Stamford Making Preparations for Texas Cowboy Reunion July 2, 3, 4

Preparations are well underway for the 26th annual Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held in Stamford this year on July 2, 3 and 4 with night shows each day and a matinee performance on the afternoon of the 4th. Already as much as a part of West Texas as mesquite, cactus and blue skies, the popularity of this Rodeo has continued to grow each year among amateur contestants in roping and riding events as well as enthusiastic spectators.

W. G. Swenson, president of the organization since its beginning in 1925, stated that many improvements were under construction and all will be ready for the opening performance. Among these improvements the Oldtimers Rodeo is being air conditioned for the old time cowboys and cattlemen who enjoy gathering for the Reunion every year.

There were license plates from 38 states recorded among the visitors last year and, in past years, there have been visitors from several foreign countries. A colorful parade will be held at 4 p. m. on the afternoon of July 2. A. C. Humphrey, chairman of the parade, is planning several new features in addition to the cowboys and cowgirls entered in the many rodeo events who always ride in the parade.

Summer Legumes Increase Soil Fertility

Many farmers in the California Creek and Wichita-Brasos Soil Conservation Districts have found summer legumes very beneficial to their farming operations. Legumes add organic matter to the soil; the organic matter feeds bacteria and other organisms living in the soil. The activity of these organisms and the added organic matter keeps the soil in good (tilth, increases the water holding capacity, and helps to maintain or improve the fertility of the soil.

Legumes and guar have proven very satisfactory as a summer crop. Both legumes are adapted to all cultivated soils in the districts, and both are excellent soil improving crops. Field trials indicate that increased yields of crops following guar varies from 10 to 25 percent in normal years. Immediate response is observed on sandy or shallow soils. It is on light land. It should be planted from May 1 to July 1. It should be planted in rows of 1 or 2 inches apart. Cowspeas may be planted in rows of 1 1/4 to 2 1/2 inches apart. April 1 to July 1. It should be planted in rows of 10 to 12 inches apart. Both crops should be killed in traffic lanes. In 1949, 27,000 tons of guar were killed in traffic lanes.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that Kansas tests made in 1952 indicate that moisture infiltration into the soil, an important factor in crop and pasture production in limited rainfall areas of the Great Plains, evidently is unaffected by deep tillage and adversely affected by burning over native grasses.

Natural gas has expanded more rapidly in production and consumption than any other mineral in the history of the country.

H. M. RIKE AND PART OF HIS COLLECTION OF WEST TEXAS RELICS —Photo by Blohn

H. M. (Bud) Rike, Dean of West Texas Surveyors, Owns Striking Collection of West Texas Mementos

The hobby of collecting and preserving mementos of early West Texas has developed one of the most striking individual collections of animal horns in this area. The collector is H. M. (Bud) Rike, member of one of Haskell's first families.

Mr. Rike is probably the dean of West Texas land surveyors, as well as a rancher and stock raiser. Although semi-retired, he has led too active a life to retire completely. He still does considerable land surveying which is now principally confined to drilling locations for oil companies.

His collection of horns is housed in one room of the large two-story house where he lives alone. Included in the collections are antelope, formerly plentiful here, elk horns from Colorado, white tail and mule deer, buffalo and longhorn steer horns. The latter are Mr. Rike's pride and joy. The five sets which adorn the walls are polished to perfection and mounted. The largest set will measure "one inch less than 7 feet," according to Mr. Rike.

Another addition to the collection, a somewhat ferocious looking one, is a bobcat killed last winter on the Swenson Ranch by Dude Gay, a friend, who gave the trophy to Mr. Rike. The animal was stuffed and mounted and now holds a place of honor in the room. Even without the horns and the bobcat, the room would be a naturalist's delight for one wall is entirely covered with photographs and lithographs of almost every type of animal and bird life.

Adding to the "outdoors" feeling of the room is a painting in oils done by his sister 67 years ago. The artist, the former Miss Gillie Rike, painted the picture before the Rikes came to Haskell. It is a winter scene showing three hunters stopping to rest. The painting makes an interesting use of yellows and browns as well as the conventional blues for a winter scene. Miss Rike later married Hall Morrison, Graham businessman. Both died some years ago.

Mr. Rike recalls that when the family moved from Farmersville to Haskell the trip required a traveling time of two weeks. When the caravan reached old Fort Belknap, near Graham, the Brazos was at flood stage. Without a bridge the family could not cross and so continued on the river. Coincidentally a trail herd of cattle had just been driven across the receding stream. Crossing of the hundreds of cattle had packed the sandy bottom of the river to where the Rike wagons could make the crossing without trouble.

When he first came to Haskell as a youth, it was an infant settlement of 300-400 people, stated Mr. Rike. He freighted with wagon and team between Abilene and Haskell before going to Texas A. & M. College where he graduated with a degree in engineering. The only member of the class of '93 still living, Mr. Rike graduated in two years despite the fact he was out a year and a half between sessions.

The Haskell man's father died a few years after the family moved here. H. M. and his brother, the late S. R. (Bunk) Rike, engaged in ranching and horse raising with "Bud" also devoting his time to surveying lands. He was Haskell County surveyor for a number of years. His stock raising was a prime interest, particularly when it centered around horses. "I always had a liking for good horses," he says. This is borne out by the fact that until a few years ago he still owned a number of head kept on the old Rike Ranch, now operated by a nephew, John S. Rike, of Haskell.

When he decided to dispose of his horses, Rike recalls that his most prized animal, jet-black stallion, could not be penned. Several days, the cowboys would ride relay fashion in trying to catch the horse. A temporary corral was finally built in the ranch pasture and the animal captured. "It took about a dozen of the best cowboys around here, and then they finally had to trick him with a trap corral," Rike said with a touch of pride in his voice.

