosted by daughter, Ruth Phillips and husband, Charlie, along with grandson, Jimmy Baker and wife, Brenda. Together they have planned a full day of activities-one of which will be the highly anticipated 42 Championship Playoff and rounding the evening out with an old-fashioned Marshmallow Roast.

Among those attending will be Nellie's five children, many grandchildren and great-grandchildren collectively, having some ten September birthdays to be celebrated, along with what would have been Nellie and Jim's 68th Wedding Anniversary.

Family members will gather at the Louise Hays Park Pavilion for reunion activities, with lodging accommodation at the Rodeway Inn. For further information, contact Jim Baker at 4714 Tilson, Houston, Texas, 77041 or call (713) 690-1234.

Surprises await the youngest and oldest family member attending and to the one who can solve the reunion riddle: What eats enormous amounts of food, has a lot of hair, many legs, weighs over a thousand pounds, smells devine, is lovable and looking for a good home???

Watch for the answer to this and outcome of events to be reported in September!

Auto Safety Seats for Children Focus Of Observance

AUSTIN— The Texas Coalition for Child Passenger Safety will join other groups in providing information and education to the public during Texas Child Safety Seat Education Week August 27-September 1, according to Dr. Ben H. White, outgoing chairman of the statewide group.

The special observance was declared as a result of a House Concurrent Resolution passed in June by the Legislature and signed by Governor Mark White. The resolution was introduced by Representative Chip Staniswalis of Amarillo.

In the same Legislative session mandatory usage of child safety seats was enacted and will become effective October 31, 1984.

"This special observance week is an excellent opportunity for citizens to become familiar with the new law and to find out about statewide and local efforts to help citizens comply," said Dr. White.

The new law will require residents of Texas to transport children up to two years old in federally approved child safety seats and children from two up to four years old in the child safety seats or safety belts.

An offense is punishable by a fine of $25 to $50, and the Court shall dismiss the charge if the person shows proof of acquisition by purchase, loan, or rental within 10 days after the offense.

The law exempts violations involving a person operating a vehicle for hire and a person transporting a child in a vehicle in which all seating positions equipped with the child passenger safety seat systems or safety belts are occupied.

Although the new law becomes effective October 31, 1984, fines will not be assessed until January 1, 1985.

A key effort underway since March is the SAFE RIDERS program being carried out by the Texas Department of Health in cooperation with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. It is a statewide public awareness campaign on the benefits of using child safety seats correctly and consistently. In addition the program includes a more intensive demonstration project on public awareness and services in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Information and literature and child safety seat usage can be obtained through the program's Spanish and English information line 1-800-252-8255, which operates from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A statewide Child Passenger Conference will be held September 13-14 in Austin under the sponsorship of the SAFE RIDERS program, the Texas Coalition for Child Passenger Safety, Texas Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics, Center for Health Promotion Research and Development-UT Health Science Center at Houston, Texas Medical Association, Texas Medical Association Auxiliary, Texas Pediatric Society, and Texas Safety Association.

The conference will include workshops on operating loaner programs, obtaining funds and resources for child passenger programs, organizing a community discount sale, and facts about the new law. More information on the conference topics and registration can be obtained through the SAFE RIDERS information line 1-800-252-8255.

Resources materials on correct safety seat usage, starting loaner programs, holding low-cost seat sales, and other community activities will be available to the public through the SAFE RIDERS program.

Many private and public sector organizations have been active in educating parents on the proper use of child safety seats and helping them obtain the devices, according to Dr. White. Loaner programs through hospitals, and citizens groups such as Texas Extension Homemakers already exist in many locations in the state. The Texas Medical Association Auxiliary has been a leader in establishing hospital-based programs. Other past efforts have included donations from the private sector. For example, the Professional Insurance Agents of Texas and its members have provided funds and loaner safety seats across the State.

Texas Safety Association is beginning one of the newest loan programs with locations in its Headquarters offices in Austin and the Safety Councils of Greater Houston and Greater Dallas.

TO OUR FRIENDS IN ROBERT LEE, BRONTE AND COKE COUNTY.

