Mattson Mustangs Trample Pirates 40-25 Thursday

Mattson Mustangs opened District 4 six-man play with a 40-25 victory over the Paint Creek Pirates Thursday night at Paint Creek, with Lloyd Klose passing for five touchdowns and running over another.

James Edwards passed 15 yards to Don Hager to give Paint Creek the first score of the game but Klose passed to Wallace Johnson for 15 to tie it up for Mattson.

Paint Creek regained the lead with a 3-yard pass and run from Edwards to Ken Carlton and Edwards hit Kendall Watson with a pass for the extra point. Mattson narrowed it to 13-12 at the end of the first quarter when a Klose-to-Johnson pass went for 20 yards.

Klose hit for two touchdowns in the second quarter to put Mattson out in front to stay, 28-19 at the half. He hit Fred Smith for 12 yards and one marker and Charles Prater for 18 and the second, with Tom Walker kicking both extra points. Paint Creek scored once when Dub Sims passed 20 yards to Carlton.

Assembly of God Revival Meeting To Begin Sunday

A revival meeting will be held at the Assembly of God Church, beginning Sunday, Sept. 29 and continuing through Sunday, Oct. 6. It was announced this week.

At the conclusion of a discussion on the project, city and county officials authorized the announcement that, if the State Highway Department would cooperate, the project would be built jointly by the city, county, and highway department.

Purpose of the street widening would be to provide through traffic lanes and parallel parking on Highways 277 and 24 through the business section, and eliminate any future possibility of the highways being routed around the business section.

Also, additional parking space would be provided inside an area surrounding the courthouse lawn, with a concrete dividing marker separating this area from the through traffic lanes on all four sides of the square.

To Issue Warrants Overall cost of the total project was not announced. However, it was stated that the city planned to issue $15,000 in warrants to finance its share of the cost.

Streets would be widened by cutting down the sidewalks on four sides of the square, and elimination of the wide sidewalks around the courthouse lawn entirely. Sidewalks would be cut back also on streets leading from the square, to make all streets and sidewalks uniform in width.

The project would involve no expense on the part of property owners, with the city, county and highway department bearing the entire cost. However, during the discussion, Mayor J. E. Walling stated that some property owners had indicated they would be willing to help pay part of the cost.

In opening the meeting, held in the council room of the City Hall, Mayor Walling explained briefly that in 1953-54, this project had been initiated by the Council and that the county and highway department had agreed to cooperate in making it a three-way deal.

Two plats or drawings of the proposed street re-arrangement, made by engineers in 1956 were shown those present to give them an idea of what was planned.

Principal concern of everyone present and expressing an opinion, was that the proposed project would eliminate the chance of Highways 277 and 24 "by-passing" the business section.

Joe Harper, spokesman for a C. of C. committee, stating that he wanted to make his position clear, said he was not interested in "selling the project to anybody" but if the likelihood existed that the highways might bypass the town, the project should be undertaken.

City Alderman W. H. Pitman replied, "It is something the City must do."

In response to a query by Harper as to whether the highway department had requested the City to make the improvement, Mayor Walling explained: "The highway department won't tell you what to do, but they will tell you what they would like for you to do on a project."

He had talked to Ray Luak, county highway department foreman, about the project. "Ray has talked to Mr. Roberts (district highway engineer) about the proposal and Roberts would like to have it done," Mayor Walling told the group.

Later in the discussion, Mayor Walling said the highway department had approved the project as outlined, when it was under consideration previously.

The three County Commissioners present, Leon Newton, Claude Ashley and Louis Kuentner, along with County Judge Turnbow, expressed their willingness to cooperate with the city on the project.

"If it's what the people want, let's do it," Judge Turnbow said. The joint discussion was concluded with the suggestion by Roy Johnson, member of the C. of C. group, that city and county officials make the announcement that they will cooperate, we are going to do it."

Indians Scalp Rotan, 34-0, Travel To Iowa Park Friday

The Haskell Indians settled down to football with a vengeance Friday night to scalp the Rotan Yellowhammers, 34-0, in an invasion of enemy territory for a non-conference game.

Indian Halback Eugene Mullins and Quarterback Jimmy Brock shared scoring honors for the Tribe, racking up two TD's each, with the fifth TD scored by Fullback Earnes Kimbrough.

