County lakes benefit from abundant rainfall

County lakes are finally reaping benefits of abundant 1991-92 rains. Monday night's downpours pushed levels up without much damage locally. Mountain Creek Lake, Robert Lee's city water supply, stands virtually full without breaking over the spillway. City Water Superintendent James Royall noted that the water supply will be adequate to last all summer without using water from Spence to supplement usage.

Chad Beck, son of Richard Beck, Oak Creek Lake patrolman, said Tuesday evening the reservoir had lapped over the spillway, thanks to the 4 inches of rain on Monday night.

Lake Spence's level improved, according to Royce Hood, lake superintendent. He related that on May 24, the lake elevation was 1867.32 and on Wednesday morning it had risen to 1873.48 for a gain of 6 feet plus with some runoff still coming in.

He reported the lake is on a healthy upswing-clorides are down some, with plenty of bait fish present and the fish population is actively spawning.

Although the bone-jarring thunder and electrical storm Monday night brought up to 3 1/2 inches of run off rain to the immediate vicinity, the area did not escape some damage. Robert Lee had marble-sized hail in places but an isolated area between Silver and the Pecan Baptist Church suffered tennis-ball sized hard stuff during the storm, stripping vegetation and injuring livestock.

County Rainfall Measurements

Rainfall measurements in Bronte and Robert Lee varied greatly in both locations, with some residents reporting measurements of up to three inches.

Bill Thomas of Bronte, reports a total of 2.4 inches for Saturday and Sunday. One and two tenths fell Monday night.

All area rain was accompanied by thunder, spectacular lighting, and strong winds. Power was off for most portions of the county for short periods of time Monday.

Residents in the Edith area of Robert Lee reported some large hail Monday night, while other residents received at least pea size hail.

Area farmers report that while oat crops have been ready to harvest for a while they have been damaged by the wind and rain and may not be salvageable. Wheat crops are ready for harvest, but the soil in some areas is too saturated to do so.

WTU promotions

Two West Texas Utilities employees recently received promotions or transfers.

They include Gary Williams of Robert Lee, from Serviceman Apprentice to Serviceman, and Brian Champion of Bronte, (Oak Creek) from Operator to I/E Technician II.

The Coke County team will participate on Friday evening June 12. Team members include Douglas Roberts, Captain, Robert Lee; Sparks Burdett, Robert Lee; Billy Jack Roe, Robert Lee; Tommy Hendry, Silver; Gary Baker, Silver; Kelly Baker, Silver; Mike DeRonde, Sterling City; Kevin Counts and Brad Barnett, both of Water Valley; Wayne McCutchen, and Roger Graves, both of Bronte.

39th Sanco Homecoming set Saturday

The thirty-ninth annual Sanco Homecoming will take place Saturday night, June 13, and all day on Sunday, the 14th. The historic event will be held, as always, under the old tabernacle at Sanco, west of Robert Lee. The association will provide the barbecue, beans, and tea. Those who attend the gathering may bring salad, vegetables, or dessert as they desire.

Below is a short history of Sanco, reprinted from the annual newsletter.

"Sanco was the second community in Coke County, Ft. Chadbourne was first. Ira Bird had a townsite surveyed in 1907, four blocks divided into 25 lots. The townsite is near where the first road built from Ft. Chadbourne straight west crossed Yellow Wolf Creek. This was a route of travel before the settlement. Nearby was the big spring on the creek.

The first Sanco Community was just south of Durham Peak. The post office was established in the J.L. Durham residence July 10, 1888. Charles B. Teague established Durham Peak School in 1887. William Scarborough owned the store and some distance west S.S. Craddock had his blacksmith shop. By 1905 the community began to be moved to the new site on Yellow Wolf.

Miller and Rosa Birds gave the land where the Methodist Church, the school building, the Baptist Church and the tabernacle were eventually built.

Wesley Meek built his home and a cotton gin west of where the church buildings now stand.

Demo delegates travel to Houston

Coke County Judge and Mrs. Royce Lee were in Houston last weekend where they served as Coke County delegates to the Texas State Democratic Convention.

They were accompanied to Houston by their daughter, Mrs. Michael (Melissa) Hoch, of Garden City, who served as Glasscock County Chairperson and, as a delegate to the convention from Glasscock county.

