HERE FROM ABILENE Ralph Merchant of Abilene was a business visitor in Haskell Wednesday.

Mayor Ira Hester announced the appointment this week of W. R. (Roy) Johnson and R. W. (Bob) Herren as Haskell's directors on the board of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority.

The appointment was made by the City Council in compliance with provisions of the Legislative Act creating the Authority. Action of the Council was taken after the State Water Board had canvassed returns of the election held June 17 when voters in Haskell, Rule, Munday, Goree and Seymour confirmed membership in the NCTMW Authority.

The Authority will be governed by a board of 10 directors, two appointed in each town by their respective City Councils. One director from each town will serve for one year, the other director two years.

In announcing the appointment of Haskell's directors, Mayor Hester said Johnson had been designated for a two year term, and Herren for the one year term.

A meeting of the Authority's 10-member board of directors is scheduled tonight in Munday, Mayor Hester added.

Purpose of the meeting will be to officially organize the board as a permanent governmental agency with the election of a chairman, vice chairman, and secretary.

Previous to the June 17 confirmation election, NCTMW Authority had contemplated the inclusion of seven area towns in the proposed water district. Plans for the seven-town system had been prepared by Freese & Nichols, Fort Worth consulting engineers. Cost of the completed project was estimated at $6,550,000.

With the withdrawal of Knox City and Rochester from the project, engineer's plans will be revised to fit the five-town district, with a consequent reduction in total cost.

Following completion of the necessary engineering work in revising the plans, next phase will call for a bond election in each of the five towns, and the approval of a water contract with the Authority by a majority vote of qualified voters in each town.

More Equitable Distribution of Tax Money Needed

The rising cost of government at all levels, city, county, state and national, with the consequent increased tax burden it places on every citizen, is a problem uppermost in the minds of our legislators as they search for new sources of tax revenue.

Close at hand, we have an example in our county government, where tax revenue is insufficient to meet the increased demands and growing costs of administering the various activities of the county.

A news story last week was to the effect that the county's general fund and the officer salary fund had been depleted during the first five months of the year, making it necessary to borrow against anticipated revenues due this year.

This situation would indicate that in budgeting the county finances, a higher percentage of tax revenue will need to be allocated to the general fund and officer salary fund for the coming year. This in turn will mean a reduction in tax money to other funds, or an increase in taxes at a time when the average citizen has a hard time meeting the tax demands of federal, state and local agencies.

One solution might lie in reducing the allotment of tax money to the road and bridge funds to the level required for normal operations paid for out of these funds.

The May report of county finances showed cash balances totalling $52,312.62 in road and bridge funds of three precincts. Yet at the same time, the county was borrowing $15,000 to bolster two funds mentioned earlier. This situation would indicate that a portion of the road and bridge tax allocation could be transferred to the general fund and salary fund to maintain a better balance in the distribution of tax money without curtailing any necessary operations carried out with road and bridge funds.

Two Pictures to Remember

Two pictures for parents to remember appeared in recent newspapers.

One showed a mother and seven children gathered about a man in an iron lung. The caption, under a Michigan dateline, said that the whole family had been vaccinated against polio except the father. Now he is so paralyzed that he cannot breathe without mechanical aid.

The other showed an infant of five months in a respirator tank. The caption, datelined from Texas, said that the baby was a victim of polio paralysis.

What does a father think when he gazes up from an iron lung into the sorrowing, bewildered faces of his children? What goes through a mother's mind when she looks down on the polio-wasted body of her child?

One thing they must both realize, to their horror and regret, is that polio today is unnecessary. There is a safe and effective weapon against it in the Salk vaccine. When it strikes a person in 1958 somebody almost surely has been guilty of neglect.

Far too many Americans share this guilt—nearly three out of seven, in fact. And among these neglected or neglectful millions, none is safe from polio—neither the helpless infant nor the wage-earner of a family. Last year babies under two showed the highest rate of polio attack. Young adults ran them a close second.

The Salk vaccine can protect you against this dreadful and incurable disease. Don't take a chance—take your polio shots now before disaster overtakes you.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Seems that the "bridge fishing" situation at the lake is a hot potato for both the Commissioners and the Stamford City Council, both would like for something to be done about it provided the other fellow will do it. A situation where something needs to be done, but whatever is done will be the wrong thing.

No matter how thin you make a pancake, there's always two sides to it, and that seems to be the deal on fishing from the lake bridge.

