County stock show winners named

Talk about repeat performances. It was, as the old saying goes, "deja vu all over again" at this year's county stock show. Ashlee Millican started in where she left off last year at Friday night's lamb show, taking Grand Champion honors for the second year in a row. The fact that she's two for two in the lamb show is not nearly so remarkable as is the fact that this is only her second year to show.

Another repeat performance was recorded by Shea Kelton in the Steer Show, taking Grand Champion honors for the second year in a row in this division.

Brandi Brosh improved her Reserve Champion placing at last year's show, exhibiting the Grand Champion Meat Goat at this year's show.

One of the new faces in the winner's circle this year was in the market pig show, where Whitney Millican took the top honors.

Some of the more notable highlights of this year's show include the following: 1. Total number of exhibits were down this year, with losses in the steer, swine and lamb divisions, and a big increase in numbers in the meat goat division. 2. Sale receipts were up some, with all breed champions selling for record high prices. 3. The weather cooperated beautifully, which led to big crowds at the barbecue and sale.

Complete results of this year's show are as follows:

Brandi Brosh improved her placing from last year's Reserve Champion Meat Goat when this year's entry was named Grand Champion of the 1996 show.

For the second year in a row, Ashlee Millican has exhibited the Grand Champion Lamb of the county stock show. Ashlee's other successes at this year's show include Champion and Reserve Champion Crossbred Lambs, the Sheep Showmanship Buckle, and the coveted Ralph Walker Memorial Top Hand award.

ROBERT LEE SCHOOL NEWS

Steer Basketball results

The Robert Lee Steers traveled to Roscoe Tuesday, January 16 to face off against district rivals the Roscoe Plowboys. The Steers got off to a great start scoring 22 points in the first quarter while holding the Plowboys to 11. The second quarter saw Roscoe hitting from the field better as they added 16 points to their score, but Robert Lee was still on fire too, and put 19 more points on the board before the buzzer, making the score RL 41, Roscoe 27. Unfortunately the game didn't end at the half and Roscoe came out with guns blazing and took over on scoring opportunities, they also held their ground defensively and kept the Steers to 17 total points scored in the half. Robert Lee suffered their first district defeat falling to Roscoe 56-64.

Scoring for Robert Lee in the contest were: Eric Hood with 15, Aaron Hood 13, Rocky Coates 11, Jason Key 9, Koby Howell 8, and Kory Pitcock 2.

Thursday night the Steers hosted cross-county rivals the Bronte Longhorns in the high school gym. RL got off to a strong start outscoring the Horns 25-12 in the first quarter. The scoring was a little closer in the 2nd quarter with 17 scored by the Steers and Bronte hitting for 16, the Steers took a 42-28 lead into the 3rd. Robert Lee came back in the second half to put 32 more points on the board, but Bronte came back with some heavy scoring of their own, lighting the board up with 34 points. Robert Lee held on to win the game 74-62 and bringing their season record 20-3 and improving their district record to 2-1.

High point man for Robert Lee was Aaron Hood with 28 points. Eric Hood lit the board for 17, Koby Howell 9, Rocky Coates 9, Jason Key 6, Jerrod Pitcock 3, and Kory Pitcock 2.

Lady Steers go 3-0 in district

The Lady Steers were in Roscoe Tuesday, January 16 looking to improve their district record. The Ladies did just that, in convincing fashion, outscoring Roscoe 46-31. The game started out to be a defensive battle with the score tied 6-6 at the end of the first quarter. RL took the lead going into the 3rd 20-16. But the offensive really got hot in the fourth quarter hitting for 18 big points and taking the win to improve their district record to 2-0.

Shalon Waldrop was high pointer of the evening for Robert Lee with 15. Jaclyn Waldrop and Jennifer Scott each hit for 12 points. Maranda Wojtek, Bree Bolding, and Heather Millican each scored 2 points. Tiffany Bruning hit for 1.

Thursday the Ladies hosted the Lady Longhorns from Bronte. Robert Lee outscored the visitors 10-2 in the first quarter and held the Lady Horns to only 5 points at the end of the second quarter taking a 18-7 half time lead. The second half was more of the same with RL outscoring Bronte 27-14. Robert Lee finished the evening with a 3-0 district record and handed Bronte a 45-35 defeat.

