Record crowd attends WCCCD meeting

A record number of community minded residents attended the regular monthly meeting of the West Coke County Community Development on Monday night at the county courthouse. The meeting opened with President Elane Francis calling for officers business reports and committee head reports on past projects. Other announcements included the obtaining of barrels to support local Students Against Drunk Drivers' aluminum can project.

The WCCCD has agreed to sponsor 2 miles of Adopt A Highway south of Robert Lee on Hwy. 158 and has been OKed by the state.

Dorothea Wright, spokesman for the West Coke County Emergency Medical Service, advised the group of plans to sell a flashing porch light to direct a summoned ambulance to the correct address.

Robert Vaughan and Bill Helwig spoke to the gathering with a suggestion to explore the possibility of creating a taxing entity to support a critical need of the EMS and the volunteer fire department for funding. Helwig will look into the legalities of the proposal.

Some discussion concerned the idea of having a 911 emergency number and the naming of county roads to aid both the fire department and ambulance.

Adjournment of the meeting was called and interested parties were invited to stay for the seminar-type program to be presented by A. L. "Speedy" Brasuell. Brasuell recently attended an 8-hour seminar given by the Extension Service on community self-help and development.

Participants were asked to divide into 3 groups and list what they felt were the top 3 priorities for the community's good. By process of elimination the top 3 by the majority emerged. Suggestions were narrowed to the following:

* EMS and Fire Department Support.

* A mid-year Rabbit Twister Extravaganza for the city's Centennial.

* Development of recreational facilities which would include projects for youth.

Fourth place topic was a crime prevention project which may be brought up at the next meeting along with plans and selection of committees for examining upcoming endeavors.

The WCCCD organization was gratified to see so many interested citizens who took part in the discussion and seminar. Next month's meeting will be Monday night Feb. 6, at 7 pm in the county courtroom.

R. W. Blackmon receives Citizen of the Year Award, during Bronte's Chamber of Commerce banquet, from 1988 President Martin Lee as Susan Arrott, new 1989 President looks on.

Capacity group enjoys "Monte Carlo Night"

"Monte Carlo Night" was the theme of the Bronte Chamber of Commerce Banquet held last Saturday evening at the Community Center. A capacity crowd enjoyed the evening of food, games, and prizes in the room transformed into a Riviera resort.

Patrons lined up to receive their food tickets and funny money, and then cashed in their winnings for chances at the many donated prizes. Winner of the grand prize trip for two to Las Vegas was Sandra Cantrell.

Highlight of the evening was announcement of the honorees for 1988. Selected by independent committees, the winners included Kim Sims, daughter of Ronnie and Beverly Sims and Shane Kelton, son of Steve and Sharon Kelton selected as Outstanding Boy and Girl student by the student body. Volunteer of the Year was awarded to Jackie Corley in appreciation of her many hours of service to the E. M. T. Ambulance group as the "beeper keeper". Community Organization of 1988 went to the Cactus League in appreciation of their time and monies donated to so many functions in the past few years, including their recent donation of a cordless telephone to the Bronte Nursing Home and purchase of computer supplies for the elementary school.

The Educator of the Year went to Terri Rawls. Mrs. Rawls began her teaching career in Bronte several years ago, and in three years has taught three different classes, not knowing until the day school started which elementary class she would be teaching. Due to state mandates, classes are determined by enrollment head count and Mrs. Rawls began with the third grade, taught fourth grade last year, and second grade this year.

The Citizen of the Year for 1988 was R. W. Blackmon. Bro. Blackmon is well known by many Bronte citizens for his warmth and wit. He was the pastor of the Central Baptist Church for years before moving away. He returned to Bronte in 1981 as a retired Pastor and is presently serving on the East Coke County Hospital Board. He and his wife, Ruby, have given many hours in time and energy to many worthwhile causes.

Big buck winners noted

Winners have been announced for the Big Buck and Turkey Contest by sponsor West Coke County Community Development. Top prize of a Smith and Wesson Model 1500-.270 rifle with scope went to Steve Fosness of Spring, Texas for the widest antler rack registered. His heavy-horned buck had an inside measurement of 19 1/2 inches and sported 8 long points. Moe Mauldin, on whose place Fosness hunted, noted that although the buck was really fat, he was apparently an old buck and had few teeth.

A local hunter, Danny Carper, killed a nice 9-point buck with a 19 1/4 inch spread on Randy Bessent's place at Silver for 2nd place.