Royce Lee's sister, Margaret Martin, of Bronte visited her daughter and husband, Dorothy Ruth and Dan Mitchell in Sugarland. They also accompanied the Lees.

The convention was held at George Brown Convention Center in Houston. There were approximately 10,000 people in attendance.

Among the speakers at the Convention were Governor Bill Clinton of Arkansas, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, Texas Governor Ann Richards, and U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen, were also speakers at the Convention.

Other speakers included Gary Mauro, State Land Commissioner, and Lena Guerrero, Democratic candidate for Texas Railroad Commission.

The group arrived in Houston on Thursday afternoon, and left Saturday at noon. They traveled to Luling, where they visited Mrs. Lee's aunt Mrs. F.L. Clements.

They returned home on Sunday afternoon, after experiencing some heavy rainfall in Houston on Saturday and some storm clouds in Saturday night.

In 1907 OI Tubb moved or built a store on a site SW of the present one. It faced north and across the road facing south was Uncle Sinc Craddock's blacksmith shop. His shop was near the site of the present store. The post office was in the store.

In 1908 Miller Bird deeded 2 acres to the County Judge of Coke County for a cemetery. Bob Cosby built a shop and garage in 1916. Later it was used for a store and post office and is the building still standing.

The tabernacle was built in 1924 under the leadership of Rev. William E. Hawkins, Jr., who started Sanco Camp Meeting that continued 23 years.

Here Rev. Ernest R. DeWitt conducted a youth camp from 1957 to 1969.

From 1930 to 1936 Ulmer Bird preached in rural communities in Coke County. Since 1954 he furnished help and leadership in carrying on Sanco Homecoming observed in June of each year.

Rev. Horace Bloodworth served as Baptist pastor at Sanco for years and also at Silver. Brother Early was the last Baptist pastor at Sanco.

In the 1920's Luttrell and Keeney built, and for a while operated a gin across the highway NW of the present store building.

The only public buildings remaining are the store, the school, the Baptist Church, the Methodist Church and the tabernacle.

The early settlers and their children after them made Sanco a wonderful place to grow up. Those born and reared here count it a privilege to be among the number, and we honor those pioneers who gave us such a rich heritage.

Shoppers fill Bronte for Summer Fest

The Bronte Chamber of Commerce directors agreed that with all the preparation and despite weather worries the effort to sponsor the second Summer Fest was well worth it. The day turned out to be perfect after an early morning sprinkle of rain and before the evening thunderstorm. Parking space downtown was at a minimum and sidewalks were filled with shoppers.

The Pet Parade had 24 entrants this year, six more than last year. All pets and their proud owners were viewed with pleasure by the many observers on the parade route and at the presentation of award ribbons. Have you ever seen a fish in a parade? The Great Danes were missed this year.

A good size crowd of hungry customers gathered at the mini-park at three o'clock in the afternoon to hear the judges' announcement of the three best freezers of ice cream. After careful tasting and comparison Velva Hartman's Toasted Texas Pecan was named "Best." Second and third place freezers were Marilyn Bivins' "Peach", and Pat Oglesby's "Milky Way."

Then the delicious ice cream was dished up and enjoyed by those present. Seventy-nine dollars from the sales of the ice cream was donated to the Bronte Cemetery Association to be used for purchase of rose bushes to be placed along the fence of the cemetery.

A poll of the merchants and booth operators suggests that the Summer Fest was a success in '92.

Bronte Pet Parade Winners

Winners of the Pet Parade at Bronte Summer Fest last Saturday, are as follows:

ACU to present Shakespeare romance

"The Winter's Tale," a William Shakespeare romance from late in his career, will be performed free in Abilene Christian University's outdoor Beauchamp Amphitheater June 18-21 at 8:30 pm.

ACU Theatre is presenting "The Winter's Tale" as the 1992 Starlight Summer Theatre production.

"The play has a healthy mixture of comic and tragic elements," said Director Jeff Berryman. "The first half of the play is much like traditional tragedy, but the last two acts move toward comedy. It's complete with a happy ending."

"The Winter's Tale" is the story of a king (Robert Neblett) who unjustly accuses his wife (Nikki Visel) and his lifelong friend and fellow king (Darren Goad) of being unfaithful to him. It tells the story of the effects of jealousy, which include death, separation and suffering.

