

THE UNIVERSITY DAILY

Serving Texas Tech Since 1925

FRIDAY

October 29, 1999
Volume 75, Issue 44

Saturday: cloudy, high 59

Stocks	Nasdaq	S&P 500	Dow Jones
price:	2,875.22	1,342.44	10,622.53
change:	+72.70	+45.73	+227.64
Thursday's closing figures

STATE NEWS —

Killer of 94-year-old Dallas woman executed

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — A convicted Thursday night for raping and fatally beating a 94-year-old woman who was watering the flowers outside her Dallas home more than 11 years ago.

Domingo Cantu was pronounced dead at 6:23, nine minutes after the flow of lethal drugs began.

In a brief final statement, the 31-year-old Cantu spoke in German and Spanish before switching to English.

"I love you. I'll be waiting for you on the other side," he said to his wife, who witnessed the execution. "Be strong. No matter what happens, God is looking over you."

Then he said the words "Jesus Mercy" three times before losing consciousness.

His sister, watching through a window a few feet away, waved an eagle feather, making the sign of a cross and then moving it in a circular motion.

NATIONAL NEWS —

MIT fraternity loses license over underage drinking

BOSTON (AP) — An MIT fraternity accused of serving alcohol to an underage Wellesley College student lost its dormitory license Thursday.

The Boston Licensing Board gave residents of the off-campus Sigma Alpha Epsilon house until Nov. 15 to find new lodging.

"They have to be told they aren't children anymore," said chairman Daniel Pokaski. "I don't think they even have a clue."

Following a party at Sigma Alpha, fraternity members drove a group of women back to Wellesley on Sept. 3 and dropped the intoxicated student off at a hospital. She was treated and released.

Two years ago, the Licensing Board revoked the dorm license of another Massachusetts Institute of Technology fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta, after an 18-year-old freshman, Scott Krueger, drank himself into a coma and died. The fraternity eventually disbanded.

Sigma Alpha lawyer Carl King said the fraternity was disappointed by the board's decision.

WORLD NEWS —

U.S. warplanes bomb an Iraqi site in northern no-fly zone

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Responding to Iraqi fire, U.S. warplanes bombed an Iraqi anti-aircraft artillery site in the northern no-fly zone on Thursday, a U.S. military statement said.

U.S. planes dropped precision-guided bombs on the site east of Mosul, 250 miles north of Baghdad, the Germany-based U.S. European Command said.

All planes left the area safely, it added.

On Wednesday, U.S. planes bombed an Iraqi surface-to-air missile site. One of the bombs missed its intended target, but did not result in civilian casualties or damage.

Iraq has repeatedly claimed that the U.S. bombings have caused civilian casualties.

U.S. and British planes patrol no-fly zones in northern and southern Iraq, set up after the 1991 Persian Gulf War to protect Kurds and Shiites from President Saddam Hussein.

It's that time...

Don't forget Daylight Savings Time on Sunday!
Set those clocks back one hour.
Time to fall back!

Engineering to announce endowment

by Ashley Johnson
Staff Writer

The Texas Tech College of Engineering will announce the establishment of one of the largest endowments in the college's history today at a press conference in 100 Engineering center.

The endowment, named the Koh Family Engineering Scholarships, was established in memory of some of the members of the Koh family.

The $2.7-million endowment will be used to fund scholarships for engineering students.

Four $7,000 scholarships for undergraduates with a 3.0 GPA and above and four $15,000 graduate scholarships for students with a 3.5 GPA or above will be awarded. However, the scholarship is not available to students enrolled at Tech.

"Tech students are currently denied applying for the scholarship in order to attract scholars from all over," said Jack Powers, a retired faculty member in mechanical engineering for 50 years and close friend of the Koh family. He is a member of the scholarship committee.

Consideration also will be given to those who want to pursue careers in medicine, law, or business upon completion of their engineering degrees.

The scholarships are available to current and prospective engineering students from around the nation as well as international students.

"This scholarship is characteristic of Koh and his wishes to recognize education as the highest order one can achieve," Powers said.

The Koh family legacy began when they moved from China to the United States during World War II.

Both Pun Kien Koh and his wife, Jean Sie, were Tech faculty members. Pun Kien earned his Ph.D. in metallurgy at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1937. He came to the Hub City in 1966 and taught mechanical engineering, and retired in the late 1980s.

Pun Kien died in December 1994.

His wife founded the Tech Department of Chinese Language and remained an active member until her retirement in 1980.

She died in February 1998. The scholarship also is in memory of their son, Robert Koh, who died in 1964 in a car accident.

Their daughter, Jessica Koh Lewis, is the administrator of the $2.7 million estate.

"My parents came to the United States with one suitcase for three people and $1,000 in their pockets," she said.

"With hard work and scholastic achievement they were able to provide the opportunity to help outstanding students earn a college education."

The Kohs contributed greatly to the university, said Marion Hagler, a member of the Koh scholarship committee.

He said the Koh's generosity and love for education provided more than a great opportunity for future engineering students at Tech.

Costume Party

Melissa Martin, a freshman education major from Graham, and Brooke Woodruff, a freshman political science major from Graham, try on Halloween costumes Thursday in preparation for Sunday's observance.

Halloween costume choices force anxiety, creativity for students

by Sebastian Kitchen
Staff Writer

A wrestler or former president? A genie or a hippie? A villain? A superhero? Every Halloween, thousands of people walk into the doors of Lubbock costume shops with a decision to make — they can be a good guy or a villain, sexy or funny.

"You want something cute, something sexy but not skanky," said Sarah Walsh, a freshman advertising major from Coppel.

Well, maybe something a little skanky, said Walsh's friend Emily Adams, a freshman premedical major from Coppel.

"But something our mom wouldn't scream at," said Adams.

Walsh said she was looking at sequins, boas and black leather.

"I am going to put a bunch of things together and make something out of it," she said.

The toughest part about picking a Halloween costume is being original, Walsh said.

Procrastination is another problem.

Jeremy Rayford is searching for a way to go with his 1970s leisure suit. The costume shop was out of Afros so he had to look for something else.

"When you wait this late, it is a problem," said Rayford, a junior business major from Tyler. "I should have been here a month ago. It might have been a little easier."

People are in search of the perfect costume for date parties, sorority and fraternity functions, trips to the haunted house or fraternal parties.

Cayce Barton and Tara Green were searching for matching costumes for a sorority date-party.

Barton was supposed to select Green's outfit, but she did not trust him. So now, the day before the party, Green said they are "desperate."

Barton wanted to be a Chippendale's dancer. That did not pass her test. Last year, the couple went as Pamela Anderson and Tommy Lee.

This year, the couple wanted to be Austin Powers and Felicity Shagwell but could not make a final decision.

Austin Powers and matching go-go girls are a popular costume idea this year, said Stella Nieman, employee at The Joker, located at 52nd Street and Avenue Q.

Genies and hippies are popular this year, she said.

Harem girls and Batman and Robin are annual favorites. A "Scream" outfit has been popular for the last three years, Nieman said.

Some people walk into the costume shops with an idea of what they want to be, and others try to decide while they are there.

Nieman, who has worked in a costume shop seasonally for almost six years, was not definite on what she was going to wear.

"I haven't decided yet, but I think I'm going to be a devil," she said.

Meanwhile, she was having a devil of a time keeping up with the line of customers looking for outfits.

Student lands role in film

by Cory Chandler
Staff Writer

The Texas Tech campus has seen the likes of John Denver, Barry Corbin and Zach Thomas over the years. Mike Scott might be able to add his name to the list of famous people who have attended the university after his latest job.

Scott, a senior marketing major from Aledo, recently landed a role in an upcoming new movie, "Dr. T and the Women." The movie will star Richard Gere, Helen Hunt, Liv Tyler and Laura Dern. Farah Fawcett also was recently added to the cast. Scott plays the role of Randy, who works as an assistant golf professional for Helen Hunt's character.

In the movie, Gere plays the role of Dr. T, a gynecologist who gets taught a lesson by his female patients.

Scott said he sees the new job as a breakthrough opportunity, and views the chance to work with an Oscar-winning actress as a great way to get noticed as an actor.

Scott

"Even if I only have 10 lines, it's worth the chance to act with such big names," he said.

Scott has worked with the Tech theatre department, participating in such plays as "Fate with a Capitol F" and "Guys and Dolls."

"I think that Tech Theatre helped prepare me for this job," Scott said.

"I got to work with some amazing people there, and if it wasn't for that experience, I'd probably be a lot more nervous."

He also has worked in Switzerland the last two summers, doing commercials and plays.

Despite his previous work, Scott said trying to act with such famous people will be a little intimidating.

"I got a chance to meet Richard Gere the other day," Scott said. "I was thinking about how hard it will be to act with him."

Scott has auditioned for movies in Dallas for the last five years.

"I auditioned for a movie last spring," he said. "I didn't get the part, but the same lady called me back and asked me to come read for this one."

Scott, who is scheduled to graduate this December, will be missing some classes to begin filming. He said his teachers were willing to work with him.

"They understand that this is a big opportunity for me," he said.

Dena Scott, Scott's mother, said she is encouraging him to follow his dream.