It is with somewhat reluctance and sorrow that we will be bidding farewell to the fine people of this area next week. With mixed emotions, we face the future. Of course we are saddened to leave the friends who have shown us so much affection, respect and support the 4½ years we have lived here.

However, we are looking forward to a new challenge in a new area of Texas. I feel obligated to my family and my profession to pursue the opportunity offered me in Houston.

We wish you good health and happiness and may all good things in life come your way.

Sincerely,

Tiger Cubs Add to BSA

Tiger Cubs BSA, that all new kind of Scouting for the 7 year old boy and a parent or adult, again will join the traditional youth program of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) this fall.

The introduction of Tiger Cubs a year ago marked the first time in its 73 year history that Scouting has offered a program to boys younger than 8. It was a instant success and today more than 90,000 youngsters--- and another 90,000 adults have enrolled.

Tiger Cubs is intensely family oriented. The one-year program emphasizes family activities as well as Tiger Cub group activities.

"Tiger Cubs represents some major departures from the way other parts of the Boy Scouts of America program operate," said James Young, Council Commissioner of San Angelo, 's Concho Valley Council, "yet it is designed to build the same values. Tiger Cubs is just a new approach."

The 1984 "Roundup" for new members begins September 1, 1984, Young said.

In the Tiger Cub program, parents join with an adult to spend their year in Tiger Cub participating as a team.

"We emphasize the word 'adult' as opposed to 'parent,'" Young noted. "The participating adult in most cases will be the parent. But the boy can also be joined by an aunt or uncle, a grandparent, an adult brother or sister, or even a neighbor. The program is organized this way because of the increasing number of nontraditional families that exist in the country today. We wanted Tiger Cubs to be as flexible as possible so

Plants Get More Than Thirsty

by Ralph Godfrey Jr.
Range Conservationist, SCS

During the current period of drought everyone is aware of rainfall, or the lack of it. Traditionally the peak rainfall periods are during the spring and fall. These are also the periods of peak plant growth. Without the usual spring rains there has been very little plant growth to date, increasing the importance of a fall deferment.

The "crop" ranchers harvest is grass, and to have a good crop you need healthy plants. For a plant to remain healthy it needs to maintain good growth and vigor. Plants produce 95% of the food used in their leaves. These food factories in the presence of sunshine, carbon dioxide (from the air), water, nitrates, and minerals (from the soil) produce the energy needed for maintenance and growth. The jobs of plant roots are to gather water, nitrates, and minerals for conversion into food by the leaves; and very important, to serve as a storehouse for food produced. It is this stored food which provides the energy for regrowth in the spring or following drought periods.

This is where proper grazing use and pasture deferment become important. In the spring stored energy is used to grow leaves. If these leaves are grazed off before they start producing food or below the growing point, energy must again be taken from the roots to grow leaves, and soon all the stored energy could be used up. Add to this the fact that every year up to one-half of the roots die and need to be replaced. As you can now see, plants need a period of deferment (rest) when they are growing new roots and replacing stored food for future use.

At present the stored energy of many range plants is very low. They have used up most of their reserves trying to survive the current drought conditions. Many plants have gone dormant, and some have died. When any fall rain occurs the surviving plants will again try to grow. If they receive a fall deferment their chances of surviving and growing health plants next spring will be increased.

Other benefits associated with pasture deferments are increased seed production of grasses, decrease of brush seedling survival, more water soaking into the soil, and less soil erosion by wind and water. After deferred plants have replaced energy used for growth they use the food produced to grow more seed.

Brush seedlings need sunlight and water to survive. Established range grasses out compete brush seedlings for available water and nutrients. Grass leaves slow surface winds and catch dirt particles, and reduce the speed of water runoff. During growth plants produce new roots and loosen the soil. When runoff is slowed the chance of water following roots into the soil, or soaking into the loose soil increases. When plants are given a growing season of rest through pasture deferment many benefits can be received.

Bronte Enterprise --1947

If you haven't seen it you wouldn't believe it, but there it is. Renza Lee has gone and done it-- and this time it's a 360,000 gallon water well, with that much of the precious stuff coming out of a 33 ft. well every 24 hours.