Some say the fishermen block the roadway at times. Others just as stoutly maintain that the road has never been blocked as a result of fishing. Claim the fishermen: "All the ordinance is for is to prohibit us from enjoying a few hours of fishing without having to pay someone for the privilege."

Whatever disposition is made of the issue, some people are going to disagree regardless. And a few of them have made it a point to express their views.

For that reason, some of the Commissioners are hoping Stamford will go along with their request and make the bridge "off limits" for fishermen by passing a city ordinance to that effect. On the other hand, Stamford city officials are reluctant to create unnecessary ill will unless the situation demands drastic action. For that reason, they asked the Commissioners to go on record in requesting the "off limits" ordinance.

One member of the Court, Francis Blake of Prec. 4, has made it clear that he did not join in the request for the Stamford City Council ordinance.

He has occasion to travel the road on which the bridge is located frequently, he stated, and has never noticed that fishermen parking along the side of the road near the bridge had interfered with traffic.

"If people want to stop their car beside a public road, spread a picnic dinner and fish if it's convenient, I don't see any need of getting upset about it," he added.

Little Lee Pippin is our nominee for an All-American boy. Lee, like any normal six-year-old, doesn't like to be separated from his pets, particularly an extra special companion like a good old frog.

Lee enjoys going to Sunday School, too. Ordinarily his mother has been able to check pretty closely on what Lee carries with him, but one Sunday recently Carolyn overlooked one of Lee's pockets.

Later, Mister Frog, probably unaccustomed to Lee being as still as he was in Sunday School, climbed out of Lee's pocket and stated exploring his surroundings, to the discomfort of his owner. Whether the frog realized it or not, that was its first and last trip to Sunday School. From now on Lee's pockets will be checked and doubled-checked for frogs or other likely pets.

Lucklily, Haskell County was not represented in the fatality figures compiled during "Operation Deathwatch" when a check was kept on fatal accidents occurring during the 4th of July weekend.

Luck was riding with a Dallas man when his '37 Chevrolet rammed into the back of a parked truck late Thursday night in front of the Highway Drive In. Despite the fact that his car was almost totally demolished, the man escaped with cuts and severe bruises.

Hazy and probably suffering from shock, the man first told officers he wasn't driving the car. Officers theorized the man more than likely dozed at the wheel and failed to see the truck, parked with park lights burning.

Then, early Saturday evening the Lord or Lady Luck was riding with a Haskell youth whose car hit the railing of a concrete bridge just east of town on Highway 24.

The car rammed into the bridge railing with such force that the frame of the vehicle was broken and the right side jammed in to leave barely enough space for the driver. He was unhurt, with the exception of slight bruises. The accident resulted when the car had slipped off the pavement onto the slippery shoulder and he tried to pull back onto the pavement.

Rex Felker, Quannah Chamber of Commerce manager, stopped long enough for a cup of coffee Wednesday, on his way to Hamlin for a speaking engagement.

Rex, former C-C manager here, is in demand as a rodeo announcer during the summer in addition to his C-C duties. He had announced the Stamford show for a number of years before going to Quannah last fall.