"This is the best time for him to try to pursue it, while nothing is holding him back," she said. "I'd rather he do it now than regret it five years down the road if he didn't."

Contest gives students chance at free tuition

by Andy Jones
Staff Writer

The Texas Tech Dads and Moms Association is giving students a chance at free tuition for a year.

Students can purchase tickets from the association to win $2,500 toward a full year's tuition. Second prize will be up to $1,250 for one semester.

Other prizes include a complete multi-media computer system, four $250 textbook scholarships, and Microsoft software.

The Student Government Association, one of the sponsors of the raffle, will begin selling tickets to students Monday at the entrance to the University Center food court. The tickets cost $5.

The SGA's role is to sell as many tickets as possible, said Carrie Evans, internal vice president of the SGA.

Evans said 25,000 tickets have been printed to sell to students and there is no limit on the amount a student can purchase.

Tickets also can be purchased in the Dads and Moms Association office, 244 West Hall.

Tickets have been on sale to members of the Dads and Moms Association and others since Oct. 1, with Meg Garland, endowment cabinet chair for the Dads and Moms Association, beginning ticket sales before the Texas A&M football game.

Ticket profits will go toward the Dads and Moms scholarship endowment, said Trudy Putteet, associate dean of students and director of the Dads and Moms Association.

"We have 55 scholarships a year that are open to any Tech student," Putteet said. "We are concerned about the number (of scholarships), but also about making sure they do a lot of good."

The scholarships offered by the Dads and Moms Association are separate from anything offered at the Financial Aid office, Garland said. She encourages all students to stop by the office to see if they are eligible for an scholarship.

"We need (students) to know they can come by the Dads and Moms Association office," Garland said. "There is a lot of help available if they'll come by and sign up."

She said the drawing winners will be announced during half-time of the Iowa State game Nov. 6. The Dads and Moms Association will host events Nov. 5 through Nov. 7 for Family Day.

Family Fun Night at the Student Recreation Center will kick-off the weekend at 6 p.m. Friday with an all-you-can-eat-dinner, parent awards and a spirit rally, Putteet said.

Tickets bought in advance cost $6.95 for adults and $4.95 for children under 12. Tickets purchased at the door cost $1 more.

Three arrested for smuggling heroin to U.S.

HIDALGO (AP) — Three men from New York were arrested this week on federal drug-smuggling charges, including one who was hospitalized after allegedly ingesting heroin pellets, U.S. Customs authorities said.

Samil Caicedo Mina, 23, of Corona, N.Y., was under medical supervision Thursday at a hospital, where he has been trying to expel the pellets since Tuesday, U.S. Customs Service agents said.

Also arrested on Tuesday were Julio Hincapie, 42, a Colombian citizen who lives in East Elmhurst, N.Y.; and Julian Torres, 30, of Long Island, N.Y.

A federal magistrate ordered that they be held without bond.

Professor Count Dracula, Ph.D.

Students study history of witchcraft, vampires in time for Halloween

by Adrienne Gaviglio
Staff Writer

Texas Tech does not limit its students to studying only the norms of society, it also has incorporated classes that venture into the darker lives of vampires and witches.

Students who enroll in History 4374, which studies love, death and magic, will get a glimpse into the lives of witches in Europe between 1500 and 1800.

"I try to spend a lot of time on issues that historians have spent a great deal of time on such as the history of love, death and magic (witchcraft)," said David Troyanski, professor of history.

"The class originally was titled 'Social and Cultural History of Europe,' but when I decided to change the focus of my discussions to only these three issues, I renamed the class."

There were dramatic increases in the number of enrolled students after the class name was changed, Troyanski said.

Some students may have enrolled in the class hoping to focus only on witchcraft, but by the first day of class, they are told that witchcraft is only a small portion of the lecture, he said.

The course does have a catchy title, and it is probably used to attract more students, said Elizabeth Harper, a History and women's studies major from Lubbock.

"The class does touch on a lot of icons of death and witchcraft, but they are taught from a historical view point," Harper said. "This class takes a practical look at witchcraft and the different viewpoints people hold."

Overall, the class is very enjoyable and interesting because it looks outside the norms of society, she said.

The course is intended to inform students about the different social and cultural history of societies.

"My class studies the sexuality of love through the years, and religious upheaval in the 18th century," Troyanski said. "The magic portion of the class focuses on the supernatural and the different levels of culture, pertaining to witchcraft especially."

The course is part of the Women Studies program because of accusations of witchcraft made against many women in this period of time.

"I have found that many students were attracted to my class because of their fascination with new-age religion," Troyanski said.

"The cultures during the 1500s to 1800s may have seen some of these people as witches, but a lot of them do not fit the notions that we may have of a witch."

Classical and Modern Languages also is offering a class on vampires in Eastern Europe and Western culture.

The class was introduced by visiting professor Jennifer Sunseri from Ohio State University.

The title of the class is self-explanatory and focuses on the history of vampires.

"I find that many of my students like my vampire class, but find it a bit more challenging than they had thought it would be," Sunseri said. "We study how every culture perceives vampires and especially how they originated in Europe."

In the first half of the course, the class studies why Europeans believed in vampires, she said.

"The second half of the class is focused on how vampires are perceived in America, and I ask that my students find studies of vampires in America that I have never heard of," Sunseri said.

"There are actually vampires' bodies that were dug up that we talk about, and various presentations are made throughout the class."

The course also focuses on many issues that come from the Victorian age and their cultures.

"I am not promoting vampire beliefs, but I do want students to have the opportunity to get to know other cultures," Sunseri said.

"Every culture has some kind of fictional vampire."

Both teachers agreed their classes are certainly not blow-off courses, but rather cover in depth the proposed subject matter.

THE UNIVERSITY DAILY
Box 43081, Texas Tech University,
Lubbock, Texas, 79409
Room 211 Journalism Building
Volume 75

Copyright © 1999 Texas Tech University Student Publications/The University Daily. All UD articles, photographs, artwork and graphics are the property of The University Daily and Texas Tech Student Publications and may not be reproduced or published without written permission from the editor.

Editor: Wayne Hodgins
Managing Editor: Jason Bernstein
News Editor: Greg Okuhara
Tech/Info Editor: Laura Hensley
Sports Editor: Nathan Notley
Photography Editor: Greg Kreller
Copy Editors: Ismara Quant, Lindsay Rowden
Student Advertising Manager: Kevin Preas
Editorial Adviser: Carla McKeown
Asst. Editorial Adviser: Sheri Lewis

Special Class Postage paid by The University Daily, Journalism Building, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas, 79409. Postmaster: send address changes to above address. Publication number: 766480. The UD is a student newspaper published Monday through Friday, September through May, Tuesdays and Fridays June through August, except during university examination and vacation periods. The UD is funded primarily through advertising revenues generated by the student sales staff with free campus distribution resulting from student service fees. Subscriptions: $90 annually; single issues: 25 cents.

CHEAPEST DRY ICE AROUND!

 55¢/lb. HAVE A SMOKIN' HALLOWEEN!
$5.50/10lb

Cotey Chemical 4410 MLK Jr. Blvd. 747-2096

PROBLEM PREGNANCY

Are you considering ABORTION?

CONFIDENTIAL Free Pregnancy Testing & Information
Planned Family Clinic - Lic #028

Call (806) 792-6331 ~ Lubbock, Texas

Harvest Festival '99

a Christian spin on fright night brought to you by:

W.O.L.F. Ministries
Spiritual Chant Records
Strength Designs
and the following sponsors:
Stan's Car Stereo
Daybreak Coffee Roasters
McDougal Properties
DLA Construction
Newwest Banks
Jett's House of Music

Grissy's Cleaners and Laundry
Hurst Farm Supply
Shakespeare's Car Quest
Triangle Manufacturing
Shanburger Insurance Agency
United Supermarkets
Bigman's Smokehouse

when: October 30th
where: First Church of the Nazarene
6110 Chicago Ave.
Lubbock, TX

A Lubbock Tradition

SADDLEWOOD EL DAPPAIRRAL Sonty Park

7001 Utica Ave. 5202 Bangor 6402 Albany
796-1084 795-9755 794-3185

Let us give you a tour and make one of our communities a part of your tradition

Professionally Managed by EPT Management Co.

AMERICAN COUNCIL OF THE BLIND THRIFT STORE

Great for All Your Student Necessities such as Clothing, Shoes, TV's, Furniture, Appliances, Misc, Glassware, & Many Other Household Items.
More Than 1000 New Items Daily!