The Rike home, although in town has a typically western setting. A planting of spineless cactus "Bud" planted a number of years ago, provides almost a solid hedge on one side of the walk entrance. On the other side is a lowering growth of spined cactus or desert palm flanking a large century plant, which was brought back by "Bunk" Rike from the Devils River country almost 50 years ago. "Funny thing about that plant, it didn't bloom for 30 years, then bloomed almost every year since," Rike mused.

Lumber for the house itself was freighted by wagon from Abilene. It was built by Mr. Rike's father shortly after the family came to the area. Rike stated that the house still has its original roof of shingles after 66 years.

In his long career as a land surveyor, Rike at one time or another has probably been over every acre of land in Haskell County, and has surveyed innumerable tracts in the area extending from Graham to the New Mexico line.

He has no idea how many surveys he has made, other than "quite a few of them." Field notes and records fill a number of books which he has filed away and from this vast store of information the veteran surveyor could, if necessary, establish a "corner" for any given tract of land almost anywhere in this area.

One of his first large assignments was running the lines of the Hell O. Campbell Survey in his county. A few years later, he took the job of surveying a league of land in Bailey County, near the present town of Muleshoe.

His last big surveying job was in 1934, when the Reynolds Land & Cattle Company sold their Wolf Creek Ranch holdings, now owned by the Hendrick Estate. Rike and his assistants worked several months establishing boundaries of the Wolf Creek Ranch, Quarantine Pasture, and U-Heart Ranch, located in the adjoining corners of Haskell, Shackelford and Throckmorton Counties.

During the time he was County Surveyor, the Haskell man set permanent markers at all four corners of Haskell County. He encountered considerable difficulty with the marker at the northwest corner, where shifting sands in the breaks of the Salt Fork of the Brazos caused the marker to shift. Finally, Rike pouring a 3,000 pound block of concrete and set it in place. "It hasn't budged an inch yet," he declares.

Away back in 1901, Dr. John W. Thornton, of Toccoopa, Miss., took his 10-year-old son, Word, to a Fourth of July picnic. If the doctor had known what the consequences of that day's celebration were to be, he would no doubt have left his son at home. For on that day his plans for the boy's future were turned upside down. He had expected Word to go away to school when he was older and eventually to become an M. D. and return to Toccoopa and succeed to his father's practice. But at the picnic all this was changed.

Wandering about the grounds the boy found something he had never seen before—a stand piled high with Roman candles, sky-rockets, and firecrackers. He saw other boys buying and shooting, and he bought and shot until all his money was gone and he hunted up his father to beg for more. What appealed to him most were the giant crackers—since outlawed—made a noise like a cannon. When he got home he couldn't get fireworks off his mind. He didn't want to be a doctor. He didn't know what to do, but he knew if he could find a way to make a living shooting off explosives, that was what he would do.

He was 16 when he quit school to join a crew that was using dynamite to blast the stumps from cut-over timberland. Whether it was to wean his son from this occupation or for some other reason, Dr. Thornton moved to Knox County in West Texas where there were no stumps to clear. But the wildcaters were already invading the region, and one day Word Thornton saw a man shoot an oil well. He promptly announced he was in the well shooting business himself, and as the big pools came in—Ranger, Burkburnett, Electra, Smackover and the rest—he soon had plenty of clients. He also acquired a new home. Word didn't seem to go with well shooting anyway and he was pleased when the workers began calling him Tex.

As he went from field to field he saw a number of fires. He saw men sweating to put them out by smothering them with steam or mud or by laborious tunneling and plugging. It occurred to him that a burning oil well might be blown out in the same way a burning candle could be provided you had breath enough. Nitroglycerin, he figured, ought to provide the breath. His opportunity to put this theory to the test came in 1919 at Electra. When the owners of the burning oil well refused to deal with him, he obtained permission to make a try at his own expense. He made a sort of Mother Hubbard garment out of asbestos to protect him from the heat, managed to get the hot metal dragged away, ran in and placed a charge. The flame was snuffed out, and Tex added fire-fighting to his shooting business.

He designed a complete outfit of clothes—pants, jacket, gloves, helmet and shoes—and had the Johns-Manville Company make them out of asbestos. He used to keep as many as a hundred of these suits on hand, for he might use up several in putting out one fire.

Nobody knows exactly how many burning oil and gas wells Tex Thornton put out. He did not keep records. A year before his death in 1948, he estimated he had averaged one a month since 1920 and that he had saved enough gas to supply New York City for 500 years.

Thornton gave his scrapbook, largely kept by his wife, and a collection of photographs to the University of Texas, where they are now housed in the Archives Collection.

Long Range Program Planned to Control Part of Salt Pollution in Brazos River

A long range program of salt pollution in the Brazos River has been announced by the Brazos River Authority. Details of the plan were announced by Herbert S. Hilburn, president of the State Board of Water Engineers, it now has sufficient data to undertake counter-measures in reducing salt pollution.

The initial step of the proposed program is to be construction of a small dam below the Dove Creek Salt Flat. This would be a low earth dam with a concrete "grout curtain" imbedded deeply below the underflowing bed of the creek. It is felt that this dam will contain all the subterranean and "surface flowing" of brine and "spread them into a lake for quick surface evaporation."

The study, contracted by the Brazos River Authority with the Texas A&M Research Foundation, was made by Dr. Horace R. Black, a professor in the college's Department of Geology. It began in August, 1954, and the various findings are being further developed by the Brazos River Authority engineers and staff in collaboration with the U. S. Geological Survey and the State Board of Water Engineers.

A series of expeditions up the tributary known as the Salt Fork of the Brazos, from a point five miles south of Benjamin to the caprock near Crosbyton and the Double Mountain Fork tributary to the eastern edge of the High Plains in central Garza County, uncovered three salt flats on the Salt Fork in the area north of Jayton as the major sources of pollution.

The principal source, which contributes 30 per cent of the lower-river salt, is the Dove Creek Salt Flat. This 400-acre flat is in reality a widening of an intermittent stream surrounded by high bluffs. Here seeps and springs flow pure brine, the subterranean source of which is found in shales and clays underlying the thick gypsum beds of the Peacock formation in these counties.