Coach H.R. Gassiott released the Longhorn football schedule for 1947-48 listing five out-of-town games and three home games. Gassiott declared they could not have more home games because the grandstand is in no condition to hold crowds. Other towns have stadiums or bleachers to accommodate football fans, but until Bronte builds such accommodations games will probably continue to be matched out of town.

1947-48 Longhorn football schedule: Sept. 19, Bronte at Ozona; Sept. 26, Melvin at Bronte; Oct. 17, Bronte at Robert Lee; Oct. 31, Bronte at Norton; Nov. 7, Bronte at Miles; Nov. 14, Christoval at Bronte; Nov. 27, Robert Lee at Bronte.

George Scott Post #394, Bronte's American Legion post, is planning to give Bronte the best feed ever given in Bronte. On the menu will be barbecue, and such trifles as pies, cakes, tea, coffee, beans, and of course "sonuvagun".

It wasn't very much, but at least it looked like rain as it was falling. The dust was laid, streets soaked, and then it was all over.

A year ago (1946): I.M. Cumbie and Mrs. Ava Maxwell announced plans for a new building on Main Street, which is now occupied by W.T.U.-- Katherine Rawlings had just returned from her trip to St. Louis and Michigan; Delbert Ray Coalson received his discharge.

Many newspapers, including the Bronte Enterprise, are calling for the adoption of the college building amendment which comes up for vote tomorrow. It provides a 30-year $60,000,000 development program for 16 state colleges and universities. Coke County chairman of the drive for the amendment is Frank Sayner, assisted by Supt. Jeff Dean, Mrs. Geo. Thomas and Ed Nunnally.

Bob and Jack Good were injured last Friday when the motorcycle they were riding collided with a car in San Angelo. Bob was taken to an Angelo hospital suffering from a fractured left arm and an amputation of a finger, while Jack was released after treatment for scratches and bruises. The driver of the car, Ervin Narl Daniel, was fined $24.00 for failing to yield right-of-way.

"We take pride in our work, clean each garment to perfection, and give it our personal care. Come here for service and be well pleased." Kemp Kleeners.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Ola Sue and Russell of Tennyson got back from Barnhart, where Robert Brown had been working on an oil rig.

J.B. Mackey noted he's often heard people comment that Bronte was a clean town.

Pruitt's Store: Bologna, 2 lbs. 49c, Stew meat 29c lb., liver, lb. 35c.

Joe B. Lee tried several towns to get his cotton baled but their gins weren't ready. The cotton comes from the land irrigated by Renza Lee's new well.

Junior Pruitt has enrolled at the North Concho Field in San Angelo for G.I. flight training. When he finishes up he and C.R. Smith will be two Bronte pilots. Next thing needed now is a flying field.

Juanell Blake declares the Angelo wrestling matches are just the thing.

Bronte Senior Attends National FHA Meet

Penni Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Taylor Jr., was among 190 Texas delegates at the recent 1984 National Leadership meeting of the Future Homemakers of America. The conference was held in Chicago, Ill. at the Palmer House and Towers Hotel, July 15-19.

Penni, a senior at Bronte High School, was among 2000 delegates from all over the country attending the four-day conference. The theme of the meeting was "Dynamic Dimensions -- Confronting Challenges." Among the activities was the 40th birthday celebration of the F.H.A.

While in Chicago, Penni enjoyed many scenic sites. Among the sites was an exciting evening through China-town, a city tour including a visit to the water front of Lake Michigan, a drive by the famous Water Tower, the only building that survived the Great Fire, and to end a wonderful day, Penni went to the 103rd floor of the tallest building in the United States, the Sears Tower.

During the convention, there were many workshops on different topics. By participating in some of the workshops, Penni learned many things to bring back to help the F.H.A. Chapter in Bronte.

After four wonderful days in Chicago, Penni and 60 other Texas delegates continued their trip to Montreal, Canada. The three days in Canada were filled with much fun and excitement. In Montreal, Penni visited much of the old city including Notre Dame and many historic churches. On the day before returning home, the Texas delegates went to Quebec City, the only walled city in North America. The tour of Quebec, included a visit through the lovely Joan of Ark flower garden, a drive up the world's steepest paved hill, and a marvelous view of the St. Lawrence River, full of Canadian steamships.