However, Berryman said, the play also is filled with images of rebirth and hope, summed up in the famous line, "Thou met'st with things dying, I with things new-born."

Besides the three leads, other key actors are Curtis Glenn, Jeff Craven, Evan Whitfield, Genny Layne, Kristi Blucker and David Howard.

"The play has been a challenge for us," he said. "It is not as well known as 'Hamlet' or 'Othello,' so we have to work extra hard at making the language and the story clear. The story deals with core Christian themes - sins, repentance, suffering, and rebirth - and there is a surprise ending worth being around to see."

No intermission is scheduled during the two-hour performance, Berryman said. Everyone is welcome to bring lawn chairs, pillows and blankets as well as a picnic dinner.

"These free outdoor performances make a great family outing or special date," Berryman said.

New ministers announced

Ten United Methodist churches in and around San Angelo will welcome new ministers this month.

The remaining 34 congregations in the United Methodist Church's San Angelo District, which covers Concho, Crockett, Edwards, Irion, Kimble, Kinney, Mason, McCulloch, Menard, Reagan, Schleicher, Sutton, Tom Green, Upton and Val Verde counties will have the same pastors for the coming year.

Bishop Ernest T. Dixon Jr. of San Antonio announced the ministerial appointments in Corpus Christi during the June 3-6 session of the church's Southwest Texas Annual Conference. Pastors with new assignments will lead their new congregations in worship for the first time June 14.

United Methodist Bishops assign ministers under their authority to posts annually. A pastor may serve a congregation for more than one year if the bishop reappoints him or her to that post.

The Southwest Texas Conference includes 367 United Methodist congregations with some 108,000 members in southern and southwestern Texas. Besides San Angelo, the conference area includes Austin, Corpus Christi, Kerrville, McAllen, San Antonio and Victoria.

More United Methodists live in Texas than any other state—some 800,000 in more than 2,200 congregations.

BRONTE'S BRIGHT FUTURE has been insured by businesses such as Cumbie & Arrott Mercantile

In 1906, Rev. R.M. Cumbie and his son, R.E. Cumbie sold their cash crops and invested the return in a general mercantile, Hickman - Cumbie Co. Soon afterward, R.E. moved the dry goods portion of the business to 119 W. Main and changed the name to R.M. Cumbie and Son. In January 1929 J.B. and Georgia Mae Mackey became partners and operated the business as Cumbie & Mackey until 1985, when Susan Cumbie Arrott bought out the Mackey's interest. Now enjoying their 86th year of business, the firm is committed to offering a good selection of quality clothing and gifts to Bronte and Coke County.

A vacation trip to the cool mountains of Colorado took Bronte residents Johnnie and Sid Eubanks and Helen Murtishaw with their son and daughter, Sid and Ginger Eubanks of Natchitoches, La. to Valle Cito Lake near Durango. The group left Bronte early Monday morning, after driving through varied weather conditions, and arrived at the cabin site on the lakeshore by nightfall. Next day a sight-seeing trip to Silverton and Durango to shop, eat lunch, and make pictures of the beautiful snow capped mountains. Also, viewed a working Honeyville Farm before enjoying dinner at the Bar-D-Chuck-Wagon where they were entertained by the Bar-D Wranglers.

Mountain trout and small mouth bass were taken by the happy campers from Lake Vallecito and Haviland Lake. They also visited a state fish hatchery where trout are raised.

COUNTRY AGENTS NEWS

by Tommy Antilley
Coke County Agent

Cattle grubs are internal parasites and their damage is largely unseen, yet they cause greater economic losses to the U.S. beef cattle industry than any other insect pest.

While grubs are usually found on the backs of infested animals during the winter months, that's not the time for control measures since the pests have already done their damage. Feed efficiency and animal vigor are reduced in infested animals.

Grubs are the larvae of worm stage of heel flies, and adult heel flies are active over most of the state from March through May.

The time to control grubs is from now through August when grubs are small and before infested animals suffer stress, weight loss and decreased feed efficiency. Considerable hide damage will occur if infested animals are slaughtered.

Heel flies cannot sting, have no functional mouth parts and cause no pain to cattle. Yet, they frighten animals, making them difficult to manage.