Mullins set the pattern in the first period, when he stormed through from 10 yards out and John Rike converted.

Rike missed his only extra point of the evening after Brock handed off to Kimbrough who broke away and ran 63 yards for the Indian's first marker in the third period.

Brock blasted over from the four yard stripe for the next TD, also in the third quarter.

In the fourth period, Mullins opened the scoring when he scattered through from 15 yards out. Brock added the finishing touch with a 49-yard jaunt around right end to hit dirt.

Deadlocked on first downs, with eight each, Haskell gained 199 yards rushing to 135 for Rotan. The Tribe completed two of four passes for 28 yards net, while Rotan completed one of five passes attempted, for a gain of three yards, and had one aerial intercepted by the Indians.

The Indians, racking up their first win last week, will be gunning for No. 3 victory in the non-conference tilt with Iowa Park.

A Suggestion with Merit

A suggestion on parking regulations in the Post Office area on the south side of the public square has been offered by a Haskell citizen. In our opinion the suggestion merits the fullest consideration by the City Council.

The suggestion is that a 15-minute parking zone be established on South First Street which would take in the area extending in front of the West Texas Utilities Company and the Post Office Buildings. The parking restriction could be lifted after 5 p. m. and at noon on Saturdays, if desirable.

This arrangement, it seems to us, would eliminate a lot of inconvenience and permit a more orderly regulation of traffic especially during the morning hours when everyone comes for their mail at almost the same time.

Principal objection we see is that this or any other traffic control plan on city streets would necessitate the setting up of a City Court.

However, it is debatable whether any City Ordinance now on the books is effective legislation from an enforcement standpoint, since no City Court exists.

Too Many Stop Signs?

Visitors to Haskell frequently comment on the number of stop signs at street intersections throughout the city. Are so many stop signs necessary? Are they enforced? These questions are most commonly asked by people from larger cities where traffic regulations are enforced.

Doubtless, a traffic study of some sort was made in determining location of the stop signs. However, it does not seem reasonable that stop signs would be necessary at every block on streets running east and west, especially where there is no "blind corner" to obstruct view of crosswise traffic at intersections.

The State Traffic Code specifies that a "Stop" sign means exactly that. Before proceeding past the sign, the motorist must come to a complete stop, even though there is no approaching traffic. Failure to come to a complete stop constitutes the same violation as running a red light in heavy traffic.

Where stop signs are installed, they should be enforced. If any stop signs are placed where compliance is not expected nor to be required, they should be removed.

A Sorry Example

A 17-year-old school boy who attended the Youth Festival in Moscow, along with 160 other Americans has returned to his home in Portland, Oregon. According to the news reports he said the only reason he didn't make the trip to Red China was because he didn't have enough money and that he wanted to be home when school opened. Apparently the government ban on trips to Red China had no effect on his decision to return. "If I wanted to go, I'd go," he is quoted as saying.

Those who went to Red China from Russia in defiance of the government ban, showed their contempt for authority. If any of them were to get in trouble in China they would be the first to cry for protection from the government which they defied.

Are these young people, who thumb their noses at authority, a result of failure in home training and our educational system to teach respect for law and order?

it's a whopper!

Mrs. O. E. Patterson and son David are in Abilene, where Mrs. Patterson and David will undergo minor surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Trice of Big Spring visited here Sunday.

A number of Haskell farmers have contracted for airplane dusting of their crops this week, to combat leafworms, County Agent B. W. Chesser reports.

The new high school football stadium will be dedicated Friday night preceding the Haskell and Throckmorton game. Football Coach Frank Kimbrough of Hardin-Simmons, a native of Haskell, will be the speaker on the dedication.

30 Years Ago—Sept. 29, 1907

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grissom of Abilene gave a picnic supper Saturday evening on the lawn of their home in Elmwood Addition honoring Misses Maurine Couch and Brucille Bryan of this city, Walter Murchison Jr., of Haskell and James Parker of Fort Worth.

Wallace Kimbrough, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Kimbrough, is in Dallas where he is under medical treatment. Dr. Kimbrough will join his son at a later date when he will again undergo an operation.

A caravan of at least 12 cars will visit town in this section Thursday and Friday, advertising the Tri-County Fair here next week. The Haskell Band will accompany the boosters both days.