Dubb Wallace, now of Brady, killed a huge gobbler with an amazing 11 3/4 inch beard to take first place in the turkey division of the contest. The gobbler was taken near Shaggy Peak south of Silver. He was awarded a Schrade Scrimshaw hunting knife. Bill Helwig of Robert Lee was second with an 11 inch turkey beard.

The WCCCD board expressed satisfaction in the interest the contest created for hunting in Coke County but hoped the number of registered hunters might increase for the 1989 season. A greater number of hunters than ever before spent part of their season (and money) in the county than ever before and were a boon for businesses.

Consumers topic of club program

The '64 Study Club of Robert Lee met for a regular meeting at the Methodist Church Tuesday night, January 10. Glenna Friedrich, president of the Better Business Bureau, spoke on "Consumer Awareness." The bureau serves a twelve county area and is headquartered in San Angelo. Ms. Friedrich pointed out many things that the consumer must beware of and explained ways that the bureau can help the consumer when problems arise.

In business sessions, president Leta Caston expressed appreciation for member cooperation in making a success of recent projects, Tour of Homes, and Rehab Phone Bank.

BRONTE SCHOOL NEWS

Horns take wins over W. Valley, G. City

Three Longhorn teams traveled to Garden City Friday, Jan. 13 even though it had snowed and sleeted most of the day. All teams were victorious. The JV girls started things off with a 39-27 win. Scoring were Amy Parker 10, Kelly Webb 8, Maria Puentez 7, Kristie Cooper 6, Jennifer Robinson 3, Susan Culp and Tina Smith with 2 apiece, and Alisa Richards 1.

The varsity girls also had a 35-31 win. Dorinda Scott led the scoring with 12 and 7 rebs., helping out was Tina Hines with 8, Eboni Taylor 4 and 6 rebs., Angela Reyes 4, and Darla Scott 4.

The Longhorns ended up on top defeating the Bearcats 50-36. James Badgett had 13 and 7 reb. aided by Bill Windham with 10, and 6 reb., and 3 steals, John Seals 10 and 4 steals, and Justin Phillips 7 and 6 reb.

One of our former coaches was on the opposite bench in both the JV and Varsity girls games, Coach Fine. Coach Fine and his family left Bronte several years ago to assume duties at Garden City.

It was an exciting night in Water Valley Tuesday as both varsity teams rallied together for wins over their opponents. Coach Rawls couldn't say enough about his team in their final 52-51 win. The Longhorns played hard down to the final buzzer, after coming from behind at the half. Shannon Hoffman, who is the team's only senior, played the game of his life. He played really well and took control of the game. Hoffman had 14 pts., 10 reb., 4 assists and 3 steals, and was 5 of 6 from the field.

Justin Phillips did a good job in rebounding for his size, the Wildcats had a much larger and taller team, he had 14 pts., 16 reb., 4 assists, and was 8 for 12 from the free throw line. John Seals did a fine job and followed with 10 pts. Bill Windham hit for 7 pts., 6 assists, 3 steals, and made the winning shot as the buzzer sounded. Tim Davis had 3 pts., 3 steals and played an excellent defensive ball-game.

The team's record is 15-6 and 3-0 in District.

The JV boys were downed by the Wildcats 65-52.

The varsity Lady Longhorns ended up with another win. They downed the Lady Wildcats 49-48 in a battle all the way to the end. Misti Taylor led her team with 12, followed by Dorinda Scott with 9, Tina Hines, Angela Reyes, and Teresa Vaughn with 6 each, Melinda Gentry and Melissa Arrott 4 each and Eboni Taylor 2. The season stands at 3-0 for district and 19-1 overall.

The JV girls won their game 37-20. Amy Parker came on strong with 16, Tina Smith 7, Kelly Webb 6, Maria Puentez 4, and Kristie Cooper and Sonja Salser 2 each. Their season record is 7-1.

The coaches said that after 3 road games and one day's rest, Bronte will be hosting Robert Lee on Thursday, Jan. 19 for 4 games beginning at 4:00 pm.

To win a bet for $40, Thomas Garson of Chicago ate 22 hamburgers and two quarts of ice cream in 25 minutes back in 1938.

Arbor Day is Jan. 20th

From one end of the country to the other, Americans of all ages will be celebrating Arbor Day on January 20 by planting seedlings and young trees to leave a lasting legacy for generations of Americans they will never know.

Arbor Day originated in 1872 when J. Sterling Morton, an agriculturist and later secretary of agriculture under President Grover Cleveland, proposed to the Nebraska Board of Agriculture that a special day be set aside for the planting of trees.