OPEN 9:00am - 8:00pm Mon. - Sat.
1508 34th St. 762-1453

WE ACCEPT CHECKS AND ALL MAJOR CREDIT CARDS

JAZZ
a Louisiana Kitchen

"Let The Good Times Roll"

Everyday is FAT TUESDAY
featuring "JIVE TRIBE"
9:30-12:30

3703 C 19th St.
799-2124

Tuesday
FAT TUESDAY
$2 Fattires

Wednesday
Spike Dykes Show & Music by Kyle Aberbath
$1 Bud -Budlight

Thursday
JAZZ Alley
9:00-12:00

Sunday
Brian McCray Trio
9:30-12:30

This Guy Didn't Go To

ALPHA Plasma Center

And He Didn't Earn $100 with his first four donations
Alpha Plasma Center 2415 Main (Across from the UP)

Appointments Available 747-2854
Mon & Fri 8-5 * Tue-Thurs 8-7 * Sat-Sun 9-5

Froggy Bottoms comedy clubs inc.

offers FROGGY'S DEFENSIVE DRIVING

Taught By Comedians & Professional Entertainers at

Lubbock's ONLY Live Comedy Club

Flexible Class Schedules Monday through Thursday and Saturdays

5131 Aberdeen 785-4477

LAUGH WHILE YOU LEARN

see the light >>

Treat Yourself Today Color Your Hair

$35 Now Thru Christmas!

• call for an appointment
• open for late appointments until 8pm

CARLOS ESTRADA SALON

4406-B 19th • 792-3272

PICTURE THIS!

YOU can be in the Millennium Edition of the La Ventana for FREE!!

Yearbook photos are being taken TODAY in Carpenter/Wells Hall.

9:00 AM - 12:00 NOON
1:00 PM - 4:30 PM

LV2K
LA VENTANA 2000
A Tech Tradition Since 1925

Haunted houses to spook Tech visitors

by Angela Loston
Staff Writer

In a dark and eerie underground, scenes of a fiery hell unfold. The sight of an electric chair and a razor-sharp guillotine incites absolute fear and terror into various spectators. This thrilling dwelling, filled with shrill screams and ghastly sights is created by a group of Texas Tech students and is one of two haunted houses on campus.

"It'll be quite a thrill," Greg Bray, a senior electrical engineer and computer science major from Houston, said.

The Haunted Basement, sponsored by Eta Kappa Nu and the Institute for Electrical and Electronics Engineering, will be open from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. today and Saturday in the basement of the Electrical Engineering building. Admission costs $3.

Bray said the Haunted Basement is a fund-raiser to support scholarships.

Members of Eta Kappa Nu and IEEE are not the only groups that want to incite fear into students. The Gordon/Sneed/Bledsoe Residence Complex also has brought their own brand of terror to horrify eager spectators by organizing the Gordon/Sneed/Bledsoe Haunted Basement.

"I believe everybody that goes down there will enjoy it," said Adam Lambeth, a junior literature major from Tyler. "Unless you get ice water in your veins, you'll be scared."

While in the basement, Lambeth said, students will be lead through various rooms that will have a variety of terrifying settings. Students can choose to visit an eerie crematorium or a bloody butcher shop.

Lambeth said the haunted basement will raise funds for Women's Protective Services.

The Gordon/Sneed/Bledsoe Haunted Basement will be open from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. this weekend. Admission costs $3.

Friendly ghost haunts Tech

by Kelly Padgett
Staff Writer

The ghost that roams the halls of the Ex-Students Association building is not quite the scary Halloween story some might want to hear. It is merely a harmless visitor at the center, the former house of the first Texas Tech president.

Marsha Gustafson, who formerly worked in the building as the editor of the Texas Technian, said she thinks the ghost is that of Paul Whitfield Horn, Tech's first president, who died of a heart attack in his office.

"The spirit of a person remains in a place where his work is not completed," Gustafson said.

If the ghost does exist in the building, Gustafson said it is definitely not a bad or harmful presence.

"I believe there's something there, something peculiar," she said.

The actual office area Horn died in now belongs to Susan Bowen, chapter development assistant.

Bowen said she does not believe the building is haunted, but the stories that go around are still fun to hear. Over the years, employees have playfully renamed the spirit George.

People have felt something touching their hair, smelled cigar smoke when no one has been smoking and even heard voices when no one was there.

Marketing Director of the Ex-Students Association Curt Langford shares Bowen's belief, or non-belief, in George.

"It's ridiculous. There's nothing to it," Langford said. "I am still anxiously awaiting my first encounter with George."

One woman who has experienced encounters with George is Mandy Wiley, the Tech Traditions store manager.

Wiley said when she would leave the store at night and return the next morning, she would find a child mannequin's cap in the center of the floor.

"After the third day in a row, I finally asked George if he just didn't like the hat, I would use another one," Wiley said. "And the new cap never moved since then."

Wiley said she thinks of George as a good, clean, fun conversation piece that is not frightening.

George also seems to stack the quarters in Wiley's change tray at night. Wiley said she will come in to find a perfectly stacked pile.

Ex-Students Association Vice President Bill Dean said he believes the house's age has everything to do with the spooks.

"It is one of the oldest buildings on this campus," Dean said. "It creaks, especially when it's windy."

Dean said he is not denying the fact that he could get a little spooked at night if alone, but he said he does not believe George exists.

Some employees who work in the

File Photo Illustration/The University Daily

Ex-Students Association building say they feel George around at times but have no reason to be scared of him.

SHOP EARLY!
FOR BEST GIFT SELECTION

WILLOUGHBY & Co.
2211 University (806) 744-5040
Lubbock, Texas 79410
www.willoughbycompany.com

CINEMARK
The Best Seat in Town

Linseltown
82nd St @ University (806) 748-1067
$4.00 ALL SHOWS BEFORE 6PM
$4.00 SENIORS & CHILDREN - $6.25

ALL STADIUM SEATING

HOUSE ON HAUNTED HILL [R] No Passes DIGITAL 11:05a 1:35p 4:10p 7:25p 10:15p
MUSIC OF THE HEART [PG-13] 11:00a 1:45p 4:40p 7:35p 10:40p
AMERICAN BEAUTY [R] DIGITAL 11:35a 2:20p 5:05p 7:40p 10:40p
BATS [PG-13] No Passes 11:10a 1:35p 4:10p 7:05p 9:40p
BLUE STREAK [PG-13] 11:05a 4:00p 9:30p
BRINGING OUT THE DEAD [R] No Passes DIGITAL 11:15a 1:55p 4:30p 7:30p 10:25p
CRAZY IN ALABAMA [PG-13] No Passes 1:30p 7:00p
DOUBLE JEOPARDY [R] DIGITAL 12:00p 2:35p 5:10p 7:50p 10:25p
THE ADVENTURES OF ELMO IN GROUCHLAND [G] 73 min
11:30a 1:30p 3:30p 5:30p
RIGHT CLUB [DIGITAL] 12:55p 4:55p 7:20p 10:35p
FOR LOVE OF THE GAME [PG-13] 11:40a 3:00p 7:10p 10:30p
RANDOM HEARTS [R] 12:35p 3:45p 7:10p 10:30p
RUNAWAY BRIDE [PG] 7:30p 10:35p
SUPERSTAR [PG-13] DIGITAL 11:10a 1:30p 4:00p 7:00p 9:30p
THE BEST MAN [R] DIGITAL 11:25a 2:25p 4:45p 7:45p 10:45p
THE SIXTH SENSE [PG-13] 11:00a 1:25p 4:00p 7:15p 9:30p
THE STORY OF US [R] DIGITAL 11:45a 2:15p 4:45p 7:50p 10:00p
THREE KINGS [R] DIGITAL 11:20a 1:55p 4:35p 7:30p 10:15p
THREE TO TANGO [PG-13] No Passes DIGITAL 11:20a 1:45p 4:20p 7:05p 10:10p

MOVIES 16

Spur 327 @ Frankford Ave. (806) 792-0357
$4.00 ALL SHOWS BEFORE 6PM
$4.00 SENIORS & CHILDREN - $6.25

STEREO SURROUND SOUND IN ALL AUDITORIUMS

HOUSE ON HAUNTED HILL [R] No Passes 2:15p 4:55p 7:30p 10:15p
MUSIC OF THE HEART [PG-13] 4:00p 7:00p 9:50p
THE OMEGA CODE [PG-13] 2:00p 4:35p 7:30p 10:10p
BATS [PG-13] No Passes 2:20p 4:50p 7:15p 9:30p
BLUE STREAK [PG-13] 2:15p 4:45p 7:15p 9:35p
BRINGING OUT THE DEAD [R] No Passes 4:05p 7:10p 10:10p
DOUBLE JEOPARDY [R] 2:00p 4:40p 7:25p 10:00p
DRIVE ME CRAZY [PG-13] 2:10p 7:35p
FIGHT CLUB [R] 3:45p 7:00p 10:05p
FOR LOVE OF THE GAME [PG-13] 3:50p 7:00p 10:00p
RANDOM HEARTS [R] 3:55p 7:05p 10:05p
THE SIXTH SENSE [PG-13] 2:10p 4:55p 7:40p 10:20p
STIGMATA [R] 4:50p 10:15p
THE STORY OF US [R] 2:05p 4:45p 7:25p 9:55p
SUPERSTAR [PG-13] 2:25p 5:00p 7:20p 9:30p
THREE KINGS [R] 4:10p 7:05p 9:40p
THREE TO TANGO [PG-13] No Passes 2:05p 4:40p 7:20p 9:45p

JIMENEZ BURRITOS

99¢ BURRITO
Potato, Egg, & Cheese Combo

Mon - Fri 605 University Sat
6a - 4p 763-9953 7a - 4p

SHOWPLACE 6
6707 S. University 745-3636

WED. $1.00 with Tech I.D.