Among Haskell people who attended the Linbergh celebration in Abilene Monday were Dr. J. D. Smith and daughter, June; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse G. Foster, Mrs. Bruce Bryant and children; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Neff and children; Mayor and Mrs. T. C. Canill; Miss Leila Welsh.

The City of Haskell has purchased a new pumper truck for the fire department, which was delivered this week. It was manufactured by Southern Fire Apparatus Company of Dallas and has a capacity of 500 gallons per minute.

Mrs. H. H. Hester of Fort Worth visited her mother, Mrs. R. J. Earnest last week.

Dr. Hugh Welsh of Houston has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Welsh and other relatives and friends here.

W. H. Day of the northwest part of the county was here Tuesday and was exhibiting a stalk of cotton which had 202 well developed bolls on it. He says he has five acres of similar cotton growing on sub-irrigated land near the Brazos River. He believes the cotton will produce about two bales per acre.

Ruby Martin and Iola Taylor, who are students in Simmons University, spent the weekend here with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Claiborne Payne have returned from Fort Worth where they visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. R. P. Moore and family.

30 Years Ago—Sept. 28, 1907

A. C. Foster and family and J. L. Jones left Wednesday to attend a meeting of Scottish Rite Masons in Dallas. Miss Una Foster will go on to Boston from Dallas.

P. D. Solomon returned the early part of the week from Cooke County, where he had been to look after a farm he has there. He says he found crops very good in Cooke.

T. L. Atchison was in town Tuesday and said his cotton would turn out about one fourth of a bale to the acre.

Jim Logan of the west side was in town Wednesday looking for cotton pickers.

Misses Maggie Pierson and Florence Couch left Tuesday night for Waco, where they will attend Baylor University.

R. M. Craig, the jeweler, has moved his shop and business into the Haskell Furniture Company's store on the east side of the square.

A. B. Carothers, founder of the prosperous new town of Rochester on the Orient Railroad, was here Wednesday. He stated there will be a big public sale of town lots in Rochester on Oct. 2. He is one of the old-time settlers in Haskell County.

M. A. Clifton has completed a neat four-room cottage in the southeast part of town.

H. E. Bland of the south side was in town Wednesday and said there has been nine bales of cotton ginned from his farm and that there were three more bales to be picked.

R. G. Landess of the south side brought in a bale of cotton Wednesday that tipped the scales at 652 pounds. It was his fifth bale of this year's crop.

Manager Crews informed us Thursday there had been between 90 and 100 bales of cotton stored in the Farmers Union warehouse.

We understand that an analysis made of the mineral water recently found in wells just south of town show it to possess remarkably fine medicinal properties. This has created a good deal of interest and land in that vicinity has jumped to fancy prices.

People, Places, and Things

By A. PATE

Haskell football coaches Ray Overton, Dick Gaines and Jimmy Browning proved themselves good prophets in talks at the Rotary Club last Thursday. Each predicted that the tide would turn for the HHS Indians, who had lost their first two games. Right they were—the score in Friday night's game was Haskell 34, Rotan 0. The Yellowhammers probably thought they'd been hit by a tidal wave.

When ex-students of Haskell gather here Oct. 25-26 for the third Homecoming many tall tales will be swapped about goings-on of bygone days. Those were the days when absence from school generally meant "playing hooky," an activity sternly frowned upon by both teachers and parents alike.

Particularly vivid in the memory is one incident of "playing hooky" which ended with serious consequences. One of the ring-leaders involved, after being punished by the principal and sent home, told his classmates he and his Dad would be back and "Whip that ol' principal."

It wasn't long until they showed up and strode directly into the principal's office. After a few words, the fight started, with the man and boy together doing their best to "work the principal over." That old boy was as game as they make 'em, however, and after a few rugged minutes right prevailed over might, with the man and his boy retiring from the field of battle, leaving the principal in full control.

Needless to say, "playing hooky" became unpopular with students for some time to come after that.

R. J. (Bob) Reynolds of this city is really "in tall cotton" according to a story in Sunday's Abilene Reporter-News by Duane Howell. A picture shows Reynolds, Ed Swanner and County Agent Frank Martin standing in short-der-high cotton on Reynold's farm northwest of Haskell.