At the time, less than three percent of Nebraska's land was covered with trees. The Board of Agriculture agreed to Morton's proposal and observed the first Arbor Day by planting more than a million trees.

Here in Texas, Arbor Day was first officially observed in 1890, one year after the citizens of Temple led by W. Goodrich Jones, the founder of the Texas Forestry Association, drafted an Arbor Day resolution that the Texas legislature.

The 1989 Texas Arbor Day celebration will commemorate the 100th anniversary of the effort by the citizens of Temple. The state ceremony in Fort Worth will feature representatives from a variety of state agencies and private organizations, including the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Texas Association of Nurserymen, the Texas Association of Extension Home Economists, the Texas Forest Service and others that promote a better understanding of how to plant and care for trees and their many benefits to communities.

As part of the event, Fort Worth Parks and Recreation Department will contribute a tree to the city of Temple to commemorate the planting of the first Arbor Day tree in Texas a century ago. The original tree, which has lived out its life, was replaced in December. The planting ceremony was videotaped and will be shown at the Fort Worth Arbor Day celebration.

In Texas, 13.6 percent of the total land is in forestland, most of which is in East Texas. This amounts to an estimated 11.7 million acres, which is 18,583.2 square miles, an area larger than the states of Maryland and New Jersey combined.

A tribute to the late Jessie Gloria was born March 9, 1921. The value of the peso was very low then in Mexico. My father realized that with the little money that he earned, he'd never provide a good standard of living for his family, having eight children. Once again he entered Texas, bringing us along.

I was only 3 years old when we arrived in Coke County. Robert Lee has been my home since 1923. Though born in another country, with a different culture, I was never conscious of it. In my heart, I have always been a Texan. All my friends were Texans. I worked with them. I dressed like them. I acted like them, laughing with them, crying with them. I obeyed their laws and learned their language. I felt that I was one of them.

Yes, I was a citizen, but not on paper! Not until 1975, did I actually become a citizen. Before the judge in San Angelo, Texas, I raised my right hand, along with several others, and pledged allegiance to these United States of America. This formal experience did not change my thoughts, my heart, or my way of living, but it did give me a sense of satisfaction in knowing that at last I was on paper a legal citizen!

In 1945 I married Lucy Balderas, and we have been blessed with 6 children: Richard, Irene, Ray, Ruth, Rudy and Kathy. One of our dearest experiences was to see them marching down the aisle of Robert Lee High school with diplomas in their hands. They all made good grades, had no discipline problems, and felt no race distinction. In one of the High School annuals, Irene is pictured sharing honors with Derwood Coalson as class favorites. Then a few years later, Rudy was chosen as a good citizen to accompany Mrs. Frank Coalson, his Spanish Teacher, and attended in Austin, the White House Conference for Children and Youth.

I have always tried to be an example before my children concerning earning an honest living and being independent. I have picked cotton, headed maize, sheared sheep, and worked at gas stations. For twenty-one years I worked at the Ford House for Cumbie Ivey. Presently, I am Supervisor of West Coke County Hospital and Nursing Home, where Lucy is a nurse's aide. I own my own home and pay taxes.

Richard and Ray served in the U. S. Army, both saw action overseas, in Germany and Viet Nam. Richard is now Supervisor of Computer Technology in San Angelo. Ray works for General Telephone, and Rudy is in Dallas, an operator of computer machines.

For many years we have been members of Bethel Baptist Mission, where we enjoy fellowship with Christian co-workers. Brother Zachariah Garza is our pastor, assisted by Jody Rodriguez, a deacon and devoted Youth Director. We are proud of our beautiful sanctuary, where members contributed much time and skilled labor. Lucy and I have always tithed. Thinking that it is the Bible way to give, we believe that God has blessed us for this practice.

A Woman's World

by Paula White
A woman's world views herself first and then carries it on into other parts of her existence.

A woman's world is monitored by her five senses.

A woman's world is directed toward other fellow beings whether she recognizes it or not.

For a woman to add flavor to the world around her will always leave an aroma and her taste for life that she leaves behind from one to another.

A woman's world is filled with countless hours of beauty as she unfolds the design of her life.

Flavor

What does a woman gain? If her life is taken away by strain.

What does a woman see? When she only says "I want to be me".

The Struggle should impart A very tender heart To work with other's lives As she struggles her own life to decide.

Women have so many ties Her inner woman cries.

But silence brings the painful gain That for her each day will never be the same.

Rejoice, for flavor does not cease

For the beholder gives the increase.

Look inside yourself And bring your ideas off the shelf

And set your flavor upon high And let your woman's dreams never die.

Personal