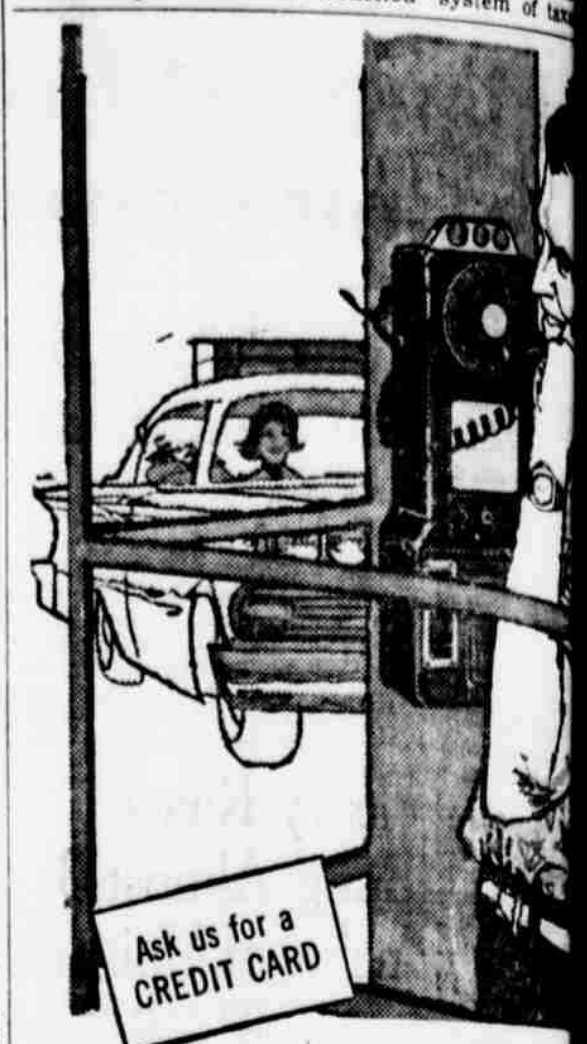

Rex took off two weeks ago and announced the three-day rodeo at Winters, and said it was one of the best events he has seen staged in a town of that size. Incidentally, the three-day event was staged on the Winters football field, Rex stated.

A session with a jug of cheap wine proved expensive for a Haskell man and his spouse last week, but it was downright costly for their pet crow.

As those things generally go, the drinking bout started as a lovey-dovey affair. The wine was smooth and tangy at the start, but repeated swigs developed a fighting spirit and an argument started. Another drink or two and hubby started whaling the tar out of wifey, who started screaming bloody murder while scratching, clawing and biting the old man.

A commotion like that attracts the law, and officers soon arrived and took the pair in hand. Then the landlady appeared on the scene and learned the circumstances, meanwhile noting the disarranged furniture and general disarray in the apartment. Seeing the pet crow perched in the middle of the bed, the irate landlady grabbed the bird by the neck and gave it the old Sunday morning chicken treatment as she stepped outside with the croaker. If the pet crow had learned to talk his last night probably a repetitive anecdote would have been written in just a few minutes. They were the same old chicken disorder.

Jno. Brock Makes Statement To County Voters

To The Voters of Haskell County:

In making my announcement for the office of County Judge, I do so realizing that it is a very important office.

I believe it is fair to you and to me that I make the following statement of facts about myself:

I am fifty-nine years old and have lived in Haskell County 48 years. I am a farmer and have always been interested in, and worked for, good schools and good roads.

I believe it is the duty of the County Judge to see, as best he can, that every dollar of the taxpayers money that is spent will be worth 100 cents to the county.

This I will do to the best of my ability.

As most of you know I was for several years chairman of your County Agricultural Committee. Also at the outbreak of World War II I was appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture as chairman of the Haskell County USDA War Board (not the Draft Board). A job I held without pay for the duration of World War II.

I am a member of the Methodist Church, the I. O. O. F. Lodge, and the American Legion.

I joined the U. S. Navy at the age of 18, April 24, 1917, (eighteen days after the declaration of World War I) and served until Aug. 6, 1919. A little over 12 months of this time was foreign service.

My wife, the former Mae Blair, has lived in Haskell County 46 years. Our two sons (all the children we had) served in World War II. The younger of which was killed in action while serving with the Third Army in France.

I think my varied experience with the public and their problems, combined with my personal business experience, etc., fully qualifies me for the office I am seeking.

I shall try to see every voter, but you know that is a near impossibility, so if those of you whom I might not see will consider this a personal solicitation I will appreciate it very much.

I would like to state that I have never held or asked for public office.

Hoping to have the opportunity to serve you, I am
Yours sincerely,
John Brock.

SPOKEN WORDS HAVE A WAY OF BECOMING DISTORTED

If you've ever tried to track down a rumor, or unscramble a piece of gossip, you know how elusive is the spoken word! Or maybe you've noticed that you can't quite recall that funny quip by your favorite radio or TV comedian, yet you have no trouble quoting a joke you've read. It's a natural thing with all of us. That's why newspaper advertising gets such good results. It's there to read — in black and white (color too if you want it) and to refer back to, at your leisure.

Cattle Strong, Spots Higher, At Fort Worth

BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth—Cattle and calves cleared at fully steady to strong prices at Fort Worth Monday. Receipts were the smallest since early Spring due to storms and heavy rainfall in the territory. Trade was extremely active and most sales indicated some advances in prices as compared with last week, especially on stocker calves and cattle. Exception to higher prices were plain short-fed steers.

Visitors to the market were in agreement that the rains of the past few days have assured pasture and stock water in most sections of the State until late summer and fall. The rains were deemed certain to increase the demand for stocker cattle in virtually all parts of the Southwest immediately.

Typical of the strong action on stockers was the sale of 77 lightweight steer and heifer calves consigned by W. H. Cooper of Eastland. The calves weighed about 300 pounds and drew $35 per hundred. Their mothers sold at $18.25, with 10 cows at $17.