The cotton is the tallest ever seen in this section. Uniformly five and one-half to six feet high on a 60 acre tract, one farmer described it as "A young forest of cotton." And the huge stalks are heavily loaded with bolls that ordinarily give promise of yielding two bales per acre!

Originally, we'd say that two bales per acre should qualify Reynolds for the title of Champion Cotton Grower, but he goes into second place behind Scott White, another farmer in the Jud area.

White has a tract of about 15 acres of cotton on which the yield is being estimated at between three and four bales per acre! The cotton was planted similar to small grain, or "drilled in." The stalks, heavily fruited, are thicker together than the fingers on your hand.

Manley Branch, Former Resident Here, To Retire From Postal Service Sept. 30

Manley Branch, Milford, Texas, former longtime resident of Haskell and veteran Post Office employee, will retire from the postal service Sept. 30.

Branch's first connection with the Post Office Department was more than 50 years ago when, at the age of 18, he became mail carrier on a star route from Santa Anna, Texas, to the small country post office of Bowen about 15 miles southeast from Santa Anna, and long since discontinued. That was a tri-weekly route and the salary was $25 per month. Young Branch carried the mail, most of the time in a two-wheeled cart. His contract was for only nine months, from Oct. 1905 to June 30, 1906.

Some 13 years later, early in 1919, after the family had moved to Haskell, Branch became a substitute clerk in the Haskell post office, and served "off and on" in that capacity for about two years.

On a date he well remembers, Friday, December 13, 1922—he was appointed regular clerk in the Haskell post office. He served in that capacity for 16 years, until Dec. 31, 1938, when he requested transfer to rural service and became rural route carrier on Route 1 out of the Haskell office.

Branch held that position one year, until by mutual transfer with Dave J. Pearce, he became rural carrier on Route 2, Milford, Texas January 1, 1940. He still holds that post, but according to postal regulations he will retire Sept. 30, 1957.

The former Haskell man has served under ten different postmasters, two women and eight men. Five of the ten are still living and are proudly counted among his close friends. He has always considered every patron on his route a personal friend, regardless of race, creed, or color, and that feeling has been amply vindicated by the many kindnesses shown him by his patrons.

During his 16 years service as a clerk, Branch reported late for duty not more than three times, and during the 19 years he was a rural carrier there were not more than six days when he was on duty that he failed to serve all of his route although there were a good many times when he found it necessary to walk over muddy sections of road. On one occasion, while on the Haskell route, Branch recalls he waded a swollen stream almost waist deep in order to reach three boxes and deliver one circular.

Now on the eve of his retirement, Branch looks back on a long life of service with modest pride, and approaches the end of that service with a mixed feeling of sadness and relief.

Mr. and Mrs. Branch have purchased a home in San Angelo and plan to make their home there after he retires.

Shirts Leading Cotton Product In United States

Memphis, Tenn. (Special)—Shirts are the number one cotton product in the United States, according to figures just released by the National Cotton Council's market research section.

The production of shirts consumed almost 600 thousand bales of cotton last year. In preliminary figures for 1956 released by the Council in a publication entitled "Cotton Counts Its Customers," sheets and drapery and upholstery fabrics ranked next as cotton's largest uses. Both categories accounted for well over half million bales last year.

Filling out the top ten uses in order were men's and boys' trousers, towels, men's and boys' underwear, automobile upholstery, dresses, rugs and carpets and retail piece goods.

Cotton registered substantial consumption increases in such items as women's nightgowns, pajamas and skirts and children's blouses and shirts, dresses, suits, and skirts. Consumption gains also were registered in sheets, towels and machinery belts. However, the automobile industry still used almost a third of a million bales of cotton in 1956 and more than a quarter of a million bales went into rugs and carpets.

Texas has 370 miles of coast line and 26 port towns.

Fall Application Of Fertilizer Is Help to Lawn

A beautiful, well-kept lawn adds to the material value of a home and is a basic requirement for an attractive yard...

Fertilization is the main practice to emphasize in the fall care for lawns, says E. H. Trey, extension agronomist...

vents the grass from getting the most out of it before going dormant.

Apply a complete fertilizer with a 2-1-1 or 1-1-1 ratio at a rate to supply two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn...

After the fertilizer has been spread, Trew advises watering it down. Soak the soil at least six inches deep...