DEEP BLUE SEA [R] 1:30-3:40-5:40-7:40-9:40-12:00AM
THE HAUNTING [PG-13] 1:10-3:20-5:30-7:40-9:50-12:10AM
BOWFINGER [PG-13] 1:00-3:00-5:00-7:00-9:00-12:05AM
BLAIR WITCH 3:30-10:15-12:15AM
STAR WARS: EPISODE 1 [PG] 1:05-5:15-7:45
INSPECTOR GADGET [PG] 1:20-3:25-5:25-7:25-9:25-11:30
BIG DADDY [PG-13] 1:00-3:05-5:00-7:15-9:10-12:10AM

Ultra Stereo In All Theaters
Visit our website at: www.hubusa.com/movies

La La's NEXT DOOR
1110 BROADWAY 747-2334

Lubbock's Most Unique Entertainment Hall Available For All Occasions:

- Mixers
- Fund Raisers
- Weddings
- Birthdays
- Banquets
- Reception

Catering is available through La La's Restaurant
For more information contact:
La La's 9 AM - 2 PM Mon - Sat 1110 Broadway 747-2334

NAKED PEOPLE CAN'T COME INTO CRICKETS!

Limey Pints Monday: All British Isles Drafts $2
Texas Tuesday: All Texas Beers $2
American Gigolo All American Draft Microbrews $2
Wednesday: Plain Brown Wrapper
Whiskey River Thursday: Jim, Jack, Crown & Seagrams $2

Friday Hourly Shots
Saturday $4 Martinis
Sunday $2 Bloody Marys

Cricket's Grill
Pool, Foosball & Shuffleboard
Interactive Video Games & QB1
2412 Broadway 744-HOPS

THE Daily Crossword Edited by Wayne Robert Williams

ACROSS

- Antiquated
- Khan IV
- Radon, e.g.
- Satellite of Uranus
- Anybody
- First finger
- Devour
- Poker-faced
- Out of work
- Highway subdivision
- Trumpet-shaped flower
- Look scornfully
- Blue-dye plants
- Turn-downs
- Bunco game
- USSR jet
- Act as
- Stroke
- Bat tree?
- Certain ISP
- Gender abbr.
- Unmasker's cry
- Come back
- Plunk
- Gerard or Hodges
- Money from the bank: abbr.
- Tibetan antelope
- Ait
- Snorer's peril
- "la Douce"
- Polanski film
- Falls behind
- Against armed conflict
- Ornate bird
- Identifiable
- Encircling luminously
- Made a guttural sound
- Sue
- Langdon
- August sign
- Aluminum discoverer

DOWN

- Unit of elec.
- Carnival city, casually
- Denier
- "Messiah" composer
- Dip sweetener
- Paradigm
- Clergyman with a red biretta
- Puts to a test
- Debutante's attire
- Does org.
- Bird of prey
- American chameleon
- Seamstress
- Robert Frost's wife
- Stratagem
- Harry Truman's birthplace
- Liqueur flavor
- Nocturnal songbird
- Shrimp dish
- Green city-state
- Chaney of "The Wolf Man"
- Bus. bigwig
- Flinches
- Hands on deck?
- Bugsy Siegel's casino
- Paris-based intl. org.
- Harbor
- Ornamental Chinese tree
- Drinker's tubes
- First Greek letter
- Song of praise
- Cognizant
- Complexion damage
- Cupid
- Tanker's cargo
- Sub alternative
- Singer Peggy letter
- Bymes of '77 Sunset Strip

By Edgar Fontaine
Dighton, MA

10/29/99

Thursday's Puzzle Solved

HERD	SPEC	FEAST
OVER	OATH	APNEA
RIGID	ONCE	TIGER
SLAP	IN THE	FACE
ELLEN	SOT	LAW
DYE	DAPPER	DIVA
SUSHI	PECOS
PUNCH	IN THE	JAW
VENUE	GOUDA
TAMB	WEGEST	SUB
ALA	SOD	LAURA
POKE	IN THE	RIBS
CAPRA	COHO	UTAH
BLEAT	TOAD	BONE
SIDLE	SKIS	ARES

SUNDAY TECH DINNER SPECIAL
CREATE YOUR OWN MEXICAN DINNER* $4.99
*You Choose Any Combination of Tacos, Enchiladas or Chalupas. Served with Beans and Rice.

COPPER CABOOSE
4th & Boston 744-0183
(present this coupon or show Tech ID)
• Offer good between 5-10pm at both Caboose locations • Not valid with any other offer.

ICHABOD'S PRESENTS

Sideways Eight
for the 1st Annual Halloween Bash

Saturday Oct. 30th
$5 cover or $3 with a costume
Halloween Drink Specials

Old jocks girls and Spuds on the tube pushing suds, music sex youth and cars import beers in trendy bars. TV dreams sell the deal only promise what ain't real, bloodshot eyes bought the lies hollow words in slick disguise. Cheap-thrill moments drinking booze wasted kid "It's you who lose." So drink your suds be the stud. Man, you look pathetic.

FACE

Sponsored by Texas Tech Offices of:
the President
Vice President for Student Affairs

Athletics
Dean of Students
Ex-Students Association
Housing & Dining Interfraternity Council
La Ventana Yearbook

Panhellenic Council
Recreational Sports
Student Health
Texas Tech Bookstore
University Center
The University Daily

TOP NEWS

Editorial Board

Wayne Hodgin
editor

Jason Bernstein
managing editor

Laura Hensley
techlife editor

Greg Kreller
photography editor

Nathan Notley
sports editor

Greg Okuhara
news editor

Ismara Quant
copy editor

Lindsay Rowden
copy editor

Letters to the Editor Policy: Letters to the editor are accepted for publication on the Viewpoints page. All letters must be no longer than two, double-spaced, typed pages. Unsigned letters will not be published. Letters must be submitted in person, by mail or by e-mail. Letters are published at the editor's discretion, and the editor reserves the right to edit letters for libelous material, spelling and vulgarity. "Letters to the Editor" is intended as a forum for public discussion of issues relating to Texas Tech; personal attacks will not be published. The UD does not discriminate because of race, creed, national origin, sex, age, disability or sexual preference. Letters must be submitted with picture identification and telephone number to Room 211 of the journalism building, or to TheUniversityDaily@ttu.edu. Letters sent by e-mail must include the author's name, social security number and phone number.

Editorial Policy: Unsigned editorials are the opinions of The University Daily editorial board and do not necessarily reflect the views of Texas Tech University, its employees, its student body or the Texas Tech University Board of Regents. A column is solely the opinion of its author. Editorial policy is set by The University Daily editorial board. The University Daily is independent of the School of Mass Communications. Responsibility for the editorial content of the newspaper lies with the student editor.

EDITORIAL

Campus construction — too much, too darn fast

The name of the game for the "new" Texas Tech is construction. Master Plan — check. Arena — check. Inconsiderate noise — check. The problem with our fine university is that the select few who make the decisions to add more buildings to our campus are so far removed from academia that students and their concerns often are overlooked. On an average day, a student cannot walk from one part of the campus to the other without maneuvering through the Texas Tech obstacle course. There's entirely too much construction on this campus, and it is time somebody said something about it. Though Chancellor Montford has done a good job in laying the foundation for a much prettier campus, too much has been done too quickly without any regard to the students or faculty. He has gone so far as to admitting, following the Office of Facilities, Planning and Construction audit, that Tech took on too much too soon. There is constant construction on the Engineering Key where numerous holes and moat-like ditches seem to surface on a daily basis. Bricks are always being placed and replaced on paths across campus, and the general safety of pedestrians never seems to be taken into account. From jackhammering at 9 a.m. to paint chiseling at 2 p.m., the activity never stops. What about the students in class? What about the professors giving a lecture? Are these not concerns because they don't directly involve money coming into the university? Without the students and faculty, this university would be barren. But it would at least look good. With the thousands upon thousands of dollars misused for the United Spirit Arena, it's no wonder these smaller jobs are taking so long to complete across campus. Why did it take so long to finally put in a sidewalk outside Dan Law Field only to see it tampered with a month later? There seem to be plenty of funds readily available to "redo" botched projects, yet certain complexes will have little-to-no money for necessary renovations or projects in the near future. Construction crews and Tech maintenance officials are so visible each and every day, that they seem to outnumber students by a 2-to-1 margin. Tech's administration has asked students, faculty and staff to help take the university into the next millennium where an era of change will be highly anticipated. Perhaps that change should be now, where academics won't have to take another backseat to more financially-enriching endeavors.