Good to choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $24 to $27.50, and common and medium offerings cleared at $16 to $24. Fat cows ranged from $15 to $21, and canners and cutters drew $12 to $18. Bulls brought $17 to $22.

Good and choice stocker calves sold from $27 to $35 and stocker and feeder steers and yearlings cashed at $22 to $27. Medium stockers sold around $22 to $25.

Hogs were steady with Thursday's close last week in active trade at Fort Worth Monday. Choice hogs cashed at $24.50 and $24.75. Medium and good hogs cashed at $22 to $24. Sows ranged from $19 to $21.50. Pigs cashed at $18 to $21.

SUNDAY VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Rose and children of Abilene spent the weekend with their parents, Mrs. Opal Rose of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Arnett of Rule.

BY VERN SANFORD

Several times recently we have had occasion to wander through the old Walton building in Austin. It was once the State Capitol.

Now it houses the Game and Fish Commission and the Texas Aeronautics Commission. The building had served its usefulness long before the game commission moved into it a number of years ago. Today it is little short of being a fire-trap.

Down the banks of the Colorado River there is considerable acreage which belongs to the City of Austin and the State of Texas. It would be a wonderful place to build an outstanding, rambling building to house the Game and Fish Commission.

We are not talking of an expensive building. Just one of native stone, concrete blocks or similar material. What's needed is ample working area for the commission employes, adequate laboratory facilities, and a shipping room for the tons of conservation literature that is provided the school kiddies of Texas by the commission, annually.

It might even house a Texas natural history museum, where thousands of school children who go to Austin each year could view specimens of the flora and fauna of the state.

It also could play a very important part as a tourist attraction. Furthermore it would be a place to house properly one of the most important agencies of our state government.

Texas are beginning to appreciate more and more what management of wildlife resources mean to the State. More people are hunting and fishing today than ever before. Each year this number will increase. More of our land is being settled and streams are being converted to lakes, thus covering additional land. Hence the need of restoring other land for wildlife habitat.

Texas has produced some very efficient technicians. They can develop a land management program that will provide the best harvest possible. But they are sorely in need of a better and roomier place to work.

It should be a building not merely of steel and stone, but a fitting memorial to the work that has been done.

Free Booklet on Fish

Want to know the common names of America's most popular fish? Such a list is obtainable from the Outdoor Writers Association of America. Their address is 7 St. Paul St., Baltimore 2, Maryland. Just enclose a 6x9 envelope with your address on the front and bearing 6c in stamps. There is no charge for the booklet.

This check list represents a lot of hard work on the part of Homer Circle, of James Heddon's Sons. He assembled the information as chairman of the Fish Nomenclature Committee of OWAA. Although Circle is an authority on fish and fishing, most of the information in the booklet was obtained by Circle's constant work with fishermen and educators who come in contact with these fish daily.

Try Lake Texarkana

Ordinarily new lakes are very productive about the second year after they have been filled. Fishermen who are looking for a hot spot this year might well consider Lake Texarkana. This reservoir was created by a dam across the Sulphur River a dozen miles southwest of the Texas-Arkansas city. It is served by U. S. Highways 59 and 67.

This reservoir is the result of another flood control project. It was built by the Corps of Engineers. Recently the marginal land around the lake was licensed to the Game and Fish Commission. It will be developed as a wildlife management area.

Right now the lake is so new it lacks many facilities, but they are in the making. The main thing is that it is full of fish. Already some very fine bass have been taken in great numbers. According to biologists there was a fine spawn of blacks there last year and two are now keeper size.

Also below the dam the Sulphur River is a fine fishing stream. Thousands of persons line the banks of the river at the tailraces below the dam for sand bass fishing. Recently the Game and Fish Commission needed some sand bass for restocking some West Texas lakes. A half-dozen biologists with rod and reel took some 1500 bass there in a couple of days.

The Sulphur River flows into Arkansas, good fishing all the way.

Lake Texarkana is a large lake, covering more than 20,000 acres at conservation level. It has a drainage area of 3400 miles, which assures ample water. The dam itself is earth filled and is 18,500 feet in length. There is a roadway across the dam.

The Chamber of Commerce at Texarkana can give you full information on tourist facilities in the lake area. And if you live within easy distance we certainly recommend it for good fishing.

Swedish Reel A new premium quality fishing reel has come on the market to sell for $55. It is the Arjon Fighter, the sensational Swedish bait-casting reel that disengages both the spool and levelwind by a push-button. It can be used in either salt or fresh water.