Penni was President of Bronte's F.H.A. Chapter for the 1983-84 year. She was Treasurer of Area II for the year of 1983-84. She is now serving as Vice President of Encounter for the 1984-85 year, when she was elected last February at the Odessa meeting.

All in all, Penni said she had a great time, but was glad to be home.

Youthful Donor Honored By U.S. House

WASHINGTON, D.C.-- Congressman Charles W. Stenholm announced the House of Representatives paid tribute to a 7-year-old organ donor Wednesday, August 8, and in doing so, took another step towards raising national awareness of the organ donor system.

The Stamford Democrat said H.J. Res. 420 was an effort to recognize and honor Chad Knutson of Wrenshall, Minn. The resolution came about after Stenholm learned of Chad's "generosity and sense of responsibility" in the months prior to the accident which claimed his life. The bill was co-sponsored by 227 of Stenholm's colleagues in the House.

"Chad became interested in the possibility of donating his organs when he learned of a young girl who had received a liver transplant," Stenholm said. "When he heard of the need for organs he told his mother, 'When I die, I'd like to be able to do that.'"

"Tragically," Stenholm said, "several months later, Chad, his 4-year-old brother Trent, and their 16-year-old neighbor, Carol Jo Zack, were killed when the all-terrain vehicle in which they were riding collided with a train less than a quarter-mile from their homes."

Chad's mother recalled her

Services Held For Mrs. Pate

Estaline (Denman) Pate died at her home in Denver City, Texas on August 6, 1984 at the age of 67 years. She had resided there many years. Her husband, Malcom Pate, an employee of Shell Oil Co. for many years preceded her in death.

She is survived by two sons, Denman Pate, Denver City and Wayne Pate, Victoria, Texas; two grandchildren, Korina Pate and Grant Pate of Denver City.

Service was held at First United Methodist Church by Rev. Howard Quiett, pastor on Wednesday, Aug. 8 at 3 p.m.

Memorials may be sent to Eleanor Tipps Scholarship Fund, First United Methodist Church, Denver City, Texas.

Mrs. Pate was active in her community and church for many years prior to ill health.

She was the daughter of the late Guy and Emma Denman of Robert Lee and was born in Quinlan, Tex. The family moved to Coke County in 1923 where they lived in the Graham Valley and Valley View communities before moving to the late Judge Bell's Farm, north of Robert Lee. She graduated from RLHS in 1934.

Locally she is survived by four brothers, Aubrey Denman, Bronte, Orval Denman, Abilene, M.L. Denman, Sinton and J.W. Denman, Stanton.

Just recently, on July 20-22, she came for a family reunion at the Aubrey Denman home in Bronte and attended the "Ole' Coke County Pageant".

son's statement from several months earlier and donated Chad's heart, kidneys and corneas for use in five life and sight-saving operations.

Stenholm said he became aware of Chad's story when he was leading the search for a liver for a young Clyde resident. "I became personally involved in the organ donor system and the problems facing that system when I was contacted by the family of 10-month-old Ashley Bailey," he said. "The child was suffering from biliary artesia and needed a liver transplant to survive."

"Her parents had been unable to locate one and contacted me. During the next six months," Stenholm said, "my staff and I contacted all of the major organ transplant centers, organizations and arranged for telegrams to be sent to every hospital in the country. I also contacted President Reagan and he mentioned Ashley in his weekly radio show."

It was during that time

EMS Dance Success

The street dance benefit last Saturday night for the West Coke County Emergency Medical Service surpassed most expectations. After expenses were taken care of EMS spokesmen indicated about $1200.00 was gained from the benefit. The fund will be used for needed ambulance equipment.

Everyone attending appeared to be having a good time, even EMS members, Gene Hinnard, John Carver, Lou Wright, Bill Helwig, Robert Wink, and Tim Bosworth, who were doused in the dunking booth.

Many who bought dance tickets brought their lawn chairs and just visited. The weather cooperated and turned off cool and cloudy. Larry Spivey and the Country Jokers were joined by several out of town friends who took turns playing for the crowd. Without the band the event could not have taken place.