Leading the scoring for the Ladies was Shalon Waldrop with 22. Jaclyn Waldrop tossed in 8, Jennifer Scott 4, Heather Millican 4, Kizzie Howell 3, Maranda Wojtek 2, and Kannan Millican 2.

RL JV results

Robert Lee's JV teams treated their fans to some exciting basketball last week. The teams traveled to Roscoe Tuesday, January 16 and hosted the Bronte Longhorns here Thursday, January 18.

Robert Lee JV girls were pitted against Roscoe's JV girls Tuesday night, January 16. The girls got off to a slow start in the first quarter hitting for only 4 points while Roscoe's JV hit for 9. The Ladies were able to score better in the second quarter tossing in 13 points to Roscoe's 11. The Ladies were down by only 3 points going into the third, but once again had offensive difficulties scoring only 6 points to Roscoe's 14. Shooting troubles continued to plague the team in the fourth and they lost to Roscoe 30-47.

Brandi Brosh led the scoring for Robert Lee with 9 points. Jessica Key and Melissa Smith each tossed in 6. Tracy Millican and Samantha Padgett hit for 4 each; Holly Copeland 1.

The JV girls hosted cross-county rivals Bronte, Thursday, January 18. The game was a strong defensive battle going into three overtimes before Robert Lee was able to pull out a 35-26 win. No individual stats were available at presstime, hopefully we will have those for you next week.

Robert Lee's JV boys were also on the road to Roscoe last week. We had no results on this game at presstime. We will try to get those next week.

The boys also hosted Bronte Thursday evening and looked impressive in a 50-36 win. The first quarter came to a close with Robert Lee holding a 14-8 lead. The Steers went on a scoring binge in the second tossing in 17 points while holding Bronte's JV squad to only 7 points. The third quarter started with Robert Lee leading Bronte 31-15. Robert Lee continued to look impressive defensively and defeated the Longhorns 50-36.

Mrs. Brian Arrott

Adams-Arrott wed

Miss Kandace Karen Adams became the bride of Brian Lee Arrott in a double ring ceremony Saturday, January 20, 1996, at 7:00 pm in Lubbock's Westmont Christian Church. Dr. James Morrow, minister of Ralls First Baptist Church, performed the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Allan and Gail Adams of Ralls and Tim and Lucretia Arrott of Bronte. The bride's grandparents are Cordelia Adams of Ralls and Check and Thelma Ward of Idalou. Fredda Carter of Lorenzo was seated as an honorary grandmother. The groom's grandparents are J.B. and Martha Arrott of Bronte, Milton Bryan of Ballinger, and Norma Bryan of Ballinger. Virginia Boatright of Bronte and Margaret Bryan of Winters are his great-grandmothers.

As guests arrived they were greeted at the registry tables by Shelley McDaniel, a college friend from Waco, and Lisa Plummer, sorority sister of the bride, of Lubbock.

Miss Lubbock 1996, Yanci Yarbrough, sorority sister of the bride, sang "I'll Still Be Loving You", as Branda McDonald of Abernathy, cousin of the bride, and Natasha and Natalee Reed of Bronte, cousins of the groom, lit the candles.

Melinda Seale of Abilene sang "Wind Beneath My Wings" as the couple's grandparents and parents were seated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore an elegant gown of ivory satin and alecon lace, designed by Moonlight. The bodice, encrusted with sequins and pearls, featured a jewel neckline, long illusion sleeves and a basque waistline. The back bodice was highlighted with a keyhole opening and satin bow and featured a cathedral-length train adorned with beaded lace cut-outs.

An unusual feature to the gown was a custom made large beaded lace letter "A" attached in the center of the train. The bride designed this special adornment to represent the joining of the last names of Adams and Arrott.

She also chose a veil highlighted with pearl sprays, double pouf and two-tiered silk illusion.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of ivory silk Chinese magnolias, gardenias, and stephanotis. Strands of winter white berries and variegated english ivy were accents. Embossed white satin ribbon and sheer ribbon trimmed with pearls finished the creation that was designed by the bride's mother.