The brine is surfaced by artesian pressure in quantities that slightly exceed the evaporation, and then flows slowly into the Brazos.

In the two other flats, the Upper Croton Creek Flat and the Short Croton Creek Flat, the artesian pressure is less than the evaporation rate and the brine leaves deposits of almost pure salt. In some cases, it is pure enough for table use. These deposits are quickly dissolved during a heavy rain and are washed downstream. The distance they are carried depends on how heavy the water runs off during the showers, and as a result, the salt has been redeposited in varying quantities up and down the entire tributary.

New Game Bird Adjusts Self To Texas

AUSTIN—Red-legged partridge have been experimentally stocked in parts of West Texas without compromising scaled quail, one of the leading native game birds in the area affected, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

Two shipments of the comparatively large partridge, obtained from Spain, have been released in Texas to test their adaptability to semi-arid climate, and Commission biologists have been painstakingly observing the results.

"At present," stated the latest field report, "there is no indication of antagonism or competition between the redleg and scaled quail. Instead, observations of close contact between species show no opposition and food habit studies indicate very little competition."

"The redleg is a grazer, being very fond of greens. Approximately 90 per cent of his food is green vegetation; whereas, the great majority of the food of the scaled quail is seeds. There is a slight overlap on food requirements, depending on the season, but not to a point of severe competition. And even though their territories fondness for green redleg to winter grain fields true of the associations with less pronounced territory in true Red-legged partridge twice the size of quail, are first and considerable game birds.

Fayette County Town Has State's Lowest Tax Rate

AUSTIN, Texas—Round Top (Fayette County) had the lowest municipal tax rate in Texas in 1952—15 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, a University of Texas Institute of Public Affairs survey shows.

Lynn F. Anderson, the Institute's assistant director, conducted the biennial survey for the League of Texas Municipalities. His report is published in the latest issue of the League's monthly journal, Texas Municipalities.

Seven towns have a 25-cent tax rate, Anderson found. They are Avery (Red River County), Beverly Hills (McLennan County), Blum (Hill County), Byers (Clay County), Point Comfort (Calhoun County), Rio Vista (Johnson County) and Woodsboro (Refugio County).

In July 1953, the first Waves were ordered to duty on board Military ySea Transportation Service Ships.

Three Young People Injured When Car Overturns

Three young people were injured, two of them critically, when their car went out of control and overturned on the highway between Sagerton and Stamford about 4 p. m. Saturday.

Injured were Randel (Duck) McNeil of Haskell; Robbie Sue Culver, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hilliard of Stamford; and Eugene Loftis of Rochester. A fourth youth, George Doftis, was uninjured. He is a brother of Eugene Loftis.

The accident occurred when the 1953 Ford occupied by the four, and driven by McNeil, went out of control after passing another car. The McNeil car was en route to Stamford.

The accident victims were carried to the Stamford Sanitarium, where physicians said they thought the three would recover. Miss Culver suffered severe facial lacerations and cuts on the scalp and neck. McNeil received bruises an abrasions on his arms and back and Eugene Loftis suffered injuries to his neck and spine.

Ft. Worth Has Biggest Cattle Run in Months

By TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH—The number of cattle and calves at Fort Worth Monday was the largest at the market since October, 1955, and prices reflected strength despite the larger number.

Both slaughter and stocker increases apparently, showed numbers and prices were daily steady to strong with spots 25 cents or more higher.

Comparative prices: Slaughter steers and yearlings of good and choice grades at $12.50-$13.50; common and medium sorts $10-$11.50. Butcher and best cows sold from $12.50 to $13.50, load lots of cows at $8 from the Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co., King County; a load at $13.50 from C. T. White Ranch, McCulloch County; and a load of choice young cows including some heiferish kinds at $13.50-$14.50, those at the higher figure weighing 1,075 pounds from Halseell Ranch, Clay County. Canners and cutters $7 to $10.50. Bulls $10-$14.

Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $17-$21.50 and lower grades sold from $13-$16; socker steer yearlings $13-$18; replacement cows $8-$12.50.

Choice meat type hogs topped at $17-$17.50 at Fort Worth Monday, equalling the season's best price for them. Less attractive types and weights at $11-$16, and sows sold from $10-$13.50, a few choice lightweights at $14. Stags sold around $5-$8.

Poultry Require Protection from Summer Heat

By F. W. MARTIN
County Agent

At this season, as summer temperatures climb above 85 degrees, many poultry flocks will drop in egg production. Feed consumption will decrease and water consumption increase. Haskell County poultrymen should begin now to plan for adequate protection of their flocks during periods of high temperature.

Increased water space, more effective ventilation systems, water sprays and shade are all being employed in an effort to thwart old man sun.

Normal body heat of a chicken is about 107 degrees. Chickens have no sweat glands and therefore cannot depend upon evaporation for body cooling. This makes it necessary to take precautions during the summer to provide the birds with shade and ventilation.

About 85% of the sun's heat enters a poultry house as radiated heat through the roof. It is important, therefore, that roofing material be a light colored material that will reflect a large amount of sun rays, reducing the amount of heat absorbed by the roof. The roof should be 8 feet high at the walls and 12 to 15 feet high at the gable. This provides space for roof heat to dissipate in the ceiling area without reaching the chickens. Proper ventilation will carry heated air from the house before it reaches floor level. Roof overhand should be sufficient to keep direct sunlight off the floor and prevent radiated heat from that source.

It is wise to keep outside areas of the house free of tall grass allowing free air movement for ventilation. Keeping outside ground covered with short grass that is well watered helps prevent the warming of air moving into the poultry house.

Tall slot fences are being used to protect the northwest corner of the poultry house from the late afternoon sun. Heating of this corner of the house is reported to be a major cause of death loss during extreme heat.