Heel flies lay their eggs on an animal's hairs in the lower leg region, glued in position. Tiny larvae hatch in a few days, crawl down to the base of the hair and burrow into the animal's skin.

Then they begin a migratory course through the animal's body, congregating in the throat after a few months, and after eight to nine months, appear in the mature grub state on the animal's back.

If a producer has a history of grubs in his cattle herd, it's best to treat each animal over three months of age with one application of an approved systemic insecticide or injectable treatment during the May through August period.

Systemic insecticides are absorbed directly through the animal's skin, circulate throughout the body, and kill grubs while they are small. Injectable treatments are circulated in the animal's body fluids to kill the invading pests.

These insecticides come in various forms, dips, sprays, pour-ons, injections and spot-on treatments. A listing of approved insecticides and methods for controlling cattle grubs is available at the county Extension office.

Hearing Tests Set For Robert Lee

When Was the Last Time You Had Your Hearing Tested?

- * Do you have trouble hearing on the telephone?
- * Do you have to ask people to repeat themselves?
- * Do you hear but not always understand what is said?
- * Do people seem to mumble when they talk?
- * Do you hear ringing or buzzing in your ears?
- * Does your family tell you that you play the radio or television too loud?

If you answered "yes" to three or more of these questions, you may have a hearing loss. Hearing loss is more common than you think. According to the Better Hearing Institute, 20 million Americans have hearing losses. The good news is most hearing losses can be helped.

12th annual Burns-Tinkler campout

Approximately 44 people attended the 12th annual Burns-Tinkler camp out. What started out as a casual week-end camping trip on Pecan Creek at Lake Spence, turned into an annual Memorial Day Reunion. Each year the gathering grows with new family members and friends dropping by.

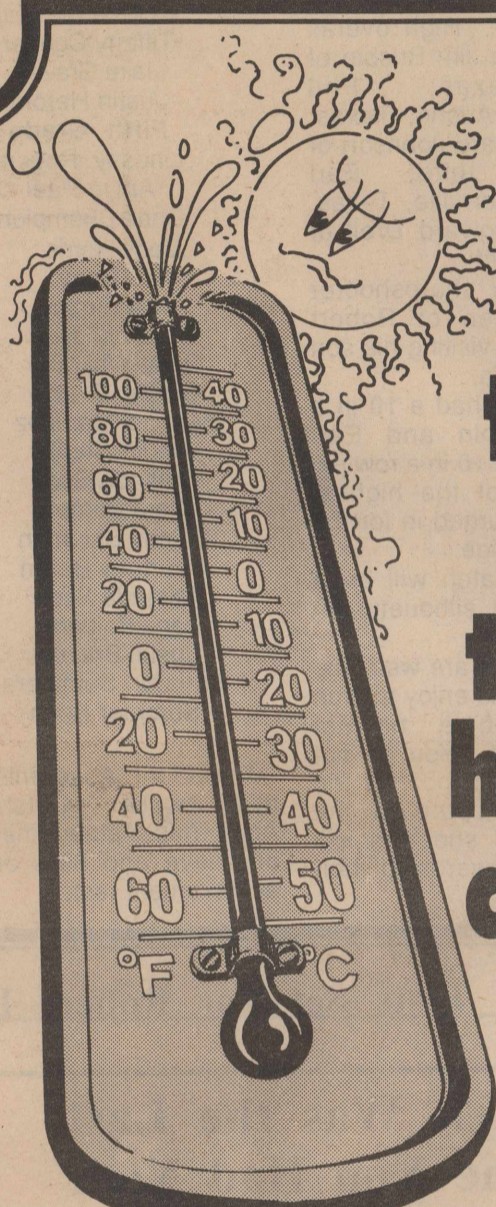

Now held at "Paul's Retreat" on Yellow Wolf, the families enjoyed tournaments of washer pitching, horse shoes, spinner and the traditional Burns vs Tinkler volleyball game. Everyone agrees the best rivalry comes at meal time when Paul and Clark ring the dinner bell.