Ryegrass is sometimes overseeded on Bermuda to give green color during the winter. But, Trew says, this is sometimes harmful to the Bermuda...

should be used, for these plants die in the spring. Ryegrass should not be over-seeded on grasses other than Bermuda.

By HUGH WILLIAMSON

This is the month that separates the outdoorsmen. Some hunters, some fishermen, some both...

But some of our outdoorsmen will stick to their fishing. They'll figure that now September's here the fish will be a little bit more cooperative...

Let's talk about both of those guys - fishermen first. He is concerned about the black bass and the fish has been suffering his usual case of the summer sulks...

Old time anglers are getting bass, these hot days, by fishing deep with minnows or plugs. Deep trolling also pays off.

The Hellbender has been a productive lure at Lakes Whitney, Texhoma, Possum Kingdom, and the Highland Lakes of Central Texas. Work deep and slow.

The big bass are down deep as they can get to keep cool, but they have to stay above the "dead water" where the oxygen content is too low.

When that happens, your lake or stream will "turn over." That means when the surface is colder than the bottom, the top, cold water will sink and the bottom, warmer water will rise to the top.

Look for that day! When it comes, get your top water lures and be confident of getting bass if you are fishing in good waters and using your bait adroitly.

Meanwhile, the bass will hit surface lures, even in hot weather. Try them early in the morning or late afternoon. Or at night.

Now About Whites That's black bass we've been talking about. Now what about white bass?

All summer these fish have been congregating in the swift water below dams, eating their fill...

I suspect that most anglers work their lures too fast. Fish like action, but they like it slow. To give an example, my fishing partner and I catch good strings of bass in the Highland Lakes of Central Texas...

This is the procedure: toss the minnow out there in bass water and let him swim. Put the rod down and pour a cup of coffee out of the thermos. Maybe you get a strike, maybe not.

But pick up that rod and begin reeling in - very, very slowly. Pretty soon, here comes a little tug. Don't get excited. Wait.

Reel in some more - very slowly. Another tug, maybe harder this time. Don't strike yet, wait him out. You can feel when he is on. Then strike hard. Result: bass.

Trotline Technique Well, about trotfishing: How often do you run your trotline? The experts are at odds on this point. Some of them give the line a test every hour or two - others allow much more time for catfish to get themselves hooked.

One experienced trotliner of my acquaintance belongs to the long-wait school of thought. He reasons that a big, heavy, lazy catfish will take his own sweet time with a bream or other bait. He nibbles at it, nudges it around, contemplates it, and takes it (maybe) when the action strikes him.

I am inclined to go along with this easy-does-it kind of catfishing. Fishing is not much of a hurry-up proposition, anyhow. You've got to relax to catch fish. And learning to relax is maybe the best thing about this sport.

Turning to the hunting situation - reports coming in here say the North Zone shooters are doing pretty well, and there are plenty of birds, though some are small. Scattered rains around the state have not been heavy enough to change the birds' watering habits.

One complaint of the dove hunters is that their birds fall in the dove sunflower patches and can't be found.

Army Engineer to Head Texas Atomic Research Unit Houghton R. Hallock, who recently retired from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers after 29 years service, has been elected executive vice president of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation...

Livestock Trade Active, Calves Higher

Fort Worth—Slaughter calves brought fully 50 cents to $1 higher prices than the low close of last week at Fort Worth Monday.

Receipts in all divisions of the markets were sharply curtailed by the general rains over the weekend, and reports to the market indicated pasture men were jubilant over the prospects for making winter feed and in many places low stockwater were replenished.

Wheat and oats farmers reported moisture conditions excellent and predicted a sharp expansion in the already good demand for cattle and sheep to graze their fields this winter.

The "local" nature of the stocker outlets were pointed out by representatives of corn belt interests, who said western and northwestern stockers were moving in numbers and current Texas prices were out of reach of their clients in most cases.

However, these representatives were quick to point out that in much of the corn belt the crop is late, and an early frost would mean much "soft" corn. A situation with usually in a sharp increase in cattle feeding since such corn will not store.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings bulked at $19 to $23, and common, plain and medium butcher sorts sold from $13 to $18.50.

Pat cows sold from $12.50 to $15.50, and canners and cutters drew $8 to $12.50. Bulls sold from $11 to $16.

Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $18.50 to $21, and a few fancy heavies sold to $22. Plain and medium slaughter calves sold from $14 to $18, and rannies and common sorts sold from $11 to $13.

Good and choice stocker steer calves ranged from $20 to $23.75, and stocker heifer calves cashed at $21 down. Stocker steer yearlings sold from $20.50 downward. Feeder heifers sold from $17.50 down. Stocker cows cashed at $10 to $14.50.

About ten thousand less hogs than a week earlier were reported around the major marketing circle Monday, and the sagging hog market staged a Ford rally of 25¢ per hundred at Fort Worth Monday.

Choice butcher hogs scored $19.25 to $19.50, and the medium to good variety sold from $17 to $19. Sows cashed at $17.50 to $18.50.

Method of Filling Silos Important. Feeding quality of silage depends upon the methods used in filling the silo as well as upon the forage with which it is loaded.

U. S. Department of Agriculture research shows that an important key to successful preservation is immediate exclusion of air from the silage.

Forage tramped, weighted and immediately sealed usually made good quality silage in the experiments. On the other hand, forage left loose and unsealed for two days spoiled. Spoilage was even more complete when air was forced through the forage.

Excessive temperature is an early symptom of spoilage in silage, says Meekma. But it's the exclusion of air that counts in controlling this heating and in encouraging proper fermentation.

Type of plant used in silage is, of course, another factor in quality. A surprising finding from the USDA research was that alfalfa consistently made better silage than orchard grass, despite the latter's higher sugar content.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD Austin, Texas—"Tickets" for Texas' 1958 political campaign bouts go on sale next week.

Democrats drive can choose where they want their money to go. One set of fund seekers will be working at the behest of the official Texas organization, the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Push toward a statewide water development program. Members of the governor's citizens water planning committee are receiving information kits.

Gov. Daniel also announced the three representatives who'll be in charge of getting water planning legislation through the House during the special session.

Another peak is expected in 1960 when census projections show more than 5 1/2 million should be eligible to vote in Texas.

Oil quotas are ahead for Texas' top industry—oil. After three months on an all-time low producing pattern of 13 days, the Railroad Commission cut the October production to 12 days.

Major oil buyers at the Commission hearing indicated that any more production would result in an oversupply.

For a state heavily dependent on oil tax revenue and already faced with fiscal problems, the oil cut means tough times for the state budgeters.

More Taxes, Says Board. Even before the oil slash, the Legislative Budget Board had some hard facts to share with Texas taxpayers.

It's the inevitable result of a billion-dollar-a-year budget, says the fiscal experts. They attribute the soaring expenses to inflation and citizens demand for more government services.

As to paying for it, the Board says "All taxes ultimately come from the individual." There's no one else to pay them.

On the brighter side, State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported the state started the new fiscal year this fall in the black.

They are the sole occupants of a one-section trap in the Black Gap Wildlife management area in West Texas.

Capture of the five sheep was a long and tedious job for Biologist Tom Moore of the Game and Fish Commission and personnel of the Arizona desert country.

Then a couple of weeks ago, a big ram was found tangled in a wire fence in Arizona. It was moved to Texas via pickup truck.

From here on, it is a proposition of watching and waiting," he said. "We hope we have two, or three lambs next spring. We may try to trap some more of the big horns. If they do well, it is possible that some day we may again have a controlled hunt of desert Big Horns in Texas."

Haskell Youth Enlists in Air Defense Command

Sgt./ic Joseph W. Robbins, recruiter for the U. S. Air Defense Command, reports the enlistment of a Haskell youth this week. He is Jack D. Holley, Jr., who signed up this week in the Air Defense Command for three years. Holley, former HHS student, has been sent to Fort Carson, Colo., for basic training.

Eligible young men interested in joining the Air Defense Command may contact Sgt. Robbins in Haskell Wednesday or Friday mornings, or on Saturday at the City Hall in Stamford.

DPS Announces Openings for Additional Men

Higher pay, better training and more opportunities were featured items in the Texas Department of Public Safety's bid this week for more than a hundred new patrolmen.

The state police openings were announced by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., department director, as the first drive for additional manpower under the new regional operational system, and since departmental pay raises went into effect.