Some poultry men are using sprinkler systems or a garden hose to spray and carefully wet birds a few minutes each hour during periods of hundred degree temperature. Good air movement is a must when the birds are wet. Otherwise stifling humidity can develop which is harder on the birds than dry heat.

Army Offers Wide Career Field to Graduates

High school students shopping for a career field upon graduation this month, can find a wide selection within the structure of the U.S. Army.

More than 100 technical training courses are offered by the Army, with qualified young men being given the opportunity of selecting a course before enlistment. Most of training courses prepare a man for a job in a civilian industrial field as well as for military assignments.

For the man whose interests lie outside the technical fields, the Army offers a choice of branch assignments, and in some instances a choice of duty location. It is possible to map a portion of a three-year Regular Army enlistment prior to being sworn into service. "Choice, not chance" has become a reality for high school graduates that measure up to the Army's qualification standards.

M/Sgt. Willis Carlton, Army

recruiter, is in Haskell each Friday afternoon from 1 p. m. until 3:30 and can furnish details on how a young man can qualify for a military career of his own choice.

Interested young men desiring to contact him by mail should write M/Sgt. Carlton at Abilene, Room 307, Post Office Building.

Post Office—

 a part in dedicating the new post office. "I am proud that you are securing postal facilities in line with your needs, and this new office will add to the prestige of your already attractive city," he said.

He praised local citizens for their work in securing the new building, and said that it would mean better service in the future.

He told post office patrons they were partners in the "biggest business in the world" and cited figures illustrating the magnitude of postal operations.

"The United States Postal Service is the greatest and most efficient in the world, and handles more mail than all the rest of the world combined," he said.

Receipts of the postal department in the first year of its operation, 1790, amounted to $38,000 while in 1953, last year for which figures are available, receipts exceeded $2 billion.

Forty-nine Billion pieces of mail handled in 1953 cost U. S. patrons less than in other country, but expense of handling was greater than any other country, the speaker said. Wages of postal workers represent 80 per cent of the cost of operating the department he said, and U. S. Postal personnel are the highest paid in the world.

After a flag raising ceremony by Haskell Boy Scouts Benesch and Postmaster Harold Spain cut the ribbon across the door of the new post office. Visitors then were shown through all departments of the new building.

Members of Haskell women's clubs served ice drinks and cookies during the program and visiting hour.

Out-of-town post office personnel attending the program were: Postmaster and Mrs. Jeff Graham, Knox City; Postmaster Johnny Britton, Stamford; Postmaster Miles E. Trice, Rule; Postmaster Gussie Nell Buckner, Rochester; Postmaster D. R. Walsworth, O'Brien; Postmaster Tom R. West, Benjamin; Postmaster Herbert Rinn, Old Glory; Mrs. Johnny Brooks, Sagerton postmaster; Rural Route Carrier Sam Hampton and Mrs. Hampton of Goree; Postmaster R. L. McGuire, R. B. Perkins, clerk and T. E. Brock, rural route office. All were guests to Postmaster Spain at a noon luncheon in the Texas Cafe.

The new building occupied by the post office is on the site of the old Texas Theatre Building, which burned in December, 1953. The new structure, designed expressly for the post office, is owned by W. I. Coggins, Haskell insurance broker.

All fixtures and equipment in the building are new, and facilities include 500 lock boxes, an increase of approximately 100 over the number provided in the old office.

Personnel of the Haskell office, in addition to Postmaster Harold R. Spain, includes Felix (Pete) Frierson, assistant postmaster; H. H. McDonald, P. G. Kendrick and Roy Everett, clerks; Harvey Simmons, city carrier; Walter Kierpeka, Glenn Sammons and Harlan Hartsfield, substitute carriers. Rural route carriers are J. M. Williams, J. M. Diggs, O. W. Tooley, and Walter Adams, who is carrier on Star Route between Haskell and Rochester.

Highway Accidents Mount as Summer Travel Increases

College Station — Take safety with you and enjoy your vacation. Toss Caution to the winds and there may never be another vacation trip, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. For they point out as motor travel booms, traffic accidents, especially in rural areas, also zoom upward.

The Council offers a few suggestions for cutting the summer accident toll. Give the car a thorough check-up before starting on the trip and watch for signs of trouble along the way. Don't block vision by improperly loading the car for good vision is a must for safe driving.

Be prepared for emergencies. A first aid kit, maps, permits if needed, identification, a flashlight, a tool kit and maybe a few spare parts should be carried along.

Much of the responsibility for a safe trip rests with the driver. Fatigue greatly reduces the efficiency. Plan the trip, urges the Council, to allow for rest stops during the day and a good night's sleep each night. Don't, they caution, try to drive and take in the sights at the same time.

Know the laws of the states in which you expect to travel for ignorance of the law is only an excuse. Use traffic signs as a guide for safe driving. They are for your protection.

Traffic will be a problem during the vacation season in all parts of the country. Don't be in a hurry nor drive faster than conditions justify, warns the experts. Be adaptable and fit your driving to the peculiarities and conditions that exist in the areas where you drive. Respect the rights of others and remember, if safety rides with you, you and your family can look forward to next year's vacation.

New Game Bird Being Tried in Panhandle

AUSTIN—Another new game bird, described as "a hair smaller than bobwhite quail," is being introduced into Texas in an effort to bulwark native upland game species.

It is the seese partridge which originated in Pakistan, according to the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission. The first air shipment of 67 seesees is being held in pens in the Palo Duro Canyon area, south of Amarillo, where the fleet birds will be released after they have recovered from the exhausting flight.

The new species are found in the dryer parts of West Pakistan and are accustomed to rugged barren areas.

Meanwhile, Wildlife Biologist A. S. Jackson of Canadian who supervised receipt of the seesees, reported progress on a previously introduced exotic wild game bird. A Cottle county rancher said he saw a female red-legged partridge and young. This is the first brood reported of this larger game bird which was obtained from Spain.