Public's interests not important to politicians

This is the perfect political story and also true, but the names have been changed to protect the players. Many years ago in the Texas Lege lurked two senators who loathed one another with a livid passion. One was conservative, the other liberal; one from a rural area, the other urban; one a mean old bull, and the other a witty cosmopolite. We'll call them Bubba and Cary. One afternoon, Bubba is drinking with a friend in a local dive when in walks Cary. Bubba looks at him and snarls, "You're a sorry (expletive)!" Cary continues to the bar without comment. But after he gets a drink, he passes Bubba's table again, stops and says: "You think I'm a sorry (expletive), right?" "Right," says Bubba. "Well, I think you're a sorry (expletive)." Bubba rears back ready to rise and fight. Cary continues: "But we both KNOW Senator Doakes is a sorry (expletive)." Bubba laughs and says, "I'll drink to that." They were both smart politicians. And that's what smart politicians do: concentrate on the areas where they can agree, even if there's only one. That's how deals get done, the ball is moved forward, the system works and the people's interest is more or less served. The trouble with Tom DeLay is that he's not a smart politician. Here we are, cut off at the Budget Impasse again. The Republicans are vowing not to touch the Social Security surplus, and their alternative is to cut everything else across the board. They think this is smart politics because the Democrats used this ploy for years, charging the R's with "raiding Social Security" to give tax breaks to the rich and other heinous schemes. Now the R's think they can beat the D's at their own game, ha-ha-ha. The D's, meanwhile, are busy pointing out that if the R's hadn't given the Pentagon ships it hasn't asked for and planes it doesn't want (not to mention all the other pork in the spending bills and the expensive tax breaks to special interests that give big campaign contributions), we could afford more cops and teachers and Meals on Wheels. Cutting cops and teachers and veterans' benefits and Meals on Wheels is not smart politics — especially since it won't hurt Social Security. DeLay said to President Clinton, "You find the billions in savings if you want to keep the government open." Then, of course, he claimed that a government shutdown would be blamed on Clinton. Threatening to shut down the government and then the side is, you may recall, precisely what happened during the late unpleasant masterminded by that political genius Newt Gingrich. The Republican leadership — House Speaker Dennis Hastert, Majority Whip DeLay — can't even hold their own troops in line for an across-the-board spending cut, which proves that most Republicans are not stupid. Of course there's a better way to do this — three ways, in fact. Spend some of the Social Security surplus, cut billions or compromise with a mix of the two. Let me suggest even a fourth way, which is to admit that the Balanced Budget Act of 1996, crown jewel of the Republican Revolution, is a bunch of phony baloney. If you admit that the famous spending caps in the balanced budget act are nonsense, then you have to look at some of the more idiotic tax cuts for special interests in order to get the budget on a truly sound fiscal basis. Smart politicians compromise, and even smarter politicians actually tell the truth. Meanwhile, Richard Stevenson of The New York Times noticed a wonderful side effect from the budget stalemate. Quite by accident, our pols have done something almost brilliant, which proves again that in politics it's better to be lucky than smart. Clinton won't let the R's cut taxes, and the R's won't let Clinton spend money on domestic programs. So the surplus, for lack of anything better to do, is now cutting the national debt. Because of the way government finances work, running a surplus means the excess automatically goes into paying down the debt. According to Stevenson's recent article, if the government keeps doing this, it could eliminate the biggest chunk of the debt in 10 to 15 years, with happy long-term results for the economy. The theory is that reducing publicly held debt puts pressure on interest rates to go down, thus freeing up more capital for private enterprise, thus creating more jobs, thus yielding more taxes, and so on in a happy daisy chain. In January, Clinton proposed setting aside two-thirds of the total surplus for precisely this purpose. He wanted to use the other third for a little tax cut and some social spending. He didn't count on having the whole surplus spent in this way, but there it is. It would be nice to think the R's knew that they were doing, but their main motivation seems to be preventing Clinton from getting anything he wants. So far, after years of this behavior, the only damage has been to either the R's or the public interest. Maybe they should consider compromising with him instead. Molly Ivins is a columnist for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Molly Ivins
Columnist

Grand-daddy knows best about politics

Life goes on. This is one of many things my grand-daddy always told me when I was a kid. And I kept promising myself that, when I find the time, I am going to sit down and put all of his wisdom into a book. But this phrase really stuck in my head today, and it involves the world of politics. A few weeks ago, I related my thoughts on the impending jump of Pat Buchanan to the Reform Party, and it looks like that a done deal. Does this bother me — that a once very vocal and prominent Republican has abandoned his party?

Cameron Graham
Columnist

No, not really. And I am just not seeing what harm this can do the Republicans. In my opinion, this is going to help, and, if you want to know why, then go back and read my column of a few weeks ago. I really don't want to retrace anything here. Here is another one grand-daddy used to tell me: Never sit on the fence unless you are sure you can play both sides of it. This is something I have used many, many times, and it has helped me a lot. And, again, this came to mind just a few days ago with the controversy surrounding the Senate and the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty. For years, President Clinton, in between sessions with Monica and his cigar, was pushing the Republicans in the Senate to debate the treaty to the Senate floor for debate and a vote. The Republicans, for the mere fact that they are in control, said no. Then they said, "Sure Bubba, we'll hook you up," and decided to bring it to the floor. Then Clinton does a complete 180-degree turn and wants them to wait. His reason? Well, he says this is not the right time. And, in a way, he is right — but not for the reason he gives. He says he wants to wait until world opinion is just a hair better than what it is. But in actuality, he wants to wait until the middle of the presidential primary season for its debate, knowing that it could help Al Gore. I could go on and on relating more of grand-daddy's little gems, but that would bore you. Suffice it to say that the world of politics is starting to get a little weird. Now we have Donald Trump, of all people, thinking about running for office. This is really a head scratcher. I am wondering if Trump is really willing to take a cut in pay in order to sit in the White House for four years. A lot of people think he should. After all, there is nothing wrong with a successful business man running a big corporation like the United States is there? Well, that depends. It is my contention that, as hard as it may be for some people to understand, the government is not a business. And the way businesses are run are far from the way government is run, which has its own way of getting into trouble. A business manager for president does not impress me at all. I tell you what, friends, why don't all of you just elect me as your next commander-in-chief? Do I meet the Constitutional qualifications for the job? No. But then again, with me, things will get done. OK, so maybe I might trample on a few freedoms, and I might violate that pesky thing called the Constitution, but give me a chance. Just look at that picture of me next to this column. Don't I look trustworthy? Cameron Graham is a senior history major from Lubbock.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Word to the Wise

To the editor: This letter is in response to Mr. Cirigliano's letter to the editor (The UD, 10/26). This letter is to correct some of the mammoth misgivings that he has about Christianity. First, let me say that I agree with Mr. Cirigliano about the separation of church and state. This is indeed a fundamental idea in a country that depends on personal freedoms. Besides, you can pray at a football game without any "moment of silence." In fact, I suggest it. Now I'll move to Mr. Cirigliano's slightly unusual beliefs about Christianity. In his article he stated "... there are many people out there who call themselves Christians, yet are in left field from the basic doctrine." This is true, but let me remind the reader that calling oneself a Christian and being a Christian are two different things. What Christians believe is no secret. It is found in a book called the Bible, particularly in the New Testament. It contains many fundamental truths of Christianity, one of which is, "I am the way, the truth, and the life, no one comes to the Father (God) but through Me" (John 14:6). This states quite plainly that the way to God the father, and therefore to heaven, is through Jesus. Another of the fundamental truths in the Bible is found in John 3:16, which says, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son. That whosoever believes in Him shall not perish, but have everlasting life." It is not written convolutedly, but in plain English. What these verses, and the rest of the New Testament, tell us about Jesus is that he is quite fundamental to the religion we call Christianity. Christianity is not just hanging around saying "Jesus is groovy" and "All you need is love" — it is a little deeper than that. Loving and helping each other is good, but according to the Bible, it is not what gets one to heaven. Christianity without Christ is an empty religion. What is the root word of the word Christianity? Christ. Of course, anyone is welcome to disagree with these statements. The readers are welcome to believe that Jesus is not the only way to heaven, that he is not the son of God, that he was not sinless and that he did not rise from the dead. But if you do, then you could not properly call yourself a Christian. For if these things aren't true, what is the real difference between Jesus and any other prophet/nice guy/moral teacher that lived in those times? Very little, and certainly not enough to make him worth of worship and praise. I am not afraid to admit that there is something that is bigger than any of us out there, and that something is Yahweh, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, whose only son is Jesus. As for the spiritual fate of Jerry Falwell and Mahatma Gandhi, I do not presume to speak for it. They have their own relationship with God and will deal with him individually. Remember, heaven is, and still can be, accomplished by faith first. Jonathan Butcher senior telecommunications

Write a letter to the editor. Drop it by 211 Journalism, have your Tech ID, or e-mail it to TheUniversityDaily@ttu.edu, include your social security number and phone number.

Tech graduate Dead Head-icated to band, book

by Sebastian Kitchen
Staff Writer

The Grateful Dead is a religion to thousands of people. Preachers and doctors, students and professors, lawyers and librarians all followed the band faithfully.

Robert Weiner, Dead Head and former Texas Tech student, decided to bring his religion together in a book.

He compiled academic and scholarly work on the band into a book, "Perspectives on the Grateful Dead: Critical Writings."

"There is tremendous academic interest in the Dead — the culture, the fans, the music and their 30 years," said Weiner, who received a master's degree in History from Tech. "There is an essay in here for everyone."

Weiner has attended 17 Dead concerts which is seen by many as a fairly low number for a Dead Head. Some people have seen the band hundreds of times.

Barnes and Noble Booksellers, 6707 Slide Road, will host a book signing with Weiner from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. today.