EMS members expressed their gratitude to the Coke County Commissioners and Judge Aubrey Denman for allowing them to use the county parking lot; to Ethel Smith, Skinner's Grocery, and the local school for ice used in concession booths, to Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Anderson for the use of their concession trailer; to J&B Lumber for furnishing

Play Day Postponed

The Play Day scheduled for Saturday night, August 11 had to be postponed until a later date. New time will be announced as soon as available.

If you need more information contact Janel Vaughn at 473-4471 or Brendi Gentry at 786-4482 or 365-3520.

Stenholm noticed the story about Chad. "It hit home," he said. "Here was a seven-year-old boy who showed a sense of understanding and caring that many of us as adults would do well to emulate. Out of the tragedy of his death, he managed to share life and health with five people he never knew."

"Chad did more than just help those five individuals, though. That one little boy has given us all an opportunity to pause, remember and be refreshed by the little stories of personal heroism that surround us," Stenholm told his colleagues in the House. "He has given us a reminder of the difference we can make."

Aggie Seat Save Lives

COLLEGE STATION-- It's called the Aggie Seat, and it's a knot-- not a joke-- that could save lives.

Developed during rescue training drills at the Texas Engineering Extension Service's Fire Protection Training Division, the Aggie Seat is a new rescue knot that is proving to be a valuable alternative to the Swiss seat and the standard rescue basket used to rescue unconscious people from such circumstances as being trapped with one's legs entangled in the rungs of a caged ladder.

"We've found that in most instances where the standard life basket was used, the Aggie Seat was quicker to rig, more comfortable for the victim, and allowed more versatility," according to an article in Fire Engineer magazine written by veteran rescue specialist Leo O'Campo, a former rescue training instructor for TEEX, headquartered at Texas A&M University.

DWI Problems Rooted In Attitudes

The following article is a public service by the Observer-Enterprise through the cooperation of Bill Helwig, Coke County Attorney and The Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of Coke County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

This is the last in a series of articles dealing with the statistics, the law in Texas, and the attitudes behind driving while intoxicated.

D.W.I.:

CHANGING ATTITUDES

The problem of drunken driving does not begin when an intoxicated person gets behind the wheel of a car. It begins with why that person gets intoxicated and behind the wheel. The problem grows out of the attitudes we have about drinking.

First of all, society condones drinking-- even drinking to excess. Americans are proud of how much they can drink. Drinking to get drunk is accepted at the parties we throw and at the bars we frequent.

Secondly, drinking and driving are two activities young persons associate with becoming adults. They are eager to try both; unfortunately their inexperience can lead to the two being a deadly combination.

Thirdly, the crime of D.W.I. is often seen as just that-- a crime, something to be handled by the criminal justice system. Our reaction to sensational incidents of D.W.I. is often to want more police, tougher laws, stiffer punishments, and stricter judges. These actions may produce results, but the attitude behind them tends to make D.W.I. "society's problem"-- not the problem any one individual has to face. Furthermore, it directs the problem at the wrong people: those who drink and drive. People who drive while intoxicated rarely set out consciously to do so. They are not thinking about what damage they may do to themselves or others or what punishment they may receive if they are convicted. Moreover, remember what alcohol does: it impairs judgment. A drunk rarely has the capacity to judge that he is in no condition to drive. What is needed is a way to stop that person before he becomes drunk and gets on the road.

We must realize several points about changing our attitudes on driving and drinking. First, tougher laws can't do it alone; laws don't change attitudes, people do. Secondly, people need a motive to act, to change their attitudes. They need to feel that their self-interest is involved. Thirdly, people react to support from others; they don't like to go it alone on a new idea or attitude. If attitudes are to change, they must be widely accepted and reinforced by others.

How then can we, as individuals, attack the problem of D.W.I.? It begins with deciding what behavior is acceptable to us. People obey the rules of behavior of their peers. We must make it socially unacceptable to be drunk. We must care enough to show that we openly disapprove when someone abuses alcohol. We must care enough that we don't allow that someone to drive. And we must care enough to promote this same attitude in others.