This is a new high in reels, fighting for a place in a market where a good every-day reel can be bought for a dozen dollars.

Rabbit Hunting is Popular It's hard for a Texan to believe it, but more shotgun shells are blasted at rabbits each year than at any other type of game. These figures just released by the Remington Arms Co., based on consumption of ammunition.

The score shows 29.6 per cent

of the ammunition is shot at rabbits. Squirrels rank next with only 14 per cent. Quail account for 13.9 per cent. Ducks and geese 10.5 per cent. While most of us in Texas waste more ammunition in our pheasants, the national average of dove shooter ammunition is only 7.0 per cent. Pheasants, of which there are very few in Texas, account for 9.5 per cent of the total. Other game takes up 3.5 per cent. Trap and skeet shooters burn up 12 per cent.

Support Growing Daily for

William A. Blakley

CANDIDATE FOR U. S. Senate

Support is growing daily for Democratic Senatorial Candidate William A. Blakley as he is getting around the state and meeting thousands of voters in person. Dr. J. F. Cadenhead, Haskell County campaign manager for Blakley. Blakley, former senator for four months in 1957, is opposing incumbent Senator Ralph Yarborough in the Democratic Primary, July 26, for a full six-year term.

On June 22, Sam Wood, Capitol Correspondent for the Austin American-Statesman, uncovered documentary proof that Ralph Yarborough's campaign for 1957 election received at least $28,143 through five eastern labor unions, proven from statements from the unions themselves to the Congressional Committee investigating campaign expenditures.

CONDEMNS NORTHERN UNION SUPPORT

"Why are these northern and eastern labor union officers so interested in election of a Texas Senator?"

"Since World War I they have wanted to get control of Texas industries, mines and ranches, and have publicly claimed that they will control Texas labor unions. So far they have been kept from plying their racketeering control over Texas by the productive, progressive people who have made Texas the great state it is today."

"We must ask ourselves this question: What do these labor racketeers expect a Texas Senator in return for pouring money into his campaign? Are Walter Reuther, I. W. Abel, Emil Mazey and Frank Rosenblum—heads of the unions that have distributed the Yarborough campaign money—interested in the welfare of all Texas?"

BLAKLEY LOYAL TO TEXAS

In Bill Blakley, we have a Texan who is a life-long Democrat, a self-educated man who came up from a cowboy to be a successful accountant, successful lawyer, helped build Braniff Airlines—a Texas company—into one of national importance, a successful banker, and a successful Texas rancher and farmer. Texas Democrats have an opportunity to elect a Texan to the U. S. Senate that will stand for the best interest—one who is not beholden to eastern labor union officers who want to unionize Texas farms, ranches and industry. I urge all Haskell County citizens to help elect William A. Blakley our next Texas Senator."

We are not supported by the labor groups, thus contributions are necessary for our continued campaign. Mail or hand contributions to Dr. Cadenhead or any member of the Blakley for Senator Committee.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Austin—Mid-way through the so-called "recession year" of 1958, Texas economic forecasters are turning their eyes upward again.

Statistics reports show steady improvement in overall business activity since the bleak lows of February and March. If the hoped for pickup in oil demand develops during the latter half, analysts say, "1958 may be a good year after all."

Some of the bases for the current atmosphere of cautious optimism are these: Bank Deposits: Folks have lots of money in the banks; in most areas, more than last year. Response to the Texas Banking Commission's mid-year call for condition of banks showed that most have higher deposits than last summer and some are at new record highs. Dallas County bank deposits increased $333,000,000; Harris County (Houston) by more than $267,000,000 over a year ago. Towns with all-time high deposits were Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Tyler, Midland, Denton and Port Arthur.

Retail Sales: Despite sags here and there, Texas retail sales are expected to run some 7 per cent ahead of '57, says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Because of low months early in the year, sales volume for the first five months of '58 were 1 per cent below the same period for '57. But a late spring upsurge put May, 1958, sales ahead of those for May, 1957. Apparently Texans are concentrating on essential. Compared to last year, farm implement sales were up 27 per cent, food up 11 per cent, autos down 8 per cent.

Business Index: BBR's latest report shows the 1958 level of general business activity 4 per cent below May 1957. But May 1957, was a dizzy pinnacle, the highest point ever reached by the Texas business index. Since the low of March the index has made encouraging progress, pulling up by 8 points. Fall will bring the tip-off, says BBR, as to whether recovery momentum is sufficient for a rise to a new crest.