Weiner said the event will be more than a book signing. It will be a Dead Head Party with videos and giveaways.

"This book was a dream of mine," he said.

The book is Weiner's second on the Dead. His first was a bibliogra-

—book signing—
Barnes and Noble Booksellers 6707 Slide Road
7 p.m. to 9 p.m.
Perspectives on the Grateful Dead: Critical Writings

phy on the band from 1965 to 1996, an index of the printed history of the Grateful Dead.

"When I did the bibliography, I noticed a lot of people doing academic research on the Dead," Weiner said. "I noticed papers being published in academic journals. Why not get some of these scholars and put it together in one volume?"

Weiner wants to release more than one volume of the book.

The book now includes essays on theology, statistics, musicology, sociology, psychiatry, folklore and more.

The academic works included in Weiner's book were first published in journals such as the Journal of Cultural Economics.

Weiner considers the authors of the essays in the top of their fields. "There are not just graduate students but hardcore Ph.D.s," he said.

"Some are in the top of their fields." Authors of the essays include Stanley Krippner, a highly-recognized dream analyst.

Thomas Vennun is the senior ethnomusicologist at the Smithsonian Institution's Folklife Programs and Cultural Studies.

Joseph Holt is a Christian minister and is quoted in the book saying, "Some of the greatest occasions of joy I have ever had have been at Dead concerts."

Weiner said the Dead had fans from all walks of life — Christians, homosexuals, Buddhists, Taoists, Pagans, Jews and more.

"There are guys in three-piece suits, and there are guys in ties-dyes," he said. "And there are those who work in three-piece suits during the week and bring out the tie-dye on the weekend."

The Grateful Dead brought together fans from all walks of life, all social classes, all religions. Something about the band brought these people together.

"The Grateful Dead is the greatest musical example of the American dream there is," he said. "No other rock 'n' roll band or music is more American than the Grateful Dead. They are America."

The band's shows might include blues, folk, country, world music and rock on any given night.

"The Grateful Dead is American musical history in a blender," said Weiner's wife, Mary Ann.

FRIDAY OCTOBER 29							SATURDAY OCTOBER 30							SUNDAY OCTOBER 31
STAT. CHAN. AFFIL. CITY	KTXT 5 PBS Lubbock	KCBD 11 NBC Lubbock	KLBK 13 CBS Lubbock	KUPT 22 UPN Lubbock	KAMC 23 ABC Lubbock	KJTV 24 FOX Lubbock	STAT. CHAN. AFFIL. CITY	KTXT 5 PBS Lubbock	KCBD 11 NBC Lubbock	KLBK 13 CBS Lubbock	KUPT 22 UPN Lubbock	KAMC 23 ABC Lubbock	KJTV 24 FOX Lubbock	STAT. CHAN. AFFIL. CITY	KTXT 5 PBS Lubbock	KCBD 11 NBC Lubbock	KLBK 13 CBS Lubbock	KUPT 22 UPN Lubbock	KAMC 23 ABC Lubbock	KJTV 24 FOX Lubbock
7:00	Bloomberg Body Elec.	Today Show	This Morning	Recess Sabrina	Good Morning America	News Paid Program	7:00		Saturday Today		Bill Nye Pop. Mech.	Pepper Ann Disney's	S. Holmes Godzilla	7:00		Sunday Today	Paid Program Lord's Way	Hercules Doug	Paid Program Paid Program	Paid Program Paid Program
8:00	Sesame Street			Doug Hercules	America	Dr. Joy Browne	8:00	Teletubbies Imagination		Crypkeeper Warriors	Jack Hanna Wild Amer.	Sat. Morning Xyber 9	8:00	Teletubbies Toa TV	TX Reporter 1st	CBS Sunday Morning	Sabrina Recons	Feed/Child Prophecy	K. Copeland Eddie Itrio
9:00	Mr. Rogers Barney	Later Today	Martin Short	K. Copeland Nanny	Regis & Kathie Lee	Laeta	9:00	Arthur Zoboomatoo	M. Stewart Hung Time	Anatole Blastars	Bob Vila Homeowner	Sabrina Spiderman Digimon	9:00	Arthur Washbone	Methodist Meet the	News Face Nation	Movie: Young Strunk the	In Touch Saturn Show	FOX News Sunday
10:00	Teletubbies Wimzie House	Martha Stewart	Price is Right!	Donny & Marie	View	Divorce CL	10:00	Wishbone Zoom	City Guys One World	Resc. Hero Fly's Rhino	Paid Program Saturn Show	Bugs Bunny Winnie Pooh	10:00	Halloween Dragon Tales	Press Fly Program	R. Schuller	Guns II	Si Se Puede Pollard Ford	Jerry Jones Chan Galley
11:00	Zoboomatoo Arthur	Sunset Beach	Young & Restless	Forgive or Forget	All My Children	People Court	11:00	Pets V. Garden	City Guys In/Star '17	Football: W. Virginia vs. Miami	WCW Wrestling Squigglewits	Under/Helmet Big 12	11:00	Healthweek Y2K	Paid Program Paid Program	NFL Today	Wild Things	This Week Sam & Cockle	FOX NFL Sunday
12:00	Nancy Sews S. Adams	News Days of Our	News Beautiful	Jerry Springer	News Port Charles	Mills Lane	12:00	J. Wilson Old House	Saved/Bell P. Ford	Virginia vs. Miami	Movie: 'Aristocats	Tour Championship	12:00	Winter/Dis-Wall St. Wk.	Little House	Football: Miami @ Oakland	Honey I Strunk the	America Skates	Football: Carolina @ Dallas
1:00	Amer. Sews Barney	Lives Passions	As the World Turns	Ricki Lake	One Life to Live	Matlock	1:00	NY Workshop HomeTime	Paid Program Football				1:00	Burt Wolf New Tastes	Paid Program Paid Program		Pensacola		Atlanta
2:00	T. Turboat Dragon Takes	Hwyd Square	Guiding Light	Paid Program Ltv g Single	General Hospital	Paid Program Magic Bus	2:00	C. Amore R. Rainbow	Noie Dame vs. Navy	Football: Florida vs. Georgia	Alive!	Football: Teams TBA	2:00	Firing Line McLaughlin	Paid Program Paid Program		NY Undercover	Tour Championship
3:00	Arthur Wishbone	Rosie O'Donnell	Maury Povich	Grace/Fire Caroline	Sally Jessy Raphael	PR Playback Beast Wars	3:00	Whole Child Motorweek				Amazon	3:00	Small Bus. Comp. Chron.	Gravity Games	CBS Sports	Baywatch		Football: Dallas @ Indian.
4:00	Zoom R. Rainbow	Oprah Winfrey	Family Feud Jeopardy	Enquirer E.T.	Montel Williams	Digimon PR Galaxy	4:00	Fine Art Memories			Movie: 'Return Of		4:00	Austin City Limits		Spectacular	V.L.P.
5:00	Krat's Nightly Bus.	News NBC News	News CBS News	Ricki Lake	News ABC News	Home Impr. Simpsons	5:00	Seasons of Life	Dumb. Crim. NBC News		Jafar		5:00	JoAnna Lund Healthweek	Paid Program NBC News	CBS News	Relic Hunter	ABC News
6:00	News Hour	News Extra	News Wifortune	Judge Judy Judge Judy	News News	Voyager	6:00	Viewpoint TX Parks	News TX Country	News Wifortune	Jack O'Lantern	News Mad/You	6:00	Lawrence Walk	Dateline	60 Minutes	Your Big Break	NWOO: "Casper"	Post-Game KnightRill
7:00	Wash. Week Wall St. Wk.	Providence '99	Q. Pumpkin Garfield	Movie: 'Disciples'	Boy/World Old Man Out	Ryan Caulfield	7:00	Nature	Fraks & Geeks 'PG	Early Edition	Voyager	ABC Movie: 'A Time To	7:00	Nature	Third Watch 'TV14	Touched by an Angel	Movie: 'Hellraise'		Simpsons Simpsons
8:00	Market to Market	Freaks & Geeks 'PG	Kids Say Love & Money		Sabrina Hughleys 'G	Harsh Realm	8:00	Lawrence Walk	Prezender 'TV14	Marital Law	Voyager	Kill	8:00	Mobil Masterpiece	NBC Movie: 'Mr. Rock	CBS Movie: 'Any's	r. Bloodline'	Snoops	X-Files
9:00	Haunting of Louisiana	Cold Feet 'TV14	Nash Bridges	Jerry Springer	29/20	Cops Cops	9:00	Austin City Limits	Profiler 'TV14	Walker TX Ranger	X-Files	Your Big Break	9:00	Mystery!	'N Roll: The Alan	News In/Ediion	News Seinfeld	Pollard Ford H2M	Relic Hunter
10:00	Nightly Bus.	News Tonight Show	News David	Joe Brown Joe Brown	News MASH	Simpsons Frasier	10:00		News Saturday	News Xena	Polltarget	News MASH	10:00		Extra	3rd Rock Spike Dykes	Tejano Cty. Party of	TX Tech FB Access	Amazon
11:00		Conan	Letterman Craig	Greg Mathis	Med/You	Cheers Coach	11:00		Night Live 'TV14	Hercules	Earth Final Conflict	NYPD Blue	11:00
12:00		O'Brien	Kilborn	Real TV	Incorrect Paid Program	NY Undercover	12:00		Profiler	Molown Live			12:00		Profiler	Xena	Five Roger Ebert

More wicked than your ex-girlfriend...