First of all, be a friend. As the slogan goes, "friends don't let friends drive drunk." It may take courage, but insist that the friend not drive. Have him stay the night, take away the keys, or call a taxi and pay for it. It's cheaper than a funeral. Your friend may become angry, but when sober he will know you cared enough to draw the line at protecting him.

Secondly, be a caring parent. Talk with your teenager about the problem and listen to what he or she thinks about it. Chances are that one day your teenager may have to decide whether to get into a car about to be driven by a drunk. He or she must be prepared to say no. Make sure your child knows that his or her safety is more important than getting the car home or than any inconvenience or embarrassment in being picked up by a parent at 2:00 a.m.

Lastly, be a concerned citizen. Speak up whenever alcohol abuse is portrayed as an amusing or socially accepted form of behavior. Write letters of protest to media that glamorize drinking. Support local authorities and community groups who are working to alleviate the problem. Promote alcohol safety education. Education is by far the most potent weapon in the struggle against drunk driving. You can't change the way people act until you change they way they think.

As a prosecutor, I am concerned that D.W.I. violators are punished according to the law. But prosecution, as you know, is not the entire answer. As a citizen, as a driver, as a fellow human being, I am concerned that we take responsibility for one another. I urge you to help bring about the shift in attitudes needed to prevent drunken driving.

Epperson At C-City

Jerold Epperson of Colorado City, former Athletic Director at Robert Lee High School, has accepted an assistant coaching position in the Colorado City High School. He will have wide receiver coaching responsibilities.

According to Epperson, their prospects are looking good and the team will be quarterbacked by a strong passer who is already drawing attention from college scouts.

Drivers Closer To Speed Limit

COLLEGE STATION-- While all Texas drivers aren't observing the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit, only a small number of motorists are traveling more than 65 mph, a big change from before, say researchers for the Texas Transportation Institute (TTI).

According to a state survey, less than 10 percent of all drivers are exceeding 65 mph, said Dr. Quinn Brackett, a TTI researcher stationed at Texas A&M University.

In 1974, just after the new 55 mph law was passed, 62.2 percent of the motorists were in noncompliance, said Brackett.

The highest rate of non-compliance came in 1978 when 77 percent of the motorists exceeded the speed limit, he said.

In the last surveying quarter which ended April 23, results showed that about 54.9 percent of the state's drivers were exceeding the 55 mph speed limit, he said.

The researchers have found that compliance with the speed limit tends to increase when gasoline prices increase dramatically, and decrease when prices are stable or dropping.

School Clothes Draw Earmarked Money

BUYING A BACK-TO-SCHOOL WARDROBE-- Recent surveys show that the majority of parents with school age children spend three-fourths of their back-to-school budgets on school clothes, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist Becky Saunders. Even though school clothes are heavily advertised during August, Saunders recommends waiting until the school year starts to do most of the wardrobe buying. Dressing like others is important to children, and waiting to buy some items give them a chance to know what other kids are wearing.

Filter Won't Help With All Quality Problems

A water filter on the kitchen faucet can give you a better tasting glass of water, but it won't solve all water quality problems.

Before buying an activated carbon water filter, consumers should be aware of what it can and can't do for them.

A filter will not remove bacteria—that's a job for a water purifier. By law, a device that claims to remove bacteria must prove its effectiveness in specific tests before the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will allow it to be called a purifier.

In fact, there is some concern that the wet carbon in filters can make a good breeding ground for bacteria, especially when the filter is not used for a while and after it has treated a large quantity of water.

Some filters use "silver" to discourage growth of bacteria, but the EPA has concluded that it does not really help.

Activated carbon filters will not remedy hard water; watersoftening devices are needed for that. They also have little effect on dissolved metals, hydrogen sulfide, chlorides, fluorides or nitrates. A reverse osmosis unit or ion exchange device is needed to remove such chemicals and minerals.

In spite of these limitations, an activated carbon filter can remove rust particles and improve water quality by effectively removing many objectionable tastes and odors.

It can also help clear sediments from tap water. Many home filtering units can even remove some organic chemicals such as pesticides.