Employment: Although thousands more were out of work than a year ago, Texas Employment Commission's most recent over-all survey showed a substantial shortening of the jobless lines. Like the general business index, employment seemed to be making a steady recovery from the early spring "trough." Number of unemployed dropped 4,200 during May. TEC reported, and non-farm employment rose to almost three million. Insured unemployment in Texas was only 4.1 per cent of the working force compared with the national average of 7.2 per cent.

Company Challenged—A king size clash is in prospect July 15 between the State Insurance Department and National Bankers Life Insurance Company of Dallas.

Commissioner Wm. A. Harrison has ordered the company to prove the fitness of its management or lose its license.

National Bankers, regarded as one of the largest and most prosperous companies in the Southwest, claims more than $19,000,000 in assets. Some $5,000,000 of these are discounted by the Department as unsound or unsuitable for an insurance company. Specifically questioned by the state are a number of mortgage loans made by the company to other firms in which the company's officers or directors have an interest.

Company President Lester F. Hall said the firm's financial footing is so sound it could raise $5,000,000 in the matter of hours. He said the company had a premium income of $1,000,000.

Glad To Move Over—Despite the prospect of losing "biggest state" honors, Texas officials say they're happy to welcome Alaska as No. 49. Sample comments:

Gov. Price Daniel: "We will have the biggest Navy."

Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley: "I'm glad another state will bear the brunt of the gags about being the largest state."

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson: "I suggest they nail down their off-shore lands before they enter the union."

Semi-Westward Ho! Redesignated Texas-tan uniforms have brought a new look to the Texas Highway Patrol. Semi-western in style, the uniform sports black trim, black shoes, wide-brimmed grey hats with western crease.

Only 380 patrolmen and other division members of the Department of Public Safety are outfitted at present. New uniforms for the rest of the force will have to wait for another appropriation from the Legislature.

Taxpayers Get Wary: Slump in federal income tax collections in Texas the past several months has been noted by the Internal Revenue officials. Cause has been attributed to recession-minded taxpayers lowering their estimates of income for the year. South Texas Collector Bob Phinney thinks, however, most will wind up making just as much money as last year.

Last year Texans paid a record-breaking $2,600,000,000 in federal income taxes, about $128,000,000 more than in the year previous.

On July 21, 1930, Marine Capt. Arthur Page made the longest recorded blind flight up to that time, from Omaha, Neb., to Anacostia, D. C., a distance of 1,000 miles. He received the Distinguished Flying Cross posthumously for the flight, having been killed in the Thompson Trophy Race only a few weeks later.

On July 27, 1953, the last U. S. carrier strike of the Korean action was flown. Planes from Task Force 77, operating with UN forces, pounded enemy supply routes, rolling stock, airfields and road systems before returning to their ships.

John Paul Jones, one of America's greatest sea heroes of the Revolution, who later fought for Russia when the U. S. disbanded its Navy, died July 18, 1792. He was en route from the U. S. to Algeria to act as special envoy for President Washington.

The honor of being the first and only Marine officer actually to command a naval vessel in battle goes to Lt. John Gamble, who commanded the Greenwich during the victorious engagement with the British Seringapatam on July 14, 1813.

National Farm Safety Week Is Proclaimed

"The health, prosperity, and well-being of our rural families are vital to the strength of the Nation and accidents suffered by rural residents result in thousands of deaths and injuries each year and constitute a serious social and economic problem," said President Eisenhower in his proclamation announcing National Farm Safety Week for 1958.

In setting the week of July 20 as Farm Safety Week, the President also said, "Experience has shown that these accidents can be reduced through educational programs directed toward safety precautions in the homes, in the fields, and on the highways of the Nation. I, therefore, call upon the people of the Nation to observe Farm Safety Week and urge all persons allied with agriculture to join in a continuing campaign to prevent needless accidents."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council has pledged their support to this campaign and join the President in requesting all persons and organizations interested in the welfare of farm people to participate in National Farm Safety Week activities.

In the United States last year, almost 13,000 farm people lost their lives in accidents and more than a million suffered injuries. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council suggests that a little checking be done in every neighborhood for the purpose of finding and eliminating accident hazards. "How many persons do you know who have suffered crippling injuries and how many neighbors are gone forever because of an accident?..

"Only by finding the cause and then making sure the same mistake isn't made by someone else, can we cut the farm and home toll of accidents," says the Councilmen. "Safety," they point out, "works for you when you work on your farm. It will save you time and money, and could save your life or a member of your family. Safety is that important, conclude the Councilmen."