To carry out the bridal tradition, she carried an antique white lace handkerchief owned by Dovie Hester, the groom's great-great-grandmother for "something old". It was also carried by the groom's aunt, Deana Reed, in her wedding. The handkerchief also served as "something borrowed". "Something new" was her wedding gown and veil, and "something blue" was a satin garter featuring blue lace encrusted with white pearls and sequins and a bow of white and blue satin ribbon. It was made especially for the bride by Louise Rowden of Ralls, a family friend.

Amy Kirkland, of Vega, a college friend and roommate of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Melode Watson, of Ralls, a high school friend; Allison Workman of Irving, a college friend; Kimberly Perry, a high school friend from Crowley; Jennifer Shepherd, of Weatherford, the bride's sorority little sister; and Jenifer Jones, the bride's sorority big sister, from Wharton.

The bride's attendants wore sleek floorlength dresses in a deep, wine color. They featured long sleeves folding in a puff at the shoulder and a sweetheart neckline. They held a silk spray of deep mauve magnolias accented with soft pink morning glories and entwined with a wine, mauve, and teal floral tapestry ribbon.

Nicole Reed, of Bronte, cousin of the groom, and Laura Scarborough, cousin of the bride, from Sunray, served as flower girls. They carried ivory baskets with handles adorned with pink morning glories, floral tapestry ribbon, berries, and accented with blue and mauve birds. From the baskets they dropped "love knots" of wine and mauve ribbon.

The candlelighters and flower girls wore mauve-colored file dresses featuring a sweetheart neckline, softly puffed sleeves tapering to the wrist, and a bodice that dropped to a 'V' at the waist and attached to a gathered tea length skirt. The flower girls' dresses also featured a self fabric bow at the shoulder.

Will Hacker, of Pampa, the groom's fraternity little brother, and Dusty Arrott, the groom's brother from Bronte, served as best men. Groomsmen included Clint Freeman, of Farmington, NM, fraternity brother of the groom; Ty Bartoskewitz, roommate and fraternity brother of the groom, from San Antonio; Bryan Adams, of Ralls, the bride's brother and fraternity brother of the groom; and Brent Coker, fraternity brother of the groom, from Earth.

Guests were seated by Glen Frick and Stan Kotara, fraternity brothers of the groom, both from the Panhandle; and Chad Ray and Gerald Jost, both of Wall, college friends and roommates of the groom.

Reese Scarbrough, of Sunray, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer. He carried a custom made, heart-shaped battenburg lace pillow made by the bride's mother. It was monogrammed with the bride and groom's name and wedding date. Chase Howard, cousin of the bride from Abernathy, was bible bearer. He carried a small bible with a cover made of carved mother of pearl brought back from Jerusalem by the bride's grandmother, Thelma Ward.

Messenger boy was Christopher Bryan of Slaton, cousin of the groom. He ran down the aisle yelling "The bride is coming, the bride is coming" before handing a scroll to the minister announcing the coming of the bride.

Brian chose as his attire a Christian Dior full dress black tuxedo with tails and matching pants, ivory wing collar shirt and ivory paisley tie and vest. The ring bearer wore matching attire.

The groomsmen, ushers, bible bearer, and messenger boy wore Pierre Cardin double-breasted tuxedos with matching pants, white wing collar shirts and wine paisley tie and vest.

Fathers and grandfathers of the couple wore Pierre Cardin double-breasted tuxedos with matching pants, white wing collar shirts and black paisley tie and vest.

Each of them wore a boutonniere of sweet peas in a rich wine color accented with eucalyptus leaves and mauve berries. The groom wore a boutonniere of off-white stephanotis with bud accented with eucalyptus leaves and winter white berries.

The bride and groom lit the unity candle while Kris and Melinda Seale of Abilene, friends of the bride, sang "I Will Be Here".