The original shipment of the red legs was received in West Texas last year. A second consignment recently was released in that area. Both red legs and seesees were obtained by the Commission through the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Restoration authorities constantly strive to adapt new species to various areas and point to the incredible success with Chinese ring-necked pheasants as justifying the effort.

The Palo Duro Canyon country which will receive the first seese shipment also is scheduled to get seed stock of wild Aoudad Sheep which are on order at this time.

The first director of the Waves was Capt. Mildred McAfee Horton, former president of Wellesley College.

Soil Bank —

 ous weeds must also be controlled on the "reserved" acreage.

In order to participate in the Acreage Reserve, a farmer must comply with all acreage allotments established for the farm.

The 1956 program contains special provisions and payments which enable farmers to participate this year. Any farmer who otherwise complies with the provisions of the Acreage Reserve may be eligible for payment if:

1. He has underplanted his acreage for cotton and he certifies that he underplanted. (a) in anticipation of complying with the 1956 Acreage Reserve or (b) because of adverse weather conditions; or

2. He has underplanted his 1956 allotment for winter wheat and certifies that this was done because of adverse weather conditions; or

3. He has complied with his farm allotment for a particular crop, but an acreage of the crop was not harvested because of destruction by natural causes.

Maximum and minimum acreages of the basic crops which may be placed in the Acreage Reserve have been established as follows (except that where the allotment is less than the specified acreage minimum or maximum, the total allotment shall be considered as the minimum or the maximum):

For wheat the maximum is the larger of half the wheat allotment or 50 acres. The minimum is the larger of 10 per cent of the allotment or 5 acres.

For cotton, the maximum is the larger of half the allotment or 10 acres. The minimum is the larger of 10 per cent of the allotment or 2 acres.

The payment which a farmer may earn for participating in the Acreage Reserve will be determined by multiplying a base unit rate by a yield factor. The national average rates for 1956 crops are: Cotton 15 cents per pound, wheat $120 per bushel.

The payments will be determined as follows:

For underplanting 1956 wheat, because of adverse weather, the payment will be $4 per acre.

For destruction due to natural causes or for plowing or otherwise physically incorporating the crop into soil, or for clipping, mowing, or cutting the crop, the payment will be based on the smaller of an appraised yield for the field or the normal yield for the farm, but will not be less than $6 per acre.

Provisions of the Conservation Reserve part of the Soil Bank will be announced as soon as practical. Under this part of the program a farmer will be able to earn two types of payment—an annual payment to help compensate for income which he would have received if the "reserved" land had been in crop, and a payment representing a percentage of the cost establishing conservation practices on such land.

The same acreage on a farm may not be included under both the Acreage Reserve and the Conservation Reserve parts of the Soil Bank.

Company Develops Model Haven for Fishermen

AUSTIN, Texas—Three years from the time it was stocked in May, 1953, a lake created by Aluminum Company of America for industrial purposes has been converted into a fisherman's dream, according to reports to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said a principal attraction is a traffic restriction which bars promiscuous motor boating and gives the angler "some semblance of privacy."

The lake, which is in Milam County near Rockdale, was made originally as a cooling unit for ALCOA's huge plant which produces aluminum with electric power generated through use of local lignite.

Since the water was not contaminated through this particular industrial process, company officials called on the Commission for fish management counsel.

The lake was so successfully stocked that black bass limits now are common. There also are good catches of channel catfish and bluegills.

The company, under the Commission arrangement, agreed to make the lake available to the general public subject, however, to strict regulations designed to aid the angler as well as safeguard the new Milam County recreation spot. Motors are limited to 10 horsepower. Racing is banned.

Control of Thrips and Fleahoppers Increases Production of Cotton

Control of thrips and fleahoppers resulted in gains of 310 to 602 pounds of seed cotton an acre in the High Plains area of Texas in 1955. Average gross value of increased yields was $50.44 an acre, says F. W. Martin, County Agent.

Two or three applications of toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor controlled thrips and cotton fleahoppers effectively on the High Plains when initial treatments were applied soon after cotton had reached fruiting stage.

Three thrip and fleahopper control tests with spray formulations of toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor were conducted. First insecticide applications were made soon after plants began to produce squares. Two applications were used in the other two tests.

Treated cotton set fruit earlier and showed less growth than plants in untreated plots. The increased number of forms set fruit excessively when insecticide applications were followed by too early or delayed irrigation, says Martin.

Toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor proved effective in control of thrips and fleahoppers. Although differences were not significant, toxaphene and dieldrin

Proper Range Practices Pay Dividends

College Station—"Proper use and stocking of range land has proven to be profitable from pounds of livestock produced as well as from conservation of soil and water to withstand droughts," says G. O. Hoffman, Extension Range Specialist, Texas A&M College.

In speaking of the practices, Hoffman referred to them as the tools or range management. Each individual should choose the range management tool that will help him maintain a long lasting, profitable ranching business. These range land practices are: proper use and stocking, deferred and rotation grazing, brush control, re-seeding, cross-fencing, salt and water distribution and walkways in marshlands.

Hoffman says the rancher should graze only the number of livestock that he has grass for, with stocking rates figured on using half and leaving half of the current year's growth. Another good practice is deferred grazing. The deferred pastures can be mighty important as a feed reserve during winter. Or, by rotating livestock, one pasture can be deferred while grazing others, says Hoffman.

"By controlling brush, water ordinarily saved from the ground by trees is left for grass. Brush control should always be followed by deferred grazing," Hoffman cautions. Cross fencing should be planned where each area has the same grazing potential. This means that an acre of bottomland may graze as many livestock as 5 acres of upland.

"In marshlands," says Hoffman, "walkways similar to ranch roads, are an important range practice. They are built to get even grazing of the good marsh grasses."

When it is profitable to fence, then proper salt and water distribution can give the rancher a chance to use grasses in the ungrazed corner. Livestock do not need water and salt together as once thought. Livestock will find salt when it is moved into ungrazed areas if they need it.