The patrolmen jobs will fill vacancies in four functions of the department—Driver License, Highway Patrol, Motor Vehicle Inspection and License and Weight. Applicants may indicate the job they prefer.

Garrison said many favorable features are now available to new members of the DPS that were not enjoyed previously.

Under the new system, trainees will draw $300 per month while attending school at the DPS Training Academy in Austin. They will get automatic pay raises at the completion of their training period. New employees will receive thorough training in most every function conducted by the Texas DPS, qualifying them for immediate transfers and promotions to other positions outside their regular function. The length of training has been extended for personnel and additional subjects have been included in the training program. Graduates will be among the best trained law enforcement officers in the nation.

Hundreds of applicants from qualified men between 21 and 35 years of age will be accepted until Oct. 10 at the Texas Department of Public Safety in Austin. Application forms may be obtained by writing to the department's Personnel and Training section.

Entrance examinations will be given Oct. 15 at points throughout the state. The persons selected by the examination and other qualifications will receive training in Austin starting Nov. 15 for a period of eight weeks. Following this, they will train on the job one month before returning to the Training Academy for an additional month of specialized training.

Physical requirements for applicants now compare with the best. The male applicant must be between 68 and 76 inches in height, not less than two pounds or more than three pounds per inch in height, physically sound and have not less than 20/30 vision in each eye without correcting lenses.

Applicants must have a high school education and be a resident of the State of Texas at least one year immediately preceding the date of application. They must be of good moral character and habits.

Many advantages are given DPS employees in the form of holidays, vacation, sick leave, travel expense, uniforms, insurance, retirement and other items.

For complete information concerning the new positions, training and benefits, Garrison asked that those who are interested write to the department in Austin. In return, he said, they receive complete information.

Turkey Production On Way to New Record

College Station—It appears that total turkey production in 1957 will be larger than in 1956 and that it will be a new record. Storage stocks are also much larger than last year. However, more turkeys are being marketed earlier this year and should help reduce the number available for the fall market. This should result in a higher price than was expected earlier this year, but it will still be below last year's price.

Because of information made available to producers from various sources, producers have cut down on their production, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. The reduction of the turkey hatch during the closing months of the present hatching season has helped to reduce the apparently extremely large increase that was indicated earlier this year. Nevertheless, turkey production in the United States are raising about 6 per cent more turkeys this year than last; and Texas producers are raising 6 per cent more, says McHaney.

Because of the pickover from last year's crop and because a large number of early turkeys have been slaughtered this year, storage holdings are very large, points out the economist. Storage stocks are up about 155 per cent.

Mustangs Stampede Thursday and Friday In 6-Man Game, Field Day

(School Reporter)

The Pirates played a good game but were no match for William R. Baker's Mustangs at 8 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 19. So on Friday, Sept. 20 a Field Day was declared by the entire Mattson High School and picnicking at the Power Plant at the lake was the order of the day. Yet there was much actual first-hand learning that really was observed. A swim was enjoyed by Jerry Alexander, Larry Campbell, Jerry Klose, Burlie Peiser, Winford Seelig, George Peiser, Carl Rueffer, Wallace Johnson, Leon Kretschmer, Lloyd Klose, Gene Leonard, W. L. Holt, Tommy Walker, Charles Prater, and Fred Smith. The girls enjoying the outing were Kathryn Rueffer, Georgia Gray, Cynthia Peiser, Sandra Alexander, Shirley Stewart, Janice Campbell, Dorinda Kretschmer. We regret to report that Rose Petrich who is yet in Hendricks Hospital in Abilene was with her group for the Field Day. But Rose is improving and will return soon to her post of duty as a student in Mattson High School.

Mrs. Alice Wootan, 5th and 6th grades teacher at Mattson is confinied to her home for an extended time due to illness.

Mrs. Geraldine Lane and daughter, Alda spent last weekend in Abilene with A. D. Land of Dyess Air Force Base. Sgt. A. D. Land surprised his family by attending the Mattson-Paint Creek football game last Thursday evening. Jim Trimble spent Saturday and Sunday in Lubbock with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Trimble of Woodson.

Courthouse Offices To Resume Opening Saturday Mornings

Beginning next week, offices in the courthouse will resume opening Saturday morning of each week until further notice.