The church decorations featured cathedral candelabrams, custom made by the bride's father, adorned with ivy, wine-colored magnolias, Chinese magnolias, and floral tapestry ribbon. Pew bows featured deep mauve magnolias, grape and berry clusters, english ivy and grapevine, all accented with floral tapestry ribbon. Each differently made pew bow was designed by Linda Forbes of Crosbyton, friend of the bride. Aisle candles featured large grape clusters and grape leaves encircling the candles.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party boarded an antique-style trolley that carried them to Cap*Rock Winery, site of the reception. The reception featured a bride's table with a three-tiered cake of ivory and white Victorian lace design. Guests chose raspberry, italian cream or traditional white wedding cake flavors. The cake was topped and accented with ivory-colored icing roses and pearls and encircled with fresh english ivy. The table featured a candlelight floorlength cloth, scalloped with wine file fabric and accented with large grape clusters.

A large german chocolate cake topped with a Double T of chocolate cake in traditional red and black colors was chosen for the groom's table. Brass appointments were used. As a surprise to the groom, a collage of bridal portraits taken on the Texas Tech campus completed this table's Texas Tech theme.

Centerpieces for the guest's tables were individual topiary trees and complementing candles.

The bride is a graduate of Ralls High School and graduated with a degree in Home Economics Education from Texas Tech University, where she was involved in Pi Beta Phi sorority. The groom is a graduate of Bronte High School and graduated with a degree in Agricultural Communications from Texas Tech University, where he was a member of FarmHouse fraternity. He is currently a manager at Eddie Bauer in Valley View Mall in Dallas.

After a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, the couple will make their home in Dallas.

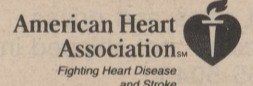

On Saturday, January 13, 1996, Bettie Lemons of Plainview hosted a Bridesmaid's Luncheon at the Lubbock Club.

Tim and Lucretia Arrott, parents of the groom, hosted the rehearsal dinner at Old Town Cafe in Lubbock. Pat Green, fraternity brother of the groom and friend of the couple, played alternative country music.

FBC Br. offers new ministries

Rehab '96 report

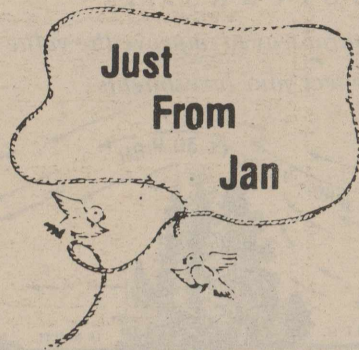

In 1985, Irene Newell made a motion to the '64 Study Club that the organization do something for the Rehab Center in San Angelo. It was discussed, and Rehab was approached about having a phone bank in Robert Lee.

From this wonderful lady's caring and the generosity of Ivey Motor Company, the club has had its 11th phone bank. Each year more and more people get involved.

A lot of volunteers work to make this come about. There are 14 different phone banks in the Concho Valley since the '64 Study Club initiated its unique concept.

The 1996 total was $5,583.00, with 193 donations.

The Club expressed pride in the people of West Coke County for their caring and generous attitude toward a worthy cause. According to statistics, of the hundreds treated annually at the Rehab Center, 65 of those were Coke County residents. The Center is totally funded by donations and fundraisers.

Overweight kids need healthy diets/exercise

Generally, a young child should not be put on a strict reducing diet unless there is a specific medical reason. Severe food restrictions may interfere with bone, muscle and brain development. For most kids, the primary strategy for bringing their weight closer to normal is to slow weight gain until height catches up. This usually can be done by eating healthier and lighter, and by increasing the daily level of exercise.

It's especially important to try to preserve your overweight child's self esteem. One way is to approach weight loss as a family project so he does not feel ostracized. When planning meals, for example, offer the same healthy foods to the entire family to prevent your child from feeling deprived or singled out. The main reason more of today's kids are overweight is from living sedentary lifestyles rather than overeating. Television, computers and video games have replaced jumpropping, bike riding, and other physical activities. Provide plenty of opportunities for physical activity by limiting television viewing and encouraging outdoor play. Get the entire family involved with bike rides, after dinner walks, and other fun fitness activities.