HARSH REALITY

Friday at 8
FOX KJTV34 LUBBOCK

catch the BIG VII Game of the WEEK

Texas vs. Iowa State

Saturday at 11:30 am
FOX KJTV34 LUBBOCK

THE THREE STOOGES

Saturday at 6 pm
FOX KJTV34 LUBBOCK

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING, ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING/COMPUTER SCIENCE
COMPUTER ENGINEERING, AND ENGINEERING PHYSICS (EE)

Schedule For Pre-Registration
October 25-29

Plus Help Available in EE218. Faculty advisors available upon request.

October 29
Deadline to turn in Plus Printout to EE224

All students for majors listed will have a hold on their records. Hold will be released after plus printouts are approved by a faculty member. A delay in turning in a plus printout will delay a hold being released.

Seniors	Nov 5-8
Juniors	Nov 9-10
Sophomores	Nov 11-15
Freshmen	Nov 16-18

CONFERENCE Cafe

Friday John Sprott $2 Wells $1.75 Longnecks	Saturday Watch College Football w/ $10.50 Buckets	Sunday Halloween Party Cash Prize for 1st, 2nd, & 3rd Place 9:30PM - 1:30AM
---	---	---

3216 4th Come See Our Daily Food & Drink Specials 747-7766

HALLOWEEN WEEKEND

LIQUID LADY LAND

& TANK TOP TEAR TONIGHT

WICKED LIQUID SATURDAY

DRINK SPECIALS

$300 CASH PRIZE

COSTUME CONTEST $300 CASH PRIZE

747-6156

LIQUID 2000

1812 AVE G

WIN CASH!! 11th Annual Costume Contest $100 Best Costume Prize

$1.50 Schooners Mon. - Thurs. 4-11pm

Daily HAPPY HOUR! SPECIALS 4-7pm Mon. - Sat.

Don't be a DEADBEAT get there early! Sat. Oct. 30th

SATURDAYS 1/2 PRICE OYSTERS!!

Yacht Club

LONE STAR OYSTER BAR

Mon - Sat 4pm-2am 796-0101

34th & Flint

Kings squeak by Odessa, 6-5

New hockey club comes back to down West Texas rivals

by Jeff Keller
Staff Writer

The Lubbock Cotton Kings came out on top of an up-and-down 6-5 contest Thursday against the Odessa Jackalopes.

The win improved the Kings overall record to 5-2 while the last-place Jackalopes fell to 1-7 on the season.

The first period was dominated by the Kings as they put the puck in the back of the net three times compared to Odessa's one goal.

Lubbock's first goal came on a power play off the stick of left winger Mark Green with 16:26 left in the period.

The Kings second tally came off a slap shot by Scott Campbell at 13:25 in the first stanza.

Odessa got on the board at 3:02 in the first period with a goal from Mark Smith.

Lubbock's final score of the period came at the 2:24 mark and once again Green was responsible for the goal.

The second period belonged to Odessa as the Jackalopes ran off three unanswered goals to take a 4-3 lead going into the final period of play.

Lubbock coach Alan May was not pleased with his squad's performance in the second period heading into the game's final stanza of play.

"The twenty minutes in the second period were disgusting," May said.

"There just wasn't enough effort and grit and determination on our part."

In the third period, the Kings' David Butler scored on a breakaway goal at the 14:45 mark to tie the game at four.

Exactly one minute later, the Cotton Kings took the lead at 5-4 on a Jeff Corbett goal.

Lubbock did not own the lead for long, as Odessa's Andrew Rodgers tied things up with a goal of his own, giving the Jackalopes hope of winning their second contest of the young season.

But the Kings were not to be denied as center Mike Legg scored the game-clinching goal with 2:15 left in the game, giving the Cotton

Kings their fifth win of the season.

Legg said scoring the game-winning goal was an enjoyable experience.

"It felt pretty good," Legg said of the goal.

"I told myself even if I got the chance just to put it in the net, because we didn't want to go into a shootout."

May said his team played strong in the first and third periods which ended up being the difference in the game.

"We played forty great minutes," May said.

"Fortunately, the last twenty ended up winning us the game."

Although the Kings got the win, Legg said he hopes the team will learn to keep teams down when they get the chance down the line later in the season.

"We came out on fire, the fans always get us pumped for the first period, but then we just made some stupid mistakes," Legg said. "We've got to get out of that habit right away."

Mike Legg gets tangled up along the boards during the Cotton Kings' 6-5 win against the Odessa Jackalopes on Thursday.

Lady Raiders compete in preseason scrimmage

The Lady Raiders basketball team competed in an intersquad scrimmage at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

In the 42-minute scrimmage, the squad shot 61 percent from the stripe and 47.5 percent from the floor, totaling 143 points.

Freshman forward/center Plenette Pierson was the leading scorer for the Lady Raiders with 28 points, shooting 11 of 15 from the floor and 6 of 7 at the line.

Senior forward Aleah Johnson

also contributed 25 points, going 12 of 16. Senior forward Keitha Dickerson added 22 points, and freshman Courtney Pastner rounded out the squad's double-digit scorers with 11. Senior guard Melinda Schmucker-Pharies led the team in assists with eight, while Pierson tallied a team-high of five blocked shots.

The Lady Raiders will begin regular season action Nov. 20 when they play in the Four in the Fall Classic.

Neither this establishment, Texas Tech University nor The University Daily encourages underage drinking or alcohol abuse.

LOWEST PRICES EVERY DAY • LOWEST PRICES EVERY DAY

DOUBLE DISCOUNT

BEER • WINE • LIQUOR

"LOWEST PRICES EVERYDAY"

2ND Stop
on 98th St. • East of the Strip
FOR KEGS 745-3881

Captain Morgan Rum 10 ⁷⁵ 80° 750mL	Jack Daniels Black Tennessee Whiskey 13 ⁹⁵ 86° 750mL
"30-Pack" Coors Bud 15 ⁴⁵ 30-12oz Cans	"18-Pack" Keystone Light 7 ⁸⁵ 18-12oz Cans
Crystal Palace Vodka 7 ⁹⁵ 80° 1.75L	Seagram 7 American Whiskey 15 ⁹⁵ 80° 1.75L
"2nd Stop" Double T #1 1585 & Tahoka Hwy FOR KEGS 745-5092
"2-12 Packs" Red Dog 8 ⁷⁵ 24-12oz Btls	"18-Packs" Natural Light Lone Star (Reg. or Lt.) 6 ⁹⁵ 18-12oz Cans
Sauza Gold Tequila & Margarita Mix 12 ⁹⁵ 80° 750mL	Wild Turkey 101° Bourbon 15 ⁹⁵ 101° 750mL
"12-Pack" Shiner Bock Rolling Rock Dos Equis 9 ⁹⁵ 12-12oz Btls	"Longnecks" Bud Dry, Bud Ice Reg. or Light Coors Dry, MGD Reg. or Light 12 ⁹⁵ 24-12oz Btls
The Lowest Prices on Kegs 7 days a week

LOWEST PRICES EVERY DAY • LOWEST PRICES EVERY DAY

SHOOTERS BAR AND GRILL!
WEDNESDAYS NIGHTS
LADIES GET IN FREE!

$1.00
PITCHERS
w/ cover for men!

FROM 9:00 PM TO 11:00 PM.
PLUS
KARAOKE FROM 9PM TO 2AM.

Neither this establishment, Texas Tech University nor The University Daily encourages underage drinking or alcohol abuse.

Neither this establishment, Texas Tech University nor The University Daily encourages underage drinking or alcohol abuse.

Please SAVE Please

Hub City Burrito Co.
2102 Broadway Ave. / 741-1033

WITH TECH ID All GIANT BURRITOS

Entrees
$4.59
Includes Drink + Tax

After 3 pm Daily- ALL WEEK
2102 Broadway 741-1033

FRIDAY NIGHT

Bleacher's Sports Cafe

Dallas Based
JOHN GARRETT BAND

If you like the Derailers, BR549 and Dwight Yoakum, then you will love this rockin' honky tonk band.

18th & Buddy Holly Ave. 744-7767

Neither this establishment, Texas Tech University nor The University Daily encourages underage drinking or alcohol abuse.

Formerly Brandy's Bar & Grill - Under New Management

COYOTE CAFE & NIGHTCLUB
5206 11th Street at 11th & Slide Road

Join Us
Friday Night Karaoke

$1.00 Bourbon & Coke 9-11PM
Watch Your Favorite Football Games On Our Two Big Screens!

$1.50 Schooners All Nite

No Cover - 18 & Up Welcome! Open Mon-Sat 11AM to 2AM
Sundays 12PM to 12AM 791-5806

Neither this establishment, Texas Tech University nor The University Daily encourages underage drinking or alcohol abuse.