"Practice of these conservation methods will assure a more profitable business in the future," says Hoffman.

gave somewhat better control than heptachlor at the dosage used. Two applications held fleahopper infestations to low levels in one test. In other tests, a third application was necessary to control rapidly increasing infestations of fleahoppers.

Control of thrips and fleahoppers resulted in economical increases in yields in all three tests. Two applications of the materials produced gains of 310 to 370 pounds of seed cotton per acre. Three treatments produced increased yields of 321 to 391 pounds of seed cotton per acre in one test and 565 to 602 pounds per acre in the other. Gross value of gains in production ranged from $36.63 to $71.32 per acre.

Search Authority For Violation of Game Law Cited

AUSTIN — Peace officers may search a person for contraband wild game only when there is "probable cause" for law violations, according to an interpretation by the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission based on an Attorney General's opinion.

Primary authority for this law enforcement function, the opinion stated, is vested within the Commission's warden forces.

The opinion cited that the "probable cause" provision is frequently defined as "a reasonable ground of suspicion, supported by circumstances sufficiently strong in themselves to warrant a cautious man in the belief that the person accused is guilty of the offense with which he is charged."

Coccidiosis is one of the most destructive diseases of poultry and is a continuous threat to every poultry flock, says Ben Wormell, extension poultry husbandman. Sanitation is a preventative and medication should be used in case of an outbreak.

30 Years Ago—June 11, 1896
A minimum of 7,000 gallons of water will be allowed during the summer months. City Alderman John S. Rike has announced. This will permit home owners and gardeners to use seven instead of three thousand gallons per month during June, July and August for minimum charge of $1.50, Rike explained.

Miss Grace Sewell of Wichita Falls, district administrator for the Texas Relief Commission, spent Monday and Tuesday in Haskell.

Damage estimated at between $10,000 and $11,000 to the plant of the Duncan Gin Company was caused by fire discovered around midnight last Thursday.

Candidates for office will make is held. The final speaking will be held here on Friday night, preceding the primary election.

Cotton price adjustment checks amounting to $9,343.14 were re-

143 cotton producers. Previously, Haskell County farmers had re-

The steel on the Wichita Valley Railroad has been laid into Mundum and work has begun on the section from that point to Haskell. So, in about 30 days or around the fourth of July, the snort of the steam horse may be heard in Haskell.

W. S. Fouts of the south side was in town Thursday. He told us that crops were showing up well in his neighborhood and that cotton which was up to a good stand was not seriously damaged by the hail and heavy rains of last week.

Pokey Lancaster is complaining about the expense involved in getting his dog all "shot" for the year. What with getting "Sallie" a distemper shot, a rabies shot and a dog tag, it came to $9.
"Why, the dog only weighs nine pounds! That's a dollar a pound."
The staff in the county clerk's office surprised Allie Bell Smith with cake 'n coffee on her birthday last week. Tactfully, the candles were left off the cake.
After all, when a girl gets old enough to vote, she doesn't like to broadcast it.

Mrs. Mack Matthews sighed and shook her head. "These weddings and wedding gifts and shower gifts are going to put me on relief yet."

John Crawford brought this to our attention. "In 1868, The New York World printed the following news item on its front pages.

A man about 43 years of age, giving the name of Josua Cooper-smith has been arrested for attempting to extort funds from ignorant and superstitious people by exhibiting a device which he says will convey the human voice over metal wires. He calls the instrument a "telephone" which is obviously intended to imitate the word telegraph and win the confidence of those who know of the success of the latter instrument. Well informed people know that it is impossible to transmit the human voice over wires as may be done with signals of the Morse Code. The authorities who apprehended this criminal are to be congratulated and it is hoped that his punishment will be prompt and for a long prison duration."

Among the freeloaders gathered around the free-cookie-and-punch table at the post office dedication was Earl Correll. He wants the sponsors to know that the food was delicious and the only suggestion he has is, that the next time, they string up a hammock.
Do believe that Harold Spain was trying singlehandedly to prevent any waste from left over cookies. We saw him over there on three different occasions feeding his face.

Spent a stimulating half hour with Mrs. Stanley Furrh discussing the current trend in ladies hats. And no matter what she says, we still think they look silly. So there, then, well, no!

Everyone agreed that the wedding of Wanda Burson and Joe Kimbrough went off without a hitch Sunday. But the festivities following the ceremony were another thing but sedate. First, Janice Garrett, Maurice Fouts and Ber-bara Collins kidnapped the bride.
Then Sonny Matthews, in a burst of youthful enthusiasm, broke off the key in a pair of handcuffs, one of which he had on his own wrist, and attempted vainly to put the other on the groom. He spent the rest of the day looking like Napoleon; one hand in coat trying not to look shifty eyed and criminalistic, if there is such a word.

This '56 Buick is packed with new features - and priced close to the smaller cars!

WANT SOME QUICK FACTS ON the big news in automobiles today —news that can guide you to a smart move and a real smart buy?

Then listen—it won't take long.

The 1956 Buick has so many new developments—in styling—in power —in performance—in ride and handling—that it is, literally, the best Buick yet. That's Fact No. 1.

And Fact No. 2 proves it: Buick today is more strongly entrenched than ever in the top three of the nation's best sellers—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller cars.

One big reason for this success is the strapping new Buick SPECIAL—like the one pictured here.

It's priced right close to those smaller cars—but, like every '56 Buick, it's a whale of a lot more new car for the money.

It cradles a big, new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that's record-high in power and compression, and cramped with engineering news even the costly cars can't claim.

It makes the most of every bit of power with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that's the most efficient yet. With a new development the engineers call "double regeneration," Dynaflo gives you great new acceleration from the first thirty inch of pedal pressure. Eoon before you switch the pitch.

And this '56 Buick cushions you in the softest ride ever. Shows an uncanny sense of direction on every curve and turn. Puts a whole new feeling of safety, security and ity into every mile you drive.