Here are some additional ideas to help your child lose weight:

* Reduce the stimuli for eating. Store food out of sight, use smaller serving dishes, and have the child eat a low fat snack before going to parties or social events.

* Some kids get too many of their calories from soft drinks and juices. Monitor drinking habits as well as high sugar foods.

* Never use food as a reward or punishment. Encourage family and friends to praise successes, but not be disappointed or mad at your child if he doesn't reach his weight goal.

Be sure to plan specific rewards, such as a new outfit or compact disc, for changing specific behaviors or for achieving a predetermined weight goal. Be positive at all times during your child's weight reduction plan.

Steve Williams, L.V.N., has been named Employee of the Month for January.

Collecting Social Security

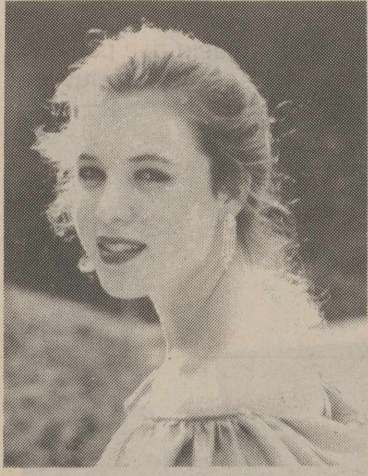

Young people who worry about collecting Social Security in the distant future should know that it is not just a retirement program. Disability and survivors benefits are paid to workers and their families. This protection can be extremely important, especially for young families. Some 42 percent of male workers and 28 percent of female workers will become disabled or die before they reach retirement age.

Stat Facts

By the year 2000, four out of five couples will be living together before marriage. Those who live together before marriage have a higher percentage rate of divorce than those who don't live together. Many couples today believe in experiments instead of commitments. Since 1920, divorce has increased 420%. Forty-two percent of children from divorced families haven't seen their dad in over a year.

Windbreak tree seedlings available

One aspect of West Texas weather that can always be counted on is the wind. Although it provides such benefits as cooling breezes and power for windmills, it can also cause a variety of problems for Coke County residents. Wind erosion strips bare fields of valuable topsoil and deposits it where it is neither needed or wanted, such as on fence lines, roads, and dining room tables. Cold winter winds raise utility bills and are dangerous to unprotected livestock.

Windbreaks help reduce many of the problems associated with the wind. Field windbreaks significantly reduce soil erosion. Windbreaks around a homesite help reduce dust and protect the home from cold winds. Likewise, properly placed windbreaks protect livestock in confinement or in open pastures.

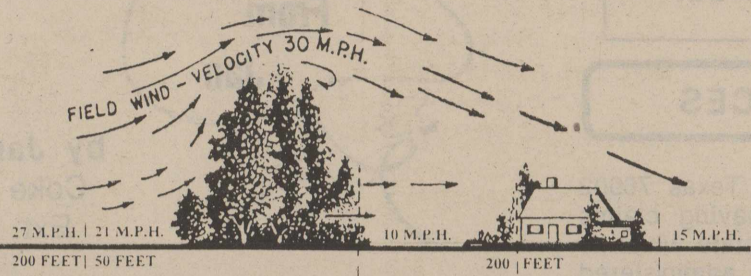

In an effort to assist landowners in this area, the Coke County Soil and Water Conservation District, in cooperation with the Texas Forest Service, is providing tree and shrub species for conservation planting. First-year seedlings of evergreens, bareroot hardwoods and wildlife packets for quail, deer, turkey and squirrel are available at reasonable rates.

Statewide interest in the program is very high, and interested parties should place their orders as soon as possible at the Coke County SWCD/Natural Resources Conservation Service office at 214 East 7th Street. The seedlings will be delivered to the office by the Forest Service on February 14, 1996. To help insure successful establishment, they should be collected and planted as soon as possible after delivery.

The district can also provide assistance with drip irrigation supplies. Drip irrigation greatly increases the seedlings' chances of survival, particularly in the first two years. Drip is a highly efficient way to water and has many applications in areas with low availability or high cost of water. More information and prices are available at the SWCD/NRCS office.