Neither this establishment, Texas Tech University nor The University Daily encourages underage drinking or alcohol abuse.

the CELLAR
LIQUOR • BEER • WINE
Matches All Advertised Prices on the Strip & 98th

Crown Royal Canadian Whiskey 19 ⁹⁵ 80° 750mL	Bailey's Irish Cream 19 ⁹⁵ 34° 750mL
"30-Pack" Coors Bud 15 ⁴⁵ 30-12oz Cans	"18-Pack" Keystone Light 7 ⁸⁵ 18-12oz Cans
Malibu Rum 12 ⁹⁵ 48° 750mL	Makers Mark Bourbon 17 ⁹⁵ 90° 750mL
"12-Pack" Shiner Bock Rolling Rock 9 ⁹⁵ 12-12oz Btls	Smirnoff Vodka 9 ⁹⁵ 80° 750mL
"2-12 Packs" Red Dog 8 ⁷⁵ 24-12oz Btls	"18-Pack" Natural Light Lone Star Reg or Light 6 ⁹⁵ 18-12oz Cans

Cellar Matches All Advertised Prices on strip 98th

Neither this establishment, Texas Tech University nor The University Daily encourages underage drinking or alcohol abuse.

SPORTS

Raiders set to terrorize Tigers

Football squad looks to extend winning streak to three against Missouri

by Patrick Gonzales
Staff Writer

With their first consecutive victories of the season now behind them, the Texas Tech Red Raiders will travel to unfamiliar territory as they do battle with the Missouri Tigers at 1 p.m. Saturday at Memorial Stadium in Columbia, Mo.

It will be Tech's first visit to Columbia and only the third time the squads will have met.

The Red Raiders (4-3 overall, 3-1 Big 12) enter the contest atop the Big 12 South after consecutive conference victories against Colorado and Baylor.

The Tigers (3-4 overall, 0-4 Big 12) are on the bottom of the Big 12 North and will be looking to end a three-game losing streak.

This will be the second-straight opponent Tech will face who has yet to win a conference game.

They dispensed of Baylor last Saturday 35-7.

Tech quarterback Rob Peters said despite Baylor's record, last week's victory was key.

"Everybody looks at Baylor's record and thinks that they're not very good, but it's tough to go down to Waco and win," Peters said. "That was really key for us"

Peters finished the game with 117 yards passing with one touchdown.

In his last four contests, Peters has accumulated seven touchdown strikes and two interceptions.

Tech coach Spike Dykes said Peter's steady improvement is one of the reasons for the Raiders' recent success.

Making it easier on Peters this week will be the return of junior flanker Derek Dorris.

Dorris, who has been sidelined for most of the season with a hamstring injury, is expected to see extended playing time Saturday.

However, Peters said he is just going to take each game one at a time.

"Every game from here on out is huge," he said. "We gave our self a chance to this point ... we're sitting pretty, but nothing is going to be easy."

Tech free safety Kevin Curtis said playing teams that are desperate for a victory can be dangerous.

"This is the game they've got to win in order to make a run at a bowl game," said Curtis, who leads the team with 85 tackles.

"They're going to be ready to go, and we just have to match their intensity."

Missouri used three turnovers to defeat Tech 28-26 in last year's meeting at Jones Stadium.

The three Tech fumbles led to 21 points for the Tigers.

Tech also had three fumbles against Baylor and have had at least one fumble in every game this season.

But in the past two contests, the defense has been able to keep the turnovers from hurting the squad.

Tech's defense is ranked 19th in the nation, giving up more than 300 yards-per-contest.

Tech's victory against Baylor moved Dykes' record to 50-21-1 in games played after Oct. 10.

Greg Kreller/The University Daily

Tech looks to extend its winning streak to three games against Missouri. The Raiders will take on the Tigers at 1 p.m. Saturday in Columbia, Mo.

However, Curtis said statistics no longer matter, and the squad will look to finish the rest of the season undefeated.

"We are in a four-game season right now, and whatever happened in the past doesn't matter," Curtis said. "We just have to come out every week and play as hard as we can."

Volleyball squad looks to defeat No. 11-ranked Nebraska

by Jeff Keller
Staff Writer

After defeating No. 15-ranked Kansas State, the Texas Tech volleyball squad (14-9 overall, 4-7 Big 12) will try to pick up a win against No. 11-ranked Nebraska at 7 p.m. today in Lincoln, Neb.

The win against Kansas State was Tech's first win against a ranked opponent this season, and it also gave the Red Raiders a 1-0 mark in the second half of the Big 12 Conference season.

Tech lost to Nebraska in the teams' first meeting this season and have not beaten the Cornhuskers since 1996.

The Cornhuskers have taken 10 of their 11 meetings against Tech.

The Red Raiders are coming off their first five-game match of the season, and outside hitter Ann Romjue said she hopes Tech can carry momentum from the win with them into the Cornhusker match.

"We're playing well right now," Romjue said. "We're playing competitive. Nebraska is a great team, but if we put our best game together, we should have a good chance."

Romjue's home town is Papillion, Neb., and she said she is looking forward to playing in her home state.

"I'm excited," Romjue said. "I have lots of friends and family coming to watch. They always have great fans there, so it will be fun to play in that atmosphere again."

In Tech's last outing, they tallied only a .165 hitting percentage but were able to hold the Wildcats to a .152 hitting percentage.

Tech middle blocker Janelle Jones led Tech in hitting percentages against Kansas State with a .423 mark.

Jones said Tech is playing with a refuse-to-lose attitude at this point in the season.

"I think a positive thing that we can take from the Wildcats' match is that we never gave up in the match," she said. "We were down in that match, but we didn't get discouraged. We just kept on battling. We will definitely take the excitement and the momentum from the Kansas State match and use it to our advantage against Nebraska."

Tech's lone win against the Cornhuskers came in Lubbock in the first season of Big 12 Conference play.

Jones has played Nebraska on the road and said the Nebraska Coliseum is a difficult place to pick up a road win.

"It's a very tough place to play," she said. "It's very loud, and you have to constantly repeat your calls. It's very hard to hear, and the fans get really loud. It's a fun atmosphere, but it can be a difficult place to play just because of the noise level there."

In Tech's first contest against the Huskers this year, Tech took the first game but then lost three straight.

The loss started a five-game losing streak, which is the longest in Tech coach Jeff Nelson's career.

Romjue said the Raiders need to be more consistent this time around against the Cornhuskers if they are going to achieve a different outcome in the match.

"I think we need to just stay consistent," Romjue said. "Last time, we started out really awesome, but it just went downhill after the first game. This time, if we keep up a high level of consistency and play hard the whole match, it should help us."

"... if we put our best game together, we should have a good chance"

Ann Romjue
Tech outside hitter

"PAYLESS ALWAYS AT DOC'S" • "PAYLESS ALWAYS AT DOC'S"

"The Service Center of the Strip"

DOC'S BEST LIQUOR STORE

FOR KEGS 745-7766 "We've Got Your Flasks!"

Jim Beam Bourbon Whiskey 19⁹⁵ 86° 1.75L	Dekuyper Schnapps Hot Damn or Apple Pucker 8⁹⁵ 40° 750mL	Bacardi Rum 9⁹⁵ 40° 750mL
Coors Bud Reg. or Light 15⁴⁵ 30 • 12 oz Cans	Shiner Bock, Rolling Rock Dos Equis, Honey Brown 9⁹⁵ 12 • 12 oz Btls	Keystone Light 7⁸⁵ 18 • 12 oz Cans
PAYLESS ON ALL KEGS ★ LOWEST PRICES 745-7766 ★ 745-7766 ★ 745-7766
Jose Cuervo Gold Tequila 14⁷⁵ 80° 750ml	Rich & Rare Canadian Whiskey 10⁹⁵ 80° 1.75L	Crystal Palace Vodka 7⁹⁵ 80° 1.75L
Red Dog 8⁷⁵ 24 • 12 oz Btls	Lone Star Reg. or Lt. Natural Light 6⁹⁵ 18 • 12 oz Cans	Heineken Light or Dark 10⁹⁵ 12 • 12 oz Btls

Will Match All Lubbock Advertised Prices on 98th & "The Strip"

"PAYLESS ALWAYS AT DOC'S" • "PAYLESS ALWAYS AT DOC'S"

Neither this establishment, Texas Tech University nor The University Daily encourages underage drinking or alcohol abuse.

friday marks the end of the world wide web as you know it.

pixelon.com

On Friday, October 29, pixelon.com introduces the world's first full-screen, full-motion, tv-quality internet broadcast network.

Unveiling three years of revolutionary research, pixelon.com will provide on-demand entertainment, sports and news programming unlike any in Internet history. iBash'99 - the single largest entertainment event ever held in Las Vegas - is our way of introducing pixelon.com to the world.

FRIDAY! iBash '99! Live concert Webcast from the MGM Grand in Las Vegas...

A Reunion of Rock Legends - The Who

• KISS • The Offspring • The Brian Setzer Orchestra • Tony Bennett

The Hottest Divas of Country - The Dixie Chicks, Faith Hill, LeAnn Rimes and Chely Wright

View iBash '99 for free at pixelon.com beginning Friday, October 29 at 2 p.m. PST. You can even direct the cameras yourself! Log on now for more information and a concert schedule.