So before you buy any car—up on the latest news. Come try '56 Buick. When you see how new automobile your money buy, we don't think you'll ever for less.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional on extra cost on the Special.

Billy Graham to Visit Haskell on Screen In "Souls in Conflict", Showing June 17

"Souls in Conflict," newest film release by Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., will be shown in Haskell on June 17 at 8:00 p. m. Local arrangements are in charge of the First Baptist Church for special showing. The film will be shown in the church auditorium. All seats are free.

"Souls in Conflict" was filmed during Graham's world-publicized London Crusade. It is a feature-length film in color and it is through screen presentations such as the one scheduled for Haskell that the Graham organization anticipates surpassing the success of an earlier film, "Mr. Texas," described as "the world's first Christian Western," which played to more than 5,000,000 persons in its first two years of showings and of which 135,000 "decisions for Christ" are attributed.

The story of "Souls in Conflict" encompasses the lives of three "typical" individuals, troubled with the present and completely confused about the future. Joan Winmill, star of the British TV thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy," plays an actress; Eric Micklewood and Charles Leno portray a jet pilot and a factory worker, respectively. Their need for a soul-satisfying religious experience is realized when each attends one of Graham's meetings in Harringay Arena, London's vast stadium.

FHA Helps Couple Reach Goal of Owning Home

A 52-acre farm purchased through the Farmers Home Administration in 1942 has enabled Mr. and Mrs. Elam S. Griffith of Star Route, Aspermont, to become landowners and raise their net worth from $1,800 to $17,820 in the 14 years they have owned it.

These figures are based on 1942 valuation which would be equivalent to $35,000 if based on current land value of $60 per acre rather than $30 per acre in 1942. Their rise in material goods has been accomplished by hard work, good management, following approved FHA farm practices, a sound live-a-home program coupled with a good livestock program.

The farm selected by Mr. and Mrs. Griffith has 149 acres in cultivation and 373 acres in pasture. They started out with 11 head of cattle and increased their herd to 40 head at one time, but during the drouth have had to reduce it to 32 head. They have always produced food at home for an average cash value of $500 a year. During the last five years of drouth they have had to borrow some money for farm expenses but never for family living expenses. Proceeds from sale of livestock and livestock products is more than enough to buy food that cannot be produced on the farm and to pay other living expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith have always kept records of their income and expenses which is in keeping with the FHA program.

When they first made application to buy a farm through FHA, they said to own a home was their goal and they were working hard toward it. FHA has made it possible for this goal to be realized.

Very little is still owed on the original loan and one normal year from crops and livestock will see them debt free.

Ft. Worth Man Gets New Post with Gas Company

JOE C. DARROW

Joe C. Darrow, a Lone Star Gas Company vice president, has been placed in charge of all distribution properties of the company, according to an announcement by Chester L. May of Dallas, senior vice president. The properties consist of company-owned and operated gas systems in Haskell and 450 other cities and towns in Texas and Oklahoma, May said.

With headquarters in Dallas, Darrow takes over his new assignment June 16 after serving as General Manager of the Fort Worth Division of Distribution from 1951 until January, 1954, and as vice president in charge of the division since that date.

Darrow's successor in Fort Worth is A. P. Rowland, recently elected vice president, who began his career with Lone Star in 1924.

Darrow, a native of Millford, Texas, attended the University of Texas and went to work for Lone Star in 1927 as a construction timekeeper. He was appointed local manager at Hugo, Okla., in 1932, then held district managerial assignments at Itasca, Terrell, and Brownwood until 1946 when he was appointed superintendent of distribution operations for the Dallas Division of Distributon. He was transferred to Abilene in 1949 as superintendent of Lone Star's West Texas distribution properties. Two years later he was appointed to the Fort Worth division as general manager.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF HASKELL AND ITS TRADE TERRITORY

DO NOT DESTROY—PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

You Need Your Local Theatre!!! Your Local Theatre Needs You!!!

YOU WOULD NO MORE LIKE TO LIVE IN A TOWN WITHOUT A THEATRE . . . THAN YOU WOULD LIKE TO LIVE IN A TOWN WITHOUT A CHURCH . . . FOR SUCH A TOWN IS A DEAD TOWN INDEED!!

There have been hundreds of theatres in towns in our own U.S.A. that have had to close their doors for lack of attendance, Federal admission tax and various other reasons . . . But, lots of these theatre doors were re-opened, some by the owners, with a promise of support by the people, others have been opened by the town merchants, because they realized what it meant to have the town's brightest spot close its doors . . . The people got behind the theatre and kept it running. Less than three years ago, my Company invested a tremendous amount of money in a fine, modern, up-to-date THEATRE for the good people of Haskell, believing that you fine people would support such a theatre . . . Such is not the case . . . In my over 25 years in theatre business . . . I have never seen such a nice theatre so poorly supported. I have only been in your fine little city a short time, and I have never met a more friendly group of people. Without exception, everybody that we have met or come in contact with, give us that "glad to have you with us" feeling. Believe me, this kind of attitude is a great asset to any town. I know, because I have been in some "Cold" towns. My family and I would like to stay with you for an indefinite period . . . But, unless I can get YOU to support your local Texas Theatre with your attendance . . . let's say at least once a week. I'll have to move on the first opportunity that comes for me to move. I am no different from any of you, in that, I like to make money too . . . But, I don't like to move . . . SO, HELP ME OUT, WONT YOU? If you are a habitual out-of-town movie-goer or shopper, remember dollars spent out of Haskell do not return to Haskell . . . Other towns contribute nothing to Haskell's welfare! If you live in or near Haskell, it's your duty as a citizen to support Haskell!

PLEASE READ ON . . . Thanks.