During the slack summer months, courthouse offices were closed all day Saturday, this schedule having been adopted until Oct. 1, by all offices except the sheriff's department.

Starting Oct. 5, all offices will be open on Saturdays from 8 a. m. until 12 noon, county officials stated.

Added Features Planned For Prison Rodeo

Huntsville (Echo)—Inmate performers and fans alike have pledged themselves to go "all out" to make the 26th Texas Prison Rodeo the best in its history.

Held in the million-dollar prison stadium in Huntsville each Sunday in October, the thrilling event last year attracted upwards of 200,000 people from every section of the nation.

Rodeo Director Albert Moore, the man who opened the first show back in 1931 before a handful of spectators, said that the 26th Annual Rodeo will be planned to include more inmate events and several added "free-world" attractions.

Since 1931, more than two million people have witnessed the prison rodeo, which during the past six years has brought the "Wildest Show on Earth" new honors and has broken previous attendance records.

Since many former inmate riders have been released from prison, rodeo fans will see a number of new faces in the lineup of the host of daredevil performers who risk their necks in an attempt to tame unbroken prison bulls and broncs during the fast-moving two-hour show.

The main reason for the annual Texas Prison Rodeo is to raise funds for the prison's educational and recreational program for the benefit of some 10,000 inmates housed in 12 units of the Texas Department of Corrections.

These and other necessary phases of the prison's rehabilitation program have never been provided by the Texas Legislature.

One of the specialty acts this year not heretofore shown will be the cutting horse event. Also the world-famous Glenn Randall and his trained palominos, who is recognized as one of the world's greatest animal trainers. Other spectacular feats to be seen are trick-riding performances by the Lamb sisters, Ted and Betty, as well as that of Miss Virginia Robinson, who is equally talented and noted from coast to coast for her rodeo trick-riding feats of daring. The Angelina County Quadrille precision reminiscent of the Old West. Also included in the lineup will perform with their beauty and of free world celebrities are Joan and Corky Randall, with their presentation of dancing horses, which is believed to be one of the most entertaining acts in its field.

Reserved seat tickets for any of the four Sunday may be obtained by writing Prison Rodeo Ticket Office, Huntsville, Texas. The price for individual tickets are $2.40 each. "Shady side" reserved seats sell for $3.75 and $4.40.

Check of Heating Equipment Advised By Gas Company

Now is the time for homemakers to have their gas heating equipment inspected and adjusted for winter use, it was pointed out today by F. C. Hipp, Lone Star Gas Co. manager. He urged people not to depend on the first cold day to remind them to call for such service.

"Heating service companies and Lone Star," he said, "receive hundreds of calls for service within a period of a few hours on the day weather makes its first appearance. This means a considerable delay in filling many individual service orders."

He suggested that users of gas floor furnaces, wall heaters, unit heaters, central heating plants and other gas heating equipment arrange now to have them inspected and adjusted by calling their heating equipment company or Lone Star Gas Company.

"In this way," he added, "the comfort of the entire family will be assured during the cold weather that is sure to come. And the homemaker will have this important service completed and out of the way."

Graham Island, largest and most northern of the Queen Charlotte Islands off British Columbia, has an area of 2,485 miles.

Range Judging is Aid in Proper Range Management

College Station—Rangeland—that is, land generally unsuitable for cultivation and covered with native vegetation—makes up about two-thirds of the 169 million acres in Texas. Old cultivated fields that have been abandoned because of low production are also classified as rangeland.

A large percentage of the agricultural income and food of Texas is derived from products produced by the 15 million grazing animals. Wildlife adds additional income and pleasure for many people. Thus rangeland is an economically important natural resource in Texas.

Range judging is a contest that offers a practical way to learn food range management. It can teach the ranchman how to determine the condition of various native grassland pastures and how to manage them. It points up why we need to manage properly one of our most valuable natural resources—grass. Through range judging the importance of native grasses and plants can better be understood.

Range judging can be practiced all over the state. It is a means by which the contestants become familiar with grasses, weeds, soils and the reactions of grazing animals on native grasslands. Any person can participate.

In West, Texas manages for high production; while in highest production income is derived from grazing and feeding periods of the growth stage of the local area cannot obtain proper management. Why not plan a plan of your area in range judging agent for the B-89, "Do You Range?"