Appropriate use and maintenance of a home water filter is essential for good performance. Here are some suggestions:

Change filters regularly. A heavily used filter is more likely to contain high bacterial levels and to discharge organic chemicals previously trapped.

Don't filter hot water. A filter that passes hot water won't remove contaminants very well, and the hot water may liberate chemicals previously trapped on the filter.

Use the slowest flow rate you can. The longer the water is in contact with filter, the more impurities the carbon can attract and the cleaner the water will be.

After installing a new cartridge, circle on your calendar the date for the next replacement and stick to your schedule.

Fund Started For Tim And Dusty Arrott

On July 15, 1984, Tim and Dusty Arrott were burned in a freak accident at their home.

Tim has not been able to work since that time. Dusty had second and third degree burns on his face, hands and arms, and although he is no longer critical, he will require many hours of therapy and possible skin grafts at a later date.

The medical expenses have been extreme. Insurance is provided but will not be adequate to cover these medical expenses. The loss of income and high medical costs have created undue hardship on this family.

Funds have been established at The First National Bank in Ballinger and The First National Bank in Bronte to help defray the medical expenses. Your help would be appreciated. Please mail or bring your gift of love to "Tim and Dusty" to either one of these banks.

Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Arrott and Lucretia is the daughter of Milton and Norma Bryan.

Bronte, RL Eastern Stars Meet At Tea

Members of Robert Lee and Bronte Eastern Star Chapters joined together to produce an outstanding event in the Robert Lee School Cafeteria Sunday, August 12, 1984. They were assisted by Ballinger, Brady, Carlsbad, Concho, Christoval, Miles, Mertzon, Paint Rock, San Angelo, Sterling and Winters Chapters. Mrs. June Dunkin, Deputy Grand Matron, of San Angelo, and Miss Dorothea Helen Wright, Worthy Matron of Robert Lee Chapter served as Chairpersons.

One Hundred and thirty-six guests signed the register made by Mrs. Dunkin. The register was made of blue denim material with a large red material boot on the cover. Each guest wore a red paper boot name tag. Guests attended from San Antonio, Dallas, Baytown, Amarillo, Lubbock, Lexington, Pecos, Ft. Worth, Abernathy, Austin, Luling, Boerne, Midland, Sweetwater, Anson, Odessa, Winters, San Angelo, Miles, Ballinger, Brady, Mertzon, Bronte, and Robert Lee.

The occasion was a "HAPPY TRAILS TEA" honoring Mrs. Jeffie Roberts, Chairman, Board of Grand Trustees, Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star. She has served five years on the Board and will retire September 22, 1984, in Dallas.

The cafeteria was decorated in a West Texas atmosphere with an eight foot windmill with the mill turning, saddles, bridles, chaps, shotgun, pistol, boots, hay, work clothes hanging on clothes lines, miniature windmills and kerosene lamps sitting on small school desks with bandana handkerchiefs as scarves, miniature cotton trailer with cottonbolls, bonnets, and a silk floral arrangement in a man's western straw hat.

A 16 foot serving table with red and white check oil cloth table cover with Nancy Allen's antique wash bowl and water pitcher with a floral arrangement as the centerpiece accompanied an array of delicious food prepared by the members of District 5 Section 1. Refreshments of fresh fruit in watermelon bowls, large trays of cookies, mints in the shape of Texas, stars and bells, an assortment of cheeses, crackers, sandwiches, nuts, dips and fresh vegetables were served to the guests in tin pie plates. The punch was served from a crock in half-pint Mason and Kerr canning jars.

The hostesses were dressed in long denim skirts, calico dresses, and other western attire. Mrs. Roberts, the honoree, was dressed in a white ruffled blouse and a pastel floral gathered western cut cotton skirt with lace, ribbon and a ruffle of white cotton material to match the blouse. She wore a corsage of red rose buds with a miniature western boot in the center. The 13 hostess chapters presented Mrs. Roberts a large silver footed serving tray with the inscription, JEFFIE ROBERTS, BOARD OF GRAND TRUSTEES, 1979-1984, in the center of the tray. They, also, presented her with the corsage, and the silk floral arrangement in the western hat.