I have heard numerous complaints since I have been here that we are running old pictures. Certainly, this is not true. After looking over some pictures that have already played Haskell, I was surprised that you had already had the opportunity to see some of them. Naturally, the small towns are not always the first to get a picture after its release date. We only have one first run theatre in Haskell, but we get the pictures to you as fast as we can. I can assure you that the very best of the pictures will run in the TEXAS . . . even if you will bear with us and have to wait on some. After all, a picture will remain new to you until you have seen it. In other words, if you have never seen "Gone with the Wind", it would still be new to you. I will agree, that there are some pictures that are released occasionally that I had rather not run at all. But there are angles to this business, like others, and situations arise at times of which we do not have complete control. But, here is something very definitely in your favor. Numerous magazines give you the dope on just about any picture that is released. This gives parents the opportunity of picking the pictures for themselves as well as their children. I cannot think of a better magazine to give you the straight dope than "PARENT'S MAGAZINE". Our programs are always advertised in The Haskell Free Press. In closing, I want to congratulate the parents of Haskell's teen-age groups. So far as I have observed, they are a fine bunch of youngsters. The smaller children are tops, too . . . Let's keep them that way. Some of our Nation's towns and cities are not so fortunate. The making of good children has to start in the home. REMEMBER, we always welcome constructive criticism. Please feel free to offer any suggestion that will help us to help you. We welcome any chance to help any group or organization if it is in our power to do so. WE WANT to be of service to you and Haskell, BUT, REMEMBER, WE NEED YOUR ATTENDANCE!! Thanks for reading this letter. I am sincerely,

Your theatre manager,
Al Haley

P. S. We are glad you can have TV . . . but you have no control of programs . . . whereas you can select your movies . . . Don't become addicted to your TV set . . . get out and see a movie once a week! A. H.

"Serving You with 3 Generations of Cox's"

Open Letter to the People Of Haskell County

Dear Friends:
I am Jack Banner, a candidate for State Senator from the 23rd District covering Archer, Baylor, Cottle, Foard, Haskell, Hardeman, King, Knox, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young Counties. During the next two months I will be campaigning your community and hope to talk with you personally. Until such time I would like for you to read this letter so as to get acquainted and to tell you about myself.

I live in Wichita Falls at 4801 Hollandale. My wife, Ruth, and I have two little girls, Vickie, age 5 and Rosana, age 4. I am a lawyer with an active practice in general matters representing individuals. I graduated from the University of Texas in 1949 with a B. A. degree and received a LL.B. in 1951. Next I received an appointment as Attorney to the Supreme Court of Texas, a position which I held for one year before beginning private practice in Wichita Falls. In 1955 I was elected a City Councilman for Wichita Falls.

Economy in Government
In the last six years the cost of operating our State Government has increased more than 300%. As taxpayers we are receiving the same services while paying three times as much for these benefits. It is my hope that by thoughtful legislation this high cost may be reduced and the money so saved applied to establish a State Farm Program and conserve our Water Resources.

We are all familiar with the shocking Veteran's Land Scandals which have cost us as taxpayers more than 1 million dollars. You as a citizen deserve more vigilant representation to prevent this and other similar frauds.

State Farm Aid
At this time the State has no comprehensive farm program. There is no actual program for giving aid or loans to farmers who are in desperate need of help. Each year thousands of pounds of various seeds rot or lay unused in state warehouses—Why isn't this being used to improve farm resources of our state?

Water Resources
As you and I both know the future of our State will depend to a great measure on how much water we will be able to count on in the next generation. Irrigation and droughts have dried many of our water sands and annual sources of water, while at times spring torrents wash away the soil and destroy our homes. Tomorrow will be too late —We must enact legislation now to conserve our water resources.

Taxes
Our government is supported by taxes, and of course, we must have tax money to continue any form of government. I believe by more efficiency in our government and wiser spending for necessary services tax increases can be avoided. There has been talk of enacting a State Sales Tax or a State Income Tax. You may be assured that I could never vote in favor of these programs which would deprive our pensioners and low income groups of bread and milk by raising the cost of the necessities of life.

I seek office of State Senator because I feel that our State Government has become stagnant and inefficient. For Texas to grow and prosper we must pull our boots from the mud and step toward the future.

I have nothing to give nor to promise you other than fair representation, honesty and desire to better our state. Will you vote for me?

(Pol. Adv.) JACK BANNER.

The lines of the Ford Customline Victoria are low—and so's the price

Ford's New Customline Victoria

Open-air smartness of a convertible . . . carefree GO of Ford's great V-8!

If you've admired the wide-open beauty of hardtops but have always been a little "gun shy" of their price, then this new Ford Customline Victoria was meant for you. For here is all you have dreamed of in a hardtop—including a price tag that will be a pleasant surprise!

But this car's economy only begins with its low price. Its low operating cost will delight you! In fact, this very model won the Mobilgas Award for delivering the greatest gas economy per pound in Ford's field! Or, you may order the mighty 202-h.p. Thunderbird V-8 engine that's now available in all Fordomatic Ford's—the same basic engine that powered Ford to victory at Daytona.

Like its Fairlane running-mate, this Customline hardtop has quarter windows that roll down completely, leaving nothing between you and the view but fresh air. You get the open-air smartness of a convertible, the trim lines of a Thunderbird, and the snug comfort of a sedan.

As for safety, you drive surrounded by Ford's Life-guard Design. You may never need Ford's deep-center steering wheel, double-grip door locks and other Life-guard features . . . but it's nice to have them just in case!

Better arrange for your "driving date" soon. Slide behind the wheel and head for the wide open spaces. When you return you'll understand why Ford is the V-8 with the world's biggest following.

You'll ride like royalty in the luxurious interior of the Ford Customline Victoria. Virtually a "living room" on wheels, it features deep-cushioned seats upholstered in exquisite new fabrics. Each fabric is color harmonized with the interior trim and exterior finish.

In Performance Ford won the Pure Oil Manufacturer's Award for top all-around performance.	In Safety Ford won Motor Trend Award for year's greatest automotive achievement.	In Economy Ford won Mobilgas Economy Run Award for greatest gas economy.