It is almost a sure bet there will be rain on Memorial Day when this clan gathers. Those enjoying the rain this year were Paul and Joan Burns, Roy and Jennie Tinkler, Suzann and Richard Johnson, James Paul Skipworth, Bill, Linda, Sheree, and Dean Burns, Sid, Cookie, Jeremy and Molly Burns, Clark, Noel and Mathew Tinkler, all from Robert Lee; Marlane, Cameron and Madison Burns from Arlington; Ernest and Linda Burns from Odessa; James and Kathy Butler from Sweetwater; Randy, Jeanna, and Rand Lewis from Midland; Walter, Anna Kay, Jennifer, April, and W.E. Tinkler from Wall; Dianna Tinkler from Omaha, Nebraska. Friends dropping by were Thelma Jo Hinnard, Tim Bosworth, Ruth Webber, Charlotte Pearson, Loma Preslar, Jody, Johann and Cody Wanoreck and Bill Panco.

A good time was had by all in spite of the weather.

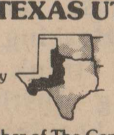

When temperatures are on the rise... help keep cooling costs down!

HERE'S HOW:

- Check your home for adequate insulation — R-30 is recommended in the attic.
- Help your cooling system's efficiency by caulking and weatherstripping. Infiltration of outside air is your air conditioner's greatest enemy.
- Help keep the cost of cooled air down by setting your thermostat at 78° or higher and clean your air conditioner's filter regularly.

Correction

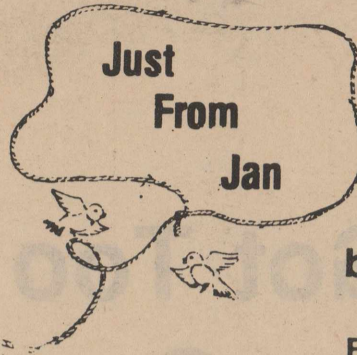

Due to miscommunication, the Observer/Enterprise last week stated that the Tubbs family had not visited the Ft. Smith National Cemetery since Frank Tubb's burial in 1949. Arthur and Mary Tubb, his parents, along with other family members, had visited the gravesite annually over the years as long as their health permitted. The O/E regrets the misunderstanding.

With the current state of national affairs, the need for attention to children is more crucial than ever. Today's high stress circumstances, like the unrest in the Middle East, job lay offs and an unsteady economy impact many families.

The high levels of stress that many families are experiencing make children particularly vulnerable as family stability is threatened by forces over which parents have little or no control.

The following tips can help your family cope better in times of stress:

*Remember to be the parent, Children need your attention at times like these.

*Keep communication open. Listen and don't duck the hard questions.

*Be reassuring and comforting. Listen to your child's fears. Let the children know you will be there for them.

*Be truthful about your feelings. Children can sense when you're upset and if they don't know why they may believe they are the cause.

*Spend time together. Family activities and games will help everyone relax and enjoy each other.

*Be consistent. Continue usual routines and household rules. Unexpected or sudden changes are confusing and stressful to children.

*Take time to think before you act. When disciplining your child don't overreact to your own fears and anxieties. Take steps to calm yourself down, count to 20 take several deep breaths or remove yourself from the scene for a few minutes.

*Don't take it personally. News of war or a lost job, difficult family events and other stresses can make your child upset and irritable. Kids are only human, their moods may have nothing to do with you.

For additional information about parenting education and family life concerns, contact your local county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service agent office.

Rabies remains a danger

Through the first 5 months of this year, 64 rabid animals have been reported from 10 of the 36 counties in public health region 3. From January through May of last year, these same counties had reported 48 rabies cases.

Nearly one half of this year's rabies cases have been skunks. Other reported wild animals with rabies have been foxes, bobcats, raccoons, a ringtail and a bat. Twelve rabies cases have been reported in domestic pets and livestock. Coke County has had one cat reported which was rabid when tested.

In the preceding 10 year period, rabies in these counties occurred most frequently during March, April and May. The number of rabies cases rapidly decreases beginning in June and continuing through September. While fewer cases of rabies can be expected for the remainder of the year, the outbreak is not over. Rabies in both livestock and wild animals has already been reported this month from Schleicher and Kimble counties.

Pet owners are reminded that all dogs and cats must be vaccinated against rabies every year. People should avoid contact with any unfamiliar or strange acting wild or domestic animal.

Anyone with questions about rabies is urged to contact their physician, veterinarian, local Health Department or the Public Health Region 3 office of the Texas Department of Health.
